"Tabb presents a fairly comprehensive study of the economic aspects of the black ghetto, emphasizing the 'colonial relationship' which now exists between the ghetto and the economy as a whole. . . . Discussing the three possible alternatives for the future of the ghetto—continue present policies, rehabilitate and enrich the ghetto, or open the ghetto and merge the two 'nations'—[he] favors the second. He concludes that the important group in the future will be the white working class. Because they are also excluded from the wealth of the nation, they make a natural ally for minority groups. Recommended." P. T. Kaufman

Library J 96:1608 My 1 '71 110w

TABER, ROBERT W. 1001 questions answered about the oceans and oceanography, by Robert W. Taber and Harold W. Dubach; foreword by Richard H. Fleming. 269p il $7.50 Dodd

551.4 Ocean. Oceanography
ISBN 0-396-06496-5 LC 73-184136

The authors cover "oceanography, including marine biology and geology and the physical and chemical properties of sea water. Answers are given to questions about ecology, pollution and food from the sea." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"If you have any possible question on any possible aspect of the sea . . . its geography, history, geology, chemistry, physics, ecology, or pollution, you will most likely have it answered by these two expert oceanographers. There is even a chapter on myths and legends of the sea. Pertinent photographs, charts, and a handy bibliography make this absorbing reading as well as a valuable reference." F. J. MacEntee

Best Sell 31:562 Mr 15 '72 100w

"Essentially useless to the college library. It might be appropriate to a reference librarian in elementary school, or for Sunday afternoon reading for the layman. . . . [It] is poorly indexed and has much out-of-date and erroneous information. The question-and-answer approach used is very inconvenient."

Choice 9:996 O '72 80w

TABOR, PAULINE. Pauline's; il. by David Stone Martin. 295p $9.95 Touchstone pub. co.
B or 92 Prostitution
ISBN 0-87963-008-6 LC 70-172511

This is the autobiography of the owner/operator of a house of prostitution.

"Only a few parlor houses survived World War I and these all but disappeared in the 1920s in the big cities. . . . The houses survived, however, in the smaller cities until World War II, and one of the most famous of them was Pauline's. . . . Miss Tabor prospered because she ran a class house for the well-to-do and because, as her gamy memoirs note, 'local officials prefer to have a few people they know and trust operate illegal businesses rather than have the big syndicates move in and take over.' . . . Madams are not John Clelands, and one must not expect their books to have more than redeeming social merit." Alden Whitman

Harper 244:103 My '72 450w

"In Pauline's, the extraordinarily dreary autobiography of a Bowling Green, Kentucky madam, every whorehouse convention is trotted out—the Depression forced her into it, the customer pays more for special tastes, falling in love is no good for a prostitute, etc. Most of the prose is quite plain. . . . And there is all the homespun philosophy that one expects from the active-life-with-problems-but-no-regrets sort of reminiscence." J. A. Avant

Library J 97:1425 Ap 15 '72 140w

"She started off in the Depression. . . . [Her house] became a Kentucky institution—politicians went to pleasure themselves there; fraternity boys would beg a pair of panties to take back as campus trophies. More than three decades later, Pauline, married to a successful bookie, retired to a farm to raise organic crops and write her memoirs. They are a raunchily genteel exercise. . . . A 250-lb. termagant who served on occasion as her own bouncer, Pauline can also be and talk, as she might say, rough as a cob. Not surprisingly, she turns out to be a moralist. Pornography shocks her. So does wife swapping. . . . Pauline was the John Wayne of madams, with an admixture of Mae West. Like her book, she was a splendid period piece."

Time 99:96 Ap 17 '72 220w

TAGGART, ROBERT. Low-income housing; a critique of federal aid. (Policy stud. in employment & welfare, no 8) 146p $7.50; pa $2.25 Johns Hopkins press

301.5 Housing—Finance
ISBN 0-8018-1248-8 LC 70-134301

"Taggart attempts to lay a factual groundwork for improvement in Federal housing programs. The various [such] programs now in operation are analyzed on the basis of intent performance, and possibility of improvement. Each is explained . . . and summarized to stress [its] main contributions and shortcomings. [This] is a . . . study of the role of government subsidies in such areas as public housing, rent supplements, rehabilitation, and rural housing." (Choice)

"Because of its detailed nature [this study] would have particular interest to those concerned with low income housing. Actually only three or four chapters would be of general interest. This study does not provide information relative to the cost of existing programs either in terms of transfer payments or related administrative costs. Without some money yardstick it is difficult to make judgments on the relative efficiency of particular programs. Suggestions in the main are confined to changes in existing programs and the reordering of priorities. Recommended on the basis that it provides an easily understood, well arranged study of present housing programs."

Choice 8:1360 D '71 160w

"Since the [low-income housing] situation is complex, this book is complex, although lucidly written. It should be read by people at all levels of government who determine housing policy and by their advisory staffs. Otherwise its use is limited largely to those doing advanced research. For large subject collections." David Cooley

Library J 95:4254 D 15 '70 120w

TAIT, ALAN A. Value added tax. 184p $12.50 McGraw
336.2 Value-added tax. European Economic Community
SBN 07-094238-2 LC [72-183089]

This is an "analysis of the experience of the European Economic Community with the [Value-added tax]." (Choice) Bibliography. Glossary. Index.

"The value added tax (VAT) is of current interest in the U.S. because of the hints that this form of sales tax may be proposed as a device for Federal public education finance. . . . The adjustment required for harmonization of the U.K. fiscal system with this EEC tax is one of [Tait's] basic concerns. This discussion has slight relevance in the U.S. His comparison of the economic effects of the VAT with those of a sales tax, profits tax and other taxes is, however, of major importance for U.S. policymakers and scholars. This analysis is most accessible to economists, although it would not be entirely beyond the grasp of interested laymen. Some sections are tedious reading because of administrative detail—a price of exhaustive treatment."

Choice 9:1016 O '72 200w

"[This book's] strength and its weakness are that it covers quite briefly the theoretical ground that has been comprehensively covered in the standard textbooks on public finance and the value-added tax. . . . It is more up to date than most of these, but on the facts it will soon be out of date itself."

Economist 243:71 My 6 '72 60w

TAKAHASHI, SHINKICHI. Afterimages; Zen poems of Shinkichi Takahashi; sel. and tr. by Lucien Stryk and Takashi Ikeimoto. 12/p $5 Swallow

895.6

LC 77-132582

A collection of 77 poems and poem-fragments in modern free-verse form.

"Takahashi began as a Dadaist and Surrealist; he uses the techniques of Surrealism to express perceptions gained in Zen meditation. . . . Taken individually, a few of the poems are . . . impressive. The translation is free, but the translators have noted the poems in which they have taken exceptional freedom, and sources of the original texts are indicated. Scarcely a 'must' acquisition, the volume would nevertheless be a pleasing addition for any library collecting modern Asian literature."

Choice 9:655 J1/Ag '72 200w

"This slim volume of poems, with its twin introduction by the Japanese and American translators, is unlikely to bring anyone to 'satori' or lead to a more profound understanding of Zen and its cultural implications. The introductions are almost as obscure as the poems themselves. . . . A basic difficulty for an avowed Zen poet, such as Takahashi, is the Zen rejection of words. These poems, therefore, depend for their ability to communicate almost entirely on their imagery—their 'concreteness'—and not their 'philosophy.' . . . [Takahashi's] most successful moments would seem, at least in this translation, to be verses which are little more than the traditional haiku of seventeen syllables."

TLS p1306 O 22 '71 600w

TAKASHIMA. A child in prison camp. unp il $7.95 Tundra bks.

940.54 World War, 1939-1945—Evacuation of civilians—Juvenile literature. Japanese in Canada—Juvenile literature

ISBN 0-912766-00-X LC 74-179429

"Takashima tells of her childhood experiences in an internment camp during World War II. In March, 1942, Japanese-Canadians were ordered to evacuate the west coast of Canada, and author Shichan's father and older brother were separated from the rest of the family. Six months later, father rejoins Shichan, her older sister and their mother at a newly built camp in the Rockies. For the next 3 years, Shichan faces the difficulties of living under constant surveillance and attending a make-shift school, and witnesses conflicts within the Japanese community. Conditions slowly improve as it becomes clear that Japan will lose the war, but then all must decide whether to rebuild a life in Canada or return to defeated Japan. . . . Grade six and up." (Library J)

"This [is a] partially fictionalized reminiscence. . . . The child's-eye view of the . . . events, while making the text accessible to young readers, fails to communicate the ramifications of this often whitewashed chapter in North American history. Only the initial episodes and the brief epilogue successfully communicate what it means to be suddenly stripped of civil rights. Otherwise, the text is understated and flat—indicating, perhaps, that Shichan's parents tried to make her life as normal as possible. Eight of the author's magnificent watercolor paintings are included, though unfortunately they are placed far from the text they illustrate." M. A. Dorsey

Library J 97:2244 Je 15 '72 240w

Reviewed by Zena Sutherland
Sat R 55:80 F 19 '72 120w

TALBOT, CHARLES W., ed. Dürer in America: his graphic work. See Dürer, A.

TALBOT, THEODORE, ed. Soldier in the West: letters of Theodore Talbot during his services in California, Mexico, and Oregon, 1845-53; ed. by Robert V. Hine and Savoie Lottinville. 210p il $7.95 Univ. of Okla. press

B or 92 Frémont, John Charles. U.S.—Exploring expeditions. The West—Description and travel. Oregon—History
ISBN 0-8061-1002-3 LC 74-177337

These letters "center upon Talbot's experiences as an explorer and soldier in the far West. At 18 he accompanied John C. Fremont's Second Expedition (1843-44) and in 1845, when the letters commence, he was in St. Louis a member of the Third Fremont Expedition. He made the long trek to the coast and took part in the conquest of California. Throughout this period and during subsequent experiences, he frequently wrote to his mother and sister, expressing . . . his impressions of a variety of scenes; Vera Cruz at the close of the Mexican War; the journey by sea to the Columbia River in 1848; and, finally, Oregon, where he spent four years at Ft. Vancouver and Astoria as a lieutenant." (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

"[These letters are] drawn from a larger extant corpus of [Talbot's] papers. . . . As a middle-class Catholic of some intellectual attainment, Talbot provides some new, useful insights into familiar scenes and he sketches anew some familiar faces. The book is enhanced by useful editorial comments, brief identifications of all names cited by Talbot, and a seven-page bibliography. Recommended for public and university libraries."

Choice 9:1038 O '72 200w

"[Talbot's letters] are colorfully descriptive, sprinkled with Latin and French phrases, and interspersed with reflections of his broad reading. He was, we are told, 'unquestionably a Romantic.' . . . His letters add insight as well as human interest to the story of western expansion. . . . Although there is some unevenness in the documentation and the transitions between chapters are sometimes abrupt, the editors have done well in presenting this brief, colorful glimpse of western experience." R. W. Johannsen

J Am Hist 59:714 D '72 470w

"As Fremont's route west of Bent's Fort has been somewhat obscure, the details given in Talbot's letters add to the record. During the conquest of California Fremont placed Talbot in charge of a small group of men to control Santa Barbara, and Talbot's letters give many details of the events and conditions of that area. . . . [His] observations on many subjects are interesting (such as his prediction that the Sandwich Islands would become Americanized and perhaps be annexed); and his letters contribute to the history of the West." D. O. Kelley

Library J 97:3146 O 1 '72 260w

TALESE, GAY. Honor thy father. 526p il $10 World pub.

364.1 Mafia. Crime and criminals. Bonanno, Joseph. Bonanno, Salvatore
LC 70-167287

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Economist 242:68 Mr 18 '72 450w

Reviewed by Matthew Coady

New Statesman 83:361 Mr 17 '72 180w

Reviewed by Wilfrid Sheed

N Y Rev of Books 19:23 J1 20 '72 1000w

TLS p410 Ap 14 '72 850w

TANDON, PRAKASH. Beyond Punjab, 1937-1960. (Calif. Univ. Center for South and Southeast Asia stud. Pub.) 222p $6.95 Univ. of Calif. press

915.4 India—Social life and customs
ISBN 0-520-01759-5 LC 73-123620

This autobiography is a continuation of Punjabi Century (BRD 1969). It "is a record of Tandon's career in management, from his first post in one of the Unilever companies in Bombay to his appointment as Finance Director of Hindustan Lever. His story is set against a period of . . . rapid political development during which Tandon's own position changed from that of a subordinate in British India to that of a top manager with European subordinates in independent India. The account spans the final decade of British rule, the Independence regime, and post-Independence life." (Publisher's note) Glossary.

"The work is of prime importance to students of Indo-British social and political history. Should be part of any modern India collection."

Choice 9:1186 N '72 100w

"[Tandon's first volume] was a successful juxtaposition of family autobiography and national history. Beyond Punjab continues in much the same vein. . . . With independence the subtle changes of the Indian's position in his own country are recounted against a backdrop of marketing research. . . . A keen, interested observer of his fellow man, with a gentle sense of humor, Tandon is sensitive yet detached and understated in developing crisp, detailed vignettes. A pleasant, down-to-earth book." R. S. Haas

TANDON, PRAKASH—Continued

Library J 97:1804 My 15 '72 130w

"Tandon's new volume traces in detail both his own career and the way in which pre-independence institutions in the world of business adapted themselves to play their part in the newly emerging political set-up. His fight to secure the acceptance of 'Dalda', the famous vegetable-oil substitute for ghee, took him all over India; what he saw and heard in the course of his extensive—and intensive—travels forms by no means the least interesting portion of the book. Mr Tandon's remarkable career was achieved in the face of considerable difficulties of personal adaptation. Everyone who is interested in factors which have shaped the India of today should read this . . . interesting [book]."

TLS p1502 D 3 '71 300w

TANSELLE, G. THOMAS. Guide to the study of United States imprints. 2v $40 Belknap press of Harvard univ. press

016 Printing—Bibliography. Publishers and publishing—Bibliography. U.S.—Imprints—Bibliography
ISBN 0-674-36761-8 LC 79-143232

"With the purpose of listing the principal materials on publishing and printing in the United States, Mr. Tanselle has compiled nine lists: A. Regional Lists (the nation, sections, states, cities); B. Genre Lists (92 subdivisions); C. Author Lists (groups, individual authors); D. Copyright Records; E. Catalogues; F. Book-Trade Directories (only retrospective, not current); G. Studies of Individual Printers and Publishers; H. General Studies; I. Check-lists of Secondary Material. Newspaper imprints are not included. The index is by both names and subjects. An appendix lists 250 titles for a basic collection on printing and publishing in the United States." (Am Lit) Index.

"In his introduction the compiler comments in some detail on the separate sections of the guide. He modestly calls this a preliminary work and invites additions and corrections."

Am Lit 44:350 My '72 130w

"[This is an] extraordinary guide, which the author tells us is an extension of his own files. . . . In his customary meticulous and logical manner, Tanselle records, in these two excellently printed large volumes, generously full citations for basic American imprint lists. . . . Any of the categories repays study. For example the second volume contains a 358-page dictionary of American printers and articles about them which alone would make the volume worthwhile. Another indication of scope is that the index to the set runs to 141 pages. This is clearly an essential reference purchase for university and larger public libraries." C. W. Mann

Library J 97:1697 My 1 '72 250w

"[This] is a reference work which should be owned by every library professing to support research, by investigators studying the varied aspects of printing and publishing in the United States, and by every antiquarian bookseller who stocks and sells Americana. . . . The 2 volumes are now, and are likely to remain for decades, the first and basic points of departure for generations of students and investigators interested in United States imprints and in all related studies, literary, historical, bibliographical, and cultural, which the broad topic of imprint history has generated. Tanselle has systematically and comprehensively recorded and logically arranged most of the published research relating to printing in the United States beginning with the pioneers and continuing through the year 1969. . . . [For] comprehensiveness, reliability, and ease of use [this work reaches] a high degree of excellence." C. K. Byrd

Library Q 42:357 J1 '72 450w

Reviewed by S. T. Riley

New Eng Q 45:460 S '72 900w

TLS p1440 N 24 '72 400w

TAPIÉ, VICTOR-L. The rise and fall of the Habsburg monarchy; tr. by Stephen Hardman. 430p $15 Praeger

943.6 Austria—History. Habsburg, House of
LC 77-137893

This account of the Habsburg "rise to power spans five centuries of European history and includes the histories of Czechs, Germans, Austrians, Hungarians, and the many other peoples who have lived near or along the Danube. . . . from the earliest times to 1918. . . . Tapié focuses on the triumphs of the Habsburgs, including their success in building a system of government under which the many peoples of the Danube area thrived. He examines the early development of social organization, the gradual emergence of the ruling family, [and] the personality and achievements of the most famous Habsburg emperors. . . . [He provides] descriptions of the military victories under Leopold I during the seventeenth century . . . [and] analyzes the gradual weakening of the monarchy." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"[This is] the most comprehensive history of the Habsburg monarchy in English. The text is closely packed, but attractively written and translated from the French. A book for serious students of history. . . . [with] excellent bibliographical discussions at the end of chapters, an adequate index, and helpful genealogical charts."

Choice 9:426 My '72 100w

"Tapié convincingly shows in this masterly study there was nothing inevitable about Austria-Hungary's downfall when it did eventually come. . . . One of the great merits of this excellent book . . . is that it deals not only with politics and economics but with culture as well. It was in the field of intellectual and artistic endeavour that the Habsburg empire really shone, particularly in its closing years from 1867 to 1918 when Vienna was the home of men like Sigmund Freud, Richard Strauss, Gustav Mahler, and Karl Kokoschka. The book's weakest parts are those dealing with the southern Slavs and their historic contribution to the life and development of the empire. Here Professor Tapié even commits some factual errors and is guilty of dozens of mis-spellings which mar this first-class work of careful and loving scholarship."

Economist 241:65 O 23 '71 500w

"[The Habsburg] role in the Holy Roman Empire, in Flanders, in Spain is barely mentioned in an introductory chapter. The author is mostly concerned with the Danubian peoples. . . . [This] is a serious, meticulously documented history which offers new insights. It is not, however, a book for the general reader." Dorothy Sinclair

Library J 96:4006 D 1 '71 70w

TARANOW, GERDA. Sarah Bernhardt; the art within the legend. 287p pl $10 Princeton univ. press

792 Bernhardt, Sarah
ISBN 0-691-06181-5 LC 70-90962

The author analyzes each of the actress's "histrionic elements (voice, pantomime, gesture, and spectacle), [to] show how Bernhardt adapted the techniques learned at the Conservatoire and in the theatre to her own particular strengths and weaknesses." (Publisher's note) Filmography. Audiography. Bibliography. Index.

Choice 9:524 Je '72 150w

"Contemporary written accounts, sound recordings, and films are analyzed to discover how much deliberate art the 'divine Sarah' used to make the spectator believe that the events on stage have really happened. . . . So thoroughly are the contrivances of her acting laid bare in this volume that the reader can simultaneously understand and sympathize with both Bernard Shaw's annoyance and everybody else's fascination with her." Kristin Morrison

Library J 97:1738 My 1 '72 150w

"Gerda Taranow's style is dry. Her book is more interesting for what it quotes than what it says, but as an assemblage of information about Bernhardt it is superlative. There are a number of dusky photos of Sarah in her big roles, including a sequence from the death scene of La Dame aux camélias. Perhaps the main lesson of the book is that the synthesis of the performer's craft is more important than the analysis of its parts. Bernhardt as a totality emerges more from the biographies [of others]." R. Crinkley

Nat R 24:651 Je 9 '72 150w

TLS p735 Je 30 '72 500w

"Nearly eighty pages are devoted to voice and vocal techniques; sixty more are devoted to the actress use of her body, her gestures, her makeup. . . . The sections on costume, on sets, and on blocking are quite informative, especially in how much they reveal of how far Bernhardt would go to create visual effects, chiefly by turning the stage into a painting or tableau, with Sarah, naturally, the focus of attention. The relationship of these tableaux to the works of the Pre-Raphaelites, especially Burne-Jones and Rossetti, provides the author with a topic for some of her best pages; others occur when she discusses the very close relationship of Sarah's stagecraft and opera. . . . [The] question of the relation of Sarah's art to her life is more involved than Miss Taranow indicates. . . . The book suffers also from the author's assumption that everyone is as familiar with the dates and details of Bernhardt's career as she is. A brief chronological outline at the beginning would have been of immense benefit." D. R. Faulkner

Yale R 61:622 Je '72 500w

TARN, NATHANIEL. A nowhere for Vallejo; Choices; October. 99p $6.50 Random house

821

ISBN 0-394-70954-3

LC 77-140732

"This work contains three groups of [poems: the] . . . multisectioned main title work; then Choices, nine poems including 'The Great Odor of Summer'; . . . and October, eleven poems concluding with [an elegy in which Tarn explores his] feeling for his Jewish past and its suffering." (Library J)

"The title poem (preceded by a prose eyewitness account of the cruel execution of José Gabriel, the last descendant of the Inca royal line) seems to carry on the projectivist, humanist, nonracist traditions of Charles Olson; it makes this volume unique. Most of its 20-odd sections begin with Spanish epigraphs from and include allusions to the great Peruvian poet César Vallejo. . . . [Tarn] has drawn not only on Vallejo, but also on the half-Incan Garcilaso de la Vega (1539-1616) and on Ernesto More's Spanish study of Vallejo. Tarn's remarkable poem seems to have as heroine the very Incan earth and culture . . . while its hero embodies Vallejo, Garcilaso, and the Incas with their legendary royal founder, Marco Capac. No library dare miss this (award-winning?) volume." H. C. Burke

Library J 96:1373 Ap 15 '71 350w

"This title-sequence, which seems to use César Vallejo (irritatingly given the sobriquet 'the caesar-poet' throughout) as Virgil to Tarn's Dante, is a loosely-strung, free-ranging set of extrapolations from Vallejo and also from his fellow half-Inca predecessors, Garcilaso de la Vega. The true Incas themselves, and themes of myth, conquest, repression and exile, appear fitfully and randomly. The whole thing is delivered in a tone of staccato portentousness. . . . In the book's final poem, pretentiously titled 'Requiem Pro Duabus Filiis Israel', the amount of justifiable personal grief that suffocates under all such lumber makes one realize how disabling and unproductive Tarn's manner is when he tries to speak from whatever is his true self and not out of a bookshelf of hermetic volumes."

TLS p910 Ag 4 '72 260w

TARN, NATHANIEL. ed. Selected poems. See Neruda, P.

TARR, JOEL ARTHUR. A study in boss politics: William Lorimer of Chicago. 376p il $12.50 Univ. of Ill. press

329 Lorimer, William. Illinois—Politics and government. Chicago—Politics and government

ISBN 252-00139-7

LC 72-133945

"Lorimer's success in politics is traced from his organization of a Republican ward club in 1884 to his expulsion from the U.S. Senate in 1912. In the years between he influenced not only Chicago and Illinois politics but became a force three Presidents had to contend with. The central theme . . . is the analysis of the ethno-cultural basis for the division between machine supporters and urban reformers." (Choice). Bibliography. Index.

Reviewed by J. B. Sanders

Ann Am Acad 403:204 S '72 400w

"Though focused on Lorimer's activities in Chicago, this . . . study provides an excellent background for understanding the problems facing the American city at the beginning of the 20th century. A computer analysis of voting and demographic patterns, though limited by availability and reliability of data, tends to substantiate the author's conclusions. Students and teachers of urban politics will find this an interesting and rewarding book."

Choice 9:283 Ap '72 170w

Reviewed by Zane Miller

J Am Hist 59:187 Je '72 850w

"This account of Chicago's 'blond boss' makes a substantial contribution to the understanding of both the way in which urban political machines operate and the methods they use to influence governmental activities at the state and national level. . . . Tarr pays a great deal of attention to the circumstances surrounding Lorimer's election to the U.S. Senate in 1909. Two years later, after a sensational trial, that body expelled Lorimer on the grounds that his election had been 'purchased' by Chicago business interests. Based on extensive research and statistical analysis this political biography illuminates issues that concerned early 20th-Century Progressives. Highly recommended." R. W. Schwarz

Library J 97:499 F 1 '72 130w

TARRANCE, LANCE, jt. auth. Ticket-splitter. See De Vries, W.

The TASK of universities in a changing world; Stephen D. Kertesz, editor. (Notre Dame, Indiana, Univ. Com. on int. relations. Int. studies) 503p $15 Univ. of Notre Dame press

378 Educational sociology. Education, Higher. Colleges and universities

LC 75-148191

In this volume "the role of the university in providing a . . . sense of direction to world affairs is examined. . . . [The authors] first turn to the problem of the university and its goals and its relation to the society of which it is a part. . . . [They then examine] some internal problems of university education—relating the place of the humanities and a scientific social science in the university. . . . Discussions on the international aspects of a university's responsibilities [follow]. . . . In the final two sections are outlined the situations, challenges, and difficulties of universities in a variety of developed and developing nations." (Publisher's note)

"It is probably inherent in all volumes of this type that the quality of the three dozen individual contributions varies widely in style, interest, and relevance. Several of the articles bear very little resemblance to the volume's title, and they contain nothing that a student of the university did not know before picking up the book. Not recommended."

Choice 8:1230 N '71 90w

"The volume's essays lean more heavily toward 'the North American university system.' . . . There are, however, essays on most of the other areas of the world, 'horizontally' described. . . . Individual chapters (Parts IV, V) cover problems in the familiar areas, Canada, England, France, Italy, Germany, Sweden, Spain; and emerging institutions in Latin America, in Africa, and in Asia. The foreword hints at disappointment in not being able to cover certain areas, namely the Soviet Union, Eastern Europe (except Yugoslavia), and mainland China." A. W. Burks

J Higher Ed 43:327 Ap '72 600w

"Three international conferences held in 1969 and 1970 at South Bend, Indiana and in Italy produced these 34 essays by leaders in higher education from 15 countries. At this crisis period for universities the world over, such a comprehensive, expert overview is both needed and challenging. . . . Factual, reasonable, and written in clearly understandable English rather than academic jargon, the volume is an essential addition for all academic and discerning public libraries." E. M. Oboler

Library J 96:4090 D 15 '71 110w

TATE, ALLEN. The swimmers, and other selected poems. 196p $5.95; pa $2.45 Scribner

811
ISBN 684-12333-9; 684-12335-5 (pa)
LC 71-143912

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by Chad Walsh
Book World p7 D 19 '71 150w

Reviewed by R. B. Shaw
Poetry 119:222 Ja '72 1150w
Va Q R 48:cii summer '72 190w

TATE, D. J. M. The making of modern South-East Asia, v. 1: The European conquest. 582p il $40 Oxford

959 Asia, Southeastern—History
LC 70-942910

"This is the first volume of a projected three-volume history of modern Southeast Asia. It deals with the period beginning with the Portuguese and Spanish conquests in the area and ending with the completion of the French conquest of Indochina—that is, from the opening decades of the 16th Century. [It] deals first with the countries of Malaysia, Indonesia, and the Philippines; and it later goes on to discuss Burma, Thailand, and the states of Indochina. . . . The book's subject [involves] . . . the policies and actions of five European imperial powers: Portugal, Spain, the Netherlands, Britain, and France." (Library J)

"[This work] draws on various published accounts and constitutes the most detailed synthesis on the subject available at present. Details and analysis are most complete and reliable for the Indonesian-Malay world, much less thorough and less dependable for mainland Southeast Asia. The work is not too formidable for the general reader, but will be most useful for the serious student. It should also find its place on the library reference shelf. Maps, charts, notes, bibliographies, and index are included as student guides."

Choice 9:1186 N '72 110w

"This work will not supersede Daniel G. Hall's History of South-East Asia [BRD 1956] or John F. Cady's Southeast-Asia: Its Historical Development [BRD 1965], though it will supplement these works in some aspects. Its chief merit lies in bringing together a vast array of facts scattered throughout a large number of books and journals. It is heavy reading . . . but the specialist will find it a handy compendium." B. G. Gokhale
Library J 97:2595 Ag '72 200w

"Tate teaches history at the Malay College, Kuala Kangsar, Malaysia, and his Making of Modern South-East Asia was evidently designed with Malaysian sixth forms in mind. In practice it deserves a wider distribution than this. It is extremely well arranged [and] by no means difficult to read. . . . One hopes that the further two volumes taking the story from the turn of the century to the present are of the same calibre."

TLS p1361 N 10 '72 150w

TATE, JAMES. Absences. (An Atlantic monthly press bk) 109p $5.95; pa $1.95 Little 811

ISBN 0-316-83237-5 LC 72-1057

This is the author's third book of poems.

"I found this volume disappointing. The poems surprise, rather than evoke mystery. They lack a sense of real darkness (the darkness of Merwin, not the sentimental darkness of Mark Strand). There are too many poems and too many words. After a while the effects begin to look too 'easy,' and certain tics begin to irritate. And yet Tate is a real poet: vigorous, effervescent, adventurous. To my mind, his best poems are not the bizzare rather random hyperbolic ones his followers prefer, but the subtly ironic metaphysical ones. . . . What Dudley Fitts called 'the darker and more disturbing reaches' are within Tate's grasp if he doesn't allow his very facility to run away with him (and if he disciplines his penchant for the bad pun and poor joke)." Brian Swann
Library J 97:2189 Je 15 '72 200w

"Tate's poems are very orderly as well as very surprising and original. . . . They are meditative, introverted, self-reliant, funny, alarming, strange, difficult, intelligent and beautifully crafted. . . . [Tate] is an impressive writer whose process of imaginative growth is through that deliberate extinction of personality which T. S. Eliot once called for as the indispensable means of turning a man or woman of powerful personality into a writer of powerful poems. He makes the current school of confessional poets look a little sick. They could do worse than read Tate and shape up." Julian Moynahan

N Y Times Bk R p63 N 12 '72 950w

"Tate proves again that he is a poet of verbal excitement, sometimes opaque, sometimes of dazzling clarity. . . . [He] is a risk-taker, likely to get out on that real or metaphorical limb and keep cutting, not caring much whether the saw is between him and the tree or not. This is the heady spirit that encourages the adventure of poetry." Norman Rosten
Sat R 55:58 Ag 12 '72 240w

TATE, PETER. Gardens one to five [Eng title: Gardens 1,2,3,4,5]. 181p $4.95 Doubleday
LC 76-139067

"The place is Central Italy some time in the not-too-distant future. In formal, isolated, and beautiful gardens live people programmed by some unexplained force to behave in a structural, unthinking manner. Into their midst comes Shem, a free man but driven by a compulsion he does not understand to break up the pattern of each garden by drawing the attention of the inhabitants to the hypocrisy of the life they are living." (Library J)

"This science fiction novel has a fairly interesting theme: a UN experiment with peaceful environments is aborted by a well-meaning but unbriefed intruder. Presumably this means to make some comment on the hopelessness of enforced peace. Unfortunately, the message is lost in the murky medium of confused prose and verbal gymnastics that fall flat. One fairly well developed character appears, Scarlatti, the defense lawyer for the intruder, Shem, and the Italian setting is attractive, but they cannot really redeem the inadequate writing. The subject matter may make this novel appealing enough for some idealistic readers to wade through it. A possible choice for high school and public libraries, but certainly not essential." M. B. Burgess
Library J 96:502 F 1 '71 80w

"A strange, allegorical piece of science fiction far removed from the world of little green men and time machines. . . . Shem is accused of mass murder—of possessing an identifiable type of 'lethal innocence' that is the causative agent for deaths in Vietnam, the Middle East, and Biafra. A complex, subtle book—a cut above the average science-fiction novel for recommendation to the more contemplative devotees of this genre." Jeanne Cavallini
Library J 96:2378 J1 '71 140w [YA]

Reviewed by Janet Burroway
New Statesman 81:503 Ap 9 '71 180w

"The revelation in Garden 5 is a clever and thoughtful development, adding a speculative aspect to what had previously been a series of interpretative episodes and providing, too, the concrete and frightening possibility of an insuperable World Police Force. Peter Tate is a little too ready, though, to leave mysterious some events which suit the story as allegory but which confuse the cautionary tale. Shem as scapegoat and eventual sacrifice is pitifully believable, but Shem as myth or exemplar—his final, posthumous role—is less credible in the light of what we come to know of the stern realities which cause his destruction." TLS p493 Ap 30 '71 380w

TAUBER, MAURICE F., comp. Book catalogs; [comp.] by Maurice F. Tauber and Hilda Feinberg. 572p $15 Scarecrow

025.3 Catalogs, Book
ISBN 0-8108-0372-0 LC 72-149994

"The collection of papers in this volume provides a . . . record of what has been accomplished and what is developing in the total area of book catalogs. The papers, some earlier published elsewhere and some written specifically for this volume, consider the various factors important in book catalog production—format, method of production, users, and costs—and attempt to isolate specific problems related thereto. Samples of ongoing book catalogs are presented and analyzed; details of production are outlined; and reasons for the favorable user acceptance reported." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"There is considerable overlap and duplication between papers in the collection, since many papers were not written with this volume in mind. The introduction provides an overview which ties the separate papers to the main theme. . . . Taken as a whole, however, the collection does a good job of describing new developments in and future directions of the production and use of book catalogs. . . . This volume is pertinent to any librarian interested in current library technology and its effects on bibliographic control and patron usage of catalogs. . . . It is a necessity for any library school collection." N. L. Eaton

Col & Res Lib 33:154 Mr '72 460w

"The volume should be read as a whole, not as a collection of single papers, some of which may be somewhat optimistic in describing projects in early stages of development. The background material on book catalogs in general is somewhat duplicative of the earlier volume [Book catalogs, ed. by R. E. Kingery and M. F. Tauber, BRD 1965] but this title deals much more extensively and concretely with book catalog development and experience in all types of libraries: academic, public, school, and special. . . . The book will have special value for libraries considering the change from card catalog to book catalog. . . . Of special value are the section on sample book catalogs and the directory of active catalogs." A. B. Martin

Library J 97:1248 Ap 1 '72 400w

"Only papers published from 1964 to early 1970 are included in the present volume. . . . The individual articles vary widely in general importance, timeliness, and usefulness, covering as they do . . . a very wide range of book catalog projects. . . . A fair and balanced view is given, however, of the present picture of book catalog production. . . . The two evaluative chapters . . . are disappointing. The introduction is somewhat superficial and pedestrian; the concluding chapter on retrospects and recommendations by Hines and Harris is only slightly more searching." George Piternick

LRTS 15:556 fall '71 550w

TAUBERT, SIGFRED, ed. The book trade of the world; 3v, v 1 Europe and international section. 543p maps $18 Bowker

658.8 Book industries and trade. Booksellers and bookselling. Publishers and publishing ISBN 3-578-06536-X

This first of a projected "three-volume survey of [the world book trade covers] . . . all the European countries. . . . [Each chapter] is organized into 35 subject areas, providing . . . information on such topics as the country's retail trade, wholesale trade, taxes, copyright laws, national bibliography, book clubs, antiquarian trade, and retail prices. . . . Sources for additional information are also furnished, and, in most instances, a bibliography follows each discussion point. . . . [The] international section includes information on international copyright laws, book fairs, and trade organizations. [There is a] directory of book museums and libraries with collections of books about books." (Publisher's note)

"Here is a compendium of information on the European book trade probably unparalleled in any other single source. It will be an invaluable and continuing reference volume for any bookseller, publisher, or librarian whose work brings him into contact with the European trade. Libraries will want it on their reference shelves. . . . The present volume opens with a 44-page essay by the editor describing the general international book trade. . . . The major substance of the book as a reference source falls in the country descriptions which range alphabetically from Albania to Yugoslavia. . . . Such a volume contains a vast amount of information, most of which is not easily available elsewhere, and some of which may simply not be available anywhere else. The book suffers a little from overorganization, but in general it is quite easy to use." David Kaser

Library J 97:3556 N 1 '72 500w

"As international book fairs proliferate and translations and co-editions increase, the need grows for a reference work of this type; and no one is better qualified to edit it than Sigfred Taubert, director of the annual Frankfurt Book Fair. . . . The relevant information has been secured by sending to each country a form of questionnaire under thirty-five headings, not all of which were applicable to every country, but which gave the contributors in each the opportunity to supply information under such headings as book production, publishing, retail prices, paperbacks, literary agents, literary prizes, etc. This is convenient for the reader as international comparisons may be made under the same reference-numbered headings."

TLS p1123 S 22 '72 350w

TAYLOR, A. J. P. Beaverbrook. 712p il $12.95 Simon & Schuster

B or 92 Beaverbrook, William Maxwell Aitken, 1st Baron ISBN 0-671-21376-8 LC 72-80688

This is an account of the life and career of Lord Beaverbrook whose life "spanned 85 years. [He] rose from humble origins to become a multimillionaire . . . a newspaper publisher . . . [and a figure in] British political circles. . . . He played the role of 'kingmaker' in Lloyd George's supersession of Herbert Asquith as Prime Minister during World War I, and he was one of the heroes of the Battle of Britain as minister of aircraft production in World War II." (Library J)

Reviewed by Elbridge Colby

Best Sell 32:361 N 1 '72 550w

Reviewed by Anthony Hartley

Christian Science Monitor p9 O 25 '72 700w

"This vast but very readable volume is a work of scholarship—and friendship. . . . The great strength of the book is . . . in the narrative of the age on which Mr Taylor has become an authority, and especially in the prolonged and fascinating accounts of Beaverbrook's relationship with his two heroes, Bonar Law and Churchill. . . . [The author] is excellent about the man: about his curiosity which was the strength of his journalism, his need to entertain (not just his friends of the moment but the wide public that read his papers), his sense of humour (which could certainly be malicious), his innate romanticism (to which the whole book is a tribute) and his unparalleled generosity as a foul-weather friend, especially to Churchill and Law, but even on occasion to the Asquiths."

Economist 244:79 Jl 1 '72 750w

"Taylor sets the record straight in a number of areas where Beaverbrook has been unfairly criticized. This study combines consummate narrative skills, meticulous research, and Taylor's own inimitable flair for history to produce a sympathetic but balanced portrait of a key figure in 20th-Century British politics. Highly recommended." J. A. Casada

Library J 97:2579 Ag '72 190w

Reviewed by Peregrine Worsthorne

Nat R 24:1359 D 8 '72 2000w

Reviewed by D. T. Rotunda

New Repub 167:30 N 4 '72 1400w

"Taylor's life of Beaverbrook constructs a classic and extreme case of the myth-making propensity to be found, to a stronger or weaker degree, in many, perhaps most, human beings. . . . This biography does not pretend to be objective. As such phrases as 'romantic story' and 'admirable embellishments' suggest, Alan Taylor is prepared to make excuses for his hero's waywardness. For he unashamedly declares that Beaverbrook is his hero. . . . [This] book is a massive achievement. 712 pages long. It is also wonderfully entertaining." Tom Driberg

New Statesman 83:908 Je 30 '72 3100w

Reviewed by Peter Stansky

N Y Times Bk R p3 O 11 '72 110w

New Yorker 48:168 O 21 '72 300w

"[Beaverbrook] died, as he had lived, a mysterious man. [Bonar] Law's dying words to him had been: 'You are a curious fellow.' It is in Mr Taylor's recognition of this fact, in his refusal to offer simple solutions, and in his determination to cover all aspects of his subject's life and personality with thoroughness and sympathy, that the true quality of this biography lies. Perhaps, on occasion, the handling of certain episodes and aspects might have been sharper and more critical. There are several incidents over which historians will take issue with Mr Taylor's accounts. The illumination he brings to his subject is often too benign. The prejudices . . . are evident enough. But what matter? Beaverbrook's life, for all its unevenness, was in its strange way a work of art. So, also, is this biography."

TLS p747 Je 30 '72 2300w

TAYLOR, A. J. P., ed. Lloyd George. See Stevenson, F.

TAYLOR, ANNA. Drustan the wanderer; ■ novel based on the legend of Tristan and Isolde. 181p $5.95 Saturday review press
ISBN 0-8415-0165-3 LC 70-186428

"At Castle Dor near Fowey in Cornwall there is a stone with a sixth-century inscription to a Drustan son of Cunomor. Anna Taylor takes this Drustan to be the historic Tristan, and relates his life and love, in a Cornish, Irish and Welsh setting, in the time of the Saxon invasions." (TLS)

"Here is the famous love story 'rationalized' and based to some extent on early Celtic and Pictish archaeological evidence. As such, it loses some of the fey quality of the Gottfried and the symbolic impact of the Malory versions. However, the always appealing tale is pleasantly and naturally told (with some of the antique flavor of a Sigrid Undset), and will undoubtedly attract young adult readers. Recommended for public library collections." J. D. Suleiman
Library J 97:2202 Je 15 '72 60w

Reviewed by Virginia Carpio
Library J 97:3474 O 15 '72 120w [YA]

Reviewed by Martin Levin
N Y Times Bk R p34 Je 12 '72 80w

"The best parts of the book are those dealing with the half-world between Roman civilization becoming lost, and the advancing barbarism. . . . Anna Taylor has studied the Dark Ages to some purpose, and when she describes the vanishing culture, the decaying roads, the decline of a Roman city, it sounds authentic. She seems unable, however, to decide how to treat the magical elements of the Tristan legend, whether to narrate them, omit them, or rationalize them. This makes uneasy reading in such episodes as the passing of Arthur and the death of Tristan, which are neither the well-known tales, nor are they what might have really happened before the myths began to grow, but a new amalgam of magic and reality." TLS p1560 D 10 '71 140w

TAYLOR, DONALD S., ed. The complete works of Thomas Chatterton, 2v. See Chatterton, T.

TAYLOR, ELEANOR ROSS. Welcome Eumenides; poems; with a note by Richard Howard. 55p $5.95; pa $2.95 Braziller

811
ISBN 0-8076-0644-8; 0-8076-0633-2 (pa)
LC 73-184877

This is Mrs Taylor's second collection of poems. Her first, Wilderness of Ladies was published in 1960. Some of these poems appeared in The Sewanee Review, Southern Poetry Review and The Greensboro Review.

"The introductory note by the series editor, Richard Howard, is sufficient evidence of the importance of this vibrant writer's second collection of poems. The title work is a soliloquy of Florence Nightingale and characterizes her call to mercy among the soldiers to which she ministered. 'A Few Days in the South in February,' perhaps the most moving poem, relates a father's visit to the vicinity of his son's death in the Civil War. No sentimentalist, Taylor calls to the fore the love of mankind and of family in these two poems of highly civilized individuals. Other fine poems fill the volume, each a tidy manipulation of language and emotion." P. H. Marvin
Library J 97:1442 Ap 15 '72 100w

"The truly remarkable poem in the book, one for which it should be read even if it did not contain other strong poems, is the title poem. . . . Many lines and phrases of the poem are directly quoted from actual notes Florence Nightingale left behind her.) In this heroic, oral poem, densely woven and refrained, Eleanor Taylor has brought together the waste of women in society and the waste of men in wars and twisted them inseparably. . . . [She] has compressed what might be the materials for a play or a film into eight intense pages of verse. The materials are ideally suited to her style, a style born of tension, in which whispered undertones are in dialogue with the givens of social existence, with the sudden explosive burst of rebellion or recognition." Adrienne Rich
N Y Times Bk R p3 J1 2 '72 1050w

TAYLOR, ELIZABETH. The devastating boys, and other stories. 179p $5.95 Viking

SBN 670-27067-9 LC 79-181977

Eleven short stories by the English writer are gathered here.

Reviewed by W. A. C. Francis
Best Sell 32:196 J1 15 '72 330w

"There is a distressing similarity between Miss Taylor's many stories—an assumption, which sometimes destroys a reader's enjoyment of her art, that the people she deals with in her fiction are not people, but characters. . . . And why smile condescendingly at so many people? For Miss Taylor's book is a routine assemblage of these people, most of them English lightweight, well-meaning, silly, harmless characters, characters who often squint because they don't wear glasses . . . and who sometimes fall off cliffs (Polly falls to her death because she can't see very well). In stories that attempt more serious themes, Miss Taylor seems to employ exactly the same narrative technique, the same 'situation-comedy' sequence of events, so that the result is bewildering." J. C. Oates

Book World p6 Ap 30 '72 700w

Reviewed by Paul Theroux
Encounter 39:70 S '72 850w

"All [the characters] are would-be lovers in the carefully constructed world of these short pieces which examine different types of love: for children, parents, lovers, spouse, and friend. Each character is in search of a feeling that is not there, spiritually, psychologically, geographically. Solitary, each blindly functions in a real world, while living in an imaginary one. This subtle juxtaposition of the real and the ideal enhances the desolate existence of lives based on self-delusion, the misunderstanding of man's great need for others. An unhappy theme, but well-handled in the best Taylor tradition: her mannered technique and eye for oblique detail are perfect for this refined but frightening presentation of love at its most grotesque." Jean Spang

Library J 97:1349 Ap 1 '72 160w

Reviewed by John Spurling
New Statesman 83:720 My 26 '72 130w

"Taylor is a pastel stylist, a celebrant of delicately-drawn losers. The heroes and heroines in her new book of short stories are likely to come croppers when just within reach of their heart's desire. A frustrated widower, on holiday in Malta, checks into a hotel with the lady of his choice, and finds himself handicapped by gout. . . . A honeymoon couple is made aware of their emotional insufficiency by the clearly-heard rapture in the next room. In Miss Taylor's epiphanies, pitiful frauds are exposed, and old wounds laid bare. Yet the tone of her fiction is urbane rather than morbid. Her characters have enough vitality to be interesting, but not enough to be tragic." Martin Levin

N Y Times Bk R p41 Ap 23 '72 110w

Reviewed by William Beauchamp
Sat R 55:69 Je 10 '72 270w

"Elizabeth Taylor must surely now be among the four or five most distinguished living practitioners of the art of the short story in the English-speaking world. Some have reservations—this reviewer among them—about her range as a novelist; there is an assumption of English middle-class habits, preoccupations, and woes which . . . excludes perhaps too much of modern experience to give her broader canvases the significance she herself might intend. . . . But when it comes to the isolation—in the symbolic as well as technical sense—of a particular relationship, a particular incident in which the apparently ordinary, stock individual is momentarily exposed, then there is no writer so skilled at imprinting forever on the reader's mind how significant that moment can be."

TLS p649 Je 9 '72 800w

TAYLOR, JOHN L. Instructional planning systems; a gaming-simulation approach to urban problems. 190p il $11.25 Cambridge

309.2 City planning. Game theory. Simulation methods
ISBN 0-521-08229-3 LC 70-160093

"This book is concerned with the educational aspects of gaming simulation procedures and their application to urban studies and to the teaching of town planning. It analyses the availability and relevance of these instructional simulation techniques as a . . . way of presenting, relating and manipulating . . . divergent observations concerning the environment and human settlement. . . . The first [section] identifies the background and evolution of instructional simulation, the second examines urban development gaming's emerging importance and justification and the third reviews some of the issues which must be contemplated if the potential of gaming simulation techniques are to be fully realised." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"A thorough study of a new aspect of teaching technology—and very timely, considering the dissatisfaction with traditional planning education and the need to relate it to a rapidly changing environment."

Choice 8:1487 Ja '72 110w

"Dr Taylor takes his games seriously, and if commitment shines through a sometimes tedious recital, his carefully impartial assessment makes no extravagant claims for a technique from which both student and pedagogue can derive benefit. Inevitably, this somewhat academic dissertation will enjoy a limited readership, but anyone with only the conventional wisdoms at his disposal, or wishing to clarify his prejudices, could do worse than start with what is probably the easiest of the new-wave techniques to understand."

TLS p1484 N 26 '71 380w

TAYLOR, JOHN RUSSELL. The Hollywood musical [by] John Russell Taylor [and] Arthur Jackson. 278p il col il $12.95 McGraw 782.8 Moving picture plays—History and criticism. Musical revues, comedies, etc. SBN 07-062953-6 LC 70-139565

The first section provides an analysis of the Hollywood musical by trends, directors and stars. The second section "includes a filmography listing credits and song titles for more than 500 films [and] information on more than 1400 films. [Biographical information is included in the index of names, and there is] an index of songs, and an index of film titles which includes cross referencing for changes of titles in the United States and the United Kingdom." (Library J)

"This is a serious treatment of the musical comedy on the screen. It is not definitive, it handles too much material for any depth, but the observations on various screen musicals are sound and sometimes provocative. . . . [The filmography] makes no attempt at completeness but contains a tremendous amount of material—year of making, director, cast, songs and who sang which one; the only thing missing is a summary. . . . The illustrations are abundant and good and they include some excellent stills from movies."

Best Sell 31:511 F 15 '72 210w

"Although the book contains little piercing film criticism and no index to text material, it is a complete reference to the Hollywood wonderland of film musicals. Necessary for the comprehensive film book library."

Choice 9:229 Ap '72 230w

"It is almost too bad that the authors felt obliged to included a text section in this excellent directory of film music. The text is an attempt at a history of the film musical together with an examination of the ingredients of such a film, a sociological rationale of the film musical, and a study of techniques. It doesn't come off. However, I can most heartily recommend the reference section (more than half of the volume). . . . The illustrations are marvelous; there are some very good color reproductions and several full-page action stills."

Paul Myers

Library J 97:697 F 15 '72 150w

TLS p125 F 4 '72 330w

TAYLOR, JOHN RUSSELL. The second wave; British drama for the seventies. 236p $6.50 Hill & Wang

822 English drama—History and criticism ISBN 0-8090-8518-6 LC 73-167933

This "volume chronicles the work of British playwrights who have arrived since [the seventies]. The chapters on Peter Nichols, Edward Bond, and David Storey provide background for plays that are now appearing in this country in print and on stage. The author also introduces a number of playwrights who are less well known here. [He discusses] the playwrights' television and film writing as well as the stage productions, almost all of which he has seen, and includes material from his own conversations with the writers." (Choice)

"[The author makes] his analyses as complete as contemporary accounts can be. The style is that of good, literate journalism; at least some of the chapters have previously appeared in such magazines as Plays and Play-ers. If the book lacks the excitement of the earlier work [The Angry Theater BRD 1963] it is not the fault of the author, but of a changed and more temperate time when theater writers are no longer attached to companies like the Royal Court and Theatre Workshop or to any apparent social movements. Recommended for any theater collection. Bibliography of printed plays in their English editions."

Choice 9:229 Ap '72 160w

"Taylor is lucid and thorough, and he is one of the few critics who take serious account of television as a viable dramatic medium. The point of his book is an insistence on the energy and eclecticism of modern British drama. I recommend it highly; and I suspect that it will become a standard study." T. E. Luddy

Library J 97:1017 Mr 15 '72 200w

TAYLOR, L. F. Numbers. 153p $8.75 Transatlantic

512 Numbers, Theory of ISBN 0571-093221 LC [71-496269]

An account of number behavior including "recurring decimals, patterns of 'one', prime numbers, factorization, finite (modular) arithmetic, Diophantine equations, factorial numbers, Fermat's theorem." (Choice)

"A most interesting volume, offering absorbing exploration of this endlessly fascinating subject. This is not a theory of numbers book; far from it. Taylor has given us one that is practical. . . . [He is] always entrancing us with surprises, historical references, and implications rather different from what we are used to. Not written as a teaching text, yet has some examples for practice and certainly would not go amiss as an adjunct to any theory of numbers course in a rigorous college program. Contains many tables, some very unusual ones, but no index. . . . Altogether a splendid book for the paper and pencil amateur, as well as a useful one for the professional mathematician."

Choice 7:1693 F '71 110w

"Probably [this] will be popular in the senior school library."

TLS p910 Ag 14 '70 40w

TAYLOR, LARRY E. Pastoral and anti-pastoral patterns in John Updike's fiction [by] Larry E. Taylor; with a pref. by Harry T. Moore. 159p $5.45 Southern Ill. univ. press 813 Updike, John. Country life ISBN 0-8093-0484-8 LC 79-132490

"Taylor takes up the . . . theme of innocence in American fiction and relates ways in which Updike reveals himself through his various attitudes toward city and country." (Christian Century)

"[The author relies] primarily on William Empson and John F. Lyden for definitions of pastoral and anti-pastoral. . . . [He] finds the Christian tradition essentially anti-pastoral; this forces him to conclude that 'there is something basically anti-pastoral about the old people at the Poor Farm' (in The Poorhouse Fair [BRD 1959])—including the blind seeress and the simple-hearted, intuitively devout Hook, surely pastoral figures. Taylor implicitly accepts the Updike style as a necessary ingredient of the pastoral mode."

N. W. Yates

Am Lit 43:484 N '71 140w

Christian Century 88:411 Mr 31 '71 30w

TAYLOR, MAXWELL D. Swords and plowshares. 434p il maps $10 Norton

B or 92 U.S.—History, Military SBN 393-07460-9 LC 70-152677

These are the memoirs of the man who "was the U.S. commander in Berlin during the Truman administration, commander of the Eighth Army in Korea for the later stages of the conflict there, Chief of Staff of the Army during the Eisenhower administration, a special consultant for Kennedy on the Bay of Pigs, Kennedy's personal adviser on military affairs, and finally Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff under Kennedy. Taylor served President Johnson in a variety of positions, for a year as ambassador to Vietnam and the rest of the time as an adviser on Vietnamese affairs." (Book World) Index.

TAYLOR, M. D.—Continued

Reviewed by George Osborn

Ann Am Acad 403:205 S '72 800w

"An engaging chapter of the book (its final) is Taylor's assessment of what our power position will be like in the post-Vietnam era. . . . The U.S. might . . . be obliged to respond to mini-aggressions by weak powers wishing to demonstrate their lack of fear of the American colossus. . . . Further, we could be drawn into conflicts like the Arab-Israeli should a powerful third-party country—namely the USSR—commit its forces to a combat role. . . . Anti-war activists . . . probably will criticize Taylor for his continued advocacy of limited use of military power in pursuit of national interest. Yet, the rationale which the general uses to state his case makes sense, at least to this reviewer." J. C. Dougherty

Best Sell 32:87 My 15 '72 500w

"Both the pro- and anti-Taylor groups will find support for their positions in the general's memoirs, which, not incidentally, are of a superior literary quality, far surpassing the usual old soldier's tales. . . . There are a number of surprises in these memoirs. . . . We did not use atomic weapons in Korea because we had only a limited number available. . . . Taylor makes no mention of a moral objection to their use. . . . He has fascinating, if terribly complicated, accounts of the political chaos in Vietnam from 1963 to 1968. . . . Whatever one thinks of [his] advice, there is no gainsaying Taylor's importance. He has been a key actor in the great events of our time. No one who wishes to understand the past three decades can ignore [his book]." S. E. Ambrose

Book World p4 Ap 9 '72 650w

Reviewed by John Phillips

Commonweal 96:505 S 22 '72 1050w

"This book is bad history, but in its own way, a good memoir, for it tells a great deal about Gen. Maxwell Taylor and those other statesmen of the 1960's who led us into the Indochina war. Taylor's account of some of the events of that period . . . is so at variance with the documentary record now available to us . . . that the kindest description one can give his version is to say that it reflects the wish-think reconstruction of the past in which men of power are prone to indulge themselves in their memoirs." Neil Sheehan

N Y Times Bk R p3 Ap 9 '72 1800w

TAYLOR, MICHAEL J., ed. Sex: thoughts for contemporary Christians. 262p $5.95 Double-day

241.5 Sex (Theology)
LC 70-171400

This is a collection of essays by "writers such as Andrew Greeley, Eugene Kennedy, Rollo May, Morton Kelsey and Sidney Cornelia Callahan (the only woman represented). Subjects considered include body and soul relationships, Jesus and sexuality, the unity of the marital act, premarital sexuality, sex and the single Catholic, pornography, and homosexuality and the Church." (Library J) Bibliography.

"This is an excellent collection of thirteen essays which try to find a plausible via media between the obvious deficiencies of our old law-centered sexual ethic and the perhaps less obvious deficiencies of exaggeratedly libertarian sexual ethic. . . . In finding something thoughtful to say to the many people who have many questions about sex, this book will be a help." T. H. Stahel

America 126:240 Mr 4 '72 900w

Reviewed by Edward Gannon

Best Sell 31:544 Mr 1 '72 390w

Christian Century 89:150 F 2 '72 30w

Reviewed by Michael Zeik

Commonweal 96:363 Je 30 '72 1500w

"I'd rate Taylor's book as the best 'Catholic' anthology to come along in years—that is, if the anthologist hasn't undercut himself by the awkward way he backs into the topic of homosexuality: two chapters separated to the back of the book and preceded by a qualifying note. The new bravado would seem to have its demarcations still among the 'emancipated.'" John Deedy

Critic 30:91 Mr '72 180w

"Believing that 'the attitude of the Church toward sex has seldom been helpful,' Father Taylor, professor of theology at Seattle University, has gathered together a group of published pieces by both Protestant and Catholic clergy and laymen which might prove helpful to the religion-oriented adult who is confused about today's sex culture versus sexuality. . . . All the articles are well written, but some of them seem to have emanated from ivory towers in spite of the fact that, as the editor states, the authors are 'all obviously compassionate and understanding of the human condition as well as experts in their own fields.'" E. T. Smith

Library J 97:386 Mr 1 '72 170w

"[These are] articles by various authors that contribute more light than heat. . . . In the best chapter in the book, Rollo (Love and Will) [BRD 1969, 1970], May comments on today's so-called 'sexual revolution' as a sort of 'New Puritanism,' a nervous pansexualism which devaluates sexual experience and identity. . . . Important intellectual underpinnings also come from Notre Dame professor Joseph Blenkinsopp, who outlines the historical development of Christian tradition regarding sexuality, without repeating the usual clichés and misunderstandings about Paul and Augustine. Introducing two selections on [homosexuality], the editor says, 'It is time this condition was examined with more compassion and less bias.' And that is just what happens here." George Devine

N Y Times Bk R p14 Mr 26 '72 340w

TAYLOR, MICHAEL M. Fields for president. See Fields, W. C.

TAYLOR, MORRIS F. First mail West; stagecoach lines on the Santa Fe Trail. 253p pl $10 Univ. of N.Mex. press

388.3 Transportation—History. Santa Fe Trail
SBN 8263-0194-0 LC 78-129810

This book "tells the story of the stagecoach lines that carried passengers and mail over the Trail from 1850 to 1879, when the railroads took over their traffic. . . . From commercial records and ledgers, from waybills and travelers' letters, from Post Office Department records showing the . . . competitive struggle for the government mail contract, the author has drawn this account of the small, independent stage lines on the Santa Fe Trail. He describes the roads they used, the land along them, the physical equipment of the lines, their fares, their stations and accommodations for passengers, and the nature of the country, the people, and the trade at the end of the route in New Mexico." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"The history of stagecoach and mail service in these years is presented with the easy authority of one who knows his subject. . . . The index and bibliography are excellent." H. L. Carter

Am Hist R 77:1511 D '72 380w

"[This] is an important piece of Western transportation history. Well researched and well written, it . . . treats an aspect of Santa Fe Trail history that has not before been studied in such detail. It contains a few good illustrations and an excellent map, and will be of interest to both history buffs and scholars. Undergraduate libraries should include it in any Western collection."

Choice 8:607 Je '71 100w

Reviewed by W. M. Hollon

J Am Hist 58:763 D '71 390w

TAYLOR, PHILIP. The distant magnet: European emigration to the U.S.A. 326p il maps $14 Harper

325.73 U.S.—Immigration and emigration. Europe—Immigration and emigration
ISBN 0-413-26530-7 LC 73-874798

This is an account "of European immigration to America from 1830 to 1930. The author describes the conditions which prompted the migration from Europe and the drawing power of America. [Included also are] chapters on the oceanic voyage." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

"Taylor has digested prodigious amounts of reading into an attractive book. . . . [He] has a knack for leavening masses of statistics with judicious quotations from official records and eyewitness accounts. At times, even his talent can not sweeten the data he compiles into more than passable prose. . . . Recommended for all general and college libraries. Extensive bibliography and index." Choice 9:277 Ap '72 170w

"Taylor has treated all Europe as a unit for his purpose and although, at the receiving end, he has concentrated on the United States, he is continually aware of the Pan-American, indeed the global, whole of which the United States is only the largest part. . . . In America the role of the immigrant, his problems of adjustment, his relationship to the native-born—all these are explored, not definitively (that can never be) but imaginatively [and] sensitively. . . . It is surprising how many aspects of this vast theme are freshly illuminated by Dr Taylor's eminently matter-of-fact researches. . . . All in all this is a book which combines solid worth with suggestive insights in an unusual degree." Economist 240:65 S 25 '71 460w

Reviewed by Rowland Berthoff
J Am Hist 59:395 S '72 700w

"The careful blending of original research, travel accounts, eyewitness accounts, and scholarly studies characterizes this well-written [book]. . . . The diagrams, maps, and photographs are very good. . . . This work will appeal to a wide audience because of its broad coverage. Highly recommended." J. L. Forsythe

Library J 97:682 F 15 '72 90w

"All those professionally studying the United States, whether as teachers, learners, or both, will seize on this book with shrieks of joy, if they have any sense. It will find a place in every college or university library; no professor or lecturer in the subject will want to be without a copy, journalists can learn a lot from it, and if it gets into paperback wise students will own it too. . . . It leaves almost nothing out; no other book now available is so comprehensive and up to date. Few authors have Taylor's patient concern for all his readers' needs and interests. . . . Above all it is successful in the clarity of its complexity: richly rewarding, it defies summary, while losing no thread of its tangled subject." TLS p1313 O 22 '71 1000w

TLS p1313 O 22 '71 1000w

TAYLOR, RICHARD. Good and evil; a new direction. 268p $6.95; pa $1.95 Macmillan (N Y)
170 Ethics. Good and evil
LC 70-99116

This book consists of three parts. Part I is "devoted to reexamining, and rejecting, a . . . rationalistic tradition of ethics. . . . Part II provides an empirical explanation of good and evil, showing how that distinction arises and what good and evil are. . . . [Part III develops] a philosophy of aspiration . . . [as opposed] to morality as it has been traditionally conceived; namely, to the morality of duty." (Pref)

"This book is not about metaethics. Taylor has instead attempted to remove what he conceives to be some of the 'lint-picking' that occurs in discussions of good and evil. One does not cavil with Taylor's presentations, for they are well formulated. The reader is advised to judge for himself. One does, however suggest that perhaps the discussions which he terms 'lint-picking' may very well be all that there is left to ethical deliberations." Choice 8:1190 N '71 140w

"[The author] tries to keep the discussion of ethical principles relevant to daily living from start to finish. . . . The final chapter, on the meaning of life, offers an upbeat concept of endless striving, endless exercise of will. The undertaking of new tasks, Taylor says, yields more beauty and permanence than 'any heaven of which men have ever dreamed.' William Gerber

Library J 95:3476 O 15 '70 130w

TAYLOR, ROBERT S. The making of a library; the academic library in transition. (Hampshire Col. Working paper, no. 2; Wiley-Becker-Hayes pub) 250p $12.95 Wiley
027.77 Hampshire College, Amherst, Massachusetts. Library
ISBN 0-471-84831-X LC 71-180245

"This report concerns the design of the Hampshire College Library Center as an innovating experimental information center. At conception it was determined to focus on developing a collection of nonprint materials rather than duplicate book collections already available through the five-college cooperative program in which it participates. Extensive use of current computer technology, television, nonprint collection, and books is the base of communication and information to users. . . . This is an operating library which applies technological feasibility and cost effectiveness to its services. Taylor . . . [also] reports problems and mistakes." (Choice) Index.

"Throughout the book, but primarily in the final two chapters, the philosophy, criticism, and challenges placed before academic librarians are strong and thought provoking." Choice 9:956 O '72 100w

"Taylor's philosophy of orienting the library to the user comes through eloquently. At this library the user is to be truly part of the picture. . . . The philosophy expounded is one meant to change the college library and to increase its effectiveness. It deals with, 'the renewal of a static if not moribund organization—the library—and of a profession that grows in numbers but dies in content and purpose.' Although the author is certainly convincing in his argument for changes to improve on current library problems there are many promising indicators that the profession is trying to get with it and sometimes succeeding." John Lubans

Col & Res Lib 33:496 N '72 650w

"Taylor brings in his writing an elegance of style too seldom seen in our professional literature. He is concise, thorough, demanding. . . . [The book] applies to librarians and libraries other than academic. . . . My hunch is that this work will be picked up quickly by restless younger librarians and aspirants now depressed if not entirely turned off by the hierarchic paralysis and male dominance of many of our libraries, public and academic. . . . The whole book is implicitly a questioning of the almost totally unchallenged assumption in higher education, and in our public schools as well, that the primary learning interface occurs along the plane of contact between teacher (master) and student (slave)—that the latter can learn only what the former has already assimilated." J. F. Holly

Library J 97:2550 Ag '72 650w

TAYLOR, SIMON WATSON, ed. French poetry today; a bilingual anthology; ed. and with an introd. by Simon Watson Taylor and Edward Lucie-Smith. 408p $10 Schocken

841 French poetry—Collections
ISBN 0-8052-3426-8 LC 71-163335

"This anthology makes available selections from the work of 42 poets, ranging from the well established (Prévert, Aragon, Char) to the relatively unknown (Perros, Lescure, Jacquot). . . . The material includes only poems written between 1955 and 1970 and particularly emphasizes work done in the last 5 years." (Library J) Bibliographies.

"Most [of this poetry] has not been previously translated and would not be easily accessible to American readers, even in the original French. Considerable variety makes the anthology interesting reading, although, since selections from any one poet are very limited, it is somewhat difficult to develop a clear idea of individual styles. A perceptive introductory essay, which offers comparisons with Anglo-American poetry, and brief biobibliographical notes at the end of the volume help establish perspective. Unfortunately . . . the poems themselves are not dated. Perhaps a selection from the work of fewer poets with more critical text would have increased the book's value. However, the translations are exceptionally fine and the volume fills a definite gap." Karen Horny

Library J 97:2847 S 15 '72 220w

"We certainly need a bilingual anthology, but it is doubtful whether French Poetry Today does much to satisfy that need. . . . [The editors] have produced a standard kind of anthology, based on catholicity of choice. . . . It is very good to have so many younger writers represented. . . . The book will have done a useful job in directing attention to Jude Stéfán, Denis Roche, and others. Its very scope also conveys something of the variety and zest of French poetry. . . . But even on its own terms the anthology tends to restrict the service it does to the poets by offering so little of their work. . . . [The introduction] is rarely searching, and is rather too clotted with movements, influences and sheer names for the ease of the beginner. The translations are serviceable though often slack. The volume remains a convenient repertory, however."

TAYLOR, S. W.—Continued

TLS p360 Mr 31 '72 700w

TAYLOR, SUZANNE. Young and hungry; ■ cookbook in the form of a memoir; il. by Mike Nelson. 270p $6.95 Houghton

641.5 Cookery, Norwegian. Norway—Social life and customs
LC 74-120822

"The first half of this book consists of childhood reminiscences of summers the author spent in Norway visiting her grandparents, partly in a small town, but mostly at their mountain cabin. . . . Part 2 contains recipes of a variety of Norwegian dishes mentioned in the memoirs, both everyday and company food prepared by her grandmother and other relatives." (Library J)

"These recipes are easy to follow and adapted for American use. The only drawback is that the number of servings for each recipe is not given. Not an essential book, but well-written, light reading, with special appeal to those of Norwegian birth to whom the sights and sounds will bring back memories. Recommended." S. L. Steen

Library J 95:3908 N 15 '70 130w

"A charming culinary memoir. . . . The food of Norway, which I know well, is not complicated, and the author's is some of the best." Nika Hazelton

N Y Times Bk R p34 D 12 '71 30w

TAYLOR, TALUS, jt. auth. The adventures of the three colors. See Tison, A.

TAYLOR, WILLIAM. Greek architecture. (The world of architecture) 96p il col pl $4.95 Day
722 Architecture, Greek
LC 74-117171

The architecture considered here dates "from the beginning of the sixth century BC to the end of the second century BC. It is not a history as such, but rather a study of the ideas, ideals and achievements of Greek architecture. . . . Temple architecture is the preoccupation of this study, but . . . lesser shrines, theatres, the ideas of the town and its architecture [also] receive consideration." (Foreword) Glossary. Bibliography. Index.

"[This] book should be titled 'The Classical Greek Temple.' Those chapters dealing with this subject, which form the major portion of the book, are excellent. . . . This portion of [the study] is clear and concise and is to be recommended. Unfortunately, the rest of the book is far weaker. The author is an architect, and his passages on architecture are creditable. But he is not an historian or a student of classical culture, and his writing on these topics suffers, largely through the use of poor source material." D. W. Roller

Class World 65:101 N '71 460w

"[This book is] more in the nature of [a] volume of appreciation than [a] short history. . . . The color illustrations (there are 16) . . . add tremendously to the reader's understanding and appreciation of . . . this architectural period. . . . As [an] introduction to the subject, as means of stimulating an intelligent, appreciative response, the [book is excellent.]" David Gebhard

Library J 96:3116 O 1 '71 90w

TAYLOR, WILLIAM B. Landlord and peasant in colonial Oaxaca. 287p il maps $10 Stanford univ. press

309.172 Land tenure. Oaxaca Valley—Social conditions
ISBN 0-8047-0796-0 LC 70-153819

In this "study of land tenure in Colonial Mexico . . . Taylor demonstrates that the land tenure system in Oaxaca differed in many significant respects from that of northern Mexico. . . . [His account indicates that] the land-holding Indian nobles were as strong at the end of the colonial period as they had been at the beginning of the Spanish conquest." (Choice) Bibliography. Glossary. Index.

"The ideas and the facts in the contents and the appendices of this study are invaluable pillars to support the nature and variation of a real regionalism in colonial Mexico. . . . An excellent book, well organized into stimulating chapter topics, the author's views and his researches—in Mexico and Spain—are convincingly backed up by charts, tables, and seven very relevant appendices and documents. . . . Of all the chapters, the . . . most strikingly new and helpful [is] chapter 2 entitled 'Colonial Cacicazgos,' dealing with the Indian nobility, Indian landholders, and their independent tenure or services. Much of the essence of the book is here because the regional basis of Oaxacan uniqueness was this very large Indian economic activity, either as peasants, or in long-lived Indian communities, or as dependent to Indian 'caciques' and nobles." Harry Bernstein

Ann Am Acad 403:183 S '72 460w

"[The author has made a] careful analysis of provincial archival records and various other unpublished materials. . . . Several excellent statistical tables, a complete bibliography, and a useful glossary add to the value of his pioneering effort which should stimulate many revisionist studies regarding land tenure in colonial Hispanic America."

Choice 9:1033 O '72 120w

TAYLOR, WILLIAM LEONHARD. A productive monopoly; the effect of railroad control on New England coastal steamship lines, 1870-1916. 323p il maps $10 Brown univ. press

387.5 Merchant marine—New England. Railroads—Consolidation
ISBN 0-87057-123-0 LC 70-111457

The thesis of this "book, implicit in its title, is that railroad control of the New England coastal steamships between 1870 and 1916 was beneficial both to the boat lines and more importantly, to the economy of New England. Put otherwise, . . . [the author draws a] distinction between the baleful effects of the New Haven Railroad's attempt to gobble up all forms of land transportation in southern New England, and the healthy results of the same railroad's control of the Sound lines." (J Am Hist) Annotated bibliography. Index.

"Taylor's study is more than a treatise on monopolism. It contains enlightening sections on vessel construction, the beginnings of the coastal lines, the types of trade they catered to, labor conditions in the coastal service, and improvements and developments in the steamship themselves. The study is less successful in its ability to relate nationally. . . . Nonetheless . . . the faults of [the] study are outweighed by its redeeming features. It is nicely written, it is useful, and it should be read." J. J. Safford

Am Hist R 76:1610 D '71 500w

"As a revisionist monograph . . . this book does not really make its case. Taylor eschews the theoretical and statistical analyses that would be necessary to support the thesis objectively. Moreover the prose is rather stilted, though concise and tightly organized. Nevertheless, the book is broader than its subtitle would indicate, containing much fresh and interesting material on the New England railroad system, urban and regional rivalries, and the commercial and warehousing function of New York City. . . . A serious, specialized piece of work, it certainly deserves a place in any research library."

Choice 8:1066 O '71 170w

"The story is an intriguing one, well told and solidly buttressed by ample source materials. Indeed, Taylor makes a strong case for a somewhat novel viewpoint. . . . This is an informative book, and one held together by the underlying thesis. To this reviewer, at least, the case is proven; certainly the author has diligently searched the sources, both of the individual companies and of the Interstate Commerce Commission. And withal this is a well-written book, a distinct pleasure to read." R. C. Overton

J Am Hist 58:760 D '71 600w

"Taylor does not defend the anticompetitive tactics of the New Haven, but he does argue throughout the book that the New Haven monopoly was benign and productive. . . . This is an interesting thesis. Its credibility, unfortunately, is threatened by Taylor's failure to define the problem. There are at least four major variables involved in the New Haven experience: the New Haven itself, monopoly control, railroad control, and large-scale operation. . . . Taylor makes no attempt to show statistically that the New Haven monopoly was economically beneficial. Instead, he relies heavily on the opinions of New England businessmen and leaves himself open to the suggestion that these businessmen may have misinterpreted their personal and sectional needs. . . . Although this book is not tightly argued . . . it deserves reading." William Graebner

New Eng Q 45:139 Mr '72 650w

TEICHMANN, HOWARD. George S. Kaufman: an intimate portrait. 371p il $10 Atheneum pubs.

B or 92 Kaufman, George Simon. Theater —U.S.
LC 72-75262

The author, a close friend and collaborator of the playwright, has interviewed Kaufman's friends and associates to recreate his life and style. He portrays the "wit, playwright, stage director, newspaperman, ladies' man, card player, performer [who] shaped and dominated comedy in the American theatre for forty years. . . . [Kaufman wrote] forty-five plays, twenty-six hits, [and won] two Pulitzer Prizes." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

Reviewed by Sister Gregory Duffy
Best Sell 32:177 J1 1 '72 450w

Choice 9:1302 D '72 190w

"Since this is an 'intimate portrait,' the book gives due place to Kaufman's personal life, his friendships, his devotion to his first wife, Beatrice, . . . the shattering effects of the Mary Astor scandal, and the change in his life caused by his deep love for and marriage to Leueen MacGrath. . . . Behind the well publicized curmudgeon . . . [the author] depicts a different individual, a 'listener,' a man of courtesy, integrity, loyalty, and great generosity. . . . In this lively, comprehensive, and well illustrated volume, Mr. Teichmann has recaptured much of the golden age [of the American theater], many of the blithe spirits which animated it, and the playmaker who filled an indispensable creative role in a parade of its most brilliant entertainments." John Beaufort

Christian Science Monitor p10 J1 12 '72 450w

Reviewed by J. A. Avant
Library J 97:2386 J1 '72 150w

"The book starts with Teichmann's own meeting with Kaufman and their collaboration on the last hit Kaufman was to be associated with, 'The Solid Gold Cadillac.' It is to the triumphant first night of that show that the book returns to at the end. In between we are given a series of collage-like snapshots of Kaufman in the various roles of his life. . . . The author maintains a warmly personal tone, while at the same time examining the various, often contradictory aspects of the man. . . . [This] book must be regarded as among the happiest and most insightful studies of a theater man in many a season. On every count it is a delight." Clive Barnes

N Y Times BK R p7 Je 25 '72 1200w

New Yorker 48:79 J1 22 '72 120w

"Suitable for taking to the beach. . . . Teichmann gives us very little sense of a workman of the theater, stitching together instead a patchwork of assorted wisecracks, one-liners, oldies-but-goodies from the Algonquin Round Table, as well as many clinkers. . . . [The book] can fairly be described as fun-filled, if the late Bennett Cerf's 'Try and Stop Me' [BRD 1944] was your kind of fun. But it cost $10, and an hour later you're hungry." Walter Clemons

Newsweek 80:77 J1 17 '72 200w

"[A] good and interesting and often entertaining book [which] finally disappoints. . . . Teichmann's affectionate portrait abounds with Kaufman one-liners, and many of them are simply irresistible. . . . alas . . . they prove to be the most memorable substance of this biography. . . . The book is touching in spots, . . . but it is also oddly disjointed, stuffed with anecdotes that lead nowhere, letters that don't matter, accolades that numb, and endless names. It seems a put-together book; the affection with which it is obviously written serves as glue, but it also keeps insight and critical analysis (which, surely, Kaufman the Pro deserves) at arm's length." Eliot Fremont-Smith

Sat R 55:52 J1 22 '72 750w

Reviewed by R. Z. Sheppard
Time 99:84 Je 19 '72 700w

TEILHARD DE CHARDIN, PIERRE. Christianity and evolution; tr. by René Hague. (A Helen and Kurt Wolff bk) 255p $5.95 Harcourt

201 Theology
ISBN 0-15-117850-X LC 78-162798

"It was originally intended that this tenth volume [in the French edition] of the works of Père Teilhard de Chardin should contain all his essays and articles dealing with theological problems. However, . . . it has been necessary . . . to divide them into two volumes, the first of which will contain writings that are more particularly concerned with speculative theology, while the second will bring together those in which Christian life is the dominant subject. . . . Apart from Christological questions, most of the essays in this volume deal primarily with the problem of original sin." (Foreword) Index. Originally published in France entitled Comment je crois.

"The significance of Teilhard de Chardin for Christian theology is surely the fact that over a forty year period he kept asking theologians questions they had never thought of before. The best of these, along with Teilhard's suggested answers, are to be found in these nineteen essays, only one of which has been previously published. They reveal Teilhard to have been a brilliant speculative mind, often unsure of his theological ground, yet driven by the irrelevance of much of the theology he knew to interrogate the deepest mysteries of Christian revelation. He was haunted, for example, by the doctrine of original sin. No less than eight of these essays deal with it, some at great length." C. F. Mooney

America 125:563 D 25 '71 500w

Reviewed by Cornelia Holbert
Best Sell 31:404 D 1 '71 600w

"[These] superbly translated . . . essays covering a wide expanse of Teilhard's thought . . . stimulate the reader to reflect seriously on the Christian dogma of creation, the role of Christ in evolution as a cosmic phenomenon, and on the relationship of the church to the modern world. What Teilhard is calling for is a new theology which views Christ as universal, a radial energy suffusing the totality of being. Material and biological forces are viewed by him as vibrating in response to Christ's influence upon and in them. Like a Heraclitean fire, he is the fire that animates their being and causes them to evolve toward him. Highly recommended."

Choice 9:72 Mr '72 130w

"The title-essay of the French edition has already been separately published in English [in 1969] as How I Believe. The present volume contains twenty pieces spanning the years 1919-1953. In these essays we encounter Teilhard overtly and repeatedly locating and explaining his points of dispute with traditional Catholic dogma. Certainly those writers who have sought to domesticate Teilhard, to interpret him as basically at one with the received traditions (though employing novel forms of expression), will gain cold comfort from these essays. . . . The translation reads well. But comparison with the French original reveals some misleading circumlocutions and unaccountable errors, e.g., the translation of 'Jésus' by 'Christ'. At important points the effect of the translation is to render Teilhard's expression rather more tentative than it is in the French. So, too, the editor's foreword and some of his footnotes give the impression, perhaps quite unintentional, of apologizing for Teilhard. This is unfortunate. Teilhard deserves to be heard freely and without interference."

TLS p527 My 5 '72 900w

TELLER, WALTER, ed. Twelve works of naïve genius. 306p il $7.95 Harcourt

920

ISBN 0-15-191700-0 LC 72-78450

This "is a collection of first-hand accounts of life experience told . . . by persons who were not professional writers. . . . The works are arranged chronologically by the authors' date of birth; the writers include a pioneer settler; two physicians, one botanic, the other osteopathic; three painters; one of whom was also a minister and mechanic; a runaway slave; a freedman; a subsistence farmer who called herself a 'doctor of hens'; a housewife; a sea-going wife; a master mariner in sail. Eight were men, four were women; two of the twelve were black. The earliest was born in 1759, the last died in 1933. . . . One of these works appeared in 1905, one in 1908, and the rest in the nineteenth century. . . . Most of the works included here were published by the writers themselves." (Intro)

TELLER, WALTER —Continued

"[In these] stories of suffering and success . . . it is the peculiarly American qualities of the [writers'] lives, rather than their prose or poetry, that fascinate the reader. Whether describing Kansas during the 1850's and the Civil War, searching for whales near Patagonia, or painting Daniel Boone's portrait, these autobiographers give a unique perspective of life in adolescent America. Belief in God and nature, faith in the individual and a sturdy conviction that experience is the best teacher ally these otherwise disparate writers. . . . All of these works are rare, and most long out of print. They provide an unusually diversified historic viewpoint. . . . [They] express and explore an America—tragic, comic, real—that is too easily forgotten in our haste to recreate the past out of guilt or nostalgia." Alan Minskoff

America 127:216 S 23 '72 600w

Reviewed by R. R. Harris

Library J 97:3893 D 1 '72 120w

"As a representative selection [this book is] quite good, and Walter Teller has done a capable job of introducing each of his memoirists. . . . We are all very lucky not to have been born as ordinary Americans in the 19th century. If this collection tells us anything, it reminds us of the immense percentage of life that had to be devoted to sheer work and drudgery. It recalls how infrequent and scant were any pleasures and how little opportunity there was for any life of the mind. All in all—except for the lucky few—existence was hideously boring prison. . . . The great wonder about most of [these writers] . . . is that they wrote at all." Robie Macauley

New Repub 167:26 S 16 '72 1100w

TELSER, LESTER G. Competition, collusion, and game theory. 380p il $12.95 Aldine-Atherton

338.6 Competition. Prices. Game theory
ISBN 0-202-06043-8 LC 70-141426

The author "has applied the principles and techniques of game theory in the analysis of market transactions under various market conditions. Utilizing the theory of the core, he investigates competition, agreements among rivals, product variety, profit sharing, and dynamic demands. Approximately three-fourths of the volume is devoted to the theoretical developments. The remaining one-fourth reports his empirical studies (1) of demand (market shares) and prices for branded products (orange juice, coffee, instant mashed potatoes) and (2) of rates of return and market structure." (Choice)

"Although the mathematics will be heavy going for most undergraduates, the acquisition of this volume is recommended. It is a clear exposition of important developments in micro-economic theory and some interesting empirical results. Bibliographic references are heavily theoretical; references to similar empirical work (some of which anticipates Telser's procedures and results) are surprisingly deficient."

Choice 9:544 Je '72 110w

"Hitherto, the theory of the core has been accessible only to mathematical economists; Professor Telser now explains it for quasi-mathematical economists. Since the two final and empirical chapters scarcely use it, the non-mathematical economist who values theory for its usefulness rather than for its novelty or elegance may conclude that, despite its authoritativeness, he can leave it to others to read."

Economist 244:59 J1 22 '72 50w

TÉMIME, EMILE, jt. auth. The revolution and the civil war in Spain. See Broué, P.TENG, SSU-YU, comp. An annotated bibliography of selected Chinese reference works; comp. by Ssu-yü Teng and Knight Biggerstaff 3d ed 250p $8 Harvard univ. press

015.51 Reference books—Bibliography. China—Bibliography
ISBN 0-674-03851-7 LC 77-150012

This volume covers "the field of pre-20th century Chinese studies. . . . As compared to the second edition (1950) there are the following changes: (1) 500 titles instead of 400; (2) a new section on the 'statecraft' . . . volumes of Ming and Ch'ing; (3) more indexes to newspapers and periodicals; (4) more biographical dictionaries that focus on the modern period." (Pacific Affairs) Glossary. Index.

"A welcome revision and expansion of an indispensable reference tool in the field of Sinology. Approximately 100 superseded or obsolete titles have been deleted and nearly 200 new titles have been added. The organization and format of the bibliography remain the same except for a few subdivisions: elimination of gazetteers and Manchu books; and addition of minority peoples, Southeast Asia, and translations. New features such as . . . the appearance of Chinese characters for the titles of collectanea and for the names of important publishers in the index and glossary section have made this volume more serviceable and valuable. Despite, however, the efforts of these two prestigious scholars to keep their book up-to-date, there are omissions. Definitely for college and research libraries."

Choice 9:48 Mr '72 120w

Reviewed by Edgar Wickberg

Pacific Affairs 45:322 summer '72 140w

TENIN, VLAS. Moscow nights (Sleep soundly, dear comrade): a fantastic tale; tr. by Michel le Masque. 288p $6.95 Olympia press

LC 70-186227

This novel "concerns the attempts of a . . . mixed bag of people (a lawyer of the old school and his sister, a young thug, a KGB general's mistress, an elderly novelist, and a beautiful hashish smuggler and pimp from central Asia who is also a cosmonaut's widow) to enrich themselves and mock the bureaucracy by turning a collective farm called 'Sheaves of the Future' into a colossal Western-style cemetery for Soviet VIPs." (Book World) Translation of Spi spokoino, dorogoi tovarishch!

Reviewed by Edward Bartley

Best Sell 32:6 Ap 1 '72 370w

"Whoever he is, the pseudonymous Vlas Tenin is a dangerous writer in the best sense of the word, and I for one would consider it an honor to shake him by the hand. It requires more than nerve for a Soviet citizen to have written and circulated—through the underground samizdat network—a book of this sort in the USSR; it means that Tenin has put his head on the block and is daring the authorities to cut it off, provided they can find him. There are two things a repressive and puritanical society cannot abide: smut and laughter; and Moscow Nights is a very dirty and very funny piece of work indeed. Like all serious erotica, it is subversive to its core; like all serious humor, it is a loaded gun."

L. J. Davis

Book World p9 Ja 30 '72 800w

"Supposedly pornographic, this Russian comic novel is better set off with its original title: Sleep Soundly, Dear Comrade. Sexual scenes there are but they do not exist for themselves; rather they are elements (metaphors, symbols, similes) in a tale of modern Russia experiencing an identity crisis. . . . [The eroticism] shows composite flashes of Dostoevsky, Updike, Cleland, Roth, and M. Gorki. Despite some awkward translating, Moscow Nights, like [M.] Bulgakov's Master and Margarita [BRD 1967], has value for all adult libraries; not only for its satiric insights but as literature. Tenin's humor reminds one of Andrei Sinyavsky." P. M. Doiron

Library J 97:518 F 1 '72 300w

Reviewed by R. R. Davies

New Statesman 82:706 N 19 '71 90w

"The pseudonymous author of 'Moscow Nights' has a lot of catching up to do with the decadent West. He does a heroic job of getting it all in: flagellation, coprophilia, satyriasis, exhibitionism, onanism, voyeurism, and plain old fashioned bestiality are here, plus conventional accommodations. What makes this book distinctively different from its French or American counterparts is its humor—its bleak, Iron Curtain irony. (The funniest interlude concerns a scientist whose sexual deviation is so obscure that the secret police suspect he is pursuing a new method of espionage.) . . . In between (and sometimes in the midst of) the sex stuff is a running commentary on what it is like to be a Russian with more license than liberty." Martin Levin

N Y Times Bk R p32 Ja 9 '72 330w

Reviewed by P. S. Prescott

Newsweek 79:77 Ja 17 '72 400w

TENNANT, CHARLES. The Radical Laird; a biography of George Kinloch, 1775-1833; with a foreword by George Thomson. 255p il pl $8 Verry
B or 92 Kinloch, George
LC 177-560150

The author, a distant relative, describes the life of "an atypical member of Scotland's gentry farmers [whose political activities] resulted in his outlawry and exile in the early 1820's for holding democratic opinions." (Choice)

"Kinloch is excessively Tennant's hero, and the subject's own recordings not infrequently correct the author's opinions. An attractive picture emerges from the letters of a sensitive and impulsive man, whose liberalism [is] . . . confused with the Victorian version by the author. . . . Apart from some incidental information on Dundee, Tennant adds nothing to our knowledge of the politics or economy of pre-reform Scotland. . . . There is no reference apparatus."

Choice 8:1240 N '71 160w

"Kinloch of Kinloch, though commemorated by a statue in Dundee, is a little-known figure and this is his first biography. . . . After the Reform Act he was elected by a large majority as Dundee's first Member of Parliament. . . . [The book] is hardly worthy of its subject. It is clumsily written, negligent in research, and littered with . . . minor inaccuracies. . . . But the author deserves credit for leaving George Kinloch mostly to speak for himself, in such family letters as have survived. He was a charming letter-writer, blunt, pertinent and vivid, particularly amusing on the discomforts of travel by coach, sailing-ship or early steamboat. Self-portrayed, Kinloch is a very likable character; perceptive, generous and humorous."

TLS p992 Ag 20 '71 600w

TENNYSON, CHARLES, jt. ed. Dear and honoured Lady. See Dyson, H., ed.

TERRACE, EDWARD L. B. Treasures of the Cairo museum; from predynastic to Roman times [by] Edward L. B. Terrace and Henry G. Fischer. 188p il col il pl $9.95 N.Y. graphic 732.962 Cairo. Egyptian museum. Sculpture, Egyptian
LC 170-563063

This book describes forty-three objects. For each there is "a description of the object, a discussion of its style and significance, and . . . of selected aspects of the piece; a selective bibliography; and a section called 'Comments' which includes such items as bibliographical references for specific aspects of the piece, comparative materials, and discussions of relevant problems in Egyptian art. . . . Twenty-seven sculptures illustrate changing concepts and styles from Dynasty II or III to about 310 A.D. . . . The Egyptians' skill at carving relief is represented by eleven pieces, Egyptian painting by two decorated papyri, and the jeweler's craft by two royal pieces." (Yale R)

"Originally planned as a catalogue for a traveling exhibition from Cairo (which, alas, was cancelled) the book is well written by two exceedingly competent Egyptologists who are also leading art historians. The illustrations . . . are not only excellent, but are for the most part new. The accompanying text is a clear, lucid, popular, and at the same time scholarly statement on the development of Egyptian art over three millennia, said statement being illuminated by representative and, at the same time, often well-known objects in the Egyptian Museum at Cairo's collections. A highly welcome book."

Choice 8:1169 N '71 150w

"Each object is illustrated in at least one black and white photograph, and for eight of the pieces a color plate is also provided. The reliefs and papyri were chosen to illustrate certain aspects of Egyptian art—such as informality, motion, humor, and satire—not normally found in sculpture in the round. The title of the book is somewhat misleading, since no object which is definitely predynastic or prehistoric in date has been included. . . . [The authors] say that, although they have attempted to include works which illustrate many important aspects of Egyptian art, the basis of their selection of objects was the 'superb quality' of the pieces. In my opinion, the authors' esthetic judgment cannot be questioned. . . . [However] too many of the illustrations are either out of focus or too dark." R. A. Fazzini

Yale R 60:600 Je '71 2050w

TERRELL, JOHN UPTON. American Indian almanac. 494p $15 World pub.

970.1 Indians of North America—History
LC 70-142135

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Choice 8:[1519] Ja '72 120w

Reviewed by Jack Gregory and Rennard Strickland

Commonweal 96:288 My 26 '72 130w

Va Q R 48:xxxiii winter '72 80w

TERRELL, JOHN UPTON. Bunkhouse papers; il. by Lorence Bjorklund. 251p $6.95 Dial press

917.8 The West—Description and travel.
Cowboys
LC 70-163584

This is a collection of "personal memories and anecdotes from the author's life in the West from 1911 to 1930. Each narrative is separate and connected with the others only through the narrator, and not all of the pieces concern life in the bunkhouse." (Library J)

"This reviewer has not enjoyed anything so much since Ben K. Green's Wild Cow Tales. The all too brief section on bunkhouse language alone is worth the price of the book. The unrestrained bitterness of the last chapter with its tirades against pioneers, cattle barons, and other despoilers of the West, while generally ringing true, comes as a shock and seems out of place at the end of this beautifully written book. However, nothing can detract from what went before. Recommended for general purchase." W. H. Farrington

Library J 96:2491 Ag '71 130w

"Pleasant reminiscences by the veteran Western history writer. . . . The book is full of tales, anecdotes and authentic Western types." N Y Times Bk R p40 F 6 '72 90w

TERRILL, ROSS. 800,000,000: the real China. (An Atlantic monthly press bk) 235p il $7.95 Little

915.1 China (People's Republic of China)
—Description and travel
LC 70-185415

An account of a 7,000 mile journey through China during the summer of 1971. The author, a previous resident of Hong Kong, had traveled in China in 1964. He describes the changes since the Cultural Revolution and reports on interviews with Chou En-lai, Prince Sihanouk of Cambodia and other high officials as well as meetings and interviews at six major universities and sessions with Chinese diplomats, journalists, farmers and factory workers.

Reviewed by V. S. Kearney

America 126:544 My 20 '72 130w

"[The author] went about China for forty days, visiting Canton, Peking, Sian, Yenan, Shanghai, Nanking, Nanchang, and Changsha. . . . He has educated insight and facile literary skill, notably at describing people and even natural scenes. . . . His main emphasis is on a survey of sociological, political, and economic features of daily life, in the country cooperatives and in the mills of Shanghai. . . . Once the route followed is completed—halfway through the book—the author goes into broader analyses: like the 'myth' of Mao, how Chinese see the world, foreigners resident in Peking, how China makes foreign policy, issues between China and America, and—mirabile dictu—thoughts about Kissinger and Nixon. It is a very, very good book, provided with a convenient glossary, but it sorely needs an index." Elbridge Colby

Best Sell 32:36 Ap 15 '72 390w

"Head and shoulders above anything yet published on life inside the new China is Ross Terrill's . . . perceptive, probing study. . . . Terrill, a young Australian now teaching political science at Harvard, is not only a superb reporter, but an alert observer, a shrewd analyst, and a writer blessed with an engaging literary style. In observing China through his eyes, we also see the reflection of our own values and the nature of the society that formed them. We became participants in Terrill's 'spiritual struggle' through a mysterious but compelling social landscape. He . . . believes the revolution is inevitable and necessary, is deeply impressed by what he has seen in China, yet is troubled by many of the implications of this authoritarian society. He . . . [is] a gifted, sensitive, and politically astute observer." Ronald Steel

TERRILL, ROSS—Continued

Book World p1 Ap 9 '72 160w

"Among the books appearing since America's new China policy, Terrill's is certainly a gem. In condensed form it appeared last fall in the Atlantic Monthly. Here the text has been fleshed out considerably, given much better organization, and supplemented by excellent photographs. The author . . . does not accept the vision of the People's Republic of China as an aggressive power, and sees the Chinese 'not as missionaries to the world but gardeners of their own heritage.' His well-written and fast-flowing book contains knowledgeable insights and conveys successfully the warmth of his personal encounters. It will be in great demand and can be recommended heartily." D. D. Buck

Library J 97:1796 My 15 '72 220w

"[Terrill is] an avowed social democrat who can empathize with Mao Tse-tung's grand social design while criticizing its seeming regimentation of thought and action. . . . [However] no one outside of China knows the population within 25 million. . . . Nor does the book offer the encyclopedic detail of the late Edgar Snow [Red Star Over China, BRD 1968]. Instead Terrill focuses more on an anecdotal atmosphere and the human dimension of education, theater, and daily living. Here he does excel, however, conveying the complexity of Mao's China in provocative perspective. . . . He attempts no final answers. He understands the subtlety of Chinese communications and thought but avoids trying to read men's minds. . . . No one with an interest in contemporary China can fail to find this an informative and illuminating study."

New Repub 166:34 Ap 29 '72 550w

Reviewed by S. R. Schram

N Y Times Bk R p2 My 7 '72 500w

Reviewed by P. S. Prescott

Newsweek 79:79 Ap 11 '72 800w

TLS p951 Ag 11 '72 700w

TERRY, WALTER. The dance in America. rev ed 272p pl $8.95 Harper

793.3 Dancing. Dancers

ISBN 06-014244-8

LC 76-138768

This revised edition of the work by the dance critic of the Saturday Review retains its original coverage while describing later events and trends. It traces the history of dance in America describing the work of innovators such as Isadora Duncan, Ruth St. Denis, Ted Shawn, Martha Graham and others. Modern dance, the growth of American ballet companies, ethnic dances, ballet from abroad, new choreographers, the work of dance companies such as the New York City Ballet, the Joffrey, and others are among the topics discussed. Index. For the first edition see BRD 1956.

"Terry's dedication to writing and to dance is illustrated by the care with which he has rewritten materials all through this revised edition, to make a point clearer or to emphasize a quality of a person or work. . . . New photographs, and two new chapters, 'The black dance' and 'The regional ballet movement,' are important additions. The third section, especially, has been carefully rewritten and enlarged. With his usual fluid and informal style, he writes of the new dance companies and performers and their theories. The up-to-the-minute information in this new edition is most valuable for reference and for students and lovers of dance and of theater. The discerning statements, objective selection of people, companies, events, and materials for emphasis are impressive."

Choice 8:1340 D '71 110w

Reviewed by R. R. Harris

Library J 96:1699 My 15 '71 70w

THALE, MARY, ed. The autobiography of Francis Place (1771-1854). See Place, F.

THANE, ELSWYTH. The fighting Quaker: Nathanael Greene. 304p il $8.95 Hawthorne bks.

B or 92 Greene, Nathanael. U.S.—History—Revolution
LC 79-39278

In this account of the life and military career of Nathanael Greene, Thane describes the 'role played by Greene in driving the British from the Southern states. . . . [and] the terrible conditions under which Greene and his men marched and fought. . . . [The author] also introduces some of the . . . figures who worked with Greene, such as Light-Horse Harry Lee and 'Mad Anthony' Wayne." (Library J)

"Miss Thane brings impressive credentials to bear on her subject. The trouble is that she hasn't very much to work with. There are some perfunctory letters from Greene to his vivacious wife Kitty. There is Washington's known admiration for his virtues, and Greene's own brilliant strategy in the South. But Greene was so loyal and fine that he was almost too true to be good copy. We wait in vain for some scene of high drama like Mad Anthony Wayne's capture of Stony Point by cold steel, or Washington's white anger at Monmouth. The Peale portrait of Greene shows an extremely handsome man, but that is all we have to go on, for Miss Thane—for all her fictional talents—is very sparse in telling us what he looked like. . . . Greene, the strategist, never comes alive, although the battles he conceived—the Cowpens and Guildford Court House—were turning points of the war." Burke Wilkinson

Christian Science Monitor p13 O 18 '72 650w

"This is a readable book about one of the most important military leaders of the American Revolution. . . . There is, however, little in this book about Greene's life before or after the war. . . . For large libraries." Jerome Nadelhaft

Library J 97:2595 Ag '72 90w

THAYER, LEE, comp. and ed. Communication. See Communication: general semantics perspectives

THEATRE and nationalism in twentieth-century Ireland; ed. by Robert O'Driscoll. 216p il Can$8.50 Univ. of Toronto press

322 Irish drama—History and criticism.

Theater—Ireland—History

ISBN 0-19-690390-4 LC 77-151383

"These lectures [which] were delivered at the second inter-university Seminar in Irish Studies, held at the University of Toronto in 1968. . . . [are concerned with] the early years of the new [Irish] dramatic movement and the founding of the Abbey Theatre." (TLS)

"[This] scholarly analysis is the first systematic exploration of modern Irish Theatre since the publication of U. M. Ellis-Fermor's The Irish dramatic movement. O'Driscoll's excellent introduction . . . is a definite asset to a collection which is essential reading for anyone interested in modern theatre—it is a must for every university and college library collection."

Choice 9:75 Mr '72 220w

TLS p100 Ja 28 '72 750w

The THEATRICAL manager in England and America; player of a perilous game; Philip Henslowe, Tate Wilkinson, Stephen Price, Edwin Booth, Charles Wyndham; ed. by Joseph W. Donohue, Jr. 216p il $8.50 Princeton univ. press

658 Theater management. Theater—Production and direction
ISBN 0-691-06188-2 LC 72-154992

These five essays depict "the careers and contributions of leading producer-managers from four centuries of English-speaking theater. Originally delivered as lectures at Princeton University in 1960-70, . . . Bernard Beckerman writes of Philip Henslowe; Charles Beecher Hogan discusses Tate Wilkinson of York; Bernard Hewitt writes of Stephen Price, the American producer-manager of Drury Lane; Charles Shattuck describes the management of Edwin Booth; and, finally, George Rowell presents an account of Charles Wyndham, the illustrious Victorian surgeon turned actor-manager." (Choice)

"The subtitle 'Player of a perilous game,' taken from George Henry Lewes' description of play production, aptly describes the purpose and content of this volume. . . . [It] should serve to spur wider investigation and publication on production management. Both enjoyable and informative, this book will be welcome by both established and beginning workers, professional and academic. It shortens a gap on the shelf of basic research volumes on theater."

Choice 9:230 Ap '72 220w

"Donohue's 'The Theatrical Manager and the Uses of Theatrical Research' introduces the volume. The scholarly attributes of all six contributors are without question. Their studies well deserve a spot next to Hesketh Pearson and Frances Donaldson." L. A. Rachow

Library J 97:2114 Je 1 '72 210w

THELEN, DAVID P. The new citizenship; origins of progressivism in Wisconsin, 1885-1900. 340p $12 Univ. of Mo. press

320.9775 Wisconsin—Politics and government. U.S.—Politics and government—1865-1898 ISBN 0-8262-0111-3 LC 79-158075

In this study Professor Thelen "describes how the depression of 1893 stimulated a spirit of co-operation across class lines that forced public-spirited citizens to re-examine their analysis of social ills and to organize to alleviate poverty and counter corporate arrogance. . . . Although [the] study focuses primarily on the origins of Wisconsin progressivism, . . . it relates the subject to a movement that was to become nationwide in scope." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"[This is] a closely researched account of Badger State reform in a transitional period. . . . A fascinating chapter on old Bob LaFollette is most thought provoking. Very detailed, yet challenging. A must for students of Gilded Age and Progressive Era. Primary sources annotated; . . . no statistics (a possible weakness)."

Choice 9:713 JI/Ag 72 170w

"This is the most important book on local and state progressivism since the publication of George E. Mowry's The California Progressives [BRD 1952]. [It] not only marks a successful foray beyond existing historiographical frontiers but also will blaze the path (as Mowry's work did two decades ago) for a general movement into the origins of progressivism in the cities and states. The signal importance of The New Citizenship derives from the fact that it is the first book to show, systematically and precisely, why the progressive movement happened when it did." [This] is a highly revisionist study." A. S. Link

J Am Hist 59:739 D '72 700w

"This excellent, well-written and well-researched study of the origins of reform in the key state of Wisconsin is an invaluable contribution to the body of literature on the Progressive Movement. . . . The dominant status-revolt and producer-oriented theories of the movement are rejected." R. L. Filippelli

Library J 97:1434 Ap 15 '72 200w

THEOBALD, ROBERT, ed. Futures conditional. 357p il $6.95; pa $2.95 Bobbs

901.9 Forecasts. Civilization, Modern LC 77-183105

This "book is designed to suggest a variety of ways of conceiving life and values in the future. . . . [It is] organized into four parts: 'How people think about the future,' 'Choosing your view of the future,' 'Refining your view of the future,' and 'Basic tools for your future imagining.' The materials included encompass . . . science fiction, poetry, cartoons, photographs, slogans and selections from some contemporary futurists—as well as their critics." (Choice) Bibliography.

"Theobald invites the reader to 'participate in imagining the future.' . . . The quality of the selections ranges from the novel and stimulating to the pedestrian and trivial—a very mixed bag indeed!"

Choice 9:1213 N '72 150w

"Man has to create his future for himself" is the message of this . . . book of readings on the future. Theobald, who has written and lectured extensively on futuristic themes, provides introductory commentary to each section of the anthology as well as to many of the individual contributions. Well-known contributors as diverse as A. H. Maslow, Joseph Wood Krutch, and Mark Rudd are included. Their contributions are arranged in a sequence which attempts first to guide the reader through a full range of positive outlooks on the future and then to have him choose and further refine the point of view or attitude which best fits his beliefs of how the future will come about. The contributions themselves are often clever, if not downright slick; all are provocative and entertaining." T. L. Bonn

Library J 97:2632 Ag '72 160w

THEROUX, ALEXANDER. Three wogs. 216p $5.95 Gambit

ISBN 0-87645-055-9 LC 75-137019

Here are "three novellas (or possibly short stories) of moderate length, which tell of the various situations of three 'wogs,' or persons of foreign extraction and limited means living in England. The first deals with a prejudiced English matron and her hatred for a Chinese storekeeper, who kills her. The second tells of a confrontation between an illiterate 'bloke' and a university-educated Indian. The third . . . tells of the efforts of a rich English Reverend to retain as choirmaster (and hinted-at homosexual companion) an African singer." (Best Sell)

Reviewed by B. P. J. Prezkop

Best Sell 31:533 Mr 1 '72 290w

"[These] three long stories [are] successful in varying degrees, given the initial romantic proposition that all Wogs are good, because they are uncorrupted by civilization. And all Englishmen, supposedly civilized, are bad, premises one doesn't really bother to challenge in a comic and highly stylized work like this. Because English bigots are uncomfortably like American ones, it is alarming enough without trying to be believable. . . . A cautionary word about the style, which at its best, offers happy surprises; at other times exasperation. . . . The language is always interesting and can be rewarding. But you have to be in the mood." Diane Johnson

Book World p8 F 13 '72 270w

Reviewed by Robert Buckeye

Library J 97:700 F 15 '72 140w

"Theroux is a certified, grade A, major, new talent. . . . There is perhaps some imbalance [in his book: he] means to understand the wog sufferers better than he means to understand the British rednecks. On the other hand he achieves much of his best (and most predictable) comic effect by ridiculing the wogs' English. He has a splendid ear for verbal anomalies. 'Three Wogs' is overwritten, certainly, but that is the book's premise; joy and fun its sanction. . . . In only one large place is the overwriting clumsy and something of an embarrassment. That . . . is also the first 20 pages of the book. . . . The Chinese story should have been swapped for the Indian story. . . . Read this book: put the second or third story first. You will laugh. You will be astonished." D. K. Mano

N Y Times Bk R p4 Ap 16 '72 350w

"Once the reader has become accustomed to the flamboyancies of Mr. Theroux' extravagant, bombastic style, he can settle down to the feast spread before him and enjoy bit by bit the coruscations, the precisions, and the persuasiveness of an acute playful intelligence all too ready to cozen the unwary. . . . While the author's sense of the absurd is as broadly conveyed as his satirical intent what distinguishes his work is an astounding ability to absorb an alien culture so . . . accurately . . . that one soon forgets the author's American antecedents and accepts him as an authentic Briton, born and bred. As a striking tour de force the book is incomparable."

Va Q R 48:c summer '72 130w

THIHER, ALLEN. Céline; the novel ■■■ delirium. 224p $12.50 Rutgers univ. press

843 Destouches, Louis Ferdinand ISBN 0-8135-0717-0

"The catalog of grotesqueries, the imagery of disgust, and the savage tempo of Céline's satirical writings all reflect a vision of délire as the essence of existence, suggests the author of this . . . study. . . . [He]

THIHER, ALLEN—Continued

analyzes Voyage (Journey to the End of Night) [BRD 1938], and its sequels, the racist pamphlets of 1937-1942, and the final chronicles of flight as changing responses to dementia—progressing from the cynicism of the picaresque in the early epics of madness to direct expression of personal anguish as Céline's reality came more and more to coincide with his imaginary world." (Library J)

"This is the most thorough critique of Céline's entire opus yet to appear in English." Arthur Curley

Library J 97:2400 J1 '72 130w

"One of the virtues of Allen Thiher's study of Céline is that he is able to discuss Céline's bizarre politics with refreshing objectivity, and to place them in reasonable perspective in relation to the whole of Céline's life and art. They are not ignored, nor are they allowed to overwhelm. . . . Thiher's emphasis on Céline's délire is necessarily selective, and therefore de-emphasizes other considerations. In particular, there are two factors which Thiher, while aware of them, does not weight sufficiently. One is physiological, the other historical." Phillip Corwin

Nation 215:409 O 30 '72 1300w

"Thiher has turned on [Céline] the resources of academia: he has read all the articles, he leads us on a useful tour through the oeuvre, and he imposes on it some imposing literary theories about Céline's use of language and those delirious hallucinations. His theories are supported by some simple psychology, and the whole is colored by a dislike of Céline's egocentricity. . . . It is a strange experience to emerge from Céline's work—as from a madhouse undergoing heavy air raids—into the cool light of Thiher's earnest and bloodless analysis. It's like turning from a battle to a diagram of it. The simple themes, motives and limitations that he finds in Céline's work may be there, but they are not where it's at. . . . Large doses of Céline are . . . unnerving; but they ought to induce something more than this well-meaning academic reaction." J. D. O'Hara

New Repub 167:22 N 11 '72 1700w

THOMAS, A. J., jt. auth. Legal limits on the use of chemical and biological weapons. See Thomas, A. Van W.

THOMAS, ALEXANDER. Racism and psychiatry, by Alexander Thomas and Samuel Silen. 176p $7.50 Brunner/Mazel

301.45 Negroes—Psychology. Psychiatry. U.S.—Race relations
ISBN 87630-049-2 LC 72-180788

In this volume "the authors examine the impact of racist thinking, past and present, on the disciplines dealing with human behavior, especially psychiatry. . . . [The book] challenges a number of traditional assumptions. After detailing some of the . . . myths that in the past offered a 'scientific' rationale for white supremacy, the authors . . . [deal with the] concepts that today buttress the ideology of racism . . . identify specific racist practices in psychiatry and make recommendations for action to eliminate these practices." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"In a prose style which should make the book attractive to the general reader . . . [the authors] unmask a wide variety of simplistic formulations, assertive typologies, coded euphemisms, and psychoanalytic reductionisms, each inevitably flinching the pathology it seeks. At the methodological level, they indicate that most of the studies which lay claim to evidence are flawed by the absence of adequate and representative samples, by the absence of controls, and by the absence of restraint in inferring groupwide pathology from individual cases which have come to the attention of clinicians. It is one thing to study the individual pathologies of twenty-five disturbed adults, and quite another to go from there to the black psyche in America." Oscar Glantz

Ann Am Acad 403:223 S '72 900w

"[This work offers] a reinterpretation of the many basic features of racism so as to make the world a much blacker and therefore more positive and pleasant place. . . . The indices are adequate, the style thoroughly enjoyable, and the potential readership fairly wide. Unfortunately, the book suggests that our numerous urban and local ghettos simply teem with capable, intelligent, happy, and productive people. . . . [It] smacks a bit of denial, but within its presentation furnishes a series of thoughtful and helpful re-analyses of issues that somehow continue to plague us."

Choice 9:848 S '72 250w

"This book is concerned with all the behavioral and social sciences, not just psychiatry. Furthermore, racism becomes only a case in point for what is, in effect, a broad-based criticism of the major theories of behavioral determinism. . . . The concluding materials on the inequality of service and the challenge to the profession are well documented. The authors' premise and supporting material are sound, and provide a revealing look at the role of culturally derived stereotyping in the social and behavioral sciences." Philip McDowell

Library J 97:508 F 1 '72 140w

THOMAS, ANN VAN WYNEN. Legal limits on the use of chemical and biological weapons [by] Ann Van Wynen Thomas & A. J. Thomas, Jr.; foreword by Charles O. Galvin. (Southern Methodist Univ. School of Law. Study) 332p $10 Southern Methodist Univ. press

341.6 Chemical warfare. Biological warfare
LC 78-128123

In this account of "the development and present status of international law as it relates to chemical and biological warfare, the development of conventional international legal limitations upon CB weapons is traced through analysis of the various international agreements ratified, or merely proposed, by the nations of the world. The study then delineates the development of customary international legal limitations through examination of the role of the customary law of war as it applies to CB weapons, the practices and legal policies of the major nations of the world with reference to such weapons, and the rules relating to CB weapons which can be derived from the general principles of law recognized by civilized nations." (Pref) Index.

"[This] is an impressive study of the legalities incident to the use of certain substances and methods in war. Difficulties in the way of constructing adequate rules of international law are not minimized, and there is critical examination of some of the thinking concerning the general subject. . . . The volume has special value by reason of its critical approach and its frank recognition of impediments to the development of a completely adequate rule of international law in the subject area studied. Seriousness of the problems is not regarded as precluding progress toward reasonable solutions." R. R. Wilson

Ann Am Acad 399:182 Ja '72 900w

"[This book is] a rich reservoir for the serious student of arms control. The authors have compactly organized and analyzed vast materials on existing and potential CB weapons and the extensive international law affecting their use, comprehensively documenting fact and opinion with up to 284 resource notes in a single chapter. . . . [The authors] end with guarded hope. Conceding that a treaty clearly and universally banning all CB warfare would not be a panacea, they believe it could buy time, possibly preventing 'the human race from destroying itself so that some future generations may remain' to do better. There is an estimable hope, though perhaps a futile one. But for those who wish to make it real, their book is a good place to begin." A. R. Seith

Bul Atomic Sci 27:42 Ap '71 1400w

THOMAS, BOB, jt. auth. The secret boss of California. See Samish, A. H.

THOMAS, CHARLES. Britain and Ireland in early Christian times, AD 400-800. 144p 11 col 11 maps $5.95 McGraw

914.2 Great Britain—Civilization. Great Britain—History—To 1066
ISBN 07-064238-9 LC 75-138860

The first two chapters discuss "the end of Roman Britain and the subsequent movements of the incoming English, the Irish, Picts, Votadini, and the native British population generally, as they each felt their several pressures and compulsions. Chapter Three deals with Christianity from the Church in Roman Britain to the 'golden age' of Northumbria, and Chapter Four with camps and strongholds, domestic dwellings and farmsteads, ending with a [chapter on] . . . arts and artefacts, both civil and military." (TLS) Bibliography. Index.

"Material on Anglo-Saxon England has been available, but this is the first attempt to synthesize for the undergraduate information on the people who were displaced by the Anglo-Saxon migrations. The emphasis falls on Ireland and Wales. . . . The work does fill a lacuna and is therefore recommended."

Choice 9:426 My '72 90w

"[The author] wears his erudition lightly here, yet has crammed a great deal of current thought and recent work into 125 pages. His first map clearly makes one of his main points: that in these seminal centuries, movements of people from North to South and from West to East within the British Isles were as significant, and probably as numerically important, as the much better-publicised East-West movements of Angles, Saxons and Jutes. . . . As a racy up-to-date introductory survey of the early history of Western Britain during four crucial and fascinating centuries too dominated in our consciousness by Teutonic bias, Professor Thomas' book is thoroughly recommended to student and general reader."

P. J. Fowler

Encounter 37:72 O '71 170w

"[This volume] is an expanded version of one of the sections in [The Dawn of European Civilization; the Dark Ages, ed. by D. T. Rice, BRD 1966]. . . . Thomas handles . . . obscure or debatable matters in a necessarily brief yet firm and lively manner, and his text is reinforced with illustrations."

TLS p1614 D 24 '71 160w

THOMAS, DANA L. The money crowd. 365p $7.95 Putnam

920 Capitalists and financiers. Finance
SBN 399-10944-7 LC 74-105590

The title refers to "the inheritors of huge global fortunes amassed over many generations together with self-made multi-millionaires who have accumulated their wealth since World War II. . . . The book is divided into three parts; the first, called 'The Background,' deals with some of the oldest of the world's wealthy families and describes the methods used to accumulate this wealth. Part two is concerned with different ways in which family fortunes were made—buying, cocoa, sugar, art masterpieces, stock, cattle, gold, etc.; and the last part discusses 'The Inheritors'—such families as Krupp, Rothschild, Ford, Rockefeller, and such recent luminaries as Hugh Hefner, J. Paul Getty, Agnelli, Gulbenkian, and others." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

"'The Money Crowd' displays a glaring ignorance of economics on the part of the author. He talks about inflation and its evils without ever bothering to explain what it is, how it comes about, or why it is evil. . . . The confusion is, perhaps, due to the fact that the author himself does not understand how a given economic system works. He uses the term money throughout the book to mean different things every time he uses it. . . . The only redeeming feature of the book is the tidbits of information that it presents on the business activities of some of the individuals discussed in it, and on how they are able to accumulate large fortunes." A. J. Giunta

Best Sell 32:362 N 1 '72 250w

"The author's facility as a financial journalist is in constant evidence as one reads this absolutely captivating account. . . . Thomas is so expert a story teller that one can only hope that some of the more vivid and exciting chapters will be expanded into full-length works. There is no doubt that the author has carefully researched his subject material and that he has selected for his readers the choicest tidbits." Sylvia Mechanic

Library J 97:2632 Ag '72 180w

THOMAS, DYLAN. Early prose writings; ed. with an introd. by Walford Davies. 204p $8.75 New directions

828.9

LC 70-159741

"This volume . . . consists of two parts: (1) fourteen short fictions and one brief film

script and (2) nine essays, one playlet, and a series of brief book reviews." (Choice)

"In contrast with the density of Thomas's best poetry and prose, all the stories and story fragments are slight, except perhaps for 'The burning baby.' The essays are interesting for Thomas' easy-going critical stance, but some of these are fairly superficial—one on movies, for example. Valuable for the Thomas scholar but dull for the general reader, this book adds nothing important to the Thomas canon."

Choice 9:1134 N '72 100w

"What is worth preserving in Early Prose Writings? The most interesting works in the first half are exercises in a sort of semi-surrealist, semi-folktale prose. . . . They are certainly not written for cash, but they are 'experimental' in the sense either of uncertain direction or of failure to realize fully an honourable goal. . . . The second half of Early Prose Writings is mainly on literature, from schoolboy-magazine days onwards. . . . The nicest thing in the second half, and perhaps in the whole volume, . . . is a comic-fantastic dialogue 'Spajma and Salmady: Or Who Shot the Emu? A One Act Play Never to be Presented'."

TLS p254 Mr 3 '72 340w

THOMAS, DYLAN. The poems of Dylan Thomas; ed. with an introd. and notes by Daniel Jones. 291p $6 New directions

821

LC 79-145935

"To the 90 poems Thomas published in Collected Poems, 1934-1952 (BRD 1953), Jones has added 102 and placed the total, as far as he could determine, in the chronological order of their composition. Some of the poems were still in manuscript form when Thomas died; others had been published in periodicals and anthologies. In an appendix, Jones offers Thomas' early poems—including one written when the poet was only 12." (Library J)

"Though presenting no striking new poems, [this book] does give a fuller picture of the poet's development. Jones' intimate knowledge of Thomas helps him to date somewhat more accurately the poems in relation to each other than do the collected poems as Thomas himself arranged them. . . . Essential for libraries buying Thomas for the first time and valuable for older collections which can afford to supplement the Thomas collections already owned."

Choice 9:648 J1/Ag '72 200w

"Much valuable bibliographical information, and Jones's commentary on Thomas' verse patterns, appear in the notes. The verse play Under Milk Wood (BRD 1954) is not included for the sound reason that it is readily available separately. The collection (though Jones insists that we still do not have a complete edition of the poems)—even the unfinished work—strongly enhances Thomas' stature as a major artist of our time. Highly recommended for high school, college, and public libraries."

J. R. Willingham

Library J 96:2325 J1 '71 150w

"[This is] as close as we are likely to get to a 'complete poems', though not a 'complete variorum'. . . . Throughout the book, the notes on dates and so forth seem exemplary. . . . The staggering thing about the poems written in [Thomas'] late teens is that there are so many of them, and that so many are so good. . . . This new edition of Dylan Thomas shows more clearly than ever before the rise and fall of a poet who, like the Rimbaud with whom he self-mockingly compared himself, had achieved his most enduring work by the time most poets have scarcely begun to achieve anything; but who, unlike Rimbaud, could not coldly renounce poetry before it renounced him." Anthony Thwaite

New Statesman 81:738 My 28 '71 550w

"Thomas seems to have been better than most poets at deciding what was his best work; for the hundred-odd poems which were not included in the 1934-52 collection, and which are now printed in Dr Daniel Jones's excellent edition, are rather disappointing. As one would expect they are mostly the work of Thomas's teens. . . . By placing the poems in chronological order, Dr Jones shows us that in terms of quantity Thomas never equalled the output of his nineteenth year; but the importance of this early spurt can be exaggerated. Of the forty-four poems written, only sixteen found their way into Thomas's collection."

TLS p893 J1 30 '71 600w

THOMAS, HUGH. Cuba; the pursuit of freedom. 1696p pl maps $20 Harper

972.91 Cuba—History
SBN 06-014259-6 LC 79-162565

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by R. H. Fitzgibbon
Am Hist R 77:847 Je '72 700w
Choice 8:1376 D '71 190w

Reviewed by Gabriel Gersh
Commonweal 95:475 F 18 '72 1050w

Reviewed by Naomi Bliven
New Yorker 48:68 S 2 '72 2350w

Reviewed by F. G. Gil
Va Q R 48:134 winter '72 1600w

THOMAS, J. E. The English prison officer since 1850; a study in conflict. 248p $10.95 Routledge

365.942 Prisons—Great Britain. Crime and criminals
ISBN 0-7100-7280-5 LC 72-193129

This is "a history of the lower echelon British prison officer (what in the U.S. would be called a guard or corrections officer) from the time of the formation of the convict service. . . . [Thomas' hypothesis is] that the custodial tasks of the prison—primarily in the hands of such officers—has been made increasingly more difficult, to the point of becoming almost impossible, by the growth of the reformative or corrections ideal in penology. . . . The book is [also] a history of the conflict of ideologies and the effects of that conflict on related institutions." (Choice)

"[This] book is unique in that it approaches the sociology of the prison from the standpoint of the officer. The author has obviously done his research with care and has made use of a substantial body of data to which detailed reference is made in chapter endnotes and a full bibliography. Throughout, special reference is made to a number of investigative committee reports for contemporary source material on the state of the prison service. A solid contribution to historical penology." Choice 9:1214 N '72 210w

"[This] is a scholarly book, copiously annotated for every fact it contains, and it is so remarkably objective that a first reading is apt to leave one bewildered as to the author's own views and conclusions. But anyone interested in what goes on in prisons (and why) would be foolish not to read and ultimately digest this book. It is salutary reading for the would-be reformer; it certainly left me with the feeling that I knew very much less than I had supposed." Peta Fordham

New Statesman 84:163 Ag 4 '72 1050w

"As a former Assistant Governor and Tutor at the Prison Staff College at Wakefield, J. E. Thomas writes with an inside knowledge of the events of recent years. Much of what he says will not endear him to some at 'Head Office', but only because they know only too well what he means. He says it, moreover, much better than some of the most strident voices inside the Prison Officers' Association. . . . The book breaks a lot of new ground; more important, it presents the problems of today in a context which is not so much historical as timeless. . . . The picture which Dr Thomas paints is a gloomy one."

TLS p1202 O 6 '72 1850w

THOMAS, MARCEL, ed. The Grandes heures of Jean, Duke of Berry. See The Grandes heures of Jean, Duke of Berry

THOMAS, P. D. G. The House of Commons in the eighteenth century. 382p $11.25 Oxford

328.42 Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Great Britain—Politics and government—1714-1837
ISBN 0-19-822340-4 LC [74-569864]

This "study of the practices and procedures of the House of Commons in the 18th century . . . [emphasizes] the business of the House—attendance, organization, debate, speaker, [and] committees." (Choice)

"The book has two principal strengths. The first is the mass of detail on all aspects of the work and procedure of the House, drawn, despite Dr. Thomas's modest preface, from an impressive range of sources—all of it set out clearly and illuminated by informed and perceptive comments. The second is that it is not a static picture: we are constantly made aware of change and development—in the role and position of the Speaker, for example, or in the gradually increasing press of business that was eventually to restrict severely the time available to the individual member. . . . It is not the least of the virtues of Dr. Thomas's book that it is not only informative but also always lively and interesting." J. M. Beattie

Am Hist R 77:512 Ap '72 270w

"While not pleasingly written or organized, [this study] supersedes earlier discussions of the Commons by the Porritts and Townsend. . . . Recommended for all larger academic libraries, essential for those with interests in British or constitutional history."

Choice 8:898 S '71 100w

"In exposition and scholarship every page holds attention, and the author's clarity of description brings the eighteenth-century House into unusually sharp focus. . . . A few of Mr. Thomas's pictures of the Chamber seem misleading. In describing the evolution of the convention under which Government and Opposition came to sit respectively on the right and left of the Speaker, it is a pity that he does not refer to the earlier seventeenth-century practice by which Privy Counsellors sat round the Chair and Clerk, and the Country Party, behaving on occasion as opposition, sat below the gangway. . . . The suggestion that the eighteenth century saw a development of the modern practice of questions to Ministers is surely open to doubt. . . . It is also misleading to have the Leader of the House capitalized throughout the book as though he held some statutory office. . . . Set against the merits of the book, however, these are minor imperfections."

TLS p473 Ap 23 '71 900w

THOMAS, PIRI. Savior, Savior, hold my hand. 372p $7.95 Doubleday

B or 92 Puerto Ricans in New York (City)
—Personal narratives
ISBN 0-385-00518-0 LC 77-175401

"Thomas's latest book begins with the first year of his parole after serving six years of a 5-to-15 year sentence for attempted armed robbery, and from there recounts the events of what seems to be the next two years." (N Y Times Bk R) Glossary.

"[This book] never comes to life as an autobiography. It lacks the perceptiveness, the richness of detail, humor and rhythm of language found everywhere in [Thomas'] . . . first book. . . . The figures in Savior, Savior, Hold My Hand remain largely one-dimensional and shadowy. To know Piri Thomas for the brave and imaginative man of integrity that he is, one would have to go to the earlier part of his autobiography rather than to this later and inferior work." George Anderson

America 127:500 D 9 '72 600w

"[This is] an excellent literary account of Puerto Rican life in America. As a sequel to Thomas' successful Down These Mean Streets [BRD 1967, it] . . . continues the story of a dark Puerto Rican's (referred to as a Negrito) struggle to avoid the disasters of drugs, prostitution, crime, gang wars, etc. His long and arduous journey . . . is confused and complicated by his second-class citizenship, his dark skin, and his prison record. In essence, this is a story of survival in the inner city when both 'society' and the odds are against you. . . . To be sure, the book has stylistic flaws and weaknesses, but nothing that detracts from its impact. It is a potpourri of urban English slang, underworld terminology, and Puerto Rican Spanish à la New York. To assist the reader with this vocabulary, a glossary is included. This book is excellent and should be purchased by all libraries." R. P. Haro

Library J 97:2579 Ag '72 230w

Reviewed by Cynthia Lingo
Library J 97:3824 N 15 '72 140w [YA]

"Absent from this autobiographical continuation is the extraordinariness of Thomas's personal history. Nor do we experience the tension, the unexpectedness or the swelling of outrage and sympathy that informed 'Down These Mean Streets.' The lachrymose, self-pitying outbursts against injustice and discrimination too often cause us to feel cheated. It is the reader who should feel sorrow for the autobiographer, we should not have to observe him feeling sorry for himself." Barry Beckham

N Y Times Bk R p5 S 17 '72 750w

"The narrative voice is still the same mixture of American and Puerto Rican, rising occasionally to a fake literariness that is the street notion of eloquent writing, and there are still lots of street-fighting scenes. But life changes considerably for Thomas during the two-year period covered here. For one thing, he gets religion (the book's title is that of the first hymn he wrote); for another, he courts a girl, marries her, moves to the suburbs and back, has a child, and gets jobs in the straight world. . . . Most of the narrative deals with Harlem and [a] bigoted city . . . [on] Long Island, and, as one might expect, few of Thomas's stories are [cheerful]. . . . But his energy never flags, and he tells his story rapidly and well, with an eye for evocative details of speech and action." J. D. O'Hara
Sat R 55:80 S 30 '72 850w

THOMAS WOLFE and the glass of time; ed. by Paschal Reeves. 166p $6.50 Univ. of Ga. press

813
SBN 8203-0258-9 LC 75-156037

This book consists of "discussions of various aspects of Wolfe. In 'Thomas Wolfe's Fiction: The Question of Genre' Richard S. Kennedy shows that Wolfe did not write fiction which can be judged by received standard terminology. . . . Richard Walser considers a central aspect of Look Homeward, Angel [BRD 1929] in his commentary on the two leading symbols in that novel—the angel and the ghost. Drawing principally upon You Can't Go Home Again [BRD 1940] by way of example, C. Hugh Holman reveals the opposing stylistic forces in Wolfe's fiction—the rhetorical and the dramatic modes. . . . [Included also] are two conversations on . . . Wolfe as dramatist (led by Ladell Payne) and new directions in Wolfe scholarship (led by Mr. Reeves)." (Publisher's note) Index.

"In effect the proceedings of a symposium held at the University of Georgia April 10-12, 1969, this book brings new information and new light to the study of Thomas Wolfe. . . . An address by Fred C. Wolfe, brother of the novelist, furnishes detailed, intimate recollections of the Wolfe family. . . . An appendix prints an unpublished letter from Wolfe to Mrs. William E. Dodd, June 30, 1935."

Am Lit 44:178 Mr '72 130w

"The academic symposium might be defined as an exercise in calculated boredom, made bearable by the thought of the cocktails which invariably follow the 'papers' and their accompanying 'discussions.' That definition clearly fits this little volume. . . . None of the three essays included herein could possibly add to or detract from the stature of Wolfe—whatever that stature may be. They are almost solely concerned with critical nomenclature—that is, with pigeon-holes. . . . After discussing the critical terms currently in vogue, Kennedy concludes that Of time and the river [BRD 1935] is really a 'fictional thesaurus.' Which makes, one suppose, all the difference. . . . In the discussion groups platitudes on 'the timelessness of art' and other such favorites appear with sinister frequency."

Choice 9:372 My '72 210w

THOMPSON, ARTHUR LEONARD BELL. See Clifford, F.

THOMPSON, DENNIS F. The democratic citizen; social science and democratic theory in the twentieth century. 271p $8.95 Cambridge
321.8 Citizenship. Politics. Practical
SBN 521-07963-2 LC 76-128633

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by J. D. Lewis
Am Pol Sci R 65:1172 D '71 1000w

Reviewed by John Walton
Contemp Sociol 1:106 Mr '72 430w

Reviewed by T. H. Marshall
Pol Sci Q 87:92 Mr '72 650w

THOMPSON, DOROTHY, comp. The early Chartists. 307p $9.95 Univ. of S.C. press

322.42 Chartism
ISBN 0-87249-230-3 LC 74-156227

"This collection of documents deals with the formative years (1838-1840) of English

Chartism, its social nature, its regional variations, its critique of contemporary industrial society, and its political ideas." (Library J) Bibliography.

"Employing a wide range of sources, the book elucidates the background of the persons who joined the movement, the numerous reasons that motivated them, and their legal and illegal activities. . . . Thompson's introductory essay places the documents in their historical setting." W. W. MacDonald
Library J 97:196 Ja 15 '72 90w

"[The book includes] a useful, if brief working bibliography for students. The study is limited to the first phase of Chartism, that is, from the Working Men's Association of 1836 to the foundation of the National Charter Association in 1840. . . . Within the limits set by this truncated chronology, the material and accompanying explanatory notes are very useful. But inevitably the book is more successful in conveying something of the tone and temper of early Chartism than in analyzing the problems posed by the movement. . . . While the level of literacy among Chartists was not by modern standards very high, newspapers, journals, tracts, and handbills were an essential part of the movement. From this rich source of documentation, and from the invaluable archives in the Public Record Office, The Early Chartists presents an admirable selection of material."

TLS p1023 Ag 27 '71 700w

THOMPSON, HENRY YATES. An Englishman in the American Civil War; the diaries of Henry Yates Thompson, 1863; ed. by Christopher Chancellor; pref. by W. M. Whitehill. 185p il $14.50 N.Y. univ. press.

917.3 U.S.—Description and travel. U.S.—Social life and customs. U.S.—History—Civil War—Personal narratives
ISBN 0-8147-1356-4 LC 78-169819

This is an "account of a young Englishman's visit to the U.S. in the summer and fall of 1863. . . . Thompson interviewed all types, from slaves to generals, and presents . . . viewpoints on people and events of the year. The high points are his visit to a Maryland slave-owner's plantation, and his presence at the Battle of Chattanooga." (Library J)

"Editor Chancellor, great-nephew of the diarist, chose to make a big book out of limited material with lengthy introductions and irrelevant illustrations. The editor states that 'this work lays no claim to serious scholarship' but this does not excuse the many errors in the biographical notes. The volume is aimed at general readers in England and America, but scholars will also find information in the diaries and letters."

Choice 9:876 S '72 120w

"[The book's] diversity, the unifying theme of the war, and the careful and interesting reporting, especially of the attitudes of the people [Thompson] met, together with the editor's excellent and equally well-written introductions make this diary as interesting as it is valuable." Archer Jones

J Am Hist 59:730 D '72 340w

"[This] previously unpublished . . . [account is] entertainingly written, well edited, neatly bound and illustrated." E. D. Johnson
Library J 97:1706 My 1 '72 60w

"The historical and dramatic interest to be derived from accompanying Yates Thompson on his itinerary proves both considerable and accumulative. . . . He passed from familiar New England scenes to regions less known to English visitors. The glimpses thus obtained of social and economic conditions in Maryland and Kentucky, where slavery remained legal but increasingly unenforceable, provide useful sidelights on a transitory but usually overlooked situation."

TLS p181 F 18 '72 250w

THOMPSON, IAN. Corsica. 212p pl maps $7.95 Stackpole bks.

914.59 Corsica.
ISBN 0-8117-0448-3 LC 73-179599

In his portrait of the island the author describes "its landscape, history, culture, architecture, civic structure, political problems, prospects for the future." (Library J) Chronology. Bibliography. Index.

"Thompson, a lecturer in geography at the University of Southampton, has written a sophisticated piece of work, particularly in its treatment of Corsican geography. While the book dutifully mentions 'tourist attractions,' it is really intended for the reader who wishes to explore Corsica in depth. . . . [The author writes] with an admirable comprehensiveness and dispassionateness, in that style of informative, noncondescending haute vulgarisation which so few scholars really master. More comprehensive books on Corsica have certainly been written—but none has reached as wide an audience as one feels sure Thompson's book will reach. It has pleasing illustrations in abundance. . . . All in all, a feast for the discriminating visitor." T. M. Robinson

THOMPSON, IAN—Continued

Library J 97:2597 Ag '72 140w

"[Thompson] writes objectively in the careful, precise prose more usually associated with a textbook. His method also leads to occasional repetition. But do not be put off. A very clear picture of Corsica emerges, not only of its history, its people past and present and its economy, but also of the different types of scenery a visitor can expect to find. The characteristics of each region are analysed, as are those of the principal towns. We are also told something of the present political situation. There are useful appendixes on feast days, historical buildings and monuments, together with notes on the vendetta, wild life and gastronomy, and excellent maps."

TLS p1546 D 10 '71 200w

THOMPSON, JOHN M., jr. auth. Count Witte and the Tsarist government in the 1905 revolution. See Mehlinger, H. D.

THOMPSON, KENNETH W. Foreign assistance: a view from the private sector. 160p $7.95 Univ. of Notre Dame press

338.91 Economic assistance
LC 74-186220

"The author writes of the activities and impact of foreign aid in the private sector. . . . Starting with the earliest efforts in foreign aid, there is a review of private initiative in the health field, followed by discussions of precepts and concepts of cultural relations, the success story of aid in agriculture, the debate over the impact of foreign aid on the types of economic order in developing countries, and evolving patterns of university development. The book begins and ends with an overall appraisal of foreign aid, its role and limitations, and the part of private assistance in this endeavor, as well as the question of values men live by and the relation of different cultures to one another." (Publisher's note) Index.

"Typical Kenneth Thompson writing: balanced, ready to deal with complexity, helpful to other appraisers, cautious about appraising, concerned with values."

Christian Century 89:807 Ag 2 '72 20w

"[This is] a thought-provoking study. . . . [It is a] well-written contribution to the literature on foreign assistance [which] will be of value to specialists and informed laymen."

A. S. Birks

Library J 97:3599 N 1 '72 130w

THOMPSON, NEVILLE. The anti-appeasers: conservative opposition to appeasement in the 30s. 256p $7.25 Oxford

320.942 Great Britain—Politics and government—20th century. Great Britain—Foreign relations—20th century. Conservative party (Great Britain)
ISBN 0-19-321487-1 LC [72-24811]

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by S. R. Graubard
Am Hist R 77:1127 O '72 450w

Reviewed by Robert Skidelsky
Encounter 39:56 J1 '72 200w

Reviewed by P. F. Clarke
Engl Hist R 87:231 Ja '72 350w

THOMPSON, PAUL. William Butterfield. 526p il col il $25 MIT press

B or 92 Butterfield, William. Architecture, English
ISBN 0-262-20020-1 LC 79-169976

This is an account of the life and career of the nineteenth century architect, William Butterfield, "the pioneer of the original High Victorian phase of the Gothic Revival, and the first Victorian architect to experiment with constructional colour. . . . [The author discusses] Butterfield's personality, his style, and the social situation within which he worked (as well as the) significance of High Victorian architecture." (Publisher's note) Chronology. Index.

"In terms of interpretation . . . [this work is] noteworthy, as Thompson argues convincingly against a traditional attitude that Butterfield consciously instilled the ugly and the jarring into his buildings. The author's careful examination of the architect's written statements about his architecture shows that there is little basis for this idea. In addition, an attempt is made to relate Butterfield's life and work to the social, political and religious values of 19th-century England. One shortcoming, which undoubtedly results from the monographic format, is Thompson's apparent unawareness of the broader significance of Victorian architecture as one of the catalysts that led to modern architecture."

Choice 9:638 J1/Ag '72 170w

"Thompson's book is excellently well-written, a serious assessment of Butterfield's work—a long, detailed and successful attempt to rate the importance of his contribution to the confused development of high Victorian style. It has colour illustrations, particularly essential to give form to Victorian architecture."

Economist 241:xiv N 6 '71 200w

"This is the first biography of the highly innovative Victorian architect. Detailed, with impeccable scholarship, it is an essential acquisition for specialized collections. . . . [and] should be considered by general collections. . . . The author's discussion of patrons and builders is particularly enlightening, and an area too often ignored by architectural historians. A . . . catalog of architectural work and select gazetteer are valuable additions to the volume."

Phyllis Andersen

Library J 97:1800 My 15 '72 170w

"Thompson has a fine spaciousness, a mixture of Ruskin and earth in his approach to architectural issues; and the result is a remarkable book, infinitely detailed for the architect-professional, yet pleasantly speculative for the social historian."

New Repub 166:27 Je 10 '72 380w

Reviewed by G. L. Herscov

Yale R 62:152 O '72 1500w

THOMPSON, T. W. Wordsworth's Hawkshead; ed. with introd. notes, and app. by Robert Woof. 403p il pl $19.25 Oxford

914.2 Hawkshead, England. Wordsworth, William

SBN 19-212186-3 LC 78-554880

This book "records a search for material on the village of Hawkshead as it was in the poet's youth. . . . [It also deals with] local history. . . . [and describes] people of all kinds: gentry, workmen, even thieves." (Library J)

"[Thompson] does not deal primarily with Wordsworth the poet, though there are many references to incidents in the poems, particularly The Prelude. . . . [The book is] fascinating in spite of dense detail describing largely obscure men and women and their means of livelihood. The person who merges most clearly is Anne Tyson, with whom Wordsworth lived for eight years while attending Hawkshead Grammar School—his 'dear old dame,' as he called her. . . . Thompson has included extensive information about people and locations later transformed by Wordsworth's 'feeling intellect.' This well edited book with helpful illustrations. . . . will be indispensable to Wordsworth scholars." N. C. Starr

Library J 96:1271 Ap 1 '71 230w

"Thompson has discovered more than many would have believed possible about Wordsworth's Hawkshead. So writes Robert Woof, Thompson's editor (and in places almost co-author). . . . In effect this is a rag-bag of a book: a scholar's lucky-dip, or a quarry for researchers. Mr Woof has made no attempt to impose a structure upon Thompson's original unsystematic and eclectic notes and we wander abruptly from one subject to another with the rambling associative logic of an old man's reminiscences. Occasionally information seems at fault, and Mr Woof has a footnote, but most of his additional material comes in four massive appendixes at the end. . . . The map supplied is totally inadequate. Though contemporary, it is neither large enough nor well enough printed to make the topography clear. . . . Perhaps it is a symbol of this fascinating book's shortcomings."

TLS p1389 N 5 '71 660w

"Thompson's delightful study of Wordsworth's schoolboy town seems odd in the context of modern scholarly procedure. Already known in unpublished form to the Wordsworthian underground, this book wades through oral tradition and material no longer available; it rambles, irritating and then disarming through its persistent failure to heed even the most minimal standards of documentation. 'Wordsworth's Hawkshead' is simply the work of a dedicated amateur—a quiet, scholarly teacher of chemistry who researched the book over a period of almost sixty years."

Va Q R 48:xxxiv winter '72 80w

THOMPSON, THOMAS. Hearts; of surgeons and transplants, miracles and disasters along the cardiac frontier. 304p $7.95 McCall pub. co.

617 Heart—Transplantation. Heart—Surgery. DeBakey, Michael Ellis. Cooley, Denton, A.

ISBN 0-8415-0123-8 LC 70-154248

This account of the work of two surgeons was written by a staff writer for Life who "spent several months in Houston last year. . . . He made rounds with DeBakey, Cooley and their entourages. . . . [watched] operations, and talked with . . . doctors and patients." (Time) Bibliography.

Reviewed by Sister J. M. Anderson

Best Sel! 31:421 D 15 '71 500w

Book World p29 D 5 '71 60w

"Heart surgery is dramatic, and Thompson has written a dramatic book about it. . . . He personalizes the daily struggle to rescue cardiac invalids and reports on the 'transplant year' with its controversial benefits. There is also an appendix of all heart transplants which tells by whom performed, how, and with what results. Informative as well as exciting, this book will be deservedly popular." S. B. Hesslein

Library J 96:3996 D 1 '71 100w

"[This] is a thoroughly engrossing, utterly believable and, in its effect, sickening account of heart surgery as it is practiced in Texas, where everything from the Astrodome to the Manned Spacecraft Center is a wretched excess. . . . [The author] has a remarkable feeling for unflattering detail and devastating quotations. . . . [DeBakey] is pictured as a despot, disliked and feared by the people he works with. . . . Cooley comes across as ambitious, cold, handsome, publicity-seeking." David Sanford

N Y Times Bk R p 17 D 19 '71 1100w

Reviewed by Gilbert Cant

Sat R 55:63 Ja 29 '72 1200w

"Thompson's sketch of Cooley is not as vivid as his picture of DeBakey; the author confesses that Cooley remained an enigma to him. But he offers a nice account of the slow falling out between the two surgeons during their ten-year-long collaboration. . . . Thompson's narrative is heightened by a personal drama: his son Scott, then nine, had a heart murmur. One of the Houston heart men discovered that Scott's was a false murmur that would clear up within a few years. That is an exuberant moment that any parent can share." K. R. Johnson

Time 98:94 O 25 '71 700w

THOMPSON, VIRGINIA. The French Pacific Islands: French Polynesia and New Caledonia [bvl Virginia Thompson and Richard Adloff. 539p il $16.75 Univ. of Calif. press

919.3 French Polynesia. New Caledonia

ISBN 0-520-01843-5 LC 71-138634

"While an increasing number of South Pacific territories have attained or are in the process of attaining independence, the French islands . . . enjoy less self-government now than they did some years ago. The aim of this book . . . is to explore the phenomena that have led to [this] situation and to indicate the problems that the inhabitants of these territories will . . . face as their status moves from a quasi-colonial to a sovereign one." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"The great interest of this book is its uniqueness. It is the only work extant in English that deals with recent political and cultural changes in French Polynesia and New Caledonia. As such it covers a wider range of topics than is usual and . . . is highlighted by the use of pertinent demographic, economic, and sociological data. Excellent bibliography. Recommended for purchase by university libraries."

Choice 9:134 Mr '72 80w

"Although this book—more a compendium than a historical narrative—is a rather ponderous academic study which may bore the amateur, it is the first comprehensive account of these two important Pacific areas, pulling together many printed sources scattered in journals, newspapers, and government documents, combined with personal observations of the island societies. . . . Recommended for academic libraries." E. G. Hamann

Library J 96:3134 O 1 '71 200w

THOMPSON, VIVIAN L. Hawaiian tales of heroes and champions; il. by Herbert Kawainui Kane. 128p lib bdg $4.95 Holiday

398.2 Folklore—Hawaii—Juvenile literature

ISBN 0-8234-0192-8 LC 72-151757

Some of the twelve "tales included in this volume are of shape-shifters, like Snark Man of Ewa who could change from man to shark, from shark to rat, from rat to a bunch of bananas. Others are of kupua with extraordinary powers like Kana, who could stretch himself as tall as a palm tree, as slender as a bamboo, as thin as a morning glory vine, as fine as a spider web. And there are men with rare and special weapons, like Ka-ui-lani, whose talking spear could pick the winner of a cock fight before the birds were even in the ring." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Glossary. "Grades four to six." (Library J)

"Excellent examples of lore that reflects an ethnic way of life . . . [these] varied hero tales have distinctive Polynesian roots. They are indigenous to island terrain: The sea itself is a protagonist, and Hawaiian islands as well as the sea form the setting for heroic and exaggerated feats, often performed with the aid of magical weapons—spear, arrow, or fishhook. . . . The feats of chiefs and gods are recounted in a straightforward, dignified manner. . . . The glossary of Hawaiian words is essential for a complete understanding of the stories." V. H. Horn

Bk 48:46 F '72 190w

"[These] tales of champions exhibit Thompson's usual skill. . . . The collection is enhanced by Herbert Kane's pleasingly composed sepia drawings which capture the feeling of Hawaii." Jane Austin

Library J 97:1610 Ap 15 '72 90w

THOMSON, ELIHU. Selections from the scientific correspondence of Elihu Thomson; ed. by Harold J. Abrahams and Marion B. Savin. 569p il $7.50 MIT press

621.3 Electric engineering. Letters

ISBN 0-262-01034-8 LC 74-148976

"This collection of letters on scientific topics, both to and from Thomson, displays his interest in and knowledge of astronomy, telescope making, physical chemistry, x-ray studies, the history of science, industrial research and production, scientific education, military and naval armament, acoustics, air pollution, noise abatement, and other matters. His electrical and electromechanical interests are also represented. . . . Scientists and inventors . . . who shared concerns and exchanged letters with Thomson [included] Sir William H. Bragg, William D. Coolidge, R. E. B. Crompton, Thomas A. Edison, George E. Hale, Irving Langmuir, Robert A. Millikan, Michael I. Pupin, George W. Ritchey, George A. Sartori, Harlow Shapley, Samuel W. Stratton, and Willis R. Whitney." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"[This] collection of 325 letters, 194 to and 131 from Elihu Thomson, . . . arranged alphabetically in 40 groups by correspondent, are of uneven interest. . . . Notes, though numerous serve mostly to identify people mentioned; where they attempt to clarify scientific issues they are frequently uninformed and misleading. Scholars will prefer to use the original correspondence; the students will be better served by reading Beloved Scientist [BRD 1944] by D. O. Woodbury. Thomson is an important figure, but this collection of his correspondence is an extravagance for the undergraduate library."

Choice 9:389 My '72 130w

"[Thomson's] correspondence also affords insights into the political, social, and general scientific developments of his time. . . . Scholars interested in the history of electrical science and astronomy will find this a rewarding source." R. E. Lilstein

Library J 97:888 Mr 1 '72 110w

THOMSON, GEORGE MALCOLM. Sir Francis Drake, 358p 11 maps $10 Morrow
B or 93 Drake, Sir Francis
LC 70-182961

A biography of the English navigator which stresses that his motive-force was less personal gain than the glory of Elizabethan England. Accounts of contemporary events and people are given. Bibliography. Index.

Reviewed by F. J. Gallagher
Best Sell 32:274 S 15 '72 800w

Reviewed by Burke Wilkinson
Christian Science Monitor p13 S 13
'72 650w

"Mr Thomson has . . . achieved a successful balance between the life and the times. Above all, he has written a clear, compelling, well-illustrated and honest narrative, free from the heady speculation and romantic colouring which too often pervade books on this period."
Economist 243:suppl 4 Ap 8 '72 480w

"Thomson tells a great adventure story which is packed with action—and that is his chief aim and interest—but he seasons the wonderful Elizabethan tale with the best of modern historical scholarship. The combination enhances Drake's stature, emphasizes his remarkable qualities, and gives fullest flavor to his amazing accomplishments. Thomson's [biography] may be enthusiastically recommended to readers at all levels and to libraries of every size." R. R. Rea
Library J 97:2387 J1 '72 100w

"The paradoxes of this extraordinary man are well brought out in this racy new biography. . . . [The author's] handling of the great set-pieces in Drake's career . . . is first-rate. But he is obviously more interested in Drake the man than the admiral. . . . [He] rightly describes Drake as 'a man for lonely enterprises and solitary decisions'. He was an excellent commander, a hopeless subordinate, a very difficult colleague. . . . Thomson has read widely among the published sources, and has done some delving in the British Museum and the Public Records Office. He is not always accurate in detail. . . . [He] should also have cast a more wary eye on the index. . . . [But] for the general reader these are small blemishes, and it is to the general reader that Mr Thomson seeks to, and in my view undoubtedly will, appeal." Paul Johnson
New Statesman 84:460 Ap 7 '72 750w
TLS p536 My 12 '72 300w

THOMSON, VIRGIL. American music since 1910. See Twentieth-century composers, v 1

THOREAU, HENRY D. Walden; ed. by J. Lyndon Shanley. (The writings of Henry D. Thoreau, Princeton ed) 409p $10 Princeton univ. press

S1S
ISBN 0-691-06194-7 LC 72-120764

"This first volume of Princeton's The writings of Henry D. Thoreau, approved by the Center for Editions of American Authors of the MLA, provides for the first time a definitive edition of Thoreau's classic. . . . J. Lyndon Shanley, author of The making of Walden (BRD 1957), arrived at this text through collation of the page proofs of Walden with Thoreau's corrections, the 1854 first edition, Thoreau's own copy of the first edition with his corrections and additions, and the 1862 second printing of Walden. . . . [An] 'Editorial appendix' includes notes on the illustrations, photocopies of several pages used in the collation, a 'Historical introduction' to the writing of Walden and its subsequent publishing fate, and a 'Textual introduction' in which Shanley details his editorial method." (Choice) Index.

"The book-making is admirable. The designer, who is unacknowledged, has found a form befitting Thoreau. He brings us directly and delightfully to the text, set cleanly in Linotype Primer, widely spaced and margined. 36 lines to the page (the page size is pretty much that of the first edition of Walden); brings us, that is, to a well-made object, modest and becoming (5 1/4 inches x 8 1/4 inches), casebound in good green cloth and flexible . . . fits the hand, readily lies open at every page, and recommends scholarship to us by having a convenient line-rule on the inside covers and dust jacket. . . . As an editor, Mr. Shanley's work is praiseworthy." Sherman Paul

Am Lit 44:155 Mr '72 550w

"[This] will supersede all earlier editions. . . . All college and university libraries must have this edition of course, but most community libraries should have it as well."

Choice 8:1455 Ja '72 190w

"The first questions to ask about any edition of an American classic is, Is it a good text? Is it based on sound textual principles and practice? Has everything been done that should be done to give us the author's intentions or probable intentions? For Professor Shanley's edition of Walden, the answers are all, yes." W. H. Gilman

New Eng Q 45:300 Je '72 1000w

"This is a pleasant book to look at and to hold. The scholarly apparatus comes at the end, but there is too much of it. (Why not separate pamphlets on the process of arriving at a good text? If the text has been approved by authority what need to parade all the evidence?)." Quentin Anderson

N Y Times Bk R p1 J1 4 '71 1000w

THORLBY, ANTHONY, ed. The Penguin companion to European literature. See Penguin companion to European literature

THORNE, DAVID, ed. New soldier. See Kerry, J.

THORNTON, SAMUEL. Laban's theory of movement; a new perspective [Eng title: A movement perspective of Rudolf Laban]. 134p il $7.95 Plays

790.01 Laban, Rudolf von
ISBN 0-8238-0124-1 LC 70-155888

In addition to biographical details, Laban's "principles of movement, educational efforts, and notation are described, including a chapter on the controversy over the spread of Laban and his present role in education." (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

"American dancers and educators usually are acquainted with only one segment of Laban's thinking—his notation system, his effort and shape theory, or with his choreutics—probably due to reading only one or two of his five books in English. A virtue of Thornton's work is that in 132 pages he gives us an introduction to all of Laban's published works. . . . Many reminiscences by people who knew and worked with Laban are included. One mysterious omission among these is that there is none from Juana de Laban, his daughter who now works in the United States. . . . Large bibliography; stinky index. Of interest to students . . . and researchers in the field of human movement." Choice 9:76 Mr '72 180w

"Laban's pioneering theories of movement and methods of notation developed early in this century have continued to flourish. The Continental modern dancers Mary Wigman and Kurt Jooss were Laban's most famous students, but all who teach movement and dramatics today can learn from his far-reaching ideas. This practical survey . . . [will be] . . . of primary interest to teachers and educators." Baird Hastings

Library J 96:4029 D 1 '71 100w

THORP, RODERICK. Wives; an investigation. by Roderick Thorp & Robert Blake. 356p $7.95 Evans, M.&co; for sale by Lippincott

301.42 Woman, Marriage. Sex
LC 77-161361

Thirty-eight statements by as many women given in response to queries posed by the authors.

"No invective could adequately excoriate this dreadful book. . . . This is the true pornography, sick, dirty, obscene. Courts take note: No woman capable of comprehending Joyce, Lawrence, or Henry Miller would allow herself to be included in the Thorp and Blake menageries." Carolyn Riley

Best Sell 31:422 D 15 '71 480w

"[The interviewees] chatter on and on in vulgar and inconsequential detail about sex relationships in and out of marriage. . . . There is no indication of how the women were chosen, no attempt to provide relevant information, no interpretation of their outpourings. The end result is simply the contents of several issues of any of the 'true confession' magazines, which sell for a lot less to those who feel they can benefit from such revelations. Not recommended." R. R. Gambee

Library J 96:3145 O 1 '71 130w

N Y Times Bk R p38 S 19 '71 70w

THORWALD, JÜRGEN. The patients; tr. by Richard and Clara Winston. (A Helen and Kurt Wolff bk) 434p pl $10 Harcourt

617 Transplantation of organs, tissues, etc. Medicine—Research. Artificial organs
ISBN 0-15-171300-6 LC 72-78461

"Thorwald takes up heart repair; artificial and transplanted kidneys; transplanted lungs, hearts, and livers; and artificial hearts. He describes work with both human and animal organs, primarily in the U.S., but also in France and the Netherlands." (Library J) Index.

"Sometimes chilling and sometimes hope-inducing stories from the era of human organ transplants."

Christian Century 89:1042 O 18 '72 20w

"This is a moving, exciting, and informative book. Thorwald has woven together interviews with patients, families, and physicians, as well as written reports in the scientific and lay literature, to produce an integrated whole. The book deals not with cold impersonal science but with people; one indication of this is the use of patients' names as chapter headings. . . . The interplay of personalities is well handled, as are both the fortunate and unfortunate effects of accounts in newspapers and scientific journals. Thorwald has captured both the attractive and unattractive aspects of the gradual and painful growth of medical knowledge. . . . The translation, which includes material not in the German original, is smooth and unobtrusive. For public and high school libraries." W. K. Beatty

Library J 97:2744 S 1 '72 160w

THROWER, JAMES. A short history of Western atheism. 143p $5.95 Prometheus bks.

211 Atheism

ISBN 0-87975-008-1 LC [72-180922]

The author "describes the early beginnings of systematic Atheism in Classical Greece and Rome, and touches on . . . evidence of Judaistic Atheism. The centre section describes the . . . period of the rise of the secularist and scientific attitude in Western Europe during the Middle Ages and Renaissance. The third section describes the modern situation from the Enlightenment to the present day." (Publisher's note) Index of names. Subject index.

"The exposition is straightforward and clear. There are numerous helpful references to the leading secondary literature, which should be of great value to the lay readership for whom the book is intended. No bibliography is provided, but the footnotes are brief and important enough to the text to make it plain what the general reader should consult next in specific areas. The author's interpretations are fair and noncontroversial; accordingly, no summary assessment of the meaning of atheism as a Western phenomenon is offered."

Choice 9:1142 N '72 160w

"Thrower tells us that atheism is often regarded in this country as a fairly recent phenomenon, and that it is his intention to show that it has a long history and has been integral to the development of Western thought. [His] study is unfortunately deficient both in method and in content. No attempt has been made to indicate the changes in theism during the 2,500 years of the survey. However, atheism can only be understood by reference to the theism it denies. . . . It is surely unsatisfactory to attempt a study of atheism without reference to anthropology, and incomplete to omit from the 'modern' period, the intensive work on unbelief done in both sociology and theology during the past twenty years. The author's main concern is with the secularization of Western thought, and only consequentially with atheism."

TLS p665 Je 9 '72 550w

THROWER, NORMAN J. W. Maps & man: an examination of cartography in relation to culture and civilization. 184p 11 maps $5.95; pa $2.95 Prentice-Hall

912 Maps

ISBN 0-13-555961-8; 0-13-555953-7 (pa)

LC 70-166141

This book is a "summary account of the development of cartography from earliest times to the present day. . . . It seeks to trace the interplay of cartography with cultural and scientific history, to identify a development process not so much in its own right as in relation to the changing total environments in which it was set. . . . [The author also] draws attention to improvements in survey instruments and techniques as well as astronomical discovery." (Science) Glossary. Index.

"Although most of the maps reproduced here are too small, this is otherwise a fine work. . . . The approach is pragmatic, the text accurate and interesting. Geographer Thrower knows his subject thoroughly and presents it with verve and vitality. . . . Significant maps and charts are shown, with explanatory notes on their origin and utility. Special emphasis is given to modern mapping techniques involving extraterrestrial bodies, climatology, and associated phenomena. Recommended for academic and public libraries." L. E. Spellman

Library J 97:2595 Ag '72 100w

"In dealing with the period prior to the 17th century, the author is covering well-trodden ground. He takes full account of recent work, however, and thus his treatment of early developments is a useful summary despite overlap with the work of previous writers. Among other things, he gives more credit to both Roman and Oriental cartographers than has been customary in much previous writing. But it is the last three centuries which provide a field for greater originality in textbook writing, and over half of the book is usefully devoted to this period. . . . This is a book not for those who seek detailed information about modern maps, but rather for those who look for an introduction to a prolonged evolutionary process in which our modern map is just one more phase." J. C. Stone

Science 172:606 N 10 '72 650w

THUROW, LESTER C. The impact of taxes on the American economy. 171p $11.50 Praeger

330.973 Taxation—U.S. Finance—U.S. U.S.
—Economic conditions—1961—
LC 70-141363

The author examines the "range of issues that make up tax policy at the federal, state, and local levels. . . . [He discusses] how taxes affect the economic decisions of individuals and firms, causing them to alter savings, investment, and other economic decisions. He then . . . analyzes the impact of tax expenditures on macroeconomic conditions—unemployment, inflation, growth rates—exploring political as well as economic repercussions." (Publisher's note) Index.

"The first half of Thurow's book—the first five of nine chapters—is well worth reading for the general economist as well as the specialist in taxation. The text is tight, compressed, compact. . . . Thurow's technique is modernistic-econometric of a high order, including willingness to rush in quantitatively where angels fear to tread ever qualitatively. For example, he relies on input-output tables to estimate long-term structural effects of macroeconomic fiscal changes, although the validity of such estimates is questionable beyond the short run when the fixed coefficients of the tables are really fixed. In his last four chapters Thurow presents a scheme for tax reform in the interest of reduced inequality. . . . This reviewer [has some] skeptical doubts [about the Thurow plan]." M. Bronfenbrenner

Ann Am Acad 399:250 Ja '72 700w

"The empirical foundation of the study does not appear here, but Thurow does provide footnote citations of the original sources, both for his work and that by others. Background work and estimation methods unfortunately are not presented in great detail: some of his measures appear almost magically, although they are undoubtedly soundly based. The book ends with policy alternatives emerging from the empirical work, with a chapter considering political and ethical issues enmeshed in the policies. Although worthwhile, its primary weaknesses are the absence of full documentation for estimation procedures and the lack of a bibliography."

Choice 8:1492 Ja '72 170w

"The work is a revealing and serious study of the limits of the existing tax structure and should prove of interest in collections relating to economic and financial policy." Paul Waserman

Library J 96:3753 N 15 '71 160w

TIDYMAN, ERNEST. Shaft among the Jews.
244p $5.95 Dial press
LC 74-37454

Shaft, the black private eye, "thinks he is hallucinating when, while innocently wondering what time to have his fast-breaking drink and/or broad, he first encounters 'the seven men.' They look like a posse of cowboys, Jewish cowboys to be sure. Dressed to the nines in beards and basic black, they constitute a committee of diamond merchants who want him to get to the bottom of a scandal that is threatening to ruin the diamond industry. . . . Disguised as a janitor, he penetrates the inner world of crafty jewelers who cater to equally crafty millionaires. . . . [He finds himself] surrounded by Israeli secret agents. . . . His perpetual nemesis, Lt John Anderozzi of the NYPD reappears to resume his bugging." (Sat R)

Reviewed by Phoebe Adams
Atlantic 230:97 J1 '72 10w
Best Sell 32:223 Ag 1 '72 100w

Reviewed by H. C. Veit
Library J 97:2758 S 1 '72 100w

"The sex in [this book] is cheap and cynical. This is really a dreadful book—slick, calculated, altogether a synthetic. . . . Shaft is a transference figure, like James Bond. He is every man's dream—virile as a pedigree bull, handsome as Muhammad Ali, resourceful as Bobby Fischer in the King's Indian, powerful as a derrick. The only trouble is that he and the situations in which he finds himself are impossible to believe; and no amount of tough four-letter words or sexual ooze can make him anything but a comic-strip figure." Newgate Calendar

N Y Times Bk R p24 Ag 6 '72 130w
"Not-to-be-missed. . . . The movie has already been released. . . . But no matter; there is really nothing sacred about order of composition. Or, if there is, [this] is one of those proverbial exceptions. . . . Tidyman's talent keeps it all within the bounds of good taste, and the denouement demonstrates conclusively that you can't tell a crook by his cover." O. L. Bailey

Sat R 55:61 Ag 26 '72 250w

TIERNEY, PATRICIA E. Ladies of the avenue.
247p $6.95 Bartholomew house
659.1 Advertising
ISBN 0-87794-027-4 LC 73-155026

The author writes of the advertising world based on her experience of twenty years.

"The volume is amusing and informative and the author has a chatty way with the English language. . . . At first glance, 'Ladies of the Avenue' would seem to be a big exposé of the injustices found in the advertising industry, but I am unable to find in it any outstanding problems unique to that business. There is the usual discrimination against women in executive positions, but, because of the nature of the talents required and the products used, more women seem to make the grade in advertising than in other large businesses. . . . [Miss Tierney] does give an inside, if somewhat cynical view, of a big and changing business and her account makes interesting, funny reading. Girls anticipating a career in advertising may well pick up some useful hints." P. J. Earl

Best Sell 31:512 F 15 '72 390w

"One hesitates to say that the author writes 'good like a copywriter should,' but her prose can only be described as Madison Avenue breezy. For those with no objection to this kind of writing, Tierney presents a lot of inside information about a nutty business." J. B. Woy

Library J 97:1009 Mr 15 '72 100w

"A few years ago it would have been enough to say that [this] is a tasteless, trivial advertising memoir by a woman whose economic and class prejudices are showing. The elitist tone, the patronizing attitude toward the consumer, the gratuitous off-color anecdotes. . . . the self-serving put-downs, the ethnic slights make this an altogether dull and unsavory book. . . . But because of women's new awareness one can't fail to notice a more insidious element in these pages. . . . Patricia Tierney cannot mask the fact that she is a male chauvinist. Her consciousness of sexist inequities is raised only in direct proportion to how much her own bank account is lowered by sex bias. . . . Her crime against her sex is one of collaboration. She has bought the male-defined image of her sisters—women as objects to be beautified and adorned; mindless consumers to be manipulated—and she will sell the image if the price is right." L. C. Pogrebin

N Y Times Bk R p34 F 27 '72 1100w

TIFFT, WILTON. Ellis Island; photography: Wilton Tift; text: Thomas Dunne; design: Mila Macek. 160p $10 Norton
917.47 Ellis Island, New York
SBN 393-05443-8 LC 74-155987

"The first two thirds of [the book] contain 89 old photographs of immigrants, and the last third consists of 53 pictures Tift took on the deserted island, mostly indoors." (N Y Times Bk R) The text discusses the history of the island.

"Tift has assembled in this attractively designed volume a most unusual, rather moving collection of . . . photographs from the Library of Congress, the National Archives, the Department of Immigration and Naturalization, the National Park Service, and the D.A.R. The accompanying text . . . is somewhat jejune, but because of the book's format, easily ignored by one interested in the photographic collection. Peoples, buildings, equipment, staff—all march across these pages which evoke a bygone era. Many of the terse photo captions are intriguing. Without index, bibliography, footnotes, or pagination, this volume still presents a pictorial essay par excellence which will intrigue ordinary browsers as well as scholars. There is nothing quite like it. Recommended."

Choice 8:1654 F '72 120w

"[The text] is good, but the book belongs to the pictures. . . . The old pictures are of varied quality, but interesting. Tift's own photographs represent a lucid private vision, but I think he used too many. A selection of a dozen of the best could have maintained great intensity. As it is, they are interesting on a lower pitch. The layout is excellent; the printing is somewhat too gray, though some grayness is appropriate here. A curious, perceptive, nostalgic book." David Vestal

N Y Times Bk R p43 D 12 '71 110w

TIGER, LIONEL. The imperial animal [by] Lionel Tiger & Robin Fox. 308p $6.95 Holt
572 Man
ISBN 0-03-086582-4 LC 78-155535

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by Robert Hassenger
America 126:157 F 12 '72 600w

Reviewed by Elizabeth Fisher
Nation 214:89 Ja 17 '72 1150w

Reviewed by R. De Mille
Nat R 24:356 Mr 31 '72 330w

Reviewed by Max Gluckman
N Y Rev of Books 19:39 N 16 '72 4000w

Reviewed by J. F. Eisenberg
Science 175:289 Ja 21 '72 700w
TLS p791 J1 14 '72 1100w

TILLERY, DALE. jt. auth. Breaking the access barriers. See Medsker, L. L.

TILLICH, PAUL. Political expectation. 187p $5.95 Harper
261.8 Sociology, Christian. Socialism. Christian. Political science
LC 73-124700

In this volume "Tillich explores utopianism, the rights and limits of governmental power, and the relative merits of Marxist and Christian views of man." (Publisher's note) Index.

"This collection of Tillich's articles and addresses is important, for . . . these eight pieces reveal the intensely historical and political character of his earlier thought. . . . Despite James Luther Adams' excellent introduction, the five chapters from the period 1923-1930 will frustrate most readers who lack prior knowledge of Tillich. The other three chapters, those from 1951 until the year of Tillich's death, 1965, will be understandable to brighter undergraduates. The order of the articles allows them almost to develop a 'plot,' but for sheer understandability one may wish to read the final chapter first. It is made up of four 1951 Berlin lectures on the political meaning of utopia. . . . The team of translators has produced lucid, sprightly English which only in rare cases (mainly in the chapter on 'the state') misses any elements of Tillich's line of thought. Good index."

Choice 8:1463 Ja '72 210w

"The readers of Political Expectation . . . will soon learn that back in the 1920s Tillich was foreshadowing most of what came to be discussed in the late 1960s. . . . While some new publications suggest that the bottom of the Tillich barrel is being scraped, this particular book shows that enough adhered to the sides of that barrel to be representable as top-quality material. . . . Many of the essays devote themselves to a discussion of Protestant contributions. Anyone who thinks of the Protestant establishment in American churchdom will have a hard time making sense of what Tillich is talking about. But he sees Protestantism also as a prophetic, critical spirit which calls into question all human ventures in the light of a transcendent reference." M. E. Marty

Commonweal 95:212 N 26 '71 1150w

Reviewed by C. A. Kucheman
J Religion 52:268 J1 '72 3600w

TILLY, CHARLES, jt. ed. History as social science. See Landes, D. S.

TIME-LIFE BOOKS. African cooking. See Van der Post, L.

TIME-LIFE BOOKS. American cooking: the Northwest. See Brown, D.

TIME-LIFE BOOKS. Annuals. See Crockett, J. U.

TIME-LIFE BOOKS. Bulbs. See Crockett, J. U.

TIME-LIFE BOOKS. Evergreens. See Crockett, J. U.

TIME-LIFE BOOKS. Flowering house plants. See Crockett, J. U.

TIME-LIFE BOOKS. Landscape gardening. See Crockett, J. U.

TIME-LIFE BOOKS. Lawns and ground covers. See Crockett, J. U.

TIME-LIFE BOOKS. Roses. See Crockett, J. U.

The TIMES in review: 1960-1969: a New York Times decade bk; introd. by Clifton Daniel. 852p il maps $25 Arno press; Random house
909.82 History, Modern—20th century
ISBN 0-405-01711-1 LC 74-139439

"About 20 events from each year of the 1960's [have been selected and] the corresponding front page and related inside pages for each event [reprinted]." (Library J) Index.

"The arrangement of the collection is chronological, beginning with the settlement on January 5, 1960 of the record-breaking steel strike of 1959-1960, and ending with the news of the indictment of Newark Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio, December 18, 1969. . . . A topical index provides subject entry into the text. . . . This collection of front-page stories provides not only a reasonably complete panorama of national and world events during one of the more turbulent decades of history, but also an opportunity to examine how the editorial staff of one of the world's distinguished newspapers responded in print to those events as they occurred. The major strengths of this work are those of The New York Times itself: the thoroughness of treatment of each event, the clear journalistic style, and the authority of presentation. . . . The quality of the binding is poor for a volume of this size and weight and is likely to break at the hinges under normal library usage. The quality of the off-white, nonglare opaque paper is good. However, the printing quality varies. . . . Photographic reduction in page size . . . [makes] sustained reading hard on the eyes. This is a minor point in terms of the overall value of the book, however. . . . For libraries whose holdings include The New York Times and The New York Times Index it will be of minimal reference value. However, for small libraries and libraries which lack [those items] for this period, it is a handy reference and is recommended."

Booklist 69:212 N 1 '72 1100w

"This eight-pound . . . sockdologer of a volume chronicles a tempestuous, perhaps pivotal, decade in American and world history. . . . Whatever history's ultimate verdict, this book should definitely find a place in any library with no Times backfiles, and may well merit purchase for all academic, public, and school libraries. It is a unique, valuable collection, revealing history through the best journalistic eyes of our time."

Choice 9:198 Ap '72 200w

"The book 'presents what seemed most important at the time, not what may be judged most important in retrospect.' In a few instances this policy seems unfortunate (e.g., it has led to the inclusion of the 1966 murder of eight student nurses in Chicago and to the exclusion of Woodstock), and the editors are probably correct in stating that on some of the items selected history may overrule them. However, the book is fascinating; and as we read through it we are greeted by headlines which have remained all too important in our memories. . . . The reproduction of the news-type, although reduced, is generally good; the quality of the photographs, poor. The book is well suited for browsing; but due to its price and the fact that its size (11" X 17") may cause difficulty in shelving, libraries will find complete editions of the Times on microfilm more useful." R. R. Harris

Library J 96:1599 My 1 '71 200w

TIMPE, EUGENE F., ed. Thoreau abroad; twelve bibliographical essays; with a foreword by Walter Harding. 203p $9.50 Archon bks.

818 Thoreau, Henry David
ISBN 0-208-00401-7 LC 71-146512

"Timpe has collected reports from resident or observer-scholars on Thoreau's impact in England, France, the Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Czechoslovakia, the U.S.S.R., Israel, India, Japan, and Australia. In general, the reports are essentially negative." (Library J)

"The reader is left wondering about Spain and Canada . . . and infers that Thoreau is largely unknown in Africa and most of Asia. Both slender and yet padded (some 20 of 200 pages are blank or list only title and author), this unindexed, unevenly written (some essays read like annotated bibliographies) collection is important, but not definitive."

Choice 9:794 S '72 110w

"The virtue of such studies to American scholars is the new insights that come from looking at our writers through foreign eyes. But with the exception of Agostino Lombardo's thorough and informative analysis of Thoreau's reception by Italian scholars and critics or Joseph Jones's essay on Thoreau's influence in Australia, these essays simply have too little to report. . . . Thin and overpriced, this symposium can be recommended only for the large university collection." J. R. Willingham

Library J 96:3138 O 1 '71 180w

"With the exception of the essays by Condry, Flaxman, Timpe, and Jost, all are original essays presumably commissioned for this volume. . . . [They] may be divided into two groups: those demonstrating an appreciable acceptance of Thoreau in a given country, and those alleging a minimal impact. . . . Even the critics representing nations where Thoreau's reputation has made appreciable headway are guarded in attributing broad currency to his works and ideas. . . . This book is a corrective to the adulation that often obscures Thoreau. With no axes to grind, the foreign contributors to this volume take Thoreau's measure in their cultures. . . . This reviewer finds it curious that neither South America nor Scandinavia is represented." Wendell Glick

New Eng Q 45:155 Mr '72 1150w

TINDALL, GEORGE BROWN. The description of the solid South. (Mercer Univ. Lamar memorial lectures, no 14) 98p $4 Univ. of Ga. press; pa $1.75 Norton

320.975 Political parties. Republican party. Southern States—Politics and government
ISBN 0-8203-0230-5; 0-393-00663-8 (pa)
LC 76-169951; 72-4629 (pa)

"Originally three lectures delivered at Mercer University in 1970, Tindall's work is [an] . . . overview of Southern politics during the last century. He argues that since the days of Hayes, presidential Republicans have sought to build a viable party organization in the 'solid South.' Yet for decades Southerners remained loyal to the Democrats. However, changing economic and social conditions in the post-World War I era, rather than a Republican 'Southern Strategy,' helped to alter traditional voting patterns." (Choice) Annotated bibliography. Index.

"Tindall's study complements superbly V. O. Key's Southern politics in state and nation [BRD 1949], C. V. Woodward's Origins of the new South [BRD 1952], and the author's The emergence of the new South [BRD 1968]. . . . Highly recommended."

Choice 9:574 Je '72 160w

"[Tindall] deals, succinctly and straightforwardly, with the emergence of a viable Republican party in the South since 1952 [giving both] perspective and concise analysis." R. F. Durden

J Am Hist 59:746 D '72 330w

"With the 1972 presidential elections approaching, and with ' psephology ' (voting analysis) reaching its quadrennial peak, these brief and gracefully written essays have remarkable pertinence."

Va Q R 48:xciv summer '72 100w

TISHLER, HACE SOREL. Self-reliance and social security, 1870-1917. 220p $10.95 Ken-nikat

363.4 Insurance, Social. U.S.—Social policy. U.S.—Economic policy
ISBN 0-8046-9012-X LC 79-139361

In this study of the evolution and significance of the social security movement in the United States, Tishler seeks to "show how the philanthropic activities of the years between 1870-93 and the impact of the depression of the 1890's led to the revision of traditional ideas about self-reliance and the growing acceptance of the notion of collective responsibility. . . . The first triumphs of the collectivist approach came during the Progressive Era with the adoption of workmen's compensation laws and state mothers' pension acts." (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

"Tishler's provocative study is a major contribution to our knowledge of the growth of the welfare state in the U.S."

Choice 9:128 Mr '72 150w

"[This survey] encompassing the ideology of self-reliance, workmen's compensation, health insurance, and mother's pensions does not cover new ground by way of interpretation or data. It does, however, confirm the point that neither late-nineteenth-century philanthropy nor the social security movement can be understood in the simplistic framework of individualism versus collectivism."

Roy Lubove

J Am Hist 59:171 Je '72 500w

TISON, ANNETTE. The adventures of the three colors [by] Annette Tison and Talus Taylor. unp col il $3.95; lib bdx $4.23 World pub.

701.8 Color—Juvenile literature
LC 74-146809

Herbie only has three colors to paint with and accidentally makes some discoveries about color. To teach the effects of mixing the primary colors, "a blue seal on a clear acetate overlay drops over a pink ostrich forming a purple turtle; in another set, a yellow butterfly falls over a pink pig forming an orange snail, and so on until a flower becomes a color wheel. . . . Ages four to seven." (N Y Times Bk R)

"This slim gimmick book . . . could be a clever way of explaining the concept. Unfortunately, it fails because the color shown on the overlays does not always match what is intended in the text. For example, although it is indicated that ' . . . a splash of paint fell on [the dog] Angelo's nose,' Angelo's nose is as black as ever and the spot of yellow paint falls somewhere near his eyes. Herbie sits down to paint, but only has three colors: pink, yellow and blue. With these, he creates a green fish from a blue elephant mixed with a yellow dog, and also discovers that pink and blue make purple. Herbie's colors may be important ones, but the choice is misleading since red, not pink, is the third primary color."

B. G. Mulconry

Library J 97:1907 My 15 '72 140w

"Part coy story, part looking game, an eye-catching book that shows, in an amusing and concrete way, what happens when you mix two primary colors."

N Y Times Bk R p8 Ja 9 '72 70w

"The ingenious use here of transparent overlay pages makes one wonder why nobody has utilized this device before. . . . The book's plot is a thin vehicle and could have been dispensed with, but as a manual on color the work is a great success." Zena Sutherland

Sat R 54:56 O 16 '71 90w

TITLER, DALE. The day the Red Baron died 329p il maps $7.50 Walker & co; 331p il maps pa $1.25 Ballantine

940.4 Richthofen, Manfred Albrecht, Freiherr von. European War, 1914-1918—Aerial operations
ISBN 0-8027-0321-6; 0-345-01978-4 (pa)
LC 75-17797 (pa)

One specific aspect of Germany's ace pilot, Manfred von Richthofen's career, his "last fight against Allied aircraft on the Western front in April 1918 is . . . examined . . . in order to determine what party—artillerymen or a Canadian airman—actually shot [him] down." (Choice) "Index." (Library J)

"Although [the author's] attempted and undocumented reconstruction of some earlier portions of the Red Baron's life involved a fanciful attempt to reconstruct speech and incidents that may not have occurred, in general Titler has produced a lively and imaginative work that should stimulate a large reading audience. His careful account of the last day of Richthofen's life, the Baron's flight plan which is supplemented by fine maps and photographs, and the author's commendable compilation of eyewitness accounts of the pilot's death, re-create a fascinating episode."

Choice 8:726 J1 '71 190w

"For many years most published sources on the aerial phases of World War I have credited Captain Roy Brown, a Canadian pilot, with the victory in the battle which brought death to Manfred von Richthofen, the German ace of aces. Very little has been written about the Australian ground machine gunners sometimes credited with having downed the baron's famous red Fokker. . . . In his well-written book [Titler] sets out to prove that von Richthofen was hit and fatally wounded by two Australian ground gunners, William Evans and Robert Buie. He covers in great detail each moment of a three-day period, as lived by the men who were involved. Dozens of eyewitness accounts add much to the meticulous documentation. This most fascinating account should interest many general readers, and is essential for aviation collections." W. N. Hess

Library J 95:4167 D 1 '70 200w

TITLER, DALE M. Wings of adventure. 364p pl maps $6.95 Dodd

629.13 Aeronautics—Flights. Air pilots. Adventure and adventurers
ISBN 0-396-06469-8 LC 78-175309

"Each of the book's 15 chapters tells a tale of adventure connected with flying—feats of survival, endurance, and daring performed, not always in the air, but always by airmen." (Library J) Index.

"In all probability Mr. Titler is a better flyer than he is a writer. Belles-tristic grammarians might well boggle at some of his oddly constructed phrases, non sequitur sentences, and schoolboy prose, but like the inside of a coconut, the meat is worth battling a resistant, unpolished surface. . . . The reader who is hungry for the old-time derring-do will not feel cheated by any small lack of literary excellence. He will close the book not only with new appreciation of these indomitable flyers and the amazingly rugged, early airplanes, but refreshed anew with the cool slipstream of pure adventure." Gurnsey Le Pelley

Christian Science Monitor p11 F 10
 '72 230w

"Although the author should be commended for his emphasis on lesser known flyers, he has not written a notable book. It is largely undocumented, and the writing is mediocre—vintage Liberty magazine. While I cannot recommend this book to general readers, I hope other writers will follow Titler's lead into some unexplored areas of aviation history."
 R. T. Dillon

Library J 96:4094 D 15 '71 120w

TOBEY, RONALD C. The American ideology of national science, 1919-1930. 263p $9.95 Univ. of Pittsburgh press

509.73 Science—History. Science and state
 ISBN 0-8229-3227-X LC 70-151507

This is an "analysis of the failure of influential American scientists to establish a cohesion between the scientific and nonscientific cultures in America during the period from 1919 to 1930. Some of the central figures in the effort were George Ellery Hale, Edwin E. Slosson, Robert Andrews Millikan, and William Duncan MacMillan." (Choice) Bibliography.

Reviewed by Harry Alpert

Ann Am Acad 404:290 N '72 600w

"The author's style and some of his rationalizations of the scientists' actions seem somewhat complicated at times, but the book ends convincingly. It is an interesting contribution to a little-studied period in the history of American science."

Choice 9:232 Ap '72 140w

"This is an important book, not because the author has been entirely successful in stating and demonstrating his thesis, but rather because he has opened up an area of inquiry about which we know so little.... Tobey is strongest in distilling the opinions and prejudices of his national scientists (primarily Robert A. Millikan, George Ellery Hale, and to a lesser degree John C. Merriam.)... [A] handicap of the book is that the natural (as opposed to physical) sciences are not treated at all." Carroll Pursell

J Am Hist 59:459 S '72 700w

"Along with primary emphasis on the 1919-1930 era, Tobey's book includes significant observations on the pre-World War I and wartime activities of American scientists. The bibliography and footnote citations indicate extensive reading in primary and secondary printed materials, as well as research in unpublished manuscript sources. There is a wealth of information; some readers may even find that it occasionally obscures the progression of the book's themes." R. E. Bilstein

Library J 96:2502 Ag '71 100w

"But saying the obvious—the book is not perfect—should not detract from the recognition that Tobey has an important story to tell and that, in general, he tells it well." G. H. Daniels

Science 176:397 Ap 28 '72 700w

TODD, DAVID KEITH, ed. The water encyclopedia; a compendium of useful information on water resources. 559p 11 maps $27.50 Water Information center

333.9 Water—Dictionaries
 LC 76-140311

This book on "water resources data, facts and statistics has been divided into chapters on climate, hydrology, surface and ground water resources, water use and needs and water quality. In addition, information on Federal and state water resource agencies, interstate water activities and research organizations is presented." (Choice)

"A unique publication endeavoring to assemble information on the many aspects of water.... The material is shown in tabular form and is indexed to facilitate the location of specific information. Edited by a well-known water resources engineer, the book is intended as a compilation of information useful for everyone in the water field. While the information may not be sufficiently specific as to time and place for the professional water resources engineer or scientist, it is recommended as a reference volume for those directly involved as well as for [those] occasionally concerned in the water field."

Choice 8:1164 N '71 130w

"This volume is an excellent source for information and statistics on water.... Collected from many diverse sources, the material provides answers to the most commonly asked questions about water. Librarians will find this carefully edited work a most valuable reference tool." P. D. Thomas

Library J 96:1697 My 15 '71 110w

TODD, JOHN M. Reformation. 377p $7.95 Doubleday

270 Reformation
 LC 75-157629

The author "treats the religious revolution known as the Reformation under the following three headings: (1) its roots... in the previous history of the Church and in the nature of Christianity itself. (2) The first fifty years of the revolution throughout Europe. (3) Its outcome today... [when the author concludes] the Reformation themes are running their final course within the Roman Catholic Church itself." (Introd) Annotated chapter bibliographies. Index.

Reviewed by J. W. O'Malley

America 126:24 Ja 8 '72 380w

"Many readers will likely find [this book]... more confusing than enlightening, the narrative being so padded with long quotations that one loses the thread of the story. In the introduction the author says that he is not trying to defend some cause or other but, in general, the selection of material and what there is of interpretation follows the popular Liberal Protestant approach of twenty years ago.... Most readers will find the book rather heavy reading though there are occasional pages of lively and dramatic narrative." F. J. Gallagher

Best Sell 31:423 D 15 '71 370w

"[This] survey of the Reformation from the vantage point of a modern ecumenist, with some explicit contemporary lessons drawn out... is successful—sweeping, ornamented by significant details, generally well written, and accurate.... [Todd] avoids the trap of ecumenical trivializing by a daring strategy—in essence his thesis seems to be that on virtually every important issue that Reformers were right and their Catholic opponents wrong.... This has in fact all along been the unstated assumption of a certain kind of Catholic ecumenism, although for obvious reasons it has not been proposed boldly.... When Todd speaks of the Reformation having run its course, he means something optimistic.... [He does not] allow for the possibility that liberal Christianity is now... being steadily absorbed into a global humanism." James Hitchcock

Critic 31:72 N/D '72 1400w

"[Todd] offers a Roman Catholic interpretation of the Reformation. Not claiming to have produced a definitive work based on original research (the scholars on whom he depends are indicated in a concluding bibliographic essay), the author aims for, in his words, 'relevant' or 'popular' history. Both words are applicable to the result, which is excellent, impartial, sensitive, and delightful. Though packed with facts, it often reads with the excitement of a novel." D. W. Dayton

Library J 96:3335 O 15 '71 120w

"Some writers of popular history prefer to ignore what the academic historians have said, and of no area has this been more true than of the Reformation. But Mr Todd is a well-informed, conscientious worker. If what he accepts is at times open to question (it is by no means certain that the story of the nailing up of the Theses is a later legend), at times he reaches great clarity and succinctness, as in his presentation of Calvin and the Institutes."

TLS p753 Je 30 '72 500w

TOLAND, JOHN. The rising sun; the decline and fall of the Japanese Empire, 1936-1945. 954p 11 maps col maps $12.95 Random house
 940.53 World War, 1939-1945—Japan
 LC 77-117669

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by Hugh Borton

Am Hist R 77:192 F '72 600w

Economist 241:63 O 23 '71 550w

TLS p1029 S 1 '72 650w

TOLIVER, HAROLD E. Pastoral forms and attitudes. 391p $12.50 Univ. of Calif. press

820.9 English literature—History and criticism. American literature—History and criticism
ISBN 0-520-01896-6 LC 74-142747

This "study of pastoral features from the Renaissance to modern literature discusses works by Sidney, Spenser, Shakespeare, Marvell, Milton, Pope, Wordsworth, Keats, Hardy, Stevens, Bellow, and Frost. . . . [Toliver enumerates] some of the themes he traces: 'fairy tale marvels, romance journeys, . . . the imminence of gods capable of granting or taking away paradise, the seasons and biological life that are the context of pastoral games and activities, . . . the incongruity of certain intruders in Arcadia's idyllic place, the tension between naturalism and artifice, and metamorphosis.'" (Va Q R) Bibliography. Index.

"The thing that may leap to the mind of the reader upon first glancing into this volume is the fascinating breadth of Toliver's apparent definition of 'pastoral'. . . . In this study . . . [the reader] will find rich and varied illustrative material in both poetry and prose. . . . It may seem unimportant . . . whether or not the pastoral as a strict form is dying; it may seem vital whether or not the pastoral attitude remain as a vivifying factor in our lives. . . . This volume owes much to [William] Empson, as its author acknowledges, but it has its own fine and independent existence. It deserves a place on most college library shelves."

Choice 9:208 Ap '72 210w

"Toliver prefers not to define pastoral and is prepared, like Empson, to find it in different literary forms. . . . The expectations that one is entitled to have in perusing such a work are explicitly stated by the author. He aims to discover in the examination of the texts as pastorals 'something in them through this lens that would be less noticeable through another.' By this criterion, the book leaves a great deal to be desired. It is never very clear what types of questions different versions of pastoral are meant to answer, nor is it clear why such questions should change in the manner in which they do from period to period. A technological age inevitably invites pastoral speculation, but it may be wise to initiate such inquiries on a scale somewhat less grand than Toliver's."

Va Q R 48:lvi spring '72 210w

TOLLEY, KEMP. Yangtze patrol: the U.S. navy in China. 329p il maps $10 Naval Inst. press

951 U.S. Navy—History. U.S.—Foreign relations—China. Americans in China
ISBN 0-87021-797-6 LC 73-146534

The author, "a retired rear-admiral of the United States Navy, has written a . . . history of American gunboat forces that patrolled the Yangtze River in China from 1853 to 1942." (J Am Hist) Bibliography. Index.

"The author's Far Eastern tours nearly covered the 1930's and two-thirds of his book are taken up with that and the previous decade. The front paper map of China, like the author's references to Chinese history or diplomacy, is a mere sketch. The end paper chart of river water marks is typical of its fascinating details—from archival and private as well as published sources—on ships, men, water, and political navigation. There are few works on China quite like it; it belongs in every library with a China or naval history section. It may be a bit diffuse for beginners; but undergraduates who are already hooked on China or ships will find it informative, generally authoritative, and interesting."

Choice 9:558 Je '72 190w

"The author, himself a former member of the patrol, has captured the spirit, color, and personalities of both the gunboats and their crews. . . . The book is a useful, well-written, and interesting account of an exotic chapter in American naval and diplomatic history; it is a most skillful and entertaining re-creation of days long past. Based largely on published reminiscences, official records, and articles from the United States Naval Institute Proceedings, the volume has great substance in its descriptive aspects. It is, however, lacking in analysis. The author clearly accepts the presence and function of the gunboats as necessary and justified; alternatives to 'gunboat diplomacy' are not discussed, and seldom does the Chinese viewpoint appear in the narrative." T. H. Buckley

J Am Hist 59:453 S '72 500w

"Not . . . a ponderous monograph but . . . an anecdotal chronicle brimming with episodic detail and recorded with zest. . . . Tolley knows his 'river rats' well. Laced with salty language and boisterous colloquial humor, his account conveys a feeling for the sights, smells, and sounds of life along the riverways and on the stubby warships." A. D. Coox

Pacific Affairs 45:424 fall '72 270w

TOLLISON, ROBERT D., jt. ed. Theory of public choice. See Buchanan, J. M.

TOLSTOY, ILYA. Tolstoy, my father: reminiscences; tr. from the Russian by Ann Dunnigan. 322p il $7.95 Cowles

B or 92 Tolstoy, Leo

LC 74-163246

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by T. O'Hara

Best Sell 31:513 F 15 '72 310w

Choice 9:376 My '72 180w

Economist 243[i.e.234]:63 Je 17 '72 250w

Reviewed by Rosemary Neiswender

Library J 97:1706 My 1 '72 250w

New Yorker 48:146 My 6 '72 200w

TLS p704 Je 23 '72 650w

Va Q R 48:lxii spring '72 160w

TOMAINO, SARAH F. Persephone: bringer of spring; pictures by Ati Forberg. unp $4.50 Crowell

292 Persephone—Juvenile literature

ISBN 0-690-61448-9 LC 71-87160

The author retells "the Greek myth explaining the coming of winter and later return of springtime to the land. . . . Grades one to three." (Library J)

Reviewed by Neil Millar

Christian Science Monitor pB4 My 6 '71 180w

"Complementing the text are Ati Forberg's stylized paintings, alternate spreads in beautiful full color, which convey equally well the golden light of the Greek countryside and the Stygian gloom of Hades' kingdom. Persephone is pale and pretty, Demeter strong and dignified and Hades suitably stern-looking and grim. A handsome addition to any collection, this is simple enough to be used in storytelling for the lower grades." Clara Hutton

Library J 97:770 F 15 '72 80w

Reviewed by Barbara Wersba

N Y Times Bk R pt 2, p46 My 2 '71 120w

"[The] familiar Greek myth is narrated with a graceful simplicity, beautifully complemented by striking illustrations in which color is used with restraint and, on alternate pages, black-and-white pictures have dramatic vigor. . . . Good for reading aloud to younger children and for independent reading by ages 8-10." Zena Sutherland

Sat R 54:46 My 15 '71 90w

TOMAS, ANDREW. We are not the first: riddles of ancient science. 222p il $6.95 Putnam

001.93 Science—History

LC 70-175252

"There are some very odd facts that seem to imply that scientific knowledge existed in antiquity—even in prehistoric times. For example, in the ranks of ancient gods Saturn often takes second place. Yet only with the invention of the telescope could we see that Saturn is indeed the second largest planet. Did the ancients really know the size of Saturn, or is this a coincidence? The author believes the former, and claims that modern scientific knowledge is merely an incomplete rediscovery of what was known long ago. He also believes that ancient culture began after visits by men from the stars, and cites legends of sky-gods as evidence." (Library J) Bibliography.

"Cannot be taken seriously. Facts and fancies are so intermingled that a serious reader has no way of telling, much of the time, which is which. The author documents nothing; the vast majority of his statements contain no clue to their sources. The few citations Tomas gives to books and journal articles do not contain page numbers. In two instances, references to newspapers contained only the date, and at least once, a journal was cited by the year only. On top of this, many of the references appear questionable."

Choice 9:79 Mr '72 180w

"[The author] is careful not to claim his speculations as proven facts, merely as clues (and reason for his belief). While some of his conclusions seem unwarranted, others are not so easily dismissed. In his intention to 'provoke speculation . . . or at least entertain the reader,' he has succeeded." R. L. Hough

Library J 97:207 Ja 15 '72 170w

TOMKINS, CALVIN. Living well is the best revenge. 148p il $6.50 Viking

B or 92 Murphy, Gerald. Murphy, Sara
SBN 670-43591-0 LC 74-147392

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Economist 243:77 My 20 '72 400w

Reviewed by R. M. Adams

N Y Rev of Books 18:26 Ja 27 '72 600w

Reviewed by Daniel Aaron

Va Q R 48:157 winter '72 420w

TOMKOWITZ, GERHARD, jt. auth. Anschluss. See Wagner, D.

TOMLINSON, R. A. Argos and the Argolid; from the end of the bronze age to the Roman occupation. (States and cities of ancient Greece) 289p pl $9.75 Cornell univ. press

913.3 Argos, Greece—History
ISBN 0-8014-0713-3 LC 78-38286

This is an "account of the history and achievements of the people of Argos, a . . . Greek city-state. The author . . . describes the climate and topography of Argos . . . and considers the relationship between the Argives who claimed Dorian descent and those whose ancestors were in all probability the inhabitants of the region during the Bronze Age. . . . [He describes also] the role of the Argives as leaders of a 'third force' in mainland Greek history, when they challenged the supremacy of the Spartans in Peloponnesian affairs. The final portion of the book assesses the military and political organization of the Argives, their religious cults, and their contribution to the arts of ancient Greece." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"[The author] offers a tour of the antiquities of the Argolid peninsula, following the ancient guidebook of Pausanias and in the process discussing the latest archaeological finds. . . . The book contains an immense amount of scholarship, but it is all presented in an easy and casual style which should serve to whet the appetite of the potential traveler." Jean Rhys

Library J 97:2840 S 15 '72 100w

"Tomlinson offers an excellent survey of work done in the area and the conclusions reached by modern scholarship; he combines well archaeology and history. . . . [His book] is at its best on the pottery and sculpture; an otherwise excellent discussion of the temples is made difficult to follow because of inadequate plans. In the narrative Professor Tomlinson does what he can with a story often lacking in names, facts or dates. His discussion of social phenomena is weaker."

TLS p992 Ag 25 '72 650w

TOMPSON, RICHARD S. Classics or charity? the dilemma of the 18th century grammar school. 168p $9.50 Rowman & Littlefield

370.942 Education—Great Britain
ISBN 0-7190-0468-3 LC 72-176268

The author "establishes that 'school activity in the 18th century was of a healthier and more progressive character than any general account of 18th century education would allow one to suspect.' The monograph . . . examines the grammar schools and the historians; historical backgrounds; the classics in the grammar school; and the classics versus charity out of which evolved the patterns of reaction and reform. Tompson's conclusion [is] that the grammar schools 'made strenuous efforts to adapt their course of studies and maintain their charitable role in the 18th century.'" (Choice)

"[This is] an invaluable study of the 18th-century grammar school, cast in the new historiography of Sir Lewis Namier, Sir John Clapham, and T. S. Ashton who have furnished reassessments of the century. . . . [The monograph is] superbly documented from a wide range of primary sources. . . . [This study] establishes a new set of perspectives in which 18th-century English education is to be assessed. . . . Index. Recommended."

Choice 9:1021 O '72 170w

"Tompson aims to remove the coat of folklore covering the accepted opinion, part Whig, part progressive, about the 18th-century grammar schools. He is a spirited performer with the paint-remover, and he establishes with precise and concrete evidence a case for seeing the schools as by no means universally corrupted and, in fact, as making a notable achievement in the expansion of what they taught and in fitting themselves more to the times than conventional historians have allowed." William Walsh

Encounter 39:60 O '72 160w

TOPPING, SEYMOUR. Journey between two Chinas. 459p pl maps $10 Harper

951.1 China (People's Republic of China)
SBN 06-014329-0 LC 70-181649

"In 1949, after three years as a correspondent on the war-torn Chinese mainland, Seymour Topping was the first journalist to meet the Communist Army as it entered Nanking, Chiang Kai-shek's capital. In this book he utilizes his personal experience and previously unpublished material from the diaries of John Leighton Stuart, the last American Ambassador to mainland China, to recount . . . the final days of the Nationalist regime and the . . . birth of Mao's People's Republic. . . . In the spring of 1971 . . . [Topping traveled for five weeks] on the mainland, talking with peasants, students, urban workers and government officials of every rank. His trip ended with an . . . interview with Chou En-lai." (Publisher's note) Index.

Reviewed by W. J. Parente

Best Sell 32:362 N 1 '72 850w

"[This] is an excellent and fascinating book of reminiscences and impressions. Now assistant managing editor of the New York Times, Mr. Topping has lost none of his old reportorial skills. He is a perceptive and sympathetic observer, but he does not pull any punches. . . . [He] also does not attempt to hide Communist excesses, such as the purge and execution of vast numbers of 'counter-revolutionaries.' But he is complimentary about the material achievements of China's Communist rulers and the change for the better that they have wrought in the living conditions of many Chinese. Even amidst a flood of impressionistic volumes about China, this is one the serious China-watcher cannot afford to miss." John Hughes

Christian Science Monitor p9 Ag 30 '72 550w

Reviewed by A. J. Nathan

Library J 97:2617 Ag '72 250w

Reviewed by J. C. Thomson

N Y Times Bk R p3 O 29 '72 460w

"[Topping's] peripatetic memoir is a sympathetic yet searching recitation of Chinese (and Vietnamese) Communist aspirations, a log of Nationalist Chinese corruption and allied foreign intrigues (some documented from the Pentagon papers), colorful observations of the old and new Chinas and personal reminiscences.

While Topping catalogues some of Mao's 'serious errors' . . . he finds little fault with the thrust and record of the Communists. . . . The book contains many interviews with Chinese officials and firsthand reports of life in such cities as Canton, Hangchow, Shanghai and Peking (all favorably contrasted with life before the Communists). In addition, Topping takes pains to explain historical Chinese stands on such issues as Tibet, Taiwan and Vietnam. . . . His book is a thorough and privileged document, one that must be read—with care and discrimination." S. K. Oberbeck

Newsweek 80:80 Ag 28 '72 600w

TOPPING, SEYMOUR—Continued

"Journey Between Two Chinas suffers from an identity crisis. Is it a journalistic memoir of an important period in the history of American diplomacy and Chinese upheaval, or is it an autobiography? Topping seems undecided. In the midst of eyewitness chronicling of great events he gives us irrelevant anecdotes about the wife and kids. . . . Nevertheless, Topping was there, watching, writing, sending cables in China, in Vietnam, and everywhere that things were happening. His reminiscences have value in determining the motivations behind the United States' unfortunate Asian policies in the last generation. Perhaps the book should have been two books, one personal and one impersonal." Arthur Prager
Sat R 55:91 N 18 '72 650w

TOPPING, SEYMOUR. The New York Times report from Red China. See The New York Times

TOURNIER, MICHEL. The ogre; tr. from the French by Barbara Bray. 373p $7.95 Doubleday

LC 75-186310

This novel, first published in Paris in 1970 as Le Roi des Aulnes, and winner of the Prix Goncourt, focuses on one character. "Garage manager, unacknowledged sage, and—perhaps—criminal, Abel Tiffauges narrowly avoids jail in the 1939 French conscription. As a prisoner of war in East Prussia he serves as a forester, then as a procurer of boys for a Hitler youth camp. Haunted by anthropological myths, Tiffauges believes he participates in a cosmic drama of archetypes and symbols." (Library J)

"[This novel] resembles a collaborative meditation on World War II by Rabelais and Jean Genet. . . . The character and plot may sound pretentious; but Tournier's inventiveness and sense of humor (shown to advantage by a sympathetic translator) render from dubious materials one of the most significant novels of the year. Strongly recommended." Rowe Portis

Library J 97:2437 J1 '72 150w

"Admittedly, Tournier is not writing a history of the Reich. But it would appear that he has misrepresented that history while using it as a setting for an account of a fairly exotic psychological state. In an agony of tenderness, Tiffauges broods over the innocents whom his fellow cranks, who are the wrong sort of cranks, have consigned to a massacre. His madness is full of Deep Meaning; theirs is full of cruelty: yet they have a deep something in common. It is all too mysterious and magical for me. And I doubt whether that something will assist an understanding of German nationalism in the time of Hitler. . . . Tournier's imaginings come no closer to the condition of life in Nazi Germany than his Academician's prose does to the delusions of a supposedly ignorant obsessional."

N Y Rev of Books 19:40 N 30 '72 1200w

Reviewed by Marian Engel

N Y Times Bk R p7 S 3 '72 1400w

Reviewed by L. E. Sissman

New Yorker 48:68 D 30 '72 1500w

"This fine novel is more likely to be praised than read. A good, demanding fable, a meditative story of unaccustomed viscosity that rewards a second reading, it also seems curiously old-fashioned. . . . [The book] is built in the way Bach built his fugues: themes and statements are introduced, inverted, tangled and marched past each other, all to be resolved in loud, majestic chords. . . . The novel's original title should have been translated as 'The Erl King.' To call it 'The Ogre' is both to suppress and distort what the author intended in his fable. . . . Tournier's achievement rests in his remarkable blend of myth with realism."

Newsweek 80:84 S 4 '72 800w

"[The author] proves a clever exploiter of the current enthusiasm for mysticism and mythology. . . . Like a good Hegelian, Tournier presents his thesis and antithesis. But he is also a good Jungian. Signs, symbols and archetypes are pried from every incident and lofted chaotically into the mythological vacuum of the modern world. . . . Without at least a mail-order course in triadic dialectics, it is best to forgo analysis of Tournier's synthesis. Enough said that it has much to do with his notion that symbols have lives of their own and possess a diabolical potential. Yet in The Ogre, in contrast with his last book, Friday [BRD 1969], Tournier seems incapable of expressing an idea without sacrificing art to pedagogy. . . . It seems as if a little malign inversion has seeped into the novel. Why else does it invite laughter in places where it is supposed to be most serious?" R. Z. Sheppard

Time 100:68 Ag 21 '72 800w

TOWLE, TONY. North; pub. for the Frank O'Hara Foundation. 75p $4; pa $1.95 Columbia univ. press

811

ISBN 0-231-03471-7 LC 70-125619

These "poems touch on a variety of subjects: close friends, poetry itself, impressions of New York, and so on." (Library J) Some of these poems have previously appeared in various publications.

"Although this first book of poetry has received the [1970] Frank O'Hara Award for Poetry, I can find nothing in it that excites, inspires, invigorates or in any way strikes the imagination. Not one [of the poems] reflects deep self-probing; Towle's own particular vision is not evident. Instead, these poems, while competent, are often self-consciously academic—just so much balance, just so much extended metaphor, just so much literary allusion. Towle is a hard worker, but the result seems to be more of a literary exercise than a search for a point of view—social, esthetic, political, moral, or whatever." J. M. Warner

Library J 95:3914 N 15 '70 130w

"[This] is a good and promising first collection of poems. . . . [Towle's] poems, when they succeed, revolve around the tensions between our sensibilities and our century, between the illusory order of the written word and the fragmentary, and hence distracting, nature of our factual world. . . . Keenly awake to his time and place, Towle can write convincingly of an America other Lower East Side poets are reluctant to come to grips with. . . . [One of the virtues of his] book is his ability to create within the poem ■ novel, a play, a sculpture, something that wasn't there to begin with, but is to happen only within the space of the poem, as in Scenes from The Life of Christ, or The Hotel." David Lehman

Poetry 119:227 Ja '72 750w

TOWNE, ANTHONY, jt. auth. Suspect tenderness. See Stringfellow, W.

TOWNEND, PETER. Zoom! 199p $5.95 St Martins

LC 76-188614

"Philip Quest, a photographer blinded in one eye . . . gets involved in the marriage of the star of spaghetti westerns to the daughter of a . . . rich though stupid Texan. Things go wrong and end up in kidnapping and murder." (Library J)

"[This story has] enough hugger-mugger, sex, and wanton violence to turn any queasy stomach, all of it probably inspired by the popular success of Ian Fleming's James Bond. . . . Complications too numerous to count here stretch the plot out to a breaking point." Best Sell 32:314 O 1 '72 80w

"The characters are quite untainted by reality, a readable tale is marred by a ridiculously moral ending." H. C. Veit

Library J 97:3185 O 1 '72 90w

Reviewed by Douglas Dunn

New Statesman 83:119 Ja 28 '72 100w

"The sex in such books as Zoom . . . approaches pornography. . . . There are plenty of conventional heroics and nonstop action. At the end everything is carefully staged, with some gratuitous sadism thrown in for kicks. It's all a formula, but Townend handles it very well. Completely unbelievable as the plot may be, it will take a blasé reader not to get a vicarious thrill." Newgate Callendar

N Y Times Bk R p46 O 22 '72 90w

TOWNSEND, CLAIRE. Old age: the last segregation. See Old age: the last segregation

TOWNSEND, PETER, ed. The concept of poverty; working papers on methods of investigation and life-styles of the poor in different countries. 260p $10.50 Am. Elsevier pub. co.

362.5 Poverty
ISBN 0-444-19640-4 LC 70-129093

"This book of readings consists of 14 articles, mainly by English sociologists, although there are five U.S. contributors . . . [and] single contributions from Germany, Austria, and Norway. The articles derive from a conference of the International Committee on Poverty held at the University of Essex in 1967. . . . [The introduction considers] a definition of poverty in terms of relative deprivation. [Other papers] consider the various indices of poverty associated with housing, food, urban-rural differences, age and youth. . . . [A] chapter on 'Poverty and Culture', argues for more 'social experimentation' to determine when and how behavior is changed by particular kinds of programs." (Am Soc R) Index.

"One finds in this book a refreshingly direct approach to poverty as a phenomenon of low income (or more broadly, low command over resources). Almost all of the papers take as their point of departure a conception of poverty as the enforced necessity to live at a low level of income. . . . The cumulative effect of these analyses is to sharpen considerably our understanding of the concept of poverty as properly a matter of the material basis for social life. . . . No matter how many anthologies on poverty one has read, this one is unique enough to merit careful attention." Lee Rainwater

Am J Soc 77:777 Ja '72 650w

"I am somewhat at a loss to determine just what sort of audience this book is aimed at. . . . [It] does at least take the American reader outside U.S. poverty writings and emphases, even though we don't go very far afield. But compared to [G.] Myrdal's three-volume Asian Drama [BRD 1963] and his The Challenge of World Poverty [BRD 1970], the Townsend readings are rather tame stuff." O. R. Gallagher

Am Soc R 36:1132 D '71 240w
Choice 8:478 My '71 150w

"The politically committed academics who work on poverty keep trying to translate their research into action. The reporting to this conference on some of the miseries of the poor helped signpost several paths that official policy has since explored. . . . To make sweeping enough changes to affect all those whom we now consider to be relatively deprived . . . demands a radical redistribution of resources. I am convinced by (or, if you like, ideologically bigoted enough to accept) what I take to be the minimum consensus of these essays. What is needed now, which the book does not set out to provide, is a persuasive political action brief." Anne Lapping

New Statesman 80:569 O 30 '70 650w

"Like most collections of conference papers . . . [this book] is very uneven in quality; and some participants have been overtaken by the (surely excessive) time-lag before publication. . . . Many of the authors address themselves, either explicitly or implicitly, to the question posed by Oscar Lewis. Is there a 'culture of poverty', a way of life so ingrained in people who have been poor over generations that even if their material circumstances improved they would still be unable to conform to expected standards of behaviour?"

TLS p1417 D 4 '70 450w

TOYNBEE, ARNOLD. Surviving the future. 164p $5.95 Oxford

901.94 Civilization, Modern. Social change
ISBN 0-19-501505-3 LC 77-167854

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Choice 9:848 S '72 170w

Reviewed by E. K. Welsch
Library J 97:893 Mr 1 '72 150w

N Y Times Bk R p[40] O 15 '72 60w

TRACY, HONOR. The butterflies of the province; a novel. 213p $5.95 Random house

LC 79-102340

This is "a novel about British expatriates in Spain." (Atlantic)

"[This novel] is designed to amuse, and deftly does just that and nothing more." Phoebe Adams

Atlantic 226:128 S '70 30w

Reviewed by N. E. Taylor
Christian Science Monitor p18 D 10 '70 190w

"The fragile plot ravel and frays long before the prose drones to its conclusion. There is more farce than satire and the author resorts to assorted digestive rumblings, and finally a social disease is hauled in to beef up the chuckles. . . . Tiresome stuff and recommended for only the most dedicated Tracy buffs." Barbara Nelson

Library J 95:2722 Ag '70 80w

Reviewed by Clive Jordan
New Statesman 80:217 Ag 21 '70 120w

"[The author] deploys her considerable cunning and craft to trap sitting ducks. The 'province' is Málaga; the 'butterflies' are social ones—so much heavier than air that on the instant of release they plummet to earth, never to rise again. . . . This novel is closest in spirit to the 1920's, so deftly does it contrive to elude anything so tiresome and ungainly as a subject. . . . As readers of some of her previous books know . . . Miss Tracy can do better. . . . Perhaps this is the book she simply had to put behind her. There's a moral here." Saul Maloff

N Y Times Bk R p63 S 13 '70 650w
TLS p1241 O 30 '70 110w

TRACY, HONOR. The quiet end of evening. 241p $6.95 Random house

ISBN 0-394-47188-1 LC 79-102340

"There is Sabina Boxham, aged twenty-eight, the squire's sister, in her cottage by the shores of the Atlantic, thinking how wonderful, quite wonderful, is her new bath which Twomey's lorry has just delivered. Wonderful, until of course she realizes that they haven't brought the taps or the bung and that in fact it will take about a year for the 'fittins to foller'. . . . [The rest of the novel describes the consequent experiences of] Sabina, her languid brother Thomas, and the rest of the egregious inhabitants of Inishnamona." (TLS)

Reviewed by Phoebe Adams
Atlantic 229:112 Je '72 50w

"The setting is Ireland and the [characters are] . . . delightfully feckless, wild and witty locals. . . . For all Tracy fans and for anyone who enjoys reading intelligent prose written with a wicked sense of humor." A. C. Ringer

Library J 97:2119 Je 1 '72 140w

"At the start of Honor Tracy's new novel, a feckless Action Committee stirs hope by sponsoring a St. Patrick's Pageant Play to put Inishnamona on the tourist map. At first glance, there is a promising satiric subject here. Miss Tracy, however, lets most of the possibilities escape her. Instead . . . she allows herself to be sidetracked by another, far less interesting account of the threatened sale of an estate to an Englishman. . . . Interrupting both these stories is the obligatory parade of dispensable eccentrics . . . —all meant to demonstrate the exasperating, intractable, lovable lunacy of the Irish. When the visiting Englishman says: 'I feel as if I were on a revolving stage,' one knows only too well what he means." Lawrence Graver

N Y Times Bk R p6 J1 '72 300w

Reviewed by J. D. O'Hara
Sat R 55:60 Je 24 '72 350w

Reviewed by Christopher Porterfield
Time 100:59 J1 31 '72 200w

"This is the Ireland of moonshine and delays, of promises for tomorrow and smiles for today. The story . . . is a load of nonsense and bad copy for Ireland's image, but it is well-written nonsense and it will make some people laugh."

TLS p438 Ap 21 '72 300w

TRADE and investment policies for the seventies; new challenges for the Atlantic area and Japan; ed. by Pierre Uri; foreword by Sir Eric Roll; pub. in coop. with the Atlantic Institute. 286p $12.50 Praeger

382 Commerce. International economic relations. Japan—Commerce. Investments
LC 76-168335

This volume "represents the proceedings of a conference sponsored jointly by the Atlantic Institute and the Japanese Keidanren held in Tokyo in March 1971. The purpose of the conference was to delineate the major issues facing the world economy in the 1970's and to seek out the major tendencies and trends emerging from the existing balance of economic forces. The main papers deal with the multinational corporation, trade policies for the 1970's, and selected aspects of the position of Japan. . . . [There is a] summary of the issues by Pierre Uri." (Choice)

"[These papers were] published with unusual alacrity, appearing before the end of 1971. Even this, alas, was too slow; the collection is already dated by the 'Nixon shock' of August 15, which it recognizes only in a politely antagonistic 'Postface' by the editor. . . . The 'trade' papers are mostly the standard stuff fat cats tell each other across national boundaries. Everyone is for freer trade and investment—but also for 'orderly markets' and against 'disruption.'" M. Bronfenbrenner

Am Pol Sci R 66:1093 S '72 450w

"The book is highly recommended to college and university libraries for its sound analysis." Choice 9:549 Je '72 160w

TRAGER, FRANK N., ed. Communist China, 1949-1969: a twenty-year appraisal; ed. by Frank N. Trager and William Henderson; pub. for the Am.-Asian educ. exchange. 356p $9.50 N.Y. univ. press

335.43 China (People's Republic of China)
ISBN 0-8147-0485-9 LC 78-114765

"This book consists of fourteen articles surveying and analyzing the first two decades of Communist rule in China. . . . [It examines] foreign policy, politics, ideology, military affairs, culture, education, economics, and agriculture." (Va Q R)

"A symposium by contributors writing from a conservative, critical perspective. In this sense the volume is a welcome counterbalance to more liberal analyses now appearing. It is an uneven collection, however, and some of the contributions leave a good deal to be desired. The essays on party politics and on the army can be recommended."

Choice 8:1075 O '71 70w

"Trager and Henderson have compiled a book that can't be ignored. . . . [and] should be assigned reading for all students of China. . . . [These] essays manage to cast a pall over the bright, sunny China's Coming 'Round! glee that appears to have taken hold even of people in Washington who should know better. . . . The authors do not rant or fulminate or sputter. They simply show, with statistics where available, with representative instances where that is all that can be used, what the paradise of blue ants is like after twenty years. . . . [The editors] clearly, calmly, convincingly lead us to realize that 'the foreign policy of Communist China poses an unlimited threat to American interests in Asia [which are] to prevent the organization of East Asia under the leadership of a power, or concert of powers, hostile to the United States.'" David Brudnoy

Nat R 23:816 J1 27 '71 900w

"Contributors include some of the most prominent China specialists in the Western world. Their contributions are of uneven quality: some represent original and creative research while others bring together the findings of other experts. Most, however, are careful and authoritative, and the volume as a whole is a welcome addition to the growing literature on Communist China. As American contacts with China expand, it will become increasingly important for American citizens to become informed about the People's Republic. This book is a good place to begin."

Va Q R 47:clxxx autumn '71 120w

TRAGER, JAMES. The big, fertile, rumbling, cast-iron, growling, aching, unbuttoned belly-book. 572p il $15 Grossman pubs.

613.2 Nutrition
SBN 670-15675-2 LC 70-157866

Digestion, metabolism and general nutrition are covered by the author of the Enriched,

Fortified, Concentrated, Country-Fresh, Lip-Smacking, Finger-Licking, International, Unexpurgated Foodbook (BLD 1971). "Digestive diseases are discussed, and warnings are given about the dangers of self-diagnosis and treatment." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

Reviewed by Friede Gruenrock
Best Sell 32:461 Ja 1 '73 350w

"The author's wealth of knowledge of the fascinating processes of digestion and metabolism and his rich supply of information about nutrition fads, facts, and fallacies convince the reader of the need to follow sound health principles. . . . The sources, symptoms, and perils of food poisoning are interestingly explained, and the historical data and background material so generously supplied throughout continue to draw and hold the reader's attention. This book makes for excellent browsing, and can also serve as a reference work for student and layman alike." U. W. Bestehorn
Library J 97:3606 N 1 '72 100w

"The tome at hand. . . . [crams] together an immense amount of information never so well organized in one place before. . . . Mr. Trager has burrowed through mountains of articles and [writes] with . . . a lively prose style . . . and a flair for objective reporting. . . . He goes out on few limbs. Some will damn him as a conservative; he doesn't think vitamin E is a panacea or care much for the claims made for organic food. But if you want a closer account of what established scientific sources and doctors think about everything from cholesterol to vitamin pills without having the deck stacked first, Trager is your man. . . . His respect for authority, indeed, is the only non-reportorial note that creeps into his book." R. A. Sokolov

N Y Times Bk R p62 N 12 '72 750w

TRAGLE, HENRY IRVING. The Southampton slave revolt of 1831: a compilation of source material. 489p il $15 Univ. of Mass. press

975.5 Southampton Insurrection, 1831. Turner, Nat. Slavery in the United States
LC 77-123542

This volume contains "extracts from contemporary press accounts; transcripts of the series of trials which followed the abortive revolt; and a selection of public and private documents which relate to the man and to the event. . . . The time span ranges from 1831 to the present. . . . The terminal essay attempts to deal with the historiographical and bibliographical aspects of the problem." (Pref) Chronology. Annotated bibliography.

Reviewed by G. W. Mullin
J Am Hist 59:712 D '72 700w

"The bloodiest slave insurrection in American history commonly known as Nat Turner's Revolt (Rebellion), has been fictionalized, even legendized, and its details have been obscured. Tragle resurrects the major segments of the contemporary written record. He includes newspaper accounts (Northern and Southern) . . . extracts from the diary and correspondence of John Floyd, governor of Virginia at the time; a selection of secondary narratives; and a collection of proclamations, laws, and other documents from the official Virginia archives. Maps and photographs accompany the text. . . . Interesting reading." H. O. Marcy

Library J 97:682 F 15 '72 100w

"Tragle, a former World War II tank commander and strictly an amateur historian, has . . . produced the most important single work ever published on the Turner rebellion. Tragle's research is an example of historical detective work at its best. Over a period of two years, he made several trips to Southampton County . . . interviewing blacks and whites who might shed light on the local traditions which surround Turner's name. . . . [Aside from] the 'Confessions' Turner dictated to the white lawyer Thomas R. Gray while awaiting trial . . . virtually all the documents are here published for the first time. . . . Tragle made ingenious use of other contemporary records, including militia reports, deeds, death and marriage certificates, and manuscript census returns." Eric Foner

N Y Rev of Books 17:38 N 4 '71 1200w

TRASK, ROGER R. The United States responses to Turkish nationalism and reform, 1914-1939. 280p $11.50 Univ. of Minn. press

327 U.S.—Foreign relations—Turkey. Turkey—Foreign relations—U.S.
ISBN 0-8166-0613-7 LC 74-153505

"This book, after a brief introduction covering the period before 1914, analyzes . . . the course of relations between Turkey and the United States from the beginning of World War I to the start of World War II. . . . Conditions affecting Turkish-American contacts included two world wars, a major world depression, and, especially, a Turkish nationalist revolution under the leadership of Kemal Atatürk. Professor Trask analyzes the process of American accommodation to this revolution, with emphasis on diplomatic, political, economic, social, and cultural ties, and points out the implications for the balance of power during World War II and the cold war." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"Trask's fine, lucidly written book should interest all concerned with continuing the cordial relationship of the United States and Turkey." A. L. Horniker

Ann Am Acad 401:163 My '72 550w

"Taking a moderately pro-Turkish stance . . . Trask attempts to contradict the accepted view that American foreign policy during this period was strictly isolationist, by carefully examining the intertwined political-diplomatic, commercial, and missionary activity of the time. In marshalling substantial evidence to support this contention regarding Turkey, he also strikes a blow at the validity of that notion with respect to general American foreign policy of the interwar period. Based almost entirely on Western sources, the book is still extremely useful, especially for undergraduates. . . . The 19-page bibliography is especially valuable."

Choice 8:1370 D '71 140w

"[Trask] has sought to avoid writing a narrow diplomatic history. . . . He has gone through a mass of materials, printed and manuscript, and his conclusion is that the obvious disinterest of the United States government in Turkish internal affairs convinced the Turks that they could trust American representatives, and that the Kemalist revolution therefore raised few problems between the two countries." R. H. Ferrell

J Am Hist 58:1047 Mr '72 350w

TRASK, WILLARD R., ed. Classic Black African poems; sel. and ed. by Willard R. Trask. 61p $4.95 Eakins press

896 African poetry—Collections
LC 75-152054

"Thirty-nine selections, ranging in length from two lines to several pages, from tribal songs of about 20 African countries." (Library J)

"A haphazard collection of traditional lyrics and songs from many different regions of Africa. . . . The translations are mined out of earlier collections of varying degrees of familiarity. The foreword is simplistic enough that it appears to have a junior audience in mind; yet without comments, notes, or context the poems would not be easily appreciated by young readers. Inevitably there are some attractive verses among this motley collection."

Choice 9:376 My '72 100w

"[These poems have been] translated from French or German versions or, presumably, from the original African languages. The renderings are neat, skillful, and genteel, unlike the gutsy originals, nine of which also are given in transliteration. A pretty little book, which may give pleasure to the reader who enjoys this sort of watered-down exotica."

Louis Barron

Library J 97:202 Ja 15 '72 70w

TRAUTMAN, KATHLEEN. Spies behind the pillars, bandits at the pass. 244p $6.95 McKay
B or 92 Afghanistan—Description and travel
LC 74-185128

The wife of an American foreign service information officer recalls her family's experiences in Afghanistan, including problems of protocol, fellow Americans, living conditions, and the Afghans themselves.

"Leaving the U.S., the Trautmans were idealistic and optimistic. But their initial associations with our diplomats were enough to turn off the glow. They were appalled by the official and unofficial attitude toward the Afghans, and if the book accurately portrays United States representation in Afghanistan—and in various other parts of the world—then our diplomatic service is just short of disaster. The author captures very well the mood and color of the country by describing the Afghans' living habits, travels, and work, both official and volunteer. She is especially adept at making her Afghan servants real people. . . . If you are one who enjoys reading about faraway places . . . [this book] will give you a satisfying vicarious adventure." P. J. Earl

Best Sell 32:70 My 1 '72 190w

"A firsthand account of the author's experiences in Afghanistan in the late 1960's. It is well written and authentic. . . . Trautman enjoyed her stay and speaks from the heart as well as the head, so that her narrative is sympathetic to Afghans. . . . The book includes descriptions of the routines of living in Afghanistan: its history, mores, and customs. And there are accounts of a rather unusual visit to a Nomad tent, the author's experience on the Kabul Times, and the usual trips over the Khyber Pass. Trautman writes with flair and enthusiasm, and with the exception of several minor generalities, has told it as it is." Neva White

Library J 97:1324 Ap 1 '72 120w

Reviewed by George Merrill

Library J 97:2248 Je 15 '72 120w [YA]

N Y Times Bk R p16 Jl 23 '72 130w

"[The book] is obviously patterned on the madcap-American-lady school of travel writing that is supposed to convulse the women's clubs of this country, but Mrs. Trautman is patently too honest and too sincere in her feelings for the poor people of Asia to be able to sustain that kind of lecture-circuit note. Her failure makes the book worth reading—for its fresh and clear-eyed perceptions of a fascinating land and people as well as for the author's indignation at the foolish and often heartless behavior of too many of our official emissaries."

New Yorker 48:132 Ap 8 '72 110w

TRAVERS, P. L. Friend monkey. 282p $6.95 Harcourt

Monkeys—Stories

ISBN 0-15-229555-0 LC 70-161389

This story "takes place in the year 1897 and concerns Monkey, who is rescued from his storm-tossed native island by some sailors and brought to London, where he is taken in by Mr. Linnet, a shipping clerk of modest means. . . . Despite Monkey's unfailingly good intentions, he causes trouble wherever he happens to be. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Linnet live with their three children in their Uncle Trehouse's house—that is, they do until Monkey sets the house on fire. Also thanks to Monkey . . . Mr. Linnet loses his job. Still, Mr. Linnet continues to protect Monkey from the man who has pursued him from the moment he arrived in London, one Professor McWhirter. . . . The various pursuits, interspersed with Monkey's misdeeds . . . [include] a chase through Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee Celebration. . . . Ages nine to twelve." (N Y Times Bk R)

Reviewed by Mrs. John Gray

Best Sell 32:47 Ap 15 '72 120w

"The characters are of the flat comic variety: Monkey consistently amiable and ineffectually helpful; Mrs. Linnet . . . always speaking in staccatoed, digressive phrases; Professor McWhirter, 'Animal Fancier' and Collector, 'unneedfully garrulous in Scottish brogue. . . . Despite the activity of the plot (nothing is ever allowed to simmer; something is always boiling over) the incidents are ludicrous without being funny. The borrowings, obviously from Dickens and Hugh Lofting, live uncomfortably with the mystical suggestion that Friend Monkey . . . is a reincarnation of the helpful monkey lord in the Indian epic The Ramayana. The story professes superficial narrative pleasure for an uncritical reader. What is lacking—of course—is the wonderful deadpan magic of Mary Poppins [BRD 1934]." P. H.

Horn Bk 48:53 F '72 210w

"The continuing power of myth to fertilize a tale is felt in one of the strongest of this year's stories. . . . [Friend Monkey] is the result of long brooding on the idea of Hanuman, the monkey lord of the Hindu myths, who could never do anything by halves. This Monkey travels from his jungle to the Putney home of loving Mr. Linnet the shipping clerk. He helps everybody—to excess. Suspense, surprise, peripeties, discoveries—P. L. Travers cunningly uses them all, to keep us wondering not so much what Monkey will do next, as how poor Mr. Linnet will cope. . . . When illumination comes . . . [he understands that] Monkey belonged to no one but himself, and was there to be enjoyed—or put up with. . . . The tale slips from one world to another with ease and conviction." J. A. Smith

TRAVERS, P. L.—Continued

N Y Rev of Books 17:25 D 2 '71 250w

"Here is a new children's book by the author of 'Mary Poppins,' and I couldn't help thinking of its cinematic possibilities. For one thing, 'Friend Monkey' contains a superabundance of action . . . a surprise happy ending, an ample amount of crisp dialogue and any number of juicy starring and supporting roles for birds and animals as well as for people. . . . [However, the] book has its share of failings. Most of the characters are assigned only one distinguishing trait (grumpiness to Uncle Trehunsey) and soon get tiresome. . . . [the] most serious flaw is the writing. Miss Travers is an excellent story teller, and there are pleasant touches of fantasy and whimsy, but her adjectives run to the would-be poetic . . . her metaphors seem strained." Susan Sheehan

N Y Times Bk R pt 2, p6 N 7 '71 750w

TLS p474 Ap 28 '72 180w

TRAVLOS, JOHN. Pictorial dictionary of ancient Athens. 590p maps $70 Praeger

722 Architecture, Greek. Art, Greek. Athens —Description
LC 70-89608

This survey of the topography and architecture of ancient Athens "covers the period from 3000 B.C. to A.D. 300. Travlos provides . . . descriptions of sites, temples, private homes, aqueducts, monuments, buildings, and fortifications, and discusses related ceramics, sculptures, and minor artifacts." (Library J) Chapter bibliographies. Index.

Reviewed by Richard Brilliant
Am Hist R 77:1097 O '72 380w
Choice 9:418 My '72 90w

"[This] is a monumental work, a veritable mine of visual and bibliographical documentation which will immediately take its place beside Ernest Nash's highly acclaimed two-volume Pictorial Dictionary of Ancient Rome [BRD 1963]. Travlos, an architect well-known for his reconstruction of the stoa erected by Attalus II in the Athenian agora, has excavated in and around the city and has published widely in his field. He very likely knows more about the topography of Athens than anyone alive today. . . . The bibliography is superb; some of the more important recent discoveries are treated in the supplement. This definitive survey is worth every cent of its cost. Recommended for the archaeologist, the classical scholar and student, and the informed layman." F. D. Lazenby

Library J 96:2758 S 15 '71 150w

"At first sight [this] seems not quite as good as [Nash's] Roman counterpart. Many of the details of lesser monuments are less photogenic, though they may be more beautiful, [and] certain identifications and discussions merit an if or a but. . . . But Mr. Travlos is a thorough workman, and even a specialist of long standing will be surprised and delighted by the richness of this dictionary. . . . Mr. Travlos has inevitably taken on a great weight of public expectation: there is no one else at all who would have carried through so great an achievement. . . . with such courage, learning and lucidity."

TLS p1558 D 10 '71 950w

TREASE, GEOFFREY. Samuel Pepys and his world. 128p il $6.95 Putnam

B or 92 Pepys, Samuel. England—Social life and customs
LC 73-189471

The social and political events of 17th-century England described by Trease are based on the diaries kept by Pepys, the sociable man-about-town, who died in 1703. Chronology. Annotated bibliography. Index.

"Trease has a most fascinating subject here—and he makes the most of it. Given the limited scope of this book, something of an introduction to Samuel Pepys and a summary of his life and of the world around him, Mr. Trease has done a splendid job. He skims the diaries, choosing just the right entries to give a rounded picture of the diligent, intelligent, devoted public servant, who was in private life a gadabout and a boyish mooner over women. . . . The Dutch wars, the plague, the fire of London are all given notice in this volume and the author has indeed put a great deal into a small compass. The illustrations are copious and very apt; they are widely varied, from photographs of manuscripts to reproductions in color of paintings. This book is well worth a reader's while."

Best Sell 32:385 N 15 '72 200w

Reviewed by Edward Blishen
New Statesman 83:761 Jø 2 '72 40w

TREASE, GEOFFREY. Seven sovereign queens. 178p il maps $4.95 Vanguard

920 Queens
ISBN 0-8149-0660-5 LC 71-89662

"Trease has limited himself to a discussion of seven female sovereigns whom he defines as having 'wielded power in their own names.' . . . Included are Cleopatra, Boudicca, Galla Placidia, Isabella of Spain, Christina of Sweden, Maria Theresa, and Catherine the Great. The story of their lives and reigns is told along with background information which fills out intervening historical periods." (Library J) Bibliography.

"Each biography is narrated in a vivid, frank, humorous style and centered—as far as ascertainable facts will allow—on the personality of the sovereign queen. . . . The individual queens [are] psychologically as well as historically understandable. The vigor of the narrative and the verisimilitude of the characterization invite the reader to discover some unexpected revelations of history." P. H. Horn Bk 47:295 Je '71 170w

"The author's dramatic and colorful approach to history will appeal to and stimulate the curiosity of teen-age readers. . . . Events in history are presented clearly and vividly. . . . Feelings and thoughts are fictionalized in a believable manner which perfectly complements the sound factual sources of the text. The maps are excellent. However, it seems a shame that there is no list of recommended supplementary materials; the bibliography is unnecessarily brief and poorly researched; and there is no index. Illustrations and photographs contribute to the text but often are placed too far from the pertinent passages. Nevertheless, this excitingly told work directly supports curricula and brings a different perspective from already existing works." Ken Haycock

Library J 97:1621 Ap 15 '72 160w [YA]

TREISTMAN, JUDITH M. The prehistory of China; an archeological exploration. 156p il maps $5.95; pa $1.95 Doubleday; Natural hist. press

913.3 China—History. China—Antiquities
LC 76-160877

This "book traces the prehistoric past of two million years ago, when the first man-like beings are known to have inhabited Asia, and journeys in time to the earliest literate periods, which are recorded in dynastic histories as Shang (1750-1100 B.C.) and Chou (1100-22 B.C.). This is . . . the period which encompasses the beginnings of civilization and the development of feudalism, and which precedes and forms the basis of . . . medieval China." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"The well qualified author is primarily concerned with correlating the physical environment and the technological achievements of the inhabitants of early China in order to explain the region's shifting cultural make-up. This approach yields many valuable and some startling, although speculative, insights into Chinese prehistory. The reader who has some prior knowledge of anthropology and Chinese archaeology will be best rewarded."

Choice 9:560 Je '72 80w

"An up-to-date account of what has been learned of life in China from Peking man to the dawn of copious written history at about the time of Athens. The author writes with deliberate, successful effort to look 'over the wall,' to evoke individual and social life, not merely pottery patterns and chronologies. She sees modern China as being continuous with the prehistoric past. . . . The most interesting tale in this brief readable review (which lacks the documentation of a reference work) concerns the wonderful pieced ceramic molds, . . . into which were cast the magnificent bronzes of the Shang." Philip Morrison

Sci Am 226:134 My '72 250w

"This particular volume represents a very worthwhile contribution; it is high time that a non-technical and reasonably up-to-date summary of what is known of the earliest beginnings of civilization in China be made available in inexpensive edition. Though pedants may be inclined to quibble over various sweeping statements, Judith Treisman has managed successfully to summarize an immense amount of recent scholarly work, and to present it in readable form."

Va Q R 48:lxxii spring '72 80w

TREMBLAY, BILL. Crying in the cheap seats. 106p $6 Univ. of Mass. press

811
LC 76-150316

A collection of poems on various topics, such as "urban immensities, senseless riots, cruel assassination, insane war." (Publisher's note)

"'There is only one endless poem,' the first line of the first poem, sets the tone for this collection. With a few serendipitous exceptions, the poems that follow are prosy, trite accounts of personal experience that never get beyond the event to a universal or 'typical' level. . . . Those few poems which attempt to say more, in more vivid language too often succeed only in becoming maudlin or sentimental. This kind of elevated Rod McKuen verse is no doubt still popular in certain quarters."

Choice 9:218 Ap '72 140w

"[Tremblay's] poetry has the integrity of real experience whether the subject is his home town, his wife, the Newport Jazz Festival, Jack Kerouac's funeral, or the tragedy at Kent State. . . . [He] is a master of the short phrase which provides the shock of recognition that is essential before one man's personal art becomes everyman's. Recommended." P. T. Fanning

Library J 96:4098 D 15 '71 130w

TRENDALL, A. D. Illustrations of Greek drama, by A. D. Trendall and T. B. L. Webster. 159p il col il $28.50 Phaidon

792.09 Greek drama—Pictorial works
ISBN 0-7148-1492-X LC 78-158099

"The aim of this book is to give a visual idea of what the dramatic performances of the ancient Greek world looked like from their beginnings down to the Hellenistic period by means of a series of illustrations, taken for the most part from Greek vase-paintings, which either actually represent or else were directly inspired by pre-dramatic or dramatic productions. The introduction makes reference to the patrons for whom these works of art were made and then deals with the theatre, costumes, scenery, etc. in Attica and South Italy in successive periods. . . . Each illustration is accompanied by a commentary and bibliography." (Publisher's note) Index of collections. General index.

"Vase painting inevitably predominates; but terra cottas, sculpture, metalwork, and mosaics are also included, judiciously chosen with an eye for the less well known or newly discovered (e.g., mosaics depicting scenes from Menander's plays found in a recently excavated house in Mytilene). . . . An invaluable collection providing many new insights." R. J. Lenardon

Library J 97:120791 Je 1 '72 120w

"Some of the technical information yielded is relatively simple, though interesting—for example, the late appearance of the buskin proper on the Greek stage. Much more intriguing is the role of the vases as indicators of theatrical taste: the introduction first takes the purchaser's point of view—'What did these illustrations mean to him, and how often did he commission them rather than taking them from stock?' Trendall and Webster suggest that a number of pieces were made especially for the dramatists' victory-parties after the show. . . . The commentaries on the pictures and the summaries of the lost plays are deceptively brief and conceal a wealth of knowledge and scholarship. The authors give a detailed description of each piece and often follow this up with intriguing speculations about identification or influence. There is stimulus here for the student and scholar, but it is often the kind of stimulus that leaves one asking for more argument and more evidence."

TLS p797 J1 14 '72 950w

TRENT, PAUL. The image makers; sixty years of Hollywood glamour; text by Paul Trent; designed by Richard Lawton. 327p pl $20 McGraw

779 Actors and actresses—Portraits
ISBN 07-065138-8 LC 70-39064

This is a collection of "reproduced publicity photos of stars, taking the art form from 1916 (Theda Bara, Gloria Swanson) through its gradual rise and fall and on to 1970 (Alan Bates, Barbra Streisand)." (Library J)

"Some stars appear in different poses and ages as the book progresses from decade to decade. . . . An interesting bit of history by the camera."

Best Sell 32:422 D 1 '72 80w

"No book better captures Hollywood's gaudy elegance than [this]. . . . [It] is a crowd pleaser, especially designed for the public that patronizes public library collections; and it's profusely pleasurable. Those who enjoy mourning the 'lost innocence' of older movie days will love the delicately languid Vivien Leigh, the sweet floozy Joan Blondell, the young and wildlooking Barbara Stanwyck, the lushly come-hither Johnny Weissmuller; those who like the more openly knowledgeable movie era will respond to the smoldering James Dean and Marlon Brando and the dewily sensuous Vanessa Redgrave. Even the unattractive color sections are fascinating." J. A. Avant

Library J 97:3331 O 15 '72 200w

"The heroes of the accompanying text are the studio photographers, who with ingenious lighting and dramatic posing, made the stars even more glamorous than they were in motion on the screen. . . . The faces show the history of America's taste in feminine beauty through the past 60 years. Although a number of men—Gary Cooper, Errol Flynn, Clark Gable, all looking touchingly young and almost pretty—get into the book, the women dominate it. Veronica Lake, with her river of blond hair falling over one eye. The Jane Russell of 'The Outlaw,' sulky and sexy and in danger of losing her blouse. . . . The color photographs lack the mystery and, oh yes, the glamour, of the black and white stills. We discover that Candice Bergen has moles and that Ursula Andress needs something done about her dark roots." Angela Taylor

N Y Times Bk R p6 S 24 '72 550w

"[This is] a luxurious romp through studio portraits of the stars from the silents to the Sixties. The book is conveniently divided by decade to reinforce its point about the change in photographic emphasis . . . and there is even a brief account of the portrait photographers and their place in the studio system; but most readers will probably head straight for the dessert course and gorge on all those profiles and come-hither looks."

Joseph Canon

Sat R 55:58 D 16 '72 240w

TRETHOWAN, ILLTYD. The absolute and the atonement. 289p $16 Humanities press

231 God. Atonement. Religion—Philosophy
ISBN 0-391-00177-9 LC 70-870076

The author's "argument is the claim that we have a rational though nondiscursive knowledge of God in his revelatory action, and that the manifestation of God in his gift of himself may be obscurely seen but is sufficient to produce certainty. Philosophic thought is a movement toward the Absolute. Faith attains God directly in the experience of God's presence. These movements supplement each other, and ultimately the distinction between the Absolute and God will be a distinction of reason only. The second half of the book is concerned with the implications of the central argument for such specifically Christian doctrines as the Incarnation, Atonement, and Original Sin and with the mystical element in Christian faith." (Choice)

"The book is original, provocative, skillfully argued and well worth serious study, especially by students in religion and the philosophy of religion, at either the undergraduate or the graduate level."

Choice 9:981 O '72 160w

"Although [this book] is primarily a summary and discussion of the views of other authors, it is much more than a mere useful survey of a wide area of contemporary thought about philosophy and its relation to religion. . . . Trethowan's own views emerge and are vindicated. Occasionally there is evidence of a certain degree of contempt for the assumptions of the most fashionable brand of contemporary philosophy, which runs counter to the prevalent urbanity of the book; but this is not necessarily a defect. The philosophers concerned are themselves not infrequently contemptuous; and many of Fr Trethowan's points against them are well made."

TRETHOWAN, ILLTYD—Continued

TLS p163 F 11 '72 380w

TREVELYAN, HUMPHREY. Living with the Communists: China 1953-5, Soviet Union 1962-5. [Eng title: Worlds apart]. 320p $6.95 Gambit

327.42 Great Britain—Foreign relations—China (People's Republic of China). Great Britain—Foreign relations—Russia
ISBN 0-87645-054-0 LC 70-167958

"This is an account of [the author's] impressions and reflections as Britain's chargé d'affaires in Peking from 1953 to 1955 and ambassador to Moscow from 1962 to 1965." (Best Sell)

"As one would expect from a trained diplomat, . . . [Trevelyan] steps on no one's toes. He writes with charm, with wit and with keen perception. And he does it gracefully, as a trained master of the English language should." W. T. Foley

America 126:326 Mr 25 '72 220w

"There is some merit to the first half of the book. Besides giving a few thumbnail sketches of Chinese leaders and problems of diplomacy, Trevelyan describes the frustrating circumstances his staff had to endure in maintaining contacts with Chinese bureaucrats. . . . On the Soviet scene Trevelyan gathered many insights and has much sane advice as a result of his stay in Moscow. . . . [He] offers the usual contrasts, even contradictions, in the attitudes and behavior of the 'Russian people.' His best chapter is entitled 'Soviet Outlook.' And his best writing is contained in his open letter to Premier Kosygin. In sum: nothing startling, but a sane reflection on the communist world." Denis Dirscherl

Best Sell 32:87 My 15 '72 250w

"Discretion causes [Trevelyan] to steer clear of new revelations about the foreign relations or internal affairs of his host countries, and he instead makes do with small talk of the cocktail circuit variety. In a typical passage, he says that his role at the Geneva Conference (1954) has been overstated, and that he can only give us 'the superficial observations of the odd man out, the worm's eye view.' With the increasing number of good books on China and the Soviet Union, that view is not likely to satisfy most readers." A. J. Nathan

Library J 97:196 Ja 15 '72 100w

Reviewed by Geoffrey McDermott

New Statesman 82:702 N 19 '71 800w

"Lord Trevelyan is too loyal a supporter of British alliances to give space to criticisms of American attitudes to China at the time he was in Peking. Describing his frequent meetings with the Russians in Moscow over Indo-Chinese questions he has no comment either on the extent of American involvement in that region. Diplomatic discretion still heavily curtains both these capitals so aptly defined as Worlds Apart. What does come to life in these recollections is a picture of what a diplomatic mission is like as a small social group, especially in the confined circumstances of these two capitals. . . . [The] precision, honesty and liveliness [of the author's comments] is what makes Worlds Apart eminently readable, as well as convincing."

TLS p1435 N 19 '71 1100w

TREVES, SIR FREDERICK. The elephant man. See Montagu, A.

TREVES, RALPH. Do-it-yourself home protection; a common-sense guide. 374p il $7.95 Harper; Pop. science

643 Burglary protection
LC 74-167604

This book contains information on specific ways to protect your home, including how to install modern locks, make a low-cost burglar alarm, burglar-proof your car, prepare for nature's perils, train a watchdog and eliminate home hazards. Bibliography. Index.

"Taken in bits and pieces, I suppose most of the . . . advice offered here is sound enough in its fashion. it tells you how to mortise a lock if you are handy with tools, how to correct dangerous electrical hazards around the house. . . . On the other hand, it seems to me that people who are handy with tools probably already know how to mortise a lock, people who allow electrical hazards to exist in their homes are usually beyond help. . . . The text is accompanied by numerous photographs that illustrate what is being talked about. By and large, it is far easier to understand the photographs than it is to follow Treves's prose." L. J. Davis

Book World p13 My 28 '72 1000w

"[This volume] explains how burglars operate and gives a quick overview on judging whether one's home is secure. . . . Nearly a third of the book is devoted to home and personal protection against fire, electricity malfunctions, natural disasters, environmental dangers, and vandalism. . . . [It also] contains data on . . . insurance coverage; and Treves offers the unique suggestion of a home security room and lists sources of security products." W. T. Johnston

Library J 97:2418 J1 '72 150w

TREWIN, J. C., Jr. auth. Shakespeare's plays today. See Sprague, A. C.

TRIBE, DAVID. President Charles Bradlaugh. M. P. 391p il $11 Archon bks.

B or 92 Bradlaugh, Charles
ISBN 0-208-01155-2 LC 70-27779

This is the biography of the founder of the National Secular Society "in Victorian England. He was an atheist, a republican, and a proponent of family planning. Much of his life he was engrossed in litigation stemming from his publications, lectures, and his championship of unpopular causes." (Choice) Bibliography.

"Tribe, who considers himself the successor to Bradlaugh, has attempted to revive the stature of the man he admires, and in the process he may exaggerate the impact he had on contemporary legislation. The bibliography is an extensive one with particular emphasis on the radical press and heretofore unpublished Bradlaugh papers. The style is ragged, especially in the early chapters where the author with his profuse use of pronouns leaves his readers confused."

Choice 8:1504 Ja '72 150w

Economist 240:54 J1 24 '71 240w

Reviewed by Arthur Calder-Marshall
Encounter 38:78 Ja '72 550w

"Tribe's book aims to move us, but his unselective accounts of Bradlaugh's litigations, and of his feuds with his rationalist colleagues, smother it in weedy detail and have the effect of creating a rational repulsion from the secularist campaign. . . . [The] style is often horrid—we are told that Eleanor Marx 'suicided'—and [the author] offers no real insight into Bradlaugh's position in social, political, or even intellectual, history. One would do much better to read W. Arnstein's scholarly study of The Bradlaugh Case, published six years ago [BRD 1966]." Angus Calder

New Statesman 82:271 Ag 27 '71 370w

"Tribe, who is now president of the National Secular Society (a post that Bradlaugh himself held) has written what deserves to be the definitive biography of this Roundhead born out of his time. He has had access to records not hitherto available, his judgments have the ring of fairness, and his detailed reasoning is scholarly and thorough."

TLS p992 Ag 20 '71 1100w

TRINKAUS, CHARLES EDWARD. In our image and likeness; humanity and divinity in Italian humanist thought. 2v il pl $22.50 Univ. of Chicago press

211.6 Man. Philosophy, Renaissance. Humanism. Italy—Intellectual life
ISBN 226-81245-6 LC [70-460128]

This "book" is concerned with the efforts of the Italian Renaissance thinkers, primarily the humanists to arrive at a definition of the nature, condition and destiny of man within the inherited framework of the Christian faith. . . . The first of the book's four parts examines the moral theology of three early humanists: Petrarch, Salutati, and Valla. The second deals with the human condition as seen through the eyes of nine Italian humanists.

The third describes the impact of the humanist tradition expressed by Ficino, Pico, and Pomponazzi. The last treats of the application of humanistic thought and discipline to Christian theology." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

"Dr. Trinkaus' prose is careful and rewards close attention, though he needs rather more space to make himself clear. . . . There is a fine apparatus, especially useful in its discussion of manuscript materials. Translations lean toward the literal but remain in accord with sense. One does wonder, however, when all is done, whether the student who is willing to give this study the attention it deserves ought not to have the complete texts themselves in front of him—with Dr. Trinkaus' copious annotations." Avery Andrews
Am Hist ■ 76:1147 O '71 850w

"A substantial contribution to the continuing debate on the meaning and significance, even the very existence, of the Renaissance. . . . Despite its length, intricacy, and seemingly narrow subject, this study does present an original, challenging interpretation of Renaissance thought, stemming from Trinkaus' complete command of Classical, Patristic, Scholastic, and Renaissance sources, and his familiarity with modern scholarly literature. He insists on the fundamentally Christian nexus of humanist thought, while not denigrating its concern with the secular world of real experience. Recommended for libraries strong in history and philosophy, although probably difficult for most undergraduates." Choice 8:283 Ap '71 170w

Reviewed by Denys Hay

Engl Hist R 86:356 Ap '71 1250w

"In this massive, meticulously researched work Trinkaus makes a major contribution to our understanding of the Italian humanists and of the Christian Renaissance in Italy. . . . It is a mine of information. . . . The bibliography is extensive and the indexes are extremely useful. Even those who resist Trinkaus' arguments will find the book indispensable to their research." W. J. Roscelli
Library J 95:4179 D 1 '70 300w

"[This] is an important and thoughtful book. It is long, perhaps a little too long, but it is a book to return to again and again. The method is that of the close analysis of selected texts by means of quotation, paraphrase and commentary; the order of argument is usually that of the texts themselves. This method of sticking closely to the texts makes for a useful but somewhat pedestrian book, in which the main outlines are sometimes blurred by the mass of detail, and in which the author never really communicates his awareness that the ideas he has studied are related, not just to other ideas, but also to the social, political, religious and other experiences of men living in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries. However, it is his achievement to have produced a book which is at once a piece of original research and a general synthesis, with a certain freshness in the approach to old problems which is largely due to the author's long and close familiarity with his sources."

TLS p207 F 19 '70 2100w

TROLLOPE, ANTHONY. The New Zealander; ed. with an introd. by N. John Hall. 226p $8 Oxford

914.2 Great Britain—Politics and government—19th century. England—Civilization
ISBN 0-19-812442-2 LC 72-188453

This work relates "what Trollope thought about mid-Victorian England: the press, the church, the House of Commons, the Lords, literature, and art." (Choice)

"The importance and interest of Trollope's The New Zealander are fully described in John Hall's introduction to this hitherto unpublished text. In 1855, Longmans editors rejected this survey of English institutions because, in their view, it covered the same ground as Carlyle's Latter-day pamphlets (1851). Trollope revised his work, but never published the emended MS. . . . His style varies from passages of delicious Trollopian satire, to direct description, to thick Victorian unction. Hall has edited the text scrupulously, provided illustrations, scholarly appendices, and an index. Any library needing to fill its Trollope holdings will want to acquire The New Zealander."

Choice 9:1134 N '72 140w

"[This] is not a work of fiction, but a tract for the times. . . . [Trollope's] study of mid-Victorian England is coloured by misgivings about its future. The title derives from Macaulay's prognostication that a New Zealander would one day sketch the ruins of St Paul's from a broken arch of London Bridge. . . . Trollope, however, was not cut out, temperamentally, to be a prophet of doom; his satire is pretty mild and predictable, and his rhetorical passages, especially his exhortations, are all too reminiscent of Carlyle's bombast. . . . [His] judgments on current social trends are based on shrewd observation. Students of his work will be glad to have so substantial a chunk of new material."

Economist 243:71 My 6 '72 150w

"[This work] is not a specially cheerful document. It contains a number of disquieted references to the Crimea: like other intelligent men of middle years in that decade, Trollope acknowledged the portentous quality of the war. . . . As a mere commentator Trollope is second-rate, or anyway less than first-rate. . . . Accordingly, The New Zealander must be accounted less than first-rate by the Trollopian standard. On the other hand it is essential reading for all admirers of Trollope. . . . If there are some surprises in The New Zealander, however, they do not consist in the novelty of the views expressed; nor will any readers fail to be struck by the anecdotal aspect of this work: what stands out is the drive of the man towards the telling of a tale. The pages of The New Zealander spring into life whenever Trollope becomes illustrative."

TLS p862 J1 28 '72 2250w

TROTSKY, LEON. The young Lenin; tr. from the Russian by Max Eastman; ed. and annot. by Maurice Friedberg. 224p $7.95 Doubleday
B or 92 Lenin, Vladimir Il'ich. Russia—History
LC 69-20101

"Trotsky's biography of Lenin's formative years . . . is . . . published here for the first time. . . . Trotsky depicts the homelife and school years of the . . . boy whose life was greatly affected by the execution of his older brother, Alexander, for taking part in an unsuccessful assassination attempt. The narrative follows Lenin's development through the time when, in his early twenties, he begins to study Marx and to develop the political theories that would change the course of history. In writing of Lenin's youth, Trotsky also writes of the Russia in which both Trotsky and Lenin came of age." (Publisher's note) Index.

"This book will be of interest to those who wish to know what Trotsky had to say about Lenin. It is neither scholarly nor objective. . . . In this brief account . . . Trotsky attempted to demolish the excessive Lenin cult engineered by Stalin, to show that Lenin had no need of such inflation, and to demonstrate that he (Trotsky) knew and understood Lenin better than anyone else. . . . We learn little that is new about Lenin; but the author tells us, involuntarily, a great deal about himself. For this reason, this study of Lenin's youth up to his 23d year is valuable." R. H. Johnston

Library J 97:2182 Je 15 '72 160w

"A book on the young Lenin, by Leon Trotsky, must have exceptional appeal. We are informed at the outset that the original manuscript and the English translation of Max Eastman disappeared in 1933 under mysterious circumstances. It then reappeared, 20 years later, in the Houghton Library of Harvard University under circumstances just as mysterious. This tale invests the book with the kind of drama associated with the life of Trotsky in exile. It makes it a work of historical interest and importance. Apart from all this, it is superb biography." George Charney

New Repub 167:27 S 23 '72 2300w

New Yorker 48:127 S 16 '72 300w

TROW, M. A., jt. auth. The British academics. See Halsey, A. H.

TRUDEAU, PIERRE ELLIOTT. Conversation with Canadians; foreword by Ivan L. Head. 214p il Can$8.50 Univ. of Toronto press
354.71 Canada—Politics and government
ISBN 0-8020-1888-2 LC 72-185695

This is a collection of Prime Minister Trudeau's comments, thoughts and excerpts from his speeches and interviews covering a range of subjects from the period February 1968 to February 1972.

TRUDEAU, P. E.—Continued

"[This is] the Canadian answer to the little red book full of the thoughts of Chairman Mao. . . . Much of it, of course, is cliché ridden, but some of the quotations still seem fresh and alive, much as did Trudeau's image back in the palmy days of 1968 when he seemed the man of the hour. . . . [An] election is the reason for the book's publication and like most election literature it is of interest only for a short time. Libraries specializing in Trudeau hagiography should secure this book; others will do better to invest in Walter Stewart's excellent Trudeau in power [BRD 1972]."

Choice 9:1044 O '72 100w

"This is a scissors-and-paste collection of the remarks (both prepared and inpromptu) of an able and articulate scholar-politician, one of an extremely rare breed. He can casually discuss the influences of Mounier, Kierkegaard, and Berdyaev upon his own ideas and also cite the more current McLuhan and Charles Schulz. He can convincingly sort out private and public stands on abortion and marijuana, but he shows less sensitivity to Canadian Indians and the Canadian West. He is also ambivalent on the important subject of civil liberties; he is a libertarian in theory, but he offers an elaborate justification of the repression imposed after the violent events in Quebec in 1970." J. A. Boudreau

Library J 97:2617 Ag '72 90w

TRUSSELL, JAMES. Women in need [by] James Trussell, Jr. and Robert A. Hatcher. 177p $5.95 Macmillan (N Y)

613.9 Birth control. Sex instruction. Sexual ethics
LC 70-183863

"The authors believe that the three major methods of birth control . . . should be readily available to all. . . . They introduce each of their chapters with brief case histories of women who had difficulty obtaining family planning information and/or professional help. The subjects discussed . . . range from the importance of sex education as a prerequisite to voluntary family planning (they offer guidelines for formulating programs) to contraception, sterilization, and abortion (each with an overview of attitudes—both medical and general—and a survey and comparison of methods and techniques). The last chapter treats the population question (the authors support zero population growth). Each chapter is followed by a series of questions regarding the reader's own attitudes and the practices of his community." (Library J) Index.

"By now the material has been almost talked to death, but for those who have not dealt with it systematically, this treatment will be of interest."

Christian Century 89:807 Ag 2 '72 50w

"Reacting negatively to any coercive approaches to limiting family size, [the authors] argue that voluntary family planning has not failed—it has never really been tried. . . . The appendixes include a table characterizing state abortion laws and an annotated list of agencies concerned with abortion, contraception, sterilization, sex education, and population." J. F. Madden

Library J 97:2632 Ag '72 250w

TRUSSLER, SIMON. The plays of John Osborne; an assessment. 252p $6; pa $3 Humanities press

822 Osborne, John
SBN 575-00267-0 LC 73-409379

In this assessment of Osborne, Trussler "deals with Osborne's characters as characters involved in specific situations, emblematic of continuing themes. . . . Attention is also devoted to Osborne's failures." (Choice) Bibliography.

"[This study] is thorough, endowed with much astute observation, and convincingly affirmative about Osborne's importance in British drama. The book offers far greater insight than [A.] Carter's John Osborne [BRD 1971]. . . . Trussler sidesteps the biographical fallacy that muddies so much writing about Osborne. . . . There are an excellent summary, a useful chapter on Osborne's journalism, cast lists of the original productions, and a bibliography. Strongly recommended."

Choice 7:1682 F '71 130w

"As a true man of the theatre [Osborne] cannot help commanding our respect. He has in his writing, the mad eye and extravagant gesture of old theatrical prints. . . . Mr. Trussler may be recommended as a reliable guide to anyone who has to write or correct essays on John Osborne's plays without having seen them."

TLS p980 S 4 '69 600w

TS'AO, CHAO. Chinese connoisseurship: the Ko Ku Yao Lun; the essential criteria of antiquities; a tr. made and ed. by Sir Percival David; with a facsim. of the Chinese text of 1388. 351p pl $50 Praeger

709.51 Art, Chinese. China—History. Ko Ku Yao Lun
LC 78-134520

This is an "encyclopedia of Chinese connoisseurship written in 1388 by a Ming scholar that is translated and annotated for the first time by David, . . . [an] English collector, and completed after his death by Basil Gray of the British Museum. Fifty plates present a facsimile of the only surviving copy of this edition. There is also a translation of the enlarged second edition made between 1417-59 by another Chinese scholar. The book covers jades, bronzes, metals, rare woods, textiles, lacquer, porcelain, enamel, painting, calligraphy, and other studio objects." (Choice) Index of names. Index of subjects. Index of books referred to.

"All three indexes are inadequate. Only a small fraction of the names that occur in the translation are listed, and those in what can only be described as a capricious selection. . . . The subject index is helpful for general reference, although it is less precise than the Table of Contents. . . . The quality and accuracy of the English translation varies considerably. Often the English is a paraphrase rather than a translation of the Chinese text. Instances in which single characters or phrases in the Chinese have been omitted are too numerous to enumerate. Some omissions make relatively little difference, others change the precise meaning or nuance of the translation." Thomas Lawton

Art Bul 54:534 D '72 2650w

"Three color and 32 monochrome plates reproduced works of art that might have been known and admired by the original authors. Not for the undergraduate, but an essential sourcebook for graduate students and scholars of Chinese culture."

Choice 8:1576 F '72 140w

"Along with his careful and skillful translation of these abstruse writings into very readable English, Sir Percival presents a 20-page critical and bibliographical study of the subject."

This handsomely produced and sturdily bound work may not be within the scope or budget of many libraries, but specialized collections in Asian studies and fine arts should acquire it." W. S. Wong

Library J 96:4084 D 15 '71 120w

"The introduction of [David's] book argues persuasively, not cogently, for this being a copy of the otherwise lost first edition of 1388, and the collector's pride vies with the scholar's acumen in proving the point. Happily, in doing so he demonstrates how accurate was the text of 1596, which has been the only one known to scholars. . . . Unfortunately for the interests of modern collecting the section on ceramics is brief and unenlightening, and the author's curiosity goes more to woods and stones, and to zithers though here too it is the material of which they are manufactured that holds his interest. The value of the book lies as much in the intellectual atmosphere it portrays as in these factual particulars. . . . The difficulties of editing a posthumous work can be bewildering, but here there are signs of carelessness."

TLS p761 J1 7 '72 950w

TSVETAYEVA, MARINA. Selected poems [of] Marina Tsvetayeva; tr. by Elaine Feinstein with a foreword by Max Hayward. 103p $7.50 Oxford

891.7
ISBN 0-19-211803-X LC 75-877318

Tsvetayeva was born "in 1892, she married into the Efron publishing family, fled to Prague and Paris after the Revolution, and returned to the Soviet Union in 1939 to find her husband executed. These events and her several stormy love affairs are mirrored in her . . . verse." (Library J)

Choice 9:653 J1/Ag '72 170w

"There is enough of [Tsvetayeva's] work collected here to show something of her range and authority. How closely Miss Feinstein captures the flavour of the originals is a matter for conjecture. . . . I was made a little apprehensive when, in Miss Feinstein's Introduction, I read that Tsvetayeva's 'essential demand of poetry' was 'To let the ear hear, the hand race (and when it doesn't race—to stop),' and I was afraid that this manual speeding might easily leave me outdistanced, but apart from one or two of the earlier poems she is anything but breathlessly self-indulgent." Vernon Scannell

Encounter 38:71 Je '72 1400w

"The poet's frustrations often suggest the despair of a Sylvia Plath. . . . The range of style and feeling is striking, from a forceful colloquialism akin to Mayakovsky to a lyric tenderness which evokes Cummings. As for Feinstein's translation, her excellent English versions were adapted from line-by-line literal prose renderings by Angela Livingstone of the University of Essex, whose talents deserve equal billing. I regret the sketchiness of Hayward's foreword, the omission of the original Russian text, the frequent absence of dates and sources, and the lack of any bibliographical data, but am grateful for the provision of any of these remarkable poems in English. Their virtuosity should astonish and delight a wide audience." Rosemary Neiswender

Library J 97:1329 Ap 1 '72 270w

TUCCILLE, JEROME. It usually begins with Ayn Rand. 192p $6.95 Stein & Day

320.5 Anarchism and anarchists. Right and left (Political science)
ISBN 0-8128-1402-9 LC 70-160349

This is Tuccille's "account of his disillusioned journey from Ayn Rand's 'objectivist' philosophy through his attempt to build a radical Left-Right, moderate, anarchist coalition. . . . [Tuccille] believes that the U.S. 'has moved to a point roughly seventy-five percent along the scale toward dictatorship' and that this is the result of 'state capitalism.' He argues that the solution lies in an anarchism which looks to decentralized organic, and free individuals and groups. For him, a radical stance follows naturally from the compatible ideas of anarchism and liberty." (Library J)

"'Dedicated to deviationists all over the world,' this sprightly offering is as good an introduction as any to the whole rationale, personnel, infighting, and . . . ineffectiveness of those many small groups of freedom-talkers one finds in most large cities, and on some campuses. . . . But it is so esoteric, so filled with names one is unlikely to find outside the Village Voice, or little partisan ephemera, that it is rather a curiosity than anything else. One is sympathetic, of course, with the author's fervor. And unsympathetic with his rhetoric. . . . Withal, here is a mercilessly honest documentation of one man's disestablishmentarianism." Edward Gannon

Best Sell 31:465 Ja 15 '72 310w

"The title alone should insure a large readership among the host of people interested in the best-selling novels of Ayn Rand. The author is the central character of the book, as he pursues his Odyssey through various movements and factions of the right (Rand, Buckley, YAF, Conservative Party, Goldwater) until he ends as a 'middle-of-the-road anarchist.' Generally hilarious."

Choice 9:283 Ap '72 130w

"Tuccille has got to be everyone's favorite right-wing anarchist libertarian. [His book] is a fascinating, lively, and hilarious tour through the Byzantine circles of the kooky Right. Despite the political fun and games, Tuccille's work has a serious side to it. . . . [It] is a pertinent and engaging reminder that anarchism is again becoming a serious outlook on both the Right and . . . the Left." H. J. Steck

Library J 96:4099 D 15 '71 200w

Reviewed by C. P. Sarsfield
Nat R 24:170 F 13 '72 460w

TUCKER, DAVID M. Lieutenant Lee of Beale Street. 217p $7.95 Vanderbilt univ. press

B or 92 Lee, George Washington. Negroes—Political activity
ISBN 0-8265-1172-4 LC 76-157743

A political biography of George Washington Lee, "one of the first commissioned blacks in World War I [who] returned to Memphis to become a successful black capitalist and loyal Republican. . . . He built a political machine alongside of Boss Crump, and was a national Republican leader in the 1940's and 1950's—only to be purged by the Goldwater movement of 1964." (Library J) Index.

Reviewed by A. J. Lane

Ann Am Acad 401:196 My '72 350w

"Tucker (Memphis State) is too dependent, probably of necessity, on self-serving statements of Lieutenant Lee. Nevertheless, the book provides insights into the dilemma of the Republican party in the South and the radically changing role of the black in recent Southern politics. Among other subjects, the biography sheds light on the Republican lily-white campaign of 1928, the use of black voters by the Crump machine, and the struggle for power between the conservative and liberal wings of the Republican party at the 1964 convention—a struggle in which Lieutenant Lee was an incidental pawn. Useful as collateral reading for courses in U.S. ethnic politics and black history."

Choice 9:283 Ap '72 150w

"This book is obviously a first effort and has several shortcomings—the omission of a bibliography, among others, with so much ground to be covered, Tucker could have been more selective in his treatment; Lee's divorce, for example, is of interest, but the author allots far too much space for it. Yet the work deserves attention from scholars as a study of a regional secondary political figure whose career exemplified racial politics in the South." Andrew Bunl

J Am Hist 59:167 S '72 550w

"This is a candid and vibrant political biography. . . . [Lee] played the Establishment game with a full understanding of the milieu in which his ambitions were realized. The author captures the life style, thought patterns, hopes, fears, and pretenses of the black middleclass Republicans of this century. . . . Based largely on interviews, newspapers, and some private manuscripts, this well-written book is a valuable contribution to black history. It will appeal to the general reader as well as the historian." Hubert Humphreys

Library J 96:4089 D 15 '71 120w

TUCKER, ROBERT C. The Soviet political mind; Stalinism and post-Stalin change. rev ed 304p $8.95 Norton 947.085 Russia—Politics and government.

Russia—Foreign relations. Stalin, Joseph
SBN 393-05435-7 LC 70-139391

To the first edition of this work, BRD 1964, Tucker 'has added three studies: 'Several Stalins'; 'Stalin, Bukharin, and History as Conspiracy,' which originally appeared as the introduction to The Great Purge Trial, Tucker and Stephen Cohen [BRD 1965]; and 'The Dictator and Totalitarianism,' reprinted from the July 1965 issue of World Politics. A chapter describing field observations on a trip to Russia in 1958 has been deleted." (Library J) Index.

"The revised edition of this excellent volume is justified by Tucker on the grounds that the reopening of older questions and reconsideration of older answers in the larger perspective of times advances our knowledge of the Soviet Union. . . . The book is not only larger but puts much more bite into Tucker's argument that it is Stalinism and not Bolshevism that should be regarded as the totalitarian phase of Soviet-politics. Designed primarily for specialists in the field."

Choice 8:1382 D '71 100w

Reviewed by R. R. Harris

Library J 96:3596 N 1 '71 60w

TUCKER, SUSIE I. Enthusiasm; a study in semantic change. 224p $11.50 Cambridge

422 Semantics
ISBN 0-521-08263-3 LC 79-161296

"Since the seventeenth century ['Enthusiasm'] has developed, by gradual shifts and slides of meaning, from a technical, religious, and primarily pejorative term—suggesting fanaticism and a false conviction of one's own inspiration—to its present general and usually commendatory sense. Miss Tucker illustrates these transitions from a wide variety of literary sources. She looks at the linguistic company the word has kept, plots the dates when changes of tone and overtone become plain, and examines some . . . attempts to restrict or stabilise its reference. This is a . . . case-study in semantic history, showing changes of meaning in the main word and the 'field' of associated words." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

TUCKER, S. I.—Continued

"Anyone who enjoys paging through the Oxford English Dictionary and mulling over the strange, mottled histories of words will enjoy reading this little volume. It is a thoroughly researched etymology of one word—enthusiasm. However, I think Tucker misses an important point in her analysis: in any lexicon there are certain words that acquire meaning within the situations they are used. The word good is an example of this as in 'good liar,' 'good ship,' 'good student.' I think a good case can be made that enthusiasm is just such a word. Tucker is uncritical about this aspect of the word although she presents the evidence for such a conclusion." E. R. Maxwell

Library J 97:1810 My 15 '72 120w

"[Miss Tucker] says that the book could be taken as an extended series of illustrations of the OED notes on the group of words 'enthusiasm', 'enthusiast', 'enthusiastic', and it rather reads as such. There are some forty-eight pages of references and bibliography to 164 pages of text. With the help of the index it should be possible for anyone to have a good chance of finding out how some author, even an obscure one, between the seventeenth and nineteenth centuries used the words. But it would be ungracious to suggest that the book simply gives a catalogue of usages. The quotations are grouped with discrimination and introduced with grace and sometimes wit."

TLS p513 My 5 '72 750w

TUDEN, ARTHUR, jt. ed. Essays in comparative social stratification. See Plotnicov, L.

TUDOR, TASHA. Corgiville fair. unnp col il $4.95 Crowell

Animals—Stories

ISBN 0-690-21791-9 LC 72-154042

The inhabitants of a New England village preparing for a summer festival are animals, mostly corgis. There are also some rabbits, cats and a few trolls. "The most exciting thing at the Corgiville Fair is the goat race. Caleb Corgi had spent many months training his goat Josephine for the big event. But Edgar Tomcat's goat was fast, too. . . . Caleb tried to guard Josephine carefully before the race, but, even so, an evil trick of Edgar's nearly put her out of the running." (Publisher's note) "Kindergarten to grade two." (Library J)

Reviewed by M. J. Bandler

Book World p3 (children's issue) N 7 '71 20w

"There is a Beatrix Potterlike quality in those delicately drawn rabbits in [this book] which as you guessed is less about rabbits than corgis—those small dogs the color of foxes with short legs and cropped tails. Mind you, the boggarts also get a good showing. Never heard of them? They're trolls. Their hair is moss, their ears are leather, and their ears come off for convenience when going down holes." David Winder

Christian Science Monitor pB2 N 11 '71 70w

"An occasionally amusing bit of Americana New England style. . . . The intricately detailed, pastel-colored pictures are better than the text and successfully evoke a small New England farming village, town hall, church supper, and, of course, fair." C. S. Roupp

Library J 96:4181 D 15 '71 210w

"There's a very pungent part of America to be found in the late summer when you head into livestock land—it's the county fair. . . . But if you've never been to one . . . you can still have second best; you can go to the fair at Corgiville. . . . There are the various town residents presented with just a touch of caricature. . . . and then the blue-ribbon, ferris-wheeling, once-a-yeariness of the fair itself with its fireworks finale of an 'American flag done in Catherine wheels and supercharged torpedoes.' All told, it's a generous harvest of Mrs. Tudor's living, feeling and observing—a bounty of imaginative, delicate watercolors for as exuberant an aggregation of Americana as you'll find on land or paper." Ingeborg Boudreau

N Y Times Bk R p8 N 28 '71 440w

TUGENDHAT, CHRISTOPHER. The multinationals. 242p $7.95 Random house

658.1 Corporations, International
ISBN 0-394-47307-8 LC 74-159383

This "descriptive study of the emergence of international [firms], their operating policies and their political implications, shows how our traditional concepts of national sovereignty and of economic behavior are being significantly challenged." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

Choice 9:549 Je '72 180w

"[Tugendhat's book] outlines the conventional wisdom on multinational companies. . . . He also specifies the peculiar and extra problems of management the firms concerned encounter. . . . [And he] indicates clearly the areas where tensions are going to increase in future. . . . Some points could have been looked at more fully; banks and insurance companies, for example, deserved more attention. . . . However the book does make or stress some important new points: it not only mentions but also documents the fact that European investment in America, since 1958, has been large and increasing. Mr Tugendhat puts his finger too on the vital characteristic of the multinationals' buying and selling and investment decisions."

Economist 240:54 J1 17 '71 550w

"Multinational firms are coming to dominate economic activity throughout the Atlantic community, with annual sales greater than the GNP of many countries, and with a perspective that transcends nationalism, bringing the great firms into tension if not conflict with both home and foreign governments. Soundly based in theory, this . . . is an important study and a well-written one, befitting a former Financial Times columnist, member of the Royal Institute of International Affairs study group on multinational business, and articulate Members of Parliament. Well illustrated with data." R. E. Will

Library J 97:677 F 15 '72 130w

"This is an interesting, indeed remarkable book on a question of increasing urgency by a Conservative Member of Parliament. The Standard Oil Company, the Royal Dutch Shell, the Anglo-American Corporation, the Ford Company and Unilever have been around for decades. But in the last 20 years a quantitative change has taken place which really amounts to a basic change in the character of these firms. . . . Most of them are American and 60 per cent of their assets are controlled from that continent. . . . [Their] supremacy secures enormous power—without responsibility. . . . Mr Tugendhat has called attention to a vitally critical problem. What chance is there that the Democratic Party in America or the Labour Opposition here will sit down and work out a practical method of dealing with it? At the very least they could take this book as an introduction to their new thinking." Thomas Balogh

New Statesman 82:84 J1 16 '71 750w

Reviewed by H. L. Silberman

Sat R 55:66 Mr 11 '72 900w

TULCHIN, JOSEPH S. The aftermath of war; World War I and U.S. policy toward Latin America. 287p $10 N.Y. univ. press

327.73 U.S.—Foreign relations—Latin America. Latin America—Foreign relations—U.S.
ISBN 0-8147-8152-7 LC 71-145515

This study, based on "United States archival records and private papers, analyzes the impact which World War I and its aftermath to 1925 had upon the Latin American policy of the United States." (J Am Hist) Bibliography. Index.

"This monograph deserves praise. Dollar diplomacy is a subject about which too many assertions have been made without fear and without research. Simplistic interpretations that depict the Latin American diplomacy of the Republican administrations in the 1920s as having been captured by the demands of business can hardly stand against the evidence revealed in this important study." R. H. Bastert

J Am Hist 59:200 Je '72 600w

"This is a study of the evolution of our Latin American policy from 1914 to 1925. The author finds that during these critical years a new approach to our southern neighbors was in the making: from a policy based on 'dollar diplomacy' and protect-our-investors-at-any-cost to one characterized by caveat emptor and the 'Good Neighbor' policy usually associated with Franklin D. Roosevelt. The argument is not always persuasive; actually, the process Tulchin describes is so complex that at times it is difficult to see any clear pattern emerging. . . . Though not particularly enhanced by the author's dry-as-dust style, the book is a clear and workmanlike monograph which invites the attention of specialists in the field." Mark Falcoff

Library J 96:3325 O 15 '71 140w

TULLIS, F. LAMOND. Lord and peasant in Peru; a paradigm of political and social change. 295p 11 maps $10.50 Harvard univ. press

309.185 Peru—Social conditions. Peasantry
ISBN 0-674-53914-1 LC 79-116738

This volume is "divided into three parts: the first presents . . . the theoretical framework on which the study is based and defines the terminology [employed]. Part two presents a case study of the intervillage system of Acolla, in which five separate villages are specifically considered. The third part . . . deals with a different intervillage system, that of Chupaca; a series of indicators [is used] to measure and rank the villages of this system in terms of information-processing capacity, solidarity, relative centrality, and structural bind, as well as to establish some correlations." (Am Pol Sci R)

"Tullis reports interesting data about what he labels 'intense' and 'moderate' movements, really village socio-political action histories. In fact, Tullis examines instances of serf action to terminate the traditional manorial system on five haciendas in his Acolla 'intervillage system,' but there are no haciendas in his 'moderate' Chupaca network consisting largely of government-registered 'indigenous' (now officially 'peasant') communities. One can immediately pose the alternative hypothesis that the different intensity of subordinate group reaction Tullis describes stemmed from differences in degrees of repression generated within two different land tenancy systems. . . . Despite some methodological faults, this volume breaks new ground in Peruvianist studies; regional specialists should read it." H. E. Dobyns

Am Anthropol 74:53 F/Ap '72 280w

"[I] question the significance of these two intervillage systems beyond their own very limited universes. . . . I believe the author spends too much time describing incidents and events of limited importance for his study . . . while dismissing important questions with a sentence. . . . Despite the numerous footnotes, some important points lack sufficient documentation. . . . I have the impression that Mr. Tullis has relied on a limited number of informants. . . . Since many of [them] were deeply involved in the local struggles going on before and during his field research, I gravely doubt the reliability of their accounts. . . . Finally, I do not understand why the author employed the case-study approach when dealing with the Acolla village system and then shifted to a quantified set of indicators to analyze the Chupaca village system." C. A. Astiz

Am Pol Sci R 65:855 S '71 900w

"Tullis is strong when it comes to handling his own hypotheses and the data directly concerned with him. He is wont, however, to let loose with comments for which he supplies neither evidence nor logic. . . . [He has] in general, done a good job with his thesis, but poorly in handling auxiliary information, or placing his own work within the context of earlier work done in the region. He is apparently of the school of social science which requires that one be strong on statistical methodology but cavalier about more traditional scholarly virtues—such as familiarizing himself with other literature related to his subject in the region. . . . Allowing for [its] historical defects [this is certainly a] useful, interesting contribution to Peruvian . . . sociology." R. N. Adams

Ann Am Acad 399:197 Ja '72 400w

"Tullis has succeeded . . . in transmitting the excitement that he and his family felt in completing the research which provided the data for the book. The book will appeal to theorists as well as the empiricist. . . . It is a rare book which has the characteristics of holding the interest of the readers like a well-written novel and at the same time containing information which should appeal to a variety of scholars." J. S. Holik

Contemp Social 1:432 S '72 650w

TULLOCK, GORDON. The logic of the law. 278p $7.95 Basic bks.

340 Law reform
ISBN 465-04165-5 LC 74-147010

The author, a political economist, discusses the reform of the American legal system. "Using welfare economics and empirical social science, Tullock seeks to create a 'law without ethics.' . . . [He employs] the concepts of utility, cost, and efficiency." (Ann Am Acad) Index.

"The strong emphasis upon civil law—more than a third of the book—constitutes a striking and promising departure from the run of social science legal analysis. . . . Thus we are in Tullock's debt for his sustained attention to such relatively unglamorous subjects as the law of contracts. . . . All of this having been said, the book remains flawed in a number of significant respects. In the first place, it fails to give any feeling of a continuing, sustained argument. . . . I find it difficult to share Professor Tullock's frequently expressed view that his arguments and conclusions will scandalize, affront, or outrage his audience. . . . Directed at both professional and lay readers, . . . [this book is] a stimulating, lucid, if somewhat disjointed exploration of the American legal system." Michael Barkun

Am Pol Sci R 66:1029 S '72 1300w

"Although the author draws in ethical considerations as 'cost of conscience,' the companionship of law and morals or law and politics is difficult to separate. Tullock's final proposition, that ethics will flow from law through a learning process, needs elaboration. For its many constructive suggestions—not to mention its new, economic perspective on law—this book should serve as a further catalyst for American legal reform." R. G. Seddig

Ann Am Acad 401:202 My '72 550w

"Tullock has written a book which is quite uneven in quality—parts are very informative, much is repetitious, and parts are efforts to apply economic tools to law. The effort to apply economic tools, mostly supply and demand-type, suffers from too great exertion to stretch the tool to fit the problem. . . . [The author] is at his best in advocating change from an adversary to inquisitorial judicial system, but this constitutes a very minor part of the book. There may be some justification for recommending this book for the complete library, but it seems to have only marginal value for most college libraries."

Choice 9:283 Ap '72 120w

TUMA, ELIAS H. Economic history and the social sciences; problems of methodology. 316p $11 Univ. of Calif. press

330.9 Economic conditions—Methodology.
Social sciences—Methodology
ISBN 0-520-01771-4 LC 79-123619

This study explores "the nature of the problems of research in economic history and the social sciences, and proposes ways in which some of these problems might be reduced if not eliminated. By examining the relation between research objectives, type of data used, method of analysis, and conclusions, the author establishes a model for research. He applies this model to the traditional historical interpretations of Marx, Weber, Pirenne, Heckscher, Turner, Mantoux, Clapham, and Cameron, and to studies in the 'new economic history' by Fogel and by Thomas, to evaluate whether each study achieves its potential results and to estimate the degree to which new approaches are improvements on the traditional." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"[This study] is a pioneering contribution to our understanding of the scope and method of economic history and the role of the discipline in explicating social, technological and economic processes. The book is an interdisciplinary tour d'horizon. Tuma blends elements whose diversity attests to the breadth of background required of the economic historian. . . . In the last chapter of the book the author presents the view that the social sciences are tending to emphasize greater methodological tolerance and he goes almost so far as to predict that economic history will in future years approach problems with greater sensitivity for a broader range of social, political, and economic variables. The age of the new, new economic history is thus at hand." E. V. Eagly

TUMA, E. H.—Continued

Ann Am Acad 403:223 S '72 350w

"[According to Tuma's] 'evaluation model' for judging work in economic history . . . [the] 'old economic historians' do not come off too well, but then neither do the 'new' economic historians when their turn comes. Tuma certainly does not believe that the 'new' economic history is the final word on how best to do economic history. The book is well written, intelligent, and interesting. Will be of considerable value in graduate economic history seminars, especially those concentrating on problems of methodology."

Choice 9:255 Ap '72 150w

"[Tuma's study] deals in great . . . depth with the development and present situation of economic history. His terms of reference, too, are wide, enabling him to discuss the contributions of European and American scholars. . . . Tuma's book is closely-argued, cautious, careful: the discussion of rival views well-balanced, and the conclusions sensibly restrained."

TLS p772 J1 7 '72 350w

TUNG, WILLIAM L. China and the foreign powers: the impact of and reaction to unequal treaties. 526p $15 Oceana

327.51 China—Foreign relations
 ISBN 0-397-00463-1 LC 71-127328

"This book deals with China's foreign relations from the middle of the nineteenth century to the present time. . . . [It] attempts to explain the underlying causes of the anti-imperialistic policies of Chinese political parties and the basic reasons for the present hostility of Communist China to the Soviet Union and the United States." (Pref) Bibliography. Chronology. Index of treaties. Subject index.

"Dr. Tung should be congratulated for his excellent work in this book, particularly for its lucidity, brevity, and systematic arrangement. He has made good use of primary as well as secondary sources. . . . [It is] admirable for a Chinese writer to maintain such fairness and objectivity as are displayed in his treatment of so many controversial problems. . . . [His main thesis] . . . is to prove that 'although China's troubles were partly due to her own impotence, the Chinese attitude toward foreign powers in recent decades has had much to do with the national humiliation endured during the past century.' To the extent that 'to every action there is a reaction' the author may be regarded as successful." S. S.-T. Chen
Am Pol Sci R 66:290 Mr '72 800w

"This work suffers badly from tunnel vision. It deals with the unequal treaties in the spirit and manner of 'Rights recovery' briefs of 45 years ago. The argument is strongly nationalistic but narrowly legalistic, with very inadequate attention to the social, economic, and political context in which the treaties have waxed and waned. . . . The book is not well written; the style is wooden and didactic. Neither is it well organized. . . . There are footnotes in abundance (one 20-page chapter has 17 pages of them), [and] appendices giving the texts of the principal treaties dealt with. . . . [But this is] a pedantic and pedestrian work, which can be recommended only to libraries which want everything in print on modern China."

Choice 8:891 S '71 180w

TUNSTALL, JEREMY, ed. Media sociology: a reader. 574p $12.50 Univ. of Ill. press

301.16 Mass media
 ISBN 0-252-00126-5 LC 77-125598

"The forty-page introduction by Tunstall reviews older literature in the field, explains the organization of the book and how the articles were selected, and specifies those areas of research which have been neglected. . . . The readings divide into the following parts: 'Cross Media Patterns and Media Research'; 'Communications Organizations and Communicator'; 'Communicator, Performers and Content'; 'Content and Audience'; and 'The Media and Politics'." (Contemp Sociol) "Bibliography. Index." (Choice)

"Emphasizing research on the British mass media, this book of readings nevertheless raises issues of universal interest on how newspapers, radio, TV, and book publishing operate and affect society and vice versa. The U.S., Iron Curtain and other nations receive some attention. Two-thirds of the articles, written mainly by European social science professors doing communications research, were previously published. . . . Several articles appear too sophisticated for American counterparts of British undergraduates for whom it was planned, but it should be useful for reference and in sociology and political science courses."

Choice 8:208 Ap '71 240w

"[This volume] brings to American scholars and students material from Britain which would be otherwise unavailable, international in scope, and presenting new and fresh viewpoints. . . . I am impressed with the literacy of British scholars presented, their astute insights into the problems of communication research, and their ability to be more systematic and holistic in their research than the usual American approach. . . . For an advanced course in a graduate department of communications or a seminar in cross cultural studies of social and political change, this work would be valuable both as a sophisticated theoretical orientation (in mass communications) and for the substantive material it contains." M. G. Cantor

Contemp Sociol 1:367 J1 '72 1000w

TUREKIAN, KARL K., ed. The late cenozoic glacial ages. See The late cenozoic glacial ages

TURKI, FAWAZ. The disinherited; journal of a Palestinian exile. 156p $5.95 Monthly review press

915.694 Jewish-Arab relations. Refugees, Arabic. Palestinians in the Near East
 SBN 85345-210-5 LC 78-178970

The author was an exile at eight and grew up in Palestinian refugee camps and on the streets of Beirut. This work contains a biographical account of what went on in his own life and his own head interwoven with a narrative of the story of his country.

"This moving work by a young Palestinian combines personal conviction and factual observation to express both the rage and alienation of the Palestinian people and the origins and future of their guerrilla activity. . . . In spite of recent setbacks dealt the guerrillas, Turki believes his people will win their nationhood, either through a compromise creating a West Bank-Gaza state alongside Israel, or by a long-term violent struggle. In illuminating his faith in a positive outcome with his own story of boyhood flight, refugee camps, and a precarious striving for education and selfhood, Turki makes a vital contribution to the literature of the oppressed." E. R. Hayford

Library J 97:2579 Ag '72 220w

"In [this] impassioned book, Fawaz Turki recounts the troubled times that preceded Suez in 1956. He damns almost impartially the Arab rulers left over from World War II and the new Arab rulers of the states now at varying degrees of war with Israel. . . . He takes after the Americans, too. . . . And of course he also damns the Israelis. . . . Much of the analysis in this book—which combines history, personal reminiscences and analysis in about equal proportions—is Marxist, telling us that it is the bourgeois governments of the West and of the Arab world that did in the Palestinians. The theme wears a little thin, but the terminology if not taken too literally is convenient to help describe Turki's own homeless, frustrating and hopeless life once his identity as a Palestinian has been recreated. It explains what makes a revolutionary and—with no one government or too many governments to overthrow—what makes a terrorist." Ernest Leverett

New Repub 167:25 S 23 '72 1150w

TURNBULL, COLIN M. The mountain people. 309p $7.95 Simon & Schuster

572.967 Ik (African people)
 SBN 671-21320-2 LC 72-83907

A study of an African tribe, the Ik, a small group of hunters in Northern Uganda, who have lost their ancestral hunting grounds by the creation of a National Game Reserve. They are now attempting to farm an arid mountain area. "Living on the edge of starvation, the Ik have discarded as superfluous most of the institutions and values often assumed essential to human society. The family, religion, affection, pity—all these are meaningless to the Ik, for whom individual survival has become the primary value." (Library J) Glossary. Index.

Reviewed by Phoebe Adams
Atlantic 230:130 N '72 150w

"Turnbull, celebrated author of The Forest People [BRD 1962] and The Lonely African [BRD 1962], lived among the Ik for almost two years, observing and recording this unusual and disturbing society. In this book he tells us not only about the Ik, but also about his experiences with and reactions to them. Fascinating reading for specialist and layman."

N. R. Northrup
Library J 97:2634 Ag '72 90w

Reviewed by Jamie Kalven
New Repub 167:32 D 9 '72 1150w

"Like 'Gulliver's Travels,' such a book is written 'to vex the world rather than divert it.' Turnbull's reasoning on the final pages streams past us too rapidly to admit a ready appraisal of its forms. He has gazed upon the Ik, upon the worst, and like Gulliver among the Houyhnhnms, among what he took for the best, he is somewhat deranged as men tend to be by ultimates. 'Does that sound so very different from our own society?' is very much what Gulliver asked himself of the Yahoos, and if we keep our heads we may respond that yes, it does sound fundamentally different. . . . What Swift did satirically, Turnbull appears to do blindly. To draw this distinction is not to discount the value of either book as an admonishment." Hugh Kenner

N Y Times Bk R p3 N 12 '72 1100w

"Mr. Turnbull was able to discover very little about Ik society as it was when they hunted, and he does not attempt to account for their disastrous response to change by considering whether earlier Ik institutions were exceptionally fragile, or whether the admittedly overworked government of Uganda failed in not teaching these hunters agriculture. Instead, after a wonderfully vivid, if horrifying, narrative, Mr. Turnbull launches into a foolish and inappropriate sermon, insisting that the rest of the human race is going down the same path."

New Yorker 48:246 N 18 '72 220w

"An anthropological shocker . . . by one of America's most estimable anthropologists. . . . Turnbull's book presents a people who, having lost their society and its disciplines, descend as individuals to a condition which to describe as bestial would be an insult to animals. Although I cannot guess what the social scientists and their camp followers will do, I know what the concerned layman will do: Read it. . . . Written in transparent, even evocative, prose, The Mountain People is an overwhelming horror story. . . . The Ik have [no morality] and what surely must have been theirs has been lost in only a generation. Hanging over every page is the vision of Ulster, of Bangladesh, of New York streets, of our debatable future. The vision is not my own but the author's as well." Robert Ardrey

Sat R 55:73 O 14 '72 1800w

Reviewed by Horace Judson
Time 100:94 N 20 '72 600w

TURNER, FREDERICK. Shakespeare and the nature of time; moral and philosophical themes in some plays and poems of William Shakespeare. 193p $6.25 Oxford

322.3 Shakespeare, William—Criticism, Interpretation, etc. Shakespeare, William—Technique
ISBN 0-19-812006-0 LC 71-858985

In this study of the nature of time in Shakespeare's "sonnets and eight of the plays, [Turner's] thesis is that the good have in them a timelessness by which they can overpower the destructiveness and mutability of time and dominate it; whereas the evil are destroyed by it." (Choice)

"[The index contains] numerous divisions, aspects, and qualities of time . . . [and] the appendix . . . provides background for different concepts of time; [while the] last two chapters—the strongest in the book—deal with time in The Winter's Tale. . . . In spite of much obvious commentary and of a too insistent moralistic severity, Turner is sincere and perceptive in his emphasis on Shakespeare's creed: Faith and love not time's fools. This is a book to lead present undergraduates into reading the sonnets and plays."

Choice 8:1181 N '71 150w

"[This book] handles difficult abstract ideas in a modest, lucid and sometimes illuminating way. We might complain that Mr Turner takes a more aerial view of 'pattern' than anyone should in writing about the performing arts—Shakespeare's basic awareness of time must have been of the two hours' traffic of the stage—and that the omission of Antony and Cleopatra is almost incredible. But this is a book in which sense and sensibility prevail."

M. M. Mahood

Encounter 38:55 D '71 300w

"Turner sets out to take advantage of twentieth-century notions about 'the nature of time' when they parallel Shakespeare's insights into this problem, though he avoids applying 'modern philosophical or scientific concepts' to Shakespeare. In fact, the twentieth-century notions are more often than not contained in passages of poetry of which Shakespeare reminds the author, though some of these do not seem strikingly relevant. . . . The book as a whole can best be described as a series of reflections, some of them highly subjective, of a keen, alert mind on the themes of several of Shakespeare's works."

E. M. Waith

Yale R 61:441 Mr '72 700w

TURNER, FREDERICK C. Catholicism and political development in Latin America. 272p $8.75 Univ. of N.C. press

261.7 Catholic Church in Latin America. Latin America—Politics
ISBN 0-8078-1164-5 LC 78-123100

The author "investigates the attitudes, philosophies, and roles of . . . Latin American Catholic leaders and explains the impact of these factors upon social change." (Library J)

Reviewed by Carl Solberg
Am Hist R 77:846 Je '72 360w

"[Turner] defines political development in terms of increasing liberty, political pluralism, and rising national income. [He] draws extensively on sociology, psychology, anthropology, and history and does not hesitate to take issue with his well-established elders in these fields. . . . This thoughtful, thorough . . . book is about as good a study of the subject as could be written by an outsider and one whose heart is obviously with the progressives despite his best efforts to be objective, which he knew would not suffice." A. P. Whitaker

Ann Am Acad 399:198 Ja '72 600w

"Turner's sense of perspective in dealing with the shifting church scene, whose sense of mission is under severe external and internal critical reassessment and analysis, is most satisfying. With a scholarly detachment and ability to cut through nonessentials, he questions the church: Quo vadis? He does not allow pessimism to dominate themes nor does he fall prey to simplistic optimism. . . . [He] investigates all the possibilities and concludes that reform, coupled with a humanistic awareness, remains one of the major forces for change in Latin America. Highly recommended."

Choice 8:1645 F '72 140w

"[The author] has made judicious use of pastoral letters and interviews with major Catholic figures and has devoted a great deal of attention to the thinking of the Church hierarchy as well as to the ideas of the members of the regular clergy. By examining conservative, liberal, and militant viewpoints, [he] succeeds in reflecting the divergent views held by the religious in Latin America. He treats the philosophies of such leaders as Don Heller Camara of Brazil and Ivan Illich of Mexico with insight and clarity. The book is an excellent and well-researched account of the changing role of the Church in Latin America. Most libraries will find it useful and popular." T. L. Welch

Library J 96:3767 N 15 '71 140w

"This is a valuable study of the changing and contradictory role of the Catholic Church in Latin America. . . . The book is not without fault, however. The author sometimes provides excessive detail, and his bias (on the side of 'progressivism') occasionally prevents him from dealing fairly with alternative points of view. On the whole, though, Professor Turner has written an impressive and useful work."

Va R 48:lxiv spring '72 130w

TURNER, HILARY L. Town defences in England and Wales; an architectural and documentary study, AD 900-1500. 246p 11 maps $9 Archon bks.

725 Cities and towns, Medieval. Cities and towns—Great Britain
ISBN 0-208-91167-6 LC 74-25262

In "the gazetteer which fills the latter half of this book . . . the remains of the walls of each fortified town are described. . . . The list comprises more than 130 such places in England and Wales. . . . The earlier chapters are a general survey of town fortification in the Middle Ages: Miss Turner discusses the murage tax and other means of paying for the walls, their planning and design, and the purposes they served." (TLS)

"[The author] has aimed her book at dating surviving defenses, [and] analyzing why they were built. . . . She uses some eighty pages to examine the historical context in which town wall building arose. . . . [In addition to] linearity, the description of points along a wall, . . . she attempts to answer the questions that arise out of centuries of town wall building. But over a period of six hundred years, 900-1500, the treatment is necessarily thin. . . . Miss Turner has range and sweep to her book; . . . what is wanting are the circumstances underlying the construction and maintenance of those walls. She applies her historical imagination admirably in analyzing details of construction. Some parts of the book provide information not to be found elsewhere, and her long gazetteer sections on such towns as Newcastle, Yarmouth, and Tenby are invaluable. Overall, it is a useful survey." A. Z. Freeman

Am Hist R 77:1105 O '72 450w

"For York, Canterbury, Winchester and other towns which can still show walls and gates the entries provide full and detailed descriptions. That the book is a product of much original research is evident from the numerous references to P.R.O. manuscript sources, and the monetary tabulations in the appendixes."

TLS p717 Je 18 '71 190w

TURNER, JOSEPH. Making new schools. 302p $5.95; pa $2.95 McKay

375 Education. Education—Curricula
LC 79-155258

The author's purpose is to inspire people "to make new schools and colleges. . . . [He] discusses general principles and offers detailed illustrations of existing programs or proposed projects. He considers what is worth knowing and what else might be taught, and touches on such specific topics as the ugliness of our cities, ecological imbalance and racial strife. Among the alternative techniques he mentions are street-corner research, the participation of artists and other specialists in classroom activities and the examination of literature through oral readings, dramatizations of selected passages and taped recordings." (America) Index.

"The book's weakness stems from Mr. Turner's background. Although he taught briefly in a college and in a ghetto school as a volunteer, he has had no extended experience as a regular teacher in an elementary or secondary school. Consequently some of his illustrations will strike professional educators as old hat and others as impracticable. There are few references to high schools, the weakest links in our educational system. Nevertheless, in stressing student activity, inquiry and discovery, in suggesting institutional alternatives to our present schools, and in helping to drag education into the present century, Mr. Turner is on the side of the angels. [This] is a modest book which, despite its shortcomings, merits thoughtful reading." Francis Griffith

America 126:96 Ja 29 '72 290w

"Dr. Turner's book is addressed, he says, to prospective teachers and administrators of elementary and secondary schools and of colleges and universities. Any reasonably intelligent reader could handle it, for that matter. . . . [The author's] style is more sober and responsible than that of some writers on this theme. . . . He does, however, have a habit of tossing out vague and highly doubtful generalizations such as 'American education is built on the wrong model.' The volume is useful as a kind of cookbook, full of concrete suggestions and examples. . . . [It] is not really the product of systematic research, though, just of impressions and what seems rather superficial philosophizing—mostly John Dewey warmed over." R. B. Nordberg

Best Sell 31:351 N 1 '71 380w

Choice 9:698 J1/Ag '72 180w

"Turner usefully sums up the last decade or so of ruminations about teaching and curriculum, nothing new here." Wayne O'Neill
New Repub 166:28 Je 24 '72 160w

TURNER, JUSTIN G., jt. auth. Mary Todd Lincoln. See Lincoln, M. T.

TURNER, L. C. F. Origins of the first World War. 120p maps $5; pa $1.50 Norton

940.3 European War, 1914-1918—Causes
ISBN 0-393-05423-3; 393-09947-4 (pa)
LC 73-110514

The author "summarizes the essentially political origins of the conflict from secondary sources and published documents." (Social Studies)

"[Turner's book] is a masterpiece of compression and learning, providing welcome correctives to some accepted views. He picks his way with authority through the maze of sources and conflicting theories and explains convincingly how the timetables of mobilization sealed off options which the politicians imagined still open. . . . Although he does not minimize the disastrous consequences of German policy over a long period, or the significance of the Emperor's conversation with the Austrian Ambassador on 5 July 1914, Professor Turner points to the fumbblings and miscalculations of that summer. This is the best short account to appear thus far in English." D. Dilks

Engl Hist R 87:450 Ap '72 150w

"[This volume] tells us very little which we cannot read in or surmise from prior works of roughly the same genre. . . . To be sure, Turner is an able author. His prose is quite readable, and he cannot be accused of any overt prejudice. In addition, his conclusions are well argued and possess the cherished ring of validity. His book may well be found useful as required reading in some college and university courses. But in the end it probably adds more weight than fresh insight or analysis to the perhaps already overburdened shelf of similar volumes." W. A. Renzi

Social Studies 63:37 Ja '72 190w

TURNER, RALPH H. Family interaction. 505p $10.95 Wiley

301.42 Family
ISBN 0-471-89300-5 LC 71-118627

This study is concerned with "the social-psychological aspects of the contemporary American family. It is limited to micro-sociological concerns such as roles, bonds, and group processes. In discussing interaction within the family, Turner concentrates on interaction between two persons rather than on the family as a whole." (Am J Soc) "Index." (Choice)

"[Turner] carries his analysis down to the smallest-scale level. Conversely, little attention is given to macrosociological phenomena. . . . [He] writes extraordinarily well. Key concepts such as bonding or socialization are thoroughly introduced and systematically utilized throughout the book. . . . In some ways, his essay will be too sophisticated for the average undergraduate. . . . On the other hand, in some senses Turner is not sophisticated enough. . . . My most serious criticism results from Turner's tendency to description rather than analysis. The book is replete with catalogs of particular facets of family life such as 'some frequent kinds of family coalitions' . . . or a list of tactics which may be employed in family conflict. . . . The book leaves me impressed with Turner's intellectual brilliance but disappointed that I have not been given a more powerful tool for predicting the shape which the family will take under specified social conditions." R. O. Blood
Am J Soc 77:808 Ja '72 750w

"[This is] an introspective study of the family as an object, and in the abstract. . . . [It] is exceptional in its continuity as a behavior oriented study of the family [and] could provide a welcome change from the more stereotyped texts now in use. . . . Should be on the library shelves as an interdisciplinary reference in this field."

Choice 8:922 S '71 140w

TURNER, VICTOR, ed. Colonialism in Africa, 1870-1960; ed. by Victor Turner [gen. eds: L. H. Gann & Peter Duignan]. [5v]; v3. Profiles of change: African society and colonial rule. (Stanford univ. Hoover inst. on war, revolution & peace. Publications) 445p maps $17.50 Cambridge

960 Africa—History. Colonization. Africa—Politics and government
SBN 521-07844-X LC (75-77289)

"The impact of complex alien economic, social, political and religious forces produced major culture clashes for the indigenous societies of Africa. The editor and the contributors to this volume are concerned to examine these forces and to assess their consequences for modern Africa. The book consists of a series of 'profiles' of change—either in terms of topics such as land tenure, religion, education and urbanization, or in terms of the history of particular peoples." (Publisher's note) Chapter bibliographies. Index. For volumes one and two edited by L. H. Gann and Peter Duignan, see BRD 1970 and 1971.

"While there are some stimulating syntheses and a few polemics all too many contributions are complacent summaries of dated materials and interpretations, and too few exemplify the liveliness of contemporary scholarship about the colonial epoch. Victor Turner in his introduction to the social change volume reflects disappointment at the disarray of his volume." Marcia Wright

Am Hist R 77:1164 O '72 700w

Reviewed by R. A. Austen

Am J Soc 78:748 N '72 700w

"The book's main interest for the political scientist lies in some excellent, primarily particular case studies of what happened to particular societies under colonial rule; three synthesizing studies of subjects that have not received enough attention from political scientists dealing with Africa and one superb general essay by Max Gluckman that stands in a class by itself. . . . The most useful of the more general, synthesizing studies are those by Elizabeth Colson on how colonialism affected land rights (the best short discussion of this much analyzed problem I have seen), Aidan Southall on imperialism and urban development . . . and F. B. Welbourn on African responses to missionary stimuli (a strong chapter which badly needs a companion dealing with the responses to Roman Catholic missions, particularly in West and Central Africa)." W. J. Foltz

Am Pol Sci R 66:666 Je '72 900w

"The book sorely needs a syncretic evaluation or debate on the relative merits of the European contact. Furthermore, it could use essays on 'negritude,' African students abroad, life in African cities, and the impact on African crafts. The essays might have been interlaced with extensive quotations from Africans, inasmuch as not one of the authors is African. The merit of this volume is that it does point to the varying influences and responses in a diverse continent." Wallace Sokolsky

Ann Am Acad 398:146 N '71 380w

"[This work consists] of largely autonomous essays by specialists in particular fields, each writing on his own subject and from his own standpoint. If the editors attempted to impose common criteria or to ensure that individual authors stretched the limits of their areas of expertise to provide a general coverage of sub-Saharan Africa they had very little success. . . . Most chapters appear to derive from published works by the same authors, with shadows of the phrase 'as I have shown elsewhere' too often hovering over the argument. . . . All the contributors are anthropologists or sociologists rather than historians and are concerned with the impact of alien rule on indigenous African societies and cultures rather than with the policies and agencies of the imperial powers. The book therefore provides many insights which will stimulate the conventional historian; but it does not and probably could not provide any general or even common answers." D. K. Fieldhouse

Engl Hist R 87:387 Ap '72 300w

TURNILL, REGINALD. The language of space; a dictionary of astronautics. 165p $6.95 Day

629.4 Astronautics—Dictionaries
LC 78-143414

This "book concentrates on the jargon of the American space program, and it covers . . .

the astronauts' slang. Also, under such . . . headings as 'fire' and 'Mars,' it offers capsule histories of past events and forecasts of coming attractions. A . . . prefatory chapter sketches the next 20 years in space." (Library J)

"Turnill's book might be good in a juvenile collection. The definitions are intelligible with many cross references. In fact, the book is very nearly a text rather than merely a dictionary. . . . It seems a useful book for the lay reader."

Choice 8:1468 Ja '72 140w

"A good deal more than a dictionary, closer in many ways to a potted reference book, ranging all the way from classic definitions to solar corona and mascons to translations of space jargon like bootstrap photography. . . . [Very good for] brushing up on past moon flights. Enough background detail for a good read."

Economist 237:xxviii N 21 '70 90w

"[This book] provides a convenient résumé of the terms used in space research. . . . No prior knowledge of the subject is assumed . . . the writing is fluent and accurate. The only real weakness in the book is the complete lack of illustration." Patrick Moore

Encounter 36:73 Ja '71 160w

"There is relatively little attention to the basic scientific details behind the space program. The historical coverage, beyond the confines of the NASA space effort itself, is weak and sometimes inaccurate. More serious, the whole dictionary includes only about 1100 terms (by the author's own estimate), and they seem to have been picked according to Turnill's personal interests rather than a plan for comprehensive coverage. The publisher has inflated the volume's size with unnecessarily wide left-hand margins. This book will be of most use in the general reference departments of school, public, and college libraries rather than in specialized science and engineering libraries." J. W. Weigel

Library J 96:946 Mr 15 '71 200w

TUSHINGHAM, A. D., jt. auth. Atlas of the Biblical world. See Baly, D.

TUSHNET, LEONARD. The medicine men; the myth of quality medical care in America today. 217p $7.95 St Martins

616 Medicine—Practice
LC 78-166194

The author, "a general practitioner for over 40 years, presents an inside view of the American medical profession and concludes that many of the techniques used in modern medical practice are no better than the incantations and spells of primitive witchdoctors. . . . Analyzing both general practitioners and specialists, The Medicine Men discusses accepted treatments that sometimes prove deadly, as well as electrical resuscitators, the Pill, heart transplants, X-rays, forceps . . . the annual checkup, laboratory tests, and medical consultations. . . . Dr. Tushnet's point is that American patients should not expect miracles and love from their doctors. Instead they should regard their doctor as another human being, questioning his treatments and receptive to new ideas." (Publisher's note)

"May I utter a strong cry to all Medical School faculties? Put Dr. Leonard Tushnet's book on required-reading lists for all your students. More than that: let it be read by all physicians and surely by all of us patients. These last are the prime target of Dr. Tushnet's humor, knowledge, and experience. . . . It is a great book, a fun book and yet, like true humor, crowned with universal truths which we need today. . . . The observations on diagnosis and the familiar use of Greek and Latin roots to becloud the issue and impress the patient are sheer beauty. . . . If we are to reverence and challenge the medical profession it is important to learn from men like this who have lived the life and have loved the people with whom they deal. It is a great little book and should receive wide acceptance." E. J. Linehan

Best Sell 31:460 Ja 15 '72 340w

"[Tushnet] holds up a mirror to both physician and patient, as well as to the staffs of laboratories, pharmaceutical houses, and foundations. His goals are to give factual information and to stimulate effective thinking. He scans primitive, and modern medicine, translates many exotic medical terms into practical English, [and] looks clearly at the mystiques of the house call and the office examination. . . . Almost every aspect of medical practice has its weaknesses exposed. Promoters of unnecessary or dangerous operations, procedures, and treatments are castigated. Dr. Tushnet gives references for most of his sources. He has written an informative and thought-provoking book that should be in every public, academic, and medical library." W. K. Beatty

TUSHNET, LEONARD—Continued

Library J 96:3626 N 1 '71 110w

"[Tushnet] has written what might be called a homey consumer's guide to doctor shopping, skeptical, sometimes irreverent, sometimes helpful. The public needs such a book, for even the reasonably sophisticated purchaser of medical care can be confused, or worse, be gulled. Unfortunately, Tushnet's style is off-putting. . . . His witticisms which might be well received in a treatment room are a bit heavy-handed between boards. . . . Still, Tushnet points out that much of medicine is guess-and-by-gosh faith healing . . . low-cholesterol diets and jogging for the weighty are not all good; and half a dozen surgical operations, including tonsillectomies, are questionable as therapy. A very useful book—if read before one goes to the doctor, not after." Ed Cray

N Y Times Bk ■ p4 Ja 23 '72 310w

TUTEN, FREDERIC. The adventures of Mao on the long march. 121p $5.95 Citadel

Mao, Tsé-tung—Fiction
ISBN 0-8065-0248-7 LC 71-151415

In this novel, material from various "phrases of American history, from 19th-century fiction and criticism and other sources, is interspersed with a continuing account of Mao's famous 'long march' in the 1930's, by which the Communist forces in China managed to avoid destruction by the armies of Chiang Kai-shek." (N Y Times Bk R)

"Tuten deploys a number of narratives around his central metaphor: Mao, revolutionary and poet, leading his army on the Long March, with the Kuomintang in pursuit. The tone of the work is satiric—a gentle satire, to be sure—and the structure Tuten develops enables him to range over a wide number of themes: aestheticism, sexism, revolution, etc. The purpose apparently is to reduce Mao to human dimensions, to present his loves, his doubts, and his fears. Although Tuten writes well and is knowledgeable, his treatment is too cerebral to be effective. The impact of this thin volume is soft and the humor which occasionally surfaces provokes, at best, a faint smile." Herbert Liebman

Library J 96:4031 D 1 '71 100w

Reviewed by Michael Wood

N Y Rev of Books 19:15 Ag 10 '72 900w

"Sometimes the collage material is used simply as a base for improvisation, usually of parody; sometimes the juxtaposed material is pure invention, again usually to a parodic nature. The resultant mixture of styles runs from Walter Pater through Stephen Crane-like battle scenes to campy pop-art reviews. What emerges from this is that Mao's long march toward the reality of the revolution is our own collective long march to an encounter with the insoluble problems of our own reality. . . . Reading [this book] I kept losing interest in its worked texture and slipping through to the theory behind it, as if its surface were too thin to support the weight of my attention. The experience I get from it is slight." Ronald Sukevick

N Y Times Bk R p40 N 7 '71 900w

"The tone, and the pamphletlike type, smooth the different textures of the outrageous collage into an oddly reasonable unity. We never doubt that a lucid intelligence is in control; unlike many experiments of fictional assemblage, [this book] never sinks into messy self-display. . . . [It] provides an intelligent, taut, and entertaining change from conventional novels. Its substance is satisfyingly solid and satisfyingly mysterious. Like any work of art, it could not be mindlessly replicated: a sequel might slip into being a mere anthology. Nor would it be easy to locate another symbolic person as fabulous and germane as Mao. As is, Mr. Tuten's studied farrago . . . contains the live motion of a novel within a jagged form that . . . 'cuts the reader into awareness.'" John Updike

New Yorker 48:135 My 13 '72 1200w

Reviewed by Jack Kroll

Newsweek 78:119 O 25 '71 210w

TUTOROW, NORMAN E. Leland Stanford: man of many careers. 317p il $9.95. Pacific coast pubs.

B or 92 Stanford, Leland
LC 79-129813

This is an account of the life and career of Leland Stanford viewed against the background of the age. Bibliography.

"[The author] brings together considerable detail from a substantial bibliography, revising the record at minor points though without significantly altering Stanford's profile in history. Probably Tutorow's investigations about plumb the possibilities of most of Stanford's lavish spending on his various interests and activities, from art-collecting to horse-photographing and membership in the United States Senate, each of which he says would warrant a monograph. . . . Tutorow's own material will not support his conclusion that Stanford was 'perhaps a near-great'. Yet his book is no exercise in sycophancy . . . but rather a useful and well-grounded addition to the history of California and, despite occasional stylistic infelicities, interesting reading." Earl Pomeroy

J Am Hist 58:758 D '71 500w

"Stanford's life is examined more carefully here than in two earlier works, H. H. Bancroft's History of the Life of Leland Stanford and George T. Clark's Leland Stanford [BRD 1932], but this would not seem to be the definitive biography. The documentation is profuse (64 pages of notes), even overwhelming, for the almost meager text (about 205 pages); more interpretive comment would have enhanced the book greatly. . . . Technically, the writing is only fair; historically, the author dismisses too lightly the malign effects on California of the Big Four and the Southern Pacific Railroad. Not strongly recommended, but large history collections will need to have it." Jerry Cao

Library J 96:1705 My 15 '71 170w

TUTTLE, ANTHONY. Songs from the night before. 350p $6.95 Doubleday

LC 73-157631

"Curt Larkin manages a successful saloon on New York's upper East Side. He has poured his heart and soul into the business but it is being forced into bankruptcy by its owner (Curt's erstwhile friend) whose latest investment is a string of polo ponies. Curt has arrived at an emotional crisis in his life. His girl friend has returned to his bed big with child (his) after kicking the drug habit, his best friend is self-destructing on booze, and Curt no longer finds his own cool, easy living ways a source of satisfaction." (Library J)

"It is a little early in coming and its setting is a trifle over-specialized, but unless I miss my guess, what we have here is the first genuine Sixties-nostalgia novel. On that level it hits dead-center, rich with the peculiar jargon, the stereotypes, fantasies, landscape, fashions, and ambience of its chosen time and place. . . . [Tuttle] knows how a saloon is run and who comes into it, he is a familiar of both its pleasures and its degradations, and he has a good ear for wry banter and the telling if superficial phrase. . . . [However,] matters are not far advanced before it becomes clear that the author aspires to write a Novel. To this end, he begins to load the book with all kinds of significance, rather as if significance were peanut butter and the thicker you layer it on, the more of it you have. . . . In the deeper realms of characterization, Tuttle has much to learn, and he doesn't help matters any by having his people talk in a kind of shorthand every time they have something serious to say." L. J. Davis

Book World p12 Mr 19 '72 600w

"Tuttle makes Larkin's bar almost a living character—his description of its atmosphere and changing moods and the in-crowd who meet there to swing is ■ small but apt sociological commentary. Curt, caught in ■ love-hate relationship with his saloon, is ■ well rounded, believable figure, and his dilemma as he approaches 40 is a common malady." Barbara Nelson

Library J 97:216 Ja 15 '72 140w

Reviewed by Martin Levin

N Y Times Bk R p35 Mr 5 '72 180w

"Purporting to reveal an arcane world (the schemings, payoffs, and sexual adventures involved in running an upper East Side Bar), and shocking the reader with several melodramatic twists, this novel has the appearance of trash, but it is still interesting. Its value is its language—a sarcastic, self-deprecating, compulsively chic slang—which succeeds in expressing a good deal of pain and gives zest to five overheated days with waiters, well-born failures, aspiring models, and other supposedly glamorous barflies."

New Yorker 48:115 Mr 4 '72 60w

TUTTLETON, JAMES W. The novel of manners in America. 304p $10 Univ. of N.C. press
813 American fiction—History and criticism
ISBN 0-8078-1188-2 LC 70-174787

This study traces and analyzes "the concern with manners and social values through the 'antirent' novels of Cooper, Henry James's 'minor' phase . . . the . . . blend of egalitarian optimism and purity of manners in Howells, Wharton's war on irresponsible pleasure-seekers and the stream-of-consciousness novel, Lewis' love-hate affair with the American small town, Fitzgerald's documentation of social disintegration in the Jazz Age, O'Hara's obsession with bric-a-brac and sex among the socialites, Cozzens's search for order, and the latter-day patricianism of Marquand and Auchincloss." (Library J)

"Tuttleton's case for the existence of a live tradition in the novel of manners is well presented, and not overargued, but it depends too much on Sinclair Lewis, John O'Hara, John P. Marquand, James Gould Cozzens, and Louis Auchincloss to be quite persuasive." Quentin Anderson

Commentary 54:84 O '72 800w

"[This is] an important and highly readable contribution to American literary criticism." Arthur Curley

Library J 97:2607 Ag '72 220w

"This is an exceptionally good book—well researched and carefully meditated, agreeably partisan to the genre of manners but also thoroughly fair in analyzing certain intrinsic limitations and occasional outright rationalizations by authors discussed. . . . Judicious citations from old reviews and critical essays by and about the authors treated enable us to see their conscious theorizing about manners and letters and also to grasp the extent to which critics have understood the subtleties in the marriage of these two forces. Lucid and reasonable, and comprehensive without being laborious, the book succeeds in its intent to rescue the novel of manners from contemporary caviling and to show, with some originality, but mostly by sheer analytic care and power of convincing generalization, that this essentially conservative genre has not only permanent literary value but genuine social usefulness."

Va Q R 48:xxxii autumn '72 170w

TWAIN, MARK. A pen warmed-up in hell: Mark Twain in protest; ed. by Frederick Anderson. 183p $6.95 Harper

818 Social problems

ISBN 0-06-010117-2 LC 70-181606

"Anderson, editor of the Mark Twain Papers at Berkeley, has selected 22 pieces representing a spectrum of Mark Twain's writings on social issues. . . . The selections are divided into two groups, 'War' and 'The human condition.' The materials, most of which have been printed before, range from a sentimental Negro dialect story on the evils of slavery to an unmailed letter to Free Russia advocating regicide and violent revolution; and from assaults on imperialism in China and the Philippines to a comment on over-population." (Choice)

"In his judicious but disappointingly brief introduction, Anderson acknowledges Twain's lack of systematic thought and historical perspective. . . . Although it is not a major contribution to Twain scholarship, this volume should prove engaging to the general reader. Notes are provided for each selection."

Choice 9:809 S '72 160w

"Opponent of racism, nationalism, imperialism, and militarism, Mark Twain wrote on those subjects with what he aptly described as 'a pen warmed-up in hell.' Some critics and historians have overlooked the smoldering pages of his political and social invective and have accused him of complacency about the injustices and atrocities of his America. The oversight is not hard to explain: little of his radical and revolutionary social criticism was ever published in book form; a large part of it was never published at all. . . . [This is] an astute selection . . . of the great humorist's social criticism. Vigorous, pointed, and as relevant to our time as to the time in which they were written, these pieces will have a very wide appeal." Robert Regan

Library J 97:1437 Ap 15 '72 160w

"[This] is the newest package of familiar Mark Twain delights, short pieces of social and political criticism gathered from his novels, letters, magazine articles and manuscripts. They are the responses of a 70 per cent-sane man to the 100 per cent bona fide follies of his age; 70 per cent is enough sanity to be fascinating. Some of his issues are now dried up—slavery and regular lynchings; most remain—anti-Chinese paranoia, cultural imperialism, economic exploitation and the too quick appeal to national loyalty to support policies of destruction and malice. Despite the title this book does not suffer from the soul-breaking weight of moral rectitude. Mark Twain is still a self-admitted human being." Charles Bazerman

Nation 215:215 S 18 '72 1400w

TWENTIETH-CENTURY composers: v 1. American music since 1910, by Virgil Thomson; with an introd. by Nicolas Nabokov. 204p pl $8.95 Holt

780.973 Composers, American—Biography. Music, American—History and criticism
SBN 03-076465-3 LC 77-80367

"After introductory chapters on America's musical maturity and American musical traits, Thomson discusses individual composers. In supplementary chapters, Victor Fell Yellin . . . [writes on] Thomson's operas, and Gilbert Chase discusses 20th-Century Latin American music up to Bomarzo. Finally, there are short biographies of 101 American composers." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

"Thomson surveys the famous and lesser known composers in our country whose place and contributions he evaluates honestly and adroitly. In addition to the highly readable text the book contains two sets of excellent photographs of composers, and of some unusual music manuscript. The first in a series to be written by internationally known figures, this book is a handsome start."

Choice 8:845 S '71 140w

Reviewed by Dika Newlin

Library J 96:195 Ja 15 '71 100w

"Thomson's essays are well worth reading. His prose is lucid, relaxed, and occasionally elegant; what he has to say is often fresh. . . . I would have liked to see Thomson explore the expressive content of our music a little more deeply; he is one of the few Francophiles competent for the task. . . . It would have been good to have had a more comprehensive book . . . but Thomson's long experience and clear mind combine to produce some worthwhile comment." Hugh Aitken

Music Lib Assn Notes 28:224 D '71 800w

"The opinions [Thomson] expresses in [this book] . . . are often trenchant and perceptive, and at times funny in a very good sense. . . . [His] title is a bit confusing. 'Since 1910' indicates from then till now, but that is not quite the case. The year 1910 is more or less the starting point, though Thomson dips back and gives us a once-over of our earlier days. . . . On recent developments and trends [Thomson] seems blissfully obtuse. While he observes it all with a God's-eye view, he seems at times to speak like a seer who wants to set things right and at moments to prattle like one of Lewis Carroll's royal ladies. . . . Six composers are given stellar treatment. They are: Ives, Ruggles, Varèse, Copland, Cage, and Thomson himself. . . . Thomson's hundred-plus little biographies are concise and reasonably up-to-date." Oliver Daniel

Sat M 54:82 S 25 '71 1650w

"[This book] reads like a series of disconnected articles, which is not surprising since that is exactly what it is—most of it first appeared in the New York Review of Books, resulting in the usual problems of repetition and contradiction with few linking themes and little or no development of ideas. . . . Thomson's own articles are so personal as to call in question the value of the book as a general introduction to American music. . . . Some of [his] best writing and most interesting comment is on Aaron Copland and the young composers of the 1930s—the golden age of American music as he sees it. . . . Mr Thomson's refusal to be seduced by avant-gardism would be a refreshing trait, if it were not always tinged with nostalgia.

TWENTIETH-CENTURY composers—Cont.

TLS p1532 D 3 '71 1500w

TWENTIETH-CENTURY composers; v2. Germany and Central Europe [by] H. H. Stuckenschmidt. 256p pl $10.95 Holt

780.92 Composers, European—Biography
SBN 03-076460-2 LC 77-80367

This is a companion volume to Twentieth-Century Composers, v 1 (American Music Since 1910, edited by Virgil Thomson, see above). It contains biographies of Strauss, Mahler, Reger, Schoenberg, Webern, Berg, Haur, Schrecker, Krenek, Hindemith, Orff, Vogel, Hanns Eisler, Weill, Blacher, Honegger, Schoeck, Martin, Henze, Bgk, Stockhausen, Hartmann, Bartók, Kodaly and Janacek. Index.

"Each chapter has the same format; a brief anecdote, or observation, followed by a biography which mixes the personal and the artistic. Of interest to me were the sections on composers I have neglected to investigate and who are not well-known in America. Some of the anecdotes were new to me, but the book offers little that cannot be found elsewhere. The prose is rich with clichés, easy to read and curiously flat. . . . Some of the details are of interest, such as how various composers faced up to the rise of National Socialism. . . . But only a reviewer would care to read the entire book, and as a reference source it is very far from adequate: eight pages on Mahler! Some puzzling errors cause me to question the accuracy of information I cannot myself confirm." Hugh Aitken

Music Lib Assn Notes 28:225 D '71 370w

"[The biographies are] on the popular side—readers need have no fear of being overcome by a full dose of Schoenberg's tone-row or Krenek's predeterminations. Though they conscientiously trace movements and influences, these musical histories are freely sprinkled with anecdotes and with informal as well as formal photos. . . . [The] index lists compositions discussed in the text under the names of the composers." D. M. Glixon

Sat ■ 54:51 Ap 17 '71 120w

TWERSKY, ISADORE, ed. A Maimonides reader. See Maimonides

TWOMBLY, WELLS. Blanda; alive and kicking; the exclusive, authorized biography. 305p pl $6.95 Nash pub. corp.

B or 92 Blanda, George Frederick. Football
SBN 8402-1260-7 LC 75-186893

Biography of a professional football player who kicked 40 yard field goals at age 44. Blanda "was considered washed up in 1959 by the owner of the Chicago Bears, only to emerge as one of pro football's all-time greats 12 years later." (Choice)

"[In 1971] George Blanda stunned the football world and the rest of the country with a series of 'come-from-behind' miracles that made every middle-aged man in America proud to be past 40. . . . [This book reveals him as an] all-time high scorer whose sense of justice and passion for the sport makes him a critic of both the football establishment and the player dropouts who attack it. Recommended for all public libraries."

Choice 9:1160 N '72 180w

"San Francisco columnist Twombly provides [a] . . . flattering, partisan portrait of the incredible Oakland miracle worker. There are entirely too many words expended in revenge against Blanda's old enemies, but happily there are just as many favorably spent nostalgically recalling the development of modern pro football and recounting Blanda's long career. This is a good, old-fashioned sports biography of one of the few remaining good, old-fashioned sports heroes." Charles Farley

Library J 97:2426 J1 '72 120w

TYLER, ANNE. The clock winder. 312p $6.95 Knopf

ISBN 0-394-47898-3 LC 70-178960

"It all starts when Elizabeth Abbott agrees to become Mrs. Emerson's handyman for the summer. Before [the story is] over, one of the Emersons (Timothy) kills himself, another (Andrew) shoots Elizabeth, and Mrs. Emerson has a stroke. The 'handyman' finds herself holding the family together and ultimately stays on to become an Emerson herself by marrying Matthew." (Library J)

Reviewed by P. A. Doyle
Best Sell 32:148 Je 15 '72 490w

"If [this novel] smacks of a group of hurt and inept people propping one another up to live a bearable, cozy life—another quality, come to think of it, of 'southern' writing—it's neither sentimental nor intrusive enough to detract from the strength of its delightful heroine: Elizabeth, in her ashamed passivity, her struggle against it, her bursts of energy and what prevents them, her wry, open humor, is a recognizable and even memorable character who encompasses many of the contradictions that women are seeking to resolve today. And the author has created a group of minor characters to surround her who ring absolutely true." Sara Blackburn

Book World p13 My 14 '72 380w

Choice 9:1134 N '72 140w

Reviewed by Marilyn Gell
Library J 97:1035 Mr 15 '72 90w

Reviewed by Janet Kammermeyer
Library J 97:2971 S 15 '72 60w [YA]

"Readers who have found much to admire in Hannah Green's The Dead of the House [BRD 1972] will derive similar pleasure from Anne Tyler's latest novel. . . . Barely 30, Tyler has behind her the extraordinary achievement of three beautifully realized, quiet humorous novels, the kind that are too often overlooked in an America eager for sensational fiction. She has always had a remarkable understanding of the intricacies of family life, a sympathy for odd-ball characters who never become merely southern grotesques. . . . but are observed so gently that the term 'neurotic' seems equally inappropriate for them. . . . In the 10-year span of the book, we see Elizabeth change while around her the seven Emerson children, already grown when the book begins, move in and out of her life, she finally inalterably affecting them, they in their turn affecting her."

New Repub 166:29 My 13 '72 190w

"Miss Tyler fills her pages with . . . richly-idiomatic characters who amble about in Chekhovian fashion. To a degree, the center of attention is Elizabeth Abbott. . . . With or without her, the novel pursues a serpentine way, and any bend in the road might just as well be marked with. Gentle charm is the author's stock in trade. Her characters have so much of it one wishes their story had more substance." Martin Levin

N Y Times Bk ■ p31 My 21 '72 150w

New Yorker 48:140 Ap 29 '72 100w

Reviewed by Elizabeth Easton
Sat R 55:77 Je 17 '72 650w

TYRMAND, LEOPOLD. The Rosa Luxemburg contraceptives cooperative; a primer on Communist civilization. 287p $5.95 Macmillan (N Y)

335.43 Communism
LC 73-160083

In this book which is an "'intentional hyperbole' about life in a Marxist society . . . thirty-five short chapters pass in review: [Among them are] Everyman's typical situation: How To Survive a Maternity Hospital and a State-Controlled Nursery; How To Go to School; How To Take Advantage of the Invention of the Telephone; Why Toothpaste Does Not Clean; How To Read Signs in Public Places; How To Be Cheated by the State; The Police, or Conscience; The Upper Class and Its Dolce Vita." (Nat R)

"[Tyrmand] writes from the heart and in anger. To be sure, his passion often leads him into oversimplification and crudity, but at the same time it renders his testimony much more valuable than if he had dressed it up in the more fashionable sociological profundities of the moment. . . . [His] anger also leads him to be unfair in appraising the post-Stalin phenomenon of what might be called the loyal dissenter." A. B. Ulan

Commentary 54:36 N '72 1150w

"An anti-Communist diatribe, in which no attempt is made to be objective or scholarly. . . . [The author] believes the lack of objectivity does not make the book less truthful since one can not assess Communism in such a manner. His argument sounds suspiciously like that of the Communist regarding 'bourgeois objectivity.' . . . The major thesis seems to be that while many people viewing Communism at a distance believe it to offer an ideal existence and to be a system preferable to Western democratic capitalism, those who live under it would opt out if given the opportunity. The style is humorous and on occasion thoughtful, but the message is far from original." E. A. Engeldinger

Library J 97:881 Mr 1 '72 110w

"The title at once tells the reader what is in store for him: a racy, sprightly, witty book. . . . Tyrmand has a prodigious skill for hitting exactly on target with a pithy bon mot or a well-turned aperçu, all of which cry out for quotation. . . . The book is very entertaining, but the author writes with a deeply serious purpose. . . . The ultimate value of this penetrating book is to demonstrate ad oculos (one can really see it!) the true character of the evil of Communism." Gerhart Niemeyer

Nat R 24:590 My 26 '72 1050w

U

UCHIDA, YOSHIKO. Journey to Topaz; a story of the Japanese-American evacuation; il. by Donald Carrick. 149p $4.95 Scribner

SBN 684-12497-1 LC 75-162730

The story of eleven-year-old Yuki, her eighteen-year-old brother and her mother, who were uprooted, evacuated and interned in "Topaz, the War Relocation Center in Utah where . . . Japanese and Japanese-Americans were interned during World War II." (Horn Bk) "Ages nine to twelve." (N Y Times Bk R)

Reviewed by J. H. Clarke

Book World p14 (children's issue) N 7 '71 160w

"The family's bewilderment and sense of loss come through vividly to the reader who cannot help but feel admiration for the internees. Despite the deprivation and harsh discomfort of the camp, they attempted to live as normally as possible. . . . The impact of the story probably derives its force from the actually remembered experiences of the author and her family. The few black-and-white drawings add interest, and suggest the contrast between a comfortable home and the bleakness of camp conditions." B. R.

Horn Bk 47:615 D '71 260w

Reviewed by L. E. Smardan

J Home Econ 64:54 D '72 230w

"It is probably unreasonable to be disappointed in a gentle unassuming story for little girls because it is not a more substantial book. . . . The upheaval that faced the Japanese-Americans after Pearl Harbor is related from a distinctly little-girl point of view. . . . At first the circumstances of the evacuation are so overwhelming . . . that the narrative is carried by the sheer force of the events. But the characters are overshadowed by the situation. . . . Their lack of depth makes the book seem predictable and flat compared to the author's earlier 'In-Between Miya' [BRD 1968]." Sidney Long

N Y Times Bk R p8 Mr 12 '72 240w

"This is a moving story. . . . Yuki's father is taken into custody on the night of December 7, 1941, because he works in a Japanese firm. The Sakanes are now enemy aliens. The Presidential executive order removed [them] to barbed-wire relocation centers without a hearing. This tragic herding of innocent people is described with dignity and a sorrowful sense of injustice that never becomes bitter, as the Sakanes adjust to the privation and ostracism of life in the . . . Relocation Center." Zena Sutherland

Sat R 54:46 D 11 '71 100w

UEDA, MAKOTO. Matsuo Bashō. 202p $5.50 Twayne

895.6 Matsuo, Bashō. Japanese literature—History and criticism
LC 79-110703

This volume contains an account of the poet's "life, about 160 haiku with Ueda's comments, two complete renku . . . (linked verse), excerpts from Bashō's prose and critical commentaries on haiku." (Choice) Bibliography.

"Appears to be the only book in English which deals exclusively with Bashō. It contains most materials the Western reader, except for a specialist in Bashō, would want to know about this great haiku poet and his art. . . . Ueda's translation of Bashō's haiku seems to be authoritative and faithful to the original. Especially valuable is the inclusion of the renku, for an understanding of this form illuminates the genesis of haiku. [The] critical commentaries are lucid and informative but rarely go beyond the descriptive and impressionistic tendency of Japanese scholarship on the subject."

Choice 8:556 Je '71 200w

"[This] is not a light, popular work intended for the casual reader. Rather, it is a compact but thoroughly substantial exposition based on sound scholarship presenting Bashō (1644-1694) as something more than just a great Japanese poet. . . . He was also a brilliant poetic essayist and a literary critic of the first order. In this modest volume, Ueda has skillfully brought Bashō's career into its proper perspective by giving a well-balanced account which incorporates those other facets of his literary genius which are less familiar to the non-Japanese. . . . The 'Selected Bibliography' of both Japanese and English works with Ueda's own comments accompanying many entries is a useful, authoritative list for the average reader as well as the serious student of literature." T. T. Takaya

Mod Lang J 56:179 Mr '72 850w

ULAM, ADAM. The fall of the American university. 217p $7.95 Lib. press

378.73 Colleges and universities—U.S. Harvard University—Riots. Education, Higher
ISBN 0-912050-20-9 LC 77-39004

The author traces and analyzes "the background of the troubles in American higher education, the meaning of the 'confrontation' in the 1960's, its drama and the . . . consequences for American life in the 'future.'" (Publisher's note)

"Ulam's method in this book is more impressionistic than scientific and . . . he is not always at pains to define terms and garner facts. Nevertheless, he writes interestingly and convincingly." R. B. Nordberg

Best Sell 32:328 O 15 '72 230w

Economist 245:61 D 2 '72 450w

"Ulam's viewpoint is basically a conservative one, as he questions the university's ability to survive under the forces calling for relevance, less structure, involvement in community affairs, etc. Provides a good balance to all those books on the university crisis that argue the other side. Recommended for most collections." Topsy Smalley

Library J 97:3902 D 1 '72 150w

Reviewed by D. W. Cooper

Nat R 25:53 Ja 5 '73 180w

"[This book] is really the story of the fall of Harvard, 1960-72, told by a professor of government who earned his doctorate there 25 years earlier. For someone who makes a fuss about being 'concrete,' Ulam uses few illustrative facts, except those casually gathered during his experience of the Harvard troubles. Nor does he examine carefully why so many people were drawn to politics in the '60s, or why they kicked up a ruckus about morality in government. Compared to these questions, the question of student discipline is insignificant."

New Repub 167:42 O 21 '72 360w

"[Ulam's argument] is always clear and the reasoning always sensible. But still, most of the people who have lived through this transition period will find something lacking in [his] argument. What the lack is is still difficult to explain precisely, but it is perhaps suggested by one version of a draft statement trying to define the obligations of administrators and professors after the troubles at Harvard. 'Confronted with [a reasonable] demand, an officer must do something; he has no right to do nothing.'"

Yale 62:VIII D '72 700w

ULAM, ADAM B. The rivals: America and Russia since World War II. 405p $10.95 Viking

327 U.S.—Foreign relations—Russia. Russia—Foreign relations—U.S.
SBN 670-59959-X LC 75-160204

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by Harvey Fireside
Ann Am Acad 401:156 My '72 600w
Choice 8:1626 F '72 180w

Reviewed by Maurice Friedberg
Commentary 53:84 My '72 1850w

ULANOV, ANN BELFORD. The feminine in Jungian psychology and in Christian theology. 347p $10.50 Northwestern Univ. press

155.6 Woman—Psychology. Jung, Carl Gustav. Psychology, Religious
ISBN 0-8101-0351-6 LC 74-149922

The author's "work revolves around Jung's approach to and the structure of the psyche, his polaric but common concern for the symbols and functions of the psyche, his concept of the feminine in both male and female, and the concept of the feminine as it relates to the religious function and the doctrines of man, God and Christ, and the Spirit." (Choice)

"Ulanov has . . . [produced] one of the finest substantive studies on [her] topic for many years. Her work incorporates a contemporary analysis of Jung's incisive thoughts about the feminine that generates relevant insights beyond those of Jaffe, Harding, Wickes, Jacobi, Deutsche, Horney, Binswanger, et al, who have taken up Jung's seminal work. She has also included the theological perspective of the feminine from the orientation of her teachers, Paul Tillich and Daniel Day Williams. . . . This publication is pertinent to many disciplines that deal with the feminine—literature, poetry, philosophy, sociology, family life, and sex education—as well as theology and psychology. It is quite readable for the layman, yet professional and provocative for the academician."

Choice 9:581 Je '72 250w

"Here at last is a clear and thoughtful study which brings into focus the valuable insights and approaches which Jung and his followers have provided for an understanding of both the psychology of women and the feminine in its broader cultural and symbolic aspect. . . . This study should be of great interest to specialists and professionals in psychotherapy and in theology (Ulanov is a professional in both) and to the women's liberationists of our time." T. A. Greene

Library J 97:2106 Je 1 '72 150w

ULLMANN, WALTER. A short history of the papacy in the middle ages. 389p $14.50 Barnes & Noble

262 Papacy—History
SBN 416-08650-0 LC 72-176201

Ullmann, "professor of medieval ecclesiastical history at the University of Cambridge, [presents this] . . . history of the papacy from the late Roman Empire to the period of the Reformation. He regards his work not as a composite history of the medieval popes but as a study of the papacy as an institution." (America) Bibliography. Index.

"[This] is a highly scholarly and detailed analysis of the medieval papacy. . . . [It can] be questioned whether eastern imperial ideology, especially in the religious domain, was as monolithic as Ullmann presents it. . . . Furthermore, is it really true to say that the ideal of papal government was essentially developed by the end of the patristic period? . . . Finally, Ullmann's exclusive emphasis on the descending theory of church government scarcely does justice to the richness and variety of medieval ecclesiology. . . . Despite these criticisms, Ullmann has presented us with a highly readable and challenging history of the medieval papacy which should prove valuable for contemporary reflections on the papal office."

L. B. Pascoe

America 127:44 J1 22 '72 750w

Reviewed by B. D. Hill

Library J 97:3156 O 1 '72 150w

"The more Professor Ullmann's readers know before they read this book, the more they will gain from it. They will need to assess its viewpoint, to understand its occasionally idiosyncratic vocabulary. . . . [and] they will benefit from an excellent bibliography which is particularly strong on recent work. Not all will accept the viewpoint of this book, but it compels respect by its great learning and the inner cohesion of its presentation."

TLS p396 Ap 7 '72 800w

UNDERDOWN, DAVID. Pride's Purge: politics in the Puritan revolution. 424p $9.75 Oxford

942.06 Great Britain—History—Civil War and Commonwealth, 1642-1660. Pride, Thomas
ISBN 0-19-822342-0 LC [78-853456]

In this study of the Puritan revolution, its politics and its wars, the author also "explores the motivation of Puritans and Purgers through a statistical analysis of the Members of Parliament of the 1640's." (Va Q R)

"[This study] contains an original interpretation of the manner in which that historic episode took place and its meaning in relationship to the Puritan revolution as a whole. Underdown has sought to demonstrate that it was less a deliberate act of policy on the part of Puritan idealists than the result of a shift in party alignment in the Long Parliament that permitted the radicalism in the New Model Army, the Levellers, and the sects to find vent in December 1648 and January 1649. . . . This estimate of Pride's Purge is likely to dominate historical scholarship during the foreseeable future. But some questions are bound to arise about Underdown's treatment of political ideology." C. C. Weston

Am Hist R 77:1120 O '72 550w

"[The author] is an indefatigable scholar . . . [who offers a] long and learned book. . . . [He] devotes close attention to the political and administrative life and changes in the counties, realizing, as many sensible historians do, that the history of England should not be viewed exclusively from London. Much research has gone into county history in recent years and possibly this is the most valuable part of the book."

TLS p641 Je 4 '71 750w

"The title of this book might be better reversed. Although Pride's Purge of December, 1648, is the central event of the book, the very complex politics of the Puritan Revolution are the real subject. . . . With impressive detail, occasionally a bit tedious, the author has pointed out that Purgers and Puritans had little unity in their overall governmental program and that consequently their rule after Pride's Purge was little more effective than the rule of others before. . . . On the whole, the book reads well, is well documented, and is a positive contribution to the impressive body of scholarly literature on the period of the English Civil Wars."

Va Q R 47:cixxvii autumn '71 140w

UNDERHILL, MIRIAM. Give me the hills [publ in assn. with the Appalachian Mountain Club. 278p $6.75 Chatham press; for sale by Viking

796.5 Mountaineering
SBN 85699-021-3 LC 72-14628

This book describes "Miriam Underhill's career as a mountain climber [covering] five decades, from technical first ascents in the Alps in the 1920's, through explorations in the little-known ranges of Montana in the 1940's, to becoming (with her husband) the first to climb all of New Hampshire's 4,000-ers in the 1960's." (N Y Times Bk R) The first 13 chapters are from the 1956 English edition; the final chapter on winter climbing appeared in the magazine Appalachia. Index.

"Warmth and joy permeate these delightful reminiscences of a lifetime spent in the hills, from the White Mountains to the Matterhorn. Underhill began climbing mountains early in this century, conquering all the classic routes of the Alps and Dolomites before World War II, including several 'manless' ascents in the 1930's. . . . The author's own stunning photographs illustrate the text." B. D. Henry

Library J 96:3154 O 1 '71 140w

"In this memoir Mrs. Underhill's sometimes feisty, always spirited determination to perform as well as the men she accompanied proves highly engaging. Her sense of humor flashes often and her love for the mountains is ever present. Yet her book doesn't quite escape the pitfalls that spill most climbers when they turn autobiographical. Like the majority, she is shy and not very introspective. Her memoir becomes a chronicle of one climb after another, without mounting suspense or revealing self-appraisal. For all that, other mountain climbers will find in it much to fascinate and instruct."

N Y Times Bk R p33 Ja ■ '72 170w

UNDERWOOD, JOHN, jr. auth. The science of hitting. See Williams, T.

UNDERWOOD, PETER. Karloff; the life of Boris Karloff, with an appendix of the films in which he appeared [Eng title: Horror man]. 238p il $5.95 Drake pubs.

791.43 Karloff, Boris

ISBN 0-87749-253-1 LC 72-192923

A bibliography of the horror-movie actor. Bibliography.

"This is the only biography of Karloff available, and that is a shame because [he] gets short shrift in this small, superficial account. Underwood seems more concerned with (horror) movies per se than with Karloff's life. Too often does he digress on topics other than Karloff. Too often does he verge on the panegyric when he does write about the actor. If little is known about Karloff's personal life, Underwood has not added any new dimension. The description, however, of Karloff as Frankenstein and of the elaborate painful makeup ordeal he went through is engrossing, as is the meticulously annotated filmography at the end of the book. The overwhelming appeal and popularity of Karloff should be enough to keep this book circulating however poor it may be." M. S. Lasky

Library J 97:3308 O 15 '72 100w

"A quite, tasteful, fairly well-documented account of the life of a self-effacing, well-mannered, very English gentleman whose private life had little or nothing in common with the gruesome roles he so often played on screen. Indeed, since Karloff (born William Pratt in Camberwell) was virtually the model of the man whose life was almost entirely taken up with his work, while his private life remained private because it was so happily uneventful, the book has to be almost entirely about his films. Here Mr Underwood is not always very critical, in praise or blame, but he does make the necessary points about Karloff's excellence and variety as an actor."

TLS p635 Je 2 '72 100w

UNGAR, SANFORD J. The papers & the Papers; an account of the legal and political battle over the Pentagon papers. 319p $7.95 Dutton

323.44 Government and the press. U.S.—Politics and government
SBN 0-525-17455-9 LC 77-190699

An account, by a reporter who covered the Justice Department's case, of the conflict between the government and the press over the publication of the Pentagon Papers. Index.

Reviewed by Rev. J. M. Murphy

Best Sell 32:142 Je 15 '72 650w

Choice 9:885 S '72 150w

Reviewed by J. W. Bishop

Commentary 54:80 S '72 2300w

"An absorbing, fascinating, and fast-moving piece of investigative journalism. . . . [Ungar] provides more than enough inside dope, high gossip, low comedy, unbelievable melodrama, revelations of shameful politics, and sheer human interest to fill a dozen political novels. But ultimately the book is less than satisfactory. On the one hand, Ungar has not told the full 'inside story' of the government's side of the case. Concentrating on Ellsberg, the press, and the court struggle, he leaves out a host of necessary questions . . . [and he] stops short of providing the overall analysis that is called for." H. J. Steck

Library J 97:2072 Je 1 '72 240w

"Ungar states several times that the struggle in the courts was more prominent and significant than what was struggled over. . . . But having turned our eyes in the right direction, Mr. Ungar does his best work elsewhere. His penetration of the case is shallow, his treatment of the law inadequate. . . . There is not just omission in this book; there is error: statements about Supreme Court jurisdiction and about the arguments in the briefs that could have been corrected by reading the Constitution and the briefs. And there are larger errors. . . . [However] a day-by-day, at times hour-by-hour, even minute-by-minute, account of what took place is valuable, and Mr. Ungar has given us that. It is important journalism."

Charles Rembar

N Y Times Bk R p2 Je 12 '72 2150w

Reviewed by Richard Harris

New Yorker 48:73 Ag 26 '72 3550w

"Ungar has taken a major part of the story and told it brilliantly. . . . [He] has assembled a vast amount of research to chronicle what is undoubtedly a landmark case in the struggle to preserve First Amendment rights against government control. . . . The importance of [his] book, however, extends beyond his narrative of the battles in court: His accounts of the deliberations within the high councils of the newspapers themselves suggest how easily 'responsibility' can become timidity and how quickly a concession that First Amendment guarantees are not absolute can turn into a theory of censorship." Peter Schrag

Sat R 55:70 My 27 '72 600w

UNGERER, TOMI. The beast of Monsieur Racine. unpub col il $4.95 Farrar, Straus

SBN 374-3-0640-0

LC 74-149216

"Monsieur Racine, a retired tax collector was a prize-winning gardener; his special pride was a magnificent pear tree. One day he found the tree stripped of its precious fruit; weird, shapeless footprints were the only clue. Devising an ingenious trap, he caught the plunderer—a preposterous beast looking like 'a heap of moldy blankets [with] . . . long, sock-like ears . . . flopping on both sides of a seemingly eyeless head.' Since the creature seemed gentle, he fed it and soon he was pampering it with sumptuous food and diversions. . . . He also studied the creature. . . . Finally he transported it to the Paris 'Academy of Sciences' and there . . . the beast was revealed as a gigantic hoax." (Horn Bk) "Grades two to four." (Library J)

Reviewed by M. J. Bandler

Book World p2 (children's issue) N 7

'71 70w

Reviewed by Gurnsey LePelley

Christian Science Monitor pB3 N 11

'71 90w

"The artist is in rare form, liberally spreading his particular kind of madness—in full color—over every page. The double spreads are Hogarthian with caricature and frenetic activity; to children the pictures will be roaring slapstick." E. L. H.

Horn Bk 47:472 O '71 150w

"[This] mildly suspenseful story is full of vocabulary extending words: Racine squeezes himself into a 'culrass' to trap the 'predator' who is a 'conglomerate of living lumps'; he shouts 'Sapristi!' when he first catches the beast and then feeds it pâté. Though the message is obviously that of sharing, and though the unveiling of the beast proves something of a let-down, the exuberant, very imaginative pictures and engagingly active story line make this book a worthwhile acquisition and a certain child-pleaser." Marjorie Lewis

Library J 96:2911 S 15 '71 200w

Reviewed by J. A. Smith

N Y Rev of Books 17:27 D 2 '71 90w

"No one . . . could ever accuse Tomi Ungerer of overloading his latest offering . . . with inner meaning. Yet, so gifted a practitioner of the picture-book form is Mr. Ungerer that his readers are held rapt for as long as he cares to display his considerable wiles. Surely there is little built-in plot appeal to a retired tax collector who grows prize pears. But the lilt of Ungerer's effortless prose—But one morning, alas! three times, alas! he found all his pears gone—soon has us hooked. Even before we meet the winsome villain of the piece . . . we are captives. And the Gallic charm of Ungerer's visual invention . . . is equally compelling." S. G. Lanes

N Y Times Bk R p8 S 19 '71 210w

UNGERER, TOMI. The poster art of Tomi Ungerer; ed. by Jack Rennert. 208p il col il $15 Darien house

769

ISBN 0-8212-0374-6

LC 71-162275

This volume brings together Ungerer's 'ad campaigns for the New York Times, Air India, and the Electric Circus, among others.

UNGERER, TOMI—Continued

... Appropriate data (e.g., size, date done, and for whom) are given, along with commentary." (Library J) "Poster index." (Choice)

"Ungerer is much more than a graphic designer responsible for some of the more memorable advertising art of the past decade, he is also a very talented artist, as well as a frequently penetrating satirist capable of representing our world in all its bizarreness. This book is important because it brings together a major portion of his poster art, many examples of which have already been lost because of the ephemeral nature of this genre. Rennert provides a valuable, though brief, introduction and informative section notes. The reproductions are of good quality. . . . Recommended to libraries interested in adding to their collections in the field of modern art and popular culture."

Choice 9:805 S '72 120w

"Ungerer is well known as an illustrator of children's books (oddly enough, the least satisfactory part of his work), and for his brilliant satirical posters bordering on the pornographic. . . . [The commentaries provided here are] short, solid, no-nonsense. [The book is] absolutely brilliant or absolutely nasty, depending on your viewpoint. Buy!" Bill Katz

Library J 97:674 F 15 '72 80w

UNITED NATIONS, Conference on the Human Environment, Stockholm, 1972. Only one earth. See Ward, B.

UNITED STATES. National Gallery of Art. Dürer in America: his graphic work. See Dürer, A.

UNITED STATES LAWN TENNIS ASSOCIATION. Official encyclopedia of tennis; ed. by the staff of the U.S.L.T.A. 472p il $13.95 Harper

796.34 Tennis—Dictionaries
SBN 06-014479-3 LC 71-181644

This book about tennis is concerned with "its history, equipment, playing technique, rules and etiquette, major results of tournaments and championships, [and] tennis greats. . . . [It contains] photos of famous players. . . . pictures of the early days of tennis. . . . photos of equipment, sequence shots demonstrating techniques, and [a] . . . record of tennis competition results. . . . [Included also is] information on the selection and care of your tennis equipment, practice devices, different types of competitions, handicapping, etc. . . . [and a] section devoted to playing fundamentals." (Publisher's note) Glossary. Index.

"If your library can afford only one book on tennis it should be this one; if you are really well stocked in the subject you should get this anyway. It is a vast compendium of information with most of the basics . . . plus such bonuses as how to lay out a tennis court and things to look for in choosing a tennis camp. There are faults—on occasion the pictures in the instruction section do not effectively illustrate, or indeed contradict, what the text says."

Choice 9:954 O '72 120w

"It's questionable . . . that 70 pages on how to play tennis are included when many books are available on this subject. But there is no controversy about the importance of providing the results of major tournaments and lawn tennis championships; these results are given from the earliest times to 1971. . . . The inadequacy of the index negates the book's usefulness. The index omits players' names and items from the text, and the book cannot be recommended until the index is revised." B. F. Vavrek

Library J 97:2563 Ag '72 130w

"[This] belongs in every sporting library. It does what it sets out to do." Fred Tupper
N Y Times Bk R p26 O 22 '72 360w

UNRAU, WILLIAM E. The Kansa Indians; a history of the Wind people, 1673-1873. (Okla. Univ. The civilization of the Am. Indian ser) 244p pl col pl maps $8.95 Univ. of Okla. press
970.3 Kansa Indians—History
ISBN 0-8061-0980-7 LC 74-160508

In this study of the Kansa Indians, two "chapters relate the prehistory, . . . and the ethnological traits of the tribe. . . . The account lays . . . stress on the direct and indirect influences of white contact, including economic changes, disease, and the role of alcohol. The remainder of the book narrates the complex interplay of rival interests in forcing further migration and decay upon the Kansa." (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

"In the midst of the turmoil, which is ably described by the author, the Kansa Indians dimly appear as virtually passive, certainly ineffective, victims. [P. Holder's] Hoe and horse on the plains [BRD 1972] or J. J. Mathews' The Osages [BRD 1962] show what the author might have done instead of offering another 'Indian' history that tells more about the whites' activities than the Indians' doings."

Choice 9:432 My '72 160w

"Because of the Kansa's relatively small population and the little impact they had on history, their record is hard to trace. This history really begins in 1724 with the first Kansa contact with the French. Even then the story is quite sketchy, despite the author's thorough research, until the United States supplanted the French in 1803 by purchasing Louisiana. . . . [This] is not a pretty story, and Unrau is not a literary stylist; but the book illustrates well what usually happened to small tribes on the American frontier." W. T. Hagan

Library J 97:682 F 15 '72 110w

UNTERMEYER, LOUIS, comp. Shakespeare: his life, his times, his works. See Shakespeare: his life, his times, his works

UNTERMEYER, LOUIS. Treasury of great humor; including wit, whimsy, and satire from the remote past to the present; ed. with a running commentary. 683p $9.95 McGraw

808.87 Wit and humor
ISBN 0-07-065939-7 LC 79-37529

This anthology includes humorous samplings from the works of such authors as Juvenal, Boccaccio, Molière, Wilde, Thurber and Joseph Heller. Indexes of authors and titles.

"The standard proof that any type of writing is great is its power of endurance, so here come all the antique sacred cows—Aesop, Petronius, Rabelais, Swift, Lamb, Gilbert, Twain, and company—in a thundering herd. There is nothing wrong with any single piece in the collection; taken together, they produce an impression of déjà vu." Phoebe Adams
Atlantic 230:110 S '72 100w

"Untermeyer, a poet, critic, and anthologist, contributes helpful annotations and a short introduction. The principal value of this whopping compilation is that it affords the reader an opportunity to trace the development of humor from Biblical times to the beginning of the 20th Century. . . . Rarely thigh-slappingly funny, Great Humor is not likely to have popular appeal and is therefore recommended for larger libraries and academic collections." A. J. Anderson

Library J 97:2398 J1 '72 140w

UPDIKE, JOHN. Museums and women, and other stories. 282p il $6.95 Knopf
ISBN 0-394-48173-9 LC 72-2247

"A book of 29 stories, all of which have appeared before (mostly in the New Yorker), from 1960 to 1972." (Library J)

Reviewed by P. T. Rohrbach
America 127:535 D 16 '72 800w

Reviewed by Richard Todd
Atlantic 230:126 D '72 1250w

Reviewed by Eileen Kennedy
Best Sell 32:392 N 15 '72 900w
Christian Science Monitor p9 N 1 '72 430w

"There is not a writer around today who is better able to capture people, their marriages, children, affairs—really, their lives—and wring emotion from what others consider sterile suburbia. There are gems in this collection. 'Under the Microscope' is a brilliant extended metaphor of a cocktail party reduced to the size and complexity of a slide, where devouring and communicating are but different sides of a coin. The last five stories, first published between 1966 and 1971, deal with the Maple family and are uniformly masterful in characterization, with the unique Updike blend of irony and pathos that critics either love or despise. It is only in the longer descriptive passages where one detects a sense of strain, of wordplay for its own sake. If this was ever a major fault, it seems that Updike has learned to keep it under control." Matthew Hartman

Library J 97:2649 Ag '72 280w

Reviewed by Guy Davenport
Nat R 24:1413 D 22 '72 250w

Reviewed by Doris Grumbach
New Repub 167:30 O 21 '72 1400w

Reviewed by Michael Wood
N Y Rev of Books 19:12 D 14 '72 800w

"We know by now what Updike can convey to us of familial experience in suburban America, and in many of these stories once again he does it incomparably well. . . . What I seldom if ever feel is that these inhabitants of Tarbox or wherever have experienced the capacity to love—as distinct from the inclination to copulate and the compulsion to propagate. . . . It may be, of course, that this is part of Updike's vision of American life. . . . Whereas Clem [in I am Dying, Egypt, Dying] is obviously intended as a study in emotional aridity, it is less clear in the other stories whether the hint of inner vacuity is a defect in the characters, or a flaw in the author's vision. Having made that observation, it is only fair to add that most of the stories are extremely readable, not one of them without some moments of dazzling minute observation, some sudden glide of psychological perception, some abrupt accuracy about the harassments and consolations of day-to-day living." Tony Tanner

N Y Times Bk R p5 O 22 '72 1400w

Reviewed by P. S. Prescott
Newsweek 80:106 O 23 '72 350w

"With the exception of 'Other Modes,' a group of ten take-it-or-leave-it skits of varying degrees of whimsy, the stories in this collection are the work of perhaps the finest literary craftsman working in America today. The prose is as beautiful—and surprisingly fresh—as ever, and the tone is, again, that of reason, with a wry sense of humor and a head-shaking sense of wonder. . . . It is, in short, a collection of considerable variety and consistent richness. And though these stories cover the last half-decade, there is no hysteria, no sense of apocalyptic posturing, just the quiet crowding of American middle-class life as it was actually lived between the headlines." Joseph Kanon

Sat R 55:78 S 30 '72 370w

Time 100:91 O 16 '72 700w

UPDIKE, JOHN. Rabbit redux. 406p $7.95; ltd ed $15 Knopf

ISBN 0-394-47439-2 LC 70-154927

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by J. R. Lindroth
America 126:102 Ja 29 '72 480w

Reviewed by W. B. Hill
America 126:550 My 20 '72 100w

Reviewed by John Heidenry
Commonweal 95:332 Ja 7 '72 1900w
Economist 243:suppl 12 Ap 8 '72 600w

Reviewed by Bernard Oldsey
Nation 214:54 Ja 10 '72 1250w

Reviewed by William Trevor
New Statesman 83:462 Ap 7 '72 1000w

Reviewed by Brendan Gill
New Yorker 47:83 Ja 8 '72 2150w

TLS p385 Ap 7 '72 1050w

Va Q R 48:xlviil spring '72 190w

URBAN, G. R., ed. Can we survive our future? A symposium; ed. and introduced by G. R. Urban, in collaboration with Michael Glenny. 399p $10 St Martins

901.9 Civilization, Modern. Technology and civilization
LC 76-178687

"Urban wrote the introduction to this volume of edited interviews which he and Glenny conducted. Arnold Toynbee, Werner Heisenberg, Jacques Ellul, Dennis Gabor, Herman Kahn, and Maurice Duverger are among the 23 . . . participants in this symposium on the future of mankind broadcast by Radio Free Europe in 1970-71. . . . The book is divided into three main parts: 'The impact of science on the moral options of man'; 'Growth, controls and responsibility'; and 'Choosing the future.' Two . . . themes are dominant . . . speculations on the prospects before mankind as the 21st century draws near; and contrasts between the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe on the one hand, and the U.S. and Western Europe on the other. . . . Index." (Choice)

"Thoughtful editing makes this volume stimulating reading. Both Urban and Glenny pose incisive questions and add their own cogent comments. Frequently the side remarks are as rich and provocative as the main conversation. . . . [This work tends] toward gloom and pessimism with respect to man's future. At best, there are a few examples of tempered optimism. The volume concludes with Brian Aldiss' 'Learning to live with a doom-laden future.' This pretty well captures the general feeling pervading the symposium. Excellent index."

Choice 9:1009 O '72 290w

"We are all now familiar with the basic question [in this book]: if man continues to abuse and gobble up his environment at the present rate, will the planet soon cease to support the species? This symposium brings together intelligent, specialist contributors from all over Europe and the United States. Almost all of them have combined, in their careers, academic posts and practical experience in industry, commerce or applied technology. This makes them worth listening to, and their warnings have a special weight. All of them show a sense of history. . . . Global not local disaster is the threat. Will we learn before it is too late? This symposium poses the question in a series of cogent and articulate contributions. The answers, though, lie elsewhere."

Economist 242:54 F 12 '72 400w

"The discovery that we may well not have a future stems from the belated recognition that humanity cannot dump its external costs into the environment for ever. The editor of this collection of interviews seems to have been struck—almost as belatedly—by the fear that he might be accused of dumping the external costs of 'the conference industry' into an already over-polluted intellectual environment. He responds in much the same way as governments, too, which is to say he lays down a heavy rhetorical smokescreen. . . . But these interviews do maintain at least the level of interest of a goodish cocktail party. That they are not about anything in particular is hardly to be held against them; the future is no more a subject than is the past, and to set 21 intelligent persons loose on a whole host of imprecise issues . . . at least guarantees some stimulating replies." Alan Ryan

New Statesman 83:181 F 11 '72 1050w

"The impact of the first few chapters . . . should be considerable . . . for here is perspective, and wise discussion of the possible, in terms of man's past revolutions in thought, religion and politics. There are solutions to very nearly all of today's environmental threats; the question is really, Are we capable of implementing them, psychologically and politically? Are the communist states more likely to succeed where 'rapacious' capitalist states show signs of failing. . . . [A] stimulating anthology."

TLS p372 Mr 31 '72 280w

URI, PIERRE, ed. Trade and investment policies for the seventies. See Trade and investment policies for the seventies

UROFSKY, MELVIN I., ed. Letters of Louis D. Brandeis, v 1. See Brandeis, L. D.

USDIN, GENE, ed. Perspectives on violence. 161p $7.50 Brunner/Mazel

301.18 Violence. Psychology. Pathological
ISBN 87630-047-6 LC 75-179752

These papers were presented at the 1971 meeting of the American College of psychiatrists. "H. Stuart Hughes, a historian, considers political expressions of violence from the French Revolution to Vietnam. Collective destructiveness as embodied in dehumanizing social organizations is considered by psychologist Nevitt Sanford, with special emphasis on educational organizations, in an examination of alternative institutions. Wilton S. Dillon presents an anthropological view. . . . Charles Pinderhughes provides the psychoanalytic approach in his consideration of the relationship between violence and paranoia." (Library J) Chapter bibliographies.

Choice 9:542 Je '72 170w

USDIN, GENE—Continued

"While not professing to be a complete consideration of this complex subject, this volume is successful in integrating four seemingly disparate frames of reference." P. E. McDowell

Library J 97:1448 Ap 15 '72 150w

USTINOV, PETER. Krumnagel; a novel. 344p $7.95 Little

ISBN 0-434-81708-2 LC 172-175149

This is a "satire on contrasting American and British ways of life, death, and legality. . . . [Krumnagel is the] 'hard hat' police chief of a Middle Western city. Awarded a trip around the world with his . . . wife, he never gets any further than England. . . . In a drunken brawl in a local pub, he whips out his gun and kills a man. From that point on it is alternately downhill and up as he is tried, found guilty and sent to prison. . . . [The] British conspire to let [him] . . . escape, to remove a source of . . . embarrassment. . . . Krumnagel becomes himself the thing he had always most feared." (Publishers' Weekly)

Reviewed by W. B. Hill
America 125:430 N 20 '71 100w

Reviewed by W. A. C. Francis
Best Sel 31:317 O 15 '71 900w

Reviewed by Sara Blackburn
Book World p2 Ja 2 '72 $10w

"Barton Krumnagel is the anti-hero of the year. A kind of allegorical figure of vulgarity . . . [his] adventures allow Ustinov to satirize British justice, experimental prisons, hard-hats and street corner Buddhists, ghostwritten memoirs, American lovemaking, and forensic psychiatry, just for openers. Krumnagel himself emerges as a sort of Holy Churl. Ustinov's humor is bitter, and his ear is brilliant. He is preeminently a dramatist, and this novel is a collection of memorable confrontations. The heroes and villains are interchangeable in Krumnagel, as in the 'chaos of the human spirit,' which is the true subject of Ustinov's farrago." F. T.

Harper 243:144 N '71 140w

"[This book] has the same strengths and weaknesses as The Loser [BRD 1961]. There are a number of finely observed portrayals of minor characters, some shrewd comments on national traits, and a keen ear for the niceties of what is said in relation to what is actually meant. Unfortunately, the whole does not mesh into a totally convincing novel. But, overall, Krumnagel provides literate, entertaining pastime reading and thus can be recommended." Norman Horrocks

Library J 96:2548 Ag '71 220w

Reviewed by Martin Levin
N Y Times Bk R p52 N 23 '71 270w

"Mr. Ustinov is a thinking man with a satiric mind and a strong desire to slash out the false in society. Unfortunately, he does not have self-control. Those talents which cause admirers of his appearances on TV talk shows to label him 'raconteur' diminish the impact of his writing. In Krumnagel, Ustinov has picked a target worth shooting, but he weakens his firepower with volleys at side targets that catch his eye as he moves along. . . . As a result one ends up unsatisfied and not quite certain what the author was up to in the first place. Certainly, his literary bite has lost its edge by the end of the novel. . . . Because, Krumnagel is worthy of attention, it merits a reader's impatience." Haskel Frankel

Sat R 54:67 N 13 '71 550w

TLS p1045 S 3 '71 480w

V

VAJTA, VILMOS, ed. The Gospel and unity. 207p $5.95 Augsburg

270.8 Christian unity. Theology
ISBN 0-8066-9430-0 LC 72-135233

This is the "first of a four-volume series being developed by the Lutheran World Federation-sponsored Institute for Ecumenical Research." The six chapters . . . deal with Christian unity in the modern world and . . . [include the] issues of denominationalism, Catholicism vs Protestantism, and fundamentalism's relation to secularism. . . . In all the essays is the theme that the Gospels are the link upon which all future Christian ecumenism must be based." (Library J)

"Why should libraries be interested in adding yet another book to their already extensive, often outmoded, and little read collections on ecumenism, especially one which is only a collection of essays? Only because the book says something new and important, as does the present volume. . . . Because [the authors] take the theology of their own tradition seriously they raise the level of ecumenical dialogue to a level which might make it relevant again. Highly recommended for most collections."

Choice 9:226 Ap '72 100w

"The authors do not settle for the lowest common denominator; their essays say that they cannot be untrue to their faith by passing over in silence those things which separate Christians. Warren A. Quanbeck, the author of the chapter on Roman Catholic and Lutheran relationships, was an observer at Vatican II, and his essay especially shows the depth of his knowledge and love. A well-documented book, troubled at times by language more familiar to the scholar than the lay reader, this would be imperative in all academic collections with any religious emphasis, as well as in larger public libraries." Renate Hayum

Library J 96:3623 N 1 '71 200w

VALDÉS, NELSON P. The Cuban revolution: a research-study guide (1959-1969) by Nelson P. Valdés and Edwin Lieuwen. 230p $7.50; pa $3.95 Univ. of N.Mex. press

016.97291 Cuba—History—Bibliography
SBN 8263-0207-6 LC 76-153937

"The purpose of this Guide is to provide a . . . bibliographical tool for all those interested in developing their interest, pursuing research, or teaching courses on the Cuban revolution. . . . [It] includes bibliographical tools, guide books, documents (including collections), journalists' accounts, eyewitness reports, memoirs, mimeographed reports, dissertations, scholarly monographs, books of every nature on contemporary Cuba, and . . . periodical and newspaper articles. Approximately 40 percent of the titles are in Spanish, 40 per cent in English, and the remaining 20 per cent in various East and West European languages. All items not printed in Roman script have been transliterated." (Intro) Index of authors.

"The collection of materials for this work began in 1959 and over a 10-year period 12,000 items were accumulated. Here [are] almost 4,000 of the most essential . . . arranged into detailed subject categories, with an indispensable author index. The editors have striven to maintain a balance between pro- and anti-revolutionary works, both scholarly and polemical. . . . Although the locations of the specific items are not indicated, the section on research tools contains a list of those libraries in the U.S. holding significant Cuban revolutionary collections, as well as listing the major book dealers of such materials. Should be in all academic libraries of any size."

Choice 8:1164 N '71 130w

"[This is a] welcome addition . . . to the scant reference material on Latin America . . . [and] is obviously meant for specialists, but any student writing a term paper on the Cuban Revolution would find it a marvelous time-saver. . . . [Included also are] useful brief comments by the authors." Mark Falcoff

Library J 96:3113 O 1 '71 60w

VALE, VIVIAN. Labour in American politics. 172p $8 Barnes & Noble

331.88 Labor unions. U.S.—Politics and government
ISBN 389-04088-6 LC 78-27371

This is a "history of organized labor's attempts to function as a political pressure group. Vale analyzes the reasons for American labor's ineptness in politics and occasionally contrasts and compares the political activities of British and American labor." (Library J) Annotated chapter bibliographies. Index.

"Much of the book is about labor leaders and their legacies. . . . It is refreshing to have this view of American labor from the other side of the Atlantic and from one obviously familiar with it." A. C. Breckenridge

Ann Am Acad 399:226 Ja '72 420w

"The analysis of organized labor's hesitancy and ineffectiveness is succinct and helps confirm the traditional views of scholars. Materials in the works of Harry Millis and Emily Brown, Philip Taft, and Joseph Rayback are still valid; but Vale's unified presentation of labor's political activity is useful. The lack of footnotes, failure to consider some recent studies, and lapses in editorial work mar this study, but it still is a worthwhile addition to college library labor collections." J. L. Forsythe
Library J 96:4018 D 1 '71 120w

"Vale has undertaken to tell an extremely complicated story in a simplistic way. This is a pity, for he obviously knows a great deal about labour in American politics and has some intelligent ideas about its problems and its potentialities. Nevertheless a book of this length does not give the author much chance to produce a sophisticated account of the complexities involved. One will not often be misled but one will often be led to judgments on the American labour situation which will not seem totally plausible to some students of American labour history. . . . [This book] is clearly, if not elegantly, written; many of its comments and judgments are highly intelligent. Some of the omissions are, however, serious."

TLS p1213 O 8 '71 650w

VALI, FERENC A. Bridge across the Bosphorus; the foreign policy of Turkey. 410p $12.50 Johns Hopkins press

327.496 Turkey—Foreign relations
ISBN 0-8018-1182-1 LC 79-123197

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by E. C. Clark
Am Hist R 77:1487 D '72 220w

Reviewed by C. M. Dibble
Am Pol Sci R 66:291 Mr '72 1000w

Reviewed by W. B. Bishai
Ann Am Acad 401:164 My '72 650w

Reviewed by Serif Mardin
Pol Sci Q 87:685 D '72 550w
TLS p834 J1 21 '72 1500w

VALLEJO, CESAR ABRAHAM. Neruda and Vallejo. See Bly, R., ed.

VALSECCHI, MARCO. Landscape painting of the 19th century [tr. by Arthur A. Coppotelli]. 387p il col il $30 N.Y. graphic

758 Landscape painting
ISBN 0-8212-0395-9 LC 70-134333

Valsecchi's introductory "essay traces the slow acceptance of the landscape as a major genre of painting to the form's dominant place in the art of the 19th century. He then reproduces, with critical captions, landscapes by 145 painters of the 19th Century, together with . . . excerpts from the literature of their compatriots [in an attempt to . . . reveal the parallel interests of the writer and the painter in the discovery and description of the landscape. Both the reproductions and the literary excerpts are arranged by the countries of the artists (Great Britain, France, Italy, Austria, Germany, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Norway, Russia, and the U.S.). (Library J) Bibliography. Index. Originally published in Italian.

"Although the examination of U.S. landscape painting is rather abbreviated, it is most rewarding to have considered 19th-century landscape painting in [European countries]. The profuse illustrations (336) are of the highest quality. Individual biographies [are provided]. . . . Valsecchi, an Italian art critic of note, has compiled a unique, comprehensive, and lucid text which has been faithfully and precisely translated. Unequivocally, a must for every library."

Choice 8:1581 F '72 170w

"This impressive work . . . is exceptionally authoritative; the reproductions are of high quality; and the book is handsomely designed." M. E. Landgren

Library J 97:63 Ja 1 '72 110w

VAN ALLEN, JUDITH, jt. auth. Food pollution. See Marine, G.

VAN ASH, CAY. Master of villainy; a biography of Sax Rohmer, by Cay Van Ash and Elizabeth Sax Rohmer; ed. with foreword, notes, and bibliography, by Robert E. Briney. 312p il $10; pa $4 Bowling Green univ. popular press

B or 92 Ward, Arthur Sarsfield
LC 76-186636

This is an "account of Sax Rohmer's trips to Egypt, his marriage, his two love affairs, his occult experiences, and his theater writings and his novels—mainly the Fu Manchu novels." (Choice) Bibliography of the books of Sax Rohmer.

"[This] is a very enjoyable anecdotal account. . . . The anecdotes, though probably exaggerated, are amusing. Since Van Ash thinks Rohmer a major writer, a good stylist, the criticism here is minor. . . . The origin of the Sax Rohmer pseudonym from Anglo-Saxon is given—'blade roamer'—but not the point, that it refers to a 'freelance' writer. Recommended for popular undergraduate reading and (with reservations about the criticism) for popular culture collections."

Choice 9:1134 N '72 190w

"In preparation for the inevitable resurfacing of Dr. Fu Manchu on the campus, libraries of all types might consider this delightful and thoroughly fascinating tale of the man who created the archetypal Oriental villain. Rohmer's literary protégé and his widow have a fondness for 'recalling' dramatic dialogues, but this merely whets one's interest in a man who was, at the same time, an ardent British patriot who abhorred the Great War, a mystic fascinated by ancient Egypt, a talented artist, a gentleman of fastidious personal tastes, and a total naïf in the handling of money. . . . The writing is smooth and the reading is easy. Included is a complete bibliography of Rohmer's work from 1910 until his death in 1959." M. K. Smith

Library J 97:2723 S 1 '72 140w

VAN DEN BERGHE, PIERRE L. Race and ethnicity; essays in comparative sociology. 312p $7.95 Basic bks.

301.451 Race problems
ISBN 0-465-06798-0 LC 77-126954

"This collection of sixteen essays compares patterns of racial and ethnic relations under four broad headings: 'General and Theoretical' (five essays); 'The Americas' (three essays); 'South Africa' (six essays); 'The Indian Diaspora' (two essays). The contributions were written over a period of twelve years, the earliest entry having been published in 1957." (Contemp Sociol) 'Index'. (Library J)

"The chapters, if read chronologically rather than in the order of presentation in the book, enable the reader to follow to some degree the evolution of van den Berghe's thought away from the functionalist approach toward the conflict model of plural societies. . . . It is a contention of the author that American students of racial and ethnic relations have too often been blinded by the problems and the perspectives of this society, and a major goal of the comparative approach, of course, is to counteract this tendency. This goal is fulfilled well in this book. Although a number of the essays are essentially descriptive of race and ethnicity in a specific setting, the author quite dependably attempts to interpret the particular in a broader context. This collection provides a useful and convenient sourcebook for students of this field." J. S. Vandiver

Contemp Sociol 1:148 Mr '72 900w

"The author, professor of sociology at the University of Washington, presents a collection of papers published over the past dozen years, studies resulting from research in the Congo, South Africa, East Africa, Mexico, and Guatemala. Each study is of an expression of intercultural conflict growing inevitably out of white domination over darker-skinned indigenous peoples. Because of its comparative approach, this work constitutes a valuable contribution to the understanding of the nature of race relations. A timely book for the 1970's."

Harold Lancour

Library J 96:201 Ja 15 '71 90w

VANDERBILT, AMY. Amy Vanderbilt's etiquette; drawings by Fred McCarroll, Mary Suzuki [and] Andy Warhol. 929p il $7.95; thumb indexed $8.95 Doubleday

395 Etiquette
LC 78-171326

A revision of the book on etiquette originally published in 1952 (BRD 1952) by the American socialite and columnist. Index.

"The matters that offended me most were on the general subject of women. I could perhaps have ignored such obviously indefensible dicta as 'No woman can find happiness in putting career above her husband and family' . . . but I was offended by the tone of the whole volume: scorn for the liberated woman, or the woman attempting her own liberation, or working for the liberation of others. To Amy Vanderbilt manners are not only knowing what to do, but also knowing your place. . . . There is a useful word not on Amy's list of intellect-increasing foreign words and phrases that, it seems to me she should add: Basta!"

New Repub 166:25 Ap 29 '72 1300w

"Certainly the most practical value to be found [here] is in the detailing of those ceremonies where certain accepted expressions of etiquette are called for: births, marriages, parties, dinners, deaths, etc. . . . There is, however, a certain amount of misrepresentation implied in the touting of [this] book . . . in that [the author] pretends this edition deals adequately with the social upheavals of the sixties and seventies. . . . One has the impression . . . that Miss Vanderbilt's revision has reached only as far as the etiquette of the fifties and so the book will provide less a practical guide to current manners than an exercise in nostalgia. . . . But one shouldn't be too harsh; nor should one consider Miss Vanderbilt's work as merely a handbook for parvenus. Can anyone truly fault Amy Vanderbilt for trying to bring out the best in all of us?" C. D. B. Bryan

N Y Times Bk R p27 Mr 19 '72 1850w

VANDERHOOF, JACK. A bibliography of novels related to American frontier and colonial history. 501p $15 Whitston

016.813 Historical fiction--Bibliography.
American fiction--Bibliography
ISBN 0-87875-007-X LC 70-150333

"The time span for [the author's] listing of fictionalized accounts begins with the discovery and exploration of America, including both the Viking and Columbus versions, and continues to the present day. The Civil War era is excluded because it is covered by another bibliography. Sixty-three bibliographical and critical works provide data for the 6439 novels listed and described." (Library J)

Am Lit 43:682 Ja '72 50w

"VanDerhoof's definition of frontier history encompasses all events resulting from the clash of savagery with civilization. . . . References from pseudonyms and variant forms of proper names are plentiful. Whereas annotations for most novels published after 1900 are provided, their usefulness is seriously curtailed by the lack of a subject index. One irritating point about the book's production must be noted here—proper names and nouns are not capitalized in title transcriptions. Nevertheless, VanDerhoof's effort should aid future studies of the American historical novel." R. S. Fraser

Library J 96:2297 Jl '71 130w

VAN DER LINDE, POLLY. Around the world in 80 dishes, by Polly and Tasha van der Linde; pictures by Horst Lemke. 85p $5.25 Scroll press

641.5 Cookery--Juvenile literature
LC 71-160447

"Fifty-three recipes are given, ranging in difficulty from boiled eggs to lasagna or sweet and sour chicken, marked with one to four stars to show difficulty. . . . The table of contents and page edges are color coded. . . . Ingredients are framed, with directions in numbered steps listed outside. . . . Grades three to six." (Library J)

"The number of people each dish will serve is not given. Large watercolors decorate and unfortunately dominate each page; some are cheerful, others sickening, e.g., a smiling pig whose back end has already been turned into a sausage. . . . More space should have been used for larger, easier-to-read type. The 8- and 10-year-old authors are either very sophisticated or their parents helped quite a lot, nevertheless, recipe selection and directions are just right for the intended age group who probably won't bother to read the superfluous introductions to each section or the message from the authors' parents. A satisfactory addition if you already have [I.] Rombauer's A Cookbook for Girls and Boys [BRD 1947] or Kids Cooking [BRD 1970] by Aileen Paul." Evelyn Stewart

Library J 97:1917 My 15 '72 180w

"Noting with exquisite aplomb that 'we are GREAT and you can be, too!', Polly and Tasha van der Linde, aged 10 and 8, assure the novice that 'if you do something wrong, that's okay. The food won't get mad at you, and advocate such common sense as 'Wear an apron—it makes your mother feel better.' The book is full not only of engaging kiddy jokes, but also of surprisingly good and varied dishes—everything from simple snacks to complicated minestrone. Most of the food is real, and the only seeming abomination is an American holiday cake of frozen juice, jello powder and a mix. . . . The light-hearted and lively illustrations indicate with what pleasure Horst Lemke read the text; and, oh yes, the authors are related to Tasha Tudor." M. L. Magid

N Y Times Bk R p8 N 21 '71 150w

VAN DER LINDE, TASHA, jt. auth. Around the world in 80 dishes. See Van der Linde, P.

VAN DER POST, LAURENS. African cooking; by Laurens van der Post and the eds. of Time-Life bks; phot. by Brian Seed and Richard Jeffery. (Foods of the world) 208p maps $6.50 Time; for sale to schools and libs. by Silver

641.5 Cookery, African
LC 77-119620

The author "includes history and social customs as well as recipes, and covers Ethiopia, the new nations, highlands of East Africa, Portuguese Africa, the Cape, and something of the French-Dutch influence." (Library J) A separate spiral bound recipe book accompanies the main volume, and contains all the 37 recipes in the main volume, plus 83 more, and a glossary of African cooking terms. The main volume contains separate English and foreign recipe indexes, and a general index.

"[This volume] carries the usual built-in rave review that all of the series boasts, it has grace and flavor. . . . The recipes are most interesting. Here we find curried brawn, yam paste balls, spiced collards with butter-milk curds, banana jam, pineapple fritters with peanut-frangipane cream, a dazzling tangerine and ginger custard, and a number of delectable Afrikaans pastries." Nora Magid

Book World p6 F 20 '72 170w

"This is an outstanding African cookbook by a man who was born and reared in South Africa. . . . [It presents] 'one man's view of a part of Africa—very special, very personal and, of course, far from comprehensive. . . . [It] omits Mediterranean coastal countries and the cooking influences of Latin America, the Caribbean, and the U.S. Compared with . . . [Beal] Sandler's African Cookbook [BRD 1971], and [Harval] Hachten's Kitchen Safari [BRD 1971], van der Post's is by far the best illustrated and includes much more history and geography, which will be of interest to those studying the country. . . . Recommended for all public and college libraries." Neva White

Library J 95:2917 S 15 '70 230w

VAN DER POST, LAURENS. A story like the wind. 370p $7.95 Morrow

LC 76-182968

This novel focuses on "the life of a 13-year-old boy, living on [Hunter's Drift,] a farm in South Africa. Francois Joubert inhabits a world of indigenous heroes, from whom he absorbs a rich store of tribal myth and jungle lore. His father, a teacher, is a self-made exile from his government's racism, and from him the boy derives a respect for Africa's ancient folkways. Under the tutelage of 'Bamuthi, a Matabele herdsman, and Mopani Theron, a legendary game warden, Francois learns to make his way in the bush with assurance. [The boy is] . . . involved in the destiny of Xhabbo, a bushman whom [he] rescues from a lion trap, and who, in turn, has the opportunity to repay his debt." (N Y Times Bk R)

"[The author has] a naturalist's talent and taste for clear perception, that gives to many of his descriptive passages a vigorous realism. . . . Before a foreshadowed climax reveals Hunter's Drift to have been a fool's paradise, we are given ample time to appreciate it for the paradise it was. It is this time, in fact, which occupies the greatest portion of the book: a time of quickening sympathies and tensions between whites and blacks, men and beasts, civilization and wilderness. This time is Francois Joubert's life. Replete with episodes of an old-fashioned boy's book, it is full of the kinds of experiences, bitter and sweet, that make life and growth inseparable." James Gaffney

America 127:241 S 30 '72 600w

Reviewed by E. A. Dooley

Best Sell 32:345 N 1 '72 600w

Reviewed by Clive Lawrance

Christian Science Monitor p23 N 29 '72 650w

Reviewed by Robert Stenzel

Library J 97:3729 N 15 '72 150w

"'A Story Like the Wind' is magic. It evokes the legendary, 'Merlinesque' Africa the author knew as a child, and sets it on a collision course with contemporary realities. . . . From the experience of the bushman, a member of a dying race, Mr. van der Post extracts a moral for the rest of mankind." Martin Levin

N Y Times Bk R p46 O 22 '72 200w

"Mysticism may not always have unpleasant political associations, but the mysticism of white Africans about Africa often does. In the case of van der Post, the manipulation of Jungian symbolism has often appeared to be simply a personal quirk, to be overlooked in one who writes so very pleasantly. In his latest book, unfortunately, the general line of his thinking about Africa and Africans is rather more obtrusive. [This novel] revives the genre of African adventure novels. . . . It has all the classic elements. . . . And there are the staple crises. . . . The political message is also there. . . . [But] the political overtones . . . impinge on what is otherwise a rattling good yarn in a rather outworn tradition. So far as the mystical yearning goes, one can, of course, take it or leave it in novels of this sort."

TLS p650 Je 9 '72 750w

VAN DYKE, JON M. North Vietnam's strategy for survival; with a foreword by Edwin O. Reischauer. 336p maps $10.95 Pacific bks.

959.704 Vietnam (Democratic Republic, 1946-). Vietnamese Conflict, 1961- —Aerial operations

ISBN 0-87015-191-6 LC 75-88378

"This book describes the responses of the North Vietnamese to three and one half years of steady bombing of the U.S., from early 1965 to late 1968" and "the failure of the U.S. to achieve its objectives in the bombing." . . . [Topics] covered are: shelters, evacuation of populated areas, camouflage, instant repair of transportation media, economic decentralization and industrial dispersal, political mobilization, and foreign aid." (Choice) Index.

"[The book is] written by a law professor not extensively acquainted with North Vietnam or the Vietnamese language. . . . Van Dyke uses mainly Western sources or U.S. Joint Publications Research Service's Translations on North Vietnam's economy—sources of varying degrees of reliability—to painstakingly reconstruct a generally credible picture, abundant with details. . . . No bibliography, but 70 pages of unwieldy notes. . . . Scattered misspellings and lack of consistency in spelling of Vietnamese names. Audience limited to researchers on North Viet-Nam and U.S. bombing effects. High degree of objectivity throughout text, to the point of dullness."

Choice 9:1044 O '72 210w

"The work lacks the emotional impact of eyewitness descriptions, and its emphasis on organization and practical aspects makes it read like a handbook. For the specialist, Van Dyke has made a major contribution to that arcane, but tremendously significant debate about the use of U.S. air power in Southeast Asia." D. D. Buck

Library J 97:1302 Ap 1 '72 260w

VANEK, JAROSLAV. The participatory economy; an evolutionary hypothesis and a strategy for development. 181p $6.50 Cornell univ. press

658.31 Employees' representation in management

ISBN 0-8014-0639-0 LC 77-148024

"In a companion volume to The General Theory of Labor-Managed Market Economies [BRD 1971] . . . the author makes available to general readers the results of his research on an economic system . . . in which employees manage their own enterprises and share all the income. In his new book, Professor Vanek summarizes the . . . analysis presented in the earlier work and expands the scope to include the social, political, and philosophical aspects of such a system. He places the participatory economy in a . . . theory of social evolution and suggests how it can work to solve the problems of economic development." (Publisher's note) Index.

"[This work] presents a closely argued case for workers' management and income sharing out of a deep conviction that the subject . . . is most important and timely, and that the key points made in it are true. . . . Vanek is at his most eloquent when describing the manifestations, as he sees them, of disequilibrium in capitalism—including conflict and incomplete personality of the worker-input. While much of his argument under this heading is valid, the view is somewhat one-sided, despite the positive and negative aspects [he assigns] to the system for the fulfillment of the necessary equilibrium condition of political self-determination in the 1950s. . . . [This] is an important book, one that is bound to sharpen thought and stimulate controversy. It represents . . . a significant contribution to the literature of comparative systems." J. S. Prybyla

Ann Am Acad 399:251 Ja '72 850w

"The convergence theory has not been notably popular among economists who specialize in the analysis of comparative economic systems; consequently, one approaches with caution a book which purports to have discovered 'the wave of the future.' . . . Yugoslavia, of course, is the one national economy in the world today which approximates the labor-managed economy. To this extent, the empirical base for Vanek's conclusions suffers from the absence of a broad foundation. Theoretically, he builds on firmer ground . . . erecting a theory of social evolution with the tools of general equilibrium analysis. This is a significant book. . . . Nontechnical in its exposition, it should receive the widest possible audience among economists and laymen alike. Suitable and recommended for all libraries."

Choice 8:1366 D '71 230w

"A knowledge of simple economics is sufficient for understanding this well-organized and clearly written work. While some may be skeptical about Vanek's great emphasis on Yugoslavia, the book remains valuable not only for students of economics, but also for those seeking a general knowledge of the social sciences." H. H. Bernt

Library J 96:2079 Je 15 '71 200w

VAN GREENAWAY, PETER. The Judas gospel. 239p $6.95 Atheneum pubs.

Judas Iscariot—Fiction

LC 72-84260

"In this novel a Dead Sea scroll turns up which 'proves' that Peter, not Judas, betrayed Christ—and a lot of Vatican villainy ensues in efforts to keep the scandalous 'truth' under wraps." (Christian Century)

Reviewed by Tom McKenna

America 127:299 O 14 '72 400w

Reviewed by S. J. Laut

Best Sell 32:300 O 1 '72 500w

Christian Century 89:905 S 13 '72 40w

Reviewed by Pamela Marsh

Christian Science Monitor p13 S 13 '72 300w

Reviewed by H. C. Veit

Library J 97:3186 O 1 '72 100w

"There is really no need in 1972 to be so wilfully anti-clerical. . . . A ruthless Dominican, for example, appropriates the scroll for the safety of Mother Church, bumping off everyone who knows of it (he thinks.) His success as a murderer turns sour on him. Exploiting sci-fi impossibilities with the thrills of suspension, the book is exciting and intriguing; but to attack the Church (or to attack anything) on imaginary evidence is a misuse of fiction, a tasteless and unnecessary dose of scurrility, all the worse here because real talent is squandered." Douglas Dunn

VAN GREENAWAY, PETER—Continued

New Statesman 33:756 Je 2 '72 200w

"The idea is startling, and Greenaway handles it with real virtuosity. He knows how to build up suspense; he sees sympathetically into people and their motivations; and he has come up with a spellbinder. There is not only plenty of action; there also is a commentary on revealed wisdom as opposed to 20th-century skepticism. [This book] can be read on several levels, and all of them are absorbing." Newgate Callendar

N Y Times Bk R p45 S 17 '72 250w

"[This] is a brisk, tough and intellectually provocative novel. . . . For many Christians, the Van Greenaway Judas will not only seem bizarre but blasphemous. . . . Yet [the author's] anticlericalism is usually witty, and only occasionally foolish. The conception of Judas as hero evolves, moreover, with . . . ambiguity, leaving the reader to ponder the author's real intent. For while Judas begins as a humanist hero and Della Paresi is clearly a villain, it becomes progressively clear just how much Judas, the political revolutionary, and this unscrupulous priest resemble each other. They . . . see themselves as saviors of mankind but scorn all other men and other men's laws." Mayo Mohs

Time 100:87 O 9 '72 400w

VAN LEEUWEN, AREND THEODOOR. See Leeuwen, A. T. van*VAN LOON, GERARD WILLEM. The story of Hendrik Willem van Loon. 399p pl $10 Lippincott

B or 92 Van Loon, Henrik Willem
ISBN 0-397-00844-9 LC 74-37131

This account of the life and career of Hendrik van Loon describes "his beginnings in Holland; . . . his education at Cornell, Harvard, and Munich; his first marriage to a Boston Bowditch (and a succession of other wives, mistresses, and assorted lady friends); his frequent trips around Europe; his work as a journalist and as a teacher . . . and the coming of fame with his books on mankind, Rembrandt, ships and the arts. . . . [The author also discusses his father's early Pro-Germanism in World War I and his . . . detestation of Nazism in World War II." (Library J) List of published works of Hendrik Willem van Loon. Index.

"One of the remarkable qualities of this biography is the author's objectivity which was surely a difficult achievement because of the close blood relationship, even though this relationship was not a typical father-son bond. The author has, however, written with grace, humor, and sensitivity. . . . This is a book which one can with pleasure recommend to friends and which deserves a place in all public libraries." Sister M. R. Weir

Best Sell 32:261 S 1 '72 650w

"This objective but compassionate biography by his son illustrates vividly the humor, genius, and irrational behavior of van Loon, and also recreates those marvelous literary circles of the Twenties and Thirties in which van Loon alternately enthralled and then exasperated such friends as Albert Einstein, Sinclair Lewis, Fiorello La Guardia, H. G. Wells, Van Wyck Brooks, and Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt. Gerard Willem van Loon's style is entertainingly fast-paced, yet informatively detailed, making this biography a valuable addition to college libraries."

Choice 9:1118 N '72 150w

"'Fascinating' is misapplied to many books; it fits this one perfectly. Hendrik Willem emerges as a complex and talented man—an actor manqué determined to upstage everyone in sight, a supreme egocentric, yet a generous and, in some ways, a sensitive individual. . . . [The author] shares the wit and phrase-turning ability of his father. . . . A full, satisfying picture—with warts—of a vital personality, with much to say about the times in which he lived." L. W. Griffin

Library J 97:1706 My 1 '72 170w

"I do not envy the task Gerard van Loon set himself in writing about his father, for he was faced with the problem of how much to tell, how many skeletons to bring out of the closet, and how much pain to inflict on himself. Wisely, I think, Gerard decided to hold back nothing, or almost nothing. . . . The result is an admirably candid, altogether absorbing portrait. . . . Hendrik Willem's son has not tried to re-create a famous man, nor a profound writer, nor a perfect father; but, with clear-eyed affection, he has recounted a man's life in all its baffling complexities, in all its awkwardness, in all its few better moments. He has done this, moreover, with commendable skill and considerable style." Alden Whitman

Sat R 55:73 My 20 '72 1050w

VANN, SARAH K. The Williamson reports; a study. 212p $6 Scarecrow

020 Library education—U.S. Carnegie Corporation of New York. Library schools
ISBN 0-8108-0375-5 LC 75-149992

This is an "analysis of the origin, purpose, and nature of the [Williamson Reports of 1921 and 1923]. [It] . . . provides perspective on Williamson's findings and recommendations . . . [and] upon the evolution of the modern library school in the United States." (Library Q)

"The Study, in spite of its elaborate attention to every detail of its subject, is no pious memorial. In fact, Dr. Vann's commentary serves more to debunk the Williamson Report than to praise it. Indeed, one may plausibly infer that Dr. Vann's prime motive in producing her Study was to correct the common impression regarding Williamson II's novelty and impact. . . . The Study will basically appeal only to those 'insiders' who already have some background in the subject. To such an audience, however, not only the main points, but even many of the details which Dr. Vann has so assiduously brought out will be a matter of relish. . . . Although . . . [her] style is hardly sprightly, her Study makes surprisingly good reading." Samuel Rothstein

Library J 97:171 Ja 15 '72 300w

"[Vann's] excellent notes and documentation represent a unique contribution made possible by access to papers from the Williamson, Carnegie Corporation, American Library Association, and Dewey files. . . . [This study is] well-documented, useful, and interesting contribution to the literature of the history of American library education." S. R. Reed

Library Q 42:352 J1 '72 320w

VAN PUYVELDE, L. See Puyvelde, L. van*VAN PUYVELDE, T. See Puyvelde, T. van*VAN ROY, EDWARD. Economic systems of Northern Thailand; structure and change. 289p maps $10 Cornell univ. press

330.9593 Thailand—Economic conditions
ISBN 0-8014-0607-2 LC 70-137394

"Using the interdisciplinary approach, Van Roy presents macrocosmic analysis of socio-economic institutions and technology in the three segments of Northern Thai economy: rice and opium swiddens among the hill tribes, miang production and distribution among the upland Thai, and tea processing and marketing on a modern plantation. An overall view of the upland economic environment of northern Thailand along with prospects for future, have also been presented." (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

"Despite the attractiveness of Van Roy's basic thesis, I have some criticisms about the book. The method of treating each economic system, (and its microcosmic and macrocosmic aspects) separately, leads to a great deal of repetitiveness. Nowhere are the threads really pulled together or analyzed in a thorough-going model. Generally, too, the fieldwork component is thin and there are few in-depth pictures of people or social relations. Although Van Roy makes his substantivist point well, there is much confusion about the role of technology. . . . [And] Van Roy probably does not push his institutional arguments far enough. . . . However, [the] book is essential reading for students of Asian rural economies, and an important addition to the growing literature critical of Western, ethnocentric economic models." D. C. Pitt

Am Anthropol 74:881 Ag '72 750w

"A welcome addition to the scanty literature on social structure and economic development of Thailand. . . . A specialized study and useful only for graduate students interested in economic development and anthropology in general and Thailand in particular. Well documented."

Choice 8:1060 O '71 100w

"This is the kind of study in depth that is really instructive and it is handled with admirable skill and control. . . . Occasionally the author's analysis seems rather ill-informed about traditional economic concepts; for example he seems to think that a 'given' technology means a point on a production function rather than the function as a whole; but these are minor irritants; the economic analysis generally shows many insights from which other economists should profit. . . . If there is some over-enthusiasm for one crop [tea], this is acceptable from one who has enlightened us so fully about it. There is too much sociological jargon for a book meant for a wide audience."

T. H. Silcock

Pacific Affairs 45:466 fall '72 300w

VAN TASSEL, ALFRED J., ed. Environmental side effects of rising industrial output. See Environmental side effects of rising industrial output

VAN ZANDT, ROLAND, comp. Chronicles of the Hudson; three centuries of travelers' accounts. 369p il col il $20 Rutgers univ. press

917.47 Hudson River. Hudson Valley—Description and travel
ISBN 0-8135-0614-X LC 73-152722

In this anthology of 22 pieces, "Hudson River travel from 1607 to 1905 is treated, with attention given in varied degrees to aesthetics, geology, and social, economic, military, and transportation history." (Library J) Index.

Reviewed by Timothy Severin
Book World p9 Ja 2 '72 1250w

"[A] stout and attractive volume. . . . It is necessarily and wisely selective. . . . Explanatory notes are complete and scholarly. Well indexed. While compilations normally are only of limited service to scholars, this volume is of more than ordinary usefulness. Furthermore, it is attractively printed and the reproductions are excellent. As the only work of its kind on the Hudson it should be in most college libraries."

Choice 8:1640 F '72 110w

"Van Zandt's love for the Hudson is obvious from his informative introductions to the writings. My favorite pieces are Swedish naturalist Peter Kalm's description of the Albany area in 1749, N. P. Willis' 1854 account of a train ride from Fishkill to New York City delayed by a snow storm, and Charles Farnham's colorful narrative of his 1880 canoe voyage on the upper river. Fanny Kemble, Harriet Martineau, and Henry James are some of the better known authors also included. There is a judicious selection of 42 prints and 7 maps placed adjacent to the appropriate text. The 42 pages of back notes are helpful and interesting, but somewhat inconvenient to consult as the size and shape of the book make it unwieldy. [The volume] should be widely available." R. W. Fromm

Library J 97:499 F 1 '72 180w

Reviewed by John Seelye
N Y Times Bk ■ p6 Jl 30 '72 300w

VARESE, LOUISE. Varèse: a looking-glass diary; v 1: 1883-1928. 290p il $8.95 Norton
B or 92 Varèse, Edgard
ISBN 0-393-07461-7 LC 74-139392

"Edgard Varèse is the composer who, in 1916, hungered for sounds that would eventually be provided by electronic instruments. He rejected traditional form, and as a conductor he played advanced music. Now, seven years after his death, his widow has completed the first of two biographical volumes." (N Y Times Bk R) Index.

"This fascinating memoir by Edgar Varèse's widow . . . [is] a lengthy, affectionate, and lively recollection of the composer. . . . No musical analyses will be found here, but much intense and sensitive perception of what Varèse was as man and musician. Especially interesting is the account of the six stormy seasons of the International Composers' Guild. The book's abrupt ending stimulates the appetite for Volume II. Highly recommended." Dika Newlin

Library J 97:677 F 15 '72 90w

"[One will need this valuable account] for looking up almost anything about Varèse. . . . Based on diaries covering a half-century of life together and brought into vigor through a poet's power to relive the past, [it] is a delight. . . . Mrs. Varèse's volume . . . stops short of the 1928 return to Paris and the composer's firm rebuff there by the musical power-set." Virgil Thomson

N Y Rev of Books 19:19 Ag 31 '72 1000w

"Not a musician, psychologist or historian, but a woman who loved her husband very much, [Mrs. Varèse] tells the story without attempting to explain it. Still, she has given plenty of clues. . . . The first half of the book deals with Varèse up to 1917, before he met the author, Louise Norton. She was then separated from her first husband. At this point the narrative really springs to life, for the author now relies on memory rather than on information which, even though it came from Varèse himself, is nevertheless, secondhand." Joan Peyser

N Y Times Bk ■ p3 Ap 23 '72 1000w

A VARIORUM commentary on the poems of John Milton; v2. The minor English poems [by] A. S. P. Woodhouse and Douglas Bush [Merritt Y. Hughes, general editor]. 2v in 3pts ea $15 Columbia univ. press

321 Milton, John

ISBN 0-231-08880-9 (pt 1); 0-231-08881-7 (pt2); 0-231-08882-5 (pt3) LC (70-129962)

"In addition to providing interpretative criticism, the variorum commentary provides information of all kinds, from the history and meaning of words to the history and meaning of ideas. . . . [Part One] deals with various minor poems, including On the Morning of Christ's Nativity, L'Allegro and Il Penseroso; Part Two covers Milton's sonnets, Arcades and Lycidas; and Part Three is concerned with Comus and Milton's translation of the Psalms. Part Three also includes a . . . review, by Edward Weismiller, of prosodic studies of the minor poems." (Publisher's note) Chronology in volume one. Bibliographical index in volume two, part three. For volume one see BRD 1971.

"This monumental variorum edition should be on the shelves of all college libraries. . . . Nothing like it is likely to come along again soon . . . and though perfectionists may quibble over some inclusions and exclusions, Miltonists at all levels are grateful for the vast wealth of information and scholarly illumination made available in Volume II."

Choice 9:1134 N '72 120w

"The appearance of the Variorum Commentary . . . has been long awaited. It is . . . an event of the expected magnitude. . . . Almost a thousand pages of commentary are needed for poems which in the 1673 edition occupy no more than 160 pages. Such figures remind us that a collection which includes Comus and Lycidas is scarcely to be described as minor poetry. . . . The Variorum takes the Columbia text for granted, and the commentary on the Latin poems has left relatively open the question of how the editors would respond when textual changes had aesthetic consequences. The present volume wisely deals with all such variants. . . . Less satisfying is the way the Variorum handles commentary on the principle minor poems. The way chosen is an article-by-article summary in the order of publication. The summaries themselves are so judicious that even the authors could not improve upon them. . . . But the reader looking for information on the dissections in Lycidas, or on the 'real subject' of the poem . . . would have no alternative but to read all eighty pages."

TLS p1162 S 29 '72 1250w

"The late Professor Woodhouse's 'substantial, precise, and judicious' work, as his colleague describes it, has been edited, extended, and arranged by Professor Bush to form a truly authoritative variorum. Volume II, matching the scholarship of the preceding volume but overgoing it in size and interest. . . . [includes] a solid essay (by Edward R. Weismiller) on the verse forms in the minor English poems."

Va Q R 48:cxxxiii autumn '72 130w

VARLEY, H. PAUL. Imperial restoration in medieval Japan. (Columbia univ. East Asian inst. study) 222p $8 Columbia univ. press

952 Japan—History
ISBN 0-231-03502-0 LC 73-124573

This is an "examination of the transition from rule by courtiers to rule by warriors in early medieval Japan, a development which reached its climax in the Kemmu Restoration of 1333-36. Professor Varley first presents an . . . analysis of this period of transition. Then, in the second part of his book, he offers a historiographical study of changing attitudes on the part of later generations of Japanese toward the Restoration and the ensuing period of dynastic schism or 'war between the courts' that lasted from 1336 to 1392." (Publisher's note) Chronology. Glossary. Bibliography. Index.

"Although somewhat discursive, Varley . . . presents a sound judicious account. But, as he states, he deals with the 'superstructure,' the intellectual and political developments at the upper level. This is [the account's] chief weakness. The political conflicts of this era cannot be understood without a clear picture of the landholding configuration. What is needed is a positivistic, quantitative study of the economic underpinning, not a literati's approach. Nonetheless, an important addition to the growing list of studies on the imperial court. Of interest to specialists and libraries with special emphasis on Japan."

Choice 8:1500 Ja '72 170w

Reviewed by J. S. Brownlee
Pacific Affairs 45:111 spring '72 450w

"[Varley's scholarly study of] the Imperial restoration in medieval Japan [is] . . . a fascinating essay on the period when the Japanese imperial institution was split in two. The handling of this in education in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries forms the most illuminating part of this volume for the European reader."

TLS p524 My 5 '72 250w

"To most casual students of Japanese history, the term 'restoration' means univocally the accession of the Emperor Meiji in 1868. But there was a much earlier attempt to restore the Imperial power to its 'proper' locus. Oddly enough, this fourteenth-century restoration had repercussions in 1945 when General MacArthur received a letter from one Kumazawa Banzō, who claimed to be the rightful ruler of Japan. Professor Varley's book is a thoroughly readable account of this little-known aspect of Japanese history."

Va Q R 47:clxxxiv autumn '71 80w

VARLEY, H. PAUL. Samurai [by] H. Paul Varley; with Ivan and Nobuko Morris. 135p il $4.50 Delacorte press

952 Japan—History. Japan—Civilization
LC 77-133539

The author "traces the evolution of the samurai caste from its origins to modern times and analyzes its effects on Japan's history over the past thousand years." (Publisher's note) Chronology. Bibliography. Index.

"Despite the title the reader learns little about the samurai's way of life, values, or characteristics. The authors . . . present a sketchy account of the feudal warriors' role in Japanese political history . . . interspersed with tales, anecdotes, historical incidents, and elaborations of some aspects of samurai life, but these fail to enliven the pace or give the book any dramatic force. The book's skimpiness is seen in the fact that over one-third of the textual segment is given over to illustrations. . . . Clearly not intended for college use; perhaps of some value to high school students."

Choice 9:266 Ap '72 140w

"The subject of samurai, their attitudes, the culture which reared them, and the relevance of all this to modern Japanese people is one which recurs in any treatment of Japan, and all teachers can be grateful for a good book that brings much material together for systematic study. However, this one is short and far from exhaustive in time-span or topics. Most of it is about medieval samurai. . . . The main value of the work is in these anecdotes, which can be dramatized for effect, expanded, and extrapolated. . . . The relevance of samurai to modern times is asserted but not explored much past the opening description of the February Mutiny of 1936. The book is profusely illustrated with striking plates and sketches, and is worth every cent of its price." J. S. Brownlee

Pacific Affairs 45:288 summer '72 300w

"It is one of the shortcomings of [this] slim volume . . . that, while it covers the well-worn theme of the samurai as warrior, it fails to deal with the other attribute of the ideal samurai, namely the cultivation of learning. However, it must be conceded that the moral values of the samurai derived from his function as a fighting man."

TLS p983 Ag 20 '71 150w

VARNEDOE, J. KIRK T., Jr. auth. The drawings of Rodin. See Elsen, A.

VASSI, MARCO. The stoned apocalypse. 250p $6.95 Trident press

B or 92
SBN 671-27085-0 LC 79-169251

Vassi describes his experiences in New York and California during the 1960's. "In New York he was into marijuana and Marxism, Scientology, and body awareness at the Gurdjieff Foundation. They were the first of [the] . . . scenes that he would make in search of himself. Shortly after he started dropping acid, Vassi dropped out of his job and New York and went to California. . . . Living in crash pads and communes, he turned on to speed and religion, made it with guys and chicks. Vassi's last California 'trip' was as a staff member at a psychiatric hospital." (Publisher's note)

"Vassi tells his story in supercool jargon mixed with literary esoterica. But although, in more skillful hands, his tales might make satisfactory fiction, the book is filled with so much self-delusion and pomposity it barely holds together as an autobiography." Gloria Gehrman

Library J 97:1315 Ap 1 '72 110w

"This self-centered charmer tells how he took all the late sixties trips . . . and how he finally came back to New York after a stint as attendant in a psycho ward. Everywhere he goes he converts, a kind of Johnny Appleseed of the soul, making girls and boys along the way. Vassi has a genuine narrative gift. Despite his protestations that he was only trying to find himself he is anything but a naïf."

N Y Times Bk R p36 Mr 26 '72 70w

VASSILIKOS, VASSILIS. The photographs; tr. from the Greek by Mike Edwards. 181p $5.95 Harcourt

ISBN 0-15-171800-8 LC 70-139462

"In this novel the metaphor of the photographic image becomes a means by which the hero seeks to comprehend what has happened to him. Time, memory, and an insight into things past take form in the perceptions of Lazarus Lazarides, who is a young poet, a student, and a film maker. After three years' absence, Lazarus returns to his birthplace, Necropolis. The City of the Dead. This is in actuality Salonika. . . . Necropolis has painful associations for Lazarus. Here he lived as a child under the Nazi occupation. Here he became aware of the mean existence and degradation of the poor. But in Necropolis he also discovered love as a persistent force in life. He returns in an attempt to rediscover and re-create the intensity of that love—it represents for him an 'ultimate consciousness.'" (Publisher's note)

Reviewed by Phoebe Adams

Atlantic 227:114 My '71 50w

"It may give you some idea of the profound symbolic depths plumbed in this [novel] . . . when you realize that it is set in the Greek city of Necropolis and the hero's name—are you ready?—is Lazarus. The book is just chock-full of heavy stuff like that, some of it almost as good. . . . Some interesting things happened to [Lazarus] when he was a cat. After he turns back into a person, the novel is all downhill. It is like a hangover, unpleasant but not very interesting, and one can scarcely wait for it to get itself over with. Fans of Hermann Hesse will probably love it. Everyone else will have a hard time staying awake." L. J. Davis

Book World p2 My 9 '71 240w

"[This is a] highly compressed, colorful novel. . . . The inevitable focus on abstractions draws attention away from some wonderfully concrete metaphoric scenes: a train journey that becomes an ironic panorama of modern Greece; a fantasy scene wherein the narrator imagines himself a cat prowling the ruins of history of Israel, its institutions, and culture; the Dead Sea scrolls; biblical archaeology; and the history of religions in the ancient Near East." (Library J)

VAUX, ROLAND DE—Continued

"Biblical scholars and seminary students will welcome this one volume anthology of learned essays which resemble in their own way some of the archeological soundings that are described in the book—neatly cut, deep, layered and exciting for those who are patient enough to sherd a 'tel.'" E. S. Stanton

America 126:548 My 20 '72 70w

"The essays include many fresh insights and original contributions to our understanding of the Old Testament in its cultural context. The breadth and accuracy of scholarship, the mature judgment, and the clarity of presentation combine to make this a particularly valuable volume for both the student and the scholar."

R. V. Ritter

Library J 96:4020 D 1 '71 170w

VAZAKAS, BYRON. Nostalgias for a house of cards; poems. 71p $4.95; pa $1.95 October house

811

SBN 8079-0159-8 LC 73-84566

The writer's fourth book of poems.

"[Vazakas' volume] offers little in the way of change from the poetry of The marble manifesto. Most of the poems are relatively brief, single-stanza, prose statements, sometimes self-important and self-congratulatory, and too often self-consciously portentous. Vazakis avoids rhyme and most other aids to sensuous appeal, leaning heavily instead on consonantal alliteration, which is sometimes extremely effective but at times becomes unmanageable and incomprehensible. The significance of some individual poems is entirely lost because of the impenetrability of the images.... Recommended only for comprehensive collections of recent American verse."

Choice 7:1514 Ja '71 150w

"[In these poems] Vazakas looks inward at the process of change in his own psyche. 'Nostalgia is history.' Each/absent self invades its retrospective/space.' But it takes a good poet to turn introspection into a successful 'monument on the way.' Vazakas does just that as he dramatizes the 'nightmare of sudden death and sudden indigence' with its far-reaching consequences on his own childhood.... What at first appears to be free verse in many poems turns out to be a surprisingly consistent iambic pentameter line, disguised and disciplined to serve the poem's intention.... This poetry of remembrance is balanced, urbane and rich in allusion." Eleanor Fitzgibbons

Commonweal 95:477 F 18 '72 170w

VELLACOTT, PHILIP. Sophocles and Oedipus: a study of 'Oedipus Tyrannus' with a new translation. 256p $9.50 Univ. of Mich. press

882 Sophocles—Oedipus Tyrannus

SBN 472-93400-7 LC 77-14513

"The book has a twofold purpose. The first is to provide a detailed account of the play for the use not only of classical students who read it in Greek but also [for those] who have to rely on an English version.... The second purpose is to advance an interpretation of the play [which suggests that it] explores deeply the world of knowing and not-knowing, and shows not only the central character Oedipus, but other characters, particularly Creon and Iocasta, as exhibiting a wide and complex range of awareness, and all providing material for the theme of knowledge as a matter of choice and will." (Publisher's note) Index of lines discussed. Index of subjects discussed.

"[Vellacott] employs the well conceived approach of providing two translations of the Tyrannus, facing each other on opposite pages. One is an admirable verse rendition suitable for dramatic production; the other a literal annotated 'student's translation' in prose.... Specialists in Greek drama as well as non-specialists will find Vellacott's analysis stimulating and a major contribution to contemporary Sophoclean scholarship."

Choice 9:56 Mr '72 170w

"The author lists in all some twenty problems which he found on a close study of the text, lines 794-797 being of central importance.... We are taken line by line right through the play, being given the orthodox interpretation, difficulties arising therefrom, their solution on a 'two-level' interpretation of the play, and the new dramatic significance.... When an argument is so closely developed from countless strands of a line-by-line analysis, nothing less than a counter-argument of similar intricacy is fair; here it is only possible to emphasize that Mr Vellacott presents his case with a studied moderation, a persuasive cogency and a knowledge of his subject which not many can match. Anyone who wishes to make up his mind about the Oedipus Tyrannus will at the very least find this a fascinating and carefully argued exposition of a highly original view."

TLS p1110 S 17 '71 700w

"This is a strange and provocative book.... Vellacott justly claims that it is high time that careful exposition of Greek tragedy be expanded beyond the circle of classical scholars.... [His study] is a virtuoso performance, skilfully argued and elegantly written. Vellacott has been generally accurate in the 'literal' rendering of the text.... [His] sobriety of judgment compels a careful re-examination of the play.... [His] book is frequently illuminating. Especially admirable are the passages on prophecy in Sophocles' time and on the question of divine foreknowledge and human free will. But it is the central theory of a guilty and 'aware' Oedipus that will stimulate the most controversy." Carroll Moulton

Yale R 61:455 Mr '72 1250w

VENTURI, FRANCO. Utopia and reform in the enlightenment. 160p $8.50 Cambridge

320.5 Enlightenment. Political science—History

ISBN 0-521-07845-8 LC 71-123676

The author "examines the extent to which eighteenth-century republicanism derived less from the exemplars of classical antiquity than from the recent history and character of Italian, Flemish, and other communes and of Dutch, Swiss, English, German, and Polish state systems. He then isolates the problems... involved in considering the right to punish... [and discusses] the chronology and geography of the Enlightenment.... Venturi connects the right to punish with the fundamental relationship of individual, society, and property." (Am Hist R) Bibliography. Index.

Reviewed by Caroline Robbins

Am Hist R 77:775 Je '72 450w

"Venturi reviews how politics and ideas throughout Europe were concerned with the ancient ideals of republicanism, prospects for reform, and the desire for defining legal rights.... [He considers the writings of] Montesquieu, English Commonwealth men, Beccaria, et al... regarding penal laws, the right to punish, and republicanism.... Though possessing a first-rate bibliography, index, and footnotes, and an original approach, there are too many untranslated Italian, French, and German quotes and advanced presuppositions except for the most advanced scholars and students. It should be an addition to only the most specialized libraries."

Choice 8:601 Je '71 140w

"As we have learnt to expect from their author, the erudition [the 1969 Trevelyan Lectures] embody is immense and often novel in its direction and revelations.... Professor Venturi has in one respect been badly served by his publishers, because the blurb gives an inadequate and even misleading account of what the book is about.... These lectures may not be widely read, but professional scholars will come back to them again and again for the passages which show Professor Venturi's scholarship in action on the ground. They are packed with indications of material which other scholars have hardly noticed and will have to explore. They are indications drawn, too, from a vast reading which extends to Polish and Russian as well as all the West European languages.... [They are] really a set of meditations on different aspects of his subject by our leading Enlightenment scholar. As such, they will have an enduring place in the literature."

TLS p969 A 13 '71 3000w

VERDI, GIUSEPPE. Letters of Giuseppe Verdi; sel. tr. and ed. by Charles Osborne. 280p il $7.95 Holt

R or 92

ISBN 0-03-086007-5 LC 79-138896

A collection of letters selected mainly from I copialettere (letterbooks in which Verdi kept a copy of all the important letters he wrote; originally published in Italian in 1913). They cover the composer's life from the age of 30 to 87. List of recipients. Index.

"Though Verdi died in 1901, this is only the second book of his letters to be published in this country. His letters are fascinating and delightful. He did not expect them to be published, and he put himself on paper without reserve, in short, vivid sentences. . . . The letters reveal a great artist who was also a great man. . . . As a translator Osborne is erratic. For pages he will match Verdi's vigorous style and then suddenly fall into a morass of words and ugly constructions. . . . As an editor [he] has made some curious decisions. . . . Further, what he has selected he sometimes fails in head- and footnotes to use to best advantage. . . . [The book] does not offer a single photograph or facsimile of a letter. . . . [But the deficiencies] are not fatal. The important thing, after all, is to discover Verdi." George Martin
Book World p15 F 13 '72 800w

"Verdi was simply not at his ease with the written word. True, the letters do help to form some idea of the composer at work, illustrating his constant respect for detailed character, dramatic effect and sheer theatrical common sense. . . . Beyond one or two commonplace observations and some standard mid-century liberal postures, they reveal scant awareness of contemporary life and personages, still less any great fondness for music. Furnished with a biographical introduction and a curiously selective index, the book is clearly intended for the general reader as much as for the musicologist, and we may console ourselves with Mr Osborne's precise and expert editing. . . . [It is] definitely a landmark in Verdi studies." Jonathan Keats
New Statesman 82:337 S 10 '71 850w

Reviewed by W. H. Auden
N Y Rev of Books 18:17 Mr 9 '72
2050w

"Seldom has there been a body of letters so common-sensical, so devoid of padding or self-justification or whining. The man in his life and in his music was always down to earth. . . . [His letters] are sometimes witty; they are tough; they show a great deal of reading; they show the processes of a logical mind, and also the beliefs of a man who at basis was extremely sensitive and big in every way. . . . Throughout the letters are comments on his own operas and operatic approach, and these of course are fascinating. . . . There are surprisingly few remarks about other composers in the Verdi letters, but those judgments that are delivered are sharp. . . . One closes the book with a mental image of the independent little composer, this person of fierce integrity and intellectual honesty, with the feeling that this was a man, a real man, a wonderful man." H. C. Schonberg
N Y Times Bk R p6 Mr 12 '72 1600w

"Osborne has excellently translated a well-chosen collection of nearly 300 letters. . . . The language of [Verdi's] letters has nothing in common with the language of the librettos; it is direct, always honest, sometimes brusque, mingling a strong dose of self-esteem with a dash of self-deprecation, spontaneously enthusiastic yet impatient with the pettiness of others, occasionally despairing. Most of the letters are blunt day-to-day exchanges with those connected with his work, theatre directors, impresarios, publishers . . . librettists . . . musicians and singers. . . . Looking over these letters in his last years Verdi . . . must have felt that they contain more of his spirit and energy than considered memoirs could ever do."

TLS p1587 D 17 '71 260w

VERGILIUS MARO, PUBLIUS. See Virgil

VERNON, GLENN M. Sociology of death; an analysis of death-related behavior. 357p $8.50
Ronald
301.5 Death
LC 74-125837

Vernon has stated the purpose of his book to be an effort "to review the research and the limited amount of theory which has been done, to relate that material to relevant sociological theory, and to integrate it all into an overall perspective which, it is hoped, will help provide a sociological understanding of a most important social process, and of a most important aspect of living—dying." (Contemp Sociol Bibliography.)

"[This book contains] much useful material for the student of this subject. The chapters on 'Dying as a social process' and 'Treatment of the dead in the United States' are of particular interest. The elaborate rituals, expensive funerals, and ascending role of the funeral director and the declining one of the clergyman are well described. . . . While there is a good bibliography and considerable research is indicated by the contents, there are conspicuous weaknesses. There seems also to have been little or no material from the field of nursing. [The book] also suffers from the tendency of many sociologists to over-generalize or oversimplify. . . . Useful for the students in sociology, social work, psychology, the ministry, and medicine."
Choice 8:619 Je '71 200w

"[This book] to some extent is handled as an interpretive monograph. My feeling was that appropriate material was at least touched upon, and in some places it appeared to be somewhat developed. I also felt that the author's claim to have adopted a symbolic interactionist approach was a gimmick which did not seem to improve the overall treatment. . . . [As I began a] careful reading of the book . . . I began to spot statements that seemed to parallel amazingly ones I had read before elsewhere. . . . I went back to some dusty sources which seemed to be echoing through Vernon's words. The parallelisms I found in these sources were, to say the least, surprising. Some of the parallelisms are brief and subtle, others are extensive and rather blatant. They all speak for themselves." V. R. Pine
Contemp Sociol 1:299 Jl '72 4500w

VERNON, RAYMOND. Sovereignty at bay; the multinational spread of U.S. enterprises. 326p $8.50 Basic bks.

658.1 Corporations, International. U.S.—Industries
SBN 465-08096-0 LC 73-167766

"This is the first in a projected series of five volumes to cover the results of Harvard's Multinational Enterprise Project. Using . . . data produced by the project, the author [analyzes] . . . the large multinational U.S. enterprise. The . . . study attempts to answer such . . . questions as whether the oligopolies possess excessive powers, whether they are capable of hampering local government in their pursuit of independent national policies, whether they are used by the U.S. as a means of keeping the economies of other countries in a state of dependence." (Library J) Index.

Reviewed by V. S. Kearney
America 126:544 My 20 '72 60w

"An original work in the field, this study analyzes, in depth, two current problems facing the multinational corporation: (1) its impact upon host country's national interests; and (2) resultant policies. Within a well organized framework, Vernon more than supports his findings—rational solutions to the questions posed. Should soon establish itself in the field as an outstanding piece of scholarship and serve as a constant source for those seriously studying international business."
Choice 8:1622 F '72 80w

"Reading the chapter on problems caused by clashes among national elites, ideologies, and cultures makes one wonder about the feasibility of the author's recommendation of a global economic arrangement in support of the development of oligopolies under the sponsorship of various governments. An almost complete disregard of the existence of non-capitalistic economic and political systems on a considerable part of our planet should definitely weaken the political validity of Vernon's analysis. The easy dismissal of the possible reaction of U.S. organized labor to a global free-for-all for oligopolies is another controversial point in this interesting book."
I. L. Kaldor
Library J 97:678 F 15 '72 230w

Reviewed by Peter Passell
N Y Times Bk R p23 Ja 23 '72 500w

VESAAS, TARJEI. The boat in the evening:
tr. from the Norwegian by Elizabeth Rokkan.
184p $5.95 Morrow
839.8
LC 71-170216

"This last book by the Norwegian writer, who died in 1970, is an impressionistic voyage—back into his childhood on a farm, and forward from the soluble riddles of youth to the great mystery ahead. Vignettes materialize and fade as the author glides through memory. Visions appear of his father and mother, of adolescent yearning and groping, of his native marshes—until the symbolic boat is ready to float 'out of the landscape' and into the unknown ocean." (N Y Times Bk R)

Reviewed by Joseph Meledin
America 126:433 Ap 22 '72 410w

"[This] is not an autobiography. Not in any ordinary sense. It is a prose-poem of evocative images, each chapter a separate sketch, yet each joined by recurrent motifs, fragmentary revelations, floating themes. Vesaas is half visionary, half naturalist. If his personages have hidden, impassioned depths, so do his objects. . . . At times Vesaas is graphic, clear as the crystalline Nordic air. At other times snowclouds of mysticism obscure his text. Dark logs, swirling rivers, shining stampedes, mirrors that smash and vanish along a water's edge, these are the traps of his impressionistic style. . . . He is to be prized, not for his wild and whirling symbols nor his mystical transparencies, but for his sharp focus on the local citizenry, the actual angelica growing in the fields, the visible, tangible cranes." Victor Howes

Christian Science Monitor p17 Mr 16 '72 600w

"Though Morrow has published three of this late Norwegian's novels, Vesaas remains little known in the U. S. The present volume, more rarefied than its predecessors, comprises 16 prose works. Some are enigmatic poetic essays depicting the haunting complexity of nature and various symbolical journeys of the mind and soul within nature's landscape. Perhaps the three best are autobiographical stories about childhood on a farm. These are beautiful, intense evocations." J. W. Charles

Library J 97:1035 Mr 15 '72 80w

Reviewed by Martin Levin

N Y Times Bk R p43 Mr 26 '72 120w

"This elusive, poetic book . . . helps to explain why the Norwegian writer was so often (three times) a candidate for the Nobel Prize but never won it. . . . The several lonelinesses that can exist within a family, the physicality of close relationships, the effect on the emotions of the living presences of grass, trees, water, the half-understood nature of the adult world to a child: all these Vesaas conjures brilliantly from the sombre north. In some of these pieces, however, the imagery takes such complete possession that Vesaas seems to be relating uninterpreted dreams. Then his touch is less sure. It is possible to understand what he feels when he talks of being between walls of stone, or of the timeless rivers that flow beneath the earth, but it is more difficult to divine with any precision what he wants us to conclude." TLS p173 F 12 '71 250w

VICE, ANTHONY. The strategy of takeovers:
a casebook of international practice. 136p
$11 McGraw

658.1 Trusts, Industrial
ISBN 07-094235-8 LC 72-183238

"Vice describes, in 15-20 pages each, nine mergers of companies (takeover of one company by another). Of these nine examples of the mergers (or merger attempts) of the 1960s, six were British, one French (BSN and Saint Gobain), one U.S. (Leasco-Chemical Bank), and one German (Badische Anilin and Winterhall)." (Choice)

"The author, primarily a financial journalist, has provided an interesting, lively set of financial episodes, although he provides no citations, bibliography, or conclusions."

Choice 9:856 S '72 100w

"In the long term, the merger of two consumer-orientated, complementary businesses must make sense. So writes Mr Vice in his analysis of the Cadbury-Schweppes merger, one of nine case studies. This kind of simplistic and uncritical assumption runs right the way through the book. Although he explains the chronology of each takeover and who had lunch with whom and where, there is no attempt to analyse either whether the supposed reasons for each takeover were the real motives, or whether any have worked out as hoped." Economist 243:83 My 13 '72 90w

VICINUS, MARTHA, ed. Suffer and be still:
women in the Victorian age. 239p il $7.95
Ind. univ. press

301.41 Women in Great Britain. Woman—
Social conditions
ISBN 0-253-35572-9 LC 71-184524

The authors of these essays discuss "theories of women's biological/sexual/social nature; attitudes towards prostitution and venereal disease; the particular expectations and problems of working-, middle-, and upper-class women; and the depiction of women in period painting and W. S. Gilbert's musical plays. The last article is a bibliography of titles focusing on various aspects of women's lives, 1815-1914." (Library J) Bibliography: Women of England in a Century of Social Change, 1815-1914. Index.

"We were not really prepared for everything we found in this series of essays on the appalling circumstances of women in the Victorian era. . . . Religious sublimation of sexuality is the theme of one especially interesting essay, [Chapter 10: the bibliography] . . . is a gem."

Christian Century 89:784 Jl 19 '72 80w

"This collection of ten articles provides a valuable overview of Victorian society and treatment of women. . . . Despite their academic approach, most of the articles make quick, fun reading for laymen. . . . Peter Stearn's study of working-class women is especially fine, and even those articles which aren't particularly well written—Elaine and English Showalter's on menstruation, Peter Cominos' on women's unconscious sexual conflicts—will hold readers because of their interesting subject matter. Most of the authors are obviously impatient with Victorian sentimentalism. Nevertheless, this informative title is certainly worth having; it imparts social history painlessly and soundly." Diane Gersoni-Stavn

Library J 97:2746 S 1 '72 200w

VICKERS, SIR GEOFFREY. Freedom in a rocking boat; changing values in an unstable society. 215p $6.95 Basic bks.

301.24 Technology and civilization. Science and civilization
ISBN 0-465-02544-7 LC 70-159556

The author's thesis is "that contemporary man has blundered into a trap of his own making: a trap that owes its strength to a widespread and popular confusion between power and control. Technology has multiplied our powers to make changes, but with the result that our world is now 'neither stable nor regulable at any level or in any aspect'. It will remain so, argues Sir Geoffrey, unless we can gain a better understanding of the factors essential to stability in social systems." (TLS)

"[Vickers'] proposed solution is a vague argument that national governments need to intervene more strongly in the private sector of society and the economy in order to impose stability. He calls for a 'post-liberal' era, but he clearly has in mind the traditional British version of 'liberal'—not the current American one. Even obvious counterarguments aren't considered, and the proposed remedies are not concrete enough to offer a way out of our predicament." J. W. Welgel

Library J 97:2422 Jl '72 130w

"What of the social implications of this revolution in science and technology? Superficial discussions abound at the level of semi-science-fiction; but for sanity and competence combined with a perceptive concern for human values it would be hard to better [this book]."

Sir Geoffrey's analysis is profoundly stimulating and raises many issues which there is not room to discuss here. It would be pleasant to be able to report that communication and control engineering is within sight of a solution to some of these problems—pleasant, but false. . . . The main message of the book [is] . . . to alert us to the fateful impact for good and ill of this recent development in our conceptual armament: both to the new threats it offers to human values at the hands of the wrong kind of cybernetician, and to the increased sophistication it can bring to the management of human affairs, thereby enhancing our power to meet those threats."

 TLS p161 F 5 '71 600w

VIDAL-NAQUET, PIERRE, Jr. auth. The French student uprising. November 1967-June 1968. See Schnapp, A.

VIDLER, ALEC, Jr. auth. Paul, envoy extraordinary. See Muggeridge, M.

VILLIERS, ALAN. The war with Cape Horn; drawings and maps by Adrian Small. 338p $10 Scribner

910.4 Voyages and travels. Seafaring life. Cape Horn
 SBN 684-10624-8 LC 71-125358

In 1935, Alan Villiers was the master of the Joseph Conrad, the last full-rigged ship to round Cape Horn. "Drawing on his own experience, on interviews with old ship masters, and on hitherto unavailable original logs and documents [he] presents an . . . account of the voyages of the great square-riggers fighting to round the Cape . . . [and] recreates the heroic era of the wind-driven sailing ship—the achievements and the disasters."
 (Publisher's note) Index.

"This is a splendid accomplishment, recounting the voyages of the great sailing ships in their efforts to round Cape Horn. . . . The work is complete, authentic, and scholarly. It is augmented by profuse photographic illustrations, maps, charts, drawings, and diagrams. It is fascinating. It is enthusiastically recommended to all hands. If the book is to be faulted, it may be in the use of sea language unintelligible to the landlubber; this terminology, however, is skillfully contextual."
 R. E. O'Brien
 Best Sell 31:208 Ag 1 '71 420w

"[Captain Villiers] discovered a huge collection of ship documents in England, fleshed them out by interviewing surviving, very aged seamen in Britain and Germany. He is so full of his subject that in this book it pours out of him, a torrent of fact—about ships, distant places, memorable captains and voyages—and anecdotes charged with the timeless drama of man's confrontation with the sea. From time to time he makes the hair rise on the nape of your neck. A very fine book of its kind, one not easily improved upon."
 N Y Times Bk R p24 F 20 '72 170w

"There was and still is in retrospect, a popular glamour about these ships. . . . The logs and the Articles, however, tell a different story and Mr Villiers is far too honest a sailor in these very ships to allow uninformed sentimentality to continue unchallenged. He gives us the inner picture behind the outward glamour, the low wages, . . . the bare rations, the inevitable desertions, . . . the physical toil and danger of working with heavy sail on the yards in the face of a gale. Inevitably, . . . the story is apt to become repetitive. One journey round the Horn was very like another. . . . Mr Villiers provides a wealth of detail to back up the story and to set it out in its true light. Yet, even against this background of the real truth, the story itself is a fine one, and Mr Villiers tells it with all the old magic of his pen."
 TLS p132 F 4 '72 500w

VINAVER, EUGÈNE. The rise of romance. 158p il $6.75 Oxford

809 Romances—History and criticism. Malory, Sir Thomas
 ISBN 0-19-501446-4 LC 77-176082

Dr. Vinaver explores medieval French and English romances in their relation to the literary aesthetic of that vanished age as well as to the evolution of narrative. The framework of his investigation is chronological, beginning in the twelfth century with the work of Chrétien de Troyes and following through to the . . . Arthurian Prose Cycle and its remodelling by Sir Thomas Malory, whose mind and art the author strives . . . to elucidate."

 (Publisher's note) Index.

"[This is] a thought-provoking book . . . which causes the reader to increase his understanding of literary texts, modern as well as medieval, by the development of a sense of reading within the intellectual frame and artistic perspective of the particular work or author under scrutiny. . . . This [is a] handsomely illustrated, fully annotated, and indexed book which graduate students and professors of literature should seek to read and apply when attempting to master the Roland, medieval exposition, and the Arthurian worlds of Chrétien de Troyes and Sir Thomas Malory."
 Choice 9:652 J1/Ag '72 150w

"[This is an] intricate historical review."
 Christian Century 88:1397 N 24 '71 30w

"Students of the medieval romance seem finally to be shaking off the baneful influence of the Celticists and folklorists, and this small book is a large contribution to the new attempt to study the romances in themselves ■ a literary genre. . . . Much of this we have seen before in articles and introductions to the author's editions, but this book puts it all together for the first time and represents ■ substantial advance in scholarship on the romances."
 Va Q R 48:1111 spring '72 120w

VINCENT, HOWARD P. The tailoring of Melville's White-jacket. 239p il $7 Northwestern univ. press

813 Melville, Herman—White-jacket
 SBN 8101-0310-9 LC 78-99737

"Vincent reexamines the sources [of White-Jacket] already discovered, together with findings of his own, in an effort to gain ■ perspective hitherto impossible. 'The study of interlacings and interactions, the sources in their totality rather than in isolation, is the purpose of this study.'" (Am Lit) Index.

"Many pages contain parallel passages from the novel and various sources, such as the almost forgotten sea books Mercier and Gallop's Life in a Man-of-War and Leech's Thirty Years from Home, so that the reader may see for himself how Melville transformed what he appropriated. . . . Vincent remarks that although White-Jacket has been much praised, little criticism has been written about it. He attempts to rectify the situation by analyzing the book at length, discussing such various matters as the development of significant themes, the ship as microcosm, and the fine gallery of satirical portraits as well as literary appropriations . . . . This study will be welcomed as a notable contribution to the understanding and appreciation of one of Melville's best books." William Braswell
 Am Lit 43:451 N '71 550w

"The tailoring complements and corrects the discussion of White-jacket in Charles R. Anderson's Melville in the South Seas (BRD 1939). It is ■ clear, well written book that should prove worthwhile to anyone interested in how an artist transforms materials to create a book. To the advanced undergraduate studying Melville, it will be a standard work. Index helpful. Illustrations ■ bit fuzzy. Notes adequate."
 Choice 8:231 Ap '71 170w

"Like Melville's, Professor Vincent's tailoring job is mostly devoted to sewing together the scraps and fragments of other men's work. Where the Writings is evidence of consolidation, Vincent's Tailoring is the consolidation of evidence. . . . What one admires most about Professor Vincent's book is his enthusiasm for his subject. . . . [His] prose sparkles and dances with informed allusions, which float on the tide of his deep certainty, of himself and of his man. There is in him that abiding affection for his great subject which marks the best in Melville scholarship."
 TLS p53 Ja 21 '72 450w

VINCENT, JOAN. African elite; the big men of a small town. 309p il $11 Columbia univ. press
 309.1676 Gondo, Uganda—Social conditions. Social classes—Uganda.
 ISBN 0-231-03353-2 LC 79-132691

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by W. Arens
 Am Anthropol 74:48 F/Ap '72 800w

VINCENT, JOAN—Continued

Reviewed by J. S. LaFontaine
Ann Am Acad 400:214 Mr '72 1050w
Reviewed by John Beattie
Pol Sci Q 87:311 Je '72 1300w

VINOKUR, G. O. The Russian language; a brief history; tr. by Mary A. Forsyth; ed. by James Forsyth. 146p maps $12 Cambridge

491.7 Russian language—History
ISBN 0-521-07944-6 LC 70-127238

The author "discusses each of the stages in the development of Russian from its Common Slavonic source, and the growing dominance of the dialect of Moscow from the sixteenth century, up to the nineteenth century when the language had virtually reached its present form. The account is continued up to the present century." (Publisher's note) Annotated bibliography. Index.

"The editor has added maps . . . illustrations [and] explanatory notes which are both unobtrusive and helpful. . . . Vinokur's survey is a non-technical, highly readable treatment of the evolution of literary Russian. Its most notable asset is the extremely well chosen assortment of texts illustrating the author's remarks. The translation, both of Vinokur's comments and of this illustrative material, is smooth and competent with only a few minor errors. However, there is no translation of texts cited in the last third of the book, covering the time from about the end of the 18th century to the Soviet period."

Choice 8:842 S '71 240w

"The appearance of this English version [of Vinokur's book] is an overdue acknowledgement of the value of this short yet comprehensive account. . . . [The book] is remarkable for its clarity and conciseness. . . . [The author's] account is accurate, sensitive and full. It is, though, no mere potted history of the language, but a study based on a first-hand investigation of sources. . . . As a first introduction to the historical study of Russian there is no better book."

TLS p1610 D 24 '71 280w

VINYARD, DALE. The presidency. 214p $6.95; pa $2.95 Scribner

353.03 Presidents—U.S.
SBN 684-12535-8; 684-12534-X (pa)
LC 74-157066

"Vinyard points to the complex demands on the President, focusing on his importance as national symbol, partisan leader, government administrator, and legislative policy-maker. He also probes the varying interpretations of presidential power in recent decades, from Franklin D. Roosevelt . . . to Dwight D. Eisenhower." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"A good, short review of some of the functions and duties of the President of the U.S. . . . Vinyard mentions a number of areas of concern to scholars of the Presidency. . . . For the student who will only read one book on the Presidency, this is not a bad book to recommend. . . . It will be popular . . . in many college libraries, particularly undergraduate libraries. . . . [There is] an appendix of constitutional provisions relating to the President and his duties."

Choice 9:283 Ap '72 160w

"The author lucidly presents material suitable for use in undergraduate political science courses. The text is somewhat similar in scope to Clinton Rossiter's The American Presidency [BRD 1956]." Hinda Schachter

Library J 96:3331 O 15 '71 100w

VIORST, JUDITH. The tenth good thing about Barney; il. by Erik Blegvad. 25p $3.95 Atheneum pubs.

Cats—Stories
LC 71-154764

"Barney, the cat, dies and the little boy cries. His mother asks him to think of 10 good things to say about his pet at the funeral. The boy can only think of nine. In searching for the tenth, he finds a way of accepting the cat's death." (N Y Times Bk R) "Grades one to three." (Library J)

"[This] talented and sensitive writer offers genuine comfort to children who have lost a pet in . . . a beautifully written and effective little book . . . Blegvad's illustrations are as gentle and perceptive as the text." Polly Goodwin

Book World p11 (children's issue) N 7 '71 120w

"The author succinctly and honestly handles both the emotions stemming from the loss of a beloved pet and the questions about the finality of death which naturally arise in such a situation. . . . The concept of death is a foreign one to most children, unless they are actually faced with the loss of some person or some creature they love; then it becomes immediate, but generally no less incomprehensible than before. An unusually good book that handles a difficult subject straightforwardly and with no trace of the macabre." S. B. A. Horn Bk 48:140 Ap '72 160w

Reviewed by P. D. Pollack

Library J 96:2912 S 15 '71 160w

"[The book] diffuses the strong emotions surrounding death with a gentle, bittersweet humor. . . . The message, that death is part of the cycle of life, is less distinctive than the manner in which it is presented. The style has its own message: life is not what we would have it be; it is imperfect, but nice anyway. . . . The book is charming and sympathetic but perhaps best suited to the child for whom death's sorrow is quite distant." S. R. Cole

N Y Times Bk R p10 S 26 '71 160w

VIORST, JUDITH. Yes, married; a saga of love and complaint. 152p $5.95 Saturday review press

301.42 Marriage
ISBN 0-8415-0207-2 LC 72-79043

The author of It's Hard To Be Hip Over Thirty, and Other Tragedies of Married Life (BRD 1969) "treats the mixed blessings of living with three supercharged young boys, the true meaning of the swinging single life, family fights, other women who hove onto the Viorst horizon, friends and neighbors, and visiting relatives. . . . what to do with a gourmet husband, why the Viorsts weren't cut out to be groovy people, and whether a family of five can take a vacation without someone having a nervous breakdown." (Publisher's note)

"Lacking both humor and affection, Judith Viorst apparently strung together a fragmented collection of newspaper columns (she also writes a newspaper column), added chapter headings, and sent them off to the publisher. The lack of continuity makes the volume an extended series of not-so-glib remarks." Jeanne Kinney

Best Sell 32:328 O 15 '72 140w

"Judith Viorst's first book of prose is not anti-Women's Lib. Mrs. Viorst just happens to be one of those women who opts for family life. She doesn't give her views on marriage in general. Instead she has given us a witty anatomy of a modern marriage—her own. For 12 years, she has been the wife of political writer Milton Viorst. . . . Conjugal life is pictured clearly in this book—but there is little about Judith Viorst the poet and journalist. Its dominant note is light and humorous." Arline Youngman

N Y Times Bk R p43 O 22 '72 450w

VIORST, MILTON. Hustlers and heroes; an American political panorama. 382p $8.95 Simon & Schuster

920 U.S.—Biography. U.S.—Politics and government—1961-
SBN 671-20978-7 LC 70-156163

The author, who is also a columnist, presents his observations on a number of men active in American politics from 1961 to the present. "The 17 individuals treated (including William O. Douglas, John Mitchell, Richard Daley, and Dean Rusk) have had substantial impact on the American political scene, and it is the author's intent to provide a 'useful perspective on the forces which are constantly at work in our system.' Each profile is an . . . analysis of the individual considered." (Library J)

"This publication draws together a series of profiles previously published in national magazines. . . . [Despite careful analysis] however, the lack of synthesis and the failure to provide sufficient transition from one profile to another detract from the overall presentation." H. M. Burns

Library J 96:2654 ■ 1 '71 70w

"A collection of political portraits by one of the country's most knowledgeable political reporters. Included are portraits of Jacob K. Javits (one of the best), Everett M. Dirksen, Joseph Rauh, Robert C. Byrd ('Hillbilly in the Service of the Lord'), Bobby Baker, . . . Robert F. Kennedy, McGeorge Bundy, John N. Mitchell, James Farmer . . . and others." Carey McWilliams

Nation 213:701 D 27 '71 70w

N Y Times Bk R p14 F 13 '72 70w

VIRGIL. The Aeneid of Virgil: a verse translation by Allen Mandelbaum; drawings by Guy Davenport. 401p $10 Univ. of Calif. press

873

ISBN 0-520-01620-3

LC 70-99487

An English translation of the classic Latin epic poem. Glossary. Annotated bibliography.

"[The translator's] verse reads better in large blocks than line by line, and he does not fully reveal Vergil's ability to let the deepest passions of the heart shine through the slightest tremors on the skin. But all these are defects inherent in translation itself, and if the translation were not so good, one would not notice them at all." Seth Benardete

Library J 97:1442 Ap 15 '72 120w

"Mandelbaum has produced a living Aeneid, a version that is unmistakably poetry. He has a great feel for the essence of Virgil's line and has reproduced it as much as possible in vital, flowing English pentameters which read like the words of a poet born in our own age. . . . This Aeneid may not be for all time (only Virgil's is), but it is for ours. And it will enable a wide new audience to realize that Virgil's epic is not the paean to humanitas that legions of tendentious critics would have us believe. Modern readers will now discover that Virgil is essentially depicting the brutal dehumanizing effects of war, even upon a man insignis pietate, in Mandelbaum's words, 'remarkable for goodness.'" Erich Segal

N Y Times Bk R p23 Je 25 '72 2150w

"Professor Mandelbaum is an example of the harsh law that there is no salvation for poetic translations except as poetry. His tact undermines him, his reserve and dexterity irritate, his own highly intelligent appreciation of what kind of poet Virgil was somehow communicates yet a further dose of death-watch beetle to his English: he has isolated intellectually a style he is unable to reproduce technically. But in the end what destroys him is the appalling flatness of his iambs."

TLS p550 My 12 '72 450w

VIRGIL. The Eclogues. See Slavitt, D. R. The Eclogues and the Georgics of Virgil

VIRGIL. The Georgics. See Slavitt, D. R. The Eclogues and the Georgics of Virgil

VISCARDI, HENRY. But not on our block, by Henry Viscardi, Jr. 203p il $6.95 Eriksson

362.4 Physically handicapped—Rehabilitation

ISBN 0-8397-1269-3 LC 79-151433

"We believe, say the neighbors, in these people's right to be wholly functioning human beings, to have an education and equal opportunity for employment in the community, but we don't want to have to be personally confronted by them every day—not on our block. The neighbors are upper-middle-class residents of Albertson, Long Island; those whom they oppose are the physically disabled of an employment, educational and research center known collectively as the Human Resources Center." (New Repub) The author, founder and head of the center, tells its story here. Index.

"The cast of [this book] has many heroes, from the courageous disabled children and adults through staff and volunteers to indispensable sponsors. . . . The villains, the mob, who campaigned door-to-door and massed repeatedly and angrily at the town hall to fight further building at the center, Viscardi thoughtfully does not name; he tries to understand and explain their fear and prejudice but he cannot escape their horror. The photographs are exciting and, along with the text, they are a source of encouragement to other communities to extend this work which takes deformed and handicapped children 'who rarely . . . went outside their homes, who in many cases never even left the upstairs bedroom which was their whole world' to school, to college (even on a litter if necessary), to lives of independence and fulfillment." Cornelia Holbert

Best Sell 32:36 Ap 15 '72 550w

"Unfortunately, [Viscardi] is not a good writer, and consequently his book is repetitious and not well organized. However, it is worthwhile because it draws attention to a neglected minority." E. B. Ehrenkranz

Library J 97:1822 My 15 '72 150w

New Repub 166:33 Ap 29 '72 300w

VISCOTT, DAVID S. The making of a psychiatrist. 410p $8.95 Arbor house

B or 92 Psychiatry

ISBN 0-87795-049-0 LC 72-82180

"Viscott intends to show what it takes to become a psychiatrist by recalling his experiences during residency training (ca. 1965) and in private practice. . . . There is a brief postscript on how to choose a psychotherapist and on what to expect of him and yourself during therapy." (Library J)

Reviewed by Phoebe Adams

Atlantic 230:144 D '72 40w

Reviewed by Fred Rotondaro

Best Sell 32:385 N 15 '72 250w

"The book takes a popular approach, is readable and free from jargon, and is written from the viewpoint that there should be nothing mystical or sacred about medicine. It is difficult to tell who the intended reader is—the layman who wants to know a bit about the training for psychiatry, the medical student who might be considering psychiatry, or the potential patient. Perhaps it's all catharsis for the author. . . . Recommended for comprehensive, popular subject collections; limited and/or specialized collections can pass." J. A. Johnson

Library J 97:3322 O 15 '72 190w

"Chosen as a Book-of-the-Month Club selection, this book deserves to be the best seller it is destined to become. With wit, with passion and with a great deal of honesty about his own feelings, Viscott tells us how a psychiatrist gets to be that way. And some of Viscott's colleagues may want to toss him from the temple for heresy. Candidly, Viscott admits that there are too many incompetents and quacks masquerading as psychiatrists. 'Omnipotent therapists' also offend him. Their overconfidence is sometimes only painful, but it can be fatal. . . . Anecdotes and liberal injections of humor add to the book's fascination. . . . Avoiding any discussion about the impracticalities of the costly one-to-one method of psychotherapy, Viscott does offer some helpful tips on how to choose a proper therapist and what to demand from him." A. C.

Newsweek 80:105A N 13 '72 600w

"In the end, quality of character and feeling seems to count as much in the making of a good psychiatrist as therapeutic experience and ability; and honesty—in the sense of relating to the integrity of others and doing so loyally in awareness of both the human and professional responsibilities and the humbling uncertainties involved—is what is first and last required. A demanding calling; a stirring and excellent book."

Sat 11 55:68 D 23 '72 300w

VISHNIAC, ROMAN. Building blocks of life; proteins, vitamins, and hormones seen through the microscope; phot. and text by Roman Vishniac. 62p $6.95 Scribner

574 Life (Biology). Microphotography

SBN 684-12381-9 LC 76-143959

"The pictures in this book represent a selection of [some of the basic substances of life] magnified thousands of times by an interference microscope. They demonstrate the . . . similarities between living cells and the canvases of an abstract painter. Interference, the interaction of two light waves crossing at a glancing angle, changes the form and color of the images." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"The author is not only an eminent biologist but also a renowned photographer whose pictures are in the permanent collection of many museums, including the Louvre. The final product is not only a series of remarkable photos but a fine explanatory text on the importance of these vital building blocks in our daily lives." F. J. MacIntee

VISHNIAC, ROMAN—Continued

Best Sell 31:423 D 15 '71 60w

"[This book] could serve as a springboard to lengthier, more detailed works. . . . [It] should appeal to students and laymen alike, but the price of $6.95 for 62 pages puts [the new Scribner portfolio in Natural History Series books] in the class of luxury items." Ann Luxner

Library J 97:889 Mr 1 '72 60w

VITAL, DAVID. The survival of small states: studies in small power/great power conflict. 136p $6.50 Oxford

327 States, Small

ISBN 0-19-215345-5 LC [70-880583]

Professor Vital, who teaches at an Israeli university, "examines three cases of overt military/political conflict. Czechoslovakia in 1938 is seen as a classic duel between an isolated small power and a great power, while the Israeli-Soviet confrontation provides . . . [a] contemporary case of two-tiered conflict between small and great powers. Finally, Finland . . . is used as a 'paradigm for the future' in which an isolated small power confronts a neighboring major power and attains relative autonomy and survives politically." (Library J) Index.

"Vital's book can be urged upon the general student as well as the specialist. This study is very readable and notable for the ease with which complex events and theoretical concepts are compressed into readily understandable premises, arguments, and definitions. The introduction is well written and useful for its brief discussion of concepts and definitions leading directly to the central topic. . . . Historians and political scientists may well argue with Vital's conclusion that each case . . . represents an important stage in what is regarded as the probable evolutionary pattern of relations between the great (or primary) states and the rest of the world community. . . . That argument should be worthwhile and for its sake alone, as well as for other qualities, this book should find its way into the library of any student of international politics." D. R. Weaver

Ann Am Acad 402:141 J1 '72 250w

"In his well-received Inequality of States [BRD 1968], Vital examined the attributes and structure of the small power in 'an attempt to spell out some of the practical political implications of the material inequality of states.' Here, his focus narrows. . . . The case histories which comprise most of the work are lucid, well documented, and frequently insightful. In most cases, materials used are not new; but the perspective is somewhat different, and the attempt to place the cases in a more general and theoretical context is of value." W. C. Robinson

Library J 97:1444 Ap 15 '72 180w

"The question how small states survive when their interests conflict with those of great powers has become a . . . new kind of issue. . . . Of the three particular cases which Professor Vital examines in depth, the Finnish technique in dealing with the Russians is clearly his favourite. . . . [He] arrives at the interesting conclusion that it will be impossible in the long run for Israel to maintain itself against Soviet pressure . . . and 'the problem for both Jews and Arabs will be how to come to terms with the Soviet Union.' . . . The Israelis will then have no alternative, according to Professor Vital, but to adopt a Finnish style of diplomacy. . . . The problems [of the survival of small states] remain for further exploration. Meanwhile Professor Vital has made a most helpful beginning with the three detailed case-studies which constitute the greater part of his book."

TLS p312 Mr 17 '72 950w

VIVIAN, C. T. Black power and the American myth. 136p $3.95; pa $1.95 Fortress press

301.451 Negroes—Civil rights. U.S.—Race relations
LC 76-101424

"Vivian states that the racial problem is a moral failure of our society, the result of an

unacknowledged history of repressive or unenforced laws, economic peonage, manipulation to suppress political rights, segregated and passive churches, inequalities and indignities." (Library J)

"[This] work is a cri de coeur against the stupidities and inequities, the injustice and violence visited upon that ten percent of the nation that was born with a skin color not that shade of sallow pink so prized by the descendants of the Northern Europeans who have dominated the United States since its beginnings. . . . Mr. Vivian tells us, clearly and vividly, that Negro patience has now run out. It is a message that all should heed. . . . [He] must be taken with utmost seriousness." A. S. Miller

Ann Am Acad 393:150 Ja '71 550w

"Blacks are human beings who want nothing more dangerous than to be treated as such. In such elemental terms a black Jeremiah issues an eloquent manifesto of the movement for black power. . . . Vivian has long been at the center of the civil rights struggle. His book is recommended." R. R. Gambee

Library J 95:2246 Je 15 '70 120w

VOGLER, DAVID J. The third House; conference committees in the United States Congress. 133p $6.50 Northwestern Univ. press

328.73 U.S. Congress—Committees

ISBN 0-8101-0360-5 LC 73-162928

This is "an exploratory and descriptive effort to identify significant factors in the conference committee process. The study examines patterns of party representation, seniority, and dominance of either house. The conference bargaining process is studied utilizing an organizational theory model of conflict reduction devices." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

"[Professor Vogler's] data is drawn from five Congresses and his statistical analysis provides a refreshing re-examination of some tacitly accepted conclusions concerning the conference process. . . . [His] analysis suggests that the minority party is seldom overrepresented on conference committees and, indeed, is more frequently underrepresented. Vogler bolsters his findings with statistics showing that the seniority system provides somewhat greater flexibility in appointing conferees than had been thought. . . . As for the dominance of one chamber over the other in conference [he finds] . . . a pronounced tendency for the Senate position to prevail. . . . Professor Vogler's study is useful as are his suggestive, although general, comments concerning conference bargaining strategies." Charles Serns

Ann Am Acad 402:168 J1 '72 430w

"Congressional conferences are those vital meetings between members of the House and Senate to work on different versions of legislation passed in both houses. Vogler's book on these meetings is unsatisfactory for two important reasons. First, as he himself admits, 'what we have learned about conference interaction falls in comparison to what must be learned. . . . Second, the study lacks a basic framework or theoretical perspective. Thus, the study is a very limited analysis of some aspects of conference committee action. The findings are intrinsically interesting but, without a theory, Vogler can do very little with them. He concludes by suggesting that others do research on the topic. Appendices."

Choice 9:134 Mr '72 160w

"Despite the frequency of their use, conference committees are not a well-understood or appreciated legislative function. This [is a] specialized study, which has many of the attributes of a dissertation. . . . [One] value of the book is the degree to which it synthesizes relevant work in the field. Since conference committees operate in secret, take no public votes, and produce compromise proposals which each house must either accept or reject, the study of their work has of necessity been indirect, as in the case of this volume." F. W. Summers

Library J 97:1444 Ap 15 '72 130w

VOGLER, THOMAS A. Preludes to vision; the epic venture in Blake, Wordsworth, Keats, and Hart Crane. 222p $7.50 Univ. of Calif. press

821 Blake, William. Wordsworth, William. Keats, John. Crane, Hart. English poetry—History and criticism

ISBN 0-520-01687-4 LC 70-107662

This "is a study of Blake's 'Milton,' Wordsworth's 'The Prelude,' Keats's 'The Fall of Hyperion,' and Hart Crane's 'The Bridge' [BRD

1930]. [The author] sees all four works as representatives of a common genre, that of epic prelude. [His] argument is . . . [that the epic] impulse remains constant as a poetic, not a novelistic ideal; but because the conditions of our culture and the fragmentations of our social life no longer permit the existence of communal myths of the kind necessary to earlier epics, the epic impulse works itself out in the form of 'preludes.' These differ from earlier epic forms in that they are . . . personal, not social; interior, not external, in their reference. The 'preludes,' in short, are expansions of lyric form. . . . Their common subject matter is the writing of poetry itself." (Yale R) Index.

"Vogler quarrels with the view of Hart Crane's Bridge commonly held by respectable critics, as he calls them, that it is a magnificent failure; what would he think of one who takes it simply to be a failure? There is also in his manner an almost menacing air of portentousness. . . . Away from Hart Crane . . . [he] proves himself to be a perceptive and almost painfully caring critic. . . . Descended from the clouds, he very much has his feet on the earth, and responsive, feeling feet they are. His readings of Blake, Wordsworth and Keats, in spite of a habit of quoting in support of his view not only obscure academic references, but obscure academics, make a welcome kind of sinewy sense." William Walsh
Encounter 38:61 D '71 300w

"After reading a few pages of this book, I found myself wondering somewhat impatiently why it had been written at all: it seemed neither a bad book nor an unintelligent one, but was at that point somewhat obvious in what it said; one felt it to be the residue of too many conversations with eager undergraduates. . . . As I continued to read, however, my respect for the author's insight began to improve; and I finished the volume with the feeling that I had encountered an interesting mind—a mind, too, considerably more learned than I at first thought. . . . The author has a good command of the poets about whom he talks, and he usually has sensitive things to say. . . . On balance, I found this a subtle book, and an original one." Thomas McFarland
Yale R 61:279 D '71 1200w

VOLIN, LAZAR. A century of Russian agriculture; from Alexander II to Khrushchev. (Harvard univ. Russian res. center. Study, no. 63) 644p $18.50 Harvard univ. press
630.947 Agriculture—Russia
ISBN 0-674-10621-0 LC 72-119075

In the first part of this study the author "explores the first agrarian revolution (1905) and the reforms that followed it, as well as the conditions during World War I that led to the 1917 Revolution. In Part II he treats agricultural conditions during the Civil War, efforts to restore the economy by means of the New Economic Policy, Stalin's program of forced collectivization and liquidation of the kulaks, agricultural conditions during World War II—including Nazi policies in occupied territory—and the policies of Stalin in the post-war recovery. The longest section of the book is devoted to the Khrushchev era. The final chapter summarizes the past century and comments on the outlook for the future." (Am Pol Sci R)

"[This study] is a coherent picture of the nature and persistence of the perennial 'agrarian problem.' Historical perspective gives emphasis to the author's case for strong lines of continuity in peasant-state relationships, in the recurrence of behavioral patterns, and in the chronic struggle with natural and climatic limitations." Dorothy Atkinson
Am Hist R 77:178 F '72 500w

"This is one of the most thorough studies ever made of Russian agriculture. Emphasizing the continuity of problems and policies too often dichotomized into tsarist and Soviet eras, Mr. Volin has created a valuable work—a panorama of the century between the emancipation of the serfs and the present. . . . Balanced judgment is one of the great merits of this volume. . . . The portrayal of Khrushchev is judicious and useful at a time when some commentators misrepresent the departed Chairman as little more than a foolish improviser. Khrushchev emerges from these pages as a bold, dynamic, realistic, if flamboyant, leader—one who knew what makes the Russian peasant tick." S. I. Ploss
Am Pol Sci R 65:1235 D '71 1050w

"[This work] is not quite up-to-date, there have been no basic changes under Brezhnev and Kosygin. A . . . well-organized work, too elaborate for laymen but recommended for readers interested in Russian history and agriculture." H. H. Bernt
Library J 96:960 Mr 15 '71 170w

VOL'KENSHTEIN, MIKHAIL V. Molecules and life; an introduction to molecular biology; tr. from the Russian by Serge N. Timasheff. 513p il $15 Plenum press

574.1 Molecular biology
SBN 306-30264-0 LC 66-22787

"The purpose of this book is to explain molecular biophysics to all who might wish to learn about it, to biologists, to physicists, to chemists. . . . [It] is a survey of the whole field of molecular biology, starting with an elementary description of 'cells, viruses, and heredity,' amino acids and proteins, and the code. Biophysics is represented by chapters on the physics of macromolecules, of proteins, and of nucleic acids. . . . There are also discussions of immunology, of allosterism, and of mechanochemical processes (for example, muscle and mitosis)." (Science)

"An excellent translation of an interesting treatise. . . . A minor objection that should be noted has to do with a certain unevenness in level where sections tend to lurch from an elementary treatment to sudden rigor and back again."

Choice 8:1048 O '71 80w

"Covering such a vast range, the discussion is necessarily compressed, and the author seldom allows himself the leisure to explore points of interest in detail, even in those areas in which he himself has contributed greatly. Oppressed by such discipline, much of the 'life' in the title seems to have escaped from the text. One can only hope that next time Vol'kenshtein will devote his admirable talents to a deeper-going, even if narrower, treatment." B. H. Zimm

Science 171:1139 Mr 19 '71 360w

VOLLMER, AUGUST. The police and modern society; reprinted with a new introd. by James Q. Wilson. 253p $10 Patterson Smith pubs.

363.2 Police—U.S. Crime and criminals—U.S.
ISBN 0-87585-131-2 LC 72-129309

"This reprint of Vollmer's . . . work in police administration . . . [reveals] the thinking of . . . [a] police administrator of the 1930's when crime fighting was one of the principal preoccupations of the nation and professionalism was becoming a major goal of the better departments. . . . Index." (Choice) For the first edition see BRD 1936.

"[This work] provides an excellent benchmark for assessing how far police work has advanced in the last 35 years . . . [but it] does not bear the test of time well. Some of Vollmer's proposals have become standard rhetoric if not policy among police generally and, therefore, today are routine. He writes with a sure hand, however, and his comments spring from long experience and careful thought. Historians of the 1930's and police buffs will find this work of greatest interest."

Choice 9:727 J1/Ag '72 130w

"[This book] is enhanced by an introduction by James Q. Wilson, a Harvard political scientist who . . . says: This is a wise, humane, and sophisticated analysis of the limits of the police power in a heterogeneous society labouring under the remnants of a puritanical tradition and lacking any sure knowledge of how crime might be prevented or the criminal rehabilitated."

TLS p191 F 18 '72 150w

VON BRAUN, WERNHER. Space frontier. new ed rev & updated 307p il $6.95 Holt

629.4 Space sciences. Outer space—Exploration. Rocketry
SBN 03-063705-8 LC 75-103556

"Based on a series of columns that first appeared in 1963 in Popular science magazine, . . . [this book describes] many of the accomplishments of the space program and . . . answers such questions as 'Why is there a launch countdown, how do the spacecrafts work, . . . how do astronauts keep alive in space, and what manned and unmanned missions are possible in the future?" (Choice)

VON BRAUN, WERNHER—Continued

"This excellent, readable, informative book written by one of the highly qualified professionals in the field deserves a place on the shelves of even a modest sized library. Excellent index; good photographs and the diagrams, often handdrawn, are distinct and readable."

Choice 8:856 S '71 120w

"Originally published in 1967, this collection of articles . . . now includes new information on recent developments in the exploration of space." R. R. Harris

Library J 96:2298 J1 '71 30w

VON DÄNIKEN, ERICH. See Däniken, E. von

VON MATT, LEONARD. See Matt, L. von

VONNEGUT, KURT. Happy birthday, Wanda June; a play [by] Kurt Vonnegut, Jr. (A Seymour Lawrence bk) 199p il $5.95; pa $1.95 Delta bks.

812
LC 75-156384

The script for the 1970 play which has since been produced as a movie. The Hemingway-esque hero, Harold Ryan, is the last of the great white hunters. He and his sidekick, Colonel Looseleaf Harper, who dropped the bomb on Nagasaki, return after having been declared legally dead while missing on a diamond hunt in the Amazon rain forest. Their "return allows Vonnegut's tragicomic imaginations to play on the value changes in our society that have turned hairy heroes into absurd fools and pacifists into antiheroes. His heaven is inhabited by childlike naïveté and Nazi brutality, which are equated in innocent simplicity (in the persons of Wanda June (recently killed by a hit-run driver) and Major von Konigswald, an S.S. officer killed by Harold many years before)." (Library J)

"A play, much more readable than most contemporary plays, based on Mr. Vonnegut's usual love-hate preoccupation with killing." Phoebe Adams

Atlantic 228:136 O '71 50w

"Two groups of readers will be especially happy with this: play-readers and Vonnegut fans. But the recommended readership should not be so limited. Indeed, this play may provide either a return to Vonnegut for those who were offended by the language of Slaughterhouse five (BRD 1969), or an introduction for those who have not yet read him. Even non-playreaders will enjoy the introductory semi-autobiographical essay; and actors, playwrights, and all kinds of authors in their forties and fifties will devour it. . . . The writing is true Vonnegut, and Vonnegut is a strong poet (in the Greek sense) with the antiwar sentiments of . . . well, you choose your own antiwar hero. At least some parts of the play sound antiwar. At the end you're not quite sure. The only thing you do know is that 'There aren't any heroes anymore,' even antiwar ones."

Choice 9:667 J1/Ag '72 200w

"Vonnegut's first published play should enjoy the same readership as his several successful novels. The wildly absurd intercutting of his set of earthly characters with several inhabitants of a quite homely heaven is beautifully done. . . . The play reads very well; it is a better work than the New York production indicated. This should be in all medium-sized and large public libraries, and in theater collections of all sizes." R. M. Ruck

Library J 96:3155 O 1 '71 100w

VON RIEKHOFF, HARALD. German-Polish relations, 1918-1933. 421p $15 Johns Hopkins press

327.43 Germany—Foreign relations—Poland.
Poland—Foreign relations—Germany
ISBN 0-8018-1310-7 LC 73-141999

In this "study of the diplomatic relations between the nascent Polish and German republics after World War I. . . . [the author deals with] the clash of German revisionism in Eastern Europe with the Polish dedication to the maintenance of the status quo. . . . [and] the inability of the Berlin and Warsaw governments to reconcile their disagreements in the years before Hitler's rise to power. . . . [He devotes] half of his book to a consideration of the Locarno era, 1925-1930." (Ann Am Acad) Bibliography.

Reviewed by Norman Rich

Am Hist R 77:1440 D '72 300w

"In this lengthy, penetrating [study, the author draws] heavily upon German and Polish documentary materials. . . . To [von Riekhoff], the history of the diplomatic relations between Germany and Poland possesses paradoxical and tragic aspects, both of which were to be fatally realized in 1939. . . . After pondering the ideas of this study, the reader is left with the conclusion that among the major issues arising in German-Polish relations during the era of Nazi rule, nothing was actually new. The diplomatic problems which in 1939 would plunge the world into a second conflagration had all appeared earlier during the period under study in von Riekhoff's book. This makes the book all the more significant." F. J. MacDonald

Ann Am Acad 401:179 My '72 850w

"In examining economic and military as well as diplomatic events, the book objectively and comprehensively handles a significant and complex subject. There is no other work in this area which delves so deeply into the latest research and documentation."

Choice 9:124 Mr '72 160w

"In view of the recent German-Polish negotiations over recognition of the Oder-Neisse Line, this book appears at a particularly appropriate time. . . . Setting the dispute in its international context, the author successfully relates the interplay of European diplomatic forces on the German-Polish problem.

The book contains an extensive bibliography and appendices. Essential to specialized collections." Claire Nolte

Library J 96:2499 Ag '71 200w

VON SZELISKI, JOHN. Tragedy and fear; why modern tragic drama fails. 257p $10.95 Univ. of N.C. press

812 American drama—History and criticism. Tragedy
ISBN 0-8078-1177-7 LC 70-156136

"In analyzing American plays of the past 50 years which 'aspired to tragedy,' the author asserts that modern tragic drama fails because of its pessimism; modern playwrights lack the "attitudinal intent," the hope and affirmation of life, required to produce the elevated plot, character, language, and moral statement distinctive of great tragedy." (Library J) Bibliography.

"This book's thesis is very simple—that modern tragedy fails because it is pessimistic. . . . Von Szeliski even tries to demonstrate that pessimism generates unpoetical language. Pessimistic classical and Shakespearean dramas are bothersome obstacles to the march of theory, but these are dismissed with ever finer distinctions and fastidious overqualifications. This simple thesis is hammered home relentlessly in a bouncy, chummy style that tries to conceal its ponderous multiplication of superficialities. The charts in the appendix, with their arbitrary thematic and dramaturgical classifications, are the basis of this dreary harangue. Prescriptive theory overlays the analytical, and the reasoning is inevitably circular. The author does not explain why he confines himself to American plays, mostly mediocre."

Choice 9:524 Je '72 170w

"I remember these urgent questions—Can there be a modern tragedy? Can there be a Christian tragedy?—from my freshman English class 20 years ago. Von Szeliski's book seems to add nothing to the voluminous literature on this subject (except the expression of his personal sentiment—which I share—that optimism is better than pessimism, both for human beings and for art). Scan the footnotes and you will find more publication dates from the 1950's than from any other decade. There's nothing here that is not already on the shelves of a moderately well-stocked library." Kristin Morrison

Library J 97:1327 Ap 1 '72 200w

VOORHIS, JERRY. The strange case of Richard Milhous Nixon. 341p $8.95 Eriksson

973.924 Nixon, Richard Milhous, President U.S. U.S.—Politics and government—1961- ISBN 0-8397-7917-8 LC 72-83711

An account of the U.S. president's political stands and career. The author considers the president's record on such issues as unemployment, welfare, medical care, the American economy, military spending, education, the problems of rural America, of the cities, environment, foreign policy, and censorship and the press. Index.

"There are lots of statistics, names and other things stated as cold facts. But you get kinda bored with it after a couple of chapters. The message never changes as [Voorhis] keeps telling you in different ways how bad the Boss is. . . . Could it be 'sour grapes'? Voorhis says it's not, but it makes you wonder. . . . If you're a solid anti-Nixon cat, you'll soak it up." D. W. Given

Best Sell 32:312 O 1 '72 360w

"Voorhis was Nixon's first political opponent, having lost his Congressional seat in California in 1946 and having won an enduring niche in the shrines of liberalism. Banquo's ghost has found a typewriter as his sword and moral indignation for his mail and armor. . . . A quarter-century after his confrontation, Voorhis still seems incredulous, saying, 'I did not expect my loyalty to America's Constitutional government to be attacked.' But throughout 18 chapters on different issues, he loses his naiveté and acquires a machete. . . . [Reading] Voorhis gives a sense of eavesdropping on a reluctant penitent or a psychiatrist's patient, penance and therapy included." M. F. Nolan

N Y Times Bk R p5 Ag 27 '72 250w

VORPAHL, BEN MERCHANT. My dear Wister; the Frederic Remington-Owen Wister letters; with a foreword by Wallace Stegner. 343p il $9.95 Am. West

810.9 Wister, Owen. Remington, Frederic
ISBN 0-910118-24-8 LC 76-187022

"The main purpose of Vorpahl's study is to demonstrate the deeper literary aspects of the Remington-Wister partnership. . . . First, there is the extent of Wister's indebtedness to Remington for 'material.' . . . Secondly, Vorpahl demonstrates that Wister had an ideational debt as well. Not only the facts and anecdotes in 'The Evolution of the Cowboy' were borrowed from Remington, but the main thesis as well, a thesis which was twisted out of a Remington essay, 'The Horse of the Plains,' and which became the main ontological support of 'The Virginian.'" (New Repub)

Am Lit 44:528 N '72 60w

"The difference in the temperament of the two men, their dependence upon each other in their formative years, and their separation when Remington proved to be the greater artist have been admirably illuminated by Vorpahl. . . . My Dear Wister is to be enjoyed for its history of the West, for its evaluation of a friendship, and for its technical appreciation of two talents at work." Edward Weeks

Atlantic 230:89 Ag '72 650w

"The unlikely friendship of Wister and Remington is explored in depth for the first time by Vorpahl. The letters first published here permit us to watch the development of one of the world's greatest mythic heroes, the cowboy. . . . There is much new material; and it is well presented by Vorpahl, who has had the wisdom to let Wister and Remington speak for themselves, a thing they both do admirably. Not to be overlooked are the excellent illustrations, mostly by Remington, and Stegner's very fine foreword. All libraries need this book." W. H. Farrington

Library J 97:2723 S 1 '72 100w

"[This study] is central to an understanding of what the West, as a literary idea, is all about. Vorpahl occasionally snarls his interweaving relationships (it is not always easy to determine who was doing what when and where). . . . [But] I have not had the pleasure of reading such a well-written, graceful, and even witty treatment of popular culture. . . . in a long time. Vorpahl is clearly up to as well as on to his subject, and the real subject of his book is Frederic Remington, who comes across . . . as a slangy, profane, earthy, gourmandizing, woman-fearing, fat American boy—a 300 pound Huckleberry. . . . [However] Remington was a terse even cryptic though exuberant correspondent, and Vorpahl has had to do a painstaking job of research to determine, often, just what. . . . he was talking about in his letters." John Seelye

New Repub 167:28 S 2 '72 5300w

VRYONIS, SPEROS. The decline of medieval Hellenism in Asia Minor and the process of Islamization from the eleventh through the fifteenth century [by] Speros Vryonis, Jr. (Calif. Univ. Univ. at Los Angeles. Center for medieval and renaissance studies. Publications) 532p pl $15 Univ. of Calif. press

949.5 Byzantine Empire—Civilization. Byzantine Empire—History. Anatolia—History. Hellenism
ISBN 0-520-01597-5 LC 75-94984

In this account of the Islamization of Anatolia, the author examines the "Byzantine political and military institutions in Asia Minor and the demography, religion, and even the road systems of the area. He traces the collapse after the Battle of Manzikert (1071) and Turkish military conquest, then describes Turkish recolonization of the depopulated areas, the institutions such as Tasawwuf and Futuwwa through which conversion was accomplished, and the concurrent decline of the Byzantine Church. He ends with an analysis of what the loss of this vital area meant to the Byzantine Empire." (Library J) Index.

"[The author admits his subject] might be 'inordinately ambitious.' Nevertheless, he is well qualified to make the attempt, despite linguistic, textual, and methodological problems unusual even for this difficult period. These problems are further compounded because Vryonis is one of the first to begin systematically to study the phenomenon; the most significant recent work at all similar to his own—C. Cahen's Pre-Ottoman Turkey [BRD 1969]—appeared too late for him to use. . . . [Vryonis shows that] the cultural and social transformation . . . took a much longer time and was much more violent and disruptive than scholars usually admit. . . . [Despite the lack of a bibliography] references can be extracted through the footnotes."

Choice 9:428 My '72 210w

"The author supports each of his points with primary and secondary source material representing the wide range of evidence available. He is equally at home in Byzantine Greek, Turkish, and the Western languages and has mastered the previous work in the field. The footnotes are testimony that no stone has been left unturned in this search that has resulted in a major contribution to Byzantine and Islamic history. This work is unlikely to be superseded, although future historians may find here many minor problems still in need of investigation." Martin Chasin

Library J 97:1013 Mr 15 '72 250w

W

WABER, BERNARD. Nobody is perfect. 128p il $4.95; lib bdg $4.23 Houghton

ISBN 0-395-12582-0; 0-395-12583-9 (lib bdg)
LC 75-161646

"Eight scenarios depicting situations familiar to children are portrayed in . . . pen sketches on creamy paper with comic book style conversations printed in red near the speakers. . . . Grades one to four." (Library J)

Reviewed by Polly Goodwin

Book World p10 (children's issue) N 7 '71 80w

"Considering the range of subject matter, style, and design in the author's recent books—An Anteater Named Arthur [BRD 1968], You Look Ridiculous [BRD 1966], A Firefly Named Torchy [BRD 1971], and the Lyle stories—one cannot say that he has sunk into his own stereotype. The shape and the feel of the new book are exactly right: small and squarish, with red-ink text beautifully balanced by the scrappy, black-line drawings. The eight wholly childlike sections—consisting of the kind of giddy monologue and dialogue that seem like aimless nonsense to an eavesdropping adult—deal with such crucial subjects as a secret diary, an absurd dream, and a catalogue of favorite days in the year." E. L. H.

Horn Bk 48:[42] F '72 120w

"This is just the sort of fast-reading, funny book about things that matter to children that readers will flock to. Unfortunately, however, not all of the situations are imaginatively developed, and one scene involving a little girl who deviously pretends fright ('Oh, I can't stand it! . . . Oh, please! stop!') while a boy describes terrible monsters, and who then blithely announces 'I have to go in. This is fun. Let's do it again tomorrow,' reflects a stereotyped image of the attitudes and behavior of girls." Melinda Schroeder

WABER, BERNARD—Continued

Library J 97:277 Ja 15 '72 220w

"This rueful and funny little book comes very near to being a masterpiece, so sure is its understanding of the ingredients which make up life's more humble, quiet despondencies. . . . There are no black faces in any of the pictures. . . . The girls are all flowers and dolls and butterflies while the boys do the tree-climbing, kite-flying and so on, which goes to show that Mr. Waber is out of touch with a few realities. But these are for once excusable oversights because the children and the situations are thoroughly real and, like all true humor, it is the sadness on the other side of the comedy that gives this book its final satisfying flavor." Natalie Babbitt

N Y Times Bk R p8 O '71 300w

WADDY, RUTH G., jt. auth. Black artists on art, v2. See Lewis, S.

WADE, IRA O. The intellectual origins of the French enlightenment. 678p $20 Princeton univ. press

914.4 Enlightenment. Philosophy, French. France—Intellectual life
ISBN 0-691-06052-5 LC 70-132244

After a "discussion of various definitions of Enlightenment . . . [Wade] begins his essay in intellectual history with the Paduan school. . . . Naturalized in France 'with the aide of Montaigne,' . . . succeeding generations of free-thinkers cease to make of theology the fountainhead of all questions and answers and bypass the Judaeo-Christian religious approach to reaffirm the Graeco-Roman moral, humanist approach—with . . . [the] addition . . . of modern science. With chapters on the Renaissance (The Paduans, Rabelais, Montaigne, Bodin), The Baroque (Gassendi, Descartes, Hobbes, Pascal, Spinoza et al), the Classical and post-Classical (Molière, La Fontaine, Malebranche, Leibniz, Locke, Newton, Bayle), Wade concludes by attempting to see the tentative formation of a 'spirit' of Enlightenment." (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

Reviewed by K. M. Baker

Am Hist R 77:1456 D '72 600w

"The specialist will be continually stimulated by these pages; the student will find a veritable mine of precious stuff, already refined and polished for him, as he reads Wade's concentrated summation of his thinking about these seminal writers. The study concludes with a caution against seeing the Enlightenment as already created before 1715, but also warning against the exaggeration of seeing it as an 'instantaneous intuition.'"

Choice 9:200 Ap '72 260w

"This book, devoted to the pre-Enlightenment, is the first of a projected trilogy. . . . Although in many ways a stimulating study, this book often loses the thread of its argument amidst a plethora of secondary information." Mark Poster

Library J 97:874 Mr 1 '72 150w

TLS p1118 S 22 '72 600w

"The mind of the humanist is apparent on every page of this magnificent book, which must be hailed as an indispensable complement to the works of such 'philosophes' as Montesquieu, Diderot, and Voltaire. One only regrets the absence of an analytical index which would have proved helpful for reference."

Va Q R 48:cvi summer '72 160w

"Conceived as a chronological, encyclopedic inquiry, Wade's book gives one the impression of a sumptuous parade—a parade of great intellectual feats—from those of the Paduan philosophers to Pierre Bayle. . . . In his Introduction, [Wade] uses a lively theatrical metaphor to describe not only his general approach but the actual adventure of intellectual history. His purpose is to present us with the blocking, as it were, of all the elements of the performance before the show begins. . . . Although any reader versed in the history of Western philosophy might be tempted to fault Professor Wade for some of his interpretations, . . . he would nevertheless have to admit that Wade's summaries are a tour de force, and that the basic concerns of each thinker (epistemology, independence of—or reconciliation without blind submission to—theology, etc.) are properly emphasized, as are the consequences and relationships involved."

Jacques Guicharnaud

Yale R 62:106 O '72 1350w

WADSWORTH, OLIVE A. Over in the meadow. See Keats, E. J., II.

WAGAR, W. WARREN. Building the city of man; outlines of a world civilization. 180p $10 Grossman pubs.

321 Utopias. Civilization, Modern—1950-
ISBN 0-670-1946-1 LC 77-162961

The author forecasts "inevitable global disasters erupting out of any of a half-dozen interlocked crises of world war, class struggle, ecocide, and/or the technological or psychic collapse of mankind. He devotes several pages to the discussion of the necessity of creating a 'renewal colony' of perhaps 2500 specialists safely encapsulated deep underground in, say, southern New Zealand, 'whose task it would be to link together the scattered fragments of postdiluvian humanity into a viable world order.' . . . Index." (Library J)

"This most recent appeal for world government, by a Wellesley professor of history, is an urbane, sophisticated attempt to convince us that we are now ready for such government that the time is now, that achievement is in the order of practical possibility, once higher priority decisions are made by the nations. Warren Wagar's assumptions are just that—assumptions, given no proof. . . . The book is a good refresher course for those who have Mr. Wagar's particular brand of faith. If you do not have it, I doubt that this book will convince you that world government will be a reality in the immediate future." Brother Benedict Wengler

Best Sell $1:406 D 1 '71 300w

"The bulk of the volume, which is erudite but readable with sociological and philosophical jargon at a minimum, predicts a mature and integrated world civilization. Wagar's provocative diagnosis-prognosis is the initial volume in the projected 'World Order' series, for which librarians should be on the lookout. This controversial forecast is recommended for all libraries, despite the absence of a bibliography." B. W. Fuson

Library J 96:3771 N 15 '71 200w

N Y Times Bk R p57 N 14 '71 60w

"[This work] shares the problem of all utopian books in that its vision of a new human society is more developed and more plausible than its analysis of the process by which we move from a dangerous present to a benign future. Essential analyses of the problems of world order remain to be made. They concern matters of process—specifically, which trends in the contemporary world are taking mankind in the direction of world community and what can be done to encourage and accelerate them. This bold, opinionated, and exciting book opens up hundreds of important questions and will be of indispensable help to anyone interested in thinking about man's fate." R. J. Barnett

Sat '71 54:57 N 6 '71 2050w

WAGAR, W. WARREN. Good tidings; the belief in progress from Darwin to Marcuse. 398p $11.50 Ind. univ. press

901.9 Progress. History—Philosophy
ISBN 0-253-32590-0 LC 73-180484

In his "survey of the ideas of believers and disbelievers in human progress during the past 90 years, the author . . . [offers] summaries of the thought of . . . European and American thinkers in philosophy, theology, politics, and the natural and social sciences. . . . These ideadigests are presented in three sections: the apostles of hope and progress, 1880-1914; the skeptics and opponents of progressivism; the renaissance of the idea of progress, 1914-1970. . . . [Wagar's] epilogue is a . . . statement of his personal belief in human progress." (Library J) Index.

Christian Century 89:698 Je 14 '72 60w

"Wagar treats progress as a kind of semi-secular religion of humanism. . . . He devotes many chapters to specifically Christian theological accounts, including nineteenth-century German liberal Protestantism and contemporary theologies of secularity and hope. Why were the chapters on antiprogess more worthwhile to read? . . . Their vision seems to square more with reality than does that of metaphysicians of progress. . . . At the very least, [this] book will demonstrate that secular humanism has no easier time of it in the modern world than do historic religions." Martin Marty

Critic 31:94 S/O '72 260w

"[Wagner] succeeds in making intellectual history an exciting, if arduous, adventure. . . . All relevant major figures, and many minor ones, are covered. . . . The author is scrupulously impartial throughout the book, [which] . . . is rich in content (especially in the area of religious thought), authoritative, and consistently well written." T. C. Hunt
Library J 97:3312 O 15 '72 140w

WAGNER, DIETER. Anschluss; the week Hitler seized Vienna [by] Dieter Wagner [and] Gerhard Tomkowicz; tr. by Geoffrey Strachan [Eng title: Ein Volk, ein Reich, ein Führer: the Nazi annexation of Austria]. abr ed 255p il $7.95 St Martins

943.6 Austria—History
LC 79-162372

The authors center their study on the crucial seven days of March 9 to 15, 1938, in the Nazi annexation of Austria. This was originally published in German under the title Ein Volk, Ein Reich, Ein Führer! Der Anschluss Österreichs 1938. Bibliography. Index.

"[The authors'] anecdotal approach of intermingling the activities of several people during nearly every hour of this period with a competent analysis of the political and diplomatic situation makes for a highly dramatic book. And although it has obvious scholarly shortcomings and tries to encapsulate too much material into too short a period, it does what its authors intended—to illustrate the fear and frenzy that was Nazism in Austria in 1938. It is a fine introduction to this topic, and comes recommended as such." E. D. Schmiel
Best Sell 32:20 Ap 1 '72 410w

"The story has been told many times but never in a more exciting way. Objective, but scarcely analytical, it is more a mosaic of juxtaposed scenes than a linear narrative. . . . It is well researched, making use of paper documents as well as personal interviews and radio and newsreel sources. . . . Written first in an unusually rapid-moving style of German, it is translated into a comparable English idiom which is sometimes overly British. Recommended for all libraries."

Choice 9:870 S '72 100w

"This smoothly translated, slightly abbreviated version of the original German study [by two] experienced newspapermen, paint a vivid picture of the collapse of a state hollowed out from within. [It will be] very useful for general history collections." A. F. Peterson
Library J 97:1809 My 15 '72 180w

Reviewed by Brian Walden

New Statesman 82:116 Jl 23 '71 340w

WAGNER, HELMUT R., ed. Alfred Schutz on phenomenology and social relations. See Schutz, A.

WAGNER, LINDA WELSHIMER. The prose of William Carlos Williams. 234p $8 Wesleyan univ. press

818 Williams, William Carlos
ISBN 0-8195-4026-9 LC 70-120261

"In the considerable body of Williams' work it is often difficult to distinguish among 'pure' poetry, prose as such, and fragmented patterns that suggest both at once. . . . It is Mrs. Wagner's contention . . . that Williams viewed the genres in a relationship of reciprocity if not complete identity. One emphasis of this study, therefore, is on that relationship. . . . For the rest, the whole body of Williams' prose work—from Kora in Hell through the novels, the short stories, the plays, the interludes in Paterson and elsewhere, to Yes, Mrs. Williams—is scrutinized. . . . [and] linked to his poetic method and achievement." (Publisher's note) Selected bibliography of works of William Carlos Williams. Bibliography. Index.

"[This] volume complements [the author's] earlier study, The Poems of William Carlos Williams [BRD 1964]. . . . Mrs. Wagner overpraises Williams as a writer of prose. Although she acknowledges the weakness of his plays (with their often self-conscious dialogue and their neglect of stagecraft and timing), she argues that his 'short stories may have had as deep an effect on contemporary fiction as his poems have had on modern poetry.' The judgment is one that even Williams' admirers would have difficulty in accepting." Walter Sutton

Am Lit 43:472 N '71 360w

"[This is] an astute analysis of [Williams'] prose that pulls into its context [Wagner's] rich knowledge of the poetry. The poet's theories are clarified by the analogies that Wagner characteristically draws between the themes, the styles, and the intellectual and philosophical resources of the two levels of his expression. As she points out, a comprehensive understanding of the entire Williams canon inevitably supports the inference from Paterson 'that, to Williams, all writing was related.'" J. R. Willingham

Library J 95:3778 N 1 '70 170w

WAGONER, DAVID. Riverbed. 76p $4.95 Ind. univ. press
811

ISBN 0-253-17475-9 LC 74-166118

Several of these poems are concerned with the relationship between man and animal. Other subjects that have inspired Wagoner "include a bed once slept in by Grover Cleveland and a bronze bust of William Jennings Bryan. . . . a police manual, the goddess Fortune, Job's God, and a South American turtle." (Publisher's note) The poems have appeared in such periodicals as Harper's, The New Yorker and The Seneca Review.

"Wagoner is a poet who gets better and stronger as he matures. His work is a necessity for any library with a poetry collection."

Choice 9:819 S '72 80w

"To work one's way through Wagoner's fifth volume of poetry is sheer delight. From careful reading comes a full appreciation of the neat turn of phrase, deft comic touch, wry ambiguity, and deceptively innocuous statement (which goes down so easily and then—zap!—the hook's in and the struggle's on). Wagoner is equally at ease with nature in the raw, whose cruelties and comforts he scans with the outdoorsman's keen eye. . . . the domestic scene . . . and sociological-environmental issues. . . . 'A Victorian Idyll' is a neat juggling of domestic comedy and Arthurian myth via Tennyson. To put it simply Wagoner does almost everything well. For all readers who put a premium on precision, polish, and clarity." C. R. Andrews

Library J 97:202 Ja 15 '72 150w

Reviewed by J. W. Hughes

Sat R 55:62 F 26 '72 800w

WAHLÖÖ, PER. jt. auth. Murder at the Savoy. See Sjöwall, M.

WAIN, JOHN. The life guard; stories. 172p $5.95 Viking

ISBN 670-42800-0 LC 75-171892

Seven short stories, five of which have appeared previously in such publications as Argosy and Playboy.

Reviewed by Jane Oppenheim

Best Sell 32:149 Je 15 '72 40w

"The first three [stories] are so insufferably fine, so dense with essential meaning, that they commit fratricide. Their four latter brothers are annihilated. The watershed after number three is steep, radical. . . . Pace flags, out of breath; universals pass the baton to interesting trifles—odd character delineations, parochial humor, the professional writer's very circumscribed milieu. And the last four stories, mind you, are quite good. But they got an insuperable act to follow. . . . You'll appreciate the last four stories, too—as relief, post-catharsis. A writer, a reader, can function efficiently at such high altitudes for only a short period of time." D. K. Mano

Nat R 24:646 Je 9 '72 250w

"The prose is simple and colloquial, only rarely permitting itself a striking image. It's an instrument sturdy enough to take quite a weight of meaning, at its best in 'Where the Sun Shines,' which has a tractor driver ploughing a dangerous field and conquering himself, his boss and the boss's wife in the process. Yet there's an overall sense of life seen from the outside, of subjects chosen, not choosing themselves. The exception comes, significantly enough, in a previously unpublished story called

WAIN, JOHN—Continued

"The Innocent", where a family man . . . drives over a badger in the dark and insists on burying the bloodied mass by flashlight. Here at last is an obsessive, personal feeling—something perhaps not entirely acceptable to the middle-brow magazine market on which short-story writers largely depend." Clive Jordan
New Statesman 82:625 N 5 '71 100w

Reviewed by Martin Levin

N Y Times Bk R p41 Mr 19 '72 200w
New Yorker 48:146 My 13 '72 60w

"[Wain] does not seem terribly interested in the possibility of producing memorable moments or believable people. He is out to make a point, and a good deal of the time his stories testify to the fact that when didacticism comes in at the door, art wafts out through the window, with craftsmanship not far behind. One story—"The Innocent"—does defy this judgment. . . . Most frequently Mr Wain's stories . . . leave the impression of characters standing about pointing, lest we miss it, to some crucial enlightenment which lies at the end of the narrative avenue. A girl who organizes her life round a cuff-link from a pop-singer's shirt; an aging and embittered critic gone trendy. . . . an artist who wants his prudish model to roll naked on the canvas all are figures of convenience, and the end seldom justifies the means."

TLS p1433 N 19 '71 250w

WAINWRIGHT, M. DOREEN, jt. comp. A guide to manuscripts and documents in the British Isles relating to Africa. See Matthews, N.

WAITH, EUGENE M. Ideas of greatness: heroic drama in England. 292p il $9.50 Barnes & Noble

822 English drama—History and criticism
ISBN 0-389-04181-5 LC 79-30481

This examination of both major and minor playwrights "traces the evolution of heroic drama in England from Clyomon and Clamydes (1570) to Addison's Cato (1713). Distinguishing heroic drama from tragedy, Waith isolates six ethical concepts underlying the heroic ideal, some of which receive greater emphasis than others during different times: valor, loyalty, courtesy, largesse, glory, and love." (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

"One must admire Waith's erudition and sensitivity; his [book] exemplifies what is excellent in American literary scholarship. It is comprehensive in its survey of primary and secondary sources, yet penetrating in its study of individual plays. . . . [At times] Waith becomes reductive, occasionally drifting into nebulous discussions of archetypes and failing to make historical distinctions about ideals like glory and love. Especially fine, however, are his analyses of the poetry and rhetoric of the heroic mode. All in all, an important book to be perused by all serious students of 17th-century British drama."

Choice 9:372 My '72 160w

TLS p1361 O 29 '71 400w

WAKIN, EDWARD, jt. auth. We were never their age. See DiGiacomo, J.

WAKOSKI, DIANE. The motorcycle betrayal poems. 160p $5.95 Simon & Schuster

811
ISBN 671-21011-4 LC 156164

These poems are "love songs of outrage." (Publisher's note) Some of them have been previously published in various periodicals.

"These new poems are energetic confrontations with the things in the poet's environment with which she is in personal conflict. . . . [The author] is among the most talented young poets of the day. Her poems are fresh and moving because they represent a very personal, and in some respects unique, expression of an individual searching to find touchstones in a world she finds confused and misdirected."

Choice 9:649 J1/Ag '72 170w

Reviewed by Mark Taylor

Commonweal 97:112 N 3 '72 450w

"It's nag, nag, nag. There is real pain here, but pain is not—of itself—poetry, only pain transfigured. There are some marvelous bits here and there . . . but you have to wade through such swamps of self-pity, such a litany of grudges and grievances to arrive at them that it hardly seems worth the effort. . . . With notable exceptions, these poems are shrill, petulant, obsessive (mustaches, the absent father, over and over), one harangue after another." A. G. Mojtabai

Library J 96:4098 D 15 '71 180w

"These poems are not declarations of feminine independence. Their rage is not ideological, as in many Women's Liberation tracts. Miss Wakoski's tactic is different. She digs her teeth into the slaveries of woman, she cries them aloud with such fulminating energy that the chains begin to melt of themselves. The rage is that of a prisoner whose bitterness is her bondage but also her freedom. In many poems, however, the anger becomes thin, repetitious, and this is perhaps the book's most serious weakness. All too often, the stridency does not turn into poetry; the words are flattened almost into helplessness by the very anger they express. . . . [But] at her best—and the best is frequent enough—Diane Wakoski is an important and moving poet."

Paul Zweig

N Y Times Bk R p5 D 12 '71 1650w

"With this her sixth book of poems, Diane Wakoski makes even stronger her place among the best of contemporary poets. Her incredible breadth of imagination seeks out the light, the word, from the dark chill depth of the mind-cave and brings it to surface; she is the 'restless moon' wrenching the 'tolerant' and 'blind' bind to earth. In her poems she manages to circuit her voice at one and the same time to dream, to stream-of-consciousness, and to life. As passionate love poems, they reveal the struggle of the free spirit. . . . [Her] poetry reveals the poet's contract to life, a continual struggle to articulate the meeting of inner world with outer world."

Va Q R 48:cxxiv autumn '72 100w

WALDHORN, ARTHUR. A reader's guide to Ernest Hemingway. 284p $8.95 Farrar, Straus

813 Hemingway, Ernest
ISBN 0-374-24299-2 LC 75-179795

"This volume is a synthesis of Hemingway's work and that of his critics . . . [and includes] a survey of Hemingway's genius from the early short stories through Islands in the Stream [BRD 1970]. Part 1 is a . . . presentation of his life and style. Part 2 . . . details the patterns his writing took: the maturing hero and the hardening code. Appendixes include a filmography and a chronology of Nick Adams's development." (Library J) Annotated bibliography. Index.

"[This study] is enlarged and enriched by several factors: the marginal quality of most of the biographical and critical works about Hemingway written since his death, the recent availability in published form of Hemingway's last fiction, and, most important, Professor Waldhorn's own fairness, frankness, and sense of proportion. . . . What is new and refreshing is Waldhorn's willingness to join the work to the life in a way that avoids both sentimental adulation and the still fashionable use of psychological 'cheap shots' at Hemingway's character deficiencies and, especially, his suicide. . . . One of the most thoughtful and judicious chapters in the book concerns 'The Old Man and the Sea.' [BRD 1952] a work which serves almost as a balance sheet of Hemingway's assets and liabilities." Bernard Weinstein
Best Sell 32:190 J1 15 '72 600w

"This useful and long-overdue book should be in all college libraries. It has great breadth, both in the works treated and in the critical viewpoints reflected in its analyses. . . . As would be expected of one book that treats almost all of Hemingway's works except the posthumous Nick Adams stories, the book is not exhaustive. But it is well researched."

Choice 9:1134 N '72 160w

"Exactly as the title implies, [this is] a guide to Hemingway, the man and his art. . . . Both notes and annotated bibliography are adequate, but marred, as are sections of the text, by a rather flippant dismissal of selected critical theories and of Hemingway's 'minor' works. Still, this work is a convenient introduction." Jean Spang
Library J 97:1719 My 1 '72 110w

WALDO, MYRA. Seven wonders of the cooking world; il. by Ken Longtemps. 439p $10
Dodd

641.5 Cookery. International
ISBN 0-396-06375-6 LC 70-160862

A collection of nearly four hundred recipes selected from the cuisines of France, Italy, China and from "culinary styles based on land areas—Middle Europe, the Latin countries, the region where Europe and Asia meet, and the Orient outside China." (Publisher's note) Index.

"Best of the latest crop of cookbooks . . . [this is] divided into seven sections, each introduced with a knowledgeable essay on the food of the region to be discussed. . . . In each section the recipes represent the best or the most popular cooking through the range from appetizers and soups to main dishes and desserts and salads. For the experienced and the amateur cook this is a well-planned and executed collection." Friede Gruenrock
Best Sell 31:469 Ja 15 '72 130w

"Basic information is random (no foreign ingredients shopping guide) or buried without useful cross reference. In regional chapters scattering of recipes obstructs efforts to structure a meal around a single national cuisine. Stressing soups, seafood (no squid or snails), and meat, the book is weak on breads, vegetables, and desserts. Many recipes are revised, some with seemingly gratuitous changes, from Waldo's earlier books." Joan Owen
Library J 97:683 F 15 '72 120w

WALKER, ALEXANDER. Stanley Kubrick directs; a creation of Halcyon enterprises. 272p il $8.95 Harcourt

791.43 Moving picture plays
ISBN 0-15-184885-8 LC 77-153692

The first chapter spotlights the American film director "and his outlook from his first to his most recent film, 'A Clockwork Orange.' It is followed by a . . . chapter on Mr. Kubrick's style and content. The remaining three chapters treat in depth such Kubrick films as: 'Paths of Glory,' 'Dr. Strangelove,' and '2001: A Space Odyssey.' Filmography." (Best Sell)

"The exceptionally talented American film director, Stanley Kubrick, needed the exceptionally talented British film critic, Alexander Walker, to tell his story. In five exciting chapters of analysis, Mr. Walker illuminates the films of Mr. Kubrick. More than 350 film stills complement his vivid prose. . . . This book shows us the man and the director: it enlightens his films for us. For such an achievement, we are indebted to both artists." J. J. Quinn
Best Sell 31:545 Mr 1 '72 270w

"[This] is not a casebook nor a well balanced critical approach. It is largely a paean to Kubrick, though, to be sure, an intelligent and thoughtful one. Wisely, Walker allows Kubrick to speak for himself throughout much of the text. The analysis of the films is reasonable, though somewhat weighted in Kubrick's direction. For example, it barely mentions the large part played by Terry Southern in the creation of Dr. Strangelove, or by Arthur Clarke in 2001. The photographic stills from the various films are all marvelous—the book is worth the price for the photographs, if for no other reason. If you admire Kubrick, you'll like the book. If you don't, you won't." Choice 9:986 O '72 200w

"[The author] attempts to explain this 'most elusive of film makers.' And while a short interview helps, the reader remains about as puzzled as were many of the viewers of 2001. The rest of the book is given over to a picture analysis of Kubrick's three major flicks, and here Walker comes off rather well: his explanations of technique, style, and method are excellent; and the stills are carefully chosen. . . . Walker [knows] the right questions, if not all the answers. A solid addition to the growing number of titles on film directors." Bill Katz
Library J 96:4029 D 1 '71 150w

Reviewed by Regina Minudri
Library J 97:296 Ja 15 '72 90w [YA]

WALKER, ALICE. The third life of Grange Copeland. 247p $5.95 Harcourt
ISBN 0-15-189905-3 LC 79-117577

Abandoning his wife and son in Georgia, Grange Copeland "goes north, only to be disappointed by the confusing life of New York and the bitter cold. He returns to Georgia [years later] to find that his son has grown up, but little else has changed: The son, Brownfield, is satanic, methodically brutalizing his wife and children in a way which appalls even Grange, who is no angel. Brownfield shoots his wife and is imprisoned; Grange takes custody of Ruth, Brownfield's daughter, and it is with Ruth that Grange's disposition sweetens. . . . When Brownfield is released from prison . . . and tries to get his daughter back, Grange kills him and shortly after is killed himself." (Book World)

Reviewed by Mark Schorer
Am Scholar 40:168 winter '70-'71 800w

"The violent scenes are numerous, but the arguments between husband and wife, father and son, are if anything more harrowing than the shotgun murders. It is hardly an idealized portrait of three generations of a black family, but the passions are enacted against a landscape which is carefully drawn. . . . Mrs. Walker has no lack of compassion, but has an essential detachment and so avoids being racially tendentious; She records skillfully the awakening of Grange to his corrosive self-pity. If the novel fails in parts it is because it attempts too much—too many years, too many characters. . . . [Mrs. Walker's] strength is in her control of character rather than all the 'business' that goes on in a family chronicle." Paul Theroux

Book World p2 S 13 '70 400w

Reviewed by V. A. Kramer
Library J 95:2522 J1 '70 130w

"Almost no one has tried to tell us about . . . the particular ways that black children in a rural setting grow, only to leave and become the urban poor, the 'social dynamite' we hear abstractly described again and again. . . . In her own way, [the author] has supplied some answers, but she has not written a social novel or a protest novel. Miss Walker is a storyteller. . . . In [this book] the centuries of black life in America are virtually engraved on one's consciousness. Equally vivid is Grange Copeland. . . . In him Miss Walker has turned dry sociological facts into a whole and alive particular person rather than a bundle of problems and attitudes. Character portrayal is what she has accomplished, and character portrayal is not to be confused with 'motivational analysis.'" Robert Coles
New Yorker 47:104 F 27 '71 750w

"Miss Walker skillfully depicts Brownfield turning into a murderous, whining beast. Her sympathy, however, is plainly with his wife, with all black women, whom she sees as the victims of both whites and their own husband's rage. Women are not broken by poverty, the author seems to imply, but she never probes the impact of poverty on Brownfield's inner life, or the psychic starvation that makes him so unable to love. . . . Miss Walker hates his self-hatred too much to dissect it. At one time the self-hatred of Brownfield's father, Grange Copeland, was so intense that he could not bring himself to touch his son. But when he discovered in New York that he hated whites even more, . . . Grange lost his self-loathing. . . . [thus] he is able to return to Georgia and feel love for his granddaughter. Miss Walker disappoints by explaining Grange's conversion in political clichés. . . . [Her] solution ignores the depth and force of the loveless agony she describes." Josephine Hendin
Sat R 53:55 Ag 22 '70 350w

WALKER, GREGORY, ed. Directory of libraries and special collections on Eastern Europe and the U.S.S.R. 159p $9 Archon bks.

026.9147 Libraries, Special—Directories. Libraries—Great Britain—Directories
ISBN 0-258-96837-0 LC 75-30728

This volume "is arranged alphabetically by library and with a special section devoted to other sources of information [such as] embassies, trade councils, book shops, and journals. . . . The Directory deals with material in the British Isles on any subject relating to, published in, or in a language of the territory presently occupied by Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, the D.D.R. (only since 1945), Greece (only since 1821), Hungary, Yugoslavia, Poland, Romania, and the U.S.S.R. (in Asia as well as in Europe)." . . . Archive and manuscript collections are noted only for institutions included on the strength of their printed book holdings. . . . Information included is the name of the institution, address, telephone and telex number, name of librarian, and in some cases the names of subject specialists. A short history of the institution is given, hours of opening, admission regulations, access, union record,

WALKER, GREGORY—Continued
searching, copying facilities and typing as well as other information." (Library J)

"The list includes university libraries such as the Bodleian, special libraries, and selected public libraries. . . . The weakness of the present volume is that titles are not listed which, of course, would be an impossible task. . . . The volume is very important because it puts between covers a considerable bundle of information about resources available in the United Kingdom on Eastern European materials." C. D. Kent

Library J 97:849 Mr 1 '72 500w

"[This volume] from SCONUL (Standing Conference of National and University Libraries) is the work of the Slavonic and East European Group. . . . [The information on which the Directory is based was] supplied in 1970 by the libraries concerned. . . . [It is a guide] that can be used by the ordinary interested reader or language student, as well as by [specialists]." TLS p1614 D 24 '71 140w

WALKER, HUGH D. Market power and price levels in the ethical drug industry. (Ind. univ. Publications; social science ser) 256p $6.75 Ind. univ. press

614.3 Drug industry and trade
ISBN 253-38428-1 LC 68-64122

"This book, which is based on Dr. Walker's dissertation, attempts to quantify the degree to which physician selection of ethical drugs by brand name and patent protection have brought about excessive market power in the ethical drug industry. On the basis of the findings public policies are proposed which would remove brand names and patent protection for ethical pharmaceuticals." (Ann Am Acad) Bibliography. Index.

"Aside from the problems of determining market power in terms of static economic theory, this book suffers from a number of serious deficiencies that cast considerable doubt on the validity of the findings and their application to public policy. Perhaps [its] greatest failure . . . is the absence of the names of the drugs and their respective firms which served as the basis for the various economic analyses. . . . One must seriously question the relevance of this [study] in terms of contemporary public policy. The economic analyses were based on prices and estimates of market power for 1961. In addition, the latest reference to the pharmaceutical industry was 1965. In so far as this book is primarily based on the Kefauver hearings of the late 1950s and early 1960s, without benefit of recent literature it must be regarded more as a historical account rather than a basis for developing current policy." J. P. Curran

Ann Am Acad 402:200 Jl '72 400w

"Essentially, this important book considers two questions regarding the ethical drug industry. First, what would be the savings in the elimination of trademarks and/or patents? Second, would such eliminations have an adverse consequence on development of new drugs? First, Walker finds that substantial cost reductions are probable. Then he indicates that trademark elimination would not affect research but patent elimination would significantly reduce research. . . . [His] book is fairly readable and distinguished by its careful use and explanation of data. . . . Highly recommended." Choice 9:856 S '72 150w

WALKER, LAWRENCE D. Hitler youth and Catholic youth, 1933-1936; a study in totalitarian conquest. 203p $10.50 Catholic univ. of Am. press

322 Youth movement. Church and state in Germany. Catholic Church in Germany. Youth—Germany
ISBN 8132-0499-2 LC 75-114984

Walker "traces the conflict between state and church authorities over the existence of Catholic Youth Organizations in the Third Reich. On December 1, 1936, Hitler promulgated a law which brought all German young people into the state-sponsored Hitler Youth, and this accounts for the terminal date of the study. . . . A final chapter analyzes the impact of that law in the following years, up to February 6, 1939, when a decree dissolved the Catholic Young Men's Association (Jungmännerverband) for the whole Reich." (Ann Am Acad) Index.

"The reference to Hitler Youth in the title is really justified only in part by some dozen pages of [the] book based on the Party Hauptarchiv. All the rest of the book deals with the evolution of Catholic Youth and their response to Nazi persecution and surveillance. The value of [Walker's] study is its use of unpublished Nazi records to show the persistence of Catholic records (these mostly published) to show the long-drawn-out phase of accommodation and adaptation the hierarchy went through as it gradually faced up to Nazi tyranny. The chapter, 'Nazi Policy Toward Catholic Church' (sic) is the only interpretive chapter in the study; and while it is good, sound exposition of the profound misunderstanding by the Nazis of all religious behavior, it barely scratches the surface of explanation." Robert Koehl

Am Hist R 77:173 F '72 270w

"The opening chapter provides a good foundation for the book. Here the author succinctly discusses the history of the youth movement in Germany starting with the Wandervogel, then the Pfadfinder and the variety of Bünde of the post-World War I period. He points out the similarities and differences among them and the significance of the youth movement as a whole. . . . He [then] traces the establishment of the Hitler Youth in the 1920's and . . . [explains] the origin and complexity of the Catholic Youth organizations. . . . The emphasis [Walker] gives throughout to Catholic resistance and internal revival is proper and welcome. . . . On the whole the Protestant side of the problem is by-passed. The author . . . has drawn heavily on microfilms of Gestapo reports." E. C. Helmreich

Ann Am Acad 396:162 Jl '71 460w

"[This] is an objective, well documented account of the response by the Catholic Church during the early years of the Nazi regime to threats that the government would take over the allegiance of young Catholics. . . . Although interesting in itself, it reveals little of the broader policies or situations of the church or the state." Choice 9:124 Mr '72 80w

WALKER, MACK. German home towns; community, state, and general estate, 1648-1871. 473p $14 Cornell univ. press

301.3 Cities and towns—History. Sociology, Urban. Germany—History
ISBN 0-8014-0670-6 LC 76-162540

"The author focuses on the tensions between familiar communal society and the mandates of change, magnitude, and power. He begins with an analysis of the form and sense of social community as found in the home town of seventeenth- and eighteenth-century Germany, and then describes the meeting of the community with the state, and later its confrontation with the demographic and economic change of the nineteenth century. He concludes by taking a brief look at Nazi nostalgia and by raising some questions for our times." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index

Reviewed by Robert Scharf

Ann Am Acad 403:194 S '72 550w

"A first-rate study. . . . Brilliantly written and based on exhaustive research in archival and secondary sources [the book] is a 'must' for students of 18th- and 19th-century German history and will be useful as well for sociology, political science, and economics courses. No library should be without it. Excellent index and bibliography." Choice 9:271 Ap '72 170w

"Professor Walker's book gives without doubt an idealized picture. His ability to write in concrete terms, to describe actual towns and real men with names and characters, means that it is a vivid and convincing picture. It is only when one escapes from the spell of the writer that one remembers that although these towns were effective societies they had nothing to do with Germany's great cultural achievement. . . . Readers . . . must be left to discount the idyll. . . . Historically, they will have an explanation of some of the smothered discontent underlying Bismarckian Germany. Politically, they will have a set of reflections on methods of social fulfillment that are workable in small communities only." TLS p771 Jl 7 '72 490w

WALKER, NICOLETTE MILNES. When I put out to sea. 191p il $6.95 Stein & Day 910.4 Voyages and travels. Aziz (Sloop).
Sailing
ISBN 0-8128-1467-3 LC 76-187101

The author, "a 29-year-old British psychologist, set sail in a 30-foot sloop from the village of Dale, Wales, on June 12 . . . [1971, in an attempt] to cross the Atlantic Ocean nonstop. . . . Miss Walker arrived at her destination of Newport, Rhode Island, 44½ days later." (Publisher's note)

"The first woman to sail solo nonstop across the Atlantic Ocean, Walker presents a highly realistic record of her voyage. Solo sailors have written numerous accounts of their adventures, but this one differs from most since it is written by a woman and displays a feminine outlook on such exploits. Readers can easily feel they are taking part in the preparations and in the crossing itself. Walker is a candid narrator who shares with us her uncommon perspective of the world as a place where adventure can still be found by those willing to give up, at least temporarily, the security of nine-to-five jobs. Her book will be read with interest by all age groups, especially by young adults." Barbara Lucas
Library J 97:2598 Ag '72 120w [YA]

"While it goes without saying that [the author] is extremely brave and capable, for a research psychologist she is strangely inarticulate and reserved about her motives in undertaking a singlehanded transatlantic passage. She . . . wanted to be the first woman to make the crossing non-stop; she was 'interested in studying the performance of various physical and mental tasks under difficult conditions.' She describes these tasks in detail (although one suspects her of underplaying the difficulties and hardships) and it is her ad hoc solutions to hourly problems which will certainly make her book . . . interesting, technically speaking, to yachtsmen. . . . But it seems a pity for someone of her profession to have withheld—perhaps in the interests of lighter reading—all but the most superficial comments on her solitary adventure."

TLS p639 Je 2 '72 160w

WALKER, NIGEL. Sentencing in a rational society. 239p $6.95 Basic bks.

364.6 Punishment. Criminal law. Crime and criminals
ISBN 465-07685-8 LC 70-116855

"First published in England two years ago, this work seeks to identify the ingredients of a penal system which will result in the reduction of criminal behavior, rather than in retribution." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

Reviewed by D. F. Greenberg
Am J Soc 77:814 Ja '72 800w

"The book seems rather academic in the first chapters but gradually concise summaries of a usable character are presented. . . . Many American judges and parole board members would disagree with Walker on some of his conclusions and agree on others. . . . [He] tends to play down the effectiveness of corrective measures. . . . [Still his] book does make a valuable contribution to the literature." N. S. Hayner

Ann Am Acad 400:215 Mr '72 450w

"The arguments are not easily followed the pedantic writing style and the lack of precise organization impede understanding. Nonetheless, a patient reader can benefit from the ideas expressed. The author, for example, recognizes mitigating circumstances presented by political and economic considerations as they affect an imprisonment policy. As a consequence a realistic (rational) picture is painted. Two aids do assist the reader: a glossary of the numerous unique terms used in the study, and a detailed model of a sentencing policy. Only the very specialized library would find this work helpful." D. L. Norrgeard
Library J 96:3630 N 1 '71 130w

WALKER, SARA MACLEOD. The Highland fling cookbook: the delightful cooking of Scotland. 240p $6.95 Atheneum pubs.

641.5 Cookery. Scottish
LC 70-135574

"In this book are the traditional recipes: oatcakes, scones, shortbread, black bun, haggis, skirrie, and brose. . . . They are now easy to prepare, with proper measurements, and suitable for the American cuisine." (Introd) Index.

"I don't know how you feel about khabourga or bannocks, kufra or Ballahulish brown soup, but for me the words themselves invite culinary adventure. [This collection] . . . will give a lift to any library's international cookery section. [It has] been adapted for American measurements and . . . indicates where unfamiliar ingredients may be obtained or what may be substituted. . . . [The author] has spiced the whole with anecdotes which give an extra flavor of her homeland. Her oatcakes, bannocks, and scones are especially tempting, and readers fond of soups will find these particularly hearty and pleasing and often a meal in themselves." Gillian Olechno

Library J 96:835 Mr 1 '71 70w

Reviewed by Nika Hazelton
N Y Times Bk R p34 D 12 '71 30w

WALL, JAMES M. Church and cinema; a way of viewing film. 135p il $4.50; pa $2.45 Eerdmans

791.4 Moving pictures. Moving pictures—Moral and religious aspects
LC 76-162035

The author "offers an approach to the critical evaluation of the film. . . . His approach is to consider film as film—to understand its language, its history, its economic base, its unique characteristics and capabilities . . . [and] to present a way of viewing film that will permit the nonscholar to make sense of the growing complexity of the cinema, and to . . . arrive at his own judgments as to the worth of any particular film." (Publisher's note) Index.

"Subtract 30 pages for 11 reviews reprinted here and another dozen for unnecessary promotional photographs for various films, and only 80 pages remain. . . . Yet the bare prolegomenon for a film theology that Wall gives us is helpful, especially in view of the present dearth in theoretical work by Christian critics and the prudery so often found among Christian moviegoers. . . . [His] 'Censorship' chapter is enlightened and his chapters on the portrayal of blacks in films and on films with sexual themes show him at his critical and liberal best." Charles Whitman

Christian Century 89:206 F 16 '72 390w

"Films are now regarded as a viable art form and a powerful educational tool which Christianity can effectively use among its faithful to develop insights into the nature of man and contemporary society. Wall, a Methodist pastor and editor of the Christian Advocate, is an articulate spokesman for this approach. . . . By including a selection of his reviews from the Christian Advocate, he shows how he analyzes cinema in terms of what a film is about (plot, character, etc.) and in terms of what a film is (the visual and auditory means used to express the director's aesthetic and philosophical values). It is a familiar idea which Wall only superficially develops. . . . [But] it is still heartening to read the words of a pastor who speaks for a new and enlightened understanding between church and cinema." Henry Halpern

Library J 97:1033 Mr 15 '72 160w

WALL, ROY. Game and fish from field to table. 132p $4.95 Naylor

641.5 Cookery. Outdoor cookery
ISBN 0-8111-0442-7 LC 76-183417

These recipes are intended for use "over a campfire or in the kitchen. . . . [In addition] the writer gives detailed instructions for dressing and caring for large and small game, for upland birds and waterfowl, for eels and frogs and terrapins as well as . . . types of fish. [There is] a special chapter on sauces and garnishes. . . . [advice] on selecting a safe and comfortable campsite, on different types of campfires, [and] on the cooking utensils and provisions to take." (Publisher's note)

"[This book] will appeal only to those cooks and campers who live near game and fishing lands." Friede Gruenrock
Best Sell 32:44 Ap 15 '72 100w

"Hunters and fishermen . . . often do not know the proper methods to prevent spoilage or the loss of flavor. Wall explains the proper care from kill to table and includes many recipes for the cook. . . . Similar instructions for the care of game may be found in other sources. . . . Recipes are another matter. From book to book, recipes reflect personal preferences in aging, spicing, the use of sauces, and cooking times; there is little duplication here. An excellent addition to the cooking library of sportsmen." C. F. Clotfelter

WALL, ROY—Continued

Library J 97:2397 J1 '72 190w

WALLACE, IRVING. The Word; a novel. 576p $7.95 Simon & Schuster

ISBN 0-671-21153-6 LC 75-179586

Steven Randall, a public relations man, has been hired to promote a new translation of the Bible which includes a recently discovered gospel by James the Just, younger brother of Jesus. In it, James relates how Jesus survived the crucifixion and lived another 19 years. However, when Randall begins to investigate this new work, his belief in its authenticity falters.

Reviewed by William Abrahams
Atlantic 230:96 S '72 1350w

"The central question, indirectly posed by the novel, is by no means uninteresting: Does the modern world most need an effective contemporary religion, based on modern moral and intellectual dilemmas, or does it need to return to historical Christianity? This is not to say that Wallace's query is original. . . . Most of the novel, insofar as it concerns Biblical history and scholarship, reads with all the smoothness and spontaneity of a box of research notes on 3 X 5 cards. Wallace's research, moreover, albeit multifaceted, is not particularly thorough, especially on such topics as radio-carbon measurements and computer-directed typesetting. In fact, this is an inexcusable novel, sloppy, anti-intellectual, horribly written, insulting." Carolyn Riley
Best Sell 32:43 Ap 15 '72 800w
Choice 9:819 S '72 60w

Reviewed by J. G. Harrison
Christian Science Monitor p8 Ap 27 '72 350w

"Wallace's new book may be his longest, and it's one of the most outlandish trash novels of recent years. . . . Unfortunately Wallace is trying to make a serious statement about religion, just as he tried to say something about censorship in The Seven Minutes [BRD 1969]. . . . One can shudder at this dreadful, fitfully amusing novel; but books like The Word are beyond criticism, since every public library in the country will soon own at least one copy." J. A. Avant
Library J 97:1035 Mr 15 '72 110w
New Repub 166:23 Mr 25 '72 270w

"Wallace has no insight into what he's doing, and no ear for language. What he does have is a flair for controversial, topical subjects and a good liberal's serious respect for honesty, justice and nonconformity. He's also very adept at those unlikely coincidences that keep a reader wondering. But when you've been made to wonder, you feel cheated if you don't get answers, and The Word bypasses those answers for a sweeping message of faith." Steven Kroll
N Y Times Bk R p[39] Mr 19 '72 550w

WALLACE, MARTIN. Northern Ireland: 50 years of self-government. 192p $7.25 Barnes & Noble

320.9416 Northern Ireland--Politics and government
SBN 389-04185-8 LC 78-28904

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by Galen Broeker
Am Hist R 77:1449 D '72 160w

Reviewed by A. M. Lee
Ann Am Acad 400:195 Mr '72 380w
Choice 8:1634 F '72 120w

WALLIS, R. T. Neoplatonism. (Classical life and letters) 212p ill $10 Scribner

186 Neoplatonism
SBN 684-12903-5 LC 70-39183

"Wallis' aim has been to assist readers of the Neoplatonists' works by an analysis of their leading ideas . . . [explaining] both what they said and why they said it. . . . Attention is given to doctrinal disagreements within the school, and special sections deal with the Neoplatonists' treatment of the Platonic and Aristotelian texts, their attitude to Christianity and their later influence. It is shown how from one point of view Neoplatonism marks a synthesis of Classical Greek thought, whereas from another it applies that synthesis to problems of religious experience and man's inner life." (Publisher's note) Annotated bibliography. Index.

"[This is] a map through Neoplatonism [and] a fine philosophical history."
Christian Century 87:877 S 6 '72 20w

"This is a scholarly and perceptive account of Neoplatonism. . . . What distinguishes Wallis' work as a scholarly and objective analysis is his excellent use of referencing. He not only substantiates all of his claims with textual documentation, but further specifies their exact source locations according to book, number, paragraph, etc." Kathleen Madden
Library J 97:3594 N 1 '72 130w

"While . . . [this study] is aimed at non-specialist readers there is much in it that will be of value to professionals as well; the author has scrupulously documented almost every statement and never failed, in so far as the restricted compass of the book allows, to present evidence against his own views. . . . One of the great merits of Neoplatonism is that, in spite of the pressures of space, Professor Wallis never attempts to impose consistency where it did not exist. . . . In a final chapter, which should perhaps be read first by those who are skeptical about the importance of Neoplatonism, [the author] summarizes its influence on medieval and modern thought and literature. Professor Wallis has produced an admirable account of a very difficult subject, remarkable for the erudition that clearly lies behind it as well as for its lucidity and good sense."

TLS p896 J1 28 '72 1200w

WALLS, DAVID S., ed. Appalachia in the sixties: decade of reawakening; ed. by David S. Walls & John B. Stephenson. 261p $8.50; pa $3.75 Univ. press of Ky.

330.974 Appalachian region--Economic conditions. Appalachian region--Social conditions
ISBN 0-8131-1259-1; 0-8131-0135-2 (pa)
LC 78-160052

The editors "offer a collection of 'observations, impressions, and evaluations of journalists, field workers, local residents, politicians, and social scientists' concerning what has happened in the Southern Appalachians in the 1960s. The articles, most of which were published from 1965-70, describe and analyze the 'rediscovery' of the region as a problem area." (Choice)

"Few libraries are likely to have access to all the sources from which this collection comes: in addition to the New York Times and St. Louis dispatch, one finds articles from The Mountain Eagle and West Virginia Hillbilly along with selections from the New Yorker, Commentary, and Transaction (Society). The editors offer an important collection of articles by articulate spokesmen on the 'progress' of Appalachia today. Well recommended to hold the interest of layman and professional alike."

Choice 9:1214 N '72 250w

"The list of contributors is impressive and includes such nationally known writers as Harry Caudill, Rupert Vance, Robert Coles, Calvin Trillin, and Dan Wakefield, as well as lesser known, but equally important Appalachian activists Don West, Tom Gish, Robb Burlage, and others. The blend of national journalism and grass-roots commentary gives the book a unique balance and provides a depth of insight that has been sadly lacking in many books written about Appalachia." Mark Neyman
Library J 97:1731 My 1 '72 150w

WALSH, STEPHEN. The Lieder of Schumann. 128p $6.95 Praeger

784.3 Schumann, Robert Alexander
LC 72-154349

"The major portion of the book centers on Schumann's burst of creative energy in 1840, when he composed at least 126 songs. After a detailed discussion of Myrten—the collection of songs based on poems by Goethe, Burns, Heine, and Moore—and the Heine Liederkreis . . . the Eichendorff Liederkreis, the Dichterliebe, the Chamisso cycle, and other works composed up to 1840 are examined. The book then turns to the Wilhelm Meister songs and the others of 1849-50 and Schumann's last songs—from the Elisabeth Kulmann cycle to the Gedichte Königin Maria Stuart." (Publisher's note) Index.

"Walsh, London music critic and professional singer, . . . [presents] a book that can be utilized as reference material for portions of Schumann's works, each portion of the work containing commentary about the most important characteristics affecting all of the composer's musical efforts. Worthy companion to other studies."

Choice 9:825 S '72 130w

"As the author indicates, only the cycles Liederkreis, Dichterliebe, and Frauenliebe und Leben are performed with any frequency. And despite his best efforts in this learned and interestingly written discourse the fact remains that the other Schumann lieder are predominantly dull and uninspired works which may be of interest, but only to musicologists and music historians." K. C. Rosenberg

Library J 97:200 Ja 15 '72 100w

"No one has yet discovered a satisfactory way of writing about songs. . . . A certain amount of generalization is possible and worthwhile, but if monographs are to be written, as in this new series . . . they must be more specific in their commentary. . . . [Walsh presents] two excellent essays on the influence of the piano and the composer's susceptibility to poetry. He feels that Schumann lacked impeccable literary taste but had something more nearly instinctive. . . . [The author] notes in passing the biographical influences, the struggle for Clara, the divided personality, and Schumann's music criticism; and he has ■ discerning analytical chapter on the song-cycles."

TLS p1456 N 19 '71 180w

WALSHE, PETER. The rise of African nationalism in South Africa; the African National Congress, 1912-1952. 480p $13.50 Univ. of Calif. press

322.4 African National Congress. Nationalism. Africa, South—History
LC [70-875021]

This is an historical account of the first forty years of the African National Congress. Bibliography. "Index." (Choice)

"Nothing but praise can be given to this book. . . . One regrets only that this excellent and extremely thorough researcher has chosen to cover ground that has been so well plowed by others. This is not to say that he has nothing new to add. . . . Walshe would have been especially well advised to have covered the 20 years between 1952 and the present, a period greatly in need of the kind of detailed illumination he presents on the 40 years between 1912 and 1952. His bibliography, footnotes, and index display intensive research."

Choice 8:1628 F '72 170w

"[This is] the fullest and best-balanced account [of the ANC] to date. . . . To write on such a large scale and to bring in the economic scene as well was a task to dismay anyone. From the historian's point of view, African organizations are inevitably deficient in preserving materials for the record. Making this worse, hardly a library in South Africa has ever held it a duty to preserve the ephemeral pamphlets, leaflets, and unpublished documents and minutes which an author needs in order to reconstruct the course taken from time to time by the ANC under the influence of leaders or the pressure of events. . . . Professor Walshe does not complain about this situation, perhaps because somehow he managed to gain access to what he required for this substantial work. He is evidently the first to make good use of the unpublished papers of Dr. A. B. Xuma which were deposited in the South African Institute of Race Relations in Johannesburg."

TLS p1149 S 24 '71 650w

WALT, LEWIS W. Strange war, strange strategy; a general's report on Vietnam; introd. by Lyndon B. Johnson. 208p il $7.95 Funk

959.7 Vietnamese Conflict, 1961-
LC 74-127054

This is an "account of Walt's role in the critical years 1965-1968, when Marine corps units under his command met the North Vietnamese regulars in large unit actions." (Library J)

"In a way General Walt's book is improperly titled, for there is little discussion of the strategy of the Vietnam war. Nevertheless, written from the perspective of a field commander, the work is rich in understanding of the conflict. It is no apologia, but rather a human and moving account. . . . [The author vividly describes the] internal strife and political turmoil in South Vietnam. . . . This is a good book about an all too unhappy subject." R. T. Redden

Library J 95:4260 D 15 '70 130w

"[Much of this book] reads like a simple-minded public relations job for the die-hard elements in Congress, State Department and Pentagon. . . . Yet, to be fair, once the indoctrination session (with a potted history of Vietnam's last 1,000 years) is over, the author provides a good professional account of his troops' first engagement, interesting impressions of the 1966 political crisis in Hue and Danang, and an excellent description of the rugged country from the DMZ to the border of Laos. Reverting to his mission to explain what the conflict is all about, the General concludes that American troops had come to Vietnam 'and departed when the job was done, leaving behind another beachhead for freedom.' He can tell that to the Marines." J. L. S. Girling

Pacific Affairs 44:641 winter '71-'72
350w

WALTER, MARION. Make a bigger puddle, make a smaller worm; devised and ill. by Marion Walter. unsp $3.95 Evans, M.&co; for sale by Lippincott

793.7 Mathematical recreations—Juvenile literature. Optical illusions—Juvenile literature
LC 70-186593

"With the help of the metal mirror provided . . . children can change the illustrations in the book, making things smaller, larger, fewer, fatter." (TLS) "Ages four to eight." (Library J)

"[This book] pictures a variety of everyday objects and scenes and lends itself to an even greater number of permutations in the visual elements." Helen Andrejevic

Book World p14 (children's issue) My 7 '72 30w

"[This book] should not be dismissed as gimmicky. Marion Walter's professional concern is the improvement of mathematics teaching in primary schools and her book . . . based on work in the United States [has] grown out of that concern. . . . [The book is] particularly valuable in helping children with limited reading ability understand some basic mathematical ideas."

TLS p1520 D 3 '71 60w

WALTON, HANES. Black politics; a theoretical and structural analysis. 246p $7.95; pa $4.95 Lippincott

323.1 Negroes—Political activity. Negroes—Suffrage
ISBN 0-397-47206-4; O-397-47205-6 (pa)
LC 72-155878

The author presents "an overview of black participation in the political process in all major areas, nonelectoral—e.g. blacks and the President, the Congress, and the Supreme Court—as well as voting behavior." (Choice)

Reviewed by E. L. Thornbrough

Ann Am Acad 404:297 N '72 370w

"An ambitious [and] very well researched [account]. . . . While including some interesting theories and useful insights, e.g. on early movement of blacks into the Democratic party, and environmental influences on black electoral participation, as well as much factual information which is otherwise fugitive and scattered, the book suffers from attempting to cover so much ground in relatively short compass. As a result there is occasional oversimplification, sometimes superficial analysis, and some haziness of conclusions. Useful if only a summary volume is desired for a short course in black politics."

Choice 9:1044 O '72 180w

"Walton's history is derivative and superficial, and his 'theoretical insights' amount to political science jargon. What purports to be analysis is often simplistic, sometimes simply wrong, for example, 'In opposing the [Carnegie] appointment, the NAACP was without major allies. That the confirmation was denied is therefore indicative of the organization's strength'. Curious interpretations remain unsubstantiated. . . . The book is extremely repetitive; the writing is generally pedestrian, often convoluted. . . . Numerous misspellings, incorrect citations, and typographical errors

WALTON, HANES—Continued

compound the lack of clarity. Many of the quotations lack documentation, and the extensive quotations of secondary sources is inappropriate. Voting statistics are presented without any indication of sources or methods of derivation. There are occasional misstatements of fact." N. J. Weiss

J Am Hist 59:778 D '72 400w

"[This] dry, factual and fairly accurate summary of black politics over two hundred years, shows that race has always been [the blacks'] central concern. . . . [The book] attempts to show that ethnics are decisive in American politics. Do not be misled—ethnics comprise less than a third of the electorate, and are heavily concentrated in the Northeast." Richard Jensen

Nat R 24:904 Ag 18 '72 450w

WALTON, HANES. The political philosophy of Martin Luther King, Jr; introd. by Samuel DuBois Cook. (Contributions in Afro-American and African studies, no10) 137p $8.50 Greenwood press

320.5 King, Martin Luther

ISBN 0-8371-4661-5 LC 76-111260

"Following King through his intellectual development, [Walton] shows that from Jesus, Thoreau, and Gandhi came his theory of non-violent social change. . . . [The author] seeks to show that it was from Walter Rauschenbusch [King] learned that Christianity must deal not only with the spiritual, but also with man's everyday socioeconomic life, while Reinhold Niebuhr gave him an understanding of collective sin and the complexities of both individual and group behavior. . . . While admitting that King's movement gained limited success, [Walton] states that his ideology . . . could not provide fundamental answers." (Library J) Bibliography.

"This brief, well expressed essay states that Martin Luther King Jr's political philosophy was 'fragmentary,' lacking in 'systematic order' and not 'completely convincing.' Walton's evidence to support this view is well put together. His overall conclusion seems even more valid: in spite of its limitations, King's approach forced more change in the thinking concerning white racism of both black America and white America than any other leader. . . . Walton's contribution should serve many useful purposes in various social science studies."

Choice 9:575 Je '72 250w

"Walton, assistant professor of political science at Savannah State College, has analyzed and criticized King's political philosophy. . . . [He] maintains that King attempted to generalize upon his local experiences, and that his error was in trying 'to extend revealed laws, or their interpretation of divine law, to all people and all situations.' In addition, he was inconsistent in denying the value of violence, relying instead on government-enforced civil rights legislation. This book is an excellent introduction to King's philosophy . . . [and] is recommended for most libraries." R. F. Kugler

Library J 96:2522 Ag '71 360w

WALTON, RICHARD J. Cold war and counterrevolution; the foreign policy of John F. Kennedy. 250p $7.95 Viking

973.922 Kennedy, John Fitzgerald, President U.S.—U.S.—Politics and government—1961-

SBN 670-22690-4 LC 78-171890

The author's thesis "is that John F. Kennedy, supported by his New Frontier foreign-policy advisers, was entirely a conventional Cold Warrior. That in spite of the rhetoric calling for new imaginative policies, the President . . . accelerated the old anti-Communist policies of Truman and Eisenhower based on an assumption of a moral right to intervene in the internal affairs of other countries. [Walton] seeks to show that] Kennedy's major foreign policy decisions (those regarding Laos, the Bay of Pigs, Berlin, nuclear testing, the Cuban Missile Crisis and Vietnam) . . . [were] traditional anti-Communist responses that were more concerned with appearance than reality." (Library J)

Reviewed by V. A. Lapomarda
America 126:546 My 20 '72 120w

Reviewed by F. C. Brown
Best Sell 31:545 Mr 1 '72 500w

"Adorers [of President Kennedy] have had their say in several thousand pages, and now the inevitable counter-attack is shaping up. Walton's salvo is not the first blast of that assault, but it is in some respects the best aimed, and its shattering effect is considerable. Even to a reader who thinks it rather overdone, this slashing attack is not altogether regrettable. After all the décor of Camelot did include a good deal of tinsel, and to have the red plastic ribbons and shredded aluminum foil removed is a service to truth in history. Walton rips away the junk with a strong and ruthless hand, but he is not notably selective. He tears down some drapes that were of real silk, and consigns to the dustbin some trappings that were of at least 10-karat gold." G. W. Johnson

Book World p6 Ja 23 '72 550w

Reviewed by Stanley Hoffman

Commonweal 96:436 Ag 11 '72 370w

"This provocative and well-written book . . . is based on the words and deeds of Kennedy as presented by his friends (Salinger, Schlesinger, Sorensen, McNamara, Hilsman, etc.), but Walton's analysis leads him to draw different conclusions. He raises the hard questions that have to be asked if the Kennedy years are to be reevaluated objectively." Hubert Humphreys

Library J 97:70 Ja 1 '72 180w

"[This] critical assessment of the Kennedy policies . . . is based upon a meticulous examination of the various crises of the Kennedy years, along with the positions espoused and justifications offered at the time. . . . Walton's assessment of the Cuban missile crisis is the most penetrating part of the book. Unlike the Kennedy hagiographers, he does not see the event as JFK's greatest triumph." Ronald Radosh

Nation 214:281 F 28 '72 1000w

Reviewed by G. E. Reedy

New Repub 166:29 F 12 '72 1600w

Reviewed by Ronald Steel

N Y Rev of Books 19:43 O 19 '72 800w

"In the opinion of this reporter, who covered the Kennedy years for C.B.S. News in Washington, the charges [brought by Walton] are essentially true, despite some exaggeration and selective editing. . . . [However,] the point is not that there was a villain named Kennedy, but that almost everybody. . . . must share the guilt of one of the sorriest periods of American history, the last quarter-century of atomic brinkmanship and global interventionism, accompanied by a suicidal and impoverishing arms race. . . . [The book contains] many brilliant insights into American foreign-policy attitudes, well beyond the theme of the study. . . . [This volume] will make very disturbing reading for most Americans and will chill Democratic leaders already facing an . . . electoral campaign against incumbent Nixon." David Schoenbrun

N Y Times Bk R p6 Mr 19 '72 500w

New Yorker 48:103 F 26 '72 140w

"If John Kennedy had his prejudices and viewed certain complex matters superficially, so does Mr. Walton. The martyred President was not the saint that some people recall, but neither was he quite the blundering sinner depicted here." E. B. Tompkins

Sat R 55:68 My 20 '72 250w

WALTON, RICHARD J. The United States and Latin America. 179p $4.95 Seabury

327.73 U.S.—Foreign relations—Latin America. Latin America—Foreign relations—U.S. ISBN 0-8164-3074-8 LC 76-171860

The author traces in sequence "the Monroe Doctrine, the Mexican and Spanish-American Wars, and the eras of 'Dollar Diplomacy' and of 'The Good Neighbor Policy'. . . . The book concludes with such . . . events of recent years as the Cuban missile crisis, intervention in the Dominican Republic, and the U.S. attitude toward the election of a Marxist government in Chile." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"With lucid and provoking reviews of our country's policy . . . the author has given us a book to start heated arguments among Social Science and History teachers and students. Recommended as stimulating, though controversial. From Junior High on to adult." Mrs. J. G. Gray

Best Sell 31:567 Mr 15 '72 300w [YA]

"The author—with a deft touch and a journalistic candor—presents the social and political history of Latin America as it transects our own. . . . United States' attitudes and policies that have sometimes aided—but often hampered—Latin America are scrutinized and discussed in a readable and well-balanced evaluation. Although obviously opinionated about certain questions, the author frequently lists alternative ways of viewing a particular situation and informs the reader that he must decide which interpretation seems justified. By exploring this difficult subject honestly and thoroughly, the author has written a controversial and interesting book about America's all-too-frequent misunderstanding of and misadventures in Latin America." A. S.

Horn Bk 48:280 Je '72 250w

WALVIN, JAMES. The Black presence: a documentary history of the Negro in England, 1555-1860. (Sourcebooks in Negro hist) 222p $3.50 Schocken

301.45 Negroes in England—History—Sources
LC 75-16829

The documents in this source book range "from the early humanitarian attacks on slavery and the apologists for it to . . . Thomas Carlyle's . . . 'Discourse on the nigger question' and John Stuart Mill's reply to it, 'On the Negro Question.'" (Choice) Bibliography. Index to documents. General index.

"The first book to examine the history of the black man in England, and it is only a modest beginning. Although Walvin calls it 'a documentary history of the Negro in England,' the title of the volume is misleading. The book deals rather with the attitude of white Englishmen toward the black man, black immigration into England, and slavery in the period from 1555-1860. Walvin's introduction, a splendid essay which suggests how little indeed is known of the history of the Negro in England, points the way toward important areas of research as yet untouched. [He offers a] judicious selection of documents." (Choice 9:871 S '72 180w

"Walvin has performed a useful service by bringing together [this] body of documents. . . . They range from a contemporary account of Hawkins's first voyage, through Elizabeth's proclamation calling for the expulsion of the Blacks and the books written by England's first three Black writers at the end of the eighteenth century to Carlyle's pre-fascist thunderings. . . . Mr Walvin merely presents these documents. He does little to analyze them." TLS p888 J1 30 '71 300w

WAMBAUGH, JOSEPH. The blue knight. (An Atlantic monthly press bk) 338p $7.95 Little
LC 79-175474

We follow "Bumper Morgan, a fat Irish cop at 50, dyspeptic, lusty, tough, egotistic, with only two days to go before his planned retirement from the Los Angeles police department. . . . As we accompany him in his patrol car, he entertains us with many . . . reminiscences, takes us to his haunts, chases, [and] confrontations with a . . . variety of criminals." (Library J)

Best Sell 31:518 F 15 '72 290w

Reviewed by Audrey Foote

Book World p6 Mr 5 '72 440w

Reviewed by C. M. Carmichael

Christian Science Monitor p10 Mr 2 '72 220w

"[Morgan is] fresh from the nostalgic factory. He has pounded his beat for 20 years. Everyone knows him (or vice versa), and almost everyone likes him, with due fealty paid in terms of free meals of every loving description. . . . He is the very model of a cop (genus Hollywoodiana, 1940's). Wambaugh should know, having been a blue knight himself. He writes with great gusto, rough, tough language, affection and even reverence for Bumper and the law-and-order school that he represents. His characters, all of them, are vivid, colorful, and memorable; and despite an occasional contrivance, the novel goes down easily, like a milkshake." A. L. Fessler
Library J 97:216 Ja 15 '72 220w

"The trouble is that, given 'The Blue Knight's' episodic plot, the reader gets the feeling that Wambaugh is flipping through his notebook and addressing himself systematically to headings such as 'Workings of Bookie Ring' and 'Importance of Badge.' Yet the portrait of Bumper has force and authenticity. . . . Bumper, however, has attributes that seem unlikely in a man his age. He digs hard rock. He dates a black chick. He gets involved with a 19-year-old belly dancer. . . . This reader was left with the impression that Bumper's character was incomplete in the young author's mind—and has been fleshed out with bits and pieces of Wambaugh's own experiences and tastes. . . . [The book] effectively conveys the loneliness of an aging man who puts too much of himself into his work. Its warty portrayal of the police will make it controversial in some quarters." Eric Pace

N Y Times Bk p4 F 13 '72 800w

New Yorker 48:105 Ap 1 '72 150w

"Wambaugh almost challenges his reader: 'You want a pig? I'll show you a real pig.' Bumper is a flatulent, pot-bellied, 275 lb. prototype of the bulls that demonstrators love to hate. The caricature is deliberate; the author means to endow a stereotype with complexity and sentiment. Bumper has his own street ethics. . . . The book tends to be a bit ostentatious in such honesties, as if they established Bumper's credibility. In the end, Wambaugh sentimentalizes Bumper as a sort of repellently lovable super-cop who, whenever he is not strongarming 'pukepots,' is bantering in Yiddish, Spanish or Arabic with the ethnics on the beat. Oddly, some most persuasive moments occur when Bumper sits down to consume one of the Lucullan meals he regularly cadges. Wambaugh's feeling for food is almost erotic." Lance Morrow
Time 99:83 F 28 '72 490w

WANLESS, HAROLD R., jt. auth. Our changing coastlines. See Shepard, F. P.

WARBURTON, MARY (CECIL), LADY, ed. Eighteen years in the Khyber, 1879-1898. See Warburton, R.

WARBURTON, SIR ROBERT. Eighteen years in the Khyber, 1879-1898; ed. by Mary Cecil, Lady Warburton. 351p $8.75 Oxford

954.9 Khyber, Pakistan—History. Afghan Wars
LC 75-18096

These military memoirs, which were originally published in England in 1900, are an "insider's view of military service on the Afghan frontier of British India." (Choice)

"[These memoirs are] quaintly anachronistic in their late 19th-century perspective and paternalism. . . . The book is also a document of the social history of official life in India recorded before the loss of imperialistic certainties later in the 20th century. . . . Recommended for India and British Empire collections." (Choice 8:278 Ap '71 80w

"To turn the pages of this book is to be translated into the epoch when Rudyard Kipling brought to Englishmen at home the true dimensions of the task which faced their fellow-countrymen on the north-western marches of India. It was from Robert Warburton, half-Afghan as he was, that Kipling drew his famous policeman ('Strickland' in other stories), whose verbal sword-play with the Sahiba after Kim and the Lama had joined her cortege all readers of Kim will remember. . . . [These] pages are full of bitter tribal feuds, of fakir's curses . . . of incitements to holy war by restless mullahs and fanatical divinity students. And like a golden thread running through these tales of battle, murder, and sudden death is the devoted personal attachment formed between the British officers and their trusted Afghan friends." TLS p223 F 19 '71 650w

WARD, BARBARA. Only one earth; the care and maintenance of a small planet, by Barbara Ward and René Dubos. 225p $6 Norton

301.3 International cooperation. Environmental policy. Human ecology

This study, "commissioned as a preparatory report for the United Nations Conference on the Human Environment, provides background information and a conceptual framework for the deliberations and follow-up of that meeting in Stockholm [in June, 1972. The authors] . . . explain the fact of environmental interrelationships—air, water, land, energy resources—and the consequences of policies which ignore these interrelationships." (America)

"Barbara Ward's sensitive hand is evident in the pages which describe the dilemma of the poor nations—called to modernization and industrialization in order to raise their people from misery, yet hindered by the rich nations' traditional exercise of power and now by a new concern for pollution and ecological balance. . . . As might be expected in a book designed for use by a United Nations conference, the authors take a hard look at the issue of national sovereignty and the environment. The subtitle of their study, 'The Care and Maintenance of a Small Planet,' stresses the fact that the earth is indeed a small planet and its proper care and maintenance will only be possible through world planning, world strategy, world action. . . . [This] profoundly ethical, value-oriented study . . . [points] to areas of concern for economists and political scientists, philosophers and theologians." P. J. Henriot

WARD, BARBARA—Continued

America 126:636 Je 17 '72 350w

Reviewed by Edward Weeks
Atlantic 230:89 Ag '72 950w

"The authors, perhaps more appropriately considered as quasi-editors, are eminently qualified for their task: one is a political economist and the other a renowned microbiologist and Pulitzer author. . . . There was considerable consultation involved in preparing the book. A preliminary manuscript was submitted to 152 environmentally concerned citizens, scientist and non-scientist alike, from fifty-eight countries, for their comments and criticisms. The viewpoints expressed in this final draft can, therefore, be classified as broad indeed. . . . Already selected as a book-of-the-month-club offering, [this volume] is a complete picture of the history, development, and present status of our biotic plight. . . . If you have time to read only one book on the environmental self-made mess that we are in, read this one." F. J. MacEntee
Best Sell 32:124 Je 1 '72 470w

Reviewed by A. M. Kingdon
Christian Century 89:927 S 20 '72 240w

Reviewed by R. C. Cowen
Christian Science Monitor p11 Je 7 '72 500w

"[The book] does not suggest committing any nation to any political program whatsoever. The writers . . . render a lucid account of man's recent impact on the earth. They stress . . . the attainment of unprecedented personal mobility . . . for the direct benefit of a rather small part of the total world population. . . . The reader of [this book], whether or not he has governmental responsibilities, must come away from the book with the feeling that . . . the practical decisions that must be made to protect natural assets and amenities are difficult and unclear. . . . If the physical environment of the developed world is deteriorating in fact as fast and as inevitably as we are told in this book, the United Nations Conference on the Human Environment will be able to do precious little about it." Roger Starr
Commentary 54:96 O '72 2300w

Reviewed by G. H. Siehl
Library J 97:2633 Ag '72 110w

"Relatively little attention is given in the book to the diversity and complexity of the natural world and its significance to man's welfare. . . . Alternatives to development in the traditional sense are scarcely considered. The prospects for maintaining a diversity of life-styles suited to the great genetic diversity of the human race are mostly passed over. The rights of those who were not represented by governments at Stockholm—the different peoples and cultures that do not hold political power and who may not seek to participate in an urbanized world of high technology, but rather to find different paths to happiness—are certainly not examined. Instead, economic development in its traditional Western sense is considered to be essential for the United Nations family. All men must be caught in the technological net." R. F. Dasmann
Natur Hist 81:198 O '72 2400w

"[This ponderous tome on] . . . what is and is not known about the environment . . . divides fairly naturally into five sections dealing respectively with the natural processes determining the earth's environment, the need for planetary care and maintenance, the problems posed by advanced technology, the special problems of the developing countries, and, finally, some pious hopes for the future. The pace is always brisk, the language sometimes flabby. . . . [But] the content of the book has been vetted by a wide enough range of informed opinion to ensure that it is a reliable statement of the current consensus of knowledge on these matters." John Naughton
New Statesman 83:714 My 26 '72 700w

WARD, HARRY M. "Unite or die"; inter-colony relations, 1690-1763. 323p $13.95 Ken-nikat

973.2 U.S.—History—Colonial period
ISBN 0-8046-9013-8 LC 72-189362

"The author has examined cooperation in such areas as military affairs, Indian administration, boundary disputes, and frontier regulation. . . . [It is] Ward's contention that inter-colonial cooperative action was a 'major factor contributing to the formation of American union.' (Choice) Bibliography, index.

"Utilizing a topical rather than chronological treatment, Professor Ward makes it difficult to perceive growth toward closer intercolonial cooperation. In his initial chapter he argues that as late as the last of the wars against France, the colonies would not have accepted unity on a continental scale, even for common defense. But, on the basis of statements by a few contemporaries, he argues that they would have accepted union on a regional basis, grouping of New England, Middle and Southern colonies, those sharing a common frontier. . . . Unfortunately for the thesis set forth in this initial chapter on plans of union, those which follow offer contradictory evidence. . . . Perhaps the greatest flaw of this work is the failure to probe beneath the constitutional rhetoric of local rights to the social and political substructure." Jack Sosin
Ann Am Acad 400:180 Mr '72 600w

"This detailed study of intercolonial cooperation [is based on] . . . a judicious selection of primary and secondary sources. [The author] has not established a pattern of causation. Nevertheless, he has provided an authoritative, clearly written if in-elegant account of an important aspect of early American history replete with a useful bibliography and index. Should appeal both to the specialist and the general reader."
Choice 8:906 S '71 160w

"The author succeeds ably in identifying the factors which both hindered and advanced the cause of colonial union. . . . Ward's approach to the problem . . . is refreshing as well as informative. He succeeds eminently well in portraying the awkwardness, confusion, and jealousies which characterized 'inter-colony cooperative action.' Unhappily his format, at times, is repetitive, although not excessively so—the relationship among logistics, manpower, a unified command, and finance, for example, is often difficult to distill from the narrative. . . . One disturbing omission is Ward's failure to include the 1754 Albany Congress' 'Representation of the Present State of the Colonies' as one of his sources. . . . [There are] informative footnotes and an excellent bibliography." J. V. Jezerski
J Am Hist 58:1002 Mr '72 380w

Reviewed by R. F. Campbell
New Eng Q 44:683 D '71 750w

WARD, J. T., ed. Land and industry; the landed estate and the industrial revolution; a symposium; ed. by J. T. Ward and R. G. Wilson. 280p $12 Barnes & Noble

338 Land tenure. Great Britain—Industries
ISBN 389-04186-6 LC 70-30441

"The hypothesis put forward and defended by the contributors . . . is that the large British landowners, all things considered, were not major obstacles to economic change and progress in the 18th and 19th centuries. In fact, through the provision of capital and leadership in mining, agricultural reform, and industrial development, they were instrumental in promoting economic growth." (Choice) Author's index. General index.

"[This is a] revisionist study in economic history. . . . Much of the evidence provided is anecdotal and fragmentary, since it is drawn primarily from family and estate papers, but a fairly convincing case is made for the major thesis. Of interest primarily to serious researchers in British history."
Choice 9:108 Mr '72 90w

"As is often the case in such collections it is the more local and limited subjects that prove the more novel and interesting. . . . The main advantage of these essays is to show the variety of the economic activities of the landowners and the wide range of influences which affected their response to industrialization. This is valuable, but the collection does not constitute a comprehensive or systematic treatment of the subject, and the conclusions are generally too limited or impressionistic to be of much use to historians interested in the broader questions of economic growth. [This work] makes more of a contribution to family history than to economic history."

TLS p321 Mr 24 '72 550w

WARD, MARTHA E. Authors of books for young people, by Martha E. Ward and Dorothy A. Marquardt. 2d ed 579p $15 Scarecrow

920 Authors. Children's literature
ISBN 0-8108-0404-2 LC 70-157057

"This is a revised edition of the authors' two previous publications: Authors of Books for Young People which was published in 1964 and Authors of Books for Young People, First Supplement which was published in 1967. New entries have been included resulting in a total of 2161 biographies in this book. Other revisions are the inclusion of the publisher and year of publication for each title, and cross references for all pseudonyms." (Pref)

"A somewhat useful updated reference for those who want to know a bit about 2,161 authors, most of whom write for children. The selection of authors included, which was 'frequently' based on the number of times children between 12 and 14 in a library in Quincey, Ill., asked for information about these writers, is dubious. Minor writers are often included while writers of some stature—Lee Bennet Hopkins, John Steptoe, etc.—are not, supposedly because 'other biographical information' is available. However, many major writers who are mentioned in every biographical reference are also included. . . . The entries at best give basic information—birth date, place of birth, education, etc. along with a few titles (often of most minor works). At their worst, these life sketches are too brief to be meaningful and do not include major titles. . . . Lists of Caldecott and Newbery Medal winners to 1970 are included."

Choice 9:208 Ap '72 160w

"This work includes other European writers as well as British. . . . The style is choppy and awkward. . . . The bibliographies are not complete. The listing is frustrating since titles cited in either the first edition or supplement are not always repeated in the revised edition. . . . [The book] suffers from faulty workmanship and lack of selectivity. Information provided . . . is accurate—as far as it goes." M. N. Coughlan

Library J 97:1151 Mr 15 '72 420w

WARD, SETH. Vindiciae academiæarum. See Debus, A. G. Science and education in the seventeenth century: the Webster-Ward debate

WARDLE, RALPH M. Hazlitt. 530p il $15 Univ. of Neb. press

824 Hazlitt, William
ISBN 0-8032-0790-5 LC 75-130870

This biography "takes into account the testimony of Hazlitt's contemporaries, his extensive literary output, and the investigations of recent scholars and critics. Special attention is given to the letters . . . which Hazlitt wrote during his agonized infatuation with Sally Walker, his landlord's daughter. Hazlitt's love of his fellow man, which contrasts sharply with his frequent conflicts with his associates, is traced throughout his life and writings, and seen as the unifying force in his work as a philosopher." (Publisher's note) Index.

"Wardle is at his best in explaining Hazlitt's basic character and in showing how changes in his situation affected the tone of his works at various times in his life; but he is extremely unselective in what he chooses to discuss, with the result that his treatment of Hazlitt's personality is often obscured, and the only work which he has space to treat fully is Liber amoris. If one is looking for pure biographical information, or for a book which will say a little about every work Hazlitt wrote, or for a summary of contemporary allusions to him and reviews of his work, this book will be useful, and large libraries should have it."

Choice 8:1588 F '72 170w

"Professor Wardle has scarcely offered any unitary analytic theme. . . . [His book] will be useful to Eng Lit students—the chronological arrangement is such that they can quickly find out what Hazlitt was writing. . . . They will find it less useful if they are alert to any larger questions of value and interpretation. . . . One must enter a protest against [the] trivialization of Hazlitt's profound political commitment. This commitment, which informed all his manifold critical writings, was a central organizing principle throughout his life. . . . On a hundred issues Hazlitt, almost alone in his time, and with an extraordinary sureness of touch, anticipated judgments which at least some historians and critics have come to endorse. This suggests a man of greater stature, intellectual coherence, and generosity of sensibility than has been offered to us by his latest biographer."

TLS p1427 N 24 '72 2100w

"Wardle's biography is a portrait of [an] outrageous, pathetic, fascinating man. . . . Filled with lengthy quotations, this life can serve as an introduction to the wide range of Hazlitt's writing. . . . Though marred by an over-zealous attempt to include every detail of the life, to paraphrase almost every essay no matter how insignificant, Wardle's biography is still an interesting analysis of a very complex personality. Students of literary criticism will find little new here, but anyone who shares Hazlitt's abiding curiosity about human character will find this biography a rewarding study."

Va Q R 48:lx1 spring '72 230w

"[The attempt] to be all things to all readers makes a large, complicated, irritating book. A minor annoyance is the system of reference to individual writings only by volume and number in the 21-volume Complete Works. The chronological arrangement, gathering everything in by date, makes it easy to picture Hazlitt at any given period, but extremely difficult to assess his total accomplishment, or even his development, in any activity or form. The book will be useful if it sends the reader back to Hazlitt himself, whose writings, collected or selected, still circulate at a modest rate from library shelves."

Yale R 61:VIII Mr '72 750w

WARNATH, CHARLES F. New myths and old realities. 172p $7.75 Jossey-Bass

378.1 Personnel service in education. Education, Higher
ISBN 0-87583-114-4 LC 77-172879

This is a "critique of the present status of college counselors, counseling centers, and the . . . student personnel program." (Choice) Bibliography.

"[Warnath's] conclusions are negative and the picture they paint is a bleak one. Training and job experience are far apart for most counselors and student personnel workers. What has been more and more manifestly true in the past several years is finally admitted and situated in the overall scene of American higher education as it exists today. . . . Warnath writes clearly and the book is well suited for all who are seeking a career in student personnel or college counseling work as well as those engaged in the education of such persons. Libraries in colleges and universities would find it one of the more honest publications in its area."

Choice 9:261 Ap '72 200w

"This book speaks strongly for a type of student counseling which puts primary emphasis on reducing areas of tension which impair the usefulness of institutions of higher education, improving communication between faculty and students, and improving the quality of the students' education as well as the human environment of the campus. The author decries too much emphasis on one-to-one counseling or psychotherapy. . . . Almost everyone gets scolded in this book, but [Warnath] distributes his dissatisfaction with resolute impartiality, sparing not even himself. If his account of what goes on in college counseling centers is accurate, both his scolding and his pessimism are justified." D. L. Farnsworth

J Higher Ed 43:587 O '72 350w

WARNECKE, STEVEN JOSHUA. ed. The European community in the 1970's; pub. for the European studies committee, Graduate division, City univ. of New York. 228p $15 Praeger

382 European Economic Community
LC 79-170277

These essays examine "prospective economic and political developments in the European Community to 1980, and . . . current and future problems between the U.S. and the Community. . . . [The authors] analyze the reasons for current difficulties; prospects for continued cooperation or rivalry . . . [and] the future of economic relations among the U.S., the EEC and the Third World [and they] suggest policy alternatives for implementing transatlantic cooperation in the 1970's." (Publisher's note) Index.

WARNECKE, S. J.—Continued

"This collection of essays . . . was written in late 1971 when the European Community was approaching a new stage in its history, the result of shifting external relationships and a set of problems in trade and monetary matters, all complicated by the unknown impact of added membership. Eleven excellent authors make it clear that they are uncertain as to the degree of coordination and integration which will be achieved in pursuing objectives which are not clear. Since they cannot find in either Europe or the U.S. any clear and viable policy toward the political and economic structure of the European Community, and since they are uncertain concerning shifting American attitudes in the foreign field, they must speculate about the various possibilities. The book is best when dealing with economic subjects."

Choice 9:1016 O '72 170w

"The essays . . . are uneven in quality, but they range wide and at their best—Mr Warncke himself on Europe's institutions, Mr. Andrew Pierre on the challenge of a pentagonal world, Dr Ralf Dahrendorf on possible European foreign policies—they are very good."

Economist 245:71 O 7 '72 100w

WARNER, PHILIP. The medieval castle; life in a fortress in peace and war. 262p il maps $7.95 Taplinger

901.9 Castles. Civilization, Medieval
ISBN 0-8008-5186-2 LC 70-155802

"An attempt to examine the medieval castle and its role in society. Employing examples drawn from English sources, Warner traces the development of castle architecture, explains the functions of the castle during war, and discusses the life of the castle dweller." (Library J) Glossary. Bibliography. Index.

"Warner is a lecturer at the Royal Military Academy at Sandhurst, and his book shows it. Written with vigor, it is replete with good stories of the 'life and times' variety. The attention of the cadet audience must never flag, nor will the reader's. That there are gratuitous judgements and sweeping, unsubstantiated generalizations stands to reason. On the other hand these can produce new insights and understanding. While most attention is paid to castles in England, Wales, and France, other European countries and the Crusaders' Kingdom are not ignored. . . . A useful book, ranging over four centuries, that gives a modern view of castle life."

Choice 8:1376 D '71 120w

"The book is marred by just too many simplistic assertions. The aside about the Picts painting themselves blue or the word mess meaning 'meat,' for example, are irrelevant and incorrect. Nor can the reader be sure of the broad generalizations made about medieval military strategy; they seem to pertain more to the 20th Century than to the 12th." K. G. Madison

Library J 97:71 Ja 1 '72 100w

New Yorker 48:108 Ap 1 '72 90w

WARNKE, FRANK J. Versions of baroque; European literature in the seventeenth century; by Frank J. Warnke. 229p $8.50 Yale univ. press

809.89 Literature—History and criticism
ISBN 0-300-01485-6 LC 70-151593

In this study, Warnke shows "how many are the vague, misleading, and contradictory uses of the word 'baroque.' . . . He uses the term as a period-concept, to designate a literary period from 1580 to 1690, at its beginning showing frequent and strong affinities to 'Renaissance style,' at its end, to Neoclassicism. In the period a great many 'styles,' he says, might and did persist (e.g. metaphysical, précieux, marinistic, concealed, etc.), but all can be subsumed under the umbrella-term 'baroque.'" (Yale R)

"Some common themes Warnke discovers in 17th-century European literature are those of appearance vs. reality, the world as theater, all art as a form of play, and the emphasis on transcendence in devotional literature. There are concluding chapters on the baroque epic, the presence of the sacrificial hero in much baroque literature, and the age's preoccupation with the end of the world. Recommended, especially for colleges whose humanities and literature courses stress a multinational approach to Renaissance and Baroque studies."

Choice 9:808 S '72 140w

"[Warnke's thesis] has the salient virtues of clarity and flexibility, and if his argument does not command unqualified assent, it at least elicits considerable respect. Curiously, despite the force and precision of W.'s definitions, the application of his terminology creates some reservations. . . . [One wishes] that W.'s short but provocative work would have been longer and more exhaustive in its application of the concept of Baroque." R. W. Uphaus

J Aesthetics 31:138 fall '72 250w

"[Warnke] shows his prodigious linguistic range, discussing works in English, French, German, Spanish, Dutch, and Italian, and mentioning works in Swedish and Rumanian. His examples are aptly chosen and often beautifully elucidated; he is especially good on Marvell and Milton (who recur, to advantage) among English poets, and Kuhlmann, Marino, and Vondel among Continental poets. On specific poems he is consistently fresh and active, but on 'background' he often relies uncritically on old-fashioned or simplifying syntheses. . . . This book is exciting. It dares do something that is (probably) impossible both logically and empirically. It doesn't talk down; it invites us to consider works new to us. . . . or new in the context Mr. Warnke provides. It regularly reconsiders critical clichés and categories, searches for new connections between works and kinds of works." R. L. Colle

Yale R 61:591 Je '72 1500w

WARNOD, JEANINE. Washboat days; tr. from the French by Carol Green. (An Orion press bk) 241p il $16.95 Grossman pubs.

759.4 Le Bateau-Lavoir, Paris. Cubism.
Paris—Intellectual life
SBN 670-75005-0 LC 70-157868

"The Bateau-Lavoir, located in Montmartre, was the center of some of the . . . artistic achievements of the 20th Century. In this study of the building's inhabitants and visitors, Warnod, art critic for Le Figaro, . . . [writes about] the drives and motivations of artists, critics, literary figures, collectors, and dealers such as Picasso, Gris, Braque, Matisse, Max Jacob, Apollinaire, the Steins, and Vollard." (Library J)

"The ramshackle old loft building at 13 rue Ravignan . . . looked on the exterior so much like the clumsy barges tied up to the quays along the Seine that it was known as the Bateau-Lavoir, the 'Washboat.' . . . [The building] (burned to the ground in May 1970) was the center of much of the 'revolutionary' painting now known as Fauvism, Cubism, and the primitivism occasioned by the artists' admiration for African tribal masks and sculptures. This is an intensely interesting book for anyone who tries to understand the motivation of these 'ground-breaking' painters."

Best Sell 32:125 Je 1 '72 250w

"The text, which is illustrated with numerous photographs from the Warnod collection and poor-quality reproductions, contains a great number of quotations from source materials. Too often, however, complete bibliographic information is not included, making it difficult to consult the original sources in their entirety. Although an overly large portion of the quotations are from Fernande Olivier's well-known Picasso and His Friends [BRD 1965], Warnod has also included some previously unpublished materials and a good critical analysis of Cubism. Because of these factors, the book should be included in research collections; but in general, this unreasonably expensive publication will be of greater interest to the informed layman." Jacqueline Sisson

Library J 97:2568 Ag '72 190w

WARREN, EARL. A republic, if you can keep it. 203p $6.95 Quadrangle bks.

342 U.S.—Constitutional history. Civil rights. Citizenship
LC 76-162804

"Here Warren offers the information on government structure and purpose which will aid in intelligent voting; and at the same time, he sounds a call to action that urges participation in the democratic process. . . . The former Chief Justice traces the history of the Constitution and the development of civil rights and liberties, emphasizing that 'all citizens have certain rights and privileges on the one hand and corresponding duties and responsibilities on the other.'" (Library J) Bibliography.

"The title of Warren's book is taken from a comment by Benjamin Franklin on the government designed by the Constitutional Convention of 1787; its message is that the most dangerous enemy of that form of government is an uninformed and apathetic electorate. . . . [Warren writes] in a completely non-legal style. . . . Nothing is said that has not been said before, although seldom with such direct purpose and eloquent language. Appendixes contain the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution." Marian Boner
Library J 97:2409 J1 '72 150w

Reviewed by Carol Coon
Library J 97:3823 N 15 '72 120w [YA]

Reviewed by Ramsey Clark
N Y Times Bk R p19 Ag 27 '72 1100w

WARREN, PHELPS. Irish glass; the age of exuberance. 155p il pl $17.50 Scribner

748.2 Glassware
SBN 684-12426-2 LC 72-152561

"The distinctive style of Irish glass developed between 1780 and 1830 was later copied in England and elsewhere. Waterford, Cork, Dublin, and Belfast were the centers of production, and Warren has traced the histories of the glass firms." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

"[This book contains] over 100 pages of illustrations including nine pages of the original Waterford Glass House patterns. Four important existing services, one at the Wadsworth Atheneum, Hartford, Connecticut, are described and their provenances given. [It] provides the collector with specific information based on source material." Paul von Khrum
Library J 97:673 F 15 '72 90w

"Mr Warren has produced an up-to-date and commendably complete study, dealing with the fiscal background, the different factories in the different towns, the characteristics by which their glass can sometimes be recognized and the general Irishness of a piece established, and much else. . . . One must praise the illustrations. They really make one want to go out collecting."

TLS p240 Mr 3 '72 440w

WARREN, ROBERT PENN. Meet me in the green glen. 376p $7.95 Random house
ISBN 0-394-46141-X LC 70-102303

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Choice 9:372 My '72 170w

Reviewed by Foster Hirsch
Nation 214:124 Ja 24 '72 850w

Reviewed by John Spurling
New Statesman 83:496 Ap 14 '72 90w
TLS p439 Ap 21 '72 950w

Reviewed by Michael Cooke
Yale R 61:599 Je '72 430w

WASHBURN, WILCOMB E. Red man's land/white man's law; a study of the past and present status of the American Indian. 280p $7.95 Scribner

970.5 Indians of North America—Government relations
SBN 684-12489-0 LC 70-143960

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Choice 9:444 My '72 150w

Reviewed by Jack Gregory and Rennard Strickland
Commonweal 96:288 My 26 '72 80w

Reviewed by Mary Young
J Am Hist 59:685 D '72 600w

Reviewed by Stefan Loran
Va Q R 48:472 summer '72 650w

WASKOW, ARTHUR I. The bush is burning! radical Judaism faces the pharaohs of the modern superstate. 177p $5.95 Macmillan (N Y)

296.3 Judaism. Social problems. Jewish-Arab relations
LC 79-163231

The author "expresses his views as a Jewish radical turned radical Jew. . . . Seeking to . . . find an 'understanding of the politico-religious situation' of Jews as well as to express the religious crisis with which Jews are faced, he re-examines the Jewish faith. He finds its meaning for today to reside in bringing social change together with an expression of spiritual and religious urgency. He calls Jews to action by interpreting portions of the Yom Kippur service in light of such problems as social injustice, war, poverty, and pollution, as well as by examining such problems through various papers prepared by the Jews for Urban Justice. He urges Jews to consider these ideas as part of their study of Torah on the Sabbath, and to make their decisions an active part of their daily life." (Library J) Bibliography.

"Much of the 'radical' content in this book represents a concern and human sensitivity common also to the radicals of both Protestant and Roman Catholic communities. What most impresses me at this moment in my own pilgrimage and in the crisis of the nation is Waskow's breakthrough . . . in the act of affirming his Jewish identity and heritage. [He has] given himself to the messianic goals of social justice, human equality and a recognition of human potentiality in a new universal 'Age of Shabbat' where all mankind pursues the basic principle of Halacha—namely, that 'the principle of life is a Path, a Way, indivisible, in which politics, religion, economics, culture, the family are fused.'" C. N. Kraus
Christian Century 89:258 Mr 1 '72 230w

"Recommended for general collections." W. M. Forman
Library J 96:3147 O 1 '71 160w

"It will be difficult for readers of this book to consider it an exploitation of Judaism rather than the expression of stunned new reverence for it. The radical politics was always there in Waskow; what has been added gives new richness to the politics, but also extends beyond it." Garry Wills
N Y Times Bk R p39 O 24 '71 900w

WASSERMAN, EARL R. Shelley: ■ critical reading. 507p $12.50 Johns Hopkins press

821 Shelley, Percy Bysshe
ISBN 0-8018-1212-7 LC 70-138036

"Through analyses of discrete poems . . . the author maps Shelley's conceptual universe and traces his efforts to resolve the fundamental contradictions of his philosophy. . . . The first section of [this book] examines those poems that are least metaphysical and governed by the poet's skepticism—Alastor and the Hymns of Apollo and Pan, Julian and Maddalo, and The Cenci. The next section draws on Shelley's prose and relevant poems such as Mont Blanc to elaborate the structure of his metaphysics, particularly [his] conception of existence, reality, selfhood, and causation. Based on this expanded philosophical context, Dr. Wasserman then reads Prometheus Unbound and Hellas as expressive of the poet's impulse toward utopianism, and Epipsychidion and Adonais as expressive of the poet's impulse toward utopianism, and Epipsychidion and Adonais as expressive of his impulse toward ideal postmortal existence." (Publisher's note) Index.

Choice 9:372 My '72 170w

"There is much to be learned for any, for the few, capable of riding the breakers of Dr. Wasserman's vast knowledge and surging prose, and in particular from his analysis of Shelley's scepticism about general principles and his metaphysical aspirations towards an ideal world. And yet can even this very appropriate subject withstand so much billowy explication, more than 500 tall, close-printed pages?" William Walsh
Encounter 38:61 D '71 300w

"In this impressive work of scholarly criticism, Wasserman . . . has made an important contribution to the understanding of the Shelley canon, and particularly, of Shelley's major poetry. . . . Revisions of his former publications constitute about 40 percent of the present volume. By incorporating his earlier studies with his new work, however, Wasserman has given them a more significant and complete context. . . . The discussions of Shelley's philosophic development are derived from his biography, his reading, his manuscript alterations, and from his other work, including the essays and letters. . . . Such a procedural mode produces a tightly organized and often difficult argument, and a subtlety of explication that demands much of the reader." F. P. Riga

WASSERMAN, E. R.—Continued

Library J 96:2510 Ag '71 340w

"The aim of the book is not simply to estimate the nature of Shelley's thought, but to arrange and examine the poems in sections related to the aspects of that thought. It is non-chronological in intent, though in practice, with the rapid development of Shelley's ideas, there tends to be a time-scheme too. . . . What this often-excellent 'reading' of Shelley's works seems to lack is any sensitivity to Shelley's poems as poems. . . . The poems throughout are nearly always treated as evidence of this or that philosophy, problem, or attitude of mind. The actual quality of the poem or poetic phrase is hardly ever mentioned."

TLS p1603 D 24 '71 350w

"If this book gathers together Wasserman's critical achievement it puts into close proximity many of his characteristic faults as well. The prose is frequently impenetrable; the pseudo-philosophic, pseudo-scientific idiom seems often to construct a world of its own; the author's attempt to elucidate Shelley's meaning in terms of a highly technical philosophical system leads to overreading and, to those of a different persuasion at least, misreading of poetic texts."

Va Q R 48:lvii spring '72 180w

Yale R 62:VI O '72 700w

WASSERMAN, PAUL, ed. LIST: Library and information science today, 1971. See LIST: Library and information science today, 1971

WASSERSTROM, WILLIAM. The legacy of Van Wyck Brooks; a study of maladies and motives; with a pref. by Harry T. Moore. 156p $5.45 Southern Ill. univ. press

818 Brooks, Van Wyck
ISBN 0-8093-0482-1 LC 70-132488

"Half of the book is occupied by an analysis and assessment of Brooks. . . . The second half collects fourteen essays published by Brooks in his last years, mainly as introductions to works by Irving, Cooper, Howells, Crane, Garland, Frederic, Henry Adams, and others." (Am Lit) Bibliography. Index.

Am Lit 43:505 N '71 50w

"The strength and value of this relatively brief essay . . . does not depend upon the virtue of its semi-Freudian analysis but rather upon the author's attempt to drag Brooks back into the fray, into the battle for an American literature and culture and society of which we could all be proud. Mr. Wasserstrom believes that Brooks's early writings could make him once more what he was in his heyday: 'a leader of the new radicalism in American letters.'" John Lydenberg

New Eng Q 45:294 Je '72 700w

WATERMEIER, DANIEL J., ed. Between actor and critic. See Booth, E.

WATERS, FRANK. Conversations with Frank Waters. See Milton, J. R.

WATKINS, FLOYD C. The death of art; black and white in the recent Southern novel. (Mercer Univ. Lamar memorial lectures, no. 13) 77p $4 Univ. of Ga. press

813 American fiction—History and criticism
SBN 8203-0259-7 LC 72-140964

In this scrutiny of Southern fiction since 1954, "Watkins concludes that almost without exception, major writers (Faulkner, Warren, Ford, Styron) and numerous minor novelists have totally distorted the human values in these novels in which the 'race question' is centrally important. Bias is seen in treatment of both black and white characters, in themes [and] plots." (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

"[This is a] brief but important, seminal study (really an extended essay). . . . Not a single writer (and the 40 are surely representative if not all-inclusive) escapes a share in the guilt of the 'death of art' for not writing realistically about the complexities of the human spirit. . . . Recommended."

Choice 7:1664 F '71 150w

"The reasons for the so-called decline of Southern fiction after Faulkner have been widely discussed, and Watkins himself tends to oversimplify a complex cultural phenomenon."

Mary McBride

Library J 95:4263 D 15 '70 180w

WATKINS, FLOYD C. The flesh and the word; Eliot, Hemingway, Faulkner. 282p $7.95 Vanderbilt univ. press

810 Eliot, Thomas Stearns. Hemingway, Ernest. Faulkner, William
ISBN 0-8265-1169-4 LC 75-157740

The author "contends that there is a discernable shift in style and technique away from the concrete objectivity espoused and executed by each of these writers in their youthful works to an abstract moralizing in the later works. The result was a loss of artistic merit." (Choice) Index.

"Watkins insistently draws analogies among the work of these three writers; on occasion, this insistence more than justifies itself. . . . [He] hedges his dislike of the abstract and subjective mode by making bows in the direction of the Bible, Dante, and Milton. . . . But his own passionate preference is for the objective, concrete, and direct. . . . The book's best moments come when the author forgets what he is trying to prove and puts his critical intelligence to work on, for example, the distinction between Eliot's and Browning's dramatic monologues, the issue of desertion in A Farewell to Arms [BRD 1929], and the peace-in-violence motif of Light in August [BRD 1932]." Scott Donaldson

Am Lit 44:171 Mr '72 600w

"Watkins takes a sound, scholarly approach to his materials and exhibits a high degree of knowledgeableness. A too-selfconscious insistence upon the thesis and a redundancy in the presentation of ideas detract somewhat from an otherwise perceptive approach. The unique emphasis placed upon the marks of change in the individual works will not particularly disturb or replace existing views, but it will insure this study a place as a valuable supplement to the major critical studies of each of the authors with which it deals. Ample footnotes and a valuable index. Recommended for undergraduate and graduate libraries."

Choice 9:218 Ap '72 120w

WATLINGTON, PATRICIA. The partisan spirit; Kentucky politics, 1779-1792; pub. for the Inst. of early Am. hist. and culture at Williamsburg, Virginia. 276p $12.95 Athenaeum pubs.

976.9 Kentucky—Politics and government
LC 76-181463

"Beginning with a description of the . . . land system that Kentuckians inherited from Virginia, Ms. Watlington traces the origins of factional parties to the . . . operation of the land laws. With the movement for statehood, further factionalization takes place and three parties form around attitudes toward statehood. . . . The author traces the evolution of these parties." (Va Q R) Annotated bibliography. Index.

"Contesting both the Turner thesis of frontier liberalism and the views of recent historians of a national impetus to state political parties, Watlington has brilliantly posed the divisions in early Kentucky politics. The extensive research and evidence are convincing. . . . There is good treatment of leading personalities, the variety of issues which began to supersede the land question, and the many conventions. Valuable as a frontier study as well as the first serious investigation into the origin of political parties in Kentucky."

Choice 9:1200 N '72 160w

"This . . . lively, revisionist account . . . is clearly superior to traditional versions; it demonstrates conclusively that Kentucky was not dominated by a single set of liberal, frontier patriots, but rather it shows that three separate groups, divided by interests and personal animosities, vied for control of the politics of the territory. Watlington goes even further than this, for she consciously calls these three groups 'parties.' She goes too far. Even by her own definition of 'party' . . . these groups do not warrant the label. . . . The book nevertheless represents an admirable attempt to locate the sources of partisan conflict during the 1780s and 1790s." R. R. Beeman

J Am Hist 59:698 D '72 600w

"Although the subject is the sparsely settled region of late eighteenth-century Kentucky, this book should prove an important one for students of early American history and politics. . . . The importance of the book lies not only in tracing the events that led to Kentucky's statehood but also in the argument that Kentucky's political parties were formed in the 1780's in response to local needs and that these Confederation parties show continuity with the Federalists and Jeffersonians of the first American party system."

Va Q R 48:xciii summer '72 150w

WATSON, ALAN. The law of succession in the later Roman republic. 209p $11.25 Oxford

346 Law—Rome

ISBN 0-19-825195-5 LC 74-29182

In this "fourth and final volume in a . . . study of Roman law in the last two centuries B.C. . . . Watson discusses the rules governing inheritance, the forms of wills, types of legacies, and intestacy." (Choice) For the three earlier volumes see BRD 1966, 1968 and 1969.

"[This volume is] arranged and presented in exactly the same way as its predecessors. . . . On every point [Watson] quotes and interprets the relevant Latin texts but does not translate them. Given his purposes, this is unavoidable: he is not writing for beginners. . . . He has succeeded remarkably well in producing a standard work of reference. This perhaps makes the present volume and its predecessors too technical for undergraduate libraries, but when law always played so large and so vital a part in Rome, they cannot be neglected by the serious student of Roman law, of Latin literature, and of Roman social history."

Choice 8:1372 D '71 140w

"A value of this book, which is perhaps coincidental, is an emerging picture of the personalities, the judicial bent or bias, of a number of the jurists of the period, such as Servius Sulpicius, Alfenus Varus, and Trebatius Testa."

F. C. Bourne

Class World 65:206 F '72 500w

"[This is] the most satisfactory volume of the series. The law of succession naturally constitutes a relatively compact and coherent branch of law in itself and this is reflected in the fact that one does not have to complain, as on previous occasions, of imbalance in the investigation of individual topics. . . . The work reveals again all the qualities shown before—acute analysis of every relevant text, lay and legal; sustained close argument; awesome erudition and wide reading to which a formidable apparatus of footnotes bears testimony. . . . Like its predecessors, though, this is the book of a lawyer writing for lawyers; despite the hope expressed in the preface, it is the lawyer rather than the social historian to whom the work will be of interest."

TLS p1143 S 24 '71 270w

WATSON, BURTON. Chinese rhyme-prose; in the fu form from the Han and six dynasties periods; tr. and with an introd. by Burton Watson. (Columbia college. Program of trs. from Oriental classics) 128p $6; pa $1.95 Columbia univ. press

895.1 Chinese poetry—Collections

ISBN 0-231-03553-5; 0-231-03554-3 (pa)

LC 75-159674

"The fu, or rhyme-prose, also called prose-poetry, is a type of poetic composition that enjoyed great popularity in China between the second century B.C. and the sixth century A.D. Flexible in form, it usually consists of a prose introduction, followed by highly charged and often allusive verse in rhymed lines of irregular length, which may be relieved by brief passages of prose. In this book, . . . Watson presents an 18-page introduction to the verse form; translations of 13 well known fu of varying lengths . . . and two appendices—a selection of early critical statements on the fu form and translations of two prototype fu." (Choice) Bibliography.

"[This book is] the first of its kind. . . . Strongly recommended for any collection with basic holdings in Chinese literature for a general audience."

Choice 9:514 Je '72 160w

"The language of the fu is florid and ornate, often deliberately pedantic and obscure. Epithet is piled on epithet to produce a surface of such richness that Arthur Waley once dismissed the genre by saying that 'none of them could be adequately translated'. These translations are certainly adequate, although inevitably less rich than their originals. . . . The fu are well annotated with biographical notes on their authors."

TLS p573 My 19 '72 350w

WATSON, BURTON, tr. Cold mountain. See Han-shan

WATSON, GAYLE HUDGENS. Colombia, Ecuador and Venezuela: an annot. guide to reference materials in the humanities and social sciences. 279p $7.50 Scarecrow

016.918 Colombia—Bibliography. Ecuador—

Bibliography. Venezuela—Bibliography

ISBN 0-8108-0433-6 LC 71-170082

This work contains over "900 reference books including government publications published through 1970 which are analyzed and subject-arranged. . . . Each entry in the guide provides complete bibliographic citation, and, with a very few exceptions . . . [an] annotation. Both retrospective and current references—general trade bibliographies, specialized subject bibliographies, dictionaries, handbooks, guides, and basic books in the areas of art, language, literature, music, philosophy, religion, bibliography, anthropology, economics, education, geography, government, international relations, political science, history, libraries and librarianship, law, sociology, and printing—are included." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Main entry index.

"[This is an] extension of a thesis from the University of Texas. . . . Although one may question some of the annotative commentary, the entries so gathered together give us information that is difficult to obtain. Watson and the publishers deserve loud hurrahs for their production."

Choice 9:354 My '72 100w

"The evaluation [in Part II] complements the bibliography by offering historical and evaluative remarks on the titles listed. And although some of the information here is a repetition of that found in the annotations, the author, on balance, has compiled bibliographical data which should prove particularly useful to the subject specialist." A. D. Trejo

Library J 97:1420 Ap 15 '72 120w

WATSON, GEORGE. Nutrition and your mind; the psychochemical response; foreword by W. D. Currier. 170p $6.95 Harper

574.1 Nutrition

ISBN 06-014525-0 LC 70-123969

This book deals with "psychochemistry: the . . . science which ascribes mental and emotional disorders to the physical malfunction of the body's metabolism. . . . [Dr. Watson explains] . . . the fundamental knowledge we do have of metabolism, and through a series of case histories illustrates its relation to mental health. . . . [The book includes] a test for determining psychochemical type, suggested diets, suggested vitamin-mineral programs . . . and recommendations for discovering your own personal requirements for optimum health." (Publisher's note)

"The author believes that much, if not all, erratic behavior has no meaning in the Freudian sense. . . . His book takes the form of an exposé, in which, in a rather simple-minded way, he tells how to achieve psychological balance through suggested diets and vitamin-mineral programs. . . . At an early point there is an admonition to the reader to check with his physician before making a self-diagnosis (about the only sensible statement in the book). From there on everything is downhill, as we are given first- and second-person accounts of how this or that nutritive schema reduced or increased well-being. While the relationship between behavior and brain chemistry has been firmly established, Watson's book, if taken seriously, could be harmful. Not recommended."

H. B. Taub

Library J 97:508 F 1 '72 190w

"[This book] veers close to food faddism."

N Y Times Bk p16 F 13 '72 80w

WATSON, HAROLD. Claudel's immortal heroes: a choice of deaths. 199p $9 Rutgers univ. press

842 Claudel, Paul
ISBN 0-8135-0695-6 LC 73-160572

"Watson's study examines four of Claudel's best known works: Tête d'or, Partage de midi, L'annonce faite à Marie and Le soulier de satin. . . . The theme of death and its meaning for Claudelian theater is a unifying element of the book." (Choice) Bibliography, Index.

"[Considerable] space is devoted to Tête d'or and other chapters are limited in the scope of their investigation. . . . The author stresses theological implications of death in the four plays rather than emphasizing the human emotions which, as he says, are the main concern of 'good drama.' The writing is sometimes obtuse or contrived. . . . The work aims at a limited audience of specialists. Would be interesting primarily to Claudel specialists at the graduate level."

Choice 9:652 J1/Ag '72 190w

"Throughout Claudel's career, death haunted and fascinated him; and this explains, in part, his yearning to clutch the entire universe within his grasp. Death acted as a catalyst, propelling his already vibrant lust for life, passion for creativity, and thirst for the eternal. . . . Watson adroitly and sensitively explicates, with the help of numerous quotations in English, the rich and vibrant Claudelian metaphors, the mysteries of sin, grace, and redemption." B. L. Knapp

Library J 96:2511 Ag '71 150w

WATSON, PATTY JO. Explanation in archaeology; an explicitly scientific approach [by] Patty Jo Watson, Steven A. LeBlanc, and Charles L. Redman. 191p il $6 Columbia univ. press

913 Archeology. Archeology—Methodology
ISBN 0-231-3544-6 LC 73-153340

The first chapter deals with "the elements of the logic of science. Following chapters offer examples of scientific explanation in archaeology, deal with the concept of culture defined in terms of empirically observable human behavior, and include a discussion of the systems theory and the ecological approach favored by the present generation of 'new archaeologists.' The last two chapters present a brief statement concerning the problems of classification and typology, plus an . . . account of the basic statistical techniques. The book concludes with an emphatic restatement of the rigorously scientific framework for archaeology." (Library J) Bibliography, Index.

"These stimulating essays seek to summarize and bring some perspective to the current debate among New World archaeologists and prehistorians of the Old World over methods of explaining their data. Labels such as 'new archaeologists' or 'processualists' have frequently been attached to those who have been most concerned with the kinds of questions raised and discussed in this volume. . . . A generous and useful bibliography on scientific archaeology is included." J. B. Pritchard

Ann Am Acad 402:182 J1 '72 300w

"An interesting, if uneven book. . . . The first part is a rather pretentious explanation of why archaeology can be a science in producing laws of human behavior. It is unconvincing. However, some of the other sections on such new approaches as systems theory and the ecological approach are rather useful. The book . . . will serve as a good introduction on new thinking in archaeology."

Choice 9:264 Ap '72 120w

"The average reader may not be aware of the separation between classical and humanistically oriented archaeology on the one hand and the anthropological archaeology discussed in this book. Classical archaeologists are primarily historians; anthropological archaeologists regard themselves as social scientists. The stress here is on the word scientists, and the work at hand is dedicated to the use of scientific methods in archaeological research and in the interpretation of prehistoric evidence. . . . The authors have avoided partisanship and have produced a highly readable and balanced statement of their theoretical creed. Highly recommended to all college-level collections." Joseph Bram

Library J 96:2640 S 1 '71 180w

Reviewed by Fred Plog

Science 179:59 Ja 5 '73 800w

WATT, JOHN A. The church and the two nations in medieval Ireland. 251p maps $13.50 Cambridge

941.53 Ireland—Church history. Church history—Middle Ages. Church and state in Ireland. British in Ireland
ISBN 521-07738-9 LC 72-120196

The main theme of this "analysis of the relations between the colonizers and the colonized in the field of church and state . . . is the impact of the Anglo-Norman invasion upon the Irish Church in the mid-twelfth century, and the working out of its implications over the next two centuries." (TLS)

"The author handles his difficult subject, the Church in Ireland through the twelfth, thirteenth, and fourteenth centuries, with detachment and reserve. . . . What renders the practice of these virtues imperative here is, first, the sensitivity of the subject, and, second, the care with which the limited and frequently uncertain documentary evidence must be examined. So we find the author commiserating with himself over his task: 'There is no more difficult problem in medieval ecclesiastical history than to know the mind of an Irish bishop. . . . Although Dr. Watt leaves the reader with a bleak picture of the Church in Ireland, he introduces on the way a number of fascinating Irish churchmen whom, one hopes, he and other scholars will shortly bring into fuller view.' Joseph Dahmus

Am Hist R 77:764 Je '72 350w

"Dr. Watt has made himself a master in a most difficult field, and he is to be congratulated on bringing a long-considered enterprise to a successful conclusion. He . . . comes to Ireland, like so many of the bishops he discusses in his book, as a canonist. He has the advantage (some would say, disadvantage) of a thorough grounding in the theory of canon law. This gives him the opportunity to place Ireland in a broader European perspective than many historians are able to achieve, but he also knows Ireland itself well, and is thus able to place matters in a local perspective. . . . The range of this book is so wide that one regrets it is not even wider. Dr. Watt brings his readers from time to time almost to the early modern period. . . . This is a major contribution to Irish history."

TLS p76 Ja 15 '71 1050w

WATT, TOM. How to play hockey: a guide for players and their coaches; il. by Bob Berger; foreword by Dave Keon. 176p $4.95 Doubleday

796.9 Hockey—Juvenile literature
LC 78-157635

This book discusses such fundamentals of the game as "skating, passing, puck-handling [and] strategies of team play . . . [as well as] the psychology of the sport." (Christian Science Monitor) "Grade eight and up." (Library J)

"Fills the long-felt need for a good hockey textbook. Good coverage of fundamentals; informative illustrations."

Choice 9:90 Mr '72 20w

"[This book] nicely blends dreams and diagrams." Melvin Maddocks
Christian Science Monitor pB4 N 11 '71 80w

"Here in one volume is the comprehensive guide for players and their coaches. . . . Watt's solid information, advice and optimistic attitude make hockey seem as easy as rolling off a frozen log." R. R. Knudson

Library J 96:4201 D 15 '71 70w [YA]

WATTERS, PAT. Down to now; reflections on the Southern civil rights movement. 426p $8.95 Pantheon bks.

323.4 Civil rights. Negroes—Southern States
ISBN 0-394-47113-X LC 78-162562

"I have written this book mostly from my own recollections, notes and tapes about the events as I saw them as a newspaper reporter at first and then as a writer for the Southern Regional Council. In both roles, I was an observer. . . . I have done interviews to confirm some of my facts and impressions or about events that I did not see. But my purpose has been to filter through my own consciousness the events of the movement, and to find my own understanding of their meanings. This, then, is a book about the movement by a white Southerner who did not participate in the movement—but whose life [was] essentially changed by it." (Foreword) Index.

"The book is frequently moving, but although carefully documented, remains in the end unenlightening." Phoebe Adams
Atlantic 229:109 F '72 40w

"Here, in a beautiful and moving book, [the author] has given a sensitive perceptive rendering of what the civil rights movement meant, inwardly, to the liberal Southern whites who joined it." Dan Lacy
Commonweal 97:211 D 1 '72 800w

"In what is much more than a detailed and knowledgeable account of the civil rights movement in the South, the author attempts to understand what America did to the movement. He describes the hope and idealism of the early days of the movement as an 'extra-cultural quality' that 'produced a shimmering vision of what life between the races could be and what life in America for all people might be,' and sensitively analyzes organizations such as CORE, SNCC, and SCLC and the events that took place in Birmingham, Selma, etc. . . . A painful journey through the soul of a nation and a strong stimulus to self-appraisal." P. C. Black
Library J 97:58 Ja 1 '72 130w

"The best history of the Southern civil rights movement that has appeared to date. Thoughtful, perceptive, highly readable." Carey McWilliams
Nation 213:346 O 11 '71 20w

New Repub 166:31 F 19 '72 260w

"The message of the book takes the form of a stream of consciousness style of writing; it often rambles and is often confusing. The work is no academic study; Watter's conclusions are not buttressed by footnotes. Rather, this book is an account, a series of observations, that somehow captures the initial thrust of the struggle for civil rights and somehow gives one that feeling of disappointment and frustration that seems to pervade the 'movement' as it moves into the 1970's."

Va Q R 48:lxviii summer '72 170w

WATTS, ALAN. Behold the spirit; a study in the necessity of mystical religion. 257p $5.95 Pantheon bks.

149 Mysticism
ISBN 0-394-47341-8 LC 79-162581

In this 1947 publication, issued here with an additional preface, the author asserts that without mysticism Christianity becomes either a political ideology or a mindless fundamentalism. He examines mysticism in the development of Western Christianity, defines the principles of mysticism in religion and evaluates its contribution to Christian life. Bibliography. For the first edition see BRD 1948.

"In a new preface to this edition, [Watts] says that if Christian groups cannot or will not offer a true religious experience of encountering God, the work will then be done by others, Hindus, Buddhists, Sufis, and unaffiliated gurus. 'Churchmen,' he writes, 'can no longer afford to laugh these things off as cultish vagaries for goopy and esoteric minorities.' . . . He sees [the] mystical tradition firmly embedded in the principles of Christianity, but the Church has unfortunately kept it 'under lock and key.' . . . He feels that Christianity . . . will have to use the insights of other religions and philosophies, notably those of the East, to understand its own tradition. . . . [His book is] a sensitive and intelligent argument for a re-evaluation of what religion is all about, and it offers an extremely valuable analysis of how man can achieve greater intimacy with God." P. T. Rohrbach
America 126:23 Ja 1 '72 750w

"Not many authors of religious books vintage-1947 could see them reissued without a secret blush or two; but Watts, East-bound Western religious man, can pick up this old book, affirm it, and send it on its way to a new generation—one which needs less convincing about the merits of the mystical way than did the sober souls of that more serene age."

Christian Century 88:1333 N 10 '71 70w

Reviewed by T. P. Burke

Commonweal 96:413 J1 28 '72 1000w

WATTS, ALAN. In my own way; an autobiography, 1915-1965. 400p pl $7.95 Pantheon bks.

B or 92
ISBN 0-394-46911-9 LC 72-3409

The author has been associated since the early 1950's with movements such as Zen, the 'beat generation,' the psychedelic adventure, the 'hippy' culture, and the emergence of Growth Centers (such as Esalen at Big Sur), right up to the more recent interest in ecology and the practice of meditation. . . . Covering the years 1915 to 1965, the book describes Watts's childhood in England, his strict and traditional schooling, his turning to Buddhism at age fifteen, his subsequent self-education, his move to America and his brief but intense period as an Episcopalian priest, and finally the turn towards bringing together the thought of East and West in his own life and philosophy. [He writes] . . . of his ideas and beliefs [and] of influences brought to bear on him by people and places." (Publisher's note) Index.

"I must warn the potential reader that my brand of enthusiasm may not fit his own unfamiliarity with the gist of this chatty and charmingly insidious work. [I was] a member of a Hindu monastic order some years before becoming a Catholic. . . . For one with my peculiar background the book holds intense interest not only for the trenchancy of some of its thinking but for the conclusions it reaches from its basic premises. Mistaken or not, I feel that an inquiring Christian . . . cannot come away from the experience unenlarged. . . . I urge the 'faithful' to try it. The style, by the way, is characteristically superb." John Moffitt
America 128:23 Ja 13 '73 450w

"Watts writes that he has 'a secret forever closed to stuffy, sober, and serious people. I am still incapable of understanding such people. Do they have a secret closed to me?' I unabashedly answer, Yes. All the same, I thoroughly enjoyed reading this autobiography. When it did not enlighten and stimulate, it charmed me." M. M. Shideler
Christian Century 89:1329 D 27 '72 350w

"[The author] admits that he cannot quite decide whether he is 'boasting or confessing' in this frank account of 57 years in the life of a man who describes himself as 'an intellectual, a Brahmin, a mystic, and also somewhat of a disreputable epicurean who has three wives, seven children and five grandchildren.' . . . It is possible to categorize Watts's autobiography as merely a diverting, candid, brilliantly written egocentric memoir of one man's expeditious use of philosophy, religion, even science and the arts, to achieve name [and] fame. . . . Actually [it] cannot be dismissed in quite such simplistic terms, for it is the account of an exceptional man's search for the basic truth of his own nature." N. W. Ross

N Y Times Bk R p50 N 12 '72 1250w

"A disarming and rambling once-over-lightly tour through some of the more fashionable mystic movements of the last half-century. Watts, who, along with Suzuki, has probably done more than anyone else to make the Oriental masters available to the suburbs, is not above a little Zen posturing himself, and his style is often preachy in an eye-winking sort of way. . . . [His] unabashed enthusiasm for the good life (sex and food, primarily) . . . makes for undeniably pleasant reading. . . . as he takes us from a charmingly nostalgic English boyhood peopled with Dickensian eccentrics . . . to his conversion to Buddhism at age fifteen. . . . [He] finally reached the promised land in San Francisco. . . . It is precisely at this point, however, when Watts's role is most interesting, that his book becomes least satisfactory." Joseph Kanon
Sat R 55:68 N 11 '72 500w

WATTS, EMILY STIPES. Ernest Hemingway and the arts. 243p il $8.95 Univ. of Ill. press
813 Hemingway, Ernest. Art and literature
ISBN 0-0169-9 LC 77-146456

"This examination of Hemingway's progressive concern with art, from his early works through the posthumous Islands in the Stream [BRD 1970], illuminates the essence of his unique literary technique, a conscious synthesis of painting and prose. [The author seeks to show that Hemingway's] awakening to art forms in the Paris of the 1920's had a profound effect on his subsequent development as a writer, one who adopted all the colors, textures, and planes of existence expressed by such mentors as Cézanne, Goya, Bosch,

WATTS, E. S.—Continued

Brueghel, El Greco, and the Surrealists." (Library J) Index.

"The study is so comprehensive that it will surely preclude another book on this specialized but not unimportant subject. However, . . . the dominant thesis that Hemingway was moving toward a unitary art is not compellingly argued. . . . The greatest shortcoming of this study is not loose analogizing, though there are instances of this such as the identification of Hemingway's heroines with the surrealist concept of love. Rather, it is its avoidance of critical issues and acceptance of conventional assessments and interpretations of Hemingway. The excessive use of quotations from standard critical sources . . . is symptomatic of a kind of critical abdication." V. H. Winner

Am Lit 44:335 My '72 480w

"[Watts'] approach is mainly historical and textual, and this causes her to falter a number of times, particularly in the discussion of the influences of sculpture and architecture. The case for painting is solid and insightful, however, and her development of Hemingway's use of Cezanne's landscape techniques in itself is significant enough to make the study a genuine contribution to Hemingway scholarship. . . . Recommended for all college and university libraries."

Choice 9:511 Je '72 160w

Reviewed by R. I. Johnson

J Aesthetics 31:138 fall '72 400w

"Watts freely admits that she conjectures on some points, but all her arguments are well documented, with pertinent examples from Hemingway's work. The many illustrations of paintings owned and/or used by Hemingway and the index of references to art both in his works and in studies of him also help to make this a valuable addition to any collection of Hemingway criticism." Jean Spang

Library J 97:1017 Mr 15 '72 160w

WAYRE, PHILIP. A guide to the pheasants of the world. 176p col il $15 Transatlantic 598.2 Pheasants

This volume is "devoted to descriptions and brief life histories of the 16 genera of pheasants found in the world. A section on pheasant diseases and pheasant rearing and management is also included." (Choice)

"Wayre, while not a scientist, is an ardent conservationist and founder of the Pheasant Trust in England, which is devoted to the preservation and propagation of rare and endangered species of pheasants. His writing is concise but probably too superficial for as specialized a book as this. The . . . illustrations help compensate for the rather tedious text. May be useful to professional ornithologists. . . . Not recommended for most colleges or high schools."

Choice 8:1606 F '72 140w

"This [is] a concise, beautifully illustrated guide. . . . Harrison's 31 color plates are alone worth the price. . . . Highly recommended." H. T. Armistead

Library J 96:1252 Ap 1 '71 140w

WE charge genocide; the historic petition to the United Nations for relief from a crime of the United States government against the Negro people [ed. by William L. Patterson]. 238p $5.95; pa $1.95 Int. pubs.

323.4 Negroes—Moral and social conditions. Lynching
ISBN 7178-0311-2; 7178-0312-0 (pa)
LC 76-140208

This is a reprint of a Petition first "presented to the United Nations in 1951. . . . In support of the charge that the racism of government and its agencies is a crime punishable under the UN Genocide Convention, the Petition presents . . . evidence of the kind of . . . practices in the United States which are covered in that Convention." (Publisher's note) Bibliography.

"[This reprint contains] a new foreword by William R. Paterson, editor of the petition. . . . There are only occasional citations of sources indicating from where the evidence was derived. . . . While there may be considerable question as to whether the accumulated evidence adds up to 'genocide,' the material does provide a useful picture of repeated violence against black Americans in the south in the years immediately following World War II. It does not make for pleasant reading, but how could it?"

Choice 8:1377 D '71 290w

"In 1951, a group of black Communist leaders sponsored the petition—W.E.B. DuBois, Paul Robeson, Benjamin J. Davis, among others. In 1970, according to the book jacket, the group behind the petition represents a broader ideological spectrum—Ralph Abernathy, Ossie Davis, Shirley Chisholm, and Huey Newton. . . . The power of the original petition derives from its exhaustive array of evidence citing events between 1945 and 1951. . . . The new petitioners must grapple with a more sophisticated institutional racism. Their work will gain in force to the extent it links the specifics of death with an analysis of existing social structures, identifying the ways in which deliberate intent and conspiracy remain at the center of new legal forms and more subtle rhetoric." D. F. Q.

Harvard Ed R 41:109 F '71 600w

WEAVER, JOHN T., comp. Twenty years of silents, 1908-1928. 514p $15 Scarecrow

791.43 Moving pictures. Actors and actresses
ISBN 0-8108-0401-8 LC 73-157729

This work "consists of film credits for virtually every actor, actress, director, and producer who worked during the years covered. There is also an alphabetical list of studios and corporations, by area, that flourished during the silent era. The credits are arranged under the names of the actors (and directors, producers) alphabetically, so that the reader may see the complete filmography of the person he is interested in at a glance. There is also a . . . section called 'Vital statistics' which gives the height, weight, and features of the players." (Choice)

"[This is] a useful reference work for both the silent-film historian and the casual (or serious) film buff. . . . The omission of screenwriter's credits is unfortunate, but, for the most part, the book serves its function—that of a handy guide to the silent screen."

Choice 9:667 JI/Ag '72 130w

"[This compilation includes] listings of the Keystone Kops, the Our Gang Players, the Wampas (Western Association of Motion Picture Advertisers), baby stars, and the Sennett bathing beauties. However, it is regrettable that the work does not include credits for movies made before 1908. . . . The book will prove to be, I feel certain, a much used volume in any library's cinema collection." Paul Myers

Library J 96:4106 D 15 '71 90w

WEAVER, MIKE. William Carlos Williams; the American background. 228p pl $9.50 Cambridge

818 Williams, William Carlos
ISBN 0-521-08072-X LC 77-149431

"Dr Weaver, convinced of Williams's greatness, offers this 'analytical literary biography' not as a critical commentary on the poetry but as an explanation of the link between the indigenous culture of small-town America and the poet's own idiom. [He attempts to] . . . show the influence on Williams [of] his home, his family, his literary and artistic relationships." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

Choice 9:649 JI/Ag '72 190w

"[This] book gives us a vivid sense of the multiple whirlpools Williams was immersed in, vivid not least for its being tightly packed and quite disorderly in its presentation, almost Williams-like in its montage. But of course it is only a beginning. We get little of Williams' local life, his doctoring and the people involved, his domestic life or, for that matter, his dealings with other poets and writers. . . . [Weaver's study] helps to substantiate how much Williams, claiming to hate theory, was, like many artists around him, passionately engrossed by it." Theodore Weiss

Encounter 38:67 D '71 400w

"The reader will not find here a neatly integrated study; instead, Weaver leaps from topic to topic—the links of poetry to contemporary painting and photography, the 'variable foot,' American echoes of Dada and Surrealism, 'Objectivist' documentary—without bothering much about transition. Thus the book is a collection of valuable notes toward definitions of Williams' American grain from sundry angles. One appendix presents a goodly chunk of Thomas Ward's Passaic: a Group of Poems Touching That River (1842); another, Weaver's notes to Paterson [BRD 1946, 1948, 1950, 1951, 1959]. The well-chosen photographs enhance the book's value." J. R. Williamson

Library J 97:199 Ja 15 '72 150w

Reviewed by Harriet Zinnes
Nation 215:154 S 4 '72 1200w

"The keystone, the lynchpin, of Weaver's interpretation is, rightly so for his purposes, 'Paterson,' and there is very little about it that he doesn't present. . . . Weaver set himself out to make Williams thoroughly accessible to an English audience. If they don't comprehend, it isn't his fault. . . . The book should be read as a fascinating ragbag of gossip by somebody who knew Williams thoroughly and intimately, even though it's secondhand. . . . Read the book for fun; it is fun, even for those of us who were there and who are still around. And say a prayer for the poor souls who are going to have to read it for term papers." Kenneth Rexroth

N Y Times Bk R p7 D 26 '71 1000w

"[Dr Weaver's] is an awkward programme, giving scope neither for clear biographical narrative nor for full-scale argument, and the result is a disconcerting barrage of links and explanations of links. A technique of erratic bombardment, admittedly, is imposed on Dr Weaver to some extent by his subject. Williams's violent energy propelled his attention in most of the available directions. . . . The body of the book, however, is a chronicle of Williams's aesthetic and ideological affiliations. The original research here is valuable, but lacks perspective."

TLS p32 Ja 14 '72 600w

WEBER, DAVID C., jr. auth. University library administration. See Rogers, R. D.

WEBER, LILLIAN. The English infant school and informal education. (Center for urban educ. bk) 276p $7.95; pa $4.95 Prentice-Hall
372.24 Education, Elementary—Great Britain
ISBN 0-13-281295-9; 0-13-281287-8 (pa)
LC 71-167910

A professor of early childhood at City College, New York, records her findings from a year-and-a-half stay in England in 1965-1966, during which she observed 47 state schools. Through "descriptions of actual episodes, scenes, and schedules for British children up to age eight, Mrs. Weber shows the reader . . . how the English are organizing their schools and training their teachers to achieve the adaptations required for informal education." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"Many [American educators] agree that the formal, teacher-dominated schools here are less than successful, perhaps even stifling to children's development. Lillian Weber presents a good case for another way for schools to go. This book gives a fine starting point for a serious investigation of new methods and organization." M. S. Lienert
America 126:97 Ja 29 '72 650w

Choice 9:112 Mr '72 130w

"[Weber's] book reflects both the arousal of the American citizen and professional whose most cherished principles are violated daily in the school and the culture at large, and the discomfort of the student and philosopher who is not certain of how his culture. . . . might pervert what he does, in the name of the same principles that he invokes himself. The capacity of this book both to incite and to arrest might derive in some part from the fact that its author wrote it during a critical period of her academic career. . . . when she was intervening in children's education and establishing herself as the Holy Terror of orthodoxy in the New York City public school system." J. C. Grannis
Commonweal 95:399 Ja 28 '72 700w

Reviewed by M. J. Bane
Harvard Ed R 42:273 My '72 550w

"[The author] understands well the need to interpret, to give social and historical background on a carefully selected basis, and this makes her short book more useful to most of us than the . . . Plowden Report, Chapter 1, 'The Nursery Schools,' and Chapter 2, 'The Infant Schools,' should be required reading for all parents (who may omit the introduction until later) and teachers (who may not). My only regret is that there are no photographs. . . . In addition, I think that Mrs. Weber's views on the colleges of education and the universities' Institutes of Education are basically incorrect. With the exception of a few colleges . . . teacher-training programs in England are, for most students, three year non-degree courses of a fairly rigid, conventionally academic kind." John Bremer

N Y Times Ek R p38 F 13 '72 1800w

"Weber has written a history of the careful, gradual change in English infant schools over this century toward more open, humane, and meaningful education. . . . [It] is a scholar's book—cautious, thorough, sometimes obscure, often slow-going—yet as a history it is, I believe, definitive. . . . [One wishes for] more passages describing the individual schools that Weber visited, for some of the most memorable sections of her book give a vivid picture of the gentle, firm way the English teacher has with a child. . . . [However] it is the indispensable adult perspective of the informed teacher that Weber slights. She is child-centered to a fault." Marilyn Hapgood
Sat R 54:69 D 13 '71 1050w

WEBSTER, DAVID. Towers; pub. for the Am. Mus. of natural history. 117p il $4.95; lib bdg $5.70 Natural hist. press

721 Architecture—Juvenile literature
LC 78-132317

The author "explores this architectural phenomenon from Egyptian obelisks and pyramids to modern suspension bridges and treats such natural formations as trees, cacti, giraffes and mountains. Included are history, structure and technological aspects of towers and several suggestions for construction of simple towers. (Index). Grades three to six." (Library J)

"Although general books on architecture include discussions of towers, the exclusive focus and wide variety of natural and manmade towers covered here are distinctive. . . . In addition, there is a group of pictured 'mystery towers' to challenge reader's powers of observation with answers provided in the back of the book. The brief text is interestingly written and the profuse black-and-white illustrations, predominantly photographs of the towers described, add to the value of the book." Barbara Gibson
Library J 97:286 Ja 15 '72 100w

"This fresh look at a feature of the world continues and improves the author's string of excellent books for young readers. It has ■ brief, questioning text and fascinating, diverse photographs." Philip and Phyllis Morrison
Sci Am 225:111 D '71 360w

WEBSTER, DONALD BLAKE. Decorated stoneware pottery of North America. 232p il $15 Tuttle

738.3 Pottery, American. Pottery, Canadian
ISBN 0-8048-0007-3 LC 71-134032

The author traces salt-glazed grey stoneware "to its European antecedents and includes material on technical processes, clay forming, tools for decoration, and manufacturers. His organization is by decorative subjects; flowers, birds, animals, etc., seen on functional forms such as bottles, jugs, and flasks. All examples are from the Northeastern U.S. and bordering Canada. . . . A section illustrates sample billheads and price-lists and there is ■ checklist of known potteries, salt glaze potters, and manufacturers up to the beginning of the 20th century. . . . Glossary of terms and bibliography." (Choice)

"Webster (Royal Ontario Museum) creates the first comprehensive survey of this common 19th-century ware. . . . Two hundred eighty-eight excellent illustrations with lengthy explanatory captions identify each piece. Will become the standard reference on this subject as well as being useful for antique collectors and libraries concerned with decorative arts in American culture."

Choice 8:1447 Ja '72 160w

"A few pieces are 18th-Century but the greater number are of mid-19th-Century manufacture. The appendix, 'A checklist of Potteries,' is more complete than any previously published. This book, together with [Cornelius] Osgood's The Jug and Related Stoneware of Bennington provides needed basic information on the making, distribution, and decoration of this type of pottery which has in recent years become of interest to collectors and is being accepted as a form of folk art." Paul von Khrum

WEBSTER, D. B.—Continued

Library J 96:3748 N 15 '71 120w

WEBSTER, DOUGLAS, jt. auth. The social consequences of conviction. See Martin, J. P.

WEBSTER, JOHN. Academiarum examen. See Debus, A. G. Science and education in the seventeenth century; the Webster-Ward debate

WEBSTER, MARGARET. Don't put your daughter on the stage. 379p pl $10 Knopf

13 or 92 Theater

ISBN 0-394-47603-4 LC 72-2135

The author of The Same Only Different (BRD 1969) looks back at the American theater through the past thirty-five years. She relates her experiences as an actor-director in the United States and abroad. Index.

"Miss Webster has acted, directed both plays and operas, toured the sticks by station wagon, dabbled suspiciously with films, lectured, given a university course, and been investigated by Joe McCarthy. Her memoirs range from the then daring casting of Paul Robeson as Othello to the astounding backstage confusion at the Met to the ineffable silliness of academic drama departments. Altogether, a practical, justifiably opinionated running history of thirty years of theater." Phoebe Adams

Atlantic 230:135 O '72 90w

"[Margaret Webster's] fourth book, a chronicle of activities from her arrival in New York to her present semi-retirement at Martha's Vineyard, demonstrates more effectively than exhortations her own awareness and control of language to evoke nostalgia, compassion, excitement, frustration, fear, and humor. . . . With this book she provides another service for all theatre lovers and students of the drama. Indeed, for all who have the slightest interest in the stage these lively memoirs by a professional offer valuable insights and balanced judgments on dramatic art and, best of all, thoroughly enjoyable hours of reading." T. A. McVeigh

Best Sell 32:363 N 1 '72 850w

"Miss Webster's book is full of . . . behind-the-scenes detail for the stagestruck. She insists on being 'a pro,' whether there's enough money or not, whether she's on Broadway without enough time, or touring. . . . But some of the material, important to Miss Webster, is not made interesting to the rest of us. She quotes her previous writings too much, goes on too long in defense of ventures that failed, strays too far in belaboring the PhD system. With all the increases in government support of the arts, it hardly seems that public subsidy could have thinned out as much as she suggests. Obviously Miss Webster didn't want anybody's daughter to go on the stage without knowing the worst. Obviously she herself would have done it all over again." Roderick Nordell

Christian Science Monitor p22 N 29 '72 700w

Reviewed by Alex Szogyi

Sat R 1:30 Ja 6 '73 900w

WEBSTER, T. B. L., jt. auth. Illustrations of Greek drama. See Trendall, A. D.

WECHSLER, JAMES A. In a darkness [by] James A. Wechsler [and others]. 160p $5.95 Norton

616.89 Wechsler, Michael. Mental illness

ISBN 0-393-07468-4 LC 71-38847

The author describes efforts to relieve his son's schizophrenia "over a ten-year period that ended with Michael's suicide at age 26 in 1969. During this period, Michael was treated by eight psychiatrists and spent time in five mental hospitals. His family, well meaning but unable to communicate with him, were overawed by the psychiatric profession's secrecy." (Library J)

Reviewed by P. A. Doyle

Best Sell 32:21 Ap 1 '72 170w

Reviewed by H. R. Wolf

Commonweal 97:284 D 22 '72 320w

"The editorial page editor of the New York Post, with assistance from his wife and daughter, traces the development of mental illness in his son. . . . The main thrust of the narrative is to encourage families of mentally disturbed people to trust their own instincts more, in addition to consulting psychiatrists. Conventional psychotherapy seems to have done little for Michael; only the seventh psychiatrist achieved some temporary improvement, with insulin shock therapy combined with family group therapy. Wechsler does not understand, nor does he pretend to understand, Michael's complex mental processes, but there may be interest in this brief, sad story, especially in light of all the current doubts about the efficacy of psychiatry." C. E. Wadsworth

Library J 97:1333 Ap 1 '72 150w

"Is being demanding, undisciplined or unhappy or a disease? Wechsler never raises such a simple question. He is committed to using the concept of mental illness, not to questioning it. The whole book is a chronicle of Michael's 'mental disease' and its 'treatment.' . . . In the last analysis, why [the author] chose to write this book is his business. The reviewer's is to read it, and judge it. My judgment is that the reader of this book is invited to witness a private ritual, a kind of psychiatric Yom Kippur: expiation through self-incrimination. Wechsler makes public what, according to the rules of traditional decency, should remain private. The result is a document that is, to say the least, in very poor taste indeed. . . . As so many times before, the father has the last word. The son cannot talk back." T. S. Szasz

Nat R 24:591 My 26 '72 1050w

New Repub 166:21 Ap 1 '72 270w

"Mr. Wechsler has written a book of great narrative power which will doubtless unnerve his readers (notably the educated lay public, but, I would hope, also the psychiatric profession itself). Yet, even though I do not fault the author's right to be severely disappointed with several of the doctors his son saw (the words and phrases reported ring completely true to my ear), I found myself thinking of what we do know, what many dedicated therapists have been able to accomplish over the years since psychiatry has become such a prominent part of American life. . . . One can only keep on hoping that every young psychiatrist-in-training will read carefully what James and Nancy Wechsler saw and felt, and never forget the lessons they have suffered to learn." Robert Coles

N Y Rev of Books 18:18 My 18 '72 5700w

N Y Times Bk R p36 Mr 26 '72 130w

"Fear, anger and admiration: this account . . . is meant to raise such emotions, and it does. . . . Anger, because the doctors to whom the boy was entrusted were at best inept; two were positively sinister. Admiration for the courage and decency of the parents . . . and admiration for Michael . . . because he fought the hard fight for his identity with 'patient heroism.' . . . The first doctor he chose may have done more harm than good. . . . The doctors disagreed with each other and covered up for each other; usually they refused to consult with Michael's family, encouraged his hostility toward his parents, ignored or failed to perceive Michael's suicidal inclination and refused the advice that he so badly needed. . . . The darkness of Wechsler's title is not that of Michael's insanity alone, but of the family's ignorance and helplessness as well. . . . [Their] case is heartrending." P. S. Prescott

Newsweek 79:104 Mr 27 '72 550w

Reviewed by Joseph Brenner

Sat R 55:54 Jl 1 '72 1050w

Reviewed by Timothy Foote

Time 99:85 Je 12 '72 300w

WEEKS, KENT M. Adam Clayton Powell and the Supreme court. 311p $8.95 Dunellen pub. co.

342.4 Powell, Adam Clayton. U.S. Supreme Court

ISBN 0-8424-0022-2 LC 70-132982

The author traces the conflict between the Congressman from Harlem and the House of Representatives of the U.S. Congress. It began in 1967 when House members "instead of accepting a Select Committee recommendation that Powell be punished by fine, censure, and loss of seniority, voted to exclude him from membership. This precipitated a legal battle that raised vital constitutional issues regarding the jurisdiction of the courts in disputes involving internal deliberations of co-equal branches of government." (Publisher's note) Chronology. Bibliography.

"The legal affairs involving the House of Representative's actions against Adam Clayton Powell were exceedingly involved, opaque, and, at times, circuitous. Unfortunately, [Weeks'] style does not always bring clarity out of legal maneuverings. Too often [he] quotes at length from briefs and opinions where a simpler paraphrasing might have been more judicious. This is an unfortunate flaw because this is probably the definitive study on an important case. It is recommended for all academic, legal, and large libraries. Smaller libraries with a nonspecialized circulation can pass it by."

Choice 9:283 Ap '72 140w

"A complete and absorbing history of a remarkable case. After providing a brief sketch of Powell's career, Weeks traces every step of the controversy that . . . continued long after the case had dropped from the headlines. The proceedings in the trial court and all through the very unusual route of appeal are described with authentic detail, since the author had access to verbatim records of oral argument as well as to briefs of counsel. Positions taken by both sides are discussed objectively, and the political implications explained. The Powell case had considerable impact on theories of representative government, and this book is a valuable source on the relation between the Court and Congress." Marian Boner

Library J 97:1022 Mr 15 '72 140w

WEEMS, JANE, jt. auth. Dream of empire. See Weems, John E.

WEEMS, JOHN EDWARD. Dream of empire; a human history of the Republic of Texas, 1836-1846. by John Edward Weems, with Jane Weems. 377p il $9.95 Simon & Schuster
976.4 Texas—History
SEN 671-20972-8 LC 73-159140

This account of the period in which Texas was a sovereign state is based on "original materials from the contemporary diaries, journals, and letters of some 12 persons who lived through the period." (Choice) Chronology. Bibliography. Index.

"Weems (a native Texan) has compiled a highly readable and interesting human history of the Republic of Texas. The story is not complete due to the fact that the characters often departed the world carrying information with them that had not been recorded. However, no attempt has been made to fill in the gaps with imagination. Thus we find the narrative full of heroes and villains of legendary proportions, and all the paradoxes that made the 'Texians' and their republic unique."

Choice 9:432 My '72 90w

"The 12 persons portrayed include doctors, businessmen, soldiers, and women, but no prominent political figures. George W. Kendall and Mary Maverick are two of the better known persons in the group. As a result of the plan of the book, certain events receive fuller treatment than is usual: while the siege of the Alamo and the battle of San Jacinto are treated only briefly, the relatively obscure expeditions to Mier and Santa Fe are described in some detail. Recommended chiefly for popular reading." T. M. Bogie

Library J 96:2502 Ag '71 130w

WEES, WILLIAM C. Vorticism and the English avant-garde. 273p il Can$15 Univ. of Toronto press

700.9 Vorticism. Art. Modern—20th century
ISBN 0-8020-1763-0 LC 73-185744

This history "of Vorticism opens with a description of the avant-garde world of pre-World War I London. In succeeding chapters Professor Wees considers the activities of Roger Fry and his Omega Workshops, of Ford Madox Ford, T. E. Hulme, and the Imagist group, and of Ezra Pound, Wyndham Lewis, Henri Gaudier-Brzeska, and their fellow artists in, or close to, the Vorticist movement. He then turns his attention to the products of the Vorticists: their painting, drawing, sculpture, writing, and . . . their magazine, Blast. . . . A final chapter covers the . . . end of the movement in 1915 and its final dissolution in the winter of 1919-20." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"[This is] a lively account of the milieu, personalities, and ideas associated with English avant-garde movements that developed just before World War I. By sketching in the background of militant social unrest and Bohemian partisanship out of which Vorticism emerged, Wees captures its unique as well as its representative character. What could have been a series of anecdotes and character sketches merely indicative of the peculiarities of its leaders is instead a careful means of delineating Vorticism from the other movements to which it was a reaction. . . . The effective presentation of the . . . relationships [of the leaders of Vorticism], the detailed examination of the Vorticists' review, Blast, and the pictures provided of their representative paintings and sculptures, make this a most useful, unusual and interesting book."

Choice 9:1124 N '72 180w

"[Wees'] descriptions of the colorful clubs, cinemas, and galleries frequented by the group add to the liveliness of the volume. There are only 25 black-and-white reproductions, but they adequately illustrate the highlights of the movement's graphic style." Phyllis Andersen
Library J 97:3592 N 1 '72 150w

WEESNER, THEODORE. The car thief. 370p $6.95 Random house

ISBN 0-394-462784 LC 75-140737

"Alex Housman steals cars. At 16, already in trouble because he has rifled high school gym lockers and lifted a wad of bills from the wallets there, he is off in a copper-tone Buick Riviera—his 14th car—joyriding with a tense joylessness through his slushy Michigan factory town. . . . He is caught. . . . goes to a youth detention house, does a few months' time, then returns to Central High School where he is brutally beaten by his schoolmates for that locker-room job. He drops out of school, drifts, eventually joins the Army." (Time) Portions of this book appeared originally in The New Yorker, Esquire, The Atlantic Monthly, Audience and Works in Progress.

"[This] is a moving adult novel and one of the few that refuse to be put down. . . . [The author has] combined a mastery of construction with a fine sense of story to produce a remarkable novel of an adolescent. In deceptively simple language he has revealed the loneliness and the frustrations of his characters without in any way becoming morbid, depressing, or maudlin. In almost documentary fashion he has incorporated . . . details that expose the complex and horrendous consequences of juvenile delinquency and the brutality of inept high school faculty and correction workers. . . . Weesner writes with sensitive and compelling understatement . . . which gives his work depth." C. P. Collier

Best Sell 32:197 J1 15 '72 410w

Reviewed by R. J. Neuhaus

Commonweal 97:94 O 27 '72 700w

"The characterizations are solid, if negative. The narrative is deliberately low key, to the point of monotone; the defeated main characters and the absence of vivid description result in excessive drabness. There are flashes of insight, but never passion or compelling narrative flow; for all its social implications, the novel simply lacks emotional guts. It could have been a contemporary equivalent of James T. Farrell's early Chicago novels, especially Studs Lonigan (BRD 1935). It isn't." R. S. Bravard
Library J 97:2202 Je 15 '72 150w

New Repub 167:32 S 16 '72 230w

Reviewed by Roger Sale

N Y Rev of Books 19:34 O 5 '72 1350w

Reviewed by Joseph McElroy

N Y Times Bk R p7 Je 18 '72 1100w

New Yorker 48:81 J1 15 '72 190w

"[This] is, in outline, an unprepossessing story—a punk's progress. In this first novel, Weesner's tones are flat, sometimes excessively precise. Yet the book develops a building power. It is, for one thing, an achievement of almost perfect sympathy. One begins caring about Alex—his guilt, his daydreams, his bewildered adolescent innocence. . . . In [his] swift fantasies of being a basketball star, in his coach's small complacent cruelties that drive Alex to quit, an American dream of winning goes winking out. The thoroughfares of escape—rivers, highways—are encrusted blocked arteries on the landscape." Lance Morrow

Time 100:77 J1 24 '72 330w

WEFALD, JON. A voice of protest; Norwegians in American politics, 1890-1917. (Topical studies, v 1) 94p $4 Norwegian-Am. hist. assn.

320.973 Norwegians in the U.S.
LC 72-175887

This volume "purports to interpret the participation by Norwegian immigrants in American politics during the Populist-Progressive period. . . . Wefald's basic contention is that Norwegian-Americans were 'unrelentingly progressive' and 'frequently radical' in their politics. He argues that this behavior is derived from a deeply rooted sense of community (as opposed to individualism) which the immigrants brought with them from Norway. . . . [Also included is an] account of Norwegian-American leaders in the politics of protest and reform and in their nearly unanimous opposition to American involvement in World War I." (J Am Hist) Bibliography. Index.

"This slim, well made, easy-to-read book, . . . [a] revised doctoral dissertation, [is] short in length and long on interpretation. . . . The volume lives up to every one of the publisher's claims! Its data test widely held views advanced in O. Handlin's The uprooted [BRD 1951] and R. Hofstadter's Age of reform [BRD 1955] and shed new light on issues of American reform and social Darwinism and the role of Norwegians in politics. . . . A worthwhile addition to the shelf on reform, economics, immigration, socialism and co-operative movements for any library."

Choice 9:575 Je '72 200w

"Wefald has chosen an important topic for study. Unfortunately, he is innocent of the conceptual and methodological tools developed by historians in recent years for the study of ethnic politics. He falls into the old trap of attributing the attitudes of the élite to the rank-and-file members of the group. He virtually ignores the voting behavior of the Norwegians; the only substantial data presented are derived from an undergraduate honors thesis. Few of the generalizations are supported by comparative data from other appropriate groups, and none are tested systematically. The author repeatedly asserts, for example, that the Norwegians were second to no other ethnic group in their devotion to reform politics. Yet he offers no substantial evidence in support of this contention." F. C. Luebke

J Am Hist 59:186 Je '72 450w

WEIDMAN, JEROME. Last respects. 371p $6.95 Random house

ISBN 0-394-46551-2 LC 77-156966

"Benny Kramer's mother has died and he goes to identify her body. The body has disappeared and during the search of New York hospitals and morgues, Benny reflects on his mother's 87 years of struggle and immigrant life on the East Side. Mostly the memories are of Kramer's . . . ghetto childhood." (Library J)

"[Mrs. Kramer] is no sentimental greeting-card character: she is fleshed out as an obstinate matriarch, a sometime bootlegger, and a frantic fool. As a short story this book probably would be of lasting interest; as it is, it contains too much trivia and little substance to sustain interest. A kind of sequel to the author's Fourth Street East [BRD 1971], [this] is a marginal purchase for popular collections." H. M. Kapenstein

Library J 96:4032 D 1 '71 130w

"In his nineteenth novel the author caters to a taste for melodrama and belly laughs. . . . [Benny Kramer] remembers Jewish foods, ratty tenements, scoutmasters, lamplighters, rabbis, schoolmates, cops, gangsters—a whole tissue of things nostalgic or night-marish. But most important of all is deciding whether Mrs. Kramer had deserved a son's love. She had had little of it from Benny. . . . Weidman gives us frank second thoughts about a relationship too often befogged with hypocrisy by Victorians and moderns alike. He is a copious, energetic, perceptive, abundantly inventive writer, but in this story he is also unrestrained."

New Repub 166:31 F 12 '72 210w

Reviewed by John Spurling

New Statesman 83:720 My 26 '72 80w

"As Benny remembers East Fourth Street in 1924, life is a mishmash of Harry Golden and Mack Sennett. The wrapping for these fictional memories is a pungent milieu—and Mr. Weidman recalls it with some of his distinctive sourness and verve. The innards of the package are a cockamamie pipe dream that might have been sub-titled Benny Kramer, Boy Bootlegger. . . . [There] are some dandy East Side cameos. Velvelschmidt, the sadistic slumlord, who collects the rent personally so that he will not miss a single tenant's tear. Goldfarb, the sadistic Cheder teacher, who is as adept with a chair leg as an old-time cop with a nightstick. Mr. Weidman's remembrance of the climate of things past is clear enough to choke off any incipient nostalgia." Martin Levin

N Y Times Bk R p36 Ja 23 '72 190w

New Yorker 47:116 F 19 '72 100w

Reviewed by R. C. Sterne

Sat R 55:69 Ja 22 '72 340w

WEIL, ANDREW. The natural mind; a new way of looking at drugs and the higher consciousness. 229p $5.95 Houghton

154 Narcotics, Consciousness
ISBN 0-395-13936-8 LC 76-189331

The "assumption of this book is that there is 'an innate human drive to experience periodic episodes of nonordinary consciousness.' . . . The author, a physician and drug specialist, feels that America's approach to its drug problem has been based not on scientific data or reasoning, but on hysterical emotional reactions. He feels that some psychoactive drugs can contribute to the expansion of man's awareness if they are used under controlled conditions." (Library J)

"[Weil has an] original, intuitive approach to [his] subject." R. H. Lipsett

Library J 97:2411 J1 '72 140w

"Interest in achieving altered states of consciousness may be of a higher order of magnitude than mere curiosity and desire, but the evidence that Dr. Weil presents in his attempts to elevate it to the level of a 'drive' is most unconvincing. . . . [He] stresses that this supposedly 'innate drive' should not be confused with any 'desire to alter consciousness by means of chemical agents,' but it seems clear that he has confused the urges of some decidedly not normal individuals with the very real and necessary-for-survival basic needs which all humans share. . . . Throughout the book, the author lambasts our 'ordinary consciousness' notions of reality. But just what he means by even so fundamental a concept as reality remains a mystery to the reader." Lester Grinspoon

N Y Times Bk R p27 O 15 '72 2500w

WEILER, CLEMENS. Jawlensky: heads, faces, meditations [tr. by Edith Küstner and J. A. Underwood]. 140p il col pl $45 Praeger

759.3 Jawlensky, Alexej von
LC 76-122928

In addition to seventy-six copies of selections from the artist's work, there is a critical essay by Weiler, an index of the work left in the artist's studio at his death, translations of his memoirs and some of his letters, as well as excerpts from art critics' and artists' views on Jawlensky. Chronology. Index of artists. Bibliography.

"Jawlensky, Russian aristocrat and former imperial officer, is presented here as a major painter; but he occupies only a distinctly minor niche in art history. (In 1924, he and his friend Kandinsky—along with Feininger and Klee—founded the Blue Four group in Weimar, Germany.) Although Jawlensky subordinated his life to his art, as is evident from the moving autobiography, his spiritual aspirations outran his small-scale forms. The early, strong Fauve heads became so stylized and dense as to be unintelligible during his last period. However, the book contains some magnificent illustrations, and will be of interest to students of Expressionism." Peter Fingesten

Library J 96:2073 Je 15 '71 100w

"[This] is a volume of great beauty but of little use to anyone seeking more enlightenment on an uneven painter than that which a large number of almost perfectly printed colour plates can provide. . . . Jawlensky's memoirs reveal no talent for writing and are pedestrian and matter-of-fact, restricted largely to accounts of meetings, travel and friendships."

TLS p508 My 5 '72 700w

WEINBERG, GEORGE. Society and the healthy homosexual. 150p $5.95 St Martins

301.41 Homosexuality
LC 76-180624

The author analyzes the "prejudice against homosexuals, a prejudice which he calls homophobia. He explains how this attitude develops and discusses how to overcome it." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"Weinberg has written an excellent book on homosexuality. . . . He criticizes, without using psychoanalytic jargon, the methods of research and the conclusions of many of his colleagues who have labeled homosexuals sick or perverse and capable of being cured or converted by incredible methods. . . . [H]e is aware of sexism and throughout is sensitive to the differences between male and female homosexuals—both in terms of their needs and acceptable behavior patterns by society. . . . This book should be read by both homosexuals and heterosexuals who are concerned about the nature of prejudice. It would be excellent for sociology classes on a high school or college level."

Choice 9:587 Je '72 240w

"In this fine volume, an established psychotherapist challenges and refutes the biased assumptions about homosexuality rampant in his profession, and asserts unequivocally that 'the homosexual problem' is the problem of condemning variety in human existence. . . . The author speaks to both heterosexuals and homosexuals in a humanistic, readable style. . . . His speculation on the causes of homophobia and his practical advice to gay people and their parents on the problems of communicating with each other are especially valuable. This book is of necessity speculative and personal. . . . [I]t will be a landmark in the new literature helping both gay and straight people who are coming to terms with homosexuality in our society." Carole Friedman

Library J 97:1694 My 1 '72 140w

"[The author] is somewhat inclusive of women, whom he has treated along with men as psychotherapist, but the inclusion is more out of politeness than political consciousness. . . . He isn't stepping very far out of his male privilege to perceive women. He persists in the masculine usurpation of a generic form, i.e., 'I would never consider a patient healthy unless he (my italics) had overcome his prejudice against homosexuality.' Nonetheless, his limited politics aside, and as the quoted sentence indicates, Weinberg makes an important contribution to the dissident literature affirming homosexual identity in the jaws of centuries of persecution and discrimination."

Jill Johnston

N Y Times Bk R p5 F 20 '72 600w

WEINBERG, MARTIN S., ed. Homosexuality: an annotated bibliography; ed. by Martin S. Weinberg and Alan P. Bell. 550p $15 Harper

016.30141 Homosexuality—Bibliography
ISBN 0-06-014541-2 LC 70-160653

This bibliography covers "scholarly books, articles, and pamphlets on homosexuality published between 1940 and 1968. The areas emphasized are physiology, psychology, sociology, and anthropology, with some excursions into law and criminology." (Library J)

"[This work] is designed for both scientists and non-scientists, with full list of complementary bibliographies. Both subject and author indices; arrangement is under useful topical headings, with full list of cross references. The book suffers from a somewhat arbitrary definition of 'homosexuality'. . . . This is an official publication of the Institute for Sex Research and is based, in large part, on the incomparable library there. Useful for major research collections in psychology, sociology, and medicine. Although the abstracts vary in depth, this might be a nice volume for a small library to use to cover the subject and yet avoid purchases in the area. The compilers see their bibliography as a tool with which to start a literature search."

Choice 9:628 J1/Ag '72 160w

"This work is an extraordinary achievement because of its comprehensiveness [and] the fullness of the annotations. . . . It also makes clear how much speculating and moralizing has been passed off as empirical observation. Thus it is not surprising that items about male homosexuality outnumber those about female homosexuality; the bibliography simply records the history of the past three decades. The annotations are nonevaluative, but far more readable than the usual journal abstracts. . . . Philosophers of science will find Weinberg and Bell's volume a treasure trove of illustrations for the perennial issue of how one's moral judgments color one's perception of the social world, even when that perception is couched in the language of 'objective' research." F. A. Fluckiger

Library J 97:2378 J1 '72 200w

WEINGARTEN, VIOLET. A woman of feeling. 229p $5.95 Knopf

ISBN 0-394-47353-1 LC 78-171183

This novel concerns "the plight of Jo Baer, middle-aged [and] liberal. . . . She's alienated from conservatives her own age, and disdained by New Left youth. In 1969, a year of great polarization in American society, Jo and her husband are confronted with an alarming situation: their son, who has been involved in a radical fire-bombing incident, refuses to divulge to the FBI any information concerning his friends who actually carried it out. Mrs. Baer is reminded of her own appearances before the House Committee on Un-American Activities during the McCarthy era and sympathizes with her fugitive boy's idealism but is anxious about his welfare." (Library J)

Reviewed by Phoebe Adams

Atlantic 229:112 My '72 70w

Reviewed by Audrey Foote

Book World p7 Mr ■ '72 400w

"Miss Weingarten is wry on the dank matter of aging, and the bewildering one of sex, and humanely fond on the whimsicalities of her heroine. Jo, for example, has persuaded herself it isn't gossip she's interested in, 'just human behavior.' . . . [I]f this story seems both over-familiar and a bit arch—indeed the novel escapes wholly neither of these traps—there is also a strong subcutaneous layer of good sense, of responsiveness to the rending issues of our time, and of respect for the best among our young. And until some higher wisdom descends upon us, there are far worse guides to the perplexed." D. L. Parker

Christian Science Monitor p16 Mr 16 '72 850w

"Cinematic in structure (with skillfully inserted flashbacks) and concise in style, this novel is both enjoyable and emotionally involving. The reader may recognize and accept his own foibles in those of the Baers and their friends: obtuseness, egotism, hypocrisy. And Weingarten excels at writing succinct, often epigrammatic dialogue." J. W. Smothers

Library J 97:1036 Mr 15 '72 140w

New Repub 166:31 Ap 1 '72 250w

"At heart, [Mrs. Baer] is a middle-class venta who delights in simple pleasures, like lunch at the Palm Court of the Plaza. . . . The relationship between mother and son is the core of a post-mortem dilemma that Mrs. Weingarten sets forth with a brilliant absence of cliché." Martin Levin

N Y Times Bk R p41 Mr 12 '72 270w

Reviewed by Elizabeth Easton

Sat R 55:101 Mr 25 '72 750w

WEINRICH, A. K. H. Chiefs and councils in Rhodesia; transition from patriarchal to bureaucratic power. 252p $9.95 Univ. of S.C. press

354.68 Rhodesia—Politics and government.

Karanga (African people)

ISBN 0-87249-239-7 LC 76-163907

This book consists of "a history of traditional and modern bureaucracies among Africans in Rhodesia; an in-depth analysis of a struggle for the leadership of a group of Karanga tribesmen, and the failure and successes of attempts at community development programs on the part of the Rhodesian Government." (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

"In all parts of the book, the role played by Rhodesian officials, especially district commissioners, is carefully discussed. . . . The book displays intensive research, but the author's highly organized style sometimes makes the reader feel that she is constantly repeating herself. . . . [This] book should be part of most academic libraries with collections on Africa or on colonial history. . . . Not recommended for general community libraries. Good index; useful bibliography."

Choice 9:719 J1/Ag '72 250w

"A well-written and original study of the position of traditional chiefs in modern Rhodesia. . . . Africanists will find this book useful because of the original information it provides, and provocative in its application of the theories of Weber and others to this material. Moreover, this is a book of urgent relevance to the current political situation in Rhodesia, where the white-dominated government claims that chiefs are the legitimate spokesmen of rural Africans—a claim Weinrich's studies call into question." N. R. Northrup

WEINRICH, A. K. H.—Continued

Library J 97:1735 My 1 '72 150w

WEINSTEIN, MARTIN E. Japan's postwar defense policy, 1947-1968. (Columbia univ. East Asian inst. East Asian study) 160p $7.50 Columbia univ. press

355.3 Japan—Military policy
ISBN 0-231-03447-4 LC 75-127885

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by J. C. Perry
Am Hist R 77:193 F '72 250w

Reviewed by D. H. Mendel
Am Pol Sci R 66:1095 S '72 1200w

Reviewed by J. A. A. Stockwin
Pacific Affairs 45:287 summer '72 450w

WEINSTEIN, PHILIP M. Henry James and the requirements of the imagination. 207p $6.50 Harvard univ. press

813 James, Henry
ISBN 0-674-38785-6 LC 74-158430

Based on an "examination of six James novels (Roderick Hudson, Portrait of a Lady, The Ambassadors, What Maisie Knew, The Sacred Fount, and The Golden Bowl) this study traces the sacrifice of living (or action) as it characterizes the hero of vision (or imagination) who recurs throughout James's fiction. Through this tracing, the author deduces James's definition of 'living' in relation to the imagination, and using that definition clarifies the ambiguity of the character who desires to plunge into experience yet needs to renounce it." (Library J)

Reviewed by W. T. Stafford
Am Lit 44:160 Mr '72 370w

"[Weinstein] elaborates on that old theme 'from innocence to experience,' although he does not call it that. It is instead defined as the journey 'from Imagination to Experience.' All the usual Jamesian disillusionments with life are then elucidated. . . . There is an uncertainty and negativism about both his theme and the works selected for demonstration. . . . [His] style of writing is so intrusive as to interfere with the ideas expressed. In all, little here to offer new insights into the mind and imagination of Henry James."

Choice 9:64 Mr '72 270w

"Weinstein's argument is consistently impressive, and its biographical implications for James are greater than those that result from most thematic studies." B. C. Bach

Library J 96:2511 Ag '71 140w

"In writing of The Sacred Fount, Philip Weinstein notes that any interpretation that dispels the ambiguity . . . is doomed to superficiality, and I am interested here in explaining the confusion rather than explaining it away. This laudable attitude is behind his reading of every work treated in [this study].

The chapter which will provoke the most critical comment deals with The Golden Bowl, which is unique, according to Weinstein, because it is in that novel that life's possibilities are actually realized and not simply imagined."

D. K. Kirby
New Eng Q 45:138 Mr '72 480w

WEINSTOCK, HERBERT. Vincenzo Bellini: his life and his operas. 554p pl $15 Knopf

B or 92 Bellini, Vincenzo
ISBN 0-394-41656-2 LC 70-111256

Part 1 of this study of Bellini covers his "childhood and adolescence in Catania; his years in Naples and his . . . burst upon the musical scene; his relationships with Francesco Florimo, Giuditta Turina, and Felice Romani; and his performances. It documents musical life in Italy during the early 19th Century as well, shedding light on composers such as Rossini and Donizetti and also on singers such as Malibran and Grisi. Part 2 consists of critical analyses of the operas and nonoperatic compositions. There follow 17 appendixes consisting mostly of documents pertaining to Bellini's life, letters, sketches of incomplete works, etc." (Library J) Bibliography. General index. Index of Bellini compositions mentioned in text.

"With present day interest in early Romantic opera, seen particularly in the revival of many of these works by both Bellini and Donizetti that have long been out of the repertoire, Weinstock's book is an essential study. It cannot be recommended too highly, both for the serious scholar and the interested amateur. It is, in sum, one of the best biographies of the last few years, well written, thoroughly researched, and completely fascinating."

Choice 9:222 Ap '72 190w

Reviewed by Louis Snyder
Christian Science Monitor p11 Je 14 '72 500w

"Although Weinstock had great admiration for Bellini the composer, he found Bellini the man unattractive. Nevertheless, his account is scrupulously fair, always well documented, and never speculative. Despite the weight of documentation, the prose is elegant and polished." William Shank

Library J 97:200 Ja 15 '72 220w

"With this book Weinstock rounds his survey of that period of operatic history called, for reasons of journalistic convenience more than accuracy, the bel canto. . . . It was the inspiration of a Callas performance (in Donizetti's 'Anna Bolena' at La Scala in 1958) that launched Weinstock on his bel canto trilogy now concluded. ('Donizetti' [BRD 1963, 1964]; 'Rossini,' [BRD 1963]). As a musical biographer Weinstock embodies the ideal blend of scholarly research with the enthusiast's glow. He is seldom content with mere chronological narrative. . . . If he does not, with his great skill, create from Bellini's lifespan a portrait of a lovable and fascinating creature, one may easily presume that Bellini was simply not that kind of person. Here then, is everything you wanted to know about Bellini, and probably a lot more besides." Alan Rich

N Y Times Bk R p40 N 14 '71 1100w

"[This biography] is a full-scale portrait which perfectly supplements biographical narrative with commentary and documentation of the composer's works. . . . Bellini's letters, from which Weinstock frequently quotes, portray him as a self-centered, volatile, selfish, ambitious, insecure, fearful, calculating, avaricious and paranoid. . . . Weinstock has done yeoman service for present-day Bellinians and for those of future generations by surveying each of the ten operas. . . . He lists all the pertinent details regarding composition and first performance, and also provides an outline of the libretto, along with a number-by-number study of the score itself. In both parts of his volume (the first half is given over to Bellini's life, the second half to his works), as well as in the appendixes, Weinstock destroys a good many myths." Robert Jacobson

Sat R 55:66 F 26 '72 900w

TLS p684 Je 16 '72 1050w

WEINSTOCK, STEFAN. Divus Julius. 469p il $30.75 Oxford

937 Caesar, Caius Julius. Rome—History—Republic, 510-30 B.C. Rome—Religion
ISBN 0-19-814287-0 LC 72-177850

"Weinstock argues that Julius Caesar in his last years planned making himself a divine king, that he was on the point of success when assassinated and that his measures laid the foundations for the ruler-cult of the Roman Empire." (Choice)

"As Weinstock says, [his] thesis is not new. But this is probably the fullest discussion yet published, fully annotated and indexed. It is also unusual for being in English, since Anglo-American scholars generally discount or reject the ancient evidence and European scholars alone explore the subject extensively and often. . . . Despite the many new insights he provides, his main argument is brilliant but unmethodical. He is too ready to 'correct' the evidence, too prone to assume that Caesar alone could innovate, and too willing to turn probabilities into certainties. A fascinating but exasperating book, best left to specialists."

Choice 9:1863 S '72 180w

"[The author's] critical apparatus is formidable and he includes perhaps the finest series of coin plates of the period spanning Julius Caesar and Augustus that is to be found anywhere outside specialist collections. Whether one agrees with the author or not, this is in every way a major work of scholarship on the period. . . . It is a pity that so much scholarship has gone into producing a work which few who are not specialists in the period will be able to appreciate. But as a monograph, a piece of sustained disciplined research and writing, it is superb. It is not often that one can speak of a pioneer work in a field as thoroughly explored as the life of Caesar. Yet this is the case with Divus Julius."

 TLS p550 My 12 '72 1100w

WEINTRAUB, STANLEY. Journey to heart-break; the crucible years of Bernard Shaw, 1914-1918. 368p $8.95 Weybright & Talley
 B or 92 Shaw, George Bernard
 LC 76-149002

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Choice 9:524 Je '72 90w

Reviewed by Gerald Weales
 Commonweal 95:527 Mr 3 '72 380w
 Va Q R 48:viii winter '72 160w

WEIR, ROSEMARY. The man who built a city; a life of Sir Christopher Wren. (An Ariel bk) 208p il $4.95 Farrar, Straus
 B or 92 Wren, Sir Christopher—Juvenile literature
 ISBN 0-374-35008-6 LC 74-161371

This is an account of the life and career of "the designer and builder of St. Paul's Cathedral and of many of the smaller London churches. . . . Just after the Great Fire, [of 1666] he was 'appointed Principal Architect for 'repairing the Whole City''; then, as Surveyor-General, he served the Crown until the reign of George I. He had engaged in earlier architectural undertakings at Oxford, where he was Saville Professor of Astronomy; and his interest in science and mechanical experimentation assured him a place in the 'Experimental Physiological Clubbe,' which later became the Royal Society." (Horn Bk) Bibliography, Chronology, Index. "Grade eight and up." (Library J)

"In a Note, the author points out that 'Inot very much is known about the private life of Sir Christopher Wren'. In default of more intimate information, [she] has wisely and significantly indicated the close relationship between the history of the troubled times through which the architect lived and his own life and achievements. . . . [The book also contains] 'A Catalogue of New Theories, Inventions, Experiments, and Mechanic Improvements exhibited by Mr. Wren at Wadham College . . . Oxford.' The total effect of the volume, however, would have been greater if the reproductions of old prints and paintings had been supplemented with present-day photographs of Wren buildings still standing in London and in other parts of England." P. H.

Horn Bk 48:63 F '72 260w

"A disappointing, laudatory biography. . . . Since little is known about his private life, Weir has chosen to speculate about it rather than to fictionalize events, and to concentrate on Wren's professional achievements. This is admirable enough, but unfortunately the book winds up reading simply like a list of the accomplishments of a very brilliant individual." A. P. Michalik

Library J 97:789 F 15 '72 90w

WEISBAND, EDWARD, Jr. auth. Word politics. See Franck, T. M.

WEISBERG, BARRY. Beyond repair: the ecology of capitalism. 201p $6.95 Beacon press
 301.3 Man—Influence of environment. Capitalism
 ISBN 0-8070-0536-3 LC 75-156455

The author is concerned with "the task of relating the imbalance between man and environment to social structure, culture, and the economic imperatives of contemporary capitalism." (Library J)

"Though [the author] tends to argue too often by assertion rather than by demonstration, and is too willing to pass up the need to compare environmental decay in America with that in other technological societies, he is correct in his definition of the nature of the problem. Weisberg's radicalism is of an interesting post-scarcity variety. He draws heavily on what might be termed the humanistic side of Maoism; and he is clearly influenced by one of the most important and stimulating radical thinkers, Murray Bookchin. . . . His book is 'must' reading for those seriously concerned about the environment, and it will satisfy those skeptical readers who demand blueprints." H. J. Steck

Library J 96:3339 O 15 '71 140w

Reviewed by Carey McWilliams
 Nation 213:700 D 27 '71 80w

WEISBERG, HAROLD. Frame-up; the Martin Luther King/James Earl Ray case containing suppressed evidence; with a postscript by James Earl Ray. 530p il $10 Outerbridge & Dienstfrey; for sale by Dutton

364.15 Ray, James Earl. King, Martin Luther
 ISBN 0-87690-032-5 LC 70-149057

This book attempts "to prove that James Earl Ray was not the murderer of Dr. Martin Luther King and that there was a conspiracy in which Ray was involved. . . . The author is a newspaper reporter and a former Senate investigator." (Best Sell)

Reviewed by J. J. Conlin

Best Sell 31:14 Ap 1 '71 400w

"This 'exposé' of the official version of Martin Luther King's assassination . . . must be credited with shedding light on the crass opportunism of Ray's lawyers and biographers, the clumsy distortions perpetuated by the government for public relations reasons, and the inept, corrupt investigation and disposal of the case. . . . The author certainly succeeds in raising fascinating questions about Ray's purported sole guilt. . . . Of interest to college libraries for historical reasons, and as a social phenomenon."

Choice 8:1256 N '71 190w

"Ray first maintained his innocence, but eventually pleaded guilty (March 10, 1969) on the advice of his lawyer in order to avoid the death penalty. Immediately after judgment, Ray returned to his statement of innocence, changed lawyers, and attempted to get a new trial. Weisberg . . . presents a wealth of detail, supported by documents in unusually full appendixes. . . . Of general interest, particularly to those concerned with criminal law. For most libraries hardly of lasting value." H. H. Bernt

Library J 96:2003 Je 1 '71 130w

"[The author] spends considerable space denouncing his old and new enemies, William Bradford Huie, Arthur Hanes, Percy Foreman and a host of others are treated savagely; and if there is any issue, no matter how unrelated to his subject, on which the F.B.I. as an institution can be made to look bad, Mr. Weisberg makes the detour with gusto. . . . He spends an enormous amount of time and effort misunderstanding the legal principles that the various court officials involved in the Ray case seem to be attempting to apply. . . . Finally, one might ask if 'Frame-Up' tells us anything significant about the Martin Luther King assassination. Regrettably, the answer is no." John Kaplan

N Y Times Bk R p10 My 2 '71 1300w

"Weisberg is an indefatigable researcher. Unfortunately, he is not a skilled writer. His book suffers from lack of organization and conciseness. . . . [He] devotes long passages to denunciation instead of the cool presentation of evidence. Though his indignation is in most instances thoroughly justified, it gets in the way of the story. But when all this has been said, Weisberg remains invaluable. He has pursued the facts, and they are there, buried in the mass of his book. . . . It should be clear by now that, if the assassinations of some of the nation's most outstanding leaders are to be dismissed with the 'one man-no conspiracy' refrain, there will be no deterrent to conspiracies in the future." F. J. Cook

Sat R 54:23 Ap 10 '71 1750w

WEISBERGER, BERNARD A. The American heritage history of the American people. by Bernard A. Weisberger and the editors of Am. heritage, the magazine of history; ed. in charge: Michael Harwood; pictorial commentary: Kristi Witker. 396p il col il $19.95; deluxe ed $22 Am. heritage

325.73 U.S.—Immigration and emigration. U.S.—Foreign population
 ISBN 07-069056-1; 07-069057-X (deluxe ed)
 LC 75-31106

"How have Americans become the people they are today? What diverse elements have been synthesized to produce 'the American'? . . . [The author] examines our ethnic components—from the voyages of discovery to current migrations and the recent awakening of pride in varied cultural backgrounds." (Publisher's note) Index.

WEISBERGER, B. A.—Continued

"Dr. Weisberger's book, liberally illustrated with more than 350 photographs, has something in it for every American. In a real sense, it is a very personalized book—the story of that great and trying and perversely heartening American experiment in the brotherhood of man." J. Q. Feller

Best Sell 31:512 F 15 '72 250w

"This is a warm, hopeful book, embellished by all the lavish illustrations and fringes that we've come to expect in these American Heritage histories. . . . Yet this sort of art work can go too far. The formula works perfectly in such productions as the American Heritage histories of the Revolution and the Civil War, where battles offer convenient punctuation marks for introducing extraneous material. But that's not the case here. As Mr. Weisberger sees it, the very nature of the American people's growth has been a continuing process of give and take. A steady flow of narrative becomes important, and the constant interruptions of trick boxes, folios, and special sections seem unnecessarily distracting. It's almost as though the layout crew had seized control of the book from the author. And this is a shame, for Mr. Weisberger has given us far more than a coffee-table item." Walter Lord

N Y Times Bk H p24 Mr 19 '72 700w

WEISGAL, MEYER. Meyer Weisgal . . . so far; an autobiography. 404p pl $10 Random house

B or 92 Zionism

ISBN 0-394-47594-1 LC 70-171983

In his autobiography, the founder of the Weizmann Institute of Science describes his childhood days, his battling editorship in the Zionist Organization, his ten-year romance with the theater, his friendships with internationally known personalities in science, diplomacy, the arts, and education, and especially his personal and political association with Israel's first president, Chaim Weizmann. Index.

"[Weisgal's] version of his own life has a fascination which will pique the scholar and entertain the general reader. . . . The appeal of this book is to roughly the same audience which liked the various versions of 'Fiddler on the roof'—and that's a considerable number of library patrons."

Choice 9:1200 N '72 130w

"Weisgal's long-awaited autobiography provides not only the expected outpouring of Zionist story-telling and Yiddish humour with which, as President of the Weizmann Institute, he used to regale his guests. It is also an important contribution to Jewish history, because it provides in richly personal terms and with a wealth of well-researched fact the case history of the one member of that Zionist leadership which in the critical years between 1939-1948 transformed American Jewry into Israel's staunchest, richest and most influential ally. . . . In the central and most important chapters we are given an inside picture, first of the battle to control American Jewry and then of the battle to control American foreign policy in the crucial years and months leading up to the declaration of the Jewish state." Richard Crossman

New Statesman 83:316 Mr 10 '72 1050w

"As autobiographies go, this is one of the most captivating. A masterpiece of its kind—emotional, provocative, suspenseful. . . . Like many men of action with a poetic vision of history, [Weisgal] decided to account for his life—and his tale would simply take its place among the 'great confessions' of our contemporaries, were it not for one fact: his magnificent sense of humor that saves him from sliding into pathos, moralizing or self-righteousness. . . . [He] offers new and fascinating insight into the relations between Weizmann and Ben-Gurion, and between Weizmann and Weisgal as well. Here the author admits his lack of objectivity. He remains loyal to his 'Chief' and becomes ever more attached to his legend. . . . And yet, the tale can be faulted for certain omissions. The author tells us little about his idol's activities on behalf of European Jewry during the Holocaust-years." Elie Wiesel

N Y Times Bk R p6 F 27 '72 1350w

"Fundamentally this is a good-humored and forthright self-criticism of the Jews by one of themselves. It is written with that wry combination of irony and sentiment which are characteristic of Jewish humour. . . . [However] Mr. Weisgal's book is not to be taken as a work of history without a pinch of salt. But much history on a miniature scale is buried in it. What emerges most sharply is a powerful and imaginative personality, hot-tempered, resilient, good-humored, often crafty, sometimes unscrupulous."

TLS p553 My 12 '72 850w

WEISS, HARVEY. Lens and shutter; an introduction to photography. 120p il $5.50 Young Scott bks.

770 Photography

SBN 201-09240-9 LC 79-155913

Following a discussion of equipment and basic techniques the author deals with various types of photography, including action shots, portraits and closeups. He concludes with a section on darkroom work.

"[The author] gives beginning photographers an excellent introduction to the craft and art of photography. Clarity of expression, logical and imaginative organization, and a wealth of illustration contribute to the effectiveness of this presentation. The beginning section on the camera, although fairly brief, is particularly lucid. . . . A great variety of pictures—many of them by such well-known photographers as Walker Evans, Ansel Adams, and Henry Cartier-Bresson—are introduced to demonstrate the high levels of photographic skill that may be obtained. . . . [An] attractive and stimulating book." B. R.

Horn Bk 48:63 F '72 120w

"[This book] presents technical aspects in simple terms. . . . Unfortunately, the material is poorly organized—for example, the information on mounting photographs is placed in the 'Exploring with Photography' chapter instead of with the other material on experimenting with finished prints at the end of the book. The advice on choosing film is too general to benefit beginning photographers. . . . Despite these flaws, however, this clear overview of photography skills is a valuable additional title on this popular subject. . . . Grade seven and up." Eleanor Frome

Library J 97:2492 J1 '72 130w

"A good overall treatment for any would-be beginner. . . . Schools, clubs and young readers who are on the brink of photography will find the book a real help. Its technical directions are clear and honest; they probably fall just short of providing enough detail to enable anyone to do it all without further advice." Philip and Phyllis Morrison

Sci Am 225:110 D '71 120w [YA]

WEISS, LEON. The cells and tissues of the immune system; structure, functions, interactions. 252p il $9.95; pa $6.95 Prentice-Hall

611 Cells, Tissues

ISBN 0-13-121772-0; 0-13-121764-X (pa)

LC 78-174632

"The purpose of this book is to depict the functions of the immune system through the microscopic and submicroscopic structure of its tissues and cells. The text is divided into three sections. The first deals with the lymphatic tissues and organs which constitute the major part of the immune system. Since the foundation of most of the immune tissues is a reticular connective tissue, that tissue is first presented. The bone marrow, lymph nodes, spleen, thymus and bursa of Fabricius are then considered. The second section is concerned with the cells of the immune system. Macrophages, lymphocytes, plasma cells, and stem cells are treated. The final section describes and analyzes the responses of the lymphatic system in its major immune responses: humoral antibody production and delayed hypersensitivity. The appendix presents information on the techniques of immunocytochemistry and autoradiography." (Pref) Chapter bibliographies. Index.

"[This is] a clear, concise, thorough discussion of the topic. The reader need not have prior knowledge, yet the text will be supplemental for all but the specialist. Weiss has integrated knowledge gained through the use of many different research approaches from several subdisciplines of biology. He defines the terminology and concepts when they are first encountered or refers to the page location of their definitions. When the discussion of the interactions of the immune system requires the understanding of a particular term or concept, the reader is referred back to the appropriate section. . . . In our day of increasing use of this knowledge in organ transplantation, immunization programs, and in understanding disease processes, this text is decidedly relevant."

Choice 9:835 S '72 180w

"[Weiss] looks at immunological reactions through the eyes of a morphologist and electron microscopist. . . . The book is well illustrated, with plenty of schematic diagrams to explain the light and electron micrographs. At the end of each chapter, the author lists a group of suggested references, with an explanation why the particular reference is considered pertinent. As a bonus, the book has a comfortable format with non-glossy paper and easy-to-read print." R. F. Argyris

Science 178:49 O '72 800w

WEISS, PETER. Trotsky in exile; a play; tr. by Geoffrey Skelton. 123p $4.95 Atheneum pubs.

832 Trotsky, Leon
LC 70-168257

This play "details the last years and the death of Leon Trotsky. . . . [Weiss] shifts his locales . . . from Moscow to the penal colony of Verkholsk, from London to Brussels to Mexico. The action ends as it begins, with Trotsky sitting calmly at his desk correcting a manuscript, waiting for the poised ice-ax of his murderer to fall." (Publisher's note)

"Weiss, who succeeded so brilliantly in finding a dramatic metaphor for his ideas in Marat/Sade [BRD 1966], has failed in this play to focus his thoughts or to build tension, to excite his auditors with the dialectics of good debate or to disturb them with the ironies of history or the cruelties of the men who make it. Rhetoric is substituted for action, and unfortunately not the compelling forensic rhetoric of which Trotsky himself was capable. . . . Those who are familiar with the internecine conflicts of communism will not be further enlightened by Weiss' exercise; those not familiar will be bored and confused."

Choice 9:230 Ap '72 190w

"Although Trotsky's life is shown to have been full of disappointments and tragedy (much of which was self-generated), Weiss depicts him as a man who cannot stop believing in reason and human solidarity or seeing beyond each defeat to a rising of the oppressed everywhere. The play is preachy and disappointingly undramatic. Only a brilliant director will be able to give it life. (Portions of the play appeared in Partisan Review, No. 1, 1971)." Louis Barron

Library J 96:3775 N 15 '71 120w

"[The play contains] a number of well-known historical figures who all, because of the short space allotted to them, risk sounding like parodies of themselves. The woodenness of some characters. . . is not the result of Geoffrey Skelton's (in fact, excellent) translation, but derives from Weiss's decision to stylize the documentary material. . . . At times, when the historical plausibility of characters begins to creak, these mannerisms help the . . . plays . . . with an air of redeeming theatricality; elsewhere, one feels Weiss sits uncomfortably between the style of the Marat/Sade, and a less self-conscious documentary tone."

TLS p408 Ap 14 '72 500w

WEISSKOPF, WALTER A. Alienation and economics. 202p $7.95 Dutton

330 Economic policy. Alienation (Social psychology)
SBN 0-525-05193-7 LC 72-158601

The author maintains that "the system of values and reasoning [supported by economists] in industrial society neglects essential nonmaterial, intellectual, psychological and spiritual human needs." He [seeks to] illustrate his thesis of expanding industrial diseconomies by tracing the history of Western economic thinking in terms of its one-dimensional, materialistic emphasis and by citing numerous examples of present-day dysfunction in systems of production and distribution. . . . He stresses the need for simplifying life styles, and notes: "Trends in these directions are already visible in some of today's subcultures." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

"The problem with this book is that of its seven chapters, the first four are unnecessarily long and densely written. This is doubly unfortunate, since by the time the reader has struggled through them he may be too numbed to tackle the last two or three, which represent the culmination of the author's efforts. If the reader does persist, however, he will be rewarded. Weisskopf's treatment of 'GNP-fetishism' and the 'multidimensionality of human life'—which our singular emphasis on 'economic growth' overrides—constitutes one of the best-reasoned and most profound attacks on 'high mass consumption' as a culture that this reviewer has seen. . . . It will be instructive to observe how much attention it will earn from the growth-oriented economics profession. I fear I already know the answer." R. B. Du Boff

Ann Am Acad 401:224 My '72 550w

Choice 9:550 Je '72 220w

"[This] is a book, by an economist for economists, that makes effective use of the tools of the trade to hack away at what Weisskopf calls 'GNP fetishism.' . . . Nationalization and communism, he says, are 'gadgets,' just 'different ways of organizing the GNP fetish, progress through growth. We need new ways of thinking and an economic system that is not value-empty.' But Weisskopf doesn't go far enough. . . . In a final chapter he tries to show how 'multidimensionality and the balance of life' will offset the one-sided life style of the economic and technological man. But his suggestions are so general that they almost seem naive or edging on the obvious." Ed Marciniak

Commonweal 96:19 Mr 10 '72 1300w

"According to Weisskopf . . . all the tools of mathematics and science can merely be auxiliary to the study of 'moral economics.' . . . This worthwhile addition to the new genre of moral economics is recommended for college collections." H. S. Camenson

Library J 96:2765 S 15 '71 160w

"This book," states Walter A. Weisskopf, "is not a 'scientific' discourse but a tract about the philosophy that underlines Western social and economic thinking and acting." But those who prefer tracts about philosophy to scientific discourse may be deterred by some of his turgid prose and slippery abstractions. Economics as a discipline is not without faults. . . . As a social science it has been disconcertingly slow to tackle critical problems—whether depression, development, racism, or ecology. . . . But it is hard to see that reason and science and objectivity and increased production are the repressors of individual freedom and self-fulfillment." Robert Eisner

Sat R 54:38 D 25 '71 500w

WEITZ, RAANAN. From peasant to farmer; a revolutionary strategy for development; with the assistance of Levia Applebaum. 292p $10 Columbia univ. press

301.3 Agriculture—Economic aspects. Economic development
ISBN 0-231-03592-6 LC 76-170926

The author "stresses the human factor in rural development: the . . . successful strategy for hastening development must be one based on the preservation of the attitudes and values of tribes and villages. . . . Weitz offers practical guidelines for turning this principle into practice. He examines farm structure and operations, agro-technical innovations, cooperation, and other dimensions of rural institution-building and emphasizes . . . practical methods for stimulating interest, encouraging local leadership, obtaining cooperation, and designing and executing plans." (Library J) Index.

Reviewed by Virginia Freehafer

Ann Am Acad 400:204 Mr '72 400w

"Recommended unreservedly to professionals and laymen alike, responsible for, or concerned with problems of developing countries. . . . The book is logically organized, thoroughly scholarly, and replete with examples from many nations, especially Weitz' native Israel, where he has spent many years in the Land Settlement Department of the Jewish Agency. Students of U.S. agricultural problems could well ponder some of his suggestions and advice. 34 pages of chapter references."

Choice 8:1487 Ja '72 170w

"[This is a] brief but valuable study." R. E. Will

Library J 97:193 Ja 15 '72 140w

WEITZMANN, KURT. Studies in classical and Byzantine manuscript illumination; ed. by Herbert L. Kessler; with an introd. by Hugo Buchthal. 346p il $22.50 Univ. of Chicago press

745.6 Illumination of books and manuscripts. Art, Byzantine
ISBN 0-226-89246-8 LC 71-116381

These papers, "originally articles or lectures which appeared elsewhere, [have been] arranged in general chronological order of the subject matter. The studies extend from an article on a marble tablet containing scenes from the Odyssey to one concerning 'Constantinopolitan Book Illumination in the Period of the Latin Conquest.'" (Class World)

"[This work contains] a wide range of material dealing with one of the most important aspects of art and literary history: the relationship between written texts and their accompanying illustrations. To the student of Classics, a fascinating element in Weitzmann's studies is the apparent continuity of the classical influence of illustration in books from the early Hellenistic period in the third century B.C. down to the late Byzantine art of the 15th century. . . . Since these studies were written over a period of approximately thirty years and for different occasions, a certain amount of overlapping is inevitable. This, however, is not excessive and for a non-specialist might even prove didactically helpful. The editor has . . . skillfully cross-referenced footnotes, illustrations, and later afterthoughts." S. G. Daitz

Class World 65:61 O '71 550w

"[This volume contains] a bibliography of [the author's] numerous writings. They are all important contributions to the subject. For the general student the most useful of them is his discussion of the character and intellectual origins of the Macedonian renaissance of the tenth century. . . . Biblical illustration has always occupied Professor Weitzmann, and his paper on the illustration of the Septuagint is devoted to this question. . . . In two of the papers [he] breaks really new ground. The first paper is the relationship between the newly discovered icons in St Catherine's monastery on Mount Sinai and illuminated manuscripts. [The second concerns] the development of Byzantine illumination in Constantinople during the Latin domination."

TLS p18 Ja 7 '72 430w

WELCH, WILLIAM J. What happened in between: a doctor's story. 208p $6.95 Braziller
B or 92
SBN 8076-0660-X LC 72-80733

Despite his success in business the author decided to become a medical doctor. His autobiography covers his boyhood in Wisconsin, his medical schooling, and practice as an internist and cardiologist.

Reviewed by James Nolan

America 127:575 D 30 '72 300w

"[The author] is an internal medicine specialist and a cardiologist of renown in New York. His book is termed autobiographical though it lacks the detailed descriptions of events that one would expect to find. It is rather a summation of his beliefs and philosophical speculations as revealed in the occurrences taking place in his life, especially with regard to his medical career. . . . [He] began his medical studies five years after he was . . . graduated from Yale. . . . [Dr. Welch] served as director of the New York Cardiac Center and as director and later president of the New York Heart Association. [He] still regards the care of the sick as a human encounter between doctor and patient. . . . This is the type of 'doctor book' that will appeal to the serious-minded reader who is in sympathy with many of the notions of its author." Sister J. M. Anderson

Best Sell 32:386 N 15 '72 650w

"Welch's account of his childhood and education are most engaging, but [his] . . . account of his professional life is less interesting than one would expect, considering his acquaintance with men such as John O'Hara, Christian Gauss, and Robert Oppenheimer. Welch alludes repeatedly to the profound influence Gurdjieff had on him, but the nature of that influence remains conjectural (presumably mystical); and his account of the man is largely anecdotal." C. G. Roland
Library J 97:2579 Ag '72 210w

WELLES, ORSON, Jr. auth. The shooting script. See Mankiewicz, H. J.

WELLINGTON, HARRY H. The unions and the cities [by] Harry H. Wellington and Ralph K. Winter, Jr. (Brookings inst, Washington, D.C. Studies in unionism in government) 226p $7.95 Brookings

331.89 Collective bargaining. Civil service—U.S.

ISBN 0-8157-9294-8 LC 79-179327

"Part I sets out the theory upon which [the authors'] skepticism about a total transplant of collective bargaining to public employment is based, sketches in, from a mass of data, the background in which contemporary regulation is taking place, and discusses the role law ought to play at various levels of government. . . . Part II deals with rights of organization and the establishment of bargaining. Part III discusses contract formation and administration, including problems of structuring the public employer to bargain effectively and the scope of permissible bargaining. And Part IV addresses the resolution of impasses and the strike question." (Introd) Index of cases cited and general index.

"[This volume together with Managing Local Government under Union Pressure by D. T. Stanley BRD 1972, both] scholarly, well-documented reports on collective bargaining by state and local governments are the first in a series on unions and local governments to be published by Brookings. . . . These interesting books provide source material in an area whose problems local governments are at present ill-prepared to meet. The officials and the unions with which they will be dealing will find much of value in these Brookings reports. Students of labor law, political science and union-management relations will also profit from studying them." Philomena Mullady
America 126:271 Mr 11 '72 130w

"[This study] at times becomes overly involved in details that might be considered superfluous by all except highly trained labor relations specialists. In addition, the tone adopted by the authors tends to be unnecessarily impersonal. The reader . . . gets the impression that collective bargaining is a highly mechanized, complicated process, but none of the political background of unionism or the personality characteristics of the participants is included. . . . On balance, however, the value of [the] book greatly exceeds [its] shortcomings." R. D. Feld

Ann Am Acad 403:230 S '72 260w

"Time will have to tell whether this reasoned book by two Yale law professors is an accurate prediction of the critical problems which collective bargaining may cause cities or whether it is the consequence. . . . The authors' assumption that unions will prove much stronger in the public arena than they have in the private sector is unfortunate because this is the first of a series to be published by Brookings. Later work is likely to indicate that the assumption is unfounded. Still, this is a well articulated view of a popular position, and will prove useful for students. Appendices are a handy source of data; more than adequate indices."

Choice 9:693 J1/Ag '72 180w

Reviewed by Harry Frummerman

Library J 97:1416 Ap 15 '72 210w

"The Unions and the Cities, written by two professors at Yale Law School, is the more reflective and challenging of the pair [of new Brookings books]. . . . Managing Local Government under Union Pressure is directed more at students of labor and those who may find themselves on either side of the bargaining table. . . . But the two important substantive issues—the strike, and the scope of bargaining—are faced in The Union and the Cities where the authors . . . assert that militant union pressure has upset the balance of power existing previously in our cities, and poses an even greater threat to newly emerging pressure groups like the poor, blacks and other minorities, whose claim on public resources may be more just than the unions. . . . [They offer] some reasonable suggestions which they (and I) hope will at least merit an audience." Robert Cassidy

New Repub 166:31 Mr 18 '72 400w

WELLMAN, CARL. Challenge and response: justification in ethics. 295p $8.95 Southern Ill. univ. press

170 Ethics. Reasoning

ISBN 0-8093-0490-2 LC 73-132478

"Wellman the author of The language of ethics [BRD 1962] discusses from the analytic point of view some of the more formal issues of ethical methodology. In the first section he argues there are three types of reasoning: deduction, induction, and conduction; in the second he interprets justification in terms of responses to challenges and considers in detail their various types." (Choice) Index.

"Although moralists have shown an increasing concern in the last two decades about the problems of justification, they have tended . . . to use an approach that is more or less historical. But Wellman does not. . . . For graduate collections."

Choice 8:1593 F '72 120w

"'Justification' has long been an important concept in philosophy and especially in ethics, but it has never been carefully explicated. In this important and innovative work, Wellman provides the needed explication. Going considerably beyond ethics, he presents an account of reasoning that is much broader than the traditional inductive/deductive models that have impeded the development of a cogent theory of ethical discourse. . . . Throughout, the argument is careful and clear and made easy to follow by the generous use of relevant examples. There is bound to be sharp criticism (as well as admiration), but the essential conclusions appear unexceptionable. Highly recommended for academic libraries." G. J. Schochet

Library J 96:3763 N 15 '71 150w

WELLMER, ALBRECHT. Critical theory of society; tr. by John Cumming. 139p $6.95 Herder & Herder

335.43 Communism and society
LC 70-150309

The author "argues that the appearance of 'objectivism' in the philosophy of history of Karl Marx conceals an erroneous and latent positivism . . . [which] leads to a distorted view of technical progress as only quantitative without reference to quality. Wellmer argues for the possibility of revolutionary practice under capitalism as distinct from what he terms 'the affirmative trend' of Marx's philosophy of history calling for revolution as the conscious execution of established tendencies. . . . [He] contends that Marx' concept of class has lost its utility and science has supplanted the proletariat as the agent of revolution." (Choice)

"The book is one that should be read by those already familiar with contemporary philosophy since the many critical references assume such familiarity. Unfortunately, this English language edition suffers not only from an inappropriate title but also the lack of an index and a bibliography."

Choice 8:1219 N '71 250w

"This book is an interesting contribution to the development of 'critical theory'—a branch of neo-Marxism that Americans are familiar with mainly through the works of Herbert Marcuse. . . . Wellmer's particular contribution . . . aside from a rich exposition of the development of critical theory from its modern rebirth in pre-World War II Germany and its interrelationships with other contemporary 'critical' methodologies in the social sciences (e.g., ethnomethodology, linguistics, and psychoanalysis), is a close textual analysis of some of Marx's own writings, illuminating some of the ambiguities they contain. . . . The book itself is not easy going (this may in part be due to the translation), and novices to the history and ideas of critical theory will have to take it slowly if they are to mine some of the wealth of ideas it contains. . . . Recommended for all university and central public libraries." L. S. Kaplan

Library J 96:2001 Je 1 '71 430w

"Wellmer's book provides a useful, though not easy, introduction to 'critical theory.' His exposition takes in three interwoven themes: first, the development of ideas within the Frankfurt school of sociology, from the writings of Horkheimer in the 1930s to those of Habermas in the late 1960s; secondly, the connection between this development and the changes in the socio-economic structure of Western capitalist societies; thirdly, the differentiation of 'critical theory' from mere interpretation of social events on one side and from Marxism on the other." Tom Bottomore

N Y Rev of Books 18:31 Ap 6 '72
1300w

WELLS, G. A. The Jesus of the early Christians: a study in Christian origins. (Pemberton bks) 362p $9.50 Prometheus bks.

201 Jesus Christ. Christianity
SBN 301-71014-7 LC 72-579402

"The purpose of this book is to assess the . . . views of the modern theologians and to pursue the quest of the historical Jesus, and to answer a question: could Christianity have arisen if Jesus had never existed?" (Choice) Bibliography. General index. Index of biblical references.

"Wells, who is not a trained theologian, should be commended for moving from incisive criticism of prior works in the field to concrete demonstrations and illustrations. Few works do all of these tasks so well. Wells has formulated a highly challenging thesis about the early Christian christology on the basis of the old Tübingen school. It is aimed at theologians and theological students rather than at a general audience, or even college students. The book will be, however, an invaluable resource for any interested in the theological dispute on the historicity of Jesus. The author has staked out new ground and done his work very carefully. Yet there are some difficulties," with his interpretations of particular points.

Choice 9:72 Mr '72 160w

"Wells (of Birbeck College, London) takes on Jesus, arguing that if Jesus existed at all, he was a historical construct from Old Testament prophecies. How then explain the fact of Christianity? It could easily have emerged without a single historical founder, says Wells. The conditions of the time were ripe, he holds, for a fusion of Jewish Messianism, the pagan idea of a dying god, and the teaching of the Qumran Essenes. Much of this is old theorizing, to which Wells adds a new gloss of credibility by being less polemical and more scholarly than earlier skeptics. He doesn't win his case, but he does provide some food for thought." John Deedy

Critic 30:80 N '71 120w

"[The author's] detailed but clearly presented arguments hold the reader's attention from beginning to end. . . . Yet for all the author's skill in presentation the result is unconvincing. . . . [He] has indeed consulted a wide, indeed an astonishing array of authorities, but there are equally astonishing gaps, and the tendency to give equal weight to all regardless of when and in what circumstances the authors were writing, throws doubt on the value of some of his historical judgments." W. H. C. Frend

Engl Hist R 87:345 Ap '72 1950w

"Here we are offered a modernized form of the Christ-myth, reinforced, it is argued, by the Dead Sea Scrolls. . . . The author himself says . . . that 'the evidence needed for a probable reconstruction is not available.' Perhaps we had better leave it at that."

TLS p300 Mr 12 '71 1000w

WELLS, G. P. The outline of history [rev edl. See Wells, H. G.

WELLS, H. G. The outline of history; being a plain history of life and mankind; rev. and brought up to date by Raymond Postgate and G. P. Wells; with maps and plans by J. F. Horrabin. 1103p $9.95 Doubleday

909 World history
LC 75-139072

"Newly revised and brought up to date, The Outline of History now includes new information on developments in both science and the humanities . . . since this book's last revision in 1961. . . . [It deals with] the diverse social, cultural, political and economic strands [of] mankind's history, from its obscure beginnings to the first lunar landing." (Publisher's note) Chronology. Index. For the first edition see BRD 1920.

"[The editors] have remained faithful to [Wells'] original conception of [his book] as a popular guide for the ordinary citizen 'traveling about in life.' Except for minor corrections of fact and the valuable updating of the prehistory sections by H. G.'s zoologist son, the book remains as Wells wrote it up to the 1930's. . . . Wells' sections should be almost antique by now, but they are surprisingly fresh, a tribute to his internationalism and farsightedness. . . . The maps in this edition are barely adequate and the illustrations are primitive compared to even a grade school text."

WELLS, H. G.—Continued

Choice 9:416 My '72 190w
Reviewed by D. M. Glixon
Sat R 54:49 D 4 '71 60w

"As an historian, Wells belongs among the great storytellers. Characteristically, the historians to whom he turns for his copious quotations are almost invariably dedicated amateurs who, like himself, never held an academic post: Gibbon, Prescott, Motley, Carlyle. . . . [Wells'] special greatness as an historical artist lay in his ability simultaneously to individualize and generalize the experience of the common man. He would write of problems common to all ages and every quarter of the globe, while seeming always to have particular, identifiable human beings in mind. . . . Although he regarded history as embracing also the role of the prophet, Wells's own vision did not reach as far into the future as he would have liked to think."

TLS p750 Je 30 '72 2600w

WELLS, STANLEY, ed. The Boar's Head Theatre. See Sisson, C. J.

WELLS, TOBIAS. The foo dog. 159p $4.95
Doubleday
LC 71-157636

"Ming Toy (nicknamed Tinker) . . . is suddenly orphaned and shipped from California to stay with her aunt in Boston. The aunt has married a wealthy man and everything seems set for Tinker. But the aunt is suddenly murdered. Homicide Bureau is on the job but Tinker resolves to find the murderer." (Best Sell)

"Now teeny-boppers are solving murder mysteries. And in the most jejune way. . . . [Tinker's] methods are puerile and make you want to gag. Efforts at setting a Chinese flavor to the whole story fail. No wonder the author used a pseudonym."

Best Sell 31:385 N 15 '71 100w

"A little too cute." M. K. Grant
Library J 96:3163 O 1 '71 40w

"Characterization and dialogue are elementary. This book is almost a juvenile with very little to offer." Newgate Callendar
N Y Times Bk R p39 D 12 '71 40w

Reviewed by Haskel Frankel
Sat R 54:58 N 27 '71 80w

WELTY, EUDORA. One time, one place; Mississippi in the depression; a snapshot album. 111p $7.95 Random house

779 Photography, Artistic. Mississippi—Description and travel—Views
ISBN 0-394-47308-6 LC 73-162392

A collection of 100 "photographs taken by Miss Welty following her return from Columbia University to Mississippi in the 1930's. Those were the years of the Depression, and of the W.P.A., and as a publicity agent for the latter, Miss Welty found herself traveling about over all the 32 counties of the state. This gave her, as she tells us in her introduction, the chance to see, really for the first time, the nature of the place into which she had been born. . . . [The photographs are arranged] under the four classifications: 'Work-day,' 'Saturday,' 'Sunday' and 'Portraits.' . . . Most of the subjects are people, white and black, both single and in large or small groups, in city or small town or countryside." (N Y Times Bk R)

"The beauty [of these photographs] more captured than planned. Like Welty's fiction, the photographs . . . suggest the potentially mythic resonances of ordinary lives: a family all in white at a picnic, Holiness women in white veils carrying tambourines, ladies dressed as birds for the Farish Street Baptist Church Bird Pageant. The ambience of [the book] visually complements Welty's stories (the photograph of the pillars of a ruined house could accompany the text of 'Asphodel'); but without a knowledge of the stories, one can let one's self drift into the feelings that this book evokes." J. A. Avant

Library J 96:4086 D 15 '71 130w
Reviewed by Paul Marx
Nation 214:92 Ja 17 '72 850w
New Repub 166:30 F 12 '72 500w

"As purely technical performances the pictures are of uneven value. . . . The record has little about it to suggest the documentary. In some of the pictures there are, to be sure, evidences of material deprivation. . . . If there is sometimes sadness in these faces, there is also, and more often, joy and serenity and appetite for life. . . . If [this book] should leave with the viewer any significant residue of sadness, it will likely be for the reason Miss Welty notes in her introduction. For the photographs, especially those of black people, surely do testify to the presence of an intimacy and a trust now almost entirely vanished. More than the span of years, [it is] this presence that dates these memorable pictures." Madison Jones

N Y Times Bk R p60 N 21 '71 1000w

"A little book as nearly perfect as can be. . . . Back of the camera's eye has been an eye exceptionally sympathetic and imaginative and discriminating. . . . If we pore over the photographs in 'One Time, One Place' with fascination, it is in part because, aesthetic pleasure aside, they are of one time and one place, and that time and place are gone. A hog-killing in Hinds County, . . . a beggar at a fair with his fiddle and some jiggling dolls—the subjects in the foreground are enough to arrest our attention, but we find ourselves striving almost physically to force our way into the open space behind them." Brendan Gill

New Yorker 47:66 D 25 '71 1000w
Va Q R 48:lxiv spring '72 70w

WELTY, EUDORA. The optimist's daughter. 180p $5.95 Random house

ISBN 0-394-48017-1 LC 76-39769

"When Laurel Hand, a Mississippian living in Chicago, is summoned to a New Orleans hospital to join her father, a 71-year-old Judge who is about to undergo a critical eye operation, she clashes with his new, and second, wife, Fay [younger than she]. Laurel is a withdrawn widow still mourning for a husband killed in World War II, and Fay is a childish vulgarian embarked on the one secure relationship of her life. The conflict between these . . . women begins a war between worlds hopelessly at odds. Out of the discordant jumble . . . a fourth figure emerges—Becky, the Judge's first wife." (N Y Times Bk R)

Reviewed by W. B. Hill

America 126:549 My 20 '72 80w

"The best scenes in the book occur in the McKelva house before and after the funeral. The house has been cleaned, the flowers and the whisky provided by Laurel's bridesmaids and the judge's cronies, and here in the presence of the open coffin, Fay, joined by an overwhelming contingent of her family from Texas, makes her crass, dramatic appeal for sympathy. The contrast between the effusive sentiment of the old neighbors and the insensitive curiosity of the strangers is shocking comedy, amusing to the ear, infuriating to Laurel, and the most skillful piece of writing." Edward Weeks

Atlantic 229:111 Je '72 440w

Reviewed by W. B. Hill

Best Sell 32:95 My 15 '72 320w

Reviewed by Paul Theroux

Book World p5 My 14 '72 460w

Choice 9:819 S '72 130w

Reviewed by Bruce Allen

Library J 97:2119 Je 1 '72 550w

Reviewed by Guy Davenport

Nat R 24:697 Je 23 '72 750w

Reviewed by James Boatwright

New Repub 166:24 Je 10 '72 1450w

Reviewed by Michael Wood

N Y Rev of Books 18:8 Je 29 '72 2750w

"[This novell] which first appeared in The New Yorker of March 15, 1969, is a miracle of compression, the kind of book, small in scope but profound in its implications, that rewards a lifetime of work. . . . Its story has all those qualities peculiar to the finest short novels: a theme that vibrates with overtones, suspense and classical inevitability. . . . [Laurel's] childhood days at Becky's mountaintop house in West Virginia, which recall Becky's childhood as well, are the most beautiful pages in the Welty canon, extraordinary passages in an extraordinary book. . . . The best book Eudora Welty has ever written [this] is a long goodbye in a very short space not only to the dead but to delusion and to sentiment as well." Howard Moss

N Y Times Bk R p1 My 21 '72 1350w

"At the fringes of the story, the outside world rumbles. New Orleans's Carnival Week is going on: . . . 'Laurel heard . . . the crowd noise, the unmistakable sound of hundreds of thousands of people blundering.' The worst of the blunderers in the foreground are those, like Fay, who are confidently blind to others, immune to feeling. But the late judge turns out to have been a blunderer too. . . . Even Laurel, the story's central intelligence and apparent judge of events, is not exonerated from membership in 'the great, inter-related family of those who never know the meaning of what has happened to them.' . . . Eudora Welty's merciless tenderness toward her people in Chekhovian in its lightness, clarity and comprehension. 'The Optimist's Daughter' is as profoundly imagined as it is modestly told. It has the gleam of permanence." Walter Clemons

Newsweek 79:100 My 22 '72 460w

Reviewed by Elizabeth Janeway

Sat R 55:60 J1 1 '72 1250w

Time 99:88 Je 5 '72 550w

Va Q R 48:cxx autumn '72 120w

WENG, BYRON S. J. Peking's UN policy; continuity and change; foreword by Jerome Alan Cohen. 337p $17.50 Praeger

341.23 United Nations. China (People's Republic of China)—Foreign relations
LC 74-176400

"In the 22 years between the foundation of the People's Republic of China and its seating in the UN, Peking's policies toward the world body went through many transformations—from the optimistic appointment of a delegate in early 1950, through the bitter denunciations of the early 1960's, to renewed interest in membership in the post-Cultural Revolution period. Weng's monograph [seeks to] trace these policy twists and . . . [reveal] some underlying themes: an unyielding insistence on only one China in the UN, a pragmatic appreciation of the benefits of UN membership for China's foreign policy, and a defiant 'Maoist' indignation at being excluded." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

"This first monograph on Chinese UN policy was written before Peking's admission by a scholar who has published articles on the subject and done a great deal of research. He deals with some competence with legal aspects, less well with the more complex political questions. He grapples with Peking's foreign policy at a level that rarely rises above the obvious, and sometimes falls into error or unnecessary confession of ignorance. Style wordy, sometimes obscure. Libraries may want to wait: given the current wave of Sinomania, there will be many more books like this one."

Choice 9:579 Je '72 100w

"This is a balanced, careful sketch of China and the UN from a heretofore understudied angle—that of China itself. By placing China's UN policy in the context of its foreign policy as a whole, Weng gives us a more sophisticated base for interpreting what China will do now that it is in the UN. Although aimed at specialists, nonspecialists seeking background information on China's attitudes toward the UN will find this treatment thorough and clear." A. J. Nathan

Library J 97:1303 Ap 1 '72 200w

WENTINCK, CHARLES. The human figure in art from prehistoric times to the present day; tr. from the French by Eva Cooper. 160p il col il $18.50 Livingston pub.

704.94 Art. Anatomy, Artistic
ISBN 0-87098-037-8 LC 72-167747

"Wentinck, a French art critic and art historian, has provided a . . . text outlining the record of man's continuing concern with the art of the human figure. Following the text there are 138 color plates which highlight various stages of the subject from the Paleolithic Venus of Lespugne to the 20th-Century pop art of Allan Jones." (Library J)

J Aesthetics 30:408 spring '72 20w

"[In this informative and concise text we] notice the persistence of certain artistic styles which reappear in different places and in different eras. For example, the similarities between the 1926-1930 bronze 'Figure' by Jacques Lipchitz and the African images of Bakota reflect the influence of primitive on modern art. My one complaint is that not enough effort was made to relate text and illustrations.

To be precise, Wentinck discusses the naked and the dressed 'Maja' of Goya more extensively than almost any other work of art, but there is no illustration to help the reader appreciate the author's analysis. Despite this one fault, I would still encourage all libraries to purchase this handsome book." Henry Halpern

Library J 96:2759 S 15 '71 210w

WENZEL, MARIAN. House decoration in Nubia. 227p il col pl maps Can$20 Univ. of Toronto press

729 Decoration and ornament, Architectural. Art, Egyptian
ISBN 0-8020-1858-0

"This book describes the character and evolution of certain house decorations in northern Sudanese Nubia which largely disappeared under the flooding of the Aswan Dam in 1964. The decorations were sculpted in mud relief, or sculpture on stone, they cannot be retrieved even if the waters recede, and the best of them are lost for ever. Those artists who are alive are men of late middle age, who have turned to other professions. . . . This book summarises the results of the only survey made of this work before it was destroyed." (Intro) Bibliography. Index.

"This work of dedicated professionalism is recommended for architecture and folk art libraries, though the price may be prohibitive for some selective collections."

Choice 9:1123 N '72 110w

"All students of art must give a special welcome to [this] new series called 'Art and Society' . . . [intended] to offer basic texts on specific art forms 'which are in danger of debasement or extinction.' In this respect the subject of Marian Wenzel's book . . . is almost symbolic of the whole situation. . . . [The book is] profusely illustrated with most informative and beautiful color and black-and-white photographs as well as line drawings. . . . [The author] has much to tell us about the connection of the paintings with marriage customs and the consequent differentiation between the styles proper to men and to women. . . . Having described the various aspects of the decorations that reveal their twentieth-century character, she adds a chapter with interesting speculations about certain motifs which may reach back beyond the Islamic era as far as the repertory of Coptic Christian art." E. H. Gombrich

N Y Rev of Books 18:35 My 4 '72 1150w

TLS p620 Je 2 '72 430w

WERSTEIN, IRVING. The Boxer rebellion; anti-foreign terror seizes China, 1900. (A world focus bk) 65p il lib bdg $3.95 Watts. F.

951 Boxers—Juvenile literature. China—History—Juvenile literature
ISBN 531-02150-5 LC 79-172448

This account of the Chinese anti-foreign rebellion in 1900 deals with such topics as the "opium war between Britain and China; the opening of ports, through lease, to Britain, France, Germany, and Russia; The United States' Open Door policy; the collapse of the Manchurian dynasty as a result of the native rebellion [and] the use of the 'Boxers.'" (Best Sell) Bibliography. Chronology. Index. "Grades six to eight." (Library J)

"This book reads like any other history—factual but not fascinating." Mrs. J. G. Gray
Best Sell 31:524 F 15 '72 120w

"Unfortunately, Werstein does not include sufficient background or description of the rebellion itself, and incidents are described from the Western point of view." Susan Price

Library J 97:2492 J1 '72 70w

WERTH, ALEXANDER. Russia; the post-war years; epilogue by Harrison E. Salisbury. 446p $12 Taplinger

947.084 Russia—History—1925-1953
ISBN 0-8008-6930-3 LC 75-143223

This account of Russian history from 1945 to 1948 deals with international relations and the cold war as well as economic and social conditions. Bibliography. Index.

"The book is as important for what it says about the Soviet Union, how the author says it, and for what he omits to say as for how he portrays the West's attitudes toward Communism and his own. . . . The book is a characteristic mixture, one to which readers of Werth's books are accustomed, of personal reminiscences . . . and scholarly research. It belongs on the same shelf with revisionist accounts of the post-war years. Recommended for all levels of libraries."

WERTH, ALEXANDER—Continued

Choice 9:272 Ap '72 160w

"[This] book illustrates the strengths and pitfalls of the knowledgeable journalist writing historical and political interpretation. . . . Contradictory positions are characteristic of Werth's writings in general and are nowhere resolved. . . . [But] his portrayals of Soviet life in the postwar years are knowledgeable and sensitive and well worth reading. . . . The major problem with the book is its paucity of documentation. Werth was an informed journalist with considerable insight. But here he has tried to go beyond journalistic reporting and write a history of a very complex juncture, in human events. To an extent he has succeeded, particularly from the point of view of having covered the multitude of issues outstanding among the Allies. For some readers this may be a good refresher course, for others an eye-opener. . . . [But Werth] has sometimes not hesitated to read the minds of the protagonists and present his reading as if it were obvious fact." R. M. Mills

Commonweal 97:188 N 24 '72 550w

"One feature emerges from the book more strongly than any other: Werth feels that he may criticize, but for others to do so is almost anti-Soviet; the benefit of the doubt always goes to Moscow, never to the West. . . . Also, there are some irritating comments: how does Werth know Stalin regarded his daughter 'as a nymphomaniac' and why is Milovan Djilas written off so peremptorily? This is a highly personal, readable, and intelligent account from an observer and chronicler who never hid his deep emotional commitment to the people of Russia." R. H. Johnston

Library J 96:3757 N 15 '71 240w

"The history of these years in English has hitherto been written almost exclusively from a Western angle, mainly by publicists, avowed and unavowed, of the Cold War; but partly also by a small but vocal school of American 'revisionists', who have cast a hard, critical eye on the policies of their country in those years. Werth can fairly claim to belong to neither of these groups. This is the first book to look at these events from the angle of Moscow, which is not the same thing as saying that Werth merely states the official Soviet view or makes himself a champion of Soviet politics. He remains very much the critical observer—but from the other side of the hill."

TLS p1596 D 24 '71 1000w

WERTHEIM, STANLEY, Jr. auth. Hawthorne, Melville, Stephen Crane. See Gross, T. L.

WERTHEIMER, ALAN, Jr. ed. Contemporary political theory. See De Crespigny, A.

WERTHEIMER, ROGER. The significance of sense; meaning, modality, and morality. 216p $7.50 Cornell Univ. press

170 Ethics

ISBN 0-8014-0672-2 LC 70-162541

This is an "examination of the relation of linguistic analysis and moral theory. . . . Wertheimer's contention is that the structure of language has no bearing on the nature of morality. . . . His thesis is that much confusion is due to a mistaken notion about the ambiguity of moral terms, and that words like right and ought are taken to be ambiguous because one imports into their meaning certain matters that don't belong there." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

"[The author's] thesis is defended skillfully and in great detail, and thus the book deserves careful attention from moral philosophers. Along the way Wertheimer has some very illuminating comments on the role of systems (of any kind—legal, scientific, moral, mathematical, etc.) in human thought. Complaints about the apparent irrelevance of philosophical ethics to substantive moral problems have been on the increase recently, but nowhere has the case been argued so cogently as here. [This book requires] more than a passing acquaintance with modern linguistic theory . . . on the part of the reader."

Choice 9:659 J1/Ag '72 300w

"[This is] a technical, but delightfully written [book]. . . . One may worry about [Wertheimer's] notion that in philosophy of language only a thief can catch a thief, but it is gratifying to know that we have another master craftsman." Marvin Kohl

Library J 97:201 Ja 15 '72 170w

WEST, ELLIOT. These lonely victories. 318p $6.95 Putnam

LC 78-138723

"American intelligence agent Brian Colman opposes the exchange of Adele Webber, who has defected from East Germany, for the much needed American agent, Mankin. Not content with protests, he prevents the exchange by running away with Adele, whose husband he had killed. The difficult question of honor then becomes further complicated by the growing love between Brian and Adele." (Library J)

"[This] is no ordinary espionage novel but a lengthy saga that bursts the limitations of the genre. . . . The insights afforded the reader into the human condition, suffering the stresses of the Cold War, are most revealing and rewarding. A lengthy but relentlessly absorbing tale."

Best Sell 32:126 Je 1 '72 90w

Reviewed by Henry Veit

Library J 97:2653 Ag '72 80w

"In spite of an unnecessary final chapter which attempts to present philosophical justifications for violence, YA's will be intrigued by the ample espionage adventure/romance and by the startling, simply stated conclusion." M. C. Bialock

Library J 97:2971 S 15 '72 100w [YA]

"An above-average spy story. . . . As in all good books, issues are raised beyond the bare bones of the plot. . . . There is a romance, and a strong feeling of compassion. Motivations often are clouded, and right or wrong is not always easy to determine. The last word of the book is 'perhaps,' and that is indicative." Newgate Callendar

N Y Times Bk R p32 J1 16 '72 90w

WEST, F. J. The village, by F. J. West, Jr. 288p $7.95 Harper

959.7 Vietnamese Conflict, 1961- Binh

Nghia, Vietnam

SBN 06-014543-9 LC 78-138771

This "is a narrative of an experiment in South Vietnam's I (Eye) Corps, during which, for seventeen months, twelve Marine volunteers lived and fought and died side by side with twelve members of the local Provisional Forces in the struggle to control [Binh Nghia] a hamlet whose population of 5,000 had been dominated by the Viet Minh and Viet Cong since before the French defeat." (Publisher's note)

"This is not a typical story, as the author says, of the War in Vietnam, but of men against men in a village, action and reaction of mortals, and another tale of the base cruelty of some and the heroics and selflessness of others. The one main fault which detracts from the smooth flow of the story is the author's frequent use of the native language, without any translation. I don't think there are enough American readers who will understand. The book may be classed as a detailed segment of the over-all history of our part in Vietnam, but not of general interest." J. B. Cullen

Best Sell 31:512 F 15 '72 420w

"Imagine a book on the Vietnam war—and a good one—without ideological preaching. Of course it has political overtones, but as far as it is humanly possible to do so, F. J. West has written a book that tells it like it was. . . . This book offers an exceptional insight into the war because the author had a unique opportunity to study what happened in Binh Nghia. West visited the village when he was a Marine captain; later he spent four years studying this combined Marine-militia operation for the RAND Corporation, returning to it often, interviewing Marines and Vietnamese. He has told this story with honesty and without embroidery, while bringing out its inherent human drama." Byron Farwell

Book World p9 Mr 5 '72 600w

Reviewed by D. H. Stormont
Christian Science Monitor p9 Mr 30 '72 370w

"A major strength of this work on the war in Vietnam is its limited scope. This sets it apart from many of the books which try to sort out the tangled threads of military, political, and social concerns. . . . The reader acquires a sense of familiarity with these marines. . . . One is reminded of the intensely personal war reporting of Ernie Pyle and Jim Lucas. This tale of war, not politics, will grow in importance." G. H. Siehl

Library J 97:1434 Ap 15 '72 130w

Reviewed by L. Bridges
Nat R 24:754 Jl 7 '72 200w
N Y Times Bk R p44 S 17 '72 100w

Reviewed by A. E. Goodman
Pacific Affairs 45:469 fall '72 180w

WEST, M. L. Early Greek philosophy and the Orient. 256p il pl $15.25 Oxford

182 Philosophy, Ancient
SBN 19-814289-7 LC 79-31541

"This study focuses mainly on Pherecydes, Anaximander, Anaximenes, and Heraclitus, and is based on the . . . assumption that there was non-Greek influence, especially Iranian, on Greek thought of the later 6th and early 5th centuries B.C." (Library J)

"There is much in [this] study that is provocative, if not irritating on occasion (e.g., the somewhat flippant dismissal of the Logos doctrine in Heraclitus). Moreover, the apparent denial of originality in early Greek thought (e.g., Heraclitus on fire or Anaximander on cosmology) is not always convincing. The often untranslated Greek has no value for the Greekless, and the plates seem to contribute little or nothing to the exposition. For large academic libraries." J. P. Hershbell

Library J 96:3763 N 15 '71 160w

"The book is rich in new ideas and in criticisms of existing interpretations—including interpretations put forward in earlier writings by Dr West himself. It will undoubtedly provoke further study of the problem of Eastern influences on Greek thought. Unfortunately, however, the author's own conclusions are based more often on the purest conjecture than on solid evidence. . . . A certain lack of philosophical sophistication marks not only the treatment of individual thinkers, but also one of the principal recurrent themes of the book. While Dr West has many new instances of Oriental influences to propose, his general view of the character of those influences is still strongly coloured by the old antithesis between Greek rationalism and Oriental mysticism. . . . The general problems that [this book] raises are important and difficult ones, but they deserve a less breathless and more critical treatment than they are given here."

TLS p1601 D 24 '71 2550w

WEST, PAUL. Bela Lugosi's white Christmas. 140p $6.95 Harper

SBN 06-014556-0 LC 73-181666

In the two earlier novels, Alley Jaggers, BRD 1966, and I'm Expecting to Live Quite Soon, BRD 1970 "Jaggers was [an] imaginative young Midlands plasterer who strangled a girl pop singer and was detained at Her Majesty's pleasure. [This last book of the trilogy] begins with an account of his mental development in the institution in which he is detained. He reads a lot and his IQ score is, we are told, something his psychiatrists, his 'uncles', 'cheer themselves with on their bleakest day'. . . . Aided by Dr Withington [referred to as With] . . . Alley escapes. Eventually he is recaptured . . . [but not before he] visits 'a commune for unorthodox living', attempts to rape a cow, steals a bulldozer and digs up a graveyard." (TLS)

"Since this particular patient has been locked up for murder, among other aberrations, the story assumes a considerable degree of suspense when he starts roaming about the English countryside. But suspense is not really the author's purpose. He is exploring the border line of sanity, and keeps doctor and patient tacking back and forth across it. The writing is energetic and clever. It also goes on just a trifle too long, for Mr. West has so much fun pretending to be inside the mind of a mad strangler that he tends to linger there and forgets to move his plot." Phoebe Adams

Atlantic 230:110 S '70 120w

Reviewed by J. J. Murray
Best Sell 32:249 S 1 '72 650w

Reviewed by Bruce Allen
Library J 97:3183 O 1 '72 290w

"Alley plays Proteus; his psychiatrist (named With) is a cartoon zany; there is much masking and costuming, much role-reversal. The psychiatrist helps Alley escape disguised as an R.A.F. officer; the police hunt him down. Like Alley, With keeps a notebook wherein he lists things and gives his imagination license to roam. Nothing connects. . . . There's gold in those notes, of course. What exasperates me most . . . is West's spend-thrift waste of gold: of wit, of invention. . . . It's his determination to make his work inaccessible that first puzzles, and finally infuriates. . . . There are times, and this is one, when literary revolution seems a less noble risk than literary government." Geoffrey Wolff

N Y Times Bk R p4 S 10 '72 1050w

"It will be seen that pretty high claims are made for Alley by his creator. His insights, his actions when at liberty, are meant somehow to compose revelations. In fact the notebook and Alley's thoughts and sayings reveal no more than a pretty highly developed talent for surrealist association and extension; and his actions seem to have merely a forced, if admittedly maniacal, energy, rather than to be truly revealing on the 'mytho-maniacal level'. . . . Like its predecessors [this book] reveals a zany intelligence, but as an exploration of thought and behavior patterns which break all the rules and give us new insights in the process, it seems somehow artificial."

TLS p85 Ja 28 '72 400w

WEST, PAUL. Colonel Mint; a novel. 188p $6.95 Dutton

SBN 0-525-08268-9 LC 71-188330

"Astronaut Mint sees an angel in mid-lunar flight [thus becoming] . . . a security problem for 'the Octagon,' which isolates him at a northern 'nuclear dumping grounds' and assigns chief lunar receiver Lew R. to either return Mint to sanity or decode his otherworldly messages. But hallucination, torture, and outrageous experiments in thought control only deepen Mint's Christlike abstraction (he now writes out his incoherencies, on slices of bread); and Lew R. grudgingly becomes his fascinated disciple, sharing Mint's escape and bizarre ordeal in the wilderness, climaxed by the ritualistic killing of a bear. All ends peacefully: the Octagon silences disruptions, and reasserts the dominance of reality." (Library J)

Best Sell 32:160 Jl 1 '72 250w

"This may sound like science fiction, but in fact it is metaphysics. . . . If you don't like metaphysics, there is just the story: Will Colonel Mint survive Lew R.'s procedures? Will he ever get home to Fay and the boys? . . . The most affirmative thing about this book, as about West's other books, is his faith in the novel as an art form, as a dignified production of the human mind, capable of rendering, in its infinite variety, social comment, philosophic statement, comedy, pain, all of which West can do—impressively. 'Meaning is the most explosive thing there is, like angels,' Lew R. says. Here is a novel that means." Diane Johnson

Book World p3 My 28 '72 500w

"More than science fiction, or a satire on military autonomy, this novel is a series of grotesque inventions that culminates in a brilliant rearrangement of language and 'fact,' and has some of the dimensions of religious mystery. West opposes to our determination to make things mean, our refusal to see what is beyond our control, the principle of absurdity." Bruce Allen

Library J 97:2120 Je 1 '72 190w

"West can be witty, salacious and compassionate, but here his props destroy him. The colloquies between Colonel Mint and his inquisitor Lew R.; the torments administered by assistant Ray Bliss; and the sexual extravaganzas lavished by a hors d'oeuvre named Connie Langoustine, raise the novel's excitement to an inescapable level of sedation."

WEST, PAUL—Continued

New Repub 167:22 Ag 19/26 '72 300w

WESTIN, ALAN F., ed. Information technology in a democracy. (Harvard stud. in technology and society) 499p $12.50 Harvard univ. press

350 Electronic data processing. Democracy. Public administration
ISBN 0-674-45435-9 LC 72-143233

The editor "has assembled nearly 50 essays dealing with government's growing reliance on computerized information systems. A number of . . . applications are described, from an urban data bank in Detroit to a crime-control system in New York. Ensuing articles weigh the advantages of these systems against the dangers they pose to privacy, civil liberties, representative decision-making, and other prerogatives that are valued in a democracy." (Library J)

"Contributors are distinguished representatives of government, education, and business people like Edmund Brown, Erich Fromm, and Alain Enthoven. The material covers a variety of viewpoints and should amply reward the socially concerned reader." Daniel La Rossa

Library J 97:506 F 1 '72 120w

"[These] extracts from the writings of users, suppliers, critics and commentators [on information technology are] coherent, readable, informative and neither more nor less inconclusive than . . . [they] should be. . . [The] papers give the impression of having been skillfully gathered and arranged, not to prove a case but to paint the dual picture of an important development and of its informed assessment. They deserve to be widely read."

TLS p372 Mr 31 '72 700w

WESTLAKE, DONALD E. Bank shot. 224p $5.95 Simon & Schuster

SBN 671-21180-3 LC 72-183763

"The story is concerned with a motley crew of small-time criminals who see their chance for a big killing. They plan to rob a bank, or literally to steal the bank. The temporary headquarters of the Capitalists' and Immigrants' Trust Company is a mobile home. Dortmund and his cohorts plan to steal the whole thing one Thursday night after banking hours." (Best Sell)

Best Sell 32:22 Ap 1 '72 80w

"Westlake's new novel has many of the old friends from Hot Rock [BRD 1970] and is just as engaging and prankish as its predecessor. . . . Oddly enough, even though this is a comedy . . . the suspense element is by no means slighted; one must know how it turns out. Westlake has managed to avoid being mechanical and he has given us a gorgeous new creation: Victor, the ex-FBI agent, a youthful 30 and a collector of comic books." H. C. Veit

Library J 97:1743 My 1 '72 80w

Reviewed by Reed Coats

Library J 97:1935 My 15 '72 150w [YA]

"[The author] has a fertile mind and a wonderful feeling for the ridiculous. . . . It is [his] triumph that whereas on one hand the reader knows he simply can't take the characters and situations seriously, those characters are so deftly drawn that they are eminently believable." Newgate Callendar

N Y Times Bk R p29 Ap 16 '72 210w

"Mr. Westlake can be very funny, especially in slapstick set-piece episodes, but his humorous dialogue leans heavily on the non sequitur, the misunderstanding, and the repetitive 'what' ('What did you say?' 'What?' 'What what?'), and can be a little wearing."

New Yorker 48:144 Ap 29 '72 90w

TLS p1174 S 29 '72 40w

WESTLEY, WILLIAM A. Violence and the police; a sociological study of law, custom, and morality. 222p $8.95 MIT press

363.2 Police—U.S. Public relations—Police. Violence
ISBN 0-262-23042-9 LC 75-110236

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by Egon Bittner

Am J Soc 77:779 Ja '72 1250w

Reviewed by Alvin Boskoff

Ann Am Acad 399:241 Ja '72 470w

Reviewed by R. D. Vandiver

Contemp Sociol 1:172 Mr '72 550w

WESTOFF, CHARLES F., jr. auth. Reproduction in the United States, 1965. See Ryder, N. B.

WESTON, BURNS H. International claims: postwar French practice. (Syracuse univ. College of law, int. legal studies program. The procedural aspects of int. law ser, v9) 237p $10.75 Syracuse univ. press

341.5 Claims

SBN 8156-2153-1 LC 79-134507

This study deals with "eight claims commissions established by France since World War II to develop and administer policy for the distribution of lump sums received as compensation from Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Romania, Egypt, and Cuba." (Am Pol Sci R)

"The author's translation, examination, and comparison with U.S. and British practice of processes and actions of the claims commissions, together with interviews with government officials and private practitioners, provide the reader with rich and reliable data and insights. . . . [The] volume is as rewarding for the general political scientist as it is for the international law or comparative politics specialist; for [Weston's] analysis of claims practice eschews narrow or purely legalistic components in favor of a sophisticated examination of the multiple interrelated contexts in which claims are asserted." V. G. Rosenblum

Am Pol Sci R 66:691 Je '72 600w

"[This] thorough, incisive, and readable analysis . . . is the first attempt to study a subject which has thus far been ignored even by French legal literature, perhaps because the commissions decisions have never been published. Weston has undertaken extensive and painstaking research to collect his data in order to describe the French practice, as he so succinctly does. . . . An invaluable work, recommended for all special libraries."

Choice 8:912 S '71 140w

WESTON, HAROLD. Freedom in the wilds; a saga of the Adirondacks. 230p 11 col pl $12.50 Adirondack trail improvement soc.

917.47 Adirondack Mountains, New York (State)—Description and travel
LC 79-160118

"Weston outlines the development of the concept of wilderness preservation and the Adirondack State Park, narrates many great natural upheavals that have occurred, such as floods, hurricanes, and particularly the forest fire of 1913 and its sequel, which he witnessed, and relates numerous personal adventures drawn from a span of over seventy years which included twenty winters at St. Huberts. The . . . [book] contains short sections on the geology of the area, the Indians, the early settlers, the customs at the turn of the century, and the current proposals to safeguard the future of the Adirondack State Park." (Publisher's note) Index.

"[This] is mainly a collection of personal reminiscences and anecdotes of early days by one who loved living in a wild country of lakes, forests, and mountains; of twenty winters of cabin living, mostly alone, in the heavy snows. The book is not historic in any connected sense about the Adirondack Reserve but gives many bits of historical happenings essentially in the northeast part. It has little reference value. The writing is direct and personal but a bit stiff and somewhat disconnected. One needs to know the Adirondack or similar country to fully appreciate the book."

Choice 9:495 Je '72 200w

"Weston has spent more than 50 years as a painter, naturalist, and conservationist in New York's Adirondack Mountains. Imbued with the traditions and spirit of this beautiful and geologically ancient region, he relates through short prose vignettes his knowledge and impressions of and aspirations for his beloved wilderness. . . . He traces wilderness preservation movements and concludes that the 'forever wild' clause embodied in the state constitution has a long-range and wide philosophical message for all. His vivid observations of life in the area range from fires and floods to happy memories of hiking and ice harvests. Proceeds from this book, which is amply illustrated with Weston's paintings and photographs, will be used to create an Adirondack Trail Improvement Society Endowment Fund." Shirley Heppell

Library J 97:890 Mr 1 '72 190w

WESTON, JOHN. Goat songs. 242p $6.95 Atheneum pubs.

LC 76-162977

Three stories set in the American Southwest. "In 'The Call' young Mount Vernon Roundwater flees the drunkenness and banality at the wake for his dead stepmother—toward a macabre moonlight vision that marks his 'call' to the Lord. In 'All My Bones,' young Charley Alan Tickett returns to the hamlet where he grew up—there to rewitness, again and again, the murder of the Sunday school teacher who shared her Bible stories, and body, with him. [The book] traces six friends from boyhood to their later years as each tries to order his fractured—and tormenting—inner world." (Publisher's note)

Reviewed by Phoebe Adams

Atlantic 228:152 N 1 '71 50w

"Billed as three novellas, the book actually contains three short stories—though the middle one [Goat Songs] is long enough for a novella. Weston is a good writer, however, so most of the time his fictions transcend arbitrary categories. [His] approach in 'The Call,' the first and shortest work in this 'fictional suite,' is a highly sophisticated one to characters that might at the outset seem simple. . . . [It] is a weird and compelling tale that sticks in the mind. 'Goat Songs,' the title 'novella' is more ambitious in technique and scope than 'The Call,' and that intention undermines what could have been a very good story. Composed in chapters that vary in length from a few lines to a few pages, 'Goat Songs' has elements of the fairy tale as well as of parable. . . . 'All My Bones,' . . . has a background and figures similar to those in 'The Call.'" H. L. Van Brunt
Sat R 54:64 N 13 '71 1250w

"A very good novella is created like a cracked vase in this volume, padded between two undistinguished lesser fictions that serve only to give the book that solid $6.95 heft. The unfortunate excelsior stories, All My Bones and The Call, are summer-weight Southern gothic, in which the author follows the convention of this school by writing about the rural poor as if they were all dim-witted. The title work, Goat Songs, is something else." John Skow
Time 93:89 N 15 '71 280w

"Sex, religion, and death deeply absorb the author in [this] three-part fictional study. . . . Arizona, with its appropriately austere landscape, complements Mr. Weston's arresting, skillfully presented narrative in the course of which he cunningly offers an astonishing array of sexual aberrations outlined with an air of insouciance almost the equivalent of unfeigned innocence." Va Q R 48:xlix spring '72 80w

WESTON, RUBIN FRANCIS. Racism in U.S. imperialism; the influence of racial assumptions on American foreign policy, 1893-1946. 291p $6.95 Univ. of S.C. press

327.73 U.S.—Territorial expansion. U.S.—Race relations
ISBN 0-87249-219-2 LC 70-144803

In seven chapters the author "discusses the nature of American imperialism at the turn of the century, and the role of racism in determining policies towards Hawaii, the Philippines, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Haiti, and the Dominican Republic. The book's thesis . . . is that American white 'racism provided one of the most influential forces for her imperial adventure and at the same time formed the basis for the ambivalent character of American imperialism.' By 'ambivalent' the author refers to S. F. Bemis's old theme of Americans as 'imperialists against imperialism.'" (Ann Am Acad) Index.

"Perhaps the central weakness of this book is that it is an aging (1964) doctoral dissertation with scant revision evident. . . . The writing is pedestrian and often irksome; Weston . . . unnecessarily taxes the minds of readers with the unintroduced names of sundry polemicists and essayists. He also uses the titles and last names of officials . . . whose full names are not given, even in the index. Chapter 5 is entitled 'Cuba: An Enigma of American Imperialism, 1893-1946,' but nothing in particular enigmatic is presented, and the discussion leaves off about 1912, thirty-four years before cue time." J. T. Kirby

Ann Am Acad 403:208 S '72 650w

"Weston writes persuasively on the thesis that racism has been an important factor in U.S. foreign policy. . . . Some of this material will be found in George Shepherd, editor, Racial influences on American foreign policy [BRD 1971], and other works, but Weston's work is relatively more definitive. Although it is a scholarly book and not easy reading, most libraries should acquire it for the current significance of this subject." Choice 9:377 S '72 140w

"Parts of Weston's thesis would have carried greater conviction had his research been more thorough and his analysis more sustained. . . . His failure to use such manuscript materials as state department archives or the personal papers of government leaders makes it difficult for him to show conclusively a causal relationship between American racism and expansion. . . . The most persuasive, interesting, and valuable aspect of this study is the massive evidence it presents to illustrate the pervasive and profound fear of non-white races that accompanied American expansion. . . . Southerners emerge as the most vociferous opponents of American imperialism. . . . 'They feared that once annexed, the peoples of the insular possessions would be accorded constitutional rights and eventually participate in the governing of Anglo-Saxons.'" L. W. Levine
J Am Hist 59:757 D '72 450w

WESTWOOD, JOHN NORTON. Witnesses of Tsushima. 321p il $15 Diplomatic 952.03 Russo-Japanese War, 1904-1905. Russia—History, Naval
LC 68-58911

The author "analyzes and evaluates a series of eyewitness accounts [of the battle of Tsushima Strait] and contends that the Russian defeat was the result of Rozhdestvenski's secretiveness and poor leadership, inadequate crew training, combat inexperience, and inferior ammunition. . . . Bibliography." (Choice)

"For decades after the climactic sea battle of Tsushima Strait . . . the defeated seamen and officers suffered a reputation as dolts, crooks, incompetents, or traitors. . . . We have long been obliged to rely upon uneven and unreliable sources . . . for details of Russian naval morale and capability. Now . . . we have a British specialist in Russian studies and in naval affairs who has culled Russian, English, and French sources for material by witnesses. Bridging the translations from memoirs, diaries, reports, and correspondence are factual, germane, and well-written passages by the author. With the tenacity of the naval buff, Westwood has located rare photos, but he supplies no track charts. . . . A welcome addition to the scattered literature dealing with the Tsushima campaign." A. D. Cook
Am Hist 76:746 Je '71 420w

"A welcome [book]. . . . Illustrations of the vessels involved [and] a very good bibliography [are included]. The style is most readable and will appeal to specialists and naval buffs. Recommended for special collections." Choice 8:1232 N '71 120w

WETHERBEE, WINTHROP. Platonism and poetry in the twelfth century; the literary influence of the school of Chartres. 292p $12.50 Princeton univ. press

871 Latin poetry—History and criticism
ISBN 0-691-06219-6 LC 70-166393

About "half of the book is devoted to a description of the philosophical ideas informing the Chartian school and the gradual shift within the movement from philosophy to poetry. Professor Wetherbee summarizes and discusses Bernardus Silvestris' 'De mundi universitate' and 'Mathematicus' as well as the 'De planctu naturae' and 'Anticlaudianus' of Alain de Lille. The commentaries of Guillaume of Conches and Bernardus Silvestris on the 'Timaeus,' the 'Aeneid,' the 'De nuptiis Philologiae et Mercurii,' and Boethius' 'De consolazione philosophiae' are each analyzed briefly in an attempt to characterize their reading of classical philosophy and poetry, and the book concludes with discussions of twelfth-century romances, the 'Roman de la Rose,' and the 'Architrenius,' in which 'Chartrian allegory is tested by the facts of life in the world.'" (Va Q R) Bibliography. Index.

WETHERBEE, WINTHROP—Continued

"[Wetherbee] provides translations for excerpted passages. A work of scrupulous scholarship both in style and format, important to the specialist but somewhat formidable for the general reader." R. J. Lenardon
Library J 97:2607 Ag '72 150w

"This [is an] intelligent and learned [study]. . . . Wetherbee at times reads . . . the poets within a perspective more modern than medieval, as when he finds in the 'Consolation of Philosophy' the suggestion that 'the bonds of nature in their very harmony are finally as confining to the human spirit as the bonds of vice and ignorance.' Nevertheless, this is a stimulating book which will be of fundamental interest and importance to students of medieval thought and literature."

Va Q R 48:cxxix autumn '72 240w

WETHEY, HAROLD E. The paintings of Titian; v2. The portraits. complete ed pl col pl 426p $42.50 Phaidon

759.5 Titian

ISBN 0-7148-1424-5 LC 73-81197

The second of a projected three volume set. "The format follows that established in volume 1, The religious paintings [BRD 1970]—an introductory essay on Titian as a portraitist, followed by the catalogue of paintings arranged in alphabetical order according to subject." (Choice) Each entry provides current locality, estimated date of completion, attribution, description and commentary, history, and a bibliography. Indexes of names and subjects and of places.

"[This work] is a useful working tool, not the definitive modern assessment of Titian which still needs to be written. . . . Neither the connoisseurship (which present specialists with much that is debatable) nor the approach to iconography is the strength of the book, but rather the conscientious sifting of material and the effort to include clear, up-to-date information. . . . The long-term value of the book is in the plates, which include many full-page details, views before and after cleaning, drawings and engravings. . . . The documentation and the plates make this an important, albeit disappointing, acquisition for both undergraduate and specialist libraries."

Choice 9:362 My '72 190w

"[The] mammoth three-volume project [is] rich in scholarship and aimed at checking every aspect of Titian's works. . . . All but four of the 284 illustrations are in monochrome, which may seem disappointing. The black-bearded faces of his gentlemen sitters look confidently ahead, even in black and white, and old age, maturity and youth are brilliantly distinguishable. A handsome volume."

Economist 241:63 D 25 '71 100w

"Wethey's catalogue on Titian's portraits follows so hard on the first [volume] on the religious paintings, that it is inevitably vitiated by the same flaws. Alphabetical arrangement once more impairs its usefulness; with the portraits we read successive entries for Jacopo Sannazaro (so-called), Francesco Savorgnan della Torre, La Schiavona, and Scholar with a Black Beard. To track down the paintings, it is necessary to guess how they are described. Once more the accounts of the condition of pictures are perfunctory and inexact. The evidence of X-rays is again ignored. . . . There is, moreover, continuing doubt whether or not the information given in the catalogue is thoroughly reliable. . . . There is also continued uncertainty on the plane of attribution. . . . [A] superficial book."

TLS p222 F 25 '72 1450w

WEVILL, DAVID. Firebreak; poems. 68p $4.95 Macmillan (N Y)

811

ISBN 333-12356-5 LC 76-160136

The "author of Birth of a Shark [BRD 1965] and A Christ of the Ice-Floes [BRD 1967], presents 48 interweaving lyrics and six prose poems on loss in death; disbelief; search through fire, prairie, canyon, self, other; and enigmatic assurances." (Library J)

"At his best—especially in the first half of the book—Wevill surpasses his already promising Birth of a shark. In the second half of this collection, the poet weakens his offerings by not having edited out twice told poems. . . . In his best work Wevill exhibits the sound structure and conciseness of expression one can expect from so first-rate a talent as his."

Choice 9:973 O '72 140w

"[Wevill] proves himself a poet of perplexing leaps and excitements, and his work duly belongs in the rich flow of the newer forms and sensitivities of British-American-Canadian poetry. . . . Cryptic, etched verses of a multi-tiered awareness and surreal prose elegies spoken from nightmare or within the grave—that perhaps sums up the contents of this volume, but not its challenges of surmise."

H. C. Burke

Library J 97:2101 Je 1 '72 140w

"David Wevill's Firebreak marks a departure from his earlier manner. This talented Canadian poet . . . has always been at his best when he is most concrete, when his poems come straight at you with a setting or a situation. The new volume—really one long continuous poem broken into sections—goes to school to the late Charles Olson to find a means of writing not only about places but also about immensely private themes. It's to his credit that the book is not a mere Black Mountain derivation, that Wevill's journeys to and fro in space and time are written in his own recognisable way; but it's a strange, vague, diffused product all the same." Alan Brown-John

New Statesman 82:447 O 1 '71 190w

"[This volume] never sinks to bad writing and rarely rises to anything positively impressive; and, like much poetry of its kind, it is more effective when it stays at the level of closely observant description than when it ventures into emotional statement. The worst flaws of the Black Mountain school—the quirky privacy, loose generalized rhetoric, demotic posturing—are, on the whole, carefully avoided, and the craftsmanship is sound; but it takes more than sound craftsmanship to produce a satisfying volume."

TLS p1306 O 22 '71 110w

WEXLER, JEAN STEWART, jt. auth. The Martha's Vineyard cook book. See King, L. T.

WEXLER, VICTOR G., jt. ed. Historians at work, v2. See Gay, P.

WHALEN, RICHARD J. Catch the falling flag; a Republican's challenge to his party. 308p $6.95 Houghton

320.973 Presidents—U.S.—Election. U.S.—Politics and government—1961-. Nixon, Richard Milhous, President U.S.
ISBN 0-395-13737-3 LC 73-108695

"In 1967 Whalen was enlisted as a speech writer and 'idea man' for Richard Nixon, a position from which he resigned just after Nixon's nomination at Miami Beach in 1968. His book is composed of several elements: a . . . look at Nixon behind the scenes, memos from Whalen to Nixon, and Whalen's exposition of his own conservative political philosophy." (Library J)

"The book presents a fairly interesting criticism of Nixon from a staunchly conservative viewpoint." J. W. Weigel

Library J 97:2072 Je 1 '72 140w

"What Tom Wolfe did to Leonard Bernstein [in Radical chic, BRD 1971], Whalen has done to Richard Nixon in full and ruthless measure. . . . Whalen is prickly and populist, and it's hard to conceive of a reader who will share all his unpredictable and occasionally contradictory views. But no one who reads this book can doubt that he is, in most things, a conservative, and despite his critique of Nixon's character the purpose of the book is philosophical. There are essays on race, politics, the New Left, the media and the decline of American institutions that are alone worth the price of the book. . . . Not only is it the best book on Richard Nixon, and a superb critique of this time and place in America, but the only work I know of that intimately examines the role of the 'idea man' in politics, his opportunities and perils." Jeffrey Bell

Nat R 24:748 J1 7 '72 2300w

Reviewed by Robert Cassidy

New Repub 167:34 S 2 '72 500w

"This despairing story of the efforts by a right-of-center idealist to write speeches for Nixon is one of the most revealing accounts of the man and his entourage. 'I could no longer find phrases to express Nixon,' Whalen writes in anguish at one point, 'because I could not find him.'" I. F. Stone

N Y Rev of Books 18:11 Je 1 '72 1850w

"President Nixon has let Richard Whalen down. That I take to be the central theme of [Whalen's book], and it is a position that a conservative Republican could quite understandably hold. But what gives Whalen's treatment its eccentric flavor is that he knew at the outset that Nixon was not a conservative ideologue . . . and yet . . . persists in needling the President for his pragmatism. . . . I disagree with many, probably most, of Whalen's premises about the conduct of foreign affairs. He lives in a world where not a sparrow falls without some ontological push, while I suspect that most things that happen in international affairs have an accidental dimension. . . . Whalen is a cogent, hard-hitting memo writer with a kind of ideological integrity one can respect even in disagreement. Yet he lost me when he left the policy track and set out to . . . settle a few personal scores with other staff members." J. P. Roche

N Y Times Book R p[38] Je 4 '72 1050w

Reviewed by Walter Clemons
Newsweek 79:84 My 29 '72 230w

Reviewed by Edwin Warner
Time 99:94 Je 5 '72 400w

WHEATLEY, PAUL. The pivot of the four quarters; a preliminary enquiry into the origins and character of the ancient Chinese city. 602p il maps $17.50 Aldine-Atherton

301.3 Cities and towns—China. Cities and towns, Ruined, extinct, etc. China—History
ISBN 0-85224-174-7 LC 79-115059

This is a "comparative study of the origins of cities with particular reference to the development of urbanism in ancient China. The basic conclusions reached are that the cities of early China, in much the same fashion as cities elsewhere in the world, came into being as religious centers and were laid out in accordance with the dictates of religious belief. . . . Glossary. Bibliography. Index." (Choice)

"Wheatley has directed most of his efforts towards analyzing and synthesizing the researches of other scholars. His chapter on neolithic and Shang China, especially, is an excellent compendium of our knowledge of the period. Unfortunately, it appears that such knowledge is as yet insufficient to provide an understanding of urban origins in China without the addition of inferences, many of them of questionable validity as regards the East Asian situation, that have been drawn from other urban cultures. Unfortunately, also, is the extreme pedantry of the writing. Full notes. . . . Primarily for university libraries." Choice 9:119 Mr '72 160w

"The present study is the first systematic analysis of the origins of the city with special reference to North China. . . . Though thought-provoking, Wheatley tends to overstate his thesis, and his conclusions are bound to be tentative, not simply because of the pioneering nature of the book but also because of the fact that archeological evidence is biased toward static forms and therefore ill-suited to the processual approach. . . . Sociological concepts (along with the jargon) are widely used in the book, and when combined with the author's somewhat repetitive style render the book difficult for untrained readers. Occasionally, an inconsistency also creeps in. But these are minor blemishes in an essentially interesting work which should be read by all seriously interested in urban studies." David Pong
Science 174:281 O 15 '71 650w

WHEELER, HARVEY. The politics of revolution. 305p $6.95 Glendessary press

320.973 U.S.—Politics and government. Revolutions
ISBN 0-87709-714-3 LC 76-119707

"Wheeler's essay in political futurology argues that America is undergoing a structural revolution and that a new society is emerging which is post-liberal, post-industrial, and post-European. . . . He calls for overcoming the dichotomy between the sacred and secular realms, for a new theology, and for a balanced ecology.

. . . [His] closing appeal [is] for a liaison of science and politics." (Library J) Index.

"[This is a volume] to make bourgeois flesh creep out in the Middle West. . . . [The author's] revolutionary aims are . . . a sweeping away of the nation-state, an end to waste of natural resources, a fairer share-out for all and an end to war. . . . Wheeler ranges conscientiously among the philosophers and the founding fathers . . . [but he can not] say, in practical terms, just how the revolution [which he desires] is to come about."

Economist 243:80 My 13 '72 120w

"In this somewhat murky book, in which [Wheeler's] counter-cultural and theological spirit masks a fairly familiar analysis, the author joins a growing number of social critics who seek to link daily headlines to underlying changes. He argues that an 'intentional' society is emerging, but I would be hard pressed to say that he is talking about much more than a rationally planned and coherently guided society." H. J. Steck

Library J 96:3620 N 1 '71 150w

WHEELER, RAYMOND H., jt. auth. Black belonging. See Rossi, A.

WHEELIS, ALLEN. The end of the modern age. 129p $5.95 Basic bks.

120 Man. Knowledge, Theory of
SBN 465-01971-4 LC 77-173833

Modernity began, writes Wheelis, "as a mixture of humility and arrogance: man is small, the earth far from the centre of existence; yet it was man's own mind which discovered his diminished state—and so man would eventually know all. Instead, science itself, pre-eminently modern man's mode of knowing, steadily eroded that expectation of understanding and control. Its final disappearance—in our time—marks, in Wheelis' view, the end of the modern age." (Publisher's note) Index.

"The title applies very specifically to the modern period in philosophy, the period distinguished in part by the rise and reign of Continental Rationalism. Wheelis has chosen to do a historico-philosophical analysis . . . of the various differences between the modern era and our own. In his attempt to clarify certain of the tenets of the modern era, he draws comparisons with those of the Middle Ages. Of course various Church teachings and positions come under consideration, and his treatment of these is both cursory and superficial. Since these superficially treated matters are, however, neither theoretically nor practically essential to Wheelis' development, the strength of his final conclusions is in no way undermined. . . . Wheelis' work [is] highly to be recommended to anyone and everyone with the rudimentary grasp of the history of philosophy which is required for comprehending it." R. C. Morlino
Best Sell 31:492 F 1 '72 700w

Choice 9:496 Je '72 90w

"[This is the kind of book] that tries to take in the whole horizon, but ends in a blur. A sermon by a psychoanalyst."

Christian Century 88:1333 N 10 '71 20w

Reviewed by Alan Goldfein
Commentary 53:86 My '72 1900w

"The belief in the unqualified omnipotence of human reason, [marked the end of one era]. Now, after 400 years, our scientific and technological society has come to realize its limits and abandon its quest for absolutes. We are at the dawn of a new era. The thesis is far from original, except as a record of the author's personal awareness of problems that have been discussed since the turn of the century. The book bears the stamp of the psychologist's office, with a sensitivity to human ills but an appalling simplicity in dealing with the theoretical issues involved." J. W. Heisig
Library J 97:879 Mr 1 '72 150w

"The book is short and possesses Wheelis' characteristic style—plain, understandable, strong prose harnessed to straightforward narrative presentation. . . . Brief, unpretentious, deceptively easy to go through . . . [it is] full of reflections about . . . the whole history of modern science. Though the title is dramatic, it is earned." Robert Coles
New Repub 166:27 F 12 '72 2600w

WHIPPLE, M. A., jt. ed. The Californian Indians. See Heizer, R. F.

WHITAKER, ROD. The language of film. 178p
il $7.25; pa $4.95 Prentice-Hall

778.5 Moving pictures. Communication
SBN 13-522839-5; 0-13-522821-2 (pa)
LC 72-108739

The author is concerned with "the film as a unique medium of expression and communication, providing a basic catalogue of the content implications of image and sound" as well as suggestions about "the contributions of editing and montage, the history of film consciousness and technology, and the meaning and implications of film techniques. . . . [He also] outlines the basic concerns a film maker or film critic should understand: frame, composition, the shot, the sequence, editing devices, camera angles, lighting, color, image characteristics, and camera movements." (Choice)

"Despite serious blemishes, [this is a] worthwhile [account]. . . . Unfortunately for the serious student of the film, Whitaker glosses over everything having to do with the wider implications of its central concern with image and sound techniques. The relatively large amount of space he devotes to such concerns in his small book, his offhand treatment of them, and his occasional use of learned terms (he, for example, calls his preface the 'Ap-pogiatura'), implies a degree of pretentiousness—going through the motion of scholarship as if to show that he is after all, a film maker and not a literary critic or scholar. . . . Hinting at the complexities of the basic concerns e.g. the way the shot is affected by field size and duration, he provides just enough information to leave the reader able to seek out his own examples."

Choice 7:1524 Ja '71 200w

"This scholarly treatise on filmic language should serve as a good theoretical handbook for film makers, moviegoers, and film reviewers. It is well organized and has some subtle wit. Because some literary and philosophical background is required for full comprehension of its contents, it will appeal more to the sophisticated than to the general reader. . . . There are a few misspellings of names, but otherwise the book is well done. Recommended for larger libraries and specialized collections." J. L. Limbacher
Library J 95:3302 O 1 '70 100w

WHITE, CHRISTOPHER. Dürer: the artist and his drawings. 231p il col il $17.50 Watson-Guptill

741.9 Dürer. Albrecht
LC [79-886308]

This work includes more than 100 "black-and-white reproductions selected from Dürer's . . . oeuvre as a draughtsman and covering the . . . span from 1484 to 1527. . . . The book contains . . . comments accompanying the individual drawings as well as the paintings, prints, and other drawings to which they are related in one way or another and which are illustrated on the opposite pages." (Choice)

"None of the innumerable books on Dürer has ever attempted such a meaningful presentation of Dürer as a draughtsman. At the same time this kind of presentation establishes a lively link with Dürer's work as a painter or print-maker, as well as with his sources of influence and inspiration. An excellent introduction precedes the main section of the book which is based on a profound and thorough knowledge of the Dürer literature, made easily usable by a well organized index. Besides the scientific catalogs of the Nürnberg and Washington Dürer exhibitions, this book may be considered the most important publication of the Dürer anniversary year (1471-1971) and should not be lacking in any college art library."

Choice 9:363 My '72 220w

"The first thing that strikes one about Dürer's drawings is the remarkable diversity of the subjects, ranging from portraits to skulls, writing desks to helmets, rhinoceroses to plants. Usually they have an immediate appeal and vitality. . . . Dürer experimented widely with different media, as this book shows." Economist 241:63 D 25 '71 70w

"This is less a contribution to research than a general introduction; but as such it is an extremely nice book . . . [and has an] informative and well-written text. . . . In sum, while he certainly uses previous scholarship, White eschews the dry academicism of iconology and scholastic debates, preferring instead to bring the drawings to life as the personal and often intimate productions of an extraordinary artist." Andrew Robison

Library J 97:12079 Je 1 '72 140w

"[White] looks beneath the surface and examines the roots and facets of Dürer as a draughtsman, explaining his intricate personality from his drawings. This is possible with Dürer, because he was the first to establish the full independence of drawing as an artistic statement. . . . [The author also] gives us numerous hints on Dürer's technique which provide not only an insight into his working methods but make us look with fresh eyes at quite familiar sheets."

TLS p1494 D 3 '71 330w

WHITE, E. B., jr. auth. The elements of style. See Strunk, W.

WHITE, ELIZABETH WADE. Anne Bradstreet, "the tenth muse." 410p il $12.50 Oxford

B or 92 Bradstreet, Anne (Dudley)
ISBN 0-19-501440-5 LC 77-161893

This "biography of Anne Bradstreet is concerned with her personal life in England and America, her family relationships and gentle blood, the New England Puritan environment, her literary backgrounds, and her gradual development as a poet." (Am Lit) Bibliography. Index.

"The main stream of discussion is of a gradual development as a poetic craftsman. This is demonstrated fairly well from the first halting experimental verses through The Tenth Muse collection to a culmination in 'the autumnal tide' when her genuine nature poems and original contemplative pieces were composed. . . . The critical considerations of individual poems do not reveal the acute insight shown by certain other Bradstreet scholars—for example, Ann Stanford. Yet generally analysis and judgment are sound. Dozens of relationships, as with Nathaniel Ward, are explained satisfactorily, and above all the thesis of growth as a poet is well supported. Colonial Americanists will welcome and find useful this extensive study of one of our few major poets of the period. But certainly it is the poet as human being, not simply a great woman as human being, who will compel their interest." R. B. Davis
Am Lit 44:154 Mr '72 600w

"[This is] a desirable addition to any library with a colonial section. . . . With little new biographical information, the life is reconstructed through a close following of the poet's own statements in verse and prose, as well as through extensive speculation and surmise. . . . Criticism in the volume is gentle and sympathetic, not particularly incisive, and inclined to quote an assortment of judgments by familiar critics for support. Major contributions are the extensive genealogical materials, to be enjoyed in leisurely fashion, and a painstakingly drawn picture of the poet's times."

Choice 9:511 Je '72 180w

"Not much is known about this pioneering daughter of Governor Thomas Dudley, but whatever can be known is recounted in this study of her poetry. For those who like to begin at the beginning."

Christian Century 88:1397 N 24 '71 60w

"Despite all Miss White's efforts, and they have been prodigious, she has not given us the book that we might have hoped for, for while this is a diligently researched and carefully documented work, its learning does not substantially add to our knowledge of Anne Bradstreet's life or enhance our appreciation of her poetry. . . . The book is . . . overwritten with regard to the relatively small matters in or around Anne Bradstreet's life and surprisingly understated with regard to what is truly important." A. H. Rosenfeld

New Eng Q 45:308 Je '72 750w

TLS p967 Ag 18 '72 750w

WHITE, EMMONS E. Appreciating India's music: an Introduction with an emphasis on the music of South India. 96p il $6 Crescendo pub.

780.954 Music. Indic
SBN 87597-059-1 LC 70-131051

The author begins with a short history of the "music and its famous practitioners; an explanation of the scale, drone chord, melodic (raga), and rhythmic (tala) formulas; [and] an explanation of the song sermon. He reproduces, in Western notation, several Indian songs, ragas, and talas." (Choice) Glossary. Bibliography.

"Deals with the lesser known of the two musical traditions of India—the Carnatic or South Indian tradition. White's . . . explanations are brief, simple, and quite revealing. A study of the bibliography, which is by no means comprehensive, gives an indication of how little has been published in the English language on Indian music; how little of that deals with the South Indian tradition. . . . Every library should add this little book to its collection of music books. It is an excellent introduction."

Choice 8:1187 N '71 180w

"White served as a missionary in southern India for 40 years and studied under professional Indian musicians. However, a love and appreciation of music does not always qualify one to write about it. White's book is a sincere attempt to explain South Indian music, but it suffers from a poor literary style, a dependence on secondary sources, and an overly descriptive and subjective approach to what is surely one of the world's most highly developed systems of music." O. W. Henry
Library J 96:3139 O 1 '71 80w

WHITE, GORDON S., jt. auth. Joe Paterno:
"Football my way." See Hyman, M. D.

WHITE, GWEN. Antique toys and their background. 260p il col il $19.95 Arco

688.7 Toys—History

ISBN 0-668-02484-4

LC 74-153651

This account of antique toys spans the stone ages to the present decade. In addition to discussing "the evolution of the wheel . . . [and] wheeled toys . . . [White considers] balls, marbles, ninepins and tops; Noah's arks, hobbyhorses and rocking horses; doll's houses and their furniture; board games; dolls, sewing machines and cradles; puzzles and jigsaws; boats, kites, airplanes; carriages, cars, engines and doll-carriages; building bricks; soldiers; balancing, musical, automata [and] scopes." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"Some of the best-loved toys are vulgar, crudely made and shoddy and, as Miss White warns in her preface, many of the elaborate and beautiful so-called toys that have been handed down as antiques were never handled by children at all. . . . While not being a particularly profound book, this is the place where you can fill in the gaps. Miss White has gone to the trouble of classifying and categorising the things that children have played with. . . . And how do you know if you have a classic American toy cooking range, or a tin Frederick the Great on horseback from one of the better German factories? . . . By looking for the trademark. . . . Nearly 200 leading marks are reproduced in the last chapter." Economist 239:63 Je 26 '71 400w

"In spite of the serious and maddening flaw of an inadequate index, and the author's disjointed prose, the breadth and personal quality of the book give it distinction. It is especially appealing because of White's observations on how children in England played at various times—e.g., how delighted they were with kites after the war. Besides, there are toys here not in the other books, most of them sketched from firsthand observation by the author." S. C. Gross

Library J 97:65 Ja 1 '72 170w

WHITE, HARRISON C. Chains of opportunity; system models of mobility in organizations. 418p il $15 Harvard univ. press

331.1 Labor turnover

ISBN 674-10674-1

LC 78-105374

The author "turns his attention here to occupational mobility within organizations. Various types of Markov chains are presented and related to data obtained from the mobility records of Episcopal, Methodist, and Presbyterian churches cover 50 years. Adaptations of Markov models to housing, attitudes, and used car markets are shown. . . . Index." (Choice)

"White [is] well versed in the arts of sociology and mathematics, which he practices at Harvard. . . . The discussion is elliptical, with emphasis on mathematical models to depict the process of mobility. Thus, the readership is restricted to those with a fair understanding of the mathematics of Markov chains. . . . Footnotes should serve as a useful bibliography. Likely to become the standard work on mathematical models of job mobility in organizations."

Choice 7:1745 F '71 100w

Reviewed by George Parkas

Contemp Sociol 1:63 Ja '72 900w

"Despite the vast production of sociological literature very few sociological works manifest both conceptual originality and analytic power. [This volume] belongs to this select group. . . . [Its] most serious defect . . . rests in the author's rather hasty rejection of models other than his own. . . . One can cite other shortcomings: the Markovian nature of vacancy movements is not adequately justified; the constraints exercised by manpower distribution on vacancy chains receive short shrift; the author places excessive reliance upon equilibrium solutions. . . . These, however, are minor defects. It is to be hoped that neither they, nor the author's less than elegant writing style, nor the volume of mathematical notation will prevent this important book from attracting the broad readership it deserves." T. F. Mayer

Science 172:462 Ap 30 '71 1150w

WHITE, IRVIN L. Decision-making for space: law and politics in air, sea, and outer space. 277p $6.50 Purdue univ. studies

341.5 Space law, Maritime law

ISBN 0-911198-24-5

LC 77-109153

"The author first determines and categorizes the legal problems of outer space, selecting twenty-two for analysis. Then he discusses certain legal rules and principles in international air and sea law. In the book's final section, he analyzes why national decision-makers have accepted these principles and [questions] whether these rules will be applicable to legal problems in outer space." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"Using an empirical approach, the author has identified the voting results at international air, sea, and space forums, such as special conferences or at the General Assembly of the UN. . . . [He] deserves credit for his innovative application of methodological procedures to so large an area of international law and politics. . . . This effort may serve as a guide and as an inducement to others to consider these and other methodological approaches. The inadequacies reported in this study may be cautionary to later studies. . . . Regrettably, the publisher has marred the manuscript with perhaps more than the usual number of typographical errors. Some of them are misleading." C. Q. Christol

Am Pol Sci R 65:1260 D '71 1000w

"A pioneering and bold attempt to apply empirical research methods to outer space law. . . . The author uses quantitative measures and statistics to identify legal problems in outer space . . . [and] draws some tentative conclusions on the nature of claims likely to be made. . . . However, the study suffers from some serious problems. There is perhaps a limit to applying sea and air law analogies to space law. [Moreover] recent developments in space technology and space law and U.N. efforts since 1969 to formulate principles for the peaceful uses of the oceans have already left the author far behind. . . . Special libraries—law and international studies—should acquire the book, for the use of social science methodology sets this study apart from other space law books."

Choice 8:143 Mr '71 210w

WHITE, JAMES F. New forms of worship. 222p $5.75 Abingdon

264 Public worship

ISBN 0-687-27751-5

LC 72-160797

The author deals with "the new forms of Christian worship of the last decade or so . . . [and with supplementing] the verbal orientation of Protestant worship by incorporating various forms of nonverbal communication." (Library J)

"[The author] opts for a renewed form of involvement in the traditional modes of worship that should be done 'decently and in order.' That idiom, alas—despite its fine heritage—spells authoritarianism and status quo to the younger generation. In other words, the impact of White's excellent work may be lost on worship leaders of the younger generation—where the need for good creative stimuli in the development of new forms is most apparent—precisely because of its conservative and 'establishment' tone." Norman Habel

WHITE, J. F.—Continued

Christian Century 88:1422 D 1 '71 310w

"White's historical and theological orientation enables him to cut through the shallowness of much experimentation and achieve a remarkable blend of the contemporary and the traditional. His suggestions for the most part have theological integrity and religious validity. While he offers no sample services or liturgies, he does provide many practical hints from his experience in churches and at the Perkins School. This book will be of interest to church people in all Christian traditions." D. W. Dayton

Library J 96:2782 S 15 '71 150w

WHITE, JOHN J. Mythology in the modern novel; a study of prefigurative techniques. 264p $8.50 Princeton univ. press

809.3 Fiction—History and criticism. Mythology in literature
ISBN 0-691-06210-2 LC 71-155004

The author discusses "the need for distinguishing between archetypal patterns and mythological allusions and considers the reasons why such schemes of reference may have been used. Mr. White . . . argues in favor of a more aesthetically orientated approach to the mythological novel (and presents) . . . analyses of the technique in works by John Bowen, Hermann Broch, Michel Butor, Macdonald Harris, Thomas Mann, Alberto Moravia, Hans Erich Nossack, and Ann Quin. Some novels are shown to work with a simple scheme of parallels between plot and prefiguration, others with more complex patterns of fragmented or condensed motifs." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"This work is an in-depth study of works of fiction which describes the modern complex world with its deep-seated problems, using mythological motifs as a structural principle. . . . It is a scholarly performance, which will serve as an excellent tool for the serious student of modern literature who looks below the surface of a work to find more than a 'modern story cast in the mold of traditional myths.'" Choice 9:642 J1/Ag '72 230w

"White's chief concern is the use of myth as a structural device in contemporary fiction, and the ways in which novelists can employ a myth to portray present-day situations. . . . Ulysses [by James Joyce, BRD 1934] is frequently cited, but the author has chosen relatively obscure novels (e.g., Ann Quin's Passages, H. E. Nossack's Interview mit dem Tode) to illustrate the operation of mythological motifs in modern fiction. The writing is ponderously academic, and the dilatory pace eclipses whatever originality might have been coaxed from this toilworn branch of criticism." Sammy Stages

Library J 97:1719 My 1 '72 100w

"Where Dr White's study perhaps lacks a dimension is in its limitation to formal analysis. As so often, demonstrable technique does not get us far towards full critical appraisal. . . . The causes which mythologizing served in different authors need differentiating, whereas formal analysis tends artificially to assimilate them. . . . Some of the answers he briefly suggests are on the right lines. But the full answers will be as numerous as the writers who used myth, and they would take us deeper into cultural history and politics than his clear-headed study of prefigurative mechanics has space to go." TLS p680 Je 16 '72 550w

WHITE, JOHN S. Color under ground; the mineral picture book; phot. by Lee Boltin; text by John S. White, Jr. 62p $6.95 Scribner

549 Mineralogy—Pictorial works
ISBN 684-12384-3 LC 75-143948

This book discusses various types of mineral forms: simple crystals, twins, deformed crystals, inclusions and patterns, pseudomorphs and replacements. It describes and illustrates forty-seven specimens. Bibliography. Index.

Reviewed by F. J. MacEntee

Best Sell 31:423 D 15 '71 60w

"An artistically designed and scientifically commendable presentation of mineral beauty, this [is an] excellently prepared book by a professional mineralogist."

Choice 8:1607 F '72 50w

"A striking, beautifully illustrated volume on mineral crystals. While it obviously is not intended to be a definitive, detailed work, it could serve . . . as a springboard to lengthier, more detailed works. . . . Books in this new [Portfolio in Natural History] series should appeal to students and laymen alike; but the price of $6.95 for 62 pages puts them in the class of luxury items." Ann Luxner

Library J 97:889 Mr 1 '72 60w

WHITE, LAURENCE B. So you want to be a magician, by Laurence B. White, Jr. 224p $5.50 Addison-Wesley

793.8 Magic—Juvenile literature
ISBN 0-201-08627-1 LC 70-164400

This book contains "advice on performing tricks and emphasizes the need for acting ability in addition to gimmicks and sleight of hand. Tricks of various types (penetrations, disappearances, transformations, etc.) are . . . explained with . . . illustrations. . . . Grades five to eight." (Library J)

"Most [of the tricks] require only readily available or easily made materials. However, the overworked reference to the sawing a lady in half trick and patronizing style may turn off some readers. . . . [The] book provides enough information and patter to enable amateurs to present a competent magic show." E. C. Sanborn

Library J 97:3457 O 15 '72 90w

"In spite of the corny title, [this] is a good selection, with wise advice on how to perform, but there is a catch to it which, unfortunately, applies to all books designed to teach sleight-of-hand to youngsters. The catch is: It can't be done. It is like trying to tell a child, by book, how to tap dance or do a back flip. . . . It is the obvious impossibility of teaching a subtle, complicated art by print that lends a slightly spurious quality to almost all magic books for children. Such manuals are like magic sets: The gadgets in the cardboard box look flashy—but somehow when the child shows one of the tricks, it never fools anybody." Martin Gardner

N Y Times Bk R p8 Ag 20 '72 330w

WHITE, LAWRENCE J. The automobile industry since 1945. 348p il $12 Harvard univ. press

338.4 Automobile industry and trade
ISBN 0-674-05470-9 LC 76-148939

A revised and edited version of a Harvard doctoral dissertation. "Although concerned mainly with the economics of the industry, [the author] deals also with technological and social aspects, and concludes that the Big Three, among other shortcomings, make excessive profits and a technologically stagnant product. This [he suggests] is due to economic forces and not a conspiracy and should be dealt with through antitrust action. White believes that the Big Three could be divided into ten viable producers. . . . Bibliography. Index." (Library J)

"As perhaps the most socially controversial component of American capitalism, the automobile industry is frequently written about with more emotion than fact. . . . [This book] is a refreshing exception." C. T. Goodsell

Library J 96:2634 S 1 '71 150w

"White's book presents an academic version of the well-known argument that antitrust vigilance and a return to the robustness of late nineteenth-century free competition would save American consumers. Belief in antitrust regimens was characteristic of the middle 1950s. . . . One of the disadvantages of the modern antitrust argument is that it tries to provide a (competitive) economic justification for an economic solution to political problems. This disadvantage is particularly grave when the argument is applied to the auto industry, which because of its 'importance' (as noted even by White has exceptional power to perpetrate political and social evil. . . . The expected effects of antitrust dissolution are discussed only briefly. How, one is left wondering, would the eight or so future auto firms in fact behave, under the new and desirable 'loose oligopoly.'" Emma Rothschild

N Y Rev of Books 18:40 F 24 '72 1700w

WHITE, MORTON. Science and sentiment in America; philosophical thought from Jonathan Edwards to John Dewey. 358p $8.95 Oxford

191 Philosophy, American
ISBN 0-19-501519-3 LC 73-177996

The author "examines several different views of science espoused by major American thinkers and shows how these views affected their attitudes toward the central institutions of civilization. He emphasizes that their response to the challenge of science and modern scientific method was part of a broader tendency of the period from Edwards to Dewey; the tendency to think that philosophy is obliged to deal with the more general problems of civilized life and not merely with technical questions of interest to philosophers alone. White [also] shows how different ideas of the nature and scope of science led to different ideas of religion, law, and morality. He deals with the impact made on American philosophy by foreign thinkers like Locke, Coleridge, and Herbert Spencer . . . [and] offers critical assessments of the main currents of American philosophy." (Publisher's note) Index.

"The occasional incidental references and complete notes give insight into the thoughts of many more thinkers than the table of contents alone indicates. This is . . . a first-rate, very readable [book] . . . on American philosophy prior to the shift in emphasis following Dewey."

Choice 9:517 Je '72 170w

"This is a long-needed book written by one of the few people who have the credentials to write it. White is not content with tracing narrow channels of thought, but casts the science-sentiment issue against the background of philosophy, religion and literature."

Christian Century 83:314 Mr 15 '72 50w

Reviewed by Alan Goldfein
Commentary 54:90 S '72 1800w

Reviewed by J. P. Sisk
Commonweal 96:268 My 19 '72 1000w

"Here is a rarity: a book on American philosophy that makes one want to read American philosophers. There is only one surprise—James Wilson, a Scottish lawyer and signer of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution—and one less than major figure, Chauncey Wright." P. W. Cummings

Library J 97:1441 Ap 15 '72 200w

"[This book is] one of the best, in my judgment, to have been written about American philosophy. . . . [White] avoids the usual tendency to over-simplify and succeeds admirably in tracing the intricate relationships that have linked American philosophy with public life and given it its peculiar internal structure. . . . One of the virtues of . . . [his] treatment is the light it throws on the internal division in the thought of so many American philosophers. . . . [He] is especially good at giving their due to unjustly neglected figures like Royce and Chauncey Wright; his choice of philosophers is refreshing, including not only the great names but also a good number of those generally regarded as lesser." Peter Caws

N Y Times Bk R p7 Mr 12 '72 1200w

WHITE, R. J. The Horizon concise history of England [Eng title: A concise history of England]. 219p il col il $8.95 Am. heritage

942 Great Britain—History
ISBN 07-069690-X LC 79-149733

This is an overview "of England's past, from the arrival of the Romans to the nation's changing role in world affairs today." (Publisher's note) Chronology. Index.

"[This book] is a worthy addition to public library adult collections, but its Plato-to-NATO approach to British history will not prove helpful for young adults. Some background is necessary to appreciate the text, and the scope is far too broad to cover topics in sufficient detail for school research. . . . The account offers little new and the coverage of the post-war period is inadequate." Ken Haycock

Library J 97:2494 Jl '72 110w

"White has performed his task of compression without slipping into a mere bald chronicle of events, and he is consistently readable. Woodcuts and prints, portraits and action paintings, with some Jacobean pictorial title-pages, make a catholic selection of illustrations."

TLS p972 Ag 18 '72 70w

WHITE, ROBB. Deathwatch. 228p $4.95 Doubleday

LC 75-157637

Ben is a 22-year-old geology student. Despite his "insistence on informing authorities, his employer Madec claims he doesn't want the bother of an official inquiry into his accidental shooting of an old prospector. When Ben refuses a bribe to cover up the deed, Madec pumps another two bullets into the dead man to make it appear that he was murdered—with Ben's gun. Stripped of food, clothing, and weapons, Ben faces death by dehydration in the desert or by Madec's ever-ready shotgun. . . . Grade eight and up." (Library J)

"Robb White has done it again—an absorbing tale of intense suspense for the young (or old). No reader facing Ben's experience vicariously would ever desire it in reality; but to be the man that Ben was—that is enviable. . . . Very highly recommended. . . . Grade six and up." S. M. C.

Best Sell 32:152 Je 15 '72 60w

"Despite its undistinguished colloquial style and perhaps because of its straightforward reportorial manner, the book is an exciting novel of suspense. . . . Although the locale of the desert is only vaguely situated in the American Far West, the cruel, life-draining environment forms a strong background for the dramatic struggle between two 'mighty opposites.'" P. H.

Horn Bk 48:475 O '72 200w

Reviewed by Ginger Brauer
Library J 97:2245 Je 15 '72 140w

"This novel is a pleasure to read, either as a sizzling adventure or as an ironic allegory of our times. . . . [But it] is not a simple black-and-white juvenile adventure. Robb White has given it an extra, highly ironic twist." Robert Hood

N Y Times Bk R pt 2, p4 My 7 '72 450w

WHITE, ROBIN. Be not afraid; the story of a tragically afflicted child and his stubbornly courageous family. 235p $5.95 Dial press

616.8 Epilepsy. White, Christopher
LC 77-37444

The author describes how his gifted eight-year-old son Christopher became epileptic and how "the expensive medication used to control the seizures had side effects which were more devastating than the disease itself. [The family learned] that ultimately there would be no cure for the [child's] progressive mental retardation." (Library J)

"The amazing strength of this family that endured years of hope, doubt, and worry over the firstborn son while continuing a deep love for the two other children and at the same time had a dynamic life style of much work and hard play, will edify and encourage any parent, especially one in a similar situation. A happy sidelight of the downward story is the frequent descriptions of mountain climbing in California and the restorative power of getting back in touch with nature. This well-written book will appeal to a specialized audience—parents and relatives of handicapped children, whether epileptic or not; and, it is to be hoped, to professionals in fields who deal firsthand with patients and families going through similar physical and emotional crises." Jeanne Kinney

Best Sell 32:89 My 15 '72 340w

Reviewed by C. C. Park
Book World pl My 21 '72 300w

"This engaging account of the trials and tribulations faced by the author and his family in the rearing of an epileptic child is notable for its high degree of self-revelation and honesty. . . . In the face of their adversity, the Whites stubbornly fought back. All who read this book will gain an unusual insight into the burden, depression, hope, anxiety, and guilt experienced by this and other similarly afflicted families." B. J. Kalisch

Library J 97:1008 Mr 15 '72 140w

"White's book . . . deals with his son Christopher (nicknamed Checkers), whose brain during a 24-hour induced labor 'was subject to stress in a way that gave rise, following a head blow eight years later, to the phenomenon of epilepsy.' White's account of the consequences isn't so much a cry of pain as a statement of it, quite without melodramatics when expressing the frustration and the overwhelming sense of waste, and characterized (as a goodly number of such books are not) by a sense of bittersweet fun. . . . Checkers the whizz-kid degenerates into a club-toting schizophrene, but he is no less loved at the end than at the beginning, and his father's book is an extension of that unique solidarity." Paul West

N Y Times Bk R p27 My 14 '72 750w

WHITE, WILLIAM S. The responsables. 275p $7.95 Harper

920 Presidents—U.S. U.S.—Politics and government—1945-
SBN 06-014619-2 LC 79-95990

This is a "study of the leadership qualities of Truman, Senator Taft, Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and Johnson." (N Y Times Bk R)

"Since the author was personally acquainted with each of his subjects, his impressions are firsthand. . . . White's literary style is masterful and his ranking as one of the country's top journalists is understandable. Granting that his subjects, were, or are, important national figures, the author's effort to find in them a God-like intuitiveness for crisis-resolution is synthetic. Nonetheless, the author has given us valuable insights into men—the like of which we may never see again." J. C. Dougherty
Best Sell 31:493 F 1 '72 550w

"Readers looking for patriotic and supportive political writing will welcome this book; others may find it monumentally dull and irrelevant. Whichever way one feels, the book offers interpretation and analysis, not new information." Collin Clark
Library J 97:507 F 1 '72 110w

"Although White provides the illusion that his book is primarily a collection of Profiles in Prudence, he gives highest marks to his Responsibles for their anti-Communism, Johnson especially. . . . White's brand of Americanism is a bit dated, but the style carries the vigor of a 20-year-old."

New Repub 166:26 Ja 1 '72 250w

"A kind of profiles in courage. The 'responsibles' of Mr. White's title are national leaders who seize upon some transcendent cause and work effectively to forward it. In other words these men saw their duty and did it, disregarding temptations to temporize. Mr. White now, as always, writes well; but this is not important history."

N Y Times Bk R p28 Ja 9 '72 70w

WHITEHEAD, JAMES. Joiner. 463p $7.95 Knopf

ISBN 0-394-43143-X LC 69-10687

This is a first novel, about "Sonny Joiner—pro football player, scholar poet, lady-killer, manslayer, elementary school teacher, first-person narrator to his mistress Mary Ann, a Ph.D. candidate in a Texas university. Eugene 'Sonny' Joiner and April—high school sweethearts . . . later marry, quarrel over Sonny's far-out ideas and actions and eventually divorce. Joiner and R. C. 'Moon Pie' Boykin [are] boyhood friends [and] teammates (but these days ole Pie's a straight lawyer about to marry April)." (Library J)

"Joiner—brilliant, almost flawless first novel of a poet, with echoes of Styron, Warren, Faulkner, their handling of time, their sense of place, their mixed feelings for the South, their Southern conscience. . . . Joiner, Bobo, Coldstream Taggart, Lurch, Coley, Aunt Helen, Morningside Robbins—all down there in Bryan [are] unlikely to be forgotten. [The book] is probably too long, but when the last page slides through your fingers you'll say 'and then what.'" Rozanne Knudson
Library J 96:3347 O 15 '71 160w

"If the heroic excesses ascribed to Sonny Joiner were merely those of boozing, fighting, womanizing and athletic play, this novel would still outclass any I can think of that concentrate on a popular sport. There are many moving and comically illuminating passages about what it is like to play football in the Big Time, rendered with the confidence of an insider. . . . What Whitehead has achieved is to sound the full range of the Deep South's exultation and lament. . . . His tirade makes an awesome, fearful and glorious impact on the mind and ear." R. V. Cassill
N Y Times Bk R p6 N 7 '71 950w

New Yorker 47:198 N 13 '71 70w

Reviewed by Walter Clemons

Newsweek 78:130 N 22 '71 500w

"[This] large, jerky novel is remarkable not only for its physical energy but, by and large, for its intellectual force as well. . . . [The] plot progresses like a broken-field runner with a trick knee. The pace is sometimes creaky and while one sentence may dart off into Texas the next may dodge back to reveal a segment of Joiner's Bryan, Mississippi, past. At times, the nimble author eludes even the alert reader. . . . At times, too, Whitehead—or at least his protagonist—becomes intellectually pretentious. The book is larded with quotations from obscure military historians. The author's intent may well have been to draw the analogy between war and football; in practice, however, his digressions on this subject merely . . . hold up the action." H. L. Van Ibrant
Sat R 54:29 D 25 '71 1100w

WHITEHEAD, RUTH. The mother tree; drawings by Charles Robinson. 149p $4.95 Seabury
LC 75-142155

This story "tells of an 11-year-old's adjustment to her mother's death. Tempe must keep house, baby-sit, and still remain true to her own nature. With the help of her superstitious but wise grandmother, she eventually becomes more comfortable in her prematurely adult—and very female—role." (Christian Science Monitor) "Grades four to six." (Library J)

"The author treats the theme of death and a family's grief and readjustments with sensitivity and, in Tempe, has a heroine of warmth and character." Polly Goodwin
Book World p14 (children's issue) N 7 '71 170w

"[This story] is geared to an all-girl audience [and is] rather loosely constructed." Nancy Gardner
Christian Science Monitor pB5 N 11 '71 60w

Horn Bk 48:54 F '72 200w

"In this dull story, chapter headings as 'She Depends on Me,' 'Time to Say Goodbye,' 'A Brave Girl' . . . are indicative of the overly sentimental style, and the hazy pencil sketches add little interest to the pallid, unsubstantial plot." Ruth Pegau
Library J 96:3905 N 15 '71 70w

WHITEHURST, ROBERT N., jr. ed. The new sexual revolution. See Kirkendall, L. A.

WHITELEY, DEREK. The Oxford book of invertebrates; protozoa, sponges, coelenterates, worms, molluscs, echinoderms, and arthropods (other than insects); text by David Nichols and John A. L. Cooke; il. by Derek Whiteley. 218p $11 Oxford

592 Invertebrates

ISBN 0-19-910008-X LC [76-871175]

"A bird's eye view of the invertebrates is presented in a two-page introduction followed by 96 illustrations which cover all major groups excluding insects, but including some protozoa and parasites (worms and arthropods) . . . accompanied by a page of description which characterizes both the group and the depicted species." (Choice) Glossary, Bibliography, Index.

"[There is] a fairly detailed 16 page classification of the invertebrates, a comprehensive index, and a brief glossary. . . . Expertly illustrated, and written by two zoologists, this book can be recommended for school and undergraduate libraries."

Choice 8:1605 F '72 150w

"Full-page colour illustrations, with the animals numbered and drawn mostly from life . . . alternate with explanatory text in which descriptions and notes on the figured species or genera are preceded by a more general account of the group. The whole is arranged systematically, following a classification given at the end, and the phyla, classes or orders are split by habitat where possible. . . . The drawings are adequate, if occasionally rather flat, but in conjunction with the text they provide a fair means of identifying the commoner British species. The next stage in identification would have been provision of simple and illustrated keys, but for a general introduction to Britain's spineless inhabitants this book achieves its aim in a compact yet interesting way."

TLS p1611 D 24 '71 260w

WHITEMAN, MAXWELL. Copper for America; the Hendricks family and a national industry, 1766-1939. 353p il $12.50 Rutgers univ. press

338.2 Copper industry and trade. Hendricks family
ISBN 0-8135-0687-5 LC 79-153446

This book deals with "the overseas copper trade in the late colonial and early national period; [with] the origin of domestic copper mining [as well as with] the commercial and family affairs of four generations of a prominent American Jewish family. . . . [It also portrays the] experience, achievements, values, and interests of Jewish families of colonial origin. Index." (Choice)

"[This is a] well written, interesting book by a specialist in Jewish history. . . . Specialists in the history of the copper trade may find an appendix of documents helpful. Helpful backnotes; adequate index, but lacks a bibliography. Highly recommended for collections of economic or social history."

Choice 8:1619 F '72 110w

"Here is a mixture of family-social and business history that adds up to a worthwhile book. . . . To this reviewer the business theme seems the more important because it sheds light on obscure areas of the early copper trade and manufacturers. . . . [One] value of the book is the possibility it suggests for a further, integrated study of the whole early copper industry. This exciting possibility is linked to the major weakness of the book: the confusion of terms and the resulting confusion in allusions to domestic mining and smelting of ores. The Hendrickses apparently never got into the smelting of copper ores, and the author confuses the situation by not making a distinction between smelting ores and refining metal." C. M. Abbott

J Am Hist 58:991 Mr '72 600w

WHITESIDE, THOMAS. The investigation of Ralph Nader; General Motors vs. one determined man. 255p $7.95 Arbor house

338.7 Nader, Ralph. General Motors Corporation
ISBN 0-87795-034-2 LC 72-79452

Whiteside gives an "account of General Motors' efforts to silence or discredit the author of 'Unsafe At any Speed' [BRD 1965], in which Nader describes the criminal negligence of G.M. in selling the Corvairs of 1960-63. G.M. tried . . . to discredit Nader's testimony before the Ribicoff Subcommittee of the U.S. Senate in 1966. . . . [This book] describes the G.M.-instigated surveillance of Nader by ex-F.B.I. agents." (Best Sell) Index.

"[The author has done a] great public service by writing this well-documented, fascinating . . . [book, G.M. settled] Nader's suit against it for invasion of privacy . . . agreeing to pay him $425,000 'to avoid the very substantial additional expense and demands upon the time of corporation personnel' if the case were to continue. . . . [This] readable book reveals beyond reasonable doubt, an almost classic case of unconscionable abuse of corporate power; a sub-rosa, immoral effort to discredit an upright, well-informed, articulate critic at a time when the auto industry was facing, for the first time in its history, the prospect of strict federal regulation. It has a good index, and an appendix containing the statements (as printed in the official record) made before the Ribicoff Subcommittee on March 22, 1966. [It] . . . merits the widest possible reading." Berchmans Downey

Best Sell 32:191 Je 15 '72 310w

"[The book] is not merely about Nader. It also bears more broadly on the problem of invasion of privacy and coercion of dissidents in contemporary society. And it also is very readable. Thus purchase may be justified on non-Nader grounds."

Choice 9:1170 N '72 180w

Reviewed by Dem Polachek

Library J 97:2582 Ag '72 230w

New Yorker 48:74 Jl 1 '72 110w

WHITESIDE, THOMAS. Selling death; cigarette advertising and public health. 150p $5.95 Liveright

659.1 Advertising—Cigarettes
ISBN 0-87140-541-5 LC 75-162434

"This is a story of the events leading up to the removal of cigarette advertising from television and of the opposition to that ban mounted by the tobacco industry. The author . . . presents not only a legislative history, but also highlights of interviews with anti-smoking advocates and with spokesmen for the tobacco industry." (Library J)

"[The interviews] read like self-parodies, with one chain-smoking executive after another rationalizing his involvement in the cigarette business. A good case study of one of the more embarrassing chapters in American business history. Parts of this book have appeared in the New Republic and the New Yorker." R. H. Lipsett

Library J 96:3312 O 15 '71 140w

"Whiteside brings the zeal of an impassioned moralist as well as a great many foul-smelling facts on marketing and lobbying to the anti-tobacco crusade. . . . Here he takes a close look at the $10 billion a year empire, starting with the tobacco executives who all smoke incessantly. . . . This is a sinister portrait of the death merchants."

N Y Rev of Books 17:40 D 16 '71 270w

WHITING, CHARLES. Hitler's werewolves; the story of the Nazi resistance movement, 1944-1945. 208p il $8.95 Stein & Day

943.087 World War, 1939-1945—Underground movements. Germany—History—1945—Operation Carnival
ISBN 0-8128-1468-1 LC 72-187301

This account "of the Nazi Werewolves, the Third Reich's behind-the-lines guerrilla team which operated in the closing years of World War II, focuses on 'Operation Carnival.' The author recounts this . . . fiasco involving five men and one woman, all young Nazi fanatics, who assassinated Franz Oppenheff, the first German Mayor of American-occupied Aachen." (Library J)

Reviewed by Richard Oppenheim

Best Sell 32:275 S 15 '72 450w

"Conceived by Himmler to intimidate those Germans who might collaborate with the advancing Allies, the senseless Oppenheff affair, conducted by a 'rabble of boy scouts,' ended as an exercise in futility. The well-written narrative is fast paced and reads like a novel. Recommended." A. S. Birkos

Library J 97:2394 Jl '72 100w

WHITING, CHARLES. Massacre at Malmedy; the story of Jochen Peiper's battle group. Ardennes, December, 1944. 198p il $8.95 Stein & Day

940.51 Malmedy Massacre, 1944-1945. Peiper, Jochen. World War, 1939-1945—Belgium
ISBN 0-8128-1377-4 LC 71-150521

"In December of 1944, during the last-gap German advance, a . . . corps of SS troops under the command of Colonel John Peiper broke through the American ranks and swept the village of Malmedy. American prisoners, wounded and unwounded, were killed off; so were some Belgian civilians, under the general charge that the village had harbored American troops. After the war many of the SS men were tried, some were sentenced to be hanged, but all survived." (Best Sell)

"The account is of the attack and of the shootings, and very graphic it is. For a short book, it does much to recall the history of a grim period, the tensions and momentary hopes of troops, the in-fighting among allied commanders, especially after Montgomery was given command. This is a gripping book, no matter who reads it; for those who recall the fears and turmoil of December, 1944, it is a terribly real remembrance of dreadful events."

Best Sell 31:449 Ja 1 '72 240w

"[This] book is principally a popular war story. . . . The author does not analyze in detail the motivation behind the massacre and the other wanton killings, and only in a brief epilogue does he summarize the trial and condemnation of Peiper as war criminal. Perhaps to increase the excitement and significance of his tale, Whiting offers the questionable opinion that Eisenhower's decision to throw Patton's tanks into the Ardennes campaign, and shift major command of that front to Montgomery, was his most important of the war." E. G. Hamann

Library J 97:196 Ja 15 '72 140w

"The postwar trial of Peiper and his men is handled rather scantily. Whiting's description of battles, however, is superb, often correcting errors in previous histories."

N Y Times Bk R p64 S 12 '71 100w

WHITMORE, TERRY. Memphis, Nam, Sweden; the autobiography of a black American exile, by Terry Whitmore as told to Richard Weber. 189p $5.95 Doubleday

B or 92 Vietnamese Conflict, 1961- —Personal narratives. Negroes in Vietnam LC 79-157638

This is "the story of Whitmore's growing up black in Tennessee, participation in the Vietnam War, departure through the U.S.S.R., and refuge in Sweden." (Library J)

"[This book presents] evidence of firsthand battle and racial experience, told in the language of the Black warrior. . . . There is no credibility gap in the evidence. . . . [Whitmore] kills for democracy in Southeast Asia, and democracy oppresses and shoots down his own people in Dixie. He has no solution, so he turns to a kind of ego-rampant self-reliance with strong sexual motivation. . . . [History] adds to the mounting data of American atrocities in Vietnam." P. T. Majkut

Best Sell 31:424 D 15 '71 500w

"Although [this account] combines two of the most controversial and serious questions of our time—race relations and Vietnam—a saving humor makes the book readable and makes its implications for U.S. society easier to accept. It should be available in public and academic libraries for its perceptive, if untutored, view of American, Vietnamese, Soviet, and Swedish life." J. M. Elrod

Library J 96:3751 N 15 '71 90w

"Sprinkled liberally with cuss words and forever alluding to the author's thoughts about and successful pursuit of breads, this is uniquely Terry Whitmore's story. His motives are not political, spiritual or noble, he just does not want to kill anymore or be killed. Maybe he is not so unique." Sumika Yamashita

Library J 97:794 F 15 '72 200w [YA]

N Y Times Bk R p28 Ja 9 '72 50w

WHITNEY, CHARLES A. The discovery of our galaxy. 308p il $10 Knopf

523.09 Astronomy—History. Astronomers—ISBN 0-394-46068-5 LC 76-154942

This book explores "man's expanding knowledge of the universe and cosmic laws from Thales in 600 B.C. to the present . . . through a series of . . . studies of the personalities, theories and contributions of such figures as Copernicus, Bruno, Kepler, Galileo, Newton, Herschel and, among moderns, Planck, Shapley and Edwin Hubble." (Publishers' Weekly) Glossary. Bibliography. Index.

"A thoroughly enjoyable essay for the amateur. . . . Recommended for public libraries and general reading; not academically useful."

Choice 9:79 Mr '72 170w

"[The author] tells how our present understanding of the universe, with its enormous number of galaxies, and our sun's position in one of the spiral arms of the Milky Way, was pieced together from the contributions of many scientists over several centuries. Particularly interesting are the stories of the many false trails followed and of the ensuing corrections. Very abbreviated biographical sketches of some of the chief actors are also woven into the text. The book is generally well written, although some of the earlier chapters tend to wander a bit from the central topic." J. W. Weigal

Library J 97:208 Ja 15 '72 150w

"Professor Whitney, a Harvard astronomer with a gift for adroit and engaging prose . . . [has written a] documented narrative whose freshest pages tell of results and ideas put forward only a couple of decades back. . . . [He] has chosen excellent period diagrams and quite beautiful modern sky photographs, darkly bled off the mat pages, to enrich his book. It is a book for the general reader, demanding little background in science, here and there using analogy to make a basic concept familiar (not always without strain). The epilogue is very up to date, with disarmingly low-keyed accounts of such wonders as quasars, black holes and Seyfert galaxies." Philip Morrison

Sci Am 226:114 F '72 550w

Reviewed by Horace Judson
Time 100:68 J1 17 '72 220w

TLS p1203 O 6 '72 700w

WHITNEY, PHYLLIS A. Listen for the whisperer. 277p $5.95 Doubleday

LC 76-168682

Leigh Hollins "has been living in New York when her father, whom she adored, dies. Her real mother, Laura Worth, a Hollywood movie queen and an odious woman, left America in murky circumstances involving a murder, naturally destructive to her career, and went to live in Norway. Leigh, drowned in curiosity, wishes to write an interview with her mother, and for this purpose goes to Norway. Once there she is forbidden access to her mother, but thanks to the intervention of a personable young man manages to insinuate herself into the household. She finds Laura sadly gone to seed but eager to resume her career. During the preparations for this the true circumstances of the Hollywood scandal come to light." (Library J)

"The story is fast-paced and exciting right to the end where the murderer is uncovered and the other sub-plots reach satisfactory conclusions. For those who like character development and detailed description of background and environment, there is much in this novel that will please them. All in all, a good piece of work."

Best Sell 31:493 F 1 '72 140w

Reviewed by Carol Kalamaras
Library J 96:3490 O 15 '71 50w [YA]

"This is really no sillier than any other novel of the kind. The girl is sufficiently mulish in her hatred of her mother to push the plot along, without quite losing the reader's sympathy. In spots, the book is actually entertaining; the usual ingredients are very nicely mixed." H. C. Veit

Library J 97:519 F 1 '72 150w

Reviewed by Newgate Callendar
N Y Times Bk R p27 F 20 '72 70w

WHITTERIDGE, GWENETH. William Harvey and the circulation of the blood. 269p il $12.75 Am. Elsevier pub. co.

612.1 Harvey, William. Blood—Circulation ISBN 0-444-19663-3 LC [70-114271]

The author seeks, by "analysis of the documentary evidence, to present an accurate account of what Harvey actually thought and did during his long odyssey of doubt, speculation, experiment and controversy to a definitive formulation of how the blood circulates through the body." (TLS)

"[In] this interesting book . . . the facts are well documented and Whitteridge's style is easy to read. Recommended to all those interested in medical history, and particularly those interested in the medical history of this era."

Choice 8:1342 D '71 60w

"Whitteridge favors facts and discounts ideas. Her study presents a forceful, ample, and often persuasive portrayal of the English physiologist as a 'rational, unemotional' Aristotelian and the quintessential empiricist. By means of meticulous exposition and occasional general discussion, she seeks principally to create a chronology of Harvey's physiological studies. Her purpose and achievement are, however, anything but a mere precise dating of research and discovery. She stalks bigger game, and thus nicely transforms an extremely valuable assessment of Harvey's debt to his predecessors (notably Realduus Columbus) and a record of his own masterly anatomical investigations into a stern but fascinating polemic against the philosophical school of Harvey interpretation." William Coleman

Science 173:1119 S 17 '71 650w

"Dr Whitteridge not only turns her back on philosophical models of discovery; she doubts the importance of general philosophical ideas as determinants of Harvey's experimental progress. Some historians will surely take issue with her; but they should do so with great circumspection. For she not only has an almost unrivalled knowledge of the original documents; she has also read them with the eyes of a physiologist. . . . In the light of the extremely strong evidence presented in her book it is difficult to disagree with Dr Whitteridge's conclusion that Harvey's experiments and his interpretation of them rested not on the application of general philosophical ideas, but on the purest empiricism. . . . It is difficult to fault the scholarship of this work, and yet it reads like a detective story. Perhaps accurate accounts of great discoveries will always resemble detective stories if only they are written well enough."

TLS p1575 D 17 '71 1050w

WHITTLE, AMBERYS R., ed. The poems of Trumbull Stickney. See Stickney, T.

WHYTE, J. H. Church and state in modern Ireland, 1923-1970. 466p $13.50 Barnes & Noble

322 Church and state in Ireland. Catholic Church in Ireland
ISBN 389-04173-4

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by D. W. Miller
Am Hist R 77:1449 D '72 750w

Reviewed by A. M. Lee
Ann Am Acad 401:181 My '72 430w
Choice 9:124 Mr '72 160w

Reviewed by J. F. Moran
Library J 97:688 F 15 '72 150w

WIBBERLEY, LEONARD. Flint's island. 164p il $4.50 Farrar, Straus
ISBN 0-374-32331-3 LC 70-184127

"Tom Whelan, a 17-year-old American sailor on the brig Jane departing Salem in 1760, begins his narrative by explaining the circumstances under which his ship dropped anchor at an uncharted island in the notorious Spanish Main. Tom's . . . tale involves cutlasses, sailing ships, buried treasure and that most infamous pirate of them all, Long John Silver. . . . Grades five to eight." (Library J)

Reviewed by Houston Maples
Book World p13 (children's issue)
My 7 '72 160w

"[This book] made me go back and read 'Treasure Island' again, something I hadn't done for years. . . . It is a measure of how well Mr. Wibberley has made the Stevenson characters blend with his own that I had to keep turning back to the books to see which bit happened in which. And from where Mr. Wibberley leaves off, I hope that either he or someone else will carry on, because there is still a good deal of treasure that has yet to reach a safe port." P. M. Canham

Christian Science Monitor pB5 My 4 '72 140w

"We sighted the island at noon on the last day of August 1760, and without more ado the book plunges the reader into a tale of seaman-ship, piracy, mutiny, and high adventure. . . . Captain Samuels of the Jane, the ship's crusty carpenter Smigley, the bosom Hodge, and the narrator are prominent figures in this new adventure—all well-characterized and perfectly tailored for the roles they play. However, it is the spirit of Flint himself—who would use 'even the dead for tools' and who 'if he had not been a pirate . . . would have made a notable bishop'—that dominates the story. Flint of the Walrus haunts the imagination; and when the tale is done, it is the evil genius of the infamous pirate lord that hovers in the background demanding his story be told again and again." S. B. A.

Horn Bk 48:471 O '72 280w

"This well-written, carefully plotted adventure was inspired by the claim in the opening chapter of Treasure Island that not all the treasure has been taken from the island. . . . Scrupulous attention to details of rig and sailing will make the book a favorite with sailing enthusiasts, and the exciting, well-constructed plot and surprise ending will hold the attention of most young readers." Don Reafer

Library J 97:1918 My 15 '72 130w [YA]

Reviewed by Basil Heatter
N Y Times Bk R p8 N 26 '72 130w [YA]

WIBBERLEY, LEONARD. Meeting with a great beast; a novel. 95p $4.50 Morrow
LC 71-142418

This "story of a dying man trying to escape his thoughts by going on an African safari presents . . . ideas about life and death and about the interrelationship between man and nature or, rather, among nature's creatures. The nameless narrator . . . recounts the experiences of his trip, the purpose of which is to kill an elephant—not just any elephant but a giant bull which had once been the quarry of General Petain. The goal is achieved, but not before certain changes in attitude and sensitivity take place." (Library J)

"Wibberley doesn't . . . care for the suspense business. . . . He's interested in tracing implications, significances, ontological reverberations. Ahem. One best not dwell too long on the originality and verve of these meditations." T. O'Hara

Best Sell 31:385 N 15 '71 230w

Reviewed by Sara Blackburn
Book World p7 Mr 12 '72 190w

Reviewed by Jean Spang
Library J 96:3641 N 1 '71 100w

"[The narrator's] feelings are the core of the book, which make this more than just another adventure." Elizabeth Storey

Library J 96:4206 D 15 '71 120w [YA]

"[The author], specialist in the vest-pocket parable, speculates on the ultimate reality in this atmospheric sliver of a novel. . . . [He] equates the mystique of the chase with the mystery of death in a story that winds its way through some intriguing geography." Martin Levin

N Y Times Bk R p20 D 19 '71 100w
TLS p1375 N 10 '72 180w

WIBBERLEY, LEONARD. The Shannon sailors; a voyage to the heart of Ireland. 157p il $5.95 Morrow

914.15 Ireland—Description and travel
LC 72-170219

The author of The Mouse That Roared (BRD 1955) "writes of the voyage up the River Shannon he and five others took aboard the power cruiser Lady Catherine. He wanted his four sons, ranging in age from ten to 20, to see Ireland, the place of his birth (the family now lives in California). With the Wibberleys was a high school teacher, also from California, who returns to his native Ireland every summer. After buying the necessary supplies they began their voyage at Garrykennedy and cruised along the river and neighboring lakes until they reached Dublin. What inland sightseeing they did was by way of bicycles. The author . . . describes the sights they saw, [and] includes history, myths, and legends of Ireland." (Library J)

"In these times of sadness for Ireland, it is refreshing and somewhat surprising to encounter the light-hearted echoes of [this] small voyage. . . . It's a happy crew . . . [and] Wibberley's sailing experience on larger vessels is equal to the challenge of this seldom-attempted journey. His leisurely commentary on the sights, sounds and history of this ancient land prove him more than equal to the challenge of Ireland as well; the reader drifts contentedly along the banks of the Shannon, equally intrigued by the cruiser's progress and the author's quiet philosophy." Rita Anton

America 126:296 Mr 18 '72 300w

Reviewed by S. P. Ryan
Best Sell 32:37 Ap 15 '72 380w

"[The author tells his tale] with a faint smile (usually at himself). . . . To him, the heart of Ireland is not a place but a book, [The Book of Kells.] Perhaps his Ireland is not a place either, but a work of art, since history is an art. Like any other masterpiece, it must be studied through the mental veil that each viewer wears, thinking it is right. Mr. Wibberley's Ireland is lapped in a holy hush, its blue air misted with the lingering virtue of departed monks. The past—tragic, noble, comical, ironic—broods inviolate and mysterious wherever the landscape is uncluttered by living Irishmen. In the tranquil towns morality still rages unchecked. . . . Our author mentions the warts on the national character because he is too honest not to. . . . Although this is a quiet paean, the voice can be sharp even when it is soft." Neil Miller

Christian Science Monitor p16 Mr 16 '72 550w

Reviewed by M. M. Caffall
Library J 97:1324 Ap 1 '72 150w
N Y Times Bk R p20 Ap 16 '72 60w

WICKE, CHARLES R. Olmec; an early art style of preColumbian Mexico. 188p il $12 Univ. of Ariz. press

970.3 Olmecs. Mexico—Antiquities
ISBN 0-8165-0185-8 LC 71-122581

This is an "attempt to explain the origins and evolution of Olmec culture. Also known as La Venta, this culture extended from Veracruz State to El Salvador and greatly influenced later Mesoamerican cultures. Using some of the ideas of Redfield, Sorokin, Marx, Durkheim, and Freud, Wicke takes two characteristic art elements [the Colossal Heads and the votive axes] and applies statistical inference to the problem of cultural transmission and style 'drift.' Using the Guttman scaling technique, Wicke infers that Olmec culture originated in the highlands and later diffused downslope to the east." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

WICKE, C. R.—Continued

"This is not an 'art book' on the Olmec but a specialized culture-historical and analytical appraisal of that style in its monumental aspects and lowland Gulf Coast setting. . . . The central chapter is on a Guttman-scaling of Olmec stylistic change and a chronological seriation of the major monuments by this means. This is accompanied by stimulating chapters on socio-cultural and psychological analyses of Olmec art and by a concluding review of the wider relationships of the style. For the specialist or the advanced student, not the general reader."

Choice 8:1326 D '71 130w

"This volume is recommended for anthropology, art history, and especially for Mesoamerican collections." J. W. Hall

Library J 96:2640 S 1 '71 100w

WICKLEIN, JOHN, jt. auth. Cable television. See Price, M. E.

WICKLER, WOLFGANG. The sexual code; the social behavior of animals and men; with an intro. by Konrad Lorenz; il. by Hermann Kacher. 301p $7.95 Doubleday

591 Animals—Habits and behavior. Sex
LC 76-157593

"The book is divided into four parts. The first deals with the predicate value of natural laws, the second with the specific natural laws of reproduction, the third with the natural law of pair-bonding in the context of reproduction, and the fourth with a few conclusions important to man." (Pref) Bibliography. Index. Originally published under the title Sind Wir Sünder? in 1969, in Munich, Germany.

"[The author] has put together a unique text that will have wide appeal to all people interested in animal and human behavior. His comparative studies of social groups of animals lead him to some important generalizations, especially about infantile and sexual signals. These signals may . . . fulfill added functions related to status, group-cohesion, and the maintenance of family bonds. . . . [This] is a highly stimulating and informative work, well referenced and illustrated, and takes the reader into deeper levels of analysis where sexual behavior becomes something more than sex per se. The author . . . reveals an evolutionary continuum in several behaviour phenomena which other popular books in this field have rarely done so well. Strongly recommended to any student of behavior, including anthropology and sociology."

Choice 9:587 Je '72 200w

"Wickler, an associate of the Max Planck Institute for Behavioral Physiology in Munich, takes 'natural law' to mean the 'laws' governing the world's one million or so animal species, and argues that no one immutable code governs them all, but that many intricately detailed laws are peculiar to each species. Animal behavior is selected for its survival value, not its decorum. . . . One does not, on that account, make a case for public promiscuity or savage sodomy (or worse) in man. The book, a qualified triumph of ethological synthesis, occasionally lacks clarity and Voltairean vigor and gall. However, Wickler includes a bibliography of recent titles as long as a bullwhip." P. W. Boytinck

Library J 97:1341 Ap 1 '72 230w

"Although intended for nonbiologists and non-scientists [this] is a careful, logical, and scientific work. It deserves and requires careful reading and study by anyone interested in the biological basis of human society, as well as by persons in positions of political and moral authority who wish to justify their legislation of rules of human conduct based upon assumptions about man's basic nature. The implications of the work go beyond its relevance for the understanding of reproductive behavior. . . . [Wickler finds that among mated humans] copulation itself has been emancipated from its procreative function and . . . serves to maintain the bond within the mated pair. This, of course, is the climax of the book, and it contradicts the statements on the natural laws of procreation found in [the papal encyclical] Humanae vitae. Wickler does not attempt to derive a moral code himself, but ends with restrained criticisms of theological assertions about natural laws which are contrary to the facts discovered by direct observation of nature." D. S. Sade

Science 178:854 N 24 '72 2000w

WIEBUSCH, JOHN, ed. Lombardi; epilogue by James Dickey; photography by Vernon Biever. (A Nat. football league bk) 215p $9.95; $12.95 Follett

B or 92 Lombardi, Vincent Thomas. Football coaching
ISBN 0-695-80263-6 LC 70-159580

This book contains excerpts from interviews with those who knew the head coach and general manager of the Green Bay Packers. Lombardi died in 1970. Index.

"The material is well organized and effectively depicts the many facets of the man. The style is unique and the approach appealing but the epilogue seems inconsistently cold when compared with the bulk of the text. Professional athletes and sports buffs should find this book readable and enjoyable."

Choice 9:244 Ap '72 60w

"A handsomely mounted work containing . . . uniformly excellent photographs. Reaffirmed in some depth is Lombardi's uncanny power to motivate men (and women), but we are no closer to knowing how he did it. . . . [His] stature gave pro football more claim to some underlying importance than do all the pretentious NFL Today TV shows combined, with their solemn narrators and deep drum rolls. The book is intended as a puff for the NFL, of course, but Lombardi emerges from it as a giant to the NFL pygmy. Highly recommended." Jerry Cao

Library J 97:212 Ja 15 '72 120w

WIECEK, WILLIAM M. The guarantee clause of the U.S. Constitution. (Cornell univ. Cornell studies in civil liberty) 324p $12.50 Cornell univ. press

342 U.S.—Constitutional history. U.S.—Politics and government
ISBN 0-8014-0671-4 LC 73-162542

This study offers an analysis of the origins and development of Article IV, Section 4, which reads: "The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican Form of Government. . . . Emphasizing the sweeping powers that the clause gives the federal government to supervise state governments, Professor Wiecek shows how the clause has been used to alter the federal system. . . . In an epilogue, he considers the present status of the clause and speculates on the future course of its development." (Publisher's note) Annotated bibliography. Index.

"Professor Wiecek approaches the joint problem of a republican form of government and the doctrine of political questions, not only as a lawyer, but as an historian. With insight and understanding, he covers the origins of Article IV, Section IV, the drafting of the clause at the Convention, its definitive exegesis by Chief Justice Taney in Luther v. Borden, its use by the Supreme Court during the Reconstruction period, its brief emergence in Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Co. v. Oregon, and finally, Baker v. Carr. . . . No pertinent case, no treatise or article, has been unexamined; and Professor Wiecek has presented his findings in a highly readable form. To Article IV, Section IV, he has brought a new depth, a new breadth." C. G. Post
Ann Am Acad 402:169 Jl '72 550w

"A major contribution to constitutional history . . . [this study] supplies a needed account of the origin and application of one of the more significant, if neglected, clauses of the Constitution. . . . By exploring the process by which the test of republicanism—long regarded as a political question for Congress to resolve (Luther vs. Borden)—has come to be a justiciable one for the Supreme Court to apply (Baker vs. Carr), Wiecek has provided a penetrating work on the growing role of the judiciary."

Choice 9:437 My '72 100w

Reviewed by P. L. Murphy

J Am Hist 59:710 D '72 550w

"The meaning of 'Republican Form of Government' has never been clear and no branch of government has ever enforced the clause in a meaningful way. Wiecek has written this book . . . to help us understand why the clause has never been fully implemented. . . . [He believes] that the clause is still a sleeping giant waiting to raise its powerful head. Such an argument is totally unconvincing, coming as it does at the end of a recounting of the historical reasons [why] the clause has never been effectively used. . . . [This is] a reference book that will need to be consulted and will have answers for anyone who might want to know why the guarantee clause has not been a significant part of the U.S. Constitution." C. T. Cullen

New Eng Q 45:453 S '72 800w

WIEDNER, EDWARD W., ed. Development administration in Asia. See Development administration in Asia

WIENER, MARTIN J. Between two worlds: the political thought of Graham Wallas. 229p il pl $11.25 Oxford

320.01 Wallas, Graham. Political science
ISBN 0-19-827180-8 LC [77-872849]

This is a "treatment of the formative process by which Wallas reached his . . . understanding of the social and political turmoil manifest in urban-industrial democracies. . . . [and is also a] study of the man who 'saw himself as a social engineer working to correct the shortcomings of men and their institutions.'" (Choice)

"Wiener adequately traces the intellectual odyssey of his subject, including genesis of ideas as well as Wallas' legacy through his students, especially Walter Lippmann. Wiener's careful organization and extensive quotations from Wallas' publications and correspondence make the work an impressive contribution to history, political science, and sociology. . . . [This work] contributes to our knowledge of the development of Edwardian social consciousness and the formation of a scientific social philosophy. . . . Recommended for college and university libraries."

Choice 9:426 My '72 160w

"[This] book is a very good Harvard formula PhD in intellectual history. Off-putting? No, not necessarily, for the Harvard formula is a good one: a subject who hasn't been done before (or for 20 years); a minimum of background and biography, using original papers but not exhaustively; a cool or professionally sympathetic exposition of each major published writing . . . and, at the end, a brief 'assessment', more often of influence on others than of intrinsic importance. . . . Dr Wiener not merely writes a good clear prose but puts his head out of the academic deep shelters to say that Wallas is particularly worth re-reading at the moment when the crises in America bring into doubt their social scientific tradition of the separation of theory from practice and of research from moral philosophy." Bernard Crick

New Statesman 82:553 O 22 '71 650w

"It is not possible from perusing [this] very discerning and well-documented study of Wallas's political thought to make any direct comparison of his effective influence as a teacher with that of others in the Fabian succession. One would like an evaluation of Wallas, the Webbs, Tawney, Laski, and Cole. . . . As Mr Wiener indicates, after The Great Society [BRD 1914], which appeared early in 1914 with predictions of world catastrophe which were all too soon to be vindicated and which added greatly to Wallas's stature in public esteem, he had little to give."

TLS p1391 N 5 '71 550w

WIESEL, ELIE. Souls on fire: portraits and legends of Hasidic masters; tr. from the French by Marion Wiesel. 268p $7.95 Random house

296.8 Hasidism. Legends, Jewish
ISBN 0-394-46437-0 LC 79-159387

This book, which provides a "view of Hasidic life . . . [includes an] analysis of this movement. . . . Wiesel recounts his grandfather's tales of the Hasidic leaders and the lives their followers led in the small towns of Eastern Europe in the 18th and 19th centuries. . . . The brief sketches follow the historical development of the movement, and Wiesel uses the legends to focus on the ethical and philosophical theories of the Hasidic masters." (Library J)

Reviewed by Seymour Siegel

America 126:467 Ap 29 '72 400w

Reviewed by R. C. Morlino

Best Sell 32:37 Ap 15 '72 450w

Reviewed by Alan Pryce-Jones

Book World p12 Mr 19 '72 400w

Reviewed by Lothar Kahn

Christian Century 89:609 My 24 '72 900w

Reviewed by Frederick Garber

Commentary 54:84 S '72 900w

Reviewed by M. J. Bandler

Commonweal 96:194 Ap 28 '72 1800w

Reviewed by Martin Marty

Critic 30:86 My '72 450w

"Though the book is not comprehensive it has captured the essence of Hasidism. . . . In this very enjoyable volume, the author has succeeded in transporting us into the world of Hasidism, while, at the same time, making it relevant to our own times." Maurice Tuchman

Library J 97:886 Mr 1 '72 110w

Reviewed by Daniel Stern

Nation 214:379 Mr 20 '72 1300w

"The judgment has been offered before: Elie Wiesel is one of the great writers of this generation. With the publication of [this book], that judgment is confirmed; his work takes on a new dimension that makes comparison with Camus inevitable. . . . 'Souls on Fire' . . . should be read by everyone concerned with the existential question, which is to say, by every sensitive and thinking human being. . . . [Wiesel's central theme] is that 'man owes it to himself to reject despair.' Difficult, yes, but 'there is no alternative: one must impose a meaning on what perhaps has none and draw ecstasy from nameless, faceless pain.' . . . Although the book is an outgrowth of Wiesel's celebrated lectures on Hasidism at the Sorbonne and New York's 92nd Street Y.M.H.A., it does not suffer from that fact; like almost all his writing, the book cries to be read aloud." C. E. Silberman

N Y Times Bk R p1 Mr 5 '72 2000w

New Yorker 48:148 Ap 15 '72 160w

"It is improper, if not impossible, to begin a discussion of Hasidism without quoting from the great Hasidim themselves. Theirs is an oral tradition; their stories are best transmitted by word of mouth. 'Listen attentively,' Elie Wiesel's grandfather told him, 'and above all, remember that true tales are meant to be transmitted—to keep them to oneself is to betray them.' . . . By offering Jews who were close to despair a sense of importance and joy, the Hasidic masters suddenly gained many converts. Too suddenly, perhaps, for the movement deteriorated a century after it began. And yet in its brief splendor it produced many rabbis whose deeds and stories are still passed on by Jews today, by Jews who feel—as Wiesel makes us feel in this book—that they know these rabbis personally." P. S. P.

Newsweek 79:88 F 28 '72 850w

"Scholars will disagree with parts of Wiesel's interpretation and with some of the factual details within his work. They may be upset by the loose organization of Souls on Fire and occasional repetitions where the bones of the author's popular lecture series show through.

The superiority of Wiesel's work set against that of such scholars as Gershom Scholem or Martin Buber lies precisely in the fact that this book is a testimony and not a study. Hasidism is revealed from within; it is not analyzed from outside. . . . The nature of Wiesel's work is such that this account of Hasidism (it is in fact a sourcebook) now becomes part of Hasidic literature. Tales heard in the 'kingdom of night' are retold, and past and present merge." A. H. Friedlander

Sat R 55:76 F 26 '72 1350w

Reviewed by Mayo Mohs

Time 99:88 My 8 '72 360w

WIGGINTON, ELIOT, ed. The foxfire book; hog dressing; lob cabin building; mountain crafts and foods; planting by the signs; snake lore, hunting tales, faith healing; moonshining; and other affairs of plain living; ed. with an introd. by Eliot Wigginton. 384p $8.95; pa $3.95 Doubleday

309.75 Appalachian region—Social life and customs. Arts and crafts. Mountain life—Southern States

This anthology contains pieces, "often in the vernacular of the people, [describing] the trials and pleasures, customs and folkways, tools and crafts, of country living. . . . [There are articles on] quilt making, cooking in a fireplace, . . . gathering wild plants for food, . . . soap-making [and moonshining]. . . . [The book] includes portions of tape-recorded interviews, and in other instances . . . subjects set their own thoughts down on paper." (N Y Times Bk R) Portions of this collection first appeared in Foxfire magazine. Index of people.

"[This excellent book] had its beginnings six years ago in [a school] . . . in northern Georgia's Appalachians, hard against the North Carolina border, when Wigginton . . . found that conventional teaching techniques were not reaching his students. It was then that Foxfire magazine (from which came many of the pieces for the book) was born. It was written and edited by Wigginton's students, and enabled its creators to capture, from the older people of the region, the flavor and essence of a culture that is disappearing. . . . I find [the book] . . . delightful. I will put it on my bookshelves close to Joshua Slocum and Thoreau and Henry Reston, for I know those stalwart New Englanders would have enjoyed it too." Nelson Bryant

N Y Times Bk R p20 Mr 19 '72 900w

"The material [in this collection] has the straight, tough grain of authenticity. . . . [In one piece,] Lon Reid, a grizzled, quiet-spoken mountaineer, demonstrates how to make a tall-backed wooden chair, altogether by hand, just as he learned from his own father. Photos, diagrams and his taped words capture the craft completely. They also catch the man. . . . There are home remedies, snake lore, weather signs, quilt patterns and stitches, faith healing and mountain recipes. . . . The splendid set pieces of the book explain the intricate classic art of building a log cabin. . . . There is hardly any sentimentality here, but much clear-eyed love and some surprising beauty." Horace Judson

Time 99:97 Mr 27 '72 650w

WIK, REYNOLD M. Henry Ford and grass-roots America. 266p pl $10 Univ. of Mich. press

R or 92 Ford, Henry

ISBN 0-472-97200-6 LC 76-163627

Viewed against "the era of the Tin Lizzie and the Fordson tractor [Wik traces and evaluates] Ford's activities and ideas in many fields—agriculture, science, politics, education [and] examines the ways in which Mr. Ford came to epitomize the values of the 'little man' in the minds of many rural Americans." (Publisher's note) Index.

Choice 9:550 Je '72 170w

"Ford, the subject of myths and the man of power, receives fresh treatment in this well researched historical work. The author concentrates on the evidence of to-and-fro Ford correspondence."

Christian Century 89:290 Mr 8 '72 30w

"Ford and the common man: it is a fascinating topic that Wik has chosen to treat, but [his book] does not come up to expectations. Remove Ford from its center and practically all that remains is a pile of index cards, neatly stacked and carefully collated." Barry Gewen

Commentary 53:95 Je '72 1250w

"[Wik] has dug deep into the holdings of the Ford archives and come up with fresh facts . . . [and] also has written a highly perceptive study of one of the more influential and controversial personalities in history. Wik has nothing to hide. The picture of Ford that emerges is forthright, incisive, judicious, and engaging. . . . [This] book is a welcome addition to the study of the man and his empire, as well as to the period in which he lived. . . . The volume should find its way into the reading lists of courses in twentieth-century history, social and economic history, as well as in the history of American agriculture and technology." Theodore Saloutos

J Am Hist 59:748 D '72 460w

"[The author] has produced a unique social history of the period. The book has nostalgic value for all over 40, the humor of a naive America for young people, and social and technical history for the scholar." R. J. Havlik

Library J 96:4094 D 15 '71 140w

WILCZYNSKI, J. Socialist economic development and reforms; from extensive to intensive growth under central planning in the USSR, Eastern Europe, and Yugoslavia. 350p $17.50 Praeger

330.947 Communist countries—Economic conditions. Communist countries—Economic policy

LC 73-165528

"In the first three chapters, the growth performance of each country since 1950 is examined . . . and an over-all account of the reforms is presented and evaluated. Next, the reforms of planning and management, prices, incentives to enterprises and to labor, banking, finance, and investment are analyzed, and their relationship to the growth of productivity is . . . examined. . . . [The author also deals with] structural transformation of the socialist economies, the relation between production and distribution . . . [and] methods of accelerating technological progress and the improvement of output quality. . . . [Lastly] Wilczynski considers the implications for the capitalist world of the reforms in the socialist countries." (Publisher's note) Index of names. Subject index.

"This can be described as a substantially expanded and reorganized version of Wilczynski's The economics of socialism [BRD 1972]. Both expansion and rearrangement of the material, plus the close attention devoted to economic growth, structural development, and other changes in the eight countries covered make this book a very good introduction to contemporary socialism, directed more explicitly at readers with some training in economics than the earlier one. However, being largely descriptive (and clearly written), this book can be handled by readers without economics background. Unfortunately, it lacks the excellent bibliographical features of the earlier work (this one has no bibliography at all). . . . Recommended for undergraduates in socialist economics, Soviet economics, comparative economic systems. Many tables."

Choice 9:856 S '72 240w

"[This work] is packed with facts and figures which should secure it a place on the desk of everybody interested in growthmanship à la Russe. . . . Dr Wilczynski's prognosis is that the reforms 'have created new problems which, directly or indirectly, may inhibit the pace of growth.' . . . He offers his reader some numerical forecasts. For 1971-85 his guess is for a growth rate of just under 6 per cent in the socialist area and 4 per cent in the capitalist world; for 1986-2000 the figures are 5 and 3½ per cent respectively."

Economist 242:58 F 5 '72 900w

WILCZYNSKI, JOZEF. The economics of socialism; principles governing the operation of the centrally planned economies in the USSR and Eastern Europe under the new system. 233p il $8.95 Aldine-Atherton

330.947 Europe, Eastern—Economic conditions. Europe, Eastern—Economic policy

ISBN 0-202-06036-5 LC 72-119643

This "study of the socialist economics in Eastern Europe . . . covers the full range of principles governing planning, incentives, investment policy, fiscal and monetary controls, domestic and foreign trade under the 'New System,' i.e. in the 1960's." (Choice) Chapter bibliographies.

"[This is a] succinct, well written [study]. . . . Certain welcome features—a glossary of socialist economic terms, good bibliographies of Western and East European titles after each chapter, a periodicals guide listing 44 East European and 39 English publications—make this not only a good undergraduate [book] . . . for socialist economics and comparative systems courses but also a handy reference source. Recommended for college libraries."

Choice 9:256 Ap '72 150w

"[The author] displays a healthy contempt for the simplified view of capitalism presented in Western textbooks. He dismisses the notion that consumer's sovereignty ensures the most rational allocation of resources as "belonging more to fiction than reality" and draws our attention to the growth in the West of centralization and state intervention, and the declining role of profits. He leans towards the view that Western and Eastern economic systems are converging, and stresses the movement in communist countries towards decentralization and an enhanced importance for profits. He perhaps tends to over-stress these recent changes. . . . Wilczynski annoyingly fails to give references to all the major participants in economic controversies cited . . . but his book is, in general, well footnoted." •

 TLS p1520 D 25 '70 300w

WILD, JOCELYN, jt. auth. Little pig and the big bad wolf. See Wild, R.

WILD, ROBIN. Little pig and the big bad wolf [by] Robin and Jocelyn Wild [il. by the authors]. 46p $3.95; lib bdg $3.64 Coward, McCann & Geoghegan
 Pigs—Stories. Wolves—Stories. Stories in rhyme
 LC 71-171615

This book contains eight "verse stories. In each, Little Pig, a market gardener, is confronted by the Big Bad Wolf in some potentially dangerous situation. Little Pig cleverly manages to outwit his tormentor by devices familiar to children—e.g., apples, paint, and even a toy gun. Though put down time after time, Wolf keeps coming up with new (unsuccessful) schemes to seize Pig and his relatives. The last story, however, has a different twist: Little Pig instigates the action and successfully carries out a plan to befriend Wolf . . . [and] the book ends pleasantly on a note of kindness and friendship. . . . Kindergarten to grade three." (Library J)

Reviewed by Sidney Long
 Book World p6 (children's issue)
 My 7 '72 40w

"[These stories] prove there is a great deal of life left in two of the favorite stock characters of children's fiction. . . . Each of the stories is genuinely funny, and the book should be a bedtime or a storytime favorite. Softly shaded pencil-drawings depict a never-never land where the rolling countryside, vegetable gardens, and market towns provide suitably English settings for the shenanigans." S. D. L.

Horn Bk 48:265 Je '72 130w

"The rhythmic text, accompanied by appealing black-and-white illustrations, reads well despite some forced rhymes and makes a good choice for the story hour." F. E. Sellers

Library J 97:2235 Je 15 '72 150w

"The verse has a good strong beat which keeps the stories moving at a cracking pace. The pictures are bold and funny but might have been even nicer in colour."

TLS p1520 D 3 '71 70w

WILDAVSKY, AARON. The revolt against the masses, and other essays on politics and public policy. 498p $12.50 Basic bks.

320.973 U.S.—Politics and government. U.S.—Social conditions
 SBN 465-06949-5 LC 70-147009

"This volume contains 26 political essays by [the] dean of the Graduate School of Public Affairs at the University of California, Berkeley. . . . The essay topics range through social problems, Presidential politics, budgeting procedures, and foreign affairs." (Library J) Index.

"[Wildavsky] is an extraordinarily intelligent man. He is equally brilliant in theorizing and empirical research. . . . His writing has punch and style. It will be attractive to undergraduate and graduate students alike—it demands response from the reader. This wide-ranging collection should inspire students of politics to be bold and imaginative in their work. For Wildavsky sets no limits on his mind, nor does he respect the reservations of others. . . . Highly recommended for all college libraries."

Choice 8:1383 D '71 200w

"The author is a man of diverse interests. [The book] contains a fascinating introduction, in which Wildavsky discusses his own writing habits and provides a good view of the creation of valid scholarly materials. He is forthright and candid throughout. The book is highly recommended for all collections." Hindy Schachter

Library J 96:2092 Je 15 '71 90w

WILDER, ALEC. American popular song; the great innovators, 1900-1950; ed. and with an introd. by James T. Maher. 536p $15 Oxford

734 Music, Popular (Songs, etc.)—History and criticism
 ISBN 0-19-501445-6 LC 70-159643

In this study Mr. Wilder focuses "on the special qualities—melodic, harmonic, and rhythmic—that have distinguished our form of musical expression from that of other countries for more than half a century. He first traces the roots of the American style in the Negro ragtime music of the 1890's, and shows how it was incorporated into popular song after 1900. He discusses every major songwriter from World War I to 1950, the period he considers to be the 'professional era' in popular music. Separate chapters are devoted to the work of . . . Jerome Kern, Irving Berlin, George Gershwin, Richard Rodgers, Cole Porter, and Harold Arlen. . . . Musical examples from more than seven hundred songs are included." (Publisher's note) Index of Composers, Index of Lyricists, Index of song titles.

Reviewed by L. M. Savary

America 126:522 My 13 '72 450w

"The book is definitive only in the sense that it represents the distilled thoughts of Alec Wilder who has both a considerable musical background and strong opinions. To say that this is a highly opinionated book is to point to one of its strongest features. Wilder speaks frankly and even bluntly about songs and composers, often with the awareness that his view is a biased one which he does not try to hide. . . . There is nothing quite like this available for serious students of American popular music."

Choice 9:1139 N '72 170w

Christian Century 89:523 My 3 '72 20w

"[This book] seriously, never solemnly, examines as attentively as if they were Schubert lieder the kind of tunes we whistle every day. Nearly a thousand song-titles are cited in [the] index; perhaps a third this many are discussed in detail. . . . [Wilder is] looking, in a . . . general way, for 'a fugitive essence and personality that distinguishes a song as American,' though nothing much comes of that. At generalization, . . . [he] is vague and contradictory. He's best when most specific, when he takes [a song] . . . and singles out individual phrases to demonstrate 'those mysterious choices a good writer makes that constitute good taste.' It's a very personal book; instead of reviewing it I'd rather sit down near a piano with its author to argue and exchange enthusiasms. . . . A combination of fallible editing and music publishers' refusal to grant permission to quote occasionally makes the book bumpy reading." Walter Clemons

N Y Times Bk R p6 Ap 23 '72 1550w

"[Wilder] has written what is probably the first serious musicological and critical study of [the musical comedy and the popular tune].

. . . By means of musical examples, he distinguishes the style of one popular-song writer from that of another. What makes a hit song? Which songs show the sort of originality that starts a new style? Such questions are answered by the author with great erudition."

New Yorker 48:143 Ap 29 '72 130w

"Wilder has a special gift for the esoteric discovery. Did you know that 'Smoke Gets in Your Eyes' was originally written as background for a tap routine? That 'East of the Sun' was penned by Brooks Bowman, a Princeton student, for a 1934 Triangle Show? More satisfying still is Wilder's analytical acuteness. 'There is nothing of the hot-house about his work,' he notes perceptively about the protean, underrated Irving Berlin. . . . Best of all is Wilder's candor about his likes and dislikes. Much of it made me want to dance on the ceiling in agreement." Charles Michener

Newsweek 80:66 Ji 31 '72 700w

TLS p1283 O 27 '72 850w

WILDFOWL TRUST. The swans. See Scott, P.

WILDMAN, FREDERICK S. A wine tour of France; a convivial wine guide & travel guide to French vintages & vineyards [by] Frederick S. Wildman, Jr. 335p il $8.95 Morrow 641.2 Wine and wine making. France—Description and travel LC 70-182453

"The author, who is associated with the wine-importing firm Wildman & Sons, offers a tour guide of the French vineyard districts along with advice about local wines and cuisine. He details a 21-day excursion, divided into four motor trips: Champagne and Alsace; Burgundy and the Rhône; Armagnac, Bordeaux, and Cognac; the Loire Valley, Normandy, and Calvados. Maps and guidebook information are taken from the Guide Michelin and the Guide Kleber. . . . Index." (Library J)

"Many of the chapters in this engaging 'convivial [guide]' . . . appeared originally at least in part as articles in Gourmet Magazine from 1967 to 1972. . . . Of course, the book will be most appreciated by those who are ready and eager for an expert's advice on what are the best of the French wines; what are, if not the best, at least almost as good. And for the visitor (tourist) who can drive a car, this guided tour, mostly off the crowded routes nationales and through some of the most charming areas of France, will be a delightful experience." R. F. G.

Best Sell 32:142 Je 15 '72 250w

"This book is not a substitute for Alexis Lichine's The Wines of France (5th ed. rev.), but a complement to it. . . . Highly recommended for the wine collector and for the traveler." B. F. Vavrek

Library J 97:2187 Je 15 '72 100w

WILK, MAX, ed. The wit and wisdom of Hollywood; from the squaw man to the hatchet man; assembled, recorded, footnoted & ed. by Max Wilk. 329p $8.95 Atheneum pubs.

791.43 Moving pictures—Anecdotes, facetiae, satire, etc. Hollywood, California—Anecdotes, facetiae, satire, etc. LC 73-124933

The author "has culled excerpts from articles, books, letters, and interviews he taped with some big names in writing, producing, directing, and acting from Hollywood's heyday; the emphasis is on writers." (Library J)

"This work might more accurately be titled 'The Wit and Wisdom About Hollywood,' as expressed mainly by its screenwriters. Two complaints: sources for some anecdotes are not clear; less space devoted to published sources and more to Wilk's interviews would have been desirable. The book is not outstanding but is well above the quality of many works being cranked out today about Hollywood; the editor knows his subject well. It should prove popular with general readers and movie fans; cinema collections will want it." Jerry Cao

Library J 96:3843 O 15 '71 100w

"[This] is inevitably more witty than wise, drawn from hundreds of sources and—like most bran tubs—long on sawdust. Dip, by all means, but do not expect to find many examples of why everyone who met him found Herman Mankiewicz a spellbinder. . . . The quiet revelation of this volume is probably sociological: so many of the gags are begotten of bitterness and despair, so much of the laughter is vengeful." John Coleman

New Statesman 84:232 Ag 18 '72 100w

WILKES, BILL ST JOHN. Nautical archaeology: a handbook for skin divers. 294p il $7.95 Stein & Day

627.7 Archeology. Skin diving. Salvage ISBN 0-8128-1415-0 LC 77-159558

This book "is concerned with the techniques of conducting an archaeological investigation underwater in a scientific fashion. The author is an English diver-archaeologist who has conducted low-budget underwater expeditions with small teams of enthusiasts. . . . [The book offers] advice about preliminary research, locating sites, conducting investigations, scientific record keeping, preservation of finds, publication of reports, and equipment which may be made inexpensively." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

"The book is written in an informal style, embellished with anecdotes. . . . Wilkes advocates techniques which are sound. . . . the slant is British, but the book's scope is not limited to the potential sites in and around the British Isles. The up-to-date bibliography is useful. . . . Recommended." F. J. Anderson

Library J 96:2504 Ag '71 150w

"[This] is a quiet volume by an almost unknown British member of the Committee for Nautical Archaeology, with line drawings and a few black-and-white photographs. . . . [The author] is not an archaeologist. . . . Some one writing about marine archaeology should know, for instance that Roman planking was mortise and tenoned edge to edge rather than 'little round wooden rods let into drilled holes along the edges of the planks to hold them more firmly together'. . . . Still [this] is a serious book, loaded with useful information. It is a manual written for the diver-amateur archaeologist enthusiast, and for the land archaeologist as well."

TLS p241 Mr 1 '72 250w

WILKINSON, R. J. Papers on Malay subjects. See Burns, P. L.

WILLARD, CHARLOTTE. Famous modern artists; from Cézanne to pop art. (A Chanticleer press ed) 119p il col il $6.95 Platt

929 Art, Modern—Juvenile literature. Paintings—Juvenile literature LC 72-151241

These "biographical sketches of famous artists from Cézanne to Lichtenstein are followed by descriptions and explanations of the painter's art and innovations. . . . [Included also is an] introduction to modern art with. . . full-color and black-and-white reproductions." (Horn Bk) Glossary. Index of artists, pictures, and owners. "Grade six and up." (Library J)

"A stunning introduction to modern art. . . . The artists' lives and influences, their techniques, aims, and achievements are described and interpreted with conciseness, clarity, and style. Ninety-five carefully selected paintings support and illuminate the text." Polly Goodwin

Book World p12 (children's issue) N 7 '71 130w

"In an attempt to 'strip art of some of the mystifying language surrounding it,' the author has renamed periods of art with more descriptive terms—Fauvism, for example, is labeled 'The Triumph of Color.'"

Horn Bk 48:166 Ad '72 80w

"Willard has selected a representative group of artists to depict the changes in the world of art in the last 100 years. . . . Color reproduction is fair, and each painting presented is perceptively and succinctly analyzed. Willard writes well and has, more importantly, picked well from the world of art." B. G. Mulconry

Library J 97:2492 Jl '72 230w [YA]

WILLERT, SIR ARTHUR. Washington and other memories. 248p $6.95 Houghton

B or 92

ISBN 0-395-12727-0 LC 74-162013

The author "served as the London Times correspondent in Washington during World War I and later joined the British Ministry of Information and then the Foreign Office. The volume is filled with his commentary on the events he witnessed [as well as] . . . his descriptions of personalities like Wilson, Taft, Frankfurter, Geoffrey Dawson, the Franklin Roosevelts, and the wartime British ambassadors Bryce and Spring-Rice. . . . Index." (Library J)

"[This volume] presents the venturesome life of one who served the English-speaking peoples well. In the dual role of diplomat-journalist he helped to close many breaches in understanding, and to prevent others from opening. For this book he has selected only the choicest of morsels and presented them succinctly with a modest dignity, good humor, and a scrupulous respect for persons." Arthur Walworth

Christian Science Monitor p17 Mr 16 '72 460w

"It is in [the] personal glimpses that the author makes an original and valuable contribution. Willert writes extremely well—succinctly and with flashes of humor. Yet even after spending so much time in the U.S. and being so knowledgeable about America, he still talks of 'cabinet ministers' instead of department secretaries and of 'Parliamentary leaders' instead of congressmen. Particularly disturbing is his practice throughout of omitting all dates, thereby making it all but impossible to follow the sequence of events. The book is an interesting period piece that can be read with great pleasure, but it adds little that is new." Martin Chasin

Library J 97:192 Ja 15 '72 180w

"Now crowding 90, [Willett] has written an agreeable book that will be of interest to readers old enough to remember it all and to historians of the period, who may find in it an occasional footnote or aside."

N Y Times Bk R p37 Mr 26 '72 80w

WILLETT, JOHN. Expressionism. 256p 11 col il $4.95 McGraw

709.04 Expressionism (Art)
LC 70-96434

This work, which deals with the ideas and forms of Expressionism, also discusses the movement in terms of "poems, plays, films, posters, [and] periodicals, . . . [as well as] music and architecture. . . . German Expressionism is placed in an expanded cultural and historical context which includes French painting and poetry on one hand and, on the other, American action painting of the 1950's and current trends in the art of Black Africa." (J Aesthetics)

"It is as a survey of the modern German expressionist arts the book works best. Even so, with the German limitation, the field is so large and this book so short, that the result is a survey frequently clotted with its own information. The book should have been longer, it should have been possible for Mr. Willett to say more about individual artists, and to subject individual works to sustained criticism, something which is entirely avoided in the book." Douglas Dunn

Encounter 38:74 Je '72 650w

"This is more than just another survey: in extremely condensed form it presents a very stimulating and intelligent introduction to Expressionism." V. H. Miesel

J Aesthetics 30:276 winter '71 120w

"This is the first comprehensive study [of Expressionism] by an English scholar. Here in England, we seem to have persuaded ourselves that, of all the movements in the arts which contributed to the general growth of modernism, Expressionism is the most alien to us, the least assimilable. John Willett's excellent book gives some idea of the reasons. . . . [It] is surely destined to become the standard [work] . . . on its subject. If, at the same time, it gives a new perspective on contemporary English culture for the reader, as it did for me, then it is an important book indeed." Edward Lucie-Smith

New Statesman 81:598 Ap 30 '71 1650w

"The conclusion, confirmed by . . . [this] book, would appear to be that Expressionism is a more complex phenomenon than once was thought and also that there is a greater need than ever to try to pull the threads together. Mr. Willett makes a very persuasive attempt. He understands how varied are the forms and themes, how wide the ramifications, how diffuse the problems; and he finds a neat formula to deal with it. . . . [His] book provides the best comprehensive view of Expressionism in English and the most attractive to read, though at the price of a certain reluctance, in the interest of the larger picture, to explore particular aspects in depth or, in his concern to show the many sides, to press a single and distinctive interpretation."

TLS p619 My 28 '71 1950w

WILLEY, BASIL. Samuel Taylor Coleridge. 264p $8.95 Norton

B or 92 Coleridge, Samuel Taylor
ISBN 393-07467-6 LC 72-182235

"Willey is concerned . . . with Coleridge's religious and political views (which were . . . interrelated) and shows how these views are revealed in his poetry and other writings. . . . [He] traces the development of Coleridge's religious allegiances, beginning with his early introduction to the new and radical Unitarianism, moving on to a period of pantheism, then, finally, returning to Christianity. Professor Willey describes Coleridge's friendship with Southey and his enthusiasm for Southey's ill-fated scheme of pantsocracy and Coleridge's close friendship with the Wordsworths, Wordsworth's great influence on Coleridge's writings, and the collaboration between the two men which produced Lyrical Ballads." (Publisher's note) Index.

"This [is an] intellectual and spiritual biography. . . . [Willey] can be chatty and occasionally even offensive, but he succeeds in challenging modern readers to recognize the importance of Coleridge's beliefs. Unfortunately [he] pays almost no attention to the poetry, but the lucidity of his analyses of all the relevant prose, particularly of the complex philosophical issues involved, should make this book most welcome to beginning students of Coleridge."

Choice 9:819 S '72 120w

Economist 242:55 F 19 '72 160w

"[This study] exalts Coleridge as the Christian exegete, and so reduces him as a poet."

New Statesman 84:359 Mr 17 '72 1300w

"Coleridge's emphasis on heart-work rather than head-work as a touchstone could never have tied him closely to one creed; yet with him, as Professor Willey says, religion was always the raison d'être of everything else, and, as this study claims, the Aids to Reflection may prove to be Coleridge's finest prose work."

TLS p354 Mr 31 '72 200w

WILLIAM, A. M., ed. Conversations at Little Gidding. See Conversations at Little Gidding

WILLIAMS, BURTON J. Senator John James Ingalls; Kansas' iridescent republican. 201p $7.75 Univ. press of Kan.

B or 92 Ingalls, John James

SEN 7006-0086-8 LC 72-177898

This is an account of the life and political career of John J. Ingalls who "served Kansas as a U.S. Senator from 1873-91. As a young lawyer he became involved in local politics, playing important roles in the proceedings of the Wyandotte Constitutional Convention and in the first legislature of the new state of Kansas and, at the age of 39, he became a senator. By 1887 Ingalls was a nationally known figure, and was elected to the position of permanent President Pro Tem of the Senate." (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

"Williams handles Ingalls' career intelligently and with good balance, weighing its meaning without overrating its significance. [This] is a worthy book reflecting impressive scholarship and modest conclusions. Recommended for college and university libraries. Excellent footnotes."

Choice 9:1038 O '72 180w

"Williams has made excellent use of the Ingalls Papers, manuscript collections of Ingalls' contemporaries, public records, and the general literature of the era. He has written a well-documented . . . account of Ingalls as he was seen by his contemporaries. At times, Williams avoids his own evaluation of Ingalls. When the New York Times makes critical accusations against Ingalls, Williams offers no judgment on them. Moreover, [he] fails to evaluate the varied tributes given to Ingalls at the time of his death. More information on Ingalls' legal career would have strengthened the biography. These are minor flaws. Williams must be recognized for his valuable and detailed biography of a prominent historical figure." A. B. Sageser

J Am Hist 59:438 S '72 550w

WILLIAMS, ERIC. Inward hunger: the education of a prime minister: with an introd. by Sir Denis Brogan. 352p $7.95 Univ. of Chicago press

B or 92 Trinidad and Tobago

ISBN 0-226-89920-9 LC 70-170729

This autobiography "details the life of the current prime minister of Trinidad: his boyhood in Trinidad; his years as a scholarship student at Oxford, where he earned his undergraduate degree and doctorate in history; his teaching at Howard University; his books on Caribbean problems, past and present; his roles in international Caribbean planning commissions; and his successful leadership in bringing independence and democratic government to his country." (Library J)

WILLIAMS, ERIC—Continued

"Williams gives a clear idea of his career and of the history of Trinidad in the 20th Century. What he does not do is reveal himself. Certainly, as a politician in service, he cannot be expected to admit many errors, but whispers of a few human frailties would have lent dimension to his personality. Nonetheless, the book will have value to those interested in Trinidad and in black studies." L. F. Snow
Library J 97:1706 My 1 '72 130w

"[The author's] education has endowed him with a lucid style and, despite his dedication to his homeland, a mind that is anything but insular. This account of his efforts to make a new nation closes in 1968; one looks forward to another installment."

New Yorker 48:116 Mr 4 '72 100w

WILLIAMS, ERNEST W., ed. The future of American transportation. See The future of American transportation

WILLIAMS, GEOFFREY J. A bibliography of Sierra Leone, 1925-1967. 209p $18 Africana pub. corp.

016 Sierra Leone—Bibliography
ISBN 8419-0022-1 LC 74-80858

"The objective behind the compilation of this Bibliography is to record the books and more important papers which have been published about Sierra Leone, its peoples, and their culture, since the publication of Sir Harry Luke's Bibliography of Sierra Leone (which covered the period up to 1925) and the end of 1967." (Intro) Geographical index. Author index.

"Fills another of the many remaining gaps in the retrospective bibliographic record of individual African countries. . . . There are no obvious omissions among the 3,000 entries—only among a few rather obscure or very recent titles. Works of fiction set in Sierra Leone or by Sierra Leonean authors were deliberately omitted, as well as relevant literary criticism. This seems a pity as works of imagination often supplement the more formal record of a country's past. The arrangement is classified by the Universal Decimal Classification which works in this instance at least, and plenty of 'see also' references are given at the end of each section. . . . Should be in all research and larger college libraries which have readers interested in West Africa."

Choice 8:1572 F '72 170w

"This bibliography is the very paragon of its genre. . . . It is just short of exhaustive; and its organization and form cannot be faulted. In his introduction Williams clearly spells out his criteria for selection; users are not left to guess at what categories of works may have been omitted. . . . [He] has provided scholars of all disciplines with a very fine working bibliography, certainly the definitive one on Sierra Leone." R. K. Rasmussen
Library J 96:3115 O 1 '71 140w

WILLIAMS, IOAN, ed. Meredith: the critical heritage. 535p $17.50 Barnes & Noble

823 Meredith, George
ISBN 0-389-04106-8 LC 73-27406

This "book compiles contemporary reviews of the author's published works (both novels and poetry), arranged in chronological order. Thus it provides . . . contemporary responses . . . which . . . trace the shifting critical modes influencing Meredith's half-century of literary production. Though the authorship of many articles is unknown, some . . . [are by such] critics and poets as James Thomson, Swinburne, and Symonds. Bibliography. Index." (Choice)

"This contribution to the recently growing list of Meredithiana will be desired by all students of Meredith and the 19th-century novel. . . . As an anonymous reviewer noted in 1891, Meredith's reception is still one of mixed admiration and regret; yet this volume conveniently provides these often ignored primary sources. The series will become a valuable research aid, indispensable to all but the largest of libraries. Select bibliography on Meredith's reception; categorized index."

Choice 9:64 Mr '72 150w

Reviewed by Barbara Hardy
Encounter 38:48 D '71 240w

"There emerges, from this judicious selection of contemporary comment, no simple upward curve on the graph of reputation, no clear accounting for Meredith's rise to international fame in old age. What does emerge . . . is further proof that our Victorian forebears were as serious and intelligent in their judgments of literature as any of their academic successors today."

TLS p1311 O 22 '71 260w

WILLIAMS, JOHN A. Captain Blackman; a novel. 336p $6.95 Doubleday

LC 75-171328

"Blackman, who had been conducting seminars in black military history, is badly wounded in Vietnam, and the present action of the novel focuses on his injuries and the efforts to save his life. . . . Sections of the novel consist of long historical flashbacks—Blackman's 'dream'—in which the hero is transported back in time, first to Revolutionary War battles, then, in chronological order, to the War of 1812, the Civil War, the Indian wars, the Spanish-American War, World War I, the Spanish Civil War, World War II, the Korean War, and finally Vietnam. Functioning both as participant and observer, Blackman provides the narrative link connecting these historical events." (Sat R)

"Judging by the tenor of this novel, there is no reason for hoping for anything remotely resembling acceptance of one another by black and white soldiers. . . . The constant use of the standard four-letter vulgar words makes it impossible to recommend this book to all types of readers." Paul Kinski

Best Sell 32:193 JI 15 '72 400w

Choice 9:1295 D '72 200w

"There is unquestionably a need to read—just some of the balances in American history, but Williams is too good a novelist to be writing tracts. This has to be his most disappointing book to date. It may be popular, though, and even as an unfortunate milestone in the career of one of our best contemporary black novelists, it deserves a place in most library collections." Eric Moon

Library J 97:1742 My 1 '72 120w

Reviewed by D. K. Mano
Nat R 24:961 S 1 '72 350w

Reviewed by Roger Sale
N Y Rev of Books 19:34 O 5 '72 900w

Reviewed by George Davis
N Y Times Bk R p4 My 21 '72 850w

"The novel is a stinging polemic demonstrating how blacks have been used by a racist military establishment that encouraged them to fight and die for a freedom ultimately denied them. In addition, Williams has resurrected a pantheon of black heroes and martyrs to serve the needs of a people for a proud and viable tradition. . . . The novel is sprinkled with actual documents and letters, causing one to speculate whether Williams's aims would have been better served had he chosen to eschew the demands of fiction and write a straightforward historical account. Instead he has combined history with heavy-handed allegory, and the resulting focus placed on his symbolic protagonist dilutes the impact of the novel." Leonard Fleischer

Sat R 55:85 My 13 '72 600w

WILLIAMS, JOHN ALDEN, ed. Themes of Islamic civilization. 382p pl $11.75 Univ. of Calif. press

919.176 Civilization, Islamic
ISBN 0-520-01685-8 LC 78-107659

"This book illustrates the thematic and archetypal ideas that molded Muslim minds and were expressed in Islamic institutions of government, law, and culture. Each chapter demonstrates, by means of selections from works of history, law, poetry, philosophy, and letters, a set of attitudes commonly found in Islam. The authors range from . . . legalists, officials, and academicians to . . . petitioners. . . . Within each chapter the texts . . . represent works from early Islamic to modern times." (Publisher's note) Annotated bibliography. Index.

"The best anthology of Islamic religious literature produced in a Western language so far. . . . There are no thieves of Baghdad, no teasing in the harem, no smells in the bazaar here. It is all, or nearly all, grim and dull mediaeval theology. . . . The 183 selections are pretty much evenly divided among the chapters. A great many are Williams' own translations and abridgements. Within each chapter the texts are arranged in chronological fashion and there is relatively little commentary. Some of the material, such as the Mahdist texts, is not available in translation elsewhere. There are several fine photographs which are unfortunately, like the book itself, in black and white."

Choice 8:1463 Ja '72 150w

"This is an excellent source book on medieval Islamic civilization, its integrating moral consensus, its variety, and the continuity of Muslim thinking into recent times. Highly recommended for academic and larger general collections." D. W. Littlefield

Library J 96:971 Mr 15 '71 120w

WILLIAMS, L. F. RUSHBROOK. The East Pakistan tragedy. 142p il maps $5.95 Drake pubs.

954.9 Pakistan—Politics and government
ISBN 87749-246-8 LC [72-180088]

The author "recounts the march of events leading from the creation of Pakistan in 1947 to its disintegration in 1971. The eight appendices reproduce Pakistani government documents bearing on the circumstances of the Eastern wing and the actions of the Awami League which sparked the Pakistani army's retaliation. Williams blames the Awami League and India for the tragedy." (Library J) Chronology.

"The author, who served with distinction in the former British imperial administration in India is an authority on Indo-Muslim history. . . . [He] labors hard to create an impression that the military junta ruling Pakistan has been more sinned against than sinning. The account is based on official handouts and is therefore biased to a significant extent. There is little of the historian's objectivity; and as a result, the book reads more like a propaganda tract than a balanced historical account. Williams' work is neither better, nor worse, than most other books that have appeared on the subject. It is welcome, however, in the sense that it is a convenient collection of 'facts' as seen through the eyes of General Yahya Khan and his colleagues." B. G. Gokhale

Library J 97:2104 Je 1 '72 260w

"[Williams'] book ends before the war between India and Pakistan; his judgment is that General Yahya Khan, from the time he took over control from Field Marshal Ayub Khan, acted in the best interests of the country as its creator. Mohammed Ali Jinnah, envisaged it. . . . [The author] has some fifty years of experience of events in the subcontinent, and it cannot be held against him that he did not foresee the way in which events were to move to their dramatic finale. It is fair to say that his sympathies, as displayed in this book, are strongly with Pakistan and he shares the view of Pakistan's former military rulers: that a settlement could have been achieved in East Pakistan if India had kept out of the picture."

TLS p90 Ja 28 '72 280w

WILLIAMS, LIZA. Up the city of angels. 283p $6.95 Putnam

818 Los Angeles
LC 70-163419

Collected here are essays and vignettes most of which the author had written for the Los Angeles Free Press.

"[The author] writes wicked and witty essays . . . collected in this sparkling volume. She twits Los Angelenos for their pomposity, chides them for their drug habits, and speculates if they, and the human race have any future at all. But she also sees the warm friendly things that go on in the streets and homes of this great, if whacky, city. Humor of the highest order alternates with gutter type erotica, yet it all seems much in context. . . . Liza Williams has certainly caught the big city at its most vulnerable and she displays it for all to see. It is bound to be a locally controversial volume, and not just for the constant use of every four-letter word imaginable." Charles Dollen

Best Sell 31:377 N 15 '71 200w

"The author's many columns . . . are certainly worth reading. They deal largely with hypes, parties, rock music, porno movies, and other multimedia madness, as well as dope and sex. That is one view of Los Angeles. They also deal largely with Williams, a beat-up, sensitive, ex-New Yorker in her 40's, a 'strain of consciousness writer,' whose 1966 columns hold interest as well as her recent ones do. One reprinting of pop journalism that was worth doing." Collin Clark

Library J 97:211 Ja 15 '72 110w

WILLIAMS, MILLER. The poetry of John Crowe Ransom. 125p $7.50 Rutgers univ. press

811 Ransom, John Crowe
ISBN 0-8135-0712-X LC 78-184566

This book "deals with the body of Ransom's work in the 1969 edition of his Selected Poems [BRD 1969]. Professor Williams examines his subject first through Ransom's personal view of the world—his attitudes towards art, science, and religion. . . . The poems are then discussed in terms of Ransom's special use of irony, of symbols, particularly of color as symbol, and of his concept of metaphor as a device by which an object is ennobled or demeaned in the world of the poem. Following this discussion, Mr. Williams explicates a number of the best-known poems in light of the views set forth in the book." (Publisher's note)

"This 125-page volume falls far short of being a comprehensive critical survey of Ransom's poetry. . . . It does, however, provide thoughtful nontechnical discussions of new selected aspects of Ransom's poetry . . . which may be more helpful to the undergraduate than some of the more abstruse studies. Some 32 pages are used to present side by side nine versions of a much revised poem, 'The vanity of the bright young men,' thereby giving unusual insight into Ransom's changing poetic emphases. Unfortunately, Williams . . . provides only minimal footnotes and no bibliography or index."

Choice 9:511 Je '72 170w

"Williams' overview of Ransom's life, philosophy, and works is insightful and informed. Probably the most fascinating and revelatory portion of the book is the chapter dealing with a poem which was first titled 'Tom, Tom the Piper's Son.' One can follow this poem through its nine transformations to its final form as—'The Vanity of the Bright Boys.' Here the reader can see, aided by Williams' skillful analysis, how subtly a fine poet and craftsman works. . . . He presents a reasoned and intelligent discussion of the body of Ransom's works drawn from Selected Poems. . . . Ransom might well consider himself fortunate in having such a fine explicator as Williams." K. C. Rosenberg

Library J 97:1719 My 1 '72 200w

WILLIAMS, NEVILLE. Henry VIII and his court. 271p il col il $12.95 Macmillan (N Y)

920 Henry VIII, King of England. Courts and courtiers
LC 70-125407

The author describes "Henry's queens, mistresses, and children; the great noblemen, prelates, and politicians; the courtiers, craftsmen, and servants." (Library J) Annotated bibliography. Index.

"If, as Williams asserts in his introduction, this is not a biography of Henry VIII, perhaps it might be described as a biography of his court. . . . Fascinating in its detail, clear in its exposition, the book is as beautifully balanced as it is magnificently illustrated. No single volume so thoroughly touches every aspect of life in Henry's court, and Williams' scholarship is impeccable. The illustrations provide a dazzling visual treat and alone are worth the price of the volume. Given the prevailing rage for the Tudors, this book should prove to be popular." R. R. Rea

Library J 97:1014 Mr 15 '72 120w

"Williams's [book is] a happy marriage of a scholarly yet elegant text with magnificent illustrations—Holbein after Holbein, and one can never tire of his splendid Sir Thomas More, even if it does appear in every book on the Tudors. Mr. Williams is a scholar who works in the Public Record Office, and he has used his knowledge of the court expenditure of Henry and his courtiers to excellent effect, and so brings alive that strange mixture of medieval barbarism and Renaissance sophistication that surrounded Henry VIII." J. H. Plumb

N Y Times Bk R p5 D 5 '71 110w

TLS p1414 N 12 '71 350w

WILLIAMS, NEVILLE. The life and times of Elizabeth I; introd. by Antonia Fraser. 224p il col il $10 Doubleday
B or 92 Elizabeth I, Queen of England. Great Britain—History—Tudors, 1485-1603 LC 74-187567

This biography, illustrated with contemporary sources, emphasizes the aspects of Elizabeth's life which the author feels "are important for an understanding of her character and the significance of her long reign, during which the people of England attained a true national consciousness." (Author's pref) Genealogy. Bibliography. Index.

"Williams (Deputy Keeper of the Public Record Office) . . . has written an absorbing account of Elizabeth, her courtiers, and her country and selected the many illustrations—almost one to every page—with discrimination and an eye for revealing detail. The result is a near perfect blend of text and image. . . . Recommended."

Choice 9:871 S '72 170w

"This fascinating book is the first volume of the new (Kings & Queens of England) series under the general editorship of Antonia Fraser. The series, combining analytical narrative with innumerable illustrations, is designed to provide a brief written and visual record of the life and times of English monarchs. Williams' short biography, founded on the work of many Tudor historians, emphasizes the significant facets of Elizabeth I's personality and policies and the major events of her long reign. . . . If his book is indicative of future works in the series, then we can look forward confidently to excellence."

W. W. MacDonald

Library J 97:2093 Je 1 '72 80w

"[This volume is] of a high standard both of text and illustration. . . . [William's] portrait of the studious, flirtatious, calculating Queen is workmanlike and sympathetic without excessive adulation. . . . Some may say that it is old fashioned to cluster history round the names of kings and queens but [this] volume shows that the practice can be not only convenient but convincing. . . . The price [is] extremely reasonable."

TLS p799 J1 14 '72 50w

WILLIAMS, RABURN M., jt auth. The new economics of Richard Nixon. See Miller, R. L.

WILLIAMS, ROBERT C. Culture in exile; Russian émigrés in Germany, 1881-1941. 404p il $14.50 Cornell univ. press

325 Refugees, Russian. Russians in Germany. Russians in Berlin. Russia—History—Revolution, 1917-1921. Germany—Politics and government—20th century ISBN 0-8014-0673-0 LC 77-162543

Concerned with the themes of cultural conflict and political exile, this "study traces the movement of people and ideas between Russia and Germany from the death of Alexander II until the Second World War. . . . The book [also] provides a political and intellectual history of the Russian colony in Berlin during the crucial period of the 1920's." (Publisher's note) Annotated bibliography. Index.

"[This work] belongs to the rare category of historical scholarship which combines the merits of synthesis with the originality of unpublished sources. . . . The work is authoritative, judicious, highly readable, and sensibly organized. Particularly impressive is the integration of the literature of historical particularity (all of which seems to have been consulted) into the fabric of a broader sociological and even psychological analysis. An important addition to the scholarship of the subject, and particularly in English where it has been largely ignored."

Choice 9:1032 O '72 170w

"This distinguished study could be described as variations on the theme of exile: exile in general and in particular, some of it superfluously self-inflicted, some imperative for survival of body and soul; much of it penurious and frustrated, yet here and there also excitingly productive. . . . [Williams] presents facts and findings with not only the lucidity of an assured scholar but also the illuminating touch of a poet. He writes with admirable economy, uncluttered by professional jargon. He is impeccably impartial as he threads his way through a maze of partisanship. While fully aware of the familiar awkwardness of émigrés, he sympathises with them generously and deeply."

Economist 243:52 Ap 1 '72 450w

"By carefully examining periodical and memoir literature, by interviewing some of the most significant figures in the emigration, and by bringing an inquiring and trained mind to his task, Williams has put together a thorough and quite readable study."

Va Q R 48:cxlvi autumn '72 150w

WILLIAMS, ROGER L. The mortal Napoleon III. 226p $8.50 Princeton univ. press

B or 92 Napoleon III, Emperor of the French ISBN 0-691-05192-5 LC 75-155005

This "analysis of Napoleon's illnesses . . . [indicates] that he was victim of a variety of afflictions and was ultimately felled by kidney failure and uremic poisoning, rather than by bladder stones as commonly assumed. Yet Williams concludes that Napoleon's illnesses did not affect policy, that in no case would a decision have been different had the Emperor been in perfect health, and that high serum uric acid may have contributed to his drive and patient obstinacy. On the other hand, Williams demonstrates that Napoleon's unhappy marriage did have political consequences and affected the course of his reign." (Choice) Annotated bibliography. Index.

"This fascinating analysis . . . [is] recommended for all college libraries."

Choice 9:272 Ap '72 200w

"This [is a] competent study."

Va Q R 48:cxl autumn '72 50w

WILLIAMS, ROGER M. The Bonds; an American family. 301p $10 Atheneum pubs.

920 Bond, James. Bond, Horace Mann. Bond, Julian LC 74-165208

The author of this biography traces the family of the Georgia legislator, Julian Bond, back 130 years to the days of his great grandmother, Jane, a slave in the household of Preston Bond of Anderson County, Kentucky. Annotated bibliography. Index.

"This history of four black lives in America permeates its facts with poignancy. . . . The story begins with . . . Jane, who bore two sons to her white owner—a farmer and Methodist divine named Preston Bond. . . . Henry Bond became a lawyer and a teacher in the Bluegrass State, James . . . [went into] preaching and social activism. . . . One of James's sons, Horace Mann Bond, was [the father of] Julian, who,] . . . born in 1940 . . . ran for the Georgia legislature, won a seat, and then was expelled from it in 1966. . . . The Supreme Court ordered his reinstatement a year later. . . . Julian Bond, then, is brought to life as the newest member of a family that has provided three generations of participants in a Negro elite, and Williams is trying to show how the meaning and the burden of that inheritance has changed over time. . . . [He] has usefully told us much, not only about Julian Bond and his kin, but about ourselves." B. A. Weisberger

Book World p8 D 26 '71 1100w

"A well written, somewhat journalistic account which incorporates the contemporary and complex racial issues faced by each of four successive generations of intelligent blacks. Especially informative information on leading black colleges with which the Bond family had long association. Recommended for college and public libraries."

Choice 9:251 Ap '72 130w

"[This book] is of uneven quality. Sketchy documentation makes it difficult to determine how much research Williams actually did. Parts of the book reveal some scholarly digging . . . but other chapters rely too exclusively on Williams' own reporting. Stylistic gaffes and picayune detail . . . reduce some of the writing to the level of a Time feature."

Some controversial assumptions—the 'Sambo' legacy of slavery and the role of white ancestry in mulatto success—are set forth without any hint of the complexities involved. What is most unsatisfying is Williams' use of the family as a framework of analysis. . . . The way in which each generation influenced and interacted with the next is exactly what Williams fails fully to explore. . . . Nevertheless, The Bonds is a significant book. . . . Williams' portraits of James and Horace are the fullest accounts thus far of their important work." N. J. Weiss

J Am Hist 59:225 Je '72 450w

"Through this collective biography of the Bond family, Williams has written a fascinating political and social history of the American black's changing positions in and attitudes toward the United States. An important and valuable supplement to Neary's excellent Julian Bond: Black Rebel [BRD 1971]." Jack Forman

Library J 97:677 F 15 '72 210w

"A fine study of an intensely interesting American Negro family. . . . A well-constructed narrative, covering 130 years, rich in social and political insights." Carey McWilliams

Nation 213:700 D 27 '71 40w

N Y Times Bk R p16 F 13 '72 70w

WILLIAMS, T. DESMOND, jt. ed. Ireland in the war years and after 1939-51. See Nowlan, K. B.

WILLIAMS, TED. The science of hitting, by Ted Williams and John Underwood. 88p il col il $5.95 Simon & Schuster

796.357 Baseball

ISBN 671-20892-6

LC 79-139668

"Williams offers every reader who ever has or ever will hit a baseball . . . guidance on how to do it. [He ranges] from such scientific considerations as the percentages of bat area made available to cover the ball in relation to the bat's degree of upswing or downswing from the horizontal, to a photo gallery of the greatest hitters from the days of Abner Doubleday to the present era." (Publisher's note)

"Heralded by many sportswriters as perhaps the all-time most graceful batter in baseball, Ted Williams sets down in this book the secrets of his success. Briefly, this is an account of a deep dedication to practicing, to concentrating, and to observing. . . . [Williams] consistently dwells on the difference between a baseball swing and a golf swing. This book provides an excellent insight into Williams' thinking and a good idea of how this fantastic player developed his natural abilities. An appendix includes Williams' major league batting totals from 1936 through 1960, showing the amazing lifetime average of .344, and his gallery of great hitters, with illustrations and significant statistics for each player. Highly recommended for all sports collections." S. J. Riccardi

Library J 96:2004 Je 1 '71 200w

"Williams, who thinks 'hitting a baseball is the single most difficult thing to do in sport,' talks with confidence about something he knows well. For anyone playing baseball this book should be required idolizing." J. B. Segal

N Y Times Bk R p44 D 5 '71 50w

WILLIAMSON, CHARLES C. Training for library service (1923). See The Williamson reports of 1921 and 1923

WILLIAMSON, CHARLES C. Training for library work (1921). See The Williamson reports of 1921 and 1923

The WILLIAMSON reports of 1921 and 1923: including Training for library work (1921), and Training for library service (1923). 2v in 1 276:165p maps $10 Scarecrow

020 Library education. Library schools
ISBN 0-8108-0417-4 LC 78-25204

"This volume includes two reports on library education. . . . The first report, 'Training for Library Work' (1921) is reproduced from a typewritten copy shared with Miss Sarah K. Vann by Dr. Williamson. This report, never before published, was prepared for the Carnegie Corporation of New York. Part II of this volume is a reprint of the 1923 Williamson Report, 'Training for Library Service.' . . . The 1923 report is a revised and edited version of the earlier unpublished report of 1921. The two are published together here for comparative purposes and have been produced in this facsimile form to facilitate reference to specific pages or passages from Dr. Vann's comparative study, The Williamson Reports [BRD 1972]." [Publisher's note] Index.

"To all of us who have been brought up to think of the Williamson Report as the key document in the history of North American library education, it comes as a significant discovery to find that an earlier and in some respects quite different version existed. [Williamson I] contained very candid (and hence, at the time, quite unpublishable) reviews of the merits of the four library schools which had already received financial support from Carnegie and on the several others which had applied for such. Since the Corporation by and large did follow Williamson's recommendations on this score, Williamson I becomes an important document in the history of the schools affected. . . . The reprinting and thus the renewed availability of Training for Library Service is in itself a highly useful contribution. There is no doubt that collections of any pretensions to serving serious study in librarianship will want to have [this volume]." Samuel Rothstein

Library J 97:171 Ja 15 '72 300w

"The most significant change in the report prior to publication in 1923 was the elimination of the last 6 brief chapters of the 1921 report. These contained confidential materials dealing with those schools which were either receiving or had applied to receive Carnegie support. Instead Williamson substituted his very useful chapter entitled 'Summary of Findings and Recommendations' (Williamson, pp. 136-26). He also rewrote his short Introduction, and he omitted four Appendices. . . . With only minor changes and updating, the first 135 pages of the 1923 report are essentially the same as the first 186 double-spaced pages of the earlier version. . . . Many librarians as well as library educators will welcome the reappearance of the 1923 Williamson report after being long out of print." S. R. Reed

Library Q 42:352 J1 '72 320w

WILLING, MARTHA KENT. Beyond conception: our children's children. 241p $6.95 Gambit

301.32 Birth control

ISBN 0-87645-044-3

LC 76-160416

The author is concerned with "population control. After . . . chapters reviewing the logic of population control, she contributes two . . . critiques indicting first the medical profession and drug industry's handling of the pill and intrauterine devices. This chapter is followed by a . . . critique of Planned Parenthood's failure to face the overpopulation threat. Her own . . . solution is: 'Stop at two, quickly; halt growth now. Enforce the limit of two for everyone when necessary, and defer as long as possible any system which attempts to choose among us for the progenitors of a new species.'" (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

"Willing, a biologist with several years experience trying to explain population and birth control to women in clinics, has achieved her self-appointed goal: 'to write a vivid, correct and simple book.' . . . Unexcelled as a nontechnical, hortatory but sound, lay introduction to the possible consequences of uncontrolled population growth. Minimal bibliography; well indexed."

Choice 9:97 Mr '72 170w

"[The author] presents an outspoken plea, free of scientific jargon and table upon table of figures, for a better future. . . . Predictably, Willing is negative about Planned Parenthood, the green revolution, the medical profession, politicians, and theologians. She praises only scientists for their motivation (if not their methods). She urges specific solutions and, despite the doomsday premise, places hope in man's instinct for survival combined with a natural acceptance of the 'truth.'" H. O. Marcy

Library J 97:182 Ja 15 '72 130w

WILLIS, F. ROY. Italy chooses Europe. 373p $8.50 Oxford

330.945 Italy—Economic conditions. European Economic Community—Italy. Italy—Politics and government
ISBN 019-501383-2 LC 75-83024

"The first half of the book . . . describes . . . the main phases in Italy's entry into Europe [and includes] Italy's role within the European Economic Community, 1958-1968. The second part . . . analyzes the domestic considerations that motivated these decisions. . . . Willis presents next an . . . analysis of the mixed feelings toward integration expressed by industrial decision-makers in both the public . . . and private sectors . . . as well as by pressure groups in industry [and labor]. . . . Finally [he] analyzes the shifting attitudes toward integration taken . . . within the Christian Democratic party and by its allies and foes in parliament." (Ann Am Acad) Bibliography. Index.

WILLIS, F. R.—Continued

Reviewed by W. R. Feeney
Am Hist R 77:1159 O '72 450w

"Willis has written a very good book indeed. It is one-third history of the development and evolution of official Italian policies on the uniting of western Europe. It is two-thirds discussion of the economic, social, and political forces inside Italy which operated to produce these policies. The reader not only learns what Italy's policies were and who made them but he gets at the same time a short course in Italian economic geography, political parties, the role of interest groups (industry, agriculture, commerce, labor, the Church). Brief but accurate portraits are given of Italy's major problems of the post war years—overpopulation, unemployment, emigration, disparities of economic levels among various parts of the country." Norman Kogan

Am Pol Sci R 65:1241 D '71 750w

"This is a very useful and thorough study of postwar Italy's integration into the western European political and economic community. . . . Willis achieves a nice balance in his analysis and description of . . . interlocking themes. . . . Specialists in the field of recent Italian political and socio-economic developments will also find valuable information and shrewd assessments . . . [on] the attitudes of the various sectors of Italian industry and agriculture toward integration; the manner in which the latter has reduced unemployment and re-directed movements of population; and the changing physiognomy of the Italian South." C. F. Delzell

Ann Am Acad 399:208 Ja '72 650w

Economist 240:48 Ag 21 '71 60w

WILLMER, M. A. P. Crime and information theory. 124p $7.95 Aldine pub.

364 Crime and criminals. Game theory
SBN 85224-088-0 LC 73-106481

This study "focuses upon the rational processes of decision-making in the analysis of criminal behavior. Developing models of predacious crime, based on information theory and games theory, and applying them to the conflict between police and property criminals, the author lays the groundwork for a systems analysis of strategies for planning and executing crimes, as well as preventing crimes and apprehending offenders." (Ann Am Acad)

"[This book represents] a marked departure from the traditional analysis of crime offered in academic criminology. . . . The author is not concerned with the correlates of delinquency—not with the 'why' of crime, but rather with the 'how.' In this endeavor [he] comes close to the concerns of the classical school of jurisprudence of Bentham and Beccaria. . . . Although the book is aimed primarily at the general subject of law enforcement operations, its greater potential value may reside in the insights it develops concerning the rational processes of criminal behavior and law enforcement. This concern has been virtually smothered in traditional academic criminology by the preoccupation with the nonrational elements of criminal behavior." Edward Green

Ann Am Acad 399:236 Ja '72 450w

"Willmer is concerned about the evaluation and application of the police's information about criminals. He rightly castigates the present Criminal Statistics. . . . His present book is a pioneer essay into the nature of criminal conflicts with society and into their 'strategic and tactical' implications. . . . His discussion of the information question among criminal elements is particularly interesting. . . . The academic approach to police work has not so far produced a great deal which the police regard as having practical value. Dr. Willmer's initiative may well have opened up a way for the criminologist to use mathematics to bring new and possibly useful data to bear on the problems of our over-worked detectives."

TLS p883 Ag 7 '70 250w

WILLMOTT, W. E., ed. Economic organization in Chinese society. 461p il $16.50 Stanford univ. press

330.951 China—Economic conditions. China—Commerce
ISBN 0-8047-0794-4 LC 72-153822

This study is "based on conferences held by the Sub-Committee on Research on Chinese Society of the Joint Committee on Contemporary China of the Social Science Research Council. . . . The contributions deal topically with matters such as agriculture, crafts industries, marketing and credit, and the organization of government relative to commerce, as in the case of the salt monopoly. Several of the articles deal with the 18th and 19th centuries." (Choice)

"[The] contributions are based on research in original Chinese and Japanese published sources or archival materials. Included are several studies based on field work in Taiwan and Hong Kong as well as an article apparently derived from the experiences of a commune member in the area of Canton. . . . A most stimulating essay is one which discusses the cotton cloth industry (1300-1800) and the reasons why the industrial revolution did not develop in China despite significant technological inventions. In spite of the specialized nature of the individual studies and only a brief introductory essay, this is an excellent selection for college libraries concerned with Asian studies and the problems of modernization."

Choice 9:1006 O '72 230w

"Economic organization may seem a dry topic, but in fact, as dealt with here, it covers such crucial and fascinating problems as how the Chinese decide whom to trust for business transactions; what factors explain the failure of traditional Chinese society to modernize either on its own or in rapid response to the Western impact; and how Chinese businessmen, farmers, and workers display particularly 'Chinese' characteristics in going about their business. The papers collected in this book achieve such a consistently high level of excellence that almost all of them break new paths in the search for answers to such questions. Each study is solid and stimulating." A. J. Nathan

Library J 97:1000 Mr 15 '72 150w

WILLS, GARRY. Bare ruined choirs; doubt, prophecy, and radical religion. 272p $7.95 Doubleday

262 Catholic Church
ISBN 0-385-08970-8 LC 75-175406

In this collection of essays, the author is "critical of the church as institution and of almost all its . . . developments of the past 20 years. At the center of the book is a long essay on 'the two Johns'—Pope John XXIII and President Kennedy. In these men, Wills argues, liberals at last got the kind of leaders they thought would suffice, and found that this was not enough. . . . To survive, Wills believes, the church must be 'resurrected from the feet up.'" (Time)

Reviewed by D. R. Campion
America 127:400 N 11 '72 450w

Reviewed by J. S. Phillipson
Best Sell 32:419 D 1 '72 550w

Reviewed by Abigail McCarthy
Commonweal 97:281 D 22 '72 1600w

"[The author's] perceptive dissection of the last 20 years of ferment and upheaval in the Church shows how the old structures have fallen and points to the excitement that lies beyond the fall, the anticipation of . . . whether a purified faith can be reborn out of the ruins. . . . Unfortunately, Wills comes at his subject in an imitation of Bill Buckley style that diminishes his insights. Ad hominem attacks on Jacqueline Grennan and Teilhard de Chardin (their grammar and early reading habits, respectively) illustrate the sadly parochial style and overly subjective point of view that demeans this otherwise exciting first attempt at a definitive treatment of the people, issues, and movements of the American Catholic Church's lurch into the present." Jim Langlois

Library J 97:2850 S 15 '72 250w

"The virtues of . . . Wills' new book are many and impressive. For one thing, the style of the book, his writing, is quite brilliant—lucid, powerful, penetrating. For another, the cultural sophistication displayed in these pages is overwhelming; if there is a writer, well-known or obscure, directly relevant or remotely associated, whose name he fails to mention in commenting on a subject, I must have missed it. And, as always, he is capable of flashing insights that reveal the inwardness of a situation in a quite spectacular manner. But Garry Wills is also a radical, and, like all radicals, he suffers from the characteristic disease of radicalism—a foreshortening of historical perspective." Will Herberg

Nat R 24:1305 N 24 '72 3200w

"Though here and there a little wild and wrong-headed, 'Bare Ruined Choirs' is one of the most interesting books of the year, a brand new stick-waving Old Testament prophet's careful analysis of the crisis of the Roman Catholic Church—a crisis linked to that of American civilization as a whole. . . . [This] book is sure to become study material for church groups of all denominations; it's not just false religion in the Vatican that Wills is out to smash. His book-long argument is built very much like a medieval sermon. . . . One of the most striking sections of Wills's analysis concerns the liberal Catholic's movement into 'the world.' . . . [This is a] brilliant piece of Jesuitic wit—also devastating. If the Pope reads Wills's book and has an ounce of sense, he will instantly retire." John Gardner

N Y Times Bk R p1 O 29 '72 1600w

"This is a trenchant collection of essays by one of the country's brightest and most thoughtful Roman Catholics about his beleaguered church. . . . [Wills'] description of certain Catholic intellectuals of the '50s—with their enthusiasm for Merton and monasticism, Gregorian chant and the social encyclicals of the Popes—is witty but a bit condescending. As for the '60s, Teilhard de Chardin's cloudy, evolutionary mysticism gets no more praise than Pope John. Wills argues that both men did not fully see the consequences when they attempted to generalize or make programs from their private convictions."

Time 100:114 O 23 '72 350w

WILMERDING, JOHN. Fitz Hugh Lane. 203p il col il $15 Praeger

759.13 Lane, Fitz Hugh
LC 75-159501

"This study of the landscapist and marine painter seeks to 'place him in the context of his age. [It] analyzes the 'nature' ethos in American thought and painting of the nineteenth century, of which Lane's work is a . . . manifestation, and examines his central place in luminism and his transitional position between the two generations of the Hudson River School." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"One hundred and one black-and-white illustrations, 10 color plates—sometimes two to a page; checklist of Lane's paintings, drawings, and prints in public collections. Lane is here put into context with patrons, fellow artists, pupils, and institutions of his day. Recommended."

Choice 9:206 Ap '72 130w

"Lane (1804-1865), a native of Gloucester and a marine painter, has in recent years been lifted from obscurity to a high place among the so-called luminist painters of America. The present monograph . . . offers previously unpublished letters and other documents to support its thesis. The text, however, is poorly written: Wilmerding relies on overly abstract language and constructs his sentences carelessly. Nevertheless, the work can be recommended to art collections, because of its large corpus of illustrations, its listing in the appendix of Lane works in public collections, and the new documents that with patience can be weeded out of the text." M. E. Landgren

Library J 96:3747 N 15 '71 160w

"[Wilmerding's book] amounts almost to a rediscovery of [the] Cape Ann marine artist who seems to have pioneered the Maine coast for painters, and had interesting connections with the Hudson River school: the essay here is rather antiquarian." Rackstraw Downes

N Y Times Bk R p77 D 5 '71 40w

WILMINGTON, MARTIN W. The Middle East supply centre; ed. by Laurence Evans; foreword by Robert Jackson. 248p $10 State Univ. of N.Y. press

338.956 World War, 1939-1945—Near East.
World War, 1939-1945—Economic aspects
ISBN 0-87395-081-X LC 70-136278

This is "an analysis of the creation, evolution, responsibilities, and activities of the Middle East Supply Centre (MESC). . . . Established by the British government in 1941, with headquarters in Cairo . . . [it] supervised the civilian economy [of North Africa and the Middle East] during World War II. . . . It saw to the provisioning and feeding of some 100 million people in the area, supervised insect control, sought to meet health problems . . . and assured industrial production [for] . . . the civilian population [and] . . . the Allied armies in the area. . . . [Wilmington discusses] the supply problem during World War II, the moves leading to establishment of the MESC, the association of the United States in the Centre (James M. Landis), the Anglo-American phase of MESC operations, and the economic mobilization of the Middle East." (Ann Am Acad) Bibliography. Index.

"The study is clearly and succinctly written and will be welcomed by all thoughtful students of the Middle East. It is well-annotated and contains an excellent selected bibliography, with a listing of MESC and other useful documents. Appendices include the MESC plan of organization (June 1943), and useful tables of Middle Eastern trade. Laurence Evans, of the State University of New York at Binghamton, has rendered a most useful service in putting the book into final shape and making it available." H. N. Howard

Ann Am Acad 400:161 Mr '72 420w

"[This account] is an historical description and evaluation, providing little insight into contemporary economic problems of the Middle East. Wilmington alludes to some implications of this World War II experiment for economic regionalism, but given the military context under which the Middle East Supply Centre was organized, the applications to a more peaceful economic development setting are extremely limited. Might be of interest to World II historians and military strategists."

Choice 9:417 My '72 120w

WILNER, HERBERT, jt. auth. College days in earthquake country. See Litwak, L.

WILSON, ARTHUR M. Diderot. 917p il $25 Oxford

B or 92 Diderot, Denis
LC 57-8485

"The volume begins with the full text of Wilson's Diderot: the Testing Years, 1713-1759 [BRD 1957], reprinted with corrections. Then, in a new second part, comes the rest of . . . [the] story: how, surreptitiously and almost single-handedly, Diderot put together the last ten volumes of the outlawed Encyclopédie; how he endured Catherine's hospitality in Russia; [and] how he wrote works too brilliantly adventurous for publication in his own time." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

Choice 9:1138 N '72 250w

Economist 245:67 O 7 '72 180w

"Here is the most comprehensive, indeed probably the best book ever written about [Diderot], a critical bibliography as reliable as it is readable." F. M. Keener

Library J 97:2580 Ag '72 150w

Reviewed by Hiram Caton

Nat R 24:1255 N 10 '72 1050w

Reviewed by James Walt

New Repub 167:30 S 30 '72 1900w

"With the completion of Part II ('The Appeal to Posterity'), of his 'Diderot,' Arthur Wilson gives us an account of the man and his world rich in detail, relentless in its uncovering of biographical connective tissue, cautious to a fault and nuanced in its judgments. In its circumstantial mastery of the social world of the Enlightenment and in the range and depth of Diderot scholarship on which it is based, this biography—Wilson's life work—is unlikely to be surpassed in our time." Emanuel Chill

N Y Times Bk R p6 S 17 '72 2400w

"This definitive biography . . . is long, detailed, expensive, and utterly absorbing. Professor Wilson writes well. So did Diderot—better than his contemporaries knew, since, as Wilson points out, his remarkable imaginative works ('The Nun,' 'Rameau's Nephew,' and 'Jacques the Fatalist') were not published in his lifetime. What was published, of course, brought him both fame and trouble. Wilson emphasizes Diderot's courage in sticking to his job as editor of the 'Encyclopédie'—its bannings and suppressions scared off some of his collaborators, among them d'Alembert and Voltaire. Wilson also traces the evolution of

WILSON, ARTHUR—Continued

Diderot's thought, and keeps up with the multiplicity of his interests. . . . [Diderot] deserves a biography as good as this." New Yorker 48:80 J1 29 '72 250w

Reviewed by Georges May
Yale R 62:113 O '72 3250w

WILSON, ARTHUR M., Diderot: the testing years, 1713-1759. See Wilson, A. M., Diderot

WILSON, COLIN. The occult; a history. 601p il $10 Random house
133 Occult sciences
ISBN 0-394-46555-5 LC 76-159389

The author is concerned with "man's sub-conscious power, his 'sixth sense,' which Wilson calls 'Faculty X'." . . . To support his conviction that magic is the science of the future . . . he argues the connection between creativity and psychic sensitivity, and tapping of the subconscious mind for the forces that are normally inaccessible to consciousness. . . . [He then gives a] history of magic, adepts, and outstanding occultists, including imposters. . . . [He discusses] man's latent powers as revealed in witchcraft, spiritualism, telepathy, clairvoyance etc. . . . [and] the metaphysical questions that arise out of occultism, as well as the problem of time." (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

Reviewed by Phoebe Adams
Atlantic 229:96 Ja '72 130w

"Wilson has thoroughly researched his subject and writes in the clear, lively style of his former works. By its all-inclusive intelligent survey of the vast field of occult lore, shrewd perceptions, and conclusions drawn, this book is unique. It is especially valuable for the thinking reader who is searching for a book on the occult that is more than a collection of marvels, absurdities, or 'do-it-yourself' techniques. Excellent bibliography. . . . Highly recommended for college, high school, and public libraries." Choice 9:200 Ap '72 270w

"[Faculty X] is an extremely diffuse concept which allows [Wilson] no basis for clear discrimination between, say, the psychic excesses of hysterical Victorians and the transfigured vision of men such as Sri Ramakrishna or G. I. Gurdjieff. [He] takes us from primitive man . . . up to the Theosophists, spiritualists and psychics of modern times, with intensive reportage along the way on vampires, wolfmen, flying saucers, recent neurophysiological research and the great poets and mystics of all traditions. . . . To some small extent, the book is redeemed by the fascinating anecdotes and facts which Wilson's voracious reading has turned up, and which his slack conceptual structure permits him to throw in on almost every page. But what is most instructive is the overwhelming failure of the book to distinguish what is serious from what is irrelevant in this whole area." Jacob Needleman

Commonweal 96:173 Ap 21 '72 480w

"What is most consistent in [Mr Wilson's] works is an irritating smugness for which one is puzzled to find any justification. . . . He is an unashamed obscurantist; he likens the role of reason and consciousness to that of a secret police force and enjoins his disciples to develop that mysterious element in their make-up he defines as 'Faculty X'—which is no more and no less than 'that latent power that human beings possess to reach beyond the present.' Now of course there is always room for another good book on any of the fascinating subjects that Mr Wilson glosses over (ranging from cabalism to telepathy) but the author lacks the discipline or application to write any of them. When it comes to documenting 'Faculty X,' he falls back on banal incidents from his everyday life." Economist 241:xxii N 6 '71 360w

Reviewed by Goronwy Rees
Encounter 39:56 Ag '72 800w

Reviewed by Robert Lima
Sat R 55:48 Ja 15 '72 1450w

"Interest in occultism often involves a certain immaturity," says Colin Wilson, and many of the stories retailed in The Occult support such a view, for most of the massive volume is a hotchpotch of magic, witchcraft, spiritualism and the like. . . . Mr Wilson should stick to fiction, or take the thirty odd pages on Faculty X and develop a coherent theory without the occult allies, which far from being big supporting guns are more like damp squibs, bringing weariness and scepticism about the whole claim to possess latent powers which enable man to reach beyond the present. The publishers claim that the book is 'overwhelming', and so it is, but not in their sense."

TLS p1471 N 26 '71 450w

WILSON, DAVID. Body and antibody; a report on the new immunology. 331p il $8.95 Knopf

574.2 Immunity. Microbiology
ISBN 0-394-46157-6 LC 70-154943

Describing the development of immunology during the past twenty years, the author explains the concepts of biological individuality, antibodies, antigens, and the basis of immune reactions. He also writes of immunology's applications to organ transplants, cancer, allergies and contraception. Bibliography. Index.

"Immunology for the educated layman, or what the author calls the 'me' and 'not me', is presented in a most readable form. It gives the essential basis for the science as well as its history to anyone who has a bare minimum of scientific knowledge. The latest developments and the forefront of the field are explained in an interesting manner. . . . The book is strongly recommended as an introductory presentation."

Choice 9:389 My '72 80w

"Wilson, science editor for the BBC, has written a lucid, comprehensive, and fascinating account of how modern immunology developed, what is being done in this field today, and what the possibilities are for the future. . . . Throughout the text, he draws attention to specific areas where more information and knowledge are needed, and he mentions broad fields of immunology, such as aging, in which career possibilities exist for people with inquiring minds. Body and Antibody will be well used in high school, college and public libraries." W. K. Beatty
Library J 96:4102 D 15 '71 200w

WILSON, DEREK. A Tudor tapestry; men, women and society in Reformation England. 287p il $9.95 Univ. of Pittsburgh press

274.2 Reformation. Great Britain—History
—Tudors, 1485-1603
ISBN 0-8229-3242-3 LC 71-158187

"During the years between 1520 and 1546—that is, throughout the really critical years of Henry VIII's reign—England experienced one of the greatest social, political and religious upheavals in its history, and the first question Mr Wilson is moved to ask is: What was it like for men and women to live through the English Reformation . . . and what kinds of people were they for whom these crises were the realities of history?" (TLS) Bibliography.

Choice 9:1346 D '72 170w

"Wilson concentrates on Lincolnshire and the Ascough family which produced the famous martyr Anne Askew. His picture of Tudor England is impeccable in its detail and moving in its overriding spiritual involvement: a rare and most admirable achievement." R. R. Rea

Library J 97:1323 Ap 1 '72 180w

"In order to emphasize the crisis through which these people lived the author compares his chapters to a series of panels in a Tudor tapestry, the separate items of which blend into the Tudor scene. A word must be spared for Mr Wilson's thoroughness and breadth of research. He has spared no labour in working through the archives of Lincolnshire families, central and local and other records, which have resulted in much fresh information, while the arrangement and evaluation has produced a piece of historical writing as informative as it is readable."

TLS p949 Ag 11 '72 350w

WILSON, DICK. The long march, 1935; the epic of Chinese communism's survival. 331p pl maps $8.95 Viking

951 China. (People's Republic of China). Army. China (People's Republic of China)—History
ISBN 670-43845-6 LC 73-174663

This is an account of the 6000 mile march of the Chinese communist army. "In October, 1934, the Chinese communists were forced to abandon their principal base in southern China, the Central Soviet Area. For a year they marched on a twisting . . . route . . . pursued by the armies of Chiang Kai-shek and provincial warlords, until the . . . remnants reached . . . Shensi where the existing base was transformed into the headquarters of the communist movement, which ultimately established the People's Republic." (Economist) Bibliography. Index.

Reviewed by W. T. Foley
America 126:326 Mr 25 '72 220w

Reviewed by P. A. Cohen
Ann Am Acad 403:178 S '72 500w

Reviewed by Elbridge Colby
Best Sell 31:546 Mr 1 '72 300w

Reviewed by Ronald Steel
Book World p1 Ap 9 '72 160w

Reviewed by A. P. Klausler
Christian Century 89:488 Ap 26 '72 500w

Reviewed by W. W. Whitson
Christian Science Monitor p18 Mr 23 '72 700w

"As well as recounting the numerous examples of heroism which occurred, Mr Wilson also treats the political events of the march in the greatest detail. The political and personal clash between Chang Kuo-t'ao and Mao Tse-tung, and the somewhat ambivalent behaviour of Chu Teh receive great attention. Much of the history of this period is obscure and tortuous. If Mr Wilson does not go beyond his sources in his interpretations, in part at least because of his reliance on translations from his Chinese sources, he does provide a very detailed account, spiced with generous quotations from accounts of the long march by some of the survivors." Economist 210:45 J1 31 '71 390w

"[This march] has become the central myth of the Chinese Revolution. As the author observes, the story is 'the journalist's delight and the scholar's nightmare' because of the paucity of primary sources to clear up controversial points on the one hand, and the wealth of legends on the other. Wilson has struck a happy balance, relying wherever possible on scholarly works to give an accurate picture of leadership disputes and changes and quoting extensively from reminiscences of the march to convey the dramatic essence of the story. The result is an engrossing account of this formative episode in Chinese Communist history." A. J. Nathan Library J 97:71 Ja 1 '72 150w

Reviewed by R. J. Walton
Nation 214:726 Je 5 '72 800w

Reviewed by J. P. Harrison
N Y Times Bk R p3 F 20 '72 1500w
New Yorker 48:154 Mr 18 '72 300w

"No understanding of Mao Tse-tung's present state—psychological or otherwise—is possible without some knowledge of the Chang Cheng, the Long March upcountry by which the Chinese Communist forces escaped annihilation nearly 40 years ago. . . . Wilson's story is filled with heroism, excitement and sharp detail that even the dreariest agitprop boiler plate cannot obscure. . . . The bare statistics of the Chang Chen are staggering: 24 rivers and 18 mountain ranges crossed, ceaseless skirmishing, 62 cities taken, breakouts from ten encirclements. . . . Since [the author] attempts nothing in the way of original research, the full story of the Long March remains to be written. . . . Above all, one perceives how the unchallenged superiority of Mao came about." Charles Elliott Time 99:74 F 21 '71 500w

"[This] story cries out for an Homeric canvas. . . . Such was the charismatic value of the Long March, after the communist victory in 1949, that no good man could afford not to have been there. . . . [The author's] long experience of writing about China enables him to make propaganda materials assist in telling the story without succumbing to the temptation of accepting or rejecting them in toto. . . . [He] makes admirable use of all the latest research to demonstrate the complexity of events. For the details of the March itself, he is left with the less satisfactory method of selective comparisons from the recollections of survivors. . . . [and he] interprets the moves of Chiang Kai-shek and his often reluctant allies only on the basis of documents from the communist side.

. . . [He] deserves congratulation for the way he has presented this story and its background."

TLS p964 Ag 13 '71 1000w
Va Q R 48:cxlv autumn '72 180w

WILSON, EDMUND. To the Finland station; a study in the writing and acting of history; with a new introduction. 2d ed 590p $15 Farrar, Straus

335 Socialism, Communism, History—Philosophy
ISBN 0-374-27833-4 LC 77-187695

A "study of the modern conception of history in the West. [Wilson] has restored the appendices which appeared in the first edition [BRD 1940]. . . . The book takes its title from the scene of Lenin's arrival from Germany in April 1917, ready to take over the leadership of the Russian Revolution and in doing so bring to a climax the political and intellectual movements which are the subject of this study. . . . Wilson traces the treatment of history through [Vico,] Michelet, Taine, Renan, and Anatole France; and examines the ideas of the early socialists, Saint-Simon, Babeuf, Fourier, and others. The [book then deals with] Marx and Engels, . . . Lenin and Trotsky and the origins of the Russian Revolution." (Publisher's note) Index.

"I want to argue that [this book] is far more original and more powerful than its first generation of readers could have known. . . . In an age of historical amnesia, [it] can remind us that our history is alive and open and rich with excitement and promise. It can remind today's radicals of their own roots, and so put them in touch with sources of life and nourishment that they badly need to keep their vision and energy from drying up. And it can remind today's defenders of 'tradition' how radical our cultural traditions really are. . . . [This] work of the historical imagination at its most creative puts us in touch with the revolutionary dreams and visions of our past." Marshall Berman

N Y Times Bk R p1 Ag 20 '72 1050w
"The book seems to me to have become crisper, in some mysterious way, . . . to have moved away from topical domestic hopes into the classic condition and to be Wilson's most enlarging work. I cannot think of any other American historical essay so fine in texture, at any rate, in this century. . . . [It] is perhaps the only book on the grand scale to come out of the thirties—in either England or America. . . . Again and again its sudden queer asides, its touches of vernacular pugnacity, its minuteness, and—for that matter—its shrewdness, piety, and good will mark it as deeply American. . . . It is because it never loses sight of the pain gnawing at the heart of the human conscience that Wilson's discursive record, untouched by rhetoric, achieves pages one can only call noble." V. S. Pritchett New Yorker 48:75 D 23 '72 2750w

"For this new edition, Wilson has added a short preface, corrected some errors. (He had been, he admits, too kind about Lenin's character.) But he shows no regret for not having carried the story further. How right he was. The book does not emphasize, but is dramatically explicit about the horrors of Stalinism. It is also perceptive about those aspects of Marxian theory and practice that bode ill for revolution. . . . [It] is illuminated by a contagious awe at mankind's need to believe that the course of history and steady human progress are inevitably linked. . . . Like Michelet's histories, as Edmund Wilson describes them, this book 'makes us feel that we ourselves are the last chapter of the story and that the next chapter is for us to create.'" Timothy Foote

Time 100:67 Ag 21 '72 700w

WILSON, EDMUND. A window on Russia; for the use of foreign readers. 280p $7.95 Farrar, Straus

891.7 Russian literature—History and criticism
ISBN 0-374-29094-6 LC 70-183236

"A collection of Wilson's papers on Russian writers and the Russian language, written between 1943 and 1971. . . . There are essays on Pushkin, Gogol, Chekhov, Turgenev, Tolstoy, and Sukhovo-Kobylin. . . . two pieces on the Russian language . . . chapters on Svetlana Alliluyeva, Alexander Solzhenitsyn, and 'The

WILSON, EDMUND—Continued
 Strange Case of Pushkin and Nabokov." "
 (Publisher's note)

"[These papers] prove to be what one would expect from a critic of Wilson's stature—learned, elegantly written, perceptive, and full of shrewd, highly independent judgments. The collection begins with an amusing description of the horrors of Russian grammar, discusses various authors, touches on Wilson's famous row with Vladimir Nabokov over the latter's translation into English of Evgeni Onegin, and ends with a rather testy tribute to Alexander Solzhenitsyn. Every essay is a delight." Phoebe Adams

Atlantic 230:110 S '72 100w

"The present retrospective collection offers engaging examples of [Wilson's] developing approach to Russian literature as it evolved over the past 30 years. The essays, which appeared in the Atlantic, the Nation, the New Yorker, and the New York Review of Books . . . include . . . a gathering of all the fugitive pieces on Russian subjects not collected in earlier volumes. Having come to his involvement with Russian literature relatively late in his career (in the late 1940's), Wilson has at times been disparaged by both native Russians . . . and by academic specialists. Nonetheless, in the finest tradition of literary journalism, he does indeed open a 'window on Russia' for the general reader; and he does it with consummate style and perception." Rosemary Neiswender

Library J 97:2401 J1 '72 180w

"Some of the items are, frankly, rather thin, but the best are vintage Wilson. 'Gogol: the Demon in the Overgrown Garden' (1952) still strikes me as one of the most helpful brief accounts in English of an often misinterpreted Russian master. . . . Reading this lively volume I was often moved . . . to gratitude and admiration. Even as I query specific judgments or implicit claims to heresy, I delight in the astounding range of curiosity and insight, the aptness of phrasing, the unerring sense of relevance. In the fact of so much joyless ax-grinding, what a pleasure it is to listen to a critic so eager for exploration and discovery, so open to the risks and opportunities of literary experience!" Victor Erlich

N Y Times Bk R p28 O 1 '72 1200w

"Wilson's involvement with the Russian language is the essence of this book. . . . Curiously, for a book aimed at non-Russian readers, Wilson consistently quotes extracts from verse and prose in Russian. Properly skeptical of translations, he makes the reader wish that he, too, had the language. . . . Wilson's long piece on Turgenev is one of his best essays, combining in exemplary fashion the biographical and literary elements of the author's career. All of these pieces show Wilson determined to get rid of old-fashioned stereotypes of Russian literature—the gloomy, formless, mystical kind of story that we once thought Russians wrote—and to put in their place his own, more astute and clever generalizations." P. S. Prescott

Newsweek 80:32 S 4 '72 500w

WILSON, EDWARD O. The insect societies.
 548p il $20 Belknap press of Harvard univ. press

595.7 Insects
 ISBN 0-674-45490-1 LC 74-148941

In addition to "descriptions of specific groups of organisms, Wilson attempts to bring much diverse information, including fundamental concepts of evolution and ecology, into a conceptual format he terms unified sociobiology. He devotes several chapters to detailed descriptions of various activities necessary to maintenance of the societies, including a chapter on genetic theories relating to social behavior." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

Choice 9:83 Mr '72 140w

"It is fair to say that this work is the most masterful synthesis of knowledge of the social insects to appear in the last half-century. . . . [The author] writes: 'The principal goal of a general theory of sociobiology should be an ability to predict features of social organization from a knowledge of these population parameters combined with information on the behavioral constraints imposed by the genetic constitution of the species.' As such it will apply to 'both termite colonies and troops of rhesus macaques.' This is a goal which may never be achieved but Wilson has gone far both in defining pertinent evolutionary parameters for a general theory and in providing a review of the processes in the class Insecta necessary for a comprehensive view of all social animals." J. D. Buffington

 Library J 97:209 Ja 15 '72 180w

Reviewed by Ernest Van Den Haag
 Nat R 24:699 Je 23 '72 800w

"While much of the book was clearly written with professional biologists in mind, it will undoubtedly become the standard reference volume for anyone with a question to ask about social insects. People for whom 'dichthadiform ergatogyne' is not a household word will be aided by a multitude of illustrations, an extensive index, and a glossary [which] includes both technical terms and ordinary words. The illustrations deserve special mention. Wilson has used exceptional taste and care in choosing from among the best published drawings and photographs of social insect behavior and natural history, adding some unpublished ones supplied by colleagues and two excellent commissioned artists." M. J. W. Eberhard

Natur Hist 81:86 F '72 1750w

Reviewed by C. P. Haskins
 N Y Times Bk R p3 Mr 19 '72 2650w

"[This work] gives an extraordinarily complete and up-to-date account of the natural history of social insects with their great proliferation of genera, species, and behavioral types. . . . The literature of the subject is immense—there are nearly 2000 references in the bibliography of the book—and Wilson, though primarily a myrmecologist, is well enough acquainted with the other groups to give very good accounts of them. . . . The study of social insects has always provided a very rich field for the naturalist, but it has now been developed to the point where many of the problems have become suitable for the attention of geneticists, physiologists, and biochemists. For specialists in those fields who need a guide to the facts and their background and suggestions for problems to which their skills might be applied, Wilson's book will be an ideal source." O. W. Richards

Science 174:811 N 19 '71 1050w

Reviewed by Philip Morrison
 Sci Am 227:193 S '72 1750w

WILSON, ELLEN GIBSON. A West African cook book; an introduction to good food from Ghana, Liberia, Nigeria and Sierra Leone with recipes collected and adapted by Ellen Gibson Wilson. 267p il $3.95 Evans, M.&co; for sale by Lippincott
 LC 77-150796

The author "discusses African foods, their basic characteristics and ingredients [and] relates African cooking to American Southern cookery." (Library J) Bibliography.

"With the current interest in black culture, a half dozen books on black cookery have emerged in the past two years. Some attempt to cover the entire field, others are limited to South Africa. Wilson's is the only one I have located limited to West African cookery. It compares favorably with B. Sandler's very authoritative African Cookbook and is more useful generally than H. Hachten's Kitchen Safari [both in BRD 1971]. . . . Wilson includes much history and geography, as well as carefully prepared recipes. . . . [She also] includes a very good bibliography. Recommended." Neva White

Library J 97:875 Mr 1 '72 140w

"For good news about unfamiliar cuisine, I recommend [this book]. It tells, with apologies of what has to be left out (a seldom-found courtesy), about the foods of Ghana, Liberia, Sierra Leone and Nigeria—with their backgrounds. I made an excellent Chicken and Okra dish from one entry. Interestingly, it used no fat and was admired by my American guests. The ingredients for almost every dish are to be had in our supermarkets and the author is explicit about the others. A book that really gives you something new." Nika Hazelton

N Y Times Bk R p34 D 12 '71 80w

Reviewed by Philip Morrison
 Sci Am 227:129 N '72 370w

WILSON, F. P. The Oxford dictionary of English proverbs [3d ed]. See The Oxford dictionary of English proverbs [3d ed]

WILSON, FRANK L. The French democratic left, 1963-1969; toward a modern party system. 253p $8.95 Stanford univ. press

329.944 France—Politics and government—1958—. Right and left (Political science) ISBN 0-8047-0743-4 LC 74-143787

"During the 1960's, three major efforts were made to transform the French non-Communist Left into a more modern, cohesive type of political organization. This study describes the efforts, explains the reasons for their failure, and makes some general observations on the way parties and party systems are changed." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

Reviewed by J. C. Cairns

Am Hist R 77:1137 O '72 380w

"[This is an] admirable book. . . . Wilson lays the 'blocking' of efforts toward a democratic Left 'catch-all' party primarily at the feet of Guy Mollet. . . . [He is] careful in both text and footnotes. . . . [and his] list of interviews with elusive French politicians is enviable." R. B. Capelle

Ann Am Acad 400:184 Mr '72 260w

"A very welcome addition to the meager list of volumes available in English on modern French political history. It brings clarity to French politics in the confusing period, 1963-69. . . . The book is readable, interesting, and always clear. Its authoritativeness is enhanced by the citation of more than 70 interviews and by an unusually thorough job of research. Extensive bibliography; adequate index. Footnotes are numerous and useful but, alas, are at the back of the book. Recommended for college and graduate libraries."

Choice 8:1091 O '71 140w

Economist 244:45 Ag 12 '72 250w

WILSON, HAROLD. A personal record: the Labour Government, 1964-1970 [Eng title: The Labour Government, 1964-1970: a personal record]. (An Atlantic monthly press bk) 836p il $15 Little

942.085 Great Britain—Politics and government—1945—. Great Britain—Economic policy. Great Britain—Foreign relations ISBN 0-316-94489-0 LC 70-170166

This volume covers "the five years and nine months from October, 1964, to June, 1970, during which [Wilson] served as Prime Minister of Great Britain. . . . [The central theme is the] imbalance-of-payments problem inherited by the Labour party in 1964 and the process by which this . . . trade deficit of over £800 millions was transformed into a strong surplus by 1970." (Best Sell) Index.

Reviewed by Trevor Lloyd

Am Hist R 77:1446 D '72 400w

"Since little background information is given on the various agencies, offices, and people discussed in the book, those American readers who are not familiar with the structure of British government and its institutions may find it rather heavy going. Wilson follows a rigidly chronological order, a method which for all of its demands upon the reader does dramatically point out how any head of government must face problems 'not singly or single-mindedly, but simultaneously against the background of a hundred other issues.' . . . For those seeking major revelations, there is a full report on the attempt by Wilson, in February, 1967, to start Vietnam peace negotiations during a visit by Premier Kosygin to London. . . . In discussing personalities, Wilson is more than usually reserved. . . . [He] makes no pretense that he has written any definitive history. As a personal record, however, this book carries great authority and represents a source no later historian can afford to ignore." F. X. J. Homer

Best Sell 31:406 D 1 '71 750w

Reviewed by D. I. Davies

Canadian Forum 51:37 N '71 2000w

Choice 8:1512 Ja '72 140w

Reviewed by J. A. May

Christian Science Monitor p15 D 9 '71 450w

"[This] book is extremely readable, surprisingly so for something so lengthy and so hastily done: it is very good journalism all through and in some sections, such as . . . [Wilson's] meeting with de Gaulle at Versailles and his recollection of Aberfan, he aims at and attains a higher effect. His account of his visit to Nigeria at the height of the Biafran war is a model of personal reporting: brisk, clear and informative."

Economist 240:43 Jl 31 '71 1350w

"The strength of the book is that it is honestly and vividly written. . . . The reader is aware at once that Wilson was a strong prime minister, with a deep knowledge of each department of government." J. H. Thompson

Library J 96:3325 O 15 '71 150w

Reviewed by Tibor Szamuely

Nat R 24:49 Ja 21 '72 1350w

Reviewed by Anthony Howard

New Repub 165:23 D 4 '71 1650w

Reviewed by Francis Hope

N Y Times Bk R p4 D 19 '71 1550w

"The opening pages of Harold Wilson's personal record are not unlike a political speech or an election manifesto. They determine both the theme and the language in which it is to be expressed. . . . No doubt remains of Mr Wilson's consummate skill in choosing and using words. Many readers will have wondered how he would vindicate certain of his past undertakings, but his verbal dexterity never fails. . . . There is certainly an unusual frankness and even harshness in some of his expressions of opinion [about his colleagues and subordinates]. . . . [He] is no respecter of persons or conventions. . . . One of the recurrent weaknesses of his memoirs is . . . the determination to prove himself, on all essential matters, constantly in the right. . . . The total impression is of a prolix and not very well organized diary. Episodes jostle each other on and off the page just as the papers relating to them must have done across the Prime Minister's desk."

TLS p875 Jl 30 '71 2550w

WILSON, JOAN HOFF. American business & foreign policy, 1920-1933. 339p $9.95 Univ. press of Ky.

327.73 U.S.—Commercial policy. U.S.—Foreign relations ISBN 0-8131-1216-8 LC 77-147855

In this study of business men in shaping foreign policy, the author "examines the attitudes and actions of individual businessmen, industries, and business or trade organizations to determine the extent to which government officials were subjected to pressure from various segments of the business community, and the degree to which they responded." (Introd) Bibliography. Index.

"Avoiding the clichés of many New Left historians, Wilson . . . finds that the business community constituted no monolith, but was rather divided along occupational, sectional, partisan, 'organizational,' and 'dimensional' lines. As a result, wide differences existed within the business community over the leading foreign policy issues of the era. . . . Wilson seeks to reappraise American foreign policy as a whole during this period. She sees as the hallmark of that policy a commitment to 'independent internationalism.'"

Choice 9:129 Mr '72 220w

"The book merits praise for avoiding the outworn 'international versus isolationist' formula and for adding new information gained from business sources. As such it supplements the extant literature usefully, although the findings do not seem as important or as original as the author appears to think. There are some deficiencies. In early chapters, Wilson emphasizes business activity, but in the latter three chapters especially she concentrates on government operations without comparable reference to business. The result is a distressing imbalance, one that frequently robs the analysis of full credibility as a study of interaction between government and business. It must also be said that the account is exceptionally tedious, lacking in that imaginativeness which might have transformed the piece into an absorbing narrative." D. F. Trask

J Am Hist 59:463 S '72 450w

"This [is a] highly stimulating study. . . . Splendidly researched and smoothly written, this work stands as one of the finest recent studies of America's interwar diplomacy." Charles DeBenedetti

Library J 97:1014 Mr 15 '72 180w

WILSON, JOHN A. Thousands of years; an archaeologist's search for ancient Egypt. 218p il $9.95 Scribner

B or 92 Archeologists

SBN 684-12728-8 LC 73-179442

The former director of the "Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago relates the story of his personal and scholarly life. Index.

WILSON, J. A.—Continued

"Both the title and the subtitle mislead as to the real character of this book, the memoirs of one of America's eminent Egyptologists. . . . The book is exciting reading for the student, scholar, or general reader who is interested in knowing formative factors and extra-academic pursuits in the life and work of an authority in his field. As absorbing as its pages are, the book is hardly essential to the average library."

Choice 9:1024 O '72 120w

"[Wilson is] a master storyteller. And in conformity with this art, his book will appeal to a wide audience. Aspiring archaeologists, Egyptologists, or those who just have an interest in ancient history will find much behind-the-scenes information. Those who have shared in the academic environment and who have participated on an expedition will find much to empathize with." F. M. Lauritsen

Library J 97:1323 Ap 1 '72 90w

WILSON, JULIET, jt. auth. The life and complete work of Francisco Goya. See Gassier, P.

WILSON, LARMAN C. jt. auth. The United States and the Trujillo regime. See Atkins, G. P.

WILSON, LOIS. The complete gardener; a lively practical guide wherever you live; with special contributions by regional experts. rev & enl ed 431p il $12.95 Hawthorn bks.

635 Gardening
LC 77-179112

Among the topics covered by this book are "gardening according to region, gardening by design, gardening for the seasons (and various kinds of soil preparation)." (Best Sell)

"[This is] as complete an encyclopedia of gardening as the ordinary part-time digger and planter could ever wish. . . . The consultants listed in the credits are all specialists, all highly qualified. The color photographs are simply exquisite."

Best Sell 32:89 My 15 '72 90w

"[Wilson] has gathered together an amazing amount of practical instruction and factual data covering a tremendous range of subjects. The section entitled 'Guides to Gardening in Eleven Regions of the United States,' written by nationally known regional experts, is a valuable reference source. The . . . line drawings depicting gardening operations and structures are excellent. With the help of its comprehensive index, this volume should serve as a ready-reference guide for gardeners throughout the United States." E. C. Hall

Library J 97:2624 Ag '72 80w

WILSON, MITCHELL. Passion to know; the world's scientists. 409p $10 Doubleday 509 Science. Scientists
LC 79-171329

The author "suggests that the differences in science between one country and another are of prime importance, because the shape of any society today is determined far more by developments in its science and technology than by any political bill enacted into law. He . . . analyzes science in the U.S., U.S.S.R., England, France, Germany, Israel, Japan, Australia, and India in terms of its history and present status. Numerous scientists from these countries are quoted as they discuss their motivations for selecting science as a career, their educations, their ideas, their experiments, and related topics." (Library J) Index.

Reviewed by M. S. Feider

Library J 97:1450 Ap 15 '72 100w

"[Wilson] is very interesting, and his book, both temperate and international in spirit, has a genuine value. . . . Sometimes he has the sparkle of a scientifically-trained John Gunther, writing a new volume entitled 'Inside Science.' Occasionally he is inexact. About the United Kingdom, for instance, some of his facts are inaccurate or a number of years behind the times. The general picture doesn't convey a seriously wrong impression, but like other Americans he much underestimates the social mobility of British society. . . . On the other hand, he is dead right in one of his sharpest observations. A very large proportion of the world's top scientists spring from, not rich, but educated minor professional families." C. P. Snow

N Y Times Bk R p4 Je 18 '72 800w

"This unusual volume . . . is filled with good conversations. . . . A shrewd observer, albeit an opinionated one, [the author] conveys the feel of a Pasadena laboratory or a Cambridge common room, of the smart dining hall of the Tata Institute overlooking the ancient dhows of Bombay harbor or the gray kangaroos bounding past the big radio telescope at Parkes in Australia. Famous men enter but by no means dominate his report; the young and the reflective are his particular sources."

Philip Morrison

Sci Am 227:121 O '72 1050w

WILSON, MONA. The life of William Blake; a new ed. ed. by Geoffrey Keynes. 415p $12.50 Oxford

B or 92 Blake, William
SBN 19-211707-6

For this new edition, "Keynes explains in his preface, he has not attempted to alter any 'expression of opinion or justifiable conjecture' of Miss Wilson's. He has, however, added many additional footnotes of his own where Blake scholarship since 1948 has altered her 'facts.' He has also . . . added references to original footnotes, pointing us to material unavailable in 1948." (Choice) Bibliography. Index. For the second edition published in 1948 see BRD 1950.

"[Alexander] Gilchrist's Life of Blake, [published in 1880], is a charming but naive and dated book. Wilson's biography sought to update and correct Gilchrist's and it has always been an authoritative and much used text. In the absence of a new and definitive biography, the reprinting of her book, many years out of print, would in itself be welcome. But this is more than a reissue. It has been thoroughly edited by Geoffrey Keynes, whose name alone is a guarantee of its soundness. . . . References to Blake's own writings are, blessedly, keyed to the text now used by most students—that of the 'Oxford standard authors.' The present book is, therefore, more convenient to use, more correct in the light of present scholarship, and is published on a page less cramped and difficult to read than the o.p. version."

Choice 9:372 My '72 280w

"The virtues of this biography remain its readability, its concision, its vivid sense of detail, and its critical handling of nineteenth-century sources, especially those post-dating Gilchrist's Life. . . . Though valuable in its time as an effort to trace the dialectic of ideas in Blake's life and work, it adopted rather too uncritically S. F. Damon's view of Blake's career as following the Five Stages of the Mystic Way, a pattern which distorts chronology and stresses an element of mysticism in Blake's work which, in any meaningful sense of the word, is simply not there. Yet [it] is worth rereading for what it does contain, and worth recommending to the reader still unacquainted with Blake himself—if such a reader still exists."

TLS p1537 D 10 '71 230w

WILSON, MONICA, ed. The Oxford history of South Africa, v2. See The Oxford history of South Africa, v2

WILSON, R. G. Gentlemen merchants: the merchant community in Leeds, 1700-1830. 271p maps $12.50 Kelley

309.1427 Merchants. Leeds, England—Commerce
SBN 0-678-06785-6 LC 79-149804

The author "describes the growth of the merchant community in Leeds, . . . analyses the changing relationship between merchants, clothiers, industrial capitalists and landed aristocracy, and assesses the impact at various times of the Leeds merchants on the life both of the town and of the county. . . . [Dr Wilson also sketches the shifting fortunes of the well-established woollen industry between the beginning of the century and the advent of factory industry." (Economist) Bibliography. Index of subjects and places. Index of names and firms.

"This elegantly written and beautifully organized survey of a key group in English economic history . . . is an artful combination of business, family, regional, and general economic history. Wilson's . . . book will be welcomed by all students of economic history and by advanced students of English history; but it is perhaps too specialized for our smaller college libraries."

Choice 9:108 Mr '72 160w

Economist 240:48 Ag 28 '71 400w

"The merchants of eighteenth-century Leeds . . . occupied a key role in our premier industry. Just who those merchants were, their capital, profits and methods of working are the basic topics considered by Dr Wilson in his valuable study. . . . Their descendants commonly withdrew from trade altogether and became country gentry or cautiously conservative rentiers. . . . Dr Wilson adds considerably to our knowledge of the Yorkshire cloth trade and industry. More than that, he has many interesting things to say about Leeds itself and the life, politics, and religion of its merchants; and in doing all this he succeeds in illuminating some of the basic problems of this country's industrialization."

TLS p1528 D 3 '71 850w

WILSON, R. G., jr. ed. Land and industry. See Ward, J. T.

WILSON, RICHARD W. Learning to be Chinese: the political socialization of children in Taiwan. 203p il $12.50 MIT press

320.9512 Children in Taiwan. Education, Elementary—Taiwan. Taiwan—Politics and government
ISBN 0-262-23041-0 LC 74-107937

This volume "reports a multifaceted study of the political socialization of Chinese children in Taiwan, which the author uses to make provisional inferences about traditional Chinese political personality patterns." (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

"Throughout Wilson's book, we are simply told how 'Chinese parents' behave, and the way they behave is to use shaming and denial of love. For the vast majority of families on Taiwan, this, is, I believe, just plain wrong. . . . In a fascinating appendix, Wilson describes the centralized governmental control of curriculum, textbooks, and teaching methods, which is reinforced by periodic visits of inspection and classroom performance on centrally set exams. Because it is free of commentary, this is the most compelling part of the entire book. . . . The reader who has the perseverance to ignore the national-character argument while searching for this more descriptive material could be rewarded with considerable insight into what political socialization in Taiwan is really all about." N. J. Olsen

Am J Soc 77:334 S '71 1050w

"The core of Wilson's work compresses observations and questionnaire-derived data pertaining to three elementary schools in or near Taipei. The field research, carried out during the academic year 1965/66 also included interviews with pupils, teachers, and administrators. . . . No attempt has been made by Wilson to check relevant political attitudes and participation among older cohorts who shared similar educational experiences but, with age, brought additional factors into synthesis. . . . Perhaps because this reviewer is an anthropologist, the greatest value of Wilson's work is seen to lie in its ethnographic flashes and not in the sometimes forced and awkward attempts to locate the political responses of Taiwanese school children in the context of political enculturation research in the United States."

M. H. Fried

Ann Am Acad 398:157 N '71 900w

"A rather loosely written and loosely reasoned book by a Rutgers political scientist. . . . Wilson's frequent references to the culture and personality literature on China and the Chinese and his many illustrations from his open ended interviews with children make the book lively and thought provoking. His more formal quantitative data are not completely convincingly handled, however, and the disjointed quality of the overall exposition reflects poorly on the editing. In all, a desirable acquisition for moderately sizeable Asian studies and political socialization collections."

Choice 7:1705 F '71 120w

"Although the author is familiar with the Chinese (Formosan) scene, his methodology and theoretical insight are derived from the Occident. . . . There seems to have been no thought given to the possibility that the Chinese scene is sui generis, although the study rests its case on the ramifications of a shame ('face') culture for political orientations. . . . Despite the author's objectivity, it is difficult to escape the pervasive presence of the authoritarian state. . . . The strategies available to a people who must protect the face of their sub-group and their nation who must be outwardly obedient to authority, and who must repress impulses to rebel or criticize are not fully explored in this study." S. M. Lyman
Contemp Sociol 1:131 Mr '72 850w

WILSON, ROBERT, ed. The film criticism of Otis Ferguson. See Ferguson, O.

WILSON, T. D. An introduction to chain indexing. 85p $4.25 Linnet bks.

029.5 Indexing. Programmed instruction
ISBN 0-208-01069-6 LC 70-22688

This book is an "explanation of how to construct an alphabetical subject index to a classified catalog using the chain index method." (LRTS) Bibliography.

"Wilson leads the reader gently by the hand without insulting his intelligence through the arcane mysteries of chain indexing. . . . There are a number of appendixes in addition to the basic text: a set of worked examples in Dewey 17; a self-test (with answers); some examples in UDC, LC and Bliss; a brief (four item) bibliography; and a short (14 entry) topic index. A glossary would have been helpful. . . . The book is likely to be ignored in the U.S. simply because chain indexing is a British or Indian sport (in both senses of the term) rather than an American one. Ignoring it would be a mistake. Chain indexing analysis of classification is likely to prove extremely useful for devising means of expression of classification analysis in notation for computer manipulation." T. C. Hines

Library J 96:2471 Ag '71 220w

"Designed to be used with the 17th edition of the Dewey Decimal classification, this text makes an interesting exercise in determining subjects through classification. . . . An example of the successful application of this type of indexing may be found in the British National Bibliography prior to 1971 and the author has reproduced parts of BNB's chain indexes in his text." F. R. Ladd

LRTS 16:273 spring '72 280w

WILSON, WOODROW. The papers of Woodrow Wilson; v10, 1896-1898; Arthur S. Link [and others] eds; sponsored by the Woodrow Wilson foundation and Princeton university. 610p il $15 Princeton univ. press

973.91

ISBN 0-691-04508-9 LC (66-10880)

This tenth volume of the Papers opens "with Wilson's delivery on October 21, 1896, of his Sesquicentennial address, 'Princeton in the Nation's Service.' . . . The close of the volume [is] in the summer of 1898." (Introd) Index. For volumes one through nine see BRD 1966 through 1971.

Reviewed by Louis Filler

Ann Am Acad 404:286 N '72 200w

"The contents of the Papers naturally grow more diversified with the coverage of each passing year. Many addresses and notes for talks are reproduced, as well as an increasing number of news items about Wilson's public appearances. The editors have tried to locate as many of these notices as possible, and their practice is to include at least one notice for each address, to select the fullest one available, and to include significant portions of others in their footnotes. . . . There is considerable documentary material on Princeton and Johns Hopkins, including lecture notes for courses in the elements of politics, public law, and the history of law. All of this makes up a fascinating and immensely valuable body of materials, presented by the editors and publisher with scrupulous care and extraordinary skill." D. W. Grantham

J Am Hist 58:987 Mr '72 260w

Reviewed by W. A. Williams

N Y Rev of Books 17:3 D 2 '71 180w

WILSON, WOODROW—Continued

"Inevitably, these volumes will interest Princeton alumni more than they will interest mere outsiders. During the time that Wilson was in full command of Princeton University, his achievements were great, even if they did end in humiliating defeat. But with the possible exception of the speech celebrating the glories of the first century and a half of the Presbyterian Vatican, most of his activities . . . must seem small beer. . . . Of course, for the reader interested in Wilson as a world figure, the revelation of his temperament is fascinating. There are the letters from him to his wife and from Ellen to him. There is a good deal about his father, the Reverend Joseph Wilson—and grounds for the suspicion that he was, at times, a meddlesome nuisance."

TLS p578 My 19 '72 650w

Reviewed by F. C. Rosenberger
Va Q R 48:304 spring '72 250w

WILSON, WOODROW. The papers of Woodrow Wilson: vll. 1898-1900; Arthur S. Link (and others) eds; sponsored by the Woodrow Wilson foundation and Princeton university. 607p il $16 Princeton univ. press

973.91 U.S.—History—1898—
ISBN 0-691-04606-9 LC (66-10880)

This volume reveals "Wilson's reactions to the Spanish-American War and to unfolding events on the national and international scenes documented in newspaper reports of his speeches during this period. . . . [Included also are] his notes for a new course on constitutional government and for his projected magnum opus, 'The Philosophy of Politics,' . . . his articles, 'State Rights (1850-1860)' and 'The Reconstruction of the Southern States' . . . [and] papers relating to a statement of standards for graduate work. . . . 'When a Man Comes to Himself,' Wilson's report of his address to the Philadelphia Society of Princeton, and other papers document a . . . change in his religious beliefs during these years. Other, more personal documents included in the volume are . . . letters to his wife during two lengthy separations." (Publisher's note) Index. For volumes one through ten see BRD 1966 through 1972.

Reviewed by Louis Filler
Ann Am Acad 404:286 N '72 200w

Reviewed by W. A. Williams
N Y Rev of Books 17:3 D 2 '71 180w

"With volume 11 now at hand, it is impressively evident that seldom in any historiographic enterprise has there been so happy a conjunction of subject and editor. . . . Newly prominent . . . is the increased appearance of news reports of Wilson's addresses, well selected to serve the purpose of the editor to provide the most complete documentary record. . . . Of the editing of the 'Papers,' no more needs to be said than that [this volume maintains] . . . the standard set with the earlier volumes. The editorial apparatus—the admirable Editorial Notes and footnotes, the alphabetically arranged analytical table of contents, the comprehensive subject matter index which indexes both text and footnotes—does what editorial apparatus should but does not always do: it gracefully informs the reader and unobtrusively facilitates the use and enjoyment of the volume." F. C. Rosenberger

Va Q R 48:304 spring '72 250w

WIMSATT, WILLIAM A., ed. Biology of bats. v 1-2 il maps v 1 $25; v2 $26 Academic press
599 Bats
ISBN 0-12-753001-8 LC 77-117110

In these first two volumes of a projected multivolume work on the biology of bats five "chapters emphasize origin and evolution, karotyping, flight migration and homing, ecology and economy. The remaining 12 deal with anatomy and physiology." (Choice)

"All [chapters] are well referenced, the total references amounting to 1,916. Photos and drawings are well chosen and executed. . . . The student in general biology would be specially well served by the first five chapters. . . . The chapter on origin and evolution would be very useful to beginning biology [of the family Chiroptera] students. . . . Their great age (near 60 million years), their unique niche as the only mammalian volant and the wide distribution and closeness to man all make for interest. Inevitably, there is unevenness of quality in a work by so many people and in dealing with flight a qualitative approach would have been welcome. The striking omission of the respiratory and circulatory systems in a flying creature with such vast metabolic ranges is a characteristic of the state of the field and not of the volume itself."

Choice 8:1469 Ja '72 240w

"The list of contributors and the general excellence of the summaries is impressive. . . . These two volumes will be of interest not only to professional chiroptologists but to many others, including vertebrate zoologists, anatomists, physiologists, and public health workers." E. L. Cockrum

Science 173:806 Ag 27 '71 600w

WINCHESTER, BARRY. Beyond the tumult; with a foreword by Douglas Bader and an introd. by L. G. Nixon. 207p il $6.95 Scribner
940.0 European War, 1914-1918—Prisoners and prisons. Escapes
SBN 684-12848-9 LC 76-38528

The author records the "story of three British flyers of World War I. Lieutenants Cecil Blain and Caspar Kennard and Captain David Gray were all shot down and imprisoned by the Germans in 1916. This is the story of their trials and tribulations in the . . . prison camp at Holzminden from which they tunneled out and escaped to neutral Holland." (Library J)

"[This] is, of course, documentary support of accusations about Germany's treatment of war captives. . . . The chief value of the little volume is its adventure interest, for these three never gave up and showed, in their confinement, wisdom, acumen, and determination. As adventure it is fascinating reading. The research and judgment which put it together are very great, and it does deserve a niche in the history library, however informal it may be as history; but its chief value is as adventure literature which keeps the reader enthralled by details and suspense." Elbridge Colby

Best Sell 32:89 My 15 '72 130w

"Many books have been written in recent years relating the escape attempts successful and not of World War II prisoners of war; Winchester, however, has done extensive research to bring forth this interesting and well-written escape story." W. N. Hess
Library J 97:1324 Ap 1 '72 100w

Reviewed by Alberta Hankenson
Library J 97:4097 D 15 '72 140w [YA]
New Yorker 48:140 My 20 '72 200w
TLS p921 Ag 4 '72 140w

WIND, EDGAR, ed. Hans Memling. See McFarlane, K. B.

WIND, HERBERT WARREN. The world of P. G. Wodehouse. 102p il $5.95 Praeger
B or 92 Wodehouse, Pelham Grenville
LC 78-176401

Wind presents a portrait of the English-born humorist, author of some seventy odd novels, who became an American citizen in 1956.

Best Sell 31:546 Mr 1 '72 170w

"Wind's [book] is a breezy, appreciative essay, mainly anecdotal, and apparently based on some conversations he had with Wodehouse. He deals with only a handful of the novels and dishes out very little in the way of background and nothing at all in any detail. It is always complimentary. . . . A solid biography of Wodehouse would be a great pleasure to read. . . . Wind offers only a smattering of information." Paul Theroux

Book World p6 Ja 30 '72 750w

"Illustrated with good photos but only recent paperback covers, this is the Wodehouse profile that Wind wrote for the New Yorker last year [May 15, 1971] re-titled. It passes the chief test of any introduction to Wodehouse, of dealing with the overlapping literary worlds through which the Great Man passed. . . . With help from Richard Usborne's classic Wodehouse at work (1961), Wind also passes the Wodehouse sourcehunting test. Other humorists are relatively unimportant. . . . As biography, Wind's World is as useful as anything so far printed. Rate it OK, but below Usborne."

Choice 9:511 Je '72 140w

"A brief text threaded with a string of photographs whets one's appetite for more word of the life of the humorist; at best, a beginning."

Christian Century 87:150 F 2 '72 20w

"Mr Wind's excellent little study of Wodehouse suggests some reasons for his power to charm. He has, among other things, Wind writes, 'the uncommon gift of being able to tell a story that is great fun to read.' . . . Wodehouse is that old-fashioned literary figure, a disciplined writer. . . . I am indebted to Mr. Wind for the reminder that Mr. Wodehouse has been no mere guest of ours. He has spent more of his adult life in the United States than anywhere else." J. K. Hutchens

Sat R 55:69 F 12 '72 380w

WINDSOR, PHILIP. Germany and the management of détente [publ for the Inst. for strategic studies. (Studies in int. security, 15) 207p $8.50 Praeger

327.43 Germany (Federal Republic)—Foreign relations—Europe, Eastern. Europe, Eastern—Foreign relations—Germany (Federal Republic).
LC 68-19867

This is an "analysis of the changing relationships between the Federal Republic and the East European states—including the German Democratic Republic and the Soviet Union—based on . . . examination of the circumstances that have led to the present relaxation of political tensions in that area. . . . In his concluding chapter, Windsor explores the means for continuing and expanding the détente and insuring the future of Europe." (Publisher's note) Index.

"Windsor attempts with limited success to focus primarily on German affairs. This monograph contains much more than the title reveals; it summarizes succinctly the major themes of post-war international politics and discusses European economic conditions and politics. Windsor's analysis of the complex and often mysterious relations within Soviet-dominated Eastern Europe is perceptive and credible; however, the reader often loses sight of the German problem. . . . Even though the author's 'postface' brings his story up to the spring of 1971, further assessment is now necessary because of the very recent political changes in East Germany. The average undergraduate will find it difficult reading."

Choice 8:1512 Ja '72 190w

"[This book] is in places not easy to read: its style is that of a reflective essay, full of allusions to other parts of the story and lacking in basic factual information—for instance, on the actual volume of German economic transactions with Eastern Europe, whose importance Mr Windsor rightly stresses. However readers familiar with the main facts of Germany's recent diplomatic history . . . will gain much insight from this, penetrating if imperfectly organized work."

TLS p1246 O 15 '71 200w

WINKS, ROBIN W. The Blacks in Canada; a history. 546p maps $15 Yale univ. press

971 Negroes in Canada

ISBN 0-300-01361-2 LC 79-118740

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by E. D. Cronon
Am Hist R 77:1526 D '72 440w

Reviewed by Norman Lederer
Ann Am Acad 401:185 My '72 500w

Reviewed by Horace Campbell
Canadian Forum 51:47 N '71 1500w

Reviewed by August Meier
J Am Hist 58:1058 Mr '72 600w

WINNICOTT, D. W. Playing and reality. 169p $6.95 Basic bks.

155.42 Play. Child study
SBN 465-05788-8 LC 77-169185

This is an "analysis of the role of what [the author] calls 'transitional objects' and 'transitional phenomena' (toys, games, etc.) in the development of the individual, showing that they are crucial to the individual's experience." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"Winnicott was interested in areas of emotional experience which are, on any count, difficult to put into words; and his writings give the impression that he had, in addition, a personal difficulty in communication. His style is idiosyncratic. Often his writing consists of a series of aphorisms. But he is a writer who richly rewards the persistent reader. . . . What he has to say is fascinating, exciting, and rewarding; and anyone interested in play and creativity must read him." Anthony Storr

Book World p9 D 26 '71 800w

"Although laid out as though it were a proper book with a developing argument [this work] is in fact a compilation of articles written independently of one another but strung together by linking passages to give it some semblance of unity. As a result it is tediously repetitive and in one important respect confusing and misleading." Charles Rycroft

N Y Rev of Books 18:17 Je 1 '72 2000w

"The material in this book, taken as a whole, is uneven. Several of the chapters are too technical for a general readership. Most of the essays included require some thought and care; but are well worth the trouble. The last one, on the other hand, is very simple and easygoing in tone—it addresses itself to the layman in much the same folksy way that several of Winnicott's earlier books . . . ('The Family and Individual Development' [BRD 1966]) did. All in all, the papers here do reflect the fact that they were originally prepared for a variety of quite different audiences." Maggie Scarf

N Y Times Bk R p34 Ap 16 '72 1200w

"Most psychoanalytical writing is meant for a restricted circle and it has been hard for the thinking public to find a middle way between esoteric papers, and vulgarizations. . . . [This book] fits into this gap and does so without concessions in either direction, not only does it condense and clarify [the author's] own contribution but it also introduces a new approach in psychoanalysis to a wider public. . . . [Winnicott's] concern is with normality; with the role of psychoanalysis in considering the quality of ordinary life. . . . The upshot of [his] work is that psychoanalysis can establish its relation to ethics, education, morals, medicine, the law, relation and the arts in a way acceptable to specialists in those fields. Playing and Reality achieves this cross-fertilizing without loss of professional identity, and in this it reflects Winnicott's working life."

TLS p1579 D 17 '71 1200w

WINNICOTT, D. W. Therapeutic consultations in child psychiatry. 410p il $15 Basic bks.

616.8 Child psychiatry. Psychoanalysis

SBN 465-08511-3 LC 70-158448

"This volume, containing a series of twenty-one therapeutic consultations, demonstrates Dr. Winnicott's . . . techniques in the treatment of children." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"Based upon the author's well known theories of child development this collection will be considered significant by those who share his enthusiasm for the potential efficacy of [his] modus operandi. Though 'hard data' are lacking, professional therapists, particularly those working with children, will find . . . [his] psychoanalytically oriented strategies both provocative and important. In this framework, the book is recommended."

Choice 9:581 Je '72 150w

"[This book] is Winnicott at his best. . . . [He] is consistently successful in getting across the atmosphere of each consultation and it is a revelation to watch how rapidly he makes contact with each patient and how illuminating this technique of imaginative participation in child's play can be." Charles Rycroft

N Y Rev of Books 18:18 Je 1 '72 180w

"Despite its recitative quality, this book has a moving effect. Somehow Winnicott emerges from these pages, in moments of pleasure and frustration . . . an inspired clinician and a humane, compassionate man. . . . The cumulative effect of these short narratives is sobering. One muses about the absolute power situation which obtains between parents and the young child. . . . It is as if, like small Rosenkrantz and Guildensterns, our children watch and wait in the wings while we enact the dramas of our lives. Our fate, whether we like it or not, in some meaningful sense determines theirs. Dr. Winnicott, laconic, tolerant, always deeply committed, brings us a sensitive reminder of this truth in this, his final book." Maggie Scarf

N Y Times Bk R p34 Ap 16 '72 650w

"In the . . . interviews Winnicott reached the child's unconscious through a drawing

WINNICOTT, D. W.—Continued

technique (which, with characteristic understatement, he called 'a game': 'squiggles'). Through the squiggles he was often able, after one or more interviews only, to help a child to insights which then offered parents the need and chance to make different responses within the family; some of these drawings are shown in Therapeutic Consultations in Child Psychiatry, a permanent clinical record of paradigmatic consultations." TLS p1579 D 17 '71 1200w

WINT, GUY, jt. auth. Total war. See Calvoressi, P.

WINTER, RALPH K., jt. auth. The unions and the cities. See Wellington, H. H.

WINTER, WILLIAM. Between author and critic. See Booth, E.

WINTER-BERGER, ROBERT N. The Washington pay-off; an insider's view of corruption in government. 341p $10 Stuart, L.

329 Corruption (in politics). U.S.—Politics and government. Campaign funds. Lobbying LC 73-185421

"An account of the Washington influence-peddling scandals of the late 1960's in House Speaker John W. McCormack's office. A minor figure in these events, Winter-Berger 'tells all' about his connections with attorney and lobbyist Nathan Voloshen and Martin Sweig, a longtime assistant to McCormack. (Both Voloshen and Sweig were subsequently indicted and convicted for illegal activities.) Winter-Berger discloses that at the same time he was also working the other side of the street as an influence peddler under the shield of Gerald Ford, leader of the Republican minority in the House of Representatives." (Library J) Index.

"Despite its repetitious theme, 'The Washington Pay Off' is far from boring. The pace is exceptionally brisk and it is thoroughly entertaining. In fact, it is so entertaining that until the book's true depth begins to be understood, one is tempted to dismiss it as light reading about a serious subject. . . . As the book develops, the author appears to be totally level-headed, yet he tends to come on a bit too strong throughout as the innocent party rubbing elbows with sanctioned crooks of the Capitol. Then near the end . . . he lashes out against some anti-Semitic, antiminority cocktail party chatter which he heard while in company of the 'horsey set.' Understandably, he is quite bitter, but the savageness with which he counterattacks almost destroys the carefully constructed framework of his book, leaving the reader the suspicion of revenge as his primary motive." D. W. Given

Best Sell 32:125 Je 1 '72 600w

"Although the jacket claims that Winter-Berger 'attacks both Democrats and Republicans with equal impartiality,' it does seem that he harpoons the Democrats considerably more. This may be due to the fact that most of the book is built around the career of Nat Voloshen in John McCormack's office. . . . Should be in every college library, along with [Sanford Watzman's] Conflict of interest [BRD 1971] and [Herbert Alexander's] Money in politics [BRD 1972]." Choice 9:1358 D '72 150w

"Much of what Winter-Berger recounts has already been aired thoroughly in the press. The few additional tidbits with which he spices his account are not enough to freshen these stale and sordid goings on and are unimportant for a better understanding of corruption in government. More suitable for a few articles in a Sunday newspaper supplement, the material here is too thin and ephemeral to justify being published in book form." Harry Frummerman Library J 97:1724 My 1 '72 120w

"It is no wonder that most newspapers and magazines have refused to review this book and that many bookstores will not sell it. The fear is not of libel. Something much more elemental is involved. If the corruption and greed of the men the Property Party has placed in the Congress and the White House become common knowledge, the whole rotten business could very well collapse and property itself would be endangered." Gore Vidal

N Y Rev of Books 19:11 Ag 10 '72 1550w

WINTERS, DONALD L. Henry Cantwell Wallace as secretary of agriculture, 1921-1924. 313p $8.95 Univ. of Ill. press

338 Wallace, Henry Cantwell. U.S. Department of Agriculture ISBN 0-252-00118-4 LC 76-630796

In this study of "Wallace's tenure as Secretary of Agriculture, Donald L. Winters assesses his work in the quest for agricultural relief and reform in the U.S. and his influence over the formulation of national farm policy, and places him 'in the broad sweep of American agricultural history.'" (Publisher's note) Annotated bibliography. Index.

"[The author] based his findings on the files of the secretary of agriculture, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the secretary of commerce, the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, and the secretary of the interior. . . . [Winters'] treatment of the difficulties and rivalries between Wallace and Herbert Hoover is the fullest in print and probably the most significant contribution of the book. Even though the volume gives strong evidence of a scholar who has entered the field with a strong orientation in political and intellectual instead of social and economic history, it still comprises a remarkable addition to scholarship in an area that often has been ignored by historians of this persuasion. Students of the 1920s and agricultural historians in general will find this a welcome addition to their reading lists and personal libraries." Theodore Saloutos Am Hist R 76:1620 D '71 410w

"[This is a] well written, highly readable book. Throughout emphasis is placed on the need to see Wallace and his programs in the perspective of the times. . . . Good index; useful bibliographical materials. Valuable to both undergraduate and graduate students of American history in the areas of conservation and agriculture." Choice 7:1552 Ja '71 150w

"Although others have written about Wallace and farm policy in the early 1920s, a special study on Wallace's secretaryship is fully justified. He was in office at a critical time, a period when farm policy was undergoing a basic transition. To understand Wallace's thought and action is to understand better the problems that the nation had in adjusting to new policy needs. Donald L. Winters pictures Wallace as a flexible, pragmatic administrator who gradually modified his basic ideas. . . . While he is sympathetic with his subject, he does not exaggerate Wallace's contributions. Indeed, the author admits that the secretary's program to help farmers was, to a large extent, a failure." G. C. Fite

J Am Hist 58:490 S '71 500w

WIRT, FREDERICK M. Politics of Southern equality; law and social change in a Mississippi county; foreword by Gunnar Myrdal. 335p $10 Aldine pub.

323.4 Panola County, Mississippi—Social conditions. Panola County, Mississippi—Politics and government. Civil rights ISBN 0-202-24017-7 LC 71-123589

"Professor Wirt in his quest to find 'the role that the law plays in social change' began this book by examining the theories that claim 'you can't legislate morality' and 'state laws cannot change folkways.' After exploring the pros and cons of these positions, Professor Wirt gives a brief overview of Panola County, Mississippi, before the advent of civil rights legislation. Then, after the passage of civil rights bills, he examines three areas—voting, education, and job opportunities to determine what happened in this county after the passage of relevant laws." (Ann Am Acad)

"Although the focus of Wirt's attention is on a single Mississippi county, his deft political analysis produces sound generalizations that hold not only for that peculiar geographic entity, the former Confederacy, but for political systems generally. Wirt is successful for two reasons, both of which ought to be—but often are not—essential maxims for the study of politics. First, his research methods are impeccable. He not only consulted the literature of southern politics in depth, but he conducted extensive interviews with local and national actors in the drama of social change. This without more would have produced a competent study, but the book goes beyond the collation and analysis of data. It is an exciting and perceptive narrative, and it is so because the author never loses touch with Plato's central concern, the achievement of a just society." R. J. Steamer

Am Pol Sci R 65:1194 D '71 1200w

"Although the study is focused primarily upon Panola, it covers the results in the South in general in each of the three major civil rights areas. After thorough research of a microanalytical nature, with macro flashes now and then, Professor Wirt . . . returns to his . . . broader concern—the role that law can play in effecting social change. His answers are tentative but, unlike previous speculative studies, they are backed up by hard-nosed empirical analyses, in-depth research of public and private documents coupled with numerous interviews of top community leaders, black and white, and outside political observers. His results are useful, relative, informative, and telling. The book is descriptive and comprehensive in its coverage, and the prose is stylish and flowing. The work is systematic and innovative." Hanes Walton
Ann Am Acad 397:210 S '71 550w

WISE, ARTHUR. The art and history of personal combat [Eng title: The history and art of personal combat]. 256p il $16.50 Arma press

796.8 Fighting. Hand-to-hand—History. Fencing
ISBN 0-8212-0445-9 LC 70-179957

This work "recounts the history of combat between individuals from that between Cain and Abel to the aerial dogfights of the Second World War. . . . [It also deals with the] history of fencing in Europe, both with swords and other edged weapons, from the sixteenth to the nineteenth century." (TLS) Bibliography.

"An attractively packaged picture book of Hogarthian prints, movie stills, and etchings from antique fencing manuals. The selection is repetitious, but the illustrations are of interest. . . . The problem is that the author has nothing of his own to say and has not thought seriously about what he has read. He provides almost nonstop quotes from the Bible, the Iliad, Romeo and Juliet, Italian fencing manuals, 19th-Century accounts of men clumsily murdering each other, etc. But despite its faults, this is the only even moderately serious survey of the subject and, therefore, is mildly recommended." Donald Schwarz
Library J 97:2841 S 15 '72 170w

"The coverage is very much the same as in what still remains the basic work on the subject, Egerton Castle's Schools and Masters of Fence, first published in 1885, and many of the illustrations are from the same familiar sources. But [in] the new book . . . the quality of the reproductions is immensely superior; for these reasons alone, it will be of great value to everyone interested in the history of edged weapons and their use." TLS p1005 Ag 25 '72 160w

WISEMAN, T. P. New men in the Roman senate, 139 B.C.-A.D. 14. 325p $16 Oxford
328.3 Rome—Politics and government. Rome—Biography
ISBN 0-19-814713-9 LC 75-856145

The author examines "the 'new man' in the Roman Senate (the senator with no senatorial antecedents in his family) in the period of the late Republic and early Empire. The heart of the book, according to Wiseman, is the 75-page prosopography of such 'new men'. This section is preceded by six chapters of analysis of their geographical and social origins, means of acquiring senatorial rank, opportunities and limitations after election, and the opposition of the entrenched aristocracy." (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

"A work of careful scholarship using the prosopographical techniques developed in the last half century for illuminating political events by the study of family and other loyalties. . . . Of considerable value to the scholar, the book is too technical for the undergraduate." Choice 8:1372 D '71 180w

Reviewed by A. M. Ward
Class World 66:51 S '72 340w

"Wiseman's researches have brought 563 [new men] . . . to light, and he lists them usefully in a kind of Dictionary of National Upstart Biography. They had one quality in common: their pockets were well lined. . . . The Romans never undervalued the importance of private wealth; a 'good man' was by definition a rich man too. In a large number of cases new men came into politics with the encouragement, and under the protection, of some senatorial aristocrat who owned property in the country. . . . Dr Wiseman provides us [a] most valuable appendix, showing the different districts of Italy in which noble Romans are known to have owned property. . . . This is a good subject and an extremely useful book—stiff reading sometimes, but with frequent light relief." TLS p1341 O 22 '71 600w

WISKEMANN, ELIZABETH. Italy since 1945. 142p $8.95 St Martins

320.945 Italy—History—1946- . Italy—Politics and government—1946-
SBN 333-12242-9 LC 78-179497

In this "survey of Italy's postwar political history, [the author] focuses particularly on the attempts to create 'an opening to the left' through a governing coalition composed of the dominant Christian Democrats and the two socialist parties, while the Communist remained in opposition. . . . The author [also] discusses Italy's economic growth, the underdeveloped southern region, the young, and postwar literature and the arts." (Library J) Bibliography. Chronology. Index.

"If the unstable history of postwar Italy has been a confusing one to scholars and general observers, Wiskemann's small book does little to assist the reader in understanding the intricacies of this phase of Italian history. Because Wiskemann was chiefly a political historian this, her latest and final book, reflects her interest in political machinations, events, and personalities. As a result, the reader is presented superficial treatments of cabinet crises, and almanac-like discussions of economic statistics and cultural achievements; missing is the probative social, political, and economic analysis required if one is to comprehend fully postwar Italian development. . . . The bibliography is much too sparse; and the chronology of chief events is not very detailed or helpful." Choice 9:1032 O '72 160w

"Here is an agreeable sequel to Miss Wiskemann's Fascism in Italy [BRD 1970]. The two books make up a useful pair. . . . [The author's bias] is towards political and economic history and the uncertain zone where they interact. Even she occasionally loses the reader, if not herself, in the demented maze of postwar Italian politics . . . but on the whole her guidance is clear and firm. She has [also] printed a helpful list of common abbreviations, whether political . . . or economic [but] it would have been even more helpful if each item also had a word or two of explanation attached. It is deplorable that there is no map. Miss Wiskemann is too cautious and sensible to risk bold predictions about Italy's destiny. Her forte is to provide the facts against which such predictions ought to be checked." Economist 241:66 D 4 '71 430w

"[A] useful survey . . . [though] one might wish for a fuller analysis of the complexities of the Italian party system and of its notorious bureaucratic inefficiency. . . . Recommend- ed." B. S. Viault
Library J 97:2596 Ag '72 90w

WISSE, RUTH R. The schlemiel as modern hero. 134p $5.45 Univ. of Chicago press
809 Jewish literature—History and criticism. Jews in literature
ISBN 0-226-90311-7 LC 72-160841

This is a "study of the schlemiel in Jewish literature. It is also a presentation of his counterpart in other cultures, showing . . . their similarities and divergencies. . . . Mrs. Wisse traces the evolution of the Eastern European bumpkin into the nineteenth century political, satirical and literary schlemiel mainly through the works of Rabbi Nachman, Mendele Sforim and Sholem Aleichem, concluding her analysis with contemporary authors such as Bellow, Friedman, Malamud and Roth." (New Repub) Index.

Christian Century 88:1362 N 17 '71 40w

WISSE, R. R.—Continued

"Wisse tactfully acknowledges that the essentially personal and anti-heroic response to the fundamental dualities of Jewish experience will not, and perhaps should not, satisfy everybody. . . . All activism dismisses the schlemiel. Single-minded . . . dedication to a particular cause or specific goal cannot tolerate a character whose perception of reality is essentially dualistic." Edward Alexander

Commentary 53:85 Je '72 1000w

"Wisse has taken [the schlemiel] as the theme for her doctoral dissertation at McGill University and has analyzed extensively the evolution of his character (and, incidentally, the culture from which he springs). In the process, she has examined the works of major Jewish authors of European and American origin . . . with earnestness and compassion, grace and wit, and a fine mastery of diverse sources, thereby contributing to the understanding of a relatively neglected aspect of literature." A. L. Fessler

Library J 96:3762 N 15 '71 210w

"[This is] a short, scholarly and witty [study]. . . . All the material is treated by Professor Wisse with skillful dexterity, insight and compassion. It is evident that she is thoroughly conversant with her subject and appreciative of its great charm. . . . She decides that the holocaust of Nazism and the events of the sixties have virtually extinguished the credibility of the schlemiel as a likely modern hero." New Repub 166:25 Ja 1 '72 310w

WITCOVER, JULES. White knight: the rise of Spiro Agnew. 465p $10 Random house

973.924 Agnew, Spiro T. U.S.—Politics and government—1961- ISBN 0-394-47216-0 LC 76-37425

The author examines Mr. Agnew's beginnings in Baltimore, his army career, "his struggles as a young lawyer, party worker, civic leader and office-seeker; his battles in Baltimore County over zoning, desegregation and Republican factionalism; his winning gambles as the underdog candidate for County Executive and Governor . . . [and his] commitment to Richard Nixon; his performance as candidate . . . and controversial Vice-President—and finally, his emergence as a voice and force in his own right." (Publisher's note) Index.

"[Witcover] starts out by postulating that there are not an awful lot of positive things to say about Spiro Agnew: He has been dumb and intransigent—obtuse, insensitive, and sometimes wholly ridiculous—on most major issues. The Agnew switches from progressive to conservative, from Rockefeller to Nixon, from defender of the press to its most monumental critic are dramatically described, and Witcover concludes that, on the whole, they were acts of political chameleonship. Agnew-the-Expendable is Witcover's subject, a boorish but clever practitioner of the art of doing what is necessary to get ahead. . . . Witcover is harsh in almost all his judgments; Agnew gets no credit for whatever successes may be in the record." Walter Jacobson

Book World pl My 14 '72 300w

Choice 9:1207 N '72 110w

"[This] good, substantial political biography of Spiro Agnew . . . [is recommended as a] descriptive, primary account." D. A. Bower

Library J 97:1424 Ap 15 '72 140w

New Yorker 48:142 Ap 22 '72 100w

"Los Angeles Times man Witcover . . . has earned a reputation as one of the fairest, most objective newsmen in Washington. He even managed to get Agnew's cooperation. Fair and objective this book is, if somewhat windy and crammed with detail. But Agnew probably won't like the book very much. He emerges as a 'sleek,' stern authoritarian whose insensitivity, arrogance and moral absolutism are as boundless as his party loyalty. . . . Yet Witcover is not out to savage Agnew. He credits him with intelligence, the breadth of which has been belied by his public utterances." Arthur Cooper

Newsweek 79:100 Ap 17 '72 550w

Reviewed by Melvin Maddocks
Time 99:88 Ap 24 '72 380w

Va Q R 48:cxvii autumn '72 120w

WITT, JAMES. it. auth. Traveling weather-wise in the U.S.A. See Powers, E.

WITT, R. E. Isis in the Graeco-Roman world. 336p pl maps $11 Cornell univ. press

292 Greece—Religion, Rome—Religion, Christianity and other religions
ISBN 0-8014-0633-1 LC 72-146278

"The cult of Isis as a . . . factor in the formation of the Graeco-Roman and Christian civilization of the Western world is the subject of this . . . study. . . . [Dr. Witt discusses] Isiac worship and dogma in Greece and Rome, and shows that in late pagan times Isis represented a . . . threat to the success of Christianity. . . . [He also traces] the pattern of Isiacism in the lifetime of Paul and its connections with traditional Catholic theology and modern freemasonry." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"[This] competent and fully documented [volume] . . . is popular and attractive enough in approach and appearance (e.g. 32 pages of illustrations) to appeal to the undergraduate with some interest in ancient history or religion. . . . [It] is the only comprehensive work on Isis in English. . . . Witt believes that Isis has not received recognition equivalent to her importance in the ancient world and her influence on later Western institutions. . . . Here the book may arouse controversy, which is, indeed, the author's hope. Not all will agree that the 'roots' of Christianity were 'abundantly watered not just by the Jordan but also by the Nile.' A must for college libraries." Choice 8:1372 D '71 180w

"A survey of the cult of Isis and her Temple Associates in a 'fresh treatment' that relies heavily on ancient sources but includes as well modern scholarship, particularly recent and archaeological (there are 42 pages of notes). I approached this work in eager anticipation that it would prove a readable and comprehensible introduction to a difficult, diffuse and vital subject. My hopes, although not fully realized, were in large enough measure fulfilled, and the Classicist especially will be grateful for this account, even though it is not always completely successful. . . . Excellent illustrations, comprehensive bibliography; . . . required supplementary reading for the teacher of Classical Mythology." R. J. Lenardon

Class World 66:115 O '72 310w

"The general reader is now provided with a detailed, enthusiastic investigation of Isiacism by an author who has acquainted himself with first-hand knowledge of the relevant sites to supplement the ancient sources." R. F. Willems
Encounter 37:61 O '71 70w

"This is in many ways a pioneering book by an author who knows how to use archaeological as well as literary evidence. It is an important contribution to an understanding of the religious attitudes of ordinary men and women who lived under the rule of the Caesars. . . . Nearly every chapter ends with a pointer towards analogies between Isiac beliefs and attitudes and those of popular Christianity. Sometimes, one may feel, too much is made out of coincidences. . . . Despite some misconceptions and perhaps too easy assumptions about the nature of early Christianity, this well-written, well-planned and finely illustrated work contributes powerfully to our knowledge of significant aspects of the Greco-Roman world." TLS p1034 Ag 27 '71 800w

WITTLIN, THADDEUS. Commissar: the life and death of Lavrenty Pavlovich Beria. 566p pl $12.95 Macmillan (N Y)

R or 92 Beria, Lavrenti Pavlovich
LC 74-189683

A biography of Stalin's police chief by the Polish-born historian. Bibliography. Index.

Reviewed by W. J. Parente
Best Sell 32:462 Ja 1 '73 700w

"The author's tone is sensational, his style banal. Lacking original sources, he has fallen back on the accounts of émigrés and refugees from Beria's camps, of which number he was one. He also employs the annoying device of imagining what Beria might have said, eaten, written, or thought at key moments during his career, when clearly such speculation is profitless. A shallow, patchy study." R. H. Johnston
Library J 97:2387 Jl '72 150w

"Beria's death has remained one of the most fascinating whodunits of our time. . . . [Wittlin] fails to solve the murder mystery, but he succeeds in providing the most vivid—though flawed—portrait yet of this shadowy, satanic figure. . . . This book purports to be a 'psychological biography'—but it isn't. . . . Wittlin's psychoanalytic method is to attribute Beria's sinister actions to his impoverished childhood . . . and his 'complex about being ugly.' . . . Wittlin's imagination proves to be his downfall as a biographer. . . . Striving for a sense of verisimilitude, he tells us that Beria 'nervously looked at his wrist watch' . . . and that he considered Georgi Malenkov a 'puffy double-chinned eunuch.' Those are cheap journalistic tricks, not historical prose. But, if this isn't the Beria book we have waited for, at least it's better than anything we've got." Arthur Cooper

Newsweek 80:105 O 23 '72 950w

WOEHLIN, WILLIAM F. Chernyshevskii: the man and the journalist. 404p $12.50
Harvard univ. press

320.5 Chernyshevsky, Nikolay Gavrilovich
ISBN 0-674-11385-3 LC 73-156137

This "monograph considers Chernyshevskii's ideas against the backdrop of his personal life and conditions in 19th-century Russia. . . . [Included is a discussion of his] views on aesthetics, his economic theories, and his role as an inspirational figure for the Russian revolutionary youth of the 1860's and 1870's." (Choice) Bibliography.

"[This] significant contribution to the literature on this pivotal figure in the Russian revolutionary movement . . . [is well] written and exhaustively researched. . . . The excellent and quite comprehensive bibliography makes the book an invaluable addition to any graduate library for Russian and European intellectual history."
Choice 8:1504 Ja '72 160w

"[Woehrlin] displays an impressive familiarity not only with Chernyshevskii's own voluminous writings but also with the findings of Soviet scholars, as well as an ability to pick out the strong and weak points in many an argument, be it Chernyshevskii's or that of a Soviet or Western scholar. He has no striking discoveries of his own to report but he has produced the most thorough and judicious account of Chernyshevskii's life and his journalistic activities that is available in English, and on a whole series of controversial issues his careful examination of the evidence and sober conclusions provide a welcome change from much that has passed as scholarship."
TLS p683 Je 16 '72 500w

"This is a good introduction to a monumentally important Russian thinker."
Va Q R 48:ixiv spring '72 100w

WOLF, DAVID. Fou! the Connie Hawkins story. 400p $7.95 Holt

B or 92 Hawkins, Connie, Basketball
ISBN 0-03-086021-1 LC 71-117279

"This book is about a professional basketball player, Connie Hawkins, but it is also about American athletics. The hope and despair of the ghetto schoolyard the . . . college recruiting, the camaraderie and disension in the locker room, the gambling scandals, the blacklists, the legal battles—Hawkins has been through them all. He has played with the Harlem Globetrotters . . . and been an all-star in three professional leagues. Today, Hawkins is a superstar with the NBA Phoenix Suns." (Publisher's note)

"Wolf is an extremely capable writer and a first-class researcher. He has taken a series of very complex and explosive situations and dealt with them fairly." Phil Elderkin
Christian Science Monitor p11 Je 7 '72 700w

"The author recounts how Hawkins as a naive youngster out of the Bedford-Stuyvesant slums was caught up in the maelstrom of the infamous college basketball fixes of 1961, and how, with the aid of some knowledgeable legal help plus his tremendous talent, he won the right to play in the National Basketball Association. Wolf, a free-lance writer whose feature article in Life helped bring about Hawkins' reinstatement, takes us into the locker room and shows us the problems black athletes face in pro sports. His book, written in a glib slick journalistic style has a good measure of excitement and suspense."
M. E. Nunn
Library J 97:896 Mr 1 '72 130w

"Despite the straightforward locker room talk and lack of photographs, mature YA's will be fascinated by this exploration of professional basketball and the life of one of its players." Dianne Rynne

Library J 97:3823 N 15 '72 140w [YA]

"[After his] excellent Life piece, Wolf broadened his perspective to write this much-too-long study of Hawkins. Unfortunately, in so doing he has lost some of his objectivity and focus. 'Fou!' successfully shows how an underprivileged black man was victimized by a fat-cat, unfeeling Establishment, and basketball is its setting and vehicle. But to overburden the reader with locker-room vignettes and play-by-play action, which Wolf does, weakens the book's impact. . . . Wolf has left the ghetto slang of Hawkins and other principals intact, and it is an effective device. . . . [He] can write with flashes of style, grace and insight, but he lost his way here. . . . Wolf has taken what could have been a pungent social commentary and almost turned it into just another book about a ball-player." J. B. Segal
N Y Times Bk R p38 Mr 26 '72 750w

WOLF, ERIC R. The human condition in Latin America [by] Eric R. Wolf [and] Edward C. Hansen. 369p il $12.50 Oxford

309.18 Latin America—Social conditions.
Latin America—Economic conditions. Latin America—Politics
LC 77-177997

This book focuses on social and cultural groups in Latin American countries examining "them in a variety of political and economic settings. The authors draw upon newspaper articles and essays, novels and poetry, historical accounts and ethnographic data to form 'diagnostic portraits of various facets of contemporary Latin American societies.' They contribute their own commentaries." (Publisher's note) Annotated bibliographies. Index.

"The book is a valuable contribution in an area in which the student has little to guide him. . . . [However] much more commentary than is found here [is needed] in order to establish a clear single perspective. In addition, some areas get excessive attention while others are ignored. . . . The chapter on religion is . . . disappointing. It concentrates exclusively on religion as folklore, almost at the level of the travel brochures. But there is no mention of Vatican Council II or its varied sequelae. And Protestantism is not so much as mentioned. . . . [The] final conclusions are, nevertheless, good; and the text in its totality supports them. They see intervention in Latin America by the metropolitan powers (today mainly by the United States) as growing in scope and complexity." Gary MacDoin
America 126:520 My 13 '72 600w

"This solid book might be called 'concerned anthropology.' Wolf and Hansen, trained to look at what happens at the grass-roots level of society, see the impending reentry of the masses—the poor, the alienated middle classes, and status-seeking consumers—into the mainstream of Latin American history, and the corresponding decline of bureaucrats and oligarchs. They review history from the conquest through modern guerrilla movements (Zapata, Castro), as well as the major institutions of family, religion, community, estates, markets, industry, government. . . . The longest chapters are those on economics and politics, an unusual anthropological emphasis. Quotations, some fairly long, from other sources are woven into the text in a well integrated way."
Choice 9:849 S '72 180w

WOLFE, DON M. Milton and his England. unp il $10 Princeton univ. press

B or 92 Milton, John. Great Britain—History—Civil War and Commonwealth, 1642-1660
ISBN 0-691-06200-5 LC 76-146646

This "volume of narrative and pictures traces Milton's literary and political career. . . . His relationship with the Puritan Revolution and with Cromwell's interregnum takes up a good third or more of the book. In its biographical aspects it . . . [illustrates] Milton's literary activity by reference to his travels, his friends, his family, and . . . to his politics." (Va Q R) Chronology. Index.

"Only a scholar like Wolfe, an authority on Milton and Puritan Revolution, could have succinctly summarized biographical data and the complicated background of the mid-17th century. The author's illuminating commentary is graceful and accurate; when he occasionally indulges in conjecture, he warns the reader that other authorities disagree. Though scholars may not need the work, they can enjoy and profit from it, and the illustrations will enrich their teaching. Undergraduates will find it very helpful. Chronology of main events. . . . An excellent buy at a relatively low price."

WOLFE, D. M.—Continued

Choice 9:218 Ap '72 120w

"This book strikes a nice balance between its dual subjects, but what it gains in symmetry it loses in intensity. Though attractive and pleasantly written, it has no argument and offers nothing new, being a descriptive account coordinated with some 120 illustrations. Often it seems that the pictures determine the direction, and thus the biographical pace is unsteady." H. G. Hahn

Library J 97:877 Mr 1 '72 120w

"There is a lack of attention to details of daily life in Milton's England, oddly enough, and it would have been helpful to have captions with the numerous—and excellent—pictures. But to cavil is ungenerous, presented as we are with so much."

Va Q R 48:1xi spring '72 90w

WOLFE, J. N., ed. The armed services and society. See The armed services and society

WOLFE, LINDA, ed. McCall's introduction to Scandinavian cooking. 90p il col il $2.95 McCall pub. co.

651.5 Cookery, Scandinavian
SBN 8415-0103-3 LC 71-139536

This collection of recipes from Denmark, Sweden and Norway includes salads and vegetables, soups and sandwiches, eggs and seafood, meat and poultry, sweetbreads and pastries, candy, cake and cookies. Index.

Reviewed by Friede Gruenrock

Best Sell 31:189 J1 15 '71 40w

"At under three dollars [this book] is remarkable chiefly for its price. But it suffers for it. It hasn't much in it, and 'illustrated in full color' means exactly four pictures. . . . Still, there are some good recipes for smorgasbord, for open-faced sandwiches, for economy dishes, and for pastries. Here McCall's gives the choice: Fake it with refrigerated dolled-up crescent rolls, or make the real ones." Nora Magid

Book World p6 F 20 '72 100w

WOLFF, CHARLOTTE. Love between women. 230p $6.95 St Martins

157 Homosexuality
LC 78-163089

The author, "a German-born English psychiatrist, . . . summarizes the findings of her recent research study of lesbians in England, as well as her observations based on over 20 years of psychiatric practice. She includes transcripts of two interviews (out of 108) she conducted with 'normal' lesbians (not patients), as well as three short autobiographies of lesbians, also part of her sample. Wolff used questionnaires with this group and a control group to determine the possible relevance of early family relationships and the differences in emotional patterns and ways of life." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

"A professionally careful and personally sympathetic treatment of lesbianism as a legitimate life style. . . . [Wolff] describes in some detail contemporary homosexual organizations, media, research institutions, etc. . . . Good bibliography."

Choice 8:1649 F '72 90w

"[Wolff's] general conclusion is that emotional factors are more important than erotic ones in lesbians' lives, and that usually relations with the mother are the key to lesbian orientation, although there may be some genetic predisposition. Written in nontechnical language and containing a summary of previous theories and a look into the coming changes in society, the book deserves consideration by public and academic libraries, especially since there is little research on the subject available outside of journals." Carol Eckberg

Library J 96:4020 D 1 '71 180w

TLS p669 Je 11 '71 500w

WOLFF, KONRAD. The teaching of Artur Schnabel; a guide to interpretation. 189p $10.95 Praeger

786.1 Schnabel, Artur. Piano music
LC 77-165341

"In his introductory chapters, Wolff examines the fundamental relationship between music and technique and elucidates the role of the pianist. In succeeding chapters, he deals with four main topics: Articulation of phrases; correct and constructive score-reading; characterization of a composition in performance; and pianistic means and their control. The examples used throughout the text have been drawn from actual lessons conducted by Schnabel." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"[In this book] we see a famous performer in the role of teacher, and his students ready for the master's finishing touches before embarking on a virtuoso career. This is an interesting book—a book to be studied and referred to by every serious pianist and student of piano pedagogy."

Choice 9:1140 N '72 230w

"[The author] attempts to 'pass on . . . the core of [Schnabel's] artistic beliefs and his approach to music.' Interestingly enough, the author deals almost exclusively with the works of Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert, Schumann, and Brahms, thus reflecting Schnabel's interests as a performer, but hardly his interests as a composer. Some of the opinions are controversial and highly personal. Many, especially those on metric articulation, will be stimulating to music teachers and students. Unfortunately the book's appeal will be limited because of Wolff's unidiomatic style and because of his use of so many examples from the advanced repertoire. Recommended for libraries with strong music holdings." Hillel Ausubel

Library J 97:2402 J1 '72 200w

"[Schnabel] was a Beethoven specialist, and, whether admitted or not, all modern ideas of classical playing have been influenced by him, directly or indirectly—through memories of his performances or through his records, his editions, or the ideals he passed on to his pupils. Mr Wolff was such a pupil, and he planned his book years ago with Schnabel's approval and hoped for collaboration. On Schnabel's death in 1951, the original plan was frustrated; in view of the time-lapse one is inclined to say 'shelved' since the ideas are claimed as 'emanations from Schnabel's artistic personality'. There is no doubt that this personality shines throughout Mr Wolff's pages."

TLS p333 Mr 24 '72 340w

WOLFF, KURT H., ed. From Karl Mannheim. See Mannheim, K.

WOLFF, ROBERT LEE. Strange stories and other explorations in Victorian fiction. 378p il $8.95 Gambit

823 English fiction—History and criticism
ISBN 0-87645-047-8 LC 70-144338

The first of the three essays in this volume concerns Wolff's "collection of first editions and presentation copies of Victorian novels. . . . An essay on the neuroses lurking behind the fiction of Harriet Martineau and Laurence Oliphant is followed by a monograph-length study of the occult fiction of Sir Edward Bulwer-Lytton." (Library J) Index.

Reviewed by Phoebe Adams

Atlantic 228:153 N 1 '71 80w

"Coolidge Professor of History at Harvard and called by Jerome Buckley 'the world's foremost collector of Victorian fiction,' Wolff has put together a book of three separate essays only loosely connected by his interest in lesser known Victorian fiction. . . . The third and probably most interesting is a study . . . of Sir Edward Bulwer-Lytton. For the general reader and the serious student willing to overlook tea-table trivia, stylistic gaucheries, and some dull plot summary, Wolff's book contains some interesting information on third and fourth rank Victorian writers and works."

Choice 9:650 J1/Ag '72 180w

"[The first essay] is a charming, zestful, irresistible account of some of the highlights of [the author's] glorious collection. . . . The other two essays illustrate the author's 'marked interest in the peculiar' and in the obscure as well. . . . In both pieces Wolff's obvious passion is buttressed by a great deal of learning and careful research, and he succeeds in bringing his subjects very much to life. Yet Martineau, Oliphant, and the occult in Bulwer-Lytton remain terribly far from the beaten path. Serious students of Victorian culture will enjoy taking a busman's holiday with this volume. Otherwise, Strange Stories is recommended for bibliophiles, Bulwer-Lytton scholars, occultists, delvers into literary curiosities—and large research collections." Keith Cushman

Library J 96:3760 N 15 '71 190w

WÖLFFLIN, HEINRICH. The art of Albrecht Dürer; tr. by Alastair & Heide Grieve. 310p il col pl $18.50 Phaidon; for sale by Praeger
759.3 Dürer, Albrecht
ISBN 0-7148-1467-9 LC 70-139837

In this book, which was first published in Germany in 1905, Wölfflin is "Concerned with how Dürer achieved his aims and why his works have their particular form. . . . After a short biographical summary, he examines the individual works arranged according to chronology and type. The book ends with chapters on Dürer's style . . . and on his continual search for an ideal beauty. The three . . . series of woodcuts are studied . . . and the author also deals with the influence of the Italian Renaissance on Dürer, who went to Italy in 1500." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"Though Wölfflin reads a bit old-fashioned today, his highly personal analysis and quite fearless speculation about the essence of whatever Dürer work he happens to be explicating make his book relevant if sometimes tedious. He does carefully emphasize that Dürer, however precise or minute his detail, was an inspired hand at composition who was far ahead of his time in his preference for the particular and individual vision over the general or ideal." S. K. Oberbeck
Book World p3 D 12 '71 170w

"Although any book by Wölfflin is worth reading, this publication is something of a mixed blessing. An indifferent translation conveys little of the author's celebrated prose style and the reproductions of Dürer's works are of only mediocre quality. Wölfflin's revolutionary method as well as many of his most penetrating insights are thus clouded by the tedious going. This is particularly distressing as [the book] is one of the acknowledged cornerstones of modern art historical investigation. . . . Mainly recommended for graduate libraries or special collections." Choice 9:639 J1/Ag '72 160w

"Well written and well illustrated (although many works are discussed in detail without illustration) the book, a basic analysis of the work of Germany's most celebrated artist, will appeal to scholars and interested laymen alike." L. Dewton
Library J 97:64 Ja 1 '72 120w

"[The translation] is beyond praise. . . . The book is beautifully produced, with clearly printed plates in the best Phaidon tradition. . . . One may disagree with an interpretation here or there, but the whole is as stimulating as it is relevant even today. It is good to have this book in English at last." TLS p1494 D 3 '71 200w

Library J 97:64 Ja 1 '72 120w

WOLFGANG, MARVIN E., ed. Crime and justice. See Radzinowicz, L.

WOLFFLE, DAEL. The uses of talent. 204p $6.50 Princeton univ. press

338.4 College education, Value of. Professional education, Labor supply
ISBN 0-691-06693-6 LC 71-143817

Woffle considers a number of "questions regarding the training and societal use of talented professional manpower. How much good talent does our system miss? Toward what national goals do we want to direct our talented individuals? . . . [Woffle examines] the evidence regarding the changing demand for college graduates, measures of return on educational investment, the selection process, and various aspects of worker mobility among professionals." (Library J) Index.

"This book is based on a series of lectures given at Princeton University in the fall of 1969 by the former director of the Commission on Human Resources and Advanced Training. This expert asks some highly germane questions. . . . He concludes that 'On balance, [the American system of educating and utilizing talent], as a set of institutions, policies, and practices, must be given good marks.' But, 'if . . . one tries to appraise the ways we are using the system, there is much cause for worry.' [His book is] a significant appraisal for university and college libraries." William Gibelman

Library J 96:3129 O 1 '71 160w

"This book deals with the selection, education, deployment, and utilization of scientists, humanists, professionals, and others of comparable talent. Making a biological analogy, Woffle . . . sees these processes in the context of a national ecological macrocosm in which specialized talents enter into an evolving association with one another. The system generates specialists who work out various adjustments to one another, yet at the same time develop tensions and pressures which keep the whole system in a dynamic state. The book is an informative description and wise assessment of this ecological system, and of its strengths and weaknesses, together with carefully conceived and realistic suggestions for improvement. Woffle . . . arrays his complex data simply and clearly, and produces a number of ingenious but well-validated interpretations." Ward Madden
Science 174:1015 D 3 '71 450w

WOLITZ, SETH L. The Proustian community. 252p il $8.95 N.Y. univ. press

843 Proust, Marcel. Paris—Social life and customs
ISBN 0-8147-9153-0 LC 73-171349

"An analysis of the Proustian community as it emerges in Remembrance of Things Past is first offered . . . in terms of its historical perspective (political, economic, and social conditions of the belle époque), in terms of its cluster-groups (the aristocracy in particular) which determine the social hierarchy of the period, and in terms of the institutions resulting from such a framework and their aesthetic ramifications. A . . . chapter on the Jews in Parisian society (the assimilated ones) and the effect external elements (such as the Dreyfus affair) had upon them concludes the volume." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

"With clear and erudite insight, Wolitz successfully demonstrates how Proust artistically shaped 'historical fact to serve his aesthetic vision.' This incisive piece of scholarship includes notes . . . [and is] highly recommended for college and university libraries." Choice 9:652 J1/Ag '72 160w

"Wolitz was inspired to write The Proustian Community after a group of young people threw some hot coffee at him and his friends in Federal City, Maryland at the beginning of the civil rights movement. Wolitz identified with the young Proust experienced what a solitary search for a better society meant and was determined. The study is written with great care and insight." B. L. Knapp
Library J 97:876 Mr 1 '72 160w

"Proust, [Wolitz] shows, was neither the snobbish dilettante who hung around fashionable salons nor the social critic intent on demolishing the establishment. What he sought to understand was the social structure, was the interactions of character and society." N Y Times Bk R p20 Ap 16 '72 50w

WOLPE, HOWARD, Jr. ed. Nigeria: modernization and the politics of communalism. See Melson, R.

WOLSELEY, ROLAND E. The Black press. U.S.A.; with an introd. by Robert E. Johnson. 362p il $10.50 Iowa state univ. press

070.4 Journalism
ISBN 0-8138-0185-0 LC 74-126160

The author of this study is the professor of journalism at Syracuse University. Bibliography. Index.

"Detailed overview of . . . a largely neglected subject, by an experienced author and journalism educator. Descriptive rather than analytical, this book has no real competitor. Included in the 17 chapters is an excellent, perforce brief, history of the black press. The final chapter, 'The future,' dispassionately predicts that the black press will survive for several generations despite its handicaps, internal and external. Should be on tap in all libraries as a valuable reference tool. Well illustrated."

WOLSELEY, R. E.—Continued

Choice 9:199 Ap '72 80w

"Not recently has there been so comprehensive and thoroughly researched study of the black press as this one. . . . The book is full of biographical, historical, statistical and sociological information on the subject, facts not readily available elsewhere under one cover. Empathy is evident throughout but objectivity is seldom compromised; the black press is not without its weaknesses and Wolseley discusses these freely. The sensible arrangement of topics and the liberal use of boldface headings should maximize use. . . . This book is highly recommended not only to journalism collections but to all libraries." Edward Mapp

Library J 96:3753 N 15 '71 110w

WOLTERS, O. W. The fall of Śrīvijaya in Malay history. 274p $12 Cornell univ. press

991 Śrīvijaya (Kingdom)—History
ISBN 0-8014-0595-5 LC 74-12779

"In a sequel to his earlier work, Early Indonesian Commerce [BRD 1968], Professor Wolters discusses the continuity of Malay history. . . . He investigates what happened to the maritime Malays in the second half of the fourteenth century, when the great Sumatran Malay empire of Śrīvijaya is supposed to have collapsed, and the rise of the empire of Malacca on the Malay Peninsula was about to begin." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"Wolters's erudite study of the period of Malacca Straits history from 1370 to 1436, during the first two reigns of China's Ming dynasty, goes far to render obsolete all previous accounts of the period based on Tomé Pires Summa Oriental prepared in the early 1500s. He exploits a plethora of Chinese records and gives particular attention to a Malay historical genealogy entitled Sejarah Melayu, prepared in 1436 . . . to bolster in every possible way the claims of Mohammed Shah to the allegiance of the entire Malay world. . . . [The author's] interpretation [of the Sejarah Melayu] is meticulously argued and elaborately documented. . . . The title [of his book] might better read 'The Exploitation of the Śrīvijayan Tradition by the Founders of Malacca. . . . Though Wolters' arguments seem labored at times, he has placed all serious students of Southeast Asian history in his debt with this stimulating study, which no student of the period can ignore.' J. F. Cady

Pacific Affairs 44:638 winter '71-'72 750w

"There can be no doubt that the Sējarah Mēlayu begins with a great deal of myth and confusion. . . . [This does] not preclude the application of ingenuity to the interpretation of [its] opening sections . . . to produce some kind of order and sense. It is just this that Wolters attempts. . . . While one may remain unconvinced by [his] conclusions, yet it is impossible to express anything but admiration for the scholarly tour de force by which they are produced. . . . Wolters may indeed be right in detecting esoteric implications in the early chapters of Sējarah Mēlayu which illuminate the relationship between the rise of Malacca and the end of Śrīvijaya; but, on the other hand, he may not. Impeccable scholarship cannot function in a vacuum, and the literary and epigraphic sources used by Professor Wolters, both Malay and non-Malay, are no substitute for a sound corpus of archaeological data on the pre-European history of both Sumatra and the Malay Peninsula."

TLS p69 Ja 21 '72 400w

WOLTERS, RICHARD A. The art and technique of soaring; drawings by Edward Hanke. 197p $14.95 McGraw

629.1 GHiding and soaring
SBN 07-071560-2 LC 78-168460

"After providing a brief history of the sport. . . . [the author gives] instructions in flight theory and discusses towing, developing flying skills, finding thermals and staying up, landing, and traveling cross-country." (Library J)

"This is definitely a 'how to do it' book. Emphasis is almost entirely on what the pilot must know to be safe and effective in a sailplane. . . . Photographs are presented in pairs—one shows what the pilot sees, the other shows what the sailplane is doing. A student glider pilot will find the book complete from brief and basic theory to cross-country flight. Quite different from other books on the subject as no unnecessary information is included."

Choice 8:1602 F '72 100w

"An experienced pilot has produced a wonderful, large-format text on soaring. . . . A series of sequence photographs takes the reader right into the cockpit, and Hanke's fine drawings are indispensable. The great emphasis on good technique and on safety will also make the book beneficial to pilots of motor-powered planes." R. G. Schipf

Library J 97:82 Ja 1 '72 90w

WONG, MAY. Reports. 140p $6.50 Harcourt

821
ISBN 0-15-176850-1 LC 72-75419

A book of poems.

"May, a native Chinese, is a modernist who uses no recognizable verse forms. Her lines are short, pithy, gay or somber, with many references to death, the ultimate mystery. This is from a poem entitled 'Muse': 'Birth pursues me/ I tell you verily/ it is birth that pursues me./ He is not unlike death./ The sickness that takes such delights in me awes me.' . . . Recommended for medium sized and large public libraries." P. H. Marvin

Library J 97:2611 Ag '72 60w

"Wong May is a new name for me; her name and poetry are worth noting. . . . Her poetry is attractive, though a bit extended. She is at her best in her shorter, more controlled poems, having a diction that works well within a simple emotional frame. . . . [One] is much more than a poet of social relevance. She can dig deeply into the personal areas of pain and suffering, and it is here that her poems reflect a powerful imagination. . . . At the center of the event, she is very good indeed." Norman Rosten

Sat R 55:58 Ag 12 '72 240w

WOOD, GORDON S. The rising glory of America, 1760-1820; ed. with introd. and notes by Gordon S. Wood. 403p il $7.50; pa $3.95 Braziller

917.3 U.S.—Civilization. U.S.—Intellectual life. U.S.—History—Revolution. U.S.—History—1783-1865
ISBN 0-8076-0611-1; 0-8076-0610-3 (pa)
LC 75-151798

"Within the space of a generation, an entire world of thought was lost and a new image of America created. . . . Wood sets out to demonstrate and explain this transformation. . . . Besides his quotations from Adams and Ingersoll [he] has assembled a . . . variety of Fourth of July orations, lithographs and portraits, playbills, scientific and medical writings, and religious and moral tracts to illustrate the years between 1760 and 1820, during which two million-odd colonists . . . grew into a . . . continental republic of nearly ten million." (Book World) Bibliography.

"The grand theme of [this book] is the search for national identity in the new republic. . . . Sensibly, Mr. Wood keeps his own interpretations to a minimum. One wonders here if he has quite done justice to the Revolution's dark, romantic, chivalrous side: even culturally, the Revolution was not just John Adams and Thomas Jefferson writ large. But his wise selection of American authors and artists speaks for itself. What a delightful story it tells!" J. L. Connelly

America 125:562 D 25 '71 300w

"In his brilliant introductory essay, Wood forces us to rethink the meaning of America's Revolutionary experience. . . . Extending the argument of his earlier book, The Creation of the American Republic [BRD 1969, he] portrays the American Revolutionary leaders . . . as cosmopolitan utopian reformers, striving to achieve the ideals of enlightened men everywhere. . . . [His] book is an impressive recreation of the rise and fall of the Revolutionaries' world view." R. A. Gross

Book World p11 D 19 '71 900w

"The documents selected illustrate well the changes which took place during these six decades and are arranged and edited to afford the reader maximum benefit. They are also of sufficient length to give him the 'feel' of the material."

Choice 9:277 Ap '72 100w

WOOD, NANCY. Hollering sun; phot. by Myron Wood. ump 11 lib bdg $4.95 Simon & Schuster

970.3 Taos Indians—Juvenile literature
SBN 671-65192-7 (lib bdg) LC 75-183761

"The thoughts presented in this book are those of the Taos Indians. They were passed on over a period of ten years to the author, who wrote them down as poems, aphorisms and sayings." (Editor's note) "After an introduction which summarizes the history of the Taos Indians of New Mexico and their long battle to retain Blue Lake, a place sacred to them, the [text and photographs are] divided into three sections: 'Legends,' 'The Village' and 'Nature.' . . . Grades four to twelve." (Library J)

Reviewed by Mrs. John Gray
Best Sell 32:396 N 15 '72 160w

"A handsome, significant book about the Indians of the Taos Pueblo. . . . Nancy Wood has transcribed their philosophies and feelings into moving and dignified poetry and prose. . . . She also relates how they have outwitted the white man through patience, courage and belief in their traditions and heritage. . . . The format is attractive and well balanced with deep gray print and a few black pages with white print. Many black-and-white photographs effectively mirror the moods expressed." M. I. Purucker

Library J 97:2957 S 15 '72 210w

"Quiet strength and a profound respect for nature are the twin virtues evoked in this collection. . . . Adapting the style of authentic Indian utterance, the author gives to her best lines a verisimilitude that is tasteful and sometimes striking. Key words are repeated. The phrasing is clipped. Imagery is kept to a minimum. . . . [The Taos] have long had a reputation for keeping their religion to themselves. Evidently the author . . . is relying to some extent upon inference—as well as imagination. Reading her verses, one is reminded in various and subtle ways of the ecology ethic popularly ascribed to American Indian societies. She handles the subject skillfully. . . . As poetry or as provocation the book is effective on the whole—and refreshingly free of both the old-fashioned sentimentalism and the more recent vulgarity that have tended to discredit this genre." John Bierhorst

N Y Times Bk R p8 Ag 13 '72 600w

WOODBERRY, JOAN. Come back, Peter; ill. by George Tetlow. 152p $3.95 Crowell

ISBN 0-690-20158-3 LC 78-171011

The story centers on three "young boys with grave problems: Ten-year-old Paul, whose older brother had died of an accident and whose mother cannot come to grips with the needs of her lonely child: Johnnie, who must find help for his sun-struck mother by traveling twenty-five miles to Paul's station home; and an intelligent and courageous aboriginal boy named Peter, who has been deserted by his tribe. Their joining together in an emergency answers the needs of each." (Horn Bk) Glossary. "Grades four to six." (Library J)

"Few readers of Joan Woodberry's novel will ever have to milk a goat, journey through the searing heat of an Australian summer, or deal with the harshness of life in the outback, but they may know a time when, like Paul, they must find within the courage to act as more than children. The author has selected words with the meticulous care of a poet. The result is a sensitive, beautifully crafted story which will appeal to every age." C. T. K.

Christian Science Monitor pB3 My 4 '72 130w

Horn Bk 48:271 Je '72 240w

"The oppressive, relentless heat of summer in the parched outback is vividly recreated. However, some characters are more successfully realized than others; the plot is spottily developed; and the abrupt ending . . . is disappointing." K. K. Bricker

Library J 97:1918 My 15 '72 150w

Reviewed by Zena Sutherland
Sat R 55:75 Je 17 '72 130w

"The story is a complex one, simply told, shirking nothing, with a strong feeling for place and heat, and excellent characterization. Some children may, however, feel cheated by the ending. It is perhaps too optimistic of Miss Woodberry to suggest that the aboriginal boy, bearing the same name, could replace the dead boy. There would be problems, hinted at earlier in the book. ('He wanted two lives—the life of the white man . . . and the life of his own people.') But it is a fine story and many children will respond warmly to its idealism." TLS p426 Ap 15 '70 360w

WOODBURY, CHARLES J. Talks with Emerson; introd. by Henry Le Roy Finch. 177p $5.95 Horizon press

818 Emerson, Ralph Waldo
ISBN 0-8180-0216-6 LC 78-132325

This book, which is a reprint of the first edition (1890), portrays Emerson "talking to a small circle of young men, giving them his experience of life and his advice on how to write, what to read and what should and should not be important to them. . . . Emerson's thoughts about his contemporaries are [also] given here: . . . what he thought of Thoreau, of Margaret Fuller, the Alcotts, Louisa and Bronson, of Whitman and Hawthorne, and many others." (Publisher's note)

"[This is] a primary source on Emerson. . . . Like Boswell, Woodbury each night captured the ideas and tone of the great man to whom he had listened that day. . . . Finch, in his admirable introduction, highlights the cause of Woodbury's eventual disenchantment with Emerson, as he came to believe his refusal to face evil to be a limitation in his thinking. Finch provides a critical analysis of Emerson's philosophy, picturing it as a reflection of the strength and weakness of the American character. Long unavailable, this book should be added to all libraries. Immensely readable by general reader and specialist."

Choice 8:837 S '71 220w

"[This volume] is interesting but not very important to our understanding of Emerson. . . . Those of Emerson's biographers who mention Woodbury's book have glanced at it as a poor attempt to 'Boswellize' Emerson. If this were its intention, it would be a negligible document. Woodbury had neither enough material nor enough intimacy with his subject to Boswellize. . . . The editor of the series in which this appears . . . apparently has made no effort to edit the text, which reproduces obvious mechanical and typographical errors of the first edition. His concise and knowledgeable introduction says some fit things about Emerson but says nothing about the book he is supposed to be introducing. . . . [However] this is, on the whole, a moderately interesting document of Emersoniana, and it is worthwhile to have it again available." Darrel Abel

New Eng Q 44:679 D '71 650w

WOODCOCK, GEORGE. Dawn and the darkest hour; a study of Aldous Huxley. 299p $7.95 Viking

823 Huxley, Aldous Leonard
SBN 670-25859-8 LC 72-183511

"Woodcock sees the 'movement out of darkness towards light' as the sustaining image of Huxley's art as well as of his life. [He uses this metaphor] . . . to tie together his chronological survey of Huxley's fiction, poetry, and essays." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

Choice 9:1135 N '72 160w

Reviewed by Victor Howes
Christian Science Monitor p13 J1 5 '72 750w

"Since Woodcock brings a lifelong interest in Huxley to this study, the book is 'something of a personal testament,' though the criticism it contains is 'all the sharper for having emerged from the undulations to passionate reaction.' This personal involvement, measured but unmistakable, is one of the best qualities of [this work]. . . . One of [its] special strengths is the serious attention it gives the often neglected short stories. If the discussion of the novels finally doesn't add a lot to our understanding (and Brave New World [BRD 1932] is scarcely 'didactic in total intent'), this still strikes me as one of the most stimulating studies of Huxley available." Keith Cushman

Library J 97:1327 Ap 1 '72 200w

Reviewed by Saul Maloff
New Repub 167:22 J1 1 '72 2500w
N Y Rev of Books 18:36 Je 15 '72 380w

"Woodcock is the latest to study the Huxley oeuvre. No one has been more comprehensive. The poems, so often ignored as literature, have been gleaned for philosophical and psychological data. Articles, tossed off in the need for money, yield material which previous writers have ignored. . . . Sight and vision is the main theme of Mr Woodcock's study. . . . [He] sees the development of Huxley's life as a progress—zigzaggy but consistent—towards a spiritual truth more important than those of literary art. To Huxley's final novel Island [BRD 1962] . . . Mr Woodcock brings a philosophical sympathy, while admitting its failure as a work of art. . . . Not everyone will take the value of Huxley the Prophet as highly as [the author] does."

WOODCOCK, GEORGE—Continued

TLS p544 My 12 '72 750w

WOODCOCK, GEORGE. Into Tibet: the early British explorers. 277p il maps $8.75 Barnes & Noble

915.15 Tibet
ISBN 389-04138-6 LC 79-27863

The author describes the journeys of three Englishmen "George Bogle (1774-5), Samuel Turner (1783-4), and Thomas Manning (1811-12). . . . He reveals the first impact . . . of Tibet on three very different men, two of whom—Bogle and Turner—were servants of the East India Company and the third—Thomas Manning—an extremely eccentric Sinologist who was a friend of Charles Lamb. Dr Woodcock also sketches in the . . . background of British Indian policy concerning the northern frontier regions from the time of Warren Hastings, who despatched both Bogle and Turner to meet the Panchen Lama, to the tragic Younghusband Expedition of 1903." (Publisher's note) Annotated bibliography. Index.

"This work is an extremely readable and appealing account of the early phase of British penetration of Tibet. . . . The material is not particularly new . . . and the treatment of the material includes no documentation or indication of the manner in which the sources are used. In summary, an appealingly written introduction to the field, but probably of negligible value for more specialized collections."

Choice 8:1500 Ja '72 130w

"A fascinating introduction to one of the less-known phases of British Central Asian travel. What emerges clearly is that men like Bogle and Turner were still, in their attitude towards oriental rulers like the Panchen Lama, far closer to their medieval forebears than to the proconsular frontier men of nineteenth-century empire."

TLS p1085 S 10 '71 400w

WOODHAM-SMITH, CECIL. Queen Victoria: from her birth to the death of the Prince Consort. 486p pl $10 Knopf; for sale by Random house

B or 92 Victoria, Queen of Great Britain.
Great Britain—History—19th century
ISBN 0-394-48245-X LC 72-2235

Using the Royal Family Archives the author portrays "Victoria—the girl and the woman, the daughter and the mother, the wife and the queen—from her birth low in the Royal Succession to her coronation, to her bereavement at the death of the Prince Consort." (Publisher's note) Index.

Reviewed by Edward Weeks
Atlantic 230:141 D '72 700w

Reviewed by F. X. J. Homer
Best Sell 32:420 D 1 '72 800w

Reviewed by Victor Howes
Christian Science Monitor p9 D 27 '72 1000w

"Queen Victoria is an unusually formidable subject for a biographer to confront. She was a political figure of first-class importance. . . . [And] she was a woman whose life and interests were as much concerned with child-births, marriages, and family affairs as with cabinets and policy. . . . Mrs Woodham-Smith is best on the family side; good on the dynastic—especially the Coburg ramifications—aspect; rather weak on politics and constitutional development and foreign policy. . . . The most welcome contribution of this book is to enlarge our knowledge of the circumstances of Queen Victoria's private and even intimate life. The peculiar problems surrounding her lonely girlhood, her difficult relationship with her widowed mother, the Duchess of Kent, and her mother's recurrent tendency to fall under the influence of unscrupulous and ambitious men such as Sir John Conroy are for the first time accorded full and authoritative treatment."

Economist 245:67 O 7 '72 1200w

"This masterful biography truly merits the description of definitive. . . . Balance between events and personalities, thorough yet unobtrusive research, and consummate narrative skills blend beautifully in this book. It deserves a reception as favorable as that accorded Elizabeth Longford's Victoria [BRD 1965], and in many ways, particularly the judiciousness of interpretation and ability to place the Queen in the context of her age, it is superior. Most libraries will want to possess both works and hopefully a sequel covering Victoria's later years will be forthcoming shortly." J. A. Casada

Library J 97:3580 N 1 '72 130w

Reviewed by John Vincent
New Statesman 84:472 O 6 '72 1450w

Reviewed by Noel Annan
N Y Rev of Books 19:12 N 30 '72 1800w

Reviewed by Peter Quennell
N Y Times Bk R p5 N 26 '72 600w

"[This] is an enormously detailed biography, and composed in an easy style, but it is a disappointing one, since it lacks a frame, a point, a purpose, or a shape. It is fairly long on trivia—the colors of the dresses Queen Louise of Belgium gave Victoria—and short on politics, and some, at least, of the political judgments are dubious. . . . And it is occasionally hard to know why Mrs. Woodham-Smith has decided to place one thing in and leave another out. The work, in brief, does not replace Lady Longford's one-volume biography [BRD 1965], but its minuteness does amplify—and sometimes correct—that more concise and better-organized book, and for readers who have the patience Mrs. Woodham-Smith's Ordnance Survey scale brings us very close to Victoria, as a person and to the persons around her." Naomi Bliven

New Yorker 48:173 D 9 '72 1400w

Reviewed by Peter Stansky
Sat R 55:84 N 18 '72 2100w

Reviewed by Robert Hughes
Time 100:72 D 25 '72 800w

"Mrs Woodham-Smith has given us an informative book, beautifully written, with the whole story developed into a memorable and convincing picture against a singularly vivid background of the times. . . . The book is delightfully strengthened by those enlivening touches characteristic of the author. For example we learn that the family of the Duchess of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha allowed her mind to become corrupted by reading Persian poetry; that the Queen loved a glass of beer. . . . As the reader goes deeper in the book he is able to enjoy some of the private memoranda from the Prince to the Queen with allusions to 'your loss of self-control' and 'fidgety nature'."

TLS p1247 O 20 '72 1700w

WOODHOUSE, A. S. P. The minor English poems. See A variorum commentary on the poems of John Milton, v2

WOODHOUSE, C. M. The philhellenes. 192p $7.50 Fairleigh Dickinson univ. press

949.5 Greece, Modern—History. Byron, George Gordon Noel Byron, 6th Baron
ISBN 0-8386-7912-9 LC 78-149328

This book is concerned with "the actions and ideals of men such as Thomas Erskine, Joseph Hume, and C. J. Napier, as well as of the better known sympathizers with the Greeks' war of independence such as Byron and Cochrane and Bulwer. . . . Bibliography." (Choice)

"Limited to British Philhellenes [this work] fulfills a great need as a group study. . . . The book is smoothly written, albeit from printed sources exclusively, with 15 portrait-plates, and will be attractive to the informed general reader for whom it is intended as well as useful to the specialist. Woodhouse has provided a frugal equipment of notes, and a brief bibliography of some of the more important secondary works on the Philhellenes and the Greek war of independence."

Choice 9:569 Je '72 190w

"Woodhouse . . . follows the varied fortunes of the British philhellenes with sympathy and fairness. Although his material is not new, his point of view is, and he combines clear prose with sensible scholarship, making this a good book on a relatively neglected but important subject." P. F. Moran

Library J 96:4011 D 1 '71 170w

WOODHOUSE, MARTIN. Mama doll. 219p
$6.95 Coward, McCann & Geoghegan
LC 75-185766

"Giles Yeoman wakes with amnesia. Gradual improvement, with therapy, recalls to his mind that he is a doctor, was engaged recently in espionage, and that his girl friend was killed when he himself was injured. Much of his memory is restored by a brain operation. . . . Driven by revenge, he returns to work as a spy." (Best Sell)

"A good scientific mystery which needs a little more development of individual characters but has excellent suspense—as far as it goes."

Best Sell 32:149 Je 15 '72 100w

Reviewed by Henry Veit

Library J 97:[2652] Ag '72 130w

Reviewed by Kenn Stitt

New Statesman 83:611 My 5 '72 70w

"[This novell] is neatly plotted, crisp in dialogue, full of action." Newgate Callendar
N Y Times Bk II p22 J1 23 '72 60w

"Yeoman, in pursuit of an international armaments ring that is stockpiling weapons and knocking off industrialists with strychnine-laden time pills . . . moves between Iceland and the Grenadines, is nearly killed twice [and] watches a model parade half-dressed around his bedroom. Routine fare for him; unfortunately, it reads like routine fare. . . . With charm and style, of course . . . but the times have changed and the nervous laughter that marked so many good spy stories of the last decade seems oddly dated now." P. S. Prescott
Newsweek 80:91 J1 10 '72 150w
TLS p783 J1 7 '72 50w

WOODRESS, JAMES. Willa Cather; her life and art. 288p $6.95 Pegasus (N Y)
B or 92 Cather, Willa Sibert
LC 71-124673

Beginning with her "early days in Nebraska, [the author seeks to] show how the materials of Willa Cather's life were transmuted into her art." (Am Lit)

"With access to material unavailable to E. K. Brown almost twenty years ago and with the wish that her letters eventually will be collected and published, Mr. Woodress hopes that his book will 'serve' until the definitive biography of Willa Cather can be written. It seems quite capable of doing so. . . . [He] manages effectively the tricky business of evaluating a novel while showing what it meant to the writer's life. . . . His remarks on Death Comes for the Archbishop [BRD 1927] are excellent on both the subject and the tone of the 'narrative.' . . . He places Willa Cather in a tradition of American romanticism coming from Emerson and Whitman. Without superseding E. K. Brown's critical biography [Willa Cather, BRD 1953] at every point, his study supplements and updates Brown's work in important ways; and that is what he set out to do." Terence Martin
Am Lit 43:465 N '71 360w

Reviewed by R. G. Davis

N Y Times Bk R p4 Mr 21 '71 900w

WOODS, JOHN. Turning to look back; poems: 1955-1970. 155p $6.95 Ind. univ. press

811
ISBN 0-253-18991-8 LC 76-165045

This collection of nineteen new and a number of earlier poems has "five thematic sections: Part I is entitled 'The Deaths of Paragon.' It deals with death and rumors of death in the seasons, death of ideals, and deaths that are also rebirths. Part II, 'In the Time of Apples,' is composed of love poems, love for woman. Part III, 'Barley Tongues,' is a collection of lyrics, more or less formal, overtly lyrical. Part IV, 'Red Telephones,' involves poetry of social comment. Finally, Part V, 'The Bearers of My Name,' deals with identities." (Publisher's note) Some of these poems appeared in such periodicals as Tennessee Poetry Review, Kenyon Review and Choice.

"The range of values is even more evident here than in earlier books—from the heavy-handed flatness of the Paragon group, through the keenly felt and moving lyrics and love poems, to the Dickey-strenuous topicality of the 'socially conscious' group. . . . Some of the poems are mere comments; some are reports; a few are recollections; but three of the five sections contain excellent lyric and are apparently Woods' essential voice. When he listens to others, he is obvious and dull; but when he listens to his body, he sings. Recommended."

Choice 9:511 Je '72 180w

"Close inspection reveals this volume to be much more than a 'collected works.' The poems have been carefully selected; their effectiveness has been heightened by a careful revision of their visual appearance; and their arrangement often lends them renewed vigor. New poems add to the poet's stature. Woods demonstrates both the coherence of his work and the increasing authority of his poetic voice. This book merits the attention of all readers of poetry." W. W. Waring
Library J 97:505 F 1 '72 170w

WOODS, RICHARD. The occult revolution; Christian meditation. 240p $6.50 Herder & Herder

133 Occult sciences. Christianity
LC 71-167866

"The occult revolution . . . is a religious response to the impact of technological change, according to Richard Woods. [He] contends that the churches have failed to provide values acceptable to modern man, and that as a consequence, astrologers, alchemists, witches, soothsayers, and magicians abound in the contemporary world. The author traces their origins from the obscure past and attempts to determine what the current renewal of the occult means for the Christian of the present and for his religion in the future." (Publisher's note) Index.

"[The author] is at his best in his perception of the dangers of occultism. Without wishing, he says, to deny outright the objective existence of forces and beings (such as the devil) which the occultists speak of, he interprets the categories of magic, witchcraft and gnosticism existentially in a manner reminiscent of Bultmann's demythologization of the Bible. . . . In the final analysis, however, Father Woods has not discriminated between modern, youthful occultism and the real search for oneself in an astonishing and unknown cosmic scheme. He has explained the psychodynamic meaning of contemporary occultism, but at the price of making everything between ordinary man and absolute God seem understandable in familiar categories." Jacob Needleman
Commonweal 96:173 Ap 21 '72 480w

"[This] is bound to be a successful book, one that will be used in many theology courses on the Catholic campuses. Its author (a Dominican priest) displays an astonishing erudition running from sunspots to psychology to physiology to divination to diabolism. . . . Unfortunately [the book] is flawed by several serious weaknesses which not only deprive it of much of the force it might have had but make it a book that could easily be called dangerous. In my judgment, the worst flaw . . . is [the] author's lack of sensibility. . . . Woods' vast erudition [also] frequently leads him to a superficiality that is dangerously close to dilletantism. . . . [The book] is a strange sort of mishmash . . . composed of magic, parapsychology, group dynamics, radical clichés, Simon and Garfunkel, Tennessee Ernie Ford [etc.]. It is an interesting recipe, certainly, but a little hard to digest." Andrew Greeley
Critic 30:90 Mr '72 1100w

"Woods's book takes a . . . scholarly approach and constitutes an ordered but abbreviated introduction to the whole spectrum of occult science in its historical context. Yet scholarship is not worn as a badge, and the reader will have no difficulty in following Woods through the maze of astrology, occult orders, and witchcraft. . . . The work's unique value [is] to the concerned Christian grappling with the conflict between orthodoxy and the popular appeal of occultism." J. F. North
Library J 97:884 Mr 1 '72 110w

WOODWARD, C. VANN. American counterpoint; slavery and racism in the North-South dialogue. 301p $7.95; pa $2.95 Little 301.451 U.S.—Race relations. Southern States—Race relations
LC 76-143715

In these ten essays the author seeks to "dellate many of the stereotypes and images that have arisen around race and regional identity. He investigates when, how and why these myths developed, what shapes they have taken, and what uses have been made of them. The essays include: 'The Southern Ethic in a Puritan World,' a reappraisal of certain aspects of Southern culture; . . . 'Protestant Slavery in a Catholic World,' an investigation of Southern slavery in the light of other slave societies of the Americas; 'The Northern Crusade Against Slavery,' an exploration of the genesis of anti-Negro prejudice in the North." (Publisher's note) Index.

"As one of the preeminent pioneers in forcing some drastic reordering of long-held concepts in this area, [Woodward's] analyses of recent historiography and his reflections thereon make this book invaluable to an understanding of current controversies. Focusing on problems from Colonial times to the present, he underscores the recent awareness that these issues historically go beyond regional considerations. Recommended for all libraries." W. E. Parrish

Library J 96:1364 Ap 15 '71 100w

"One senses in Woodward an instinctive identification with the yearnings and struggles of the South's poor of both races; he is at his most eloquent and forceful as he writes of the Populists and their determination to take on all sorts of powers and principalities, and in 'American Counterpoint' he . . . speaks of that brief and luminous moment in the late nineteenth century when black and white men stood side by side. . . . The author is not really interested in a controversy; he wants to clarify and discuss, learn and teach. Woodward's approach to historical scholarship and to the task of writing essays comes across on every page of his book. . . . His 'method' is to use his mind's sensibility. In his essays, he sets down straight sentences—sometimes sharp and brilliant but always lean and earnest." Robert Coles

New Yorker 48:141 Ap 15 '72 2300w

"These investigations of race relations and sectional myths are given further cohesiveness by Woodward's frequent use of the comparative approach to determine just what has been unique about the South and what explains that uniqueness. It is impossible to do justice to these probing and intelligent essays in a brief summary. Most have appeared before, although the author has revised them for this edition. . . . If Professor Woodward often seems to defend the South in his examination of the North-South dialogue, no one is more painfully aware than he of the shortcomings of that section, indeed, of the nation at large. Both the professional historian and the layman will find much to learn in this volume and, in its thoughtfulness and decency, much to admire."

Yale R 61:xxx O '71 900w

WOODWARD, SIR LLEWELLYN. Prelude to modern Europe, 1815-1914. 309p $8.50; pa $3.50 Barnes & Noble; for sale by Harper
940.2 Europe—History—1789-1900. Europe—History—20th century
SRN 416-20180-6:416-20190-4(pa)
LC 72-188553

"A revised and updated set of lectures originally delivered by the author at the University of Oxford 20 years ago." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

"Woodward treats Europe as a unit only in his introductory and concluding chapters, and England is arbitrarily excluded as being a country apart in the 19th Century. The heart of the book consists of individual treatments of France, Germany, Italy, Russia, and Austria-Hungary. This unfortunate arrangement leaves the study without a unifying theme and leads to redundancy. And although Woodward eschews the cohesiveness of a general European treatment 'to avoid a mere summary of the external relations of the Powers,' he simply substitutes another type of summary (i.e., the lectures on individual countries are little more than chronological catalogings of events). Woodward was an extraordinary historian but this is a very ordinary book with nothing to recommend it over a dozen others of a similar genre." J. A. Casada

Library J 97:3588 N 1 '72 200w

"In the preface—dated October, 1971, though he died in March, 1971—[the author] writes that he gave the lectures twenty years ago. Internal evidence suggests that they originated long before that—perhaps in the 1920s, when men thought that history came to a full stop with the outbreak of the First World War. . . . Woodward's lectures have a period interest, illustrating how European history was presented a generation ago. Politics and diplomacy were the dominant themes. Nowadays, perhaps, they are too much neglected. . . . The book is redeemed by the footnotes. These are the clever and stimulating remarks with which a tutor relieves the tedium of listening to a student's essay. . . . Some of the footnotes are too clever. . . . Such is the mandarin style."

TLS p581 My 19 '72 950w

WOODWORTH, CONSTANCE, jt. auth. Miss Elizabeth Arden. See Lewis, A. A.

WOOF, ROBERT, ed. Wordsworth's Hawkshead. See Thompson, T. W.

WOOLMAN, JOHN. The journal and major essays of John Woolman; ed. by Phillips P. Moulton. 336p $10.50 Oxford

289.6 Slavery in the U.S. Poor
ISBN 0-19-501419-7 LC 71-171970

Contents: The Journal of John Woolman; Major essays of John Woolman; Introduction to the essays; Some considerations on the keeping of Negroes; Considerations on keeping Negroes, part second; A plea for the poor. Woolman chronology. Glossary. Annotated bibliography. Index.

"Woolman's contemporaneity is vividly illustrated in his 'Plea for the poor' and 'Considerations on keeping Negroes,' an early attack on slavery. Even the question of reparations to the blacks is raised. The Journal addressed itself to such lively issues as tax refusal as a kind of anti-war protest and nonviolence as an important part of effecting social change. This valuable edition also includes . . . detailed textual notes [and] excellent appendices. . . . Should definitely be purchased by the university library."

Choice 9:226 Ap '72 110w

"Anti-slavery advocate, humanitarian, and indefatigable Quaker itinerant minister, John Woolman was perhaps one of those unheeded voices of eighteenth-century America, but nevertheless, his journal is an important and frequently cited commentary. Through scrupulous editing and the addition of Woolman's pleas for the poor and the slave, this new edition should supersede those previously published. In addition to being a reissue of Woolman's journal, this volume forms a part of the Library of Protestant Thought, a promising endeavor to publish major and representative selections from the large body of Protestant writings and theology."

Va Q R 48:xi winter '72 80w

WORCESTER, G. R. G. The junks & sampans of the Yangtze. 626p 11 maps $45 U.S. Naval inst.

623.82 Junks. Shipping—China
ISBN 0-87021-335-0 LC 68-54115

This volume has been compiled from a four-volume limited edition originally printed in Shanghai, 1940-1948. The text has been revised, and new material added. There are four sections: The Yangtze River—its Craft & People; Craft of the Estuary & Shanghai Area; The Lower & Middle River & Tributaries; and Craft of the Upper Yangtze & Tributaries. An Appendix contains material on junk models, Nautical chronological table. Table of Chinese dynasties. Glossary. Index.

"A splendid book, well worth its formidable price and clearly essential for all Chinese and maritime collections. . . . It will delight the casual reader and intrigue the scholar."

Choice 9:563 Je '72 150w

"Just when I had decided that I am beyond surprise as far as books go, [this astonishing book] landed on my desk. It is massive, technical, and romantic. Its author . . . a Briton.

spent 30 years as River Inspector on the Yangtze for the Chinese Customs Service. Mr. Worcester describes how junks vary according to cargo and the part of the river they ply. He discusses history and anchors, ship building, fishing methods, and the maneuvers of oars. . . . He weaves in segments of ancient myths, and is full of stray information. . . . But the book's biggest surprise is its publisher." P. M.

Christian Science Monitor p10 F 10 '72 160w

"There is an excellent index. Over 900 illustrations, of which 174 are scaled drawings of craft, have been included. . . . The illustrations are the text, with the printed portions so carefully keyed as to become an integral part of and supplement to the graphics. There are other refinements, as the inclusion of author's notes in black and those of editors in brown ink in the margins. . . . The result is beautiful, authoritative and satisfying. As to content, how does one describe a treasure chest of information for anyone interested in maritime subjects, in China or in people? For me, the book has been a fascinating and rewarding experience. . . . Moreover, I intend to try the recipe for Nanking duck." V. D. Tate

N Y Times Bk R p[18] Mr 12 '72 700w

WORDSWORTH, JONATHAN, ed. Bicentenary Wordsworth studies in memory of John Alban Finch; assistant ed: Beth Darlington. 490p il $14.50 Cornell Univ. press

821 Wordsworth, William. Finch, John Alban
ISBN 0-8014-0590-4 LC 75-124729

These articles on Wordsworth include John Alban Finch's "analysis of manuscript evidence . . . Stephen Gill's . . . reconstruction of the original Salisbury Plain . . . articles on 'The Prelude' . . . George Healey's . . . account of Cynthia Morgan St. John, whose . . . efforts formed the basis of the great Wordsworth collection at Cornell, David Pirie's . . . argument for the superiority of Coleridge's A letter to [Astr] over the later Ode to dejection . . . and Jonathan Wordsworth's concluding essay, 'The Climbing of Snowdon.'" (Choice) Index.

"Of the 19 articles in this excellent and far-ranging collection, at least a half dozen are of the first importance in Wordsworth studies. The most suggestive and original work is that of John Alban Finch, whose early and tragic death the volume memorializes. . . . Excellent index."

Choice 8:1171 N '71 170w

"The articles pay greater tribute to the memory of Finch than does the long memorial essay at the beginning of the volume, which is an embarrassing example of mindless academic mawkishness. . . . The majority of the essays—including three by Finch himself—show a familiarity with the manuscript material in the Wordsworth Library at Grasmere. The quality of the essays is a little uneven, though most are substantial. A reader must know a great deal about Wordsworth before tackling this volume, and even then he is likely to emerge from a cover-to-cover reading enlightened, but with his passion for scholarly projects somewhat dented." Keith Cushman

Library J 95:4263 D 15 '70 150w

WOUK, HERMAN. The winds of war; a novel. 885p $10 Little

ISBN 0-316-95500-0 LC 72-161857

"In March 1939, 49-year-old Commander Victor Henry, USN, is . . . assigned to Berlin as naval attaché. His timely guess about the signing of the Nazi-Soviet pact brings him into personal contact with President Roosevelt, whom he periodically serves as an unofficial analyst of German political-military maneuvering. His role as attaché also puts him briefly in touch with Hitler, Goering, Stalin, and Churchill. From those early months in 1939 to the smoking aftermath of December 7, 1941, when he sees his long-awaited battleship command resting with the California on the bottom of Pearl Harbor, Henry sees his two sons go off to war, his daughter embroiled in a sordid love affair, and his mercurial wife contemplating divorce." (Library J)

Reviewed by V. J. Colimore
Best Sell 31:431 D 15 '71 550w

Reviewed by Alan Pryce-Jones
Book World p3 N 14 '71 750w
Choice 9:512 Je '72 190w

Christian Science Monitor p11 D 16 '71 120w

"[An] interesting thing about 'The Winds of War' is the interlarding of the narrative with extracts from 'World Empire Lost,' a retrospective analysis of the campaigns of the second world war by General Armin von Roon, a fictitious German staff officer fictitiously imprisoned for 20 years by the very real Nuremberg Tribunal. . . . There is a way of blending real history and fiction that, in the hands of a writer of magisterial authority, produces literature of awesome power. . . . Clearly Herman Wouk has tried to find this way and, to judge from the tone of his book . . . [has] intended 'The Winds of War' to be as serious a contribution to the literature of our time as 'War and Peace' was to that of the nineteenth century. Much as one welcomes a big novel with a big theme—rare enough today—one has to say that the way has eluded him and that the book fails."

Economist 241:70 N 20 '71 650w

"With this meticulously plotted novel about the complex military and political events that remorselessly nudged the United States into World War II, Wouk has created a potential best seller. . . . Readers who appreciate a well-executed plot as well as believable characters acting against a fascinating background of social history will be delighted with this long, absorbing novel, the purpose of which, as Wouk says in the foreword, is to understand how industrialized armed force 'came to haunt us, and how it was that men of good will gave—and still give—their lives to it.'" C. R. Andrews

Library J 96:3641 N 1 '71 220w

Reviewed by P. S. Coyne
Nat R 24:414 Ap 14 '72 190w

New Repub 165:34 D 4 '71 350w

Reviewed by R. R. Davies
New Statesman 82:706 N 19 '71 500w

"Wouk has written a long, mildly interesting, moderately informative novel. . . . From the outset, [it] brings Upton Sinclair's Lanny Budd series to the mind of anyone old enough to have read it. . . . It is not merely in subject matter and method that Wouk reminds me of Sinclair. There is the same indifference to quality, the same reliance on clichés and broad casual strokes. . . . I would not make so much of the commonplaces, the awkward phrases, and the cookie-cutter descriptions if they were not symptomatic of a greater weakness: the failures of Wouk's style betray the failures of his imagination. Like Sinclair, he writes journalistic, and he never rises far above that level. . . . Wouk has the trick—or, if you prefer, the gift—of compelling narrative. . . . Although some pages are sluggish, his flat, undemanding style permits one to skip without missing much." Granville Hicks

N Y Times Bk R p4 N 14 '71 1500w

New Yorker 47:135 D 18 '71 100w

Reviewed by Walter Clemons
Newsweek 78:102 N 29 '71 850w

Reviewed by D. W. McCullough
Sat R 54:55 N 27 '71 1100w

Reviewed by Timothy Foote
Time 98:111 N 22 '71 1850w

WRAY, ELIZABETH. Ten lives of the Buddha; Siamese temple paintings and Jataka tales, by Elizabeth Wray, Clare Rosenfield, and Dorothy Bailey; with phot. by Joe D. Wray. 154p $12.95 Weatherhill

294.3 Art, Buddhist. Mural painting and decoration

ISBN 0-8348-0067-5 LC 73-179982

This volume consists of the last ten Jataka tales, "birth stories of the Buddha, each illustrating one of the 10 virtues. . . . Each story is illustrated by . . . reproductions of Thai temple paintings with explanations of the Jataka collection, of the Jataka motifs in the art of India, Ceylon, and Southeast Asia, of Thailand and its temple paintings." (Choice) Glossary. Bibliography.

"This account of Buddhism . . . is creditable if not original, and the introduction to Thai art excellent. . . . This well written book gives a distinct feeling for the original tales and is a delight to look at. Its appeal is to the general reader; the specialist, Buddhologist or art

Reviewed by W. B. Hill
America 126:550 My 20 '72 60w

Reviewed by Edward Weeks
Atlantic 228:133 D '71 650w

historian, can also profit by its presentation of a hitherto largely unknown area of Buddhist art. Maps of sites, photos of temples, [and] a list of alternate spellings . . . add to its practical value.

Choice 9:957 O '72 170w

"A labor of love which rescues from oblivion frescoes of singular beauty in various Buddhist monasteries in Thailand which are in danger of being destroyed. . . . [The book is] illustrated with excellent photographs taken in situ. . . . The authors retell each tale with particular charm. This beautiful book gives an insight into the literary and aesthetic beauties of a fast-fading culture. An appendix with a short history of Siamese painting . . . rounds out this elegant and valuable contribution."

Peter Fingesten

Library J 97:2380 J1 '72 100w

WRESZIN, MICHAEL. The superfluous anarchist; Albert Jay Nock. 196p $8.50 Brown univ. press

814 Nock, Albert Jay
ISBN 0-87057-130-3 LC 75-154339

The subject of this book wrote "memoirs of a Superfluous Man [BRD 1943. Hel] . . . was an Episcopal clergyman who left the ministry for journalism and became coeditor of the radical literary weekly the Freeman in 1920. . . . Wreszin traces Nock's . . . intellectual journey from its beginnings in humanitarian individualism [to] . . . embittered elitism." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

Choice 9:575 Je '72 180w

"[This] critical study of Nock's 'misanthropic elitism' . . . will help many of our older-time readers recall an era when crotchety Mr. Nock had to be reckoned with."

Christian Century 89:150 F 2 '72 30w

"In this balanced, scholarly study, Wreszin fairly assesses Nock's own anarchistic elitism (the 'individualistic antiinstitutionalism' kind), as well as his standing as a critic of American life. . . . Wreszin details an interesting era, going into Nock's own works on Henry George, Rabelais, and Jefferson, as well as his views on the Great War (waged in the 1920's over New Humanism), Irving Babbitt, Paul Elmer More, Norman Foerster, et al." W. A. Smith

Library J 97:1805 My 15 '72 150w

"Mr. Wreszin's title gives us fair warning that he might have an axe to grind, but he is an able and conscientious scholar and almost in spite of himself, one feels, he has written an interesting and useful book. There is a charm about Nock's writing and the man himself which has somehow rubbed off on the biographer. Nock is not above criticism and the author lays it on, not always fairly. He does, however, pay his respects to Nock's many-sided talent, and honesty compels him to admit the prophetic accuracy of Nock's forebodings of twentieth-century calamities."

B. A. Opitz

Nat R 24:701 Je 23 '72 700w

WRIGHT, DAVID. Lisbon; a portrait and a guide [by] David Wright and Patrick Swift. 270p pl $6.95 Scribner

914.69 Lisbon—Description
SBN 684-12896-9 LC 75-39155

The authors, one a poet and the other a painter, write separate chapters. "Here one can read about fado, the haunting form of song peculiar to Portugal; about food, . . . castles, churches, museums; and the classical, Portuguese, bullfight. Excursions are made into the country; up the Tagus, along such coastal resorts as Cascais, Estoril, Sesimbra. Wright and Swift cover the history of the city, its monuments, its life today, and provide a section of . . . advice to the traveller." (Publisher's note) Index.

"This leisurely, anecdotal account of the authors' stay in Lisbon and its environs . . . is an essay for travelers who seek to experience all aspects of a living culture—not just to visit its museums and restaurants. While the authors offer no listings with boldface type and no really useable maps, they do provide some historical background as well as an obligatory chapter on Portuguese national character. . . . This book is very much in the tradition of British descriptive travel writings. Its small, black-and-white photographs and Swift's ink sketch 'decorations' are not as evocative as the prose. A minor item for inclusive travel collections." Jill Becker

Library J 97:2598 Ag '72 150w

"It is fortunate that [the authors] have lived in Portugal and can speak the language. It is also rewarding that they appear to enjoy almost every moment of their strolls in Lisbon. . . . This guide will explain how to find some really good hole-in-the-wall restaurants where high-class Portuguese food and wine are served, and where the service is polite, kind and intelligent. . . . Though they leave some gaps, the authors have used their eyes to good effect, and have taken the trouble to provide interesting comments and histories. . . . And [they] have included a particularly charming and interesting journey from Lisbon eastward to the Spanish frontier. . . . This book is a good and reliable guide to Lisbon or at least to that Lisbon which most visitors will wish to see."

TLS p853 J1 23 '71 850w

WRIGHT, FRANK LLOYD. Frank Lloyd Wright; v. 1, Public buildings; introd. & notes by Martin Pawley with 68 phot. by Yukio Futagawa. $7.50 Simon & Schuster

720.923 Architecture—Designs and plans
ISBN 0-671-20689-3 LC 78-118015

Originally published in Japan this "volume includes a . . . critical essay; a large section devoted to reproductions, ground plans, elevations; and a brief commentary on the plates; [and] a chronological list of projects." (Choice) Bibliography.

Best Sell 30:358 N 15 '70 30w

"The photographs . . . are outstanding examples of the best kind of architectural photography. . . . Pawley's essay on Wright leans very heavily on N. K. Smith's Frank Lloyd Wright; a study in architectural content [BRD 1966, 1967]. . . . Either as a library purchase or an undergraduate text . . . [this book] remains a 'best buy.'"

Choice 8:54 Mr '71 40w

"The text . . . [is] short, but articulate and informative. The excellent photographs . . . are intelligently balanced between interior and exterior shot, detail and long view. . . . Recommended for all collections." P. S. Andersen

Library J 95:4161 D 1 '70 20w

WRIGHT, FRANK LLOYD. Genius and the mobocracy. enl ed 247p il pl $20 Horizon press

B or 92 Sullivan, Louis Henry
ISBN 0-8180-0022-8 LC 79-132328

"This enlarged edition of Wright's account of his relationship to Louis Sullivan contains, in addition to the 39 drawings by Sullivan from the original edition [BRD 1949], two drawings by Wright incorporated in the text; a separate section of 20 drawings, 19 by Sullivan and one by Wright, all hitherto unpublished; 54 photographs; and two essays by Sullivan on Wright's work." (Library J)

"When this book first came out in 1949, its reviewers noted that it said more about Frank Lloyd Wright than it did about Louis H. Sullivan, its apparent subject. Since Wright was America's greatest architect, no one complained. Evidently sensing that this book concerns Wright, the publishers of the new edition have made it even more Wrightean than the first. . . . [It] deserves a place beside Wright's Autobiography [BRD 1943] on all library shelves."

Choice 8:1447 Ja '72 170w

Reviewed by R. R. Harris

Library J 96:3596 N 1 '71 90w

TLS p568 My 19 '72 160w

WRIGHT, J. LEITCH. Anglo-Spanish rivalry in North America [by] J. Leitch Wright, Jr. 257p maps $10 Univ. of Ga. press

973.1 Great Britain—Colonies. Spain—Colonies. Great Britain—Foreign relations—Spain. Spain—Foreign relations—Great Britain. U.S.—History—Colonial period
SBN 8203-0305-4 LC 72-156439

This is an "overview of the rivalry of England and Spain in North America, from the very beginning of English-Spanish confrontation to 1821, when Spain ceded Florida to the U.S. The theme of the book is . . . the reaction of Spain to English encroachment into areas considered to be Spanish property." (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

"The overview presented appears at times to be somewhat one-sided in favor of the English. Wright . . . includes a comprehensive bibliography and the text is well footnoted, albeit the great majority of the citations are of secondary sources. Recommended for the advanced undergraduate and a 'must' acquisition for the larger library."

Choice 9:263 Ap '72 130w

"Fundamentally this is a good book, a study based on extensive research in many archives. The problem which it undertakes to unravel and present will interest many different kinds of historians. . . . The first chapter is unfortunately sprinkled with certain errors as to date, and, possibly, interpretation, and the last one is overly repetitious. In between, however, are thirteen chapters of real merit. . . . The maps are well drawn and adequate to support the study." J. F. Bannon

J Am Hist 59:400 S '72 300w

WRIGHT, LOUIS B., ed. West and by north: North America seen through the eyes of its seafaring discoverers; ed. annot. and introduced by Louis B. Wright and Elaine W. Fowler. 389p maps $10 Delacorte press

973.1 America—Discovery and exploration. Voyages and travels. Explorers
LC 75-157507

"This volume attempts to provide a narrative of the principal voyages of discovery that revealed the outlines of North America. . . . The emphasis is on early voyages beginning with the Norsemen and concentrating upon the probing voyages of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. . . . [The book also describes] the exploration of the coast of the Pacific Northwest." (p. xvii) Bibliography. Index.

"[The selections] are varied enough that they should satisfy the interest of most. The introductory comments are valuable in placing the narratives into proper historical perspective. A useful publication for those who lack the originals."

Choice 9:433 My '72 90w

"[The discoveries of Leif Ericsson], Columbus, Cartier, Hawkins, Frobenius, Drake, Gilbert, Raleigh, Champlain, Hudson [and others] are described. . . . Some firsthand accounts are included, but there is also considerable reliance on Hakluyt. The modern spelling used in 'translation' of older documents is of considerable assistance to the reader, as is the introductory chapter on the background of the age of discovery. However though this book is useful for reference, the scope is very limited. It would have been of much greater value, and interest, if the editors had offered some interpretation and had placed the source materials in context." R. T. Redden

Library J 96:2640 S 1 '71 130w

WRIGHT, NATHALIA, ed. Letters of Horatio Greenough, American sculptor. See Greenough, H.

WRIGHT, THOMAS. The elements of existence. See Wright, T. An original theory or new hypothesis of the universe, 1750

WRIGHT, THOMAS. An original theory or new hypothesis of the universe, 1750; a facsimile reprint together with the first publication of A Theory of the Universe, 1734 [by] Thomas Wright of Durham; introd. and transcription by Michael A. Hoskin. 178p il $32 Am. Elsevier

520 Astronomy
ISBN 444-19612-9 LC 70-139573

This volume which also includes "The Elements of Existence or, A Theory of the Universe," Wright MSS vol. VII, Central Library, Newcastle upon Tyne, shows "how new ideas came into astronomy during the 18th century. Hoskin . . . [has] reviewed the life of Thomas Wright (1711-1786) . . . and the books, almanacs and pamphlets he wrote. . . . Wright's primary thesis was that God must be at the center of the universe, and that the sun, together with other stars, must be orbiting about that 'Cedes Beatorum.' He linked this with Newton's gravitation, thus postulating the center of mass of our galaxy, and implying an explanation of our view of the Milky Way." (Choice)

"An important contribution to the history of science. . . . Although more of a collector's item than a textbook, [the volume] serves to show how an important astronomical idea was developed from theology and physics, around 1750. . . . In supporting his theory, Wright quotes extensively from original works of J. Bruno, C. Huygens, I. Newton, and several English poets. . . . As a library reference, this unique reproduction of the Original theory may interest college undergraduate astronomy students, but it requires a mature knowledge of astronomy to appreciate the rationale. May be more appropriate for advanced college courses in the history of science."

Choice 8:1042 O '71 290w

"[This is a] handsome facsimile 'with upwards of Thirty Graven and Mezzotinto Plates, By the Best Masters.' . . . [The] drawings and diagrams of both real and fanciful skies are always striking and occasionally darkly and richly beautiful. [Wright's] learned editor takes pains to deny Wright any real credit for the first conjecture that our galaxy is a disk of suns, ungenerously stressing Wright's theological bent and his geometric inconstances. Dr. Hoskin, whose depth of study of Wright's books and manuscripts is unmatched, brought out of hiding a few years back a second volume in which Wright recanted, placing the earth within a solid sky in which the stars were volcanoes! Earlier, however, Wright had touched our truth quite plainly." Philip Morrison

Sci Am 226:113 F '72 410w

WRIGHT, WALTER F. Arnold Bennett: romantic realist. 200p $9.50 Univ. of Neb. press

823 Bennett, Arnold
ISBN 0-8032-0798-0 LC 75-144393

The author's thesis is that Bennett "'chose as an artist to cultivate realism' even though he 'recognized in himself a strong romantic bent.' . . . [The book covers] Bennett's personal philosophy; his attitude toward 'the politics, industry, home life, culture [and] religion of his times'; his literary criticism; 'the practice of the craft'; [and a discussion of] the novels and stories." (Library J) Chronology of Bennett's works. Bibliography. Index.

Choice 9:219 Ap '72 100w

"Although this lucid little volume can serve as a useful introduction to Bennett's career, a central question goes unasked and unanswered. The author makes no attempt to account for the disparity between his fascination with the novelist and Bennett's current negligible reputation and lack of readership. The book does need a chapter putting its subject into perspective and arguing that he be taken seriously again." Keith Cushman

Library J 97:199 Ja 15 '72 150w

WULBERN, JULIAN H. Brecht and Ionesco: commitment in context. 250p $8.95 Univ. of Ill. press

809.2 Brecht, Bertolt. Ionesco, Eugène.
Drama—History and criticism
ISBN 252-00129-X LC 71-129767

"Concerned with the extent to which political commitment (or the lack of it) influences drama Wulbern examines the polemics, dramatic theory, and theatrical practice of Brecht and Ionesco to help resolve the confusion which has resulted in part from Ionesco's misunderstanding and criticism of Brecht's theories concerning 'epic' theater." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"A good introduction to the main concepts in the theater of Brecht, this study fails to present Ionesco's work to any significant extent. Wulbern's personal enjoyment and appreciation of representations by the Berliner ensemble receive much attention, and weaknesses of American renditions of Brecht's plays are pointed out. The stated objectives, to 'elaborate both the essential similarity of insight into the consequences of human action from which they issue and the striking dissimilarity they evidence in dramatic form and thematic statement,' are not attained. . . . As a comparative study of the two authors, this book is lopsided and superficial if not contrived."

Choice 8:1465 Ja '72 120w

"This is an interesting and useful, though strangely limited and limiting book on the vital subject of commitment in literature. . . . In Wulbern's judgment Brecht, for all of his polemics, is not only the greater of the two writers, because he was inspired by his political commitment to create a vital, more universal theatre, but that Ionesco's dedication against being committed was so great that it became for him a limiting commitment." Irving Deer

WULBERN, J. H.—Continued

J Aesthetics 30:549 summer '72 2500w

"This book brings together considerable information about the two playwrights, but explanations are labored and too much space has been given to mere summary of Brecht's The Measures Taken and The Life of Galileo [in Seven Plays, BRD 1961] and Ionesco's Rhinoceros and Exit the King. The author's anxiety to include and account for what all the other critics have said further dilutes his analyses of the plays. Even so, the book is useful and is especially interesting in its discussion of how Ionesco has 'used' Brecht's Verfremdung." Kristin Morrison
Library J 96:2646 S 1 '71 190w

WUORIO, EVA-LIS. Code: Polonaise. 198p $4.95 Holt

SBN 03-085122-X LC 73-119094

"A band of orphan children, who must burrow in the ruins of Nazi-occupied Warsaw for shelter, fight hunger and cold and daily risk their lives printing and distributing a clandestine newspaper for the Polish Underground. When three-year-old Pawel falls ill with scurvy, Jan and Wanda flee across Europe to England to beg for help. . . . Grades ten to twelve." (Library J)

"Many heroes and heroines people this novel, a very fast-reading story of Poland's children and their resistance to the twentieth-century conqueror, Adolf Hitler. Particularly appealing to the bolder eleven- and twelve-year-old students, the book is perhaps a bit too brutal in remembering WW II's atrocities." Mrs. J. G. Gray
Best Sell 30:549 Mr 15 '71 40w

"Three of the [children] are arrested but escape from prison, and later two of [them] flee across the Polish border to freedom. Although their trip through the mountains is thrilling, I do not think the 'happy ending' was necessary, for the real triumph of the book is that of the human spirit. One weakness of children's authors is that they sometimes feel they must end on a neat, nice note; yet children not only accept reality, they need to be exposed to it." E. M. Graves
Commonweal 94:264 My 21 '71 170w

"A true picture of war-time Poland based on Polish government documents and the author's interviews with many refugees during World War II. . . . The role of Chopin's music (outlawed by the Germans as a dangerous symbol of nationalism) in the lives of the children is a most important one, and the Polonaise Militaire expresses both their defiance and their hope. Though not as moving as [E.] Haugard's Little Fishes [BRD 1967], the Polish setting is authentic and adds dimension to the grim theme of survival at all costs." Ruth Robinson
Library J 96:1818 My 15 '71 180w

TLS p480 Ap 28 '72 290w

WYDEN, BARBARA. The cookalong book. 212p $6.95 McKay

641.5 Cookery
LC 79-188261

A cookbook "designed for a child and an adult to cook by together. The recipes are written in . . . conversational step-by-step form for Junior Cook of any age to read and follow. . . . Throughout the recipes capital-letter phrases warn Junior Cook of potential dangers: BE CAREFUL WITH THAT KNIFE, or REMEMBER OUR RULE ABOUT THAT? or ASK YOUR MOTHER OR FATHER TO SHOW YOU." (N Y Times Bk R) Index.

"Unfortunately, the good recipes are submerged in a text which is alternately sanctimonious and cloyingly sweet. Feminists will object to the author's acceptance of the politics of housework which leads her to acknowledge that 'the greatest chefs in the world, almost without exception, have been men,' while everyday meal preparation in the home is a 'feminine role.' Uninteresting type selection, poor layout, and the lack of illustrations further detract from the book." Janet Freedman
Library J 97:2397 J1 '72 160w

"Senior Cook . . . is given a number of wise how-to-go-about-it suggestions in the foreword—one of the wisest of which is not, for Heavens sake, to go into a session if Senior Cook is tired and cranky. It is supposed to be fun! Junior Cook is to be encouraged to use individual judgment, and is led from easy breakfast dishes on through the menu to celebrations and even gourmet cooking. . . . I like the whole approach here—its easy style, and its purpose of bringing the generations happily together." Julia Child
N Y Times Bk R pt 2, p8 N 5 '72 180w

WYETH, N. C. The Wyeths: the letters of N. C. Wyeth, 1901-1945. 858p il $22.50 Gambit

B or 92

ISBN 0-87645-046-X LC 73-137021

These letters were written by the artist-illustrator to members of his family. His daughter-in-law 'who edited them, tells us in her introduction that during the early years of her marriage to Andrew she had found 'Pa' a rather forbidding presence, but that when she heard of his death in an auto-train collision in 1945, she was overcome with regret and remorse. 'If I could just once say to him 'I'm sorry!'' she writes. 'Perhaps this was my motivation while I worked on the manuscript.' " (Sat R)

"N. C. Wyeth's letters, the best to his mother and brother, are rich with color, informal, affectionate, and as observant as Thoreau, whom he admired greatly. . . . Each reader must chart his own course in a volume as large as this. I began reading in 1910, when he had finished his training in Pennsylvania, and was illustrating for Scribner's, both for the magazine and for authors as popular as Conan Doyle and Mary Johnston. He is twenty-eight; his rent for house and studio combined is $23.50 a month. . . . Many of his letters are illustrated, but the prose itself is as alive as blood, as in the prophetic account of his sitting in the smoker by an open window when the train to New York ran down and killed two men." Edward Weeks

Atlantic 228:133 D '71 480w

"From the letters to his family, and also to friends, [N. C. Wyeth] emerges as a distinct personality. His letters were epistolary monologues which ranged from comments on the daily routines of life through sensitive observations of nature, probings of human problems, and discussions of the artist as creator and as man. . . . Generally energetic and ebullient, occasionally melancholy, at times earthy, he combined a wholesome realism with a transcendental idealism. . . . The letters reveal a son, a brother, a father; a householder, a lover of the soil, an artist; a man constantly surprised at the beauties of the world. The sizable volume . . . is divided into twenty-six chapters, the letters being linked by biographical commentaries and notes. There is a genealogical chart of the Wyeth family as well as an index." Horn Bk 48:162 Ap '72 370w

"These letters, devotedly assembled, accompanied by too many snapshots and too few of [Wyeth's] own paintings, might have enjoyed sharper editing. Repetition which from day to day in a family circle might not have been tedious, dulls his impact on less idolatrous readers. But from it one gains insight into his insistence, persistence, stubbornness; finally a sense of an essential lack of imagination which disqualified him as an artist." Lincoln Kirstein
Nation 214:120 Ja 24 '72 1800w

"Here is a book whose physical dress is not cheap; it is meant to sell well, and it is in fact a pleasure to study the work of Mr. Wyeth as it appears among the 140 illustrations (color and black-and-white). As an artist, N. C. was good but narrowly gifted: a crisp draftsman with a keen sense of compositional action and the capacity to bring an adventure story to visual life. . . . [Unfortunately] he is simply not sufficiently engaging as a thinker to hold the interest of the unrelated outsider. His occasional reflections on art, for example, are never very original or profound. . . . The views expressed here suggest a mind that was run-of-the-mill for its time and uninteresting for our own." Franz Schulze
Sat R 54:58 D 11 '71 460w

WYLDER, EDITH. The last face: Emily Dickinson's manuscripts. 106p $6 Univ. of N.Mex. press

811 Dickinson, Emily
ISBN 0-8263-0144-4 LC 74-78555

The author "elaborates her Saturday Review article of 1963, in which she attempted to 'remove the last shadow of technical inconsistency and imprecision' from Dickinson's seemingly erratic punctuation. What the poet has done, Wylder maintains, is to invent her own system, substituting the elocution symbols of Ebenezer Porter's The Rhetorical Reader (in use at Amherst Academy during her period of study) for such conventional punctuation as the comma and the dash. There are four such symbols—the rising slide, the falling slide, the monotone, and the circumflex—and each of them conveys not only an intonation but an attitude toward the word immediately preceding it. . . . Thirty-five poems, with symbols affixed, are printed in the back of the book." (New Eng Q) Bibliography. Index of first lines of poems.

"In this concisely written book [the author] demonstrates the accuracy of her 'discovery' [of Emily Dickinson's rhetorical symbols] as convincingly as the solution of a mathematical equation. . . . What conclusions, are we to draw from [this book]? . . . First, it does seem to this reviewer that [Wylder] has solved the mystery of Dickinson's strange 'punctuation,' and that using the poet's old-fashioned elocution symbols as guides to the sounds (and to a slight extent even the rhythms) of her poems enables the reader to hear and feel a given poem as she did. Moreover, reading the poem with these guides reveals some unexpected beauties and subtleties—occasionally of rational meaning, as in the curious 'Wild Nights.' It would seem desirable, therefore, to have an edition of Dickinson's poems in which these symbols were meticulously preserved." G. W. Allen
Am Lit 44:322 My '72 1300w

"For one who has invented her own system of punctuation, Emily Dickinson is remarkably slapdash in its use: the angle of slant for the falling slide (denoting 'emphatic force, authority, conclusiveness, decided affirmation, surprise, distress, disgust') varies in manuscript from 15 to 75 degrees. But, the author insists, if we would read and understand the poems properly, we must restore the marks Dickinson intended. In the front, Wylder explicates, at length . . . 'A Bird came down the Walk—,' with the aid of the Porter-Dickinson system; it doesn't seem to help much." Scott Donaldson

New Eng Q 45:129 Mr '72 230w

WYON, JOHN B. The Khanna study: population problems in the rural Punjab [by] John B. Wyon and John E. Gordon. 437p il maps $14 Harvard univ. press

301.3 Punjab, India (State)—Population.
Birth control
ISBN 0-674-50325-2 LC 75-123571

This is a "report on a long-term study of the processes of population dynamics in the rural Punjab. . . . [In addition to a] description of the procedures followed in carrying out a . . . field investigation over a period of five years in an underdeveloped region of Asia, the work evaluates the multiple influences determining birth, death, and migration rates, and seeks to refine the concept of population pressure as a . . . tool for further research." (Choice) Bibliography.

"The Khanna Study will not startle readers with the newness of its concepts or its findings, but it will impress them by its comprehensive and detailed documentation of Punjabi demographic behavior over a span of some eighteen years. It is also a significant addition to current knowledge of problems of underdeveloped countries in general. It will confirm doubts about population control policies that focus primarily on limitation of births without first seeking to understand the rationale behind decisions to have many children." N. U. Kelly
Ann Am Acad 399:192 Ja '72 600w

"This book provides rich material for a variety of scholarly interests, profusely illustrated with maps, charts, and photographs. . . . Major facets of the book include extensive and precise study of demographic variation in a peasant population over a prolonged period (1954-9); reception of a contraceptive program in test villages, and reasons for the program's failure; and a 1969 follow-up study indicating that enhanced economic opportunities have an impact in lowered birthrates. This is a landmark study destined to be a standard reference in the fields of development, population control, and South Asian studies."

Choice 8:873 S '71 170w

"It is not clear to what kind of reader this book is addressed. It is obviously not designed for readers in India or for students of Indian demography, for there is nothing in [it] that is not already known to the serious students of the problem. Much of the material has already appeared as a series of papers of differing depths in professional journals. Judging from the 55 odd photographs and such statements as 'The need for effective population control is greater than ever and is likely to increase,' the book is possibly designed as an elementary introduction. But even here, several statements on the Indian demographic situation are already out of date. [Nevertheless,] the book is a valuable addition to the literature on Indian demography, both for its methodological approach and the details of the various parameters of population problems in a developing economy." S. Chandrasekhar
Pacific Affairs 45:441 fall '72 900w

Y

YADIN, YIGAEI. Bar-Kokhba; the rediscovery of the legendary hero of the second Jewish revolt against Rome. 271p il col il $15 Random house

913.33 Israel—Antiquities
ISBN 0-394-47184-9 LC 76-152554

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Choice 9:116 Mr '72 120w

Reviewed by J. R. Bram
Library J 97:197 Ja 15 '72 130w
TLS p342 Mr 24 '72 850w

YAMPOLSKY, PHILIP B., tr. The Zen Master Hakuin. See Hakuin

YANNOPOULOS, GEORGE, jt. ed. Greece under military rule. See Clogg, R.

YAR-SHATER, EHSAN, ed. Iran faces the seventies; foreword by John S. Badeau. (Columbia univ. Middle East Inst. Modern Middle East ser no4) 391p $12.50 Praeger

915.5 Iran
LC 70-158106

"Essays, published under the auspices of the Middle East Institute of Columbia University, which grew out of the papers presented at an international conference held at Columbia in November 1968. They analyze recent developments in Iran, principally in the 1960's, a period of rapid and wide-spread change for this nation. Fifteen chapters by as many [contributors] explore and report on such . . . aspects of Iranian life as land reform, rural cooperative societies, progress in the economy, politics and government, international and regional relations, planning for social change, the 'brain drain,' religion and social change, higher education and social change, mass media, modern literary idiom, art, and music." (Choice) Discography. Chapter bibliographies. Index.

"This is a very informative volume for those who are interested in this nation and for students of economic and social change. Recommended to libraries whose clientele fall into these categories."

Choice 9:248 Ap '72 110w

"Generally, the authors are moderately optimistic about the 1970's; and this optimism is due partly, one suspects, to the fact that many of the authors have strong ties to or are employees of the Iranian government. The general, tentative, descriptive, and generally ephemeral nature of most of the essays (though some are quite useful), plus the fact that most of the latest data is of 1967 vintage, limits the usefulness of this volume."

YAR-SHATER, EHSAN—Continued

D. W. Littlefield
Library J 97:81 Ja 1 '72 110w

YARDEN, L. The tree of light; a study of the menorah, the seven-branched lampstand. 162p pl $11.50 Cornell univ. press

296.4 Menorah
ISBN 0-8014-0596-3 LC 79-127780

This book offers a "study of the Menorah as image and symbol. Starting with the master specimen of the Temple in Jerusalem, the author describes the evolution of the Menorah into a central symbol of Jewish faith and discusses the other uses to which it has been put—for example, as a Hanukkah lamp, as a Church Lampstand in the Middle-Ages, and the central motif in Israel's coat-of-arms. He then explores the antecedents of the Lampstand as interpreted in monuments and written sources. The deeper link between the Lampstand and the almond tree and its . . . imagery is discussed." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"Yarden brings into focus the various strains of historic evidence to the menorah's antiquity and traces its origins into the shadowy area of folklore and mythology. Using a variety of sources including the printed word, illustrations from ancient sources and photographs, all of which are carefully footnoted, Yarden presents a complete study of the menorah in all its aspects. A comprehensive index rounds out this excellent study. . . . Recommended for upper classmen and graduate students."

Choice 8:1194 N '71 180w

"In this copiously illustrated little book (seventy pages of text and 230 photographs), L. Yarden tackles this fascinating subject in such detail that the reader is liable to lose sight of essentials. Associating the menorah with a mythical tree (tree of life-tree of light)—which is not a new idea—he specifies that this was an almond-tree, but fails to inquire into the reason for the widespread use of the symbol in late Jewish antiquity."

TLS p608 My 26 '72 250w

YARMOLINSKY, AVRAHM. Dostoevsky: works and days. 438p il $12.50 Funk

B or 92 Dostoevsky, Fyodor Mikhailovich
LC 73-142910

The author combines critical commentary with biography in this study of the Russian author. Chronology. Bibliography. Index.

"Yarmolinsky's book is one of the most readable and informative biographies on Dostoevsky available in the English language. It is based upon a dispassionate and meticulous examination of the Russian writer's works, numerous letters and notebooks. And it takes into account recent contributions on the subject by Western and Russian scholars. The author views Dostoevsky as primarily a great artist-novelist who 'brought to his task extraordinary psychological insight.' . . . He does not devote much space to the discussion of Dostoevsky's philosophical ideas which constitute, in the opinion of some scholars, the unifying substratum of his major novels, often regarded as dramas of the mind and soul. For such a discussion one has to go to the studies of Mochulsky and Berdyaev." N. D. Roodkowsky

America 126:47 Ja 15 '72 600w

"The chief drawback to the book is its lack of footnotes: none of the material quoted or paraphrased is given reference, something that the scholar, or indeed, any careful reader, will miss. The book is, nevertheless, recommended for libraries and readers wishing an introduction to the life and works of this prodigious writer."

Choice 9:514 Je '72 170w

"The general reader or undergraduate who has read one or two of Dostoevsky's novels and who wants to know more about the author's anguished life will find this [book] . . . helpful. Yarmolinsky is especially good at showing how so much of Dostoevsky's fiction is grounded in the experiences of his life. . . . [His treatment of the Russian author] and his works is clear, candid, objective, yet sympathetic." H. F. Babinski

Library J 96:2646 S 1 '71 140w

New Yorker 47:92 Ja 15 '72 110w

"[This book] is a kind of easy-going, reliable, but not too demanding popularization that will please many readers. . . . In describing the strange, twisted psychology of this literary giant Yarmolinsky is at his best."
Va Q R 48:lxii spring '72 50w

YATES, W. E. Grillparzer; a critical introduction. 276p $15 Cambridge

832 Grillparzer, Franz
ISBN 0-521-08241-2 LC 77-158550

The author presents a biography of the eighteenth-century Austrian dramatist and discusses his writings under the headings: "The artist, Ambition, Duty and love, Comedy and the theater, Politics and culture. In each he discusses several works, linked together by a common or similar theme." (Choice) Bibliography. Index.

"[An] excellent 'critical introduction.' . . . [Yates] does not dwell excessively on the interpretation of individual works but searches for ideas and theories that form the foundation of all of Grillparzer's writings. To this end, he links passages from the works to passages from the author's diaries, letters, memoirs, discussions with contemporaries, to newspaper critiques of his plays, etc. . . . The book exhibits profound understanding of Grillparzer and flawless scholarship."

Choice 9:650 Jl/Ag '72 170w

"[The] book offers a thorough and level-headed discussion of the main themes of Grillparzer's plays, poems and stories; of the plays' overall structure and theatrical effectiveness; . . . of Grillparzer's relation to Austrian and German traditions; [and] of the use he makes of his literary sources. . . . Secondary literature is used to good purpose. . . . Mr Yates also distinguishes, on various occasions, the different levels of speech used in the plays; but linguistic analysis—analysis of the texture of Grillparzer's verse and prose—is not his strong point. Nor is his discussion of imagery wholly felicitous."

TLS p254 Mr 3 '72 250w

YEHOSHUA, A. B. Three days and a child; tr. from the Hebrew by Miriam Arad. (UNESCO coll. of representative works: Israel ser) 260p $5.95 Doubleday

LC 73-103786

Contents: A poet's continuing silence; Three days and a child; Facing the forest; Flood tide; A long hot day, his despair, his wife, and his daughter.

Reviewed by Harold Fisch

Commentary 54:74 Ag '72 500w

"Yehoshua, here translated into English for the first time, wields a dark and fascinating imagery that is very much his own. Beneath the hot sun of the desert, stories of life and death are given startling life. Writing in the present tense—an extraordinarily difficult style to sustain—he moves from the plausible, the realistic, to elemental struggles over life itself, passing beyond reason or logic. These stories are nothing less than brilliant in conception. Though set in today's Israel, they are of any time, though perhaps not any place. With their undercurrent of tension, they make very exciting reading. Yehoshua promises to be a writer of the very first rank." Irving Wortis

Library J 95:2521 Jl '70 100w

"[This volume of stories] contains two of the finest I have ever read—the title story and 'A Poet's Continuing Silence.' Immediate enthusiasm can cause one to invoke over-extravagant comparisons with great literature of the past. But the originality of these stories, their characters, and the emotions they express so precisely and movingly have remained so clearly in my mind that I feel justified in taking risks. . . . They have been beautifully translated. . . . The stories are simple, the language sparse, yet everything that needs to be said is there, and the rest (a great deal) implied." Susan Hill

New Statesman 81:248 F 19 '71 350w

"Unfortunately, the American edition has been miserably translated. . . . [The] sentences are often needlessly inverted, adjectives are misplaced—and Yehoshua's style, which, I'm told, is spare and incisive, comes across as stiff and awkward. Nevertheless, his talent is immediately apparent. . . . He is a fabulist; his characters inhabit a familiar but mysterious universe in which meaning and emotion are expressed by many esthetic elements: leitmotif, counterpoint, and, when he is in full control, over-all structure. 'Flood Tide' is the one story in the collection that doesn't make it at all. It is too abstract, too remote from the natural world (the landscape of Israel) to be convincing. . . . Yehoshua is immensely popular in Israel, particularly with the young." Hugh Nissenson

N Y Times Bk R p56 O 25 '70 500w

YERUSHALMI, YOSEF HAYIM. From Spanish court to Italian ghetto; Isaac Cardoso: a study in seventeenth-century Marranism and Jewish apologetics. (Columbia univ. Studies in Jewish hist. culture, and insts. no 1) 524p $20 Columbia univ. press

B or 92 Cardoso, Isaac Fernando. Marranos
ISBN 0-231-03286-2 LC 76-109544

"Cardoso was raised and educated in Spain, where he lived for several decades as a nominal Christian. . . . [In 1648 he left Spain for Italy where he emerged as a professing Jew,] summed up his scientific and philosophic views in his Philosophia libera, and finally wrote his . . . defense of the Jews and Judaism, Las excelencias de los hebreos. . . . [This study is] also a history of 'Marranos,' the crypto-Jews of Spain and Portugal, in the seventeenth century. It explores the wide range of the Marrano phenomenon, its social milieu, the nature of Iberian anti-semitism, the relationship between Marranism and Jewish Messianism, and important aspects of the Judeo-Christian polemic." (Publisher's note) Bibliography. Index.

"In order to uncover some of the high points and ambiguities of Marrano history, Yerushalmi has selected a leading Marrano figure and has utilized a detailed investigation of one life as a vehicle for illuminating aspects of the group experience. . . . [The study] is a model of erudition and scholarly thoroughness. In tracking down his elusive subject Yerushalmi ranges from the baptismal records of Celorico, to the archives of the University of Valladolid, to the dossiers of the Inquisition, to the archives of the Jewish community of Verona, not to mention the often obscure references and allusions he has managed to locate and elucidate in the rich literature of 17th-century Madrid and in Cardoso's own extensive writings on diverse subjects." Robert Chazan

Commentary 54:94 J1 '72 2100w

"The author not only pieces together all the details of Cardoso's life and thoroughly analyzes his writings, but presents all this against the backdrop of the era. . . . The text is accompanied by full notes and an ample bibliography and contains long quotations in translation from major works inaccessible to the general reader because of linguistic barriers and to the scholar because of rareness. The analysis of Cardoso's major works is especially thorough. The book is highly recommended for libraries interested in Judaism, Spain and Portugal, and general Western European culture of the 16th and 17 centuries." M. A. Cohen

Library J 96:2077 Je 15 '71 250w

YEVTUSHENKO, YEVGENY. Stolen apples; poetry; with English adaptations by James Dickey [and others]. 328p $8.95 Doubleday 891.7
LC 77-157640

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Reviewed by T. O'Hara

Best Sell 31:513 F 15 '72 310w

Choice 9:652 J1/Ag '72 250w

Christian Science Monitor p6 Ja 20 '72 550w

Reviewed by Janet Strothman

Library J 97:4097 D 15 '72 140w [YA]

Reviewed by Susan Knight

New Statesman 84:168 Ag 4 '72 550w

Reviewed by Yorick Blumenfeld

N Y Times Bk R p30 F 6 '72 1050w

YGLESIAS, HELEN. How she died. 338p $6.95 Houghton

ISBN 0-395-13529-X LC 76-173778

"As Mary Moody Schwartz dies of cancer at 28, her husband, doctors and friends conspire to reassure her it isn't happening. Hovering over Mary's life is a leftist group known as the Committee, formed during the '50s to defend Mary's mother against a charge of passing atomic secrets to the Russians. Having raised Mary during her mother's fourteen-year absence in prison, they now attempt . . . to organize Mary's last days, enlisting Mary's best friend, Jean, to quit her job and devote full time to the project. The story is told mostly by Jean, who stumbles into an affair with Mary's husband, into conflict with her own children [and] into facing herself as a well-meaning bungler." (Newsweek)

Reviewed by Paul Theroux

Book World p9 Ap 16 '72 420w

Reviewed by Bruce Allen

Library J 97:1461 Ap 15 '72 140w

Reviewed by Martin Green

Nation 214:792 Je 19 '72 2500w

Reviewed by Michael Wood

N Y Rev of Books 18:25 Ap 6 '72 650w

"Does the book work? Yes. Although she chivvies her characters from one scene to another, the author never fails in her sensibilities or consistency. Mary's paranoia and death, material that could have been maudlin, are dealt with dispassionately. The banalities of the novel's socio-political elements serve excellently as a foil for Mary's increasingly shrill paranoia. The love affair of Jean and Matt is rescued from cliché by a deft exposition of their vulnerabilities, their mutual emotional impoverishment. A real craftsman, Helen Yglesias has made her perceptions visible, coherent and moving." Shirley Schoonover

N Y Times Bk R p36 F 13 '72 650w

New Yorker 48:101 F 26 '72 80w

"Mrs. Yglesias's grasp of character is exhilarating—clear, bold and unflinchingly comic. Much depends on the character of Jean; even at her most ignominious, she's a believable and likeable woman. An unobtrusive knowledgeableness about the look and sound of New York life is also an asset. 'How She Died' is a very satisfying novel." W. C.

Newsweek 79:78 Mr 6 '72 210w

"Yglesias has wrung a soap opera from the lives of the New York left-wing community and its attendant spirits. Her cast is a socio-political card catalogue of stock figures in that milieu. . . . [Her] intentions are desperately serious at bottom. The banal, claustrophobic world she documents so tediously through the mixed-up, loving-spirited, ingenuous filter of Jean's consciousness groans out the mourning rites for facile blueprints of a new Jerusalem. One suspects the book is an exorcism of the author's own political disillusion. Her moral is respectable enough, though weary and intellectually evasive: we must straighten out our shoddy human relations first. . . . How She Died is a Houghton Mifflin Literary Fellowship Award novel." Muriel Haynes

Sat R 55:74 Mr 18 '72 750w

YGLESIAS, JOSE. The truth about them. 215p $7.95 World pub.

LC 79-159588

"'Them' is a multifarious Cuban clan that plants roots in America when the narrator's aristocratic grandmother arrives in Tampa in 1890. Grandmother . . . refuses to be daunted by her permanent shift to the cigar-rolling working-class. The family . . . is an interlocking network of aunts, uncles and cousins, united by the mysterious adhesive that cements Latin blood relationships. Kith and kin drift to New York during the Depression . . . then back to Ybor City, Tampa's Spanish-speaking company town. The protagonist becomes a left-wing journalist and returns to post-revolutionary Cuba for an approving tour—and a brief look-in on the cousins who stole his grandmother's patrimony." (N Y Times Bk R)

Reviewed by A. C. Foote

Book World p10 Ja 16 '72 450w

"Some episodes from this book were published in The New Yorker, and though they have a much more substantial character in their present context, something about their manner still answers to that idea, 'The New Yorker.' And when the matter is nostalgia and the manner is New Yorker, the danger threatening the book must be sentimentality. . . . The book on the whole is an act of love. And all this is kept from sentimentality in the pejorative sense by . . . [the author's] insistence on the cultural forms—on how those virtues have been sustained and transmitted, on the pride and prudence and principle of these people, including their harsh judgment of others who do not live up to their standards. . . . Here the life of a lower-class family is so presented as to show us the strength and the resources of its culture, not its deprivations or limitations. This is the best of the book." Martin Green

YGLESIAS, JOSE—Continued

Nation 214:216 F 14 '72 1350w

"In The Truth About Them the obligatory skepticisms stir around in a narrator who is reconstructing a family history that began before he was there to record it. Occasionally he says that his knowledge is incomplete, his understanding tentative, and so on; it is thus that one maintains membership in a tricky craft. But mostly . . . [this novel], though told episodically and with a lot of temporal crisscross, means what the title says. Yglesias's seriousness is decently old-fashioned . . . [and his] perspective on America has considerable freshness." T. R. Edwards
N Y Rev of Books 18:19 Mr 9 '72 650w

"Blood is thicker than dogma in this book. It glows with a respect for human dignity. It delights in the brio of a close-knit clan who are broke but not poor. It celebrates those ethnic distinctions that add salt to civilization." Martin Levin
N Y Times Bk R p32 Ja 9 '72 150w

YGLESIAS, RAFAEL. Hide fox, and all after.
203p $5.95 Doubleday

LC 73-171330

This is the "story of a 14-year-old boy's attempt to hold off family, school, and friends while trying to find himself. . . . [It portrays] the prep school atmosphere: . . . the friends with legendary sexual prowess, the cigarettes behind the school, . . . the introduction to pot, the intense male relationships, the unquestioned sex-object status of girls, the elaborate imitations of Hamlet and Raskolnikov, and the intensity of total involvement." (Library J)

"The publisher's note states that [this book] is Rafael Yglesias' first novel and that it was written at the age of fifteen. With that in mind, [it] may be accredited with an even more remarkable deftness and mature control. It is . . . shockingly brilliant. It is also obscene. Albeit, it has the validity of an autobiography. Its credibility may be based on a composite of the author's peers or may be drawn from the parallels in the author's life and in that of Raul Sabas, protagonist of 'Hide Fox.' . . . [Adolescents] will identify characters and scenes but less frequently with self. . . . Parents and educators will recognize the symptoms and the stresses of adolescence. Perhaps some will be a little impatient with the theme and its presentation. There is no joy in life in this novel of modern adolescence. The brilliance of execution must be acknowledged." C. P. Collier
Best Sell 31:519 F 15 '72 400w

"[The author] has written a novel that describes and reveals as a novel should; he has addressed himself to a situation faced not by his hero alone but by disturbingly large numbers of able young people; [and] he has provided a revelation of the ways that talent unilluminated by purpose can go wrong." Harry Keyishian
Book World p10 Ja 30 '72 600w

Reviewed by John Druska
Commonweal 96:339 Je 16 '72 700w

"[The author] is not so impressive. . . . In the easy targets he sets up for demolition (Eric Hoffer, an uncomprehending family, absurdly naïve classmates), in the lack of new ideas in his long, slow discussions of art and politics, and in his frequent loss of a creative rhythm, which results in an awkward reporting without perspective, without aesthetic distance. While this first novel ultimately fails through its inconsistency, it has several memorable sequences, and it does offer an insider's compelling and contemporary portrait of the artist as a young man." Jim Langlois
Library J 97:700 F 15 '72 180w

Reviewed by Roger Sale
N Y Rev of Books 18:3 My 4 '72 1150w

Reviewed by D. K. Mano
N Y Times Bk R p4 Ap 15 '72 430w

Reviewed by John Skow
Time 99:69 Ja 31 '72 500w
Va Q R 48:xlix spring '72 90w

YINGER, J. MILTON. The scientific study of religion. 593p il $9.95 Macmillan (N Y)

201 Religion and sociology
LC 75-95183

The author "begins with a . . . definition of religion, moves into the functional theory of religion, introduces his own 'field theory' . . . and then goes on to cover such topics as religion and individual needs, religion and stratification, the forms of religious organization, and religion and politics." (Am Soc R)

"[This] is a revised and expanded version of the author's earlier Religion, Society and the Individual [BRD 1958]. . . . In the opening pages . . . the author states that the study of religion must be simultaneously anthropological, psychological, and sociological. He makes use of considerable data from anthropology and some from psychology, but his book remains a sociological treatment well within the main currents of sociology. . . . The work is not a general scientific study of religion, as its title states, but it is a more comprehensive synthesis than the author's earlier treatment of the study of religion and it certainly contributes toward a general synthesis." Edward Norbeck
Am Anthropol 73:1356 D '71 700w

"[This] is not a book that can be skimmed or speed-read with profit. I would be surprised if many beginning students find it exciting. It is a very long, carefully reasoned treatment of most of the basic topics in the sociology of religion. Its mood is one of serious-minded concern for the subject matter of the discipline, with a hint here and there that the concern is more than academic, that the solution of the world's most pressing problems hinges on the course of religious development. The book contains a wealth of material and many valuable insights. . . . Yinger assumes a good deal of basic knowledge about sociology and about religions." Benton Johnson
Am Soc R 36:728 Ag '71 1450w

YOKOCHI, CHIHRO. Photographic anatomy of the human body. 101p il col il $12.50
Univ. park press

611 Anatomy
ISBN 0-8391-0600-9 LC 73-152757

"An English edition of a book published in Japan in 1962. It contains over 200 photographs, most of which are of freshly prepared cadavers or organs." (Choice)

"The quality of the photographs is excellent. . . . A pleasing feature of this text is that it is what it says it is, the anatomy of the human body explained through photographs. . . . While it is not a comprehensive coverage, this book does provide a good selective coverage of the anatomy of the major body systems. Each group of pictures is accompanied by a short, easily readable description. The layout is excellent, and it has been well edited. Yokochi's book would serve as a useful supplement to any standard anatomy text." Choice 8:1606 F '72 130w

"For sheer vivid impact this newly Englished version of a successful Japanese atlas of anatomy . . . is unmatched. Intended largely for paramedical students, nurses and technicians, it presents both in sharp monochrome and strong color photographs, all blood red and fat yellow, a review of the general structure of the body. . . . There are also radiographs and photographs of the living." Philip Morrison
Sci Am 226:116 F '72 240w

YOLEN, JANE. Friend: the story of George Fox and the Quakers. 179p $5.95 Seabury
B or 92 Fox, George—Juvenile literature.
Friends, Society of—Juvenile literature
LC 74-171865

This biography concerns the seventeenth-century Englishman "and the religious group he founded as well as the political and religious unrest of the times in which he lived." [Bibliography. Index.] "Grade nine and up." (Best Sell)

"The story which is well researched is also quite readable. Although not needed in every Catholic high school, it should be considered where more material is desired for comparative religions; it well deserves a place in the public library." Best Sell 32:47 Ap 15 '72 70w

"Older readers are likely to appreciate the honesty with which [Fox's] character is presented—as well as the vivid picture of England in his time. The author . . . writes with fervor and clarity both of the founder of the Quaker movement and of the activities of Quakers today. Thoughtful readers of junior high and early high-school age should find this biography truly relevant and worth their while." M. P. Sykes

Book World p13 (children's issue)
My 7 '72 150w [YA]

"Yolen makes Fox 'relevant' by discussing his long hair and his support for women's rights, but the emphasis is largely unnecessary. For the most part Fox's story—which is also the history of the Quaker movement—is appealing enough to stand without such props. Because Miss Yolen does not let her own recent conversion interfere with her responsibilities as a biographer, her book should appeal to thoughtful teens of many denominations." Marilyn Gardner

Christian Science Monitor pB5 My 4
'72 70w [YA]

"Fox's concern with the life of the mind and the spirit necessarily and appropriately dominate the book. Even where the subject is not in great demand, this beautifully written, valuable biography is an essential purchase." J. G. Polacheck

Library J 97:2245 Je 15 '72 150w

Reviewed by Richard Horchler

N Y Times Bk R p8 S 10 '72 400w

YOSHIDA, JIM. The two worlds of Jim Yoshida, by Jim Yoshida, with Bill Hosokawa. 256p $6.95 Morrow

B or 92
LC 78-182963

"Born in Seattle of traditional Japanese parents, Yoshida as a boy was interested chiefly in football and judo. He . . . and his mother visited Japan [in 1941] to return the ashes of his father and to allow Jim to take advanced judo training. The outbreak of war prevented his return to the U.S. He was inducted into the Japanese Army and served in China. After repatriation he worked for the Allied Occupation Forces, having lost his U.S. citizenship by reason of his service in the foreign army. He was a volunteer with the U.S. army in Korea. Eventually a U.S. court decided that his Japanese Army service was involuntary and restored his U.S. citizenship." (Library J)

Reviewed by Al Phillips

Best Sell 32:329 O 15 '72 300w

"Yoshida's frank and lively tale of sports, adventure, and hardship in two wars portrays the clash of two cultures in one simple individual. It also reveals an uncomplicated love of the United States, rare in contemporary writing." Muriel Weins

Library J 97:2580 Ag '72 250w

Reviewed by Eleanor Mauro

Library J 97:3823 N 15 '72 120w [YA]
N Y Times Bk R p44 S 17 '72 230w

YOST, KARL, comp. A bibliography of the published works of Charles M. Russell; comp. by Karl Yost and Frederic G. Renner. 317p il col il $25 Univ. of Neb. press

016.709 Russell, Charles Marion—Bibliography
ISBN 0-8032-0722-0 LC 68-11567

This bibliography "records approximately 3,500 items and is illustrated with forty-two plates . . . including eighteen in full color. In addition, Blackfoot Country is reproduced in full color on the dust jacket. All published material through December 31, 1966, is catalogued and described." (Publisher's note) Index to Paintings, Drawings, and Sculpture. General index.

"Indicative of renewed interest in the American West this definitive bibliography cites the numerous places where Russell's work has been reproduced. The . . . entries in 19 sections cover Russell's illustrations for books, catalogues, newspapers, portfolios, post- and Christmas cards, book plates, business cards, and many other forms. . . . [F.] Renner's Charles M. Russell: paintings, drawings and sculpture in the Anon G. Carter Collection [BRD 1967] is still necessary to give complete scope to Russell's oeuvre. . . . The volume is important for Russell collectors or lovers of Western lore but the high price justifies only adding to a library with special Western concerns."

Choice 9:199 Ap '72 150w

"Just about every Russell item of any value or interest is dutifully catalogued. . . . This is a bit too esoteric for most libraries, but it is the kind of thing collectors and historians will be grateful to find in a good reference collection." Bill Katz

Library J 97:1304 Ap 1 '72 80w

YOUNG, ARTHUR M., jr. ed. Consciousness and reality. See Musès, C.

YOUNG, ARTHUR N. China's nation-building effort, 1927-1937; the financial and economic record. (Stanford Univ. Hoover inst. on war, revolution and peace. Publication, 104) 553p 19.50 Hoover inst. press

330.951 Finance—China. China—Economic conditions
ISBN 8179-1041-7 LC 70-123350

"The bulk of this book (12 out of 18 chapters) deals with the fiscal and monetary policy of the Nationalist government. . . . The last part of the book deals with . . . aspects of modernization under the Nationalist government such as development in agriculture, transport, foreign trade, and foreign aid." (Ann Am Acad) Annotated bibliography. Index.

"This is Arthur Young's third large book on the economy of China during the period of Kuomintang (Nationalist party) rule. . . . Young, an honest reporter, acknowledges that his discussion of modernization and development . . . does 'not have the depth of the treatment of fiscal and monetary matters with which I was concerned at first-hand and for which I have primary and often unique data.'" Albert Feuerwerker

Am Hist R 77:1494 D '72 600w

"The author of this book has a unique qualification that enables him to talk about this subject with authority. Arthur Young was a financial adviser to the Nationalist government from 1929 to 1947. . . . Based on his personal knowledge and experiences and research . . . [he] presents us with a mass of facts and figures on every major aspect of China's finance and monetary matters. . . . Except for the last part of the book, the rest is written in highly technical terms which require the reader to have considerable knowledge about public finance and monetary affairs. Unless one is a professional economist with substantial knowledge about China's economy at that time, the bulk of the book may be unintelligible. But that should not obscure the fact that this book is one of the most authoritative accounts of China's economic development in the first decade of the Nationalist rule." A. P. L. Liu

Ann Am Acad 402:151 J1 '72 390w

"[Young] argues convincingly that the Nationalist Government brought about both political and economic transformation despite the depression, subversive efforts of Mao and warlords, and the Japanese invasion of Manchuria during the 1930's. He finds that 'the progress was accomplished mainly by self-help and with readiness to accept advice.' This is rather a subjective and impressionistic statement and casts a strong doubt as to reliability of sources, because subsequent historical events uphold negative aspects of the Chiang regime. Perhaps, readers should be reminded of the title of the book, China's nation-building effort, and should place the emphasis on effort."

Choice 9:411 May '72 200w

YOUNG, J. Z. An introduction to the study of man. 719p il maps $19.25 Oxford

573 Somatology
ISBN 0-19-857115-1 LC 71-30830

The book's "purpose is to point out the complexity of man as a living system. . . . Forty-four chapters cover such topics as the chemical and physical characteristics of man, aging, gene flow, evolution, human variety, reproduction, growth and development, and populations. . . . Glossary. Bibliography. Index." (Choice)

"[The book's] value is that it brings together material not usually found in biology texts. . . . Young carefully avoids topics . . . such as anatomy, physiology, and man-environment relationships. The book intentionally lacks detail. Young is best when writing of evolution and growth and development; is weakest in discussing human culture. Strictly college level, the book requires some knowledge of modern biology. Excellent as a text for a human biology course and as collateral reading for students of medicine, physiology, and ecology who desire a better understanding of man."

YOUNG, J. Z.—Continued

Choice 9:236 Ap '72 170w

"One of the paradoxes of undergraduate medical education is that, while the subject of study is man, attention is concentrated on only one facet of the subject—man as a physiological machine. Even that is necessarily fragmented. . . . But man as a social animal, intellectual entity, evolutionary end-product? . . . There isn't time, it can't be done. The text books don't exist. . . . [This volume] will change that somewhat. The book started life as a series of lectures given to medical students at the beginning of their studies, was gradually broadened into a search for a method of studying man in a scientific manner, and has emerged as a massive 700-page tome of quite startling erudition and scope." John Naughton

New Statesman 82:897 D 24 '71 650w

"[This work] has been almost totally unnoticed. . . . And yet it is a highly important book. In particular, it brings together subjects which are normally not thought of as proper companions. It makes a good deal of sense to discuss the origins of abstract art in a volume that also covers blood groups, because they are both aspects of the nature of the same one animal—man. . . . So why has Professor Young's considerable work failed to attract the attention it deserves? The answer is simple. It isn't a book that people will read. The jewels in [the] work lie buried in a great mass of solid information of a kind that could well be left out because it can be found anywhere. There are even a table of the elements and a set of metric conversion tables. Perhaps Professor Young will now try to distill the best of the wit and the wisdom from [this volume], bottling it in a smaller and more attractive container."

TLS p714 Je 23 '72 1600w

YOUNG, JEAN. Woodstock craftsman's manual; provoked by Jean Young. 253p il $10 Praeger

745.5 Handicraft
LC 76-185655

This is a "guide to candle making, crochet, leather working, embroidery, pottery making, beadwork, weaving, tie dye, batik, silkscreen, macramé, and . . . home recording." (Library J)

"If you want to start right from the ground up . . . here is the book for you. There are ample directions and also ample and simple illustrations. Indeed this is a 'straight ahead' guide."

Best Sell 32:191 J1 15 '72 100w

"Ideally a craft book should offer inspiration as well as instruction. It should stimulate creative impulses while directing them into the basic techniques of the craft. This volume comes very close to the ideal. . . . Each section is written by a craftsman in the field. Instructions are specific and straightforward, and the presentation is imaginative and varies with the subject; most important, the book conveys an enthusiasm for the creative process." Marilyn Gell

Library J 97:2571 Ag '72 150w

Reviewed by Regina Minudri

Library J 97:3823 N 15 '72 70w [YA]

"In [this] manual, there is no distance at all between instructor and beginner, and experimentation is the word. . . . In the words of Jean Young, who has a Woodstock bookstore, 'the idea was to put together a manual written by craftsmen that would give more information for less bread, be fun to read and identify with our New World.' It does and is (except maybe for the part about less bread). It is also sort of an inner-circle buying guide for circumventing conventional hobby shops that apparently tend to be uncooperative and carry small lots of supplies at high prices. . . . The manual is on fun. . . . Throughout, the emphasis is on economy, ingenuity, individuality, patience and joy." Elizabeth Gemming

N Y Times Bk R p8 J1 2 '72 300w

YOUNG, KENNETH. Sir Alec Douglas-Home. 282p pl $15 Fairleigh Dickinson univ. press

B or 92 Douglas-Home, Sir Alec
ISBN 0-8386-1041-2 LC 76-167748

A biography of the British foreign secretary. Douglas-Home "has served in both houses of Parliament and was Prime Minister from 1963 to 1964. Young reflects on the appeasement policy of Chamberlain, the Suez Crisis of 1956, the Cuban Missile Crisis of 1962, the Profumo scandal, and the Vietnam War." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

"Well paced, readable, and informative . . . this biography lays great stress on the human qualities of [its subject]. . . . Much emphasis is placed on the Douglas-Home years in the Commonwealth and Foreign Offices as if to justify his elevation to the Prime Ministership in the 1960s as well as return to public service in 1970. All this gives greater dimension to the man and the office by integrating personalities, events, and problems of the last two decades. Highly recommended."

Choice 9:871 S '72 160w

"Mr Young and his publishers give Sir Alec the full treatment, although the material is sometimes a little thin. There are two useful new sources: Sir Alec's own tape-recorded conversations, and the personal minute he wrote on December 30, 1963, on what he was really trying to do in politics instead of going fishing. Mr Young is good on why Sir Alec took on the job in the first place. He . . . is a trifle less illuminating on why Sir Alec gave up when he did. . . . Much of the book is overwritten, but [Young] is not confused about the man. This is not the last word on Sir Alec, but it is a useful start."

Economist 237:55 O 10 '70 650w

"This well-written and engaging biography . . . ranges across the last half-century of British political life. . . . The reader also gets Douglas-Home's view of the dealing and back-room maneuvering which accompanied various government decisions. . . . The author taps the usual sources of information, but he also draws upon his longtime acquaintance with the subject and . . . many of Home's own statements are inserted into the text, which gives it a character and a style not always found in biographical studies. Young's sympathies and pro-Tory bias are obvious, thus making some of his comments suspect. Nonetheless, the book is useful; it is a likely candidate for most large public and academic libraries." E. A. Engeldinger

Library J 97:2580 Ag '72 250w

"It is not entirely Mr Young's fault that his just-published study of our new, resurrected Foreign Secretary should fall so far short of his earlier, impressive biography of the one previous politician [Arthur James Balfour who served as Foreign Minister after being Prime Minister]. . . . For where Balfour's make-up was complex, subtle and deep, Sir Alec's personality is simple, uncomplicated and—some might feel tempted to say—shallow. . . . Easily the most fascinating parts of Mr Young's book are the passages he reproduces from actual conversations with Sir Alec; and it cannot be said that these do anything to reassure one's doubts or allay one's suspicions." Anthony Howard

New Statesman 80:493 O 16 '70 750w

YOUNG, PERCY M. Sir Arthur Sullivan. 304p pl $12.50 Norton

B or 92 Sullivan, Sir Arthur Seymour
LC 72-176486

This critical biography examines the composer's life and works as well as his social and musical environment. Catalogue of works. Bibliography. Index.

Economist 242:48 Ja 1 '72 260w

"A carefully annotated biography of a celebrated Victorian composer who never sought to be celebrated for what he became celebrated for—his collaboration with the witty W. S. Gilbert in the world-famous operettas. The author points out that Sullivan . . . set out to be a 'great composer,' a status he never really attained despite many attempts; that he was the Establishment musician in Victorian England, and became, of all things, a very wealthy race-horse owner; that his health was always frail; and that he had a peculiar attitude toward women."

New Yorker 48:108 Ap 1 '72 160w

"[Dr. Young] makes one new point: that Sullivan may be English in his music but by descent was part Irish, part Italian and part

Jewish, and not at all English. He deals lightly, shrewdly and adequately with sex, money, snobbery and health. . . . [He] examines the music and quotes from it, but the effect of analysis . . . is like breaking butterflies on the wheel. . . . [He] is good at tapping unfamiliar sources. But he errs in saying that Sullivan was the last important English composer to be educated in the Anglican choral tradition. . . . As his trump card he produces a tribute to Gilbert and Sullivan from, of all unlikely people, Igor Stravinsky." TLS p1504 D 3 '71 650w

YOUNG, PHILIP. Three bags full; essays in American fiction. 231p $8.95 Harcourt

813 American fiction—History and criticism
ISBN 0-15-190174-0 LC 73-174517

This is a three-part collection of pieces by the author of "Ernest Hemingway: a Reconsideration [BRD 1966. In] the first bag of essays . . . are reviews of books about the . . . novelist and recollections of Young's work on him. . . . Like those in the first bag, the essays in the second are reprints, and . . . range over American literary topics from the 1840's to the 1960's. The third [part] offers two . . . essays on Pocahontas and Rip Van Winkle as mythic figures." (Library J) Some of these essays appeared in The Atlantic Monthly, The Kenyon Review and The New York Times.

"Part One, devoted to Hemingway and Young, is unashamedly personal, as it has to be, and elegantly engrossing at a level considerably above that of gossip. Young never met Hemingway, but he heard from him quite often. . . . The essay called 'I Disremember Papa,' . . . is an object lesson in execution by quotation. . . . By far the most audacious, Part Three is complex, intricate [and] voluminously suggestive. . . . [The] long essays on Pocahontas and Rip Van Winkle . . . [are both] profound, and profoundly imaginative. . . . [Young's] best criticism is among the best there is . . . stylish and creative and seminal." Paul West

Book World p10 Mr 19 '72 1000w

"The book is more than the sum of its essay-parts, some of which are difficult to find elsewhere; and [it] . . . belongs in three places: general browsing; undergraduate American literature; and graduate research methods."

Choice 9:372 My '72 220w

"In a blithe spirit, a professor of English at Pennsylvania State University has filled three bags to the brim with scholarly, entertaining essays about American literature. . . . [He] takes a searching look at three classic nineteenth-century novels—Hawthorne's The House of Seven Gables, Melville's Typee, Twain's Huckleberry Finn—and comes up with symbolic meanings never suspected in a first reading. Topping off the second bag is a well-annotated address delivered to Peace Corps Volunteers, who might be asked if foreigners could get a true picture of American life by reading the best of American twentieth-century fiction." M. S. Cosgrave

Horn Bk 48:294 Je '72 200w

"The material is neither very fresh nor very significant, but Young writes with so much dash and humor as to make his least consequential observations pleasant reading. . . . Recommended." Robert Regan

Library J 97:878 Mr 1 '72 100w

Reviewed by Leo Marx

N Y Times Bk R p4 Mr 14 '72 1550w

YOUNG, VERNON. On film; unpopular essays on a popular art. 428p $12.50 Quadrangle bks.

791.43 Moving picture plays—History and criticism
ISBN 0-8129-0188-6 LC 72-156335

These essays, "culled largely from the pages of the Hudson Review, [deal with the relation of film art to its cultural sources and reveal the author's] . . . dialectical approach, his belief in the values of criticism and tradition, his concern with moral inferences, public utility, and aesthetic singularity." (Va Q R) Index.

"This is a very big book with lengthy, forbidding-looking essays, but Young turns out to be a sane, intelligent critic, not a critic to gulp down eagerly but someone to read at leisure, someone who makes one's respect turn gradually into pleasure. Young writes about an amazing number and range of movies; and, although he's heavy on synopses, he's good at incisive phrasing. . . . Obscure films are treated at length; and there is a good deal of material on short films that may limit the book's appeal, but will give it special value in movie criticism collections." J. A. Avant

Library J 97:2115 Je 1 '72 150w

"Much current cinema criticism tends to blur the social, industrial, and cultural contexts within which the film was created and loses touch with the feel of the experience. Young's approach to the texture of movies is a healthy corrective to analysis that slights the problems of realization. Whether he likes what is under review or not, his writing invariably and vividly evokes the physical immediacy of the film."

Va Q R 48:clviii autumn '72 150w

YOUNG, WILLIAM C. American theatrical arts; a guide to manuscripts and special collections in the United States and Canada. 166p $9.95 A.L.A.

016.792 Performing arts—U.S.—Bibliography.
Performing arts—Canada—Bibliography
ISBN 0-8389-0104-2 LC 78-161234

"The phrase 'theatrical arts' here embraces, in addition to the legitimate theater, such performing arts as vaudeville, burlesque, motion pictures, television, dance, opera, and circus. The manuscripts and special materials described and indexed . . . record the professional and personal lives of those who have participated in the theatrical arts. . . . [The materials] include, among others, letters, diaries, logbooks, brochures, scrapbooks, photographs, memorabilia, drawings, designs, lantern slides, promptbooks, phonograph records, typescripts, galley proofs, contracts, souvenir programs, playbills, and posters. [The book covers material in] 133 institutions." (Publisher's note) Index to the collections.

"Collections and manuscripts are described briefly. The main list is arranged by location (states and provinces)."

Am Lit 44:351 My '72 20w

"A useful, albeit incomplete, guide [which] . . . should be extremely useful to scholars attempting to pinpoint materials and is far more detailed than The International Federation of Library Associations' Performing Arts Libraries and museums of the world (2nd ed., 1968) . . . in its listings of U.S. and Canadian holdings. The author is somewhat inconsistent in stressing the importance of some holdings. . . . A single item might, in one case, be a single playbill and, in the next, be an entire collection containing hundreds of items. . . . Still, an important first step toward cataloging American theatrical sources in one succinct volume."

Choice 9:680 Jl/Ag '72 150w

"In his useful introduction to this guide, the author not only surveys the more important theater collections, but points to the research value of some of the smaller collections throughout the U.S. and Canada. The book is arranged in two parts: the first section is a listing of the collections, in alphabetical order by state and then by institution symbol used in the National Union Catalog; the second part is an index of persons and subjects covered in the various collections. Thus, the researcher is afforded both a broad and a specific approach. A useful reference volume." L. E. Bone

Library J 97:1420 Ap 15 '72 100w

YOUNG people's science encyclopedia; ed. by the staff of National college of education. rev ed 20v il col il col maps $79.95; to libs & schools $59.95 Childrens press

503 Science—Dictionaries—Juvenile literature
LC 72-188990

"The Foreword states that [this] Encyclopedia contains nearly four thousand topics which cover all of the basic biological and physical sciences, 'as well as . . . many specialized branches from which elementary and junior high school science concepts are drawn.' These special branches include aerodynamics, electronics, medicine, and radiology. . . . The set does not confine itself to factual information alone; also included are more than two hundred Things To Do. These materials, designed to encourage 'learning by doing,' are placed near related articles. . . . Volume 20 [is] a Parents' and Teachers' Guide, Index, and Bibliography. . . . The more than 2,500

YOUNG people's science encyclopedia—Cont. illustrations in color consist of drawings, diagrams, charts, photographs, and maps and come from a variety of sources—government agencies, industry, educational societies, museums, and publishing houses. Some are specifically prepared for the set. They range in size from 1 1/2-by-2 1/2-inches to a full page." (Booklist)

"As with the first edition [BRD 1963], most of the new edition is written by classroom teachers of science. . . . About one sixth of the articles in volumes 1, 7, and 13 have been rewritten or revised since the original edition. Revision ranges from the addition of new information and statistics to improvement in description and correction of facts. Sometimes the changes are slight. Two new articles, Alewife and Emphysema, have been added. . . . The writing generally is dry and is characterized by abrupt transitions. . . . Vocabulary and readability . . . would indicate that most of the articles are written at the eighth grade level. Pronunciation is shown for difficult words. . . . The color adds a bright quality to the set, but it tends to be garish. . . . On the whole the illustrative material is not of first quality but is acceptable. . . . [The binding] is not sufficiently sturdy to withstand heavy use. . . . The design of the volumes is satisfactory. . . . Margins are not adequate, since some material that runs into the inner margins would be lost in rebinding. The pages do not lie flat when opened. [This set] is fairly broad in scope and offers some creative ideas. However, since the general encyclopedias recommended for young people are more readable, informative, and attractive, Young People's Science Encyclopedia is not recommended."

Booklist 68:633 Ap 1 '72 1100w

Z

ZAEHNER, R. C. Evolution in religion: ■ study in Sri Aurobindo and Pierre Teilhard de Chardin. 121p $6.25 Oxford

200.1 Aurobindo, Sri. Teilhard de Chardin, Pierre
ISBN 0-19-826628-6 LC 79-585013

The author "explores parallels and differences between Teilhard and Aurobindo (the latter a classical scholar, socialist politician, mystic and reinterpreter of Hinduism). . . . He also examines the central theme of Teilhard's vision, the 'spiritualization of matter', from the standpoints of the Bible and Eastern mystical religion seen in an evolutionary perspective." (TLS)

"When a world-renowned historian of religions combines the seminal ideas of Sri Aurobindo and Pierre Teilhard de Chardin with his own reinterpretation of both Hinduism and Christianity the result is bound to be intriguing, if not always satisfying to more circumspect scholars. Zaehner mingles easily the exposition of his two main sources with his own creative speculation. . . . No student of world religions should neglect Zaehner's proposal of Teilhard's vision as the fulfillment of the dream of both Karl Marx and Sri Aurobindo."

Choice 8:1194 N '71 140w

TLS p1294 O 15 '71 250w

ZAHRNT, HEINZ. What kind of God? a question of faith. 279p $5.95 Augsburg

231 God. Theology
ISBN 0-8066-1209-6 LC 77-176102

The author "surveys the scene after the death-of-God controversies and comments on the implications of 'the God problem' for the many dimensions of human life." (Christian Century)

"[Zahrnt] does not distinguish well between conceptual theology and pastoral catechesis. In trying to combine them, he jumbles them together, sacrificing law and order on the conceptual level without succeeding in his attempt to achieve relevance. This results from trying so hard to speak the language of the people of the 'now generation' that he surrenders to their limitations instead of challenging them to rise above themselves. His description of the problem is lucid, but his suggestions are not substantial enough to inspire confidence." T. E. Crane

America 126:659 Je 24 '72 500w
Christian Century 89:290 Mr 8 '72 60w

Reviewed by Martin Marty
Critic 30:85 My '72 250w

"This is a forceful and more elaborate sequel to Zahrnt's A Question of God [BRD 1969]. . . . The German title of the present book, Gott kann nicht sterben, was perhaps more challenging than the timid English version. For, as Herr Zahrnt says forthrightly on his first page, 'God does not die when man ceases to ask for him, but man ceases to be man when he no longer asks the question'. And if it is not asking that question theology is 'uninteresting and dispensable'. The author has some blistering comments to make on the lunatic proposition of 'Christian atheism'. . . . Here we have some excellent popular theology, even if some of the names and allusions inevitably escape the English reader. But the author is well posted in what is happening here, and he has a remarkable feel for the English idiom. As religious editor of the Sonntagsblatt Herr Zahrnt knows that the test of writing is readability, and his book, like the former one, is compellingly readable."

TLS p93 Ja 28 '72 700w

ZALESKI, EUGÈNE. Planning for economic growth in the Soviet Union, 1918-1932; tr. from the French and ed. by Marie-Christine MacAndrew and G. Warren Nutter. 425p $15.75 Univ. of N.C. press

330.947 Russia—Economic policy. Russia—Economic conditions
ISBN 0-8078-1160-2 LC 78-97018

The first part of this study "discusses the gradual development of the Soviet planning system during the first decade after the 1917 revolution. . . . [Included is an] analysis of five-year and annual planning from 1928-32. Zaleski concludes with an evaluation of Soviet planning from 1918-32 regarding goals, methods, results, and the relationship to economic fluctuations." (Choice) Bibliography. Index of names. Index of subjects.

"Translation of the original 1962 French edition. . . . The English edition differs from the French in the correction of some errors in the original, inclusion of recent-statistical estimates for the period, and addition of new bibliographic references. . . . Zaleski's book is recommended as a basic volume on its subject and a valuable reference for students of the Soviet economy and Soviet history. Many tables, long statistical appendix, comprehensive bibliography, and detailed subject and name indices."

Choice 8:1366 D '71 250w

"The intention of this book was to detect clues to the mystery which had so much and so long agitated so many observers of the Soviet economy: does normative planning liberate economies from the curse of instability? Mr Zaleski's answer is that while experience does not justify the supposition that cycles do not exist in the Soviet system, fluctuations in its economy are of a specific type—a view which has been accepted also by Soviet scholars."

Economist 242:59 F 5 '72 80w

"This well-written book covers all major aspects of the development and functioning of the Soviet planning system. . . . [It] will be of interest to all larger libraries." B. S. Wynar

Library J 96:2766 S 15 '71 130w

ZAMPETTI, PIETRO. Paintings from the Marches: Gentile to Raphael; tr. by R. G. Campanini. 277p pl col pl $38.50 Phaidon; for sale by Praeger

750.5 Painting, Renaissance. Painters, Italian
ISBN 0-7148-1500-4 LC 71-158101

This is a survey "of Renaissance painting from the province of the Marches. . . . Each chapter is devoted to a school of Marchigian painting, mainly of the 15th century. . . . Within each chapter individual artists are discussed followed by a brief catalogue of their work." (Choice) Bibliography. Index of names.

"[Zampettil] has written a thorough, but extremely dry study. . . . Important developments in the 14th century are neglected. . . . In spite of a promise in the fine introduction, Zampettil does not deal adequately with the cultural history of the region. Urbino, particularly, seems bleached and abandoned by the failure to discuss in depth the richness of its intellectual and artistic life at the end of the 15th century in the court of Federico da Montefeltro. There is a generous bibliography and an index; the plates in black and white are adequate but the color plates are coarse. Recommended with the qualifications noted above. Mainly of use at schools with a concentration in the history of art."

Choice 9:501 Je '72 280w

"Geographically, The Marches is a region in central Italy, bordering the Adriatic. Cities include Ancona, Fermo, Camerino, Fabriano, Urbino and Pesaro. This area was open to many artistic influences, international as well as local; and a characteristic ability to reconcile varying influences was evident there from the 14th Century on. Links with Venice, Tuscany, and the Burgundian court also contributed to the richness of Marchigian painting. The author deals with this complexity by organizing his material under the schools of Fabriano, Camerino, and San Severino, then around Carlo Crivelli, ending with Urbino and the origins of Raphael. This [is] a well-written, well-printed, and handsomely illustrated volume . . . full of interesting and illuminating information." Julia Sabine

Library J 97:1702 My 1 '72 200w

ZAMYATIN, YEVGENY. We; tr. by Mirra Ginsburg. 204p $6.95 Viking

ISBN 0-670-75318-1 LC 73-183514

"First published in 1924 [BRD 1925], We is a picture of the future state, a glass-walled Euclidian city, ruled with absolute rationality by the Benefactor, its citizens nameless numbers. Mathematician D-503 keeps a journal of the days preceding the launch of the Integral, the One State's first spacecraft. Rumors of revolution abound, of attack from those outside the walls. As the day approaches, D-503 is drawn deeper into the conspiracy, until he is summoned before the Benefactor himself." (Library J)

"There have been so many satires on future totalitarian states since . . . this novel was originally published, that it is hard to work up any excitement over it. Clever, yes; courageous, yes—the author died in exile, and the book has never appeared in his native Russia. But Huxley and Orwell, who actually wrote later than Zamyatin, have made the whole robot society theme over-familiar. The interest of Zamyatin's novel is primarily historical." Phoebe Adams

Atlantic 229:112 Je '72 90w

Choice 9:976 O '72 140w

Reviewed by R. W. Haney
Christian Science Monitor p11 My 10 '72 900w

Reviewed by S. A. Haffner
Library J 97:2202 Je 15 '72 200w

"We now have two translations in English: the present version, and that of 1924 by Gregory Zilboorg [BRD 1925] (revised in 1959). Having read both through several times, I prefer Miss Ginsburg's text. . . . I am not qualified to comment on the faithfulness of either translation to the original. But I find Miss Ginsburg's prose more vigorous than Mr. Zilboorg's . . . and the splashes of verbal color at those moments in which D poetizes or rhapsodizes—suggesting all along the fact that he does have a soul—provide in Miss Ginsburg's translation a much more effective contrast to the mathematical jargon and the journalese that spill from several of the other characters. I would say, too, that this particular edition of We is valuable for the introduction alone, an essay I cannot praise too highly. It is the work of a translator who has absorbed her subject, and shows a mind attuned to the shape of Zamyatin's art." R. K. Morris

Nation 214:824 Je 26 '72 1600w

Reviewed by John Bayley
N Y Rev of Books 19:18 O 19 '72 1250w

Reviewed by Stephen Koch
N Y Times BK R p7 J1 9 '72 1350w

"[This novel] is a literary landmark of our century. . . . [It] is a satirical and anti-utopian indictment of early Soviet society and a warning about the future. . . . The novel's coded language is easily deciphered by today's generations. Indeed, [it] should be required reading for students from high school age on up. . . . This third translation into English . . . is much more readable than those published in 1924 [by G. Zilboorg], and 1960 [by B. Guernsey in the paperback, Anthology of Russian literature in the Soviet period.] It skillfully reproduces Zamyatin's peculiar mixture of inner monologue, nervous sentences, and the eerie atmosphere in which our own drama surrealistically unfolds on a screen six centuries away." V. D. Mihailovich

Sat R 55:88 My 6 '72 750w

ZANDER, WALTER. Israel and the holy places of Christendom. 248p $8.50 Praeger
275.694 Shrines. Churches—Palestine
LC 74-154352

For descriptive note, review excerpts and other review citations see BRD 1971.

Choice 9:520 Je '72 260w

Reviewed by Michael Zeik
Commonweal 96:124 Ap 7 '72 700w
TLS p377 Mr 31 '72 1100w

ZAPATA, PAMELA, jt. auth. The mother's cook & cope book. See Lane, C.

ZASHIN, ELLIOT M. Civil disobedience and democracy. 368p $7.95 Free press

322.4 Government, Resistance to. Democracy. U.S.—Politics and government—1945—
LC 74-122283

"Beginning with a survey of the historical and theoretical background of civil disobedience that covers the political philosophy of such thinkers as Hobbes, Locke, and Jefferson, Professor Zashin proceeds to relate civil disobedience to liberal-democratic theory and practice. He then asserts and advocates the legitimacy of civil disobedience within the American political system as a tactic that 'enables the basically allegiant citizen to continue his struggle for change where previously the failure of conventional techniques left him no alternative but grudging acquiescence.' He also evaluates the limitations of civil disobedience within our system, and provides an explanation of the growing recourse to violence as a technique of protest." (Publisher's note) Annotated bibliography. Index.

"It is quite apparent that Zashin has reworked his graduate notes on 'liberalism' into an attempt to legitimize civil disobedience as a democratic tactic. Such co-optation makes it difficult to ascertain whether he is a defender of civil disobedience or is attempting to destroy the concept as a viable tactic through co-optation and legitimization. One suspects the latter. The book is simply irrelevant in all respects, since it is bent upon legitimizing a concept which does not need and which does not seek such legitimacy. Moreover, the highly superficial treatment afforded some of the liberal philosophers such as Hobbes, Locke, Rousseau, etc. does little to strengthen significantly Zashin's thesis. . . . Recommended primarily for graduate libraries and to balance collections on civil disobedience."

Choice 9:1358 D '72 160w

"[The author] brings to his book a learned grasp of political theory as well as practical experience from the field of action. . . . More than a work of pure theory, the book offers skilled analysis of the tactics of such leaders as Gandhi and King. This is a timely piece of scholarship that compares favorably with the recent books and essays by Walzer, Zinn, and Wyzanski." J. P. Diggins

Library J 96:842 Mr 1 '71 170w

"[The] capacity for containment, for neutralizing opposition by tolerating it, is the reason for a fundamental doubt about Professor Zashin's book. . . . He admits that the book is premised on the assumption that the American political system remains a liberal democracy, but in the last sentence of the book he expresses his doubt as to whether this is still the case, and he also agrees with other radicals that non-violent direct action is unlikely to be enough to achieve radical change in American society. Thus Professor Zashin more or less admits that the book has to a large extent been overtaken by events." Anthony Arblaster

ZASHIN, E. M.—Continued

New Statesman 84:196 Ag 11 '72 240w

ZELDIN, JESSE, jt. auth. Literature and national identity. See Debreczeny, P.

ZELDIN, THEODORE, ed. Conflicts in French society; anticlericalism, education and morals in the nineteenth century. (Oxford, Univ. St. Antony's college. Publications, no 1) 236p $6.50 Humanities press

270.8 France—Social conditions. Church and state in France
LC 75-559933

"A collection of four essays on diverse aspects of French life in the 19th century. . . . [Zeldin] argues that reaction against the all-embracing power of the priest—accrued in large measure by benefit of his role in the confessional—was at the source of rural anticlericalism. Robert Anderson's contribution is concerned with Catholic secondary schools in mid-century, and Austin Gough . . . discusses the . . . career of the super-reactionary Bishop Pie of Poitiers. The piece by Roger Magraw analyzes the development of anticlericalism in the department of the Isere under the Second Empire. . . . [This is] the first in St. Antony's Publications, successor to St. Antony's Papers. . . . Index." (Choice)

"Most significant is the article by Zeldin, who suggests that the confessional played a much greater political role than generally has been supposed. . . . Although the title is ambitious and perhaps misleading, the collection does deal with key 'conflicts,' but in a limited way; thus the book is primarily for specialists. Useful addition to collections in modern French history."

Choice 8:1240 N '71 430w

"[The common theme of the authors] is anti-clericalism, and they seek to study different aspects of the quarrels between the Catholic church and its enemies. Dr. Theodore Zeldin . . . discusses how the Church's values differed from those of its critics. . . . Robert Anderson [who] examines Catholic secondary schools . . . provides a certain amount of statistical information but his conclusions are hesitant. Dr. Gough claims that Monseigneur Pie is to be understood better if we study his political activities in the diocese of Poitiers during the Second Empire and his long struggle against the prefecture and the procureur-général. . . . The historians of France are asking new questions [and] . . . finding new wealth in the departmental archives."

TLS p564 My 14 '71 300w

ZELLER, BERNHARD. Portrait of Hesse; an illustrated biography; tr. by Mark Hollenbone. 176p $6.95; pa $2.95 Herder & Herder
838 Hesse, Hermann
LC 77-150142

"Zeller details Hesse's ancestry, background, youth, and psychological turmoil; his flight from the seminary and the gradual attainment of stability; his experiences as a book-seller, fledgling poet, and author of Peter Camenzind [BRD 1969]; . . . his opposition to World War I, and to the Nazi regime prior to World War II. Finally, Zeller treats Demian [BRD 1923], Siddharta [BRD 1952], Steppenwolf [BRD 1947], and the rest of Hesse's books." (Library J) Chronology. Bibliography. Originally published in German in 1963.

"The complete German title is Hermann Hesse in documents about himself and in documentary illustrations. The English title is somewhat misleading since it does not stress this self-documentary point. Not an ordinary biography, the book consists mainly of quotations from Hesse's letters, scrapbooks, and works. The connecting text by Zeller contains biographical facts completely leaving out his personal opinion, etc. Thus this work is more a documentary account of Hesse's life, work, and thought than a popular biography. . . . The text has been well translated. . . . It is very good for the student of literature and for any reader who is looking for concise information, not for entertainment."

Choice 8:1181 N '71 170w

"[This book] can serve as [an] introduction to [Hesse] . . . for undergraduates and general readers." L. W. Griffin

Library J 96:2763 S 15 '71 70w

ZELNIK, REGINALD E. Labor and society in Tsarist Russia; the factory workers of St. Petersburg, 1855-1870. 450p $15 Stanford univ. press

331 Labor and laboring classes—Russia
ISBN 0-8047-0740-5 LC 73-130832

This work, which is the first of a projected two volumes, "is an analytic survey of the factory workers of St. Petersburg. . . . In chapters offering both background and anticipations of future developments [Zelnik] demonstrates . . . the two conflicting interests of encouragement by governmental policy-makers of industrialization and the fear of the political consequences of concentrating large numbers of workers in urban centers such as St. Petersburg and Moscow. . . . The book [also] examines the history and composition of the St. Petersburg factory population, problems of housing, disease, drunkenness, as well as the Sunday school movement." (Ann Am Acad) Bibliography. Index.

"[This] monograph is a thoughtful and informative study of a small but significant area of Russian economic and social history. Based on research in libraries of this country, Finland, and of the Soviet Union, the work, in general, lives up to its titled promise. . . . The author claims that this time span can be treated as a discrete historical unit for Russian history since it starts with the defeat of Russia in the Crimean War and the accession of a new 'pro-industrial' emperor, Alexander II, and ends just before the 'cross-fertilization between urban factory workers and the radical intelligentsia.' One question that the author's treatment raises is this: Can the position of the St. Petersburg factory workers in fact be considered as typical for all of tsarist Russia?" David Hecht

Ann Am Acad 400:196 Mr '72 450w

"Zelnik's is the first study in a Western language to treat this topic, and is a valuable corrective to some recent Soviet treatments. Despite a number of stylistic shortcomings which all too closely link the published work to the doctoral dissertation out of which it developed, the book is a must for any library that aims to keep abreast of the field of Russian history."

Choice 8:1504 Ja '72 120w

"Zelnik gives us a useful account of the various attitudes, both in government circles and in society generally, towards the labour question, examining the debate on industrialization, the work of the government commissions of 1857-64, the Sunday School movement, and the new professional organizations such as the Imperial Russian Technical Society. His emphasis on St Petersburg tends at times to make him ignore or treat briefly developments outside the capital, but he makes some very good points on the alleged anti-industrialism of the Russian left, on the response to the proposals of the St Petersburg Commission of 1859, and on the issues at stake in the Nevskii strike of 1870. This is an original and thoughtful piece of historical research."

TLS p512 My 5 '72 600w

"[Some] historians have been permitted to work in the rich treasures of the tsarist archives. Professor Zelnik is one of those so privileged, and his excellent study . . . provides a real contribution. . . . [He] has done a great deal to help us understand the making of the revolutionary working class in Russia."

Va Q R 48:lxix spring '72 130w

ZEMACH, HARVE. A penny a look; an old story retold; pictures by Margot Zemach. unp $4.95 Farrar, Straus

398.2
ISBN 0-374-35793-5 LC 71-161373

"A red-haired rascalion induces his milder brother to join him in a money-making scheme. He has heard of a land of one-eyed people, and his plan is to capture a specimen for exhibit. As they climb fences, ford a stream, and soar in a balloon, the . . . gentle brother worries about the treatment their quarry will get. The red-haired rascal, however, thinks only of his profit. When they reach their destination, a band of ferocious one-eyed men appears, and the capture takes place, all right—but it is the redhead who is caged. Two eyes! A penny a look, and the cash is calmly collected by the nicer brother." (Sat R) "Grades one to three." (Library J)

"The artist-author team has produced a swiftly moving picture-book based on a folktale-like narrative."

Horn Bk 48:43 F '72 180w

Reviewed by P. D. Pollack

Library J 96:4181 D 15 '71 200w

"Zemach's style is low-key and pseudo-serious, his dialogue droll. But it's really his wife Margot who never misses a chance to make you laugh. She has drawn a series of slapstick scenes, like a silent-movie pantomime, that follow the brothers on their Phineas Foggish trek. . . . With a gesture here, a posture there, she draws with a master humorist's touch. . . . Behind the laugh is a lesson: cruelty and avarice don't pay. And if you look once more at the ending when the rosy-cheeked, two-eyed men arrive in the land of the blue-faced, one-eyed men (visualized by Mrs. Zemach as a horde of high-stepping hippies) you also find a comment on bigotry." M. F. O'Connell

N Y Times Bk R p8 D 26 '71 280w

"This gay picture story is told with deft understatement." Zena Sutherland
Sat R 55:46 Ja 15 '72 120w

ZERI, FEDERICO. Italian paintings. See New York (City). Metropolitan Museum of Art

ZEYLANICUS. Ceylon: between Orient and Occident; with a foreword by S. A. Pake-man. 288p il pl maps $6.50 Fernhill house
954 Ceylon—History
LC [71-541625]

This history of Ceylon is in three "parts: (1) the ancient and medieval heritage up to and including the periods of Portuguese and Dutch hegemony, (2) the period of British imperial dominion, and (3) the period of Ceylonese independence within the Commonwealth." (Choice)

"[This is a] good short history. . . . The book is written for the most part from secondary sources, but it presents a lucid narrative of events plus valuable analytical insight into the factors which have shaped the constitutional, social, and economic development of the island."

Choice 8:1374 D '71 80w

"[This] book is a history of personalities, not of a people. True, space is given to the Ceylonese elite, though this seems to be chiefly because of their role as tools of the British Raj. Hardly any reference is made to the caste system. Only occasionally does the author descend from the rarefied atmosphere of kings, conquests and politicians to the actual conditions and beliefs of the masses. . . . [He] explains the complex racial and religious rivalry that exists within Ceylonese society, especially the notorious hostility between Tamils and Sinhalese. But little mention is made of the economic rivalry, partly rooted in ideology, which is a major factor in the religious dispute."

Economist 237:60 N 14 '70 410w

"All but 70 pages of the text are devoted to the period after the British connection. The history of the island before 1800 is therefore very generally and superficially treated. . . . [The author] is on much firmer ground when he moves on to the very modern period. . . . [He] obviously views the British connection with warmth and affection, a feeling that is all too rare in Ceylon today. British colonial administrators come to life, as they rarely do in a work of this nature. . . . 'Zeylanicus' has written a book primarily for British readers nostalgic about Empire, but in an age when the British people are being taken, willy-nilly, into the European Economic Community, one wonders how many will be interested in such a work." S. Arasaratnam
Pacific Affairs 45:135 spring '72 600w

ZIELINSKI, JANUSZ G., jt. auth. Planning in East Europe. See Kaser, M.

ZOLBERG, ARISTIDE R., jt. ed. Ghana and the Ivory Coast. See Foster, P.

ZOLLING, HERMANN, jt. auth. The General was a spy. See Höhne, H.

ZONIS, MARVIN. The political elite of Iran. (Princeton univ. Program in Near Eastern studies. Princeton studies on Near East) 389p $12.50 Princeton univ. press

301.44 Iran—Politics and government. Leadership

ISBN 0-691-03083-9 LC 74-90966

The assistant director of the Center for Middle Eastern Studies at the University of Chicago analyzes the role of the Shah as the political system's 'keystone, his personal rule, and successful efforts to prevent the emergence of other centers of power. Then, utilizing . . . social, political, and psychological sciences and statistical analysis, he . . . studies the adverse affects of the Shah's rule on the psychological makeup of Iran's elite, and discusses the elite's socioeconomic and educational background. He concludes that the Shah-elite interaction has deprived Iran of the progressive, creative, and responsible modernizing elite which it must have to enter the next stage of development." (Library J) Bibliography. Index.

"The sections on how the Shah manipulates the elite—potentially threatening persons are given foreign posts or retired on pension—are fascinating, though independent of the survey. The survey does show how the elite, which earlier had been heavily a rural aristocracy, has now become much more urban and has become based on education and other achieved characteristics." A. W. Heston
Ann Am Acad 402:143 J1 '72 150w

Choice 9:720 J1/Ag '72 260w

Reviewed by R. M. Burrell

Encounter 39:69 J1 '72 200w

"This is a superb study of the personality factor in Iran's political system. . . . Essential for larger general and special collections, for its material on Iran and as an example of the fruitful use of an interdisciplinary approach." D. W. Littlefield

Library J 96:4019 D 1 '71 100w

ZUK, GERALD H. Family therapy: a triadic-based approach. 229p $12.95 Behavioral publications

616.8 Family. Psychotherapy
ISBN 87705-069-4 LC 72-174269

"In this volume, Zuk presents [an] . . . approach in which the therapist actively enters into the interaction among family members and employs mediation and . . . side-taking to 'break up and replace pathogenic relating.'" (Library J)

"This book is a welcome addition in the field of family therapy where there are numerous collections of articles by different authors but few books expounding a single viewpoint. The contents are based on clinical rather than rigorous research and would be of interest primarily to advanced undergraduates in clinical, abnormal, or social psychology."

Choice 9:1209 N '72 110w

"Two-thirds or more of the work consists of articles the author has already published in various scholarly journals, while new additions include one chapter entitled 'Engaging Families in Therapy' and transcriptions of actual interaction sessions which exemplify the approach. The major value of the collection is that it brings together a number of well-written and significant articles on triadic-based family therapy and makes them more accessible for the mental health worker and concerned layman. Those seeking an introduction to the topic will find the chapter devoted to an overview of family therapy between 1964 and 1970 most enlightening." B. J. Kalisch

Library J 97:3322 O 15 '72 210w

ZWEIG, PAUL. Against emptiness; poems. 68p $4.95 Harper

811

ISBN 0-06-014815-2 LC 79-123974

"In this first book of poems Zweig makes a . . . personal statement about his own situation

ZWEIG, PAUL—Continued

and identity." (Publisher's note) Many of these poems have been published in various magazines.

"Zweig is a poet who is very unsatisfied with what he does, with the limitations of his art—and this, in turn, becomes his artifice, becomes the metaphor of life-in-death which recurs again and again as if life itself was a false start. . . . Zweig despairs of making sense of the world, and . . . though he gasps and struggles for meaning, he frequently does so with a set of private associations that leaves the reader in his wake." John Demos
Library J 96:965 Mr 15 '71 150w

"Zweig's exploratory thrusts into the unconscious and into memory are inhibited by a hazy symbolist vocabulary and a stilted phraseology. . . . Throughout 'Against Emptiness' is an apparent clash of concept and image. Too many of these poems—'America at War,' 'Today . . . I Will Admire,' and 'The News,'—are transparently 'idea' poems. . . . Yet there are remarkable moments in this book. . . . [It] bubbles with enough indications to make me want more from Paul Zweig. By working against the grain of language, the kind of verse to which he seems to aspire has broken new verbal paths." Bill Zavatsky
N Y Times Bk R p6 D 26 '71 330w

"[This] book is strangely titled, but the contents range widely, from familiar concerns and speculations to a neo-surrealistic experimentation—a range that indicates a variegated intellect. Zweig's use of imagery and ring of metaphor are accomplished and sure; he is a poet whose talents are quite diverse, despite (in this case) a continually shifting focus." James Naiden
Poetry 120:116 My '72 220w

ZWICK, DAVID. Water wasteland; Ralph Nader's study group report on water pollution, by David Zwick and Marcy Benstock. 494p $7.95 Grossman pubs.

333.9 Water—Pollution
SBN 670-75169-3 LC 77-112516

This report is an "investigation of pollution in the Lake Erie region and elsewhere. It . . . [is concerned with] the polluting industries as well as [with] citizen groups and federal, state, and local officials responsible for controlling pollution." (Library J) Index.

"Thoroughly documented, this book is a good companion piece to J. M. Fallows' The Water Lords: Ralph Nader's Study Group Report on Industry and Environmental Crisis in Savannah, Georgia [BRD 1971]. Anyone who thinks water pollution is being effectively attacked is offered a strong refutation here." H. T. Armistead
Library J 97:512 F 1 '72 90w

Reviewed by Joni Bodart

Library J 97:1184 Mr 15 '72 90w [YA]

"[The book] is predictable: fact filled, well written, intolerably self-righteous; crammed with devastating case studies of legislative and bureaucratic failure; drawing indiscriminately upon scientific studies, newspaper reports and anonymous anecdotal evidence; incomplete and puzzlingly selective. It is without doubt a book that belongs on the shelf of anyone at all interested in the problems of water pollution control. The book seems to reflect Ralph Nader's view of the world, a view at best highly complex, at worst oddly muddled and inconsistent. . . . What is it that Water Wasteland is trying to tell us? The theme sentence in the book, repeated frequently in one form or another is that 'the greatest barriers to enforcement are really not legal but political. . . . The vast economic and political power of large polluters.'" J. L. Sax
New Repub 166:27 F 5 '72 2300w

"In its 'Conclusions and Recommendations' the report analyzes pending congressional legislation (particularly Nixon's and Muskie's). Congressman John Blatnik of Minnesota, Chairman of the House Subcommittee on Rivers and Harbors, is, it points out, 'the key to the pollution control program's legislative future.' Another useful, if brackish, piece of work by Nader's group."

N Y Rev of Books 17:29 D 30 '71 250w

"Despite some unevenness in style, repetition of stories, and a few technical errors, Water Wasteland is a compelling book and a unique contribution to the proliferating literature on environmental problems. It needs to be said, however, that this castigation of industry and its regulators, however well deserved, leaves largely untouched the other principal sinners, the municipalities." R. H. Harris
Science 176:645 My 12 '72 2000w

Subject and Title Index

TO AUTHOR ENTRIES, MARCH 1972—FEBRUARY 1973

- ABC's of the earth. Asimov, I. (O '72)
- Aalto, Alvar
Aalto, A. Alvar Aalto. (Ap '72)
Aalto, A. Alvar Aalto, 1963-1970. (S '72)
Abbé Grégoire, 1787-1831. Necheles, R. F. (Ag '72)
- Abbeys
Braun, H. English abbeys. (Mr '72)
- Abduction
Moore, B. Revolution script. (Mr '72)
- Abelard, Peter
Robertson, D. W. Abelard and Heloise. (Ap '72)
Abelard and Heloise. Robertson, D. W. (Ap '72)
- Abortion
Gardner, R. F. R. Abortion: the personal dilemma. (D '72)
Abortion: the personal dilemma. Gardner, R. F. R. (D '72)
- About television. Mayer, M. (S '72)
About wise men and simpletons. Grimm, J. (My '72)
- Abracadaver. Lovesey, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Abraham Lincoln: a press portrait. Mitgang, H., ed. (In his Lincoln's long shadow). (D '72)
- Absence of bells. Rubin, M. (Ag '72)
- Absences. Tate, J. (O '72)
- Absolute and the atonement. Trethowan, I. (D '72)
- Abstract art. See Art. Abstract
- Absurd convictions, modest hopes [Daniel Berrigan's] conversations after prison with Lee Lockwood. See Lockwood, L. Daniel Berrigan: absurd convictions, modest hopes. (D '72)
- Abzug, Bella Savitzky
Abzug, B. S. Bella! Ms. Abzug goes to Washington. (S '72)
- Academiary examen. Webster, J. (In Science and education in the seventeenth century: the Webster-Ward debate, by A. G. Debus). (Ag '72)
- Academic freedom
Hoult, T. F. March to the right. (D '72)
- Academic graffiti. Auden, W. H. (Ag '72)
- Academic Janus. McGee, R. (O '72)
- Academic super markets. Altbach, P. G., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Academics in retreat. Fashing, J. (Ag '72)
- Accademia del cemento
Middleton, W. E. K. Experimenters. (Ag '72)
- Acceleration of history. Piel, G. (S '72)
- Accessible city. Owen, W. (N '72)
- Accidental man. Murdoch, I. (Ap '72)
- Accidents
Prevention
Baker, R. F. Highway risk problem: policy issues in highway safety. (O '72)
Fales, E. D. Belts on, buttons down. (Ag '72)
- Acheen and the ports on the north and east coasts of Sumatra. Anderson, J. (O '72)
- Acquisitions (Libraries)
Advances in understanding approval and gathering plans in academic libraries. (Mr '72)
Corbin, J. B. Technical services manual for small libraries. (Ag '72)
Katz, B. Magazine selection. (Ag '72)
Melcher, D. Melcher on acquisition. (Mr '72)
- Across countries of anywhere. Hanson, P. (Je '72)
- Act and the actor. Rosenberg, H. (My '72)
- Action for ■ change. Nader, R. (Ag '72)
- Activities, 1906-1914: India and Cambridge; v 15 of The Collected writings of John Maynard Keynes. Keynes, J. M. (O '72)
- Activities, 1914-1919: the Treasury and Versailles; v 16 of The collected writings of John Maynard Keynes. Keynes, J. M. (O '72)
- Actors and actresses
Grady, B. Irish peacock. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Weaver, J. T., comp. Twenty years of silents, 1908-1928. (O '72)
- Bibliography
Schuster, M. comp. Motion picture performers. (Ag '72)
- Biography
Carroll, D. Matinee idols. (O '72)
- Portraits
Trent, P. Image makers. (D '72)
Adam Clayton Powell and the Supreme Court. Weeks, K. M. (Ag '72)
Adam Smith's science of morals. Campbell, T. D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Adams, Henry
Mont-Saint-Michel and Chartres
Mane, R. Henry Adams on the road to Chartres. (Je '72)
- Addison, Joseph
Bond, R. P. Tatler. (Ag '72)
- Adenauer, Konrad
Prittie, T. Konrad Adenauer, 1876-1967. (S '72)
- Adirondack Mountains
Weston, H. Freedom in the wilds. (S '72)
- Administration and development in Malaysia. Esman, M. J. (S '72)
- Administration of United States foreign policy. Johnson, R. A. (N '72)
- Administrative history of India, 1834-1947. Misra, B. B. (Ag '72)
- Adolescence
Gattegno, C. Adolescent and his will. (Ap '72)
Harrington, C. C. Errors in sex-role behavior in teen-age boys. (Mr '72)
Holmes, D. Language of trust. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Koos, L. V. Community college student. (Je '72)
- Adolescent and his will. Gattegno, C. (Ap '72)
- Adolescent needs and the transition from school to work. Maizels, J. (O '72)
- Adolescent psychiatry
Feinstein, S. C., ed. Adolescent psychiatry, v 1. (O '72)
Jacobs, J. Adolescent suicide. (Je '72)
Adolescent suicide. Jacobs, J. (Je '72)
- Adolf Dehn drawings. Dehn, A. (Ag '72)
- Adult education
Handbooks, manuals, etc.
Cass, A. W. Basic education for adults. (O '72)
- Advances in understanding approval and gathering plans in academic libraries. (Mr '72)
- Adventure and adventurers
Reeman, D. Adventures on the high seas. (My '72)
Titler, D. M. Wings of adventure. (My '72)
- Adventures of Mao on the long march. Tuten, F. (Ag '72)
- Adventures of the letter I. Simpson, L. (S '72)
- Adventures of the three colors. Tison, A. (Ap '72)
- Adventures on the high seas. Reeman, D. (My '72)
- Advertising
Bloomenthal, H. Promoting your cause. (My '72)
Tierney, P. E. Ladies of the avenue. (My '72)
- Cigarettes
Whiteside, T. Selling death. (Mr '72)
- Advertising man. Dillon, J. (N '72)
- Aeneid of Virgil: a verse translation by Allen Mandelbaum. Virgil. (S '72)
- Aerial photo-ecology. Howard, J. A. (S '72)
- Aerial piracy and international law. McWhinney, E. (D '72)

Aeronautics

Smith, N. F. Wings of feathers, wings of flame. (O '72)

Accidents

Captain X. Safety last. (N '72)

Flights

Titler, D. M. Wings of adventure. (My '72)

Safety measures

Captain X. Safety last. (N '72)

Aeronautics, Commercial

Captain X. Safety last. (N '72)

Aeronautics, Military

Sims, E. H. Fighter tactics and strategy, 1914-1970. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Aesthetics and problems of education. Smith, R. A., ed. (N '72)

Aesthetics and theory of art. Dessoir, M. (Mr '72)

Affidavits of genius. Alexander, J. (My '72)

Affinity and matter. Levere, T. H. (Ag '72)

Affirmation and dissent. Summerscales, W. (Ag '72)

Afghan Wars

Fredericks, P. G. Sepoy and the Cossack. (Mr '72)

Warburton, R. Eighteen years in the Khyber, 1879-1898. (Ap '72)

al-Afghānī, Jamāl al-Dīn

Keddie, N. R. Sayyid Jamāl ad-Dīn "al-Afghānī." (D '72)

Afghanistan

Myrdal, J. Gates to Asia. (My '72)

Description and travel

Trautman, K. Spies behind the pillars, bandits at the pass. (Je '72)

Africa

African perspectives. (Je '72)

Horizon History of Africa. (Ap '72)

Antiquities

Clark, J. D. Prehistory of Africa. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Page, J. D., ed. Papers in African prehistory. (Je '72)

Shinnie, P. L. African iron age. (Ap '72)

Biography

Ojigbo, A. O., comp. Young and black in Africa. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Discovery and exploration

Moorehead, A. White Nile [rev ed]. (Mr '72)

Economic conditions

Goody, J. Technology, tradition, and the state in Africa. (O '72)

Foreign relations

China (People's Republic of China)

Larkin, B. D. China and Africa, 1949-1970. (Ap '72)

History

Collins, R. O., ed. Problems in the history of colonial Africa. (Ap '72)

Page, J. D., ed. Papers in African prehistory. (Je '72)

Gifford, P., ed. France and Britain in Africa. (N '72)

Moorehead, A. White Nile [rev ed]. (Mr '72)

Samkange, S. African saga. (Je '72)

Turner, V., ed. Colonialism in Africa, 1870-1960, v3. (O '72)

Sources

Brownlie, I., ed. Basic documents on African affairs. (Ag '72)

Colonial period

Gann, L. H., ed. Colonialism in Africa, 1870-1960, v2. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Politics

Gann, L. H., ed. Colonialism in Africa, 1870-1960, v2. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Goody, J. Technology, tradition, and the state in Africa. (O '72)

1960-

Africa independent. (N '72)

Gibson, R. African liberation movements. (D '72)

Politics and government

Turner, V., ed. Colonialism in Africa, 1870-1960, v3. (O '72)

Religion

King, N. Q. Christian and Muslim in Africa. (Ap '72)

Social policy

Hachten, W. A. Muffled drums. (Mr '72)

Africa, East

Description and travel*Views

Matthiessen, P. Tree where man was born, the African experience. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

History

Nicholls, C. S. Swahili coast. (N '72)

Juvenile literature

Feelings, M. Moja means one. (Ap '72)

Africa, North*History

Abun-Nasr, J. M. History of the Maghrib. (S '72)

Africa, South*History

Oxford history of South Africa, v2. (O '72)

Walshe, P. Rise of African nationalism in South Africa. (O '72)

Race relations

Adam, H. Modernizing racial domination. (My '72)

Adam, H., ed. South Africa: sociological perspectives. (Ag '72)

Social conditions

Adam, H., ed. South Africa: sociological perspectives. (Ag '72)

Africa, SubSaharan*Description and travel

Kahn, E. J. First decade. (Ag '72)

History*Bibliography

Matthews, N., comp. Guide to manuscripts and documents in the British Isles relating to Africa. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Politics

Kahn, E. J. First decade. (Ag '72)

Africa, West*Politics and government

Cohen, W. B. Rulers of empire: the French colonial service in Africa. (Ag '72)

Africa in literature

Hammond, D. Africa that never was. (Je '72)

Africa independent. (N '72)

Africa that never was. Hammond, D. (Je '72)

African art & leadership. Fraser, D., ed. (O '72)

African congress. Baraka, I. A., ed. (S '72)

African cooking. Van der Post, L. (My '72)

African crafts and craftsmen. Gardi, R. (Ap '72)

African elite. Vincent, J. (1971, 1972 Annual)

African experience. Porter, E. See Matthiessen, P. Tree where man was born. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

African fiction

History and criticism

Larson, C. R. Emergence of African fiction. (O '72)

Palmer, E. Introduction to the African novel. (D '72)

African food production systems. McLoughlin, P. F. M., ed. (Je '72)

African iron age. Shinnie, P. L. (Ap '72)

African liberation movements. Gibson, R. (D '72)

African literature

History and criticism

Finnegan, R. Oral literature in Africa. (Mr '72)

Penguin companion to classical, Oriental & African literature. (D '72)

African National Congress

Walshe, P. Rise of African nationalism in South Africa. (O '72)

African perspectives. (Je '72)

African poetry

Collections

Trask, W. R., ed. Classic Black African poems. (Ag '72)

African policies of Gabriel Hanotaux, 1894-1898. Heggoy, A. A. (S '72)

African presence in Asia. Harris, J. E. (N '72)

African saga. Samkange, S. (Je '72)

After great pain. Cody, J. (1971, 1972 Annual)

After leaving Mr. Mackenzie. Rhys, J. (Ag '72)

After the planners. Goodman, R. (My '72)

Afterimages. Takahashi, S. (O '72)

Aftermath. Owen, H. (Je '72)

Aftermath of war. Tulchin, J. S. (S '72)

Afternoon in the jungle. Maltz, A. (Ap '72)

Against emptiness. Zweig, P. (Mr '72)

Against the falling evil. McMichael, J. (D '72)

Against the odds. Moore, W. (Ap '72)

Against the sea. Eng title of: Adventures on the high seas. Reeman, D. (My '72)

Against the self-images of the age. MacIntyre, A. (My '72)

Agathias, Scholasticus

Cameron, A. Agathias. (Ap '72)

Agathias, Cameron, A. (Ap '72)

Age of flying saucers. Flammonde, P. (Ap '72)

Age of illusion. Laver, J. (S '72)

Age of Lloyd George. Morgan, K. O. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Age of mammals. Kurtén, B. (Je '72)

Age of patronage. Foss, M. (My '72)

Age of rococo. Schwarz, M. (Mr '72)

Aged

Beauvoir, S. de. Coming of age. (Ag '72)

United States

Deck, J. Rancho paradise. (O '72)

Rosenberg, G. S. Worker grows old. (My '72)

Streib, G. F. Retirement in American society. (My '72)

Ageless Chinese [2d ed]. Li, D. J. (My '72)

Aggressiveness (Psychology)

Alland, A. Human imperative. (O '72)

Eibl-Eibesfeldt, I. Love and hate. (My '72)

Agnew, Spiro T.

Albright, J. What makes Spiro run. (Ag '72)

Coyne, J. R. Impudent snobs. (My '72)

Lippman, T. Spiro Agnew's America. (Ag '72)

Witcover, J. White knight. (Je '72)

Agonising choice. St. John-Stevass, N. (Ap '72)

Agra (City)

Politics and government

Rosenthal, D. B. Limited elite. (O '72)

Agrarian policies and problems in Communist and non-Communist countries. (Ag '72)

Agrarian revolt in a Mexican village. Friedrich, P. (Je '72)

Agricultural credit

Catanach, I. J. Rural credit in Western India, 1875-1930. (Je '72)

Agricultural development in India's districts. Brown, D. D. (O '72)

Agricultural extension work

History

Scott, R. V. Reluctant farmer. (Mr '72)

Agricultural laborers

Horn, P. Joseph Arch (1826-1919). (O '72)

Martínez-Alier, J. Labourers and landowners in southern Spain. (S '72)

Agriculture

Economic aspects

Adams, A. E. Men versus systems. (Ag '72)

Agrarian policies and problems in Communist and non-Communist countries. (Ag '72)

Brown, D. D. Agricultural development in India's districts. (O '72)

Browning, D. El Salvador: landscape and society. (Ap '72)

Frankel, F. R. India's green revolution. (My '72)

Jacoby, E. H. Man and land. (D '72)

McLoughlin, P. F. M., ed. African food production systems. (Je '72)

Martínez-Alier, J. Labourers and landowners in southern Spain. (S '72)

Mendras, H. Vanishing peasant. (My '72)

Petrus, J. F. Cultivating revolution. (My '72)

Weitz, R. From peasant to farmer. (Ap '72)

Africa

McLoughlin, P. F. M., ed. African food production systems. (Je '72)

Asia

Agrarian policies and problems in Communist and non-Communist countries. (Ag '72)

Communist countries

Agrarian policies and problems in Communist and non-Communist countries. (Ag '72)

Czechoslovak Republic

Adams, A. E. Men versus systems. (Ag '72)

Europe

History

Murray, J. First European agriculture. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

France

Mendras, H. Vanishing peasant. (My '72)

India

Brown, D. D. Agricultural development in India's districts. (O '72)

Israel

Evenari, M. Negev. (Ap '72)

Italy

Root, W. Food of Italy. (My '72)

Latin America

Petrus, J. F. Cultivating revolution. (My '72)

Poland

Adams, A. E. Men versus systems. (Ag '72)

Russia

Adams, A. E. Men versus systems. (Ag '72)

Volin, L. Century of Russian agriculture. (My '73)

Spain

Martínez-Alier, J. Labourers and landowners in southern Spain. (S '72)

Agriculture, Cooperative

Ostergaard, G. Gentle anarchists. (Ag '72)

Agriculture and state

Agrarian policies and problems in Communist and non-Communist countries. (Ag '72)

Barkin, K. D. Controversy over German industrialization, 1890-1902. (Ag '72)

Beckford, G. L. Persistent poverty. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Brown, D. D. Agricultural development in India's districts. (O '72)

Petrus, J. F. Cultivating revolution. (My '72)

Ahead of time. Harrison, H., ed. (N '72)

Ainu

Hilger, M. I. Together with the Ainu. (Ag '72)

Air

Scarry, R. Richard Scarry's great big air book. (Ap '72)

Pollution

Matthews, W. H. Man's impact on the climate. (Je '72)

Juvenile literature

Bloome, E. Air we breathe! (S '72)

Elliott, S. M. Our dirty air. (Mr '72)

United States

Crenson, M. A. Un-politics of air pollution. (S '72)

Air. Clark, T. (Ap '72)

Air Line Pilots Association

Hopkins, G. E. Airline pilots. (N '72)

Air lines

Economic aspects

O'Connor, W. E. Economic regulation of the world's airlines. (Ag '72)

Hijacking

See Hijacking of airplanes

Air pilots

Titler, D. M. Wings of adventure. (My '72)

See also

Air Line Pilots Association

Air we breathe! Bloome, E. (S '72)

Airline pilots. Hopkins, G. E. (N '72)

Al-Afghānī, Jamāl al-Dīn. See Afghānī, Jamāl al-Dīn

Alamut ambush. Price, A. (O '72)

Alaska

History

Harrison, J. A. Founding of the Russian empire in Asia and America. (O '72)

Alaskan Eskimo life in the 1890's as sketched by native artists. Phebus, G. (N '72)

Albergo Empedocle, and other writings. Forster, E. M. (Mr '72)

Albers, Josef

Spies, W. Josef Albers. (Ap '72)

Albert Einstein, creator and rebel. Hoffmann, B. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Alberto Giacometti drawings. Giacometti, A. (My '72)

Albigenses

Strayer, J. R. Albigensian crusades. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Albigensian crusades. Strayer, J. R. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Album of American history, 6v. (Ag '72)*Alcoholism

- Drinking man. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Grad, F. P. Alcoholism and the law. (Ap '72)
 Martindale, D. Social dimensions of mental illness, alcoholism [sic] and drug dependence. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Steiner, C. Games alcoholics play. (Ap '72)

Bibliography

- Bahr, H. M., ed. Disaffiliated man. (Ag '72)
 Alcoholism and the law. Grad, F. P. (Ap '72)
 Aldous Huxley's quest for values. Birnbaum, M. (Ag '72)
 Aldrin, dieldrin, endrin and telodrin. Jager, K. W. (Ap '72)

Alexander, Edward Porter

- Klein, M. Edward Porter Alexander. (N '72)
 Alexander of Tunis, Harold Rupert Leofric George Alexander, 1st Earl
 Jackson, W. G. F. Alexander of Tunis, as military commander. (D '72)
 Alexander and the wind-up mouse. Lionni, L. (Mr '72)
 Alfred Schutz on phenomenology and social relations. Schutz, A. (S '72)

Algeria*History

- Heggoy, A. A. Insurgency and counterinsurgency in Algeria. (N '72)
 Al Huṣari, Saṭī'. See Huṣari, Abū Khaldūn Saṭī'
 Alienated Christian. Eberhard, K. D. (Ap '72)
 Alienation (Social psychology)
 Ollman, B. Alienation. (My '72)
 Weisskopf, W. A. Alienation and economics. (My '72)
 Alienation. Ollman, B. (My '72)
 Alienation and economics. Weisskopf, W. A. (My '72)
 Alienation and the Soviet economy. Roberts, P. C. (Ap '72)
 Alienation of church wealth in Mexico. Bazant, J. (S '72)
 Alistair MacLean introduces Scotland. Dunnett, A. M., ed. (D '72)
 All flags flying. Keyes, F. P. (Ag '72)
 All is but a beginning. Neihardt, J. G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 All my friends are going to be strangers. McMurtry, L. (Je '72)
 All right, everybody off the planet! Ottum, B. (Je '72)
 All the Catholic people. Novak, M. (My '72)
 All the world's a stage: modern plays for young people. Swortzell, L., ed. (Je '72)
 Allen Tate and his work. Squires, R., ed. (D '72)

Allende Gossens, Salvador

- Debray, R. Chilean revolution. (Ap '72)

Alline, Henry

- Bumsted, J. M. Henry Alline, 1748-1784. (N '72)

Allusions

- Brewer's Dictionary of phrase and fable [Centenary ed.]. (Ap '72)

- Almanac of American politics. Barone, M. (S '72)

Al-Manar. Karmi, H. S. (S '72)

- Almost all-white rabbit cat. DeJong, M. (Ag '72)

- Almost to the presidency. Eisele, A. (O '72)

- Alone and with others. Melbin, M. (My '72)

- Along the fourth dimension. Meerloo, J. A. M. (Ap '72)

Alphabet books

- Delaunay, S. Sonia Delaunay Alphabet. (Ag '72)

Alsace-Lorraine*Politics and government

- Silverman, D. P. Reluctant union. (D '72)
 Although. Holub, M. (N '72)
 Amana grass. Silkin, J. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Amazonia: man and culture in a counterfeit paradise. Meggers, B. J. (O '72)
 Amazonian cosmos. Reichel-Dolmatoff, G. (Ap '72)
 Ambiguity of Henry James. Samuels, C. T. (My '72)
 Ambitions and realities. James, R. R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

America*Discovery and exploration

- Casas, B. de las. History of the Indies. (My '72)
 Cumming, W. P. Discovery of North America. (Je '72)

Morison, S. E. European discovery of America: the Northern voyages, A.D. 500-1600. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)*Morison, S. E. Samuel de Champlain. (S '72)*Pohl, F. J. Viking settlements of North America. (Ag '72)*Quest for America. (Ap '72)*Sauer, C. O. Sixteenth century North America. (My '72)*Wright, L. B., ed. West and by north. (Ag '72)*History*Historiography

- Loewenberg, B. J. American history in American thought. (O '72)

- America and the Asian revolutions. Lifton, R. J., comp. (Ap '72)

- America at 1750. Hofstadter, R. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

- America comes of age. Campbell, A. E. (S '72)

- America in contemporary Soviet literature. Reilly, A. P. (Ap '72)

- America in the fifties and sixties: Julián Marías on the United States. Marías, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- America is hard to find. Berrigan, D. (D '72)

- America, my wilderness. Prokosch, F. (S '72)

- American business & foreign policy, 1920-1933. Wilson, J. H. (My '72)

- American communism in crisis, 1943-1957. Starobin, J. R. (Ag '72)

- American cookery. James Beard's. Beard, J. (O '72)

- American cooking: the Northwest. Brown, D. (My '72)

- American counterpoint. Woodward, C. V. (Ap '72)

- American death. Frank, G. (Je '72)

- American dissertations on foreign education. v. I. Parker, F., ed. (O '72)

- American drama

- Reardon, W. R. Black teacher and the dramatic arts. (Ap '72)

- See also

- Negro drama

Collections

- Patterson, L., comp. Black theater. (My '72)

History and criticism

- Cohn R. Dialogue in American drama. (S '72)

- Von Szeliski, J. Tragedy and fear. (S '72)

- American dreams. American nightmares. Madden, D., ed. (Ag '72)

- American entomologists. Mallis, A. (Je '72)

- American family. Adams, B. N. (N '72)

- American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations

History

- Goulden, J. C. Meany. (D '72)

- American Federation of Teachers

- Braun, R. J. Teachers and power. (S '72)

- American fiction

- Pinsker, S. Schlemiel as metaphor. (Mr '72)

Bibliography

- VanDerhoof, J. Bibliography of novels related to American frontier and colonial history. (S '72)

History and criticism

- Beja, M. Epiphany in the modern novel. (Mr '72)

- Bryant, J. H. Open decision. (Mr '72)

- Cady, L. H. Light of common day. (Ag '72)

- Gindin, J. Harvest of a quiet eye: the novel of compassion. (Ag '72)

- Hoyt, C. A., ed. Minor American novelists. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Lodge, D. Novelist at the crossroads. (Ag '72)

- Miller, W. C. Armed America, its face in fiction. (Ap '72)

- Nelson, G. B. Ten versions of America. (Ag '72)

- Olderman, R. M. Beyond the waste land. (S '72)

- Prager, A. Rascals at large; or, The clue in the old nostalgia. (My '72)

- Stanzel, F. Narrative situations in the novel. (Ap '72)

- Starke, C. J. Black portraiture in American fiction. (Je '72)

- Swigg, R. Lawrence, Hardy, and American literature. (S '72)

- Tuttleton, J. W. Novel of manners in America. (D '72)

- Watkins, F. C. Death of art. (Mr '72)

- Young, P. Three bags full. (Je '72)

- American film institute catalog of motion pictures produced in the United States: v. F2: Feature films 1921-1930. 2v. American Film Institute. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

American heritage history of notable American houses. American heritage. (Mr '72)
 American heritage history of the American people. Weisberger, B. A. (My '72)
 American history in American thought. Loewenberg, B. J. (O '72)
 American idea of industrial democracy, 1865-1965. Derber, M. (My '72)
 American idea of success. Huber, R. M. (My '72)
 American ideology of national science, 1919-1930. Tobey, R. C. (Ag '72)
 American imperialism in the image of Peer Gynt. Johnson, E. A. J. (O '72)
 American Indian almanac. Terrell, J. U. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 American Indian art. Feder, N. (My '72)
 American Indian crisis. Pierre, G. (My '72)
 American Indian portraits. Reynolds, C. R. (Mr '72)
 American Indians and federal aid. Sorkin, A. L. (Ap '72)
 American international law cases, 1783-1968, v 1. Deak, F. (My '72)
American literature

History and criticism

Aldridge, J. W. Devil in the fire. (Ap '72)
 Bluestein, G. Voice of the folk. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Brooks, C. Shaping joy. (O '72)
 Churchill, A. Literary decade. (O '72)
 Cook, B. Beat generation. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Dillard, R. H. W., ed. Sounder few. (S '72)
 Downs, R. B. Famous American books. (S '72)
 Fisch, H. Dual image. (S '72)
 Guttman, A. Jewish writer in America. (Ap '72)
 Hubbell, J. B. Who are the major American writers? (O '72)
 Huber, R. M. American idea of success. (My '72)
 Interpretation of narrative. (Ap '72)
 Kaplan, H. Democratic humanism and American literature. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Kerr, H. Mediums, and spirit-rappers, and roaring radicals. (D '72)
 Krieger, M. Classic vision. (Ag '72)
 Madden, D., ed. American dreams, American nightmares. (Ag '72)
 Morris, W. Toward a new historicism. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Penguin companion to American literature. (Ag '72)
 Rees, R. A., ed. Fifteen American authors before 1900. (S '72)
 Toliver, H. E. Pastoral forms and attitudes. (Ag '72)

California

History and criticism

Powell, L. C. California classics. (Mr '72)
American Loyalists
 Norton, M. B. British-Americans. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 American medical machine. Ribicoff, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 American medicine and the public interest. Stevens, R. (Mr '72)
 American music: from Storyville to Woodstock. Nanry, C. (N '72)
 American music since 1910; v 1 of Twentieth-century composers. (Mr '72)

American newspapers

Bagdikian, B. H. Effete conspiracy and other crimes by the press. (O '72)
 American newsreel, 1911-1967. Fielding, R. (N '72)
 American nonpublic schools. Kraushaar, O. F. (N '72)

American painted furniture, 1660-1880. Fales, D. A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

American poetry

Collections

Beerman, M., ed. Enduring beast. (S '72)
 Gill, J., ed. New American and Canadian poetry. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Gitlin, T., comp. Campfires of the resistance. (S '72)
 Hughes, L., ed. Poetry of the Negro, 1746-1970 (rev ed.). (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

Allen, T., ed. Whispering wind. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Cole, W., ed. Poet's tales. (Ag '72)

History and criticism

Feder, L. Ancient myth in modern poetry. (O '72)
 Fuller, R. Owls and artificers. (Ag '72)

American policy and the division of Germany. Kuklick, B. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 American policy toward Communist China, 1949-1969. Dulles, F. R. (Je '72)
 American popular song. Wilder, A. (Ag '72)
 American population debate. Callahan, D., ed. (Ap '72)
 American religious experience. Sontag, F. (Ag '72)
 American Shakers. Desroche, H. (Ag '72)
 American ships. Laing, A. (My '72)
 American silver. Hood, G. (Ap '72)
 American theatrical arts. Young, W. C. (S '72)
 American way of violence. Pinkney, A. (Ag '72)

Americanisms

Dillard, J. L. Black English. (O '72)
 Americans and Chinese. Hsu, F. L. K. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Americans at home. Peterson, H. L. (D '72)
Americans in Canada
 Emerick, K. F. War resisters Canada. (S '72)
Americans in China
 Tolley, K. Yangtze patrol. (N '72)
Americans in India, 1784-1860. Bhagat, G. (S '72)

Americans in Paris

Longstreet, S. We all went to Paris. (S '72)
 America's ancient treasures. Folsom, F. (Mr '72)
 America's empire. Julien, C. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 America's Jews. Sklare, M. (S '72)
 America's other children. Henderson, G., ed. (Ap '72)
 America's outward thrust. Plesur, M. (Je '72)
 America's response to China. Cohen, W. I. (My '72)
 Amos & Boris. Steig, W. (My '72)

Amsterdam

Cotterell, G. Amsterdam. (S '72)
 Amy Vanderbilt's etiquette. Vanderbilt, A. (Ag '72)

Anabaptism. Clasen, C.-P. (D '72)

Anabaptists

History

Clasen, C.-P. Anabaptism. (D '72)
Analysis (Philosophy)
 Fain, H. Between philosophy and history. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Harris, Z. S. Papers in structural and transformational linguistics. (Mr '72)
 Lyas, C., ed. Philosophy and linguistics. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Nott, K. Philosophy and human nature. (O '72)

Analysis of Malay magic. Endicott, K. M. (Je '72)

Analysis of vocabulary control in Library of Congress classification and subject headings. Immroth, J. P. (D '72)

Anarchism and anarchists

Bakunin, M. A. Bakunin on anarchy. (My '72)
 Bookchin, M. Post-society anarchism. (My '72)
 Goldman, E. Red Emma speaks. (N '72)
 Green, G. New radicalism: anarchist or Marxist? (My '72)
 Mauer, C. B. Call to revolution. (O '72)
 Tuccille, J. It usually begins with Ayn Rand. (Ap '72)

Anatolia

History

Vryonis, S. Decline of medieval Hellenism in Asia Minor and the process of Islamization from the eleventh through the fifteenth century. (Ag '72)

Anatomy

Yokochi, C. Photographic anatomy of the human body. (My '72)

Anatomy, Artistic

Schlemmer, O. Man. (Mr '72)
 Wentinck, C. Human figure in art from prehistoric times to the present day. (Je '72)
 Anatomy of a merger. Jones, R. (My '72)
 Anatomy of Hawaii. Simpich, F. (S '72)
 Anatomy of love. Jackson, W. T. H. (Ag '72)
 Anatomy of mental illness: the scientific basis of primal therapy. Janov, A. (D '72)
 Anatomy of the Confederate Congress. Alexander, T. B. (D '72)
 Anchor Bible, v29A. See Bible. New Testament. John. Gospel according to John (xiii-xxi). (Mr '72)
 Ancient calendar. Duran, F. D. (In his Book of the gods and rites). (N '72)
 Ancient history atlas. Grant, M. (Ag '72)
 Ancient myth in modern poetry. Feder, L. (O '72)

Ancient peoples and places series:

- Barfield, L. Northern Italy before Rome. (D '72)
 Clark, J. D. Prehistory of Africa. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Hood, S. Minoans: the story of bronze age Crete. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Ancient Romans. Starr, C. G. (Ag '72)
 Ancient times; series 1 of World history of the Jewish people, v2: Patriarchs. See Mazar, B., ed. (Ag '72)
 Ancient world. Haywood, R. M. (Ag '72)
 Ancient world: Orient and Mediterranean, 2000 B.C.-A.D. 1054; v 1 of A history of western education. Bowen, J. (N '72)
 And every day you take another bite. Merchant, L. (Ap '72)
 And it came to pass. Slaughter, J. (Mr '72)
 And Miss Carter wore pink. Bradley, H. (Ag '72)
 And music at the close: Stravinsky's last years. Libman, L. (D '72)
 And the beat goes on. Boeckman, C. (S '72)
 Andersen, Hans Christian
 Marker, F. J. Hans Christian Andersen and the romantic theatre. (D '72)
 André Gide reader. Gide, A. (Ag '72)
 Anecdotes
 Kronenberger, L., comp. Animal, vegetable, mineral. (Ag '72)
 Anglo-American political relations, 1675-1775. Olson, A. G. ed. (Mr '72)
 Anglo-Dutch War, 1664-1667
 Rogers, P. G. Dutch in the Medway. (Mr '72)

Anglo-Saxon literature*History and criticism

- Girvan, R. Beowulf and the seventh century [rev ed.]. (Mr '72)
 Anglo-Saxon poetry
 Crossley-Holland, K., comp. Storm and other Old English riddles. (Je '72)
 Anglo-Spanish rivalry in North America. Wright, J. L. (N '72)
 Animal communication

Juvenile literature

- Cohen, D. Talking with animals. (S '72)
 Spier, P. Gobble, growl, grunt. (My '72)
 Animal, vegetable, mineral. Kronenberger, L., comp. (Ag '72)
 Animal weapons. Street, P. (Mr '72)

Animals

- Schmidt-Nielsen, K. How animals work. (D '72)

Habitations

- Hancocks, D. Animals and architecture. (Mr '72)

Habits and behavior

- Hancock, L. There's a seal in my sleeping bag. (O '72)
 International symposium on the use of space by animals and men. Dallas, 1968. (N '72)
 Kummer, H. Primate societies. (Ag '72)
 Lawick-Goodall, J. van. In the shadow of man. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Smith, F. V. Purpose in animal behaviour. (O '72)
 Street, P. Animal weapons. (Mr '72)
 Wickler, W. Sexual code. (S '72)

Juvenile literature

- Harris, L. Twilight of the animal kingdom. (D '72)

Pictorial works*Juvenile literature

- Harris, L. Twilight of the animal kingdom. (D '72)

Pictures, illustrations, etc.*Juvenile literature

- Frith, M. Some of us walk... some fly... some swim. (Mr '72)
 Spier, P. Gobble, growl, grunt. (My '72)

Poetry

- Beerman, M., ed. Enduring beast. (S '72)

Juvenile literature

- Itse, E. M., comp. Hey, bug! and other poems about little things. (S '72)

Stories

- Tudor, T. Corgiville fair. (Mr '72)

Treatment

- Godlovitch, S. Animals, men and morals. (My '72)

Africa

- Epstein, H. Origin of the domestic animals of Africa, 2v [rev ed.]. (S '72)

Australia*Juvenile literature

- Crowcroft, P. Australian marsupials. (S '72)

British Columbia

- Hancock, L. There's a seal in my sleeping bag. (O '72)

North America

- Orr, R. T. Mammals of North America. (Mr '72)
 Animals and architecture. Hancocks, D. (Mr '72)
 Animals in art
 Klingender, F. Animals in art and thought. (Mr '72)

Juvenile literature

- Rieger, S. Animals in wood. (Je '72)
 Animals in art and thought. Klingender, F. (Mr '72)

Animals in literature

- Klingender, F. Animals in art and thought. (Mr '72)
 Animals in the service of man. Hyams, E. (N '72)
 Animals in wood. Rieger, S. (Je '72)
 Animals, men and morals. Godlovitch, S., ed. (My '72)
 Animals of the Arctic. Stonehouse, B. (My '72)
 Anna, Almedingen, E. M. (S '72)
 Anna apparent. Bawden, N. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Annals of America, 21v. (S '72)
 Anne Bradstreet, "the tenth muse." White, E. W. (Je '72)
 Annotated bibliography of selected Chinese reference works [3d ed.]. Teng, S.-Y., comp. (O '72)

Annals (Plants)

- Crockett, J. U. Annuals. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Annuals. Crockett, J. U. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Another world. Hanley, J. (O '72)
 Anschluss. Wagner, D. (Je '72)

Antarctic regions

- Neider, C. ed., Antarctica. (Ag '72)
 Antarctica. Neider, C., ed. (Ag '72)
 Antecedents of man [3d ed.]. Clark, W. E. L. (N '72)
 Anthology of Danish literature. Jansen, F. J. B. (O '72)
 Anthology of modern Japanese poetry. Shiffert, E. M., comp. (N '72)
 Anthology of twentieth-century Brazilian poetry. Bishop, E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Anthony Trollope and his contemporaries. Skilton, D. (D '72)

Anthropogeography

- Meggors, B. J. Amazonia: man and culture in a counterfeit paradise. (O '72)

Anthropology

- Kay, P., ed. Explorations in mathematical anthropology. (D '72)
 Social anthropology and language. (My '72)
 Anti-appeasers. Thompson, N. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Anti-Communist movements

- Karsoñ, N. In the name of tomorrow. (Ap '72)
 Levin, M. B. Political hysteria in America. (Je '72)

Anti-Nazi movement

- Bracher, K. D. German dictatorship. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Antioch*History

- Liebeschuetz, J. H. G. Antioch. (S '72)
 Antioch. Liebeschuetz, J. H. G. (S '72)
 Anti-poor law movement, 1834-44. Edsall, N. C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Antique or fake? Hayward, C. H. (Je '72)
 Antique toys and their background. White, G. (Mr '72)

Antiques

- Hayward, C. H. Antique or fake? (Je '72)

Models

- McClinton, K. M. Antiques in miniature. (S '72)
 Antiques in miniature. McClinton, K. M. (S '72)

Antisemitism. See Jewish question

- Antoine Gilly's feast of France. Gilly, A. (Mr '72)

Antwerp*History

- Murray, J. J. Antwerp in the age of Plantin and Brueghel. (D '72)

Antwerp in the age of Plantin and Brueghel.
Murray, J. J. (D '72)
Anxiety. See Fear; Worry
Any boy can. Moore, A. (Mr '72)
Any minute I can split. Rossner, J. (O '72)
Any person, any study. Ashby, E. (Ap '72)
Anybody's bike book. Cuthbertson, T. (Ag '72)
Apache Indians
Adams, A. B. Geronimo. (My '72)
Cochise, C. "N." First hundred years of Niño Cochise. (Ap '72)
Goodwin, G. Western Apache raiding and warfare. (Ag '72)
Apathy and participation. Di Palma, G. (S '72)
Apes and angels. Curtis, L. P. (Ag '72)
Aphasia
Knox, D. Portrait of aphasia. (Ap '72)
Apollinaire on art: essays and reviews, 1902-
1918. Apollinaire, G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Apollo project
Lay, B. Earthbound astronauts. (My '72)
Apollo Theatre. Harlem, New York (City)
Schiffman, J. Uptown. (Ap '72)
Apologetics
Bauer, W. Orthodoxy and heresy in earliest
Christianity. (My '72)
Apostle bas-relief at Saint-Denis. Crosby, S. M.
(O '72)
Apostolic history and the gospel. Gasque, W.
W., ed. (Mr '72)
Appalachia in the sixties. Walls, D. S., ed.
(Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Appalachian region
Economic conditions
Walls, D. S., ed. Appalachia in the sixties.
(Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Social conditions
Peterson, B. Coaltown revisited. (Ag '72)
Walls, D. S., ed. Appalachia in the sixties.
(Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Social life and customs
Wigginton, E., ed. Foxfire book. (Ag '72)
Appearances and realities. Ichheiser, G. (Ap '72)
Appointment with yesterday. Fremlin, C. (D
'72)
Appreciating India's music. White, E. E. (Mr
'72)
Approach to kings. Anderson, P. (My '72)
Arab attitudes to Israel. Harkabi, Y. (S '72)
Arab civilization to A.D. 1500. Dunlop, D. M.
(Ag '72)
Arab countries
Description and travel
Geyer, G. A. New 100 years war. (S '72)
Politics
Fisher, E. M. Storm over the Arab world.
(N '72)
Vatikiotis, P. J. Conflict in the Middle East. (D '72)
Arab-Jewish relations. See Jewish-Arab relations
Arabia, Southern
Antiquities
Doe, B. Southern Arabia. (S '72)
Arabian poetry
Pound, O. S., ed. Arabic & Persian poems in English. (Je '72)
Arabic and Persian poems. Eng title of: Arabic & Persian poems in English. Pound, O. S., ed. (Je '72)
Arabic & Persian poems in English. Pound, O.
S., ed. (Je '72)
Arabic language
Dictionaries
English
Karmi, H. S. Al-Manar. (S '72)
Arabic literature
Bio-bibliography
Fihrist of al-Nadīm, 2v. (Mr '72)
Arabs
History
Juvenile literature
Suskind, R. Sword of the prophet. (Je '72)
Aragon
History
Shneidman, J. L. Rise of the Aragonese-
Catalan empire, 1200-1350. 2v. (My '72)

Arbitration, International
Boyd, J. M. United Nations peace-keeping operations: a military and political appraisal. (Mr '72)
Jessup, P. C. Price of international justice.
(O '72)
Arch, Joseph
Horn, P. Joseph Arch (1826-1919). (O '72)
Archaic Greek art (620-480 B.C.). Charbonneaux, J. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
Archaic Roman religion, 2v. Dumézil, G. (Ad
'72)
Archaeologist of morning. Olson, C. (Je '72)
Archaeologists
Eydoux, H.-P. In search of lost worlds. (Ag
'72)
Wilson, J. A. Thousands of years. (D '72)
Archeology
Berger, R., ed. Scientific methods in medieval archaeology. (My '72)
Eydoux, H.-P. In search of lost worlds. (Ag
'72)
Watson, P. J. Explanation in archeology.
(Ag '72)
Wilkes, B. St J. Nautical archaeology. (Je '72)
Juvenile literature
Millard, A. Egypt. (My '72)
Methodology
Michael, H. N., ed. Dating techniques for the archaeologist. (N '72)
Watson, P. J. Explanation in archeology.
(Ag '72)
Research
Science and archaeology. (D '72)
Archaeology of knowledge. Foucault, M. (N
'72)
Architects
Shvidkovski, O. A. Building in the USSR,
1917-1932. (Ap '72)
See also
Aalto, A.
Brunelleschi, F.
Butterfield, W.
Otto, F.
Pugin, A.
Rudolph, P.
Saarinen, E.
Schindler, R.
Scott, M. H. Baillie
Sinan
Sullivan, L. H.
Wright, F. L.
Architects of the self. Bedient, C. (N '72)
Architectura navalis mercatoria. Chapman,
F. H. af. (D '72)
Architecture
Fein, A. Frederick Law Olmsted and the American environmental tradition. (N '72)
Designs and plans
Roland, C. Frei Otto: tension structures.
(Mr '72)
Wright, F. L. Frank Lloyd Wright, v 1. (My '72)
History
Benevolo, L. History of modern architecture, 2v. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Juvenile literature
Bardi, P. M. Architecture. (D '72)
Webster, D. Towers. (Ap '72)
Architecture, African
Oliver, P., ed. Shelter in Africa. (D '72)
Architecture, American
American heritage. American heritage history of notable American houses. (Mr '72)
Banham, R. Los Angeles: the architecture of four ecologies. (Mr '72)
Gebhard, D. Schindler. (S '72)
Greiff, C. M., ed. Lost America. (Mr '72)
Saarinen, E. Eero Saarinen. (Je '72)
Architecture, Baroque
Kubler, G. Portuguese plain architecture. (N
'72)
Architecture, Domestic
American heritage. American heritage history of notable American houses. (Mr '72)
Barley, M. W. House and home. (My '72)
Girouard, M. Victorian country house. (Ja
'73) (1972 Annual)
Architecture, English
Barley, M. W. House and home. (My '72)
Betjeman, J. Ghastly good taste. (D '72)
Eastlake, C. L. History of the Gothic revival.
(Mr '72)
Girouard, M. Victorian country house. (Ja
'73) (1972 Annual)
Priestley, H. English home. (O '72)
Thompson, P. William Butterfield. (Ag '72)

Architecture, English—Continued

History

Braun, H. English abbeys. (Mr '72)

Architecture, Gothic

Eastlake, C. L. History of the Gothic revival.

(Mr '72)

Harvey, J. Master builders. (O '72)

Architecture, Greek

Taylor, W. Greek architecture. (Mr '72)

Travlos, J. Pictorial dictionary of ancient Athens. (Mr '72)

Architecture, Irish

Guinness, D. Irish houses and castles. (Mr '72)

Architecture, Medieval

Braun, H. English abbeys. (Mr '72)

Guinness, D. Irish houses and castles. (Mr '72)

Harvey, J. Mediaeval architect. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Architecture, Modern

20th century

Benevolo, L. History of modern architecture, 2v. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Ideal communist city. (Je '72)

Kulski, J. E. Architecture in a revolutionary era. (O '72)

Roland, C. Frei Otto: tension structures. (Mr '72)

Architecture, Ottoman. See Architecture, Turkish

Architecture, Portuguese

Kubler, G. Portuguese plain architecture. (N '72)

Architecture, Renaissance

Kubler, G. Portuguese plain architecture. (N '72)

Architecture, Russian

History

Shvidkovsky, O. A. Building in the USSR, 1917-1932. (Ap '72)

Architecture, Turkish

Aslanapa, O. Turkish art and architecture. (Je '72)

Stratton, A. Sinan. (My '72)

Architecture as a profession

Harvey, J. Mediaeval architect. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Architecture in a revolutionary era. Kulski, J. E. (O '72)

Archives

Posner, E. Archives in the ancient world. (D '72)

Great Britain

Matthews, N., comp. Guide to manuscripts and documents in the British Isles relating to Africa. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Archives in the ancient world. Posner, E. (D '72)

Arden, Elizabeth

Lewis, A. A. Miss Elizabeth Arden. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Ardennes, Battle of the, 1944-1945

Strawson, J. Battle for the Ardennes. (D '72)

Aretino's dialogues. Aretino, P. (Je '72)

Argentine Republic

Armed Forces

Goldwert, M. Democracy, militarism, and nationalism in Argentina, 1930-1966. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Politics and government

Goldwert, M. Democracy, militarism, and nationalism in Argentina, 1930-1966. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Argos, Greece

History

Tomlinson, R. A. Argos and the Argolid. (N '72)

Argos and the Argolid. Tomlinson, R. A. (N '72)

Argument of images. Spacks, P. M. (S '72)

Arguments for the existence of God. Hick, J. (My '72)

Arigato, Condon, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Arikara Indians

Holder, P. Hoe and the horse on the Plains. (Ag '72)

Aristophanes

Dover, K. J. Aristophanic comedy. (D '72)

Aristophanic comedy. Dover, K. J. (D '72)

Aristotle

Howell, W. S. Eighteenth-century British logic and rhetoric. (N '72)

Armed America, its face in fiction. Miller, W. C. (Ap '72)

Armed insurrection. Neuberg, A. (Mr '72)

Armed love. Katz, E. (My '72)

Armed services and society. (Je '72)

Armenia

History

Burney, C. Peoples of the hills. (O '72)

Hovannisian, R. G. Republic of Armenia, v 1. (My '72)

Armenia, Boyajian, D. H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Armenian cookbook. Hogrogian, R. (My '72)

Armenian massacres, 1915-1923

Boyajian, D. H. Armenia. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Arms and armor

History

Shepperd, G. A. History of war and weapons, 1660 to 1918. (D '72)

Arms and armour, 1660 to 1918. Eng title of: A history of war and weapons, 1660 to 1918. Shepperd, G. A. (D '72)

Arms, yen & power. Emmerson, J. K. (Ag '72)

Armstrong, Louis

Armstrong, L. Louis Armstrong—a self portrait. (Ag '72)

Jones, M. Louis: the Louis Armstrong story, 1900-1971. (Ap '72)

Army for empire. Cosmas, G. A. (Ag '72)

Army-McCarthy hearings, April-June 1954. Cook, F. J. (S '72)

Arnheiter, Marcus Aurelius

Sheehan, N. Arnheiter affair. (Ap '72)

Arnheiter affair. Sheehan, N. (Ap '72)

Arnold, Matthew

Bush, D. Matthew Arnold. (Ap '72)

Around the world in 80 dishes. Van der Linde, P. (Ag '72)

Arp on Arp: poems, essays, memories. Arp, J. (D '72)

Arriving where we started. Solomon, B. P. (Je '72)

Art

Wentinck, C. Human figure in art from prehistoric times to the present day. (Je '72)

See also

Collectors and collecting

Censorship

Clapp, J. Art censorship. (N '72)

History

Benesch, O. Collected writings, v2. (S '72)

Philosophy

Dessoir, M. Aesthetics and theory of art. (Mr '72)

Franciscono, M. Walter Gropius and the creation of Bauhaus in Weimar: the ideals and artistic theories of its founding years. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Gentile, G. Philosophy of art. (N '72)

Rosenberg, H. De-definition of art. (Ag '72)

Psychology

Deinhard, H. Meaning and expression. (Ap '72)

Art, Abstract

Ballo, G. Lucio Fontana. (Mr '72)

Art, African

Cornet, J. Art of Africa. (Mr '72)

Fraser, D., ed. African art & leadership. (O '72)

Art, American

Calas, N. Icons and images of the sixties. (N '72)

Myron, R. Modern art in America. (Je '72)

Rossi, P. A. Art of the Old West. (Mr '72)

Juvenile literature

Glubok, S. Art of the new American nation. (O '72)

Art, Ancient

Srejovic, D. Europe's first monumental sculpture: new discoveries at Lepenski Vir. (D '72)

Art, Baroque

Held, J. S. 17th and 18th century art. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Puyvelde, L. van. Flemish painting, the age of Rubens and Van Dyck. (Ag '72)

Sewter, A. C. Baroque and rococo. (S '72)

Art, Buddhist

Wray, E. Ten lives of the Buddha. (D '72)

Art, Byzantine

Beckwith, J. Early Christian and Byzantine art. (Ap '72)

Weitzmann, K. Studies in classical and Byzantine manuscript illumination. (Ap '72)

- Art, Chinese
Munsterberg, H. Arts of China. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Ts'ao, C. Chinese connoisseurship: the Ko Ku Yao Lun. (My '72)
- Art, Christian. See Christian art and symbolism
- Art, Commercial. See Commercial art
- Art, Egyptian
Wenzel, M. House decoration in Nubia. (S '72)
- Art, Eskimo. See Eskimos—Art
- Art, Etruscan
Matt, L. von. Art of the Etruscans. (O '72)
- Art, French
Loevgren, S. Genesis of modernism [rev ed]. (Ap '72)
- Art, German
Roethel, H. K. Blue Rider. (O '72)
History
Lindemann, G. History of German art. (Mr '72)
- Art, Greek
Pollitt, J. J. Art and experience in classical Greece. (S '72)
Travlos, J. Pictorial dictionary of ancient Athens. (Mr '72)
History
Charbonneau, J. Archaic Greek art (620-480 B.C.) (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Art, Indic
Lannoy, R. Speaking tree. (Mr '72)
History
Bussagli, M. 5000 years of the art of India. (O '72)
- Art, Islamic
Aslanapa, O. Turkish art and architecture. (Je '72)
- Art, Italian
Chambers, D. S., comp. Patrons and artists in the Italian Renaissance. (Ap '72)
Smart, A. Renaissance and mannerism in Italy. (Je '72)
- Art, Japanese
Southern barbarians. (Mr '72)
History
Kato, S. Form, style, tradition. (D '72)
- Art, Jewish
Kanof, A. Jewish ceremonial art and religious observance. (My '72)
- Art, Medieval
Lejeune, R. Legend of Roland in the middle ages, 2v. (Ap '72)
- Art, Modern
Richardson, J. A. Modern art and scientific thought. (O '72)
Juvenile literature
Willard, C. Famous modern artists. (S '72)
20th century
Art since mid-century, 2v. (N '72)
Calas, N. Icons and images of the sixties. (N '72)
De Chirico, G. Memoirs of Giorgio de Chirico. (N '72)
Myron, R. Modern art in America. (Je '72)
Roethel, H. K. Blue Rider. (O '72)
Rosenberg, H. De-definition of art. (Ag '72)
Wees, W. C. Vorticism and the English avant-garde. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Art, Oceanian
Force, R. W. Fuller collection of Pacific artifacts. (O '72)
Schmitz, C. A. Oceanic art. (My '72)
- Art, Primitive
Laude, J. Arts of Black Africa. (N '72)
Marshack, A. Roots of civilization. (S '72)
- Art, Renaissance
Chambers, D. S., comp. Patrons and artists in the Italian Renaissance. (Ap '72)
Smart, A. Renaissance and mannerism in Italy. (Je '72)
- Art, Rococo
Sewter, A. C. Baroque and rococo. (S '72)
- Art, Roman
Bianchi Bandinelli, R. Rome: the late empire. (Mr '72)
- Art, Russian
Soloukhin, V. Searching for icons in Russia. (My '72)
- Art, Turkish
Aslanapa, O. Turkish art and architecture. (Je '72)
- Art and experience in classical Greece. Pollitt, J. J. (S '72)
- Art and history of personal combat. Wise, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Art and industry of sandcastles. Adkins, J. (Je '72)
- Art and literature
Lejeune, R. Legend of Roland in the middle ages, 2v. (Ap '72)
Watts, E. S. Ernest Hemingway and the arts. (S '72)
- Art and practice of diplomacy: a selected and annotated guide. Harmon, R. B. (Ag '72)
- Art and science
Franke, H. W. Computer graphics—computer art. (Ag '72)
Richardson, J. A. Modern art and scientific thought. (O '72)
- Art and society
Albrecht, M. C., ed. Sociology of art and literature. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Barrett, W. Time of need. (O '72)
Deinhard, H. Meaning and expression. (Ap '72)
Foss, M. Age of patronage. (My '72)
Kato, S. Form, style, tradition. (D '72)
Mayor, A. H. Prints & people. (S '72)
- Art and technique of soaring. Wolters, R. A. (My '72)
- Art as therapy with children. Kramer, E. (Ag '72)
- Art censorship. Clapp, J. (N '72)
- Art criticism
Albrecht, M. C., ed. Sociology of art and literature. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Apollinaire, G. Apollinaire on art: essays and reviews, 1902-1918. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Brookner, A. Genius of the future. (Je '72)
Deinhard, H. Meaning and expression. (Ap '72)
Kuh, K. Open eye. (Ap '72)
Sykes, G. Perennial avantgarde. (Ap '72)
- Art in advertising. See Commercial art
- Art in movement: new directions in animation. Halas, J. (Ap '72)
- Art industries and trade
Battersby, M. Decorative Thirties. (Ag '72)
- Art institute of Chicago. Chicago, Art Institute. (Ag '72)
- Art market in the 1960s; v3 of The economics of taste. Reitlinger, G. (O '72)
- Art nouveau
Julian, P. Dreamers of decadence. (Mr '72)
- Art objects
Force, R. W. Fuller collection of Pacific artifacts. (O '72)
Latham, J. Victoriana. (Ap '72)
Reitlinger, G. Economics of taste, v3. (O '72)
- Art of Africa. Cornet, J. (Mr '72)
- Art of Albrecht Dürer. Wölfflin, H. (Mr '72)
- Art of investing. Lohman, P. H. (O '72)
- Art of jewelry. Hughes, G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Art of the Etruscans. Matt, L. von. (O '72)
- Art of the new American nation. Glubok, S. (O '72)
- Art of the Old West. Rossi, P. A. (Mr '72)
- Art of West African cooking. Ayensu, D. A. (S '72)
- Art patronage
Chambers, D. S., comp. Patrons and artists in the Italian Renaissance. (Ap '72)
- Art since mid-century, 2v. (N '72)
- Art therapy
Kramer, E. Art as therapy with children. (Ag '72)
- Arthur, King
Alcock, L. Arthur's Britain. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Ashe, G. Camelot and the vision of Albion. (My '72)
Fiction
Juvenile literature
Heatt, C. Sword and the grail. (O '72)
Juvenile literature
Fraser, A. King Arthur and the knights of the Round Table. (N '72)
- Arthur, Sir George, Bart.
Forsyth, W. D. Governor Arthur's convict system. (My '72)
- Arthur's Britain. Alcock, L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Artificial organs
Thorwald, J. Patients. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Artillery
Marsden, E. W. Greek and Roman artillery. (S '72)

ArtistsSee also Painters; also*

Albers, J.
 Bacon, F.
 Bella, S. della
 Blake, W.
 Brueghel, P., the elder
 Canal, A. known as Canaletto
 Carracci, A.
 Catlin, G.
 Chagall, M.
 Christo, J.
 Clouet, J.
 Dali, S.
 Davis, S.
 Dehn, A. A.
 Delacroix, E.
 Duchamp, M.
 Dürer, A.
 Eakins, T.
 Feelings, T.
 Filmus, T.
 Fontana, L.
 Gainsborough, T.
 Giacometti, A.
 Giotto di Bondone
 Goya y Lucientes, F. J. de
 Grosz, G.
 Hogarth, W.
 Hopper, E.
 Inness, G.
 Jawlensky, A. von
 Kantor, A.
 Katz, A.
 Lane, F. H.
 Leonardo da Vinci
 Lindner, R.
 Manessier, A.
 Manet, E.
 Memling, H.
 Michelangelo Buonarroti
 Miró, J.
 Munch, E.
 Oldenburg, C.
 Owen, H.
 Pacher, M.
 Picasso, P.
 Piranesi, G. B.
 Pollock, J.
 Richter, H.
 Rockwell, N.
 Rodin, A.
 Russell, C. M.
 Sengal
 Sloan, J.
 Stella, J.
 Tiepolo, G. B.
 Tiepolo, G. D.
 Tiepolo, L. B.
 Vuillard, E.
 Williams, W.
 Wyeth, N. C.
 Zuccaro, T.

Artists, American

Bearden, R. Six Black masters of American art. (O '72)
 Gussow, A. Sense of place. (S '72)

Dictionaries

Cummings, P. Dictionary of contemporary American artists [2d ed]. (S '72)

Artists, Flemish

Puyvelde, L. van. Flemish painting from the Van Eycks to Metsys. (Ag '72)
 Puyvelde, L. van. Flemish painting, the age of Rubens and Van Dyck. (Ag '72)

Artists, Negro. See Negro artists*The arts

Butcher, M. J. Negro in American culture [2d ed]. (D '72)
 Foss, M. Age of patronage. (My '72)
 Jullian, P. Dreamers of decadence. (Mr '72)

The arts, French

Goncourt, E. L. A. H. de. Paris and the arts, 1851-1896. (N '72)

Arts and crafts

Gardi, R. African crafts and craftsmen. (Ap '72)

Wigginton, E., ed. Foxfire book. (Ag '72)

The arts and society

Grafia, C. Fact and symbol. (S '72)
 Arts of Black Africa. Laude, J. (N '72)
 Arts of China. Munsterberg, H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

As ever, Scott Fitz—. Fitzgerald, F. S. (O '72)

As I crossed a bridge of dreams. (Je '72)

Asceticism

MacDermot, V. Cult of the seer in the ancient Middle East. (S '72)

Ashes of victory. Howe, Q. (O '72)

Ashmolean Museum

Moorey, P. R. S. Catalogue of the ancient Persian bronzes in the Ashmolean Museum. (O '72)

Asia

Myrdal, J. Gates to Asia. (My '72)

Bibliography

Nunn, G. R. Asia. (O '72)

Foreign relations

Sen Gupta, B. Fulcrum of Asia. (Je '72)

United States

Peace with China? (Ap '72)

Politics

Barnds, W. J. India, Pakistan, and the great powers. (O '72)

Development administration in Asia. (My '72)

Asia. Nunn, G. R. (O '72)

Asia, South

Economic conditions

Myrdal, G. Asian drama. (O '72)

Asia, Southeastern

Economic conditions

Myrdal, G. Asian drama. (O '72)

History

Tate, D. J. M. Making of modern South-East Asia, v 1. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Politics

McCoy, A. W. Politics of heroin in South-east Asia. (D '72)

Asian drama. Myrdal, G. (O '72)

Ask the right question. Lewin, M. Z. (S '72)

Aspects of Alice. Phillips, R., ed. (Ap '72)

Aspects of religion in the Soviet Union, 1917-1967. (Ap '72)

Aspects of the blues tradition. Oliver, P. (D '72)

Aspects of the Russian novel. Boyd, A. F. (D '72)

Aspen, Colorado

Clifford, P. Aspen: dreams & dilemmas. (Mr '72)

Aspen: dreams & dilemmas. Clifford, P. (Mr '72)

Assassination. See Political crimes and offenses

Assassination in Vienna. Maass, W. B. (My '72)

Assassins. Kazan, B. (My '72)

Assault on authority. Meissner, W. W. (Ap '72)

Assays of bias. Freeman, A. (My '72)

Assisi problem and the art of Giotto. Smart, A. (O '72)

Association of Western Pulp and Paper Workers

Graham, H. E. Paper rebellion. (My '72)

Associations

Grusky, O., ed. Sociology of organizations. (S '72)

Ross, J. C. Black belonging. (Je '72)

Astonishing stereoscope. Langton, J. (Mr '72)

Astor, Mary

Astor, M. Life on film. (Ap '72)

Astrology*History

Lindsay, J. Origins of astrology. (Mr '72)

Astronautics*Dictionaries

Turnill, R. Language of space. (Ap '72)

Laws and regulations

See Space law

Russia

Riabchikov, E. Russians in space. (Mr '72)

United States

Lay, B. Earthbound astronauts. (My '72)

Astronauts*Clothing

Mallan, L. Sulting up for space. (Mr '72)

Astronomers

Whitney, C. A. Discovery of our galaxy. (Ap '72)

Astronomical observatories

See also

Harvard University. Observatory

Astronomy

Brown, P. L. What star is that? (S '72)

Glasby, J. S. Boundaries of the universe. (N '72)

Richardson, R. S. Stars & serendipity. (Mr '72)

Selama, D. W. Modern cosmology. (Ag '72)

Wright, T. Original theory or new hypothesis of the universe, 1750. (My '72)

Encyclopedias

Satterthwaite, G. E. Encyclopedia of astronomy. (Je '72)

History

Whitney, C. A. Discovery of our galaxy. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

Nicolson, I. Astronomy. (D '72)

Pictorial works

Rohr, H. Beauty of the universe. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Astronomy. Nicolson, I. (D '72)

Astrophysics

Ronan, C. A. Invisible astronomy. (O '72)

Aswan! Heim, M. (N '72)

Asylums. See Mentally ill—Care and treatment

Atheism

Bloch, E. Atheism in Christianity. (D '72)

Masterson, P. Atheism and alienation. (Ap '72)

Thrower, J. Short history of Western atheism. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Atheism and alienation. Masterson, P. (Ap '72)

Atheism in Christianity. Bloch, E. (D '72)

Athenian coinage 480-449 B.C. Starr, C. G. (Je '72)

Athenian propertied families, 600-300 B.C. Davies, J. K. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Athens

Description

Traylos, J. Pictorial dictionary of ancient Athens. (Mr '72)

History

Davies, J. K. Athenian propertied families, 600-300 B.C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Harrison, A. R. W. Law of Athens, v2. (S '72)

Politics and government

Connor, W. R. New politicians of fifth-century Athens. (Ap '72)

Atjeh, Indonesia

Anderson, J. Acheen and the ports on the north and east coasts of Sumatra. (O '72)

Atlantic brief lives. (O '72)

Atlantic Ocean

Fairfax, J. Britannia: rowing alone across the Atlantic. (S '72)

Atlas of Israel [2d ed.]. Israel. Department of surveys. (Ag '72)

Atlas of the biblical world. Baly, D. (My '72)

Atlases

Cram modern world atlas [1971 ed.]. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Hammond incorporated. Globemaster world atlas [new perspective ed.]. (Ag '72)

Hammond incorporated. Hammond ambassador world atlas [new census ed.]. (Ag '72)

Hammond incorporated. Hammond citation world atlas. (Ag '72)

Hammond incorporated. Hammond international world atlas. (Ag '72)

Hammond incorporated. Hammond medallion world atlas. (Mr '72)

Hammond incorporated. Hammond world atlas, 2v [Halmark ed.]. (Ag '72)

Kopal, Z. New photographic atlas of the moon. (Mr '72)

Oxford economic atlas of the world [4th ed.]. (O '72)

Rand McNally and company. Rand McNally cosmopolitan world atlas [enl planet earth ed.]. (My '72)

Bibliography

Alexander, G. L. Guide to atlases: world, regional, national, thematic. (S '72)

Atlases, Historical

Grant, M. Ancient history atlas. (Ag '72)

Baly, D. Atlas of the Biblical world. (My '72)

Atmosphere

Gauquelin, M. How atmospheric conditions affect your health. (Ap '72)

Atomic energy

Lewis, R. S. Nuclear-power rebellion. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Seaborg, G. T. Man and atom. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

Adler, I. Atomic energy. (My '72)

Stepp, A. Story of radioactivity. (Je '72)

Atomic energy. Adler, I. (My '72)

Atomic Energy Commission. See United States. Atomic Energy Commission

Atomic power plants

Lewis, R. S. Nuclear-power rebellion. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Nelkin, D. Nuclear power and its critics. (Mr '72)

Atomic theory

Frisch, O. R. Nature of matter. (O '72)

Atomic warfare

Caidin, M. When war comes. (Je '72)

Kohl, W. L. French nuclear diplomacy. (N '72)

Atomic weapons

Rapoport, R. Great American bomb machine. (Ap '72)

Atoms

Frisch, O. R. Nature of matter. (O '72)

Atonement

Trethowan, I. Absolute and the atonement. (D '72)

Atrocity of education. Pearl, A. (S '72)

Attica diary. Coons, W. R. (O '72)

Attica prison. See New York. State prison, Attica

Aubrey on education. Aubrey, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

August 1914. Solzhenitsyn, A. (N '72)

Augustine, Saint, Bp. of Hippo

Brown, P. Religion and society in the age of Saint Augustine. (N '72)

Auprès de ma blonde. Freeling, N. (O '72)

Aurobindo, Sri

Zaehner, R. C. Evolution in religion: a study in Sri Aurobindo and Pierre Teilhard de Chardin. (Je '72)

Austen, Jane

Duckworth, A. M. Improvement of the estate. (S '72)

Hodge, J. A. Only a novel. (S '72)

Australia

Description and travel

Gunther, J. John Gunther's Inside Australia. (O '72)

Marshall, A. J. Darwin and Huxley in Australia. (Ag '72)

Discovery and exploration

Feeken, E. H. J. Discovery and exploration of Australia. (S '72)

History

Cameron, R. Australia: history and horizons. (O '72)

Military policy

Gelber, H. G., ed. Problems of Australian defence. (Ap '72)

Politics and government

Crowley, F. K. Forrest, 1847-1918, v 1. (S '72)

Australia: history and horizons. Cameron, R. (O '72)

Australian butterflies. McCubbin, C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Australian marsupials. Crowcroft, P. (S '72)

Austria

Civilization

Musulin, S. Austria and the Austrians. (O '72)

Description and travel

Musulin, S. Austria and the Austrians. (O '72)

History

Bernard, P. P. Jesuits and Jacobins. (S '72)

Maass, W. B. Assassination in Vienna. (My '72)

Tapié, V.-L. Rise and fall of the Habsburg monarchy. (Mr '72)

Wagner, D. Anschluss. (Je '72)

Intellectual life

Bernard, P. P. Jesuits and Jacobins. (S '72)

Johnston, W. M. Austrian mind. (D '72)

Social conditions

Johnston, W. M. Austrian mind. (D '72)

Austria and the Austrians. Musulin, S. (O '72)

Austria: people and landscape. Eng title of: Austria and the Austrians. Musulin, S. (O '72)

Austrian mind. Johnston, W. M. (D '72)

Authoritarianism

Lean, E. T. Napoleonists. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Authority

Meissner, W. W. Assault on authority. (Ap '72)

Authors

Ward, M. E. Authors of books for young people [2d ed.]. (Ag '72)

Authors, African

Palmer, E. Introduction to the African novel. (D '72)

Authors, American

- Aldridge, J. W. Devil in the fire. (Ap '72)
 Rees, R. A., ed. Fifteen American authors before 1900. (S '72)
 Something about the author, v 1. (Ap '72)

Authors, French

- Baldick, R. Dinner at Magny's. (Ap '72)

Authors, Jewish. See Jewish authors*Authors and publishersSee also*

- Literary agents
 Authors of books for young people [2d ed].
 Ward, M. E. (Ag '72)

Autism

- Greenfeld, J. Child called Noah. (S '72)
 Autobiographical writings. Hesse, H. (D '72)
 Autobiography of an economist. Robbins, Lord. (O '72)
 Autobiography of Chang Kuo-t'ao, v 1 of The rise of the Chinese communist party, 1921-1927. Chang, K.-T. (Ag '72)
 Autobiography of Francis Place (1771-1854). Place, F. (S '72)

Autographs*Juvenile literature

- Sullivan, G. Complete book of autograph collecting. (S '72)

Automobile drivers

- Fales, E. D. Belts on, buttons down. (Ag '72)

Automobile industry and trade

- Buel, R. A. Dead end: the automobile in mass transportation. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Randall, D. A. Great American auto repair robbery. (D '72)
 White, L. J. Automobile industry since 1945. (My '72)
 Automobile industry since 1945. White, L. J. (My '72)

Automobile insurance. See Insurance, Automobile*Automobile racing

- Radosta, J. S. New York Times complete guide to auto racing. (Mr '72)

Personal narratives

- Stewart, J. Faster! (N '72)

Automobiles

- Buel, R. A. Dead end: the automobile in mass transportation. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Rae, J. R. Road and the car in American life. (My '72)

Repairing

- Randall, D. A. Great American auto repair robbery. (D '72)

Safety measures

- Fales, E. D. Belts on, buttons down. (Ag '72)

Autopsy of revolution. Ellul, J. (Mr '72)

- Avian biology, v 1. (S '72)
 Awakening minorities. Howard, J. R., ed. (My '72)

Awareness: exploring, experimenting, experiencing. Stevens, J. O. (Ag '72)*Awkward class. Shanin, T. (N '72)*Azande

- Evans-Pritchard, E. E. Azande: history and political institutions. (S '72)

Azande: history and political institutions. Evans-Pritchard, E. E. (S '72)*Aziz (Sloop)

- Walker, N. M. When I put out to sea. (O '72)

Aznavour, Charles

- Aznavour, C. Aznavour by Aznavour. (O '72)

Aztecs*Religion and mythology

- Duran, F. D. Book of the gods and rites and The ancient calendar. (N '72)

Babar's birthday surprise. Brunhoff, L. de. (Mr '72)*Babb, Sanora

- Babb, S. Owl on every post. (Mr '72)

Baboon ecology. Altmann, S. A. (Je '72)*Baboons

- Altmann, S. A. Baboon ecology. (Je '72)

Juvenile literature

- Emanuel, E. Baby baboon. (Ag '72)
 Baby. Manushkin, F. (Ag '72)
 Baby baboon. Emanuel, E. (Ag '72)
 Babylon to Brasilia. Hiller, C. E. (D '72)
 Background in sunshine. Juta, J. (N '72)

Bacon, Francis

- Russell, J. Francis Bacon. (Je '72)

Bailey, Pearl

- Bailey, P. Talking to myself. (Je '72)

Baking

- Green, J. Gift-giver's cookbook. (Mr '72)

Baku

- Suny, R. G. Baku Commune, 1917-1918. (O '72)

Baku Commune, 1917-1918. Suny, R. G. (O '72)*Bakunin on anarchy. Bakunin, M. A. (My '72)*Baldwin, James

- Baldwin, J. No name in the street. (S '72)

Balkan Peninsula*History

- Ristelhueber, R. History of the Balkan peoples. (N '72)

Ballads, English*Juvenile literature

- Langstaff, J. Golden Vanity. (N '72)

Ballerinas: from the court of Louis XIV to Pavlova. Migel, P. (D '72)*Ballet

- Buckle, R. Nijinsky. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Geva, T. Split seconds. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Sorell, W. Dancer's image. (Mr '72)

History

- Migel, P. Ballerinas: from the court of Louis XIV to Pavlova. (D '72)

Ballets*Stories, plots, etc.

- Godden, R. Tale of tales: the Beatrix Potter ballet. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Balloons*History

- Romance of ballooning. (O '72)
 Ballyhoo bonanza. Fahey, J. (My '72)

Banabans (Oceanian people)

- Silverman, M. C. Disconcerting issue. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Bananas, Joe. See Bonanno, J.*Bangladesh

- Chopra, P., ed. Challenge of Bangla Desh. (My '72)

Bangwa (African people)

- Brain, R. Bangwa funerary sculpture. (Ag '72)

Bangwa funerary sculpture. Brain, R. (Ag '72)*Bank of the State of South Carolina*History

- Lesesne, J. M. Bank of the State of South Carolina. (My '72)

Bank of the State of South Carolina. Lesesne, J. M. (My '72)*Bank shot. Westlake, D. E. (Ag '72)*Bankhead, Tallulah

- Israel, L. Miss Tallulah Bankhead. (Je '72)

Banking in frontier Iowa, 1836-1865. Erickson, E. A. (N '72)*Banks, Sir Joseph, Bart.

- Lysaght, A. M., ed. Joseph Banks in Newfoundland and Labrador, 1766. (My '72)

Banks and banking

- Lindow, W. Inside the money market. (D '72)

Richardson, D. W. Electric money: evolution of an electronic funds-transfer system. (Ap '72)*China (People's Republic of China)

- Hsiao, K. H. Money and monetary policy in Communist China. (D '72)

Iowa

- Erickson, E. A. Banking in frontier Iowa, 1836-1865. (N '72)

Banks and banking, Cooperative

- Moody, J. C. Credit union movement. (S '72)

Banneker, Benjamin

- Bedini, S. A. Life of Benjamin Banneker. (My '72)

BantusSee also*

- Wanyaturu (Bantu tribe)

Baptists

- Bourdeaux, M. Faith on trial in Russia. (Mr '72)

Bar-Kokhba. Yadin, Y. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)*Barbirolli, Sir John

- Kennedy, M. Barbirolli: conductor laureate; the authorized biography. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Bare ruined choirs. Wills, G. (D '72)
 Barefoot. Stancu, Z. (Ap '72)
 Bari (City)
     Bombardment, 1943
     Infield, G. B. Disaster at Bari. (Mr '72)
 Barnes, Mary
     Barnes, M. Mary Barnes: two accounts of a journey through madness. (Ag '72)
 Baroque and rococo. Sewter, A. C. (S '72)
 Baroque art. See Art, Baroque
 Barotseland
     Politics and government
     Caplan, G. L. Elites of Barotseland, 1878-1969. (Mr '72)
 Barrier and the bridge. Lowe, A. (O '72)
 Barrio boy. Galarza, E. (O '72)
 Barry, Rick
     Barry, R. Confessions of a basketball gypsy. (S '72)
 Bartemeier, Leo H.
     Hope: psychiatry's commitment. (Ap '72)
 Bartlett's unfamiliar quotations. Levinson, L. L. (Ag '72)
 Bartók, Béla
     Bartók, B. Béla Bartók letters. (Je '72)
 Baseball
     Angell, R. Summer game. (S '72)
     Coffin, T. P. Old ball game. (Mr '72)
     Robinson, J. I never had it made. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
     Williams, T. Science of hitting. (Mr '72)
     See also
     Little League baseball
         History
         Seymour, H. Baseball: the golden age, v2. (Mr '72)
 Baseball: the golden age, v2. Seymour, H. (Mr '72)
 Basic documents on African affairs. Brownlie, I. (Ag '72)
 Basic education for adults. Cass, A. W. (O '72)
 Basic (spoken) German dictionary for everyday usage. Pfeffer, J. A. (Ap '72)
 Basketball
     Barry, R. Confessions of a basketball gypsy. (S '72)
     Reed, W. View from the rim. (Mr '72)
     Wolf, D. Foul! the Connie Hawkins story. (My '72)
 Batagarawa, Nigeria
     Hill, P. Rural Hausa. (S '72)
 Le Bateau-Lavoir, Paris
     Warnod, J. Washboat days. (O '72)
 Bates, Daisy
     Salter, E. Daisy Bates. (Je '72)
 Bates, Herbert Ernest
     Bates, H. E. Blossoming world. (Ap '72)
 Bats
     Wimsatt, W. A., ed. Biology of bats, v 1, 2. (Je '72)
 Battle for Europe, 1918. Essame, H. (D '72)
 Battle for Moscow, 1941-1942. Seaton, A. (Je '72)
 Battle for Naw Seng's kingdom. Eng title of: The magic war. Fellowes-Gordon, I. (Ag '72)
 Battle for the Ardennes. Strawson, J. (D '72)
 Battle of Spion Kop. Ransford, O. (Ap '72)
 Bauhaus
     Franciscono, M. Walter Gropius and the creation of the Bauhaus in Weimar. (1971, 1972 Annual)
     Schlenker, O. Man. (Mr '72)
 Be not afraid. White, R. (Ag '72)
 Beaconsfield, Benjamin Disraeli, 1st Earl of, Fiction
     Edelman, M. Disraeli in love. (O '72)
 Beals, Ralph Leon
     Social anthropology of Latin America. (Mr '72)
 Bear circus. Du Bois, W. P. (Mr '72)
 Bears' house. Sachs, M. (Ap '72)
 Beast of Monsieur Racine. Ungerer, T. (My '72)
 Beat generation. Cook, B. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Beating the bushes. Ransom, J. C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 The Beatles
     Lennon, J. Lennon remembers. (Ap '72)
 Beauty of birth. Portal, C. (My '72)
 Beauty of the universe. Rohr, H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Beaverbrook, William Maxwell Aitken, 1st Baron
     Taylor, A. J. P. Beaverbrook. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Because I loved him. Gerson, N. B. (Mr '72)
 Becker, Carl Lotus
     Brown, R. E. Carl Becker on history and the American Revolution. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Beckett, Samuel
     Hesla, D. H. Shape of chaos. (Ag '72)
 Becoming an unwed mother. Rains, P. M. (O '72)
 Bee sting deal. Beare, G. (D '72)
 Beerbohm, Sir Max
     Festiner, J. Lies of art. (O '72)
 Beethoven, Ludwig van
     Arnold, D., ed. Beethoven reader. (Je '72)
     Newman, W. S. Performance practices in Beethoven's piano sonatas. (O '72)
     Scherman, T. K., ed. Beethoven companion. (My '72)
 Beethoven companion. Eng title of: Beethoven reader. Arnold, D., ed. (Je '72)
 Beethoven companion. Scherman, T. K., ed. (My '72)
 Beethoven medal. Peyton, K. M. (D '72)
 Beethoven reader. Arnold, D., ed. (Je '72)
 Before the deluge. Friedrich, O. (Ag '72)
 Before the sphinx. Silverberg, R. (Je '72)
 Behan, Brendan
     O'Connor, U. Brendan. (Je '72)
 Behavior
     Eibl-Eibesfeldt, I. Love and hate. (My '72)
     Goffman, E. Relations in public. (Ap '72)
     Reid, C. Celebrate the temporary. (S '72)
     Skinner, B. F. Beyond freedom and dignity. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Behaviour of nematodes. Croll, N. A. (My '72)
 Behaviorism (Psychology)
     Miller, N. E. Neal E. Miller; selected papers. (Je '72)
 Behind the door. Bassani, G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Behind the scenes. McCrindle, J. F., ed. (S '72)
 Behind the spirit. Watts, A. (Ap '72)
 Behind the wheel. Koren, E. (S '72)
 Behrman, Samuel Nathaniel
     Behrman, S. N. People in a diary. (S '72)
 Bejeweled boy. Asturias, M. G. (Ag '72)
 Béla Bartók letters. Bartók, B. (Je '72)
 Bela Lugosi's white Christmas. West, P. (N '72)
 Belgium
     Politics and government
     Spaak, P. H. Continuing battle. (My '72)
 Belief and doubt
     Symposium on the Culture of Unbelief, Rome, 1969. Culture of unbelief. (S '72)
 Bella, Stefano della
     Bella, S. della. Presenting Stefano della Bella. (My '72)
 Bella! Ms. Abzug goes to Washington. Abzug, B. S. (S '72)
 Bellevue is a state of mind. Barry, A. (My '72)
 Bellini, Vincenzo
     Weinstock, H. Vincenzo Bellini. (Ap '72)
 Beloved prophet. Gibran, K. (Je '72)
 Belts on, buttons down. Fales, E. D. (Ag '72)
 Ben-Gurion, David
     Ben-Gurion, D. Letters to Paula. (D '72)
     St. John, R. Ben-Gurion. (Ag '72)
 Benevolent and necessary institution. Larrabee, E. (Ap '72)
 Benji and the barking bird. Graham, M. B. (O '72)
 Bennett, Arnold
     Wright, W. F. Arnold Bennett: romantic realist. (Ag '72)
 Bennett, Forster
     Crapanzano, V. Fifth world of Forster Bennett. (S '72)
 Beowulf
     Girvan, R. Beowulf and the seventh century [rev ed]. (Mr '72)
     Jones, G. Kings, beasts and heroes. (N '72)
 Beowulf. (My '72)
 Beowulf and the seventh century [rev ed]. Girvan, R. (Mr '72)
 Berengaria (Ship)
     Knapp, P. Berengaria exchange. (My '72)
 Berengaria exchange. Knapp, P. (My '72)
 Berger, Joseph
     Berger, J. Nothing but the truth. (Mr '72)
 Beria, Lavrenti Pavlovich
     Wittlin, T. Commissar. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Berlin

- Friedrich, O. Before the deluge. (Ag '72)
Schick, J. M. Berlin crisis, 1958-1962. (Je '72)

Police

- Liang, H.-H. Berlin police force in the Weimar Republic. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Berlin crisis, 1958-1962. Schick, J. M. (Je '72)
Berlin police force in the Weimar Republic. Liang, H.-H. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Berlin wall (1961- )
Schick, J. M. Berlin crisis, 1958-1962. (Je '72)
Bernard Shaw, director. Dukore, B. F. (My '72)

Bernhardt, Sarah

- Taranow, G. Sarah Bernhardt. (S '72)

Berrigan, Daniel

- Berrigan, D. America is hard to find. (D '72)
Lockwood, L. Daniel Berrigan: absurd convictions, modest hopes: conversations after prison with Lee Lockwood. (D '72)
Stringfellow, W. Suspect tenderness. (My '72)

Berzelius, Jöns Jakob

- Jorpes, J. E. Jac Berzelius: his life and work. (Ap '72)

Best and the brightest. Halberstam, D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Best of sport, 1946-1971. Silverman, A. (Ap '72)
Betsy. Robbins, H. (My '72)
Between actor and critic. Booth, E. (Mr '72)
Between nothingness and paradise. Niemeyer, G. (My '72)
Between old and new. Shaw, S. J. (Ag '72)
Between philosophy and history. Fain, H. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
Between two moons. Mungo, R. (N '72)
Between two worlds. Dyson, A. E. (D '72)
Between two worlds. Wiener, M. J. (Ag '72)
Beyond a reasonable doubt. Frankel, S. (Ap '72)

Beyond Babel. Maddox, B. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Beyond conception: our children's children. Willing, M. K. (My '72)
Beyond freedom and dignity. Skinner, B. F. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Beyond Punjab, 1937-1960. Tandon, P. (Ag '72)

- Beyond repair. Weisberg, B. (Mr '72)
Beyond the burning lands. Christopher, J. (O '72)

Beyond the Capes. Dodge, E. S. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Beyond the stable state. Schon, D. A. (Ap '72)
Beyond the tumult. Winchester, B. (Ag '72)
Beyond the vicarage. Streatfield, N. (Ag '72)
Beyond the waste land. Olderman, R. M. (S '72)

Beyond words. Back, K. W. (S '72)*Bible

- Bible. New American Bible. (S '72)
Schmithals, W. Paul & the Gnostics. (S '72)

Antiquities

- Frank, H. T. Bible, archaeology, and faith. (My '72)

Commentaries

- Laymon, C. M., ed. Interpreter's one-volume commentary on the Bible. (Mr '72)

Criticism, Interpretation, etc.

- English, E. S. Companion to The new Scofield reference Bible. (S '72)

Geography

- Baly, D. Atlas of the biblical world. (My '72)

History

- Frank, H. T. Bible, archaeology, and faith. (My '72)

Pictorial works

- Bucher, F. Pamplona Bibles, 2v [facsim]. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Bible. Old Testament

- Proclamation and presence. (Mr '72)
Vaux, R. de. Bible and the ancient Near East. (Ag '72)

Biography

- Comay, J. Who's who in the Old Testament. (Ap '72)

Criticism, Interpretation, etc.

- Rosenthal, E. I. J. Studia Semitica, 2v. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Smith, M. Palestinian parties and politics that shaped the Old Testament. (Ap '72)

Dictionaries

- Comay, J. Who's who in the Old Testament. (Ap '72)

Bible. Old Testament. Exodus*Commentaries

- Goldin, J. Song at the sea. (Mr '72)

Bible. Old Testament. Psalms*Criticism, Interpretation, etc.

- Freer, C. Music for a king. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Bible. New Testament*Biography

- Brownrigg, R. Who's who in the New Testament. (Ap '72)

Criticism, Interpretation, etc.*History

- Kümmel, W. G. New Testament: the history of the investigation of its problems. (D '72)

Dictionaries

- Brownrigg, R. Who's who in the New Testament. (Ap '72)

Bible. New Testament. Epistles*Criticism, Interpretation, etc.

- Gasque, W. W., ed. Apostolic history and the gospel. (Mr '72)

Bible. New Testament. Gospels*Commentaries

- Kennedy, G. Preacher and the New English Bible. (S '72)

Criticism, Interpretation, etc.

- Fuller, R. H. Formation of the Resurrection narratives. (Mr '72)

Bible. New Testament. John*Commentaries

- Bible. New Testament. John. Gospel according to John (xiii-xxi) [Anchor Bible]. (Mr '72)

Bible. New Testament. Acts*Criticism, Interpretation, etc.

- Gasque, W. W., ed. Apostolic history and the gospel. (Mr '72)

Bible and the ancient Near East. Vaux, R. de. (Ag '72)*Bible, archaeology, and faith. Frank, H. T. (My '72)*Bibliography*Bibliography*Authors, American

- Havlice, P. P. Index to American author bibliographies. (N '72)

Dictionaries

- Harrod, L. M. Librarians' glossary of terms used in librarianship and the book crafts and reference book [3d rev ed]. (Ag '72)

Bibliography of Edith, Osbert, and Sacheverell Sitwell. Fifoot, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)*Bibliography of Nigeria: a survey of anthropological and linguistic writings from the earliest times to 1966. Ita, N. O. (O '72)*Bibliography of novels related to American frontier and colonial history. VanDerhoof, J. (S '72)*Bibliography of Sierra Leone, 1925-1967. Williams, G. J. (My '72)*Bibliography of the published works of Charles M. Russell. Yost, K., comp. (Ag '72)*Bibliography of the Thoreau Society Bulletin bibliographies, 1941-1969. Harding, W., ed. (My '72)*Bibliography of Yeats criticism, 1887-1965. Cross, K. G. W. (S '72)*Bicentenary Wordsworth studies in memory of John Alban Finch. Wordsworth, J., ed. (Mr '72)*Bicycles and bicycling

- Sloane, E. A. Complete book of bicycling. (Ag '72)

Repairing

- Cuthbertson, T. Anybody's bike book. (Ag '72)

Big brother's Indian programs—with reservations. Levitan, S. A. (Ag '72)*Big, fertile, rumbling, cast-iron, growling, aching, unbuttoned bellybook. Trager, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)*Big foundations. Nielsen, W. A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)*Big show. Sutton, F. (S '72)*Big V. Pelfrey, W. (Ag '72)*Bigot, Emery

- Doucette, L. E. Emery Bigot. (Mr '72)

- Bill of no rights: Attica and the American prison system. Badillo, H. (O '72)
- Bill of rights: a documentary history. 2v. Schwartz, B. (Ag '72)
- Bills and acts. Lambert, S. (My '72)
- Binary. Lange, J. (O '72)
- Bing, Sir Rudolf
Bing, R. 5000 nights at the opera. (D '72)
- Bingham, Charlotte
Bingham, C. Coronet among the grass. (D '72)
- Binh Nghia, Vietnam
West, F. J. Village. (My '72)
- Biochemical ecology of water pollution. Dugan, P. R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Biochemistry
Dugan, P. R. Biochemical ecology of water pollution. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Kervran, L. C. Biological transmutations. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Lipmann, F. Wanderings of a biochemist. (Ap '72)
- Bioclimatology
Munn, R. E. Biometeorological methods. (O '72)
- Biographic dictionary of Chinese communism, 1921-1965, 2v. Klein, D. W. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Biographical dictionary of republican China, v3-4. (My '72)
- Biography (Individual)
Abzug, B. S. Bella! Ms. Abzug goes to Washington. (S '72)
Adams, A. B. Geronimo. (My '72)
Agassi, J. Faraday as a natural philosopher. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Albright, J. What makes Spiro run. (Ag '72)
Allen, G. W. Melville and his world. (Je '72)
Ammon, H. James Monroe. (S '72)
Anson, R. S. McGovern. (Je '72)
Armstrong, L. Louis Armstrong—a self portrait. (Ag '72)
Arnold, H. J. P. Photographer of the world. (D '72)
Ashley, M. Charles II; the man and the statesman. (My '72)
Astor, M. Life on film. (Ap '72)
Auchincloss, L. Edith Wharton. (Mr '72)
Ayling, S. George the Third. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Aznavour, C. Aznavour by Aznavour. (O '72)
Babb, S. Owl on every post. (Mr '72)
Bailey, P. Talking to myself. (Je '72)
Baines, J. M. Revolution in Peru. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Baker, L. Brahmin in revolt. (My '72)
Balakian, A. André Breton. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Baldwin, J. No name in the street. (S '72)
Barber, R. Samuel Pepys Esquire. (Mr '72)
Barlow, F. Edward the Confessor. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Barnes, M. Mary Barnes: two accounts of a journey through madness. (Ag '72)
Barry, R. Confessions of a basketball gypsy. (S '72)
Bartók, B. Béla Bartók letters. (Je '72)
Bates, H. E. Blossoming world. (Ap '72)
Bauer, J. Kafka and Prague. (Ap '72)
Beach, V. W. Charles X of France: his life and times. (S '72)
Bedini, S. A. Life of Benjamin Banneker. (My '72)
Behrman, S. N. Duveen. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Behrman, S. N. People in a diary. (S '72)
Bell, Q. Virginia Woolf. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Ben-Gurion, D. Letters to Paula. (D '72)
Benedetti, J. Gilles de Rais. (My '72)
Bennett, D. Vicky: princess royal of England and German empress. (S '72)
Bennett, G. Nelson the commander. (O '72)
Berger, J. Nothing but the truth. (Mr '72)
Berrigan, D. America is hard to find. (D '72)
Berteaut, S. Piaf. (Ag '72)
Bibby, C. Scientist extraordinary. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Bing, R. 5000 nights at the opera. (D '72)
Bingham, C. Coronet among the grass. (D '72)
Bingham, M. Sheridan: the track of a comet. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Birenbaum, W. M. Something for everybody is not enough. (Je '72)
Birley, A. Septimius Severus: the African emperor. (My '72)
Birmingham, S. Late John Marquand. (S '72)
Bishop, J. Days of Martin Luther King, Jr. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
Blades, W. Biography and typography of William Caxton, England's first printer. (O '72)
- Blumenberg, W. Portrait of Marx. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Blumenson, M. Patton papers, 1885-1940. (Ag '72)
- Bonarjee, N. B. Under two masters. (My '72)
- Bone, Q. Henrietta Maria: Queen of the Cavaliers. (D '72)
- Bonhoeffer, D. Letters and papers from prison 1941-42. (My '72)
- Booth, E. Between actor and critic. (Mr '72)
- Botsford, K. Dominguin. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Bowles, P. Without stopping. (My '72)
- Bradford, E. Cleopatra. (O '72)
- Braithwaite, E. R. Reluctant neighbors. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Brandeis, L. D. Letters of Louis D. Brandeis, v 1. (Mr '72)
- Brooke, S. Queen of the head hunters. (S '72)
- Brooks, P. House of life: Rachel Carson at work. (Je '72)
- Brose, O. J. Frederick Denison Maurice. (Je '72)
- Brown, C. H. William Cullen Bryant. (Ap '72)
- Brown, G. In my way. (My '72)
- Brown, S. H. Ling. (N '72)
- Brunhouse, R. L. Sylvanus G. Morley and the world of the ancient Mayas. (Ag '72)
- Bryant, A. Great duke. (N '72)
- Bryant, K. L. Arthur E. Stilwell. (O '72)
- Bryher. Days of Mars. (O '72)
- Buckhorn, R. F. Nader: the people's lawyer. (Je '72)
- Buckle, R. Nijinsky. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Bulgakov, V. F. Last year of Leo Tolstoy. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Bumsted, J. M. Henry Alline, 1748-1784. (N '72)
- Burke, J. Duet in diamonds. (O '72)
- Butcher, F. Many lives—one love. (S '72)
- Butkus, D. Stop-action. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Cabanne, P. Dialogues with Marcel Duchamp. (Mr '72)
- Cabanne, P. Van Gogh. (Ap '72)
- Cadogan, A. Diaries of Sir Alexander Cadogan, 1938-1945. (My '72)
- Cafarakis, C. Fabulous Onassis. (O '72)
- Calisher, H. Himself. (D '72)
- Callahan, N. George Washington: soldier and man. (D '72)
- Campion, R. Invisible worm. (D '72)
- Cannon, L. McCloskey challenge. (Je '72)
- Carasov, V. Two gentlemen to see you, Sir. (Mr '72)
- Carlingford, Lord. Lord Carlingford's journal: reflections of a cabinet minister, 1885. (S '72)
- Cassell, F. A. Merchant Congressman in the young Republic. (O '72)
- Castelot, A. Napoleon. (Mr '72)
- Cattier, M. Life and work of Wilhelm Reich. (A '72)
- Chang, H. Liang Ch'i-ch'ao and intellectual transition in China, 1890-1907. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Chang, K.-T. Rise of the Chinese communist party, 1921-1927, v 1. (Ag '72)
- Chapman, H. W. Caroline Matilda: Queen of Denmark. (Je '72)
- Chapman, H. W. Thistle and the rose. (Ap '72)
- Chappelow, A. Shaw—"the chucker-out". (S '72)
- Christenson, C. V. Kinsey. (My '72)
- Cleveland, W. L. Making of an Arab nationalist. (S '72)
- Cochise, C. "N". First hundred years of Niño Cochise. (Ap '72)
- Cody, J. After great pain. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Cole, M. Life of G. D. H. Cole. (Ag '72)
- Collier, C. Roger Sherman's Connecticut. (Ap '72)
- Collier, R. Duce! (Ap '72)
- Cookridge, E. H. Gehlen: spy of the century. (My '72)
- Cookson, C. Our Kate. (Ap '72)
- Coons, W. R. Attica diary. (O '72)
- Cottrell, J. Richard Burton: very close up. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Craft, R. Stravinsky. (S '72)
- Crapanzano, V. Fifth world of Forster Bennett. (S '72)
- Cronin, V. Napoleon Bonaparte: an intimate biography. (My '72)
- Crowley, F. K. Forrest, 1848-1918; v 1. (S '72)
- Curtis, T. Q. Von Stroheim. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Daiches, D. Robert Burns and his world. (Ag '72)
- Daiches, D. Sir Walter Scott and his world. (Ag '72)
- Dalton, D. Janis. (Ap '72)

Biography (Individual)—Continued

- Dance, S. World of Duke Ellington. (Ap '72)
 Darling, A. Lola Montez. (O '72)
 Dashti, A. In search of Omar Khayyam. (Ag '72)
 David, L. Ted Kennedy: triumphs and tragedies. (S '72)
 Davies, J. P. Dragon by the tail. (D '72)
 Davis, C. Producer. (My '72)
 Deans, M. Weep no more, my lady. (Ag '72)
 De Chirico, G. Memoirs of Giorgio de Chirico. (N '72)
 Delacroix, E. Selected letters, 1813-1863. (Mr '72)
 Delavenay, E. D. H. Lawrence, the man and his work: the formative years: 1885-1915. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Delderfield, R. F. For my own amusement. (N '72)
 Derry, J. W. Charles James Fox. (S '72)
 Donaldson, N. In search of Dr. Thorndyke. (Mr '72)
 Doucette, L. E. Emery Bigot. (Mr '72)
 Douglas, P. H. In the fullness of time. (Ag '72)
 Doyle, P. A. Liam O'Flaherty. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Duier, A. Diary of his journey to the Netherlands, 1520-1521. (Mr '72)
 Dyson, H. Dear and honored Lady. (Mr '72)
 Eaves, T. C. D. Samuel Richardson: a biography. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Edel, L. Henry James [v6]. (Ap '72)
 Edwardes, M. Nehru. (Ag '72)
 Edwards, S. George Sand. (Ag '72)
 Edwards, S. Victor Hugo. (Ap '72)
 Eells, G. Hedda and Louella. (Je '72)
 Einstein, A. Born-Einstein letters. (Mr '72)
 Eisele, A. Almost to the presidency. (O '72)
 Eissler, K. R. Talent and genius. (My '72)
 Erlanger, P. King's minion. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Erlanger, P. Margaret of Anjou, Queen of England. (Ag '72)
 Escoe, G. Films of Clark Gable. (Ap '72)
 Ethridge, W. S. Strange fires. (Ap '72)
 Eyslin, D. Fortunate sex. (O '72)
 Fallaci, O. Nothing, and so be it. (My '72)
 Fantel, H. Waltz kings. (O '72)
 Farmer, F. Will there really be a morning? (S '72)
 Fax, E. C. Garvey. (S '72)
 Fecher, C. Last Elizabethan. (O '72)
 Ferris, P. House of Northcliffe. (My '72)
 Fifoot, C. H. S. Frederick William Maitland. (My '72)
 Fitzgerald, F. S. As ever, Scott Fitz—. (O '72)
 Fitzgerald, F. S. K. Dear Scott/Dear Max. (Ap '72)
 Fleisher, N. Jack Dempsey. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Flexner, E. Mary Wollstonecraft. (N '72)
 Forman, J. Making of black revolutionaries. (N '72)
 Foster, J. D. H. Lawrence in Taos. (Je '72)
 Foster, P. Pops Foster. (S '72)
 Fothergill, J. Chain of friendship. (My '72)
 Francis, R. Trouble with Francis. (Mr '72)
 Franklin, B. Benjamin Franklin: a biography in his own words. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Fraser, R. In hiding. (S '72)
 Frederica, Queen of the Hellenes. Measure of understanding. (N '72)
 Fredrickson, O. A. Silence of the North. (O '72)
 Freeman, E. Insights. (S '72)
 French, P. J. John Dee. (Ag '72)
 Friedman, B. H. Jackson Pollock. (N '72)
 Fuller, J. O. Swinburne: a biography. (My '72)
 Fussell, P. Samuel Johnson and the life of writing. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Gadea, H. Ernesto. (N '72)
 Gallo, M. Robespierre the incorruptible. (Ag '72)
 Gassier, P. Life and complete work of Francisco Goya. (Mr '72)
 Gaulle, C. de. Memoirs of hope. (Ap '72)
 Gehlen, R. Service. (S '72)
 Geismar, M. Ring Lardner and the portrait of folly. (N '72)
 Gérin, W. Emily Brontë. (My '72)
 Gerson, N. B. Because I loved him. (Mr '72)
 Gerstein, I. Nikolai Strakhov. (Ap '72)
 Geva, T. Split seconds. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Gibran, K. Beloved prophet. (Je '72)
 Gies, J. Franklin D. Roosevelt. (Ag '72)
 Gilbert, M. Winston S. Churchill, v3. (Ap '72)
 Gillen, M. Prince and his lady. (Mr '72)
 Gillmor, C. S. Coulomb and the evolution of physics and engineering in eighteenth-century France. (N '72)
 Gilmore, J. Tucson murders. (D '72)
 Gingrich, A. Nothing but people. (Mr '72)
 Giovanni, N. Gemini. (My '72)
 Gladwyn, Lord. Memoirs of Lord Gladwyn. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Godbold, E. S. Ellen Glasgow and the woman within. (D '72)
 Gold, H. My last two thousand years. (D '72)
 Gorman, J. B. Kefauver: a political biography. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Gould, J. Walter Reuther. (O '72)
 Goulden, J. C. Meany. (D '72)
 Grant, M. Herod the great. (My '72)
 Greenburg, D. Scoring. (Ag '72)
 Greene, G. Sort of life. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Greenough, H. Letters of Horatio Greenough, American sculptor. (N '72)
 Griffiths, R. Pétain. (My '72)
 Grogan, E. Ringolevio. (S '72)
 Gruen, J. Party's over now. (My '72)
 Guiles, F. L. Marion Davies. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Hackett, R. F. Yamagata Aritomo in the rise of modern Japan, 1838-1922. (Ap '72)
 Haedrich, M. Coco Chanel. (S '72)
 Hamilton, E. William's Mary. (My '72)
 Hamilton, V. W. E. B. Du Bois. (D '72)
 Hamilton, V. Van der V. Hugo Black. (S '72)
 Han, S. Morning deluge. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Hardy, T. One rare fair woman. (D '72)
 Harris, S. H. Paul Cuffe. (O '72)
 Harris, T. F. Pearl S. Buck, v2. (Mr '72)
 Harwood, R. Sir Donald Wolfitt, C.B.E. (O '72)
 Haslip, J. Crown of Mexico. (Ag '72)
 Hastings, M. Jesuit child. (Ag '72)
 Haswell, J. James II, soldier and sailor. (N '72)
 Hawke, D. F. Benjamin Rush. (Ap '72)
 Hayes, P. M. Quisling: the career and political ideas of Vidkun Quisling, 1887-1945. (Ag '72)
 Hayman, R. John Gielgud. (Ap '72)
 Head, C. Justinian II of Byzantium. (Ag '72)
 Henderson, C. P. Nixon theology. (O '72)
 Henderson, N. Out of the curtained world. (Je '72)
 Henderson, R. M. D. W. Griffith: his life and work. (Je '72)
 Hersh, B. Education of Edward Kennedy. (Ag '72)
 Hesse, H. Autobiographical writings. (D '72)
 Hesse, H. Wandering. (Je '72)
 Hibbert, C. Personal history of Samuel Johnson. (Ag '72)
 Higham, C. Ziegfeld. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Hilton, T. Keats and his world. (Ap '72)
 Himes, C. Quality of hurt, v 1. (My '72)
 Hislop, C. Eliphalet Nott. (S '72)
 Hixson, W. B. Moorfield Storey and the abolitionist tradition. (Je '72)
 Hobhouse, H. Thomas Cubitt, master builder. (Mr '72)
 Hodge, J. A. Only a novel. (S '72)
 Hoffman, W. David. (Ap '72)
 Hoffmann, B. Albert Einstein, creator and rebel. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Höhne, H. General was a spy. (Je '72)
 Holmes, C. S. Clocks of Columbus. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Holmes, W. F. White Chief: James Kimble Vardaman. (My '72)
 Honan, W. H. Ted Kennedy. (S '72)
 Horgan, P. Encounters with Stravinsky. (Ag '72)
 Horn, P. Joseph Arch (1826-1919). (O '72)
 Houseman, J. Run-through. (My '72)
 Housman, A. E. Letters of A. E. Housman. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Hudson, H. Black worker in the deep South. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Hughes, T. P. Elmer Sperry. (Ag '72)
 Hunter, R. Daughter of Zion. (O '72)
 Hutchison, H. F. Edward II. (Je '72)
 Hyde, H. M. Stalin. (Ap '72)
 Hyman, M. D. Joe Paterno: "Football my way." (Mr '72)
 Inber, V. Leningrad diary. (O '72)
 Ionesco, E. Present past, past present. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Isherwood, C. Kathleen and Frank. (Ap '72)
 Israel, L. Miss Tallulah Bankhead. (Je '72)
 Jackson, S. Caruso. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Jackson, W. G. F. Alexander of Tunis, as military commander. (D '72)
 Jamal, H. A. From the dead level: Malcolm X and me. (S '72)
 James, B. Brahms: a critical study. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Johnson, D. True history of the first Mrs. Meredith and other lesser lives. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Johnson, E. A. J. American imperialism in the image of Peer Gynt. (O '72)

- Johnson, N. M. George Sylvester Viereck. (O '72)
- Johnson, S. Life of Savage. (Ag '72)
- Jones, C. P. Plutarch and Rome. (Ag '72)
- Jones, M. Louis: the Louis Armstrong story, 1900-1971. (Ap '72)
- Jones, P. Tom Jones. (D '72)
- Jones, T. P. Pair of lawn sleeves. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Jordan, D. M. Roscoe Conkling of New York. (Ap '72)
- Jordan, P. Black coach. (Mr '72)
- Jordan, R. Sophie Dorothea. (O '72)
- Jorpes, J. E. Jac. Berzelius: his life and work. (Ap '72)
- Joyce, S. Complete Dublin diary of Stanislaus Joyce. (Mr '72)
- Judd, L. M. Lawrence M. Judd & Hawaii. (Mr '72)
- Juta, J. Background in sunshine. (N '72)
- Kalmykow, A. A. Memoirs of a Russian diplomat. (Ag '72)
- Kealey, E. J. Roger of Salisbury, viceroy of England. (D '72)
- Keats, J. Howard Hughes. (O '72)
- Keddie, N. R. Sayyid Jamāl ad-Dīn "al-Afghānī." (D '72)
- Kennedy, M. Barbirolli; conductor laureate. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Keyes, F. P. All flags flying. (Ag '72)
- Kimball, R., ed. Cole. (Mr '72)
- Kirby, J. L. Henry IV of England. (Ap '72)
- Klein, M. Edward Porter Alexander. (N '72)
- Koffend, J. B. Letter to my wife. (Ag '72)
- Koht, H. Life of Ibsen. (Ap '72)
- Krents, H. To race the wind. (O '72)
- Kurland, G. Seth Low. (O '72)
- LaCapra, D. Emile Durkheim. (D '72)
- Lambert, G. On Cukor. (N '72)
- Lame Deer, J. F. Lame Deer, seeker of visions. (D '72)
- Lamm, M. August Strindberg. (Ag '72)
- Langer, W. Mind of Adolf Hitler. (N '72)
- Larsen, C. Good fight. (My '72)
- Lash, J. P. Eleanor and Franklin. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Lash, J. P. Eleanor: the years alone. (O '72)
- Latham, A. Crazy Sundays: F. Scott Fitzgerald in Hollywood. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Laver, R. Education of a tennis player. (Mr '72)
- Legge, J. D. Sukarno. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- L'Engle, M. Circle of quiet. (My '72)
- Leventhal, F. M. Respectable radical: George Howell and Victorian working class politics. (My '72)
- Levey, M. Life & death of Mozart. (Mr '72)
- Levine, E. L. Theodore Francis Green: the Washington years, 1937-1960. (N '72)
- Lewis, A. A. Miss Elizabeth Arden. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Lewis, B. I. George Grosz. (Mr '72)
- Libman, L. And music at the close: Stravinsky's last years. (D '72)
- Liew, K. S. Struggle for democracy. (O '72)
- Lillie, B. Every other inch a lady. (Je '72)
- Lincoln, M. T. Mary Todd Lincoln. (N '72)
- Lind, J. Numbers. (Ag '72)
- Lindbergh, A. M. Bring me a unicorn. (My '72)
- Ling, K. Revenge of heaven: journal of a young Chinese. (My '72)
- Lippman, T. Spiro Agnew's America. (Ag '72)
- Livingston, P. Van R. How to cook a rogue elephant. (Ag '72)
- Loewenstein, L. Time to love . . . a time to die. (Ap '72)
- Logsdon, J. Horace White, nineteenth century liberal. (S '72)
- Lois, G. George be careful. (D '72)
- Loomis, S. Fatal friendship. (My '72)
- Louis XIV, King of France and of Navarre. Mémoires for the instruction of the Dauphin. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Lowitt, R. George W. Norris. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Lunn, J. E. Ralph Vaughan Williams. (Ag '72)
- Lurie, L. Running of Richard Nixon. (N '72)
- Luskin, J. Lippmann, liberty, and the press. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Lysaght, A. M., ed. Joseph Banks in Newfoundland and Labrador, 1766. (My '72)
- McCaffrey, D. W., ed. Focus on Chaplin. (My '72)
- McCarry, C. Citizen Nader. (Je '72)
- McCarthy, A. Private faces/public places. (S '72)
- McDermott, G. Leader lost. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- McGrath, S. W. Charles Kenneth Leith. (S '72)
- McGregor, C., ed. Bob Dylan. (S '72)
- Machlin, M. Search for Michael Rockefeller. (My '72)
- McKay, E. Henry Wilson. (Ap '72)
- McLaren, M. Bonnie Prince Charlie. (D '72)
- Mac Liammóir, M. W. B. Yeats and his world. (O '72)
- Macmillan, H. Pointing the way, 1959-1961. (D '72)
- Macmillan, H. Riding the storm. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- MacNab, J. Education of a doctor. (Ag '72)
- McNeal, R. H. Bride of the revolution. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- McNeill, M. Vere Foster. (O '72)
- McNickie, D. Indian man. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Madison, J. Papers of James Madison, v5-7. (O '72)
- Malraux, A. Felled oaks. (Ag '72)
- Manetti, A. di T. Life of Brunelleschi. (S '72)
- Marambaud, P. William Byrd of Westover, 1674-1744. (My '72)
- Marek, G. R. Gentle genius. (Ag '72)
- Marion, F. Off with their heads! (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Martin, R. G. Jennie: the life of Lady Randolph Churchill, v2. (Ap '72)
- Mather, C. Selected letters of Cotton Mather. (S '72)
- Matthews, H. L. World in revolution. (My '72)
- Mauldin, B. Brass ring. (Mr '72)
- Maurer, C. B. Call to revolution. (O '72)
- Mayfield, S. Exiles from paradise. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Mazlish, B. In search of Nixon. (Ag '72)
- Mead, M. Blackberry winter. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Medvedev, R. A. Let history judge. (Mr '72)
- Mee, C. L. White robe, black robe. (Ag '72)
- Mehta, V. Daddyji. (Ag '72)
- Melville, S. Letters from Attica. (My '72)
- Mendelsohn, J. Channing, the reluctant radical. (N '72)
- Mercouri, M. I was born Greek. (Mr '72)
- Merrill, J. M. William Tecumseh Sherman. (Ap '72)
- Messerli, J. Horace Mann. (Ag '72)
- Meyer, M. C. Huerta. (D '72)
- Meynell, F. My lives. (Ap '72)
- Miller, H. My life and times. (S '72)
- Miller, P. James. (Je '72)
- Miller, T. Henry IV of Castile, 1425-1474. (D '72)
- Milligan, J. D., ed. From the fresh water navy: 1861-64. (Je '72)
- Mizener, A. Saddest story. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Moisés, R. Tall candle. (Ap '72)
- Moore, A. Any boy can. (Mr '72)
- Morand, P. Captive princess. (O '72)
- Morgan, A. Dropping out in ¾ time. (Ag '72)
- Morgan, M. C. Lenin. (Ag '72)
- Morison, S. E. Samuel de Champlain. (S '72)
- Morrison, J. L. Governor O. Max Gardner. (Mr '72)
- Mortimer, W. Organize! my life as a union man. (Mr '72)
- Mosley, O. My life. (Ap '72)
- Muggeridge, M. Paul, envoy extraordinary. (Je '72)
- Mungo, R. Between two moons. (N '72)
- Nagler, B. Brown bomber. (Ag '72)
- Namier, J. Lewis Namier. (Ap '72)
- Nearing, S. Making of a radical. (S '72)
- Necheles, R. F. Abbé Grégoire, 1787-1831. (Ag '72)
- Neihardt, J. G. All is but a beginning. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Neill, A. S. Neill! Neill! Orange peel! (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Nevin, D. Muskie of Maine. (Ag '72)
- Nichols, B. Father figure. (N '72)
- Nietzsche, F. W. Nietzsche: a self-portrait from his letters. (Ap '72)
- Niven, D. Moon's a balloon. (Je '72)
- Noonan, D. P. Passion of Fulton Sheen. (My '72)
- Notehelfer, F. G. Kōtoku Shūsui. (Ap '72)
- Nutting, A. Nasser. (O '72)
- O'Casey, E. Sean. (Mr '72)
- O'Connor, U. Brendan. (Je '72)
- Ofari, E. Let your motto be resistance. (D '72)
- Osborn, J. M. Young Philip Sidney, 1572-1577. (O '72)
- Ostrovsky, E. Voyeur voyant. (Ap '72)
- Owen, H. Aftermath. (Je '72)
- Pachmuss, T. Zinaida Hippus. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Palmer, A. Metternich. (D '72)
- Parker, F. George Peabody. (Je '72)
- Parmet, H. S. Eisenhower and the American crusades. (D '72)
- Pauli, H. Break of time. (Je '72)

Biography (Individual)—Continued

- Paulson, R. Hogarth: his life, art, and times. 2v. (O '72)
- Payne, R. Eyewitness. (N '72)
- Peel, J. D. Y. Herbert Spencer, the evolution of a sociologist. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Peel, R. Mary Baker Eddy. (Mr '72)
- Penrose, R. Miró. (Je '72)
- Pepe, P. Come out smokin'. (My '72)
- Pepys, S. Diary of Samuel Pepys, v4, 5. (Je '72)
- Pérez López, F. Dark and bloody ground. (Ag '72)
- Petrie, G. Singular iniquity. (Je '72)
- Pilcher, G. W. Samuel Davies: apostle of dissent in Colonial Virginia. (Ap '72)
- Pinckney, E. L. Letterbook of Eliza Lucas Pinckney, 1739-1762. (D '72)
- Pipes, R. Struve, liberal on the left, 1870-1905, v 1. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Place, F. Autobiography of Francis Place (1771-1854). (S '72)
- Plummer, A. Brontë: a political biography of Brontë O'Brien, 1804-1864. (My '72)
- Plummer, M. A. Frontier governor: Samuel J. Crawford of Kansas. (S '72)
- Pois, R. A. Friedrich Meinecke and German politics in the twentieth century. (D '72)
- Polatnick, F. T. Zambia's president: Kenneth Kaunda. (N '72)
- Pollack, J. H. Dr. Sam. (S '72)
- Pollock, J. George Whitefield and the great awakening. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Pomeroy, W. B. Dr. Kinsey and the Institute for sex research. (Ag '72)
- Pope-Hennessy, J. Anthony Trollope. (Je '72)
- Pritchett, V. S. Midnight oil. (Ag '72)
- Pritt, T. Konrad Adenauer, 1876-1967. (S '72)
- Prochnau, W. W. Certain democrat: Senator Henry M. Jackson. (S '72)
- Proctor, A. P. Alexander Phimister Proctor: sculptor in buckskin. (Ap '72)
- Puzo, M. Godfather papers & other confessions. (Je '72)
- Raeff, M., ed. Catherine the Great. (S '72)
- Raine, K. William Blake. (Mr '72)
- Raper, J. R. Without shelter. (Je '72)
- Rebholz, R. A. Life of Fulke Greville, first Lord Brooke. (O '72)
- Rees, G. Chapter of accidents. (Je '72)
- Reeves, D. Notes of a processed brother. (Ap '72)
- Reich, W. Schoenberg. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Reid, J. C. Bucks and bruisers. (O '72)
- Reigstad, P. Rølvaag. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Rentzel, L. When all the laughter died in sorrow. (D '72)
- Reynolds, P. R. Middle man. (Ap '72)
- Richtman, J. Adrienne Lecouvreur: the actress and the age. (O '72)
- Ricks, C. Tennyson. (N '72)
- Riegle, D. O Congress. (O '72)
- Robbins, Lord. Autobiography of an economist. (O '72)
- Robert Owen: aspects of his life and work. (O '72)
- Roberts, O. Call. (Ap '72)
- Robertson, D. W. Abelard and Heloise. (Ap '72)
- Robinson, J. I never had it made. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Rodinson, M. Mohammed. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Roskill, S. Hankey: man of secrets, v 1. (Je '72)
- Ross, I. Uncrowned queen: life of Lola Montez. (Ag '72)
- Rouse, P. James Blair of Virginia. (Je '72)
- Rowe, V. A. Sir Henry Vane the younger. (Mr '72)
- Rusk, H. A. World to care for. (D '72)
- St. John, R. Ben-Gurion. (Ag '72)
- Sainteny, J. Ho Chi Minh and his Vietnam. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Salter, E. Daisy Bates. (Je '72)
- Samish, A. H. Secret boss of California. (Ap '72)
- Sanders, R. Reflections on a teapot. (N '72)
- Sansom, K. Sir George Sansom and Japan. (N '72)
- Saroyan, W. Places where I've done time. (My '72)
- Scaduto, A. Bob Dylan. (My '72)
- Schlemmer, O. Letters and diaries of Oskar Schlemmer. (D '72)
- Schönzeler, H. H. Bruckner. (Ap '72)
- Schramm, P. E. Hitler: the man and the military leader. (D '72)
- Schur, M. Freud: living and dying. (S '72)
- Schwarz, R. W. John Harvey Kellogg, M.D. (Mr '72)
- Scott, T. L. Kind of loving. (Ap '72)
- Seaburg, C. Merchant prince of Boston. Colonel T. H. Perkins, 1764-1854. (D '72)
- Seager, R. Tiberius. (S '72)
- Seale, W. Sam Houston's wife. (O '72)
- Sencourt, R. T. S. Eliot: a memoir. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Senesh, H. Hannah Senesh. (S '72)
- Seroff, V. Real Isadora. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Seton, M. Portrait of a director: Satyajit Ray. (Ap '72)
- Seward, D. First Bourbon. (Ap '72)
- Shackleton, Bailey, D. R. Cicero. (S '72)
- Shallope, R. E. Sterling Price. (Je '72)
- Shears, S. Village girl. (My '72)
- Shinn, R. L. Wars and rumors of wars. (Ag '72)
- Shor, E. N. Fossils and flies. (Mr '72)
- Skelton, G. Wieland Wagner: the positive sceptic. (My '72)
- Skelton, R. J. M. Synge and his world. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Smith, B. F. Heinrich Himmler: a Nazi in the making, 1900-1926. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Smith, D. Report from Engine Co. 82. (Ap '72)
- Smith, L. B. Henry VIII: the mask of royalty. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Smith, M. C. Declaration of conscience. (Je '72)
- Smith, W. E. We must run while they walk. (Ap '72)
- Snow, P. Hussein. (D '72)
- Solomon, B. P. Arriving where we started. (Je '72)
- Sorrentino, J. N. Up from never. (Ap '72)
- Spalding, H. D. Nixon nobody knows. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Spence, V. G. Colonel Morgan Jones. (My '72)
- Stansky, P. Unknown Orwell. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Starkie, E. Flaubert the master: a critical biographical study (1856-1880). (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Starr, S. Z. Colonel Grenfell's wars. (S '72)
- Stenerson, D. C. H. L. Mencken: iconoclast from Baltimore. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Stephens, R. Nasser. (Je '72)
- Stern, M. B. Head & headlines. (Ap '72)
- Stevenson, F. Lloyd George. (Ap '72)
- Stewart, J. I. M. Thomas Hardy. (Ap '72)
- Stratton, A. Sinan. (My '72)
- Streafeld, N. Beyond the vicarage. (Ag '72)
- Swanberg, W. A. Luce and his empire. (D '72)
- Synge, J. M. Letters to Molly. (Mr '72)
- Tabor, P. Pauline's. (Je '72)
- Talbot, T., ed. Soldier in the West. (D '72)
- Tandon, P. Beyond Punjab, 1937-1960. (Ap '72)
- Taranow, G. Sarah Bernhardt. (S '72)
- Taylor, A. J. P. Beaverbrook. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Taylor, M. D. Swords and plowshares. (Je '72)
- Teichmann, H. George S. Kaufman: an intimate portrait. (S '72)
- Tennant, C. Radical Laird. (Ap '72)
- Thane, E. Fighting Quaker. (D '72)
- Thomas, P. Savior, Savior, hold my hand. (N '72)
- Thompson, P. William Butterfield. (Ag '72)
- Thomson, G. M. Sir Francis Drake. (O '72)
- Tolstoy, I. Tolstoy, my father: reminiscences. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Tomkins, C. Living well is the best revenge. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Trautman, K. Spies behind the pillars, bandits at the pass. (Je '72)
- Trease, G. Samuel Pepys and his world. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Tribe, D. President Charles Bradlaugh, M. P. (Ap '72)
- Trotsky, L. Young Lenin. (N '72)
- Tucker, D. M. Lieutenant Lee of Beale Street. (Ag '72)
- Turki, F. Disinherited. (N '72)
- Tutorow, N. E. Leland Stanford: man of many careers. (Mr '72)
- Twombly, W. Blanda. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Van Ash, C. Master of villainy. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Van Loon, G. W. Story of Henrik Willem van Loon. (Ag '72)
- Varèse, L. Varèse: a looking-glass diary, v 1. (Je '72)
- Vassi, M. Stoned apocalypse. (Je '72)
- Verdi, G. Letters of Giuseppe Verdi. (My '72)
- Viscott, D. S. Making of a psychiatrist. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Wardle, R. M. Hazlitt. (My '72)
- Watts, A. In my own way. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Webster, M. Don't put your daughter on the stage. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Wechsler, J. A. In a darkness. (Je '72)
- Weinstock, H. Vincenzo Bellini. (Ap '72)
- Weintraub, S. Journey to heartbreak. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Weisgal, M. Meyer Weisgal . . . so far. (My '72)
- Welch, W. J. What happened in between. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- White, E. W. Anne Bradstreet, "the tenth muse." (Je '72)
- Whitmore, T. Memphis, Nam, Sweden. (Mr '72)
- Wiebusch, J., ed. Lombardi. (Ag '72)
- Wik, R. M. Henry Ford and grass-roots America. (My '72)
- Willert, A. Washington and other memories. (My '72)
- Willey, E. Samuel Taylor Coleridge. (D '72)
- Williams, B. J. Senator John James Ingalls. (D '72)
- Williams, E. Inward hunger. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Williams, N. Life and times of Elizabeth I. (O '72)
- Williams, R. L. Mortal Napoleon III. (D '72)
- Wilson, A. M. Diderot. (O '72)
- Wilson, J. A. Thousands of years. (D '72)
- Wilson, M. Life of William Blake [new ed.]. (S '72)
- Wilson, W. Papers of Woodrow Wilson, v10. (My '72)
- Wilson, W. Papers of Woodrow Wilson, v11. (Ag '72)
- Wind, H. W. World of P. G. Wodehouse. (Ap '72)
- Witcover, J. White knight. (Je '72)
- Wittlin, T. Commissar. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Wolf, D. Foul! the Connie Hawkins story. (My '72)
- Wolfe, D. M. Milton and his England. (Je '72)
- Woodham-Smith, C. Queen Victoria. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Woodress, J. Willa Cather. (Ag '72)
- Woolman, J. Journal and major essays of John Woolman. (Ag '72)
- Wright, F. L. Genius and the mobocracy [enl. ed.]. (Ap '72)
- Wyeth, N. C. Wyeths: the letters of N. C. Wyeth, 1900-1945. (Ap '72)
- Yarmolinsky, A. Dostoevsky: works and days. (Ap '72)
- Yerushalmi, Y. H. From Spanish court to Italian ghetto. (S '72)
- Yoshida, J. Two worlds of Jim Yoshida. (N '72)
- Young, K. Sir Alec Douglas-Home. (O '72)
- Young, P. M. Sir Arthur Sullivan. (Je '72)
- Zeller, B. Portrait of Hesse. (Mr '72)
- Juvenile literature
- Clements, B. From ice set free. (O '72)
- Coolidge, O. Gandhi. (Mr '72)
- Eunson, R. When France was de Gaulle. (S '72)
- Faber, D. Oh, Lizzie! (S '72)
- Feelings, T. Black pilgrimage. (O '72)
- Fleming, T. J. Thomas Jefferson. (My '72)
- Hicks, N. Honorable Shirley Chisholm. (Ag '72)
- Killens, J. O. Great gittin' up morning. (Je '72)
- Meriwether, L. Freedom ship of Robert Smalls. (Je '72)
- Morris, T. Shalom, Golda. (O '72)
- Morris, W. Good old boy. (My '72)
- Polatnick, F. T. Zambia's president: Kenneth Kaunda. (N '72)
- Reiss, J. Upstairs room. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Rockwell, A. Paintbrush & peacepipe: the story of George Catlin. (Je '72)
- Rudeen, K. Jackie Robinson. (Mr '72)
- Stearns, M. Louis XIV of France. (My '72)
- Steele, W. O. Wilderness tattoo. (My '72)
- Stern, P. Van D. Henry David Thoreau. (S '72)
- Weir, R. Man who built a city. (My '72)
- Yolen, J. Friend: the story of George Fox and the Quakers. (Ag '72)
- Biography (Collective)
- Acton, J. Mug shots. (O '72)
- Aronson, T. Queen Victoria and the Bonapartes. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Atlantic brief lives. (O '72)
- Baughman, J. P. Mallorays of Mystic. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Bearden, R. Six black masters of American art. (O '72)
- Biographical dictionary of republican China, v3-4. (My '72)
- Carroll, D. Matinee idols. (O '72)
- Checkland, S. G. Gladstones. (Ap '72)
- Chilton, J. Who's who of jazz. (D '72)
- Coser, L. A. Masters of sociological thought. (O '72)
- Daniels, J. Randolphs of Virginia. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Davidson, J. W., ed. Pacific Island portraits. (Ap '72)
- Duckett, E. Medieval portraits from East and West. (Ag '72)
- Epton, N. Victoria and her daughters. (Ap '72)
- Fax, E. C. Seventeen black artists. (Ag '72)
- Feecken, E. H. J. Discovery and exploration of Australia. (S '72)
- Foskett, D. Dictionary of British miniature painters, 2v. (O '72)
- Gascoigne, B. Great Moghuls. (Mr '72)
- Haskins, J. Profiles in black power. (Ag '72)
- Hoyt, E. P. Nixons: an American family. (S '72)
- Josephson, M. Money lords. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Klein, D. W. Biographic dictionary of Chinese communism, 1921-1965, 2v. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Kupferberg, H. Mendelssohns. (Ag '72)
- Longstreet, S. We all went to Paris. (S '72)
- Madison, C. A. Eminent American Jews, 1776 to the present. (Ap '72)
- Mallis, A. American entomologists. (Je '72)
- Merriam, E., ed. Growing up female in America. (My '72)
- Metcalf, G. R. Up from within. (Mr '72)
- Middlekauff, R. Mathers: three generations of Puritan intellectuals, 1596-1728. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Nichols, J. Minor lives. (Ap '72)
- Ojigbo, A., comp. Young and black in Africa. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Prescott, O. Lords of Italy. (D '72)
- Purveyer, E. F. Nineteen stars. (Je '72)
- Radice, B. Who's who in the ancient world. (Mr '72)
- Roberts, B. Churchills in Africa. (Ap '72)
- Something about the author. v 1. (Ap '72)
- Steinmetz, D. C. Reformers in the wings. (S '72)
- Sullivan, G. Gamemakers. (My '72)
- Teller, W., ed. Twelve works of naïve genius. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Thomas, D. L. Money crowd. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Trease, G. Seven sovereign queens. (Je '72)
- Viorst, M. Hustlers and heroes. (Mr '72)
- Ward, M. E. Authors of books for young people [2d ed.]. (Ag '72)
- White, W. S. Responsibilities. (Ap '72)
- Williams, N. Henry VIII and his court. (My '72)
- Williams, R. M. Bonds. (Mr '72)
- Wiseman, T. P. New men in the Roman senate, 139 B.C.-A.D. 14. (Ap '72)
- Juvenile literature
- Bruner, R. Black politicians. (Mr '72)
- Duckett, A. Changing of the guard. (O '72)
- Higdon, H. Champions of the tennis court. (Mr '72)
- Newlon, C. Famous Mexican-Americans. (Ag '72)
- Ross, P., ed. Young and female. (Ag '72)
- Willard, C. Famous modern artists. (S '72)
- Biography and typography of William Caxton. England's first printer. Blades, W. (O '72)
- Biological imperatives. Chase, A. (Ag '72)
- Biological transmutations. Kervran, L. C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Biological warfare
- Thomas, A. Van W. Legal limits on the use of chemical and biological weapons. (Ap '72)
- Biology
- Butler, J. A. V. Life process. (D '72)
- Padykula, H. A. Control mechanisms in the expression of cellular phenotypes. (Je '72)
- History
- Coleman, W. Biology in the nineteenth century: problems of form, function, and transformation. (My '72)
- Periodicity
- Luce, G. G. Body time. (Mr '72)
- Strughold, H. Your body clock. (Ag '72)
- Philosophy
- Burnet, M. Dominant mammal. (S '72)
- Hein, H. S. On the nature and origin of life. (Ag '72)
- Monod, J. Chance and necessity. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Research
- Rorvik, D. M. Brave new baby. (Ag '72)

- Biology in the nineteenth century: problems of form, function, and transformation. Coleman, W. (My '72)
- Biology of bats, v 1, 2. Wimsatt, W. A. ed. (Je '72)
- Biometeorological methods. Munn, R. E. (O '72)
- Biracial politics. Davidson, C. (D '72)
- Bird population
Lack, D. Ecological isolation in birds. (My '72)
- Birds
Avian biology, v 1. (S '72)
- Habits and behavior
Dossenbach, H. D. Family life of birds. (Ap '72)
- Pictures, illustrations, etc.
Fuertes, L. A. Louis Agassiz Fuertes & the singular beauty of birds. (Mr '72)
- Africa, North
Heinzel, H. Birds of Britain and Europe with North Africa and the Middle East. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Europe
Heinzel, H. Birds of Britain and Europe with North Africa and the Middle East. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Near East
Heinzel, H. Birds of Britain and Europe with North Africa and the Middle East. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- North America
Rand, A. L. Birds of North America. (Ap '72)
- Birds, beasts, and men. Hays, H. R. (S '72)
- Birds of Britain and Europe with North Africa and the Middle East. Heinzel, H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Birds of North America. Rand, A. L. (Ap '72)
- Birenbaum, William M.
Birenbaum, W. M. Something for everybody is not enough. (Je '72)
- Birth control
Callahan, D., ed. American population debate. (Ap '72)
- Hardin, G. Exploring new ethics for survival. (N '72)
- Pope, C. Sahib. (S '72)
- Ryder, N. B. Reproduction in the United States, 1965. (My '72)
- St. John-Stevan, N. Agonising choice. (Ap '72)
- Subbiah, B. V. Tragedy of a papal decree (in a crowded world). (S '72)
- Trussell, J. Women in need. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Willing, M. K. Beyond conception: our children's children. (My '72)
- Wyon, J. B. Khanna study. (Ap '72)
- See also
Sterilization (Birth control)
- Religious aspects
Subbiah, B. V. Tragedy of a papal decree (in a crowded world). (S '72)
- Birth of mass political parties. Formisano, R. P. (Ag '72)
- Birth of Methodism in England. Halévy, E. (Mr '72)
- Birth of the Communist manifesto. Marx, K. (Ap '72)
- Birth rate
Coale, A. J. Growth and structure of human populations. (D '72)
- Bismarck, Otto, Fürst von
Mitchell, A. Bismarck and the French nation, 1848-1890. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Silverman, D. P. Reluctant union. (D '72)
- Bismarck and the French nation, 1848-1890. Mitchell, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Bitter harvest. Eng title of: Too many enemies. Haggard, W. (D '72)
- Black, Hugo La Fayette
Hamilton, V. Van der V. Hugo Black. (S '72)
- Black American travel guide. Hayes, B. (Ag '72)
- Black Americans. Baughman, E. E. (N '72)
- Black artists on art, v2. Lewis, S. S. (N '72)
- Black belonging. Ross, J. C. (Je '72)
- Black business enterprise. Bailey, R. W., ed. (Ag '72)
- Black Christian nationalism. Cleage, A. B. (Ag '72)
- Black church in America. Nelsen, H. M., ed. (N '72)
- Black coach. Jordan, P. (Mr '72)
- Black education. Sowell, T. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Black English. Dillard, J. L. (O '72)

- Black infantry in the West, 1869-1891. Fowler, A. L. (My '72)
- Black legend in England. Maltby, W. S. (Je '72)
- Black life and culture in the United States. Goldstein, R. L., ed. (N '72)
- Black list, section H. Stuart, F. (Ap '72)
- Black migration. Groh, G. W. (S '72)
- Black Mountain. Duberman, M. (D '72)
- Black Mountain. Duberman, M. Black Mountain. (D '72)
- Black music in America. Rublowsky, J. (Mr '72)
- Black Muslims
Jamal, H. A. From the dead level: Malcolm X and me. (S '72)
- Black nationalism
Cleage, A. B. Black Christian nationalism. (Ag '72)
- Black Panther party
Chevigny, P. Cops and rebels. (O '72)
- Newton, H. P. To die for the people. (S '72)
- Black pilgrimage. Feelings, T. (O '72)
- Black politicians. Bruner, R. (Mr '72)
- Black politics. Walton, H. (D '72)
- Black portraiture in American fiction. Starke, C. J. (Je '72)
- Black power
Haskins, J. Profiles in Black power. (Ag '72)
- Black power and the American myth. Vivian, C. T. (Je '72)
- Black presence. Walvin, J. (N '72)
- Black press, U.S.A. Wolseley, R. E. (Ag '72)
- Black resistance, white law. Berry, M. F. (S '72)
- Black scenes. Childress, A., ed. (S '72)
- Black teacher and the dramatic arts. Reardon, W. R. (Ap '72)
- Black theater. Patterson, L., comp. (My '72)
- Black West. Katz, W. L. (Mr '72)
- Black women in white America. Lerner, G., ed. (Ag '72)
- Black worker in the deep South. Hudson, H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Blackberry winter. Mead, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Blacks in America. (O '72)
- Blacks in Canada. Winks, R. W. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Blacks in communications. Stein, M. L. (D '72)
- Blacks in the city. Parris, G. (Ag '72)
- Blacks, medical schools, and society. Curtis, J. L. (Mr '72)
- Blackstone Rangers
Sale, R. T. Blackstone rangers. (Ap '72)
- Blackwater River: Toa-Thal-Kas. Hillen, W. (Ap '72)
- Blain site
Prufer, O. H. Blain Village and the Fort Ancient tradition in Ohio. (Ap '72)
- Blain Village and the Fort Ancient tradition in Ohio. Pruffer, O. H. (Ap '72)
- Blair, Eric. See Orwell, G.
- Blair, James
Rouse, P. James Blair of Virginia. (Je '72)
- Blake, William
Keynes, G. Blake studies: essays on his life and work [2d ed.]. (Ap '72)
- Raine, K. William Blake. (Mr '72)
- Vogler, T. A. Preludes to vision. (Ap '72)
- Wilson, M. Life of William Blake [new ed.]. (S '72)
- Blake studies: essays on his life and work [2d ed.]. Keynes, G. (Ap '72)
- Blaming the victim. Ryan, W. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Blanda, George Frederick
Twombly, W. Blanda. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Blanton, Smiley
Blanton, S. Diary of my analysis with Sigmund Freud. (My '72)
- Blaze of glory. Carter, S. (Mr '72)
- Blak November. O'Grady, R. (Ap '72)
- Blimey! another book about London. Goddard, D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Blind
Krents, H. To race with the wind. (O '72)
- Blind man on a freeway. Moore, W. (S '72)
- Blindness and insight. De Man, P. (Ap '72)
- Blitzkrieg era and the German general staff, 1865-1941. Addington, L. H. (Ag '72)
- Blixen, Karen (Dinesen), Baroness
Hannah, D. "Isak Dinesen" and Karen Blixen. (Ag '72)
- Blood
Circulation
Whitteridge, G. William Harvey and the circulation of the blood. (Mr '72)

- Blood in my eye. Jackson, G. L. (My '72)
 Blood on a harvest moon. Anthony, D. (My '72)
- Bloomfield, Leonard
 Bloomfield, L. Leonard Bloomfield anthology. (Je '72)
- Blossoming world. Bates, H. E. (Ap '72)
 Blow my blues away. Mitchell, G. (My '72)
 Blow ye winds westerly. Gemming, E. (Ag '72)
- Blowing the whistle. Peters, C., ed. (S '72)
 Blowout at Platform A. Dye, L. (Ap '72)
 Blue Berets. Harbottle, M. (Je '72)
 Blue-collar workers. Levitan, S. A., ed. (Ag '72)
 Blue collars and hard-hats. Sexton, P. C. (Mr '72)
 Blue heaven bends over all. Oliver, J. (S '72)
 Blue knight. Wambaugh, J. (My '72)
 Blue Rider. Roethel, H. K. (O '72)
 Blue River. May, J. (Je '72)
- Blues (Songs, etc.)
 Mitchell, G. Blow my blues away. (My '72)
 Oliver, P. Aspects of the blues tradition. (D '72)
- Blueschild baby. Cain, G. (Ap '72)
 Blueshirts. Manning, M. (O '72)
- Boar's Head Theatre, London
 Sisson, C. J. Boar's Head Theatre. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Boar's Head Theatre. Sisson, C. J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Boat in the evening. Vesaas, T. (My '72)
 Bodhicaryāvatāra. Śāntideva. See Śāntideva. Entering the path of enlightenment. (Mr '72)
- Bodies in motion. Kotker, Z. (S '72)
 Body and antibody. Wilson, D. (S '72)
 Body of a girl. Gilbert, M. (S '72)
 Body time. Luce, G. G. (Mr '72)
 Bodyguard. Mitchell, A. (S '72)
- Bohemianism
 Cook, B. Beat generation. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Bolivian wedding. Pausewang, G. (Ap '72)
- Bombay (Presidency)
 Catanach, I. J. Rural credit in Western India, 1875-1930. (Je '72)
- Bombs, beards and barricades. Esler, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Bonanno, Bill. See Bonanno, S.
- Bonanno, Joseph
 Talese, G. Honor thy father. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Bonanno, Salvatore
 Talese, G. Honor thy father. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Bonaparte, Joseph, King of Spain. See Joseph Bonaparte, King of Spain
- Bonarjee, N. B.
 Bonarjee, N. B. Under two masters. (My '72)
- Bond, Horace Mann
 Williams, R. M. Bonds. (Mr '72)
- Bond, James
 Williams, R. M. Bonds. (Mr '72)
- Bond, Julian
 Williams, R. M. Bonds. (Mr '72)
- Bonds. Williams, R. M. (Mr '72)
- Bonecrack. Francis, D. (Ag '72)
- Bonhoeffer, Dietrich
 Bonhoeffer, D. Letters and papers from prison [enl ed.]. (My '72)
 Dumas, A. Dietrich Bonhoeffer: theologian of reality. (D '72)
 Ott, H. Reality and faith. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Bonnie Prince Charlie. McLaren, M. (D '72)
- Bonus Expeditionary Force, 1932
 Daniels, R. Bonus March. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Bonus March. Daniels, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Book catalogs. Tauber, M. F., comp. (Je '72)
- Book collecting
 Quayle, E. Collector's book of children's books. (S '72)
- Book industries and trade
 Comparato, F. E. Books for the millions. (D '72)
 Taubert, S., ed. Book trade of the world, v 1. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Book of Alfred Kantor. Kantor, A. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Book of charms and changelings. Manning-Sanders, R. (Ag '72)
- Book of flights. Le Clezio, J. M. G. (Ap '72)
- Book of gold. Blakemore, K. (Ap '72)
- Book of Sansevero. Glovene, A. (Mr '72)
- Book of the gods and rites and The ancient calendar. Duran, F. D. (N '72)
- Book of Thel. Blake, W. (D '72)
- Book of time. Coleman, L. (Je '72)
- Book of world-famous music [rev & enl ed.]. Fuld, J. J. (Ag '72)
- Book publishing: inside views. Kujoth, J. S., comp. (Je '72)
- Book reviews
 Downs, R. B. Famous American books. (S '72)
 Prescott, P. S. Soundings. (S '72)
- Book selection
 Advances in understanding approval and gathering plans in academic libraries. (Mr '72)
- Book that never was. Dunlap, J. R. (Mr '72)
- Book trade of the world, v 1. Taubert, S., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Bookbinding
 Comparato, F. E. Books for the millions. (D '72)
- Books
 History
 Johnson, A. F. Selected essays on books and printing. (Ap '72)
- Books and reading
 Barr, S. Voices that endured. (Ap '72)
 Downs, R. B. Famous American books. (S '72)
 Future of general adult books and reading in America. (N '72)
 Proust, M. On reading. (Ap '72)
- Books for the millions. Comparato, F. E. (D '72)
- Booksellers and bookselling
 Taubert, S., ed. Book trade of the world, v 1. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Booth, Edwin
 Booth, E. Between actor and critic. (Mr '72)
- Border kibbutz. Gorkin, M. (My '72)
- Border wardens. Myers, J. M. (Ap '72)
- Borges, Jorge Luis
 Dunham, L., ed. Cardinal points of Borges. (N '72)
 Stabb, M. S. Jorge Luis Borges. (O '72)
- Born, Hedwig
 Einstein, A. Born-Einstein letters. (Mr '72)
- Born, Max
 Einstein, A. Born-Einstein letters. (Mr '72)
- Born-Einstein letters. Einstein, A. (Mr '72)
- Bosch, Hieronymous (Hieronymous Van Aeken)
 Bosch. Complete paintings of Bosch. (Ap '72)
- Boston
 Charities
 Huggins, N. I. Protestants against poverty. (Ap '72)
- Description
 Views
 Bunting, W. H., comp. Portrait of a port. (Ap '72)
- History
 Knights, P. R. Plain people of Boston, 1830-1860: a study in city growth. (S '72)
 Seaburg, C. Boston observed. (O '72)
- Politics and government
 Lupo, A. Rites of way. (Ag '72)
- Population
 Knights, P. R. Plain people of Boston, 1830-1860: a study in city growth. (S '72)
- Social conditions
 Huggins, N. I. Protestants against poverty. (Ap '72)
- The Boston Globe
 Lyons, L. M. Newspaper story. (Mr '72)
- Boston observed. Seaburg, C. (O '72)
- Botany
 Terminology
 Larson, J. L. Reason and experience. (Je '72)
- Botany, Medical
 Emboden, W. A. Narcotic plants. (S '72)
- Boundaries of the universe. Glasby, J. S. (N '72)
- Bowles, Paul Frederic
 Bowles, P. Without stopping. (My '72)
- Boxer rebellion. Werstein, I. (D '72)
- Boxers
 Giles, L. Siege of the Peking legations. (N '72)
- Juvenile literature
 Werstein, I. Boxer rebellion. (D '72)

Boxing

- Fisher, A. Garden of innocents. (N '72)
 Moore, A. Any boy can. (Mr '72)
 Pepe, P. Come out smokin'. (My '72)

History

- Fleisher, N. Jack Dempsey. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Boys

- Harrington, C. C. Errors in sex-role behavior in teen-age boys. (Mr '72)
 Boys of summer. Kahn, R. (My '72)

Bradlaugh, Charles

- Tribe, D. President Charles Bradlaugh, M. P. (Ap '72)

Bradley, Helen

- Bradley, H. And Miss Carter wore pink. (Ag '72)

Bradstreet, Anne (Dudley)

- White, E. W. Anne Bradstreet, "the tenth muse." (Je '72)

Brady, James Buchanan

- Burke, J. Duet in diamonds. (O '72)

Brahmin in revolt. Baker, L. (My '72)*Brahms, Johannes

- James, B. Brahms: a critical study. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Brain

- Freedman, R. Brains of animals and man. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Stevens, L. A. Explorers of the brain. (Ag '72)

Diseases*See also*Aphasia

- Brains of animals and man. Freedman, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Braithwaite, Edward Ricardo

- Braithwaite, E. R. Reluctant neighbors. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Brandeis, Louis Dembitz

- Brandeis, L. D. Letters of Louis D. Brandeis, v 1. (Mr '72)

Brandt, Willy

- Brandt, W. In exile. (Je '72)

Brass ring. Mauldin, B. (Mr '72)*Brave new baby. Rorvik, D. M. (Ag '72)*Braving the elements. Merrill, J. (N '72)*Bravo, Florence (Campbell)*Fiction

- Jenkins, E. Dr. Gully's story. (Je '72)

Brazil*Civilization

- Saunders, J., ed. Modern Brazil. (S '72)

Commercial policy

- Bergsman, J. Brazil: industrialization and trade. (Ap '72)

History

- Schneider, R. M. Political system of Brazil. (Ag '72)

Industries

- Bergsman, J. Brazil: industrialization and trade. (Ap '72)

Politics and government

- De Kadt, E. Catholic radicals in Brazil. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Love, J. L. Rio Grande do Sul and Brazilian regionalism, 1882-1930. (My '72)

- Schneider, R. M. Political system of Brazil. (Ag '72)

- Stepan, A. Military in politics. (Mr '72)

Race relations

- Degler, C. N. Neither black nor white. (N '72)

Social conditions

- Saunders, J., ed. Modern Brazil. (S '72)

- Brazil: industrialization and trade. Bergsman, J. (Ap '72)

Brazilian literature*History and criticism

- Martins, W. Modernist idea. (My '72)

Brazilian poetry*Collections

- Bishop, E. Anthology of twentieth-century Brazilian poetry. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Bread dough craft book. Sommer, E. (D '72)

- Break of time. Pauli, H. (Je '72)

- Breaking the access barriers. Medsker, L. L. (Ag '72)

- Breaklight. Salkey, A., ed. (D '72)

- Breast. Roth, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Brecht, Bertolt

- Wulbern, J. H. Brecht and Ionesco: commitment in context. (Ap '72)

- Brecht and Ionesco: commitment in context. Wulbern, J. H. (Ap '72)

- Brendan Behan. Eng title of: Brendan. O'Connor, U. (Je '72)

Bresson, Robert

- Schrader, P. Transcendental style in film: Ozu, Bresson, Dreyer. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Brethren of the Free Spirit

- Lerner, R. E. Heresy of the free spirit in the later middle ages. (N '72)

Breton, André

- Balakian, A. André Breton. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Caws, M. A. André Breton. (Ag '72)

- Brewer's Dictionary of phrase and fable [Century ed]. (Ap '72)

- Bride of the revolution. McNeal, R. H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Bride wore the traditional gold. Spivak, T. (Ag '72)

Bridge, Mountzoures, H. L. (S '72)

- Bridge across the Bosphorus. Vali, F. A. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Bright and morning star. Harris, R. (S '72)

- Bright essence: studies in Milton's theology.

- Hunter, W. B. (Mr '72)

- Bring me a unicorn. Lindbergh, A. M. (My '72)

- Britain and Ireland in early Christian times, AD 400-800. Thomas, C. (Ag '72)

- Britain and West Germany: changing societies and the future of foreign policy. Kaiser, K. (Ag '72)

- Britain, India, and the Arabs, 1914-1921.

- Busch, B. C. (My '72)

- Britain's economic prospects reconsidered. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Britain's railways. Pollins, H. (S '72)

Britannia (Rowboat)

- Fairfax, J. Britannia: rowing alone across the Atlantic. (S '72)

- Britannia: rowing alone across the Atlantic. Fairfax, J. (S '72)

- British academics. Halsey, A. H. (Ap '72)

- British-Americans. Norton, M. B. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- British army. Hamer, W. S. (Ag '72)

- British Commonwealth of Nations. See Commonwealth of Nations

- British general election of 1970. Butler, D. (My '72)

British in Africa

- Gifford, P., ed. France and Britain in Africa. (N '72)

British in Egypt

- Mansfield, P. British in Egypt. (Je '72)

British in India

- Gardner, B. East India Company. (Mr '72)

- Parry, B. Delusions and discoveries. (D '72)

British in Ireland

- Watt, J. A. Church and the two nations in medieval Ireland. (S '72)

British in the United States

- Coleman, T. Going to America. (Ag '72)

British in the West Indies

- Bridenbaugh, C. No peace beyond the line. (Ag '72)

- Dunn, R. S. Sugar and slaves. (D '72)

- British politics and European unity. Lieber, R. J. (My '72)

- British press and Germany, 1936-1939. Gannon, F. R. (Ag '72)

British Steel (Sailboat)

- Blyth, C. Impossible voyage. (S '72)

- British strategy in the Far East, 1919-1939. Louis, W. R. (My '72)

- British Tanganyika. Heussler, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- British war aims and peace diplomacy, 1914-1918. Rothwell, V. H. (Je '72)

- Britons view America. Rapson, R. L. (Ag '72)

- Broadcasting and government: responsibilities and regulations [rev ed]. Emery, W. B. (My '72)

- Broken Image. Stearn, G. E. (Je '72)

Brontë, Emily Jane

- Gérin, W. Emily Brontë. (My '72)

- Bronterre: a political biography of Bronterre O'Brien, 1804-1864. Plummer, A. (My '72)

Bronzes

- Moorey, P. R. S. Catalogue of the ancient Persian bronzes in the Ashmolean Museum. (O '72)

Brooke, Fulke Greville, 1st Baron

- Rebholz, R. A. Life of Fulke Greville, first Lord Brooke. (O '72)

- Brooke, Sylvia Leonora (Brett) Lady, Rani of Sarawak
Brooke, S. Queen of the head hunters. (S '72)
- Brooklyn Bridge
McCullough, D. Great bridge. (D '72)
- Brooklyn Dodgers (Baseball team)
Kahn, R. Boys of summer. (My '72)
- Brooks, Van Wyck
Wasserstrom, W. Legacy of Van Wyck Brooks. (S '72)
- Brothers. Cooper, W. (Je '72)
- Brothers' war. De St. Jorre, J. (D '72)
- Brown, George. See George-Brown, G. A. B. Baron
- Brown bomber. Nagler, B. (Ag '72)
- Browne, Henry R.
Milligan, J. D., ed. From the fresh water navy: 1861-64. (Je '72)
- Browne, Symmes E.
Milligan, J. D. ed. From the fresh water navy: 1861-64. (Je '72)
- Brownsville, Texas
Riot, ~~1968~~
Lane, A. J. Brownsville affair. (S '72)
- Brownsville affair. Lane, A. J. (S '72)
- Bruce, Frederick Fyvie
Gasque, W. W. ed. Apostolic history and the gospel. (Mr '72)
- Bruckner, Anton
Schonzeiler, H. H. Bruckner. (Ap '72)
- Brueghel, Pieter, the elder
Clessens, B. Our Bruegel. (My '72)
- Seidel, M. Bruegel. (Mr '72)
- Bruegel, Seidel, M. (Mr '72)
- Brunelleschi, Filippo
Manetti, A. di T. Life of Brunelleschi. (S '72)
- Bryant, William Cullen
Brown, C. H. William Cullen Bryant. (Ap '72)
- Bryher
Bryher, Days of Mars. (O '72)
- Bucer, Martin
Stephens, W. P. Holy Spirit in the theology of Martin Bucer. (S '72)
- Buck, Pearl (Sydenstricker)
Harris, T. F. Pearl S. Buck, v2. (Mr '72)
- Buck Fever papers. Anderson, S. (O '72)
- Bucks and bruisers. Reid, J. C. (O '72)
- Budapest
Description
Roth, E. Tale of three cities. (Je '72)
- Buddha and Buddhism
Saddhatissa, H. Buddha's way. (S '72)
- Santideva. Entering the path of enlightenment. (Mr '72)
- See also
Zen Buddhism
History
Grousset, R. In the footsteps of the Buddha. (My '72)
- Buddha, Confucius, Christ. Hartmann, S. (O '72)
- Buddha's way. Saddhatissa, H. (S '72)
- Buddhist art. See Art, Buddhist
- Budget
United States
Brundage, P. F. Bureau of the Budget. (My '72)
- Schultze, C. L. Setting national priorities: the 1972 budget. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Buganda
Politics and government
Low, D. A. Buganda in modern history. (Ag '72)
- Buganda in modern history. Low, D. A. (Ag '72)
- Building blocks of life. Vishniac, R. (My '72)
- Building in the USSR, 1917-1932. Shvidkovski, O. A. (Ap '72)
- Building Sullivan's pyramid. Kinnison, W. A. (Mr '72)
- Building the city of man. Wagar, W. W. (S '72)
- Bulbs
Crockett, J. U. Bulbs. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Bulgaria
Politics and government
Oren, N. Bulgarian communism. (Ag '72)
- Bulgarian communism. Oren, N. (Ag '72)
- Bulgarska komunisticheska partila. See Communist party (Bulgaria)
- Bullfight
Botsford, K. Domingula. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Bultmann, Rudolf
Future of our religious past. (S '72)
- Bunkhouse papers. Terrell, J. U. (Ap '72)
- Buenarreti, Michel Angelo. See Michelangelo Buonarreti
- Bureau of the Budget. Brundage, P. F. (My '72)
- Bureaucracy
Anecdotes, facetiae, satire, etc.
Boren, J. E. When in doubt, mumble. (D '72)
- Burgess, Guy Francis de Moncy
Rees, G. Chapter of accidents. (Je '72)
- Burglary protection
Treves, R. Do-it-yourself home protection. (S '73)
- Buried treasure
Cousteau, J.-Y. Diving for sunken treasure. (Je '72)
- Burlington, North Carolina
Race relations
Jordan, P. Black coach. (Mr '72)
- Burne-Jones, Sir Edward
Dunlop, J. R. Book that never was. (Mr '72)
- Burning thorn. Greaves, G., comp. (Mr '72)
- Burns, Robert
Daiches, D. Robert Burns and his world. (Ag '72)
- Burroughs, Edgar Rice
Farmer, P. J. Tarzan alive. (N '72)
- Burton, Richard, 1825-
Cottrell, J. Richard Burton: very close up. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Bush is burning! Waskow, A. L. (My '72)
- Business
Blair, J. M. Economic concentration. (N '72)
- Kraus, A. L. New York Times guide to business and finance. (D '72)
- History
Cochran, T. C. Business in American life. (O '72)
- Douglass, E. P. Coming of age of American business. (Ag '72)
- Social aspects
Lebow, V. "Free enterprise." (N '72)
- Business and politics in America from the age of Jackson to the Civil War. Cohen, H. (My '72)
- Business combinations. See Trusts, Industrial
- Business cycles
Fiamant, M. Modern economic crises and recessions. (Ag '72)
- Business enterprises, Foreign
United States
Faith, N. Infiltrators. (S '72)
- Business ethics
Acton, H. B. Morals of markets. (N '72)
- Business in American life. Cochran, T. C. (O '72)
- Businessman's international travel guide. Donovan, J. (Ag '72)
- Busted. Rosengart, O. A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Busy people's cookbook. Nemiro, R. A. (Mr '72)
- But not on our block. Viscardi, H. (Ag '72)
- Butcher, Fanny
Butcher, F. Many lives—one love. (S '73)
- Butkus, Dick
Butkus, D. Stop-action. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Butler, Josephine
Petrie, G. Singular iniquity. (Je '72)
- Butterfield, William
Thompson, P. William Butterfield. (Ag '72)
- Butterflies
McCubbin, C. Australian butterflies. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Butterflies of the province. Tracy, H. (Ap '72)
- Burying country property: pitfalls and pleasures. Price, I. (Ag '72)
- Byrd, William
Marambaud, P. William Byrd of Westover. 1674-1744. (My '72)
- Byron, George Gordon No.1 Byron, 6th Baron
Woodhouse, C. M. Philhellenes. (S '72)
- Hebrew melodies
Ashton, T. L. Byron's Hebrew melodies. (D '72)
- Byron's Hebrew melodies. Ashton, T. L. (D '72)
- Byzantine commonwealth. Obolensky, D. (Ap '73)

Byzantine Empire

Civilization

- Obolensky, D. Byzantine commonwealth. (Ap '72)
 Vryonis, S. Decline of medieval Hellenism in Asia Minor and the process of Islamization from the eleventh through the fifteenth century. (Ag '72)

Foreign relations

- Obolensky, D. Byzantine commonwealth. (Ap '72)

History

- Obolensky, D. Byzantine commonwealth. (Ap '72)
 Vryonis, S. Decline of medieval Hellenism in Asia Minor and the process of Islamization from the eleventh through the fifteenth century. (Ag '72)
 Byzantine Jewry: from Justinian to the fourth crusade. Sharf, A. (Ag '72)
 Byzantine missions among the Slavs. Dvornik, F. (Ag '72)
 Byzantine-Slav liturgy of St. John Chrysostom. Kucharek, C. (Je '72)

CATV. See Community antenna television

Cable television. See Community antenna television

Cable television. Price, M. E. (My '72)

Cadmus

Juvenile literature

- Farmer, P. Serpent's teeth. (N '72)
 Cadogan, Sir Alexander George Montagu
 Cadogan, A. Diaries of Sir Alexander Cadogan, 1938-1945. (My '72)
 Caesar, Caius Julius
 Weinstock, S. Divus Julius. (D '72)
 Cage, John
 Kostelanetz, R., ed. John Cage. (Ap '72)
 Cage until tame. Henderson, L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Cages. Covert, P. (Ap '72)

Cairo

Description

- Abu-Lughod, J. L. Cairo: 1001 years of the city victorious. (Ap '72)

History

- Abu-Lughod, J. L. Cairo: 1001 years of the city victorious. (Ap '72)
 Cairo. Egyptian museum
 Terrace, E. L. B. Treasures of the Cairo museum. (Ap '72)

Cairo, Illinois

History

- Lantz, H. R. Community in search of itself. (Ag '72)
 Cairo: 1001 years of the city victorious. Abu-Lughod, J. L. (Ap '72)

Calcutta

History

- Moorhouse, G. Calcutta. (Ap '72)
 Calcutta. Moorhouse, G. (Ap '72)
 Calendars
 Duran, F. D. Book of the gods and rites and The ancient calendar. (N '72)

California

Antiquities

- Heizer, R. F., ed. California Indians [2d ed rev & enl]. (My '72)

Description and travel

- Murray, W. Previews of coming attractions. (Je '72)

Politics and government

- Putnam, J. K. Old-age politics in California. (My '72)
 Samish, A. H. Secret boss of California. (Ap '72)
 Saxton, A. Indispensable enemy. (Mr '72)

Social life and customs

- Murray, W. Previews of coming attractions. (Je '72)
 California. San Fernando Valley State College, Los Angeles
 Anthony, E. Time of the furnaces. (Mr '72)
 California. State College, San Francisco
 Litwak, L. College days in earthquake country. (Ag '72)
 Pentony, D. Unfinished rebellions. (S '72)

California classics. Powell, L. C. (Mr '72)

California Indians [2d ed rev & enl]. Heizer, R. F., ed. (My '72)

California water. Seckler, D., ed. (My '72)

Calisher, Hortense

Calisher, H. Herself. (D '72)

Call: an autobiography. Roberts, O. (Ap '72)

Call to revolution. Maurer, C. E. (O '72)

Calligraphy. See Writing

Caloric theory of gases: from Lavoisier to Regnault. Fox, R. (My '72)

Cambrian of the new world. Holland, C. H., ed. (Je '72)

Cambridge ancient history [3d ed] v 1, pt 1. (Je '72)

Camelot and the vision of Albion. Ashe, G. (My '72)

Cameron, R. Crichton, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Cameroun

Politics and government

- Rubin, N. Cameroun. (Ag '72)
 Campaign funds
 Alexander, H. E. Money in politics. (Ag '72)
 McCarthy, M. Elections for sale. (Ag '72)
 Winter-Berger, R. N. Washington pay-off. (O '72)

Campaigns, Political. See Politics, Practical
 Campfires of the resistance. Gitlin, T., comp. (S '72)

Campus challenge. Bakke, E. W. (Ag '72)

Campus disorders. See Students—Political activity

Camus, Albert

Brée, G. Camus and Sartre. (O '72)
 Freeman, E. Theatre of Albert Camus. (Mr '72)

Camus and Sartre. Brée, G. (O '72)

Can language be planned? Rubin, J., ed. (O '72)

Can we survive our future? Urban, G. R., ed. (D '72)

Canada

Description and travel

Mackenzie, A. Journals and letters of Sir Alexander Mackenzie. (Je '72)

Foreign relations

Russia

Balawyder, A. Canadian-Soviet relations between the world wars. (N '72)

History

19th century

Berton, P. Impossible railway. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Immigration and emigration

Emerick, K. F. War resisters Canada. (S '72)

Politics and government

Stewart, W. Trudeau in power. (Ap '72)
 Trudeau, P. E. Conversation with Canadians. (D '72)

Social conditions

Ossenberg, R. J., ed. Canadian society: pluralism, change, and conflict. (O '72)

Canadian libraries [2d ed rev & enl]. Campbell, H. C. (Je '72)

Canadian Pacific Railway

Berton, P. Impossible railway. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Canadian poetry

Collections

Gill, J., ed. New American and Canadian poetry. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Canadian society: pluralism, change, and conflict. Ossenberg, R. J., ed. (O '72)

Canadian-Soviet relations between the world wars. Balawyder, A. (N '72)

Canal, Antonio, known as Canaletto

Canaletto. Complete paintings of Canaletto. (My '72)

Cancer

Campion, R. Invisible worm. (D '72)
 Harris, R. J. C., ed. What we know about cancer. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Candles

Newman, T. R. Creative candlemaking. (N '72)

Canning and preserving

Green, J. Gift-giver's cookbook. (Mr '72)

Cape Horn

Villiers, A. War with Cape Horn. (My '72)

Cape of storms. Davis, J. G. (Je '72)

Capitalism

- Bell, D. Capitalism today. (Ap '72)
 Lebow, V. "Free enterprise." (N '72)
 Ollman, B. Alienation. (My '72)
 Palmade, G. P. French capitalism in the nineteenth century (1961). (N '72)
 Papandreou, A. G. Paternalistic capitalism. (Ag '72)
 Reynolds, L. C. Three worlds of economics. (Ag '72)
 Sherman, H. Radical political economy. (Ag '72)
 Weisberg, B. Beyond repair. (Mr '72)
 Capitalism and modern social theory. Giddens, A. (Ag '72)
 Capitalism today. Bell, D. (Ap '72)
 Capitalists and financiers
 Domhoff, G. W. Fat cats and Democrats. (O '72)
 Josephson, M. Money lords. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Thomas, D. L. Money crowd. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Caprifoil. McGivern, W. P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Captain Blackman. Williams, J. A. (O '72)
 Captain Cook. MacLean, A. (D '72)
 Captive princess. Morand, P. (O '72)
 Car. Crews, H. (My '72)
 Car thief. Weesner, T. (O '72)
 Carasov, Victor
 Carasov, V. Two gentlemen to see you, Sir. (Mr '72)
 Cardinal points of Borges. Dunham, L., ed. (N '72)
 Cardoso, Isaac Fernando
 Yerushalmi, Y. H. From Spanish court to Italian ghetto. (S '72)
 Career guidance. Ginzberg, E. (Mr '72)
 Caribbean area

Economic conditions

- Andic, F. Theory of economic integration for developing countries. (N '72)
 Crassweller, R. D. Caribbean community. (D '72)

Foreign relations

- Corkran, H. Patterns of international co-operation in the Caribbean, 1942-1969. (Mr '72)

Politics

- Crassweller, R. D. Caribbean community. (D '72)
 Caribbean community. Crassweller, R. D. (D '72)

Caribbean poetry*Collections

- Salkey, A., ed. Breaklight. (D '72)
 Carl Becker on history and the American Revolution. Brown, R. E. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Carlingford, Chichester Samuel Fortescue, Baron
 Carlingford, Lord. Lord Carlingford's journal: reflections of a cabinet minister, 1885. (S '72)

- Carnegie Corporation of New York
 Vann, S. K. Williamson reports. (O '72)

- Caroline Matilda, consort of Christian VII, King of Denmark
 Chapman, H. W. Caroline Matilda: Queen of Denmark. (Je '72)

- Caroline Matilda: Queen of Denmark. Chapman, H. W. (Je '72)

- Carolingians and the Frankish monarchy. Ganshof, F. L. (My '72)

Carols*Juvenile literature

- Slaughter, J. And it came to pass. (Mr '72)
 Carracci, Annibale
 Posner, D. Annibale Carracci: a study in the reform of Italian painting around 1590. (Ag '72)
 Carroll, Lewis. See Dodgson, C. L.
 Carrot and other root vegetables. Selsam, M. E. (My '72)

Carson, Christopher

- Kelly, L. Navajo roundup. (Je '72)

Carson, Rachel Louise

- Brooks, F. House of life: Rachel Carson at work. (Je '72)

Carter, Elliott Cook

- Edwards, A. Flawed words and stubborn sounds. (Ag '72)

Cartography. See Maps*Cartoons and caricatures

- Block, H. Herblock's state of the Union. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Caruso, Enrico

- Jackson, S. Caruso. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Carving, Wood. See Wood carving

- Case against having children. Silverman, A. (Ag '72)

- Case for optimism. Freeman, J. D. (Mr '72)

- Case history of Comrade V. Sloan, J. P. (Ag '72)

- Case of Robert Quarry. Garve, A. (S '72)

- Case of the midwife toad. Koestler, A. (Je '72)

- Case studies in marketing. Berman, L. (S '72)

Cassirer, Ernst

- Itzkoff, S. W. Ernst Cassirer: scientific knowledge and the concept of man. (Ap '72)

Caste

- Bouglé, C. Essays on the caste system. (D '72)

- Dumont, L. Homo hierarchicus. (Mr '72)

- Hiebert, F. G. Konduru: structure and integration in a South Indian village. (S '72)

Castile*History

- Miller, T. Henry IV of Castile, 1425-1474. (D '72)

Castles

- Guinness, D. Irish houses and castles. (Mr '72)

- Warner, P. Medieval castle. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

- Adkins, J. Art and industry of sandcastles. (Je '72)

- Casual groups of monkeys and men. Cohen, J. E. (Ap '72)

- Catalog of motion pictures produced in the United States, American film institute. American Film Institute. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Cataloging

- Corbin, J. B. Technical services manual for small libraries. (Ag '72)

Catalogs, Book

- Tauber, M. F., comp. Book catalogs. (Je '72)

- Catalogue of British drawings for architecture, decoration, sculpture and landscape gardening, 1550-1900, in American collections. Harris, J. (N '72)

- Catalogue of the ancient Persian bronzes in the Ashmolean Museum. Moorey, P. R. S. (O '72)

Catalonia*History

- Shneidman, J. L. Rise of the Aragonese-Catalan empire, 1200-1350. 2v. (My '72)

- Catastrophe survived. Burnett, A. P. (S '72)

- Catch the falling flag. Whalen, R. J. (O '72)

- Catfish. Hurd, E. T. (Mr '72)

Catherine II, Empress of Russia

- Raeff, M., ed. Catherine the Great. (S '72)

Cather, Willa Sibert

- Woodress, J. Willa Cather. (Ag '72)

- Catherine the Great. Raeff, M., ed. (S '72)

Catholic Church

- Eppstein, J. Has the Catholic Church gone mad? (Ap '72)

- St. John-Stevan, N. Agonising choice. (Ap '72)

- Wills, G. Bare ruined choirs. (D '72)

Clergy

- Greeley, A. M. Priests in the United States. (Je '72)

- Küng, H. Why priests? (S '72)

Doctrinal and controversial works, Popular

- Eppstein, J. Has the Catholic Church gone mad? (Ap '72)

Finance

- Collin, J. Worldly goods. (Mr '72)

History

- Martin, M. Three popes and the cardinal. (Je '72)

- Pullan, B. Rich and poor in Renaissance Venice. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Missions

- Rachewiltz, I. de. Papal envoys to the great khans. (S '72)

Catholic Church in Germany

- Walker, L. D. Hitler youth and Catholic youth. 1933-1936. (My '72)

Catholic Church in Ireland

- Whyte, J. H. Church and state in modern Ireland, 1923-1970. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Catholic Church in Latin America

- Mutchler, D. E. Church as a political factor in Latin America. (My '72)

- Turner, F. C. Catholicism and political development in Latin America. (Ap '72)

Catholic Church in Mexico

Bazant, J. Alienation of church wealth in Mexico. (S '72)

Catholic Church in the United States

Gollin, J. Worldly goods. (Mr '72)
O'Brien, D. J. Renewal of American Catholicism. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Catholic radicals in Brazil. De Kadt, E. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Catholicism and political development in Latin America. Turner, F. C. (Ap '72)

Catholics in Brazil

De Kadt, E. Catholic radicals in Brazil. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Catholics in the United States

Novak, M. All the Catholic people. (My '72)
O'Brien, D. J. Renewal of American Catholicism. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Catlin, George*Juvenile literature

Rockwell, A. Paintbrush & peacepipe: the story of George Catlin. (Je '72)

Cats*Stories

DeJong, M. Almost all-white rabbit cat. (Ag '72)
De Jong, M. Easter cat. (S '72)
Hurd, E. T. Catfish. (Mr '72)
Potter, B. Sly old cat. (Ag '72)
Viorst, J. Tenth good thing about Barney. (Ag '72)

Caucasus*History

Burney, C. Peoples of the hills. (O '72)

Cavalcade of sea legends. Brown, M., ed. (S '72)

Cavalier mode from Jonson to Cotton. Miner, E. (My '72)

Caves*Juvenile literature

Bauer, E. Mysterious world of caves. (O '72)

Cavour, Count Camillo Benso di

Mack Smith, D. Victor Emanuel, Cavour, and the Risorgimento. (D '72)

Caxton, William

Blades, W. Biography and typography of William Caxton, England's first printer. (O '72)

Cayuse Indians

Ruby, R. H. Cayuse Indians. (D '72)

Celebrate the temporary. Reid, C. (S '72)

Celebration of life. Mueller, W. R. (S '72)

Céline, Louis Ferdinand. See Destouches, L. F.

Céline. Thiher, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Cells

Gillie, O. Living cell. (Mr '72)

Padykula, H. A. Control mechanisms in the expression of cellular phenotypes. (Je '72)

Weiss, L. Cells and tissues of the immune system. (D '72)

Cells and tissues of the immune system. Weiss, L. (D '72)

Censorship

Censorship: for & against. (My '72)

Hamšik, D. Writers against rulers. (My '72)

Medvedev, Z. A. Medvedev papers. (Ag '72)

(1971 Annual)

Reddaway, P. Uncensored Russia. (Je '72)

Censorship: for & against. (My '72)

Center of the cyclone. Lilly, J. C. (S '72)

Central Europe*Politics

Carsten, F. L. Revolution in central Europe, 1918-19. (S '72)

Centralized processing for academic libraries. Dougherty, R. M. (O '72)

Century of Russian agriculture. Volin, L. (My '72)

Ceramic art of Great Britain, 1800-1900. Jewitt's. Godden, G. A., ed. (O '72)

Ceramics

Godden, G. A., ed. Jewitt's ceramic art of Great Britain, 1800-1900. (O '72)

Certain democrat: Senator Henry M. Jackson. Prochnau, W. W. (S '72)

Cervantes Saavedra, Miguel de*Don Quixote

Efron, A. Don Quixote and the dulcineated world. (Ag '72)

Ceylon*History

Zeylanicus. Ceylon: between Orient and Occident. (O '72)

Ceylon: between Orient and Occident. Zeylanicus. (O '72)

Chagall, Marc

Chagall at the "Met." (N '72)

Chagall at the "Met." (N '72)

Chain indexing. See Indexing

Chain of friendship. Fothergill, J. (My '72)

Chains of opportunity. White, H. C. (S '72)

Chair for Wayne Lonergan. Perry, H. D. (My '72)

Challenge and response. Wellman, C. (My '72)

Challenge of Bangla Desh. Chopra, P., ed. (My '72)

Challenge of the prairie. Drache, H. M. (My '72)

Challenge of war, 1914-1916; v3 of Winston S.

Churchill. Gilbert, M. (Ap '72)

Challenger expedition, 1872-1876

Linklater, E. Voyage of the Challenger. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Challenges for change. McLachlan, G., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Champions of the tennis court. Higdon, H. (Mr '72)

Champlain, Samuel de

Morison, S. E. Samuel de Champlain. (S '72)

Chance and life. Oraison, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Chance and necessity. Monod, J. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Chandler heritage. Haas, B. (Ag '72)

Chanel, Coco

Haedrich, M. Coco Chanel. (S '72)

Chang, Kuo-T'ao

Chang, K.-T. Rise of the Chinese communist party, 1921-1927. v 1. (Ag '72)

Change and continuity in India's villages. Ishwaran, K., ed. (Ap '72)

Change and continuity in infancy. Kagan, J. (Ag '72)

Change and uncertainty in a peasant economy. Cancian, F. (D '72)

Changing careers after thirty-five. Hiestand, D. L. (S '72)

Changing of the guard. Duckett, A. (O '72)

Changing politics of the South. Havard, W. C., ed. (N '72)

Channing, William Ellery

Mendelsohn, J. Channing, the reluctant radical. (N '72)

Channing, the reluctant radical. Mendelsohn, J. (N '72)

Chanson de Roland

Lejeune, R. Legend of Roland in the middle ages. 2v. (Ap '72)

Chant of Jimmie Blacksmith. Keneally, T. (N '72)

Chapin, Mark O'Hara

Chapin, W. Wasted. (Ag '72)

Chaplin, Charles

McCaffrey, D. W., ed. Focus on Chaplin. (My '72)

Chapter of accidents. Rees, G. (Je '72)

Character education

Beck, C. M., ed. Moral education. (My '72)

Character of the good ruler. Breen, T. H. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Character of the poet. Onorato, R. J. (Ap '72)

Characters and characteristics in literature

Donohue, J. W. Dramatic character in the English Romantic age. (Ap '72)

Nelson, G. B. Ten versions of America. (Ag '72)

Pinsker, S. Schlemiel as metaphor. (Mr '72)

Charges. Cook, A. S. (My '72)

Charisma campaigns. Matthews, J. (S '72)

Charities

See also

Boston—Charities

Charlemagne

Ganshof, F. L. Carolingians and the Frankish monarchy. (My '72)

Charles II, King of Great Britain

Ashley, M. Charles II: the man and the statesman. (My '72)

Charles VI, King of France

Palmer, J. J. N. England, France, and Christendom, 1377-99. (N '72)

Charles X, King of France

Reach, V. W. Charles X of France: his life and times. (S '72)

Charles Edward, the Young Pretender

McLaren, M. Bonnie Prince Charlie. (D '72)

Charles II: the man and the statesman. Ashley, M. (My '72)

Charles X of France: his life and times. Beach, V. W. (S '72)

Charles James Fox and the disintegration of the Whig Party, 1782-1794. Mitchell, L. G. (Je '72)

- Charlotte, consort of Maximilian, Emperor of Mexico
Haslip, J. Crown of Mexico. (Ag '72)
- Chartism
Thompson, D., comp. Early Chartists. (Ap '72)
- Chaucer, Geoffrey
Robinson, I. Chaucer and the English tradition. (N '72)
- Chaucer and the English tradition. Robinson, I. (N '72)
- Checking it out. Cole, M. (Je '72)
- Cheetahs
Adamson, J. Pippa's challenge. (D '72)
- Chef's secret cook book. Szathmáry, L. (Mr '72)
- Chelsea, England
History
Holme, T. Chelsea. (My '72)
- Chelsea. Holme, T. (My '72)
- Chemical affinity
Levere, T. H. Affinity and matter. (Ag '72)
- Chemical warfare
Harvest of death. (D '72)
- Thomas, A. Van W. Legal limits on the use of chemical and biological weapons. (Ap '72)
- Chemistry
Bragg, W. L., ed. Physical sciences, 10v. (Royal Institution library of science) (S '72)
- History
Levere, T. H. Affinity and matter. (Ag '72)
- Chernyshevskii: the man and the journalist. Woehrlin, W. F. (Je '72)
- Chernyshevsky, Nikolay Gavrilovich
Woehrlin, W. F. Chernyshevskii: the man and the journalist. (Je '72)
- Cherokee Indians
Reid, J. P. Law of blood. (Je '72)
- Juvenile literature
Bealer, A. W. Only the names remain. (S '72)
- Cherokee law. See Law, Cherokee
- Chesterton, Gilbert Keith
Furlong, W. B. GBS/GKC. (Mr '72)
- Hollis, C. Mind of Chesterton. (Ap '72)
- Chiang, Kai-shek
Loh, P. P. Y. Early Chiang Kai-shek: a study of his personality and politics, 1887-1924. (My '72)
- Chicago
Politics and government
Allswang, J. M. House for all peoples. (Mr '72)
- Tarr, J. A. Study in boss politics: William Lorimer of Chicago. (Ag '72)
- Riot, August 1968
Schultz, J. Motion will be denied. (My '72)
- Chicago. Art Institute
Chicago. Art Institute. Art institute of Chicago. (Ag '72)
- The Chicago Tribune
Edwards, J. E. Foreign policy of Col. McCormick's Tribune, 1929-1941. (N '72)
- Chicanos. Meier, M. S. (O '72)
- Chickasaw Indians
Gibson, A. M. Chickasaws. (Ap '72)
- Chickasaws. Gibson, A. M. (Ap '72)
- Chiefs and councils in Rhodesia. Weinrich, A. K. H. (O '72)
- Ch'ien-lung, Emperor of China
Kahn, H. L. Monarchy in the emperor's eyes. (My '72)
- Child called Noah. Greenfeld, J. (S '72)
- Child in prison camp. Takashima. (S '72)
- Child psychiatry
Gardner, R. A. Therapeutic communication with children. (My '72)
- Howells, J. G., ed. Modern perspectives in child psychiatry. (Ap '72)
- Kramer, E. Art as therapy with children. (Ag '72)
- Smirnoff, V. Scope of child analysis. (S '72)
- Winnicott, D. W. Therapeutic consultations in child psychiatry. (Je '72)
- Child study
Ames, L. B. Stop school failure. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Bloom, L. Language development. (Ap '72)
- Chapman, A. H. Games children play. (Ap '72)
- Children's rights. (Ap '72)
- Coles, R. Migrants, sharecroppers, mountaineers. (My '72)
- Coles, R. South goes North. (My '72)
- Freud, A. Writings of Anna Freud, v7. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Goodman, M. E. Culture of childhood. (Je '72)
- Kagan, J. Change and continuity in infancy. (Ag '72)
- Piaget, J. Mental imagery in the child. (Mr '72)
- Pulaski, M. A. S. Understanding Piaget. (My '72)
- Smirnoff, V. Scope of child analysis. (S '72)
- Winnicott, D. W. Playing and reality. (Mr '72)
- Childbirth
Kitzinger, S. Giving birth. (My '72)
- Children
Hospitals
Stacey, M. Hospitals, children and their families. (My '72)
- Nutrition
Lane, C. Mother's cook & cope book. (S '72)
- Children & fiction. Hildick, W. (Ap '72)
- Children in India
Juvenile literature
Chandavarkar, S. Children of India. (My '72)
- Children in Taiwan
Wilson, R. W. Learning to be Chinese: the political socialization of children in Taiwan. (Mr '72)
- Children in urban society. Hawes, J. M. (Ap '72)
- Children of crisis, v2. See Coles, R. Migrants, sharecroppers, mountaineers. (My '72)
- Children of crisis, v3. See Coles, R. South goes North. (My '72)
- Children of India. Chandavarkar, S. (My '72)
- Children of pride. Myers, R. M., ed. (Ag '72)
- Children of wrath. Hijos de la ira [bilingual ed.]. Alonso, D. (My '72)
- Children teach children. Gartner, A. (Ap '72)
- Children's Crusade, 1212
Gray, G. Z. Children's crusade. (N '72)
- Children's crusade. Gray, G. Z. (N '72)
- Children's libraries. See Libraries, Children's
- Children's literature (Books about)
Praeger, A. Rascals at large; or, The clue in the old nostalgia. (My '72)
- Ward, M. E. Authors of books for young people [2d ed.]. (Ag '72)
- History and criticism
Hildick, W. Children & fiction. (Ap '72)
- Quayle, E. Collector's book of children's books. (S '72)
- Children's literature (Individual titles). See Juvenile literature
- Children's poetry
Allen, T., ed. Whispering wind. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Atwood, A. Haiku: the mood of earth. (Je '72)
- Browning, R. Pied Piper of Hamelin. (Je '72)
- Clifton, L. Everett Anderson's Christmas coming. (Mr '72)
- Cole, W., ed. Oh, that's ridiculous! (O '72)
- Cole, W., ed. Pick me up. (O '72)
- Cole, W., ed. Poet's tales. (Ag '72)
- Coleridge, S. T. Rime of the ancient mariner. (My '72)
- De Regniers, B. S. Red Riding Hood. (Ag '72)
- Gilbert, A. Poems from Sharon's lunch box. (N '72)
- Giovanni, N. Spin a soft black song. (S '72)
- Himler, R., comp. Glad days and other classical poems for children. (S '72)
- Hoban, R. Egg thoughts, and other Frances songs. (S '72)
- Itse, E. M., comp. Hey, bug! and other poems about little things. (S '72)
- Keats, E. J., il. Over in the meadow. (N '72)
- Langstaff, J. Golden vanity. (N '72)
- Lewis, R., ed. I breathe a new song. (D '72)
- Mendoza, G. Moonfish and owl scratchings. (S '72)
- Paterson, A. B. Waltzing Matilda. (Ag '72)
- Rimanelli, G. Poems make pictures. (N '72)
- Rossetti, C. What is pink? (Ag '72)
- Wood, N. Hollering sun. (N '72)
- Children's rights. (Ap '72)
- Children's songs
Rockwell, A., ed. El toro pinto and other songs in Spanish. (S '72)
- Chile
Politics and government
Debray, R. Chilean revolution. (Ap '72)
- Nunn, F. M. Chilean politics, 1920-1931. (O '72)
- Chile. Congress. Senate
Agor, W. H. Chilean senate. (O '72)

- Chilean politics, 1920-1931. Nunn, F. M. (O '72)
 Chilean revolution. Debray, R. (Ap '72)
 Chilean senate. Agor, W. H. (O '72)
 Chill factor. Falkirk, R. (Ap '72)
 Chimera. Barth, J. (N '72)
 Chimpanzees
 Lawick-Goodall, J. van. In the shadow of man. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- China
 Pye, L. W. China: an introduction. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Antiquities
 Treistman, J. M. Prehistory of China. (Ag '72)
- Bibliography
 Teng, S.-Y., comp. Annotated bibliography of selected Chinese reference works [3d ed.]. (O '72)
- Biography
Dictionaries
 Biographical dictionary of republican China, v3-4. (My '72)
- Boundaries
 Chakravarti, P. C. Evolution of India's northern borders. (O '72)
- Civilization
 Breuer, H. Columbus was Chinese. (D '72)
 Coates, A. China, India and the ruins of Washington. (Ag '72)
 Hsu, F. L. K. Americans and Chinese. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Needham, J. Science and civilization in China, v4; pt 3. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Commerce
 Willmott, W. E., ed. Economic organization in Chinese society. (D '72)
- Economic conditions
 Willmott, W. E., ed. Economic organization in Chinese society. (D '72)
 Young, A. N. China's nation-building effort, 1927-1937. (O '72)
- Foreign relations
 Tung, W. L. China and the foreign powers: the impact of and reaction to unequal treaties. (Je '72)
- Germany
 Schrecker, J. E. Imperialism and Chinese nationalism. (My '72)
- Russia
 Clubb, O. E. China & Russia: the "great game". (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Mancall, M. Russia and China. (My '72)
- United States
 Cohen, W. I. America's response to China. (My '72)
 Davies, J. P. Dragon by the tail. (D '72)
 Fairbank, J. K. United States and China [3d ed.]. (Mr '72)
 Israel, J. Progressivism and the open door. (Ag '72)
- History
 Creel, H. G. Origins of statecraft in China, v 1. (S '72)
 Fairbank, J. K. United States and China [3d ed.]. (Mr '72)
 Grousset, R. In the footsteps of the Buddha. (My '72)
 Hookham, H. Short history of China. (Ag '72)
 Kahn, H. L. Monarchy in the emperor's eyes. (My '72)
 Lee, R. H. G. Manchurian frontier in Ch'ing history. (My '72)
 Li, D. J. Ageless Chinese [2d ed.]. (My '72)
 Treistman, J. M. Prehistory of China. (Ag '72)
 Ts'ao, C. Chinese connoisseurship; the Ko Ku Yao Lun. (My '72)
 Wheatley, P. Pivot of the four quarters. (O '72)
- Historiography
 Schneider, L. A. Ku Chieh-kang and China's new history. (My '72)
- Juvenile literature
 Schell, O. Modern China: the story of a revolution. (Ag '72)
 Werstein, I. Boxer rebellion. (D '72)
- Taiiping rebellion, 1850-1864
 Michael, F. Taiiping rebellion, v2-3. (Ag '72)
- Revolution, 1911-1912
 Llew, K. S. Struggle for democracy. (O '72)

Republic, 1912-1949—Juvenile literature

- Goldston, R. Long march, 1934-1935. (Ap '72)
- Intellectual life
 Chang, H. Liang Ch'i-ch'ao and intellectual transition in China, 1890-1907. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Needham, J. Science and civilization in China, v4; pt 3. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Politics and government
 Creel, H. G. Origins of statecraft in China, v 1. (S '72)
- Republic, 1912-1949*
 Bianco, L. Origins of the Chinese revolution, 1915-1949. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Davies, J. P. Dragon by the tail. (D '72)
 Pye, L. W. Warlord politics. (D '72)
- Religion
 Grousset, R. In the footsteps of the Buddha. (My '72)
- China (People's Republic of China)
 Gordon, E. Freedom is a word. (Je '72)
 Hunter, D., ed. We the Chinese. (Ag '72)
 New York Times. New York Times report from Red China. (My '72)
 Topping, S. Journey between two Chinas. (O '72)
 Trager, F. N., ed. Communist China, 1949-1969. (Ap '72)
- Biography
 Klein, D. W. Biographic dictionary of Chinese communism, 1921-1965, 2v. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Commerce
 Mah, F. Foreign trade of mainland China. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Description and travel
 Mehnert, K. China returns. (My '72)
 Snow, E. Long revolution. (D '72)
 Terrill, R. 800,000,000: the real China. (Ag '72)
- Foreign relations
 Fitzgerald, S. China and the overseas Chinese. (N '72)
 Simmonds, J. D. China's world. (Ap '72)
 Weng, B. S. J. Peking's UN policy. (S '72)
- Africa
 Larkin, B. D. China and Africa, 1949-1970. (Ap '72)
- Russia—Bibliography
 Saran, V. Sino-Soviet schism, a bibliography, 1956-1964. (My '72)
- United States
 Dulles, F. R. American policy toward Communist China, 1949-1969. (Je '72)
- History
 Wilson, D. Long march. (My '72)
- Chronology
 Cheng, P. Chronology of the People's Republic of China, from October 1, 1949. (S '72)
- Politics and government
 An, T. S. Mao Tse-tung's cultural revolution. (N '72)
 Dutt, G. China's cultural revolution. (Ag '72)
 Karnow, S. Mao and China. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Lifton, R. J., comp. America and the Asian revolutions. (Ap '72)
 Ling, K. Revenge of heaven: journal of a young Chinese. (My '72)
 Robinson, T. W., ed. Cultural revolution in China. (My '72)
 Solomon, R. H. Mao's revolution and the Chinese political culture. (Mr '72)
- Religion
 MacInnis, D. E., comp. Religious policy and practice in Communist China. (D '72)
- Social life and customs
 Kolatch, J. Sports, politics, and ideology in China. (O '72)
- China (People's Republic of China). Army
 Wilson, D. Long march. (My '72)
 China: an introduction. Pye, L. W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 China and Africa, 1949-1970. Larkin, B. D. (Ap '72)
 China and Japan at war, 1937-1945. Boyle, J. H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 China & Russia: the "great game". Clubb, O. E. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

China and the foreign powers: the impact of and reaction to unequal treaties. Tung, W. L. (Je '72)

China and the overseas Chinese. Fitzgerald, S. (N '72)

China, India and the ruins of Washington. Coates, A. (Ag '72)

China returns. Mehnert, K. (My '72)

Chinantele Indians
Gwaltney, J. L. Thrice shy. (Je '72)

China's cultural revolution. Dutt, G. (Ag '72)

China's nation-building effort, 1927-1937. Young, A. N. (O '72)

China's world. Simmonds, J. D. (Ap '72)

Chinese art of healing. Pálos, S. (Ap '72)

Chinese connoisseurship: the Ko Ku Yao Lun. Ts'ao, C. (My '72)

Chinese in Asia, Southeastern
Fitzgerald, S. China and the overseas Chinese. (N '72)

Chinese in the United States
Light, I. H. Ethnic enterprise in America. (O '72)

Saxton, A. Indispensable enemy. (Mr '72)

Chinese literati on painting. Bush, S. (O '72)

Chinese poetry
Collections
Palandri, A. C. Y. J., ed. Modern verse from Taiwan. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Watson, B. Chinese rhyme-prose. (S '72)

Chinese rhyme-prose. Watson, B. (S '72)

Ch'ing Kao-Tsung. See Ch'ien-lung, Emperor of China

Chirico, Giorgio de. See De Chirico, G.

Chiropody
Fast, J. You and your feet. (Ag '72)

Chisholm, Shirley
Juvenile literature
Hicks, N. Honorable Shirley Chisholm. (Ag '72)

Choice of magic. Manning-Sanders, R. (My '72)

Chosen people. Allegro, J. M. (Ag '72)

Christ Church and reform, 1850-1867. Bill, E. G. W. (Ap '72)

Christian America. Handy, R. T. (Ap '72)

Christian and Muslim in Africa. King, N. Q. (Ap '72)

Christian art and symbolism
Beckwith, J. Early Christian and Byzantine art. (Ap '72)

Schiller, G. Iconography of Christian art, v 1. (Je '72)

Christian biopolitics. Cauthen, K. (My '72)

Christian education. See Religious education

Christian ethics
Berrigan, D. Geography of faith. (My '72)

Gustafson, J. M. Christian ethics and the community. (My '72)

Oraison, M. Morality for moderns. (N '72)

Stringfellow, W. Suspect tenderness. (My '72)

Christian ethics and the community. Gustafson, J. M. (My '72)

Christian humanism of Flannery O'Connor. Eggenschwiler, D. (D '72)

Christian life
Boyd, M. Human like me, Jesus. (Mr '72)

Conversations at Little Gidding. (Ag '72)

DiGiacomo, J. We were never their age. (D '72)

Ellul, J. False presence of the kingdom. (Je '72)

Kennedy, E. C. In the spirit, in the flesh. (My '72)

Oraison, M. Wound of mortality. (Ap '72)

Christian sociology. See Sociology, Christian

Christian unity
Vajta, V., ed. Gospel and unity. (Ag '72)

Christianity
Armstrong, J. Mission: middle America. (Ja '72)

Bloch, E. Athelism in Christianity. (D '72)

Bousset, W. Kyrios Christos. (Mr '72)

Coleridge, S. T. Collected works of Samuel Taylor Coleridge, v 1: Lectures 1795 on politics and religion. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Concise dictionary of the Christian world mission. (Ap '72)

Eberhard, K. D. Alienated Christian. (Ap '72)

Hardon, J. A. Christianity in the twentieth century. (Ag '72)

Johnson, R. L. Counter culture and the vision of God. (Ap '72)

Napier, B. D. On new creation. (Mr '72)

Schillebeeckx, E. World and church. (Ag '72)

Wells, G. A. Jesus of the early Christians. (My '72)

Woods, R. Occult revolution. (My '72)

Philosophy

Cleage, A. B. Black Christian nationalism. (Ag '72)

Skinner, T. How black is the gospel? (S '72)

Christianity and evolution. Teilhard de Chardin, P. (Mr '72)

Christianity and other religions

Haddad, R. M. Syrian Christians in Muslim society. (My '72)

King, N. Q. Christian and Muslim in Africa. (Ap '72)

Moffitt, J. Journey to Gorakhpur. (N '72)

Witt, R. E. Isis in the Graeco-Roman world. (Ap '72)

Christianity and politics

Bruckberger, R. L. God and politics. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Cauthen, K. Christian biopolitics. (My '72)

Leeuwen, A. T. van. Development through revolution. (Mr '72)

Mutchler, D. E. Church as a political factor in Latin America. (My '72)

Christianity and science. See Religion and science

Christianity and war. See War and religion

Christianity in the twentieth century. Hardon, J. A. (Ag '72)

Christmas

Juvenile literature

Barth, E. Holly, reindeer, and colored lights. (Mr '72)

Poetry

See Christmas poetry

Christmas carol, the public reading version. Dickens, C. (N '72)

Christmas coming, Everett Anderson's. Clifton, L. (Mr '72)

Christmas poetry

Juvenile literature

Clifton, L. Everett Anderson's Christmas coming. (Mr '72)

Christmas stories

Manifold, L. F. Christmas window. (Mr '72)

Christmas window. Manifold, L. F. (Mr '72)

Christo, Javachef

Christo. (S '72)

Chronicles of the Hudson. Van Zandt, R., comp. (Ap '72)

Chronology, Historical

Cheng, P. Chronology of the People's Republic of China from October 1, 1949. (S '72)

Chronology of the People's Republic of China from October 1, 1949. Cheng, P. (S '72)

Chrysostom, Saint John

Kucharek, C. Byzantine-Slav liturgy of St. John Chrysostom. (Je '72)

Chung-kuo kung ch'an tang. See Communist party (China)

Church and cinema. Wall, J. M. (My '72)

Church and education

Larson, M. A. When parochial schools close. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Ryan, M. P. We're all in this together. (O '72)

Church and labor

Redekop, J. H., ed. Labor problems in Christian perspective. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Church and race problems

Harrell, D. E. White sects and black men in the recent South. (My '72)

Skinner, T. How black is the gospel? (S '72)

Smith, H. S. In his image, but . . . (N '72)

Church and social problems

Ahlstrom, S. E. Religious history of the American people. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Armstrong, J. Mission: middle America. (S '72)

Ellul, J. False presence of the kingdom. (Je '72)

Harkness, G. Women in church and society. (Ag '72)

Church and state

Catholic Church

Bruckberger, R. L. God and politics. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Church and state in France

Zeldin, T., ed. Conflicts in French society. (Je '72)

Church and state in Germany

Walker, L. D. Hitler youth and Catholic youth, 1933-1936. (My '72)

Church and state in Great Britain

Marvell, A. Rehearsal transpros'd, and The rehearsal transpros'd, the second part. (Ap '72)

Church and state in Ireland

Watt, J. A. Church and the two nations in medieval Ireland. (S '72)
 Whyte, J. H. Church and state in modern Ireland, 1923-1970. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Church and state in Israel

Leslie, S. C. Rift in Israel. (Mr '72)

Church and state in Mexico

Bazant, J. Alienation of church wealth in Mexico. (S '72)

Church and state in modern Ireland, 1923-1970.

Whyte, J. H. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Church and state in Russia

Aspects of religion in the Soviet Union, 1917-1967. (Ap '72)
 Bourdeaux, M. Faith on trial in Russia. (Mr '72)

Church and state in the United States

Calam, J. Parsons and pedagogues. (Ap '72)
 Smith, E. A. Religious liberty in the United States. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Church and the two nations in medieval Ireland.

Watt, J. A. (S '72)

Church as a political factor in Latin America.

Mutchler, D. E. (My '72)

Church history*Historiography

Bowden, H. W. Church history in the age of science. (D '72)

Middle Ages

Brooke, C. Medieval church and society. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Watt, J. A. Church and the two nations in medieval Ireland. (S '72)

Primitive and early church

Bauer, W. Orthodoxy and heresy in earliest Christianity. (My '72)

Church history in the age of science.

Bowden, H. W. (D '72)

Church of England

Calam, J. Parsons and pedagogues. (Ap '72)

Church schools

Ryan, M. P. We're all in this together. (O '72)

Finance

Larson, M. A. When parochial schools close. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Church work

Rosenberg, C. S. Religion and the rise of the American city. (N '72)

Churches*Palestine

Zander, W. Israel and the holy places of Christendom. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Churchill, Jennie (Jerome) Lady Randolph Churchill

Martin, R. G. Jennie: the life of Lady Randolph Churchill, v2. (Ap '72)

Churchill, Lord Randolph Henry Spencer

Roberts, B. Churchills in Africa. (Ap '72)

Churchill, Sir Winston Leonard Spencer

Gilbert, M. Winston S. Churchill, v3. (Ap '72)

Roberts, B. Churchills in Africa. (Ap '72)

Churchills in Africa.

Roberts, B. (Ap '72)

Cicero, Marcus Tullius

Shackleton Bailey, D. R. Cicero. (S '72)

Cinderella service.

Platt, D. C. M. (Je '72)

Cinq-Mars, Henri Colffier, Ruzé d'Effiat, Marquis de

Erlanger, P. King's minion. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Circle of quiet.

L'Engle, M. (My '72)

Circus*History*Juvenile literature

Sutton, F. Big show. (S '72)

Circus animals.

Jeffares, A. N. (Mr '72)

Cities and towns

Psychiatric disorder and the urban environment. (O '72)

Russell, J. C. Medieval regions and their cities. (D '72)

Strong, A. L. Planned urban environments. (Ag '72)

Bibliography

Hanna, W. J. Urban dynamics in Black Africa. (Ag '72)

History

Walker, M. German home towns. (O '72)

Africa

Hanna, W. J. Urban dynamics in Black Africa. (Ag '72)

Asia, Southeastern

Jakobson, L. Urbanization and national development. (My '72)

China

Wheatley, P. Pivot of the four quarters. (O '72)

China (People's Republic of China)

Lewis, J. W., ed. City in Communist China. (Ap '72)

Connecticut

Connery, D. S. One American town. (S '72)

Great Britain

Clark, P., ed. Crisis and order in English towns, 1500-1700. (D '72)

Pahl, R. E. Patterns of urban life. (N '72)

Schaffer, F. New town story. (Je '72)

Turner, H. L. Town defences in England and Wales. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Latin America*Bibliography

Sable, M. H. Latin American urbanization: a guide to the literature, organizations and personnel. (My '72)

United States

Arnold, J. L. New deal in the suburbs. (N '72)

Clawson, M. Suburban land conversion in the United States: an economic and governmental process. (O '72)

Downs, A. Urban problems and prospects. (S '72)

Long, N. E. Unwalled city. (D '72)

Rosenbloom, R. S. New tools for urban management. (Ag '72)

Sobin, D. P. Future of the American suburbs. (Mr '72)

Cities and towns, Medieval

Turner, H. L. Town defences in England and Wales. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Cities and towns, Ruined, extinct, etc.

Beresford, M., ed. Deserted medieval villages. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Flemming, N. C. Cities in the sea. (My '72)

Kenyon, K. Royal cities of the Old Testament. (Ag '72)

Wheatley, P. Pivot of the four quarters. (O '72)

Cities and towns in art

Links, J. G. Townscape painting and drawing. (O '72)

Cities in the sea. Flemming, N. C. (My '72)

Cities of light and sons of the morning. Green, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Cities of Vesuvius. Grant, M. (Mr '72)

Cities under siege. Boesel, D., ed. (My '72)

Citizen Kane (Moving picture)

Citizen Kane book. (Ag '72)

Gottesman, R., ed. Focus on Citizen Kane. (Ap '72)

Citizen Kane book. (Ag '72)

Citizen Nader. McCarry, C. (Je '72)

Citizens' council. McMillen, N. R. (N '72)

Citizens' Councils of America

McMillen, N. R. Citizens' council. (N '72)

Citizenship

Thompson, D. F. Democratic citizen. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Warren, E. Republic, if you can keep it. (O '72)

City in Communist China. Lewis, J. W., ed. (Ap '72)

City life. See Cities and towns

City managers in legislative politics. Loveridge, R. O. (My '72)

City missions. See Church work

City planning

Burke, G. Towns in the making. (S '72)

Fein, A. Frederick Law Olmsted and the American environmental tradition. (N '72)

Geddes, P. Patrick Geddes: spokesman for man and the environment. (N '72)

Hiller, C. E. Babylon to Brasilia. (D '72)

Ideal communist city. (Je '72)

Mumford, L. Letters of Lewis Mumford and Frederic J. Osborn. (Je '72)

Owen, W. Accessible city. (N '72)

Perin, C. With man in mind. (My '72)

Schaffer, F. New town story. (Je '72)

Strong, A. L. Planned urban environments. (Ag '72)

Taylor, J. L. Instructional planning systems. (My '72)

Asia, Southeastern

Jakobson, L. Urbanization and national development. (My '72)

Great Britain

- Burke, G. Towns in the making. (S '72)
 Stone, P. A. Urban development in Britain: standards, costs and resources, 1964-2004. v 1. (My '72)

New York (City)

- Spatt, B. M. Proposal to change the structure of city planning. (Ap '72)

Paris

- Saalman, H. Haussmann: Paris transformed. (S '72)

United States

- Arnold, J. L. New deal in the suburbs. (N '72)
 Clawson, M. Suburban land conversion in the United States: an economic and governmental process. (O '72)
 Goodman, R. After the planners. (My '72)
 Lansing, J. B. Planned residential environments. (Mr '72)
 Rosenbloom, R. S. New tools for urban management. (Ag '72)
City traffic
 Lupo, A. Rites of way. (Ag '72)
Civil disobedience. See Government, Resistance to Civil disobedience and democracy. Zashin, E. M. (O '72)
Civil disobedience and political obligation. Childress, J. F. (Ag '72)
Civil rights
 Abraham, H. J. Freedom and the court [2d ed.]. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Hall, R. T. Morality of civil disobedience. (Je '72)
 Lefcourt, R., ed. Law against the people. (My '72)
 Warren, E. Republic, if you can keep it. (O '72)
 Watters, P. Down to now. (Mr '72)
 Wirt, F. M. Politics of Southern equality. (My '72)

Civil service

Prussia

- Gillis, J. R. Prussian bureaucracy in crisis, 1840-1860. (N '72)

United States

- Dobson, J. M. Politics in the gilded age. (N '72)
 Rosenbloom, D. H. Federal service and the Constitution. (D '72)
 Wellington, H. H. Unions and the cities. (My '72)
Civil war
 Luard, E., ed. International regulation of civil wars. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Civil War day by day. Long, E. B. (Je '72)
 Civil War in France. Marx, K. (In Writings on the Paris Commune, by K. Marx and F. Engels). (O '72)
 Civil wars in the twentieth century. Higham, R., ed. (N '72)

Civilization

- Barr, S. Voices that endured. (Ap '72)

History

- Edwardes, M. East-West passage. (My '72)
Civilization, Aegean
 Desborough, V. R. d'A. Greek dark ages. (D '72)
 Renfrew, C. Emergence of civilisation. (D '72)

Civilization, Ancient

- Carrington, R. Mediterranean. (Mr '72)
 Posner, E. Archives in the ancient world. (D '72)

Juvenile literature

- Cottrell, L. Reading the past. (Ag '72)

Civilization, French

- Hemmings, F. W. J. Culture and society in France, 1848-1898. (Ag '72)

Civilization, Hispanic

- Powell, P. W. Tree of hate. (O '72)

Civilization, Islamic

- Dunlop, D. M. Arab civilization to A.D. 1500. (Ag '72)
 Fihrist of al-Nadim, 2v. (Mr '72)
 Shaban, M. A. Islamic history A.D. 600-750 (A.H. 132) a new interpretation. (My '72)
 Williams, J. A., ed. Themes of Islamic civilization. (Ap '72)

Civilization, Medieval

- Duckett, E. Medieval portraits from East and West. (Ag '72)
 Warner, P. Medieval castle. (Ap '72)

Civilization, Minoan

- Cottrell, L. Mystery of Minoan civilization. (Ap '72)

Civilization, Modern

- Barrett, W. Time of need. (O '72)
 Freeman, J. D. Case for optimism. (Mr '72)
 Gorney, R. Human agenda. (S '72)
 Kahn, H. Things to come. (Ag '72)
 Martin, M. Three popes and the cardinal. (Je '72)
 Muller, H. J. In pursuit of relevance. (Mr '72)
 Napier, B. D. On new creation. (Mr '72)
 Roszak, T. Where the wasteland ends. (N '72)
 Skinner, B. F. Beyond freedom and dignity. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Steiner, G. In Bluebeard's castle. (Je '72)
 Theobald, R., ed. Futures conditional. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Toynbee, A. Surviving the future. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Urban, G. R., ed. Can we survive our future? (D '72)

1950.

- Alves, R. A. Tomorrow's child. (O '72)
 Piel, G. Acceleration of history. (S '72)
 Wagar, W. W. Building the city of man. (S '72)

Civilization, Occidental

- Rougier, L. Genius of the West. (Ap '72)

Civilization, Oriental

- Sinor, D., ed. Orientalism & history. (My '72)

Civilization and science. See Science and civilization

Civilization and technology. See Technology and civilization

Claims

- Weston, B. H. International claims: post-war French practice. (O '72)
 Clang birds. L'Heureux, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Clarifying public controversy. Newmann, F. M. (Ap '72)

Clarinet

- Richmond, S. Clarinet and saxophone experience. (N '72)
 Clarinet and saxophone experience. Richmond, S. (N '72)

Class and society in early America. Nash, G. B. (My '72)

Class, bureaucracy, and schools. Katz, M. B. (Ap '72)

Class context and family relations. Pearlman, L. I. (Je '72)

Classic Black African poems. Trask, W. R. ed. (Ag '72)

Classic British novel. Harper, H. M., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Classic slum. Roberts, R. (Ag '72)

Classic vision. Krieger, M. (Ag '72)

Classical dictionaries

- Radice, B. Who's who in the ancient world. (Mr '72)

Classical drama of France. Moore, W. G. (Je '72)

Classical literature

History and criticism

- Penguin companion to classical, Oriental & African literature. (D '72)
 Rudd, N., ed. Essays on classical literature. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual) Classics or charity? Thompson, R. S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Classification

Books

- Maltby, A., ed. Classification in the 1970's. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Classification, Library of Congress

- Immroth, J. P. Analysis of vocabulary control in Library of Congress classification and subject headings. (D '72)

Classification in the 1970's. Maltby, A., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Claudel, Paul

- MacCombie, J. Prince & the genie. (O '72)
 Watson, H. Claudel's immortal heroes: a choice of deaths. (O '72)
 Claudel's immortal heroes: a choice of deaths. Watson, H. (O '72)

Clay, Cassius Marcellus. See Muhammad Ali

Cleanness (Middle English poem)

- Spearing, A. C. Gawain-poet. (Ap '72)

Clemens, Samuel Langhorne

- Anderson, F., ed. Mark Twain: the critical heritage. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Cleopatra, Queen of Egypt

- Bradford, E. Cleopatra. (O '72)
 Cleopatra. Bradford, E. (O '72)

Clergy

See also

Catholic Church—Clergy

Clerihews. See Humorous poetry

Clerk's journal. Aiken, C. (Mr '72)

Cleveland

Politics and government

Rogers, D. Management of big cities. (My '72)

Clifford, James Lowry

English writers of the eighteenth century. (O '72)

Clifton-Morenci strike. Kluger, J. R. (S '72)

Climate

Matthews, W. H., ed. Man's impact on the climate. (Je '72)

Clock winder. Tyler, A. (Ag '72)

Clocks of Columbus. Holmes, C. S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Close-up. Deighton, L. (S '72)

Closed enterprise system. (Ag '72)

Closing circle. Commoner, B. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Cloud chamber. Masters, D. (Ap '72)

Clouds

Mason, B. J. Physics of clouds [2d ed]. (O '72)

Clouet, Jean

Meilen, P. Jean Clouet. (My '72)

Coaching (Athletics)

See also

Football coaching

Coal miners. See Miners

Coal mines and mining

Caudill, H. M. My land is dying. (Mr '72)

Coaltown revisited. Peterson, B. (Ag '72)

Coasts

Shepard, F. P. Our changing coastlines. (Ap '72)

Cochise, Ciyé "Niño"

Cochise, C. "N." First hundred years of Niño Cochise. (Ap '72)

Cod

Jensen, A. C. Cod. (D '72)

Code of life. Silverstein, A. (N '72)

Code: Polonaise. Wuorio, E.-L. (S '72)

Codeword: Direktor. Höhne, H. (Ap '72)

Codex Trivulzianus. Leonardo da Vinci. (In The sublimations of Leonardo da Vinci, by R. S. Stites). (S '72)

Coeducation

Dale, R. R. Mixed or single-sex school? v2. (D '72)

Coeur d'Alene, Idaho

Fahey, J. Ballyhoo bonanza. (My '72)

Cognition. See Knowledge, Theory of

Coins

Dictionaries

Hobson, B. Illustrated encyclopedia of world coins. (Mr '72)

Cold mountain. Han-shan. (Ap '72)

Cold war. See World politics—1945-1965

Cold war and counterrevolution. Walton, R. J. (Ap '72)

Cold war critics. Paterson, T. G. (Je '72)

Cold war in a country garden. Gutteridge, L. (Mr '72)

Cole, George Douglas Howard

Cole, M. Life of G. D. H. Cole. (Ag '72)

Coleridge, Samuel Taylor

Ball, P. M. Science of aspects. (My '72)

Barfield, O. What Coleridge thought. (My '72)

Fruman, N. Coleridge: the damaged archangel. (My '72)

Heath, W. Wordsworth and Coleridge. (Ap '72)

Willey, B. Samuel Taylor Coleridge. (D '72)

Coleridge on Shakespeare. Coleridge, S. T. (Mr '72)

Coleridge: the damaged archangel. Fruman, N. (My '72)

Collapse of British power. Barnett, C. (D '72)

Collected papers, 2v. Ryle, G. (Je '72)

Collected papers on the Jacobite risings, v 1. Jarvis, R. C. (O '72)

Collected plays, 4v. Gregory, Lady. (N '72)

Collected plays. Hellman, L. (N '72)

Collected poems [enl ed]. Betjeman, J. (Ag '72)

Collected poems. Perse, St.-J. (S '72)

Collected poems [2d ed]. Stevenson, R. L. (Ap '72)

Collected poems, 1958-1970. Macbeth, G. (My '72)

Collected poems of Frank O'Hara. O'Hara, F. (Mr '72)

Collected works of Ralph Waldo Emerson, v 1. Emerson, R. W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Collected works of Samuel Taylor Coleridge, v 1: Lectures 1795 on politics and religion.

Coleridge, S. T. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Collected writings, v2. Benesch, O. (S '72)

Collected writings of John Maynard Keynes, v 1-6, 9, 10, 15, 16. Keynes, J. M. (O '72)

Collective bargaining

Wellington, H. H. Unions and the cities. (My '72)

Collective settlements

Houriet, R. Getting back together. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Katz, E. Armed love. (My '72)

Male, D. J. Russian peasant organisation before collectivisation. (Ap '72)

Melville, K. Communes in the counter culture. (S '72)

Morse, F. Yankee communes. (Ap '72)

Mungo, R. Between two moons. (N '72)

Speck, R. V. New families. (D '72)

Israel

Gorkin, M. Border kibbutz. (My '72)

United States

Bhaerman, S. No particular place to go: the making of a free high school. (Je '72)

Roberts, R. E. New communes. (Ag '72)

Collectors and collecting

Behrman, S. N. Duveen. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Herrmann, F. English collectors. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Reitlinger, G. Economics of taste, v3. (O '72)

Collector's book of children's books. Quayle, E. (S '72)

College and university student work programs. Adams, F. C. (Mr '72)

College days in earthquake country. Litwak, L. (Ag '72)

College education, Value of

Wolfe, D. L. Uses of talent. (Mr '72)

College football, U.S.A., 1869-1971. McCallum, J. (D '72)

College students

Koos, L. V. Community college student. (Je '72)

Political activity

Liebman, A. Latin American university students. (D '72)

Handbooks, manuals, etc.

Nader, R. Action for a change. (Ag '72)

Colleges and universities

Birenbaum, W. M. Something for everybody is not enough. (Je '72)

Coyne, J. This way out. (N '72)

De Conde, A., ed. Student activism. (Je '72)

Johnson, E. L. From riot to reason. (Ap '72)

Kruytbosch, C. E. State of the university. (My '72)

Ness, F. W. Uncertain glory. (Ap '72)

Task of universities in a changing world. (Mr '72)

Faculty

Kriegel, L. Working through. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

California

Gerth, D. R. Invisible giant. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Great Britain

Ashby, E. Rise of the student estate in Britain. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Brothers, J. Residence and student life. (O '72)

Halsey, A. H. British academics. (Ap '72)

Latin America

Liebman, A. Latin American university students. (D '72)

Middle West

Greenbaum, L. Special interest. (S '72)

New York (City)

Kriegel, L. Working through. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

United States

Aiken, H. D. Predicament of the university. (Ap '72)

Altbach, P. G., ed. Academic supermarkets. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Boyle, K. Long walk at San Francisco State, and other essays. (S '72)

Brubacher, J. S. Courts and higher education. (My '72)

Hodgkinson, H. L., ed. Power and authority. (Ap '72)

Koos, L. V. Community college student. (Je '72)

McGee, R. Academic Janus. (O '72)
 Parker, G. G. Enrollment explosion. (My '72)
 Ullam, A. Fall of the American university. (D '72)

History

Sloan, D. Scottish enlightenment and the American college ideal. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Cologne Communist trial. Marx, K. (My '72)
 Colombia

Bibliography

Watson, G. H. Colombia, Ecuador, and Venezuela. (Ag '72)

Economic conditions

Havens, A. E., ed. Internal colonialism and structural change in Colombia. (My '72)

Social conditions

Havens, A. E., ed. Internal colonialism and structural change in Colombia. (My '72)
 Colombia, Ecuador, and Venezuela. Watson, G. H. (Ag '72)
 Colonel Grenfell's wars. Starr, S. Z. (S '72)
 Colonel Mint. West, P. (N '72)
 Colonel Morgan Jones. Spence, V. G. (My '72)
 Colonial American Jew, 1492-1776, 3v. Marcus, J. R. (Ap '72)
 Colonial issues in British politics, 1945-1961. Goldsworthy, D. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Colonial rule and political development in Tanzania. Liebenow, J. (Ag '72)
 Colonialism in Africa, 1870-1960, v2. Gann, L. H., ed. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Colonialism in Africa, 1870-1960, v3. Turner, V., ed. (O '72)
 Colonies

History

Albertini, R. von. Decolonization. (Ap '72)
 Parry, J. H. Trade and dominion: the European overseas empires in the eighteenth century. (My '72)

Colonization

Campbell, P. Maryland in Africa. (Je '72)
 Emmons, D. M. Garden in the grasslands. (S '72)
 Turner, V., ed. Colonialism in Africa, 1870-1960, v3. (O '72)

Color

Albers, J. Interaction of color. (My '72)
 Goethe, J. W. von. Goethe's color theory. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

Tison, A. Adventures of the three colors. (Ap '72)

Color photography

Haas, E. Creation. (Ap '72)
 Color under ground. White, J. S. (My '72)

Colorado

History

Dorset, P. F. New Eldorado: the story of Colorado's gold and silver rushes. (Mr '72)

Colorado River

Hillers, J. "Photographed all the best scenery." (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Colors

Poetry

Rossetti, C. What is pink? (Ag '72)
 Columbia history of the world. Garraty, J. A., ed. (O '72)
 Columbia Journalism review
 Balk, A., ed. Our troubled press. (Ag '72)
 Columbia University
 Summerscales, W. Affirmation and dissent. (Ag '72)

Columbus, Christopher

Casas, B. de las. History of the Indies. (My '72)

Columbus was Chinese. Breuer, H. (D '72)

Combat in the erogenous zone. Bengis, I. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Come a long journey. Fry, A. (My '72)

Come back, Peter. Woodberry, J. (Ag '72)

Come near. Leighton, A. H. (Ap '72)

Come out smokin'. Pepe, P. (My '72)

Comedy

History and criticism

Sorell, W. Facets of comedy. (D '72)

Comic books, strips, etc.

75 years of the comics. (Ap '72)

Comic image of the Jew. Altman, S. (O '72)

Coming apart. O'Neill, W. L. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Coming of age. Beauvoir, S. de. (Ag '72)

Coming of age of American business. Douglass, E. P. (Ag '72)

Commentary on Heidegger's Being and time. Gelven, M. (Mr '72)

Commerce

Baldwin, R. E. Nontariff distortions of international trade. (My '72)
 Kravis, I. B. Price competitiveness in world trade. (Je '72)
 Parry, J. H. Trade and dominion: the European overseas empires in the eighteenth century. (My '72)
 Trade and investment policies for the seventies. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

History

Lopez, R. S. Commercial revolution of the middle ages, 950-1350. (S '72)

Commercial art

Rand, P. Thoughts on design [rev ed]. (My '72)

Commercial policy

Robbins, Lord. Money, trade and international relations. (O '72)
 Commercial revolution of the middle ages, 950-1350. Lopez, R. S. (S '72)
 Commissar. Wittlin, T. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Commitment to deviance. Stebbins, R. A. (Ag '72)
 Common scientist in the seventeenth century. Hoopen, K. T. (S '72)
 Common sense of politics. Adler, M. J. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Commonwealth of Nations

Ball, M. M. "Open" commonwealth. (Je '72)
 Grierson, E. Death of the imperial dream. (O '72)

Economic policy

Streeten, P., ed. Commonwealth policy in a global context. (Ap '72)

History

Barnett, C. Collapse of British power. (D '72)

Commonwealth policy in a global context. Streeten, P., ed. (Ap '72)

Communal living. See Collective settlements

Communal settlements. See Collective settlements

Communes in the counter culture. Melville, K. (S '72)

Communication

Gordon, G. N. Persuasion. (O '72)
 Hachten, W. A. Muffled drums. (Mr '73)
 Ong, W. J. Rhetoric, romance, and technology. (My '72)
 Stevens, J. O. Awareness: exploring, experimenting, experiencing. (Ag '72)
 Whitaker, R. Language of film. (D '72)

Juvenile literature

Stein, M. L. Blacks in communications. (D '72)

Communication: general semantics perspectives. (Ap '72)

Communications and national integration in Communist China. Liu, A. P. L. (O '72)

Communism

Curtis, M., ed. Marxism. (Ap '72)
 Deutscher, I. Marxism in our time. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Fetscher, I. Marx and Marxism. (My '72)
 Garaudy, R. Crisis in communism: the turning-point of socialism. (D '72)
 Gramsci, A. Selections from the prison notebooks of Antonio Gramsci. (My '72)
 Green, G. New radicalism: anarchist or Marxist? (My '72)
 Lukács, G. Lenin: a study on the unity of his thought. (O '72)
 Marx, K. Cologne Communist trial. (My '72)
 Marx, K. Early texts. (Ap '72)
 Sherman, H. Radical political economy. (Ag '72)
 Tyrmand, L. Rosa Luxemburg contraceptives cooperative. (Ag '72)
 Wilson, E. To the Finland station [2d ed]. (O '72)

Bibliography

Bochenski, J. M., ed. Guide to Marxist philosophy. (O '72)

History

Neuberg, A. Armed insurrection. (Mr '72)

China

Boyle, J. H. China and Japan at war, 1937-1945. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Hans, S. Morning deluge. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Klein, D. W. Biographic dictionary of Chinese communism, 1921-1965, 2v. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Selden, M. Yenan Way in revolutionary China. (My '72)

Communism—China—ContinuedJuvenile literature*

Goldston, R. Long march, 1934-1935. (Ap '72)

China (People's Republic of China)

Klein, D. W. Biographic dictionary of Chinese communism, 1921-1965. 2v. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Cuba

Bernardo, R. M. Theory of moral incentives in Cuba. (My '72)

Silverman, B., ed. Man and socialism in Cuba. (My '72)

Czechoslovak Republic

Czechoslovak political trials, 1950-1954. (Ag '72)

Jancar, B. W. Czechoslovakia and the absolute monopoly of power. (S '72)

Europe, Eastern

Jacobson, J., comp. Soviet communism and the socialist vision. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

India

Haithcox, J. P. Communism and nationalism in India. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Loomis, C. P. Marxist theory and Indian communism. (Je '72)

Long An, Vietnam

Race, J. War comes to Long An. (My '72)

Malaya

Barber, N. War of the running dogs. (S '72)

Rumania

Jowitt, K. Revolutionary breakthroughs and national development. (My '72)

Russia

Jacobson, J., comp. Soviet communism and the socialist vision. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Salvador

Anderson, T. P. Matanza: El Salvador's Communist revolt of 1932. (My '72)

United States

Feuerlicht, R. S. Joe McCarthy and McCarthyism. (O '72)

Starobin, J. R. American communism in crisis, 1943-1957. (Ag '72)

West Bengal

Franda, M. F. Radical politics in West Bengal. (O '72)

Communism and literature

Jameson, P. Marxism and form. (Ag '72)

Communism and nationalism in India. Haithcox, J. P. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Communism and society

Wellmer, A. Critical theory of society. (Mr '72)

Communist China, 1949-1969. Trager, F. N., ed. (Ap '72)

Communist countries*Economic conditions

Wilczynski, J. Socialist economic development and reforms. (N '72)

Economic policy

Reynolds, L. G. Three worlds of economics. (Ag '72)

Spulber, N. Socialist management & planning. (D '72)

Wilczynski, J. Socialist economic development and reforms. (N '72)

Communist party (Bulgaria)

Oren, N. Bulgarian communism. (Ag '72)

Communist party (China)

Chang, K.-T. Rise of the Chinese communist party, 1921-1927. v 1. (Ag '72)

Communist party (France)

Johnson, R. French communist party versus the students. (S '72)

Communist party of the United States of America

Starobin, J. R. American communism in crisis, 1943-1957. (Ag '72)

Communist Trial, Cologne, 1852

Marx, K. Cologne Communist trial. (My '72)

Community

Suttles, G. D. Social construction of communities. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Community antenna television

Price, M. E. Cable television. (My '72)

Community college student. Koos, L. V. (Je '72)

Community in search of itself. Lantz, H. R. (Ag '72)

Community life

Bonjean, C. M., ed. Community politics. (My '72)

Duberman, M. Black Mountain. (D '72)

Community politics. Bonjean, C. M., ed. (My '72)

Companion to The new Scofield reference Bible. English, E. S. (S '72)

Companion to William Carlos Williams's Pater-son. Sanky, B. (Ag '72)

Comparison of economic systems. Eckstein, A., ed. (Ag '72)

Competition

Telser, L. G. Competition, collusion, and game theory. (O '72)

Competition and the corporate society. Harris, N. (O '72)

Competition, collusion, and game theory. Tel-son, L. G. (O '72)

Competitive swimming. Still, A. (S '72)

Complete book of autograph collecting. Sullivan, G. (S '72)

Complete book of bicycling. Sloane, E. A. (Ag '72)

Complete Dublin diary of Stanislaus Joyce. Joyce, S. (Mr '72)

Complete gardener [rev & enl ed]. Wilson, L. (O '72)

Complete paintings of Bosch. Bosch. (Ap '72)

Complete paintings of Canaletto. Canaletto. (My '72)

Complete poems, 1913-1962. Cummings, E. E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Complete stories. Kafka, F. (Je '72)

Complete works of Thomas Chatterton, 2v. Chatterton, T. (S '72)

ComposersSee also*

Beethoven, L. van

Bellini, V.

Brahms, J.

Bruckner, A.

Cage, J.

Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, F.

Mozart, J. C. W. A.

Porter, C.

Schönberg, A.

Schumann, R. A.

Strauss, J., 1804-1849

Strauss, J., 1825-1899

Stravinsky, I. F.

Sullivan, A. S.

Varèse, E.

Vaughan Williams, R.

Verdi, G.

Composers, American*Biography

Twentieth-century composers. v 1. (Mr '72)

Composers, European*Biography

Twentieth-century composers. v2. (Mr '72)

Composers, French

Myers, R. Modern French music: from Fauré to Boulez. (Ap '72)

Computer-assisted counseling. (Je '72)

Computer graphics—computer art. Franke, H. W. (Ag '72)

Computer industry and trade

Harman, A. J. International computer in-dustry. (Ap '72)

Lee, W. J. International computer indus-try. (Ag '72)

Computer revolution. Hawkes, N. (O '72)

Computers

Dreyfus, H. L. What computers can't do. (S '72)

Franke, H. W. Computer graphics—compu-ter art. (Ag '72)

Hawkes, N. Computer revolution. (O '72)

(Computers in knowledge-based fields. Myers, C. A. (My '72)

Concentration camps

Kantor, A. Book of Alfred Kantor. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Concept of knowledge. Butchvarov, P. (Ag '72)

Concept of poverty. Townsend, P., ed. (My '72)

Concepts of deity. Owen, H. P. (My '72)

Conceptual foundations of contemporary rela-tivity theory. Graves, J. C. (Ap '72)

Concerto

Forman, D. Mozart's concerto form. (My '72)

Concise dictionary of the Christian world mis-sion. (Ap '72)

Concise encyclopedia guide to Shakespeare. Martin, M. R. (Ag '72)

- Concise history of England [Eng title of: The Horizon concise history of England]. White, R. J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Concise history of France. Johnson, D. (Je '72)
 Concise history of Ireland. Eng title of: The story of Ireland. O'Brien, M. (D '72)
 Concordance to Milton's English poetry. Ingram, W., ed. (D '72)
 Conduct of life. See Behavior
 Confectionery
 Green, J. Gift-giver's cookbook. (Mr '72)
 Confederate States of America
 Alexander, T. B. Anatomy of the Confederate Congress. (D '72)

Foreign relations Great Britain

- Merli, F. J. Great Britain and the Confederate navy, 1861-1865. (Mr '72)
 Confederate States of America. Navy
 Merli, F. J. Great Britain and the Confederate navy, 1861-1865. (Mr '72)
 Conference on interlibrary communication and information networks, Warrenton, Virginia, 1970. Proceedings of the Conference. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Confession of a child of the century by Samuel Heather. Rogers, T. (S '72)
 Confessions of a basketball gypsy. Barry, R. (S '72)
 Confessions of a sneaky organic cook. Kinderlehrer, J. (My '72)
 Confessions of a stockbroker. Brutus. (My '72)
 Confessions of a Wall Street insider. Hazard, C. C. (O '72)
 Confessions of Cherubino. Harris, B. (S '72)
 Conflict in Laos [rev ed.]. Dommen, A. J. (Ag '72)
 Conflict in the Middle East. Vatikiotis, P. J. (D '72)
 Conflict of generations
 DiGiacomo, J. We were never their age. (D '72)
 Holmes, D. Language of trust. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Roberts, R. E. New communes. (Ag '72)
 Conflicts in French society. Zeldin, T., ed. (Je '72)
 Congress against the Court. Breckenridge, A. C. (Ap '72)
 Congress of African People
 Baraka, I. A., ed. African congress. (S '72)
 Conkling, Roscoe
 Jordan, D. M. Roscoe Conkling of New York. (Ap '72)
 Connecticut

History

Colonial period

- Collier, C. Roger Sherman's Connecticut. (Ap '72)
 Conrad, Joseph
 Johnson, B. Conrad's models of mind. (Je '72)
 Roussel, R. Metaphysics of darkness. (My '72)
 Sherry, N. Conrad's Western world. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Conrad's models of mind. Johnson, B. (Je '72)
 Conrad's Western world. Sherry, N. (1971, 1972 Annual) Conscience
 Stringfellow, W. Suspect tenderness. (My '72)
 Conscientious objectors
 Emerick, K. F. War resisters Canada. (S '72)

Personal narratives

- Morgan, A. Dropping out in  $\frac{3}{4}$  time. (Ag '72)
 Consciousness
 Bowes, P. Consciousness and freedom: three views. (Ag '72)
 Lilly, J. C. Center of the cyclone. (S '72)
 Musès, C., ed. Consciousness and reality. (N '72)
 Naranjo, C. On the psychology of meditation. (My '72)
 Shmüll, A. Kierkegaard & consciousness. (Ag '72)
 Weil, A. Natural mind. (D '72)
 Consciousness and freedom: three views. Bowes, P. (Ag '72)
 Consciousness and reality. Musès, C., ed. (N '72)
 Consent and consensus. Partridge, P. H. (Ag '72)
 Conservation of natural resources
 Brubaker, S. To live on earth. (S '72)
 Conservatism
 Schuettinger, R. L., ed. Conservative tradition in European thought. (My '72)

- Conservative party (Great Britain)
 Harris, N. Competition and the corporate society. (O '72)
 Stewart, R. Politics of protection. (O '72)
 Thompson, N. Anti-appealers. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Conservative tradition in European thought. Schuettinger, R. L., ed. (My '72)
 Conspiracy. Hersey, J. (Je '72)
 Conspiracy at Matsukawa. Johnson, C. (S '72)
 Constitution in crisis times, 1918-1969. Murphy, P. L. (Ag '72)
 Constitutional bricolage. Garvey, G. (My '72)
 Constitutionalist: notes on the First amendment. Anastaplo, G. (My '72)

Constitutions

- Blaustein, A. P., ed. Constitutions of the countries of the world, v 1. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Constitutions of the countries of the world, v 1. Blaustein, A. P., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Consumer protection

- Aaker, D. A., ed. Consumerism: search for the consumer interest. (Ag '72)
 Nadel, M. V. Politics of consumer protection. (D '72)
 Peterson, M. B. Regulated consumer. (Je '72)
 Schrag, P. G. Counsel for the deceived. (S '72)
 Consumerism: search for the consumer interest. Aaker, D. A., ed. (Ag '72)
 Containment of Latin America. Green, D. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Contemporary black artists in America. Doty, R. (Ag '72)
 Contemporary French literature. O'Brien, J. (My '72)
 Contemporary poets of the English language. (My '72)
 Contemporary political theory. De Crespigny, A., ed. (My '72)
 Contexts of social mobility. Strauss, A. L. (Mr '72)

Continental drift

Juvenile literature

- Anderson, A. H. Drifting continents. (Ap '72)
 Golden, F. Moving continents. (Ag '72)
 Continuing battle. Spaak, P. H. (My '72)
 Contracts
 Smith, B. L. R., ed. Dilemma of accountability in modern government. (Mr '72)
 Contrived corridor. Gross, H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Control mechanisms in the expression of cellular phenotypes. Padykula, H. A. (Je '72)
 Controversy over German industrialization, 1890-1902. Barkin, K. D. (Ag '72)
 Convention problem. Parris, J. H. (N '72)
 Conventional wisdom. Gerald, J. B. (D '72)
 Conversation pieces. Praz, M. (N '72)
 Conversation with Canadians. Trudeau, P. E. (D '72)
 Conversations at Little Gidding. (Ag '72)
 Conversations with Allende. Eng title of: The Chilean revolution. Debray, R. (Ap '72)
 Conversations with Frank Waters. Milton, J. R., ed. (O '72)
 Conversations with the dead. Lyon, D. (O '72)
 Conversations. Elliott, P. (Mr '72)

Cook, James

- MacLean, A. Captain Cook. (D '72)
 Syme, R. Travels of Captain Cook. (My '72)
 Cookalong book. Wyden, B. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Cookery

- Beard, J. James Beard's American cookery. (O '72)
 Bradshaw, G. Soufflés, quiches, mousses & the random egg. (My '72)
 Brent, R. H. Keep it short & simple cookbook. (Ag '72)
 Brillat-Savarin, J. A. Physiology of taste. (Ap '72)
 Brown, E. Cooking creatively with natural foods. (S '72)
 Cavaiani, M. Low cholesterol cookbook. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Dalrymple, J. Jean Dalrymple's Pinafore Farm cookbook. (My '72)
 Dannenbaum, J. Julie Dannenbaum's creative cooking school. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Gibson, L. H. Off-campus, on-campus cookbook. (Mr '72)
 Girl scouts of the United States of America. Girl scout cookbook. (S '72)
 Grigson, J. Good things. (Mr '72)
 Hewitt, J., comp. New York Times natural foods cookbook. (O '72)
 Hyde, J. Love, time & butter. (Ap '72)
 Jones, I. Grubbag. (Mr '72)
 Kamman, M. Making of a cook. (My '72)

Cookery—Continued

- Kinderlehrer, J. Confessions of a sneaky organic cook. (My '72)
 Lane, C. Mother's cook & cope book. (S '72)
 Lowman, E. W. How-not-to-miss-the-cocktail-hour cookbook. (My '72)
 Mario, T. Midnight cookbook. (Mr '72)
 Nemiro, B. A. Busy people's cookbook. (Mr '72)
 Nichols, H. L. Cooking with understanding. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Sleight, J. Home book of smoke-cooking meat, fish & game. (Mr '72)
 Szathmáry, L. Chef's secret cook book. (Mr '72)
 Wall, R. Game and fish from field to table. (S '72)
 Wyden, B. Cookalong book. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Eggs

- Bradshaw, G. Soufflés, quiches, mousses & the random egg. (My '72)

Fish

- Metcalf, S. Tuna cookbook. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

- Kohn, B. Organic living book. (N '72)
 Shapiro, R. Whole world of cooking. (S '72)
 Van der Linde, P. Around the world in 80 dishes. (Ag '72)

Shellfish

- Chekenian, J. Shellfish cookery. (Ap '72)

California

- Hansen, B. J. Cooking California style. (My '72)

Cape Cod

- King, L. T. Martha's Vineyard cook book. (Mr '72)

New England

- Platt, J. June Platt's New England cook book. (Mr '72)

Cookery, African

- Van der Post, L. African cooking. (My '72)
 Wilson, E. G. West African cook book. (My '72)

Cookery, American

- Berquist, E. S. High Maples farm cookbook. (O '72)
 Brown, D. American cooking: the Northwest. (My '72)

Cookery, Armenian

- Hogrogian, R. Armenian cookbook. (My '72)

Cookery, Chinese

- Lo, K. H. C. Quick and easy Chinese cooking. (Je '72)

Cookery, French

- Amunategui, F. Masterpieces of French cuisine. (Mr '72)
 Gilly, A. Antoine Gilly's feast of France. (Mr '72)

Dictionaries

- Beard, J. How to eat (and drink) your way through a French (or Italian) menu. (Mr '72)

Cookery, Hungarian

- Lang, G. Cuisine of Hungary. (My '72)

Cookery, International

- Claiborne, C. New York Times International cook book. (Mr '72)
 Livingston, P. Van R. How to cook a rogue elephant. (Ag '72)
 Stillman, E. Ski country cook book. (Mr '72)
 Waldo, M. Seven wonders of the cooking world. (My '72)

Cookery, Italian

- Gioffi, E. Italian family cooking. (My '72)
 Root, W. Food of Italy. (My '72)

Dictionaries

- Beard, J. How to eat (and drink) your way through a French (or Italian) menu. (Mr '72)

Cookery, Mexican

- Kennedy, D. Cuisines of Mexico. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Cookery, Norwegian

- Taylor, S. Young and hungry. (Mr '72)

Cookery, Scandinavian

- Wolfe, L., ed. McCall's introduction to Scandinavian cooking. (S '72)

Cookery, Scottish

- Walker, S. M. Highland flogging cookbook. (Mr '72)

Cookery, Southeast Asian

- Brissenden, R. Joys and subtleties: South East Asian cooking. (Mr '72)

Cookery, West African

- Ayensu, D. A. Art of West African cooking. (S '72)

Cookery for the sick

- Bruyere, T. M. For gourmets with ulcers. (Je '72)

Cooking. See Cookery

- Cooking California style. Hansen, B. J. (My '72)
 Cooking creatively with natural foods. Brown, E. (S '72)

- Cooking with understanding. Nichols, H. L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Cookson, Catherine

- Cookson, C. Our Kate. (Ap '72)

Cooley, Denton A.

- Thompson, T. Hearts. (Mr '72)

Coons, William R.

- Coons, W. R. Attica diary. (O '72)

Cooperative education. See Education, Cooperative*Cooperative societies

- Catanach, I. J. Rural credit in Western India, 1875-1930. (Je '72)

Copper for America. Whiteman, M. (Je '72)*Copper industry and trade

- Whiteman, M. Copper for America. (Je '72)

Cops and rebels. Chevigny, P. (O '72)*Corcoran, William Wilson

- Cohen, H. Business and politics in America from the age of Jackson to the Civil War. (My '72)

Corgville fair. Tudor, T. (Mr '72)*Corn

- Cancian, F. Change and uncertainty in a peasant economy. (D '72)

Coronet among the grass. Bingham, C. (D '72)*Corporation law

- Goulden, J. C. Superlawyers. (Ag '72)

Corporation man. Jay, A. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)*Corporations

- In the name of profit. (O '72)

- Lebow, V. "Free enterprise." (N '72)

- Pake, M. Yam factor. (S '72)

- Spring, J. H. Education and the rise of the corporate state. (O '72)

Corporations, International

- Friedmann, W. G. Joint international business ventures in developing countries. (Ap '72)

- Tugendhat, C. Multinationals. (My '72)

- Vernon, R. Sovereignty at bay. (My '72)

Corrosive sublimate. Sorrentino, G. (N '72)*Corruption (in politics)

- Dorman, M. Payoff. (D '72)

- Katz, H. Shadow on the Alamo. (D '72)

- Peters, C., ed. Blowing the whistle. (S '72)

- Winter-Berger, R. N. Washington pay-off. (O '72)

Corsica

- Thompson, I. Corsica. (O '72)

Cortes, Manuel

- Fraser, R. In hiding. (S '72)

Cosmology. See Universe*Cost-benefit analysis. Mishan, E. J. (N '72)*Cost benefit analysis. See Cost effectiveness*Cost effectiveness. Mishan, E. J. Cost-benefit analysis. (N '72)*Costa Rica*History

- Bell, J. P. Crisis in Costa Rica. (O '72)

Costume

- Cunnington, P. Costumes of the nineteenth century. (Ap '72)

- Strathern, A. Self-decoration in Mount Hagen. (Ag '72)

History

- Lister, M. Costumes of everyday life. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Juvenile literature

- Purdy, S. Costumes for you to make. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Costumes for you to make. Purdy, S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)*Costumes of everyday life. Lister, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)*Costumes of the nineteenth century. Cunnington, P. (Ap '72)*Cougar. Gray, R. (Ag '72)*Cougar doesn't live here any more. Milne, L. J. (Mr '72)*Cougars*Juvenile literature

- Gray, R. Cougar. (Ag '72)

- Coulomb, Charles Augustin
Gillmor, C. S. Coulomb and the evolution of physics and engineering in eighteenth-century France. (N '72)
Coulomb and the evolution of physics and engineering in eighteenth-century France. Gillmor, C. S. (N '72)
Counsel for the deceived. Schrag, P. G. (S '72)
Counseling
Mace, D. R. Getting ready for marriage. (Je '72)
Count and see. Hoban, T. (Ag '72)
Count Witte and the Tsarist government in the 1905 revolution. Mehlinger, H. D. (N '72)
Counter culture
Gecan, M., ed. Seen through our eyes. (Je '72)
Counter culture and the vision of God. Johnson, R. L. (Ap '72)
Counterfeit spy. Delmer, S. (My '72)
Counterrevolution and revolt. Marcuse, H. (Ag '72)
Counter-revolution: doctrine and action, 1789-1804. Godechot, J. (Ap '72)
Counting books
Feelings, M. Moja means one. (Ap '72)
Hoban, T. Count and see. (Ag '72)
Kredenser, G. 1 one dancing drum. (D '72)
Merriam, E. Project 1-2-3. (Ag '72)
Country life
Taylor, L. E. Pastoral and anti-pastoral patterns in John Updike's fiction. (D '72)
British Columbia
Hobbs, L. Running towards life. (Ap '72)
Country of the Minotaur. Ghiselin, B. (O '72)
Courage and hesitation. Drury, A. (Ap '72)
Courts
New York (City)
Rosengart, O. A. Busted. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
United States
Ellis, R. E. Jeffersonian crisis: courts and politics in the young republic. (1971, 1972 Annual)
History
Henderson, D. F. Courts for a new nation. (Ag '72)
Courts, State
Glick, H. R. Supreme courts in state politics. (Ag '72)
Courts and courtiers
McGuinness, R. English court odes, 1660-1820. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Williams, N. Henry VIII and his court. (My '72)
Courts and higher education. Brubacher, J. S. (My '72)
Courts for a new nation. Henderson, D. F. (Ag '72)
Cousinhood. Bermant, C. (Ag '72)
Cover-up. Hersh, S. M. (Je '72)
Cowboy trade. Rounds, G. (O '72)
Cowboys
Terrell, J. U. Bunkhouse papers. (Ap '72)
Juvenile literature
Rounds, G. Cowboy trade. (O '72)
Crack in the cosmic egg. Pearce, J. C. (My '72)
Craft and creation of wood sculpture. Carstenson, C. C. (My '72)
Cram modern world atlas [1971 ed.]. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Crane, Hart
Vogler, T. A. Preludes to vision. (Ap '72)
Crane, Stephen
LaFrance, M. Reading of Stephen Crane. (My '72)
Bibliography
Gross, T. L. Hawthorne, Melville, Stephen Crane. (My '72)
Crawford, Samuel Johnson
Plummer, M. A. Frontier governor: Samuel J. Crawford of Kansas. (S '72)
Crazy ape. Szent-Györgyi, A. (My '72)
Crazy Sundays: F. Scott Fitzgerald in Hollywood. Latham, A. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Creating with papier-mache. Seidelman, J. E. (Je '72)
Creation
Moon, S. Magic dwells. (Mr '72)
Creation (Literary, artistic, etc.)
Green, M. Cities of light and sons of the morning. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Rosner, S., ed. Creative experience. (Ap '72)
Storr, A. Dynamics of creation. (D '72)
Creation. Haas, E. (Ap '72)
Creative candlemaking. Newman, T. R. (N '72)
Creative classroom. Beechhold, H. F. (Ap '72)
Creative experience. Rosner, S., ed. (Ap '72)
Creative ministry. Nouwen, H. J. M. (Ap '72)
Credit
Richardson, D. W. Electric money: evolution of an electronic funds-transfer system. (Ap '72)
Credit union movement. Moody, J. C. (S '72)
Crete
Antiquities
Cottrell, L. Mystery of Minoan civilization. (Ap '72)
Hood, S. Minoans: the story of bronze age Crete. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
See also
Zakros, Crete—Antiquities
Civilization
Hood, S. Minoans: the story of bronze age Crete. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Crime and criminals
Quinney, R. Social reality of crime. (Ap '72)
Radzinowicz, L. ed. Crime and justice, 3v. (Ag '72)
Stebbins, R. A. Commitment to deviance. (Ag '72)
Talese, G. Honor thy father. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Thomas, J. E. English prison officer since 1850. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Walker, N. Sentencing in a rational society. (My '72)
Willmer, M. A. P. Crime and information theory. (Ap '72)
Rehabilitation
Kassebaum, G. Prison treatment and parole survival. (Ag '72)
Kittrie, N. N. Right to be different. (Ap '72)
Martin, J. P. Social consequences of conviction. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Struggle for justice. (My '72)
Great Britain
Garasov, V. Two gentlemen to see you, Sir. (Mr '72)
Japan
Johnson, C. Conspiracy at Matsukawa. (S '72)
London
Rumbelow, D. I spy blue. (Je '72)
Russia
Connor, W. D. Deviance in Soviet society. (O '72)
United States
Gage, N., ed. Mafia, U.S.A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Greene, A. C. Santa Claus bank robbery. (O '72)
Hunt, M. Mugging. (Ag '72)
Jeffers, H. P. Wanted by the FBI. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
McLennan, B. N., ed. Crime in urban society. (My '72)
Messick, H. John Edgar Hoover. (Ag '72)
Sanders, E. Family. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
Short, J. F., ed. Modern criminals. (Je '72)
Vollmer, A. Police and modern society. (O '72)
Crime and information theory. Willmer, M. A. P. (Ap '72)
Crime and justice, 3v. Radzinowicz, L. (Ag '72)
Crime in urban society. McLennan, B. N., ed. (My '72)
Criminal law
Breckenridge, A. C. Congress against the Court. (Ap '72)
Cohn, R. Fool for a client. (Ap '72)
Hogarth, J. Sentencing and human process. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Hunt, M. Mugging. (Ag '72)
Rosengart, O. A. Busted. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Walker, N. Sentencing in a rational society. (My '72)
Crimmins, Alice
Carpozi, G. Ordeal by trial. (S '72)
Crises of the republic. Arendt, H. (S '72)
Crisis and conflict in Nigeria: a documentary sourcebook, 2v. Kirk-Greene, A. H. M. (Ag '72)
Crisis and order in English towns, 1500-1700. Clark, P., ed. (D '72)
Crisis in communism: the turning-point of socialism. Garaudy, R. (D '72)

- Crisis in Costa Rica. Bell, J. P. (O '72)
 Crisis of diplomacy: the three wars . . . and after. . . Elkordy, A.-H. M. (My '72)
 Critic at the opera. Lang, P. H. (My '72)
 Critical theory of society. Wellmer, A. (Mr '72)
 Critical theory since Plato. Adams, H., ed. (N '72)
 Criticism
 Adams, H., ed. Critical theory since Plato. (N '72)
 Fowler, R. Languages of literature. (S '72)
 Jameson, F. Marxism and form. (Ag '72)
 Morris, W. Toward a new historicism. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Ransom, J. C. Beating the bushes. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Philosophy
 Bachelard, G. On poetic imagination and reverie. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Croatian immigrants in America. Prpic, G. J. (Ag '72)
 Croats in the United States
 Prpic, G. J. Croatian immigrants in America. (Ag '72)
 Crock of gold. Jacobs, J. (Je '72)
 Crocodiles
 Guggisberg, C. A. W. Crocodiles. (O '72)
- Stories
 Aruego, J. Crocodile's tale. (S '72)
 Crocodile's tale. Aruego, J. (S '72)
 Cross, James Richard
 Moore, B. Revolution script. (Mr '72)
 Cross, Mary Ann (Evans)
 Bedient, C. Architects of the self. (N '72)
 Carroll, D., ed. George Eliot. (Ap '72)
 Jones, R. T. George Eliot. (Ap '72)
 Cross-fire. Graham, G. (Ag '72)
 Crossing the water. Plath, S. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Crossroads of freedom. Miers, E. S. (Ag '72)
 Crowding syndrome. Bird, C. (O '72)
 Crowell's handbook of contemporary drama. (Mr '72)
 Crown of Mexico. Haslip, J. (Ag '72)
 Crucifixion by power. Adams, R. N. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Cruelty to children
 Gil, D. G. Violence against children. (My '72)
 Crusader figural sculpture in the Holy Land. Barasch, M. (Ag '72)
 Cry from the cotton. Grubbs, D. H. (Mr '72)
 Crying in the cheap seats. Tremblay, B. (Ag '72)
- Cryonics
 Ettinger, R. C. W. Man into superman. (D '72)
- Crystallography
 Cairns-Smith, A. G. Life puzzle. (N '72)
- Crystals. See Crystallography
- Cuba
Economic conditions
 1959-
 Mesa-Lago, C., ed. Revolutionary change in Cuba. (O '72)
Economic policy
 Silverman, B., ed. Man and socialism in Cuba. (My '72)
Foreign relations
United States
 Bonsal, P. W. Cuba, Castro, and the United States. (Ap '72)
History
 Aguilar, L. E. Cuba 1933. (N '72)
 Thomas, H. Cuba. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
Bibliography
 Valdés, N. P. Cuban revolution. (Mr '72)
 1959-
 Allison, G. T. Essence of decision. (Je '72)
 Divine, R. A., ed. Cuban missile crisis. (My '72)
Politics and government
 1959-
 Mesa-Lago, C., ed. Revolutionary change in Cuba. (O '72)
Social conditions
 Mesa-Lago, C., ed. Revolutionary change in Cuba. (O '72)
 Cuba. Thomas, H. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Cuba, Castro, and the United States. Bonsal, P. W. (Ap '72)
 Cuba 1933. Aguilar, L. E. (N '72)
 Cuban missile crisis. Divine, R. A., ed. (My '72)
 Cuban revolution. Valdés, N. P. (Mr '72)
- Cubism
 Kamber, G. Max Jacob and the poetics of cubism. (Mr '72)
 Warnod, J. Washboat days. (O '72)
- Cubitt, Thomas
 Hobhouse, H. Thomas Cubitt, master builder. (Mr '72)
- Cuffe, Paul
 Harris, S. H. Paul Cuffe. (O '72)
- Cuisine of Hungary. Lang, G. (My '72)
Cuisines of Mexico. Kennedy, D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Cukor, George Dewey
 Lambert, G. On Cukor. (N '72)
- Cult of the seer in the ancient Middle East. MacDermot, V. (S '72)
- Cultivating revolution. Petras, J. F. (My '72)
- Cultural change. See Social change
- Cultural context of learning and thinking. (S '72)
- Cultural relations
 Bozeman, A. B. Future of law in a multicultural world. (Ap '72)
- Cultural revolution in China. Robinson, T. W., ed. (My '72)
- Culture
 Barthes, R. Mythologies. (O '72)
 Culture and politics in Indonesia. Holt, C., ed. (O '72)
 Culture and society in France, 1848-1898. Hemmings, F. W. J. (Ag '72)
 Culture in exile. Williams, R. C. (D '72)
 Culture of childhood. Goodman, M. E. (Je '72)
 Culture of the school and the problem of change. Sarason, S. B. (My '72)
 Culture of unbelief. Symposium on the Culture of Unbelief, Rome, 1969. (S '72)
- Cumberland Mountains
 Caudill, H. M. My land is dying. (Mr '72)
- Cuneiform inscriptions
Juvenile literature
 Cottrell, L. Reading the past. (Ag '72)
- Cunha, Brazil (São Paulo)
Economic conditions
 Shirley, R. W. End of a tradition. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Social conditions
 Shirley, R. W. End of a tradition. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Curiosities
 Platnick, K. B. Great mysteries of history. (Mr '72)
- Currency question
 Melgs, A. J. Money matters. (S '72)
- Great Britain
History
 Gould, J. D. Great debasement: currency and the economy in mid-Tudor England. (S '72)
- United States
 Einzsig, P. Destiny of the dollar. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Current problems in reference service. Galvin, T. J. (Je '72)
 Custer, George Armstrong
- Juvenile literature
 Lampman, E. S. Once upon the Little Big Horn. (Ap '72)
- Cut off. Davidson, B. (S '72)
- Cyclades
Civilization
 Renfrew, C. Emergence of civilisation. (D '72)
 Cycles: the mysterious forces that trigger events. Dewey, E. R. (My '72)
 Cyrano de Bergerac. Rostand, E. (Ag '72)
- Cyril, Saint
 Dvornik, F. Byzantine missions among the Slavs. (Ag '72)
- Cytology. See Cells
- Czechoslovak political trials, 1950-1954. (Ag '72)
 Czechoslovak reform movement. Golan, G. (Ag '72)

Czechoslovak Republic*HistoryIntervention, 1968-*

- Czerwinski, E. J., ed. Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia: its effects on Eastern Europe. (O '72)
 Kohout, P. From the diary of a counterrevolutionary. (O '72)
 Kusin, V. V. Intellectual origins of the Prague spring. (Mr '72)

Intervention, 1968—Personal narratives

- Levy, A. Rowboat to Prague. (Ag '72)

Intellectual life

- Golan, G. Czechoslovak reform movement. (Ag '72)
 Liehm, A. J. Politics of culture. (O '72)

Politics and government

- Golan, G. Czechoslovak reform movement. (Ag '72)
 Hamsík, D. Writers against rulers. (My '72)
 Jancar, B. W. Czechoslovakia and the absolute monopoly of power. (S '72)
 Kohout, P. From the diary of a counterrevolutionary. (O '72)
 Kusin, V. V. Intellectual origins of the Prague spring. (Mr '72)
 Czechoslovakia and the absolute monopoly of power. Jancar, B. W. (S '72)

DDT (Insecticide)*Juvenile literature

- Pomerantz, C. Day they parachuted cats on Borneo. (My '72)
 D. H. Lawrence in Taos. Foster, J. (Je '72)
 D. H. Lawrence, the man and his work: the formative years: 1885-1919. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 D. W. Griffith: his life and work. Henderson, R. M. (Je '72)

Dacia*History

- Rossi, L. Trajan's column and the Dacian wars. (Je '72)
 Dada. Grossman, M. L. (Mr '72)

Dadaism

- Grossman, M. L. Dada. (Mr '72)
 Lippard, L. R., ed. Dadas on art. (Ap '72)
 Dadas on art. Lippard, L. R., ed. (Ap '72)
 Daddyl. Mehta, V. (Ag '72)

Daguerreotype

- Rudisill, R. Mirror image. (Mr '72)
 Daily life in Spain in the golden age. Defourneaux, M. (Ag '72)

Dakota Indians

- Holder, P. Hoe and the horse on the plains. (Ag '72)
 Lane Deer, J. F. Lane Deer, seeker of visions. (D '72)
 Nurge, E., ed. Modern Sioux. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

- Lampman, E. S. Once upon the Little Big Horn. (Ap '72)

Pictorial works

- Anderson, J. A. Sioux of the Rosebud. (Ag '72)

Dali, Salvador

- Dali, S. Dali by Dali. (Ag '72)
 Dali by Dali. Dali, S. (Ag '72)
 Damned un-English weapon. Eng title of: Underwater war. Gray, E. (N '72)
 Damp and daffy doings of a daring pirate ship. Mordillo, G. (My '72)

- Dance in America [rev ed]. Terry, W. (Ap '72)

Dancers

- Terry, W. Dance in America [rev ed]. (Ap '72)

Biography

- Migel, P. Ballerinas: from the court of Louis XIV to Pavlova. (D '72)
 Dancer's image. Sorell, W. (Mr '72)

Dancing

- Percival, J. Experimental dance. (Mr '72)
 Sorell, W. Dancer's image. (Mr '72)
 Terry, W. Dance in America [rev ed]. (Ap '72)

Pictorial works*Juvenile literature

- Fiedel, R. Wild flowers. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Dancing the gay lib blues. Bell, A. (Ap '72)

- Daniel Berrigan: absurd convictions, modest hopes: conversations after prison with Lee Lockwood. Lockwood, L. (D '72)

Danish literature*Collections

- Jansen, F. J. B. Anthology of Danish literature. (O '72)

Dante Alighieri*The divine comedy: Inferno

- Dante Alighieri. Dante's Inferno; tr. with commentary by M. Musa. (My '72)

StyleSee Dante Alighieri—TechniqueTechnique

- Boyde, P. Dante's style in his lyric poetry. (S '72)
 Dante's Inferno. Dante Alighieri. (My '72)
 Dante's style in his lyric poetry. Boyde, P. (S '72)
 Danziger transcript. Fick, C. (Ap '72)
 Dark and bloody ground. Pérez López, F. (Ag '72)
 Dark corner. Dale, C. (Je '72)
 Dark horse. Knebel, F. (O '72)
 D'Arthez case. Nossack, H. E. (Mr '72)
 Darwin, Charles Robert
 Marshall, A. J. Darwin and Huxley in Australia. (Ag '72)
 Darwin and Huxley in Australia. Marshall, A. J. (Ag '72)
 Darwin retried. Macbeth, N. (Je '72)
 Dating techniques for the archaeologist. Michael, H. N., ed. (N '72)
 Daughter buffalo. Frame, J. (D '72)
 Daughter of Zion. Hunter, R. (O '72)
 David, King of Israel

Juvenile literature

- Graham, L. David he no fear. (My '72)
 David. Hoffman, W. (Ap '72)
 David he no fear. Graham, L. (My '72)
 David Jones: artist and writer. Blamires, D. (N '72)
 Davies, John Paton
 Davies, J. P. Dragon by the tall. (D '72)
 Davies, Marlon
 Guiles, F. L. Marlon Davies. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Davies, Samuel
 Pilcher, G. W. Samuel Davies; apostle of dissent in Colonial Virginia. (Ap '72)
 Davis, Jefferson
 Davis, J. Papers of Jefferson Davis, v 1. (Je '72)

Davis, Stuart

- Davis, S. Stuart Davis. (Mr '72)
 Dawn and the darkest hour. Woodcock, G. (S '72)
 Dawn of empire. Errington, R. M. (Ag '72)
 Dawn of fear. Cooper, S. (S '72)
 Dawn's early light. Lord, W. (S '72)
 Day the Red Baron died. Titler, D. (Ap '72)
 Day they parachuted cats on Borneo. Pomerantz, C. (My '72)
 Daylight and its spectrum. Henderson, S. T. (My '72)
 Days of Mars. Bryher. (O '72)
 Days of Martin Luther King, Jr. Bishop, J. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Dead end: the automobile in mass transportation. Buel, R. A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Dead of the house. Green, H. (My '72)
 Dead trouble. Devine, D. (Je '72)
 Dear and honored Lady. Dyson, H. (Mr '72)
 Dear Scott/Dear Max. Fitzgerald, F. S. K. (Ap '72)

Death

- Morley, J. Death, heaven, and the Victorians. (Je '72)
 Vernon, G. M. Sociology of death. (N '72)
 Death and the mines. Hume, B. (Mr '72)
 Death from the sea. Mason, H. M. (S '72)
 Death, heaven, and the Victorians. Morley, J. (Je '72)
 Death in a sunny place. Lockridge, R. (Ap '72)
 Death of art. Watkins, F. C. (Mr '72)
 Death of the army. King, E. L. (S '72)
 Death of the imperial dream. Grierson, E. (O '72)

- Death trap. Carmichael, H. (Ap '72)

- Death's head. Black, C. (N '72)

- Deathwatch. White, R. (D '72)

Debakey, Michael Ellis

- Thompson, T. Hearts. (Mr '72)

- Decade of reform. Llewellyn, A. (S '72)

- Decentralization and self-government in Russia, 1830-1870. Starr, S. F. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- De Chirico, Giorgio
De Chirico, G. Memoirs of Giorgio de Chirico. (N '72)
Decision by default. Dennis, P. (N '72)
- Decision-making
Hogarth, J. Sentencing as a human process. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Pattanaik, P. K. Voting and collective choice. (O '72)
Decision-making for space; law and politics in air, sea, and outer space. White, I. L. (My '72)
Declaration of conscience. Smith, M. C. (Je '72)
Decline and abolition of Negro slavery in Venezuela, 1820-1854. Lombardi, J. V. (Ag '72)
Decline of medieval Hellenism in Asia Minor and the process of Islamization from the eleventh through the fifteenth century. Vryonis, S. (Ag '72)
Decline of the WASP. Schrag, P. (Ap '72)
Decline of working-class politics. Hindess, B. (O '72)
Decolonization. Albertini, R. von. (Ap '72)
Decorated stoneware pottery of North America. Webster, D. B. (Ap '72)
- Decoration and ornament
Battersby, M. Decorative Thirties. (Ag '72)
Decoration and ornament, American
Fales, D. A. American painted furniture, 1660-1880. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Decoration and ornament, Architectural
Wenzel, M. House decoration in Nubia. (S '72)
Decorative Thirties. Battersby, M. (Ag '72)
De-definition of art. Rosenberg, H. (Ag '72)
- Dee, John
French, P. J. John Dee. (Ag '72)
- Deep Sea Drilling Project
Briggs, P. 200,000,000 years beneath the sea. (Ap '72)
Deep trouble. Morey, W. (S '72)
Defense never rests. Bailey, F. L. (Mr '72)
- De Gaulle, Charles. See Gaulle, C. de, President France
- Dehn, Adolf Arthur
Dehn, A. Adolf Dehn drawings. (Ag '72)
- Delacroix, Eugène
Delacroix, E. Selected letters, 1813-1863. (Mr '72)
Roger-Marx, C. Delacroix. (Ap '72)
Delacroix, Roger-Marx, C. (Ap '72)
- Delderfield, Ronald Frederick
Delderfield, R. F. For my own amusement. (N '72)
- Dellinger, David T.
Schultz, J. Motion will be denied: a new report on the Chicago conspiracy trial. (My '72)
Delusions and discoveries. Parry, B. (D '72)
Delusions, etc. Berryman, J. (Ag '72)
- Democracy
Cohen, C. Democracy. (My '72)
Newman, K. J. European democracy between the wars. (Ap '72)
Odegard, H. P. Politics of truth: toward reconstruction in democracy. (O '72)
Smith, B. L. R., ed. Dilemma of accountability in modern government. (Mr '72)
Westin, A. F., ed. Information technology in a democracy. (Je '72)
Zashin, E. M. Civil disobedience and democracy. (O '72)
Democracy and community. Hampton, W. (Mr '72)
- Democracy, militarism, and nationalism in Argentina, 1930-1966. Goldwert, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Democratic citizen. Thompson, D. F. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Democratic humanism and American literature. Kaplan, H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Democratic party
Burton, R. E. Democrats of Oregon. (Je '72)
Domhoff, G. W. Fat cats and Democrats. (O '72)
Democrats of Oregon. Burton, R. E. (Je '72)
Demons, dreamers, and madmen. Frankfurt, H. G. (My '72)
- De Morgan, William Frend
Gaunt, W. William De Morgan: Pre-Raphaelite ceramics. (My '72)
- Dempsey, Jack
Fleisher, N. Jack Dempsey. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Dendür, Egypt. Temple
Juvenile literature
Kelen, E. Temple of Dendur. (Ag '72)
- Dentistry
Garfield, S. Teeth, teeth, teeth. (Ap '72)
- Depression. Jacobson, E. (S '72)
Depression of the nineties. Hoffman, C. (Mr '72)
- Depressions
Flamant, M. Modern economic crises and recessions. (Ag '72)
Hoffman, C. Depression of the nineties. (Mr '72)
- Juvenile literature
Latham, F. B. Panic of 1893. (My '72)
Derby, Edward George Geoffrey Smith Stanley, 14th Earl of Stewart, R. Politics of protection. (O '72)
- Descartes, René
Meditations
Frankfurt, H. G. Demons, dreamers, and madmen. (My '72)
Descent of woman. Morgan, E. (Ag '72)
- Desert animals
Costello, D. F. Desert world. (N '72)
Desert locust. Baron, S. (Je '72)
- Desert plants
Costello, D. F. Desert world. (N '72)
Desert world. Costello, D. F. (N '72)
- Deserted medieval villages. Beresford, M., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Deserts
Costello, D. F. Desert world. (N '72)
"Deserving poor". Handler, J. F. (My '72)
- Design
Rand, P. Thoughts on design [rev ed]. (My '72)
- Design, Industrial
Papanek, V. Design for the real world. (Ap '72)
Design for the real world. Papanek, V. (Ap '72)
Design of inquiring systems: basic concepts of systems and organization. Churchman, C. W. (Ag '72)
Design of the curriculum of library schools. See Education for librarianship. (N '72)
Design on the land. Newton, N. T. (Ap '72)
Designing the industrial state. Gilbert, J. (Ag '72)
Destination Mars. Caidin, M. (N '72)
Destiny of the dollar. Einzig, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Destiny waltz. Charles, G. (N '72)
- Destouches, Louis Ferdinand
Ostrovsky, E. Voyeur voyant. (Ap '72)
Thiher, A. Céline. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Devastating boys, and other stories. Taylor, E. (S '72)
- Developing the third world: the experience of the nineteen-sixties. Robinson, R., ed. (D '72)
- Development administration in Asia. (My '72)
Development of the American Constitution, 1877-1917. Beth, L. P. (Ap '72)
- Development through revolution. Leeuwen, A. T. van. (Mr '72)
- Deviance in Soviet society. Connor, W. D. (O '72)
- Deviant behavior
Chesser, E. Strange loves. (Ap '72)
Harrington, C. C. Errors in sex-role behavior in teen-age boys. (Mr '72)
Kittrie, N. N. Right to be different. (Ap '72)
Rentzel, L. When all the laughter died in sorrow. (D '72)
Shoham, S. Mark of Cain. (Mr '72)
Stebbins, R. A. Commitment to deviance. (Ag '72)
- Devil
Anshen, R. N. Reality of the devil: evil in man. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Devil in the fire. Aldridge, J. W. (Ap '72)
- Diaboliad, and other stories. Bulgakov, M. (Ag '72)
- Dialectical materialism
Curtis, M. ed. Marxism. (Ap '72)
Gramsci, A. Selections from the prison notebooks of Antonio Gramsci. (My '72)
Jameson, F. Marxism and form. (Ag '72)
Korsch, K. Marxism and philosophy. (O '72)
Lichtheim, G. From Marx to Hegel. (My '72)
Novack, G. Understanding history. (D '72)
Dialogue between a philosopher and a student of the common laws of England. Hobbes, T. (Je '72)
- Dialogue in American drama. Cohn, R. (S '72)
- Dialogues with Marcel Duchamp. Cabanne, P. (Mr '72)
- Diamonds
Juvenile literature
Chase, S. H. Diamonds. (O '72)
Diamonds. Chase, S. H. (O '72)
Diaries of Sir Alexander Cadogan, 1938-1945. Cadogan, A. (My '72)

- Diary of a diplomat in Russia, 1917-1918.
Robien, L. de. (Je '72)
Diary of his journey to the Netherlands, 1520-1521. Dürer, A. (Mr '72)
Diary of my analysis with Sigmund Freud.
Blanton, S. (My '72)
Diary of Samuel Pepys, v4, 5, Pepys, S. (Je '72)
Dick Gregory's political primer. Gregory, D. (Je '72)
Dickens, Charles
Dickens the craftsman. (Ap '72)
Lucas, J. Melancholy man. (Mr '72)
Sucksmith, H. P. Narrative art of Charles Dickens. (Ap '72)

Bibliography

- Gold, J., comp. Stature of Dickens. (Ap '72)
Dickens the craftsman. (Ap '72)
Dickinson, Emily
Cody, J. After great pain. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Wylder, E. Last face: Emily Dickinson's manuscripts. (S '72)
Dictionary for the disenchanted. Rosenberg, B. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Dictionary of British folk-tales in the English language, pt. B, 2v. Briggs, K. M. (S '72)
Dictionary of British miniature painters. 2v. Foskett, D. (S '72)
Dictionary of contemporary American artists [2d ed]. Cummings, P. (S '72)
Dictionary of modern war. Luttwak, E. (My '72)
Dictionary of 1,000 best films. Pickard, R. A. E. (Ag '72)
Dictionary of phrase and fable. Brewer's [Century ed]. (Ap '72)
Dictionary of politics. Laqueur, W., ed. (Ap '72)
Dictionary of world pottery and porcelain. Boger, L. A. (Mr '72)
Diderot, Denis
Wilson, A. M. Diderot. (O '72)
Diderot: the testing years, 1713-1759. Wilson, A. M. (In his Diderot). (O '72)
Died on a rainy Sunday. Aiken, J. (O '72)
Diet
Kinderlehrer, J. Confessions of a sneaky organic cook. (My '72)
Lane, C. Mother's cook & cope book. (S '72)
Diet in disease
Cavaiani, M. Low cholesterol cookbook. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Dietrich Bonhoeffer: theologian of reality. Dumas, A. (D '72)
Dilemma of accountability in modern government. Smith, B. L. R., ed. (Mr '72)
Dinesen, Isak. See Blixen, K. D.
Dinner at Magny's. Baldick, R. (Ap '72)
Dinners and dining
Brillat-Savarin, J. A. Physiology of taste. (Ap '72)
Diogenes of Oenoanda: the fragments. Chilton, C. W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual) Diplomacy
Harmon, R. B. Art and practice of diplomacy: a selected and annotated guide. (Ag '72)

Bibliography

- Harmon, R. B. Art and practice of diplomacy: a selected and annotated guide. (Ag '72)
Diplomacy and its discontents. Eayrs, J. (N '72)
Diplomacy for victory: FDR and unconditional surrender. O'Connor, R. G. (N '72)
Diplomatic and consular service
Eayrs, J. Diplomacy and its discontents. (N '72)
Diplomatic diaries of Oliver Harvey, 1937-1940, v 1. Harvey, O. (My '72)
Directory of libraries and special collections on Eastern Europe and the U.S.S.R. Walker, G., ed. (My '72)
Disaffiliated man. Bahr, H. M., ed. (Ag '72)
Disarmament
Economic aspects
Members of Congress for peace through law. Military spending committee. Economics of defense. (O '72)
Disaster at Bari. Infield, G. B. (Mr '72)
Disconcerting issue. Silverman, M. G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Discourse on Hamlet and Hamlet: a psycho-analytic inquiry. Eissler, K. R. (Ap '72)
Discourse on language. Foucault, M. (In his The archaeology of knowledge). (N '72)
Discoveries (in geography)

Juvenile literature

- Hecke, H. R. How men discovered the world. (Je '72)

- Discovering natural science. (Ag '72)
Discovering Turkey. Mango, A. (S '72)
Discovery and exploration of Australia. Feeken, E. H. J. (S '72)
Discovery of cinema. Dickinson, T. (S '72)
Discovery of North America. Cumming, W. P. (Je '72)
Discovery of our galaxy. Whitney, C. A. (Ap '72)
Discovery of the asylum. Rothman, D. J. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Discrimination
Baughman, E. E. Black Americans. (N '72)
Curtis, L. P. Apes and angels. (Ag '72)
Feldstein, S., ed. Poisoned tongue. (Ag '72)
Heizer, R. F. Other Californians. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Discrimination in education
Schools and inequality. (Je '72)
Disease and history. Cartwright, F. F. (N '72)
Diseases
Cartwright, F. F. Disease and history. (N '72)
Dodge, D. L. Social stress and chronic illness. (S '72)
Disinherited. Turki, F. (N '72)
Disordered minds. Dain, N. (Mr '72)
Dispossessing the American Indian. Jacobs, W. R. (S '72)
Disraeli, Benjamin, 1st Earl of Beaconsfield. See Beaconsfield, B. D.
Disraeli in love. Edelman, M. (O '72)
Disruption of the solid South. Tindall, G. B. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Dissent
Salisbury, H. E., ed. Eloquence of protest. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Dissenters
Marvell, A. Rehearsal transpos'd, and The rehearsal transpos'd, the second part. (Ap '72)
Dissertations, Academic
Parker, F., ed. American dissertations on foreign education, v 1. (O '72)
Dissolution of power. Brucan, S. (S '72)
Distant laughter. Forbes, B. (N '72)
Distant magnet: European emigration to the U.S.A. Taylor, P. (My '72)
Distillation, Illicit. See Moonshining
Dividends from space. Ordway, F. F. (S '72)
Divine Right's trip. Norman, G. (D '72)
Diving for sunken treasure. Cousteau, J.-Y. (Je '72)
Diving vehicles
Hussain, F. Living underwater. (Ap '72)
Sweeney, J. B. Pictorial history of oceanographic submersibles. (Je '72)
Divorce
Sheresky, N. Uncoupling. (N '72)
Divus Julius. Weinstock, S. (D '72)
Do-it-yourself home protection. Treves, R. (S '72)
Do the poor want to work? Goodwin, L. (N '72)
Doctor Brodie's report. Borges, J. L. (Ap '72)
Dr. Gully's story. Jenkins, E. (Je '72)
Dr. Kinsey and the Institute for sex research. Pomeroy, W. B. (Ag '72)
Dr. Sam. Pollack, J. H. (S '72)
Doctrinal theology. See Theology
Documentary explorations. Levin, G. R. (O '72)
Documentary films. See Moving pictures, Documentary
Documentary tradition. Jacobs, L., ed. (O '72)
Documents of destruction. Hilberg, R., ed. (S '72)
Dodgson, Charles Lutwidge
Alice's adventures in wonderland
Phillips, R., ed. Aspects of Alice. (Ap '72)
Through the looking glass and what Alice found there
Phillips, R., ed. Aspects of Alice. (Ap '72)
Dogs
Stories
Graham, M. B. Benjy and the barking bird. (O '72)
Steig, W. Dominic. (D '72)
Dog's ransom. Highsmith, P. (N '72)
Doing history. Hexter, J. H. (D '72)
Dolfuss, Englebert
Maass, W. B. Assassination in Vienna. (My '72)
Domestic animals
History
Epstein, H. Origin of the domestic animal of Africa, 2v [rev ed]. (S '72)

Domestic animals—History—Continued

- Hyams, E. Animals in the service of man. (N '72)
Murray, J. First European agriculture. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Domestic relations

- Henry, J. Pathways to madness. (My '72)
Parker, B. Mingled yarn. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Pearlin, L. I. Class context and family relations. (Je '72)
Dominance of the Duke of Northumberland; v2 of Edward VI: the threshold of power. Jordan, W. K. (Ap '72)
Dominant mammal. Burnet, M. (S '72)
Domination of nature. Leiss, W. (O '72)
Dominic. Steig, W. (D '72)

Dominguín, Luis Miguel

- Botsford, K. Dominguín. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Dominican Republic

Foreign relations

United States

- Atkins, G. P. United States and the Trujillo regime. (Ag '72)
Don Juan's bar. Callado, A. (Je '72)
Don Quixote and the dulcineated world. Efron, A. (Ag '72)
Donne, John
Sanders, W. John Donne's poetry. (Mr '72)
Donner Party

Poetry

- Keithley, G. Donner party. (My '72)
Don't blame the people. Cirino, R. (D '72)
Don't drop dead tomorrow. Pentecost, H. (Ag '72)
Don't put your daughter on the stage. Webster, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual) Doomsday syndrome. Maddox, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Dostoevsky, Fyodor Mikhailovich
Yarmolinsky, A. Dostoevsky: works and days. (Ap '72)

The brothers Karamazov

- Rozanov, V. Dostoevsky and the Legend of the Grand Inquisitor. (O '72)
Sandoz, E. Political apocalypse. (O '72)
Dostoevsky and the Legend of the Grand Inquisitor. Rozanov, V. (O '72)
Dostoevsky: works and days. Yarmolinsky, A. (Ap '72)
Double-cross system in the war of 1939 to 1945. Masterman, J. C. (Je '72)

Doubles in literature

- Keppel, C. F. Literature of the second self. (D '72)
Douglas, Paul H.
Douglas, P. H. In the fullness of time. (Ag '72)

Douglas-Home, Sir Alec

- Young, K. Sir Alec Douglas-Home. (O '72)
Dove, Graham, R. L. (O '72)
Down the line. Rustin, B. (My '72)
Down to now. Watters, P. (Mr '72)
Downs, Robert Bingham
Research librarianship. (O '72)
Downstream. Brodeur, P. (D '72)
Draft and public policy. Gerhardt, J. M. (Ap '72)

Dragon by the tail. Davies, J. P. (D '72)

Drake, Sir Francis

- Thomson, G. M. Sir Francis Drake. (O '72)

Drama

See also

Oriental drama

Bibliography

- Keller, D. H. Index to plays in periodicals. (Ap '72)

Collections

- Brandon, J. R., ed. Traditional Asian plays. (Ag '72)
Swortzell, L., ed. All the world's a stage: modern plays for young people. (Je '72)

History and criticism

- Cheney, S. Theatre [rev ed.]. (D '72)
Gaskell, R. Drama and reality. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Goodlad, J. S. R. Sociology of popular drama. (N '72)
Houghton, N. Exploding stage. (Ag '72)
Kerr, W. God on the gymnasium floor. (Ap '72)
Wulbern, J. H. Brecht and Ionesco: commitment in context. (Ap '72)

Dictionaries

- Crowell's handbook of contemporary drama. (Mr '72)

Drama and reality. Gaskell, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Drama in education

- Cheifetz, D. Theater in my head. (Ap '72)

Dramas

- Bulgakov, M. Early plays of Mikhail Bulgakov. (Ag '72)
Childress, A., ed. Black scenes. (S '72)
Feydeau, G. L. J. M. Four farces. (Mr '72)
Gregory, Lady. Collected plays, 4v. (N '72)
Hartmann, S. Buddha, Confucius, Christ. (O '72)
Hellman, L. Collected plays. (N '72)
Menander. Plays of Menander. (Ag '72)
Meruda, P. Splendor and death of Joaquin Murietta. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Patterson, L., comp. Black theater. (My '72)
Rostand, E. Cyrano de Bergerac. (Ag '72)
Soyinka, W. Madmen and specialists. (N '72)
Vonnegut, K. Happy birthday, Wanda June. (D '72)
Weiss, P. Trotsky in exile. (Ag '72)

Dramatic character in the English Romantic age. Donohue, J. W. (Ap '72)

Dramatic criticism

- Rowell, G., comp. Victorian dramatic criticism. (Ag '72)

Dramatists

Bio-bibliography

- Crowell's handbook of contemporary drama. (Mr '72)

Dramatists, English

- Bentley, G. E. Profession of dramatist in Shakespeare's time, 1590-1642. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Drawing

Philosophy

- Schlemmer, O. Man. (Mr '72)

Drawings, British

Catalogs

- Harris, J. Catalogue of British drawings for architecture, decoration, sculpture and landscape gardening, 1550-1900, in American collections. (N '72)

Drawings, French

Catalogs

- Blunt, A. Supplements to the catalogues of Italian and French drawings, with a history of the Royal Collection of Drawings. (With Schilling, E. German drawings in the collection of Her Majesty the Queen at Windsor Castle). (My '72)

Drawings, German

Catalogs

- Schilling, E. German drawings in the collection of Her Majesty the Queen at Windsor Castle. (My '72)

Drawings, Italian

- Gere, J. A. Taddeo Zuccaro: his development studied in his drawings. (Mr '72)

Catalogs

- Blunt, A. Supplements to the catalogues of Italian and French drawings, with a history of the Royal Collection of Drawings. (With Schilling, E. German drawings in the collection of Her Majesty the Queen at Windsor Castle). (My '72)

Drawings of Rodin. Elsen, A. (Ag '72)

- Drawings of Thomas Gainsborough, 2v. Hayes, J. (Ag '72)

Dread companion. Norton, A. (S '72)

Dream. Freeman, L. (Ap '72)

Dream and the deal. Mangione, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Dream of empire. Vecms, J. E. (Ag '72)

Dream power. Faraday, A. (Ag '72)

Dream team. McGinniss, J. (Ag '72)

Dreamers of decadence. Jullian, P. (Mr '72)

Dreams

Faraday, A. Dream power. (Ag '72)

Dreams of a young girl. Hamilton, D. (Je '72)

Dreyer, Carl

- Schrader, P. Transcendental style in film: Ozu, Bresson, Dreyer. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Dreyfus, Alfred

- Marrus, M. R. Politics of assimilation. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

Snyder, L. L. Dreyfus affair. (S '72)

Dreyfus affair. Snyder, L. L. (S '72)

Drifting continents. Anderson, A. H. (Ap '72)

Drink and the Victorians. Harrison, B. (My '72)

- Drinking man. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Dropouts
Malzels, J. Adolescent needs and the transition from school to work. (O '72)
- Dropping out in  $\frac{1}{2}$  time. Morgan, A. (Ag '72)
- Drug abuse
King, R. Drug hang-up. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Martindale, D. Social dimensions of mental illness, alcoholism [sic] and drug dependence. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Meyer, R. E. Guide to drug rehabilitation. (S '72)
- New York Times. Drugs. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Stafford, P. Psychedelic baby reaches puberty. (N '72)
- Drug addiction. See Narcotic habit
- Drug addiction business. Regush, N. M. (My '72)
- Drug hang-up. King, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Drug industry and trade
Walker, H. D. Market power and price levels in the ethical drug industry. (N '72)
- Drugs
Goldhill, P. M. Parent's guide to the prevention and control of drug abuse. (My '72)
- Marks, G. Medical garden. (Ap '72)
- New York Times. Drugs. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Seymour, W. N. Young die quietly. (Ap '72)
- Drugs and youth
Chapin, W. Wasted. (Ag '72)
- Götz, I. L. Psychedelic teacher. (Ag '72)
- Labin, S. Hippies, drugs and promiscuity. (O '72)
- Speck, R. V. New families. (D '72)
- Drustan the wanderer. Taylor, A. (D '72)
- Dryden, John
Kinsley, J., ed. Dryden: the critical heritage. (Ap '72)
- Dryden: the critical heritage. Kinsley, J., ed. (Ap '72)
- Dual image. Fisch, H. (S '72)
- Dublin University Philosophical Society
Hoppen, K. T. Common scientist in the seventeenth century. (S '72)
- Du Bois, William Edward Burghardt
Hamilton, V. W. E. B. Du Bois. (D '72)
- Duce! Collier, R. (Ap '72)
- Duchamp, Marcel
Cabanne, P. Dialogues with Marcel Duchamp. (Mr '72)
- Duel: De Gaulle and Pompidou. Alexandre, P. (Ag '72)
- Duet in diamonds. Burke, J. (O '72)
- Duncan, Isadora
Seroff, V. Real Isadora. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Dupont, Pierre Samuel
Chandler, A. D. Pierre S. Du Pont and the making of the modern corporation. (Mr '72)
- Dupont de Nemours (E.I.) and Company
Chandler, A. D. Pierre S. Du Pont and the making of the modern corporation. (Mr '72)
- Du Pont family
Chandler, A. D. Pierre S. Du Pont and the making of the modern corporation. (Mr '72)
- Durable fire. Sarton, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Dürer, Albrecht
Dürer, A. Diary of his journey to the Netherlands, 1520-1521. (Mr '72)
- Dürer, A. Dürer in America: his graphic work. (O '72)
- White, C. Dürer: the artist and his drawings. (Ag '72)
- Wölfflin, H. Art of Albrecht Dürer. (Mr '72)
- Dürer in America: his graphic work. Dürer, A. (O '72)
- Dürer: the artist and his drawings. White, C. (Ag '72)
- Durkheim, Émile
Giddens, A. Capitalism and modern social theory. (Ag '72)
- LaCapra, D. Émile Durkheim. (D '72)
- Dutch in the Medway. Rogers, P. G. (Mr '72)
- Dutch in the seventeenth century. Haley, K. H. D. (D '72)
- Duveen, Joseph Duveen, 1st Baron
Behrman, S. N. Duveen. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Dwellings. See Houses
- Dyes and dyeing
Maile, A. Tie-&-dye made easy. (Ag '72)
- Dylan, Bob
McGregor, C., ed. Bob Dylan. (S '72)
- Scaduto, A. Bob Dylan. (My '72)
- Dylan Thomas in print. Maud, R. (My '72)
- Dynamics of counterrevolution in Europe, 1870-1956. Mayer, A. J. (Ap '72)
- Dynamics of creation. Storr, A. (D '72)
- ESP. See Extrasensory perception; Psychical research
- ESP curriculum guide. McConnell, R. A. (Ag '72)
- Eagles East. Lukas, R. C. (Ap '72)
- Early blazon. Brault, G. J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Early Chartists. Thompson, D., comp. (Ap '72)
- Early Chiang Kai-shek: a study of his personality and politics, 1887-1924. Loh, P. P. Y. (My '72)
- Early childhood education directory. LaCrosse, E. R., ed. (Ag '72)
- Early Christian and Byzantine art. Beckwith, J. (Ap '72)
- Early Greek philosophy and the Orient. West, M. L. (O '72)
- Early Learning Center, Stamford, Connecticut
Skutch, M. To start a school. (S '72)
- Early Negro writing, 1760-1837. Porter, D., comp. (My '72)
- Early plays of Mikhail Bulgakov. Bulgakov, M. (Ag '72)
- Early prose writings. Thomas, D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Early spring. Hazel, R. (My '72)
- Early Stuart studies. (My '72)
- Early texts. Marx, K. (Ap '72)
- Early Vermont wall paintings, 1790-1850. McGrath, R. L. (D '72)
- Early Victorians at home, 1837-1861. Eng title of: The pageant of early Victorian England, 1837-1861. Burton, E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Earth
Guest, J., ed. Earth and its satellite. (O '72)
- Dictionaries
    Juvenile literature
Asimov, I. ABC's of the earth. (O '72)
- Photographs from space
Davies, M. E. View from space. (Ag '72)
- Earth and its satellite. Guest, J., ed. (O '72)
- Earth below, heaven above. Strauss, C. N. (D '72)
- Earthbound astronauts. Lay B. (My '72)
- Earthworks. Hochman, S. (Je '72)
- East
Silverberg, R. Realm of Prester John. (My '72)
- East (Far East)
- Foreign relations
    Great Britain
Louis, W. R. British strategy in the Far East, 1919-1939. (My '72)
- East and West
Coates, A. China, India and the ruins of Washington. (Ag '72)
- Edwardes, M. East-West passage. (My '72)
- East India Company (English)
Chaudhuri, K. N., ed. Economic development of India under the East India company, 1814-58. (Ag '72)
- Gardner, B. East India Company. (Mr '72)
- Nightingale, P. Trade and empire in Western India, 1784-1806. (S '72)
- East Indians in Great Britain
Scott, R. Wedding man is nicer than cats. Miss. (S '72)
- East Indians in Trinidad
Malik, Y. K. East Indians in Trinidad. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- East Pakistan
- Politics and government
Chopra, P., ed. Challenge of Bangla Desh. (My '72)
- East Pakistan tragedy. Williams, L. F. R. (S '72)
- East Village Other (periodical)
Katzman, A., ed. Our time. (Je '72)
- East-West passage. Edwardes, M. (My '72)
- Easter cat. De Jong, M. (S '72)
- Eastern Point, Massachusetts
- History
Garland, J. E. Eastern Point. (Ag '72)
- Eastern Point. Garland, J. E. (Ag '72)
- Eastern question
Anderson, M. S., ed. Great powers and the Near East, 1774-1923. (Ap '72)

Eat of me, I am the savior. Kemp, A. (O '72)
 Eater's digest. Jacobson, M. F. (N '72)
 Eclogues and the Georgics of Virgil. Slavitt, D. R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual) Ecological isolation in birds. Lack, D. (My '72)

Ecology

Barlow, E. Forests and wetlands of New York City. (Mr '72)
 Brierley, J. K. Natural history of man. (Ap '72)
 Brooks, P. House of life: Rachel Carson at work. (Je '72)
 Brubaker, S. To live on earth. (S '72)
 Clarke, W. C. Place and people. (O '72)
 Commoner, B. Closing circles. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Dasmann, R. F. Planet in peril. (N '72)
 Douglas, W. O. Three hundred year war. (D '72)
 Dubos, R. God within. (N '72)
 Dugan, P. R. Biochemical ecology of water pollution. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Geddes, P. Patrick Geddes: spokesman for man and the environment. (N '72)
 Man's impact on the global environment. (O '72)
 Matthews, W. H. Man's impact on the climate. (Je '72)
 Odum, H. T. Environment, power, and society. (My '72)

Juvenile literature

Jennings, G. Shrinking outdoors. (S '72)
 Pomerantz, C. Day they parachuted cats on Borneo. (My '72)
 Economic and social development. Dunn, H. S. (N '72)

Economic and Youth Opportunity Agency
 Marshall, D. R. Politics of participation in poverty. (N '72)

Economic assistance

Carter, J. R. Net cost of Soviet foreign aid. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 External financing for Latin American development. (Mr '72)
 Thompson, K. W. Foreign assistance: a view from the private sector. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Congresses

Robinson, R., ed. Developing the third world: the experience of the nineteen-sixties. (D '72)

Economic assistance, Domestic

Perry, H. "They'll cut off your project." (N '72)

Economic concentration. Blair, J. M. (N '72)

Economic conditions

Chenery, H. B., ed. Studies in development planning. (D '72)
 Emmanuel, A. Unequal exchange. (Ag '72)
 Forrester, J. W. World dynamics. (Mr '72)
 Kuznets, S. Economic growth of nations. (Ap '72)
 Lopez, R. S. Commercial revolution of the middle ages, 950-1350. (S '72)
 Rostow, W. W. Politics and the stages of growth. (1971, 1972 Annual)
See also

Economic development

Methodology

Tuma, E. H. Economic history and the social sciences. (D '72)
 Economic consequences of the peace; v2 of The collected writings of John Maynard Keynes. Keynes, J. M. (O '72)

Economic development

Grunwald, J. Latin American economic integration and U.S. policy. (D '72)
 Kuznets, S. Economic growth of nations. (Ap '72)
 Leeuwen, A. T. van. Development through revolution. (Mr '72)
 Rhodes, R. I., ed. Imperialism and underdevelopment: a reader. (S '72)
 Robinson, R., ed. Developing the third world: the experience of the nineteen-sixties. (D '72)
 Weltz, R. From peasant to farmer. (Ap '72)

Economic development in Iran, 1900-1970. Bharier, J. (O '72)

Economic development of India under the East India company, 1814-1858. Chaudhuri, K. N., ed. (Ag '72)

Economic development of medieval Europe. Bautier, R.-H. (Ag '72)

Economic geography. See Geography, Commercial

Economic growth of nations. Kuznets, S. (Ap '72)

Economic history. See Economic conditions

Economic history and the social sciences. Tuma, E. H. (D '72)

Economic models. See Economics, Mathematical
 Economic organization in Chinese society. Willmott, W. B., ed. (D '72)

Economic policy

Andle, F. Theory of economic integration for developing countries. (N '72)
 Burkhead, J. Public expenditure. (S '72)
 Rhodes, R. I., ed. Imperialism and underdevelopment: a reader. (S '72)
 Robbins, Lord. Money, trade and international relations. (O '72)
 Welskopf, W. A. Alienation and economics. (My '72)

Economic regulation of the world's airlines. O'Connor, W. B. (Ag '72)

Economic systems of Northern Thailand. Van Roy, B. (N '73)

Economics

Bekstein, A., ed. Comparison of economic systems. (Ag '72)
 Georgescu-Roegen, N. Entropy law and the economic process. (My '72)
 Keynes, J. M. Collected writings of John Maynard Keynes, v 1-6, 9, 10, 15, 16. (O '72)
 Mandel, E. Formation of the economic thought of Karl Marx, 1843 to Capital. (Ap '72)
 O'Brien, D. P., J. R. McCulloch: a study in classical economics. (My '72)
 Reynolds, L. G. Three worlds of economics. (Ag '72)

History

Papandreou, A. G. Paternalistic capitalism. (Ag '72)
 Spengler, J. J. Indian economic thought. (Ag '72)

Economics, Mathematical

Davis, L. E. Institutional change and American economic growth. (Ag '72)
 Economics of black community development. Davis, P. G. (D '72)

Economics of defense. Members of Congress for peace through law. Military spending committee. (O '72)

Economics of environment. Rohm, P., ed. (D '72)

Economics of socialism. Wilezynski, J. (Ag '72)

Economics of taste, v3. Redlinger, G. (O '72)

Economists

Jasny, N. Soviet economists of the twenties. (D '72)

Economy of Sweden. Schmitzer, M. (D '72)

Ecuador

Bibliography

Watson, G. H. Colombia, Ecuador, and Venezuela. (Ag '72)

Ecumenical movement. See Christian unity

Eddy, Mary Baker
 Peel, R. Mary Baker Eddy. (Mr '72)

Edge of a continent. Kelley, D. G. (Mr '72)

Edge of impossibility: tragic forms in literature. Oates, J. C. (S '72)

Edmonton, Alberta

Description

Views

Blower, J. Gold rush. (D '72)

Education

Eymond, H. J. IQ argument. (Mr '72)
 Henderson, G., ed. America's other children. (Ap '72)
 Inget, J. Science of education and the psychology of the child. (Mr '72)
 Social sciences and comparative study of educational systems. (My '72)

Turner, J. Making new schools. (Ap '72)

Aims and objectives

Holt, J. Freedom and beyond. (S '72)
 Katz, M. H. Class, bureaucracy, and schools. (Ap '72)
 Pearl, A. Atrocity of education. (S '72)
 Spring, J. H. Education and the rise of the corporate state. (O '72)

Bibliography

Parker, P., ed. American dissertations on foreign education, v 1. (O '72)

Curricula

Beachhold, H. F. Creative classroom. (Ap '72)

Turner, J. Making new schools. (Ap '72)

Economic aspects

Levin, M. R., ed. Educational investment in an urban society. (My '72)

Schultz, T. W. Investment in human capital. (Ap '72)

Experimental methods

- Ashton-Warner, S. Spearpoint. (N '72)
 Bhaerman, S. No particular place to go: the making of a free high school. (Je '72)
 Gartner, A. Children teach children. (Ap '72)
 Holt, J. Freedom and beyond. (S '72)
 Marshall, K. Law and order in grade 6-E. (N '72)
 Snitzer, H. Today is for children. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Finance

- Larson, M. A. When parochial schools close. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Levin, M. R., ed. Educational investment in an urban society. (My '72)
 Schools and inequality. (Je '72)

History

- Bowen, J. History of western education, v 1. (N '72)

Philosophy

- Aubrey, J. Aubrey on education. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Brameld, T. Patterns of educational philosophy. (S '72)
 Holt, J. Freedom and beyond. (S '72)
 Smith, R. A., ed. Aesthetics and problems of education. (N '72)

Canada*Bibliography

- Parker, F., ed. American dissertations on foreign education, v 1. (O '72)

Great Britain

- Musgrove, F. Patterns of power and authority in English education. (Ap '72)
 Roach, J. Public examinations in England, 1850-1900. (Ag '72)
 Tompson, R. S. Classics or charity? (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Greece

- Clarke, M. L. Higher education in the ancient world. (O '72)

New York (State)

- O'Reilly, R. P., ed. Racial and social class isolation in the schools. (S '72)

Rome

- Clarke, M. L. Higher education in the ancient world. (O '72)

Russia

- Pennar, J. Modernization and diversity in Soviet education. (Mr '72)
 Soviet preschool education, v2. (Je '72)

Southern States

- Culbertson, M. May I speak? (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

United States

- Ashton-Warner, S. Spearpoint. (N '72)
 Beechhold, H. F. Creative classroom. (Ap '72)
 Holt, J. Freedom and beyond. (S '72)
 Katz, M. B. Class, bureaucracy, and schools. (Ap '72)
 Krug, E. A. Shaping of the American high school, v2. (N '72)
 Martin, J. H. Free to learn. (N '72)
 Pearl, A. Atrocity of education. (S '72)
 Reimer, E. School is dead: alternatives in education. (Ap '72)
 Sarason, S. B. Culture of the school and the problem of change. (My '72)

History

- Greer, C. Great school legend. (Ag '72)
 Spring, J. H. Education and the rise of the corporate state. (O '72)

Education, Cooperative

- Knowles, A. S. Handbook of cooperative education. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Education, Discrimination in. See Discrimination in education*Education, Elementary

- Bourne, R. S. Gary schools. (My '72)
 Hertzberg, A. Schools are for children. (Mr '72)
 McPherson, G. H. Small town teacher. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Great Britain

- Blackie, J. Inside the primary school. (Ap '72)
 Scott, R. Wedding man is nicer than cats. Miss. (S '72)
 Weber, L. English infant school and informal education. (Ap '72)

Taiwan

- Wilson, R. W. Learning to be Chinese: the political socialization of children in Taiwan. (Mr '72)

Education, Higher

- Adams, F. C. College and university student work programs. (Mr '72)
 Alken, H. D. Predicament of the university. (Ap '72)
 Altbach, P. G., ed. Academic super markets. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Ashby, E. Any person, any study. (Ap '72)
 Boalt, G. Universities and research. (O '72)
 Coyne, J. This way out. (N '72)
 Debus, A. G. Science and education in the seventeenth century: the Webster-Ward debate. (Ag '72)
 Fashing, J. Academics in retreat. (Ag '72)
 Higher education for everybody? (Ag '72)
 Johnson, E. L. From riot to reason. (Ap '72)
 Kruythösch, C. E. State of the university. (My '72)
 Maynard, J. Some microeconomics of higher education. (O '72)
 Morris, T. Walk of the conscious ants. (S '72)
 Rossman, M. On learning and social change. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Sowell, T. Black education. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Task of universities in a changing world. (Mr '72)
 Ulam, A. Fall of the American university. (D '72)
 Warnath, C. F. New myths and old realities. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Research

- Dressel, P. L. Institutional research in the university. (S '72)

Education, Preschool. See Kindergarten: Nursery schools*Education, Secondary

- Bhaerman, S. No particular place to go: the making of a free high school. (Je '72)

Education, Urban

- Lazerson, M. Origins of the urban school. (N '72)

- Levin, M. R., ed. Educational investment in an urban society. (My '72)

Education and politics, 1900-1951: a study of the Labour party. Barker, R. (D '72)*Education and state

- Barker, R. Education and politics, 1900-1951: a study of the Labour party. (D '72)

Education and the rise of the corporate state. Spring, J. H. (O '72)*Education for librarianship: the design of the curriculum of library schools. (N '72)*Education of a doctor. MacNab, J. (Ag '72)*Education of a tennis player. Laver, R. (Mr '72)*Education of Edward Kennedy. Hersh, B. (Ag '72)*Educational innovations

- Fashing, J. Academics in retreat. (Ag '72)

- Sarason, S. B. Culture of the school and the problem of change. (My '72)

Educational investment in an urban society. Levin, M. R., ed. (My '72)*Educational psychology

- Ames, L. B. Stop school failure. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Piaget, J. Science of education and the psychology of the child. (Mr '72)

Educational sociology

- Inequality. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- McPherson, G. H. Small town teacher. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Musgrove, F. Patterns of power and authority in English education. (Ap '72)

- Task of universities in a changing world. (Mr '72)

Edward, the Confessor, Saint, King of England

- Barlow, F. Edward the Confessor. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Edward Augustus, Duke of Kent

- Gillen, M. Prince and his lady. (Mr '72)

Edward II, King of England

- Hutchison, H. F. Edward II. (Je '72)

Edward VI, King of England

- Jordan, W. K. Edward VI: the threshold of power, v2. (Ap '72)

- Edward VI: the threshold of power, v2. Jordan, W. K. (Ap '72)

Edwin Mullhouse: the life and death of an American writer, 1943-1954, by Jeffrey Cartwright. Milhauser, S. (D '72)*Effect of judicial review on federal-state relations in Australia, Canada, and the United States. Johnston, R. E. (Ap '72)

Effete conspiracy and other crimes by the press. Bagdikian, B. H. (O '72)

Egan, Pierce

Reid, J. C. Bucks and bruisers. (O '72)

Egg thoughts, and other Frances songs. Hoban, R. (S '72)

Ego and his own. Stirner, M. (S '72)

Egypt

Antiquities

Carter, H. Tomb of Tutankhamen. (N '72)

Silverberg, R. Before the sphinx. (Je '72)

Juvenile literature

Millard, A. Egypt. (My '72)

Civilization

Silverberg, R. Before the sphinx. (Je '72)

Juvenile literature

Kelen, E. Temple of Dendur. (Ag '72)

Description and travel

Ferne, E. W. View of the Nile. (Je '72)

History

Bradford, E. Cleopatra. (O '72)

Mansfield, P. British in Egypt. (Je '72)

Stephens, R. Nasser. (Je '72)

Juvenile literature

Henderson, L. Egypt and the Sudan. (S '72)

Politics and government

Dekmejian, R. H. Egypt under Nasir. (My '72)

Religion

Berger, M. Islam in Egypt today. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Egypt. Millard, A. (My '72)

Egypt and the Sudan. Henderson, L. (S '72)

Egypt under Nasir. Dekmejian, R. H. (My '72)

Egyptian literature

Goedicke, H. Report about the dispute of a man with his ba. (S '72)

Simpson, W. K., ed. Literature of ancient Egypt. (D '72)

Eighteen song cycles. Lehmann, L. (Ap '72)

Eighteen years in the Khyber, 1879-1898. Warburton, R. (Ap '72)

Eighteenth century

Gossman, L. French society and culture. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Laver, J. Age of illusion. (S '72)

Eighteenth-century British logic and rhetoric. Howell, W. S. (N '72)

800,000,000: the real China. Terrill, R. (Ag '72)

Ein Volk, ein Reich, ein Führer: the Nazi annexation of Austria. Eng title of: Anschluss. Wagner, D. (Je '72)

Einstein, Albert

Einstein, A. Born-Einstein letters. (Mr '72)

Hoffmann, B. Albert Einstein, creator and rebel. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Eisenhower, Dwight David, President U.S.

Branyan, R. L., comp. Eisenhower administration, 1953-1961. (Ag '72)

Parment, H. S. Eisenhower and the American crusades. (D '72)

Eisenhower administration, 1953-1961. Branyan, R. L. comp. (Ag '72)

Eisenhower and the American crusades. Parment, H. S. (D '72)

El Salvador. See Salvador

El toro pinto and other songs in Spanish. Rockwell, Anne, ed. (S '72)

Eleanor and Franklin. Lash, J. P. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Eleanor: the years alone. Lash, J. P. (O '72)

Election campaigning Japanese style. Curtis, G. L. (Mr '72)

Election game, and how to win it. Napolitan, J. (Ag '72)

Electioneering. See Politics, Practical

Elections

Allardt, E., ed. Mass politics. (Ap '72)

Finance

Alexander, H. E. Financing the 1968 election. (My '72)

Great Britain

Blewett, N. Peers, the parties and the people. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Butler, D. British general election of 1970. (My '72)

Greece

Staveley, E. S. Greek and Roman voting and elections. (D '72)

Israel

Deshen, S. A. Immigrant voters in Israel. (Ap '72)

Japan

Curtis, G. L. Election campaigning Japanese style. (Mr '72)

Lancashire, England

Clarke, P. F. Lancashire and the new liberalism. (S '72)

Rome

Staveley, E. S. Greek and Roman voting and elections. (D '72)

United States

Alexander, H. E. Financing the 1968 election. (My '72)

Alexander, H. E. Money in politics. (Ag '72)

Bean, L. H. How to predict the 1972 election. (O '72)

David, P. T. Party strength in the United States, 1872-1970. (D '72)

De Vries, W. Ticket-splitter. (Je '72)

Domhoff, G. W. Fat cats and Democrats. (O '72)

Huckshorn, R. J. Politics of defeat. (Ap '72)

Levy, M. R. Ethnic factor. (O '72)

McCarthy, M. Elections for sale. (Ag '72)

Shadegg, S. C. New How to win an election. (S '72)

Statistics

Cox, E. F. State and national voting in Federal elections, 1910-1970. (O '72)

Elections for sale. McCarthy, M. (Ag '72)

Electoral college. See Presidents—United States—Election

Electric engineering

Thomson, E. Selections from the scientific correspondence of Elihu Thomson. (Ag '72)

Electric mirror. Michelson, S. (S '72)

Electric money: evolution of an electronic funds-transfer system. Richardson, D. W. (Ap '72)

Electric waves

Hewish, A., ed. Seeing beyond the visible. (Ap '72)

Electronic computers. See Computers

Electronic data processing

Computer-assisted counseling. (Je '72)

Hawkes, N. Computer revolution. (O '72)

Lee, W. J. International computer industry. (Ag '72)

Myers, C. A. Computers in knowledge-based fields. (My '72)

Richardson, D. W. Electric money: evolution of an electronic funds-transfer system. (Ap '72)

Westin, A. F., ed. Information technology in a democracy. (Je '72)

Electronics

Dictionaries

Macura, P. Russian-English dictionary of electrotechnology and allied sciences. (Mr '72)

Juvenile literature

Pearce, W. E. Transistors and circuits. (Mr '72)

Elegant and learned discourse of the light of nature. Culverwell, N. (Ag '72)

Elements of existence. Wright, T. (In his An original theory or new hypothesis of the universe, 1750). (My '72)

Elements of style [2d ed.] Strunk, W. (D '72)

Elephant man. Montagu, A. (S '72)

Elephant man. Treves, F. (In Montagu, A. The elephant man). (S '72)

Elephants

Juvenile literature

Conklin, G. Elephants of Africa. (N '72)

Stories

Brunhoff, L. de. Babar's birthday surprise. (Mr '72)

Elephants of Africa. Conklin, G. (N '72)

Elliot, George. See Cross, M. A. E.

Eliot, Thomas Stearn

Bergonzi, B. T. S. Eliot. (O '72)

Kirk, R. Eliot and his age. (My '72)

Kojecky, R. T. S. Eliot's social criticism. (My '72)

Patterson, G. T. S. Eliot: poems in the making. (Je '72)

Sencourt, R. T. S. Eliot: a memoir. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Watkins, F. C. Flesh and the word. (Ag '72)

Eliot and his age. Kirk, R. (My '72)

- Elites. See Leadership
 Elites of Barotseland, 1878-1969. Caplan, G. L. (Mr '72)
 Elixir. Nathan, R. (Ag '72)
 Elizabeth I, Queen of England
 Camden, W. History of the most renowned and victorious Princess Elizabeth, late Queen of England. (My '72)
 Williams, N. Life and times of Elizabeth I. (O '72)
 Elizabethan love tragedy, 1587-1625. Brodwin, L. L. (My '72)
 Elizabethan Privy Council in the fifteen-seventies. Pulman, M. B. (Ag '72)
 Elizabethan Renaissance: the life of the society. Rowse, A. L. (Je '72)
 Elkins, Hillard
 Davis, C. Producer. (My '72)
 Ella Price's journal. Bryant, D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Ellen Glasgow and the woman within. Godbold, E. S. (D '72)
 Ellington, Duke
 Dance, S. World of Duke Ellington. (Ap '72)
 Ellipse. Charosh, M. (Je '72)
 Ellis Island, New York
 Novotny, A. Strangers at the door. (Ag '72)
 Tifft, W. Ellis Island. (My '72)
- Juvenile literature
- Severn, B. Ellis Island: the immigrant years. (Ap '72)
 Ellis Island: the immigrant years. Severn, B. (Ap '72)
 Eloquence of protest. Salisbury, H. E., ed (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Emblem of liberty. Loveland, A. C. (S '72)
 Emergence of African fiction. Larson, C. R. (O '72)
 Emergence of black politics in Senegal. Johnson, G. W. (O '72)
 Emergence of civilisation. Renfrew, C. (D '72)
 Emergency poems. Parra, N. (S '72)
 Emerson, Ralph Waldo
 Anderson, J. Q. Liberating gods. (Mr '72)
 Woodbury, C. J. Talks with Emerson. (Ap '72)
 Emily and the klunky baby and the next-door dog. Lexau, J. M. (D '72)
 Eminent American Jews, 1776 to the present. Madison, C. A. (Ap '72)
 Emma Tupper's diary. Dickinson, P. (Mr '72)
 Emotionally disturbed child. Faas, L. A., ed. (My '72)
- Emotions
 Otto, H. A. Love today. (Ag '72)
Emperors and biography: studies in the Historia Augusta. Syme, R. (Ap '72)
- Employees' representation in management
 Derber, M. American idea of industrial democracy, 1865-1965. (My '72)
 Vanek, J. Participatory economy. (Ap '72)
Enactment: Greek tragedy. Cook, A. (S '72)
Encounter groups. See Group relations training
 Encounters with Stravinsky. Horgan, P. (Ag '72)
 Encyclopaedia Judaica, 16v. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Encyclopaedia of astronomy. Satterthwaite, G. E. (Je '72)
 Encyclopaedia of Black folklore and humor. Spalding, H. D., ed. (O '72)
 Encyclopaedia of swimming. Besford, P., comp. (My '72)
 Encyclopaedia of themes and subjects in painting. Daniel, H. (Mr '72)
 Encyclopaedia of Zionism and Israel. Patai, R., ed. (S '72)
- Encyclopedias and dictionaries
 Encyclopaedia Judaica, 16v. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 International Everyman's encyclopedia, 20v. (S '72)
 Lincoln library of essential information, 2v (34th ed.). (Ag '72)
 End of a tradition. Shirley, R. W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 End of nowhere. Stevenson, C. A. (Ag '72)
 End of religion. Graham, A. (Mr '72)
 End of the modern age. Wheelis, A. (Ap '72)
 End zone. DeLillo, D. (Ag '72)
- Endowments
 Nielsen, W. A. Big foundations. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Enduring beast. Beerman, M., ed. (S '72)
 Enduring South. Reed, J. S. (D '72)
 Enemies, a love story. Singer, I. B. (S '72)
- Energy. See Force and energy
 Energy. Adler, I. (Mr '72)
 Energy and inertia. Hellman, H. (Mr '72)
- Energy and power. Hinkelbein, A. (S '72)
- Engineering
 History
 Gillmor, C. S. Coulomb and the evolution of physics and engineering in eighteenth-century France. (N '72)
- England
 Civilization
 Trollope, A. New Zealander. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Description and travel
 Views
 England. (Ap '72)
 Foreign opinion
 McClelland, C. E. German historians and England. (Ag '72)
 Relations (general) with Scotland
 Fraser, G. M. Steel bonnets. (S '72)
 Social life and customs
 Burton, E. Pageant of early Victorian England, 1837-1861. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Harrison, M. People and furniture. (Ap '72)
 Hart, R. English life in the nineteenth century. (My '72)
 Reid, J. C. Bucks and bruisers. (O '72)
 Trease, G. Samuel Pepys and his world. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 England. (Ap '72)
 England, France, and Christendom, 1377-99. Palmer, J. J. N. (N '72)
 English abbey. Braun, H. (Mr '72)
 English as collectors. Herrmann, F. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 English court odes, 1660-1820. McGuinness, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- English drama
 History and criticism
 Birdsall, V. O. Wild civility. (Ap '72)
 Brodwin, L. L. Elizabethan love tragedy, 1587-1625. (My '72)
 Donohue, J. W. Dramatic character in the English Romantic age. (Ap '72)
 Kirsch, A. C. Jacobean dramatic perspectives. (D '72)
 Lever, J. W. Tragedy of state. (Ap '72)
 Levin, R. Multiple plot in English Renaissance drama. (Ap '72)
 Schneider, B. R. Ethos of restoration comedy. (Ap '72)
 Taylor, J. R. Second wave. (Ag '72)
 Waith, E. M. Ideas of greatness. (Ag '72)
- Bibliography
- Stratman, C. J., ed. Restoration and eighteenth century theatre research. (D '72)
 English enterprise in Newfoundland, 1577-1660. Cell, G. T. (S '72)
 English experience. Bowle, J. (N '72)
- English fiction
 Colby, V. Singular anomaly. (Mr '72)
- History and criticism
- Beja, M. Epiphany in the modern novel. (Mr '72)
 Gindin, J. Harvest of a quiet eye: the novel of compassion. (Ag '73)
 Harper, H. M., ed. Classic British novel. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Keating, P. J. Working classes in Victorian fiction. (Mr '72)
 Knoepfmacher, U. C. Laughter & despair: readings in ten novels of the Victorian era. (S '72)
 Lodge, D. Novelist at the crossroads. (Ag '72)
 Parry, B. Delusions and discoveries. (D '72)
 Skilton, D. Anthony Trollope and his contemporaries. (D '72)
 Stanzel, F. Narrative situations in the novel. (Ap '72)
 Stone, D. D. Novelists in a changing world. (N '72)
 Wolff, R. L. Strange stories and other explorations in Victorian fiction. (O '72)
- English history. Clark, G. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 English home. Priestley, H. (O '72)
 English icon. Strong, R. C. (Ap '72)
 English in Ireland. See British in Ireland
 English infant school and informal education. Weber, L. (Ap '72)
- English language
 Knights, L. C. Public voices: (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Laird, C. Language in America. (D '72)
 Nash, W. Our experience of language. (N '72)

English language—Continued*Americanisms

See Americanisms

Dictionaries

Oxford English dictionary. Supplement to the Oxford English dictionary, v. 1. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Arabic

Karmi, H. S. Al-Mamar. (S '72)

Hawaiian

Pukui, M. K. Hawaiian dictionary. (Ag '72)

EtymologyAsimov, I. More words of science. (D '72)
Harrison, M. London that was Rome. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)Grammar

Huddleston, R. D. Sentence in written English. (My '72)

Pronunciation

Gimson, A. C. Introduction to the pronunciation of English (2d ed.). (Ap '72)

Rhetoric

See Rhetoric

English life in the nineteenth century. Hart, R. (My '72)

English literature*History and criticismBradbury, M. Social context of modern English literature. (S '72)
Brooks, G. Shaping joy. (O '72)
Caudwell, C. Romance and realism. (S '72)
Dilhard, R. H. W., ed. Sounder few. (S '72)
English writers of the eighteenth century. (O '72)
Fisch, H. Dual image. (S '72)
Hammond, D. Africa that never was. (Je '72)
Interpretation of narrative. (Ap '72)
Knights, L. C. Public voices. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Krieger, M. Claude vision. (Ag '72)
Penguin companion to English literature. (Ag '72)
Ray, P. C. Surrealist movement in England. (My '72)
Robson, W. W. Modern English literature. (Ag '72)
Rogers, P. Grub Street. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Toliver, H. E. Pastoral forms and attitudes. (Ag '72)

English mummies and their plays. Brody, A. (Ap '72)

English newspapers

Gannon, P. R. British press and Germany, 1936-1939. (Ag '72)

English occupation of Tournai, 1513-1519. Crutchebank, C. G. (Ag '72)

English poetry*CollectionsBeerman, M., ed. Enduring beast. (S '72)
Grigson, G., ed. Gambit book of popular verse. (Ag '72)
Poems on affairs of state, v.6. (Ap '72)Juvenile literatureCole, W., ed. Poet's talent. (Ag '72)
Himler, R., comp. Glad days and other classical poems for children. (S '72)History and criticismBurrow, J. A. Ricardian poetry: Chaucer, Gower, Langland and the 'Gawain' poet. (Ag '72)
Feder, L. Ancient myth in modern poetry. (O '72)
Freer, C. Music for a king. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Fuller, R. Owls and artificers. (Ag '72)
Gransden, K. W., ed. Tudor verse satire. (Ap '72)
Hayden, J. O., ed. Romantic bards and British reviewers. (S '72)
Henth, W. Wordsworth and Coleridge. (Ap '72)
Leishman, J. B. Milton's minor poems. (Ap '72)
Miner, E. Cavalier mode from Jonson to Cotton. (My '72)
Muscatine, C. Poetry and crisis in the age of Chaucer. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Vogler, T. A. Preludes to vision. (Ap '72)
English prison officer since 1856. Thomas, J. E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
English writers of the eighteenth century. (O '72)

Englishman in the American Civil War. Thompson, H. V. (O '72)

Engraved gems of the Greeks, Etruscans and Romans, pt. 2. Richter, G. M. A. (Ap '72)
Engraved gems of the Romans; pt. 2 of Engraved gems of the Greeks, Etruscans and Romans. Richter, G. M. A. (Ap '72)Engravers

Adhmar, J. Twentieth-century graphics. (Ag '72)

Engraving

Adhmar, J. Twentieth-century graphics. (Ag '72)

Enigma of Mary Stuart. Cowan, I. B., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

EnlightenmentBernard, P. P. Jesuits and Jacobins. (S '72)
Sloan, D. Scottish enlightenment and the American college ideal. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Venturi, F. Utopia and reform in the enlightenment. (S '72)
Wade, I. O. Intellectual origins of the French enlightenment. (Ag '72)

Enormous despair. Mallin, J. (S '72)

Enrollment explosion. Parker, G. J. (My '72)
Disarmament and military change in Moscow. Helles, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Entering the path of enlightenment. Santideva. (Mr '72)

Enterprise denied. Martin, A. (My '72)

Enthusiasm. Tucker, S. L. (D '72)

Entombment of Christ. Forsyth, W. H. (Mr '72)

Entomologists*Biography

Mallis, A. American entomologists. (Je '72)

EntrepreneursCollins, O. Organization makers. (Ap '72)
McKay, J. P. Pioneers for profit. (Ap '72)

Palmade, G. P. French capitalism in the nineteenth century (1961). (N '72)

Entropy law and the economic process. Georgescu-Roegen, N. (My '72)

Environment and archeology (2d ed.). Butzer, K. W. (Ap '72)

Environment, power, and society. Odum, H. T. (My '72)

Environmental policy

Bolin, P., ed. Economics of environment. (D '72)

Caldwell, L. K. In defense of earth: international protection of the biosphere. (D '72)

Perin, C. With man in mind. (My '72)

Ward, B. Only one earth. (O '72)

United States

Chase, A. Biological imperatives. (Ag '72)

Commoner, B. Closing circle. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Cronson, M. A. Un-politics of air pollution. (S '72)

Environmental side effects of rising industrial output. (Ap '72)

Epic poetry*History and criticism

Moorman, C. Kings &amp; captains. (Ag '72)

Epigraphy. See Inscriptions*Epilepsy

White, R. Be not afraid. (Ag '72)

Epiphany in the modern novel. Bolin, M. (Mr '72)

Epietomology. See Knowledge, Theory of

Epistle to a godson, and other poems. Auden, W. H. (N '72)

EqualityInequality. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Schools and inequality. (Je '72)

Ernest Hemingway and the arts. Watts, E. S. (S '72)

Ernesto. Auden, H. (N '72)

Ernst Cassirer: scientific knowledge and the concept of man. Itzkoff, S. W. (Ap '72)

Erosion of faith. Idinopulos, T. A. (My '72)

Erotic life of the American wife. Gittelson, N. (O '72)

Errors in sex-role behavior in teen-age boys. Harrington, C. C. (Mr '72)

Escape a killer. Phillips, J. (S '72)

Escapes

Winchester, R. Beyond the tumult. (Ag '72)

Eschatology

Mbiti, J. B. New Testament eschatology in an African background. (Je '72)

Eskimo poetry*Collections*Juvenile literature

Lowie, R., ed. I breathe a new song. (D '72)

Eskimos

- Birket-Smith, K. Eskimos. (Ag '72)
 Bruemner, F. Seasons of the Eskimo. (My '72)

Art

- Phebus, G. Alaskan Eskimo life in the 1890's as sketched by native artists. (N '72)

Juvenile literature

- Flaherty, R. Nanook of the North. (Ap '72)

Social life and customs

- Phebus, G. Alaskan Eskimo life in the 1890's as sketched by native artists. (N '72)
 Pryde, D. Nunaga: ten years of Eskimo life. (Ag '72)

Espionage

- Cookridge, E. H. Spy trade. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Espionage, American

- Smith, R. H. OSS. (O '72)

Espionage, British

- Masterman, J. C. Double-cross system in the war of 1939. (Je '72)

Espionage, German

- Farago, L. Game of the foxes. (Ap '72)
 Gehlen, R. Service. (S '72)

Espionage, Israeli

- Bar-Zohar, M. Spies in the Promised Land. (S '72)

Esquire

- Gingrich, A. Nothing but people. (Mr '72)

Essays

- Barth, J. R., ed. Religious perspectives in Faulkner's fiction. (D '72)
 Barthes, R. Mythologies. (O '72)
 Beerbohm, M. Peep into the past, and other prose pieces. (D '72)
 Bishop, J. Something else. (Ap '72)
 Boyle, K. Long walk at San Francisco State, and other essays. (S '72)
 Brooks, C. Shaping joy. (O '72)
 Bullock, A., ed. Twentieth century. (Ap '72)
 Censorship: for & against. (My '72)
 Coleridge, S. T. Collected works of Samuel Taylor Coleridge, v 1: Lectures 1795 on politics and religion. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Colette, Places. (Ap '72)
 Cooke, M. G., ed. Modern Black novelists. (My '72)
 Czerwinski, E. J., ed. Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia: its effects on Eastern Europe. (O '72)
 Eiseley, L. Night country. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Elliott, G. P. Conversions. (Mr '72)
 Emerson, R. W. Collected works of Ralph Waldo Emerson, v 1. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 English writers of the eighteenth century. (O '72)
 Gramsci, A. Selections from the prison notebooks of Antonio Gramsci. (My '72)
 Graña, C. Fact and symbol. (S '72)
 Gross, M., ed. World of George Orwell. (My '72)
 Harper, H. M., ed. Classic British novel. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Henry David Thoreau: studies and commentaries. (N '72)
 Hills, L. R. How to do things right. (S '72)
 Jeffares, A. N. Circus animals. (Mr '72)
 Kristol, I. On the democratic idea in America. (S '72)
 MacIntyre, A. Against the self-images of the age. (My '72)
 Mailer, N. Existential errands. (Je '72)
 Marriage: for and against. (S '72)
 Menuhin, Y. Theme and variations. (O '72)
 Mesa-Lago, C., ed. Revolutionary change in Cuba. (O '72)
 Nemerov, H. Reflexions on poetry & poetics. (S '72)
 Plotnicov, L., ed. Essays in comparative social stratification. (S '72)
 Pocock, J. G. A. Politics, language and time. (S '72)
 Postan, M. M. Fact and relevance. (Mr '72)
 Powell, L. C. California classics. (Mr '72)
 Price, R. Things themselves. (S '72)
 Proclamation and presence. (Mr '72)
 Ransom, J. C. Beating the bushes. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Stegmüller, F. Stories and true stories. (Je '72)
 Vicinus, M., ed. Suffer and be still. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Walls, D. S., ed. Appalachia in the sixties. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Young, P. Three bags full. (Je '72)

See also*Yiddish essays

- Essays in comparative social stratification. Plotnicov, L., ed. (S '72)

- Essays in labour history, 1886-1923. Briggs, A., ed. (Je '72)

- Essays on classical literature. Rudd, N., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Essays on Gandhian politics. Kumar, R., ed. (Ag '72)

- Essays on sex equality. Rossi, A. S., ed. (Ap '72)

- Essays on the caste system. Bouglé, C. (D '72)

- Essence of decision. Allison, G. T. (Je '72)

Essex County, New York

- Bernstein, B. Sticks. (N '72)

Esthetics

- Adams, H., ed. Critical theory since Plato. (N '72)

- Dessoir, M. Aesthetics and theory of art. (Mr '72)

- Oates, W. J. Plato's view of art. (D '72)

- Ransom, J. C. Beating the bushes. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Slattery, M. F. Hazard, form & value. (N '72)

History and criticism

- Hardison, O. B., ed. Quest for imagination. (Ag '72)

Study and teaching

- Smith, R. A., ed. Aesthetics and problems of education. (N '72)

- Esthetics of negligence: La Fontaine's contes. Lapp, J. C. (Ag '72)

- Etchings of the Tienpos. Rizzi, A. (S '72)

- Eternal crossroads. Driskell, L. V. (D '72)

- Eternal feminine. Lubac, H. de. (Ap '72)

Ether (of space)

- Swenson, L. S. Ethereal aether. (Ag '72)

- Ethereal aether. Swenson, L. S. (Ag '72)

- Ethical demand. Logstrup, K. E. (Ag '72)

- Ethical prelude to a united world; v2 of The planetary man. Desan, W. (D '72)

Ethics

- Barnsley, J. H. Social reality of ethics. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Beck, C. M., ed. Moral education. (My '72)

- Desan, W. Planetary man. 2v in 1. (D '72)

- Dunham, B. Ethics, dead and alive. (Ag '72)

- Harrison, J. Our knowledge of right and wrong. (Je '72)

- Logstrup, K. E. Ethical demand. (Ap '72)

- Miller, K. B. Ideology and moral philosophy. (N '72)

- Rawls, J. Theory of justice. (Je '72)

- Taylor, R. Good and evil. (Mr '72)

- Wellman, C. Challenge and response. (My '72)

- Wertheimer, R. Significance of sense. (O '72)

Ethics, Jewish

- Maimonides. Maimonides reader. (N '72)

- Ethics, dead and alive. Dunham, B. (Ag '72)

Ethiopia

- Silverberg, R. Realm of Prester John. (My '72)

Description and travel

- Nicol, C. W. From the roof of Africa. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

- Nolen, B. Ethiopia. (My '72)

- Ethnic enterprise in America. Light, I. H. (O '72)

- Ethnic factor. Levy, M. R. (O '72)

Ethnology

- Reichel-Dolmatoff, G. Amazonian cosmos. (Ap '72)

Methodology

- Barnes, J. A. Three styles in the study of kinship. (Ag '72)

Australia*Juvenile literature

- Baglin, D. People of the dreamtime. (S '72)

Balkan Peninsula

- Ristelhueber, R. History of the Balkan peoples. (N '72)

Canada

- Liebersohn, S. Language and ethnic relations in Canada. (1971, 1972 Annual)

New Guinea

- Clarke, W. C. Place and people. (O '72)

- Holton, G. Human aviary. (My '72)

Nigeria*Bibliography

- Ita, N. O. Bibliography of Nigeria: a survey of anthropological and linguistic writings from the earliest times to 1966. (O '72)

Polynesia

- Dodd, E. Polynesian seafaring, v2. (N '72)

- Ethnomusicologist. Hood, M. (My '72)

Ethnomusicology

Hood, M. Ethnomusicologist. (My '72)

Ethnopsychology. See Race psychology

Ethos of restoration comedy. Schneider, B. R. (Ap '72)

Etiquette

Vanderbilt, A. Amy Vanderbilt's etiquette. (Ag '72)

Etiquette of race relations in the South. Doyle, B. W. (Ag '72)

Etruria

Matt, L. von. Art of the Etruscans. (O '72)

Eugene V. Debs speaks. Debs, E. V. (Ap '72)

Eugénie, consort of Napoleon III, Emperor of the French

Aronson, T. Queen Victoria and the Bonapartes. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Euripides

Burnett, A. P. Catastrophe survived. (S '72)

Phaethon

Diggle, J. ed. Euripides: Phaethon. (Ag '72)

Europe*Civilization

Hale, J. R. Renaissance Europe: individual and society, 1480-1520. (O '72)

Laver, J. Age of illusion: manners and morals, 1750-1848. (S '72)

Mayne, R. Europeans. (N '72)

Description and travel

Mayne, R. Europeans. (N '72)

Guide books

Hadley, L. Fielding's guide to traveling with children in Europe. (O '72)

Rudner, R. Wandering. (D '72)

Economic conditions

Bautier, R.-H. Economic development of medieval Europe. (Ag '72)

Kamen, H. Iron century. (O '72)

Foreign relations*United States

McGeehan, R. German rearmament question. (Ag '72)

History

Lawrence, D. H. Movements in European history. (O '72)

Studies in diplomatic history. (My '72)

476-1492

Beeler, J. Warfare in feudal Europe, 730-1200. (Ap '72)

1492-1789

Carter, C. Western European powers, 1500-1700. (Mr '72)

Hale, J. R. Renaissance Europe: individual and society, 1480-1520. (O '72)

Pennington, D. H. Seventeenth-century Europe. (O '72)

1789-1900

Woodward, L. Prelude to modern Europe, 1815-1914. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

20th century

Lichtheim, G. Europe in the twentieth century. (D '72)

Woodward, L. Prelude to modern Europe, 1815-1914. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

1914-1945—Juvenile literature

Elmerl, S. Hitler over Europe. (S '72)

Immigration and emigration

Taylor, P. Distant magnet: European emigration to the U.S.A. (My '72)

Intellectual life

Heer, F. Europe, mother of revolutions. (Ag '72)

Politics

Studies in diplomatic history. (My '72)

1918-1945

Brandt, W. In exile. (Je '72)

Schulz, G. Revolutions and peace treaties, 1917-1920. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

1945-

Czerwinski, E. J., ed. Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia: its effects on Eastern Europe. (O '72)

Spaak, P. H. Continuing battle. (My '72)

Religious life

Kamen, H. Iron century. (O '72)

Social conditions

Kamen, H. Iron century. (O '72)

Social life and customs

Mayne, R. Europeans. (N '72)

Europe, Eastern*Economic conditions

Kaser, M. Planning in East Europe. (O '72)

Wilczynski, J. Economics of socialism. (Ag '72)

Economic policy

Kaser, M. Planning in East Europe. (O '72)

Wilczynski, J. Economics of socialism. (Ag '72)

Foreign relations*Germany (Federal Republic)

Windsor, P. Germany and the management of détente. (Ap '72)

Pictures, illustrations, etc.

Raymond, E. Picture history of Eastern Europe. (Ap '72)

Europe against Napoleon. Brett-James, A., ed. & tr. (Ap '72)

Europe and international section; v 1 of The book trade of the world. Taubert, S., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Europe discovers the world; v 1 of The making of the modern world. Johnson, D., ed. (Mr '72)

Europe in the twentieth century. Lichtheim, G. (D '72)

Europe, mother of revolutions. Heer, F. (Ag '72)

European community in the 1970's. Warnecke, S. J., ed. (D '72)

European conquest; v 1 of The making of modern South-East Asia. Tate, D. J. M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

European democracy between the wars. Newman, K. J. (Ap '72)

European discovery of America: the Northern voyages, A.D. 500-1600. Morison, S. E. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

European Economic Community

Lieber, R. J. British politics and European unity. (My '72)

Tait, A. A. Value added tax. (D '72)

Warnecke, S. J., ed. European community in the 1970's. (D '72)

Italy

Willis F. R. Italy chooses Europe. (Ap '72)

European literature*History and criticism

Penguin companion to European literature. (D '72)

European War, 1914-1918

Marshall-Cornwall, J. Foch as military commander. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Aerial operations

Titler, D. Day the Red Baron died. (Ap '72)

Campaigns and battles

Essame, H. Battle for Europe, 1918. (D '72)

France

Middlebrook, M. First day on the Somme, 1 July 1916. (Ap '72)

Causes

Turner, L. C. F. Origins of the first World War. (O '72)

Diplomatic history

Rothwell, V. H. British war aims and peace diplomacy, 1914-1918. (Je '72)

Naval operations

Marder, A. J. From the dreadnought to Scapa Flow, v5. (S '72)

Submarine

Gray, E. Underwater war. (N '72)

Peace

Schulz, G. Revolutions and peace treaties, 1917-1920. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Personal narratives

Hermanns, W. Holocaust. (S '72)

Prisoners and prisons

Winchester, B. Beyond the tumult. (Ag '72)

Secret service

Strong, K. Men of intelligence. (S '72)

France

Griffiths, R. Pétain. (My '72)

Great Britain

- Gilbert, M. Winston S. Churchill, v3. (Ap '72)
 Gray, E. Underwater war. (N '72)
 Roskill, S. Hankey: man of secrets, v 1. (Je '72)
 Rothwell, V. H. British war aims and peace diplomacy, 1914-1918. (Je '72)

United States

- Graham, O. L. Great campaigns: reform and war in America, 1900-1928. (N '72)
 Jantzen, S. Hooray for peace, hurrah for war. (My '72)
 Europeans. Mayne, R. (N '72)
 Europeans in Africa
 Gann, L. H., ed. Colonialism in Africa, 1870-1960, v2. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Europeans in Japan
 Southern barbarians. (Mr '72)
 Europe's first monumental sculpture: new discoveries at Lepenski Vir. Srejević, D. (D '72)
 Evans, Jerome
 Jordan, P. Black coach. (Mr '72)
 Event 1000. Lavalée, D. (Mr '72)
 Everett Anderson's Christmas coming. Clifton, L. (Mr '72)
 Evergreens
 Crockett, J. U. Evergreens. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Every little crook and Nanny. Hunter, E. (S '72)
 Every other inch a lady. Lillie, B. (Je '72)
 Eve's new rib. Francouer, R. T. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Evolution
 Bajema, C. J., ed. Natural selection in human populations. (N '72)
 Brierley, J. K. Natural history of man. (Ap '72)
 Clark, W. E. L. Antecedents of man [3d ed]. (N '72)
 Gorney, R. Human agenda. (S '72)
 Koestler, A. Case of the midwife toad. (Je '72)
 Kurten, B. Not from the apes. (My '72)
 Macbeth, N. Darwin retried. (Je '72)
 Morgan, E. Descent of woman. (Ag '72)
 Evolution in religion: a study in Sri Aurobindo and Pierre Teilhard de Chardin. Zaehner, R. C. (Je '72)
 Evolution of India's northern borders. Chakravarti, P. C. (O '72)
 Evslin, Dorothy
 Evslin, D. Fortunate sex. (O '72)
 Ewings, O'Hara, J. (My '72)
 Examinations
 Roach, J. Public examinations in England, 1850-1900. (Ag '72)
 Excavations (Archeology)
 Arabia, Southern
 Doe, B. Southern Arabia. (S '72)
 Crete
 Platon, N. Zakros. (Mr '72)
 Great Britain
 Beresford, M., ed. Deserted medieval villages. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 North America
 Folsom, F. America's ancient treasures. (Mr '72)
 Exceptional children
 Greenfield, J. Child called Noah. (S '72)
 Melton, D. When children need help. (D '72)
 Executives
 Jay, A. Corporation man. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Exercise
 Swengros, G. V. Fitness with Glenn Swengros. (Ap '72)
 Exiles from paradise. Mayfield, S. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Existential elucidation; v2 of Philosophy. Jaspers, K. (My '72)
 Existential errands. Mailer, N. (Je '72)
 Existentialism
 Friedman, M. Touchstone of reality. (My '72)
 Ex-nuns
 Henderson, N. Out of the curtained world. (Je '72)
 Experiential religion. Niebuhr, R. R. (Je '72)
 Experiment in democracy. Robins, D. B. (My '72)
 Experimental dance. Percival, J. (Mr '72)
 Experimental theater
 Henderson, J. A. First avant-garde, 1887-1894. (D '72)

- Experimental universities. See Free universities
 Experimenters. Middleton, W. E. K. (Ag '72)
 Explaining delinquency. Empey, L. T. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Explanation in archeology. Watson, P. J. (Ag '72)
 Exploding stage. Houghton, N. (Ag '72)
 Explorations. See Explorers
 Explorations in mathematical anthropology. Kay, P., ed. (D '72)
 Explorers
 Hale, J. R. Renaissance exploration. (O '72)
 Moorehead, A. White Nile (rev ed). (Mr '72)
 Morison, E. E. European discovery of America: the Northern voyages, A.D. 500-1600. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Silverberg, R. Longest voyage. (N '72)
 Wright, L. B., ed. West and by north. (Ag '72)

Biography

- Feeken, E. H. J. Discovery and exploration of Australia. (S '72)

Juvenile literature

- Hecke, H. R. How men discovered the world. (Je '72)
 Explorers of the brain. Stevens, L. A. (Ag '72)
 Exploring new ethics for survival. Hardin, G. (N '72)
 Expressionism (Art)
 Willett, J. Expressionism. (Ag '72)
 Expressionism. Willett, J. (Ag '72)
 Extension of man. Bernal, J. D. (S '72)
 External financing for Latin American development. (Mr '72)
 Extrasensory perception
 Koestler, A. Roots of coincidence. (O '72)
 McConnell, R. A. ESP curriculum guide. (Ag '72)
 Rhine, J. B., ed. Progress in parapsychology. (Ap '72)
 Extraterritorial. Steiner, G. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Eyck, Hubert van
 Philip, L. B. Ghent altarpiece and the art of Jan van Eyck. (S '72)
 Eyck, Jan van
 Philip, L. B. Ghent altarpiece and the art of Jan van Eyck. (S '72)
 Eyewitness. Payne, R. (N '72)
 Eyewitness in Greece. Katris, J. A. (Ap '72)
 FBI. See United States. Federal Bureau of Investigation
 Faber book of popular verse. Eng title of: The Gambit book of popular verse. Grigson, G., ed. (Ag '72)
 Fabulous Onassis. Cafarakis, C. (O '72)
 Face and shadow. Stampfer, J. (Ag '72)
 Face of the deep. Heezen, B. C. (Ap '72)
 Face to face: fascism and revolution in India [rev ed]. Berg, L. (S '72)
 Faces of nationalism. Shafer, B. C. (Ag '72)
 Facets of comedy. Sorell, W. (D '72)
 Facing life. Handlin, O. (Mr '72)
 Fact and relevance. Postan, M. M. (Mr '72)
 Fact and symbol. Graña, C. (S '72)
 Factory and trade waste
 Environmental side effects of rising industrial output. (Ap '72)
 Facts, frauds, and phantasms. McHargue, G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Failure of illiberalism. Stern, F. (Ap '72)
 Failure of independent liberalism, 1930-1941. Lawson, R. A. (Mr '72)
 Fairy tales
 Grimm, J. About wise men and simpletons. (My '72)
 Jacobs, J. Jack the giant-killer. (My '72)
 Manning-Sanders, R. Book of charms and changelings. (Ag '72)
 Manning-Sanders, R. Choice of magic. (My '72)
 Pearce, P. Squirrel wife. (Ag '72)
 Sperry, M. Scandinavian stories. (Mr '72)
 Faith
 Niebuhr, R. R. Experiential religion. (Je '72)
 Faith and doubt. Lamm, N. (My '72)
 Faith cure
 Roberts, O. Call: an autobiography. (Ap '72)
 Faith of the people of God. MacQuarrie, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Faith on trial in Russia. Bourdeaux, M. (Mr '72)
 Fall guy. Perry, R. (D '72)
 Fall of Eben Emael. Mrazek, J. E. (S '72)

- Fall of Srivijaya in Malay history. Wolters, O. W. (My '72)
- Fall of the American university. Ulam, A. (D '72)
- Fall of the Winter Palace. Goldston, R. (N '72)
- Fallaci, Oriana
- Fallaci, O. Nothing, and so be it. (My '72)
- Fallen oaks. Eng title of: Felled oaks. Malraux, A. (Ag '72)
- False presence of the kingdom. Ellul, J. (Je '72)
- Families and their relatives. Firth, R. (Je '72)
- Family
- Adams, B. N. American family. (N '72)
- Anderson, M. Family structure in nineteenth century Lancashire. (O '72)
- Farber, B. Kinship and class. (Mr '72)
- Firth, R. Families and their relatives. (Je '72)
- Fogarty, M. P. Sex, career and family. (O '72)
- Francoeur, R. T. Eve's new rib. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Henry, J. Pathways to madness. (My '72)
- Laing, R. D. Politics of the family and other essays. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Pearlin, L. I. Class context and family relations. (Je '72)
- Scanzoni, J. H. Opportunity and the family. (S '72)
- Silverman, A. Case against having children. (Ag '72)
- Turner, R. H. Family interaction. (My '72)
- Zuk, G. H. Family therapy: a triadic-based approach. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Family. Sanders, E. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Family book of preventive medicine. Miller, B. F. (Ap '72)
- Family interaction. Turner, R. H. (My '72)
- Family life education
- Mace, D. R. Getting ready for marriage. (Je '72)
- Family life of birds. Dossenbach, H. D. (Ap '72)
- Family structure in nineteenth century Lancashire. Anderson, M. (O '72)
- Family therapy: a triadic-based approach. Zuk, G. H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Famous American books. Downs, R. B. (S '72)
- Famous Mexican-Americans. Newlon, C. (Ag '72)
- Famous modern artists. Willard, C. (S '72)
- Fantastic tales, strange animals, riddles, jests, and prophecies of Leonardo da Vinci. Leonardo da Vinci. (Ag '72)
- Far side of evil. Engdahl, S. L. (Ap '72)
- Faraday, Michael
- Agassi, J. Faraday as a natural philosopher. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Faraday as a natural philosopher. Agassi, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Farewell to the South. Coles, R. (O '72)
- Farm life
- Michigan
- Stadtfield, C. K. From the land and back. (D '72)
- New Hampshire
- Berquist, E. S. High Maples farm cookbook. (O '72)
- Farm tenancy
- Coles, R. Migrants, sharecroppers, mountaineers. (My '72)
- Friedrich, P. Agrarian revolt in a Mexican village. (Je '72)
- Farmer, Frances
- Farmer, F. Will there really be a morning? (S '72)
- Farther reaches of human nature. Maslow, A. H. (Ap '72)
- Fascism
- Newman, K. J. European democracy between the wars. (Ap '72)
- Italy
- Collier, R. Duce! (Ap '72)
- Diggins, J. P. Mussolini and fascism: the view from America. (My '72)
- Ledeen, M. A. Universal fascism. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Sarti, R. Fascism and the industrial leadership in Italy, 1919-1940. (Ag '72)
- Fascism and the industrial leadership in Italy, 1919-1940. Sarti, R. (Ag '72)
- Fascist economy in Norway. Milward, A. S. (D '72)
- Faster! Stewart, J. (N '72)
- Fat cats and Democrats. Domhoff, G. W. (O '72)
- Fatal friendship. Loomis, S. (My '72)

- Father figure. Nichols, B. (N '72)
- Faulkner, William
- Barth, J. R., ed. Religious perspectives in Faulkner's fiction. (D '72)
- Bedell, G. C. Kierkegaard and Faulkner: modalities of existence. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Watkins, F. C. Flesh and the word. (Ag '72)
- Absalom, Absalom!
- Langford, G. Faulkner's revision of Absalom, Absalom! (Ag '72)
- Faulkner's revision of Absalom, Absalom! Langford, G. (Ag '72)
- Fear
- Sifneos, P. E. Short-term psychotherapy and emotional crisis. (D '72)
- Feast of history. Raphael, C. (Je '72)
- Feature films, 1921-1930, 2v; v F2 of The American film institute catalog of motion pictures produced in the United States. American Film Institute. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Fedayeen
- Schiff, Z. Fedayeen. (N '72)
- Federal government
- Australia
- Johnston, R. E. Effect of judicial review on federal-state relations in Australia, Canada, and the United States. (Ap '72)
- Canada
- Johnston, R. E. Effect of judicial review on federal-state relations in Australia, Canada, and the United States. (Ap '72)
- United States
- Johnston, R. E. Effect of judicial review on federal-state relations in Australia, Canada, and the United States. (Ap '72)
- Federal health care (with reservation!). Kane, R. L. (N '72)
- Federal organization and administrative management. Emmerich, H. (Ap '72)
- Federal service and the Constitution. Rosenbloom, D. H. (D '72)
- Federal Writers' Project
- Mangione, J. Dream and the deal. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Feelings, Tom
- Juvenile literature
- Feelings, T. Black pilgrimage. (O '72)
- Felled oaks. Malraux, A. (Ag '72)
- Feminine in Jungian psychology and in Christian theology. Ulanov, A. B. (O '72)
- Fencing
- Wise, A. Art and history of personal combat. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Fenian fever. O'Broin, L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Fern is born. Guilcher, J. M. (O '72)
- Fernhurst, Q.E.D., and other early writings. Stein, G. (O '72)
- Ferns
- Juvenile literature
- Guilcher, J. M. Fern is born. (O '72)
- Fersen, Hans Axel von, Count
- Loomis, S. Fatal friendship. (My '72)
- Fertilizer industry
- Kapoor, A. International business negotiations. (My '72)
- Feudalism
- Beeler, J. Warfare in feudal Europe, 730-1200. (Ap '72)
- Fiction (Books about)
- See also
- French fiction
- Negro fiction
- History and criticism
- Josipovici, G. World and the book. (Ag '72)
- Lukács, G. Theory of the novel. (D '72)
- Mueller, W. R. Celebration of life. (S '72)
- Nevins, F. M., comp. Mystery writer's art. (Ap '72)
- Panichas, G. A., ed. Politics of twentieth-century novelists. (Je '72)
- Stanzel, F. Narrative situations in the novel. (Ap '72)
- White, J. J. Mythology in the modern novel. (O '72)
- Fiction (classified according to subject)
- Actors and actresses
- Deighton, L. Close-up. (S '72)
- Gronowicz, A. Orange full of dreams. (My '72)
- Whitney, P. A. Listen for the whisperer. (O '72)

Adolescence

- Bassani, G. Behind the door. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Covert, P. Cages. (Ap '72)
 Holland, I. Man without a face. (O '72)
 Oates, J. C. Wonderland. (Ap '72)
 Rezvani, Light-years. (Ap '72)
 Schiff, K. Passing go. (S '72)
 Weesner, T. Car thief. (O '72)
 Yglesias, R. Hide fox, and all after. (My '72)

Adventure

- Ambler, E. Levanter. (O '72)
 Callison, B. Plague of sailors. (O '72)
 Canning, V. Runaways. (O '72)
 Durham, M. Man who loved Cat Dancing. (N '72)
 Lamming, G. Natives of my person. (My '72)
 Perrault, E. G. Twelfth mile. (D '72)
 Prokosh, F. America, my wilderness. (S '72)
 Taylor, A. Drustan the wanderer. (D '72)

Advertising

- Dillon, J. Advertising man. (N '72)

Africans

- Mazrui, A. A. Trial of Christopher Okigbo. (N '72)

Africans in the United States

- Armah, A. K. Why are we so blest? (Je '72)

Air pilots

- Robinson, D. Goshawk squadron. (My '72)

Alienation

- Hanley, J. Another world. (O '72)
 Weingarten, V. Woman of feeling. (My '72)

Allegories

- Lamming, G. Natives of my person. (My '72)
 Mulvihill, W. Night of the axe. (Ag '72)
 Sinclair, A. Magog. (S '72)
 Tate, P. Gardens one to five. (D '72)

Americans in Africa

- Armah, A. K. Why are we so blest? (Je '72)

Americans in Europe

- Nabokov, V. Transparent things. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Animals

Cheetahs

- Canning, V. Runaways. (O '72)

Elephants

- Wibberley, L. Meeting with a great beast. (Mr '72)

Gulls

- Bach, R. Jonathan Livingston Seagull. (1972 Annual)

Antiheroes

- Bulatović, M. War was better. (O '72)

Aristocracy

- Giovene, A. Book of Sansevero. (Mr '72)
 Mishima, Y. Spring snow. (S '72)

Astronauts

- West, P. Colonel Mint. (N '72)

Atomic warfare

- Cory, D. Sunburst. (My '72)

Authors

- Jaffee, R. Other woman. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Lieber, J. Two-way traffic. (Ag '72)
 Malamud, B. Tenants. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Millhauser, S. Edwin Mullhouse: the life and death of an American writer, 1943-1954, by Jeffrey Cartwright. (D '72)
 Sorrentino, G. Imaginative qualities of actual things. (O '72)

Autobiographical novels

- Céline, L. F. North. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Fair, R. We can't breathe. (My '72)

Automobile industry

- Robbins, H. Betsy. (My '72)

Automobile racing

- Robbins, H. Betsy. (My '72)

Automobiles

- Crews, H. Car. (My '72)

Barbadians in Canada

- Clarke, A. Meeting point. (Ag '72)

Biographical novels

Beaconsfield, Benjamin

Disraeli, 1st Earl of

- Edelman, M. Disraeli in love. (O '72)

Bravo, Florence (Campbell)

- Jenkins, E. Dr. Gully's story. (Je '72)

Fox, George

- Hartog, J. de. Peaceable kingdom. (My '72)

Fox, Margaret (Askew) Fell

- Hartog, J. de. Peaceable kingdom. (My '72)

Gully, James Manby

- Jenkins, E. Dr. Gully's story. (Je '72)

Henry V, King of England

- Rofheart, M. Fortune made his sword. (Je '72)

Henry VIII, King of England

- Lewis, H. I am Mary Tudor. (N '72)

Judas Iscariot

- Van Greenaway, P. Judas gospel. (D '72)

Mao, Tse-tung

- Tuten, F. Adventures of Mao on the long march. (Ag '72)

Mary I, Queen of England

- Lewis, H. I am Mary Tudor. (N '72)

Nero, Emperor of Rome

- Hersey, J. Conspiracy. (Je '72)

Nicodemus

- Roland, N. Who came by night. (N '72)

Scott, Sir Walter, Bart.

- Oliver, J. Blue heaven bends over all. (S '72)

Spencer, Philip

- Carlisle, H. Voyage to the first of December. (My '72)

Stuart, Francis

- Stuart, F. Black list, section H. (Ap '72)

Torres, Camilo

- Hornman, W. Stones cry out. (Ap '72)

Whistler, James Abbott McNeill

- Berkman, T. To seize the passing dream. (S '72)

Boarding houses

- Berkman, E. Fourth man on the rope. (S '72)

Boys

- Burroughs, W. S. Wild boys. (My '72)

- Canning, V. Runaways. (O '72)

- Covert, P. Cages. (Ap '72)

- Weesner, T. Car thief. (O '72)

Business

- Gainham, S. Takeover bid. (Ap '72)

- Haas, B. Chandler heritage. (Ag '72)

Catholic faith

- L'Heureux, J. Tight white collar. (Je '72)

Catholic priests

- Hornman, W. Stones cry out. (Ap '72)

- L'Heureux, J. Tight white collar. (Je '72)

Children, stories about

- Kellogg, M. Like the lion's tooth. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Millhauser, S. Edwin Mullhouse: the life and death of an American writer, 1943-1954, by Jeffrey Cartwright. (D '72)

- Oriol, L. Murder to make you grow up little girl. (D '72)

- Sharp, M. Innocents. (O '72)

Christianity

- Schmitt, G. Godforgotten. (D '72)

- Van Greenaway, J. Judas gospel. (D '72)

Churches

- Mano, D. K. Proselytizer. (Je '72)

Collective settlements

- Rossner, J. Any minute I can split. (O '72)

College life

- DeLillo, D. End zone. (Ag '72)

- Frankel, C. Stubborn case. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Scott-Heron, G. Nigger factory. (N '72)

- Spivak, T. Bride wore the traditional gold. (Ag '72)

Fiction—Continued

- Communism
Felfer, G. Girl from Petrovka. (Ag '72)
- Computers
Crichton, M. Terminal man. (Ag '72)
- Conflict of generations
Calisher, H. Standard dreaming. (D '72)
Coppel, A. Landlocked man. (D '72)
Hall, O. Report from Beau Harbor. (Ap '72)
Sithole, N. Polygamist. (N '72)
Weingarten, V. Woman of feeling. (My '72)
- Corruption (In politics)
Hirschfeld, B. Masters affair. (S '72)
Sinclair, A. Magog. (S '72)
Snow, C. P. Malcontents. (Ag '72)
- Courage
Harker, H. Goldenrod. (N '72)
- Cowboys
Harker, H. Goldenrod. (N '72)
- Crime and criminals
Henderson, L. Cage until tame. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Higgins, G. V. Friends of Eddie Coyle. (Ad '72)
Highsmith, P. Dog's ransom. (N '72)
Högstrand, O. E. On the prime minister's account. (O '72)
Hunter, E. Every little crook and Nanny. (S '72)
Westlake, D. E. Bank shot. (Ag '72)
- Death
Camus, A. Happy death. (Ag '72)
Frame, J. Daughter buffalo. (D '72)
Nabokov, V. Transparent things. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Welty, E. Optimist's daughter. (Ag '72)
Wibberley, L. Meeting with a great beast. (Mr '72)
Yglesias, H. How she died. (My '72)
- Depressions
Elliott, G. P. Muriel. (Je '72)
Fox, P. Western coast. (D '72)
- Deserts
Hopkins, J. Tangier buzzless flies. (Ag '72)
- Dialect stories
Western
Seelye, J. Kid. (My '72)
- Diamonds
Tidyman, E. Shaft among the Jews. (O '72)
- Diaries (stories in diary form)
Bryant, D. Ella Price's journal. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Carlisle, H. Voyage to the first of December. (My '72)
Lieber, J. Two-way traffic. (Ag '72)
McCormack, E. Would you believe love? (Mr '72)
Schiff, K. Passing go. (S '72)
- Disasters
Helm, M. Aswan! (N '72)
Lavalley, D. Event 1000. (Mr '72)
- Diving, Submarine
Lavalley, D. Event 1000. (Mr '72)
- Divorce
Rolphe, A. Long division. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Dreams
Le Guin, U. K. Lathe of heaven. (Ap '72)
- Drug trade
Mills, J. Report to the commissioner. (O '72)
Perry, R. Fall guy. (D '72)
- English in Ireland
Tracy, H. Quiet end of evening. (S '72)
- Escapes
Frizell, B. Grand defiance. (Ag '72)
- Eskimos
Knox, A. Night of the white bear. (Ad '72)
Leighton, A. H. Come near. (Ap '72)
- Ethics
Auchincloss, L. I come a thief. (N '72)
Drabble, M. Needle's eye. (S '72)

Europeans in Africa

- Van der Post, L. Story like the wind. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Evangelists
Buechner, F. Open heart. (S '72)
- Exiles
Lamming, G. Water with berries. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Tracy, H. Butterflies of the province. (Ap '72)
- Ex-nuns
L'Heureux, J. Clang birds. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Experimental forms
Asturias, M. G. Bejeweled boy. (Ag '72)
Burroughs, W. S. Wild boys. (My '72)
Delbanco, N. In the middle distance. (Ag '72)
Gass, W. H. Willie Master's lonesome wife. (Ap '72)
Le Clezio, J. M. G. Book of flights. (Ap '72)
Mungo, R. Tropical detective story. (D '72)
Robbe-Grillet, A. Project for a revolution in New York. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
West, P. Bela Lugosi's white Christmas. (N '72)
- Ex-priests
L'Heureux, J. Clang birds. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Faith
See Fiction—Catholic faith
- Family chronicles
Crichton, R. Camerons. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Green, H. Dead of the house. (My '72)
Haas, B. Chandler heritage. (Ag '72)
Mortimer, P. Home. (My '72)
Tyler, A. Clock winder. (Ag '72)
Yglesias, J. Truth about them. (My '72)
- Family life
Colter, C. Rivers of Eros. (S '72)
Elliott, G. P. Muriel. (Je '72)
Howard, E. J. Odd girl out. (My '72)
Kotker, Z. Bodies in motion. (S '72)
Rhys, J. After leaving Mr. Mackenzie. (Ag '72)
- Fantasies
Bach, R. Jonathan Livingston Seagull. (1972 Annual)
Purdy, J. I am Elijah Thrush. (S '72)
Roth, P. Breast. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Selby, H. Room. (Ap '72)
- Fascism
Giovane, A. Book of Sansevero. (Mr '72)
- Fathers and sons
Harker, H. Goldenrod. (N '72)
Rogers, T. Confession of a child of the century by Samuel Heather. (S '72)
Sithole, N. Polygamist. (N '72)
- Football
DeLillo, D. End zone. (Ag '72)
Jenkins, D. Semi-tough. (D '72)
Pillitteri, J. Two hours on Sunday. (Mr '72)
- Forgery
Wallace, I. Word. (Je '72)
- Friends, Society of
Hartog, J. de. Peaceable kingdom. (My '72)
- Friendship
Hopkins, J. Tangier buzzless flies. (Ag '72)
- Frontier and pioneer life
Mulvihill, W. Night of the axe. (Ag '72)
- Funeral rites and ceremonies
Davis, N. Six black horses. (Ap '72)
- Future, Stories of the
Masters, D. Cloud chamber. (Ap '72)
Mitchell, A. Bodyguard. (S '72)
- Future life
Mazrui, A. A. Trial of Christopher Okigbo. (N '72)
- Gamblers
Condon, R. Arigato. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Games
Kawabata, Y. Master of go. (D '72)
- Ghetto life
Colter, C. Rivers of Eros. (S '72)

Ghost stories

O'Grady, R. Bleak November. (Ap '72)

God

Corman, A. Oh, God! (My '72)

Gothic romances

Schweitzer, G. Ledge. (Ag '72)

Great Britain. Royal Flying Corps

Robinson, D. Goshawk squadron. (My '72)

Greeks in the United States

Mountzoures, H. L. Bridge. (S '72)

Guerrillas

Clifford, F. Wild justice. (O '72)

Guilt

Billington, R. Lilacs out of the dead land. (Je '72)

Black, C. Death's head. (N '72)

Fick, C. Danziger transcript. (Ap '72)

Hippies

Kazan, E. Assassins. (My '72)

Mungo, R. Tropical detective story. (D '72)

Rossner, J. Any minute I can split. (O '72)

Historical novels*European War, 1914-1918

Hill, S. Strange meeting. (Je '72)

Robinson, D. Goshawk squadron. (My '72)

Great Britain

Farrington, R. Killing of Richard the third. (My '72)

Rofheart, M. Fortune made his sword. (Je '72)

India

Scott, P. Towers of silence. (My '72)

Italy

Glovene, A. Book of Sansevero. (Mr '72)

Middle Ages

Schmitt, G. Godforgotten. (D '72)

Napoleonic Wars

Delderfield, R. F. Too few for drums. (Mr '72)

Rome (Empire)

Hersey, J. Conspiracy. (Je '72)

Rumania

Stancu, Z. Barefoot. (Ap '72)

Russia

Gorki, M. Life of a useless man. (Mr '72)

Tannenberg, Battle of, 1914

Solzhenitsyn, A. August 1914. (N '72)

United States—Revolution

Fast, H. Hessian. (D '72)

United States—1815-1861

Carlisle, H. Voyage to the first of December. (My '72)

United States—Civil War

Sherburne, J. Way to Fort Pillow. (D '72)

Vietnamese Conflict, 1961-

Bunting, J. Lionheads. (Ag '72)

Pelfrey, W. Big V. (Ag '72)

World War, 1939-1945

Céline, L. F. North. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Facos, J. Silver lady. (D '72)

Stuart, F. Black list, section H. (Ap '72)

Wouk, H. Winds of war. (Ap '72)

Homosexuality

Frame, J. Daughter buffalo. (D '72)

Holland, I. Man without a face. (O '72)

O'Hara, J. Twings. (My '72)

Horror

Brower, B. Late great creature. (My '72)

Greenan, R. H. Queen of America. (S '72)

Levin, I. Stepford wives. (D '72)

O'Grady, R. Bleak November. (Ap '72)

Horse racing

Francis, D. Bonerack. (Ag '72)

McGinniss, J. Dream team. (Ag '72)

Hospitals and sanatoriums

Yglesias, H. How she died. (My '72)

Humor

Brower, B. Late great creature. (My '72)

Condon, R. Arigato. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Corman, A. Oh, God! (My '72)

Davis, N. Six black horses. (Ap '72)

De Vries, P. Into your tent I'll creep. (Mr '72)

Fox, W. P. Ruby Red. (Ap '72)

Fraser, G. M. Flash for freedom! (Ag '72)

Friedman, A. Hermaphroditey. (Je '72)

Higgins, C. Harold and Maude. (Mr '72)

Hooker, R. *M*A*S*H* goes to Maine. (Je '72)

Hunter, E. Every little crook and Nanny. (S '72)

Irving, J. Water-method man. (N '72)

McMillen, H. Many mansions of Sam Peeples. (Je '72)

Maloney, R. Nixon recession caper. (My '72)

Matthews, J. Charisma campaigns. (S '72)

Ottum, B. All right, everybody off the planet! (Je '72)

Rogers, T. Confession of a child of the century by Samuel Heather. (S '72)

Rogin, G. What happens next? (Mr '72)

Tracy, H. Quiet end of evening. (S '72)

Weidman, J. Last respects. (My '72)

Westlake, D. E. Bank shot. (Ag '72)

Hunting

Wibberley, L. Meeting with ■ great beast. (Mr '72)

Immigrants and emigrants

Mountzoures, H. L. Bridge. (S '72)

Incest

Leduc, V. Taxi. (O '72)

Indians of North America

Fry, A. Come ■ long journey. (My '72)

Herbert, F. Soul catcher. (S '72)

Storm, H. Seven arrows. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Insanity

Greenan, R. H. Queen of America. (S '72)

Handke, P. Goalie's anxiety at the penalty kick. (S '72)

West, P. Bela Lugosi's white Christmas. (N '72)

International Intrigue

Ambler, E. Levanter. (O '72)

Ardies, T. This suitcase is going to explode. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Beare, G. Bee sting deal. (D '72)

Buckmaster, H. Walking trip. (O '72)

Falkirk, R. Chill factor. (Ap '72)

Fisher, N. Walk at a steady pace. (Mr '72)

Forsyth, F. Odessa file. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Harrington, W. Jupiter crisis. (Mr '72)

Price, A. Alamut ambush. (O '72)

Quigley, J. Last checkpoint. (Mr '72)

Ryck, F. Woman hunt. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Searls, H. Pentagon. (N '72)

International relations

Flood, C. B. Trouble at the top. (S '72)

Jews and Jewish life

Grossbach, R. Someone great. (Mr '72)

Kotlowitz, R. Somewhere else. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Potok, C. My name is Asher Lev. (Ag '72)

Singer, I. B. Enemies, a love story. (S '72)

Weidman, J. Last respects. (My '72)

Jews in Canada

Clarke, A. Meeting point. (Ag '72)

Jews in England

Kotlowitz, R. Somewhere else. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Jews in Germany

Arnold, E. Forests of the night. (Mr '72)

Black, C. Death's head. (N '72)

Jews in Poland

Kotlowitz, R. Somewhere else. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Strykowski, J. Inn. (Je '72)

Journalists

Fick, C. Danziger transcript. (Ap '72)

Kidnapping

Bernstein, K. Senator's ransom. (My '72)

Herbert, F. Soul catcher. (S '72)

Kings and rulers

Rofheart, M. Fortune made his sword. (Je '72)

Fiction—Continued

- Law and lawyers
Auchincloss, L. I come as a thief. (N '72)
- Legendary history
Taylor, A. Drustan the wanderer. (D '72)
- Literary life
Sorrentino, G. Imaginative qualities of actual things. (O '72)
- Locality
Africa
Wibberley, L. Meeting with a great beast. (Mr '72)
- Africa, South
Davis, J. G. Cape of storm. (Je '72)
Scholefield, A. Young masters. (Ap '72)
Van der Post, L. Story like the wind. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Alabama
Gaines, C. Stay hungry. (D '72)
- Alaska
Shimer, R. H. Squaw point. (Ag '72)
- Arctic regions
Knox, A. Night of the white bear. (Ap '72)
Leighton, A. H. Come near. (Ap '72)
- Australia
Keneally, T. Chant of Jimmie Blacksmith. (N '72)
- Belgium (Brussels)
Gainham, S. Takeover bid. (Ap '72)
- Bolivia
Pausewang, G. Bolivian wedding. (Ap '72)
- Brazil
Bernstein, K. Senator's ransom. (My '72)
Callado, A. Don Juan's bar. (Je '72)
Perry, R. Fall guy. (D '72)
- California
Ball, J. Five pieces of jade. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Bryant, D. Ella Price's journal. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Buchanan, C. Maiden. (Ap '72)
Hall, O. Report from Beau Harbor. (Ap '72)
McMurtry, L. All my friends are going to be strangers. (Je '72)
- California (Hollywood)
Deighton, L. Close-up. (S '72)
Remarque, E. M. Shadows in paradise. (My '72)
- California (Los Angeles)
Fox, P. Western coast. (D '72)
Jenkins, D. Semi-tough. (D '72)
Shannon, D. Murder with love. (My '72)
Wambaugh, J. Blue knight. (My '72)
- Canada (Alberta, Province)
Harker, H. Goldenrod. (N '72)
- Canada (Toronto)
Clarke, A. Meeting point. (Ag '72)
- Canada (Yukon Territory)
Fry, A. Come a long journey. (My '72)
- Central America
Koster, R. M. Prince. (My '72)
- Colombia
Lewis, N. Flight from a dark equator. (D '72)
- Connecticut
Fast, H. Hessian. (D '72)
Maloney, R. Nixon recession caper. (My '72)
Mountzoures, H. L. Bridge. (S '72)
- Egypt
Heim, M. Aswan! (N '72)
- England
Amis, K. Girl, 20. (Ap '72)
Bawden, N. Anna apparent. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Berckman, E. Fourth man on the rope. (S '72)
Berger, J. G. (N '72)
Burgess, A. One hand clapping. (My '72)
Christie, A. Nemesis. (Mr '72)
Drabble, M. Needle's eye. (S '72)
Facos, J. Silver lady. (D '72)

- Harrison, H. Stonehenge. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Howard, E. J. Odd girl out. (My '72)
James, P. D. Shroud for a nightingale. (Ap '72)
Lamming, G. Water with berries. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Lawrence, D. H. John Thomas and Lady Jane. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Lewis, H. I am Mary Tudor. (N '72)
Mitchell, A. Bodyguard. (S '72)
Price, A. Alamut ambush. (O '72)
Sinclair, A. Magog. (S '72)
Snow, C. P. Malcontents. (Ag '72)
Symons, J. Players and the game. (D '72)
Theroux, A. Three wogs. (S '72)
Wain, J. Life guard. (Ag '72)
West, P. Bela Lugosi's white Christmas. (N '72)

England (provincial and rural)

- Canning, V. Runaways. (O '72)
North, E. Summer solstice. (Ag '72)
Sharp, M. Innocents. (O '72)

England (Cumberland)

- Bragg, M. Josh Lawton. (O '72)

England (Devonshire)

- Delderfield, R. F. To serve them all my days. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

England (London)

- Buckmaster, H. Walking trip. (O '72)
Charles, G. Destiny waltz. (N '72)
Forbes, B. Distant laughter. (N '72)
Jenkins, E. Dr. Gully's story. (Je '72)
Marrie, J. J. Gideon's art. (Mr '72)
Mortimer, F. Home. (My '72)
Murdoch, I. Accidental man. (Ap '72)
Rhys, J. After leaving Mr. Mackenzie. (Ag '72)

Florida

- Crews, H. Car. (My '72)

Florida (Miami)

- McGinniss, J. Dream team. (Ag '72)

Florida (Tampa)

- Yglesias, J. Truth about them. (My '72)

France

- Oriol, L. Murder to make you grow up little girl. (D '72)
Robinson, D. Goshawk squadron. (My '72)

France (Paris)

- Leduc, V. Taxi. (O '72)
Rezvan, Light-years. (Ap '72)
Rhys, J. After leaving Mr. Mackenzie. (Ag '72)
Simenon, G. Maigret and the killer. (Ap '72)
Simenon, G. Maigret and the madwoman. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Georgia

- Walker, A. Third life of Grange Copeland. (Ag '72)

Germany

- Céline, L. F. North. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Frizell, B. Grand defiance. (Ag '72)
Nossack, H. E. D'Arthez case. (Mr '72)
West, E. These lonely victories. (N '72)

Germany (Berlin)

- Black, C. Death's head. (N '72)
Quigley, J. Last checkpoint. (Mr '72)
Stuart, F. Black list, section H. (Ap '72)

Germany (Schleswig-Holstein)

- Lenz, S. German lesson. (My '72)

Germany (Würzburg)

- Arnold, E. Forest of the night. (Mr '72)

Great Britain

- Farrington, R. Killing of Richard the third. (My '72)

Greece

- Dickinson, P. Lizard in the cup. (Ag '72)
Mountzoures, H. L. Bridge. (S '72)

Greece (Salonika)

- Vassilikos, V. Photographs. (Mr '72)

Guatemala

- Asturias, M. G. Bejeweled boy. (Ag '72)

Iceland

- Falkirk, R. Chill factor. (Ap '72)

Illinois (Chicago)

- Colter, C. Rivers of Eros. (S '72)
Fair, R. We can't breathe. (My '72)

India

Scott, P. Towers of silence. (My '72)

India (Calcutta)

Mukherjee, B. Tiger's daughter. (Ap '72)

Ireland

Brewster, D. Heart's grown brutal. (D '72)

Clifford, F. Wild justice. (O '72)

Tracy, H. Quiet end of evening. (S '72)

Ireland (Dublin)

Stuart, F. Black list, section H. (Ap '72)

Israel*See also

Jerusalem

Italy

Berger, J. G. (N '72)

Giovene, A. Book of Sansevero. (Mr '72)

Italy (provincial and rural)

Cornelisen, A. Vendetta of silence. (Mr '72)

Italy (Ferrara)

Bassani, G. Behind the door. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Japan

Kawabata, Y. Master of go. (D '72)

Mishima, Y. Spring snow. (S '72)

Jerusalem

Kemelman, H. Monday the rabbi took off. (Ag '72)

Oz, A. My Michael. (S '72)

Kentucky

Hazel, R. Early spring. (My '72)

Latin America

Hornman, W. Stones cry out. (Ap '72)

Long Island

Jordan, R. Thanksgiving. (O '72)

Louisiana

Hannah, B. Geronimo Rex. (Ag '72)

Maine

Hooker, R. M*A*S*H* goes to Maine. (Je '72)

Maryland

Tyler, A. Clock winder. (Ag '72)

Massachusetts (Boston)

Greenan, R. H. Queen of America. (S '72)

Higgins, G. V. Friends of Eddie Coyle. (Ap '72)

L'Heureux, J. Clang birds. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

McCormack, E. Would you believe love? (Mr '72)

Wells, T. Foo dog. (Mr '72)

Mexico (Acapulco)

Flood, C. B. Trouble at the top. (S '72)

Missouri (Kansas City)

Davis, N. Six black horses. (Ap '72)

Morocco

Hopkins, J. Tangier buzzless flies. (Ag '72)

New Mexico

Kazan, E. Assassins. (My '72)

New York (City)

Auchincloss, L. I come as a thief. (N '72)

Cain, G. Blueschild baby. (Ap '72)

Calisher, H. Standard dreaming. (D '72)

Chute, B. J. Story of a small life. (O '72)

Drexler, R. To smithereens. (O '72)

Frame, J. Daughter buffalo. (D '72)

Gould, L. Necessary objects. (D '72)

Jaffee, R. Other woman. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Kemp, A. Eat of me, I am the savior. (O '72)

Kotker, Z. Bodies in motion. (S '72)

Malamud, B. Tenants. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Mills, J. Report to the commissioner. (O '72)

Quartermain, J. Rock of diamonds. (D '72)

Reed, I. Mumbo jumbo. (D '72)

Remarque, E. M. Shadows in paradise. (My '72)

Rogin, G. What happens next? (Mr '72)

Sorrentino, G. Imaginative qualities of actual things. (O '72)

Walker, A. Third life of Grange Copeland. (Ag '72)

Weingarten, V. Woman of feeling. (My '72)

Yglesias, H. How she died. (My '72)

Yglesias, J. Truth about them. (My '72)

Yglesias, R. Hide fox, and all after. (My '72)

New York (City) (Brooklyn)

Potok, C. My name is Asher Lev. (Ag '72)

Singer, I. B. Enemies, a love story. (S '72)

New York (City) (East Side)

Tuttle, A. Songs from the night before. (Ja '72)

New York (City) (Lower East Side)

Weidman, J. Last respects. (My '72)

New York (State) (Ossining)

Stein, S. Magician. (O '72)

North Carolina

Betts, D. River to Pickle Beach. (N '72)

Haas, B. Chandler heritage. (Ag '72)

Norway (Bergen)

Whitney, P. A. Listen for the whisperer. (O '72)

Ohio (Cleveland)

O'Hara, J. Ewings. (My '72)

Papua—New Guinea

Gascoigne, B. Murgatread's empire. (N '72)

Pennsylvania

Uppdike, J. Rabbit redux. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Poland

Strykowski, J. Inn. (Je '72)

Rhodesia

Sithole, N. Polygamist. (N '72)

Rumania

Stancu, Z. Barefoot. (Ap '72)

Russia

Bulgakov, M. Diabolad, and others stories. (Ag '72)

Gorki, M. Life of a useless man. (Mr '72)

Grossman, V. Forever flowing. (Ag '72)

Solzhenitsyn, A. August 1914. (N '72)

Russia (Moscow)

Felfer, G. Girl from Petrovka. (Ag '72)

Tenin, V. Moscow nights (Sleep soundly, dear comrade). (Je '72)

Scotland

Buckmaster, H. Walking trip. (O '72)

Crichton, R. Camerons. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Scotland (Orkney Islands)

Brown, G. M. Greenvoe. (N '72)

Sicily

Billington, R. Lilacs out of the dead land. (Je '72)

South Africa

See Fiction—Locality—Africa, South

South Carolina (Columbia)

Fox, W. P. Ruby Red. (Ap '72)

Spain

Cory, D. Sunburst. (My '72)

Spain (Malaga)

Tracy, H. Butterflies of the province. (Ap '72)

Sweden

Sjöwall, M. Murder at the Savoy. (Mr '72)

Switzerland (Geneva)

Spark, M. Not to disturb. (S '72)

Syria

Ambler, E. Levanter. (O '72)

Tennessee

Warren, R. P. Meet me in the green glen. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Tennessee (Nashville)

Fox, W. P. Ruby Red. (Ap '72)

Texas

McMurtry, A. All my friends are going to be strangers. (Je '72)

Texas (Dallas)

Shrake, E. Strange peaches. (O '72)

United States

Ardies, T. This suitcase is going to explode. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Buell, J. Shrewsdale exit. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Fiction—Locality—United States—Continued

Lewin, L. C. Triage. (S '72)
 McClure, R. Rawlins. (S '72)
 Mitgang, H. Get these men out of the hot sun. (Je '72)
 Norman, G. Divine Right's trip. (D '72)
 Prokosh, F. America, my wilderness. (S '72)
 Roiphe, A. Long division. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Sonzski, W. Punch goes the Judy. (Mr '72)

United States (middlewestern)

Green, H. Dead of the house. (My '72)

United States (southern)

Sherburne, J. Way to Fort Pillow. (D '72)
 Welty, E. Optimist's daughter. (Ag '72)
 Whitehead, J. Joiner. (Mr '72)

United States (western)

Durham, M. Man who loved Cat Dancing. (N '72)
 Seelye, J. Kid. (My '72)

Vermont

Rossner, J. Any minute I can split. (O '72)

Vietnam

Bunting, J. Lionheads. (Ag '72)
 Pelfrey, W. Big V. (Ag '72)

Virginia

Scott-Heron, G. Nigger factory. (N '72)

Wales

Hanley, J. Another world. (O '72)

Washington, D.C.

Anderson, P. Approach to kings. (My '72)
 Flick, C. Danziger transcript. (Ap '72)
 Flood, C. B. Trouble at the top. (S '72)
 O'Brien, R. C. Report from Group 17. (Ag '72)
 Searls, H. Pentagon. (N '72)

Washington (State)

Herbert, F. Soul catcher. (S '72)

West Indies

Lamming, G. Water with berries. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Yugoslavia (Montenegro)

Djilas, M. Stone and the violets. (Je '72)

Loneliness

Greenberg, J. Rites of passage. (Ag '72)
 Hanley, J. Another world. (O '72)
 McMurtry, L. All my friends are going to be strangers. (Je '72)
 Weesner, T. Car thief. (O '72)

Love stories

Billington, R. Lilacs out of the dead land. (Je '72)
 Bragg, M. Josh Lawton. (O '72)
 Charles, G. Destiny waltz. (N '72)
 Coppel, A. Landlocked man. (D '72)
 Davis, J. G. Cape of storms. (Je '72)
 Drexler, R. To smithereens. (O '72)
 Durham, M. Man who loved Cat Dancing. (N '72)
 Feifer, G. Girl from Petrovka. (Ag '72)
 Gerald, J. B. Conventional wisdom. (D '72)
 Harris, B. Confessions of Cherubino. (S '72)
 Howard, E. J. Odd girl out. (My '72)
 Jenkins, E. Dr. Gully's story. (Je '72)
 Lawrence, D. H. John Thomas and Lady Jane. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Mishima, Y. Spring snow. (S '72)
 Morrison, J. Treehouse. (N '72)
 Nathan, R. Elixir. (Ag '72)
 Rhys, J. After leaving Mr. Mackenzie. (Ag '72)
 Rubin, M. Absence of bells. (Ag '72)
 Stegner, P. Hawks & harriers. (My '72)
 Taylor, A. Drustan the wanderer. (D '72)
 Vassilikos, V. Photographs. (Mr '72)
 Warren, R. P. Meet me in the green glen. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 West, E. These lonely victories. (N '72)

Mafia

Quartermain, J. Rock of diamonds. (D '72)

Marriage

Bragg, M. Josh Lawton. (O '72)
 De Vries, P. Into your tent I'll creep. (Mr '72)
 Drabble, M. Needle's eye. (S '72)
 Gerald, J. B. Conventional wisdom. (D '72)
 Godwin, G. Glass people. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Grossbach, R. Someone great. (Mr '72)
 Lieber, J. Two-way traffic. (Ag '72)

North, E. Summer solstice. (Ag '72)
 Oz, A. My Michael. (S '72)
 Rossner, J. Any minute I can split. (O '72)

Mental illness

Crichton, M. Terminal man. (Ag '72)
 Kellogg, M. Like the lion's tooth. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Mountzoures, H. L. Bridge. (S '72)
 Schiff, K. Passing go. (S '72)
 Sloan, J. P. Case history of Comrade V. (Ag '72)

Mentally handicapped

Sharp, M. Innocents. (O '72)

Mexicans in the United States

Kazan, E. Assassins. (My '72)

Middle age

Amis, K. Girl, 20. (Ap '72)

Millionaires

Dickinson, P. Lizard in the cup. (Ag '72)

Mines and mining

Crichton, R. Camerons. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Miscegenation

Spivak, T. Bride wore the traditional gold. (Ag '72)

Mothers and daughters

Roiphe, A. Long division. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Moving pictures

Brower, B. Late great creature. (My '72)
 Deighton, L. Close-up. (S '72)
 Forbes, B. Distant laughter. (N '72)

Murder

Berckman, E. Fourth man on the rope. (S '72)
 Black, C. Death's head. (N '72)
 Bloch, R. Night-world. (D '72)
 Cornelisen, A. Vendetta of silence. (Mr '72)
 Dale, C. Dark corner. (Je '72)
 Davies, R. Nobody answered the bell. (My '72)
 Greenan, R. H. Queen of America. (S '72)
 James, P. D. Shroud for a nightingale. (Ap '72)
 Kazan, E. Assassins. (My '72)
 Keneally, T. Chant of Jimmie Blacksmith. (N '72)
 Marsh, N. Tied up in tinsel. (S '72)
 Oates, J. C. Wonderland. (Ap '72)
 Price, A. Alamut ambush. (O '72)
 Shimer, R. H. Squaw point. (Ag '72)
 Simonon, G. Maigret and the killer. (Ap '72)
 Simonon, G. Maigret and the madwoman. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Sjöwall, M. Murder at the Savoy. (Mr '72)
 Symons, J. Players and the game. (D '72)
 Warren, R. P. Meet me in the green glen. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Whitney, P. A. Listen for the whisperer. (O '72)

Murder trials

Jenkins, E. Dr. Gully's story. (Je '72)

Musicians

Peyton, K. M. Beethoven medal. (D '72)

Muslims

Kemp, A. Eat of me, I am the savior. (O '72)

Mystery and detective stories

Albrand, M. Manhattan North. (Mr '72)
 Anthony, D. Blood on a harvest moon. (My '72)
 Anthony, E. Poellenberg inheritance. (S '72)
 Ball, J. Five pieces of jade. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Beare, G. Bee sting deal. (D '72)
 Carmichael, H. Death trap. (Ap '72)
 Chandler, R. Midnight Raymond Chandler. (Ap '72)
 Christie, A. Nemesis. (Mr '72)
 Dale, C. Dark corner. (Je '72)
 Davies, L. P. Give me back myself. (My '72)
 Davies, R. Nobody answered the bell. (My '72)
 Delving, M. Shadow of himself. (O '72)
 Devine, D. Dead trouble. (Je '72)
 Dickinson, P. Lizard in the cup. (Ag '72)
 Egan, L. Malicious mischief. (My '73)
 Ellin, S. Mirror, mirror on the wall. (D '72)
 Falkirk, R. Chill factor. (Ap '72)
 Fish, R. L. Tricks of the trade. (Ag '72)
 Freeling, N. Au près de ma blonde. (O '72)
 Freeman, L. Dreams. (Ap '72)
 Garve, A. Case of Robert Quarry. (S '72)

Gilbert, M. Body of a girl. (S '72)
 Hensley, J. L. Legislative body. (D '72)
 Högstrand, O. E. On the prime minister's account. (O '72)
 James, P. D. Shroud for a nightingale. (Ap '72)
 Johnston, V. Mourning trees. (Je '72)
 Keating, H. R. F. Inspector Ghote goes by train. (N '72)
 Kemelman, H. Monday the rabbi took off. (Ag '72)
 Lange, J. Binary. (O '72)
 Lewin, M. Z. Ask the right question. (S '72)
 Lockridge, R. Death in a sunny place. (Ap '72)
 Lovesey, P. Abracadaver. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 McClure, J. Steam pig. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Marric, J. J. Gideon's art. (Mr '72)
 Marsh, N. Tied up in tinsel. (S '72)
 Oriol, L. Murder to make you grow up little girl. (D '72)
 Pentecost, H. Don't drop dead tomorrow. (Ag '72)
 Power, P. This deadly grief. (O '72)
 Quartermain, J. Rock of diamonds. (D '72)
 Rendell, R. No more dying then. (S '72)
 Ross, J. Here lies Nancy Frail. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Shannon, D. Murder with love. (My '72)
 Shimer, R. H. Squaw point. (Ag '72)
 Simenon, G. Maigret and the killer. (Ap '72)
 Simenon, G. Maigret and the madwoman. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Simenon, G. Maigret sets a trap. (S '72)
 Sjöwall, M. Murder at the Savoy. (Mr '72)
 Symons, J. Players and the game. (D '72)
 Tidyman, E. Shaft among the Jews. (O '72)
 Townsend, P. Zoom! (D '72)
 Wells, T. Foo dog. (Mr '72)

Narcotic habit

Cain, G. Blueschild baby. (Ap '72)
 Shrake, E. Strange peaches. (O '72)

National socialism

Anthony, E. Poellenberg inheritance. (S '72)
 Arnold, E. Forests of the night. (Mr '72)
 Forsyth, F. Odessa file. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Nazis

See Fiction—National socialism

Negroes

Cain, G. Blueschild baby. (Ap '72)
 Clarke, A. Meeting point. (Ag '72)
 Colter, C. Rivers of Eros. (S '72)
 Fair, R. We can't breathe. (My '72)
 Kemp, A. Eat of me, I am the savior. (O '72)
 Reed, I. Mumbo jumbo. (D '72)
 Walker, A. Third life of Grange Copeland. (Ag '72)
 Williams, J. A. Captain Blackman. (O '72)

Nihilism

Sillitoe, A. Travels in Nihilon. (D '72)

Painters

Lenz, S. German lesson. (My '72)
 Potok, C. My name is Asher Lev. (Ag '72)

Parables

Bach, R. Jonathan Livingston Seagull. (1972 Annual)
 Buechner, F. Open heart. (S '72)
 Gascoigne, B. Murgatred's empire. (N '72)
 Storm, H. Seven arrows. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Parent and child

Grossbach, R. Someone great. (Mr '72)

Parodies

DeLillo, D. End zone. (Ag '72)
 Tuten, F. Adventures of Mao on the long march. (Ag '72)

Peace

Tate, P. Gardens one to five. (D '72)

Peasant life

Stancu, Z. Barefoot. (Ap '72)

Philosophical stories

Barth, J. Chimera. (N '72)
 Berger, J. G. (N '72)
 Calisher, H. Standard dreaming. (D '72)
 Camus, A. Happy death. (Ag '72)
 Le Carré, J. Naive and sentimental lover. (Ag '72)
 Masters, D. Cloud chamber. (Ap '72)
 Mazuri, A. A. Trial of Christopher Okigbo. (N '72)

Murdoch, I. Accidental man. (Ap '72)
 Storm, H. Seven arrows. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Tournier, M. Ogre. (N '72)
 West, P. Colonel Mint. (N '72)

Photographers

Kotker, Z. Bodies in motion. (S '72)

Physicians

Jenkins, E. Dr. Gully's story. (Je '72)
 Oates, J. C. Wonderland. (Ap '72)

Picaresque novels

Condon, R. Arigato. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Fraser, G. M. Flash for freedom! (Ag '72)
 Oates, J. C. Wonderland. (Ap '72)
 Prokosh, F. America, my wilderness. (S '72)
 Sangster, J. Your friendly neighbourhood death pedlar. (Je '72)

Poets

Charles, G. Destiny waltz. (N '72)
 Mazuri, A. A. Trial of Christopher Okigbo. (N '72)

Police

Mills, J. Report to the commissioner. (O '72)
 Shannon, D. Murder with love. (My '72)
 Ustinov, P. Krumnagel. (Je '72)
 Wambaugh, J. Blue knight. (My '72)

Politics

Anderson, P. Approach to kings. (My '72)
 Bernstein, K. Senator's ransom. (My '72)
 Flood, C. B. Trouble at the top. (S '72)
 Knebel, F. Dark horse. (O '72)
 Koster, R. M. Prince. (My '72)
 Mitgang, H. Get these men out of the hot sun. (Je '72)
 Quigley, J. Last checkpoint. (Mr '72)
 Searls, H. Pentagon. (N '72)
 Tenin, V. Moscow nights (Sleep soundly, dear comrade). (Je '72)

Poverty

Chute, B. J. Story of a small life. (O '72)
 Oates, J. C. Wonderland. (Ap '72)

Power (Social sciences)

Mitgang, H. Get these men out of the hot sun. (Je '72)

Prejudices and antipathies

Theroux, A. Three wogs. (S '72)

Priests, Catholic

See Fiction—Catholic priests

Prisons and prisoners

Frizell, B. Grand defiance. (Ag '72)

Psychiatry

Sloan, J. P. Case history of Comrade V. (Ag '72)

Psychological stories

Appleby, J. Skate. (Ap '72)
 Bryant, D. Ella Price's journal. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Calisher, H. Standard dreaming. (D '72)
 Greenberg, J. Rites of passage. (Ag '72)
 Handke, P. Goalie's anxiety at the penalty kick. (S '72)
 Keneally, T. Chant of Jimmie Blacksmith. (N '72)
 Lenz, S. German lesson. (My '72)
 McCormack, E. Would you believe love? (Mr '72)
 Nabokov, V. Transparent things. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Oz, A. My Michael. (S '72)
 Roiphe, A. Long division. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Rossner, J. Any minute I can split. (O '72)
 Sloan, J. P. Case history of Comrade V. (Ag '72)
 Updike, J. Rabbit redux. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 West, P. Bela Lugosi's white Christmas. (N '72)

Public relations

Wallace, I. Word. (Je '72)

Pygmies

Gascoigne, B. Murgatred's empire. (N '72)

Quakers

See Fiction—Friends, Society of

Rabbis

Kemelman, H. Monday the rabbi took off. (Ag '72)

Fiction—Continued

Race problems

- Clarke, A. Meeting point. (Ag '72)
 Fair, R. We can't breathe. (My '72)
 Malamud, B. Tenants. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Scholefield, A. Young masters. (Ap '72)
 Scott-Heron, G. Nigger factory. (N '72)

Radicals and radicalism

- Snow, C. P. Malcontents. (Ag '72)

Refugees

- Remarque, E. M. Shadows in paradise. (My '72)
 Singer, I. B. Enemies, a love story. (S '72)

Religion

- Mano, D. K. Proselytizer. (Je '72)
 Roland, N. Who came by night. (N '72)
 Storm, H. Seven arrows. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Wallace, I. Word. (Je '72)

Rescues

- Lavallee, D. Event 1000. (Mr '72)

Revenge

- Buell, J. Shrewsdale exit. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Koster, R. M. Prince. (My '72)

Revolutions

- Callado, A. Don Juan's bar. (Je '72)
 Clifford, F. Wild justice. (O '72)
 Gorki, M. Life of a useless man. (Mr '72)
 Lewis, N. Flight from a dark equator. (D '72)

Rodeos

- McClure, R. Rawlins. (S '72)

Romances

- Higgins, C. Harold and Maude. (Mr '72)

Sabotage

- Jordan, R. Thanksgiving. (O '72)

Salesmen and salesmanship

- Matthews, J. Charisma campaigns. (S '72)

Satire

- Amis, K. Girl, 20. (Ap '72)
 Barth, J. Chimera. (N '72)
 Bulatović, M. War was better. (O '72)
 Bulgakov, M. Diaboliad, and other stories. (Ag '72)
 Burgess, A. One hand clapping. (My '72)
 Callado, A. Don Juan's bar. (Je '72)
 Corman, A. Oh, God! (My '72)
 Crews, H. Car. (My '72)
 Drexler, B. To smithereens. (O '72)
 Farb, P. Yankee doodle. (Ap '72)
 Gascoigne, B. Murgatread's empire. (N '72)
 Le Carré, J. Naive and sentimental lover. (Ag '72)
 Lewin, L. C. Triage. (S '72)
 Millhauser, S. Edwin Mullhouse: the life and death of an American writer, 1943-1954, by Jeffrey Cartwright. (D '72)
 Mitgang, H. Get these men out of the hot sun. (Je '72)
 Purdy, J. I am Elijah Thrush. (S '72)
 Schneek, S. Nocturnal Vaudeville. (D '72)
 Sillitoe, A. Travels in Nihilon. (D '72)
 Sorrentino, G. Imaginative qualities of actual things. (O '72)
 Spark, M. Not to disturb. (S '72)
 Tenin, V. Moscow nights (Sleep soundly, dear comrade). (Je '72)
 Tuten, F. Adventures of Mao on the long march. (Ag '72)
 Ustinov, P. Krumnagel. (Je '72)
 West, P. Colonel Mint. (N '72)
 Zamyatin, Y. We. (S '72)

School life

- Delderfield, R. F. To serve them all my days. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Yglesias, R. Hide fox, and all after. (My '72)

Science fiction

- Crichton, M. Terminal man. (Ag '72)
 Goulart, R. What's become of Screwloose? (S '72)
 Gutteridge, L. Cold war in a country garden. (Mr '72)
 Heim, M. Aswan! (N '72)
 Hipolito, J., ed. Mars, we love you. (Ag '72)
 Hjortsberg, W. Gray matters. (Mr '72)
 Lasswitz, K. Two planets. (Ag '72)
 Le Guin, U. K. Lathe of heaven. (Ap '72)
 Levin, I. Steppod wives. (D '72)
 Lewin, L. C. Triage. (S '72)
 Masters, D. Cloud chamber. (Ap '72)

- Nathan, R. Elixir. (Ag '72)
 O'Brien, R. C. Report from Group 17. (Ag '72)
 Ottum, B. All right, everybody off the planet! (Je '72)
 Tate, P. Gardens one to five. (D '72)
 Zamyatin, Y. We. (S '72)

Sea stories

- Callison, B. Plague of sailors. (O '72)
 Lamming, G. Natives of my person. (My '72)
 Perrault, E. G. Twelfth mile. (D '72)

Servants

- Spark, M. Not to disturb. (S '72)

Sex

- Amis, K. Girl, 20. (Ap '72)
 Barth, J. Chimera. (N '72)
 Berger, J. G. (N '72)
 Hjortsberg, W. Gray matters. (Mr '72)

Sex problems

- Buchanan, C. Maiden. (Ap '72)
 Friedman, A. Hermaphrodeity. (Je '72)
 Harris, B. Confessions of Cherubino. (S '72)
 Howard, E. J. Odd girl out. (My '72)
 Irving, J. Water-method man. (N '72)
 Lawrence, D. H. John Thomas and Lady Jane. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Mano, D. K. Proselytizer. (Je '72)
 Meacock, N. Thinking girl. (My '72)
 Moravia, A. Two. (Ag '72)
 Selby, H. Room. (Ap '72)
 Tenin, V. Moscow nights (Sleep soundly, dear comrade). (Je '72)

Short stories

See Short stories

Singers

- Fox, W. P. Ruby Red. (Ap '72)

Slum life

- Chute, B. J. Story of a small life. (O '72)

Small town life

- Elliott, G. P. Muriel. (Je '72)

Smuggling

- Fish, R. L. Tricks of the trade. (Ag '72)
 Sangster, J. Your friendly neighbourhood death pedlar. (Je '72)

Social classes

- Gaines, C. Stay hungry. (D '72)
 O'Hara, J. Ewings. (My '72)

Social problems

- Farb, P. Yankee doodle. (Ap '72)
 Hornman, W. Stones cry out. (Ap '72)
 Lawrence, D. H. John Thomas and Lady Jane. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Lewin, L. C. Triage. (S '72)
 Mukherjee, B. Tiger's daughter. (Ap '72)
 Whitehead, J. Joiner. (Mr '72)

Soldiers

- Frizell, B. Grand defiance. (Ag '72)
 Sherburne, J. Way to Fort Pillow. (D '72)
 Williams, J. A. Captain Blackman. (O '72)

Spies

- Ardies, T. This suitcase is going to explode. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Bagley, D. Freedom trap. (Je '72)
 Buchanan, J. D. Professional. (D '72)
 Cory, D. Sunburst. (My '72)
 Dodge, D. Troubleshooter. (My '72)
 Fisher, N. Walk at a steady pace. (Mr '72)
 Gutteridge, L. Cold war in a country garden. (Mr '72)
 Haggard, W. Too many enemies. (D '72)
 Harrington, W. Jupiter crisis. (Mr '72)
 Hebden, M. Killer for the Chairman. (O '72)
 Hone, J. Private sector. (O '72)
 McGivern, W. P. Caprifoli. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Perrault, E. G. Twelfth mile. (D '72)
 Ryck, F. Loaded gun. (S '72)
 Sinclair, M. Folio forty-one. (Ag '72)
 West, E. These lonely victories. (N '72)
 Woodhouse, M. Mama doll. (O '72)

Spinsters

- Sharp, M. Innocents. (O '72)

Stream of consciousness

- Farb, P. Yankee doodle. (Ap '72)
 Gass, W. H. Willie Master's lonesome wife. (Ap '72)
 North, E. Summer solstice. (Ag '72)

Student life

See Fiction—College life

Suburban life

Levin, I. Stepford wives. (D '72)
 Maloney, R. Nixon recession caper. (My '72)

Success

McMurtry, L. All my friends are going to be strangers. (Je '72)

Suicide

Lieber, J. Two-way traffic. (Ag '72)

Surgeons

Hooker, R. *M*AS*H* goes to Maine. (Je '72)

Surrealist stories

Bulatović, M. War was better. (O '72)
 Crawford, S. G. Log of the S. S. The Mrs Unguentine. (D '72)
 Rezvani, Light-years. (Ap '72)
 Schneck, S. Nocturnal Vaudeville. (D '72)

Survival

Hill, S. Strange meeting. (Je '72)
 Knox, A. Night of the white bear. (Ap '72)
 Leighton, A. H. Come near. (Ap '72)

Suspense

Anthony, D. Blood on a harvest moon. (My '72)
 Arnold, E. Forests of the night. (Mr '72)
 Bagley, D. Freedom trap. (Je '72)
 Berckman, E. Fourth man on the rope. (S '72)
 Bernstein, K. Senator's ransom. (My '72)
 Betts, D. River to Pickle Beach. (N '72)
 Bloch, R. Night-world. (D '72)
 Buckmaster, H. Walking trip. (O '72)
 Callison, B. Plague of sailors. (O '72)
 Carmichael, H. Death trap. (Ap '72)
 Craig, J. If you want to see your wife again. (Ap '72)
 Dale, C. Dark corner. (Je '72)
 Davis, M. Three minutes to midnight. (Ap '72)
 Dodge, D. Troubleshooter. (My '72)
 Driscoll, P. Wilby conspiracy. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Eastwood, J. Henry in a silver frame. (N '72)
 Egleton, C. Judas mandate. (Ag '72)
 Forsyth, F. Odessa file. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Francis, D. Bonecrack. (Ag '72)
 Fremlin, C. Appointment with yesterday. (D '72)
 Gadney, R. Somewhere in England. (Je '72)
 Goldberg, M. Karamanov equations. (Ag '72)
 Handke, P. Goalie's anxiety at the penalty kick. (S '72)
 Harrington, W. Jupiter crisis. (Mr '72)
 Hebden, M. Killer for the Chairman. (O '72)
 Herbert, F. Soul catcher. (S '72)
 Highsmith, P. Dog's ransom. (N '72)
 Hirschfeld, B. Masters affair. (S '72)
 Holden, A. Witnesses. (Mr '72)
 Levin, I. Stepford wives. (D '72)
 Lockridge, R. Death in a sunny place. (Ap '72)
 McGivern, W. P. Caprifoil. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 McMahan, T. P. Jink. (Mr '72)
 Mitchell, A. Bodyguard. (S '72)
 Morrell, D. First blood. (S '72)
 O'Donnell, L. Phone calls. (Ap '72)
 Oriol, L. Murder to make you grow up little girl. (D '72)
 Pace, T. Fisherman's luck. (S '72)
 Perry, R. Fall guy. (D '72)
 Phillips, J. Escape a killer. (S '72)
 Phillips, J. Vanishing senator. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Ryck, F. Loaded gun. (S '72)
 Sharp, M. Innocents. (O '72)
 Whitnev, P. A. Listen for the whisperer. (O '72)
 Woodhouse, M. Mama doll. (O '72)

Symbolism

Brown, G. M. Greenvov. (N '72)
 Crawford, S. G. Log of the S. S. The Mrs Unguentine. (D '72)
 Gass, W. H. Willie Master's lonesome wife. (Ap '72)
 Pausewang, G. Bolivian wedding. (Ap '72)
 Tournier, M. Ogre. (N '72)
 Vassilikos, V. Photographs. (Mr '72)

Teachers

Delderfield, R. F. To serve them all my days. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Frankel, C. Stubborn case. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Television

Charles, G. Destiny waltz. (N '72)
 Schneck, S. Nocturnal Vaudeville. (D '72)

Thanksgiving Day

Jordan, R. Thanksgiving. (O '72)

Totalitarianism

Zamyatin, Y. We. (S '72)

Translated stories

Chinese

Hsia, C. T., ed. Twentieth-century Chinese stories. (O '72)

Dutch

Hornman, W. Stones cry out. (Ap '72)

French

Céline, L. F. North. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Le Clézio, J. M. G. Book of flights. (Ap '72)
 Leduc, V. Taxi. (O '72)
 Robbe-Grillet, A. Project for a revolution in New York. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Ryck, F. Woman hunt. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Tournier, M. Ogre. (N '72)

German

Heim, M. Aswan! (N '72)
 Lasswitz, K. Two planets. (Ag '72)
 Lenz, S. German lesson. (My '72)
 Nossack, H. E. D'Arthez case. (Mr '72)
 Pausewang, G. Bolivian wedding. (Ap '72)

Greek

Vassilikos, V. Photographs. (Mr '72)

Hebrew

Yehoshua, A. B. Three days and a child. (O '72)

Italian

Bassani, G. Behind the door. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Giovene, A. Book of Sansevero. (Mr '72)
 Moravia, A. Two. (Ag '72)

Japanese

Kawabata, Y. Master of go. (D '72)

Polish

Strykowski, J. Inn. (Je '72)

Portuguese

Callado, A. Don Juan's bar. (Je '72)

Russian

Bulgakov, M. Diaboliad, and other stories. (Ag '72)
 Gorki, M. Life of a useless man. (Mr '72)
 Grossman, V. Forever flowing. (Ag '72)
 Nabokov, V. Glory. (Ap '72)
 Pomorska, K. Fifty years of Russian prose, 2v. (O '72)
 Solzhenitsyn, A. August 1914. (N '72)
 Tenin, V. Moscow nights (Sleep soundly, dear comrade). (Je '72)
 Zamyatin, Y. We. (S '72)

Serbo-Croat

Djilas, M. Stone and the violets. (Je '72)

Spanish

Asturias, M. G. Beweiled boy. (Ag '72)

Swedish

Högstrand, O. E. On the prime minister's account. (O '72)

Trials

Carlisle, H. Voyage to the first of December. (My '72)
 Kazan, E. Assassins. (My '72)
 Mazrui, A. A. Trial of Christopher Okigbo. (N '72)
 Stein, S. Magician. (O '72)
 Warren, R. P. Meet me in the green glen. (1971, 1972 Annual)

United Nations

Tate, P. Gardens one to five. (D '72)

United States, Army

Bunting, J. Lionheads. (Ag '72)
 Kazan, E. Assassins. (My '72)
 Searls, H. Pentagon. (N '72)

University of Kentucky

Hazel, R. Early spring. (My '72)

Villages

Brown, G. M. Greenvov. (N '72)

Fiction—Continued

Violence

- Buell, J. Shrewsdale exit. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Morrell, D. First blood. (S '72)
 Robbe-Grillet, A. Project for a revolution in New York. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Seelye, J. Kid. (My '72)
 Selby, H. Room. (Ap '72)
 Shrake, E. Strange peaches. (O '72)

Voyages and travels

- Mungo, R. Tropical detective story. (D '72)
 Norman, G. Divine Right's trip. (D '72)
 Rolphe, A. Long division. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

War

- Bulatović, M. War was better. (O '72)
 Bunting, J. Lionheads. (Ag '72)
 Facos, J. Silver lady. (D '72)
 Frizell, B. Grand defiance. (Ag '72)
 Hill, S. Strange meeting. (Je '72)
 Pelfrey, W. Big V. (Ag '72)
 Silver, J. Limbo. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Strvikowski, J. Inn. (Je '72)
 Williams, J. A. Captain Blackman. (O '72)

Wealth

- Burgess, A. One hand clapping. (My '72)
 Mukherjee, B. Tiger's daughter. (Ap '72)

Western stories

See Fiction—Locality—United States (western)

Whaling

- Davis, J. G. Cape of storms. (Je '72)

Women

- Bawden, N. Anna apparent. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Bingham, S. Way it is now. (Ag '72)
 Birstein, A. Summer situations. (My '72)
 Bryant, D. Ella Price's journal. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Buchanan, C. Maiden. (Ap '72)
 Godwin, G. Glass people. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Gould, L. Necessary objects. (D '72)
 Jaffee, R. Other woman. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Levin, I. Stepford wives. (D '72)
 Meacock, N. Thinking girl. (My '72)
 North, E. Summer solstice. (Ag '72)
 Oz, A. My Michael. (S '72)
 Shulman, A. K. Memoirs of an ex-prom queen. (Ag '72)
 Silver, J. Limbo. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Social and moral questions

- Fox, P. Western coast. (D '72)

Youth

- Appleby, J. Skate. (Ap '72)
 Hannah, B. Geronimo Rex. (Ag '72)
 Jordan, R. Thanksgiving. (O '72)
 Kotlowitz, R. Somewhere else. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Nabokov, V. Glory. (Ap '72)
 Norman, G. Divine Right's trip. (D '72)
 Peyton, K. M. Beethoven medal. (D '72)
 Snow, C. P. Malcontents. (Ag '72)
 Sonzski, P. Punch goes the Judy. (Mr '72)
 Stegner, P. Hawks & harriers. (My '72)

Fiction, American. See American fiction

Fiction, Yiddish. See Yiddish fiction

Field-theory: a study of its application in the social sciences. Mey, H. (D '72)
 Fielding's guide to traveling with children in Europe. Hadley, L. (O '72)

Fifteen American authors before 1900. Rees, R. A., ed. (S '72)

Fifth Avenue. James, T. (D '72)

Fifth profession. Henry, W. E. (N '72)

Fifth world of Forster Bennett. Crapanzano, V. (S '72)

Fifty years of Russian prose, 2v. Pomorska, K., ed. (O '72)

Fighter tactics and strategy, 1914-1970. Sims, E. H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Fighting, Hand-to-hand

History

Wise, A. Art and history of personal combat. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Fighting Quaker. Thane, E. (D '72)

Figure drawing

Schlemmer, O. Man. (Mr '72)

Figures of light. Kauffmann, S. (S '72)

Fihrist of al-Nadim, 2v. (Mr '72)

Fillets of plaice. Durrell, G. (Ap '72)

Film criticism of Otis Ferguson. Ferguson, O. (Ag '72)

Films of Clark Gable. Essoe, G. (Ap '72)

Filmus, Tully

Filmus, A. Tully Filmus. (Ag '72)

Finance

Buchanan, J. M., ed. Theory of public choice. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Burkhead, J. Public expenditure. (S '72)

Einzig, P. Parallel money markets, v2. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Thomas, D. L. Money crowd. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

China

Young, A. N. China's nation-building effort, 1927-1937. (O '72)

China (People's Republic of China)

Hsiao, K. H. Money and monetary policy in Communist China. (D '72)

France

Bosher, J. F. French finances, 1770-1795. (My '72)

Great Britain

Prestwich, M. War, politics and finance under Edward I. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Latin America

Griffin, K., ed. Financing development in Latin America. (Mr '72)

Siena

Bowsky, W. M. Finance of the Commune of Siena, 1287-1355. (Ap '72)

Sweden

Schnitzer, M. Economy of Sweden. (D '72)

United States

Kraus, A. L. New York Times guide to business and finance. (D '72)

Thurrow, L. C. Impact of taxes on the American economy. (Ap '72)

History

Cohen, H. Business and politics in America from the age of Jackson to the Civil War. (My '72)

Finance, International

Cohen, S. D. International monetary reform, 1964-69. (My '72)

Robbins, Lord. Money, trade and international relations. (O '72)

Finance, Personal

Knowlton, W. Shaking the money tree. (S '72)

Finance of the Commune of Siena, 1287-1355.

Bowsky, W. M. (Ap '72)

Financing development in Latin America. Griffin, K., ed. (Mr '72)

Financing the 1968 election. Alexander, H. E. (My '72)

Finch, John Alban

Wordsworth, J., ed. Bicentenary Wordsworth studies in memory of John Alban Finch. (Mr '72)

Finger rings. See Rings

Finland

History

Chew, A. F. White death: the epic of the Soviet-Finnish winter war. (Ag '72)

Fire and iron. Allen, R. F. (My '72)

Fire in the lake. FitzGerald, F. (O '72)

Firebreak. Wevill, D. (Ag '72)

Fireside book of tennis. Danzig, A., ed. (D '72)

First avant-garde, 1887-1894. Henderson, J. A. (D '72)

First blood. Morrell, D. (S '72)

First Bourbon. Seward, D. (Ap '72)

First Christmas. Maier, P. L. (Ap '72)

First day on the Somme, 1 July 1916. Middlebrook, M. (Ap '72)

First decade. Kahn, E. J. (Ag '72)

First European agriculture. Murray, J. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

First hundred years of Niño Cochise. Cochise, C. "N." (Ap '72)

First mail West. Taylor, M. F. (Mr '72)

Fisher, John Arbuthnot Fisher, 1st Baron

Marder, A. J. From the dreadnought to Scapa Flow, v5. (S '72)

Fisheries

New England

Juvenile literature

Gemming, E. Blow ye winds westerly. (Ag '72)

Newfoundland

Cell, G. T. English enterprise in Newfoundland, 1577-1660. (S '72)

Fisherman's luck. Pace, T. (S '72)

Fishes

Moy-Thomas, J. A. Palaeozoic fishes [2d ed revl. (O '72)

Stories

Aruego, J. Pilyo the piranha. (O '72)

Fishing

British Columbia

Hillen, W. Blackwater river: Toa-Thal-Kas. (Ap '72)

Fitness with Glenn Swengros. Swengros, G. V. (Ap '72)

Fitzgerald, Francis Scott Key

Fitzgerald, F. S. As ever, Scott Fitz—. (O '72)

Fitzgerald, F. S. K. Dear Scott/Dear Max. (Ap '72)

Latham, A. Crazy Sundays: F. Scott Fitzgerald in Hollywood. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Mayfield, S. Exiles from paradise. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Fitzgerald, Zelda (Sayre)

Mayfield, S. Exiles from paradise. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Five pieces of jade. Ball, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

5000 nights at the opera. Bing, R. (D '72)

5000 years of the art of India. Bussagli, M. (O '72)

Flash for freedom! Fraser, G. M. (Ag '72)

Flashes of merriment. Levy, L. S. (Mr '72)

Flaubert, Gustave

Nadeau, M. Greatness of Flaubert. (Je '72)

Starkie, E. Flaubert the master: a critical and biographical study (1856-1880). (1971, 1972 Annual)

Flaubert the master: a critical and biographical study (1856-1880). Starkie, E. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Flawed words and stubborn sounds. Edwards, A. (Ag '72)

Flemish painting from the Van Eycks to Metsys. Puyvelde, L. van. (Ag '72)

Flemish painting, the age of Rubens and Van Dyck. Puyvelde, L. van. (Ag '72)

Flesh and the word. Watkins, F. C. (Ag '72)

Flight

Scarry, R. Richard Scarry's great big air book. (Ap '72)

History

Romance of ballooning. (O '72)

Flight from a dark equator. Lewis, N. (D '72)

Flint, Richard Foster

Late cenozoic glacial ages. (O '72)

Flint's island. Wibberley, L. (D '72)

Florence. San Giovanni (Baptistery)

Ghiberti, L. Ghiberti's bronze doors. (Je '72)

Flower gardening

Crockett, J. U. Annuals. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Crockett, J. U. Bulbs. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Flowering house plants. Crockett, J. U. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Flying saucers

Flammonde, P. Age of flying saucers. (Ap '72)

Hynek, J. A. UFO experience. (N '72)

Flying scared. Rich, E. (N '72)

Foch, Ferdinand

Marshall-Cornwall, J. Foch as military commander. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Foch as military commander. Marshall-Cornwall, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Focus on Chaplin. McCaffrey, D. W., ed (My '72)

Focus on Citizen Kane. Gottesman, R., ed. (Ap '72)

Focus on D. W. Griffith. Geduld, H. M., ed. (Ag '72)

Folio forty-one. Sinclair, M. (Ag '72)

Folk art, African

Gardi, R. African crafts and craftsmen. (Ap '72)

Folk art, American

Juvenile literature

Kinney, J. 21 kinds of American folk art and how to make each one. (O '72)

Folk drama

Brody, A. English mummers and their plays. (Ap '72)

Folk music. See Folk songs

Folk songs

Juvenile literature

Price, C., J. One is God. (S '72)

United States

Bluestein, G. Voice of the folk. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Denisoff, R. S. Great day coming. (Ag '72)

History and criticism

Horn, D. D. Sing to me of heaven. (Mr '72)

Juvenile literature

Soldier, soldier, won't you marry me? (N '72)

Folk songs, Spanish

Juvenile literature

Rockwell, A., ed. El toro pinto and other songs in Spanish. (S '72)

Folklore

Dorson, R. M., ed. Folklore and folklife. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Juvenile literature

De Regniers, B. S. Red Riding Hood. (Ag '72)

Hieatt, C. Sword and the grail. (O '72)

McHargue, G. Impossible people. (Ag '72)

Manning-Sanders, R. Choice of magic. (My '72)

Reeves, J. How the moon began. (D '72)

Africa

Juvenile literature

Graham, L. David he no fear. (My '72)

Africa, West

Juvenile literature

Guirma, F. Tales of Mogho. (My '72)

England

Briggs, K. M. Dictionary of British folk-tales in the English language, pt. B, 2v. (S '72)

Juvenile literature

Crossley-Holland, K. Pedlar of Swaffham. (Mr '72)

Fraser, A. King Arthur and the knights of the Round Table. (N '72)

Fraser, A. Robin Hood. (N '72)

Godden, R. Old woman who lived in a vinegar bottle. (S '72)

Jacobs, J. Crock of gold. (Je '72)

Germany

Juvenile literature

Grimm, J. About wise men and simpletons. (My '72)

Great Britain

Juvenile literature

Jacobs, J. Jack the giant-killer. (My '72)

Hawaii

Juvenile literature

Thompson, V. L. Hawaiian tales of heroes and champions. (Je '72)

India

Juvenile literature

Gobhai, M. Legend of the orange princess. (N '72)

Philippine Islands

Aruego, J. Crocodile's tale. (S '72)

Scandinavia

Juvenile literature

Sperry, M. Scandinavian stories. (Mr '72)

Scotland

Juvenile literature

Nic Leodhas, S. Twelve great black cats, and other eerie Scottish tales. (Ap '72)

United States

Bluestein, G. Voice of the folk. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Emrich, D. Folklore on the American land. (Ag '72)

Folklore, Negro

Abrahams, R. D. Positively black. (Mr '72)

Spalding, H. D., ed. Encyclopedia of Black folklore and humor. (O '72)

Folklore, Yoruba

Juvenile literature

Fuja, A. Fourteen hundred cowries, and other African tales. (Mr '72)

Folklore and folklife. Dorson, R. M., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Folklore on the American land. Emrich, D. (Ag '72)

Fontana, Lucio

Ballo, G. Lucio Fontana. (Mr '72)

Foo dog. Wells, T. (Mr '72)

Food

Brillat-Savarin, J. A. Physiology of taste. (Ap '72)

Preservation

Sleight, J. Home book of smoke-cooking meat, fish & game. (Mr '72)

Food, Artificial

Pyke, M. Synthetic food. (My '72)

Food additives

Jacobson, M. F. Eater's digest. (N '72)

Food adulteration and inspection

Marine, G. Food pollution. (Ap '72)

Food industry and trade

Marine, G. Food pollution. (Ap '72)

Food of Italy. Root, W. (My '72)

Food pollution. Marine, G. (Ap '72)

Food supply

Halacy, D. S. Geometry of hunger. (Ag '72)

McLoughlin, P. F. M., ed. African food production systems. (Je '72)

Fool for a client. Cohn, R. (Ap '72)

Foolproof birth control. Lader, L. (Ag '72)

Foot

Care and hygiene

See Chiropody

Football

Butkus, D. Stop-action. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Jordan, P. Black coach. (Mr '72)

Merchant, L. And every day you take another bite. (Ap '72)

Rentzel, L. When all the laughter died in sorrow. (D '72)

Rydel, W. Football. (Je '72)

Twombly, W. Blanda. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Biography

Sullivan, G. Gamemakers. (My '72)

History

McCallum, J. College football, U.S.A., 1869-1971. (D '72)

Football coaching

Wiebusch, J., ed. Lombardi. (Ag '72)

For gourmets with ulcers. Bruyère, T. M. (Je '72)

For my own amusement. Delderfield, R. F. (N '72)

For peace and justice. Chatfield, C. (Mr '72)

For the reputation of truth. Bauman, R. (N '72)

Force and energy

Klein, H. A. New gravitation. (My '72)

Odum, H. T. Environment, power, and society. (My '72)

Juvenile literature

Adler, I. Energy. (Mr '72)

Hellman, H. Energy and inertia. (Mr '72)

Ford, Ford Madox

Mizener, A. Saddest story. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Ford, Henry

Wik, R. M. Henry Ford and grass-roots America. (My '72)

Forecast for Japan: security in the 1970's.

Morley, J. W., ed. (D '72)

Forecast for Overlord, June 6, 1944. Staggs, J. M. (N '72)

Forecasts

Dewey, E. R. Cycles: the mysterious forces that trigger events. (My '72)

Kahn, H. Things to come. (Ag '72)

Theobald, R., ed. Futures conditional. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Foreign affairs fudge factory. Campbell, J. F. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Foreign assistance: a view from the private sector. Thompson, K. W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Foreign exchange

Rueff, J. Monetary sin of the West. (My '72)

Foreign policies of the Taft administration. Scholes, W. V. (Mr '72)

Foreign policy of Col. McCormick's Tribune, 1929-1941. Edwards, J. E. (N '72)

Foreign policy system of Israel. Brecher, M. (N '72)

Foreign trade of mainland China. Mah, F. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Forests and forestry

United States

Clepper, H. Professional forestry in the United States. (Ag '72)

Forests and wetlands of New York City. Barlow, E. (Mr '72)

Forests of Lilliput. Bland, J. H. (My '72)

Forests of the night. Arnold, E. (Mr '72)

Forever flowing. Grossman, V. (Ag '72)

Forgery

Fay, S. Hoax. (S '72)

Forging of the American empire. Lens, S. (Ap '72)

Form of preaching. Robert of Basevorn. (In Three medieval rhetorical arts; ed. by J. J. Murphy). (My '72)

Form, style, tradition. Kato, S. (D '72)

Formal penmanship and other papers. Johnston, E. (N '72)

Forman, James

Forman, J. Making of black revolutionaries. (N '72)

Formation of the economic thought of Karl Marx, 1843 to Capital. Mandel, E. (Ap '72)

Formation of the Resurrection narratives. Fuller, R. H. (Mr '72)

Forrest, Sir John, Bart.

Crowley, F. K. Forrest, 1847-1918, v 1. (S '72)

Forrest, 1847-1918, v 1. Crowley, F. K. (S '72)

Forster, Edward Morgan

Bedient, C. Architects of the self. (N '72)

Fort Supply, Indian Territory. Carriker, R. C. (Mr '72)

Fort Supply, Oklahoma

Carriker, R. C. Fort Supply, Indian Territory. (Mr '72)

Fortas, Abe

Shogan, R. Question of judgment. (S '72)

Fortunate sex. Eyslin, D. (O '72)

Fortune made his sword. Rofheart, M. (Je '72)

Fossils

Butzer, K. W. Environment and archaeology [2d ed.]. (Ap '72)

Moy-Thomas, J. A. Palaeozoic fishes [2d ed rev.]. (O '72)

Fossils and flies. Shor, E. N. (Mr '72)

Foster, George Murphy

Foster, P. Pops Foster. (S '72)

Foster, Pops. See Foster, G. M.

Foster, Vere

McNeill, M. Vere Foster. (O '72)

Fothergill, John

Fothergill, J. Chain of friendship. (My '72)

Foul! the Connie Hawkins story. Wolf, D. (My '72)

Foundations of theology. International Loner-gan congress, 1970. (O '72)

Founding fathers series:

Franklin, B. Benjamin Franklin: a biography in his own words. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Founding of the Russian empire in Asia and America. Harrison, J. A. (O '72)

Four farces. Feydeau, G. L. J. M. (Mr '72)

Fourteen hundred cowries, and other African tales. Fuja, A. (Mr '72)

Fourth man on the rope. Berckman, E. (S '72)

Fourth state of matter. Bova, B. (Ap '72)

Fourth world of the Hopis. Courlander, H. (Mr '72)

Fowler, Lorenzo Niles

Stern, M. B. Heads & headlines. (Ap '72)

Fowler, Orson Squire

Stern, M. B. Heads & headlines. (Ap '72)

Fowler family

Stern, M. B. Heads & headlines. (Ap '72)

Fox, Charles James

Derry, J. W. Charles James Fox. (S '72)

Mitchell, L. G. Charles James Fox and disintegration of the Whig Party, 1782-1794. (Je '72)

Fox, George

Fiction

Hartog, J. de. Peaceable kingdom. (My '72)

Juvenile literature

Yolen, J. Friend: the story of George Fox and the Quakers. (Ag '72)

Fox, Margaret (Askew) Fell

Fiction

Hartog, J. de. Peaceable kingdom. (My '72)

Foxfire book. Wigginton, E., ed. (Ag '72)

Fragile blossom. Brzezinski, Z. (My '72)

Fragments. Diogenes of Oenoanda. (In Diogenes of Oenoanda: the Fragments; a translation and commentary, by C. W. Chilton). (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Fragments from my diary. Gorki, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Frame-up. Weisberg, H. (Ap '72)

France

Colonies

Cohen, W. B. Rulers of empire: the French colonial service in Africa. (Ag '72)

Heggoy, A. A. African policies of Gabriel Hanotaux, 1894-1898. (S '72)
 Suret-Canale, J. French colonialism in tropical Africa, 1900-1945. (Mr '72)

Description and travel

Stendhal. Travels in the south of France. (Je '72)
 Wildman, F. S. Wine tour of France. (S '72)

Economic conditions

Fox, E. W. History in geographic perspective. (Ag '72)
 Palmade, G. P. French capitalism in the nineteenth century (1961). (N '72)

Foreign relations

Heggoy, A. A. African policies of Gabriel Hanotaux, 1894-1898. (S '72)
 Kohl, W. L. French nuclear diplomacy. (N '72)

Germany

Mitchell, A. Bismarck and the French nation, 1848-1890. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Great Britain

Gifford, P., ed. France and Britain in Africa. (N '72)

United States

Carroll, D. B. Henri Mercier and the American Civil War. (Ap '72)
 Hill, P. P. William Vans Murray, Federalist diplomat. (Mr '72)

History

Johnson, D. Concise history of France. (Je '72)
 Knapton, E. J. France. (Mr '72)

To 1328

Ganshof, F. L. Carolingians and the Frankish monarchy. (My '72)

House of Valois, 1328-1589

Benedetti, J. Gilles de Rais. (My '72)
 Palmer, J. J. N. England, France, and Christendom, 1377-99. (N '72)

Bourbons, 1589-1789

Barry, J. Passions and politics. (S '72)
 Louis XIV, King of France and of Navarre. Mémoires for the instruction of the Dauphin. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Bourbons, 1589-1789—Juvenile literature

Stearns, M. Louis XIV of France. (My '72)

Revolution, 1789-1799

Barnave, A. P. J. M. Power, property, and history. (My '72)
 Gallo, M. Robespierre the incorruptible. (Ag '72)
 Godechot, J. Counter-revolution: doctrine and action, 1789-1804. (Ap '72)
 Karmel, A. Guillotine in the wings. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Lewis, G. Life in revolutionary France. (N '72)
 Loomis, S. Fatal friendship. (My '72)

1799-1914

Beach, V. W. Charles X of France: his life and times. (S '72)

Intellectual life

Gossman, L. French society and culture. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Hemmings, P. W. J. Culture and society in France, 1848-1898. (Ag '72)
 Wade, L. O. Intellectual origins of the French enlightenment. (Ag '72)

Politics and government

Juvenile literature

Eunson, R. When France was de Gaulle. (S '72)

Bourbons, 1589-1789

Moote, A. L. Revolt of the judges. (S '72)

1799-1914

Price, R. French Second Republic. (Je '72)

1799-1914—Juvenile literature

Snyder, L. L. Dreyfus affair. (S '72)

20th century

Alexandre, P. Duel: De Gaulle and Pompidou. (Ag '72)
 Charlot, J. Gaullist phenomenon. (N '72)
 Hartley, A. Gaullism. (1971, 1972 Annual)

German occupation, 1940-1945

Paxton, R. O. Vichy France. (D '72)

1958-

Johnson, R. French communist party versus the students. (S '72)
 Wilson, F. L. French democratic left, 1963-1969. (My '72)

Race relations

Neches, R. F. Abbé Grégoire, 1787-1831. (Ag '72)

Social conditions

Gossman, L. French society and culture. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Price, R. French Second Republic. (Je '72)
 Zeldin, T., ed. Conflicts in French society. (Je '72)

Social life and customs

Feldkamp, P. Good life . . . or what's left of it. (D '72)

France. Knapton, E. J. (Mr '72)

France and Britain in Africa. Gifford, P., ed. (N '72)

Frances, Marion

Marion, F. Off with their heads! (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Francis, Robert

Francis, R. Trouble with Francis. (Mr '72)

Frank, Jerome

Rosenberg, J. M. Jerome Frank. (Ag '72)

Franklin, Benjamin

Franklin, B. Benjamin Franklin: a biography in his own words. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Franklin Stein. Raskin, E. (Ag '72)

Fraud

Fay, S. Hoax. (S '72)

Frazier, Joe

Fisher, A. Garden of innocents. (N '72)

Pepe, P. Come out smokin'. (My '72)

Freaky Friday. Rodgers, M. (S '72)

Frederick Law Olmsted and the American environmental tradition. Fein, A. (N '72)

Frederika Louise, consort of Paul I, King of the Hellenes

Frederica, Queen of the Hellenes. Measure of understanding. (N '72)

Fredrickson, Olive Alta (Goodwin)

Fredrickson, O. A. Silence of the North. (O '72)

Free and female. Seaman, B. (S '72)

Free enterprise. See Capitalism

"Free enterprise." Lebow, V. (N '72)

Free Negroes in the District of Columbia, 1790-1846. Brown, L. W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Free schools

Bhaerman, S. No particular place to go: the making of a free high school. (Je '72)

Kozol, J. Free schools. (Ag '72)

Free soil. Rayback, J. G. (Mr '72)

Free speech

Anastaplo, G. Constitutionalist: notes on the First amendment. (My '72)

Reddaway, P. Uncensored Russia. (Je '72)

Free the male man! Mead, S. (Ag '72)

Free to learn. Martin, J. H. (N '72)

Free trade and protection

Stewart, R. Politics of protection. (O '72)

Free universities

Coyne, J. This way out. (N '72)

Free will and determinism

Bowes, P. Consciousness and freedom: three views. (Ag '72)

Freedom and beyond. Holt, J. (S '72)

Freedom and the court [2d ed.]. Abraham, H. J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Freedom comes to Mississippi. Meltzer, M. (Mr '72)

Freedom from dependence. Esterly, S. (Mr '72)

Freedom in a rocking boat. Vickers, G. (S '72)

Freedom in the wilds. Weston, H. (S '72)

Freedom is a word. Gordon, E. (Je '72)

Freedom of the press

Anastaplo, G. Constitutionalist: notes on the First amendment. (My '72)

Kriehbaum, H. Pressures on the press. (D '72)

Luskin, J. Lippmann, liberty, and the press. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Freedom ship of Robert Smalls. Meriwether, L. (Je '72)

Freedom trap. Bagley, D. (Je '72)

Freeman, Richard Austin

Donaldson, N. In search of Dr. Thorndyke. (Mr '72)

Frémont, John Charles

Talbot, T., ed. Soldier in the West. (D '72)

French Canadians

Reid, M. Shouting signpainters. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

French capitalism in the nineteenth century (1961). Palmade, G. P. (N '72)

French colonialism in tropical Africa, 1900-1945. Suret-Canale, J. (Mr '72)

French communist party versus the students. Johnson, R. (S '72)

French democratic left, 1963-1969. Wilson, F. L. (My '72)

French drama*History and criticism

Affron, C. Stage for poets. (Je '72)

Moore, W. G. Classical drama of France. (Je '72)

French fiction*History and criticism

Powers, L. H. Henry James and the naturalist movement. (D '72)

French finances, 1770-1795. Bosher, J. F. (My '72)

French Impressionists and their century. Kelder, D. (Ag '72)

French in Africa

Cohen, W. B. Rulers of empire: the French colonial service in Africa. (Ag '72)

Gifford, P., ed. France and Britain in Africa. (N '72)

Heggoy, A. A. African policies of Gabriel Hanotaux, 1894-1898. (S '72)

French in Morocco

Scham, A. Lyautey in Morocco. (S '72)

French in Vietnam

Marr, D. G. Vietnamese anticolonialism, 1885-1925. (Ap '72)

French language

Reid, M. Shouting signpainters. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Etymology

Hope, T. E. Lexical borrowing in the Romance languages, 2v. (O '72)

French literature*Dictionaries

Saisselin, R. G. Rule of reason and the ruses of the heart. (Ag '72)

History and criticism

Adam, A. Grandeur and illusion. (S '72)

Atkinson, G. Prelude to the enlightenment. (S '72)

Glasser, R. Time in French life and thought. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

O'Brien, J. Contemporary French literature. (My '72)

Saisselin, R. G. Rule of reason and the ruses of the heart. (Ag '72)

French nuclear diplomacy. Kohl, W. L. (N '72)

French Pacific Islands. Thompson, V. (My '72)

French poetry

Rexroth, K., comp. One hundred poems from the French. (D '72)

Collections

Jones, E. A., comp. Voices of Négritude. (Ag '72)

Taylor, S. W., ed. French poetry today. (N '72)

History and criticism

Kamber, G. Max Jacob and the poetics of cubism. (Mr '72)

French poetry today. Taylor, S. W., ed. (N '72)

French Polynesia

Thompson, V. French Pacific Islands. (My '72)

French Revolution. See France—History—Revolution, 1789-1799

French Second Republic. Price, R. (Je '72)

French society and culture. Gossman, L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

French student uprising, November 1967-June 1968. Schnapp, A. (Mr '72)

Frescoes from Venetian villas. Garberl, M. P. (Mr '72)

Freud, Sigmund

Blanton, S. Diary of my analysis with Sigmund Freud. (My '72)

Eissler, K. R. Talent and genius. (My '72)

Freeman, E. Insights. (S '72)

Hale, N. G. Freud and the Americans. (Mr '72)

Putnam, J. J. James Jackson Putnam and psychoanalysis: letters between Putnam and Sigmund Freud, Ernest Jones [and others]. (S '72)

Sarnoff, I. Testing Freudian concepts. (Ap '72)

Schur, M. Freud: living and dying. (S '72)

Freud and the Americans. Hale, N. G. (Mr '72)

Freud: living and dying. Schur, M. (S '72)

Friedrich von Husen. Mowatt, D. G. (My '72)

Friedrich Meinecke and German politics in the twentieth century. Pois, R. A. (D '72)

Friedrich von Hausen

Mowatt, D. G. Friderich von Husen. (My '72)

Friend monkey. Travers, P. L. (Je '72)

Friend: the story of George Fox and the Quakers. Yolen, J. (Ag '72)

Friends, Society of

Bauman, R. For the reputation of truth. (N '72)

Isichei, E. Victorian Quakers. (Ag '72)

Newman, D. Procession of friends. (My '72)

Juvenile literature

Yolen, J. Friend: the story of George Fox and the Quakers. (Ag '72)

Friends of Eddie Coyle. Higgins, G. V. (Ap '72)

Frog and Toad together. Lobel, A. (O '72)

Frogs*Stories

Lobel, A. Frog and Toad together. (O '72)

From Bourgeois land. Crichton Smith, I. (My '72)

From ice set free. Clements, B. (O '72)

From Karl Mannheim. Mannheim, K. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

From Marx to Hegel. Lichtheim, G. (My '72)

From peasant to farmer. Weitz, R. (Ap '72)

From resistance to revolution. Maler, P. (O '72)

From riot to reason. Johnson, E. L. (Ap '72)

From self to society, 1919-1941. Crunden, R. M. (Je '72)

From Spanish court to Italian ghetto. Yerushalmi, Y. H. (S '72)

From the dead level: Malcolm X and me. Jamal, H. A. (S '72)

From the diary of a counterrevolutionary. Kohout, P. (O '72)

From the dreadnought to Scapa Flow, v5. Marder, A. J. (S '72)

From the fresh water navy: 1861-64. Milligan, J. D., ed. (Je '72)

From the land and back. Stadtfeld, C. K. (D '72)

From the roof of Africa. Nicol, C. W. (Ap '72)

From Watt to Clausius. Cardwell, D. S. L. (My '72)

Fronde

Moote, A. L. Revolt of the judges. (S '72)

Frontier and pioneer life

Katz, W. L. Black West. (Mr '72)

Colorado

Babb, S. Owl on every post. (Mr '72)

Red River Valley (Red River of the North)

Drache, H. M. Challenge of the prairie. (My '72)

The West

Clark, J. G., ed. Frontier challenge. (Mr '72)

Juvenile literature

Levenson, D. Homesteaders and Indians. (My '72)

Frontier challenge. Clark, J. G., ed. (Mr '72)

Frontier governor: Samuel J. Crawford of Kansas. Plummer, M. A. (S '72)

Fruits of propaganda in the Tyler administration. Merk, F. (Mr '72)

Fu. See Chinese poetry

Fuertes, Louis Agassiz

Fuertes, L. A. Louis Agassiz Fuertes & the singular beauty of birds. (Mr '72)

Fulah Empire

Adeleye, R. A. Power and diplomacy in Northern Nigeria, 1804-1906. (O '72)

Fulcrum of Asia. Sen Gupta, B. (Je '72)

Full circle. Hobson, A. (S '72)

Fuller, A. W. F., collection

Force, R. W. Fuller collection of Pacific artifacts. (O '72)

Fuller collection of Pacific artifacts. Force, R. W. (O '72)

Functionalism, exchange and theoretical strategy. Mulkay, M. J. (My '72)

Fundamentalism

Streiker, L. D. Religion and the new majority. (O '72)

Funeral rites and ceremonies

- Brain, R. Bangwa funerary sculpture. (Ag '72)
 Kurtz, D. C. Greek burial customs. (My '72)
 Morley, J. Death, heaven, and the Victorians. (Je '72)

Fur trade

- Mackenzie, A. Journals and letters of Sir Alexander Mackenzie. (Je '72)

Furniture

- Hayward, C. H. Antique or fake? (Je '72)
 Collectors and collecting

- Hayward, C. H. Antique or fake? (Je '72)

Furniture, American

- Fales, D. A. American painted furniture, 1660-1880. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Furniture, English*History

- Harrison, M. People and furniture. (Ap '72)

Future*See also*Forecasts*Future developments in telecommunications.

- Martin, J. (Ap '72)

Future of American transportation. (O '72)*Future of general adult books and reading in America. (N '72)*Future of law in a multicultural world. Bozeman, A. B. (Ap '72)*Future of marriage. Bernard, J. (S '72)*Future of our religious past. (S '72)*Future of science. Goran, M. (My '72)*Future of the American suburbs. Sobin, D. P. (Mr '72)*Future of the international legal order, v2. (My '72)*Futures conditional. Theobald, R., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)*Futurism (Art)

- Kirby, W. M. Futurist performance. (Mr '72)

Futurist performance. Kirby, M. (Mr '72)*G. Berger, J. (N '72)*GBS/GKC. Furlong, W. B. (Mr '72)*GI rights and army justice. Rivkin, R. S. (Ap '72)*Gable, Clark

- Essoe, G. Films of Clark Gable. (Ap '72)

Gainsborough, Thomas

- Hayes, J. Drawings of Thomas Gainsborough, 2v. (Ag '72)

Gaitskell, Hugh Todd Naylor

- McDermott, G. Leader lost. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Gales, Joseph

- Ames, W. E. History of the National intelligencer. (D '72)

Galveston, Texas*Hurricane, 1900

- Mason, H. M. Death from the sea. (S '72)

Gambit book of popular verse. Grigson, G., ed. (Ag '72)*Game and fish from field to table. Wall, R. (S '72)*Game of the foxes. Farago, L. (Ap '72)*Game of words. Espy, W. R. (O '72)*Game theory

- Avedon, E. M. Study of games. (My '72)

- Taylor, J. L. Instructional planning systems. (My '72)

- Telser, L. G. Competition, collusion, and game theory. (O '72)

- Willmer, M. A. P. Crime and information theory. (Ap '72)

Gamemakers. Sullivan, G. (My '72)*Games

- Arnold, A. World book of children's games. (My '72)

- Avedon, E. M. Study of games. (My '72)

Bibliography

- Avedon, E. M. Study of games. (My '72)

Games alcoholics play. Steiner, C. (Ap '72)*Games children play. Chapman, A. H. (Ap '72)*Games nations play. Spanier, J. (S '72)*Gandhi, Mohandas Karamchand

- Brown, J. M. Gandhi's rise to power. (N '72)

- Kumar, R., ed. Essays on Gandhian politics. (Ag '72)

Juvenile literature

- Coolidge, O. Gandhi. (Mr '72)

Gandhi's rise to power. Brown, J. M. (N '72)*Gangs. See Juvenile delinquency*Garbo, Greta

- Sjölander, T. Garbo. (Ag '72)

Garbo and the night watchmen. Cooke, A., ed. (S '72)*Garden in the grasslands. Emmons, D. M. (S '72)*Garden of innocents. Fisher, A. (N '72)*Gardening

- Schuler, S. Gardens are for eating. (Ag '72)

- Sibley, C. Sweet Apple gardening book. (Ag '72)

- Wilson, L. Complete gardener [rev & enl ed]. (O '72)

Gardens are for eating. Schuler, S. (Ag '72)*Gardens one to five. Tate, P. (D '72)*Gardens, 1,2,3,4,5. Eng title of: Gardens one to five. Tate, P. (D '72)*Gardner, Oliver Max

- Morrison, J. L. Governor O. Max Gardner. (Mr '72)

Garland, Judy

- Deans, M. Weep no more, my lady. (Ag '72)

Garnet, Henry Highland

- Ofari E. Let your motto be resistance. (D '72)

Garvey, Marcus

- Fax, E. C. Garvey. (S '72)

Gary schools. Bourne, R. S. (My '72)*Gases

- Fox, R. Caloric theory of gases: from Lavoisier to Regnault. (My '72)

Juvenile literature

- Cobb, V. Gases. (Ag '72)

Gases, Asphyxiating and poisonous*War use

- Harvest of death. (D '72)

- Infield, G. B. Disaster at Bari. (Mr '72)

Gases. Cobb, V. (Ag '72)*Gassire's lute. Jablow, A. (Je '72)*Gates to Asia. Myrdal, J. (My '72)*Gather my gold together. Langstaff, J. (Ag '72)*Gaulle, Charles de, President France

- Alexandre, J. Duel: De Gaulle and Pompidou. (Ag '72)

- Charlot, J. Gaullist phenomenon. (N '72)

- Gaulle, C. de. Memoirs of hope. (Ap '72)

- Hartley, A. Gaullism. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Malraux, A. Felled oaks. (Ag '72)

Juvenile literature

- Eunson, R. When France was de Gaulle. (S '72)

Gaullism. Hartley, A. (1971, 1972 Annual)*Gaullist phenomenon. Charlot, J. (N '72)*Gawain and the Green Knight

- Spearing, A. C. Gawain-poet. (Ap '72)

- Gawain-poet. Spearing, A. C. (Ap '72)

Gay liberation. See Homosexuality*Gay liberation movement. See Homosexuality*Gehlen, Reinhard

- Cookridge, E. H. Gehlen: spy of the century. (My '72)

- Gehlen, R. Service. (S '72)

- Höhne, H. General was a spy. (Je '72)

- Gehlen: spy of the century. Cookridge, E. H. (My '72)

- Gem kingdom. Desautels, P. E. (My '72)

- Gemini. Giovanni, N. (My '72)

Gems

- Boardman, J. Greek gems and finger rings. (S '72)

- Desautels, P. E. Gem kingdom. (My '72)

- Richter, G. M. A. Engraved gems of the Greeks, Etruscans and Romans, pt. 2. (Ap '72)

Genealogy

- Davies, J. K. Athenian propertied families, 600-300 B.C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

General Motors Corporation

- Chandler, A. D. Pierre S. Du Pont and the making of the modern corporation. (Mr '72)

- Whiteside, T. Investigation of Ralph Nader. (O '72)

General Pope and U.S. Indian policy. Ellis, E. N. (Mr '72)*General was a spy. Höhne, H. (Je '72)*Generals

- Purveyer, E. F. Nineteen stars. (Je '72)

Generations. Adelman, C. (N '72)*Generous days. Spender, S. (Mr '72)*Genes, dreams, and realities. Burnet, M. (Ag '72)*Genesis of modernism [rev ed]. Loevgren, S. (Ap '72)

- Genesis of quantum theory (1899-1913). Hermann, A. (O '72)
- Genetics
Bajema, C. J., ed. Natural selection in human populations. (N '72)
Burnet, M. Genes, dreams, and realities.
(Ag '72)
- Juvenile literature
Silverstein, A. Code of life. (N '72)
- Genius
Eissler, K. R. Talent and genius. (My '72)
Genius and the mobocracy [enl ed]. Wright,
F. L. (Ap '72)
Genius of the future. Brookner, A. (Je '72)
Genius of the West. Rougier, L. (Ap '72)
Gentle anarchists. Ostergaard, G. (Ag '72)
Gentle genius. Marek, G. R. (Ag '72)
Gentlemen merchants. Wilson, R. G. (My '72)
- Geographical myths
Ramsay, R. H. No longer on the map. (D
'72)
- Geography, Commercial
Estall, R. Modern geography of the United States. (D '72)
- Maps
Oxford economic atlas of the world [4th
ed]. (O '72)
- Geography of faith. Berrigan, D. (My '72)
- Geology
Calder, N. Restless earth. (S '72)
- America
Holland, C. H., ed. Cambrian of the new world. (Je '72)
- Great Britain
Bibliography
Challinor, J. History of British geology. (Ja
'73) (1972 Annual)
- New England
Jorgensen, N. Guide to New England's landscape. (Mr '72)
- Geology, Stratigraphic
Butzer, K. W. Environment and archeology
[2d ed]. (Ap '72)
Holland, C. H., ed. Cambrian of the new world. (Je '72)
Late cenozoic glacial ages. (O '72)
- Geometry
Juvenile literature
Charosh, M. Ellipse. (Je '72)
Geometry of hunger. Halacy, D. S. (Ag '72)
- Geomorphology
Shepard, F. P. Our changing coastlines. (Ap
'72)
- Juvenile literature
Anderson, A. H. Drifting continents. (Ap '72)
Golden, F. Moving continents. (Ag '72)
- George III, King of Great Britain
Ayling, S. George the Third. (Ja '73) (1972
Annual)
Lloyd, A. King who lost America. (Ag '72)
- George, David Lloyd, 1st Earl Lloyd George of Dwyfor. See Lloyd George of Dwyfor, David
Lloyd George, 1st Earl
- George, William Reuben
Holl, J. M. Juvenile reform in the progressive era. (S '72)
- George-Brown, George Alfred Brown, Baron
Brown, G. In my way. (My '72)
- George, be careful. Lois, G. (D '72)
- George Eliot. Carroll, D., ed. (Ap '72)
- George Eliot. Jones, R. T. (Ap '72)
- George the Third. Ayling, S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- George Whitefield and the great awakening.
Pollock, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Georgetown County, South Carolina
History
Rogers, G. C. History of Georgetown County.
South Carolina. (Mr '72)
- Georgia
History
Myers, R. M., ed. Children of pride. (Ag
'72)
Georgics of Virgil, The Eclogues and the Slavitt, D. R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- German democracy and the triumph of Hitler.
Nicholls, A., ed. (N '72)
- German dictatorship. Bracher, K. D. (Ag '72)
(1971 Annual)

German drama

History and criticism

- Osborne, J. Naturalist drama in Germany.
(O '72)
German drawings in the collection of Her Majesty the Queen at Windsor Castle. Schilling,
E. (My '72)
German historians and England. McClelland,
C. E. (Ag '72)
German home towns. Walker, M. (O '72)

German language

Dictionaries

English

- Pfeffer, J. A. Basic (spoken) German dictionary for everyday usage. (Ap '72)
German lesson. Lenz, S. (My '72)

German literature

History and criticism

- Sagarra, E. Tradition and revolution. (Mr
'72)
Stern, J. P. Idylls & realities. (S '72)
German-Polish relations, 1918-1933. Von Riek-
hoff, H. (Ag '72)
German rearmament question. McGeehan, R.
(Ag '72)
Germans. Schalk, A. (Ap '72)
Germans in the United States
Lasby, C. G. Project paperclip. (Ap '72)

Germany

- Kuklick, B. American policy and the division of Germany. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Economic policy

- Backer, J. H. Priming the German economy.
(1971, 1972 Annual)
Barkin, K. D. Controversy over German industrialization, 1890-1902. (Ag '72)

Foreign opinion, British

- Gannon, F. R. British press and Germany,
1936-39. (Ag '72)

Foreign relations

China

- Schrecker, J. E. Imperialism and Chinese nationalism. (My '72)

France

- Mitchell, A. Bismarck and the French nation, 1848-1890. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Poland

- Von Riekhoff, H. German-Polish relations,
1918-1933. (Ag '72)

History

- Stern, F. Failure of illiberalism. (Ap '72)
Walker, M. German home towns. (O '72)

1933-1945

- Gallo, M. Night of long knives. (O '72)

1945-

- Whiting, C. Hitler's werewolves. (D '72)

Allied occupation, 1945-1955

- Backer, J. H. Priming the German economy.
(1971, 1972 Annual)

History, Military

- Addington, L. H. Blitzkrieg era and the German general staff, 1865-1941. (Ag '72)
Strawson, J. Hitler's battles for Europe. (Ap '72)

Industries

- Barkin, K. D. Controversy over German industrialization, 1890-1902. (Ag '72)

Politics and government

- Silverman, D. P. Reluctant union. (D '72)

1898-1919

- Dronberger, I. Political thought of Max
Weber. (Ap '72)

20th century

- Childs, D. Germany since 1918. (My '72)
Pols, R. A. Friedrich Meinecke and German politics in the twentieth century. (D '72)
Williams, R. C. Culture in exile. (D '72)

1918-1933

- Gordon, H. J. Hitler and the beer hall putsch.
(Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Holborn, H., ed. Republic to Reich. (Ja '73)
(1972 Annual)
Liang, H.-H. Berlin police force in the Weimar Republic. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Nicholls, A., ed. German democracy and the triumph of Hitler. (N '72)

1933-1945

- Bracher, K. D. German dictatorship. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Gannon, F. R. British press and Germany, 1936-1939. (Ag '72)
- Holborn, H., ed. Republic to Reich. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Germany (Democratic Republic)
- Armed Forces
- Nelson, W. H. Germany rearmed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Politics and government
- Grosser, A. Germany in our time. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Germany (Federal Republic)
- Armed Forces
- Nelson, W. H. Germany rearmed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Defenses
- McGeehan, R. German rearmament question. (Ag '72)
- Foreign relations
- Kaiser, K. Britain and West Germany: changing societies and the future of foreign policy. (Ag '72)
- Europe, Eastern
- Windsor, P. Germany and the management of détente. (Ap '72)
- Great Britain
- Kaiser, K. Britain and West Germany: changing societies and the future of foreign policy. (Ag '72)
- Israel
- Balabkins, N. West German reparations to Israel. (S '72)
- Military policy
- Nelson, W. H. Germany rearmed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Politics and government
- Grosser, A. Germany in our time. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Roberts, G. K. West German politics. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Germany and Central Europe; v2 of Twentieth-century composers. (Mr '72)
- Germany and the management of détente. Windsor, P. (Ap '72)
- Germany in our time. Grosser, A. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Germany rearmed. Nelson, W. H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Germany since 1918. Childs, D. (My '72)
- Geronimo (Apache chief)
- Adams, A. B. Geronimo. (My '72)
- Geronimo. Adams, A. B. (My '72)
- Geronimo Rex. Hannah, B. (Ag '72)
- Gestalt psychology
- Stevens, J. O. Awareness: exploring, experimenting, experiencing. (Ag '72)
- Get these men out of the hot sun. Mitgang, H. (Je '72)
- Getting back together. Houriet, R. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Getting ready for marriage. Mace, D. R. (Je '72)
- Geva, Tamara
- Geva, T. Split seconds. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Ghana
- Foster, P. Ghana and the Ivory Coast. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Politics and government
- Omari, T. P. Kwame Nkrumah. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Pinkney, R. Ghana under military rule, 1966-1969. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Ghana and the Ivory Coast. Foster, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Ghana under military rule, 1966-1969. Pinkney, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Ghastly good taste. Betjeman, J. (D '72)
- Ghent altarpiece and the art of Jan van Eyck. Philip, L. B. (S '72)
- Ghetto revolts. Rossi, P. H., ed. (My '72)
- Ghiberti, Lorenzo
- Ghiberti, L. Ghiberti's bronze doors. (Je '72)
- Ghiberti's bronze doors. Ghiberti, L. (Je '72)

- Giacometti, Alberto
- Giacometti, A. Alberto Giacometti drawings. (My '72)
- Giants
- Juvenile literature
- Jacobs, J. Jack the giant-killer. (My '72)
- Gibraltar
- History
- Bradford, E. Gibraltar. (N '72)
- Gibraltar. Bradford, E. (N '72)
- Gibran, Kahlil
- Gibran, K. Beloved prophet. (Je '72)
- Gideon's art. Marric, J. J. (Mr '72)
- Gielgud, Sir John
- Hayman, R. John Gielgud. (Ap '72)
- Gift-giver's cookbook. Green, J. (Mr '72)
- Gift of magic. Duncan, L. (Je '72)
- Gilgamesh: a verse narrative. Mason, H. (O '72)
- Gingrich, Arnold
- Gingrich, A. Nothing but people. (Mr '72)
- Giotto di Bondone
- Legend of Saint Francis (Painting)
- Smart, A. Assisi problem and the art of Giotto. (O '72)
- Giovanni, Nikki
- Giovanni, N. Gemini. (My '72)
- Gipsies. See Gypsies
- Gipsy Moth V (Ketch)
- Chichester, F. Romantic challenge. (Je '72)
- Giraudoux, Jean
- Lemaitre, G. Jean Giraudoux: the writer and his work. (Ap '72)
- Girl from Petrovka. Feifer, G. (Ag '72)
- Girl scout cookbook. Girl scouts of the United States of America. (S '72)
- Girl, 20. Amis, K. (Ap '72)
- Girls in the office. Olsen, J. (O '72)
- Give me back myself. Davies, L. P. (My '72)
- Give me the hills. Underhill, M. (Ap '72)
- Giving birth. Kitzinger, S. (My '72)
- Glacier ice. Post, A. (My '72)
- Glaciers
- Post, A. Glacier ice. (My '72)
- Glad days and other classical poems for children. Himler, R., comp. (S '72)
- Gladstone, William Ewart
- Checkland, S. G. Gladstones. (Ap '72)
- Gladstone family
- Checkland, S. G. Gladstones. (Ap '72)
- Gladstones. Checkland, S. G. (Ap '72)
- Gladwyn, Hubert Miles Gladwyn Jebb, Baron
- Gladwyn, Lord. Memoirs of Lord Gladwyn. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Glands, Ductless
- Hormones, sex and happiness. (D '72)
- Glasgow, Ellen Anderson Gholson
- Godbold, E. S. Ellen Glasgow and the woman within. (D '72)
- Raper, J. R. Without shelter. (Je '72)
- Glass gaffers of New Jersey. Pepper, A. (D '72)
- Glass people. Godwin, G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Glassware
- Pepper, A. Glass gaffers of New Jersey. (D '72)
- Warren, P. Irish glass. (Je '72)
- Gliding and soaring
- Wolters, R. A. Art and technique of soaring. (My '72)
- Globemaster world atlas [new perspective ed]. Hammond incorporated. (Ag '72)
- Glomar Challenger (Ship)
- Briggs, P. 200,000,000 years beneath the sea. (Ap '72)
- Glorious revolution in America. Lovejoy, D. S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Glory. Nabokov, V. (Ap '72)
- Glossary for English transformational grammar. Palmatier, R. A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Glossolalia
- Goodman, F. D. Speaking in tongues. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Kildahl, J. P. Psychology of speaking in tongues. (D '72)
- Gloucester, Massachusetts
- History
- Garland, J. E. Eastern Point. (Ag '72)
- Gnosticism
- Schmithals, W. Paul & the Gnostics. (S '72)
- Go ask Alice. (O '72)
- Goalie's anxiety at the penalty kick. Handke, P. (S '72)
- Goat songs. Weston, J. (Je '72)
- Gobble, growl, grunt. Spier, P. (My '72)

God

- Buckley, M. J. Motion and motion's God. (Mr '72)
 Cell, E. Language, existence & God. (O '72)
 Hick, J. Arguments for the existence of God. (My '72)
 MacQuarrie, J. Faith of the people of God. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Masterson, P. Atheism and alienation. (Ap '72)
 Owen, H. P. Concepts of deity. (My '72)
 Proclamation and presence. (Mr '72)
 Trethowan, I. Absolute and the atonement. (D '72)
 Zahrnt, H. What kind of God? (My '72)
 God and politics. Bruckberger, R. L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 God on the gymnasium floor. Kerr, W. (Ap '72)
 God within. Dubos, R. (N '72)
 Godfather papers & other confessions. Puzo, M. (Je '72)
 Godforgotten. Schmitt, G. (D '72)
 Gods and goddesses of ancient Greece. Barthell, E. E. (My '72)
 Gods from outer space. Däniken, E. von. (Ap '72)
 Godwin, Mary (Wollstonecraft)
 Flexner, E. Mary Wollstonecraft. (N '72)
 Goering, Hermann Wilhelm
 Lee, A. Goering. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Goethe, Johann Wolfgang von
 Faust
 Salm, P. Poem as plant. (Je '72)
 Goethe's color theory. Goethe, J. W. von. (Ap '72)
 Gogh, Vincent van
 Cabanne, P. Van Gogh. (Ap '72)
 Gogol, Nikolai Vasilevich
 Rozanov, V. Dostoevsky and the Legend of the Grand Inquisitor. (O '72)
 Going to America. Coleman, T. (Ag '72)
 Going to jail. Levy, H. (Mr '72)
 Gold, Herbert
 Gold, H. My last two thousand years. (D '72)
 Gold
 Blakemore, K. Book of gold. (Ap '72)
 Rueff, J. Monetary sin of the West. (My '72)
 Gold mines and mining
 Dorset, P. F. New Eldorado: the story of Colorado's gold and silver rushes. (Mr '72)
 Gold rush. See Klondike gold fields
 Gold rush. Blower, J. (D '72)
 Golden age of Spain, 1516-1659. Ortiz, A. D. (Je '72)
 Golden book of Jewish humor. Golden, H. (My '72)
 Golden century. Alderman, C. L. (N '72)
 Golden guitars. Stambler, I. (My '72)
 Golden Vanity. Langstaff, J. (N '72)
 Goldenrod. Harker, H. (N '72)
 Goldsmithing
 Blakemore, K. Book of gold. (Ap '72)
 Honour, H. Goldsmiths & silversmiths. (Mr '72)
 Goldsmiths & silversmiths. Honour, H. (Mr '72)
 Golf
 Bolt, T. Hole truth. (Mr '72)
 Jacklin, T. Jacklin: the champion's own story. (Mr '72)
 Murphy, M. Golf in the kingdom. (O '72)
 Golf in the kingdom. Murphy, M. (O '72)
 Gollancz, Diana
 Loewenstein, L. Time to love . . . a time to die. (Ap '72)
 Gondo, Uganda
 Social conditions
 Vincent, J. African elite. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Good and evil
 Anshen, R. N. Reality of the devil: evil in man. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Taylor, R. Good and evil. (Mr '72)
 Good fight. Larsen, C. (My '72)
 Good Kipling. Gilbert, E. L. (Ag '72)
 Good life . . . or what's left of it. Feldkamp, P. (D '72)
 Good news about the earth. Clifton, L. (D '72)
 Good old boy. Morris, W. (My '72)
 Good things. Grigson, J. (Mr '72)
 Good tidings. Wagar, W. W. (D '72)
 Goodman, Nelson
 Logic & art. (O '72)
 Gorgon's head. Hodges, M. (N '72)
 Goshawk squadron. Robinson, D. (My '72)
 Gospel according to John (xiii-xxi) [Anchor Bible]. Bible. New Testament. John. (Mr '72)

- Gospel and unity. Vajta, V., ed. (Ag '72)
 Gospel sound: good news and bad times. Hellbut, T. (Ap '72)
 Gothic revival
 Eastlake, C. L. History of the Gothic revival. (Mr '72)
 Gottfried von Strassburg
 Tristan
 Jackson, W. T. H. Anatomy of love. (Ag '72)
 Governing without consensus. Rose, R. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual) Government. See Political science
 Government, Resistance to
 Arendt, H. Crises of the republic. (S '72)
 Berrigan, D. America is hard to find. (D '72)
 Childress, J. F. Civil disobedience and political obligation. (Ag '72)
 Douglass, J. W. Resistance and contemplation. (O '72)
 Friedrich, P. Agrarian revolt in a Mexican village. (Je '72)
 Hall, R. T. Morality of civil disobedience. (Je '72)
 Lockwood, L. Daniel Berrigan: absurd convictions, modest hopes: conversations after prison with Lee Lockwood. (D '72)
 Mayer, A. J. Dynamics of counterrevolution in Europe, 1870-1956. (Ap '72)
 Zashin, E. M. Civil disobedience and democracy. (O '72)
 Government anarchy and the POGONOGO alternative. Becker, T. (N '72)
 Government and the press
 Bagdikian, B. H. Effete conspiracy and other crimes by the press. (O '72)
 Keogh, J. President Nixon and the press. (Ag '72)
 Kriehbaum, H. Pressures on the press. (D '72)
 Marbut, F. B. News from the capital. (D '72)
 Ungar, S. J. Papers & the Papers. (Ag '72)
 Government regulation of industry. See Industry and state—United States
 Governmental investigations
 Feuerlicht, R. S. Joe McCarthy and McCarthyism. (O '72)
 Platt, A., ed. Politics of riot commissions, 1917-1970. (Ap '72)
 Vaughn, R. Only victims. (Je '72)
 Governor Arthur's convict system. Forsyth, W. D. (My '72)
 Governor O. Max Gardner. Morrison, J. L. (Mr '72)
 Goya, Francisco. See Goya y Lucientes, F. J. de
 Goya y Lucientes, Francisco José de
 Gassier, P. Life and complete work of Francisco Goya. (Mr '72)
 Goya: his life and work. Eng title of: The life and complete work of Francisco Goya. Gassier, P. (Mr '72)
 Grace (Theology)
 Lonergan, B. J. F. Grace and freedom. (Ap '72)
 Grace and freedom. Lonergan, B. J. F. (Ap '72)
 Graham, Dom Aelred
 Graham, A. End of religion. (Mr '72)
 Graham, William Franklin
 Streiker, L. D. Religion and the new majority. (O '72)
 Grail
 Jung, E. Grail legend. (O '72)
 Grail legend. Jung, E. (O '72)
 Grain
 Storage
 See Granaries
 Grammar
 Palmarier, R. A. Glossary for English transformational grammar. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Granaries
 Rickman, G. Roman granaries and store buildings. (Mr '72)
 Grand Alliance, War of the, 1689-1697
 Powley, E. B. Naval side of King William's war, 16th/26th November 1688-14th June 1690. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Grand Canyon
 Hillers, J. "Photographed all the best scenery." (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Grand defiance. Frizell, B. (Ag '72)
 Grand old party. Marcus, R. D. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Grand Teton National Park

Adams, A. Tetons and the Yellowstone. (Ap '72)

Grandes heures of Jean, Duke of Berry. (Mr '72)

Grandeur and illusion. Adam, A. (S '72)

Grapes from thorns. Acheson, D. (Ag '72)

Graphic arts

Franke, H. W. Computer graphics—computer art. (Ag '72)

Grasses*Juvenile literature

Rinkoff, B. Guess what grasses do. (S '72)

Gravitation

Klein, H. A. New gravitation. (My '72)

Juvenile literature

Branley, F. M. Weight and weightlessness. (N '72)

Gravity. See Gravitation

Gray matters. Hjortsberg, W. (Mr '72)

Great age of fresco: discoveries, recoveries and survivals. Meiss, M. (Ap '72)

Great American auto repair robbery. Randall, D. A. (D '72)

Great American bomb machine. Rapoport, R. (Ap '72)

Great American ice cream book. Dickson, P. (D '72)

Great Barrier Reef

Clare, P. Struggle for the Great Barrier Reef. (Je '72)

Great bridge. McCullough, D. (D '72)

Great Britain*Antiquities

Alcock, L. Arthur's Britain. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Ashe, G. Camelot and the vision of Albion. (My '72)

Armed Forces

Armed services and society. (Je '72)

Prestwich, M. War, politics and finance under Edward I. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Biography

Lean, E. T. Napoleonists. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Nichols, J. Minor lives. (Ap '72)

Portraits

Strong, R. C. English icon. (Ap '72)

Civilization

Goodlad, J. S. R. Sociology of popular drama. (N '72)

Sampson, A. New anatomy of Britain. (Ag '72)

Thomas, C. Britain and Ireland in early Christian times, AD 400-800. (Ag '72)

Colonies

Forsyth, W. D. Governor Arthur's convict system. (My '72)

Goldsworthy, D. Colonial issues in British politics, 1945-1961. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Grierson, E. Death of the imperial dream. (O '72)

Henretta, J. A. "Salutary neglect". (D '72)

Heussler, R. British Tanganyika. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Olson, A. G., ed. Anglo-American political relations, 1675-1775. (Mr '72)

Swinfen, D. B. Imperial control of colonial legislation, 1813-1865. (D '72)

Wright, J. L. Anglo-Spanish rivalry in North America. (N '72)

Commerce

Anderson, J. Acheen and the ports on the north and east coast of Sumatra. (O '72)

Fisher, H. E. S. Portugal trade. (Mr '72)

Commercial policy

Stewart, R. Politics of protection. (O '72)

Diplomatic and consular service

Platt, D. C. M. Cinderella service. (Je '72)

Economic conditions

Britain's economic prospects reconsidered. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Clarkson, L. A. Pre-industrial economy in England, 1500-1750. (O '72)

Finn, R. W. Norman conquest and its effects on the economy: 1066-86. (Ag '72)

Hartwell, R. M. Industrial revolution. (My '72)

Hartwell, R. M. Industrial revolution and economic growth. (S '72)

Inglis, B. Men of conscience. (Je '72)

Paish, F. W. How the economy works, and other essays. (Je '72)

Ramsey, P. H. Price revolution in sixteenth-century England. (Ap '72)

Economic policy

Britain's economic prospects reconsidered. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Brittan, S. Steering the economy: the British experiment. (My '72)

Paish, F. W. How the economy works, and other essays. (Je '72)

Wilson, H. Personal record: the Labour Government, 1964-1970. (Ap '72)

Foreign relations

Cadogan, A. Diaries of Sir Alexander Cadogan, 1938-1945. (My '72)

Kaiser, K. Britain and West Germany: changing societies and the future of foreign policy. (Ag '72)

Macmillan, H. Pointing the way, 1959-1961. (D '72)

Parkinson, R. Peace for our time. (S '72)

Wilson, H. Personal record: the Labour Government, 1964-1970. (Ap '72)

20th century

Barnett, C. Collapse of British power. (D '72)

Harvey, O. Diplomatic diaries of Oliver Harvey, 1937-1940, v 1. (My '72)

Macmillan, H. Riding the storm. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Thompson, N. Anti-appeasers. (1971, 1972 Annual)

China (People's Republic of China)

Trevelyan, H. Living with the Communists. (S '72)

East (Far East)

Louis, W. R. British strategy in the Far East, 1919-1939. (My '72)

France

Gifford, P., ed. France and Britain in Africa. (N '72)

Germany (Federal Republic)

Kaiser, K. Britain and West Germany: changing societies and the future of foreign policy. (Ag '72)

Near East

Busch, B. C. Britain, India, and the Arabs, 1914-1921. (My '72)

Russia

Trevelyan, H. Living with the Communists. (S '72)

Spain

Maltby, W. S. Black legend in England. (Je '72)

Silke, J. J. Kinsale. (Mr '72)

Wright, J. L. Anglo-Spanish rivalry in North America. (N '72)

United States

O'Brien, L. Fenian fever. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

History

Bowle, J. English experience. (N '72)

Clark, G. English history. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Johnson, P. Offshore islanders. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

White, R. J. Horizon concise history of England. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

To 1066

Alcock, L. Arthur's Britain. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Ashe, G. Camelot and the vision of Albion. (My '72)

Barlow, F. Edward the Confessor. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Stenton, F. M. Preparatory to Anglo-Saxon England. (Ap '72)

Thomas, C. Britain and Ireland in early Christian times, AD 400-800. (Ag '72)

Norman period, 1066-1154

Finn, R. W. Norman conquest and its effects on the economy: 1066-86. (Ag '72)

Stenton, F. M. Preparatory to Anglo-Saxon England. (Ap '72)

Plantagenets, 1154-1399

Goodman, A. Loyal conspiracy. (Ag '72)

Kirby, J. L. Henry IV of England. (Ap '72)

Maddicott, J. R. Thomas of Lancaster, 1307-1322. (S '72)

Palmer, J. J. N. England, France, and Christendom, 1377-99. (N '72)

Prestwich, M. War, politics and finance under Edward I. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Lancaster and York, 1399-1485

Kirby, J. L. Henry IV of England. (Ap '72)

Great Britain—History—Continued

Tudors, 1485-1603

- Camden, W. History of the most renowned and victorious Princess Elizabeth, late Queen of England. (My '72)
 Cruickshank, C. G. English occupation of Tournai, 1513-1519. (Ag '72)
 Jordan, W. K. Edward VI: the threshold of power, v2. (Ap '72)
 Rowse, A. L. Elizabethan Renaissance: the life of the society. (Je '72)
 Williams, N. Life and times of Elizabeth I. (O '72)
 Wilson, D. Tudor tapestry. (N '72)

Tudors, 1485-1603—Juvenile literature
 Alderman, C. L. Golden century. (N '72)Stuarts, 1603-1714

- Ashley, M. Charles II: the man and the statesman. (My '72)
 Bone, Q. Henrietta Maria: Queen of the Cavaliers. (D '72)
 Early Stuart studies. (My '72)
 Kenyon, J. Popish plot. (N '72)
 Miller, P. James. (Je '72)
 Poems on affairs of state, v6. (Ap '72)
 Powley, E. B. Naval side of King William's war, 16th/26th November 1688-14th June 1690. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Stuarts, 1603-1714—Sources

- Pepys, S. Diary of Samuel Pepys, v4, 5. (Je '72)

Civil War and Commonwealth, 1642-1660

- Underdown, D. Pride's Purge: politics in the Puritan revolution. (Ap '72)
 Wolfe, D. M. Milton and his England. (Je '72)

18th century

- Sinclair-Stevenson, C. Inglorious rebellion. (S '72)

1714-1837

- Derry, J. W. Charles James Fox. (S '72)
 Lloyd, A. King who lost America. (Ag '72)
 Miller, P. James. (Je '72)

19th century

- Alexander, D. Retailing in England during the industrial revolution. (Ap '72)
 Grierson, E. Death of the imperial dream. (O '72)
 Hartwell, R. Industrial revolution and economic growth. (S '72)
 Lean, E. T. Napoleonists. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Llewellyn, A. Decade of reform. (S '72)
 Priestley, J. B. Victoria's heyday. (O '72)
 Woodham-Smith, C. Queen Victoria. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

20th century

- Grierson, E. Death of the imperial dream. (O '72)
 Harvey, O. Diplomatic diaries of Oliver Harvey, 1937-1940, v1. (My '72)
 Hazlehurst, C. Politicians at war: July 1914 to May 1915. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Lean, E. T. Napoleonists. (1971, 1972 Annual)

20th century—Bibliography

- Mowat, C. L. Great Britain since 1914. (Mr '72)

History, MilitaryBibliography

- Higham, R., ed. Guide to the sources of British military history. (O '72)

Industries

- Hartwell, R. M. Industrial revolution and economic growth. (S '72)
 Ponting, K. G. Woollen industry of South-west England. (S '72)
 Ward, J. T., ed. Land and industry. (S '72)

Intellectual life

- Dorsten, J. A. Van. Radical arts. (Mr '72)

Kings and rulers

- Minney, R. J. Hampton Court. (O '72)

Military policy

- Dennis, P. Decision by default. (N '72)

Politics and government

- Harris, N. Competition and the corporate society. (O '72)
 Morgan, K. O. Age of Lloyd George. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Roberts, G. K. Political parties and pressure-groups in Britain. (O '72)

1066-1154

- Kealey, E. J. Roger of Salisbury, viceroy of England. (D '72)

Plantagenets, 1154-1399

- Maddicott, J. R. Thomas of Lancaster, 1307-1322. (S '72)
 Prestwich, M. War, politics and finance under Edward I. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Tudors, 1485-1603

- Elton, G. R. Policy and police. (O '72)
 Pulman, M. B. Elizabethan Privy Council in the fifteen-seventies. (Ag '72)

Stuarts, 1603-1714

- Jones, W. J. Politics and the bench. (N '72)
 Notestein, W. House of Commons, 1603-1610. (S '72)
 Ruigh, R. E. Parliament of 1624. (S '72)

1714-1837

- Thomas, P. D. G. House of Commons in the eighteenth century. (Je '72)

1760-1789

- Mitchell, L. G. Charles James Fox and the disintegration of the Whig Party, 1782-1794. (Je '72)

19th century

- Carlingford, Lord. Lord Carlingford's journal: reflections of a cabinet minister, 1885. (S '72)
 Hamer, D. A. Liberal politics in the age of Gladstone and Rosebery. (O '72)
 Jones, A. Politics of reform, 1884. (O '72)
 Lubenow, W. C. Politics of government growth. (Ap '72)
 Plummer, A. Bronterre: a political biography of Bronterre O'Brien, 1804-1864. (My '72)
 Salisbury, Lord. Lord Salisbury on politics. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Trollope, A. New Zealander. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

20th century

- Barker, R. Education and politics, 1900-1951: a study of the Labour party. (D '72)
 Barnett, C. Collapse of British power. (D '72)
 Blewett, N. Peers, the parties and the people. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Brown, G. In my way. (My '72)
 Butler, D. British general election of 1970. (My '72)
 Cadogan, A. Diaries of Sir Alexander Cadogan, 1938-1945. (My '72)
 Cowling, M. Impact of labour, 1920-1924. (Mr '72)
 Dennis, P. Decision by default. (N '72)
 Harvey, O. Diplomatic diaries of Oliver Harvey, 1937-1940, v1. (My '72)
 Hazlehurst, C. Politicians at war: July 1914 to May 1915. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 James, R. R. Ambitions and realities. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 King, C. H. With malice toward none. (O '72)
 Macmillan, H. Riding the storm. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Rowland, P. Last liberal governments: unfinished business, 1911-1914. (O '72)
 Searle, G. R. Quest for national efficiency. (My '72)
 Stevenson, F. Lloyd George. (Ap '72)
 Swartz, M. Union of Democratic Control in British politics during the first World War. (Mr '72)
 Thompson, N. Anti-appeasers. (1971, 1972 Annual)

1945-

- Goldsworthy, D. Colonial issues in British politics, 1945-1961. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Hindness, B. Decline of working-class politics. (O '72)
 Lieber, R. J. British politics and European unity. (My '72)
 Macmillan, H. Pointing the way, 1959-1961. (D '72)
 Sampson, A. New anatomy of Britain. (Ag '72)
 Wilson, H. Personal record: the Labour Government, 1964-1970. (Ap '72)

Race relations

- Bolt, C. Victorian attitudes to race. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Social conditions

- Best, G. Mid-Victorian Britain, 1851-1875. (My '72)
 Delgado, A. Victorian entertainment. (Mr '72)
 Glastonbury, B. Homeless near a thousand homes. (Ap '72)

- Hartwell, R. M. Industrial revolution. (My '72)
- Hartwell, R. M. Industrial revolution and economic growth. (S '72)
- Inglis, B. Men of conscience. (Je '72)
- Pahl, R. E. Patterns of urban life. (N '72)
- Roberts, R. Classic slum. (Ag '72)
- Rogers, P. Grub Street. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Social life and customs
- Best, G. Mid-Victorian Britain, 1851-1874. (My '72)
- Delgado, A. Victorian entertainment. (Mr '72)
- Foss, M. Age of patronage. (My '72)
- Pepys, S. Diary of Samuel Pepys, v4, 5. (Je '72)
- Priestley, J. B. Victoria's heyday. (O '72)
- Rowse, A. L. Elizabethan Renaissance: the life of the society. (Je '72)
- Social policy
- Lubenow, W. C. Politics of government growth. (Ap '72)
- Great Britain. Army
- Hamer, W. S. British army. (Ag '72)
- Great Britain. Army. Air Corps
- Norton, G. G. Red Devils. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Great Britain. Foreign Office
- Jones, R. Nineteenth-century Foreign Office. (My '72)
- Great Britain. National Health Service
- McLachlan, G., ed. Challenges for change. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Great Britain. Navy. See Great Britain. Royal Navy
- Great Britain. Parliament
- Bradshaw, K. Parliament & Congress. (S '72)
- Jones, A. Politics of reform, 1884. (O '72)
- Rules and practice
- Lambert, S. Bills and acts. (My '72)
- Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons
- Notestein, W. House of Commons, 1604-1610. (S '72)
- Thomas, P. D. G. House of Commons in the eighteenth century. (Je '72)
- Great Britain. Royal Navy
- History
- Marder, A. J. From the dreadnought to Scapa Flow, v5. (S '72)
- Great Britain. Treasury
- Brittan, S. Steering the economy: the British experiment. (My '72)
- Great Britain and the Confederate navy, 1861-1865. Merli, F. J. (Mr '72)
- Great Britain since 1914. Mowat, C. L. (Mr '72)
- Great campaigns: reform and war in America, 1900-1923. Graham, O. L. (N '72)
- Great century of British painting: Hogarth to Turner. Gaunt, W. (Mr '72)
- Great coalfield war. McGovern, G. S. (S '72)
- Great day coming. Denisoff, R. S. (Ag '72)
- Great debasement: currency and the economy in mid-Tudor England. Gould, J. D. (S '72)
- Great duke. Bryant, A. (N '72)
- Great gittin' up morning. Killens, J. O. (Je '72)
- Great modern paintings. Cichy, B. (My '72)
- Great Moghuls. Gascoigne, B. (Mr '72)
- Great movie serials. Harmon, J. (N '72)
- Great mysteries of history. Platnick, K. B. (Mr '72)
- Great ocean business. Horsfield, B. (O '72)
- Great pianists of our time. Kaiser, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Great Plains
- History
- Emmons, D. M. Garden in the grasslands. (S '72)
- Great powers and the Near East, 1774-1923. Anderson, M. S., ed. (Ap '72)
- Great revival, 1787-1805. Boles, J. B. (S '72)
- Great school legend. Greer, C. (Ag '72)
- Great Smoky Mountains
- Hutchins, R. E. Hidden valley of the Smokies. (Mr '72)
- Great wine blight. Ordish, G. (D '72)
- Greatness of Flaubert. Nadeau, M. (Je '72)
- Greece
- Antiquities
- Kurtz, D. C. Greek burial customs. (My '72)
- Marsden, E. W. Greek and Roman artillery. (S '72)
- Miller, H. H. Greece through the ages. (S '72)
- Description and geography
- Miller, H. H. Greece through the ages. (S '72)
- History
- Starr, C. G. Athenian coinage 480-449 B.C. (Je '72)
- Religion
- Witt, R. E. Isis in the Graeco-Roman world. (Ap '72)
- Greece, Modern
- History
- Dakin, D. Unification of Greece 1770-1923. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Holden, D. Greece without columns. (O '72)
- St. Clair, W. That Greece might still be free. (S '72)
- Woodhouse, C. M. Philhellenes. (S '72)
- Politics and government
- Clogg, R., ed. Greece under military rule. (O '72)
- Inside the colonels' Greece. (S '72)
- Katris, J. A. Eyewitness in Greece. (Ap '72)
- Social conditions
- Clogg, R., ed. Greece under military rule. (O '72)
- Greece through the ages. Miller, H. H. (S '72)
- Greece under military rule. Clogg, R., ed. (O '72)
- Greece without columns. Holden, D. (O '72)
- Greedy war. Hamilton-Paterson, J. (S '72)
- Greek and Roman artillery. Marsden, E. W. (S '72)
- Greek and Roman voting and elections. Staveley, E. S. (D '72)
- Greek architecture. Taylor, W. (Mr '72)
- Greek burial customs. Kurtz, D. C. (My '72)
- Greek dark ages. Desborough, V. R. d'A. (D '72)
- Greek drama
- History and criticism
- Cook, A. Enactment: Greek tragedy. (S '72)
- Pictorial works
- Trenadll, A. D. Illustrations of Greek drama. (O '72)
- Greek gems and finger rings. Boardman, J. (S '72)
- Greek literature
- Dictionaries
- New Century handbook of Greek literature. (D '72)
- History and criticism
- Lloyd-Jones, H. Justice of Zeus. (My '72)
- Greek mythology. See Mythology, Classical
- Greek philosophy. See Philosophy, Ancient
- Greek poetry
- Collections
- Skelton, R. comp. & tr. Two hundred poems from the Greek anthology. (Ag '72)
- Green, Theodore Francis
- Levine, E. L. Theodore Francis Green: the Washington years, 1937-1960. (N '72)
- Green flag. Kee, R. (N '72)
- Green flash, and other tales of horror, suspense, and fantasy. Aiken, J. (Ap '72)
- Green hell; massacre of the Brazilian Indians. Bodard, L. (Mr '72)
- Greenbelt towns. See Cities and towns—United States
- Greenburg, Dan
- Greenburg, D. Scoring. (Ag '72)
- Greene, Graham
- Greene, G. Sort of life. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Greene, Nathanael
- Thane, E. Fighting Quaker. (D '72)
- Greenough, Horatio
- Greenough, H. Letters of Horatio Greenough, American sculptor. (N '72)
- Greenvoe. Brown, G. M. (N '72)
- Greenwich Village, New York (City)
- Sochen, J. New woman. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Grégoire, Henri, Bp. of Blois
- Neches, R. F. Abbé Grégoire, 1787-1831. (Ag '72)
- Grenfell, George St. Leger
- Starr, S. Z. Colonel Grenfell's wars. (S '72)

- Griffith, David Wark
Geduld, H. M., ed. Focus on D. W. Griffith. (Ag '72)
Henderson, R. M. D. W. Griffith: his life and work. (Je '72)
- Grillparzer, Frank
Yates, W. E. Grillparzer. (O '72)
- Grimsby, England
History
Gillett, E. History of Grimsby. (Ap '72)
- Grogan, Emmett
Grogan, E. Ringolevio. (S '72)
- Gropius, Walter
Franciscono, M. Walter Gropius and the creation of the Bauhaus in Weimar. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Grosz, George
Lewis, B. I. George Grosz. (Mr '72)
- Grotesque in literature
Farnham, W. Shakespearean grotesque. (Mr '72)
- Group living. See Collective settlements
- Group relations training
Back, K. W. Beyond words. (S '72)
Clinebell, H. J. People dynamic. (Je '72)
Mintz, E. E. Marathon groups: reality and symbol. (My '72)
- Growing up female in America. Merriam, E., ed. (My '72)
- Growth and structure of human populations. Coale, A. J. (D '72)
- Growth of American politics, 2v. Gatell, F. O., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Growth of word meaning. Anglin, J. M. (J '72)
- Growth potential of the Japanese economy. Kurthara, K. K. (Mr '72)
- Grub Street. Rogers, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Grubbag. Jones, I. (Mr '72)
- Gruen, John
Gruen, J. Party's over now. (My '72)
- Grzimek's animal life encyclopedia, v10. Grzimek, B., ed. (S '72)
- Guarantee clause of the U.S. Constitution. Wiecek, W. M. (O '72)
- Guaranteed annual income
Esterly, S. Freedom from dependence. (Mr '72)
- Guaranteed income. See Guaranteed annual income
- Guatemala
History
Kennedy, P. P. Middle beat. (My '72)
- Politics and government
Melville, T. Guatemala: the politics of land ownership. (Ap '72)
- Social conditions
Adams, R. N. Crucifixion by power. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Guatemala: the politics of land ownership. Melville, T. (Ap '72)
- Guerrilla warfare
Barber, N. War of the running dogs. (S '72)
Bell, J. P. Myth of the guerrilla. (Mr '72)
Gibson, R. African liberation movements. (D '72)
Hodges, D. C., ed. NLF: national liberation fronts, 1960/1970. (N '72)
Kitson, F. Low intensity operations: subversion, insurgency, peace-keeping. (N '72)
Moss, R. War for the cities. (N '72)
Schiff, Z. Fedayeen. (N '72)
Singh, B. Theory and practice of modern guerrilla warfare. (N '72)
- Guess what grasses do. Rinkoff, B. (S '72)
- Guevara, Che. See Guevara, E.
- Guevara, Ernesto
Gadea, H. Ernesto. (N '72)
- Guide to atlases: world, regional, national, thematic. Alexander, G. L. (S '72)
- Guide to drug rehabilitation. Meyer, R. E. (S '72)
- Guide to manuscripts and documents in the British Isles relating to Africa. Matthews, N., comp. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Guide to Marxist philosophy. Bochenski, J. M., ed. (O '72)
- Guide to New England's landscape. Jorgensen, N. (Mr '72)
- Guide to the industrial archaeology of Europe. Hudson, K. (Ag '72)
- Guide to the pheasants of the world. Wayre, P. (O '72)
- Guide to the sources of British military history. Higham, R., ed. (O '72)
- Guide to the study of United States imprints, 2v. Tanselle, G. T. (O '72)

Guillotine in the wings. Karmel, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Guitar
Bobri, V. Segovia technique. (D '72)

Gully, James Manby

Fiction

Jenkins, E. Dr. Gully's story. (Je '72)

Gunboat diplomacy. Cable, J. (My '72)

Gustave Moreau through the eyes of succeeding generations. Pierre, J. (In Gustave Moreau, by J. Paladihe) (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Gypsies

Juvenile literature

Kohn, B. Gypsies. (N '72)

Gypsies. Kohn, B. (N '72)

H persuasion. Kranz, S. ed. (My '72)

Habsburg, House of
Tapié, V.-L. Rise and fall of the Habsburg monarchy. (Mr '72)

Haiku: the mood of earth. Atwood, A. (Je '72)

Hail to the chief. Kahler, J. G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Hair

Cooper, W. Hair. (Mr '72)

Half bitter, half sweet. DeConde, A. (Ap '72)

Hallein, Austria

Politics and government

Powell, G. B. Social fragmentation and political hostility. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Social conditions

Powell, G. B. Social fragmentation and political hostility. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Hallucinations and illusions

MacDermot, V. Cult of the seer in the ancient Middle East. (S '72)

Hallucinogenic drugs

Aaronson, B., ed. Psychedelics. (N '72)

Castaneda, C. Separate reality. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Götz, I. L. Psychedelic teacher. (Ag '72)

Lilly, J. C. Center of the cyclone. (S '72)

Hamish Hamilton book of sea legends. Eng title of: A cavalcade of sea legends. Brown, M., ed. (S '72)

Hammond ambassador world atlas [new census ed]. Hammond incorporated. (Ag '72)

Hammond citation world atlas. Hammond incorporated. (Ag '72)

Hammond international world atlas. Hammond incorporated. (Ag '72)

Hammond medallion world atlas. Hammond incorporated. (Mr '72)

Hammond world atlas, 2v [Hallmark ed]. Hammond incorporated. (Ag '72)

Hampshire Colleges, Amherst, Massachusetts. Library

Taylor, R. S. Making of a library. (D '72)

Hampton Court

Minney, R. J. Hampton Court. (O '72)

Hand-to-hand fighting. See Fighting, Hand-to-hand

Handbook of cooperative education. Knowles, A. S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Handbook of data processing for libraries. Hayes, R. M. (Mr '72)

Handbook of magnetic recording. Jorgensen, F. (Ap '72)

Handbook of music and music literature in sets and series. Charles, S. R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Handicapped children

Nordoff, P. Therapy in music for handicapped children. (N '72)

Handicraft

Newman, T. R. Creative candlemaking. (N '72)

Young, J. Woodstock craftsman's manual. (O '72)

Juvenile literature

Kinney, J. 21 kinds of American folk art and how to make each one. (O '72)

Parish, P. Sheet magic. (Mr '72)

Sommer, E. Bread dough craft book. (D '72)

Hankey, Maurice Pascal Aiers Hankey, 1st Baron Roskill, S. Hankey: man of secrets, v 1. (Je '72)

Hankey, man of secrets, v 1. Roskill, S. (Je '72)

Hanotaux, Gabriel

Heggo, A. A. African policies of Gabriel Hanotaux, 1894-1898. (S '72)

Hans Christian Andersen and the romantic theatre. Marker, F. J. (D '72)
 Happy birthday. Wanda June. Vonnegut, K. (D '72)
 Happy death. Camus, A. (Ag '72)
 Hardy, Thomas
   Brooks, J. R. Thomas Hardy: the poetic structure. (My '72)
   Hardy, T. One rare fair woman. (D '72)
   Meisel, P. Thomas Hardy. (O '72)
   Stewart, J. I. M. Thomas Hardy. (Ap '72)
   Swigg, R. Lawrence, Hardy and American literature. (S '72)
 Harlem, New York (City)
   Bontemps, A., ed. Harlem Renaissance remembered. (N '72)
   Huggins, N. I. Harlem Renaissance. (Ap '72)
 Harlem, New York (City). Apollo Theatre. See Apollo Theatre. Harlem, New York (City)
 Harlem Renaissance. Huggins, N. I. (Ap '72)
 Harlem Renaissance remembered. Bontemps, A., ed. (N '72)
 Harmsworth family
   Ferris, P. House of Northcliffe. (My '72)
 Harold and Maude. Higgins, C. (Mr '72)
 Harper's dictionary of music. Ammer, C. (Ag '72)
 Harvard College Observatory. Jones, B. Z. (My '72)
 Harvard University
   Riots
   Ulam, A. Fall of the American university. (D '72)
 Harvard University. Observatory
   Jones, B. Z. Harvard College Observatory. (My '72)
 Harvest of a quiet eye: the novel of compassion. Gindin, J. (Ag '72)
 Harvest of death. (D '72)
 Harvest of Hellenism. Peters, F. E. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Harvey, William
   Whitteridge, G. William Harvey and the circulation of the blood. (Mr '72)
 Harvey of Tasburgh, Oliver Charles Harvey, 1st Baron
   Harvey, O. Diplomatic diaries of Oliver Harvey, 1937-1940, v 1. (My '72)
 Has the Catholic Church gone mad? Eppstein, J. (Ap '72)
 Hasidism
   Filmus, A. Tully Filmus. (Ag '72)
   Rabinowitsch, W. Z. Lithuanian Hasidism. (Ag '72)
   Wiesel, E. Souls on fire. (My '72)
 Haskell, Mary
   Gibran, K. Beloved prophet. (Je '72)
 Hastings, Macdonald
   Hastings, M. Jesuit child. (Ag '72)
 Hausas
   Hill, P. Rural Hausa. (S '72)
 Hausen, Friedrich von. See Friedrich von Hausen
 Haushofer, Albrecht
   Douglas-Hamilton, J. Motive for a mission. (Mr '72)
 Haussmann, Georges Eugène, Baron
   Saalman, H. Haussmann: Paris transformed. (S '72)
 Haussmann: Paris transformed. Saalman, H. (S '72)
 Hawaii
   Gray, F. du P. Hawaii: the sugar-coated fortress. (Ag '72)
   Simpich, F. Anatomy of Hawaii. (S '72)
 Hawaii: the sugar-coated fortress. Gray, F. du P. (Ag '72)
 Hawaiian dictionary. Pukui, M. K. (Ag '72)
 Hawaiian language
   Dictionaries
     English
       Pukui, M. K. Hawaiian dictionary. (Ag '72)
 Hawaiian tales of heroes and champions. Thompson, V. L. (Je '72)
 Hawkins, Connie
   Wolf, D. Foul! the Connie Hawkins story. (My '72)
 Hawkridge, Cornellus
   Hamilton-Paterson, J. Greedy war (a very personal war). (S '72)
 Hawks & harriers. Stegner, P. (My '72)
 Hawkshead, England
   Thompson, T. W. Wordsworth's Hawkshead. (Mr '72)
 Hawthorne, Nathaniel
   Bell, M. D. Hawthorne and the historical romance of New England. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Bibliography

Gross, T. L. Hawthorne, Melville, Stephen Crane. (My '72)
 Hawthorne and the historical romance of New England. Bell, M. D. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Hawthorne, Melville, Stephen Crane. Gross, T. L. (My '72)
 Hayes, Rutherford Birchard, President U.S.

Juvenile literature

Vaughan, H. C. Hayes-Tilden election of 1876. (D '72)
 Hayes-Tilden election of 1876. Vaughan, H. C. (D '72)
 Hazard, form & value. Slattery, M. F. (N '72)
 Hazardous to your health. Edwards, M. H. (S '72)
 Hazlitt, William
   Wardle, R. M. Hazlitt. (My '72)
 Heads & headlines. Stern, M. B. (Ap '72)
 Healing of a nation. Loye, D. (My '72)

Health

Gauquelin, M. How atmospheric conditions affect your health. (Ap '72)

Health care. See Medical care

Heart

Diseases

Barnard, C. Heart attack: you don't have to die. (Ag '72)
 Maule, T. Running scarred. (Ag '72)

Surgery

Thompson, T. Hearts. (Mr '72)

Transplantation

Thompson, T. Hearts. (Mr '72)

Heart attack: you don't have to die. Barnard, C. (Ag '72)

Hearts. Thompson, T. (Mr '72)

Heart's grown brutal. Brewster, D. (D '72)

Heat

Fox, R. Caloric theory of gases: from Lavoisier to Regnault. (My '72)

Juvenile literature

Balestrino, P. Hot as an ice cube. (Mr '72)
 Heat engines
   Cardwell, D. S. L. From Watt to Clausius. (My '72)

Heaved from the earth. Brigham, B. (O '72)
 Hedda and Louella. Eells, G. (Je '72)

Hegel, Georg Wilhelm Friedrich

Harris, H. S. Hegel's development: toward the sunlight, 1770-1801. (S '72)

Lichtheim, G. From Marx to Hegel. (My '72)
 Pelczynski, Z. A., ed. Hegel's political philosophy, problems and perspectives. (D '72)

Hegel's development: toward the sunlight, 1770-1801. Harris, H. S. (S '72)

Hegel's political philosophy, problems and perspectives. Pelczynski, Z. A., ed. (D '72)

Heidegger, Martin

Gray, J. G. On understanding violence philosophically, and other essays. (Ag '72)

Sherover, C. M. Heidegger, Kant & time. (Ag '72)

Being and time

Gelven, M. Commentary on Heidegger's Being and time. (Mr '72)

Heidegger, Kant & time. Sherover, C. M. (Ag '72)

Heirs of Stalin. Rothberg, A. (Je '72)

Heirs of the ancient Maya. Price, C. (O '72)

Hellenism

Peters, F. E. Harvest of Hellenism. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Vryonis, S. Decline of medieval Hellenism in Asia Minor and the process of Islamization from the eleventh through the fifteenth century. (Ag '72)

Hellman, Lillian

Moody, R. Lillian Hellman, playwright. (S '72)

Héloïse

Robertson, D. W. Abelard and Heloise. (Ap '72)

Hemingway, Ernest

Nahal, C. Narrative pattern in Ernest Hemingway's fiction. (Je '72)

O'Connor, R. Ernest Hemingway. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Waldhorn, A. Reader's guide to Ernest Hemingway. (O '72)

Watkins, F. C. Flesh and the word. (Ag '72)

Watts, E. S. Ernest Hemingway and the arts. (S '72)

- Henchmans at home. Burton, H. (Ag '72)
 Henderson, Nancy
 Henderson, N. Out of the curtained world. (Je '72)
 Hendricks family
 Whiteman, M. Copper for America. (Je '72)
 Henniker, Hon. Florence Ellen Hungerford (Milnes)
 Hardy, T. One rare fair woman. (D '72)
 Henri Mercier and the American Civil War. Carroll, D. B. (Ap '72)
 Henrietta Maria, consort of Charles I, King of England
 Bone, Q. Henrietta Maria: Queen of the Cavaliers. (D '72)
 Henrietta Maria: Queen of the Cavaliers. Bone, Q. (D '72)
 Henry IV, King of Castile and Leon
 Miller, T. Henry IV of Castile, 1425-1474. (D '72)
 Henry IV, King of England
 Kirby, J. L. Henry IV of England. (Ap '72)
 Henry IV, King of France
 Seward, D. First Bourbon. (Ap '72)
 Henry V, King of England

Fiction

- Rofheart, M. Fortune made his sword. (Je '72)
 Henry VIII, King of England
 Smith, L. B. Henry VIII: the mask of royalty. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Williams, N. Henry VIII and his court. (My '72)
 Henry Adams on the road to Chartres. Mane, R. (Je '72)
 Henry Cantwell Wallace as secretary of agriculture. Winters, D. L. (Mr '72)
 Henry VIII and his court. Williams, N. (My '72)
 Henry VIII: the mask of royalty. Smith, L. B. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Henry Ford and grass-roots America. Wik, R. M. (My '72)
 Henry IV of Castile, 1425-1474. Miller, T. (D '72)
 Henry IV of England. Kirby, J. L. (Ap '72)
 Henry in a silver frame. Eastwood, J. (N '72)
 Henry James and the naturalist movement. Powers, L. H. (D '72)
 Henry James and the requirements of the imagination. Weinstein, P. M. (My '72)
 Hepworth, Barbara
 Hepworth, B. Sculpture of Barbara Hepworth, 1960-69. (O '72)

Heraldry

Dictionaries

- Brault, G. J. Early blazon. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Herbert, George
 Freer, C. Music for a king. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Herblock's state of the Union. Block, H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Herculaneum
 Grant, M. Cities of Vesuvius. (Mr '72)
 Here lies Nancy Frail. Ross, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Heredity

Juvenile literature

- Bendick, J. What made you you? (S '72)
 Heresies and heretics
 Bauer, W. Orthodoxy and heresy in earliest Christianity. (My '72)
 Lerner, R. E. Heresy of the free spirit in the later middle ages. (N '72)
 Heresy of the free spirit in the later middle ages. Lerner, R. E. (N '72)
 Hermaphroditism. Friedman, A. (Je '72)
 Hermeneutic phenomenology. Ihde, D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Hero & saint. Brower, R. A. (S '72)
 Herod I, the Great, King of Judea
 Grant, M. Herod the great. (My '72)
 Herod the great. Grant, M. (My '72)
 Herodotus
 Fornara, C. W. Herodotus. (My '72)
 Heroin
 McCoy, A. W. Politics of heroin in Southeast Asia. (D '72)
 Smith, D. E., ed. "It's so good, don't even try it once." (D '72)
 Heroin was my best friend. Berry, J. (S '72)
 Herself. Callisher, H. (D '72)
 Hess, Rudolf
 Douglas-Hamilton, J. Motive for a mission. (Mr '72)

Hesse, Hermann

- Fleld, G. W. Hermann Hesse. (Ag '72)
 Hesse, H. Autobiographical writings. (D '72)
 Hesse, H. Wandering. (Je '72)
 Zeller, B. Portrait of Hesse. (Mr '72)
 Hessian. Fast, H. (D '72)
 Hey, bug! and other poems about little things. Itse, E. M., comp. (S '72)
 Hidden injuries of class. Sennett, R. (Ja '72) (1972 Annual)
 Hidden Northwest. Cantwell, R. (D '72)
 Hidden valley of the Smokies. Hutchins, R. E. (Mr '72)
 Hide fox and all after. Yglesias, R. (My '72)
 Hieroglyphics

Juvenile literature

- Cottrell, L. Reading the past. (Ag '72)
 High Arctic. Sutton, G. M. (My '72)
 High Maples farm cookbook. Berquist, E. S. (O '72)
 High old time. Russ, L. (Ag '72)
 High priests of waste. Fitzgerald, A. E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 High schools
 Corwin, R. G. Militant professionalism. (My '72)
 Krug, E. A. Shaping of the American high school, v2. (N '72)
 Higher education for everybody? (Ag '72)
 Higher education in the ancient world. Clarke, M. L. (O '72)
 Highland fling cookbook. Walker, S. M. (Mr '72)
 Highlands of Phrygia, 2v. Haspels, C. H. E. (My '72)
 Highway risk problem: policy issues in highway safety. Baker, R. F. (O '72)
 Hijacking of airplanes
 Arey, J. A. Sky pirates. (My '72)
 McWhinney, E. Aerial piracy and international law. (D '72)
 Rich, E. Flying scared. (N '72)
 Hijos de la ira. Children of wrath [bilingual ed.]. Alonso, D. (My '72)
 Hiking
 Rudner, R. Wandering. (D '72)
 Hildid's night. Ryan, C. D. (Ap '72)
 Himalayan region

Politics

- Chakravarti, P. C. Evolution of India's northern borders. (O '72)
 Himes, Chester B.
 Himes, C. Quality of hurt, v 1. (My '72)
 Himmler, Heinrich
 Smith, B. F. Heinrich Himmler: a Nazi in the making, 1900-1926. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Hindenburg (Airship)
 Mooney, M. M. Hindenburg. (My '72)
 Hindenburg. Mooney, M. M. (My '72)
 Hinduism
 Johnson, C., ed. Vedanta. (Ap '72)
 Moffitt, J. Journey to Gorakhpur. (N '72)
 Stroup, H. Like a great river. (N '72)

Philosophy

- Reymond, L. To live within. (Mr '72)
 Hippies
 Katz, E. Armed love. (My '72)
 Labin, S. Hippies, drugs and promiscuity. (O '72)
 Speck, R. V. New families. (D '72)
 Sexual behavior
 Labin, S. Hippies, drugs and promiscuity. (O '72)
 San Francisco
 Cavan, S. Hippies of the Haight. (N '72)
 United States
 Grogan, E. Ringolevio. (S '72)
 Hippies, drugs and promiscuity. Labin, S. (O '72)
 Hippies of the Haight. Cavan, S. (N '72)
 Hipplius, Zinaida Nikolaevna
 Pachmuss, T. Zinaida Hipplius. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Hippocrates
 Levine, E. B. Hippocrates. (My '72)
 Hirohito, Emperor of Japan
 Bergamini, D. Japan's imperial conspiracy. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 His own where. Jordan, J. (My '72)
 Historia Augusta
 Syme, R. Emperors and biography: studies in the Historia Augusta. (Ap '72)
 Historians, British
 McKisack, M. Medieval history in the Tudor age. (S '72)

Historians, German

McClelland, C. E. German historians and England. (Ag '72)

Historians at work, 2v. Gay, P., ed. (S '72)

Historical fiction

Bell, M. D. Hawthorne and the historical romance of New England. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Rutherford, J. Mexican society during the revolution. (D '72)

Bibliography

VanDerhoof, J. Bibliography of novels related to American frontier and colonial history. (S '72)

Historiography

Brown, R. E. Carl Becker on history and the American Revolution. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Carter, C. Western European powers, 1500-1700. (Mr '72)

Clarke, E., ed. Modern methods in the history of medicine. (Je '72)

Gay, P., ed. Historians at work, 2v. (S '72)

Hexter, J. H. Doing history. (D '72)

McKisack, M. Medieval history in the Tudor age. (S '72)

History*Collections

Gay, P., ed. Historians at work, 2v. (S '72)

Methodology

Postan, M. M. Fact and relevance. (Mr '72)

Philosophy

Fain, H. Between philosophy and history. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Freeman, R. Repentance and revolt. (Ag '72)

Kaplan, M. A. On historical and political knowing. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Novack, G. Understanding history. (D '72)

Wagar, W. W. Good tidings. (D '72)

Wilson, E. To the Finland station [2d ed]. (O '72)

Study and teaching

Landes, D. S., ed. History as social science. (Mr '72)

History, Ancient

Cambridge ancient history [3d ed] v 1, pt 1. (Je '72)

Haywood, R. M. Ancient world. (Ag '72)

History, Modern

Johnson, D. Making of the modern world, v 1. (Mr '72)

20th century

Cunliffe, M., ed. London Times history of our times. (Je '72)

Matthews, H. L. World in revolution. (My '72)

Times in review: 1960-1969. (S '72)

Dictionaries

Laqueur, W., ed. Dictionary of politics. (Ap '72)

History and art of personal combat. Eng title of: The art and history of personal combat. Wise, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

History and politics of colonialism, 1914-1960: v 2 of Colonialism in Africa, 1870-1960. Gann, L. H., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

History as social science. Landes, D. S., ed. (Mr '72)

History in geographic perspective. Fox, E. W. (Ag '72)

History of Africa. Horizon. (Ap '72)

History of American presidential elections, 1789-1968, 4v. Schlesinger, A. M., ed. (1971, 1972 Annual)

History of British geology. Challinor, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

History of Georgetown county, South Carolina. Rogers, G. C. (Mr '72)

History of German art. Lindemann, G. (Mr '72)

History of Grimsby. Gillett, E. (Ap '72)

History of Indonesia in the twentieth century. Dahm, B. (Mr '72)

History of medical education. (Ap '72)

History of modern architecture, 2v. Benevolo, L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

History of modern Ireland. Norman, E. (Ag '72)

History of modern Jewry. v 1. 1780-1815. Mahler, R. (Je '72)

History of O.P.E.C. Rouhani, F. (Ag '72)

History of poliomyelitis. Paul, J. R. (Ag '72)

History of the American people. American heritage. Weisberger, B. A. (My '72)

History of the Balkan peoples. Ristelhueber, R. (N '72)

History of the common law of England. Hale, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

History of the Gothic revival. Eastlake, C. L. (Mr '72)

History of the Indies. Casas, B. de las. (My '72)

History of the International Labor Organization. Alcock, A. (Ap '72)

History of the Liberal party, 1895-1970. Douglas, R. (My '72)

History of the Maghrib. Abun-Nasr, J. M. (S '72)

History of the Mongol conquests. Saunders, J. J. (O '72)

History of the Mongols. Spuler, B. (D '72)

History of the most renowned and victorious Princess Elizabeth, late Queen of England. Camden, W. (My '72)

History of the National intelligencer. Ames, W. E. (D '72)

History of the Russian secret service. Deacon, R. (O '72)

History of war and weapons, 1660 to 1918. Shepperd, G. A. (D '72)

History of western education, v 1. Bowen, J. (N '72)

History of Zionism. Laqueur, W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Histro matrix. Hall, T. (In Science and education in the seventeenth century: the Webster-Ward debate, by A. G. Debus). (Ag '72)

Hitler, Adolf

Gordon, H. J. Hitler and the beer hall putsch. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Jackel, E. Hitler's Weltanschauung. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Langer, W. Mind of Adolf Hitler. (N '72)

Nicholls, A. ed. German democracy and the triumph of Hitler. (N '72)

Schramm, P. E. Hitler: the man and the military leader. (D '72)

Strawson, J. Hitler's battles for Europe. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

Eimerl, S. Hitler over Europe. (S '72)

Hitler and the beer hall putsch. Gordon, H. J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Hitler and the middle sea. Ansel, W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Hitler over Europe. Eimerl, S. (S '72)

Hitler: the man and the military leader. Schramm, P. E. (D '72)

Hitler youth and Catholic youth, 1933-1936. Walker, L. D. (My '72)

Hitler's battles for Europe. Strawson, J. (Ap '72)

Hitler's Weltanschauung. Jackel, E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Hitler's werewolves. Whiting, C. (D '72)

Ho Chi Minh, President Vietnam (Democratic Republic)

Sainteny, J. Ho Chi Minh and his Vietnam. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Ho Chi Minh and his Vietnam. Sainteny, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Hoax. Fay, S. (S '72)

Hockey

McFarlane, B. Stanley cup. (Ag '72)

Juvenile literature

Watt, T. How to play hockey. (Mr '72)

Hodgkin, Thomas Lionel

African perspectives. (Je '72)

Hoe and the horse on the plains. Holder, P. (Ag '72)

Hogarth, William

Paulson, R. Hogarth: his life, art, and times, 2v. (O '72)

Hogarth: his life, art, and times, 2v. Paulson, R. (O '72)

Hole truth. Bolt, T. (Mr '72)

Holiness churches

Synan, V. Holiness-Pentecostal movement in the United States. (Ap '72)

Holiness-Pentecostal movement in the United States. Synan, V. (Ap '72)

Hollering sun. Wood, N. (N '72)

Holly, reindeer, and colored lights. Barth, E. (Mr '72)

Hollywood, California

Marion, F. Off with their heads! (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Anecdotes, facetiae, satire, etc.

Wilk, M., ed. Wit and wisdom of Hollywood. (N '72)

Hollywood musical. Taylor, J. R. (My '72)

Hollywood TV producer. Cantor, M. G. (Je '72)

Holocaust. Hermanns, W. (S '72)

Holy places. See Shrines

Holy Spirit

- Stephens, W. P. Holy Spirit in the theology of Martin Bucer. (S '72)
Holy Spirit in the theology of Martin Bucer.
 Stephens, W. P. (S '72)
Home. Mortimer, P. (My '72)
Home book of smoke-cooking meat, fish ■ game. Sleight, J. (Mr '72)
Homeless near a thousand homes. Glastonbury, B. (Ap '72)

Homeopathy

- Kaufman, M. Homeopathy in America. (Ap '72)
Homeopathy in America. Kaufman, M. (Ap '72)

Homer

- Bowra, C. M. Homer. (D '72)
Homespun of oatmeal gray. Goodman, P. (O '72)
Homesteaders and Indians. Levenson, D. (My '72)

Homo hierachicus. Dumont, L. (Mr '72)

- Homosexual. Altman, D. (My '72)
Homosexual dialectic. McCaffrey, J. A. (S '72)
Homosexual liberation. Murphy, J. (Ag '72)

Homosexuality

- Karlen, A. Sexuality and homosexuality. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Kranz, S., ed. H persuasion. (My '72)
 McCaffrey, J. A., ed. Homosexual dialectic. (S '72)
 Weinberg, G. Society and the healthy homosexual. (Ag '72)
 Wolff, C. Love between women. (Je '72)

Bibliography

- Weinberg, M. S., ed. Homosexuality. (O '72)

Personal narratives

- Aaron, W. Straight. (O '72)
 Altman, D. Homosexual. (My '72)
 Bell, A. Dancing the gay lib blues. (Ap '72)
 Clarke, L. I have more fun with you than anybody. (D '72)
 Miller, M. On being different. (Mr '72)
 Murphy, J. Homosexual liberation. (Ag '72)
Homosexuality. Weinberg, M. S., ed. (O '72)
 Honor thy father. Talese, G. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Honorable Shirley Chisholm. Hicks, N. (Ag '72)
 Hoodwinking of Madeline, and other essays on Keats's poems. Stillinger, J. (O '72)
 Hooray for peace, hurrah for war. Jantzen, S. (My '72)

Hoover, John Edgar

- Messick, H. John Edgar Hoover. (Ag '72)

Hoover Dam

- Moeller, B. B. Phil Swing and Boulder Dam. (N '72)

Hope

- Häring, B. Hope is the remedy. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Hope is the remedy. Häring, B. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Hope: psychiatry's commitment. (Ap '72)
Hopi Indians

Legends

- Courlander, H. Fourth world of the Hopis. (Mr '72)
Hopkey, Sophy
 Ethridge, W. S. Strange fires. (Ap '72)
Hopkins, Gerard Manley
 Ball, P. M. Science of aspects. (My '72)
Hopper, Edward
 Goodrich, L. Edward Hopper. (Mr '72)
Hopper, Hedda
 Kells, G. Hedda and Louella. (Je '72)
Horace (Quintus Horatius Flaccus)

Ars poetica

- Brink, C. O. Horace on poetry. (Ap '72)
Horace on poetry. Brink, C. O. (Ap '72)
Horizon concise history of England. White, R. J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Horizon History of Africa. (Ap '72)
Hormones
 Hormones, sex and happiness. (D '72)
 Hormones, sex and happiness. (D '72)
Horn, David Bayne
 Studies in diplomatic history. (My '72)
Horned Moses in medieval art and thought. Mellinkoff, R. (Mr '72)
Horns (in religion, folklore, etc.)
 Mellinkoff, R. Horned Moses in medieval art and thought. (Mr '72)
Horror man. Eng title of: Karloff. Underwood, P. (D '72)

Horsemanship*Juvenile literature

- Mohan, B. Riding. (Ap '72)

Hosein, Arthur

- Cooper, W. Brothers. (Je '72)

Hosein, Nizamodeen

- Cooper, W. Brothers. (Je '72)
Hospitals, children and their families. Stacey, M. (My '72)

Hot as an ice cube. Balestrino, P. (Mr '72)Hours, Books of

- Fouquet, J. Hours of Etienne Chevalier. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Grandes heures of Jean, Duke of Berry. (Mr '72)
Hours of Etienne Chevalier. Fouquet, J. (1971, 1972 Annual)
House and home. Barley, M. W. (My '72)
House decoration in Nubia. Wenzel, M. (S '72)
House for all peoples. Allswang, J. M. (Mr '72)
House of Commons in the eighteenth century. Thomas, P. D. G. (Je '72)
House of Commons, 1603-1610. Notestein, W. (S '72)
House of life: Rachel Carson at work. Brooks, P. (Je '72)
House of Northcliffe. Ferris, P. (My '72)
House of wings. Byars, B. (S '72)

House plants

- Crockett, J. U. Flowering house plants. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Houses

- Guinness, D. Irish houses and castles. (Mr '72)
 Oliver, P., ed. Shelter in Africa. (D '72)
 Priestley, H. English home. (O '72)

Housing

- Dorman, M. Making of a slum. (D '72)
 Glastonbury, B. Homeless near a thousand homes. (Ap '72)
 Mullins, W. Student housing. (Ap '72)
 Stone, P. A. Urban development in Britain: standards, costs and resources, 1964-2004, v 1. (My '72)

Finance

- Taggart, R. Low-income housing. (D '72)
Housman, Alfred Edward
 Housman, A. E. Letters of A. E. Housman. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
Houston, Margaret (Lea)
 Seale, W. Sam Houston's wife. (O '72)
Houston, Texas

Politics and government

- Davidson, C. Biracial politics. (D '72)
How a satirical editor became ■ Yippie conspirator in ten easy years. Krassner, P. (Ag '72)
How animals work. Schmidt-Nielsen, K. (D '72)
How atmospheric conditions affect your health. Gauquelin, M. (Ap '72)
How black is the gospel? Skinner, T. (S '72)
How many miles to Camelot? Izenberg, J. (Ag '72)
How men discovered the world. Hecke, H. R. (Je '72)
How-not-to-miss-the-cocktail-hour cookbook. Lowman, E. W. (My '72)
How she died. Yglesias, H. (My '72)
How the economy works, and other essays. Paish, F. W. (Je '72)
How the moon began. Reeves, J. (D '72)
How the U.S. cavalry saved our national parks. Hampton, H. D. (O '72)
How to cook a rogue elephant. Livingston, P. Van R. (Ag '72)
How to do things right. Hills, L. R. (S '72)
How to eat (and drink) your way through a French (or Italian) menu. Beard, J. (Mr '72)
How to get along with Black people. Rush, S. (D '72)
How to go to work when your husband is against it, your children aren't old enough, and there's nothing you can do anyhow. Schwartz, F. N. (O '72)
How to play hockey. Watt, T. (Mr '72)
How to predict the 1972 election. Bean, L. H. (O '72)
How to start carving. Graveney, C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
How to talk to birds and other uncommon ways of enjoying nature the year round. Davids, R. C. (S '72)
How 2 gerbils, 20 goldfish, 200 games, 2000 books, and I taught them how to read. Daniels, S. (Ap '72)
How will we meet the energy crisis? Millard, R. (Je '72)
Howe, Richard Howe, Earl
 Gruber, I. D. Howe brothers and the American revolution. (O '72)

- Howe, William Howe, 5th Viscount
Gruber, I. D. Howe brothers and the American revolution. (O '72)
Howe brothers and the American revolution. Gruber, I. D. (O '72)
- Howell, George
Leventhal, F. M. Respectable radical: George Howell and Victorian working class politics. (My '72)
- Hrólfs Saga Kraka
Jones, G. Kings, beasts and heroes. (N '72)
- Hsüan-tsang
Grousset, R. In the footsteps of the Buddha. (My '72)
- Hudson, Hosea
Hudson, H. Black worker in the deep South. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Hudson River
Van Zandt, R., comp. Chronicles of the Hudson. (Ap '72)
- Hudson River and its painters. Howat, J. K. (O '72)
- Hudson Valley
Description and travel
Van Zandt, R., comp. Chronicles of the Hudson. (Ap '72)
Views
Howat, J. K. Hudson River and its painters. (O '72)
- Huerta, Victoriano, President Mexico
Meyer, M. C. Huerta. (D '72)
- Hughes, Howard Robard
Fay, S. Hoax. (S '72)
Keats, J. Howard Hughes. (O '72)
- Hughes, Langston
Langston Hughes: Black genius. (Je '72)
- Hugo, Victor Marie
Affron, C. Stage for poets. (Je '72)
Edwards, S. Victor Hugo. (Ap '72)
- Huks: Philippine agrarian society in revolt. Lachica, E. (S '72)
- Human agenda. Gorney, R. (S '72)
- Human aspects of biomedical innovation. Mendelsohn, E., ed. (Ag '72)
- Human aspects of sexual deviation. Eng title of: Strange loves. Chesser, E. (Ap '72)
- Human aviary. Holton, G. (My '72)
- Human capital
Schultz, T. W. Investment in human capital. (Ap '72)
- Human condition in Latin America. Wolf, E. R. (N '72)
- Human ecology
Bird, C. Crowding syndrome. (O '72)
Brubaker, S. To live on earth. (S '72)
Burnet, M. Dominant mammal. (S '72)
Hardin, G. Exploring new ethics for survival. (N '72)
Maddox, J. Doomsday syndrome. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Neuhaus, R. In defense of people. (Mr '72)
Odum, H. T. Environment, power, and society. (My '72)
Ward, B. Only one earth. (O '72)
- Human engineering
Papanek, V. Design for the real world. (Ap '72)
- Human figure in art. See Anatomy, Artistic; Figure drawing
- Human figure in art from prehistoric times to the present day. Wentinck, C. (Je '72)
- Human imperative. Alland, A. (O '72)
- Human like me, Jesus. Boyd, M. (Mr '72)
- Human relations
Berne, E. What do you say after you say hello? (O '72)
Fast, J. Incompatibility of men and women, and how to overcome it. (My '72)
Firth, R. Families and their relatives. (Je '72)
Goffman, E. Relations in public. (Ap '72)
Ichheiser, G. Appearances and realities. (Ap '72)
Kent, I. I AMness: the discovery of the self beyond the ego. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Lee, R. Spouse gap. (My '72)
Melbin, M. Alone and with others. (My '72)
Mueller, W. R. Celebration of life. (S '72)
- Human season. MacLeish, A. (D '72)
- Humanism
Trinkaus, C. E. In our image and likeness. 2v. (Ap '72)
19th century
Kaplan, H. Democratic humanism and American literature. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Humans being. McMahon, J. H. (Ap '72)
- Humorous poetry
Auden, W. H. Academic graffiti. (Ag '72)
- Humphrey, Hubert Horatio
Eisele, A. Almost to the presidency. (O '72)
Hundred years of international relations. Northedge, F. S. (D '72)
Hundred Years' War, 1339-1453
Palmer, J. J. N. England, France, and Christendom, 1377-99. (N '72)
- Hungary
History
Ignotus, P. Hungary. (O '72)
Politics and government
Ignotus, P. Hungary. (O '72)
Szász, B. Volunteers for the gallows. (Ap '72)
Hungary. Ignotus, P. (O '72)
- Hunter, Rodello
Hunter, R. Daughter of Zion. (O '72)
- Hunting
Coon, C. S. Hunting peoples. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Ortega y Gasset, J. Meditations on hunting. (S '72)
British Columbia
Hillen, W. Blackwater River: Toa-Thal-Kas. (Ap '72)
Hunting peoples. Coon, C. S. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Hunts Point, New York
Dorman, M. Making of a slum. (D '72)
- Hureidah, Southern Yemen
Politics and government
Bujra, A. S. Politics of stratification. (Mr '72)
- al-Huṣarī, Abū Khaldūn Sāṭi'
Cleveland, W. L. Making of an Arab nationalist. (S '72)
- Hussein, King of Jordan
Snow, P. Hussein. (D '72)
- Hustlers and heroes. Viorst, M. (Mr '72)
- Huxley, Aldous Leonard
Birnbbaum, M. Aldous Huxley's quest for values. (Ag '72)
Woodcock, G. Dawn and the darkest hour. (S '72)
- Huxley, Thomas Henry
Bibby, C. Scientist extraordinary. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Marshall, A. J. Darwin and Huxley in Australia. (Ag '72)
- Hygiene
Miller, B. F. Family book of preventive medicine. (Ap '72)
- Hymns
History and criticism
Horn, D. D. Sing to me of heaven. (Mr '72)
- I am Elijah Thrush. Purdy, J. (S '72)
- I am Mary Tudor. Lewis, H. (N '72)
- I AMness: the discovery of the self beyond the ego. Kent, I. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- I breathe a new song. Lewis, R., ed. (D '72)
- I come as a thief. Auchincloss, L. (N '72)
- I have changed. Owens, J. (N '72)
- I have more fun with you than anybody. Clarke, L. (D '72)
- I never had it made. Robinson, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- IQ argument. Eysenck, H. J. (Mr '72)
- IQ cult. Sharp, E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- I spy blue. Rumbelow, D. (Je '72)
- I was born Greek. Mercouri, M. (Mr '72)
- Ibsen, Henrik
Egan, M., comp. Ibsen: the critical heritage. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Koht, H. Life of Ibsen. (Ap '72)
Meyer, H. G. Henrik Ibsen. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Ibsen: the critical heritage. Egan, M., comp. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Ice
Post, A. Glacier ice. (My '72)
- Ice cream, ices, etc.
Dickson, P. Great American ice cream book. (D '72)
- Icon and swastika. Fireside, H. (My '72)
- Iconography of Christian art, v 1. Schiller, G. (Je '72)
- Icons
Soloukhin, V. Searching for icons in Russia. (My '72)
- Icons and images of the sixties. Calas, N. (N '72)
- Idea of a mental illness. Edelson, M. (Mr '72)
- Ideal communist city. (Je '72)
- Ideas of greatness. Waith, E. M. (Ag '72)
- Ideological imagination. Halle, L. J. (My '72)

Ideology

- Kaplan, M. A. On historical and political knowing. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 MacIntyre, A. Against the self-images of the age. (My '72)
 Miller, K. B. Ideology and moral philosophy. (N '72)

History

- Halle, L. J. Ideological imagination. (My '72)
 Ideology and moral philosophy. Miller, K. B. (N '72)
 Idylls & realities. Stern, J. P. (S '72)
 If I built a village . . . Mizumura, K. (Mr '72)
 If they come in the morning. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 If they're so smart, how come you're not rich? Springer, J. L. (Ag '72)
 If you want to see your wife again. Craig, J. (Ap '72)
 Ignition! Clark, J. D. (Ag '72)
 Ik (African people)
 Turnbull, C. M. Mountain people. (D '72)
 Illegitimacy
 Hanes, M. Lovechild. (O '72)

Illinois

Politics and government

- Tarr, J. A. Study in boss politics: William Lorimer of Chicago. (Ag '72)

Illiteracy

- Cass, A. W. Basic education for adults. (O '72)

Illumination of books and manuscripts

- Bucher, F. Pamplona Bibles, 2v [facsim]. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Fouquet, J. Hours of Etienne Chevalier. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Grandes heures of Jean Duke of Berry. (Mr '72)
 Weitzmann, K. Studies in classical and Byzantine manuscript illumination. (Ap '72)
 Illustrated encyclopedia of world coins. Hobson, B. (Mr '72)
 Illustrated guide to Staffordshire salt-glazed stoneware. Mountford, A. R. (My '72)
 Illustrated history of the United States Navy. The Naval Academy. Potter, E. B. (Mr '72)

Illustration of books

- Muir, P. Victorian illustrated books. (My '72)
 Illustrations of Greek drama. Trendall, A. D. (O '72)

Illustrators, American

- Something about the author, v 1. (Ap '72)

Illustrators, English

- Muir, P. Victorian illustrated books. (My '72)

Image makers. Trent, P. (D '72)

- Image of Lincoln in the South. Davis, M. (My '72)

Images of India. Gokhale, B. G., ed. (Ag '72)

Images of man. Rosenthal, B. G. (Mr '72)

Images of Wallace Stevens. Kessler, E. (O '72)

Imagination

- Hardison, O. B., ed. Quest for imagination. (Ag '72)
 Piaget, J. Mental imagery in the child. (Mr '72)

Imagination and power. Edwards, T. R. (Ag '72)

Imaginative qualities of actual things. Sorrentino, G. (O '72)

Immigrant voters in Israel. Deshen, S. A. (Ap '72)

Immunity

- Burnet, M. Genes, dreams, and realities. (Ag '72)
 Wilson, D. Body and antibody. (S '72)

Impact of labour, 1920-1924. Cowling, M. (Mr '72)

Impact of taxes on the American economy. Thurow, L. C. (Ap '72)

Impeachment: trials and errors. Brant, I. (Ag '72)

Imperial adventurer. Eng title of: The crown of Mexico. Haslip, J. (Ag '72)

Imperial animal. Tiger, L. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Imperial control of colonial legislation, 1813-1865. Swinfen, D. B. (D '72)

Imperial dream. Eng title of: The death of the imperial dream. Grierson, E. (O '72)

Imperial republic. Johnson, G. W. (Ag '72)

Imperial restoration in medieval Japan. Varley, H. P. (Ap '72)

Imperialism

- Jens, S. Forging of the American empire. (Ap '72)
 Rhodes, R. I., ed. Imperialism and underdevelopment: a reader. (S '72)

Imperialism and Chinese nationalism. Schreck-er, J. E. (My '72)

Imperialism and underdevelopment: a reader.

Rhodes, R. I., ed. (S '72)

Impingement of man on the oceans. Hood, D. W., ed. (Ag '72)

Impossible dream. Cameron, I. (My '72)

Impossible people. McHargue, G. (Ag '72)

Impossible possibilities. Pauwels, L. (My '72)

Impossible railway. Berton, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Impossible voyage. Blyth, C. (S '72)

Impressionism (Art)

Kelder, D. French impressionists and their century. (Ag '72)

Improbable triumvirate. Cousins, N. (Ja '73)

(1972 Annual)

Improvement of the estate. Duckworth, A. M. (S '72)

Impudent snobs. Coyne, J. R. (My '72)

In a darkness. Wechsler, J. A. (Je '72)

In advent. Poulin, A. (S '72)

In Bluebeard's castle. Steiner, G. (Je '72)

In critical condition. Kennedy, E. M. (O '72)

In defense of earth: international protection of the biosphere. Caldwell, L. K. (D '72)

In defense of people. Neuhaus, R. (Mr '72)

In exile. Brandt, W. (Je '72)

In hiding. Fraser, R. (S '72)

In his image, but . . . Smith, H. S. (N '72)

In my own way. Watts, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

In my way. Brown, G. (My '72)

In our image and likeness, 2v. Trinkaus, C. E. (Ap '72)

In pursuit of relevance. Muller, H. J. (Mr '72)

In search of Dr. Thorndyke. Donaldson, N. (Mr '72)

In search of lost worlds. Eydoux, H.-P. (Ag '72)

In search of Nixon. Mazlish, B. (Ag '72)

In search of Omar Khayyam. Dashti, A. (Ag '72)

In the eyes of the ancestors. Nash, J. (Mr '72)

In the footsteps of the Buddha. Grousset, R. (My '72)

In the fullness of time. Douglas, P. H. (Ag '72)

In the Happy Valley. Connor, T. (Ap '72)

In the middle distance. Delbanco, N. (Ag '72)

In the midst of wars. Lansdale, E. G. (Je '72)

In the name of profit. (O '72)

In the name of tomorrow. Karsov, N. (Ap '72)

In the outer dark. Plumly, S. (Ap '72)

In the Record. Caldwell, W. A. (O '72)

In the reign of peace. Nissenson, H. (Je '72)

In the shadow of man. Lawick-Goodall, J. van. (1971, 1972 Annual)

In the spirit, in the flesh. Kennedy, E. C. (My '72)

In the terrified radiance. Burnshaw, S. (D '72)

Inber, Vera Mikhailovna

Inber, V. Leningrad diary. (O '72)

Incompatibility of men and women, and how to overcome it. Fast, J. (My '72)

Incredible great white fleet. Carter, S. (Ap '72)

Index of articles relative to Jewish history and literature published in periodicals, from 1665 to 1900 [augmented ed. Schwab, M. (O '72)

Index to American author bibliographies. Havlice, P. P. (N '72)

Index to plays in periodicals. Keller, D. H. (Ap '72)

Indexing

Immroth, J. P. Analysis of vocabulary control in Library of Congress classification and subject headings. (D '72)

Wilson, T. D. Introduction to chain indexing. (O '72)

India

Boundaries

Chakravarti, P. C. Evolution of India's northern borders. (O '72)

Civilization

Coates, A. China, India and the ruins of Washington. (Ag '72)

Godden, J. Shiva's pigeons. (N '72)

Gokhale, B. G., ed. Images of India. (Ag '72)

Lannoy, R. Speaking tree. (Mr '72)

Commerce

History

Chaudhuri, K. N., ed. Economic development of India under the East India company, 1814-58. (Ag '72)

Description and travel

Strauss, C. N. Earth below, heaven above. (D '72)

Economic conditions

Bhatia, K. Ordeal of nationhood. (Ap '72)

Cohn, B. S. India: the social anthropology of a civilization. (N '72)

Foreign opinion

Gokhale, B. G., ed. Images of India. (Ag '72)

Foreign relations

Barnds, W. J. India, Pakistan, and the great powers. (O '72)
 Bhatia, K. Ordeal of nationhood. (Ap '72)

United States

Bhagat, G. Americans in India, 1784-1860. (S '72)

History

Edwardes, M. Nehru. (Ag '72)
 Gardner, B. East India Company. (Mr '72)
 Gascoigne, E. Great Moghuls. (Mr '72)
 Nightingale, P. Trade and empire in Western India, 1784-1806. (S '72)

Juvenile literature

Galbraith, C. A. India: now and through time. (My '72)

Kings and rulers

Lord, J. Maharajahs. (Ap '72)

Politics and government

Berg, L. Face to face: fascism and revolution in India [rev ed.]. (S '72)
 Bonarjee, N. B. Under two masters. (My '72)
 Brown, J. M. Gandhi's rise to power. (N '72)
 Frankel, F. R. India's green revolution. (My '72)
 Kumar, R., ed. Essays on Gandhian politics. (Ag '72)
 Misra, B. B. Administrative history of India, 1834-1947. (Ag '72)

1947-

Bhatia, K. Ordeal of nationhood. (Ap '72)

Population

Pope, C. Sahib. (S '72)

Social conditions

Berg, L. Face to face: fascism and revolution in India [rev ed.]. (S '72)
 Bouglé, C. Essays on the caste system. (D '72)
 Cohn, B. S. India: the social anthropology of a civilization. (N '72)
 Fox, R. G. Kin, clan, raja, and rule. (My '72)
 Ishwaran, K., ed. Change and continuity in India's villages. (Ap '72)
 Kumar, R., ed. Essays on Gandhian politics. (Ag '72)
 Lannoy, R. Speaking tree. (Mr '72)
 Merrillat, H. C. L. Land and the constitution in India. (My '72)

Social life and customs

Dumont, L. Homo hierarchicus. (Mr '72)
 Godden, J. Shiva's pigeons. (N '72)
 Strauss, C. N. Earth below, heaven above. (D '72)
 Tandon, P. Beyond Punjab, 1937-1960. (Ag '72)

Juvenile literature

Chandavarkar, S. Children of India. (My '72)

Social policy

Ostergaard, G. Gentle anarchists. (Ag '72)
 India: now and through time. Galbraith, C. A. (My '72)
 India, Pakistan, and the great powers. Barnds, W. J. (O '72)
 India: the social anthropology of a civilization. Cohn, B. S. (N '72)

Indian arts. Hofsinde, R. (Ag '72)
 Indian currency and finance; v 1 of The collected writings of John Maynard Keynes. Keynes, J. M. (O '72)

Indian economic thought. Spengler, J. J. (Ag '72)

Indian families of the northwest coast. Lewis, C. (Ap '72)

Indian man. McNickle, D. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Indiana. University

History

Clark, T. D. Indiana university, midwestern pioneer, v 1. (Mr '72)
 Indiana. University. Institute for Sex Research
 Pomeroy, W. B. Dr. Kinsey and the Institute for sex research. (Ag '72)
 Indiana university, midwestern pioneer, v 1. Clark, T. D. (Mr '72)

Indians

Casas, B. de las. History of the Indies. (My '72)

Social life and customs

Social anthropology of Latin America. (Mr '72)
 Indians of Mexico

See also

Aztecs
 Chinantec Indians
 Lacandon Indians

Indians of North America

Howard, J. R., ed. Awakening minorities. (My '72)
 McNickle, D. Indian man. (1971, 1972 Annual)

See also

Apache Indians
 Arikara Indians
 Cayuse Indians
 Cherokee Indians
 Chickasaw Indians
 Dakota Indians
 Hopi Indians
 Kansa Indians
 Lumbee Indians
 Navaho Indians
 Pawnee Indians
 Salish Indians
 Taos Indians
 Yaqui Indians

Antiquities

Folsom, F. America's ancient treasures. (Mr '72)

Conservation and restoration

McGimsey, C. R. Public archeology. (D '72)

Juvenile literature

Baylor, B. When clay sings. (O '72)

Art

Feder, N. American Indian art. (My '72)
 Reid, W. Out of the silence. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

Baylor, B. When clay sings. (O '72)
 Hofsinde, R. Indian arts. (Ag '72)

Economic conditions

Mardock, R. W. Reformers and the American Indian. (Mr '72)
 Sorkin, A. L. American Indians and federal aid. (Ap '72)

Government relations

Deloria, V., comp. Of utmost good faith. (Mr '72)
 Ellis, R. N. General Pope and U.S. Indian policy. (Mr '72)
 Hertzberg, H. W. Search for an American Indian identity. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Levitan, S. A. Big brother's Indian programs—with reservations. (Ag '72)
 Mardock, R. W. Reformers and the American Indian. (Mr '72)
 Pierre, G. American Indian crisis. (My '72)
 Sorkin, A. L. American Indians and federal aid. (Ap '72)
 Washburn, W. E. Red man's land/white man's law. (1971, 1972 Annual)

History

Deloria, V., comp. Of utmost good faith. (Mr '72)
 Jacobs, W. R. Dispossessing the American Indian. (S '72)
 North American Indians in historical perspective. (Ag '72)
 Rossi, P. A. Art of the Old West. (Mr '72)
 Terrell, J. U. American Indian almanac. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Sources

McLuhan, T. C. Touch the earth. (Mr '72)

Juvenile literature

Steele, W. O. Wilderness tattoo. (My '72)

Languages

Laird, G. Language in America. (D '72)

Legal status, laws, etc.

See Indians of North America—Government relations

Medical care

Kane, R. L. Federal health care (with reservations!). (N '72)

Pictorial works

Curtis, E. S. Portraits from North American Indian life. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Poetry

Rothenberg, J. Shaking the pumpkin. (Je '72)

Indians of North America—Poetry—ContinuedJuvenile literature*

Allen, T., ed. Whispering wind. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Portraits

Reynolds, C. R. American Indian portraits. (Mr '72)

Social conditions

Mardock, R. W. Reformers and the American Indian. (Mr '72)
North American Indians in historical perspective. (Ag '72)

Social life and customs

McLuhan, T. C. Touch the earth. (Mr '72)

TreatmentJuvenile literature

Levenson, D. Homesteaders and Indians. (My '72)

Wars

Bird, H. War for the West, 1790-1813. (My '72)
Ellis, R. N. General Pope and U.S. Indian policy. (Mr '72)
Goodwin, G. Western Apache raiding and warfare. (Ag '72)

California

Heizer, R. F., ed. California Indians [2d ed rev & enl]. (My '72)

Canada

Mackenzie, A. Journals and letters of Sir Alexander MacKenzie. (Je '72)
Pierre, G. American Indian crisis. (My '72)

Great Plains

Holder, P. Hoe and the horse on the plains. (Ag '72)

Juvenile literature

Erdoes, R. Sun Dance people. (D '72)

Indians of South AmericaSee also*

Tukano Indians

Religion and mythology

Reichel-Dolmatoff, G. Amazonian cosmos. (Ap '72)

Amazon Valley

Meggess, B. J. Amazonia: man and culture in a counterfeit paradise. (O '72)

Brazil

Reichel-Dolmatoff, G. Amazonian cosmos. (Ap '72)

Colombia

Bodard, L. Green hell: massacre of the Brazilian Indians. (Mr '72)

India's green revolution. Frankel, F. R. (My '72)

Indispensable enemy. Saxton, A. (Mr '72)

Individualism

Stirner, M. Ego and his own. (S '72)

Individuality

Individuality and the new society. (My '72)
Kent, I. I AMness: the discovery of the self beyond the ego. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Stevens, J. O. Awareness: exploring, experimenting, experiencing. (Ag '72)

Individuality and the new society. (My '72)

Indonesia

Anderson, B. R. O'G. Java in a time of revolution. (N '72)

Civilization

Holt, C., ed. Culture and politics in Indonesia. (O '72)

History

Dahm, B. History of Indonesia in the twentieth century. (Mr '72)

Politics and government

Holt, C., ed. Culture and politics in Indonesia. (O '72)

Legge, J. D. Sukarno. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Industrial archeology

Hudson, K. Guide to the industrial archaeology of Europe. (Ag '72)

Industrial management

Collins, O. Organization makers. (Ap '72)

Industrial psychology. See Psychology, Applied

Industrial relations

Banks, J. A. Marxist sociology in action. (Ag '72)

Derber, M. American idea of industrial democracy, 1865-1965. (My '72)

Industrial revolution. See Great Britain—History—19th century; Industry—History

Industrial revolution. Hartwell, R. M. (My '72)
Industrial revolution and economic growth. Hartwell, R. M. (S '72)

Industrial Workers of the World

Debs, E. V. Eugene V. Debs speaks. (Ap '72)

Industrialization in a Latin American common market. (D '72)

Industries, Location of Industrialization in a Latin American common market. (D '72)

IndustryHistory*

Alexander, D. Retailing in England during the industrial revolution. (Ap '72)
Inglis, B. Men of conscience. (Je '72)

Industry and state

Hospers, J. Libertarianism. (D '72)
Papandreou, A. G. Paternalistic capitalism. (Ag '72)

Brazil

Bergsman, J. Brazil: industrialization and trade. (Ap '72)

Italy

Sarti, R. Fascism and the industrial leadership in Italy, 1919-1940. (Ag '72)

Pakistan

Lewis, S. R. Pakistan. (Ap '72)

United States

Blair, J. M. Economic concentration. (N '72)
Borchardt, K. Structure and performance of the U.S. communications industry. (Ap '72)
Gilbert, J. Designing the industrial state. (Ag '72)

Goulden, J. C. Superlawyers. (Ag '72)

Inequality. See Equality
Inequality. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Infants

Kagan, J. Change and continuity in infancy. (Ag '72)

Infiltrators. Faith, N. (S '72)

Inflation (Finance)

Ramsey, P. H. Price revolution in sixteenth-century England. (Ap '72)

Information sciences

Pepinsky, H. B., ed. People and information. (S '72)

Saracevic, T., ed. Introduction to information science. (Ag '72)

See alsoLibrary science

Information service in public libraries: two studies. Crowley, T. (D '72)

Information storage and retrieval systems

Hayes, R. M. Handbook of data processing for libraries. (Mr '72)

Kaplan, L., comp. Reader in library services and the computer. (Ap '72)

Information technology in a democracy. Westin, A. F., ed. (Je '72)

Ingalls, John James

Williams, B. J. Senator John James Ingalls. (D '72)

Inglorious rebellion. Sinclair-Stevenson, C. (S '72)

Injury industry and the remedy of no-fault insurance. O'Connell, J. (My '72)

Inland sea. Richie, D. (Je '72)

Inn. Strykowski, J. (Je '72)

Inness, George

Cikovsky, N. George Inness. (My '72)

Innocents. Sharp, M. (O '72)

Inns of Court, London

Prest, W. R. Inns of Court under Elizabeth I and the early Stuarts, 1590-1640. (O '72)

Inns of Court under Elizabeth I and the early Stuarts, 1590-1640. Prest, W. (O '72)

Inquiry into science. Schlegel, R. (Ag '72)

Insanity and idiocy in Massachusetts. Jarvis, E. (Je '72)

Inscriptions

Mitford, T. B. Inscriptions of Kourion. (Ag '72)

Inscriptions of Kourion. Mitford, T. B. (Ag '72)

Insect societies. Wilson, E. O. (Ap '72)

Insecticides

Jager, K. W. Aldrin, dieldrin, endrin and telodrin. (Ap '72)

Insects

Insects of Australia. (Ap '72)

Klots, A. Insects of North America. (Mr '72)

Wilson, E. O. Insect societies. (Ap '72)

Insects of Australia. (Ap '72)

Insects of North America. Klots, A. (Mr '72)

- Inside Australia. John Gunther's. Gunther, J. (O '72)
- Inside psychotherapy. Bry, A. (Ap '72)
- Inside the colonies' Greece. (S '72)
- Inside the money market. Lindow, W. (D '72)
- Inside the primary school. Blackie, J. (Ap '72)
- Insights. Freeman, E. (S '72)
- Inspector Ghote goes by train. Keating, H. R. F. (N '72)
- Instant status. Smith, C. M. (Je '72)
- Institutional change and American economic growth. Davis, L. E. (Ag '72)
- Institutional research in the university. Dresel, P. L. (S '72)
- Instructional materials centers
- Sullivan, P. Problems in school media management. (Ag '72)
- Instructional planning systems. Taylor, J. L. (My '72)
- Instructions for viewing a solar eclipse. Kelly, D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Insurance, Automobile
- Gillespie, P. No-fault. (N '72)
- O'Connell, J. Injury industry and the remedy of no-fault insurance. (My '72)
- Sullivan, E. Where did the $13 billion go? (My '72)
- Insurance, Health
- Elling, R. H., ed. National health care. (Ag '72)
- Ribicoff, A. American medical machine. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Insurance, Life
- Josephson, H. D. Life insurance and the public interest. (My '72)
- Insurance, No-fault automobile
- O'Connell, J. Injury industry and the remedy of no-fault insurance. (My '72)
- Insurance, Social
- Ellis, A. Social security fraud. (Ap '72)
- Tishler, H. S. Self-reliance and social security, 1870-1917. (S '72)
- Insurance, Unemployment
- Brown, K. D. Labour and unemployment. (My '72)
- Insurgency and counterinsurgency in Algeria. Heggoy, A. A. (N '72)
- Intellect
- Eysenck, H. J. IQ argument. (Mr '72)
- Intellectual origins of the French enlightenment. Wade, I. O. (Ag '72)
- Intellectual origins of the Prague spring. Kusin, V. V. (Mr '72)
- Interaction of color. Albers, J. (My '72)
- Intercontinental ballistic missiles
- Bottomo, E. M. Missile gap: a study of the formulation of military and political policy. (Ap '72)
- Interest groups. See Lobbying
- Interior decoration
- Battersby, M. Decorative Thirties. (Ag '72)
- Harling, R. Modern furniture and decoration. (Ag '72)
- Peterson, H. L. Americans at home. (D '72)
- Psychological aspects
- Frankel, V. What your house tells about you. (O '72)
- Internal colonialism and structural change in Colombia. Havens, A. E., ed. (My '72)
- Internal security
- Feuerlicht, R. S. Joe McCarthy and McCarthyism. (O '72)
- International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers
- Graham, H. E. Paper rebellion. (My '72)
- International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America
- Garnel, D. Rise of teamster power in the West. (O '72)
- International business negotiations. Kapoor, A. (My '72)
- International claims: postwar French practice. Weston, B. H. (O '72)
- International computer industry. Harman, A. J. (Ap '72)
- International computer industry. Lee, W. J. (Ag '72)
- International cooperation
- Corkran, H. Patterns of international cooperation in the Caribbean, 1942-1969. (Mr '72)
- Ward, B. Only one earth. (O '72)
- International corporations. See Corporations, International
- International economic relations
- Diebold, W. United States and the industrial world. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Emmanuel, A. Unequal exchange. (Ag '72)
- Evans, J. W. Kennedy round in American trade policy. (N '72)
- Kapoor, A. International business negotiations. (My '72)
- Trade and investment policies for the seventies. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- International encyclopedia of film. (D '72)
- International Everyman's encyclopedia. 20v. (S '72)
- International finance. See Finance, International
- International Labor Organization
- Alcock, A. History of the International Labor Organization. (Ap '72)
- International law
- Bozeman, A. B. Future of law in a multicultural world. (Ap '72)
- Deak, F. American international law cases, 1783-1968, v 1. (My '72)
- Falk, R. A., ed. International law of civil war. (D '72)
- Future of the international legal order, v2. (My '72)
- Jessup, P. C. Price of international justice. (O '72)
- Luard, E., ed. International regulation of civil wars. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- McWhinney, E. Aerial piracy and international law. (D '72)
- Reisman, W. M. Nullity and revision. (My '72)
- International law in general; v 1 of American international law cases, 1783-1968. Deak, F., ed. (My '72)
- International law of civil war. Falk, R. A., ed. (D '72)
- International monetary reform, 1964-69. Cohen, S. D. (My '72)
- International regulation of civil wars. Luard, E., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- International relations
- Brucan, S. Dissolution of power. (S '72)
- Cable, J. Gunboat diplomacy. (My '72)
- Eayrs, J. Diplomacy and its discontents. (N '72)
- Franck, T. M. Word politics. (Ag '72)
- Future of the international legal order, v2. (My '72)
- Gordenker, L., ed. United Nations in international politics. (Ap '72)
- Northedge, F. S. Hundred years of international relations. (D '72)
- Race among nations. (Je '72)
- Spanier, J. Games nations play. (S '72)
- International trade. See Commerce
- Interplanetary voyages
- Däniken, E. von. Gods from outer space. (Ap '72)
- Interpretation of narrative. (Ap '72)
- Interpreter's one-volume commentary on the Bible. Laymon, C. M., ed. (Mr '72)
- Interpreting modern philosophy. Collins, J. (S '72)
- Intervention (International law)
- Falk, R. A., ed. Vietnam War and international law: the widening context, v3. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Interviewing (Journalism). See Reporters and reporting
- Intimate behaviour. Morris, D. (My '72)
- Into space [rev ed]. Clarke, A. C. (Ap '72)
- Into the unknown. Dwiggin, D. (Ag '72)
- Into Tibet. Woodcock, G. (Ap '72)
- Into your tent I'll creep. De Vries, P. (Mr '72)
- Introduction to chain indexing. Wilson, T. D. (O '72)
- Introduction to information science. Saracevic, T., ed. (Ag '72)
- Introduction to Italian sculpture, pt 1, 2 [2d ed]. Pope-Hennessy, J. (O '72)
- Introduction to Newton's Principia. Cohen, I. B. (My '72)
- Introduction to Nigerian literature. King, B., ed. (O '72)
- Introduction to Romance linguistics [2d ed]. Jordan, I. (Ap '72)
- Introduction to technical services for library technicians. Bloomberg, M. (S '72)
- Introduction to the African novel. Palmer, E. (D '72)
- Introduction to the pronunciation of English [2d ed]. Gimson, A. C. (Ap '72)
- Introduction to the study of man. Young, J. Z. (O '72)
- Intuition
- Fuller, R. B. Intuition. (S '72)
- Intuition. Fuller, R. B. (S '72)
- Invasion of compulsory sex morality. Reich, W. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Invasion of Nepal. Pemble, J. (O '72)
- Inveighing we will go. Buckley, W. F. (D '72)
- Inventors for medicine. Dolan, E. F. (Mr '72)

Invertebrates

Whiteley, D. Oxford book of invertebrates. (My '72)

Investigation of Ralph Nader. Whiteside, T. (O '72)

Investment in human capital. Schultz, T. W. (Ap '72)

Investments

Briston, R. J. Stock exchange and investment analysis. (My '72)

Brutus. Confessions of a stockbroker. (My '72)

Faith, N. Infiltrators. (S '72)

Griffin, K., ed. Financing development in Latin America. (Mr '72)

Josephson, M. Money lords. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Kapoor, A. International business negotiations. (My '72)

Knowlton, W. Shaking the money tree. (S '72)

Lindow, W. Inside the money market. (D '72)

Lohman, P. H. Art of investing. (O '72)

McKay, J. P. Pioneers for profit. (Ap '72)

Smith, A. Supermoney. (D '72)

Springer, J. L. If they're so smart how come you're not rich? (Ag '72)

Trade and investment policies for the seventies. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Invisible astronomy. Ronan, C. A. (O '72)

Invisible giant. Gerth, D. R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Invisible land. Beaujour, E. K. (Ap '72)

Invisible worm. Campion, R. (D '72)

Inward hunger. Williams, E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Ionesco, Eugène

Ionesco, E. Present past, past present. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Wulbern, J. H. Brecht and Ionesco: commitment in context. (Ap '72)

Iran

Yar-Shater, E., ed. Iran faces the seventies. (Ag '72)

Economic conditions

Bharier, J. Economic development in Iran, 1900-1970. (O '72)

History

Bausani, A. Persians. (Ap '71)

Politics and government

Zonis, M. Political elite of Iran. (O '72)

Iran faces the seventies. Yar-Shater, E., ed. (Ag '72)

Ireland

See also
Northern Ireland

Church history

Watt, J. A. Church and the two nations in medieval Ireland. (S '72)

Civilization

Nowlan, K. B., ed. Ireland in the war years and after 1939-51. (Mr '72)

Description and travel

Wibberley, L. Shannon sailors. (Je '72)

Economic conditions

Kennedy, K. A. Productivity and industrial growth. (Ap '72)

History

Brown, M. Politics of Irish literature from Thomas Davis to W. B. Yeats. (O '72)

Kee, R. Green flag. (N '72)

Lydon, J. F. Lordship of Ireland in the middle ages. (D '72)

Norman, E. History of modern Ireland. (Ag '72)

O'Brien, M. Story of Ireland. (D '72)

O'Broin, L. Fenian fever. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Silke, J. J. Kinsale. (Mr '72)

Industries

Kennedy, K. A. Productivity and industrial growth. (Ap '72)

Politics and government

Kee, R. Green flag. (N '72)

Lydon, J. F. Lordship of Ireland in the middle ages. (D '72)

Manning, M. Blueshirts. (O '72)

Norman, E. History of modern Ireland. (Ag '72)

Ireland in the war years and after 1939-51. Nowlan, K. B., ed. (Mr '72)

Irish*Cartoons and caricatures

Curtis, L. P. Apes and angels. (Ag '72)

Irish drama*History and criticism

Theatre and nationalism in twentieth-century Ireland. (My '72)

Irish glass. Warren, P. (Je '72)

Irish houses and castles. Guinness, D. (Mr '72)

Irish in Great Britain

Curtis, L. P. Apes and angels. (Ag '72)

Irish in the United States

Coleman, T. Going to America. (Ag '72)

Greeley, A. M. That most distressful nation. (N '72)

O'Broin, L. Fenian fever. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Irish literature*History and criticism

Brown, M. Politics of Irish literature from Thomas Davis to W. B. Yeats. (O '72)

Irish peacock. Grady, B. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Irish poetry*Collections

Cole, W. Poems from Ireland. (S '72)

Iron age

Shinnie, P. L. African iron age. (Ap '72)

Iron century. Kamen, H. (O '72)

Iroquois in the American Revolution. Graymont, B. (O '72)

Iroquois Indians*History

Graymont, B. Iroquois in the American Revolution. (O '72)

Irrational ravings. Hamill, P. (Mr '72)

Irving, Clifford

Fay, S. Hoax. (S '72)

Is there an optimum level of population? (S '72)

"Isak Dinesen" and Karen Blixen. Hannah, D. (Ag '72)

Isherwood, Christopher

Isherwood, C. Kathleen and Frank. (Ap '72)

Isherwood, Francis B.

Isherwood, C. Kathleen and Frank. (Ap '72)

Isherwood, Kathleen

Isherwood, C. Kathleen and Frank. (Ap '72)

Isis in the Graeco-Roman world. Witt, R. E. (Ap '72)

Islam

Berger, M. Islam in Egypt today. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Dunlop, D. M. Arab civilization to A.D. 1500. (Ag '72)

Haddad, R. M. Syrian Christians in Muslim society. (My '72)

Keddie, N. R. Sayyid Jamāl ad-Dīn "al-Afghānī". (D '72)

King, N. Q. Christian and Muslim in Africa. (Ap '72)

Rodinson, M. Mohammed. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Rosenthal, E. I. J. Studia Semitica 2v. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Juvenile literature

Suskind, R. Sword of the prophet. (Je '72)

Islam in Egypt today. Berger, M. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Islamic countries*History

Shaban, M. A. Islamic history A.D. 600-750 (A.H. 132) a new interpretation. (My '72)

Islamic history A.D. 600-750 (A.H. 132) a new interpretation. Shaban, M. A. (My '72)

Islands of the Pacific

Bahrenburg, B. Pacific: then and now. (Mr '72)

Syme, R. Travels of Captain Cook. (My '72)

Bibliography

Day, A. G. Pacific islands literature. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Biography

Davidson, J. W., ed. Pacific Islands portraits. (Ap '72)

History

Davidson, J. W., ed. Pacific Islands portraits. (Ap '72)

Isolation (Biology)

Lack, D. Ecological isolation in birds. (My '72)

Israel

Bentwich, N. Israel: two fateful years 1967-69. (S '72)

Antiquities

Yadin, Y. Bar-Kokhba. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Description

Haggadah. Israel Haggadah for Passover. (Mr '72)

Description and travel

Geyer, G. A. New 100 years war. (S '72)

Emigration and immigration

Deshen, S. A. Immigrant voters in Israel. (Ap '72)

Encyclopedias

Patal, R., ed. Encyclopedia of Zionism and Israel. (S '72)

Foreign opinion, Arab

Harkabi, H. Arab attitudes to Israel. (S '72)

Foreign relations

Brecher, M. Foreign policy system of Israel. (N '72)

Germany (Federal Republic)

Balabkins, N. West German reparations to Israel. (S '72)

Historical geography*Maps

Israel. Department of surveys. Atlas of Israel [2d ed]. (Ag '72)

History

Colloms, B. Israel. (My '72)
Ellis, H. B. Israel: one land, two peoples. (D '72)

Maps

Israel. Department of surveys. Atlas of Israel [2d ed]. (Ag '72)

Politics and government

Brecher, M. Foreign policy system of Israel. (N '72)

Religion

Leslie, S. C. Rift in Israel. (Mr '72)

Social conditions

Colloms, B. Israel. (My '72)
Israel. Colloms, B. (My '72)
Israel and the holy places of Christendom. Zander, W. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Israel and the Palestinians. Avineri, S., ed. (Ap '72)

Israel-Arab War, 1967-*Influence and results

Bentwich, N. Israel: two fateful years 1967-69. (S '72)
Israel Haggadah for Passover. Haggadah. (Mr '72)
Israel: land of the Jews. Klein, M. C. (D '72)
Israel: one land, two peoples. Ellis, H. B. (D '72)
Israel: two fateful years 1967-69. Bentwich, N. (S '72)
It usually begins with Ayn Rand. Tuccille, J. (Ap '72)
Italian-Americans. Iorizzo, L. J. (Ap '72)
Italian family cooking. Giobbi, E. (My '72)
Italian Gothic sculpture; pt 1 of Introduction to Italian sculpture [2d ed]. Pope-Hennessy, J. (O '72)
Italian language

Etymology

Hope, T. E. Lexical borrowing in the Romance languages. (O '72)
Italian paintings. New York (City). Metropolitan Museum of Art. (Ap '72)
Italian poetry

Collections

Smith, W. J., comp. Poems from Italy. (D '72)
Italian Renaissance sculpture; pt 2 of Introduction to Italian sculpture [2d ed]. Pope-Hennessy, J. (O '72)
Italians in Chicago
Nelli, H. S. Italians in Chicago, 1880-1930. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
Italians in Chicago, 1880-1930. Nelli, H. S. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
Italians in the United States
DeConde, A. Half bitter, half sweet. (Ap '72)
Iorizzo, L. J. Italian-Americans. (Ap '72)
Italy

Antiquities

Barfield, L. Northern Italy before Rome. (D '72)

Biography*Dictionaries

New Century Italian Renaissance encyclopedia. (D '72)

Economic conditions

Willis, F. R. Italy chooses Europe. (Ap '72)

Foreign opinion, American

Diggins, J. P. Mussolini and fascism: the view from America. (My '72)

History*To 1559

Prescott, O. Lords of Italy. (D '72)

1815-1915

Mack Smith, D. Victor Emanuel, Cavour, and the Risorgimento. (D '72)

1914-1946

Collier, R. Duce! (Ap '72)

German occupation, 1940-1945

Davis, M. S. Who defends Rome? (Ag '72)

1946-

Wiskemann, E. Italy since 1945. (O '72)

Intellectual life

Trinkaus, C. E. In our image and likeness. 2v. (Ap '72)

Kings and rulers

Prescott, O. Lords of Italy. (D '72)

Politics and government

Willis, F. R. Italy chooses Europe. (Ap '72)

Social life and customs

Root, W. Food of Italy. (My '72)
Italy chooses Europe. Willis, F. R. (Ap '72)
Italy since 1945. Wiskemann, E. (O '72)
"It's so good, don't even try it once." Smith, D. E., ed. (D '72)
Ivory Coast
Foster, P. Ghana and the Ivory coast. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

J. M. Synge and his world. Skelton, R. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Jac. Berzelius: his life and work. Jorpes, J. E. (Ap '72)
Jack the giant-killer. Jacobs, J. (My '72)
Jacklin, Tony
Jacklin, T. Jacklin: the champion's own story. (Mr '72)
Jackson, Henry Martin
Prochnau, W. W. Certain democrat: Senator Henry M. Jackson. (S '72)
Jacksonian democracy in New Hampshire, 1800-1851. Cole, D. B. (Mr '72)
Jacob, Max
Kamber, G. Max Jacob and the poetics of cubism. (Mr '72)
Jacobean dramatic perspectives. Kirsch, A. C. (D '72)
Jacobite Rebellion, 1715
Jarvis, R. C. Collected papers on the Jacobite risings, v 1. (O '72)
Jacobite Rebellion, 1745-1746
Jarvis, R. C. Collected papers on the Jacobite risings, v 1. (O '72)
Jacobites
Sinclair-Stevenson, C. Inglorious rebellion. (S '72)
Jamal, Hakim A.
Jamal, H. A. From the deal level: Malcolm X and me. (S '72)
James II, King of England
Haswell, J. James II, soldier and sailor. (N '72)
James, Prince of Wales, the Old Pretender
Miller, P. James. (Je '72)
James, Henry
Chatman, S. Later style of Henry James. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Edel, L. Henry James [v5]. (Ap '72)
Powers, L. H. Henry James and the naturalist movement. (D '72)
Samuels, C. T. Ambiguity of Henry James. (My '72)

James, Henry—Continued

Stone, D. D. Novelists in a changing world. (N '72)

Weinstein, P. M. Henry James and the requirements of the imagination. (My '72)

James, Miller, P. (Je '72)

James Beard's American cookery. Beard, J. (O '72)

James Blair of Virginia. Rouse, P. (Je '72)

James Jackson Putnam and psychoanalysis. Putnam, J. J. (S '72)

James II, soldier and sailor. Haswell, J. (N '72)

Janis. Dalton, D. (Ap '72)

Japan*Church history

Southern barbarians. (Mr '72)

Civilization

Keene, D. Landscapes and portraits. (My '72)

Maraini, F. Japan: patterns of continuity. (Ag '72)

Varley, H. P. Samurai. (Ag '72)

Commerce

Trade and investment policies for the seventies. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Description and travel

Richie, D. Inland sea. (Je '72)

Economic conditions

Brzezinski, Z. Fragile blossom. (My '72)

Kurihara, K. K. Growth potential of the Japanese economy. (Mr '72)

Morley, J. W., ed. Forecast for Japan: security in the 1970's. (D '72)

Economic policy

Kurihara, K. K. Growth potential of the Japanese economy. (Mr '72)

Foreign relations*United States—Juvenile literature

Icenhower, J. B. Panay incident, December 12, 1937. (S '72)

History

Hane, M. Japan. (D '72)

Varley, H. P. Imperial restoration in medieval Japan. (Ap '72)

Varley, H. P. Samurai. (Ag '72)

1867-1945

Hackett, R. F. Yamagata Arimoto in the rise of modern Japan, 1838-1922. (Ap '72)

Military policy

Emmerson, J. K. Arms, yen & power. (Ag '72)

Morley, J. W., ed. Forecast for Japan: security in the 1970's. (D '72)

Weinstein, M. E. Japan's postwar defense policy, 1947-1968. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Politics and government

Bergamini, D. Japan's imperial conspiracy. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Brzezinski, Z. Fragile blossom. (My '72)

Curtis, G. L. Election campaigning Japanese style. (Mr '72)

Morley, J. W., ed. Forecast for Japan: security in the 1970's. (D '72)

Allied occupation, 1945-1952

Johnson, C. Conspiracy at Matsukawa. (S '72)

1952-

Johnson, C. Conspiracy at Matsukawa. (S '72)

Relations (general) with foreign countries

Emmerson, J. K. Arms, yen & power. (Ag '72)

Relations (general) with the United States

Pacific rivals. (N '72)

Social conditions

Nakane, C. Japanese society. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Japan: patterns of continuity. Maraini, F. (Ag '72)

Japanese in Canada*Juvenile literature

Takashima. Child in prison camp. (S '72)

Japanese in the United States

Light, I. H. Ethnic enterprise in America. (O '72)

Japanese literature

Keene, D. Landscapes and portraits. (My '72)

History and criticism

Ueda, M. Matsuo Bashō. (My '72)

Japanese poetry*Collections

Fitzsimmons, T., comp. Japanese poetry now. (S '72)

Shiffert, E. M., comp. Anthology of modern Japanese poetry. (N '72)

Japanese poetry now. Fitzsimmons, T., comp. (S '72)

Japanese society. Nakane, C. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Japan's imperial conspiracy. Bergamini, D. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Japan's postwar defense policy, 1947-1968. Weinstein, M. E. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Jarrell, Randall

Ferguson, S. Poetry of Randall Jarrell. (Je '72)

Jaspers, Karl

Samay, S. Reason revisited. (O '72)

Java*Politics and government

Anderson, B. R. O'G. Java in a time of revolution. (N '72)

Java in a time of revolution. Anderson, B. R. O'G. (N '72)

Jawlensky, Alexej von

Weiler, C. Jawlensky: heads, faces, meditations. (S '72)

Jawlensky: heads, faces, meditations. Weiler, C. (S '72)

Jazz music

Chilton, J. Who's who of jazz. (D '72)

Foster, P. Pops Foster. (S '72)

Hodier, A. World of jazz. (D '72)

Jones, M. Louis: the Louis Armstrong story, 1900-1971. (Ap '72)

Russell, R. Jazz style in Kansas City and the Southwest. (Ap '72)

Shaw, A. Street that never slept. (Ap '72)

Simon, G. T. Simon says. (My '72)

History and criticism

Nanry, C., ed. American music: from Storyville to Woodstock. (N '72)

Jazz style in Kansas City and the Southwest. Russell, R. (Ap '72)

Jean Dalrymple's Pinafore Farm cookbook. Dalrymple, J. (My '72)

Jean Racine: mythos and renewal in modern theater. Knapp, B. L. (My '72)

Jefferson, Thomas

Juvenile literature

Fleming, T. J. Thomas Jefferson. (My '72)

Jeffersonian crisis: courts and politics in the young republic. Ellis, R. E. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Jennie: the life of Lady Randolph Churchill, v2. Martin, R. G. (Ap '72)

Jerome, Saint (Eusebius Hieronymus)

Poetry

Jarrell, R. Jerome. (Je '72)

Jerome, Jarrell, R. (Je '72)

Jerusalem*Politics and government

Bovis, H. E. Jerusalem question, 1917-1968. (Ag '72)

Siege, 70 A.D.

Furieux, R. Roman siege of Jerusalem. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Siege, 1948

Collins, L. O Jerusalem! (Ag '72)

Jerusalem question, 1917-1968. Bovis, H. E. (Ag '72)

Jesuit child. Hastings, M. (Ag '72)

Jesuits

Bernard, P. P. Jesuits and Jacobins. (S '72)

Hastings, M. Jesuit child. (Ag '72)

Jesuits and Jacobins. Bernard, P. P. (S '72)

Jesus, Dreyer, C. T. (N '72)

Jesus. Schweizer, E. (Mr '72)

Jesus and the politics of violence. Edwards, G. R. (O '72)

Jesus Christ

Bousset, W. Kyrios Christos. (Mr '72)

Edwards, G. R. Jesus and the politics of violence. (O '72)

Fuller, R. H. Formation of the Resurrection narratives. (Mr '72)

Pike, D. K. Wilderness revolt. (Ag '72)

Schweizer, E. Jesus. (Mr '72)

Sheed, F. J. What difference does Jesus make? (Ap '72)

Wells, G. A. Jesus of the early Christians. (My '72)

Art

Forsyth, W. H. Entombment of Christ. (Mr '72)

Biography

Greeley, A. M. Jesus myth. (Ap '72)
Santucci, L. Meeting Jesus. (My '72)

Drama

Dreyer, C. T. Jesus. (N '72)

Nativity

Maier, P. L. First Christmas. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

Slaughter, J. And it came to pass. (Mr '72)

Teachings

Greeley, A. M. Jesus myth. (Ap '72)

Jesus movement

Enroth, R. M. Jesus people. (O '72)
Jesus myth. Greeley, A. M. (Ap '72)
Jesus of the early Christians. Wells, G. A. (My '72)

Jesus people. Enroth, R. M. (O '72)

Jewelry

Aldred, C. Jewels of the pharaohs. (Mr '72)
Hughes, G. Art of jewelry. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
See also

Rings

Jewels of the pharaohs. Aldred, C. (Mr '72)

Jewish-Arab relations

Abu-Lughod, I., ed. Transformation of Palestine. (S '72)
Avineri, S., ed. Israel and the Palestinians. (Ap '72)
Elkordy, A. H. M. Crisis of diplomacy: the three wars . . . and after. . . (My '72)
Ellis, H. B. Israel: one land, two peoples. (D '72)
Geyer, G. A. New 100 years war. (S '72)
Harkabi, Y. Arab attitudes to Israel. (S '72)
Schiff, Z. Fedayeen. (N '72)
Search for peace in the Middle East [rev ed.]. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Stetler, R., ed. Palestine: the Arab-Israeli conflict. (D '72)
Turki, F. Disinherited. (N '72)
Waskow, A. I. Bush is burning! (My '72)

History

Glubb, J. B. Peace in the Holy Land. (O '72)

Jewish authors

Guttman, A. Jewish writer in America. (Ap '72)

Jewish ceremonial art and religious observance. Kanof, A. (My '72)

Jewish experience in Latin America, 2v. Cohen, M. A., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Jewish law. See Law. Jewish

Jewish literature

History and criticism

Wisse, R. R. Schlemiel as modern hero. (Je '72)

Jewish question

Halpern, B. Jews and Blacks. (My '72)
Karsov, N. In the name of tomorrow. (Ap '72)
Niewky, D. L. Socialist, anti-Semite, and Jew. (Ap '72)
Selzer, M., ed. "Kike!" (N '72)
Jewish religion in the Soviet Union. Rothenberg, J. (S '72)

Jewish wit and humor

Golden, H. Golden book of Jewish humor. (My '72)

History and criticism

Altman, S. Comic image of the Jew. (O '72)
Jewish writer in America. Guttman, A. (Ap '72)
Jewitt's ceramic art of Great Britain, 1800-1900. Godden, G. A., ed. (O '72)

Jews

Cowen, I. Jews in remote corners of the world. (Ap '72)

Anecdotes, facetiae, satire, etc.

History and criticism

Altman, S. Comic image of the Jew. (O '72)

Civilization

Patai, R. Tents of Jacob. (Ap '72)

Dictionaries

Encyclopaedia Judaica, 16v. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

History

Allegro, J. M. Chosen people. (Ag '72)
Asimov, I. Land of Canaan. (My '72)
Furieux, R. Roman siege of Jerusalem. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Glubb, J. B. Peace in the Holy Land. (O '72)
Klein, M. C. Israel: land of the Jews. (D '72)
Mahler, R. History of modern Jewry, v 1, 1780-1815. (Je '72)
Mazar, B., ed. Patriarchs. (Ag '72)
Patai, R. Tents of Jacob. (Ap '72)

Persecutions

Hilberg, R., ed. Documents of destruction. (S '72)

Rites and ceremonies

Haggadah. Israel Haggadah for Passover. (Mr '72)
Kanof, A. Jewish ceremonial art and religious observance. (My '72)
Raphael, C. Feast of history. (Je '72)
Jews and Blacks. Halpern, B. (My '72)
Jews in France
Marrus, M. R. Politics of assimilation. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

Snyder, L. L. Dreyfus affair. (S '72)
Jews in Great Britain
Bermant, C. Cousinhood. (Ag '72)
Jews in Hungary
Senesh, H. Hannah Senesh. (S '72)
Jews in Latin America

History

Marcus, J. R. Colonial American Jew, 1492-1776, 3v. (Ap '72)
Jews in literature
Fisch, H. Dual image. (S '72)
Wisse, R. R. Schlemiel as modern hero. (Je '72)
Jews in remote corners of the world. Cowen, I. (Ap '72)
Jews in Russia
Rothenberg, J. Jewish religion in the Soviet Union. (S '72)
Smolar, B. Soviet Jewry today and tomorrow. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Jews in South America
Cohen, M. A., ed. Jewish experience in Latin America, 2v. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual) Jews in the Byzantine Empire

History

Sharf, A. Byzantine Jewry: from Justinian to the fourth crusade. (Ag '72)
Jews in the Netherlands

Juvenile literature

Reiss, J. Upstairs room. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Jews in the United States
Manners, A. Poor cousins. (Ap '72)
Sklare, M. America's Jews. (S '72)

Biography

Madison, C. A. Eminent American Jews, 1776 to the present. (Ap '72)

History

Marcus, J. R. Colonial American Jew, 1492-1776, 3v. (Ap '72)
Jezebel wolf. Monjo, F. N. (Ap '72)
Jingo Django. Fleischman, S. (Mr '72)
Jink. McMahon, T. P. (Mr '72)
Joe McCarthy and McCarthyism. Feuerlicht, R. S. (O '72)

Jogging

Maule, T. Running scarred. (Ag '72)
Johann Strauss: father and son, and their era. Eng title of: The waltz kings. Fantel, H. (O '72)

John XXIII (Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli) Pope Cousins, N. Improbable triumvirate. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

John, Prester

Silverberg, R. Realm of Prester John. (My '72)

John Donne's poetry. Sanders, W. (Mr '72)

John Fisher's magic book. Fisher, J. (O '72)

John Gunther's Inside Australia. Gunther, J. (O '72)

John Harvey (Ship)

Infield, G. B. Disaster at Bari. (Mr '72)

John Thomas and Lady Jane. Lawrence, D. H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Johnson, Edgar Augustus Jerome

Johnson, E. A. J. American imperialism in the image of Peer Gynt. (O '72)

- Johnson, Samuel
Boulton, J. T., ed. Johnson: the critical heritage. (Ag '72)
Fussell, P. Samuel Johnson and the life of writing. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Hibbert, C. Personal history of Samuel Johnson. (Ag '72)
Johnson: the critical heritage. Boulton, J. T. (Ag '72)
Joiner. Whitehead, J. (Mr '72)
Joint international business ventures in developing countries. Friedmann, W. G. (Ap '72)
Jonathan Livingston Seagull. Bach, R. (1972 Annual)
Jones, Charles Colcock, 1804-1863
Myers, R. M., ed. Children of pride. (Ag '72)
Jones, David Michael
Blamires, D. David Jones: artist and writer. (N '72)
Jones, Morgan
Spence, V. G. Colonel Morgan Jones. (My '72)
Jones, Tom
Jones, P. Tom Jones. (D '72)
Jonson, Ben
Bamborough, J. B. Ben Jonson. (S '72)
Joplin, Janis
Dalton, D. Janis. (Ap '72)
Jordan
    Politics and government
    Snow, P. Hussein. (D '72)
    Joseph Banks in Newfoundland and Labrador, 1766. Lysaght, A. M., ed. (My '72)
    Joseph Bonaparte, King of Spain
    Glover, M. Legacy of glory. (Ag '72)
    Joseph Story and the American Constitution.
    McClellan, J. (My '72)
    Josh Lawton. Bragg, M. (O '72)
    Journal and major essays of John Woolman.
    Woolman, J. (Ag '72)
    Journal of a voyage to nowhere. Fenn, C. (D '72)
    Journalism
    Balk, A., ed. Our troubled press. (Ag '72)
    Johnson, M. L. New journalism. (Mr '72)
    Kriehbaum, H. Pressures on the press. (D '72)
    Marbut, F. B. News from the capital. (D '72)
    Matthews, H. L. World in revolution. (My '72)
    Wolseley, R. E. Black press, U.S.A. (Ag '72)
    Political aspects
    Coyne, J. R. Impudent snobs. (My '72)
    Journalists
    Johnson, M. L. New journalism. (Mr '72)
    Lawrence, B. Six presidents, too many wars. (Ag '72)
    Politics & the press. (Ap '72)
    Journals and letters of Sir Alexander Mackenzie.
    Mackenzie, A. (Je '72)
    Journey between two Chinas. Topping, S. (O '72)
    Journey to Gorakhpur. Moffitt, J. (N '72)
    Journey to heartbreak. Weintraub, S. (1971, 1972 Annual)
    Journey to Ixtlan. Castaneda, C. (D '72)
    Journey to Topaz. Uchida, Y. (My '72)
    Joyce, James
    Joyce, S. Complete Dublin diary of Stanislaus Joyce. (Mr '72)
    A portrait of the artist as a young man
    Epstein, E. L. Ordeal of Stephen Dedalus. (Ap '72)
    Ulysses
    Ellmann, R. Ulysses on the Liffey. (Ag '72)
    Joyce, Stanislaus
    Joyce, S. Complete Dublin diary of Stanislaus Joyce. (Mr '72)
    Joys and subtleties: South East Asian cooking.
    Brissenden, R. (Mr '72)
    Juan (Yaqui shaman)
    Castaneda, C. Journey to Ixtlan. (D '72)
    Castaneda, C. Separate reality. (1971, 1972 Annual)
    Juche! Kim, I. S. (My '72)
    Judaism
    Cohen, H. Reason and hope. (My '72)
    Cohen, H. Religion of reason. (D '72)
    Lamm, N. Faith and doubt. (My '72)
    Leslie, S. C. Rift in Israel. (Mr '72)
    Maimonides. Maimonides reader. (N '72)
    Rosenthal, E. I. Studia Semitica 2v. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
    Waskow, A. I. Bush is burning! (My '72)

History

- Rotenstreich, N. Tradition and reality. (O '72)
Smith, M. Palestinian parties and politics that shaped the Old Testament. (Ap '72)
Judas gospel. Van Greenaway, P. (D '72)
Judas Iscariot

Fiction

- Van Greenaway, P. Judas gospel. (D '72)
Judas mandate. Eggleton, C. (Ag '72)
Judd, Lawrence McCully
Judd, L. M. Lawrence M. Judd & Hawaii. (Mr '72)

Judges

- Glick, H. R. Supreme courts in state politics. (Ag '72)
Hogarth, J. Sentencing as a human process. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Jones, W. J. Politics and the bench. (N '72)
Judicial review

Australia

- Johnston, R. E. Effect of judicial review on federal-state relations in Australia, Canada, and the United States. (Ap '72)

Canada

- Johnston, R. E. Effect of judicial review on federal-state relations in Australia, Canada, and the United States. (Ap '72)

United States

- Johnston, R. E. Effect of judicial review on federal-state relations in Australia, Canada, and the United States. (Ap '72)
Jug and related stoneware of Bennington. Osgood, C. (My '72)
Julie Dannenbaum's creative cooking school.
Dannenbaum, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
June Platt's New England cook book. Platt, J. (Mr '72)

Jung, Carl Gustav

- Ulanov, A. B. Feminine in Jungian psychology and in Christian theology. (O '72)
Jungles. Shepherd, W. (D '72)

Junior colleges

- Medsker, L. L. Breaking the access barriers. (Ag '72)
Moore, W. Against the odds. (Ap '72)
Moore, W. Blind man on a freeway. (S '72)

Junior republics

- Holl, J. M. Juvenile reform in the progressive era. (S '72)

Junks

- Worcester, G. R. G. Junks & sampans of the Yangtze. (My '72)
Junks & sampans of the Yangtze. Worcester, G. R. G. (My '72)

Jupiter crisis. Harrington, W. (Mr '72)

Jurisprudence. See Law

- Just give me a cool drink of water 'fore I diie.
Angelou, M. (Ag '72)

Justice

- Rawls, J. Theory of justice. (Je '72)

Justice, Administration of

- Radzinowicz, L. Crime and justice. 3v. (Ag '72)
Rosenblatt, S. Justice denied. (My '72)
Struggle for justice. (My '72)

Justice denied. Rosenblatt, S. (My '72)

Justice of Zeus. Lloyd-Jones, H. (My '72)

Justinian II, Emperor of the East

- Head, C. Justinian II of Byzantium. (Ag '72)

Justinian II of Byzantium. Head, C. (Ag '72)

Juta, Jan

- Juta, J. Background in sunshine. (N '72)

Juvenile delinquency

- Connor, W. D. Deviance in Soviet society. (O '72)
Empey, L. T. Explaining delinquency. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Empey, L. T. Silverlake experiment. (Ag '72)Hawes, J. M. Children in urban society. (Ap '72)Sale, R. T. Blackstone rangers. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature (individual titles)

- Adkins, J. Art and industry of sandcastles. (Je '72)

Adler, I. Atomic energy. (My '72)Adler, I. Energy. (Mr '72)Aiken, J. Died on a rainy Sunday. (O '72)Alderman, C. L. Golden century. (N '72)Alexander, M. Nobody asked me if I wanted a baby sister. (Mr '72)Allen, T., ed. Whispering wind. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)Almedingen, E. M. Anna. (S '72)Anderson, A. H. Drifting continents. (Ap '72)Anno, M. Upside-downers: downside-uppers. (O '72)Archer, J. Revolution in our time. (Je '72)

- Aruego, J. Crocodile's tale. (S '72)
 Aruego, J. Look what I can do. (Ap '72)
 Aruego, J. Pilyo the piranha. (O '72)
 Asimov, I. ABC's of the earth. (O '72)
 Atwood, A. Haiku: the mood of earth. (Je '72)
 Ault, P. Wonders of the mosquito world. (Ag '72)
 Avery, G. Likely lad. (Je '72)
 Baglin, D. People of the dreamtime. (S '72)
 Balestrino, P. Hot as an ice cube. (Mr '72)
 Bardi, P. M. Architecture. (D '72)
 Barth, E. Holly, reindeer, and colored lights. (Mr '72)
 Bauer, E. Mysterious world of caves. (O '72)
 Baylor, R. When clay sings. (O '72)
 Bealer, A. W. Only the names remain. (S '72)
 Bendick, J. What made you you? (S '72)
 Bloome, E. Air we breathe! (S '72)
 Bloome, E. Water we drink! (S '72)
 Bowen, D. Struggle within [rev ed]. (N '72)
 Brady, I. Mouse named Mus. (O '72)
 Branley, F. M. Weight and weightlessness. (N '72)
 Brown, M., ed. Cavalcade of sea legends. (S '72)
 Browning, R. Pied Piper of Hamelin. (Je '72)
 Bruner, R. Black politicians. (Mr '72)
 Brunhoff, L. de. Babar's birthday surprise. (Mr '72)
 Burningham, J. Mr. Gumpy's outing. (Ap '72)
 Burton, H. Henchmans at home. (Ag '72)
 Busch, P. S. Walk in the snow. (O '72)
 Byars, B. House of wings. (S '72)
 Carlson, D. Mountain of truth. (O '72)
 Carter, S. Incredible great white fleet. (Ap '72)
 Chandavarkar, S. Children of India. (My '72)
 Charosh, M. Ellipse. (Je '72)
 Chase, S. H. Diamonds. (O '72)
 Christopher, J. Beyond the burning lands. (O '72)
 Christopher, J. Sword of the spirits. (O '72)
 Clarke, A. C. Into space [rev ed]. (Ap '72)
 Clements, B. From ice set free. (O '72)
 Clifton, L. Everett Anderson's Christmas coming. (Mr '72)
 Cobb, V. Gases. (Ag '72)
 Cobb, V. Sense of direction. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Cohen, D. Talking with animals. (S '72)
 Cole, W., ed. Oh, that's ridiculous! (O '72)
 Cole, W., ed. Pick me up. (O '72)
 Cole, W., ed. Poet's tales. (Ag '72)
 Coleridge, S. T. Rime of the ancient mariner. (My '72)
 Conklin, G. Elephants of Africa. (N '72)
 Cook, F. J. Army-McCarthy hearings, April-June 1954. (S '72)
 Coolidge, O. Gandhi. (Mr '72)
 Cooper, S. Dawn of fear. (S '72)
 Corcoran, B. This is a recording. (Ap '72)
 Cottrell, L. Reading the past. (Ag '72)
 Crossley-Holland, K. Pedlar of Swaffham. (Mr '72)
 Crowcroft, P. Australian marsupials. (S '72)
 Curry, J. L. Over the sea's edge. (Mr '72)
 Day, B. Life on a lost continent. (My '72)
 DeJong, M. Almost all-white rabbit cat. (Ag '72)
 De Jong, M. Easter cat. (S '72)
 Delaunay, S. Sonia Delaunay Alphabet. (Ag '72)
 De Regniers, B. S. Red Riding Hood. (Ag '72)
 Dickinson, P. Emma Tupper's diary. (Mr '72)
 Discovering natural science. (Ag '72)
 Dolan, E. F. Inventors for medicine. (Mr '72)
 Du Bois, W. P. Bear circus. (Mr '72)
 Duckett, A. Changing of the guard. (O '72)
 Duncan, L. Gift of magic. (Je '72)
 Dwigins, D. Into the unknown. (Ag '72)
 Ehmcke, S. Necklace for Laurie. (My '72)
 Elmerl, S. Hitler over Europe. (S '72)
 Elliott, S. M. Our dirty air. (Mr '72)
 Ellis, M. This mysterious river. (O '72)
 Emanuel, E. Baby baboon. (Ag '72)
 Engdahl, S. L. Far side of evil. (Ap '72)
 Erdoes, R. Sun Dance people. (D '72)
 Estes, E. Tunnel of Hugsy Goode. (Ag '72)
 Eunson, R. When France was de Gaulle. (S '72)
 Faber, D. Oh, Lizzie! (S '72)
 Farmer, P. Serpent's teeth. (N '72)
 Feelings, M. Moja means one. (Ap '72)
 Feelings, T. Black pilgrimage. (O '72)
 Fiedel, R. Wild flowers. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Fisher, J. John Fisher's magic book. (O '72)
 Flaherty, R. Nanook of the North. (Ap '72)
 Fleischman, S. Jingo Django. (Mr '72)
 Fleischman, S. McBroom's ghost. (Mr '72)
 Fleming, T. J. Thomas Jefferson. (My '72)
 Fraser, A. King Arthur and the knights of the Round Table. (N '72)
 Fraser, A. Robin Hood. (N '72)
 Frith, M. Some of us walk . . . some fly . . . some swim. (Mr '72)
 Froman, R. Rubber bands, baseballs and doughnuts. (N '72)
 Fuja, A. Fourteen hundred cowries, and other African tales. (Mr '72)
 Gaines, E. J. Long day in November. (Je '72)
 Galbraith, C. A. India: now and through time. (My '72)
 Gardam, J. Long way from Verona. (Ag '72)
 Garfield, L. Strange affair of Adelaide Harris. (My '72)
 Gemming, E. Blow ye winds westerly. (Ag '72)
 George, J. C. Who really killed Cock Robin? (Ap '72)
 Gilbert, A. Poems from Sharon's lunch box. (N '72)
 Gillespie, D. C. Weeple people. (N '72)
 Giovanni, N. Spin a soft black song. (S '72)
 Glubok, S. Art of the new American nation. (O '72)
 Gobhai, M. Legend of the orange princess. (N '72)
 Godden, R. Old woman who lived in a vinegar bottle. (S '72)
 Golden, F. Moving continents. (Ag '72)
 Goldston, R. Fall of the Winter Palace. (N '72)
 Goldston, R. Long march, 1934-1935. (Ap '72)
 Goldston, R. Vietnamese revolution. (N '72)
 Graham, G. Cross-fire. (Ag '72)
 Graham, L. David he no fear. (My '72)
 Graham, M. B. Benjy and the barking bird. (O '72)
 Grant, N. Munich: 1938. (My '72)
 Graveney, C. How to start carving. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Gray, R. Cougar. (Ag '72)
 Greenfield, H. Pablo Picasso. (My '72)
 Grimm, J. About wise men and simpletons. (My '72)
 Guilcher, J. M. Fern is born. (O '72)
 Guirna, F. Tales of Mogho. (My '72)
 Haldeman, J. W. War year. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Hardendorff, J. B. Witches, wit, and a werewolf. (D '72)
 Harris, L. Twilight of the animal kingdom. (D '72)
 Harris, R. Bright and morning star. (S '72)
 Harris, R. Seal-singing. (Mr '72)
 Harris, R. Shadow on the sun. (S '72)
 Hasler, J. Making of Russia. (My '72)
 Hecke, H. R. How men discovered the world. (Je '72)
 Heffron, D. Nice fire and some moonpennies. (Ag '72)
 Heide, F. P. Shrinking of Treehorn. (My '72)
 Hellman, H. Energy and inertia. (Mr '72)
 Henderson, L. Egypt and the Sudan. (S '72)
 Herbert, W. Polar deserts. (My '72)
 Hicks, N. Honorable Shirley Chisholm. (Ag '72)
 Hieatt, C. Sword and the grail. (O '72)
 Himler, R., comp. Glad days and other classical poems for children. (S '72)
 Hinkelbein, A. Energy and power. (S '72)
 Hoban, R. Egg thoughts, and other Frances songs. (S '72)
 Hoban, T. Count and see. (Ag '72)
 Hodges, M. Gorgon's head. (N '72)
 Hodges, M. Making of Joshua Cobb. (Je '72)
 Hofsinde, R. Indian arts. (Ag '72)
 Holland, V. We are having a baby. (Ag '72)
 Hurd, E. T. Catfish. (Mr '72)
 Icenhower, J. B. Panay incident, December 12, 1937. (S '72)
 Itse, E. M., comp. Hey bug! and other poems about little things. (S '72)
 Jablow, A. Gassire's lute. (Je '72)
 Jacobs, J. Crock of gold. (Je '72)
 Jacobs, J. Jack the giant-killer. (My '72)
 Jansson, T. Moominvalley in November. (Je '72)
 Jennings, G. Shrinking outdoors. (S '72)
 Jordan, J. His own where. (My '72)
 Kaufman, J. What makes it go? What makes it work? What makes it fly? What makes it float? (S '72)
 Keats, E. J., il. Over in the meadow. (N '72)
 Kelen, E. Temple of Dendur. (Ag '72)
 Kerr, J. When Hitler stole pink rabbit. (Ag '72)
 Killens, J. O. Great gittin' up morning. (Je '72)
 Kinney, J. 21 kinds of American folk art and how to make each one. (O '72)
 Kohn, B. Gypsies. (N '72)
 Kohn, B. Organic living book. (N '72)
 Koren, E. Behind the wheel. (S '72)
 Kraus, R. Leo the late bloomer. (Je '72)
 Kredenser, G. 1 one dancing drum. (D '72)
 Lampman, E. S. Once upon the Little Big Horn. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature (Individual titles)—Cont.

- Langstaff, J. Gather my gold together. (Ag '72)
- Langstaff, J. Golden Vanity. (N '72)
- Langton, J. Astonishing stereoscope. (Mr '72)
- Larsen, P. United Nations at work throughout the world. (Ap '72)
- Latham, F. B. Panic of 1893. (My '72)
- Levenson, D. Homesteaders and Indians. (My '72)
- Levoy, M. Witch of Fourth Street, and other stories. (O '72)
- Lewis, R., ed. I breathe a new song. (D '72)
- Lexau, J. M. Emily and the klunky baby and the next-door dog. (D '72)
- Linn, C. F. Probability. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Lionni, L. Alexander and the wind-up mouse. (Mr '72)
- List, I. K. Questions and answers about seashore life. (Mr '72)
- Little, J. Kate. (Ap '72)
- Lobel, A. Frog and Toad together. (O '72)
- McDowell, R. B., ed. Third World voices for children. (Je '72)
- McHargue, G. Impossible people. (Ag '72)
- McNeill, J. Other people. (S '72)
- Manifold, L. F. Christmas window. (Mr '72)
- Manning-Sanders, R. Book of charms and changelings. (Ag '72)
- Manning-Sanders, R. Choice of magic. (My '72)
- Manushkin, F. Baby. (Ag '72)
- Mathis, S. B. Sidewalk story. (Ap '72)
- May, J. Land beneath the sea. (Ag '72)
- May, J. Plankton. (Ag '72)
- Mayne, W. Royal Harry. (O '72)
- Meltzer, M. Freedom comes to Mississippi. (Mr '72)
- Mendoza, G. Moonfish and owl scratchings. (S '72)
- Meriwether, L. Freedom ship of Robert Smalls. (Je '72)
- Merriam, E. Project 1-2-3. (Ag '72)
- Millard, A. Egypt. (My '72)
- Millard, R. How will we meet the energy crisis? (Je '72)
- Mizumura, K. If I built a village. . . (Mr '72)
- Mohan, B. Riding. (Ap '72)
- Monjo, F. N. Jezebel wolf. (Ap '72)
- Mordillo, G. Damp and daffy doings of a daring pirate ship. (My '72)
- Morey, W. Deep trouble. (S '72)
- Morris, T. Shalom, Golda. (O '72)
- Morris, W. Good old boy. (My '72)
- Mosler, G. Sharpen your wits. (Je '72)
- Naden, C. J. Triangle Shirtwaist fire, March 25, 1911. (My '72)
- Newlon, C. Famous Mexican-Americans. (Ag '72)
- Nic Leodhas, S. Twelve great black cats, and other eerie Scottish tales. (Ap '72)
- Nicolson, I. Astronomy. (D '72)
- Nitsche, R. Money. (Je '72)
- Nolen, B. Ethiopia. (My '72)
- Norton, A. Dread companion. (S '72)
- O'Brien, R. C. Mrs. Frisby and the rats of NIMH. (S '72)
- Olsen, I. S. Smoke. (N '72)
- Parish, P. Sheet magic. (Mr '72)
- Parnall, P. Mountain. (O '72)
- Paterson, A. B. Waltzing Matilda. (Ag '72)
- Pearce, P. Squirrel wife. (Ag '72)
- Pearce, W. E. Transistors and circuits. (Mr '72)
- Plowman, S. My kingdom for a grave. (My '72)
- Polatnick, F. T. Zambia's president: Kenneth Kaunda. (N '72)
- Pomerantz, C. Day they parachuted cats on Borneo. (My '72)
- Poole, F. K. Philippines. (Ap '72)
- Portal, C. Beauty of birth. (My '72)
- Potter, B. Sly old cat. (Ag '72)
- Price, C. Heirs of the ancient Maya. (O '72)
- Price, C. II. One is God. (S '72)
- Purdy, S. Costumes for you to make. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Raskin, E. Franklin Stein. (Ag '72)
- Raskin, E. Mysterious disappearance of Leon (I mean Noel). (Ap '72)
- Reeves, J. How the moon began. (D '72)
- Ricciuti, E. R. Shelf pets. (Mr '72)
- Rieger, S. Animals in wood. (Je '72)
- Rimanelli, G. Poems make pictures. (N '72)
- Rinkoff, B. Guess what grasses do. (S '72)
- Rockwell, A., ed. El toro pinto and other songs in Spanish. (S '72)
- Rockwell, A. Paintbrush & peacepipe: the story of George Catlin. (Je '72)
- Rockwell, A. Toolbox. (Ag '72)
- Rodgers, M. Freaky Friday. (S '72)
- Rondière, P. Purity or pollution. (S '72)
- Roscoe, T. Lincoln assassination, April 14, 1865. (Je '71)
- Ross, P., ed. Young and female. (Ag '72)
- Rossetti, C. What is pink? (Ag '72)
- Rounds, G. Cowboy trade. (O '72)
- Rudeen, K. Jackie Robinson. (Mr '72)
- Ryan, C. D. Hildilid's night. (Ap '72)
- Sachs, M. Bears' house. (Ap '72)
- Scheffer, V. B. Little calf. (Ap '72)
- Schell, O. Modern China: the story of a revolution. (Ag '72)
- Schlee, A. Strangers. (Ag '72)
- Seidelman, J. E. Creating with papier-mache. (Je '72)
- Selsam, M. E. Carrot and other root vegetables. (My '72)
- Severn, B. Ellis Island: the immigrant years. (Ap '72)
- Shapiro, R. Whole world of cooking. (S '72)
- Shaw, E. Octopus. (Mr '72)
- Shecter, B. Someplace else. (My '72)
- Shepherd, W. Jungles. (D '72)
- Shepherd, W. Textiles. (D '72)
- Shulevitz, U. Oh what a noise! (Ag '72)
- Shuttlesworth, D. E. Story of rodents. (S '72)
- Silverstein, A. Code of life. (N '72)
- Slaughter, J. And it came to pass. (Mr '72)
- Snyder, L. L. Dreyfus affair. (S '72)
- Soldier, soldier, won't you marry me? (N '72)
- Solomon, L. Mississippi. (S '72)
- Sommer, E. Bread dough craft book. (D '72)
- Sperry, M. Scandinavian stories. (Mr '72)
- Spier, P. Gobble, growl, grunt. (My '72)
- Stearns, M. Louis XIV of France. (My '72)
- Steele, W. O. Wilderness tattoo. (My '72)
- Steig, W. Amos & Boris. (My '72)
- Steig, W. Dominic. (D '72)
- Stein, M. L. Blacks in communications. (D '72)
- Stephens, W. M. Killer whale. (S '72)
- Stepp, A. Story of radioactivity. (Je '72)
- Steptoe, J. Train ride. (My '72)
- Stern, P. Van D. Henry David Thoreau. (S '72)
- Stevens, L. A. Town that launders its water. (My '72)
- Stevenson, J. Montgomery bus boycott, December, 1955. (Ap '72)
- Sullivan, G. Complete book of autograph collecting. (S '72)
- Suskind, R. Sword of the prophet. (Je '72)
- Sutton, F. Big show. (S '72)
- Swiger, E. P. Mexico for kids. (S '72)
- Symons, G. Workhouse child. (Ap '72)
- Takashima, K. Child in prison camp. (S '72)
- Thompson, V. L. Hawaiian tales of heroes and champions. (Je '72)
- Tison, A. Adventures of the three colors. (Ap '72)
- Tomaino, S. F. Persephone: bringer of spring. (My '72)
- Travers, P. L. Friend monkey. (Je '72)
- Tudor, T. Corgville fair. (Mr '72)
- Uchida, Y. Journey to Topaz. (My '72)
- Ungerer, T. Beast of Monsieur Racine. (My '72)
- Van der Linde, P. Around the world in 80 dishes. (Ag '72)
- Vaughan, H. C. Hayes-Tilden election of 1876. (D '72)
- Viorst, J. Tenth good thing about Barney. (Ag '72)
- Waber, B. Nobody is perfect. (Ap '72)
- Walter, M. Make a bigger puddle, make a smaller worm. (O '72)
- Watt, T. How to play hockey. (Mr '72)
- Webster, D. Towers. (Ap '72)
- Weir, R. Man who built a city. (My '72)
- Werstein, I. Boxer rebellion. (D '72)
- White, L. B. So you want to be a magician. (D '72)
- White, R. Deathwatch. (D '72)
- Whitehead, R. Mother tree. (Ap '72)
- Wibberley, L. Flint's island. (D '72)
- Wild, R. Little pig and the big bad wolf. (O '72)
- Willard, C. Famous modern artists. (S '72)
- Wood, N. Hollering sun. (N '72)
- Woodberry, J. Come back, Peter. (Ag '72)
- Wuorio, E.-L. Code: Polonaise. (S '72)
- Yolen, J. Friend: the story of George Fox and the Quakers. (Ag '72)
- Young people's science encyclopedia, 20v [rev ed]. (My '72)
- Zemach, H. Penny a look. (Ap '72)
- Juvenile reform in the progressive era. Holl. J. M. (S '72)
- Kachina. Perlman, J. (N '72)
- Kachins (Tribe)
- Fellowes-Gordon, I. Magic war. (Ag '72)
- Kafka, Franz
- Bauer, J. Kafka and Prague. (Ap '72)
- Kafka and Prague. Bauer, J. (Ap '72)
- Kalahari village politics. Kuper, A. (My '72)

- Kalmykow, Andrew D.
Kalmykow, A. D. Memoirs of a Russian diplomat. (Ag '72)
- Kamba (Tribe)
Mbiti, J. S. New Testament eschatology in an African background. (Je '72)
- Kammerer, Paul
Koesler, A. Case of the midwife toad. (Je '72)
- Kane, John
Arkus, L. A. John Kane, painter. (Ap '72)
- Kansa Indians
History
Unrau, W. E. Kansa Indians. (Ag '72)
Kansa Indians. Unrau, W. E. (Ag '72)
- Kansas
History
Plummer, M. A. Frontier governor: Samuel J. Crawford of Kansas. (S '72)
Politics and government
Plummer, M. A. Frontier governor: Samuel J. Crawford of Kansas. (S '72)
- Kansas City, Missouri
Social conditions
Coleman, R. P. Social status in the city. (O '72)
- Kant, Immanuel
Collins, J. Interpreting modern philosophy. (S '72)
Jones, H. E. Kant's principle of personality. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Sherover, C. M. Heidegger, Kant & time. (Ag '72)
- Kantor, Alfred
Kantor, A. Book of Alfred Kantor. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Kant's principle of personality. Jones, H. E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Karamanov equations. Goldberg, M. (Ag '72)
- Karamzin, Nikolai Mikhailovich
Cross, A. G. N. M. Karamzin. (Ap '72)
- Karanga (African people)
Weinrich, A. K. H. Chiefs and councils in Rhodesia. (O '72)
- Karl Marx. Eng title of: Portrait of Marx. Blumenberg, W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Karloff, Boris
Underwood, P. Karloff. (D '72)
- Kate. Little, J. (Ap '72)
- Kathleen and Frank Isherwood, C. (Ap '72)
- Katyn. FitzGibbon, L. (Mr '72)
- Katyn Forest Massacre, 1940
FitzGibbon, L. Katyn. (Mr '72)
- Katz, Alex
Katz, A. Alex Katz. (Je '72)
- Kaufman, George Simon
Teichmann, H. George S. Kaufman: an intimate portrait. (S '72)
- Kaunda, Kenneth David, President Zambia
Juvenile literature
Polatnick, F. T. Zambia's president: Kenneth Kaunda. (N '72)
- Kaw Indians. See Kansa Indians
- Keats, John
Dickstein, M. Keats and his poetry. (Mr '72)
Hilton, T. Keats and his world. (Ap '72)
Matthews, G. M., ed. Keats: the critical heritage. (N '72)
Stillinger, J. Hoodwinking of Madeline, and other essays on Keats's poems. (O '72)
Volger, T. A. Preludes to vision. (Ap '72)
- Keats and his poetry. Dickstein, M. (Mr '72)
- Keats and his world. Hilton, T. (Ap '72)
- Keats: the critical heritage. Matthews, G. M., ed. (N '72)
- Keep it short & simple cookbook. Brent, R. H. (Ag '72)
- Kefauver, Estes
Gorman, J. B. Kefauver: a political biography. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Kefauver: a political biography. Gorman, J. B. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Kellogg, John Harvey
Schwarz, R. W. John Harvey Kellogg. M.D. (Mr '72)
- Kellogg, Paul Underwood
Chambers, C. A. Paul U. Kellogg and the Survey. (N '72)
- Kennedy, Edward Moore
David, L. Ted Kennedy: triumphs and tragedies. (S '72)
Hersh, B. Education of Edward Kennedy. (Ag '72)
- Honan, W. H. Ted Kennedy. (S '72)
- Kennedy, John Fitzgerald, President U.S.
Cousins, N. Improbable triumvirate. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- FitzSimons, L. Kennedy doctrine. (Je '72)
- Walton, R. J. Cold war and counterrevolution. (Ap '72)
- Kennedy, Robert Francis
Brown, S. G. Presidency on trial. (Ag '72)
- Navasky, V. S. Kennedy justice. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Kennedy, Ted. See Kennedy, E. M.
- Kennedy doctrine. FitzSimons, L. (Je '72)
- Kennedy family
Hersh, B. Education of Edward Kennedy. (Ag '72)
- Kennedy justice. Navasky, V. S. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Kennedy round and the future of American trade. Curtis, T. B. (D '72)
- Kennedy round in American trade policy. Evans, J. W. (N '72)
- Kentucky
History
Coleman, J. W., ed. Kentucky. (Je '72)
- Politics and government
Watlington, P. Partisan spirit. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Kentucky. Coleman, J. W., ed. (Je '72)
- Kenya
Hanley, G. Warriors and strangers. (O '72)
- Religion
Mbiti, J. S. New Testament eschatology in an African background. (Je '72)
- Keyes, Frances Parkinson (Wheeler)
Keyes, F. P. All flags flying. (Ag '72)
- Kgalagari (African people)
Kuper, A. Kalahari village politics. (My '72)
- Khanna study. Wyon, J. B. (Ap '72)
- Khrushchev, Nikita Sergeevich
Cousins, N. Improbable triumvirate. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Khyber, Pakistan
History
Warburton, R. Eighteen years in the Khyber, 1879-1898. (Ap '72)
- Kid. Seelye, J. (My '72)
- Klep, Otto Carl
Juvenile literature
Clements, B. From ice set free. (O '72)
- Kierkegaard, Søren Aabye
Bedell, G. C. Kierkegaard and Faulkner: modalities of existence. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Malantschuk, G. Kierkegaard's thought. (My '72)
- Shmuëli, A. Kierkegaard & consciousness. (Ag '72)
- Kierkegaard & consciousness. Shmuëli, A. (Ag '72)
- Kierkegaard and Faulkner: modalities of existence. Bedell, G. C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Kierkegaard's thought. Malantschuk, G. (My '72)
- "Kike!" Selzer, M., ed. (N '72)
- Killer for the Chairman. Hebden, M. (O '72)
- Killer whale. Stephens, W. M. (S '72)
- Killing of Richard the third. Farrington, R. (My '72)
- Kin, clan, raja, and rule. Fox, R. G. (My '72)
- Kind of loving. Scott, T. L. (Ap '72)
- Kindergarten
Soviet preschool education, v2. (Je '72)
- Directories
LaCrosse, E. R., ed. Early childhood education directory. (Ag '72)
- King, Martin Luther
Bishop, J. Days of Martin Luther King, Jr. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Frank, G. American death. (Je '72)
- Walton, H. Political philosophy of Martin Luther King, Jr. (S '72)
- Weisberg, H. Frame-up. (Ap '72)
- King Arthur and the knights of the Round Table. Fraser, A. (N '72)
- King makers. Lurie, L. (Ap '72)
- King who lost America. Lloyd, A. (Ag '72)
- Kings & captains. Moorman, C. (Ag '72)
- Kings, beasts and heroes. Jones, G. (N '72)
- King's minion. Erlanger, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- King's X. Houts, M. (N '72)
- Kinloch, George
Tennant, C. Radical Laird. (Ap '72)

Kinsale, Ireland*Siege

- Silke, J. J. Kinsale. (Mr '72)
 Kinsale, Silke, J. J. (Mr '72)
 Kinsey, Alfred Charles
 Christenson, C. V. Kinsey: a biography. (My '72)
 Pomeroy, W. B. Dr. Kinsey and the Institute for sex research. (Ag '72)

Kinship

- Barnes, J. A. Three styles in the study of kinship. (Ag '72)
 Farber, B. Kinship and class. (Mr '72)
 Needham, R., ed. Rethinking kinship and marriage. (D '72)

Kinship and class. Farber, B. (Mr '72)Kipling, Rudyard

- Gilbert, E. L. Good Kipling. (Ag '72)

Kirby-Smith, Edmund

- Kerby, R. L. Kirby Smith's confederacy. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Kirby Smith's confederacy. Kerby, R. L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)Klondike gold fields

- Blower, J. Gold rush. (D '72)

Knowledge, Sociology of

- Douglas, J. D. Understanding everyday life. (Mr '72)

Knowledge, Theory of

- Anglin, J. M. Growth of word meaning. (Je '72)

Butchvarov, P. Concept of knowledge (Ag '72)Chomsky, N. Problems of knowledge and freedom. (Mr '72)Foucault M. Archaeology of knowledge. (N '72)Itzkoff, S. W. Ernst Cassirer: scientific knowledge and the concept of man. (Ap '72)Kaplan, M. A. On historical and political knowing. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)Pears D. What is knowledge? (N '72)Pulaski, M. A. S. Understanding Piaget. (My '72)Wheeler, A. End of the modern age. (Ap '72)Knox, Philander Chase

- Scholes, W. V. Foreign policies of the Taft administration. (Mr '72)

Ko Ku Yao Lun

- Ts'ao, C. Chinese connoisseurship: the Ko Ku Yao Lun. (My '72)

Koalas*Stories

- Du Bois, W. P. Bear circus. (Mr '72)

Koffend, John B.

- Koffend, J. B. Letter to my wife. (Ag '72)

Kondūru, India*Social conditions

- Hiebert, P. G. Konduru. (S '72)

Konduru: structure and integration in a South Indian village. Hiebert, P. G. (S '72)Königsmark, Philip Christopher von, Count

- Jordan, R. Sophie Dorothea. (O '72)

Morand, P. Captive princess. (O '72)Konso (African people)

- Hallpike, C. R. Konso of Ethiopia. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Konso of Ethiopia. Hallpike, C. R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)Korea*Bibliography

- Koh, H. C., ed. Korea: an analytical guide to bibliographies. (My '72)

Korea (Democratic People's Republic)*Politics and government

- Kim, I. S. Juche! (My '72)
 Kim, I.-S. Revolution and socialist construction in Korea. (D '72)

Korea (Republic)*Armed Forces

- Kim, S.-J. Politics of military revolution in Korea. (My '72)

Politics and government

- Kim, S.-J. Politics of military revolution in Korea. (My '72)

Korea: an analytical guide to bibliographies.

- Koh, H. C., ed. (My '72)

Korean War, 1950-1953

- McGovern, J. To the Yalu. (S '72)

Kōtoku, Denjirō. See Kōtoku Shūsul (Denjiro)*Kōtoku Shūsul (Denjiro)

- Noteheffer, F. G. Kōtoku Shūsul. (Ap '72)

Kourion, Cyprus*Antiquities

- Mitford, T. B. Inscriptions of Kourion. (Ag '72)

Kpelle

- Cultural context of learning and thinking. (S '72)

Krents, Harold

- Krents, H. To race the wind. (O '72)

Krumnagel, Ustinov, P. (Je '72)*Krupskaya, Nadezhda Konstantinova (Mme Lenin)

- McNeal, R. H. Bride of the revolution. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Ku, Chieh-kang

- Schneider, L. A. Ku Chieh-kang and China's new history. (My '72)

Ku Chieh-kang and China's new history. Schneider, L. A. (My '72)Kyrios Christos. Bousset, W. (Mr '72)*LIST: Library and information science today. 1971. (Mr '72)Laban, Rudolf von

- Thornton, S. Laban's theory of movement. (My '72)

Laban's theory of movement. Thornton, S. (My '72)Labor and laboring classes*Cuba

- Bernardo, R. M. Theory of moral incentives in Cuba. (My '72)

France*History

- Stearns, P. N. Revolutionary syndicalism and French labor: a cause without rebels. (Ag '72)

Germany

- Kele, M. H. Nazis and workers. (D '72)

Great Britain

- Hindess, B. Decline of working-class politics. (O '72)

Horn, P. Joseph Arch (1826-1919). (O '72)Keating, P. J. Working classes in Victorian fiction. (Mr '72)Leventhal, F. M. Respectable radical: George Howell and Victorian working class politics. (My '72)History

- Briggs, A., ed. Essays in labour history, 1886-1923. (Je '72)

Philadelphia

- Rosenberg, G. S. Worker grows old. (My '72)

Russia

- Belnik, R. E. Labor and society in Tsarist Russia. (My '72)

Southern States

- Daniel, P. Shadow of slavery: peonage in the South, 1901-1969. (D '72)

History

- McLaurin, M. A. Paternalism and protest. (Ag '72)

United States

- Howe, I., ed. World of the blue-collar worker. (D '72)

Hudson, H. Black worker in the deep South. ((Ja '73) (1972 Annual)Lasson, K. Workers. (My '72)Leviton, S. A., ed. Blue-collar workers. (Ag '72)Mortimer, W. Organize! my life as a union man. (Mr '72)Sennett, R. Hidden injuries of class. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)Sexton, P. C. Blue collars and hard-hats. (Mr '72)Zambia

- Bates, R. H. Unions, parties, and political development. (S '72)

Labor and society in Tsarist Russia. Zelnik, R. E. (My '72)Labour and unemployment. Brown, K. D. (My '72)Labour economies of Japan and the United States. Evans, R. (O '72)Labour Government, 1964-1970: a personal record. Eng title of: A personal record: the Labour Government, 1964-1970. Wilson, H. (Ap '72)Labour in American politics. Vale, V. (Mr '72)

Labour party (Great Britain)

- Barker, R. Education and politics, 1900-1951: a study of the Labour party. (D '72)
 Brown, K. D. Labour and unemployment. (My '72)
 Cowling, M. Impact of labour, 1920-1924. (Mr '72)
 Hindess, B. Decline of working-class politics. (O '72)

Labor problems in Christian perspective. Redekop, J. H., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Labor supply

- Brown, S. C. Scientific manpower. (Ap '72)
 Evans, R. Labor economies of Japan and the United States. (O '72)
 Ginzberg, E. Manpower for development. (Mr '72)
 Wolfe, D. L. Uses of talent. (Mr '72)

Labor turnover

White, H. C. Chains of opportunity. (S '72)

Labor unions

- Briggs, A., ed. Essays in labour history, 1886-1923. (Je '72)
 Brown, K. D. Labour and unemployment. (My '72)
 Evans, R. Labor economies of Japan and the United States. (O '72)
 Herling, J. Right to challenge. (My '72)
 Hudson, H. Black worker in the deep South. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 McLaurin, M. A. Paternalism and protest. (Ag '72)
 Redekop, J. H., ed. Labor problems in Christian perspective. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Saxton, A. Indispensable enemy. (Mr '72)
 Stanley, D. T. Managing local government under union pressure. (My '72)
 Vale, V. Labour in American politics. (Mr '72)

History

- Goulden, J. C. Meany. (D '72)
 Mortimer, W. Organize! my life as a union man. (Mr '72)

Laboratory for liberty. Frakes, G. E. (Mr '72)

Labourers and landowners in southern Spain. Martinez-Alier, J. (S '72)

Lacandon Indians*Juvenile literature

- Price, C. Heirs of the ancient Maya. (O '72)
 Ladies of the avenue. Tierney, P. E. (My '72)

La Farge, Oliver

McNickle, D. Indian man. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Lafayette, Marie Joseph Paul Yves Roch Gilbert du Motier, Marquis de
 Loveland, A. C. Emblem of liberty. (S '72)

La Fontaine, Jean de*Contes et nouvelles en vers

Lapp, J. C. Esthetics of negligence: La Fontaine's contes. (Ag '72)

Laissez faire. See Industry and state

Lame Deer, seeker of visions. Lame Deer, J. F. (D '72)

Lancashire, England*Politics and government

Clarke, P. F. Lancashire and the new liberalism. (S '72)

Social conditions

Anderson, M. Family structure in nineteenth century Lancashire. (O '72)

Lancashire and the new liberalism. Clarke, P. F. (S '72)

Land

Clawson, M. Suburban land conversion in the United States: an economic and governmental process. (O '72)

Land and industry. Ward, J. T., ed. (S '72)

Land and landscape. Colvin, B. (Mr '72)

Land and the constitution in India. Merillat, H. C. L. (My '72)

Land beneath the sea. May, J. (Ag '72)

Land of Canaan. Asimov, I. (My '72)

Land reform. See Land tenure

Land tenure

Hellie, R. Enserfment and military change in Muscovy. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Isaacman, A. F. Mozambique. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Jacoby, E. H. Man and land. (D '72)

Martinez-Alier, J. Labourers and landowners in southern Spain. (S '72)

Merillat, H. C. L. Land and the constitution in India. (My '72)

Petrus, J. F. Cultivating revolution. (My '72)

Taylor, W. B. Landlord and peasant in colonial Oaxaco. (D '72)

Ward, J. T. ed. Land and industry. (S '72)

Guatemala

Melville, T. Guatemala: the politics of land ownership. (Ap '72)

Salvador

Browning, D. El Salvador: landscape and society. (Ap '72)

Venezuela

Powell, J. D. Political mobilization of the Venezuelan peasant. (Mr '72)

Landauer, Gustav

Maurer, C. B. Call to revolution. (O '72)

Landlocked man. Coppel, A. (D '72)

Landlord and peasant in colonial Oaxaco. Taylor, W. B. (D '72)

Landscape architecture

Colvin, B. Land and landscape. (Mr '72)

Jellicoe, S. Water. (Mr '72)

Newton, N. T. Design on the land. (Ap '72)

Landscape gardening

Crockett, J. U. Landscape gardening. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Landscape painting

Gussow, A. Sense of place. (S '72)

Howat, J. K. Hudson River and its painters. (O '72)

Valsecchi, M. Landscape painting of the 19th century. (My '72)

Landscape painting of the 19th century. Valsecchi, M. (My '72)

Landscapes and portraits. Keene, D. (My '72)

Lane, Fitz Hugh

Wilmerding, J. Fitz Hugh Lane. (Mr '72)

Langston Hughes: Black genius. (Je '72)

Langtry, Lillie

Gerson, N. B. Because I loved him. (Mr '72)

Language and ethnic relations in Canada. Lieberman, S. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Language and languages

Bloom, L. Language development. (Ap '72)

Bloomfield, L. Leonard Bloomfield anthology. (Je '72)

Ferguson, C. A. Language structure and language use. (Ap '72)

Fowler, R. Languages of literature. (S '72)

Goodman, P. Speaking and language: defence of poetry. (Ap '72)

Harris, Z. S. Papers in structural and transformational linguistics. (Mr '72)

Hope, T. E. Lexical borrowing in the Romance languages. 2v. (O '72)

Laird, C. Language in America. (D '72)

Lieberman, S. Language and ethnic relations in Canada. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Linguistics at large. (O '72)

Palmatier, R. A. Glossary for English transformational grammar. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Social anthropology and language. (My '72)

Steiner, G. Extraterritorial. (1971, 1972 Annual)

See also

Sociolinguistics

Philosophy

Chomsky, N. Problems of knowledge and freedom. (Mr '72)

Heidegger, M. Poetry, language, thought. (My '72)

Language development. Bloom, L. (Ap '72)

Language, existence & God. Cell, E. (O '72)

Language in America. Laird, C. (D '72)

Language of film. Whitaker, R. (D '72)

Language of sociology. Lachenmeyer, C. W. (Ag '72)

Language of space. Turnill, R. (Ap '72)

Language of trust. Holmes, D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Language structure and language use. Ferguson, C. A. (Ap '72)

Languages of literature. Fowler, R. (S '72)

Laos

Foreign relations

Dommen, A. J. Conflict in Laos [rev ed]. (Ag '72)

United States

Stevenson, C. A. End of nowhere. (Ag '72)

Politics and government

Dommen, A. J. Conflict in Laos [rev ed]. (Ag '72)

Laporte, Pierre

Moore, B. Revolution script. (Mr '72)

Lardner, Ring Wilmer

Geismar, M. Ring Lardner and the portrait of folly. (N '72)

Last checkpoint. Quigley, J. (Mr '72)

- Last Elizabethan. Fecher, C. (O '72)
 Last face: Emily Dickinson's manuscripts. Wylder, E. (S '72)
 Last liberal governments: unfinished business 1911-1914. Rowland, P. (O '72)
 Last respects. Weidman, J. (My '72)
 Last whole earth catalog. (1972 Annual)
 Last year of Leo Tolstoy. Bulgakov, V. F. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Late cenozoic glacial ages. (O '72)
 Late great creature. Brower, B. (My '72)
 Late John Marquand. Birmingham, S. (S '72)
 Later style of Henry James. Chatman, S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Lathe of heaven. Le Guin, U. K. (Ap '72)
Latin America
 Clissold, S. Latin America: new world, third world. (D '72)

Bibliography

- Chilcote, R. H. Revolution and structural change in Latin America, 2v. (Mr '72)

Economic conditions

- External financing for Latin American development. (Mr '72)
 Industrialization in a Latin American common market. (D '72)
 Wolf, E. R. Human condition in Latin America. (N '72)

Economic policy

- Grunwald, J. Latin American economic integration and U.S. policy. (D '72)

Foreign relations

United States

- Tulchin, J. S. Aftermath of war. (S '72)
 Walton, R. J. United States and Latin America. (Ag '72)

Industries

- Industrialization in a Latin American common market. (D '72)

Politics

- Turner, F. C. Catholicism and political development in Latin America. (Ap '72)
 Wolf, E. R. Human condition in Latin America. (N '72)

Population

- Ongoing evolution of Latin American populations. (N '72)

Relations (general) with the United States

- Green, D. Containment of Latin America. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Social conditions

- Social anthropology of Latin America. (Mr '72)
 Wolf, E. R. Human condition in Latin America. (N '72)
 Latin America: new world, third world. Clissold, S. (D '72)
 Latin American economic integration and U.S. policy. Grunwald, J. (D '72)
 Latin American university students. Liebman, A. (D '72)
 Latin American urbanization: a guide to the literature, organizations and personnel. Sable, M. H. (My '72)
 Latin Americans in the United States. Alford, H. J. Proud peoples. (D '72)
Latin poetry

Collections

- Stock, B. Medieval Latin lyrics. (Ag '72)

History and criticism

- Wetherbee, W. Platonism and poetry in the twelfth century. (D '72)
 Laughing and crying with Little League. Broadus, C. (Je '72)
 Laughter & despair: readings in ten novels of the Victorian era. Knoepfelmacher, U. C. (S '72)
 Laver, Rodney George
 Laver, R. Education of a tennis player. (Mr '72)

Law

- Bentham, J. Of laws in general. (Ap '72)
 Bozeman, A. B. Future of law in a multicultural world. (Ap '72)
 Rosenberg, J. M. Jerome Frank. (Ag '72)

History

- Diamond, A. S. Primitive law, past and present. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Philosophy

- Hobbes, T. Dialogue between a philosopher and a student of the common laws of England. (Je '72)
 Summers, R. S., ed. More essays in legal philosophy. (D '72)

Athens

- Harrison, A. R. W. Law of Athens, v2. (S '72)

China (People's Republic of China)

- Meijer, M. J. Marriage law and policy in the Chinese People's Republic. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Great Britain

- Gardner, R. F. R. Abortion: the personal dilemma. (D '72)
 Hale, M. History of the common law of England. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Jones, W. J. Politics and the bench. (N '72)
 Lambert, S. Bills and acts. (My '72)

Rome

- Garnsey, P. Social status and legal privilege in the Roman empire. (Mr '72)
 Watson, A. Law of succession in the later Roman republic. (O '72)

United States

- Katz, S. W. When parents fail. (N '72)
 Kittrie, N. N. Right to be different. (Ap '72)
 Lefcourt, R., ed. Law against the people. (My '72)
Law, Cherokee
 Reid, J. P. Law of blood. (Je '72)
Law, Criminal. See Criminal law
Law, Jewish
 Maimonides. Maimonides reader. (N '72)
Law, Maritime. See Maritime law
Law, Primitive
 Diamond, A. S. Primitive law, past and present. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Law against the people. Lefcourt, R., ed. (My '72)
 Law and explanation. Achinstein, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Law and order in grade 6-E. Marshall, K. (N '72)
 Law and order: modern criminals. See Short, J. F., ed. Modern criminals. (Je '72)
 Law and order, police encounters. Lipsky, M., comp. (My '72)
Law enforcement
 Ahern, J. F. Police in trouble. (S '72)
 Myers, J. M. Border wardens. (Ap '72)
 Reiss, A. J. Police and the public. (O '72)
Law of Athens, v2. Harrison, A. R. W. (S '72)
 Law of blood. Reid, J. P. (Je '72)
 Law of succession in the later Roman republic. Watson, A. (O '72)
Law reform
 Rosenblatt, S. Justice denied. (My '72)
 Tullock, G. Logic of the law. (Ag '72)
Lawns
 Crockett, J. U. Lawns and ground covers. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Lawns and ground covers. Crockett, J. U. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Lawrence, David Herbert
 Aldritt, K. Visual imagination of D. H. Lawrence. (Mr '72)
 Bedient, C. Architects of the self. (N '72)
 Delavenay, E. D. H. Lawrence, the man and his work: the formative years: 1885-1919. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Foster, J. D. H. Lawrence in Taos. (Je '72)
 Miko, S. J. Toward Women in love. (Ag '72)
 Stoll, J. E. Novels of D. H. Lawrence. (O '72)
 Swigg, R. Lawrence, Hardy and American literature. (S '72)
 Lawrence, Hardy, and American literature. Swigg, R. (S '72)
 Lawrence M. Judd & Hawaii. Judd, L. M. (Mr '72)
Lawyers
 Goulden, J. C. Superlawyers. (Ag '72)
 Lefcourt, R., ed. Law against the people. (My '72)
 Leader lost. McDermott, G. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Leadership
 Ereen, T. H. Character of the good ruler. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Fraser, D., ed. African art & leadership. (O '72)
 Zonis, M. Political elite of Iran. (O '72)
 Leaf storm, and other stories. García Marquez, G. (Ag '72)

- Learning, Psychology of
Cultural context of learning and thinking. (S '72)
Miller, N. E. Neal E. Miller: selected papers. (Je '72)
Nyberg, D. Tough and tender learning. (Mr '72)
Rossman, M. On learning and social change. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Learning and scholarship
Foucault, M. Archaeology of knowledge. (N '72)
- Learning to be Chinese: the political socialization of children in Taiwan. Wilson, R. W. (Mr '72)
- Leave it to the spirit. Killinger, J. (Mr '72)
- Lecouvreur, Adrienne
Richtman, J. Adrienne Lecouvreur: the actress and the age. (O '72)
- Lectures 1795 on politics and religion; v 1 of Collected works of Samuel Taylor Coleridge. Coleridge, S. T. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Ledge, Schweitzer, G. (Ag '72)
- Lee, George Washington
Tucker, D. M. Lieutenant Lee of Beale Street. (Ag '72)
- Leeds, England
Commerce
Wilson, R. G. Gentlemen merchants. (My '72)
- Left (Political science). See Right and left (Political science)
- Legacy of glory. Glover, M. (Ag '72)
- Legacy of Max Weber. Lachmann, L. M. (O '72)
- Legacy of Van Wyck Brooks. Wasserstrom, W. (S '72)
- Legal limits on the use of chemical and biological weapons. Thomas, A. Van W. (Ap '72)
- Legal profession. See Lawyers
- Legend of Roland in the middle ages, 2v. Lejeune, R. (Ap '72)
- Legend of the Grand Inquisitor, Dostoevsky and the. Rozanov, V. (O '72)
- Legend of the orange princess. Gobhai, M. (N '72)
- Legends
Juvenile literature
Brown, M., ed. Cavalcade of sea legends. (S '72)
Africa, West
Juvenile literature
Jablow, A. Gassire's lute. (Je '72)
Great Britain
Briggs, K. M. Dictionary of British folk-tales in the English language, pt. B, 2v. (S '72)
- Legends, Jewish
Wiesel, E. Souls on fire. (My '72)
- Legislation
Lambert, S. Bills and acts. (My '72)
Swinfen, D. B. Imperial control of colonial legislation, 1813-1865. (D '72)
- Legislative bodies
Kornberg, A., ed. Legislatures in developmental perspective. (Je '72)
- Legislative body. Hensley, J. L. (D '72)
- Legislatures in developmental perspective. Kornberg, A., ed. (Je '72)
- Leipzig, Battle of, 1813
Brett-James, A., ed. & tr. Europe against Napoleon. (Ap '72)
- Leisure
Jacobs, G., ed. Participant observer. (Mr '72)
- Leith, Charles Kenneth
McGrath, S. W. Charles Kenneth Leith. (S '72)
- L'Engle, Madeleine
L'Engle, M. Circle of quiet. (My '72)
- Lenin, Vladimir Il'ich
Beilenson, L. W. Power through subversion. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Lukács, G. Lenin: a study on the unity of his thought. (O '72)
Morgan, M. C. Lenin. (Ag '72)
Trotsky, L. Young Lenin. (N '72)
- Lenin: a study on the unity of his thought. Lukács, G. (O '72)
- Leningrad
Siege, 1941-1944
Personal narratives
Inber, V. Leningrad diary. (O '72)
Leningrad diary. Inber, V. (O '72)
- Lennon, John
Lennon, J. Lennon remembers. (Ap '72)
Lennon remembers. Lennon, J. (Ap '72)
- Lens and shutter. Weiss, H. (O '72)
- Leo X (Giovanni de' Medici) Pope
Mee, C. L. White robe, black robe. (Ag '72)
- Leo the late bloomer. Kraus, R. (Je '72)
- Leonard Bloomfield anthology. Bloomfield, L. (Je '72)
- Leonardo da Vinci
Leonardo da Vinci. Fantastic tales, strange animals, riddles, jests, and prophecies of Leonardo da Vinci. (Ag '72)
Leonardo da Vinci. Leonardo da Vinci. (My '72)
Stites, R. S. Sublimations of Leonardo da Vinci. (S '72)
- Lepenski Vir site, Serbia
Srejović, D. Europe's first monumental sculpture: new discoveries at Lepenski Vir. (D '72)
- Lesbianism
Bengis, I. Combat in the erogenous zone. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
See also
Homosexuality
- Lesser lives. See Johnson, D. True history of the first Mrs. Meredith and other lesser lives. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Let history judge. Medvedev, R. A. (Mr '72)
- Let your motto be resistance. Ofari, E. (D '72)
- Let's start praying again. Basset, B. (Ag '72)
- Letter to my wife. Koffend, J. B. (Ag '72)
- Letterbook of Eliza Lucas Pinckney, 1739-1762. Pinckney, E. L. (D '72)
- Lettering
Johnston, E. Formal penmanship and other papers. (N '72)
- Letters
Ben-Gurion, D. Letters to Paula. (D '72)
Fitzgerald, F. S. As ever, Scott Fitz—. (O '72)
Fitzgerald, F. S. K. Dear Scott/Dear Max. (Ap '72)
Goodman, J. Posts-mortem. (Ag '72)
Myers, R. M., ed. Children of pride. (Ag '72)
Thomson, E. Selections from the scientific correspondence of Elihu Thomson. (Ag '72)
Vorpahl, B. M. My dear Wister. (N '72)
- Letters and diaries of Oskar Schlemmer. Schlemmer, O. (D '72)
- Letters and papers from prison [enl ed]. Bonhoeffer, D. (My '72)
- Letters from Attica. Melville, S. (My '72)
- Letters of A. E. Housman. Housman, A. E. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Letters of Giuseppe Verdi. Verdi, G. (My '72)
- Letters of Horatio Greenough, American sculptor. Greenough, H. (N '72)
- Letters of Lewis Mumford and Frederic J. Osborn. Mumford, L. (Je '72)
- Letters of Louis D. Brandeis, v 1. Brandeis, L. D. (Mr '72)
- Letters to Molly. Synge, J. M. (Mr '72)
- Letters to Paula. Ben-Gurion, D. (D '72)
- Levanter. Ambler, E. (O '72)
- Lewis-Wadham's School, Lewis, New York
Snitzer, H. Today is for children. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Lexical borrowing in the Romance languages, 2v. Hope, T. E. (O '72)
- Liang, Ch'i-ch'ao
Chang, H. Liang Ch'i-ch'ao and intellectual transition in China, 1890-1907. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Liang Ch'i-ch'ao and intellectual transition in China, 1890-1907. Chang, H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Libanius
Liebeschuetz, J. H. G. Antioch. (S '72)
- Liberal party (Great Britain)
Douglas, R. History of the Liberal party, 1895-1970. (My '72)
Morgan, K. O. Age of Lloyd George. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Rowland, P. Last liberal governments: unfinished business 1911-1914. (O '72)
- History
Hamer, D. A. Liberal politics in the age of Gladstone, and Rosebery. (O '72)
- Liberal politics in the age of Gladstone and Rosebery. Hamer, D. A. (O '72)
- Liberal tradition in European thought. Sidor-sky, D., ed. (My '72)
- Liberalism
Lawson, R. A. Failure of independent liberalism, 1930-1941. (Mr '72)
Sidor-sky, D., ed. Liberal tradition in European thought. (My '72)
- Liberating gods. Anderson, J. Q. (Mr '72)

- Liberation, development, and salvation. Laur-
entin, R. (O '72)
- Libertarianism. Hospers, J. (D '72)
- Liberty
Hospers, J. Libertarianism. (D '72)
Kaplan, M. A. On historical and political knowing. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual) Medvedev, Z. A. Question of madness. (Ag
'72) (1971 Annual)
- Librarians' glossary of terms used in librarianship and the book crafts and reference book [3d rev ed]. Harrod, L. M. (Ag '72)
- Libraries
Katz, B., ed. Library lit.—the best of 1970.
(Ap '72)
- Automation
Hayes, R. M. *Handbook of data processing
for libraries.* (Mr '72)
Kaplan, L., comp. Reader in library services and the computer. (Ap '72)
- Electronic data processing
Hayes, R. M. *Handbook of data processing
for libraries.* (Mr '72)
- Reference service
Crowley, T. Information service in public libraries: two studies. (D '72)
Galvin, T. J. Current problems in reference service. (Je '72)
- Technical services
See Processing (Libraries)
- Asia
Chandler, G. Libraries in the East. (Ja '73)
(1972 Annual)
- Canada
Campbell, H. C. Canadian libraries [2d ed
rev & enl]. (Je '72)
- England
Ellis, A. Library services for young people in England and Wales, 1830-1970. (Ag '72)
- France
Ferguson, J. Libraries in France. (Mr '72)
- Great Britain
Directories
Walker, G., ed. *Directory of libraries and
special collections on Eastern Europe and
the U.S.S.R.* (My '72)
- Russia
Libraries in the USSR. (Ag '72)
- Wales
Ellis, A. Library services for young people in England and Wales, 1830-1970. (Ag '72)
- Libraries, Children's
Ellis, A. *Library services for young people in
England and Wales, 1830-1970.* (Ag '72)
- Libraries, College and university
Allen, K. W. Use of community college libraries. (Je '72)
Dougherty, R. M. Centralized processing for academic libraries. (O '72)
Langmead, S. New library design. (O '72)
Plate, K. H. Management personnel in libraries. (Je '72)
Rogers, R. D. University library administration. (O '72)
- Libraries, Special
Directories
Walker, G., ed. *Directory of libraries and
special collections on Eastern Europe and
the U.S.S.R.* (My '72)
- Libraries, Young adults'
Ellis, A. *Library services for young people in
England and Wales, 1830-1970.* (Ag '72)
- Libraries in France. Ferguson, J. (Mr '72)
- Libraries in the East. Chandler, G. (Ja '73)
(1972 Annual)
- Libraries in the USSR. (Ag '72)
- Library administration
Kemper, R. E. Library management. (D '72)
Rogers, R. D. University library administration. (O '72)
Sullivan, P. Problems in school media management. (Ag '72)
- Library architecture
Langmead, S. New library design. (O '72)
- Library buildings. See Library architecture
- Library cooperation
*Conference on interlibrary communication
and information networks.* Warrenton,
Virginia, 1970. Proceedings of the Conference. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Gregory, R. W. Public libraries in cooperative systems. (O '72)

- Library education
Vann, S. K. Williamson reports. (O '72)
Williamson reports of 1921 and 1923, 2v in 1.
(D '72)
- Curricula
Education for librarianship: the design of the curriculum of library schools. (N '72)
- Library lit.—the best of 1970. Katz, B., ed. (Ap
'72)
- Library management. Kemper, R. E. (D '72)
- Library schools
Vann, S. K. Williamson reports. (O '72)
Williamson reports of 1921 and 1923, 2v in 1.
(D '72)
- Library science
*Conference on interlibrary communication
and information networks.* Warrenton,
Virginia, 1970. Proceedings of the Conference. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Katz, B., ed. Library lit.—the best of 1970.
(Ap '72)
- Research librarianship. (O '72)
- Dictionaries
Harrod, L. M. Librarians' glossary of terms used in librarianship and the book crafts and reference book [3d rev ed]. (Ag '72)
- Research
LIST: Library and information science today.
1971. (Mr '72)
Library services for young people in England and Wales, 1830-1970. Ellis, A. (Ag '72)
- Librettos
Engel, L. Words with music. (Ag '72)
- Lichens
Bland, J. H. Forests of Lilliput. (My '72)
- Lieder of Richard Strauss. Jefferson, A. (S '72)
- Lieder of Schumann. Walsh, S. (Ap '72)
- Lies of art. Felstiner, J. (O '72)
- Lieutenant Lee of Beale Street. Tucker, D. M.
(Ag '72)
- Life
Oraison, M. Chance and life. (Ja '73) (1972
Annual)
- Origin
Cairns-Smith, A. G. Life puzzle. (N '72)
Hein, H. S. On the nature and origin of life.
(Ag '72)
- Life (Biology)
Vishniac, R. Building blocks of life. (My '72)
- Life and complete work of Francisco Goya.
Gassier, P. (Mr '72)
- Life & death of Mozart. Levey, M. (Mr '72)
- Life and times of Elizabeth I. Williams, N.
(O '72)
- Life and work of Wilhelm Reich. Cattier, M.
(Ag '72)
- Life guard. Wain, J. (Ag '72)
- Life in revolutionary France. Lewis, G. (N
'72)
- Life insurance. See Insurance, Life
- Life insurance and the public interest. Joseph-
son, H. D. (My '72)
- Life of a useless man. Gorki, M. (Mr '72)
- Life of Benjamin Banneker. Bedini, S. A. (My '72)
- Life of Brunelleschi. Manetti, A. di. T. (S '72)
- Life of Fulke Greville, first Lord Brooke. Reb-
holz, R. A. (O '72)
- Life of G. D. H. Cole. Cole, M. (Ag '72)
- Life of Ibsen. Koht, H. (Ap '72)
- Life of Savage. Johnson, S. (Ag '72)
- Life of William Blake [new ed]. Wilson, M.
(S '72)
- Life on a lost continent. Day, B. (My '72)
- Life on film. Astor, M. (Ap '72)
- Life on other planets
Däniken, E. von. Gods from outer space. (Ap
'72)
- Life process. Butler, J. A. V. (D '72)
- Life puzzle. Cairns-Smith, A. G. (N '72)
- Life support systems (Space environment)
Mallan, L. Suiting up for space. (Mr '72)
- Light
Henderson, S. T. Daylight and its spectrum.
(My '72)
Hewish, A., ed. Seeing beyond the visible.
(Ap '72)
- Light of common day. Cady, E. H. (Ag '72)
- Light-years. Rezvani. (Ap '72)
- Like a great river. Stroup, H. (N '72)
- Like the lion's tooth. Kellogg, M. (Ja '73)
(1972 Annual)
- Likely lad. Avery, G. (Je '72)
- Lilacs out of the dead land. Billington, R.
(Je '72)

Lillie, Beatrice

- Lillie, B. Every other inch a lady. (Je '72)
 Limbo. Silver, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Limited elite. Rosenthal, D. B. (O '72)
 Limits of power. Kolko, J. (Ag '72)

Lincoln, Abraham, President U.S.

- Davis, M. Image of Lincoln in the South. (My '72)
 Mitgang, H., ed. Lincoln's long shadow, 3v. (D '72)

Assassination*Juvenile literature

- Roscoe, T. Lincoln assassination, April 14, 1865. (Je '72)
 Lincoln, Mary (Todd)
 Lincoln, M. T. Mary Todd Lincoln. (N '72)
 Lincoln assassination, April 14, 1865. Roscoe, T. (Je '72)
 Lincoln library of essential information, 2v [34th ed.]. (Ag '72)
 Lincoln's long shadow, 3v. Mitgang, H., ed. (D '72)

Lind, Jakob

- Lind, J. Numbers. (Ag '72)

Lindbergh, Anne Morrow

- Lindbergh, A. M. Bring me a unicorn. (My '72)

Lindner, Richard

- Lindner, R. Lindner. (Je '72)

Lindsey, Benjamin Barr

- Larsen, C. Good fight. (My '72)

Ling, James Joseph

- Brown, S. H. Ling. (N '72)

Ling, Ken

- Ling, K. Revenge of heaven: journal of a young Chinese. (My '72)

Linguistic analysis. See Analysis (Philosophy)*Linguistics. See Language and languages

- Linguistics at large. (O '72)

Linnaeus, Carl. See Linné C. von*Linné, Carl von

- Larson, J. L. Reason and experience. (Je '72)
 Lionheads. Bunting, J. (Ag '72)

Lions

- Chipperfield, M. Lions on the lawn. (O '72)

Lions of Longleat

- Chipperfield, M. Lions on the lawn. (O '72)

- Lions on the lawn. Chipperfield, M. (O '72)

Lippmann, Walter

- Luskin, J. Lippmann, liberty, and the press. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Lippmann, liberty, and the press. Luskin, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Liquor problem

- Connor, W. D. Deviance in Soviet society. (O '72)

Drinking man. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Grad, F. P. Alcoholism and the law. (Ap '72)
 Harrison, B. Drink and the Victorians. (My '72)

Liquor traffic

- Carr, J. Second oldest profession. (N '72)

Lisbon*Description

- Wright, D. Lisbon. (O '72)

- Listen for the whisperer. Whitney, P. A. (O '72)

Literary agents

- Reynolds, P. R. Middle man. (Ap '72)

- Literary decade. Churchill, A. (O '72)

- Literary works of Matthew Prior, 2v [2d ed.]. Prior, M. (D '72)

Literature

- Mayer, H. Steppenwolf and Everyman. (Mr '72)

Dictionaries

- Brewer's Dictionary of phrase and fable [Centenary ed.]. (Ap '72)

History and criticism

- Adams, H., ed. Critical theory since Plato. (N '72)

- De Man, P. Blindness and insight. (Ap '72)

- Dyson, A. E. Between two worlds. (D '72)

- Grossman, M. L. Dada. (Mr '72)

- Guillén, C. Literature as system. (Ap '72)

- Moorman, C. Kings & captains. (Ag '72)

- Oates, J. C. Edge of impossibility: tragic forms in literature. (S '72)

- Prescott, P. S. Soundings. (S '72)

- Price, R. Things themselves. (S '72)

- Steiner, G. Extraterritorial. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Warnke, F. J. Versions of baroque. (N '72)

Philosophy

- Green, M. Cities of light and sons of the morning. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Study and teaching

- Kampf, L., ed. Politics of literature. (Ag '72)
 Literature, Medieval

History and criticism

- Medieval literature and folklore studies. (Mr '72)

- Muscatine, C. Poetry and crisis in the age of Chaucer. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Literature, Modern*History and criticism

- Gross, H. Contrived corridor. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Literature and history

- Morris, W. Toward ■ new historicism. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Literature and national identity. Debreczeny, P., ed. (My '72)

Literature and society

- Bradbury, M. Social context of modern English literature. (S '72)

- Literature as system. Guillén, C. (Ap '72)

- Literature of ancient Egypt. Simpson, W. K., ed. (D '72)

- Literature of the second self. Keppler, C. F. (D '72)

- Literature of the Soviet peoples. Jünger, H., ed. (My '72)

Lithography

- Antreasian, G. Z. Tamarind book of lithography: art & techniques. (Ap '72)

- Lithuanian Hasidism. Rabinowitsch, W. Z. (Ag '72)

Little, Malcolm. See Malcolm X*Little Big Horn, Battle of the, 1876*Juvenile literature

- Lampman, E. S. Once upon the Little Big Horn. (Ap '72)

- Little calf. Scheffer, V. B. (Ap '72)

Little Gidding community

- Conversations at Little Gidding. (Ag '72)

Little League baseball

- Broadus, C. Laughing and crying with Little League. (Je '72)

- Little pig and the big bad wolf. Wild, R. (O '72)

Liturgies

- Kucharek, C. Byzantine-Slav liturgy of St. John Chrysostom. (Je '72)

- Lives through time. Block, J. (Ag '72)

- Living cell. Gillie, O. (Mr '72)

- Living is loving. Hegeler, I. (D '72)

Living Theatre. New York (City)

- Malina, J. Enormous despair. (S '72)

- Living underwater. Hussain, F. (Ap '72)

- Living well is the best revenge. Tomkins, C. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Living with the Communists. Trevelyan, H. (S '72)

Livingston, Peter Van Rensselaer

- Livingston, P. Van R. How to cook a rogue elephant. (Ag '72)

Livy (Titus Livius)

- Dorey, T. A., ed. Livy. (Ap '72)

- Lizard in the cup. Dickinson, P. (Ag '72)

- Lloyd George of Dwyfor, David Lloyd George, 1st Earl

- Hazlehurst, C. Politicians at war: July 1914 to May 1915. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Morgan, K. O. Age of Lloyd George. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Stevenson, F. Lloyd George. (Ap '72)

- Lloyd George of Dwyfor, Frances (Stevenson), Countess

- Stevenson, F. Lloyd George. (Ap '72)

Loaded gun. Ryck, F. (S '72)*Lobbying

- Lieber, R. J. British politics and European unity. (My '72)

- Nader, R., ed. Whistle blowing. (D '72)

- Smith, J. G., ed. Political brokers. (Je '72)

- Winter-Berger, R. N. Washington pay-off. (O '72)

Local government

- Stanley, D. T. Managing local government under union pressure. (My '72)

Locusts*Control

- Baron, S. Desert locust. (Je '72)

- Log of the S.S. The Mrs Unguentine. Crawford, S. G. (D '72)

Logic*History

- Howell, W. S. Eighteenth-century British logic and rhetoric. (N '72)

- Logic & art. (O '72)
 Logic of the law. Tullock, G. (Ag '72)
 Lois, George
 Lois, G. George, be careful. (D '72)
 Lombardi, Vincent Thomas
 Wiebusch, J., ed. Lombardi. (Ag '72)
 Lombardi, Wiebusch, J., ed. (Ag '72)
London
     Antiquities
     Harrison, M. London that was Rome. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
     Description
     Goddard, D. Blimey! another book about London. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
     Stow, J. Survey of London. (Mr '72)
     Economic conditions
     Jones, G. S. Outcast London. (Je '72)
     Historic houses, etc.
     Hobhouse, H. Lost London. (Ag '72)
     History
     Panter-Downes, M. London war notes, 1939-1945. (1971, 1972 Annual)
     Sheppard, F. London, 1808-1870: the infernal wen. (D '72)
     Stow, J. Survey of London. (Mr '72)
     Police
     Rumbelow, D. I spy blue. (Je '72)
     Poor
     Jones, G. S. Outcast London. (Je '72)
     Riots
     Rudé, G. Paris and London in the eighteenth century. (Ag '72)
     Social conditions
     Jones, G. S. Outcast London. (Je '72)
     Rudé, G. Paris and London in the eighteenth century. (Ag '72)
     Social life and customs
     Sala, G. A. H. Twice around the clock. (My '72)
     London. Boar's Head Theatre. See Boar's Head Theatre, London
     London. Sadler's Wells Theatre. See Sadler's Wells Theatre, London
     London. Stock exchange
     Briston, R. J. Stock Exchange and investment analysis. (My '72)
     London, 1808-1870: the infernal wen. Sheppard, F. (D '72)
     London journal of General Raymond E. Lee, 1940-1945. Lee, R. E. (Ap '72)
     London observer. Eng title of: London journal of General Raymond E. Lee, 1940-1941. Lee, R. E. (Ap '72)
     London School of Economics and Political Science
     Students
     Students in conflict. (Ap '72)
     London that was Rome. Harrison, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
     London Times history of our times. Cunliffe, M., ed. (Je '72)
     London war notes, 1939-1945. Panter-Downes, M. (1971, 1972 Annual)
     Lonergan, Bernard Joseph Francis
     International Lonergan congress, 1970. Foundations of theology. (O '72)
     Lonergan, Wayne
     Perry, H. D. Chair for Wayne Lonergan. (My '72)
     Long day in November. Gaines, E. J. (Je '72)
     Long division. Roiphe, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
     Long march. Wilson, D. (My '72)
     Long march, 1934-1935. Goldston, R. (Ap '72)
     Long patrol. Mailer, N. (S '72)
     Long revolution. Snow, B. (D '72)
     Long silence. Eng title of: Auprès de ma blonde. Freeling, N. (O '72)
     Long walk at San Francisco State, and other essays. Boyle, K. (S '72)
     Long way from Verona. Gardam, J. (Ag '72)
     Longest voyage. Silverberg, R. (N '72)
Longus
     Daphnis and Chloe
     McCulloh, W. E. Longus. (Je '72)
     Longus. McCulloh, W. E. (Je '72)
     Look what I can do. Aruego, J. (Ap '72)
     Lord and peasant in Peru. Tullis, F. L. (Ap '72)
     Lord Carlingford's journal: reflections of a cabinet minister, 1885. Carlingford, Lord. (S '72)
     Lord Morley's Tryumphes of Fraunces Petrarcke. Petrarch, F. (D '72)
     Lord Salisbury on politics. Salisbury, Lord. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
     Lords of Italy. Prescott, O. (D '72)
     Lordship of Ireland in the middle ages. Lydon, J. F. (D '72)
     Lorimer, William
     Tarr, J. A. Study in boss politics: William Lorimer of Chicago. (Ag '72)
Los Angeles
     Williams, L. Up the city of angels. (Ap '72)
     Description
     Banham, R. Los Angeles: the architecture of four ecologies. (Mr '72)
     Poor
     Marshall, D. R. Politics of participation in poverty. (N '72)
     Los Angeles: the architecture of four ecologies. Banham, R. (Mr '72)
     Lost America. Greiff, C. M., ed. (Mr '72)
     Lost London. Hobhouse, H. (Ag '72)
     Lotze, Rudolf Hermann
     Santayana, G. Lotze's system of philosophy. (Mr '72)
     Lotze's system of philosophy. Santayana, G. (Mr '72)
     Louis XIV, King of France
     Louis XIV, King of France and of Navarre. Mémoires for the instruction of the Dauphin. (1971, 1972 Annual)
     Rule, J. C., ed. Louis XIV and the craft of kingship. (Ag '72)
     Juvenile literature
     Stearns, M. Louis XIV of France. (My '72)
     Louis, Joe
     Nagler, B. Brown bomber. (Ag '72)
     Louis Agassiz Fuertes & the singular beauty of birds. Fuertes, L. A. (Mr '72)
     Louis Armstrong—a self portrait. Armstrong, L. (Ag '72)
     Louis C. Tiffany's glass-bronzes-lamps. Koch, R. (My '72)
     Louis XIV and the craft of kingship. Rule, J. C., ed. (Ag '72)
     Louis XIV of France. Stearns, M. (My '72)
     Lourmarin, France
     Sheppard, T. F. Lourmarin in the eighteenth century. (My '72)
     Lourmarin in the eighteenth century. Sheppard, T. F. (My '72)
Love
     Otto, H. A. Love today. (Ag '72)
Love (Theology)
     Furnish, V. P. Love command in the New Testament. (My '72)
     Lubac, H. de. Eternal feminine. (Ap '72)
     Love affair—a Venetian journal. Morris, W. (D '72)
     Love & fame. Berryman, J. (1971, 1972 Annual)
     Love and hate. Eibl-Eibesfeldt, I. (My '72)
     Love and marriage. Avery, C. E. (Ap '72)
     Love between women. Wolff, C. (Je '72)
     Love command in the New Testament. Furnish, V. P. (My '72)
     Love of possession is a disease with them. Hayden, T. (S '72)
     Love, time & butter. Hyde, J. (Ap '72)
     Love today. Otto, H. A. (Ag '72)
     Lovechild. Hanes, M. (O '72)
Low, Seth
     Kurland, G. Seth Low. (O '72)
     Low cholesterol cookbook. Cavaiani, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
     Low-income housing. Taggart, R. (D '72)
     Low intensity operations: subversion, insurgency, peace-keeping. Kitson, F. (N '72)
Lowell, Robert
     Cosgrave, P. Public poetry of Robert Lowell. (Ag '72)
     Lower paleozoic rocks of the new world, v 1. See Holland, C. H., ed. Cambrian of the new world. (Je '72)
Lowry family
     Evans, W. M. To die game. (N '72)
     Loyal conspiracy. Goodman, A. (Ag '72)
Lozi (African tribe)
     Caplan, G. L. Elites of Barotseland, 1878-1969. (Mr '72)
Luce, Henry Robinson
     Swanberg, W. A. Luce and his empire. (D '72)
     Luce and his empire. Swanberg, W. A. (D '72)
     Lugging vegetables to Nantucket. Klappert, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Lumbee Indians
     Evans, W. M. To die game. (N '72)

Lusatia*History

- Stone, G. Smallest Slavonic nation. (D '72)
 Luther, Martin
 Mee, C. L. White robe, black robe. (Ag '72)
 Lwoff, André Michael
 Of microbes and life. (Ag '72)
 Lyautey, Louis Hubert Gonzalve
 Scham, A. Lyautey in Morocco. (S '72)
 Lyautey in Morocco. Scham, A. (S '72)
 Lynching
 We charge genocide. (Ap '72)

- M. F. K. Fisher's translation of The physiology of taste. Brillat-Savarin, J. A. (Ap '72)
 M. H. Baillie Scott and the arts and crafts movement. Kornwolf, J. D. (O '72)

Mabinogion

- Jones, G. Kings, beasts and heroes. (N '72)

MacArthur, Douglas

- McGovern, J. To the Yalu. (S '72)
 McBroom's ghost. Fleischman, S. (Mr '72)
 McCall's introduction to Scandinavian cooking. Wolfe, L., ed. (S '72)

McCarthy, Abigail Quigley

- McCarthy, A. Private faces/public places. (S '72)

McCarthy, Eugene Joseph

- Eisele, A. Almost to the presidency. (O '72)
 McCarthy, A. Private faces/public places. (S '72)

McCarthy, Joseph Raymond

- Cook, F. J. Nightmare decade. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Feuerlicht, R. S. Joe McCarthy and McCarthyism. (O '72)

Juvenile literature

- Cook, F. J. Army-McCarthy hearings, April-June 1954. (S '72)
 McCloskey, Paul N.
 Cannon, L. McCloskey challenge. (Je '72)
 McCloskey, Pete. See McCloskey, Paul N.
 McCloskey challenge. Cannon, L. (Je '72)
 McCormick, Robert Rutherford
 Edwards, J. E. Foreign policy of Col. McCormick's Tribune, 1929-1941. (N '72)

McCulloch, John Ramsay

- O'Brien, D. P. J. R. McCulloch: a study in classical economics. (My '72)

McGovern, George Stanley

- Anson, R. S. McGovern. (Je '72)

Mach, Ernst

- Bradley, J. Mach's philosophy of science. (My '72)

Machinery*Juvenile literature

- Koren, E. Behind the wheel. (S '72)
 Mach's philosophy of science. Bradley, J. (My '72)
 McKay, Muriel Florence
 Cooper, W. Brothers. (Je '72)
 Mackenzie, Sir Alexander
 Mackenzie, A. Journals and letters of Sir Alexander Mackenzie. (Je '72)

Macmillan, Harold

- Macmillan, H. Pointing the way, 1959-1961. (D '72)
 Macmillan, H. Riding the storm. (1971, 1972 Annual)

MacNab, John

- MacNab, J. Education of a doctor. (Ag '72)

Madison, James

- Madison, J. Papers of James Madison, v5-7. (O '72)

- Madmen and specialists. Soyinka, W. (N '72)

Mafia

- Gage, N., ed. Mafia, U.S.A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Talese, G. Honor thy father. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Mafia, U.S.A. Gage, N., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Magazine selection. Katz, B. (Ag '72)

Magic

See also
 Occult sciences

Juvenile literature

- Fisher, J. John Fisher's magic book. (O '72)
 White, L. B. So you want to be a magician. (D '72)
 Magic dwells. Moon, S. (Mr '72)
 Magic flute. Mozart, J. C. W. A. (In Chagall at the Met). (N '72)

- Magic war. Fellowes-Gordon, I. (Ag '72)
 Magician. Stein, S. (O '72)

Magnetic recorders and recording

- Jorgensen, F. Handbook of magnetic recording. (Ap '72)

Magog, Sinclair, A. (S '72)*Maharajahs. Lord, J. (Ap '72)*Maiden. Buchanan, C. (Ap '72)*Maigret and the killer. Simenon, G. (Ap '72)*Maigret and the madwoman. Simenon, G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)*Maigret sets a trap. Simenon, G. (S '72)*Mailer, Norman*Lucid, R. F., comp. Norman Mailer. (Mr '72)*Mail-order business*Catalogs

- Last whole earth catalog. (1972 Annual)
 Maimonides reader. Maimonides. (N '72)
 Main line to oblivion. Caron, R. B. (Mr '72)

Maine*History

- Merk, F. Fruits of propaganda in the Tyler administration. (Mr '72)

Maitland, Frederic William

- Fifoot, C. H. S. Frederick William Maitland. (My '72)

- Make a bigger puddle, make a smaller worm. Walter, M. (O '72)

Making new schools. Turner, J. (Ap '72)*Making of a cook. Kamman, M. (My '72)*Making of a library. Taylor, R. S. (D '72)*Making of a psychiatrist. Viscott, D. S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)*Making of a radical. Nearing, S. (S '72)*Making of a slum. Dorman, M. (D '72)*Making of an Arab nationalist. Cleveland, W. L. (S '72)*Making of black revolutionaries. Forman, J. (N '72)*Making of Joshua Cobb. Hodges, M. (Je '72)*Making of man. Mooney, C. F. (O '72)*Making of medieval Spain. Jackson, G. (S '72)*Making of modern South-East Asia, v 1, Tate, D. J. M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)*Making of Russia. Hasler, J. (My '72)*Making of the modern world, v 1. Johnson, D. (Mr '72)*Makonde (Bantu tribe)

- Liebenow, J. Colonial rule and political development in Tanzania. (Ag '72)

Malaya

- Endicott, K. M. Analysis of Malay magic. (Je '72)

History

- Barber, N. War of the running dogs. (S '72)
 Burns, P. L., comp. Papers on Malay subjects. (O '72)

Malaysia*Politics and government

- Esman, M. J. Administration and development in Malaysia. (S '72)

Malcolm X

- Jamal, H. A. From the dead level: Malcolm X and me. (S '72)

Malcontents. Snow, C. P. (Ag '72)*Malicious mischief. Egan, L. (My '72)*Malina, Judith*Malina, J. Enormous despair. (S '72)*Mallory family

- Baughman, J. P. Mallorys of Mystic. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Mallorys of Mystic. Baughman, J. P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Malmedy Massacre, 1944-1945

- Whiting, C. Massacre at Malmedy. (Ap '72)

Malory, Sir Thomas*Vinaver, E. Rise of romance. (Je '72)*Malraux, André*Malraux, A. Felled oaks. (Ag '72)*Mama doll. Woodhouse, M. (O '72)*Mammals

- Orr, R. T. Mammals of North America. (Mr '72)

- Ridgway, S. H., ed. Mammals of the sea. (S '72)

Juvenile literature

- Crowcroft, P. Australian marsupials. (S '72)

Mammals, Fossil*Kurtén, B. Age of mammals. (Je '72)*Mammals of North America. Orr, R. T. (Mr '72)*Mammals of the sea. Ridgway, S. H., ed. (S '72)*Mammals 1; v10 of Grzimek's animal life encyclopedia. Grzimek, B., ed. (S '72)*Man

- Brierley, J. K. Natural history of man. (Ap '72)

Man—Continued

- Burnet, M. Dominant mammal. (D '72)
 Desan, W. Planetary man, 2v in 1. (D '72)
 Ettinger, R. C. W. Man into superman. (D '72)
 Fast, J. Incompatibility of men and women, and how to overcome it. (My '72)
 Gorney, R. Human agenda. (S '72)
 Itzkoff, S. W. Ernst Cassirer: scientific knowledge and the concept of man. (Ap '72)
 Morris, D. Intimate behaviour. (My '72)
 Oraison, M. Chance and life. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Rosenberg, H. Act and the actor. (My '72)
 Salk, J. Man unfolding. (D '72)
 Tiger, L. Imperial animal. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Trinkaus, C. E. In our image and likeness, 2v. (Ap '72)
 Wheelis, A. End of the modern age. (Ap '72)

Economic value

See Education—Economic aspects

Influence of environment

- Butzer, K. W. Environment and archeology [2d ed.]. (Ap '72)
 Dubos, R. God within. (N '72)
 Gauquelin, M. How atmospheric conditions affect your health. (Ap '72)
 International symposium on the use of space by animals and men, Dallas, 1968. (N '72)
 Perin, C. With man in mind. (My '72)
 Weisberg, B. Beyond repair. (Mr '72)

Influence on nature

- Caldwell, L. K. In defense of earth: international protection of the biosphere. (D '72)
 Dasmann, R. F. Planet in peril. (N '72)
 Douglas, W. O. Three hundred year war. (D '72)
 Leiss, W. Domination of nature. (O '72)
 Man's impact on the global environment. (O '72)
 Matthews, W. H. Man's impact on the climate. (Je '72)

Juvenile literature

- Jennings, G. Shrinking outdoors. (S '72)

Origin and antiquity

- Däniken, E. von. Gods from outer space. (Ap '72)
 Kurten, B. Not from the apes. (My '72)
 McKern, S. S. Tracking fossil man. (Je '72)
 Morgan, E. Descent of woman. (Ag '72)
Man, Prehistoric
 Alexander, J. Yugoslavia before the Roman conquest. (O '72)
 Barfield, L. Northern Italy before Rome. (D '72)
 Butzer, K. W. Environment and archeology [2d ed.]. (Ap '72)
 Clark, J. D. Prehistory of Africa. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 McKern, S. S. Tracking fossil man. (Je '72)
 Marshack, A. Roots of civilization. (S '72)
 Man. Schlemmer, O. (Mr '72)
 Man against nature. Lockley, R. M. (Ag '72)
 Man and atom. Seaborg, G. T. (Ap '72)
 Man and his circumstances. McClintock, R. (D '72)

- Man and land. Jacoby, E. H. (D '72)
 Man and machine. Cartier-Bresson, H. (Ag '72)
 Man and socialism in Cuba. Silverman, B., ed. (My '72)
 Man holding an acoustic panel. Shapiro, D. (Mr '72)
 Man into superman. Ettinger, R. C. W. (D '72)

- Man of wax. Hughes, D. A., ed. (Mr '72)
 Man, state, and society in the contemporary Middle East. Landau, J. M., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Man unfolding. Salk, J. (D '72)
 Man who built a city. Weir, R. (My '72)
 Man who loved Cat Dancing. Durham, M. (N '72)

- Man without a face. Holland, I. (O '72)

Management

- Jay, A. Corporation man. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 McLuhan, M. Take today: the executive as dropout. (Ag '72)
 Plate, K. H. Management personnel in libraries. (Je '72)
 Management of big cities. Rogers, D. (My '72)
 Management personnel in libraries. Plate, K. H. (Je '72)
 Managing local government under union pressure. Stanley, D. T. (My '72)

Manchuria*Boundaries

- Lee, R. H. G. Manchurian frontier in Ch'ing history. (My '72)
 Manchurian frontier in Ch'ing history. Lee, R. H. G. (My '72)

Manchus

- Lee, R. H. G. Manchurian frontier in Ch'ing history. (My '72)

Manessier, Alfred

- Hodin, J. P. Manessier. (S '72)

Manet, Edouard

- Harris, J. C. Edouard Manet: graphic works. (Mr '72)

Mangan, James Clarence

- Kilroy, J. James Clarence Mangan. (Mr '72)
 Manhattan North. Albrand, M. (Mr '72)

Mann, Horace

- Messerli, J. Horace Mann. (Ag '72)

Manned space flight

- Gallant, R. A. Man's reach for the stars. (Mr '72)

Mannerism (Art)

- Freedberg, S. J. Painting in Italy, 1500 to 1600. (O '72)
 Smart, A. Renaissance and mannerism in Italy. (Je '72)
 Manpower for development. Ginzberg, E. (Mr '72)

Manpower policy

- Armed services and society. (Je '72)

- Man's impact on the climate. Matthews, W. H. (Je '72)

- Man's impact on the global environment. (O '72)

- Man's reach for the stars. Gallant, R. A. (Mr '72)

Manson, Charles

- Sanders, E. Family. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Manuscripts

- Goedicke, H. Report about the dispute of a man with his ba. (S '72)

- Manuscripts, Illuminated. See Illumination of books and manuscripts

- Many lives—one love. Butcher, F. (S '72)

- Many mansions of Sam Peeples. McMillen, H. (Je '72)

Mao, Tsê-tung

- Han, S. Morning deluge. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Karnow, S. Mao and China. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Solomon, R. H. Mao's revolution and the Chinese political culture. (Mr '72)

Fiction

- Tuten, F. Adventures of Mao on the long march. (Ag '72)

- Mao and China. Karnow, S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Mao Tse-tung's cultural revolution. An, T. S. (N '72)

- Mao's revolution and the Chinese political culture. Solomon, R. H. (Mr '72)

Maps

- Thrower, N. J. W. Maps & man. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Juvenile literature

- Cobb, V. Sense of direction. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Maps & man. Thrower, N. J. W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Marathon groups: reality and symbol. Mintz, E. E. (My '72)

- Marcel Proust as a social critic. Kopp, R. L. (O '72)

- March of science. Simak, C. D., ed. (My '72)

- March to the right. Hoult, T. F. (D '72)

- Mardi and a voyage thither. Melville, H. (Mr '72)

- Margaret of Anjou, consort of Henry VI, King of England

- Erlanger, P. Margaret of Anjou: Queen of England. (Ag '72)

- Margaret of Anjou, Queen of England. Erlanger, P. (Ag '72)

- Margaret Tudor, consort of James IV, King of Scotland

- Chapman, H. W. Thistle and the rose. (Ap '72)

Mariátegui, José Carlos

- Baines, J. M. Revolution in Peru. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Marie Antoinette, consort of Louis XVI, King of France

- Loomis, S. Fatal friendship. (My '72)

- Marienthal, Jahoda, M. (My '72)

- Marigny, Marie Alfred Fouquereaux de
Houts, M. King's X. (N '72)
- Marihuana
Snyder, S. H. Uses of marijuana. (Ap '72)
- Marijuana. See Marihuana
- Marine animals
Ridgway, S. H., ed. Mammals of the sea. (S '72)
- Juvenile literature
List, I. K. Questions and answers about sea-shore life. (Mr '72)
- Marine biology
Brooks, P. House of life: Rachel Carson at work. (Je '72)
Carson, R. Rocky coast. (Ap '72)
Deacon, M. Scientists and the sea, 1650-1900. (My '72)
Platt, R. Water: the wonder of life. (My '72)
Ridgway, S. H., ed. Mammals of the sea. (S '72)
- Marine ecology
Clare, P. Struggle for the Great Barrier Reef. (Je '72)
Silverberg, R. World within the ocean wave. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Marine plants
Juvenile literature
List, I. K. Questions and answers about sea-shore life. (Mr '72)
- Marine pollution
Hood, D. W., ed. Impingement of man on the oceans. (Ag '72)
- Maring (New Guinea people)
Clarke, W. C. Place and people. (O '72)
- Maritime law
Butler, W. E. Soviet Union and the law of the sea. (Ap '72)
White, I. L. Decision-making for space: law and politics in air, sea, and outer space. (My '72)
- Mark of Cain. Shoham, S. (Mr '72)
- Mark Twain: the critical heritage. Anderson, F., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Market power and price levels in the ethical drug industry. Walker, H. D. (N '72)
- Marketing
Porter, G. Merchants and manufacturers. (N '72)
- Bibliography
Berman, L. Case studies in marketing. (S '72)
- Marquand, John Phillips
Birmingham, S. Late John Marquand. (S '72)
- Marranos
Yerushalmi, Y. H. From Spanish court to Italian ghetto. (S '72)
- Marriage
Avery, C. E. Love and marriage. (Ap '72)
Bernard, J. Future of marriage. (S '72)
Francoeur, R. T. Eve's new rib. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Gittelson, N. Erotic life of the American wife. (O '72)
Lee, R. Spouse gap. (My '72)
Mace, D. R. Getting ready for marriage. (Je '72)
Marriage: for and against. (S '72)
Meijer, M. J. Marriage law and policy in the Chinese People's Republic. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Needham, R., ed. Rethinking kinship and marriage. (D '72)
O'Neill, N. Open marriage. (My '72)
Perutz, K. Marriage is hell. (Ag '72)
Thorp, R. Wives. (Mr '72)
Viorst, J. Yes, married. (D '72)
- Marriage: for and against. (S '72)
- Marriage is hell. Perutz, K. (Ag '72)
- Marriage law and policy in the Chinese People's Republic. Meijer, M. J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Marriages and infidelities. Oates, J. C. (D '72)
- Mars (Planet)
Caldin, M. Destination Mars. (N '72)
- Mars, we love you. Hipolito, J., ed. (Ag '72)
- Marshal Pétain. Eng title of: Pétain. Griffiths R. (My '72)
- Martha's Vineyard cook book. King, L. T. (Mr '72)
- Martin Luther King Middle School, Boston
Marshall, K. Law and order in grade 6-E. (N '72)
- Marx, Karl
Banks, J. A. Marxist sociology in action. (Ag '72)
Bloch, E. On Karl Marx. (S '72)
Blumberg, W. Portrait of Marx. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Curtis, M., ed. Marxism. (Ap '72)
- Fetscher, I. Marx and Marxism. (My '72)
- Giddens, A. Capitalism and modern social theory. (Ag '72)
- Korsch, K. Marxism and philosophy. (O '72)
- Lichtheim, G. From Marx to Hegel. (My '72)
- McLellan, D. Thought of Karl Marx. (N '72)
- Mandel, E. Formation of the economic thought of Karl Marx, 1843 to Capital. (Ap '72)
- Ollman, B. Alienation. (My '72)
- Sherman, H. Radical political economy. (Ag '72)
- Communist manifesto
Marx, K. Birth of the Communist manifesto. (Ap '72)
- Marx and Marxism. Fetscher, I. (My '72)
- Marxism. See Communism
- Marxism. Curtis, M., ed. (Ap '72)
- Marxism and form. Jameson, F. (Ag '72)
- Marxism and philosophy. Korsch, K. (O '72)
- Marxism in our time. Deutscher, I. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Marxist sociology in action. Banks, J. A. (Ag '72)
- Marxist theory and Indian communism. Loomis, C. P. (Je '72)
- Mary II, Queen of Great Britain
Hamilton, E. William's Mary. (My '72)
- Mary, consort of Louis XII, King of France
Chapman, H. W. Thistle and the rose. (Ap '72)
- Mary Stuart, Queen of Scots
Cowan, I. B., ed. Enigma of Mary Stuart. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Maryland in Africa. Campbell, P. (Je '72)
- Maryland State Colonization Society
Campbell, P. Maryland in Africa. (Je '72)
- M*A*S*H goes to Maine. Hooker, R. (Je '72)
- Masks, modes, and morals: the art of Evelyn Waugh. Cook, W. J. (Mr '72)
- Masks of King Lear. Rosenberg, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Mass communication. See Communication
- Mass culture revisited. Rosenberg, B., ed. (O '72)
- Mass media
Altman, S. Comic image of the Jew. (O '72)
Cirino, R. Don't blame the people. (D '72)
Markel, L. What you don't know can hurt you. (D '72)
Schramm, W. Process and effects of mass communication (rev ed.). (My '72)
Tunstall, J., ed. Media sociology. (N '72)
- Mass politics. Allardt, E., ed. (Ap '72)
- Massacre at Malmédy. Whiting, C. (Ap '72)
- Massacre on the Amazon. Eng title of: Green hell: massacre of the Brazilian Indians. Bodard, L. (Mr '72)
- Master builders. Harvey, J. (O '72)
- Master of go. Kawabata, Y. (D '72)
- Master of villainy. Van Ash, C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Masterpieces of French cuisine. Amunategui, F. (Mr '72)
- Masters affair. Hirschfeld, B. (S '72)
- Masters of native art. Bihalji-Merin, O. (My '72)
- Masters of sociological thought. Coser, L. A. (O '72)
- Matanza: El Salvador's Communist revolt of 1932. Anderson, T. P. (My '72)
- Match-winning tennis. Jones, C. M. (Ap '72)
- Materials for occupational education. Schuman, P. (O '72)
- Mathematical recreations
Juvenile literature
Walter, M. Make a bigger puddle, make a smaller worm. (O '72)
- Mathematical sciences and social sciences. Kruskal, W., ed. (Je '72)
- Mathematics
Kay, P., ed. Explorations in mathematical anthropology. (D '72)
Kruskal, W., ed. Mathematical sciences and social sciences. (Je '72)
- Mather, Cotton
Mather, C. Selected letters of Cotton Mather. (S '72)
Middlekauff, R. Mathers: three generations of Puritan intellectuals, 1596-1728. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Mather, Increase
Middlekauff, R. Mathers: three generations of Puritan intellectuals, 1596-1728. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Mather, Richard
Middlekauff, R. Mathers: three generations of Puritan intellectuals, 1596-1728. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Mathers: three generations of Puritan intellectuals, 1596-1728. Middlekauff, R. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Matinee idols. Carroll, D. (O '72)

Mato Grosso, Brazil

Description and travel

Smith, A. Mato Grosso. (Ag '72)

Matsukawa Railroad Accident, 1949

Johnson, C. Conspiracy at Matsukawa. (S '72)

Matsuo, Basho

Ueda, M. Matsuo Bashō. (My '72)

Matter

Frisch, O. R. Nature of matter. (O '72)

Levere, T. H. Affinity and matter. (Ag '72)

Matthews, Herbert Lionel

Matthews, H. L. World in revolution. (My '72)

Mature society. Gabor, D. (O '72)

Mauldin, William Henry

Mauldin, B. Brass ring. (Mr '72)

Maurice, Frederick Denison

Brose, O. J. Frederick Denison Maurice. (Je '72)

Max Jacob and the poetics of cubism. Kamber, G. (Mr '72)

Maximilian, Emperor of Mexico

Haslip, J. Crown of Mexico. (Ag '72)

Maximum security: letters from California's prisons. (Ap '72)

May I speak? Culbertson, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Mayas

Nash, J. In the eyes of the ancestors. (Mr '72)

Antiquities

Brunhouse, R. L. Sylvanus G. Morley and the world of the ancient Mayas. (Ag '72)

Mayors

United States

Cunningham, J. V. Urban leadership in the sixties. (Mr '72)

Me and my friends, we no longer profess any graces. Rosen, R. D. (Mr '72)

Mead, Margaret

Mead, M. Blackberry winter. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Meaning and expression. Deinhard, H. (Ap '72)

Meany, George

Goulden, J. C. Meany. (D '72)

Measure of understanding. Frederica, Queen of the Hellenes. (N '72)

Mechanics

Cohen, I. B. Introduction to Newton's Principia. (My '72)

Juvenile literature

Kaufman, J. What makes it go? What makes it work? What makes it fly? What makes it float? (S '72)

Medallion world atlas, Hammond. (Mr '72)

Media sociology. Tunstall, J., ed. (N '72)

Medical care

Edwards, M. H. Hazardous to your health. (S '72)

Elling, R. H., ed. National health care. (Ag '72)

Kennedy, E. M. In critical condition. (O '72)

Kunnes, R. Your money or your life. (Ap '72)

Medical history and medical care. (O '72)

Mendelsohn, E., ed. Human aspects of biomedical innovation. (Ag '72)

One life—one physician. (Ag '72)

Ribicoff, A. American medical machine. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Stevens, R. American medicine and the public interest. (Mr '72)

Costs

Kennedy, E. M. In critical condition. (O '72)

Medical garden. Marks, G. (Ap '72)

Medical history and medical care. (O '72)

Medici, Giovanni de'. See Leo X (Giovanni de' Medici) Pope

Medicine

Chase, A. Biological imperatives. (Ag '72)

Stevens, R. American medicine and the public interest. (Mr '72)

Encyclopedias

Stein and Day international medical encyclopedia. (O '72)

History

Cartwright, F. F. Disease and history. (N '72)

Clarke, E., ed. Modern methods in the history of medicine. (Je '72)

Medical history and medical care. (O '72)

Juvenile literature

Dolan, E. F. Inventors for medicine. (Mr '72)

Laws and regulations

One life—one physician. (Ag '72)

Practice

Mendelsohn, E., ed. Human aspects of biomedical innovation. (Ag '72)

One life—one physician. (Ag '72)

Tushnet, L. Medicine men. (Ap '72)

Research

Thorwald, J. Patients. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Study and teaching

Curtis, J. L. Blacks, medical schools, and society. (Mr '72)

History of medical education. (Ap '72)

MacNab, J. Education of a doctor. (Ag '72)

Medicine, Chinese

Pálos, S. Chinese art of healing. (Ap '72)

Medicine, Greek and Roman

Levine, E. B. Hippocrates. (My '72)

Medicine, Popular

Miller, B. F. Family book of preventive medicine. (Ap '72)

Stein and Day international medical encyclopedia. (O '72)

Medicine, State

Edwards, M. H. Hazardous to your health. (S '72)

Elling, R. H., ed. National health care. (Ag '72)

Kane, R. L. Federal health care (with reservations!). (N '72)

McLachlan, G., ed. Challenges for change. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Medicine as a profession

MacNab, J. Education of a doctor. (Ag '72)

Medicine men. Tushnet, L. (Ap '72)

Mediaeval architect. Harvey, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Medieval castle. Warner, P. (Ap '72)

Medieval church and society. Brooke, C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Medieval history in the Tudor age. McKisack, M. (S '72)

Medieval Latin lyrics. Stock, B. (Ag '72)

Medieval literature and folklore studies. (Mr '72)

Medieval portraits from East and West. Duckett, E. (Ag '72)

Medieval regions and their cities. Russell, J. C. (D '72)

Medieval statecraft and the perspectives of history. Strayer, J. R. (Ap '72)

Meditation

Psychology

Naranjo, C. On the psychology of meditation. (My '72)

Meditations

Kennedy, G. Preacher and the New English Bible. (S '72)

Meditations on hunting. Ortega y Gasset, J. (S '72)

Mediterranean. Carrington, R. (Mr '72)

Mediterranean naval situation, 1908-1914. Halpern, P. G. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Mediterranean region

Antiquities

Flemming, N. C. Cities in the sea. (My '72)

Civilization

Carrington, R. Mediterranean. (Mr '72)

History, Naval

Halpern, P. G. Mediterranean naval situation, 1908-1914. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Mediums, and spirit-rappers, and roaring radicals. Kerr, H. (D '72)

Medvedev papers. Medvedev, Z. A. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Medway River

Rogers, P. G. Dutch in the Medway. (Mr '72)

Meet me in the green glen. Warren, R. P. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Meeting Jesus. Santucci, L. (My '72)

Meeting point. Clarke, A. (Ag '72)

Meeting with a great beast. Wibberley, L. (Mr '72)

Megastates of America. Pierce, N. R. (Je '72)

Mehta, Amolak Ram

Mehta, V. Daddyji. (Ag '72)

Meinecke, Friedrich

Pois, R. A. Friedrich Meinecke and German politics in the twentieth century. (D '72)

Meir, Golda*Juvenile literature

Morris, T. Shalom, Golda. (O '72)

Melancholy man. Lucas, J. (Mr '72)

Melcher on acquisition. Melcher, D. (Mr '72)

Melville, Herman

Allen, G. W. Melville and his world. (Je '72)

Kramer, A. Melville's poetry: toward the enlarged heart. (D '72)

Bibliography

Gross, T. L. Hawthorne, Melville, Stephen Crane. (My '72)

White-Jacket

Vincent, H. P. Tailoring of Melville's White-jacket. (Ap '72)

Melville, Samuel

Melville, S. Letters from Attica. (My '72)

Melville and his world. Allen, G. W. (Je '72)

Melville's poetry: toward the enlarged heart. Kramer, A. (D '72)

Memling, Hans

McFarlane, K. B. Hans Memling. (Je '72)

Mémoires for the instruction of the Dauphin.

Louis XIV, King of France and of France and of Navarre. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Memoirs of a Russian diplomat. Kalmykow, A. D. (Ag '72)

Memoirs of an ex-prom queen. Shulman, A. K. (Ag '72)

Memoirs of Giorgio de Chirico. Chirico, G. de. (N '72)

Memoirs of hope. Gaulle, C. de. (Ap '72)

Memoirs of Lord Gladwyn. Gladwyn, Lord. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Memphis, Nam, Sweden. Whitmore, T. (Mr '72)

Men of conscience. Inglis, B. (Je '72)

Men of intelligence. Strong, K. (S '72)

Men versus systems. Adams, A. E. (Ag '72)

Mencken, Henry Louis

Stenerson, D. C. H. L. Mencken: iconoclast from Baltimore. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Mendelssohn family

Kupferberg, H. Mendelssohns. (Ag '72)

Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, Felix

Kupferberg, H. Mendelssohns. (Ag '72)

Marek, G. R. Gentle genius. (Ag '72)

Mendelssohns. Kupferberg, H. (Ag '72)

Mennonites in Mexico

Sawatsky, H. L. They sought a country. (Ag '72)

Menorah

Yarden, L. Tree of light. (S '72)

Mental hospitals. See Mentally ill—Institutional care*Mental illness

Adams, J. K. Secrets of the trade. (D '72)

Chapin, W. Wasted. (Ag '72)

Collins, W. J. Out of the depths. (O '72)

Edelson, M. Idea of a mental illness. (Mr '72)

Jacobson, E. Depression. (S '72)

Martindale, D. Social dimensions of mental illness, alcoholism [sic] and drug dependence. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Nagler, B. Brown bomber. (Ag '72)

Parker, B. Mingled yarn. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Psychiatric disorder and the urban environment. (O '72)

Wechsler, J. A. In a darkness. (Je '72)

Personal narratives

Barnes, M. Mary Barnes: two accounts of a journey through madness. (Ag '72)

Collins, W. J. Out of the depths. (O '72)

Mental imagery in the child. Piaget, J. (Mr '72)

Mental tests

Sharp, E. IQ cult. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Mentally handicapped

Jarvis, E. Insanity and idiocy in Massachusetts. (Je '72)

Mentally ill

Care and treatment

Rothman, D. J. Discovery of the asylum. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Institutional care

Barry, A. Bellevue is a state of mind. (My '72)

Collins, W. J. Out of the depths. (O '72)

Jarvis, E. Insanity and idiocy in Massachusetts. (Je '72)

Personal narratives

Collins, W. J. Out of the depths. (O '72)

Merchant Congressman in the young Republic. Cassell, F. A. (O '72)

Merchant marine*New England

Taylor, W. L. Productive monopoly. (Mr '72)

Merchant prince of Boston. Colonel T. H. Perkins, 1764-1854. Seaburg, C. (D '72)

Merchants

Wilson, R. G. Gentlemen merchants. (My '72)

Merchants and manufacturers. Porter, G. (N '72)

Mercier, Henri, Baron Mercier de Lostende

Carroll, D. B. Henri Mercier and the American Civil War. (Ap '72)

Mercier, Mary*Johnny No-Trump

Jacobs, S. On stage. (S '72)

Mercouri, Melina

Mercouri, M. I was born Greek. (Mr '72)

Meredith, George

Stone, D. D. Novelists in a changing world. (N '72)

Williams, I., ed. Meredith: the critical heritage. (My '72)

Meredith, Mary Ellen Peacock Nicolls

Johnson, D. True history of the first Mrs. Meredith and other lesser lives. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Meredith: the critical heritage. Williams, I., ed. (My '72)

Mergers, Industrial. See Trusts, Industrial*Merrick, John

Montagu, A. Elephant man. (S '72)

Merriman Smith's book of presidents. Smith, M. (S '72)*Merton, Thomas

Baker, J. T. Thomas Merton; social critic. (Ap '72)

Mesopotamia*Civilization

Jacobsen, T. Toward the image of Tammuz and other essays on Mesopotamian history and culture. (Mr '72)

Messages. Goldfarb, S. (Ap '72)

Metabolism

Kervran, L. C. Biological transmutations. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Metalwork

Honour, H. Goldsmiths &amp; silversmiths. (Mr '72)

Metaphors of self. Olney, J. (O '72)*Metaphysics of darkness. Roussel, R. (My '72)*Meteorology

Mason, B. J. Physics of clouds [2d ed.]. (O '72)

Stagg, J. M. Forecast for Overlord, June 6, 1944. (N '72)

Methodism

Halévy, É. Birth of Methodism in England. (Mr '72)

Methodist Church in England

Halévy, É. Birth of Methodism in England. (Mr '72)

Methodius, Saint

Dvornik, F. Byzantine missions among the Slavs. (Ag '72)

Metropolitan government

Baldinger, S. Planning and governing the metropolis. (Mr '72)

Metternich-Winneburg, Clemens Lothar Wenzel, Fürst von

Palmer, A. Metternich. (D '72)

Meuse, Battle of the, 1940

Mrazek, J. E. Fall of Eben Emael. (S '72)

Mexican-Americans. See Mexicans in the United States*Mexican Americans. Moore, J. W. (1971, 1972 Annual)*Mexican fiction*History and criticism

Langford, W. M. Mexican novel comes of age. (O '72)

Rutherford, J. Mexican society during the revolution. (D '72)

Mexican novel comes of age. Langford, W. M. (O '72)

Mexican society during the revolution. Rutherford, J. (D '72)

Mexicans*Social life and customs

Galarza, E. Barrio boy. (O '72)

Mexicans in California

Galarza, E. Barrio boy. (O '72)

- Mexicans in the New Southwest
Moore, J. W. Mexican Americans. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Mexicans in the United States
Heller, C. S. New converts to the American dream? (S '72)
Howard, J. R., ed. Awakening minorities. (My '72)
London, J. So shall ye reap. (O '72)
Meier, M. S. Chicanos. (O '72)
Samora, J. Los mojados: the wetback story. (Ap '72)
- Biography
Juvenile literature
Newlon, C. Famous Mexican-Americans. (Ag '72)
- Mexico
Marett, R. Mexico. (My '72)
- Antiquities
Wicke, C. R. Olmec. (Ap '72)
- Boundaries
Myers, J. M. Border wardens. (Ap '72)
- Description and travel
Juvenile literature
Swiger, E. P. Mexico for kids. (S '72)
- Economic conditions
Brading, D. A. Miners and merchants in Bourbon Mexico, 1763-1810. (My '72)
- Foreign relations
United States
Haley, R. P. Revolution and intervention: the diplomacy of Taft and Wilson with Mexico, 1910-1917. (Mr '72)
Hanna, A. J. Napoleon III and Mexico. (Ag '72)
- History
Brading, D. A. Miners and merchants in Bourbon Mexico, 1763-1810. (My '72)
Hanna, A. J. Napoleon III and Mexico. (Ag '72)
Haslip, J. Crown of Mexico. (Ag '72)
Kennedy, P. P. Middle beat. (My '72)
Rutherford, J. D. Mexican society during the revolution. (D '72)
- Immigration and emigration
Samora, J. Los mojados; the wetback story. (Ap '72)
- Politics and government
Friedrich, P. Agrarian revolt in a Mexican village. (Je '72)
- Social conditions
Brading, D. A. Miners and merchants in Bourbon Mexico, 1763-1810. (My '72)
Mexico for kids. Swiger, E. P. (S '72)
Meyer Weisgal . . . so far. Weisgal, M. (My '72)
- Meynell, Sir Francis
Meynell, F. My lives. (Ap '72)
- Mice
Juvenile literature
Brady, I. Mouse named Mus. (O '72)
- Stories
Lionni, L. Alexander and the wind-up mouse. (Mr '72)
O'Brien, R. C. Mrs. Frisby and the rats of NIMH. (S '72)
Steig, W. Amos & Boris. (My '72)
- Michelangelo Buonarroti
Michelangelo Buonarroti. Michelangelo. (My '72)
Michelangelo. Michelangelo Buonarroti. (My '72)
- Michigan
History
Gilpin, A. R. Territory of Michigan [1805-1837]. (S '72)
- Politics and government
Formisano, R. P. Birth of mass political parties. (Ag '72)
- Microbiology
Of microbes and life. (Ag '72)
Wilson, D. Body and antibody. (S '72)
- Micropalaeontology
Symposium on micropalaeontology of marine bottom sediments. Cambridge, England, 1967. Micropalaeontology of oceans. (My '72)
Micropalaeontology of oceans. Symposium on micropalaeontology of marine bottom sediments, Cambridge, England, 1967. (My '72)
- Microphotography
Vishniac, R. Building blocks of life. (My '72)
- Middle age
Lee, R. Spouse gap. (My '72)
- Middle Ages
History
Bautier, R.-H. Economic development of medieval Europe. (Ag '72)
Duckett, E. Medieval portrait from East and West. (Ag '72)
Prescott, J. R. Lords of Italy. (D '72)
Strayer, J. R. Medieval statecraft and the perspectives of history. (Ap '72)
Middle ages. Deyermond, A. D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Middle beat. Kennedy, P. P. (My '72)
- Middle classes
Friedman, M., ed. Overcoming middle class rage. (Ag '72)
Parker, R. Myth of the middle class. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Smith, C. M. Instant status. (Je '72)
- Middle East. See Near East
Middle East supply centre. Wilmington, M. W. (Ag '72)
Middle East: Temple of Janus. Stewart, D. (Ag '72)
Middle Eastern oil and the Western world. Schurr, S. H. (Ap '72)
Middle man. Reynolds, P. R. (Ap '72)
- Middle West
Jensen, R. J. Winning of the midwest: social and political conflict, 1888-1896. (My '72)
- Midnight cookbook. Mario, T. (Mr '72)
Midnight oil. Pritchett, V. S. (Ag '72)
Midnight Raymond Chandler. Chandler, R. (Ap '72)
Midnight was my cry. Kizer, C. (Je '72)
Mid-Victorian Britain, 1851-1875. Best, G. (My '72)
- Migrant labor
Coles, R. Migrants, sharecroppers, mountaineers. (My '72)
London, J. So shall ye reap. (O '72)
Migrants, sharecroppers, mountaineers. Coles, R. (My '72)
- Migration, Internal
Coles, R. South goes North. (My '72)
Groh, G. W. Black migration. (S '72)
Packard, V. Nation of strangers. (N '72)
Mike Gold: a literary anthology. Gold, M. (D '72)
- Milestones of history. (Je '72)
- Milhouse family
Hoyt, E. P. Nixons: an American family. (S '72)
- Militant professionalism. Corwin, R. G. (My '72)
- Militarism
Haddad, G. M. Revolutions and military rule in the Middle East: the Arab states, v2, pt. 1: Iraq, Syria, Lebanon and Jordan. (O '72)
- Military art and science
Beeler, J. Warfare in feudal Europe, 730-1200. (Ap '72)
Neuberg, A. Armed insurrection. (Mr '72)
- Dictionaries
Luttwak, E. Dictionary of modern war. (My '72)
- History
Shepperd, G. A. History of war and weapons, 1660-1918. (D '72)
- Research
Macrae, R. S. Winston Churchill's toyshop. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Military assistance. American
Lansdale, E. G. In the midst of wars. (Je '72)
- Military biography. See Generals
- Military history
Higham, R., ed. Civil wars in the twentieth century. (N '72)
- Military in politics. Stepan, A. (Mr '72)
- Military law
Barnes, P. Pawns. (Ap '72)
Rivkin, R. S. GI rights and army justice. (Ap '72)
- Military offenses
United States
Hersh, S. M. Cover-up. (Je '72)
- Military policy
Šveics, V. V. Small nation survival. (Je '71)

Military service, Compulsory

- Dennis, P. Decision by default. (N '72)
 Gerhardt, J. M. Draft and public policy. (Ap '72)
 Miller, Arthur
 Hayman, R. Arthur Miller. (D '72)
 Miller, Henry
 Miller, H. My life and times. (S '72)
 Milton, John
 Leishman, J. B. Milton's minor poems. (Ap '72)
 Variorum commentary on the poems of John Milton, v2 in 3pts. (D '72)
 Wolfe, D. M. Milton and his England. (Je '72)

Christian doctrine

- Hunter, W. B. Bright essence: studies in Milton's theology. (Mr '72)

Concordances

- Ingram, W., ed. Concordance to Milton's English poetry. (D '72)

Paradise lost

- Babb, L. Moral cosmos of Paradise lost. (Ag '72)
 Blamires, H. Milton's creation. (My '72)
 Hunter, W. B. Bright essence: studies in Milton's theology. (Mr '72)
 Knott, J. R. Milton's pastoral vision. (My '72)
 Milton and his England. Wolfe, D. M. (Je '72)
 Milton's creation. Blamires, H. (My '72)
 Milton's minor poems. Leishman, J. B. (Ap '72)
 Milton's pastoral vision. Knott, J. R. (My '72)
 Milwaukee

Economic conditions

- Schmandt, H. J. Milwaukee. (Ag '72)

Politics and government

- Schmandt, H. J. Milwaukee. (Ag '72)

Social conditions

- Schmandt, H. J. Milwaukee. (Ag '72)

Mind and body

- Pearce, J. C. Crack in the cosmic egg. (My '72)

- Mind of Adolf Hitler. Langer, W. (N '72)

- Mind of Chesterton. Hollis, C. (Ap '72)

- Mind of the scientist. Hoskin, M. (O '72)

Mineralogy*Pictorial works

- White, J. S. Color under ground. (My '72)

Miners

- Kluger, J. R. Clifton-Morenci strike. (S '72)

- McGovern, G. S. Great coalfield war. (S '72)

- Miners and merchants in Bourbon Mexico, 1763-1810. Brading, D. A. (My '72)

Mines and mineral resources*Idaho

- Fahey, J. Ballyhoo bonanza. (My '72)

Mineworkers' Union of Zambia

- Bates, R. H. Unions, parties and political development. (S '72)

- Mingled yarn. Parker, B. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Mingo County, West Virginia

- Perry, H. "They'll cut off your project." (N '72)

Miniature objects. See Antiques—Models*Miniature painting*Dictionaries

- Foskett, D. Dictionary of British miniature painters, 2v. (S '72)

- Miniatures (Portraits). See Miniature painting

- Minneapolis rehearsals: Tyrone Guthrie directs Hamlet. Rossi, A. (Je '72)

- Minoans: Crete in the bronze age. Eng title of: The Minoans: the story of bronze age Crete. Hood, S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Minoans: the story of bronze age Crete. Hood, S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Minor American novelists. Hoyt, C. A., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Minor English poems. Woodhouse, A. S. P. and Bush, D. (In A variorum commentary on the poems of John Milton, v2). (D '72)

- Minor lives. Nichols, J. (Ap '72)

Minorities

- Allswang, J. M. House for all peoples. (Mr '72)

- Clark, J. G., ed. Frontier challenge. (Mr '72)

- Heizer, R. F. Other Californians. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Henderson, G., ed. America's other children. (Ap '72)

- Howard, J. R., ed. Awakening minorities. (My '72)

- Levy, M. R. Ethnic factor. (O '72)

- Neches, R. F. Abbé Grégoire, 1787-1831 (Ag '72)

- Novak, M. Rise of the unmelttable ethnics. (Je '72)

- O'Reilly, R. P., ed. Racial and social class isolation in the schools. (S '72)

- Miracle of cosmetic plastic surgery. Aronsohn, R. B. (Mr '72)

Miró, Joan

- Penrose, R. Miró. (Je '72)

- Mirror image. Rudisill, R. (Mr '72)

- Mirror, mirror on the wall. Ellin, S. (D '72)

- Mishneh Torah. Maimonides. (In his Maimonides reader). (N '72)

- Miss Elizabeth Arden. Lewis, A. A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Miss Tallulah Bankhead. Israel, L. (Je '72)

- Missile gap: a study of the formulation of military and political policy. Bottome, E. M. (Ap '72)

- Mission: middle America. Armstrong, J. (S '72)

Missions

- Concise dictionary of the Christian world mission. (Ap '72)

- Dvornik, F. Byzantine missions among the Slavs. (Ag '72)

Asia

- Rachewiltz, I. de. Papal envoys to the great khans. (S '72)

Near East

- Grabill, J. L. Protestant diplomacy and the Near East. (Ag '72)

Mississippi*Description and travel*Views

- Welty, E. One time, one place. (Mr '72)

- Mississippi. Solomon, L. (S '72)

Mississippi River*Juvenile literature

- Solomon, L. Mississippi. (S '72)

- Mr. Gumpy's outing. Burningham, J. (Ap '72)

- Mrs. Frisby and the rats of NIMH. O'Brien, R. C. (S '72)

- Mixed or single-sex school? v2. Dale, R. R. (D '72)

Mobile home living

- Deck, J. Rancho paradise. (O '72)

Modeling*Juvenile literature

- Sommer, E. Bread dough craft book. (D '72)

- Models of ancient Greek philosophy. Shibles, W. A. (N '72)

- Models of political systems. Davies, M. R. (Je '72)

- Modern art and scientific thought. Richardson, J. A. (O '72)

- Modern art in America. Myron, R. (Je '72)

- Modern Black novelists. Cooke, M. G., ed. (My '72)

- Modern Brazil. Saunders, J., ed. (S '72)

- Modern China: the story of a revolution. Schell, O. (Ag '72)

- Modern cosmology. Sciama, D. W. (Ag '72)

- Modern criminals. Short, J. F., ed. (Je '72)

- Modern economic crises and recessions. Flamant, M. (Ag '72)

- Modern English literature. Robson, W. W. (Ag '72)

- Modern French music: from Fauré to Boulez. Myers, R. (Ap '72)

- Modern French music: its evolution and cultural background from 1900 to the present day. Eng title of: Modern French music: from Fauré to Boulez. Myers, R. (Ap '72)

- Modern furniture and decoration. Harling, R. (Ag '72)

- Modern geography of the United States. Estall, R. (D '72)

- Modern methods in the history of medicine. Clarke, E., ed. (Je '72)

- Modern Netherlands. Huggett, F. E. (N '72)

- Modern perspectives in child psychiatry. Howells, J. G., ed. (Ap '72)

- Modern revolutions. Dunn, J. (O '72)

- Modern Russian poetry. Carlisle, O. A., ed. & tr. (D '72)

- Modern Sioux. Nurge, E., ed. (Ap '72)

- Modern Spanish stage: four plays. Holt, M., ed. (S '72)

- Modern Supreme Court. McCloskey, R. G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Modern verse from Taiwan. Palandri, A. C. Y. J., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Modernism (Art)
Loevgren, S. Genesis of modernism [rev ed]. (Ap '72)
Sykes, G. Perennial avantgarde. (Ap '72)
- Modernist idea. Martins, W. (My '72)
- Modernization and diversity in Soviet education. Pennar, J. (Mr '72)
- Modernizing racial domination. Adam, H. (My '72)
- Mogul Empire
Gascoigne, B. Great Moghuls. (Mr '72)
- Mohammed
Rodinson, M. Mohammed. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Moisés, Rosallo
Moisés, R. Tall candle. (Ap '72)
- Moja means one. Feelings, M. (Ap '72)
- Los mojados; the wetback story. Samora, J. (Ap '72)
- Mole notes. Benedikt, M. (Ag '72)
- Molecular biology
Burnet, M. Genes, dreams, and realities (Ag '72)
Cairns-Smith, A. G. Life puzzle. (N '72)
Of microbes and life. (Ag '72)
Vol'kenshtein, M. V. Molecules and life. (Mr '72)
- Molecules and life. Vol'kenshtein, M. V. (Mr '72)
- Monarchy in the emperor's eyes. Kahn, H. L. (My '72)
- Monasticism and religious orders
Meeting of the monastic superiors in the Far East, Bangkok, 1968. New charter for monasticism. (Ap '72)
Seward, D. Monks of war. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
See also
Jesuits
- Monasticism and religious orders for women
Henderson, N. Out of the curtained world. (J '72)
- Monday the rabbi took off. Kemelman, H. (Ag '72)
- Monetary policy. See Currency question
- Monetary sin of the West. Rueff, J. (My '72)
- Money
Lindow, W. Inside the money market. (D '72)
Richardson, D. W. Electric money: evolution of an electronic funds-transfer system. (Ap '72)
Rueff, J. Monetary sin of the West. (My '72)
- Juvenile literature
Nitsche, R. Money. (Je '72)
- Money. Nitsche, R. (Je '72)
- Money and monetary policy in Communist China. Hsiao, K. H. (D '72)
- Money crowd. Thomas, D. L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Money in politics. Alexander, H. E. (Ag '72)
- Money lords. Josephson, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Money matters. Meigs, A. J. (S '72)
- Money, trade and international relations. Robbins, Lord. (O '72)
- Mongols
History
Rachewiltz, I. de. Papal envoys to the great khans. (S '72)
Rashid al-Din. Successors of Genghis Khan. (S '72)
Saunders, J. J. History of the Mongol conquests. (O '72)
Spuler, B. History of the Mongols. (D '72)
- Monkeys
Stories
Travers, P. L. Friend monkey. (Je '72)
- Monks. See Monasticism and religious orders
- Monks of war. Seward, D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Monopolies
Closed enterprise system. (Ag '72)
- Monroe, James
Ammon, H. James Monroe. (S '72)
- Montessori. Lillard, P. P. (Ap '72)
- Montessori method of education
Lillard, P. P. Montessori. (Ap '72)
Orem, R. C. Montessori today. (Mr '72)
- Montessori today. Orem, R. C. (Mr '72)
- Montez, Lola
Darling, A. Lola Montez. (O '72)
Ross, I. Uncrowned queen: life of Lola Montez. (Ag '72)

- Montgomery of Alamein, Bernard Law Montgomery, 1st Viscount
Lewin, R. Montgomery as military commander. (Ap '72)
- Montgomery, Alabama
Race relations
Juvenile literature
Stevenson, J. Montgomery bus boycott, December, 1955. (Ap '72)
- Montgomery as military commander. Lewin, R. (Ap '72)
- Montgomery bus boycott, December, 1955. Stevenson, J. (Ap '72)
- Montini, Giovanni Battista. See Paul VI (Giovanni Battista Montini) Pope
- Moominvalley in November. Jansson, T. (Je '72)
- Moon
Gamow, G. [rev ed]. (S '72)
Guest, J., ed. earth and its satellite. (O '72)
- Photographs
Kopal, Z. New photographic atlas of the moon. (Mr '72)
- Photographs from space
Davies, M. E. View from space. (Ag '72)
- Moonfish and owl scratchings. Mendoza, G. (S '72)
- Moon's a balloon. Niven, D. (Je '72)
- Moonshining
Carr, J. Second oldest profession. (N '72)
- Moore, Archie
Moore, A. Any boy can. (Mr '72)
- Moore, George
Hughes, D. A., ed. Man of wax. (Mr '72)
- Moorfield Storey and the abolitionist tradition. Hixson, W. B. (Je '72)
- Moral conditions
Reiche, R. Sexuality and class struggle. (My '72)
- Moral cosmos of Paradise lost. Babb, L. (Ag '72)
- Moral education. Beck, C. M., ed. (My '72)
- Moral philosophy. See Ethics
- Moral Trollope. ApRoberts, R. (Ag '72)
- Morality for moderns. Oraison, M. (N '72)
- Morality of civil disobedience. Hall, R. T. (Je '72)
- Morals of markets. Acton, H. B. (N '72)
- More essays in legal philosophy. Summers, R. S., ed. (D '72)
- More words of science. Asimov, I. (D '72)
- Moreau, Gustave
Paladilhé, J. Gustave Moreau. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Morgan, Allen
Morgan, A. Dropping out in  $\frac{3}{4}$  time. (Ag '72)
- Morgenthau, Robert Morris
Cohn, R. Fool for a client. (Ap '72)
- Morison, Stanley
Moran, J. Stanley Morison. (D '72)
- Morley, Sylvanus Griswold
Brunhouse, R. L. Sylvanus G. Morley and the world of the ancient Mayas. (Ag '72)
- Mormons and Mormonism
Hunter, R. Daughter of Zion. (O '72)
- Morning deluge. Han, S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Morocco
Politics and government
Scham, A. Lyautey in Morocco. (S '72)
- Morris, William
The earthly paradise
Dunlap, J. R. Book that never was. (Mr '72)
- Morris, Willie
Juvenile literature
Morris, W. Good old boy. (My '72)
- Mortal consequences. Symons, J. (Je '72)
- Mortal Napoleon III. Williams, R. L. (D '72)
- Mortgaged wife. Harr, B. (My '72)
- Mortimer, Wyndham
Mortimer, W. Organize! my life as a union man. (Mr '72)
- Moscow
Demonstrations
Gorbanevskaya, N. Red Square at noon. (S '72)
- Moscow, Battle of, 1941-1942
Seaton, A. Battle for Moscow, 1941-1942. (Je '72)
- Moscow conversations. Jacoby, S. (N '72)
- Moscow nights (Sleep soundly, dear comrade). Tenin, V. (Je '72)

Moses

Art

- Mellinkoff, R. Horned Moses in medieval art and thought. (Mr '72)
 Mosley, Sir Oswald, 6th Bart.
 Mosley, O. My life. (Ap '72)
 Mosquitoes

Juvenile literature

- Ault, P. Wonders of the mosquito world. (Ag '72)

Mosses

- Bland, J. H. Forests of Lilliput. (My '72)
 Mother tree. Whitehead, R. (Ap '72)

Mothers

- Evslin, D. Fortunate sex. (O '72)
 Rains, P. M. Becoming an unwed mother. (O '72)
 Silverman, A. Case against having children. (Ag '72)
 Mothers cook & cope book. Lane, C. (S '72)

Motion

- Buckley, M. J. Motion and motion's God. (Mr '72)
 Motion and motion's God. Buckley, M. J. (Mr '72)
 Motion picture performers. Schuster, M., comp. (Ag '72)
 Motion will be denied. Schultz, J. (My '72)
 Motivating human behavior. Dichter, E. (Mr '72)

Motivation (Psychology)

- Dichter, E. Motivating human behavior. (Mr '72)
 Miller, N. E. Neal E. Miller: selected papers. (Je '72)
 Motive for a mission. Douglas-Hamilton, J. (Mr '72)

- Motor disturbance. Elmslie, K. (O '72)

- Motorcycle betrayal poems. Wakoski, D. (Mr '72)

- Mountain. Parnall, P. (O '72)

Mountain life

Southern States

- Peterson, B. Coaltown revisited. (Ag '72)
 Wigginton, E., ed. Foxfire book. (Ag '72)
 Mountain of truth. Carlson, D. (O '72)
 Mountain people. Turnbull, C. M. (D '72)
 Mountain sheep
 Geist, V. Mountain sheep. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Mountaineering

- Rebuffat, G. On ice and snow and rock. (S '72)
 Rudner, R. Wandering. (D '72)
 Underhill, M. Give me the hills. (Ap '72)
 Mourides of Senegal. Cruise O'Brien, D. B. (Mr '72)

- Mourning trees. Johnston, V. (Je '72)

- Mouse named Mus. Brady, I. (O '72)

Movement for Basic Education

- De Kadt, E. Catholic radicals in Brazil. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Movement perspective of Rudolf Laban. Eng title of: Laban's theory of movement. Thornton, S. (My '72)

- Movements in European history. Lawrence, D. H. (O '72)

- Moving continents. Golden, F. (Ag '72)

Moving picture cartoons

- Halas, J. Art in movement: new directions in animation. (Ap '72)

Moving picture photography

- Halas, J. Art in movement: new directions in animation. (Ap '72)

Moving picture plays

- Dreyer, C. T. Jesus. (N '72)
 Gilliat, P. Sunday bloody Sunday. (D '72)
 Godden, R. Tale of tales: the Beatrix Potter ballet. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Walker, A. Stanley Kubrick directs. (My '72)

History and criticism

- Barbour, A. G. Thousand and one delights. (Mr '72)
 Bergman, A. We're in the money: depression America and its films. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Braudy, L. Jean Renoir. (Je '72)
 Coke, A., ed. Garbo and the night watchmen. (S '72)
 Curtiss, T. Q. Von Stroheim. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Ferguson, O. Film criticism of Otis Ferguson. (Ag '72)
 Harmon, J. Great movie serials. (N '72)
 Kauffmann, S. Figures of light. (S '72)
 New York Times directory of the film. (S '72)
 Taylor, J. R. Hollywood musical. (My '72)
 Young, V. On film. (D '72)

Moving pictures

- Bazin, A. What is cinema? v2. (Ap '72)
 Furhammar, L. Politics and film. (Je '72)
 Harmon, J. Great movie serials. (N '72)
 Lambert, G. On Cukor. (N '72)
 McCrindle, J. F., ed. Behind the scenes. (S '72)
 Manvell, R. Shakespeare and the film. (Ag '72)
 Matthews, J. H. Surrealism and film. (Je '72)
 Roberts, K. H. Primer for film making. (O '72)
 Schrader, P. Transcendental style in film: Ozu, Bresson, Dreyer. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Wall, J. M. Church and cinema. (My '72)
 Weaver, J. T., comp. Twenty years of silents, 1908-1928. (O '72)
 Whitaker, R. Language of film. (D '72)

Anecdotes, facetiae, satire, etc.

- Wilk, M., ed. Wit and wisdom of Hollywood. (N '72)

Biography

- Marion, F. Off with their heads! (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Bibliography

- Schuster, M., comp. Motion picture performers. (Ag '72)

Catalogs

- American Film Institute. American film institute catalog of motion pictures produced in the United States: v F2: Feature films 1921-1930, 2v. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Dictionaries

- Pickard, R. A. E. Dictionary of 1,000 best films. (Ag '72)

Encyclopedias

- International encyclopedia of film. (D '72)

History

- Armes, R. Patterns of realism. (N '72)
 Bergman, A. We're in the money: depression America and its films. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Dickinson, T. Discovery of cinema. (S '72)
 Fielding, R. American newsreel, 1911-1967. (N '72)
 Geduld, H. M., ed. Focus on D. W. Griffith. (Ag '72)
 Henderson, R. M. D. W. Griffith: his life and work. (Je '72)
 Kardish, L. Reel plastic magic. (D '72)

Moral and religious aspects

- Wall, J. M. Church and cinema. (My '72)

Philosophy

- Cavell, S. World viewed. (Ag '72)

Production and direction

- Braudy, L. Jean Renoir. (Je '72)
 Dickinson, T. Discovery of cinema. (S '72)
 Levin, G. R. Documentary explorations. (O '72)
 Lewis, J. Total film-maker. (Ap '72)
 Roberts, K. H. Primer for film making. (O '72)
 Seton, M. Portrait of a director: Satyajit Ray. (Ap '72)

Moving pictures, Documentary

- Levin, G. R. Documentary explorations. (O '72)
 Rosenthal, A. New documentary in action: a casebook in film making. (My '72)

History

- Jacobs, L., ed. Documentary tradition. (O '72)
 Moylan, Pennsylvania. School in Rose Valley
 Rotzel, G. School in Rose Valley. (Ap '72)
 Mozambique

History

- Isaacman, A. F. Mozambique. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Mozambique. Isaacman, A. F. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Mozart, Johann Chrysostom Wolfgang Amadeus
 Forman, D. Mozart's concerto form. (My '72)
 Levey, M. Life & death of Mozart. (Mr '72)
 Liebner, J. Mozart on the stage. (N '72)
 Mozart on the stage. Liebner, J. (N '72)
 Mozart's concerto form. Forman, D. (My '72)
 Muffled drums. Hachten, W. A. (Mr '72)
 Mug shots. Acton, J. (O '72)
 Mugging. Hunt, M. (Ag '72)
 Muğla, Turkey (Province)

Antiquities

- Bean, G. E. Turkey beyond the Maeander. (S '72)

- Muhammad Ali
Fisher, A. Garden of innocents. (N '72)
- Muir, Edwin
Huberman, E. Poetry of Edwin Muir. (My '72)
- Multicrises. Howe, J. T. (Ap '72)
- Multinationals. Tugendhat, C. (My '72)
- Multiple plot in English Renaissance drama.
Levin, R. (Ap '72)
- Mumbo jumbo. Reed, I. (D '72)
- Mumford, Lewis
Mumford, L. Letters of Lewis Mumford and
Frederic J. Osborn. (Je '72)

Bibliography

- Newman, E. S. Lewis Mumford: a bibliography, 1914-1970. (S '72)
- Mumming
Brody, A. English mummers and their plays.
(Ap '72)
- Munch, Edvard
Hodin, J. P. Edvard Munch. (S '72)
- Munich four-power agreement, 1938

Juvenile literature

- Grant, N. Munich: 1938. (Mv '72)
- Munich: 1938. Grant, N. (My '72)
- Municipal government

United States

- Rosenbloom, R. S. New tools for urban management. (Ag '72)
- Municipal government by city manager
Loveridge, R. O. City managers in legislative politics. (My '72)
- Mural painting and decoration
Garberi, M. P. Frescoes from Venetian villas.
(Mr '72)
- McGrath, R. L. Early Vermont wall paintings, 1790-1850. (D '72)
- Meiss, M. Great age of fresco: discoveries, recoveries and survivals. (Ap '72)
- Moretti, M. New monuments of Etruscan painting. (O '72)
- Wray, E. Ten lives of the Buddha. (D '72)
- Murder
Cooper, W. Brothers. (Je '72)
- Frankel, S. Beyond a reasonable doubt. (Ap
'72)
- Gilmore, J. Tucson murders. (D '72)
- Goodman, J. Posts-mortem. (Ag '72)
- Murder at the Savoy. Sjöwall, M. (Mr '72)
- Murder to make you grow up little girl. Oriol,
L. (D '72)
- Murder with love. Shannon, D. (My '72)
- Murderers and other friendly people. Brian, D.
(My '72)
- Murgatred's empire. Gascoigne, B. (N '72)
- Muriel. Elliott, G. P. (Je '72)
- Murphy, Gerald
Tomkins, C. Living well is the best revenge.
(1971, 1972 Annual)
- Murphy, Sara
Tomkins, C. Living well is the best revenge.
(1971, 1972 Annual)
- Murray, William Vans
Hill, P. P. William Vans Murray, Federalist
diplomat. (Mr '72)

Murrieta, Joaquin

Drama

- Neruda, P. Splendor and death of Joaquin
Murrieta. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Museums and women, and other stories. Updike, J. (D '72)

Music

- Barnett, D. Performance of music. (O '72)
- Analysis, appreciation
Edwards, A. Flawed words and stubborn sounds. (Ag '72)
- Haggin, B. H. New listener's companion and record guide [3d ed]. (My '72)
- Kostelanetz, R., ed. John Cage. (Ap '72)
- Menuhin, Y. Theme and variations. (O '72)
- Previn, A. Music face to face. (Ag '72)

Bibliography

- Charles, S. R. Handbook of music and music literature in sets and series. (Ja '73)
(1972 Annual)
- Fuld, J. J. Book of world-famous music [rev
& enl ed]. (Ag '72)

Dictionaries

- Ammer, C. Harper's dictionary of music. (Ag
'72)

History and criticism

- Davies, L. Paths to modern music. (Ap '72)
- Harding, J. Ox on the roof. (Ja '73) (1972
Annual)

- Hays, W., ed. Twentieth-century views of music history. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Mussulman, J. A. Music in the cultured generation. (S '72)
- Raynor, H. Social history of music. (O '72)
- Slonimsky, N. Music since 1900 [4th ed]. (My '72)
- Stevenson, R. Western music. (S '72)
- Twentieth-century composers, v2. (Mr '72)

Physiological aspects

- Nordoff, P. Therapy in music for handicapped children. (N '72)

Psychology

- Nordoff, P. Therapy in music for handicapped children. (N '72)

Study and teaching

- Bobri, V. Segovia technique. (D '72)

Music, African

History and criticism

- Rublowsky, J. Black music in America. (Mr
'72)

Music, American

- Stambler, I. Golden guitars. (My '72)

History and criticism

- Boeckman, C. And the beat goes on. (S '72)
- Nanry, C., ed. American music: from Story-
ville to Woodstock. (N '72)
- Rublowsky, J. Black music in America. (Mr
'72)
- Twentieth-century composers, v 1. (Mr '72)

Music, French

- Harding, J. Ox on the roof. (Ja '73) (1972
Annual)

History and criticism

- Myers, R. Modern French music: from Fauré
to Boulez. (Ap '72)

Music, Indic

- White, E. E. Appreciating India's music.
(Mr '72)

Music, Popular (Songs, etc.)

- Kimball, R., ed. Cole. (Mr '72)
- Levy, L. S. Flashes of merriment. (Mr '72)
- Shaw, A. World of soul. (Mr '72)
- Simon, G. T. Simon says. (My '72)
- Stambler, I. Golden guitars. (My '72)

Bibliography

- Fuld, J. J. Book of world-famous music [rev
& enl ed]. (Ag '72)

History and criticism

- Boeckman, C. And the beat goes on. (S '72)
- Nanry, C., ed. American music: from Story-
ville to Woodstock. (N '72)
- Wilder, A. American popular song. (Ag '72)

Music, Russian

History and criticism

- Schwarz, B. Music and musical life in Soviet Russia, 1917-1970. (Je '72)
- Music and musical life in Soviet Russia,
1916-1970. Schwarz, B. (Je '72)
- Music face to face. Previn, A. (Ag '72)
- Music for a king. Freer, C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Music in the cultured generation. Mussulman,
J. A. (S '72)
- Music since 1900 [4th ed]. Slonimsky, N. (My '72)

Musical instruments

Juvenile literature

- Kredenser, G. 1 one dancing drum. (D '72)
- Musical revues, comedies, etc.
Engel, L. Words with music. (Ag '72)
- Green, S. Ring bells! sing songs! (Mr '72)
- Taylor, J. R. Hollywood musical. (My '72)

Musicians, American

- Chilton, J. Who's who of jazz. (D '72)
- Russell, R. Jazz style in Kansas City and the Southwest. (Ap '72)
- Simon, G. T. Simon says. (My '72)

Muskie, Edmund Sixtus

- Nevin, D. Muskie of Maine. (Ag '72)
- Muskie of Maine. Nevin, D. (Ag '72)

Muslims in Senegal

- Cruise O'Brien, D. B. Mourides of Senegal.
(Mr '72)

Musset, Alfred de

- Affron, C. Stage for poets. (Je '72)

- Mussolini, Benito
Collier, R. Duce! (Ap '72)

- Mussolini and fascism: the view from America. Diggs, J. P. (My '72)

- My brother Paul. Rubenstein, R. L. (Ag '72)
 My dear Wister. Vorpahl, B. M. (N '72)
 My kingdom for a grave. Plowman, S. (My '72)
 My land is dying. Caudill, H. M. (Mr '72)
 My last two thousand years. Gold, H. (D '72)
 My life. Mosley, O. (Ap '72)
 My life and times. Miller, H. (S '72)
 My lives. Meynell, E. (Ap '72)
 My Michael. Oz, A. (S '72)
 My name is Asher Lev. Potok, C. (Ag '72)
 My years with Xerox. Dessauer, J. H. (Ap '72)
 Mysterious disappearance of Leon (I mean Noel). Raskin, E. (Ap '72)
 Mysterious world of caves. Bauer, E. (O '72)
 Mystery and detective stories (Books about)
- History and criticism
- Donaldson, N. In search of Dr. Thorndyke. (Mr '72)
 Symons, J. Mortal consequences. (Je '72)
 Mystery of Minoan civilization. Cottrell, L. (Ap '72)
 Mystery writer's art. Nevins, F. M., comp. (Ap '72)
- Mysticism
- Johnson, R. L. Counter culture and the vision of God. (Ap '72)
 Watts, A. Behold the spirit. (Ap '72)
 Myth and law among the Indo-Europeans. Puhvel, J., ed. (My '72)
 Myth and modern man. Patai, R. (S '72)
 Myth of a progressive reform. Caine, S. P. (Ag '72)
 Myth of the guerrilla. Bell, J. B. (Mr '72)
 Myth of the middle class. Parker, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Mythologies. Barthes, R. (O '72)
- Mythology
- Campbell, J. Myths to live by. (S '72)
 Patai, R. Myth and modern man. (S '72)
- Mythology, Classical
- Barthell, E. E. Gods and goddesses of ancient Greece. (My '72)
 Feder, L. Ancient myth in modern poetry. (O '72)
 Grant, M. Roman myths. (Ag '72)
- Mythology, Greek
- Dictionaries
- New Century handbook of Greek mythology and legend. (D '72)
- Mythology, Indo-European
- Puhvel, J., ed. Myth and law among the Indo-Europeans. (My '72)
- Mythology in literature
- Feder, L. Ancient myth in modern poetry. (O '72)
 White, J. J. Mythology in the modern novel. (O '72)
- Mythology in the modern novel. White, J. J. (O '72)
- Myths. See Mythology
- Myths to live by. Campbell, J. (S '72)
- NLF; national liberation fronts, 1960/1970. Hodges, D. C., ed. (N '72)
- Nabokov, Vladimir Vladimirovich
- Rowe, W. W. Nabokov's deceptive world. (Ap '72)
- Nabokov's deceptive world. Rowe, W. W. (Ap '72)
- Nader, Ralph
- Buckhorn, R. F. Nader: the people's lawyer. (Je '72)
 McCarry, C. Citizen Nader. (Je '72)
 Whiteside, T. Investigation of Ralph Nader. (O '72)
- Nader: the people's lawyer. Buckhorn, R. F. (Je '72)
- Naive and sentimental lover. Le Carré, J. (Ap '72)
- Name on the White House floor, and other anxieties of our times. Martin, J. (D '72)
- Names, Geographical
- Harrison, M. London that was Rome. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Namier, Sir Lewis Bernstein
- Namier, J. Lewis Namier: a biography. (Ap '72)
- Nanook of the North. Flaherty, R. (Ap '72)
- Napoleon I, Emperor of the French
- Castelot, A. Napoleon. (Mr '72)
 Cronin, V. Napoleon Bonaparte: an intimate biography. (My '72)
 Glover, M. Legacy of glory. (Ag '72)
 Martineau, G. Napoleon surrenders. (S '72)
 Napoleon III, Emperor of the French
- Aronson, R. Queen Victoria and the Bonapartes. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Hanna, A. J. Napoleon III and Mexico. (Ag '72)
 Williams, R. L. Mortal Napoleon III. (D '72)
 Napoleon surrenders. Martineau, G. (S '72)
 Napoleon III and Mexico. Hanna, A. J. (Ag '72)
 Napoleonists. Lean, E. T. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Naranja, Mexico
- Friedrich, P. Agrarian revolt in a Mexican village. (Je '72)
- Narcotic habit
- Alfonsi, P. Satan's needle. (Ag '72)
 Berry, J. Heroin was my best friend. (S '72)
 Chapin, W. Wasted. (Ag '72)
 Dai, B. Opium addiction in Chicago. (Mr '72)
 Go ask Alice. (O '72)
 Goldhill, P. M. Parent's guide to the prevention and control of drug abuse. (My '72)
 Regush, N. M. Drug addiction business. (My '72)
 Seymour, W. N. Young die quietly. (Ap '72)
 Smith, D. E., ed. "It's so good, don't even try it once." (D '72)
- Rehabilitation
- Meyer, R. E. Guide to drug rehabilitation. (S '72)
- Narcotic plants. Emboden, W. A. (S '72)
- Narcotics
- Emboden, W. A. Narcotic plants. (S '72)
 Weil, A. Natural mind. (D '72)
- Laws and regulations
- King, R. Drug hang-up. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Narcotics and youth
- Berry, J. Heroin was my best friend. (S '72)
 Go ask Alice. (O '72)
- Narrative art of Charles Dickens. Sucksmith, H. P. (Ap '72)
- Narrative pattern in Ernest Hemingway's fiction. Nahal, C. (Je '72)
- Narrative poems. Lewis, C. S. (Ag '72)
- Narrative situations in the novel. Stanzel, F. (Ap '72)
- Nasser, Gamal Abdel, President United Arab Republic
- Dekmejian, R. H. Egypt under Nasir. (My '72)
 Nutting, A. Nasser. (O '72)
 Stephens, R. Nasser. (Je '72)
- Nathan, Isaac
- Ashton, T. L. Byron's Hebrew melodies. (D '72)
- Nation of strangers. Packard, V. (N '72)
- National characteristics
- Mayne, R. Europeans. (N '72)
- National characteristics, American
- Kammen, M. People of paradox. (D '72)
- National characteristics, Austrian
- Musulin, S. Austria and the Austrians. (O '72)
- National characteristics, English
- Barnett, C. Collapse of British power. (D '72)
- National characteristics, German
- Schalk, A. Germans. (Ap '72)
- National characteristics, Irish
- Greeley, A. M. That most distressful nation. (N '72)
- National characteristics, Liberian
- Cultural contest of learning and thinking. (S '72)
- National characteristics, Puerto Rican
- Silén, J. A. We the Puerto Rican people. (Ap '72)
- National characteristics, Spanish
- Szulc, T. Portrait of Spain. (D '72)
- National Education Association
- Schultz, M. J. National education association and the black teacher. (Mr '72)
- National education association and the black teacher. Schultz, M. J. (Mr '72)
- National executive branch. Davis, J. W. (S '72)
- National Football League
- Rathet, M. Pro football: the world of the NFL. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- National gallery of Canada. Boggs, J. S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- National Guard. Dupuy, R. E. (My '72)
- National health care. Elling, R. H., ed. (Ag '72)
- National intelligencer
- Ames, W. E. History of the National intelligencer. (D '72)
- National parks and reserves
- Uganda
- Neal, E. Uganda quest. (Ap '72)

National parks and reserves—Continued

United States

Hampton, H. D. How the U.S. cavalry saved our national parks. (O '72)

National socialism

Holborn, H., ed. Republic to Reich. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Newman, K. J. European democracy between the wars. (Ap '72)

History

Bracher, K. D. German dictatorship. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

National socialist party (Germany)

Kele, M. H. Nazis and workers. (D '72)

National Urban League

Parris, G. Blacks in the city. (Ag '72)

Nationalism

Anderson, B. R. O'G. Java in a time of revolution. (N '72)
Gibson, R. African liberation movements. (D '72)
Hodges, D. C., ed. NLF; national liberation fronts, 1960/1970. (N '72)
Mahajan, U. Philippine nationalism. (My '72)
Marr, D. G. Vietnamese anticolonialism, 1885-1925. (Ap '72)
Nagel, P. C. This sacred trust. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Shafer, B. C. Faces of nationalism. (Ag '72)
Symmons-Symonolewicz, K. Nationalist movements. (S '72)
Walshe, P. Rise of African nationalism in South Africa. (O '72)

Nationalism & capitalism in Peru: a study in neo-imperialism. Quijano, A. (My '72)

Nationalist movements. Symmons-Symonolewicz, K. (S '72)

Natives of my person. Lamming, G. (My '72)

Natural foods cookbook. The New York Times. Hewitt, J., comp. (O '72)

Natural history

Dictionaries

Juvenile literature

Discovering natural science. (Ag '72)

Arctic regions

Stonehouse, B. Animals of the Arctic. (My '72)

Australia

Clare, P. Struggle for the Great Barrier Reef. (Je '72)
Morcombe, M. K. Wild Australia. (O '72)

Borneo

Juvenile literature

Pomerantz, C. Day they parachuted cats on Borneo. (My '72)

Brazil

Smith, A. Mato Grosso. (Ag '72)

British Columbia

Hillen, W. Blackwater River: Tao-Thal-Kas. (Ap '72)

Great Britain

Shell natural history of Britain. (Ap '72)

Great Smoky Mountains

Hutchins, R. E. Hidden valley of the Smokies. (Mr '72)

Labrador

Lysaght, A. M., ed. Joseph Banks in Newfoundland and Labrador, 1766. (My '72)

Mediterranean region

Carrington, R. Mediterranean. (Mr '72)

New York (City)

Barlow, E. Forests and wetlands of New York City. (Mr '72)

New Zealand

Lockley, R. M. Man against nature. (Ag '72)

Juvenile literature

Day, B. Life on a lost continent. (My '72)

Newfoundland

Lysaght, A. M., ed. Joseph Banks in Newfoundland and Labrador, 1766. (My '72)

Northwest Territories, Canada

Sutton, G. M. High Arctic. (My '72)

Pacific States

Kelley, D. G. Edge of a continent. (Mr '72)

Queensland

Breeden, S. Tropical Queensland. (Ag '72)

Tropics

Juvenile literature

Shepherd, W. Jungles. (D '72)

United States

Atkinson, B. This bright land. (Je '72)
Natural history of man. Brierley, J. K. (Ap '72)
Natural history of the vampire. Masters, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Natural mind. Weil, A. (D '72)

Natural resources

Juvenile literature

Jennings, G. Shrinking outdoors. (S '72)

Kentucky

Caudill, H. M. My land is dying. (Mr '72)

Russia

Gerasimov, I. P., ed. Natural resources of the Soviet: their use and renewal. (My '72)

United States

Juvenile literature

Parnall, P. Mountain. (O '72)
Natural resources of the Soviet Union: their use and renewal. Gerasimov, I. P., ed. (My '72)

Natural selection

Bajema, C. J., ed. Natural selection in human populations. (N '72)
Natural selection in human populations. Bajema, C. J., ed. (N '72)
Naturalism in literature. See Realism in literature

Naturalist drama in Germany. Osborne, J. (O '72)

Nature

Eiseley, L. Night country. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Poetry

Juvenile literature

Atwood, A. Haiku: the mood of earth. (Je '72)

Nature, addresses, lectures; v 1 of The collected works of Ralph Waldo Emerson. Emerson, R. W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Nature and evolution of female sexuality. Sherfey, M. J. (O '72)

Nature conservation

Dasmann, R. F. Planet in peril. (N '72)

Juvenile literature

Parnall, P. Mountain. (O '72)

Nature in literature

Ball, P. M. Science of aspects. (My '72)
Nature of matter. Frisch, O. R. (O '72)
Nature of the universe. Kilmister, C. (My '72)
Nature of theatre. Roberts, V. M. (Ag '72)

Nature photography

Eisenstaedt, A. Witness to nature. (Mr '72)
Howard, J. A. Aerial photo-ecology. (S '72)

Juvenile literature

Atwood, A. Haiku: the mood of earth. (Je '72)

Nature study

Dauids, R. C. How to talk to birds and other uncommon ways of enjoying nature the year round. (S '72)

Juvenile literature

Busch, P. S. Walk in the snow. (O '72)
Nautical archaeology. Wilkes, B. St J. (Je '72)

Navaho Indians

Crapanzano, V. Fifth world of Forster Bennett. (S '72)
Kelly, L. Navajo roundup. (Je '72)

Religion and mythology

Moon, S. Magic dwells. (Mr '72)
Navajo roundup. Kelly, L. (Je '72)
Naval Academy illustrated history of the United States Navy. Potter, E. B. (Mr '72)

Naval architecture

Chapman, F. H. af. Architectura navalis mercatoria. (D '72)

Naval side of King William's war, 16th/26th November 1688-14th June 1690. Powley, E. B. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Navigation

Dodd, E. Polynesian seafaring, v2. (N '72)

Nazis and workers. Kele, M. H. (D '72)

Ndendeull (African people)

Gulliver, P. H. Neighbours and networks. (Ag '72)

Near East

Landau, J. M., ed. Man, state, and society in the contemporary Middle East. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Antiquities

Eydoux, H.-P. In search of lost worlds. (Ag '72)

Civilization

Peters, F. E. Harvest of Hellenism. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Description and travel

Baly, D. Atlas of the biblical world. (My '72)

Economic conditions

Studies in the economic history of the Middle East. (Ap '72)

Foreign relations*Great Britain

Busch, B. C. Britain, India, and the Arabs, 1914-1921. (My '72)

United States

Grabill, J. L. Protestant diplomacy and the Near East. (Ag '72)

History

Nutting, A. Nasser. (O '72)

Stewart, D. Middle East: Temple of Janus. (Ag '72)

Studies in the economic history of the Middle East. (Ap '72)

Politics

Anderson, M. S., ed. Great powers and the Near East, 1774-1923. (Ap '72)

Haddad, G. M. Revolutions and military rule in the Middle East: the Arab states, v2, pt. 1: Iraq, Syria, Lebanon and Jordan. (O '72)

Landau, J. M., ed. Man, state, and society in the contemporary Middle East. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Vatikiotis, P. J. Conflict in the Middle East. (D '72)

Nearing, Scott

Nearing, S. Making of a radical. (S '72)

Necessary objects. Gould, L. (D '72)

Necklace for Laurie. Ehmcke, S. (My '72)

Needle's eye. Drabble, M. (S '72)

Negev, Evenari, M. (Ap '72)

Negro almanac [2d ed]. Ploski, H. A., ed (My '72)

Negro art

Laude, J. Arts of Black Africa. (N '72)

Lewis, S. S. Black artists on art, v2. (N '72)

Negro artists

Bearden, R. Six Black masters of American art. (O '72)

Doty, R. Contemporary black artists in America. (Ag '72)

Lewis, S. S. Black artists on art, v2. (N '72)

Biography

Fax, E. C. Seventeen black artists. (Ag '72)

Negro authors

Bontemps, A., ed. Harlem Renaissance remembered. (N '72)

Huggins, N. I. Harlem Renaissance. (Ap '72)

Negro businessmen

Bailey, R. W., ed. Black business enterprise. (Ag '72)

Blaustein, A. I. Star-spangled hustle. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Light, I. H. Ethnic enterprise in America. (O '72)

Negro drama

Childress, A., ed. Black scenes. (S '72)

Patterson, L., comp. Black theater. (My '72)

Negro fiction

Cooke, M. G., ed. Modern Black novelist. (My '72)

Negro in American culture [2d ed]. Butcher, M. J. (D '72)

Negro Journalism. See Journalism

Negro literature

Porter, D., comp. Early Negro writing, 1760-1837. (My '72)

Collections*Juvenile literature

McDowell, R. E., ed. Third World voices for children. (Je '72)

History and criticism

Bontemps, A., ed. Harlem Renaissance remembered. (N '72)

Huggins, N. I. Harlem Renaissance. (Ap '72)

Mphahlele, E. Voices in the whirlwind, and other essays. (D '72)

Negro music

Heilbut, T. Gospel sound: good news and bad times. (Ap '72)

Rublowsky, J. Black music in America. (Mr '72)

Shaw, A. World of soul. (Mr '72)

Negro musicians

Heilbut, T. Gospel sound: good news and bad times. (Ap '72)

Mitchell, G. Blow my blues away. (My '72)

Oliver, P. Aspects of the blues tradition. (D '72)

Rublowsky, J. Black music in America. (Mr '72)

Shaw, A. World of soul. (Mr '72)

Negro poetry

Clifton, L. Good news about the earth. (D '72)

Hughes, L., ed. Poetry of the Negro, 1746-1970 [rev ed]. (Ap '72)

Jones, E. A., comp. Voices of Négritude. (Ag '72)

Juvenile literature

Giovanni, N. Spin ■ soft black song. (S '72)

Negro race. See Negroes

Negro spirituals

Heilbut, T. Gospel sound: good news and bad times. (Ap '72)

Negro wit and humor

Spalding, H. D., ed. Encyclopedia of Black folklore and humor. (O '72)

Negroes

Baldwin, J. No name in the street. (S '72)

Blassingame, J. W. Slave community. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Butcher, M. J. Negro in American culture [2d ed]. (D '72)

Degler, C. N. Neither black nor white. (N '72)

Du Bois, W. E. B. Seventh son. (Ap '72)

Foner, P. S., ed. Voice of black America. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Goldstein, R. L., ed. Black life and culture in the United States. (N '72)

Haller, J. S. Outcasts from evolution. (S '72)

Ploski, H. A., ed. Negro almanac [2d ed]. (My '72)

Biography

Haskins, J. Profiles in Black power. (Ag '72)

Metcalf, G. R. Up from within. (Mr '72)

Juvenile literature

Bruner, R. Black politicians. (Mr '72)

Duckett, A. Changing of the guard. (O '72)

Civil rights

Berry, M. F. Black resistance, white law. (S '72)

Bond, J. Time to speak, a time to act. (O '72)

Du Bois, W. E. B. W. E. B. Du Bois speaks: speeches and addresses, 2v. (My '72)

Forman, J. Making of black revolutionaries. (N '72)

Owens, J. I have changed. (N '72)

Rustin, B. Down the line. (My '72)

Vivian, C. T. Black power and the American myth. (Je '72)

Economic conditions

Blaustein, A. I. Star-spangled hustle. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Davis, F. G. Economics of black community development. (D '72)

Groh, G. W. Black migration. (S '72)

Hudson, H. Black worker in the deep South. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Tabb, W. K. Political economy of the black ghetto. (Je '72)

Education

Anthony, E. Time of the furnaces. (Mr '72)

Conroy, P. Water is wide. (N '72)

Culbertson, M. May I speak? (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Reeves, D. Notes of a processed brother. (Ap '72)

Sowell, T. Black education. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Employment

Ross, J. C. Black belonging. (Je '72)

Juvenile literature

Stein, M. L. Blacks in communications. (D '72)

Negroes—Continued

History

- Berry, M. F. Black resistance, white law. (S '72)
 Katz, W. L. Black West. (Mr '72)
 Lerner, G., ed. Black women in white America. (Ag '72)
 Porter, D., comp. Early Negro writing, 1760-1837. (My '72)

Bibliography

- Blacks in America. (O '72)
 McPherson, J. M. Blacks in America. (S '72)

Housing

- Bradburn, N. M. Side by side. (Mr '72)
 Downs, A. Urban problems and prospects. (S '72)

Integration

- Bradburn, N. M. Side by side. (Mr '72)

Juvenile literature

- Bowen, D. Struggle within [rev ed]. (N '72)

Language

- Dillard, J. L. Black English. (O '72)

Moral and social conditions

- We charge genocide. (Ap '72)

Poetry

Juvenile literature

- Clifton, L. Everett Anderson's Christmas coming. (Mr '72)

Political activity

- Bond, J. Time to speak, a time to act. (O '72)
 Cleage, A. B. Black Christian nationalism. (Ag '72)
 Davidson, C. Biracial politics. (D '72)
 Tucker, D. M. Lieutenant Lee of Beale Street. (Ag '72)
 Walton, H. Blacks politics. (D '72)

Juvenile literature

- Duckett, A. Changing of the guard. (O '72)

Politics and suffrage

- If they come in the morning. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Juvenile literature

- Bruner, R. Black politicians. (Mr '72)

Psychology

- Baughman, E. E. Black Americans. (N '72)
 Thomas, A. Racism and psychiatry. (N '72)

Religion

- Nelsen, H. M., ed. Black church in America. (N '72)

Segregation

Juvenile literature

- Stevenson, J. Montgomery bus boycott, December, 1955. (Ap '72)

Social conditions

- Baraka, I. A., ed. African congress. (S '72)
 Doyle, B. W. Etiquette of race relations in the South. (Ag '72)
 Du Bois, W. E. B. W. E. B. Du Bois speaks: speeches and addresses, 2v. (My '72)
 Halpern, B. Jews and Blacks. (My '72)
 Ladner, J. A. Tomorrow's tomorrow: the black woman. (S '72)
 Parris, G. Blacks in the city. (Ag '72)
 Ross, J. C. Black belonging. (Je '72)
 Rossi, P. H., ed. Ghetto revolts. (My '72)

Suffrage

- Walton, H. Black politics. (D '72)

Chicago

- Sale, R. T. Blackstone rangers. (Ap '72)

Houston, Texas

- Davidson, C. Biracial politics. (D '72)

St Louis

- Ladner, J. A. Tomorrow's tomorrow: the black woman. (S '72)

Southern States

- Doyle, B. W. Etiquette of race relations in the South. (Ag '72)
 McMillen, N. R. Citizens' council. (N '72)
 Murray, A. South to a very old place. (Mr '72)
 Watters, P. Down to now. (Mr '72)

Washington, D.C.

- Brown, L. W. Free Negroes in the District of Columbia, 1790-1846. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Negroes as businessmen. See Negro businessmen
 Negroes as physicians
 Curtis, J. L. Blacks, medical schools, and society. (Mr '72)
 Negroes in Asia
 Harris, J. E. African presence in Asia. (N '72)
 Negroes in Brazil
 Degler, C. N. Neither black nor white. (N '72)
 Negroes in Canada
 Winks, R. W. Blacks in Canada. (1971, 1972 Annual) Negroes in England

History

Sources

- Walvin, J. Black presence. (N '72)
 Negroes in Liberia
 Campbell, P. Maryland in Africa. (Je '72)
 Negroes in literature and art
 Starke, C. J. Black portraiture in American fiction. (Je '72)
 Negroes in the performing arts

Bibliography

- Reardon, W. R. Black teacher and the dramatic arts. (Ap '72)
 Negroes in Vietnam
 Whitmore, T. Memphis, Nam, Sweden. (Mr '72)
 Nehru, Jawaharlal
 Edwardes, M. Nehru. (Ag '72)
 Neighbors. Freeman, S. T. (Ap '72)
 Neighbours and networks. Gulliver, P. H. (Ag '72)
 Neihardt, John Gneisenau
 Neihardt, J. G. All is but a beginning. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Neill, Alexander Sutherland
 Neill, A. S. Neill! Neill! Orange peel! (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Neill! Neill! Orange peel! Neill, A. S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Neither black nor white. Degler, C. N. (N '72)
 Nelson, Horatio Nelson, Viscount
 Bennett, G. Nelson the commander. (O '72)
 Nelson the commander. Bennett, G. (O '72)
 Nematodes
 Croil, N. A. Behaviour of nematodes. (My '72)
 Nemesis. Christie, A. (Mr '72)
 Neoplatonism
 Wallis, R. T. Neoplatonism. (N '72)
 Nepal
 Pitt, P. Surgeon in Nepal. (O '72)
 Nepalese War, 1814-1816
 Pemble, J. Invasion of Nepal. (O '72)
 Nero, Emperor of Rome

Fiction

- Hersey, J. Conspiracy. (Je '72)
 Neruda and Vallejo: selected poems. Bly, R., ed. (Ag '72)
 Nervous system
 Stevens, L. A. Explorers of the brain. (Ag '72)
 Net cost of Soviet foreign aid. Carter, H. R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual) Netherlandish art of the 15th and 16th centuries, Flemish and Dutch art of the 17th century, Italian art, French art; v2 of collected writings. Benesch, O. (S '72)
 Netherlands
 Huggett, F. E. Modern Netherlands. (N '72)
 Civilization
 Haley, K. H. D. Dutch in the seventeenth century. (D '72)
 History
 Haley, K. H. D. Dutch in the seventeenth century. (D '72)

German occupation, 1940-1945—

Juvenile literature

- Reiss, J. Upstairs room. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Network. Eng title of: General was a spy. Hohn, H. (Je '72)
 Neurotic trillionaire. Macrae, N. (Ap '72)

Neutrality

- Ogley, R. Theory and practice of neutrality in the twentieth century. (Je '72)
 New age of American foreign policy. Hartmann, F. H. (My '72)
 New American and Canadian poetry. Gill, J., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 New American Bible. Bible. (S '72)
 New American revolution. Aya, R., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 New anatomy of Britain. Sampson, A. (Ag '72)

New Caledonia

- Thompson, V. French Pacific Islands. (My '72)

New Century handbook of Greek literature. (D '72)New Century handbook of Greek mythology and legend. (D '72)New Century Italian Renaissance encyclopedia. (D '72)New charter for monasticism. Meeting of the monastic superiors in the Far East, Bangkok, 1968. (Ap '72)New chastity and other arguments against women's liberation. Decter, M. (D '72)New citizenship. Thelen, D. P. (O '72)New communes. Roberts, R. E. (Ag '72)New concepts of sea floor evolution; v4 of The sea: ideas and observations on progress in the study of the seas. Maxwell, A. E., ed. (My '72)New converts to the American dream? Heller, C. S. (S '72)New deal in the suburbs. Arnold, J. L. (N '72)New documentary in action: a casebook in film making. Rosenthal, A. (My '72)New economics of Richard Nixon. Miller, R. L. (Ag '72)New Eldorado: the story of Colorado's gold and silver rushes. Dorset, P. F. (Mr '72)New encyclopedia of the opera. Ewen, D. (Mr '72)New England*Foster, S. Their solitary way. (D '72)Description and travel*Jorgensen, N. Guide to New England's landscape. (Mr '72)Morris, T. Walk of the conscious ants. (S '72)History*Jensen, A. C. Cod. (D '72)Politics and government*Colonial period*Breen, T. H. Character of the good ruler. (1971, 1972 Annual)New England cook book, June Platt's. Platt, J. (Mr '72)New England in literature*Bell, M. D. Hawthorne and the historical romance of New England. (1971, 1972 Annual)New eroticism. Nobile, P., ed. (S '72)New face of science. Hoyle, F. (Ap '72)New families. Speck, R. V. (D '72)New forms of worship. White, J. F. (Mr '72)New gravitation. Klein, H. A. (My '72)New Guinea*Machlin, M. Search for Michael Rockefeller. (My '72)Social life and customs*Strathern, A. Self-decoration in Mount Hagen. (Ag '72)New Hampshire*Politics and government*Cole, D. B. Jacksonian democracy in New Hampshire, 1800-1851. (Mr '72)New How to win an election. Shadegg, S. C. (S '72)New Jersey*Description and travel*Guide books*New York walk book [4th ed rev]. (O '72)History*Miers, E. S. Crossroads of freedom. (Ag '72)New journalism. Johnson, M. L. (Mr '72)New library design. Langmead, S. (O '72)New listener's companion and record guide [3d ed]. Haggin, B. H. (My '72)New men in the Roman senate. 139 B.C.-A.D. 14. Wiseman, T. P. (Ap '72)New monuments of Etruscan painting. Moretti, M. (O '72)New myths and old realities. Warnath, C. F. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)New 100 years war. Geyer, G. A. (S '72)New Orleans*History*Huber, L. V. New Orleans: a pictorial history. (Mr '72)New Orleans: a pictorial history. Huber, L. V. (Mr '72)New Orleans, Battle of, 1815*Carter, S. Blaze of glory. (Mr '72)New photographic atlas of the moon. Kopal, Z. (Mr '72)New poetics. Geoffrey of Vinsauf. (In Three medieval rhetorical arts; ed. by J. J. Murphy). (My '72)New politicians of fifth-century Athens. Connor, W. R. (Ap '72)New queens for old. Fielding, G. (N '72)New radicalism: anarchist or Marxist? Green, G. (My '72)New sexual revolution. Kirkendall, L. A. (My '72)New sexuality. Kennedy, E. C. (Ag '72)New soldier. Kerry, J. (O '72)New Testament eschatology in an African background. Mbiti, J. S. (Je '72)New Testament: the history of the investigation of its problems. Klummel, W. G. (D '72)New tools for urban management. Rosenbloom, R. S. (Ag '72)New totalitarians. Huntford, R. (S '72)New town story. Schaffer, F. (Je '72)New tsars. Dornberg, J. (Ag '72)New woman. Sochen, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)New York. State prison, Attica*Badillo, H. Bill of no rights: Attica and the American prison system. (O '72)Coons, W. R. Attica diary. (O '72)New York. Stock exchange*Brutus. Confessions of a stock broker. (My '72)New York (City)*Description*Hayes, H. Twice over lightly. (D '72)James, T. Fifth Avenue. (D '72)Guide books*New York walk book [4th ed rev]. (O '72)Firemen*Smith, D. Report from Engine Co. 82. (Ap '72)Fires and fire prevention*Smith, D. Report from Engine Co. 82. (Ap '72)History*Barlow, E. Forests and wetlands of New York City. (Mr '72)Bliven, E. Under the guns. (D '72)James, T. Fifth Avenue. (D '72)Intellectual life*Gruen, J. Party's over now. (My '72)Police*Chevigny, P. Cops and rebels. (O '72)Politics and government*Mushkat, J. Tammany. (S '72)Rogers, D. Management of big cities. (My '72)Poor*Rosenberg, C. S. Religion and the rise of the American city. (N '72)Social conditions*Dorman, M. Making of a slum. (D '72)Streets*Shaw, A. Street that never slept. (Ap '72)New York (City). City Planning Commission*Spat, B. M. Proposal to change the structure of city planning. (Ap '72)New York (City). Living Theatre. See Living Theatre. New York (City)*New York (City). Metropolitan Opera*Bing, R. 5000 nights at the opera. (D '72)Chagall at the "Met." (N '72)New York (State)*Description and travel*Weston, H. Freedom in the wilds. (S '72)Guide books*New York walk book [4th ed rev]. (O '72)

New York (State)—Continued

History

- Graymont, B. Iroquois in the American Revolution. (O '72)
 New York (State). Willowbrook State School, Staten Island
 Rivera, G. Willowbrook. (O '72)
 New York Hospital
 Larrabee, E. Benevolent and necessary institution. (Ap '72)
 New York Knickerbockers
 Reed, W. View from the rim. (Mr '72)
 New York Times complete guide to auto racing. Radosta, J. S. (Mr '72)
 New York Times directory of the film. (S '72)
 New York Times guide to business and finance. Kraus, A. L. (D '72)
 New York Times guide to spectator sports. Koppett, L. (Ag '72)
 New York Times natural foods cookbook. Hewitt, J., comp. (O '72)
 New York Times report from Red China. New York Times. (My '72)
 New York walk book [4th ed rev]. (O '72)
 New Zealand

Description and travel

- Lockley, R. M. Man against nature. (Ag '72)

History

Sources

- McIntyre, W. D., ed. Speeches and documents on New Zealand history. (Ag '72)
 New Zealander. Trollope, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Newcastle, Thomas Pelham-Holles, 1st Duke of Henretta, J. A. "Salutary neglect". (D '72)
 Newfoundland

History

- Cell, G. T. English enterprise in Newfoundland 1577-1660. (S '72)
 News broadcasts. See Television broadcasting
 News from the capital. Marbut, F. B. (D '72)
 News of the Nile. Dillard, R. H. W. (Mr '72)
 News twisters. Efron, E. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Newspaper story. Lyons, L. M. (Mr '72)
 Newspapers
 Leamer, L. Paper revolutionaries. (N '72)
 See also
 American newspapers
 Newton, Sir Isaac

Principia

- Cohen, I. B. Introduction to Newton's Principia. (My '72)
 Nice fire and some moonpennies. Heffron, D. (Ag '72)
 Nicholas II, Emperor of Russia
 O'Connor, J. F. Sokolov investigation of the alleged murder of the Russian Imperial family. (S '72)
 Nichols, Beverley
 Nichols, B. Father figure. (N '72)
 Nick Adams stories. Hemingway, E. (Ag '72)
 Nicodemus

Fiction

- Roland, N. Who came by night. (N '72)
 Niebuhr, Reinhold
 Stone, R. H. Reinhold Niebuhr. (My '72)
 Nietzsche, Friedrich Wilhelm
 Lavrin, J. Nietzsche. (D '72)
 Nietzsche, F. W. Nietzsche: ■ self-portrait from his letters. (Ap '72)
 Pfeffer, R. Nietzsche: disciple of Dionysus. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Nietzsche: ■ self-portrait from his letters. Nietzsche, F. W. (Ap '72)
 Nietzsche: disciple of Dionysus. Pfeffer, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Nigeria

Antiquities

Bibliography

- Ita, N. O. Bibliography of Nigeria: ■ survey of anthropological and linguistic writings from the earliest times to 1966. (O '72)

Armed Forces

- Luckham, R. Nigerian military. (Mr '72)

Economic conditions

- Melson, R. Nigeria: modernization and the politics of communalism. (My '72)
 Pearson, S. R. Petroleum and the Nigerian economy. (Mr '72)

History

- Akintoye, S. A. Revolution and power politics in Yorubaland, 1840-1893. (O '72)
 Kirk-Greene, A. H. M. Crisis and conflict in Nigeria: a documentary sourcebook, 2v. (Ag '72)
 Niven, R. War of Nigerian unity, 1967-1970. (Je '72)

Civil War, 1967-1970

- Akpan, N. U. Struggle for secession, 1966-1970. (N '72)
 De St. Jorre, J. Brothers' war. (D '72)

Politics and government

- Akpan, N. U. Struggle for secession, 1966-1970. (N '72)
 De St. Jorre, J. Brothers' war. (D '72)
 Kirk-Greene, A. H. M. Crisis and conflict in Nigeria: a documentary sourcebook, 2v. (Ag '72)
 Luckham, R. Nigerian military. (Mr '72)
 Melson, R. Nigeria: modernization and the politics of communalism. (My '72)
 Miners, N. J. Nigerian army, 1956-1966. (Ap '72)
 Niven, R. War of Nigerian unity, 1967-1970. (Je '72)
 Panter-Brick, S. K., ed. Nigerian politics and military rule: prelude to the Civil War. (Ap '72)

Social conditions

- Melson, R. Nigeria: modernization and the politics of communalism. (My '72)

Nigeria. Army

- Miners, N. J. Nigerian army, 1956-1966. (Ap '72)
 Nigeria: modernization and the politics of communalism. Melson, R. (My '72)
 Nigerian army, 1956-1966. Miners, N. J. (Ap '72)

Nigerian literature

History and criticism

- King, B., ed. Introduction to Nigerian literature. (O '72)
 Nigerian military. Luckham, R. (Mr '72)
 Nigerian politics and military rule: prelude to the Civil War. Panter-Brick, S. K., ed. (Ap '72)
 Nigger factory. Scott-Heron, G. (N '72)
 Night country. Eiseley, L. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Night of long knives. Gallo, M. (O '72)
 Night of the axe. Mulvihill, W. (Ag '72)
 Night of the white bear. Knox, A. (Ap '72)
 Night-world. Bloch, R. (D '72)
 Nightmare decade. Cook, F. J. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Nijinsky, Waslaw
 Buckle, R. Nijinsky. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Nile River
 Moorehead, A. White Nile [rev ed]. (Mr '72)
 Nine lies about America. Beichman, A. (Ag '72)
 Nineteen stars. Puryear, E. F. (Je '72)

Nineteenth century

- Heer, F. Europe, mother of revolutions. (Ag '72)
 Nineteenth-century Foreign Office. Jones, R. (My '72)

Niven, David

- Niven, D. Moon's a balloon. (Je '72)
 Nixon, Richard Milhous, President U.S.
 Drury, A. Courage and hesitation. (Ap '72)
 Henderson, C. P. Nixon theology. (O '72)
 Hoyt, E. P. Nixons: ■ American family. (S '72)
 Keogh, J. President Nixon and the press. (Ag '72)
 Lurie, L. Running of Richard Nixon. (N '72)
 McCloskey, P. N. Truth and untruth. (My '72)
 Mazlish, B. In search of Nixon. (Ag '72)
 Osborne, J. Third year of the Nixon watch. (Ag '72)
 Spalding, H. D. Nixon nobody knows. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Voorhis, J. Strange case of Richard Milhous Nixon. (D '72)
 Whalen, R. J. Catch the falling flag. (O '72)
 Nixon family
 Hoyt, E. P. Nixons: ■ American family. (S '72)
 Nixon nobody knows. Spalding, H. D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Nixon recession caper. Maloney, R. (My '72)
 Nixon theology. Henderson, C. P. (O '72)
 Nixonomics. Silk, L. (Ag '72)

- Nixons: an American family: Hoyt, E. P. (S '72)
- Nizan, Paul
Redfern, W. D. Paul Nizan. (Ag '72)
- Njáls saga
History and criticism
Allen, R. F. Fire and iron. (My '72)
- Nkrumah, Kwame
Omari, T. P. Kwame Nkrumah. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- No bridges blown. Dreux, W. B. (My '72)
- No-fault. Gillespie, P. (N '72)
- No Jerusalem but this. Menashe, S. (My '72)
- No longer on the map. Ramsay, R. H. (D '72)
- No more dying then. Rendell, R. (S '72)
- No more public school. Bennett, H. (Je '72)
- No name in the street. Baldwin, J. (S '72)
- No particular place to go: the making of a free high school. Bhaerman, S. (Je '72)
- No peace beyond the line. Bridenbaugh, C. (Ag '72)
- No place for hiding. L'Heureux, J. (My '72)
- Nobody answered the bell. Davies, R. (My '72)
- Nobody asked me if I wanted a baby sister. Alexander, M. (Mr '72)
- Nobody is perfect. Waber, B. (Ap '72)
- Nobody's business. Gillatt, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Nock, Albert Jay
Wreszin, M. Superfluous anarchist: Alfred Jay Nock. (Ag '72)
- Nocturnal Vaudeville. Schneek, S. (D '72)
- Noetic prelude to a united world: v 1 of The planetary man. Desan, W. (D '72)
- Noise pollution
Bragdon, C. R. Noise pollution. (D '72)
- Nomination of presidents. See Presidents—United States—Nomination
- Nonpublic schools. See Private schools
- Nonsense verses
Gilbert, A. Poems from Sharon's lunch box. (N '72)
- Shulevitz, U. Oh what a noise! (Ag '72)
- Juvenile literature
Cole, W., ed. Oh, that's ridiculous! (O '72)
- Nontariff distortions of international trade. Baldwin, R. E. (My '72)
- Nonverbal communication
Hinde, R. A., ed. Non-verbal communication. (D '72)
- Nonviolence
Douglass, J. W. Resistance and contemplation. (O '72)
- Nordfeldt, Bror Julius Olsson
Coke, Van D. Nordfeldt the painter. (N '72)
- Nordfeldt the painter. Coke, Van D. (N '72)
- Norman conquest and its effects on the economy: 1066-1154. Finn, R. W. (Ag '72)
- Norris, George William
Lowitt, R. George W. Norris. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Norsemen. See Northmen
- North. Céline, L. F. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- North. Towle, T. (Ap '72)
- North America
Galleries and museums
Folsom, F. America's ancient treasures. (Mr '72)
- North America divided. Connor, S. V. (My '72)
- North American Indians in historical perspective. (Ag '72)
- North Carolina
History
Evans, W. M. To die game. (N '72)
- Rankin, H. F. North Carolina continentals. (Mr '72)
- North Carolina continentals. Rankin, H. F. (Mr '72)
- North of reconstruction: Ohio politics, 1865-1870. Bonadio, F. A. (Mr '72)
- North Vietnam's strategy for survival. Van Dyke, J. M. (D '72)
- Northcliffe, Alfred Charles William Harmsworth, 1st Viscount
Ferris, P. House of Northcliffe. (My '72)
- Northern Ireland
History
FitzGibbon, C. Red hand. (My '72)
- Nowlan, K. B., ed. Ireland in the war years and after 1939-61. (Mr '72)
- Politics and government
Rose, R. Governing without consensus. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Wallace, M. Northern Ireland: 50 years of self-government. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Northern Ireland: 50 years of self-government. Wallace, M. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Northern Italy before Rome. Barfield, L. (D '72)
- Northern schools and civil rights. Levy, F. (My '72)
- Northmen
Klindt-Jensen, O. World of the Vikings. (Ap '72)
- Pohl, F. J. Viking settlements of North America. (Ag '72)
- Northumberland, John Dudley, Duke of
Jordan, W. K. Edward VI: the threshold of power, v2. (Ap '72)
- Northwest, Canadian
Description and travel
Fredrickson, O. A. Silence of the North. (O '72)
- Northwest, Old
History
Bird, H. War for the West, 1790-1813. (My '72)
- Northwest, Pacific
History
Cantwell, R. Hidden Northwest. (D '72)
- Northwest Territories, Canada
Description and travel
Sutton, G. M. High Arctic. (My '72)
- Norton family
Osgood, C. Jug and related stoneware of Bennington. (My '72)
- Norway
Economic policy
Milward, A. S. Facist economy in Norway. (D '72)
- History
German occupation, 1940-1945
Milward, A. S. Facist economy in Norway. (D '72)
- Social life and customs
Taylor, S. Young and hungry. (Mr '72)
- Norwegians in the United States
Wefald, J. Voice of protest. (S '72)
- Nostalgias for a house of cards. Vazakas, B. (My '72)
- Not from the apes. Kurten, B. (My '72)
- Not to disturb. Spark, M. (S '72)
- Notable American women, 1607-1950. 3v. James, E. T., ed. (S '72)
- Notebooks for the Brothers Karamazov. Dostoevsky, F. (S '72)
- Notes in hand. Oldenburg, C. (Mr '72)
- Notes of a processed brother. Reeves, D. (Ap '72)
- Nothing and amen. Eng title of: Nothing and so be it. Fallaci, O. (My '72)
- Nothing, and so be it. Fallaci, O. (My '72)
- Nothing but people. Gingrich, A. (Mr '72)
- Nothing but the truth. Berger, J. (Mr '72)
- Nott, Eliphalet
Hislop, C. Eliphalet Nott. (D '72)
- Novel of manners in America. Tuttleton, J. W. (D '72)
- Novelist at the crossroads. Lodge, D. (Ag '72)
- Novelists, American
Hoyt, C. A., ed. Minor American novelists. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Novelists in a changing world. Stone, D. D. (N '72)
- Novels of D. H. Lawrence. Stoll, J. E. (O '72)
- Now or never. Halacy, D. S. (My '72)
- Nowhere for Vallejo. Tarn, N. (N '72)
- Nuba (People), Kordofan, Sudan
Faris, J. C. Nuba personal art. (S '72)
- Nuba personal art. Faris, J. C. (S '72)
- Nuclear apple. Matthews, P. T. (O '72)
- Nuclear engineering
Seaborg, G. T. Man and atom. (Ap '72)
- Nuclear physics
Matthews, P. T. Nuclear apple. (O '72)
- Nuclear power and its critics. Nelkin, D. (Mr '72)
- Nuclear-power rebellion. Lewis, R. S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Nullity and revision. Reisman, W. M. (My '72)
- Numbers, Theory of Taylor, L. F. Numbers. (Je '72)
- Numbers. Lind, J. (Ag '72)
- Numbers. Taylor, L. F. (Je '72)
- Numismatics
Starr, C. G. Athenian coinage 480-449 B.C. (Je '72)
- Nunaga: ten years of Eskimo life. Pryde, D. (Ag '72)

Nursery rhymes

Delaunay, S. Sonia Delaunay Alphabet. (Ag '72)

Keats, E. J., il. Over in the meadow. (N '72)

Nursery schools

Skutch, M. To start a school. (S '72)

Soviet preschool education, v2. (Je '72)

Directories

LaCrosse, E. R., ed. Early childhood education directory. (Ag '72)

Nursing homes

Old age: the last segregation. (O '72)

Nutrition

Kinderlehrer, J. Confessions of a sneaky organic cook. (My '72)

Trager, J. Big, fertile, rumbling, cast-iron, growling, aching, unbuttoned bellybook. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Watson, G. Nutrition and your mind. (Ap '72)

Nutrition and your mind. Watson, G. (Ap '72)

Nyerere, Julius Kambarage

Smith, W. E. We must run while they walk. (Ap '72)

O Congress. Riegler, D. (O '72)

O Jerusalem! Collins, L. (Ag '72)

OSS. Smith, R. H. (O '72)

Oakes, Sir Harry, Bart.

Houts, M. King's X. (N '72)

Oaxaca Valley*Social conditions

Taylor, W. B. Landlord and peasant in colonial Oaxaca. (D '72)

Ober, Harold

Fitzgerald, F. S. As ever, Scott Fitz—. (O '72)

O'Brien, James Bronterre

Plummer, A. Bronterre: a political biography of Bronterre O'Brien, 1804-1864. (My '72)

Obscenities. Casey, M. (Ag '72)

Obscenity (Law)

Censorship: for & against. (My '72)

Observation and theory in science. Nagel, E. (Ap '72)

O'Casey, Eileen (Reynolds)

O'Casey, E. Sean. (Mr '72)

O'Casey, Sean

Benstock, B. Sean O'Casey. (Mr '72)

O'Casey, E. Sean. (Mr '72)

Bibliography

Mikhail, E. H. Sean O'Casey: a bibliography of criticism. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Occult. Wilson, C. (Je '72)

Occult revolution. Woods, R. (My '72)

Occult sciences

Bonewits, P. E. I. Real magic. (Mr '72)

Endicott, K. M. Analysis of Malay magic. (Je '72)

Farren, D. Return of magic. (D '72)

Pauwels, L. Impossible possibilities. (My '72)

Shumaker, W. Occult sciences in the Renaissance. (N '72)

Wilson, C. Occult. (Je '72)

Woods, R. Occult revolution. (My '72)

Occult sciences in the Renaissance. Shumaker, W. (N '72)

Occupations

Jacobs, G., ed. Participant observer. (Mr '72)

Ocean

Heezen, B. C. Face of the deep. (Ap '72)

Maxwell, A. E., ed. Sea: ideas and observations on progress in the study of sea, v4. (My '72)

Taber, R. W. 1001 questions answered about the oceans and oceanography. (D '72)

Ocean travel

Brinnin, J. M. Sway of the grand saloon. (Mr '72)

Oceanic art. Schmitz, C. A. (My '72)

Oceanography

Heezen, B. C. Face of the deep. (Ap '72)

Horsfield, B. Great ocean business. (O '72)

Taber, R. W. 1001 questions answered about the oceans and oceanography. (D '72)

History

Deacon, M. Scientists and the sea, 1650-1900. (My '72)

Juvenile literature

May, J. Land beneath the sea. (Ag '72)

Research

Briggs, P. 200,000,000 years beneath the sea. (Ap '72)

Hussain, F. Living underwater. (Ap '72)

Linklater, E. Voyage of the Challenger. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Maxwell, A. E., ed. Sea: ideas and observations on progress in the study of seas, v4. (My '72)

Sweeney, J. B. Pictorial history of oceanographic submersibles. (Je '72)

Symposium on micropalaeontology of marine bottom sediments, Cambridge, England, 1967. Micropalaeontology of oceans. (My '72)

O'Connor, Flannery

Driskell, L. V. Eternal crossroads. (D '72)

Eggenschwiler, D. Christian humanism of Flannery O'Connor. (D '72)

Feeley, K. Flannery O'Connor: voice of the peacock. (Ap '72)

Octopus*Juvenile literature

Shaw, E. Octopus. (Mr '72)

Octopus. Shaw, E. (Mr '72)

Odd girl out. Howard, E. J. (My '72)

Odessa file. Forsyth, F. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Of laws in general. Bentham, J. (Ap '72)

Of microbes and life. (Ag '72)

Of utmost good faith. Deloria, V., comp. (Mr '72)

Off-Broadway experience. Greenberger, H. (Ja '72) (1972 Annual)

Off-Broadway: the prophetic theater. Little, S. W. (S '72)

Off-campus, on-campus cookbook. Gibson, L. H. (Mr '72)

Off the middle way. Källberg, S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Off with their heads! Marion, F. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Official encyclopedia of tennis. United States lawn tennis association. (D '72)

Offshore islanders. Johnson, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

O'Flaherty, Liam

Doyle, P. A. Liam O'Flaherty. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Ogre. Tournier, M. (N '72)

Oh, God! Corman, A. (My '72)

Oh, Lizzie! Faber, D. (S '72)

Oh, that's ridiculous! Cole, W., ed. (O '72)

Oh what a noise! Shulevitz, U. (Ag '72)

Ohio*Politics and government

1865-1898

Bonadio, F. A. North of reconstruction. (Mr '72)

Ohio. State University*History

Kinnison, W. A. Building Sullivant's pyramid. (Mr '72)

Okigbo, Christopher*Fiction

Mazrui, A. A. Trial of Christopher Okigbo. (N '72)

Old age

Beauvoir, S. de. Coming of age. (Ag '72)

Old age. Eng title of: The coming of age. Beauvoir, S. de. (Ag '72)

Old age pensions

Putnam, J. K. Old-age politics in California. (My '72)

Old-age politics in California. Putnam, J. K. (My '72)

Old age: the last segregation. (O '72)

Old ball game. Coffin, T. P. (Mr '72)

Old dog barks backwards. Nash, O. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Old woman who lived in a vinegar bottle. Godden, R. (S '72)

Oldenburg, Claes

Oldenburg, C. Notes in hand. (Mr '72)

Olesha, Yuri Karlovich. See Olyesha, Y.

Olmeck. Wicke, C. R. (Ap '72)

Olmecks

Wicke, C. R. Olmeck. (Ap '72)

Olmsted, Frederick Law

Fein, A. Frederick Law Olmsted and the American environmental tradition. (N '72)

Olyesha, Yuri

Beaujour, E. K. Invisible land. (Ap '72)

Oman*History

Nicholls, C. S. Swahili coast. (N '72)

Omar Khayyam

Dashti, A. In search of Omar Khayyam. (Ag '72)

On being different. Miller, M. (Mr '72)

- On Cukor. Lambert, G. (N '72)
 On film. Young, V. (D '72)
 On historical and political knowing. Kaplan, M. A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 On ice and snow and rock. Rébuffat, G. (S '72)
 On Karl Marx. Bloch, E. (S '72)
 On learning and social change. Rossman, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 On new creation. Napier, B. D. (Mr '72)
 On poetic imagination and reverie. Bachelard, G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 On Proust. Revel, J.-F. (Ag '72)
 On reading. Kertész, A. (Mr '72)
 On reading. Proust, M. (Ap '72)
 On revolution. Marx, K. (Ag '72)
 On stage. Jacobs, S. (S '72)
 On the austere life. See Conversations at Little Gidding. (Ag '72)
 On the democratic idea in America. Kristol, I. (S '72)
 On the main line. Alexander, E. P. (My '72)
 On the nature and origin of life. Hein, H. S. (Ag '72)
 On the prime minister's account. Högstrand, O. E. (O '72)
 On the psychology of meditation. Naranjo, C. (My '72)
 On the retirement of Charles V. See Conversations at Little Gidding. (Ag '72)
 On understanding violence philosophically, and other essays. Gray, J. G. (Ag '72)
Onassis, Aristotle Socrates
 Cafarakis, C. Fabulous Onassis. (O '72)
Once upon the Little Big Horn. Lampman, E. S. (Ap '72)
One-act plays
 Coover, R. Theological position. (S '72)
 One American town. Connery, D. S. (S '72)
 One hand clapping. Burgess, A. (My '72)
 One hundred poems from the French. Rexroth, K., comp. (D '72)
 One is God. Price, C., il. (S '72)
 One life—one physician. (Ag '72)
 One dancing drum. Kredenser, (D '72)
 One rare fair woman. Hardy, T. (D '72)
 1001 questions answered about the oceans and oceanography. Taber, R. W. (D '72)
 One time, one place. Welty, E. (Mr '72)
Ongoing evolution of Latin American populations. (N '72)
 Only a novel. Hodge, J. A. (S '72)
 Only one earth. Ward, B. (O '72)
 Only the names remain. Bealer, A. W. (S '72)
 Only victims. Vaughn, R. (Je '72)
 "Open" commonwealth. Ball, M. M. (Je '72)
 Open decision. Bryant, J. H. (Mr '72)
 Open eye. Kuh, K. (Ap '72)
 Open heart. Beuchner, F. (S '72)
 Open marriage. O'Neill, N. (My '72)
Open theatre (Group)
 Chaikin, J. Presence of the actor. (O '72)
Opera
 Skelton, G. Wieland Wagner: the positive sceptic. (My '72)
Dictionaries
 Ewen, D. New encyclopedia of the opera. (Mr '72)
History and criticism
 Lang, P. H. Critic at the opera. (My '72)
 Liebner, J. Mozart on the stage. (N '72)
Opera: a modern guide. Jacobs, A. (S '72)
Operas
 Stories, plots, etc.
 Jacobs, A. Opera: a modern guide. (S '72)
Operation Carnival
 Whiting, C. Hitler's werewolves. (D '72)
Operations research
 Rosenbloom, R. S. New tools for urban management. (Ag '72)
Opium
 Dal, B. Opium addiction in Chicago. (Mr '72)
 McCoy, A. W. Politics of heroin in Southeast Asia. (D '72)
Opium addiction in Chicago. Dal, B. (Mr '72)
Opportunity and the family. Scanzoni, J. H. (S '72)
Optical illusions
 Juvenile literature
 Walter, M. Make a bigger puddle, make a smaller worm. (O '72)
Optics
 Henderson, S. T. Daylight and its spectrum. (My '72)
 Hewish, A., ed. Seeing beyond the visible. (Ap '72)
 Swenson, L. S. Ethereal aether. (Ag '72)
Optimist's daughter. Welty, E. (Ag '72)
Oral literature in Africa. Finnegan, R. (Mr '72)
 Orange full of dreams. Gronowicz, A. (My '72)
Oratory. See Public speaking
 Ordeal by trial. Carpozzi, G. (S '72)
 Ordeal of nationhood. Bhatia, K. (Ap '72)
 Ordeal of Stephen Dedalus. Epstein, E. L. (Ap '72)
Oregon
 History
 Talbot, T., ed. Soldier in the West. (D '72)
 Politics and government
 1898-
 Burton, R. E. Democrats of Oregon. (Je '72)
Organ
 Perrot, J. Organ. (D '72)
Organic gardener. Foster, C. O. (D '72)
Organic gardening. See Organiculture
Organic living book. Kohn, B. (N '72)
Organiculture
 Foster, C. O. Organic gardener. (D '72)
 Juvenile literature
 Kohn, B. Organic living book. (N '72)
Organization
 Silverman, D. Theory of organisations. (S '72)
Organization makers. Collins, O. (Ap '72)
Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries
 Rouhani, F. History of O.P.E.C. (Ag '72)
Organizations. See Associations
Organize! my life as a union man. Mortimer, W. (Mr '72)
 Organized complexity. Brunner, R. D. (O '72)
Organized crime. See Racketeering
Organized war; v3 of War for the Union. Nevins, A. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Organized war to victory, 1864-1865; v8 of The war for the Union. Nevins, A. (Ap '72)
Oriental drama
 Brandon, J. R., ed. Traditional Asian plays. (Ag '72)
Oriental literature
 History and criticism
 Penguin companion to classical, Oriental & African literature. (D '72)
 Oriental rugs and carpets. Formenton, F. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Orientalism & history. Sinor, D., ed. (My '72)
 Origin of the domestic animals of Africa, 2v [rev ed.]. Epstein, H. (S '72)
 Original theory or new hypothesis of the universe, 1750. Wright, T. (My '72)
 Origins of astrology. Lindsay, J. (Mr '72)
 Origins of Franco's Spain. Robinson, R. A. H. (Ap '72)
 Origins of Polish socialism. Blit, L. (Ap '72)
 Origins of statecraft in China, v 1. Creel, H. G. (S '72)
 Origins of the Chinese revolution, 1915-1949. Bianco, L. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Origins of the first World War. Turner, L. C. F. (O '72)
 Origins of the urban school. Lazerson, M. (N '72)
Ortega y Gasset, José
 McClintock, R. Man and his circumstances. (D '72)
Orthodoxy and heresy in earliest Christianity. Bauer, W. (My '72)
Ortiz, Juan
 Juvenile literature
 Steele, W. O. Wilderness tattoo. (My '72)
Orwell, George
 Gross, M., ed. World of George Orwell. (My '72)
 Stansky, P. Unknown Orwell. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Osborn, Sir Frederic James
 Mumford, L. Letters of Lewis Mumford and Frederic J. Osborn. (Je '72)
Osborne, John
 Trussler, S. Plays of John Osborne. (Ap '72)
Other Californians. Heizer, R. F. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Other dimension. Dupré, L. (Je '72)
 Other half. Epstein, C. F., ed. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Other people. McNeill, J. (S '72)
 Other woman. Colette. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Other woman. Jaffe, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Ottawa, National Gallery of Canada
 Boggs, J. S. National gallery of Canada. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Otters

Park, E. World of the otter. (Ap '72)

Otto, Frei

Roland, C. Frei Otto: tension structures.

(Mr '72)

Our Bruegel. Claessens, B. (My '72)

Our changing coastlines. Shepard, E. P. (Ap '72)

Our dirty air. Elliott, S. M. (Mr '72)

Our experience of language. Nash, W. (N '72)

Our Kate. Cookson, C. (Ap '72)

Our knowledge of right and wrong. Harrison, J. (Je '72)

Our naked frailties. Jorgensen, P. A. (Ag '72)

Our sexual evolution. Colton, H. (Ap '72)

Our time. Katzman, A., ed. (Je '72)

Our troubled press. Balk, A., ed. (Ag '72)

Out of the curtained world. Henderson, N. (Je '72)

Out of the depths. Collins, W. J. (O '72)

Out of the old rock. Dobie, J. F. (D '72)

Out of the silence. Reid, W. (Ap '72)

Outcast London. Jones, G. S. (Je '72)

Outcasts from evolution. Haller, J. S. (S '72)

Outdoor cookery

Wall, R. Game and fish from field to table. (S '72)

Outer space

Clarke, A. C. Report on planet three and other speculations. (My '72)

Exploration

Gallant, R. A. Man's reach for the stars. (Mr '72)

Von Braun, W. Space frontier [new ed rev & updated]. (Mr '72)

Juvenile literature

Clarke, A. C. Into space [rev ed]. (Ap '72)

Laws and regulations*See Space law

Outline of history [rev ed]. Wells, H. G. (O '72)

Over in the meadow. Keats, E. J., il. (N '72)

Over the sea's edge. Curry, J. L. (Mr '72)

Overcoming middle class rage. Friedman, M., ed. (Ag '72)

Overseas markets: v2 of Parallel money markets. Einzig, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Owen, Harold

Owen, H. Aftermath. (Je '72)

Owen, Robert

Robert Owen: aspects of his life and work. (O '72)

Owl on every post. Babb, S. (Mr '72)

Owls and artificers. Fuller, R. (Ag '72)

Ox on the roof. Harding, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Oxford. University. Christ Church*History

Bill, E. G. W. Christ Church and reform. 1850-1867. (Ap '72)

Oxford book of invertebrates. Whiteley, D. (My '72)

Oxford dictionary of English proverbs [3d ed]. (Ap '72)

Oxford economic atlas of the world [4th ed]. (O '72)

Oxford history of South Africa, v2. (O '72)

Ozu, Yasujiro

Schrader, P. Transcendental style in film: Ozu, Bresson, Dreyer. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

P.O.W.: two years with the Vietcong. Smith, G. E. (My '72)

Pacher, Michael

Rasmo, N. Michael Pacher. (Mr '72)

Pacific area*Discovery and exploration

Dodge, E. S. Beyond the Capes. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Pacific islands literature. Day, A. G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Pacific Islands portraits. Davidson, J. W., ed. (Ap '72)

Pacific Ocean

Dodd, E. Polynesian seafaring, v2. (N '72)

Pacific rivals. (N '72)

Pacific: then and now. Bahrenburg, B. (Mr '72)

Pacifism

Brock, P. Pacifism in Europe to 1914. (N '72)

Chatfield, C. For peace and justice. (Mr '72)

Pacifism in Europe to 1914. Brock, P. (N '72)

Pageant of early Victorian England, 1837-1861. Burton, E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Paintbrush & peacepipe: the story of George Catlin. Rockwell, A. (Je '72)

Painter and the photograph [rev & enl ed]. Coke, Van D. (N '72)

Painters

Cichy, B. Great modern paintings. (My '72)

See also

Bosch, H.

Bradley, H.

De Chirico, G.

Eyck, H. van

Eyck, J. van

Gogh, V. van

Grosser, M.

Kane, J.

Michelangelo Buonarroti

Moreau, G.

Nordfeldt, B.

Picasso, P.

Rouault, G.

Schlemmer, O.

Painters, British

Foskett, D. Dictionary of British miniature painters, 2v. (S '72)

Painters, English

Gaunt, W. Great century of British painting: Hogarth to Turner. (Mr '72)

Painters, French

Kelder, D. French impressionists and their century. (Ag '72)

Painters, Italian

De Chirico, G. Memoirs of Giorgio de Chirico. (N '72)

Zampetti, P. Paintings from the Marches: Gentile to Raphael. (S '72)

Painter's progress. Grosser, M. (S '72)

Painting*See also

Cubism

Dictionaries

Daniel, H. Encyclopedia of themes and subjects in painting. (Mr '72)

Technique

Grosser, M. Painter's progress. (S '72)

Painting, American

Howat, J. K. Hudson River and its painters. (O '72)

Painting, British

Foskett, D. Dictionary of British miniature painters, 2v. (S '72)

Painting, Chinese

Bush, S. Chinese literature on painting. (O '72)

Painting, Etruscan

Moretti, M. New monuments of Etruscan painting. (O '72)

Painting, Flemish

Puyvelde, L. van. Flemish painting, the age of Rubens and Van Dyck. (Ag '72)

Painting, Italian

Freedberg, S. J. Painting in Italy, 1500 to 1600. (O '72)

Painting, Japanese*History

Cahill, J. Scholar painters of Japan: the Nanga school. (O '72)

Painting, Renaissance

Freedberg, S. J. Painting in Italy, 1500 to 1600. (O '72)

New York (City). Metropolitan Museum of Art. Italian paintings. (Ap '72)

Zampetti, P. Paintings from the Marches: Gentile to Raphael. (S '72)

Painting, Rococo

Schwarz, M. Age of rococo. (Mr '72)

Painting in Italy, 1500 to 1600. Freedberg, S. J. (O '72)

Paintings

Cichy, B. Great modern paintings. (My '72)

Coke, Van D. Painter and the photograph [rev & enl ed]. (N '72)

Reitlinger, G. Economics of taste, v3. (O '72)

Juvenile literature

Willard, C. Famous modern artists. (S '72)

Paintings, American

Gussow, A. Sense of place. (S '72)

Paintings, English

Gaunt, W. Great century of British painting: Hogarth to Turner. (Mr '72)

Paintings, Flemish

Puyvelde, L. van. Flemish painting from the time of the Van Eycks to Metsys. (Ag '72)

Puyvelde, L. van. Flemish painting, the age of Rubens and Van Dyck. (Ag '72)

Paintings, Italian
New York (City). Metropolitan Museum of Art. Italian paintings. (Ap '72)

Paintings, Japanese
Cahill, J. Scholar painters of Japan: the Nanga school. (O '72)

Paintings from the Marches: Gentile to Raphael. Zampetti, P. (S '72)

Paintings of Titian, v2 [complete ed]. Wethey, H. E. (Ag '72)

Pair of lawn sleeves. Jones, T. F. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Pakistan

Commercial policy

Lewis, S. R. Pakistan. (Ap '72)

Foreign relations

Barnds, W. J. India, Pakistan, and the great powers. (O '72)

Industries

Lewis, S. R. Pakistan. (Ap '72)

Politics and government

Loshak, D. Pakistan crisis. (My '72)

Williams, L. F. R. East Pakistan tragedy. (S '72)

Pakistan. Lewis, S. R. (Ap '72)

Pakistan crisis. Loshak, D. (My '72)

Pakistanis in Great Britain

Scott, R. Wedding man is nicer than cats. Miss. (S '72)

Palaeozoic fishes [2d ed rev]. Moy-Thomas, J. A. (O '72)

Palestine

Antiquities

Kenyon, K. Royal cities of the Old Testament. (Ag '72)

Landay, J. M. Silent cities, sacred stones. (Mr '72)

Historical geography

Maps

Israel. Department of surveys. Atlas of Israel [2d ed]. (Ag '72)

History

Asimov, I. Land of Canaan. (My '72)

Glubb, J. B. Peace in the Holy Land. (O '72)

Klein, M. C. Israel: land of the Jews. (D '72)

Parkes, J. Whose land? (My '72)

Politics and government

Ben-Gurion, D. Letters to Paula. (D '72)

Palestine: the Arab-Israeli conflict. Stetler, R., ed. (D '72)

Palestinian parties and politics that shaped the Old Testament. Smith, M. (Ap '72)

Palestinians in the Near East

Turki, F. Disinherited. (N '72)

Pamplona Bibles, 2v [facsim]. Bucher, F. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Pan-Africanism

Padmore, G. Pan-Africanism or communism. (My '72)

Pan-Africanism or communism. Padmore, G. (My '72)

Panama

Foreign relations

United States

Mellander, G. A. United States in Panamanian politics. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Politics and government

Mellander, G. A. United States in Panamanian politics. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Panama affair. Simon, M. J. (Ap '72)

Panama Canal

Cameron, I. Impossible dream. (My '72)

History

Simon, M. J. Panama affair. (Ap '72)

Pan-Americanism

Green, D. Containment of Latin America. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Panay (U.S. gunboat)

Juvenile literature

Icenhower, J. B. Panay incident, December 12, 1937. (S '72)

Panay incident, December 12, 1937. Icenhower, J. B. (S '72)

Panic of 1893. Latham, F. B. (My '72)

Pan-Indianism

Hertzberg, H. W. Search for an American Indian identity. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Panola County, Mississippi

Politics and government

Wirt, F. M. Politics of Southern equality. (My '72)

Social conditions

Wirt, F. M. Politics of Southern equality. (My '72)

Papacy

Martin, M. Three popes and the cardinal. (Je '72)

History

Linehan, P. Spanish church and the Papacy in the thirteenth century. (O '72)

Ullmann, W. Short history of the papacy in the middle ages. (O '72)

Papal envoys to the great khans. Rachewiltz, I. de. (S '72)

Paper airplane. Kaplan, A. (Ag '72)

Paper crafts

Juvenile literature

Seidelman, J. E. Creating with papier-mache. (Je '72)

Paper rebellion. Graham, H. E. (My '72)

Paper revolutionaries. Leamer, L. (N '72)

Paper sculpture. See Paper crafts

Papers & the Papers. Ungar, S. J. (Ag '72)

Papers in African prehistory. Fage, J. D., ed. (Je '72)

Papers in structural and transformational linguistics. Harris, Z. S. (Mr '72)

Papers of James Madison, v5-7. Madison, J. (O '72)

Papers of Jefferson Davis, v1. Davis, J. (Je '72)

Papers of Woodrow Wilson, v10. Wilson, W. (My '72)

Papers of Woodrow Wilson, v11. Wilson, W. (Ag '72)

Papers on Malay subjects. Burns, P. L., comp. (O '72)

Papers on the war. Ellsberg, D. (O '72)

Papyrus manuscripts. See Manuscripts

Parallel money markets, v2. Einzig, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Parent and child

Chapman, A. H. Games children play. (Ap '72)

Katz, S. N. When parents fail. (N '72)

Silverman, A. Case against having children. (Ag '72)

Parent's guide to the prevention and control of drug abuse. Goldhill, P. M. (My '72)

Paris

History

Flanner, J. Paris was yesterday, 1925-1939. (S '72)

Marx, K. Writings on the Paris Commune. (O '72)

Saalmann, H. Haussmann: Paris transformed. (S '72)

Intellectual life

Flanner, J. Paris was yesterday, 1925-1939. (S '72)

Goncourt, E. L. A. H. de. Paris and the arts, 1851-1896. (N '72)

Warnod, J. Washboat days. (O '72)

Riot, 1968

Johnson, R. French communist party versus the students. (S '72)

Riots

Rudé, G. Paris and London in the eighteenth century. (Ag '72)

Social conditions

Rudé, G. Paris and London in the eighteenth century. (Ag '72)

Social life and customs

Longstreet, S. We all went to Paris. (S '72)

Wolitz, S. L. Proustian community. (O '72)

Paris and London in the eighteenth century. Rudé, G. (Ag '72)

Paris and the arts, 1851-1896. Goncourt, E. L. A. H. de. (N '72)

Paris was yesterday, 1925-1939. Flanner, J. (S '72)

Parliament & Congress. Bradshaw, K. (S '72)

Parliament of 1624. Ruigh, R. E. (S '72)

Parole

Kassebaum, G. Prison treatment and parole survival. (Ag '72)

Parrots

Stories

Graham, M. B. Benjy and the barking bird. (O '72)

- Parsons, Louella (Oettinger)
 Bells, G. Hedda and Louella. (Je '72)
 Parsons and pedagogues. Calam, J. (Ap '72)
 Participant observer. Jacobs, G., ed. (Mr '72)
 Participation put-on. Moffett, T. (Ap '72)
 Participatory economy. Vanek, J. (Ap '72)
 Parties. Saloma, J. S. (S '72)
 Partisan spirit. Watlington, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Party of Eros. King, R. (S '72)
 Party strength in the United States, 1872-1970. David, P. T. (D '72)
 Party's over. Broder, D. S. (Je '72)
 Party's over now. Gruen, J. (My '72)
 Passage to America. Eng title of: Going to America. Coleman, T. (Ag '72)
 Passing go. Schill, K. (S '72)
 Passion and politics. Lipset, S. M. (Ap '72)
 Passion of Fulton Sheen. Noonan, D. P. (My '72)
 Passion to know. Wilson, M. (S '72)
 Passions and politics. Barry, J. (S '72)
 Passive resistance
 Kumar, R., ed. Essays on Gandhian politics. (Ag '72)
 Passover
 Haggadah. Israel Haggadah for Passover. (Mr '72)
 Raphael, C. Feast of history. (Je '72)
 Pastoral and anti-pastoral patterns in John Updike's fiction. Taylor, L. E. (D '72)
 Pastoral forms and attitudes. Toliver, H. E. (Ag '72)
 Pastoral theology. See Pastoral work
 Pastoral work
 Küng, H. Why priests? (S '72)
 Nouwen, H. J. M. Creative ministry. (Ap '72)
 Paternalism and protest. McLaurin, M. A. (Ag '72)
 Paternalistic capitalism. Papandreou, A. G. (Ag '72)
 Paterno, Joseph Vincent
 Hyman, M. D. Joe Paterno: "Football my way." (Mr '72)
 Paths in spirituality. Macquarrie, J. (O '72)
 Paths to modern music. Davies, L. (Ap '72)
 Pathways to madness. Henry, J. (My '72)
 Patience (Middle English poem)
 Spearing, A. C. Gawain-poet. (Ap '72)
 Patients. Thorwald, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Patriarchs. Mazar, B. (Ag '72)
 Patrick Geddes: spokesman, for man and the environment. Geddes, P. (N '72)
 Patriotic traitors. Littlejohn, D. (D '72)
 Patrons and artists in the Italian Renaissance. Chambers, D. S., comp. (Ap '72)
 Patterns of educational philosophy. Brameld, T. (S '72)
 Patterns of international cooperation in the Caribbean, 1942-1969. Corkran, H. (Mr '72)
 Patterns of power and authority in English education. Musgrove, F. (Ap '72)
 Patterns of realism. Arnes, R. (N '72)
 Patterns of urban life. Pahl, R. E. (N '72)
 Patton, George Smith
 Blumenson, M. Patton papers, 1885-1940. (Ag '72)
 Patton papers, 1885-1940. Blumenson, M. (Ag '72)
 Paul, Saint
 Muggeridge, M. Paul, envoy extraordinary. (Je '72)
 Rubenstein, R. L. My brother Paul. (Ag '72)
 Schmithals, W. Paul & the Gnostics. (S '72)
 Paul VI (Giovanni Battista Montini) Pope
 Humanae vitae
 St. John-Stewas, N. Agonising choice. (Ap '72)
 Subbiah, B. V. Tragedy of a papal decree (in a crowded world). (S '72)
 Paul & the Gnostics. Schmithals, W. (S '72)
 Paul, envoy extraordinary. Muggeridge, M. (Je '72)
 Paul U. Kellogg and the Survey. Chambers, C. A. (N '72)
 Pauli, Hertha
 Pauli, H. Break of time. (Je '72)
 Pauline's. Tabor, P. (Je '72)
 Pawnee Indians
 Holder, P. Hoe and the horse on the plains. (Ag '72)
 Pawns. Barnes, P. (Ap '72)
 Payne, Robert
 Payne, R. Eyewitness. (N '72)
 Payoff. Dorman, M. (D '72)
 Peabody, George
 Parker, F. George Peabody. (Je '72)
 Peace for our time. Parkinson, R. (S '72)
 Peace in the Holy Land. Glubb, J. B. (O '72)
 Peace with China? (Ap '72)
 Peaceable kingdom. Hartog, J. de. (My '72)
 Pearl (Middle English poem)
 Spearing, A. C. Gawain-poet. (Ap '72)
 Pears medical encyclopedia, illustrated. Eng title of: The Stein and Day international medical encyclopedia. (O '72)
 Peasantry
 Hellie, R. Enserfment and military change in Muscovy. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Male, D. J. Russian peasant organisation before collectivisation. (Ap '72)
 Mendras, H. Vanishing peasant. (My '72)
 Powell, J. D. Political mobilization of the Venezuelan peasant. (Mr '72)
 Shanin, T. Awkward class. (N '71)
 Tullis, F. L. Lord and peasant in Peru. (Ap '72)
 Peculiar music. Brontë, E. (S '72)
 Pedlar of Swaffham. Crossley-Holland, K. (Mr '72)
 Pedlar of Swaffham. See Jacobs, J. Crock of gold. (Je '72)
 Peep into the past, and other prose pieces. Beerbohm, M. (D '72)
 Peers, the parties and the people. Blewett, N. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Pelper, Jochen
 Whiting, C. Massacre at Malmedy. (Ap '72)
 Peking
 Siege, 1900
 Giles, L. Siege of the Peking legations. (N '72)
 Peking's UN policy. Weng, B. S. J. (S '72)
 Pell, Herbert Claiborne
 Baker, L. Brahmin in revolt. (My '72)
 Pen warmed-up in hell. Twain, M. (N '72)
 Penal colonies
 Forsyth, W. D. Governor Arthur's convict system. (My '72)
 Penguin companion to American literature. (Ag '72)
 Penguin companion to classical, Oriental & African literature. (D '72)
 Penguin companion to English literature. (Ag '72)
 Penguin companion to European literature. (D '72)
 Penguin companion to literature: Britain and The Commonwealth. Eng title of: Penguin companion to English literature. (Ag '72)
 Penguin companion to literature: U.S.A. Eng title of: Penguin companion to American literature. (Ag '72)
 Penn Central Company
 Daughen, J. R. Wreck of the Penn Central. (Mr '72)
 Pennsylvania
 Politics and government
 Hutson, J. H. Pennsylvania politics, 1746-1770. (D '72)
 Pennsylvania politics, 1746-1770. Hutson, J. H. (D '72)
 Pennsylvania Railroad Company
 Alexander, E. P. On the main line. (My '72)
 Penny ■ look. Zemach, H. (Ap '72)
 Penology. See Punishment
 Pentagon. Searls, H. (N '72)
 Pentagon papers [Senator Gravel ed], 4v. (My '72)
 Pentecostal churches
 Hollenweger, W. J. Pentecostals. (D '72)
 Synan, V. Holiness-Pentecostal movement in the United States. (Ap '72)
 Pentecostals. Hollenweger, W. J. (D '72)
 Peonage
 Daniel, P. Shadow of slavery: peonage in the South, 1901-1969. (D '72)
 People and furniture. Harrison, M. (Ap '72)
 People and information. Pepinsky, H. B., ed. (S '72)
 People dynamic. Clinebell, H. J. (Je '72)
 People in a diary. Behrman, S. N. (S '72)
 People of paradox. Kammen, M. (D '72)
 People of the dreamtime. Baglin, D. (S '72)
 People's Action party
 Chan, H. C. Singapore: the politics of survival, 1965-1967. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Peoples of the hills. Burney, C. (O '72)
 Pepys, Samuel
 Barber, R. Samuel Pepys Esquire. (Mr '72)
 Pepys, S. Diary of Samuel Pepys, v4, 5. (Je '72)
 Trease, G. Samuel Pepys and his world. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Perception
 From, F. Perception of other people. (Mr '72)
 Pastore, N. J. Selective history of theories of visual perception, 1650-1950. (Ap '72)

Perception of other people. From, F. (Mr '72)

Perceval

Fiction

Juvenile literature

Hleatt, C. Sword and the grail. (O '72)

Perennial avantgarde. Sykes, G. (Ap '72)

Pérez López, Francisco

Pérez López, F. Dark and bloody ground. (Ag '72)

Performance of music. Barnett, D. (O '72)

Performance practices in Beethoven's piano sonatas. Newman, W. S. (O '72)

Performing arts

Kirby, M. Futurist performance. (Mr '72)

Canada

Bibliography

Young, W. C. American theatrical arts. (S '72)

United States

Bibliography

Young, W. C. American theatrical arts. (S '72)

Periodicals

Illinois. University, Urbana. Graduate school of library science. Serial publications in large libraries. (Mr '72)

Katz, B. Magazine selection. (Ag '72)

Periodicity

Dewey, E. R. Cycles: the mysterious forces that trigger events. (My '72)

Perkins, Maxwell Evarts

Fitzgerald, F. S. K. Dear Scott/Dear Max. (Ap '72)

Perkins, Thomas Handasyd

Seaburg, C. Merchant prince of Boston. Colonel. T. H. Perkins, 1764-1854. (D '72)

Persephone

Juvenile literature

Tomaino, S. F. Persephone: bringer of spring. (My '72)

Persephone: bringer of spring. Tomaino, S. F. (My '72)

Perseus

Juvenile literature

Hodges, M. Gorgon's head. (N '72)

Persian poetry

Pound, O. S., ed. Arabic & Persian poems in English. (Je '72)

Persians. Bausani, A. (Ap '72)

Persistent poverty. Beckford, G. L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Personal history of Samuel Johnson. Hibbert, C. (Ag '72)

Personal record: the Labour Government, 1964-1970. Wilson, H. (Ap '72)

Personality

Block, J. Lives through time. (Ag '72)

Jones, H. E. Kant's principle of personality. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Maslow, A. F. Farther reaches of human nature. (Ap '72)

Stevens, J. O. Awareness: exploring, experimenting, experiencing. (Ag '72)

Personnel management

Kemper, R. E. Library management. (D '72)

Personnel service in education

Computer-assisted counseling. (Je '72)

Warnath, C. F. New myths and old realities. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Perspectives on violence. Usdin, G., ed. (S '72)

Persuasion. Gordon, G. N. (O '72)

Peru

Civillization

Mariátegui, J. C. Seven interpretive essays on Peruvian reality. (Ap '72)

Economic policy

Quijano, A. Nationalism & capitalism in Peru: a study in neo-imperialism. (My '72)

Politics and government

Baines, J. M. Revolution in Peru. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Social conditions

Tullis, F. L. Lord and peasant in Peru. (Ap '72)

Social policy

Quijano, A. Nationalism & capitalism in Peru: a study in neo-imperialism. (My '72)

Perverted priorities of American politics. Lockard, D. (Ap '72)

Pesticides

Olsen, J. Slaughter the animals, poison the earth. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Pétain, Henri Philippe Bénoni Omer

Griffiths, R. Pétain. (My '72)

Peter prescription. Peter, L. J. (S '72)

Peter Rabbit and Tales of Beatrix Potter (Moving picture)

Godden, R. Tale of tales: the Beatrix Potter ballet. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Petroleum and the Nigerian economy. Pearson, S. R. (Mr '72)

Petroleum industry and trade

Dye, L. Blowout at Platform A. (Ap '72)

Pearson, S. R. Petroleum and the Nigerian economy. (Mr '72)

Rouhani, F. History of O.P.E.C. (Ag '72)

Schurr, S. H. Middle Eastern oil and the Western world. (Ap '72)

Pets

Juvenile literature

Ricciuti, E. R. Shelf pets. (Mr '72)

Pheasants

Wayre, P. Guide to the pheasants of the world. (O '72)

Phelps, Samuel

Allen, S. S. Samuel Phelps and Sadler's Wells Theatre. (Ap '72)

Phenomenology

Ihde, D. Hermeneutic phenomenology. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Schutz, A. Alfred Schutz on phenomenology and social relations. (S '72)

Phil Swing and Boulder Dam. Moeller, B. B. (N '72)

Philadelphia

Politics and government

Rogers, D. Management of big cities. (My '72)

Philhellenes. Woodhouse, C. M. (S '72)

Philippine Islands

Commerce

Hicks, G. L. Trade and growth in the Philippines. (Ag '72)

Commercial policy

Power, J. H. Philippines: industrialization and trade policies. (Ag '72)

Economic conditions

Hicks, G. L. Trade and growth in the Philippines. (Ag '72)

Economic policy

Power, J. H. Philippines: industrialization and trade policies. (Ag '72)

History

Mahajani, U. Philippine nationalism. (My '72)

Schirmer, D. B. Republic or empire. (O '72)

Juvenile literature

Poole, F. K. Philippines. (Ap '72)

Politics and government

Lachica, E. Huks: Philippine agrarian society in revolt. (S '72)

Lansdale, E. G. In the midst of wars. (Je '72)

Mahajani, U. Philippine nationalism. (My '72)

Social conditions

Lachica, E. Huks: Philippine agrarian society in revolt. (S '72)

Philippine nationalism. Mahajani, U. (My '72)

Philippines. Poole, F. K. (Ap '72)

Philippines: industrialization and trade policies. Power, J. H. (Ag '72)

Philology. See Language and languages

Philology, Comparative

Iordan, I. Introduction to Romance linguistics [2d ed]. (Ap '72)

Philosophy

Desan, W. Planetary man, 2v in 1. (D '72)

Frankel, C. Pleasures of philosophy. (My '72)

Goodman, N. Problems and projects. (S '72)

Jaspers, K. Philosophy, v2. (My '72)

Logic & art. (O '72)

MacIntyre, A. Against the self-images of the age. (My '72)

Marias, J. Philosophy as dramatic theory. (Ap '72)

Niemeyer, G. Between nothingness and paradise. (My '72)

Nott, K. Philosophy and human nature. (O '72)

Rosenberg, H. Act and the actor. (My '72)

Ryle, G. Collected papers, 2v. (Je '72)

Philosophy, American

Riepe, D. M. Philosophy of India and its impact on American thought. (My '72)

Philosophy, American—Continued

- Sontag, F. American religious experience. (Ag '72)
 White, M. Science and sentiment in America. (My '72)

Philosophy, Ancient

- Lloyd-Jones, H. Justice of Zeus. (My '72)
 Shibbes, W. A. Models of ancient Greek philosophy. (N '72)
 West, M. L. Early Greek philosophy and the Orient. (O '72)

Philosophy, English

- Howell, W. S. Eighteenth-century British logic and rhetoric. (N '72)

Philosophy, French

- Wade, I. O. Intellectual origins of the French enlightenment. (Ag '72)

Philosophy, Greek. See Philosophy, Ancient*Philosophy, Hindu

- Murphy, M. Golf in the kingdom. (O '72)
 Riepe, D. M. Philosophy of India and its impact on American thought. (My '72)

Philosophy, Modern

- Ballard, E. G. Philosophy at the crossroads. (Ag '72)
 Bernstein, R. J. Praxis and action. (O '72)
 Cell, E. Language, existence & God. (O '72)
 Collins, J. Interpreting modern philosophy. (S '72)
 Harris, H. S. Hegel's development: toward the sunlight, 1770-1801. (S '72)
 Masterson, P. Atheism and alienation. (Ap '72)
 Nizan, P. Watchdogs. (Je '72)

Philosophy, Renaissance

- Trinkaus, C. E. In our image and likeness. 2v. (Ap '72)

Philosophy, v2. Jaspers, K. (My '72)

- Philosophy and human nature. Nott, K. (O '72)

Philosophy and linguistics. Lyas, C., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)*Philosophy and religion

- Cell, E. Language, existence & God. (O '72)
 Dupré, L. Other dimension. (Je '72)
 Rosenthal, E. I. J. Studia Semitica, 2v. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Philosophy as dramatic theory. Marias, J. (Ap '72)*Philosophy at the crossroads. Ballard, E. G. (Ag '72)*Philosophy of art. Gentile, G. (N '72)*Philosophy of history. See History—Philosophy

- Philosophy of India and its impact on American thought. Riepe, D. M. (My '72)

Philosophy of Josiah Royce. Royce, J. (Mr '72)*Phone calls. O'Donnell, L. (Ap '72)*Phonetics

- Gimson, A. C. Introduction to the pronunciation of English [2d ed.]. (Ap '72)

Phonograph records

- Haggin, B. H. New listener's companion and record guide [3d ed.]. (My '72)

"Photographed all the best scenery." Hillers, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)*Photographer of the world. Arnold, H. J. P. (D '72)*Photographic anatomy of the human body. Yokochi, C. (My '72)*Photographs. Vassilikos, V. (Mr '72)*Photographs of Thomas Eakins. Eakins, T. (N '72)*Photography

- Weiss, H. Lens and shutter. (O '72)

History

- Rudisill, R. Mirror image. (Mr '72)

Portraits

- Lyon, D. Conversations with the dead. (O '72)

Photography, Aerial

- Howard, J. A. Aerial photo-ecology. (S '72)

Photography, Artistic

- Bullock, W. Wynn Bullock. (Mr '72)
 Cartier-Bresson, H. Man and machine. (Ag '72)

Coke, Van D. Painter and the photograph [rev & enl ed.]. (N '72)*Eakins, T. Photographs of Thomas Eakins. (N '72)*Haas, E. Creation. (Ap '72)*Hamilton, D. Dreams of a young girl. (Je '72)*Kertész, A. On reading. (Mr '72)*Welty, E. One time, one place. (Mr '72)*Phrenology

- Stern, M. B. Heads & headlines. (Ap '72)

Phrygia*Antiquities

- Haspels, C. H. E. Highlands of Phrygia, 2v. (My '72)

Phylloxera

- Ordish, G. Great wine blight. (D '72)

Physical fitness

- Swengros, G. V. Fitness with Glenn Swengros. (Ap '72)

Physical geography*Israel

- Evenari, M. Negev. (Ap '72)
 Physical sciences, 10v. (Royal Institution Library of science). Bragg, W. L., ed. (S '72)

Physically handicapped*Rehabilitation

- Rusk, H. A. World to care for. (D '72)
 Viscardi, H. But not on our block. (Ag '72)

Physicists

- Einstein, A. Born-Einstein letters. (Mr '72)

Physics

- Bragg, W. L., ed. Physical sciences, 10v. (Royal Institution library of science). (S '72)
 Mason, B. J. Physics of clouds [2d ed.]. (O '72)

History

- Bernal, J. D. Extension of man. (S '72)
 Gillmor, C. S. Coulomb and the evolution of physics and engineering in eighteenth-century France. (N '72)

Physics, Astronomical. See Astrophysics

- Physics and physical technology; v4, pt 3 of Science and civilisation in China. Needham, J. (Ag '72 (1971 Annual))

Physics of clouds [2d ed.]. Mason, B. J. (O '72)*Physiology

- Luce, G. G. Body time. (Mr '72)

Physiology, Comparative

- Schmidt-Nielsen, K. How animals work. (D '72)

Physiology of taste. Brillat-Savarin, J. A. (Ap '72)*Piaf, Edith

- Berteaut, S. Piaf. (Ag '72)

Piaget, Jean

- Pulaski, M. A. S. Understanding Piaget. (My '72)

Pianists

- Kaiser, J. Great pianists of our time. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Piano music

- Barnett, D. Performance of music. (O '72)

- Wolff, K. Teaching of Artur Schnabel. (S '72)

Picasso, Pablo

- Gallwitz, K. Picasso at 90. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Picasso, P. Picasso. (My '72)

- Picasso, P. Picasso's posters. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Juvenile literature

- Greenfeld, H. Pablo Picasso. (My '72)

- Picasso at 90. Gallwitz, K. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Picasso's posters. Picasso, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Pick me up. Cole, W., ed. (O '72)

- Pictorial dictionary of ancient Athens. Travlos, J. (Mr '72)

- Pictorial history of immigration. Handlin, O. (D '72)

- Pictorial history of oceanographic submersibles. Sweeney, J. B. (Je '72)

Picture books for children

- Aruego, J. Look what I can do. (Ap '72)

- Picture history of Eastern Europe. Raymond, E. (Ap '72)

- Pied Piper of Hamelin. Browning, R. (Je '72)

- Pierre S. Du Pont and the making of the modern corporation. Chandler, A. D. (Mr '72)

Pigs*Stories

- Wild, R. Little pig and the big bad wolf. (O '72)

- Pilyo the piranha. Aruego, J. (O '72)

- Pinafore Farm cookbook, Jean Dalrymple's. Dalrymple, J. (My '72)

Pinckney, Eliza Lucas

- Pinckney, E. L. Letterbook of Eliza Lucas

- Pinckney, 1739-1762. (D '72)

Pinter, Harold

- Schroll, H. T. Harold Pinter. (Ag '72)

- Pioneers for profit. McKay, J. P. (Ap '72)

- Pippa's challenge. Adamson, J. (D '72)

Piranesi, Giovanni Battista

- Murray, P. Piranesi and the grandeur of ancient Rome. (S '72)

- Piranesi and the grandeur of ancient Rome. Murray, P. (S '72)

Pivot of the four quarters. Wheatley, P. (O '72)

Place, Francis

Place, F. Autobiography of Francis Place (1771-1854). (S '72)

Place and people. Clarke, W. C. (O '72)

Places. Colette. (Ap '72)

Places where I've done time. Saroyan, W. (My '72)

Plague of sailors. Callison, B. (O '72)

Plain people of Boston, 1830-1860: a study in city growth. Knights, P. R. (S '72)

Planet in peril. Dasmann, R. F. (N '72)

Planetary man, 2v in 1. Desan, W. (D '72)

Plankton

Silverberg, R. World within the ocean wave. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Juvenile literature

May, J. Plankton. (Ag '72)

Plankton. May, J. (Ag '72)

Planned residential environments. Lansing, J. B. (Mr '72)

Planned urban environments. Strong, A. L. (Ag '72)

Planning and governing the metropolis. Bal-dinger, S. (Mr '72)

Planning for economic growth in the Soviet Union, 1918-1932. Zaleski, E. (Ap '72)

Planning in East Europe. Kaser, M. (O '72)

Plant lore

Bland, J. H. Forests of Lilliput. (My '72)

Emboden, W. A. Narcotic plants. (S '72)

Plantation life

Beckford, G. L. Persistent poverty. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Blassingame, J. W. Slave community. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Plants, Cultivated

History

Hyams, E. Plants in the service of man. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Plants in the service of man. Hyams, E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Plasma (ionized gases)

Bova, B. Fourth state of matter. (Ap '72)

Plastic surgery. See Surgery, Plastic

Plato

Oates, W. J. Plato's view of art. (D '72)

Platonism and poetry in the twelfth century. Wetherbee, W. (D '72)

Plato's view of art. Oates, W. J. (D '72)

Play

Moltmann, J. Theology of play. (D '72)

Winnicott, D. W. Playing and reality. (Mr '72)

Players and the game. Symons, J. (D '72)

Playing and reality. Winnicott, D. W. (Mr '72)

Plays of John Osborne. Trussler, S. (Ap '72)

Plays of Menander. Menander. (Ag '72)

Plays, players, & playwrights. Geisinger, M. (My '72)

Pleasure

Moltmann, J. Theology of play. (D '72)

Pleasures of philosophy. Frankel, C. (My '72)

Plots (Drama, novel, etc.)

Levin, R. Multiple plot in English Renaissance drama. (Ap '72)

Plutarch

Gianakaris, C. J. Plutarch. (D '72)

Jones, C. P. Plutarch and Rome. (Ag '72)

Plutarch and Rome. Jones, C. P. (Ag '72)

Poe, Edgar Allan

Alexander, J. Affidavits of genius. (My '72)

Hoffman, D. Poe Poe Poe Poe Poe Poe Poe. (My '72)

Poe Poe Poe Poe Poe Poe Poe. Hoffman, D. (My '72)

Poellenberg inheritance. Anthony, E. (S '72)

Poem as plant. Salm, P. (Je '72)

Poems from Ireland. Cole, W. (S '72)

Poems from Italy. Smith, W. J., comp. (D '72)

Poems from Sharon's lunch box. Gilbert, A. (N '72)

Poems from three decades. Lattimore, R. (D '72)

Poems make pictures. Rimanelli, G. (N '72)

Poems, 1968-1970. Graves, R. (Mr '72)

Poems of Christy Brown. Brown, C. (Ap '72)

Poems of Dylan Thomas. Thomas, D. (Je '72)

Poems of Mao Tse-tung. Mao, T.-T. (Je '72)

Poems of Propertius. Propertius, S. A. (D '72)

Poems of Trumbull Stickney. Stickney, T. (D '72)

Poems on affairs of state, v6. (Ap '72)

Poetics

Skelton, R. Practice of poetry. (O '72)

Poetries and sciences. Richards, I. A. (Mr '72)

Poetry

Bachelard, G. On poetic imagination and reverie. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Goodman, P. Speaking and language: defence of poetry. (Ap '72)

Heidegger, M. Poetry, language, thought. (My '72)

Larrick, N., ed. Somebody turned on a tap in these kids. (Ag '72)

Nemerov, H. Reflexions on poetry & poetics. (S '72)

Ransom, J. C. Beating the bushes. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Collections

Greaves, G., comp. Burning thorn. (Mr '72)

Lucie-Smith, E., comp. Primer of experimental poetry. (Ap '72)

Nims, J. F. Sappho to Valéry. (O '72)

Pound, O. S., ed. Arabic & Persian poems in English. (Je '72)

Rothenberg, J. Shaking the pumpkin. (Je '72)

See also

African poetry—Collections

Eskimo poetry—Collections

French poetry—Collections

Greek poetry—Collections

Italian poetry—Collections

Japanese poetry—Collections

Latin poetry—Collections

Russian poetry—Collections

Spanish poetry—Collections

Juvenile literature

Cole, W., ed. Oh, that's ridiculous! (O '72)

Cole, W., ed. Pick me up. (O '72)

Itse, E. M., comp. Hey, bug! and other poems about little things. (S '72)

History and criticism

Anderson, J. Q. Liberating gods. (Mr '72)

Edwards, T. R. Imagination and power. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Richards, I. A. Poetries and sciences. (Mr '72)

Poetry (Individual)

Aiken, C. Clerk's journal. (Mr '72)

Alonso, D. Hijos de la ira. Children of wrath [bilingual ed.]. (My '72)

Angelou, M. Just give me a cool drink of water 'fore I die. (Ag '72)

Ashbery, J. Three poems. (Je '72)

Auden, W. H. Epistle to a godson, and other poems. (N '72)

Berrymann, J. Delusions, etc. (Ag '72)

Berrymann, J. Love & fame. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Beijerman, J. Collected poems [enl ed.]. (Ag '72)

Blake, W. Book of Thel. (D '72)

Borges, J. L. Selected poems, 1923-1967 [bilingual ed.]. (S '72)

Bowles, P. Thicket of spring. (Ag '72)

Brigham, B. Heaved from the earth. (O '72)

Brinnin, J. M. Skin diving in the Virgins, and other poems. (My '72)

Brontë, E. Peculiar music. (S '72)

Brooks, G. World of Gwendolyn Brooks. (Je '72)

Brown, C. Poems of Christy Brown. (Ap '72)

Browne, M. D. Wife of winter. (Ap '72)

Burnshaw, S. In the terrified radiance. (D '72)

Casey, M. Obscenities. (Ag '72)

Cernuda, L. Poetry of Luis Cernuda. (S '72)

Chigounis, E. Secret lives. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Clark, T. Air. (Ap '72)

Clifton, L. Good news about the earth. (D '72)

Connor, T. In the Happy Valley. (Ap '72)

Cook, A. S. Charges. (My '72)

Coolidge, C. Space. (Ap '72)

Cosgrave, P. Public poetry of Robert Lowell. (Ag '72)

Crichton Smith, I. From Bourgeois land. (My '72)

Cummings, E. E. Complete poems, 1913-1962. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Den Boer, J. Trying to come apart. (My '72)

Dillard, R. H. W. News of the Nile. (Mr '72)

Ekelöf, G. Selected poems. (D '72)

Elliot, T. S. Waste land. (Ap '72)

Elmslie, K. Motor disturbance. (O '72)

Enright, D. J. Typewriter revolution & other poems. (Ap '72)

Fitzgerald, R. Spring shade. (My '72)

Freeman, A. Assays of bias. (My '72)

Gallup, D. Where I hang my hat. (Ap '72)

Ghiselin, B. Country of the Minotaur. (O '72)

Gilman, D. Upstate. (O '72)

Goldfarb, S. Messages. (Ap '72)

Goodman, P. Homespun of oatmeal gray. (O '72)

Poetry (Individual)—Continued

- Graves, R. Poems, 1968-1970. (Mr '72)
 Gregor, A. Selected poems. (Ag '72)
 Hall, D. Yellow room. (Mr '72)
 Han-shan. Cold mountain. (Ap '72)
 Hanson, P. Across countries of anywhere. (Je '72)
 Harr, B. Mortgaged wife. (My '72)
 Harwood, L. White room. (O '72)
 Hochman, S. Earthworks. (Je '72)
 Holub, M. Although. (N '72)
 Kailman, C. Sense of occasion. (Je '72)
 Kaplan, A. Paper airplane. (Ag '72)
 Kavanaugh, J. There are men too gentle to live among wolves. (My '72)
 Keithley, G. Donner party. (My '72)
 Kelly, D. Instructions for viewing a solar eclipse. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Kizer, C. Midnight was my cry. (Je '72)
 Klappert, P. Lugging vegetables to Nantucket. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Kramer, A. Melville's poetry: toward the enlarged heart. (D '72)
 Lattimore, R. Poems from three decades. (D '72)
Levertov, D. To stay alive. (S '72)
 Lewis, L. Wrecking crew. (D '72)
 Lewis, C. S. Narrative poems. (Ag '72)
 L'Heureux, J. No place for hiding. (My '72)
 Macbeth, G. Collected poems, 1958-1970. (My '72)
 MacLeish, A. Human season. (D '72)
 McMichael, J. Against the falling evil. (D '72)
 Mao, T.-T. Poems of Mao Tse-tung. (Je '72)
 Mason, H. Gilgamesh: a verse narrative. (O '72)
 Menashe, S. No Jerusalem but this. (My '72)
 Merrill, J. Braving the elements. (N '72)
 Mistral, G. Selected poems of Gabriela Mistral [bilingual ed.]. (O '72)
 Nash, O. Old dog barks backwards. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Neruda, P. Selected poems [bilingual ed.]. (Ag '72)
 O'Hara, F. Collected poems of Frank O'Hara. (Mr '72)
 Olson, C. Archaeologist of morning. (Je '72)
Parra, N. Emergency poems. (S '72)
 Perlman, J. Kachina. (N '72)
 Perse, St.-J. Collected poems. (S '72)
 Pessoa, F. Selected poems. (N '72)
 Petrarch, F. Lord Morley's Tryumphes of Fraunces Petrарcke. (D '72)
 Plath, S. Crossing the water. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Plath, S. Winter trees. (D '72)
 Plimly, S. In the outer dark. (Ap '72)
 Poullin, A. In advent. (S '72)
 Pushkin, A. S. Pushkin threefold. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Roberts, B. Spacewalks. (Ag '72)
 Roethke, T. Straw for the fire. (My '72)
 Sarton, M. Durable fire (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Schwerner, A. Tablets I-XV. (S '72)
 Sexton, A. Transformation. (Je '72)
 Shapiro, D. Man holding an acoustic panel. (Mr '72)
 Silkin, J. Amana grass. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Simpson, L. Adventures of the letter I. (S '72)
 Sissman, L. E. Pursuit of honor. (Mr '72)
 Sorrentino, G. Corrosive sublimate. (N '72)
 Soyinka, W. Shuttle in the crypt. (D '72)
 Spacks, B. Something human. (D '72)
 Spender, S. Generous days. (Mr '72)
 Stevenson, R. L. Collected poems [2d ed.]. (Ap '72)
 Stickney, T. Poems of Trumbull Stickney. (D '72)
 Takahashi, S. Afterimages. (O '72)
 Tarn, N. Nowhere for Vallejo. (N '72)
 Tate, A. Swimmers, and other selected poems. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Tate, J. Absences. (O '72)
Taylor, E. R. Welcome Eumenides. (S '72)
 Thomas, D. Poems of Dylan Thomas. (Je '72)
 Towle, T. North. (Ap '72)
 Tremblay, B. Crying in the cheap seats. (Ag '72)
 Tsvetayeva, M. Selected poems of Marilana Tsvetayeva. (O '72)
 Vazakas, B. Nostalgias for a house of cards. (My '72)
Virgil. Aeneid of Virgil: a verse translation by Allen Mandelbaum. (S '72)
 Wagoner, D. Riverbed. (My '72)
 Wakoski, D. Motorcycle betrayal poems. (Mr '72)
 Wevill, D. Firebreak. (Ag '72)
 Wong, M. Reports. (O '72)
 Woods, J. Turning to look back. (S '72)
Wylder, E. Last face: Emily Dickinson's manuscripts. (S '72)
- Yevtushenko, Y. Stolen apples. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Zweig, P. Against emptiness. (Mr '72)
 Poetry and crisis in the age of Chaucer. Muscatine, C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Poetry, language, thought. Heidegger, M. (My '72)
 Poetry of Edwin Muir. Huberman, E. (My '72)
 Poetry of John Crowe Ransom. Williams, M. (S '72)
 Poetry of Luis Cernuda. Cernuda, L. (S '72)
 Poetry of Randall Jarrell. Ferguson, S. (Je '72)
 Poetry of the Negro, 1746-1970 [rev ed.]. Hughes, L., ed. (Ap '72)
Poets, English
Dictionaries
 Contemporary poets of the English language. (My '72)
Poets, Russian
 Carlisle, O. A., ed. & tr. Modern Russian poetry. (D '72)
 Poet's tales. Cole, W., ed. (Ag '72)
 Pointing the way, 1959-1961. Macmillan, H. (D '72)
 Poison, play, and duel. Alexander, N. (Mr '72)
 Poisoned tongue. Feldstein, S., ed. (Ag '72)
Poisons
 Jager, K. W. Aldrin, dieldrin, endrin and telodrin. (Ap '72)
Poland
Foreign relations
Germany
 Von Riekhoff, H. German-Polish relations, 1918-1933. (Ag '72)
History
 Davies, N. White eagle, red star. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Politics and government
 Karsov, N. In the name of tomorrow. (Ap '72)
 Polar deserts. Herbert, W. (My '72)
Polar regions
Juvenile literature
 Herbert, W. Polar deserts. (My '72)
Police
Russia
 Deacon, R. History of the Russian secret service. (O '72)
 Levytsky, B. Uses of terror. (N '72)
United States
 Ahern, J. F. Police in trouble. (S '72)
 Lipsky, M., comp. Law and order, police encounters. (My '72)
 Reiss, A. J. Police and the public. (O '72)
 Vollmer, A. Police and modern society. (O '72)
 Westley, W. A. Violence and the police. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Police and modern society. Vollmer, A. (O '72)
 Police and the public. Reiss, A. J. (O '72)
 Police in trouble. Ahern, J. F. (S '72)
 Policy and police. Elton, G. R. (O '72)
Poliomyelitis
 Paul, J. R. History of poliomyelitis. (Ag '72)
Polish socialist party. See Socialist party (Poland)
Polish-Soviet War, 1919-1920
 Davies, N. White eagle, red star. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Political anthropology. Balandier, G. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Political apocalypse. Sandoz, E. (O '72)
 Political brokers. Smith, J. G. (Je '72)
 Political consequences of modernization. Kautsky, J. H. (O '72)
Political conventions
 Parris, J. H. Convention problem. (N '72)
Political crimes and offenses
 Havens, M. C. Politics of assassination. (Mr '72)
 Szász, B. Volunteers for the gallows. (Ap '72)
 Political economy of modern Spain. Anderson, C. W. (My '72)
 Political economy of the black ghetto. Tabb, W. K. (Je '72)
 Political education. McPherson, H. (S '72)
 Political elite of Iran. Zonis, M. (O '72)
Political ethics
 Childress, J. F. Civil disobedience and political obligation. (Ag '72)
 Political expectation. Tillich, P. (Ap '72)
 Political hysteria in America. Levin, M. B. (Je '72)

Political mobilization of the Venezuelan peasant. Powell, J. D. (Mr '72)

Political parties

Allardt, E., ed. Mass politics. (Ap '72)
 Clarke, P. F. Lancashire and the new liberalism. (S '72)
 David, P. T. Party strength in the United States, 1872-1970. (D '72)
 Dobson, J. M. Politics in the gilded cage. (N '72)
 Formisano, R. P. Birth of mass political parties. (Ag '72)
 Roberts, G. K. Political parties and pressure-groups in Britain. (O '72)
 Saloma, J. S. Parties. (S '72)
 Trindall, G. B. Disruption of the solid South. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Political parties and pressure-groups in Britain. Roberts, G. K. (O '72)

Political philosophy of Martin Luther King, Jr. Walton, H. (S '72)

Political prisoners

Gorbanevskaya, N. Red Square at noon. (S '72)
 Gordon, E. Freedom is a word. (Je '72)

Political psychology

Di Palma, G. Apathy and participation. (S '72)
 Edelman, M. Politics as symbolic action. (O '72)
 Odegard, H. P. Politics of truth: toward reconstruction in democracy. (O '72)

Political science

Brunner, R. D. Organized complexity. (O '72)
 Coleridge, S. T. Collected works of Samuel Taylor Coleridge, v 1: Lectures 1795 on politics and religion. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Davies, M. R. Models of political systems. (Je '72)
 De Crespigny, A., ed. Contemporary political theory. (My '72)
 Kaplan, M. A. On historical and political knowing. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Niemeyer, G. Between nothingness and paradise. (My '72)
 Partridge, P. H. Consent and consensus. (Ag '72)
 Pelczynski, Z. A., ed. Hegel's political philosophy, problems and perspectives. (D '72)
 Pocock, J. G. A. Politics, language and time. (S '72)
 Rostow, W. W. Politics and the stages of growth. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Tillich, P. Political expectation. (Ap '72)
 Wiener, M. J. Between two worlds. (Ag '72)

History

Adler, M. J. Common sense of politics. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Schuettinger, R. L., ed. Conservative tradition in European thought. (My '72)
 Sidorsky, D., ed. Liberal tradition in European thought. (My '72)
 Venturi, F. Utopia and reform in the enlightenment. (S '72)

Political sociology

Allardt, E., ed. Mass politics. (Ap '72)
 Eisenstadt, S. N., ed. Political sociology. (Ag '72)
 Pinard, M. Rise of a third party. (Mr '72)
 Shanin, T. Awkward class. (N '72)
 Political system of Brazil. Schneider, R. M. (Ag '72)
 Political thought of Max Weber. Dronberger, I. (Ap '72)
 Politicians at war: July 1914 to May 1915. Hazlehurst, C. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Politics, Practical

Bean, L. H. How to predict the 1972 election. (O '72)
 Bond, J. Time to speak, a time to act. (O '72)
 Curtis, G. L. Election campaigning Japanese style. (Mr '72)
 De Vries, W. Ticket-splitter. (Je '72)
 Di Palma, G. Apathy and participation. (S '72)
 Gregory, D. Dick Gregory's political primer. (Je '72)
 Jensen, R. J. Winning of the midwest. (My '72)
 Kahler, J. G. Hall to the chief. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Lebedoff, D. Ward number six. (D '72)
 Markel, L. What you don't know can hurt you. (D '72)
 Napolitan, J. Election game, and how to win it. (Ag '72)
 Roberts, G. K. Political parties and pressure-groups in Britain. (O '72)
 Saloma, J. S. Parties. (S '72)
 Shadegg, S. C. New How to win an election. (S '72)
 Thompson, D. F. Democratic citizen. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Politics and film. Furhammar, L. (Je '72)
 Politics and punishment. Carleton, M. T. (Ag '72)
 Politics and the bench. Jones, W. J. (N '72)
 Politics & the press. (Ap '72)
 Politics and the stages of growth. Rostow, W. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Politics as symbolic action. Edelman, M. (O '72)
 Politics in Sierra Leone, 1947-67. Cartwright, J. R. (My '72)
 Politics in the gilded age. Dobson, J. M. (N '72)
 Politics, language and time. Pocock, J. G. A. (S '72)
 Politics of assassination. Havens, M. C. (Mr '72)
 Politics of assimilation. Marrus, M. R. (Ap '72)
 Politics of consumer protection. Nadel, M. V. (D '72)
 Politics of culture. Liehm, A. J. (O '72)
 Politics of defeat. Huckshorn, R. J. (Ap '72)
 Politics of disorder. Lowi, T. J. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Politics of electoral college reform. Longley, L. D. (S '72)
 Politics of government growth. Lubenow, W. C. (Ap '72)
 Politics of heroin in Southeast Asia. McCoy, A. W. (D '72)
 Politics of Irish literature from Thomas Davis to W. B. Yeats. Brown, M. (O '72)
 Politics of literature. Kampf, L., ed. (Ag '72)
 Politics of military revolution in Korea. Kim, S.-J. (My '72)
 Politics of participation in poverty. Marshall, D. R. (N '72)
 Politics of protection. Stewart, R. (O '72)
 Politics of reform, 1884. Jones, A. (O '72)
 Politics of revolution. Wheeler, H. (Ag '72)
 Politics of riot commissions, 1917-1970. Platt, A., ed. (Ap '72)
 Politics of Southern equality. Wirt, F. M. (My '72)
 Politics of stratification. Bujra, A. S. (Mr '72)
 Politics of the family and other essays. Laing, R. D. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Politics of therapy. Halleck, S. L. (Mr '72)
 Politics of truth: toward reconstruction in democracy. Odegard, H. P. (O '72)
 Politics of twentieth-century novelists. Panichas, G. A. (Je '72)
 Politics, the Constitution, and the Warren court. Kurland, P. B. (Ap '72)

Pollock, Jackson

Friedman, B. H. Jackson Pollock. (N '72)

Pollution

Economic aspects

Bohm, P., ed. Economics of environment. (D '72)
 Environmental side effects of rising industrial output. (Ap '72)
 Halacy, D. S. Now or never. (My '72)
 Hamblin, L. Pollution; the world crisis. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

Parnall, P. Mountain. (O '72)
 Pollution: the world crisis. Hamblin, L. (Ap '72)

Polygamist. Sithole, N. (N '72)

Polyhedra

Holden, A. Shapes, space, and symmetry. (Ag '72)

Polynesia

Religion

Flirth, R. Rank and religion in Tikopia. (Ap '72)
 Polynesian seafaring, v2. Dodd, E. (N '72)
 Pompell
 Grant, M. Cities of Vesuvius. (Mr '72)
 Pompidou, Georges Jean Raymond, President France
 Alexandre, P. Duel: De Gaulle and Pompidou. (Ag '72)

Ponting, Herbert George

Arnold, H. J. P. Photographer of the world. (D '72)

Poona (City)

Politics and government

Rosenthal, D. B. Limited elite. (O '72)

Poor

Woolman, J. Journal and major essays of John Woolman. (Ag '72)

Political activity

Marshall, D. R. Politics of participation in poverty. (N '72)

Poor—Continued

Northern States

Coles, R. South goes North. (My '72)

Southern States

Coles, R. Migrants, sharecroppers, mountaineers. (My '72)

United States

Goodwin, L. Do the poor want to work? (N '72)

Poor cousins. Manners, A. (Ap '72)

Poor laws

Edsall, N. C. Anti-poor law movement, 1834-44. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Poor Russell's almanac. Baker, R. (Ap '72)

Pope, Alexander

Spacks, P. M. Argument of images. (S '72)

Pope, John

Ellis, R. N. General Pope and U.S. Indian policy. (Mr '72)

Pope Leo X. See Leo X (Giovanni de' Medici) Pope

Pope Paul VI. See Paul VI (Giovanni Battista Montini) Pope

Popish plot. Kenyon, J. (N '72)

Population

Bajema, C. J., ed. Natural selection in human populations. (N '72)

Bird, C. Crowding syndrome. (O '72)

Coale, A. J. Growth and structure of human populations. (D '72)

Halacy, D. S. Geometry of hunger. (Ag '72)

Hardin, G. Exploring new ethics for survival. (N '72)

Is there an optimum level of population? (S '72)

Russell, J. C. Medieval regions and their cities. (D '72)

Subbiah, B. V. Tragedy of a papal decree (in a crowded world). (S '72)

Population trends and housing; v1 of Urban development in Britain: standards, costs and resources, 1964-2004. Stone, P. A. (My '72)

Populist manifesto. Newfield, J. (Je '72)

Porcelain

Godden, G. A., ed. Jewitt's ceramic art of Great Britain, 1800-1900. (O '72)

See also

Pottery

Dictionaries

Boger, L. A. Dictionary of world pottery and porcelain. (Mr '72)

Pornography

Censorship: for & against. (My '72)

Porter, Cole

Kimball, R., ed. Cole. (Mr '72)

Portrait of a director: Satyajit Ray. Seton, M. (Ap '72)

Portrait of a port. Bunting, W. H., comp. (Ap '72)

Portrait of aphasia. Knox, D. (Ap '72)

Portrait of Hesse. Zeller, B. (Mr '72)

Portrait of Marx. Blumenberg, W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Portrait of Spain. Szulc, T. (D '72)

Portrait painting

Praz, M. Conversation pieces. (N '72)

Strong, R. C. English icon. (Ap '72)

Portraits; v2 of The paintings of Titian. Wethey, H. E. (Ag '72)

Portraits from North American Indian life. Curtis, E. S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Portugal

Colonies

Isaacman, A. F. Mozambique. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Commerce

Fisher, H. E. S. Portugal trade. (Mr '72)

Social conditions

Cutileiro, J. Portuguese rural society. (S '72)

Portugal trade. Fisher, H. E. S. (Mr '72)

Portuguese plain architecture. Kubler, G. (N '72)

Portuguese rural society. Cutileiro, J. (S '72)

Positively black. Abrahams, R. D. (Mr '72)

Post-industrial prophets. Kuhns, W. (Ap '72)

Post-society anarchism. Bookchin, M. (My '72)

Poster art of Tomi Ungerer. Ungerer, T. (N '72)

Posters

History

Rickards, M. Rise and fall of the poster. (O '72)

Posts-mortem. Goodman, J. (Ag '72)

Postwar development of the Republic of Vietnam. Joint development group. (My '72)

Potter, Beatrix

Godden, R. Tale of tales: the Beatrix Potter ballet. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Pottery

Gaunt, W. William De Morgan: Pre-Raphaelite ceramics. (Mr '72)

Godden, G. A., ed. Jewitt's ceramic art of Great Britain, 1800-1900. (O '72)

See also

Staffordshire pottery

Dictionaries

Boger, L. A. Dictionary of world pottery and porcelain. (Mr '72)

Pottery, American

Osgood, C. Jug and related stoneware of Bennington. (My '72)

Webster, D. B. Decorated stoneware pottery of North America. (Ap '72)

Pottery, Canadian

Webster, D. B. Decorated stoneware pottery of North America. (Ap '72)

Pound, Ezra Loomis

Brooke-Rose, C. ZBC of Ezra Pound. (Ag '72)

Kenner, H. Pound era. (Je '72)

The cantos

Baumann, W. Rose in the steel dust. (Ag '72)

Pound era. Kenner, H. (Je '72)

Poverty

Piven, F. F. Regulating the poor. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Townsend, P., ed. Concept of poverty. (My '72)

Poverty and the industrial revolution. Eng title of: Men of conscience. Inglis, B. (Je '72)

Powell, Adam Clayton

Weeks, K. M. Adam Clayton Powell and the Supreme Court. (Ag '72)

Powell, John Wesley

Hillers, J. "Photographed all the best scenery." (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Power (Mechanics)

Juvenile literature

Hinkelbein, A. Energy and power. (S '72)

Millard, R. How will we meet the energy crisis? (Je '72)

Power (Social sciences)

Balandier, G. Political anthropology. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Bonjean, C. M., ed. Community politics. (My '72)

Marcuse, H. Counterrevolution and revolt. (Ag '72)

Newfield, J. Populist manifesto. (Je '72)

Stampfer, J. Face and shadow. (Ag '72)

Power and authority. Hodgkinson, H. L., ed. (Ap '72)

Power and diplomacy in Northern Nigeria, 1804-1906. Adeleye, R. A. (O '72)

Power and policy. Pell, C. (N '72)

Power, property, and history. Barnave, A. P. J. M. (My '72)

Power resources

Juvenile literature

Hinkelbein, A. Energy and power. (S '72)

Millard, R. How will we meet the energy crisis? (Je '72)

Power through subversion. Bellenson, L. W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Practice of managerial psychology. DuBrin, A. J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Practice of poetry. Skelton, R. (O '72)

Prague

Bauer, J. Kafka and Prague. (Ap '72)

Description

Roth, E. Tale of three cities. (Je '72)

Praxis and action. Bernstein, R. J. (O '72)

Prayer

Basset, B. Let's start praying again. (Ag '72)

Macquarrie, J. Paths in spirituality. (O '72)

Prayers

Boyd, M. Human like me, Jesus. (Mr '72)

Preacher and the New English Bible. Kennedy, G. (S '72)

Preaching

See also

Sermons

Precious stones

Desautels, P. E. Gem kingdom. (My '72)

Predicament of the university. Aiken, H. D. (Ap '72)

Pregnancy

- Colman, A. D. Pregnancy: the psychological experience. (S '72)
 Kitzinger, S. Giving birth. (My '72)
Pregnancy: the psychological experience. Colman, A. D. (S '72)
Prehistory of Africa. Clark, J. D. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Prehistory of China. Treistman, J. M. (Ag '72)
Pre-industrial economy in England, 1500-1750. Clarkson, L. A. (O '72)

Prejudices and antipathies

- Feldstein, S., ed. Poisoned tongue. (Ag '72)
 Heizer, R. F. Other Californians. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Prejudices and antipathies: a tract on the LC heads concerning people. Berman, S. (O '72)

Prelude to Dunkerque, the fall of Eben Em-ael. Mrazek, J. E. (S '72)

- Prelude to modern Europe, 1815-1914.* Woodward, L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Prelude to the enlightenment. Atkinson, G. (S '72)

- Preludes to vision.* Vogler, T. A. (Ap '72)
Preparatory to Anglo-Saxon England. Stenton, F. M. (Ap '72)

- Presence of the actor.* Chaikin, J. (O '72)
Present past, past present. Ionesco, E. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Presenting Stefano della Bella.* Bella, S. della. (My '72)

- Presidency.* Vinyard, D. (S '72)
Presidency on trial. Brown, S. G. (Ag '72)
President Charles Bradlaugh. M. P. Tribe, D. (Ap '72)

- President Nixon and the press.* Keogh, J. (Ag '72)

- Presidential character.* Barber, J. D. (O '72)

Presidents*United States

- Smith, M. Merriman Smith's book of presidents. (S '72)
 Vinyard, D. Presidency. (S '72)
 White, W. S. Responsibles. (Ap '72)

Case studies

- Barber, J. D. Presidential character. (O '72)

Election

- Brown, S. G. Presidency on trial. (Ag '72)
 Kahler, J. G. Hail to the chief. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Longley, L. D. Politics of electoral college reform. (S '72)
 Parris, J. H. Convention problem. (N '72)
 Schlesinger, A. M., ed. History of American presidential elections, 1789-1968. 4v. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Silber, L., ed. Songs America voted by. (Mr '72)
 Whalen, R. J. Catch the falling flag. (O '72)

Election—Juvenile literature

- Vaughan, H. C. Hayes-Tilden election of 1876. (D '72)

Nomination

- Lebedoff, D. Ward number six. (D '72)
 Parris, J. H. Convention problem. (N '72)

Religion

- Alley, R. S. So help me God. (Ag '72)
 Henderson, C. P. Nixon theology. (O '72)
Presidents, bureaucrats, and foreign policy. Destler, I. M. (N '72)

- Pressure groups.* See Lobbying

- Pressures on the press.* Kriehbaum, H. (D '72)

- Prevention of cruelty to animals.* See Animals—Treatment

- Previews of coming attractions.* Murray, W. (Je '72)

Price, Sterling

- Shalhope, R. E. Sterling Price. (Je '72)
Price competitiveness in world trade. Kravis, I. B. (Je '72)

- Price of international justice.* Jessup, P. C. (O '72)

- Price revolution in sixteenth-century England.* Ramsey, P. H. (Ap '72)

Prices

- Blair, J. M. Economic concentration. (N '72)
 Kravis, I. B. Price competitiveness in world trade. (Je '72)
 Telser, L. G. Competition, collusion, and game theory. (O '72)

History

- Ramsey, P. H. Price revolution in sixteenth-century England. (Ap '72)

Pride, Thomas

- Underdown, D. Pride's Purge: politics in the Puritan revolution. (Ap '72)

- Pride's Purge: politics in the Puritan revolution.* Underdown, D. (Ap '72)

Priests*See also

- Catholic Church—Clergy*
Priests in the United States. Greeley, A. M. (Je '72)

- Primal revolution.* Janov, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Primate societies.* Kummer, H. (Ag '72)

Primates

- Clark, W. E. L. Antecedents of man [3d ed]. (N '72)

- Kummer, H. Primate societies. (Ag '72)

- Primer for film making.* Roberts, K. H. (O '72)

- Primer of experimental poetry.* Lucie-Smith, E., comp. (Ap '72)

- Primer of Sōtō Zen.* Dōgen. (Ap '72)

- Primer on social dynamics.* Boulding, K. E. (Mr '72)

- Priming the German economy.* Backer, J. H. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Primitive law, and present.* Diamond, A. S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Primitivism in art

- Bihajli-Merin, O. Masters of naive art. (My '72)

- Prince, Koster, R. M. (My '72)

- Prince and his lady.* Gillen, M. (Mr '72)

- Prince & the genie.* MacCombie, J. (O '72)

Princes and princesses

- Epton, N. Victoria and her daughters. (Ap '72)

- Principles of letter writing.* Anonymous of Bologna. (In Three medieval rhetorical arts; ed. by J. J. Murphy). (My '72)

Printing*Bibliography

- Tanselle, G. J. Guide to the study of United States imprints. 2v. (O '72)

Dictionaries

- Harrod, L. M. Librarians' glossary of terms used in librarianship and the book crafts and reference book [3d rev ed]. (Ag '72)

History

- Blades, W. Biography and typography of William Caxton, England's first printer. (O '72)

- Johnson, A. F. Selected essays on books and printing. (Ap '72)

Specimens

- Moran, J. Stanley Morison. (D '72)

Prints

- Mayor, A. H. Prints & people. (S '72)

- Prints & people.* Mayor, A. H. (S '72)

- Prison treatment and parole survival.* Kassebaum, G. (Ag '72)

Prisons

- Radzinowicz, L. Crime and justice. 3v. (Ag '72)

Connecticut*Danbury

- Lockwood, L. Daniel Berrigan: absurd convictions, modest hopes: conversations after prison with Lee Lockwood. (D '72)

Great Britain

- Carasoy, V. Two gentlemen to you, Sir. (Mr '72)

- Thomas, J. E. English prison officer since 1850. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Louisiana

- Carleton, M. T. Politics and punishment. (Ag '72)

New York (State)

- Badillo, H. Bill of no rights: Attica and the American prison system. (O '72)

Personal narratives

- Coons, W. R. Attica diary. (O '72)

Pennsylvania

- Cook, J. Rags of time. (Ag '72)

Russia

- Berger, J. Nothing but the truth. (Mr '72)
 Galler, M., comp. Soviet prison camp speech. (O '72)

Texas

- Lyon, D. Conversations with the dead. (O '72)

United States

- If they come in the morning.* (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Kassebaum, G. Prison treatment and parole survival. (Ag '72)

- Prisons—United States—Continued
 Levy, H. Going to jail. (Mr '72)
 Maximum security; letters from California's prisons. (Ap '72)
 Melville, S. Letters from Attica. (My '72)
 Rothman, D. J. Discovery of the asylum. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Struggle for justice. (My '72)
- Pritchett, Victor Sawdon
 Pritchett, V. S. Midnight oil. (Ag '72)
- Privacy, Right of
 Pember, D. R. Privacy and the press. (Ag '72)
- Privacy and the press. Pember, D. R. (Ag '72)
- Private enterprise. See Capitalism
- Private faces/public places. McCarthy, A. (S '72)
- Private schools
 Bennett, H. No more public school. (Je '72)
 Kraushaar, O. F. American nonpublic schools. (N '72)
See also
 Webb School, Bell Buckle, Tennessee
- Private sector. Hone, J. (O '72)
- Pro football: the world of the NFL. Rathet, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Probabilities
 Ayer, A. J. Probability and evidence. (S '72)
- Juvenile literature
 Linn, C. F. Probability. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Probability. Linn, C. F. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Probability and evidence. Ayer, A. J. (S '72)
- Problem children
Education
 Faas, L. A., ed. Emotionally disturbed child. (My '72)
 Problems and projects. Goodman, N. (S '72)
 Problems in school media management. Sullivan, P. (Ag '72)
 Problems in stoicism. Long, A. A., ed. (Je '72)
 Problems in the history of colonial Africa. Collins, R. O., ed. (Ap '72)
 Problems of Australian defence. Gelber, H. G., ed. (Ap '72)
 Problems of knowledge and freedom. Chomsky, N. (Mr '72)
 Problems of psychoanalytic training, diagnosis, and the technique of therapy, 1966-1970; v7 of The writings of Anna Freud. Freud, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Procedure; v2 of Law of Athens. Harrison, A. R. W. (S '72)
- Process and effects of mass communication [rev ed]. Schramm, W. (My '72)
- Processing (Libraries)
 Bloomberg, M. Introduction to technical services for library technicians. (S '72)
 Corbin, J. B. Technical services manual for small libraries. (Ag '72)
 Dougherty, R. M. Centralized processing for academic libraries. (O '72)
- Procession of friends. Newman, D. (My '72)
- Proclamation and presence. (Mr '72)
- Proctor, Alexander Phimister
 Proctor, A. P. Alexander Phimister Proctor: sculptor in buckskin. (Ap '72)
- Producer. Davis, C. (My '72)
- Production of medieval church music-drama. Collins, F. (N '72)
- Productive monopoly. Taylor, W. L. (Mr '72)
- Productivity and industrial growth. Kennedy, K. A. (Ap '72)
- Profession of dramatist in Shakespeare's time, 1590-1642. Bentley, G. E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Professional. Buchanan, J. D. (D '72)
- Professional education
 Wolfe, D. L. Uses of talent. (Mr '72)
- Professional forestry in the United States. Clepper, H. (Ag '72)
- Professions
 Hiestand, D. L. Changing careers after thirty-five. (S '72)
- Profiles in black power. Haskins, J. (Ag '72)
- Profiles of change: African society and colonial rule; v3 of Colonialism in Africa, 1870-1960. Turner, V., ed. (O '72)
- Profitteering
 Hamilton-Paterson, J. Greedy war. (S '72)
- Programmed instruction
 Wilson, T. D. Introduction to chain indexing. (O '72)
- Progress
 Wagar, W. W. Good tidings. (D '72)
- Progress in parapsychology. Rhine, J. B., ed. (Ap '72)
- Progressivism and the open door. Israel, J. (Ag '72)
- Project for a revolution in New York. Robbe-Grillet, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Project 1-2-3. Merriam, E. (Ag '72)
- Project paperclip. Lasby, C. G. (Ap '72)
- Prolegomena and prehistory; v 1, pt 1 of The Cambridge ancient history [3d ed]. (Je '72)
- Promoting your cause. Bloomenthal, H. (My '72)
- Propaganda
 Furhammar, L. Politics and film. (Je '72)
- Propaganda, Chinese
 Liu, A. P. L. Communications and national integration in Communist China. (O '72)
- Proposal to change the structure of city planning. Spatt, B. M. (Ap '72)
- Prose of William Carlos Williams. Wagner, L. W. (Mr '72)
- Proselytizer. Mano, D. K. (Je '72)
- Protest. See Dissent
- Protestant churches
 Handy, R. T. Christian America. (Ap '72)
- Protestant diplomacy and the Near East. Grabill, J. L. (Ag '72)
- Protestant Reformation. See Reformation
- Protestantism
 Marty, M. E. Protestantism. (S '72)
- Protestants against poverty. Huggins, N. I. (Ap '72)
- Protestants in the United States
 Schrag, P. Decline of the WASP. (Ap '72)
- Prostitution
 Petrie, G. Singular iniquity. (Je '72)
 Tabor, P. Pauline's. (Je '72)
- Proud peoples. Alford, H. J. (D '72)
- Proust, Marcel
 Deleuze, G. Proust and signs. (D '72)
 Wolitz, S. L. Proustian community. (O '72)
- Remembrance of things past
 Kopp, R. L. Marcel Proust as a social critic. (O '72)
 Revel, J.-F. On Proust. (Ag '72)
- Proust and signs. Deleuze, G. (D '72)
- Proustian community. Wolitz, S. L. (O '72)
- Proverbs
Dictionaries
 Oxford dictionary of English proverbs [3d ed]. (Ap '72)
- Prussia
Economic policy
 Dorwart, R. A. Prussian welfare state before 1740. (Ag '72)
- Politics and government
 1815-1861
 Gillis, J. R. Prussian bureaucracy in crisis, 1840-1860. (N '72)
- Social policy
 Dorwart, R. A. Prussian welfare state before 1740. (Ag '72)
- Prussian bureaucracy in crisis, 1840-1860. Gillis, J. R. (N '72)
- Prussian welfare state before 1740. Dorwart, R. A. (Ag '72)
- Psychedelic baby reaches puberty. Stafford, P. (N '72)
- Psychedelic teacher. Götz, I. L. (Ag '72)
- Psychedelics. See Hallucinogenic drugs
- Psychedelics. Aaronson, B., ed. (N '72)
- Psychiatric disorder and the urban environment. (O '72)
- Psychiatry
 Adams, J. K. Secrets of the trade. (D '72)
 Edelson, M. Idea of a mental illness. (Mr '72)
 Hope: psychiatry's commitment. (Ap '72)
 Thomas, A. Racism and psychiatry. (N '72)
 Viscott, D. S. Making of a psychiatrist. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
See also
 Adolescent psychiatry
- Psychical research
 Rhine, J. B., ed. Progress in parapsychology. (Ap '72)
- Psychoanalysis
 Blanton, S. Diary of my analysis with Sigmund Freud. (My '72)
 Cattier, M. Life and work of Wilhelm Reich. (Ag '72)
 Elssler, K. R. Talent and genius. (My '72)
 Freeman, E. Insights. (S '72)

- Freud, A. Writings of Anna Freud. v7. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Hale, N. G. Freud and the Americans. (Mr '72)
- Langer, W. Mind of Adolf Hitler. (N '72)
- Putnam, J. J. James Jackson Putnam and psychoanalysis. (S '72)
- Sarnoff, I. Testing Freudian concepts. (Ap '72)
- Schur, M. Freud: living and dying. (S '72)
- Smirnoff, V. Scope of child analysis. (S '72)
- Winnicott, D. W. Therapeutic consultations in child psychiatry. (Je '72)
- Psychological dynamics in religious living. Curran, C. A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Psychology
- From, F. Perception of other people. (Mr '72)
- Levine, S., ed. Social stress. (My '72)
- Rosenthal, B. G. Images of man. (Mr '72)
- Psychology, Applied
- DuBrin, A. J. Practice of managerial psychology. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Jacques, E. Work, creativity, and social justice. (N '72)
- Psychology, Industrial. See Psychology, Applied
- Psychology, Pathological
- Harrington, A. Psychopaths. . . (Ag '72)
- Henry, J. Pathways to madness. (My '72)
- Usdin, G., ed. Perspectives on violence. (S '72)
- Psychology, Religious
- Curran, C. A. Psychological dynamics in religious living. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Ulanov, A. B. Feminine in Jungian psychology and in Christian theology. (O '72)
- Psychology of speaking in tongues. Kildahl, J. P. (D '72)
- Psychopaths. . . Harrington, A. (Ag '72)
- Psychotherapists
- Henry, W. E. Fifth profession. (N '72)
- Psychotherapy
- Bry, A. Inside psychotherapy. (Ap '72)
- Paraday, A. Dream power. (Ag '72)
- Janov, A. Anatomy of mental illness: the scientific basis of primal therapy. (D '72)
- Janov, A. Primal revolution. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Mintz, E. E. Marathon groups: reality and symbol. (My '72)
- Sifneos, P. E. Short-term psychotherapy and emotional crisis. (D '72)
- Zuk, G. H. Family therapy: a triadic-based approach. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Philosophy
- Halleck, S. L. Politics of therapy. (Mr '72)
- Public administration
- Development administration in Asia. (My '72)
- Odegard, H. P. Politics of truth: toward reconstruction in democracy. (O '72)
- Smith, B. L. R., ed. Dilemma of accountability in modern government. (Mr '72)
- Westin, A. F., ed. Information technology in a democracy. (Je '72)
- Public affairs. Snow, C. P. (Mr '72)
- Public archeology. McGimsey, C. R. (D '72)
- Public buildings; v 1 of Frank Lloyd Wright. Wright, F. L. (My '72)
- Public examinations in England, 1850-1900. Roach, J. (Ag '72)
- Public expenditure. Burkhead, J. (S '72)
- Public finance. See Finance
- Public health
- United States
- Chase, A. Biological imperatives. (Ag '72)
- Elling, R. H., ed. National health care. (Ag '72)
- Ribicoff, A. American medical machine. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Public interest
- Held, V. Public interest and individual interests. (Ag '72)
- Public interest and individual interests. Held, V. (Ag '72)
- Public lands of Texas, 1519-1970. Miller, T. L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Public libraries
- Gregory, R. W. Public libraries in cooperative systems. (O '72)
- Public libraries in cooperative systems. Gregory, R. W. (O '72)
- Public opinion
- Bogart, L. Silent politics: polls and the awareness of public opinion. (Ag '72)
- Bolt, C. Victorian attitudes to race. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Cirino, R. Don't blame the people. (D '72)
- Davis, M. Image of Lincoln in the South. (My '72)
- Diggins, J. P. Mussolini and fascism: the view from America. (My '72)
- Markel, L. What you don't know can hurt you. (D '72)
- Reed, J. S. Enduring South. (D '72)
- Public opinion and the military establishment. Moskos, C. C., ed. (My '72)
- Public opinion polls
- Bogart, L. Silent politics: polls and the awareness of public opinion. (Ag '72)
- Public poetry of Robert Lowell. Cosgrave, P. (Ag '72)
- Public relations
- Bloomenthal, H. Promoting your cause. (My '72)
- Police
- Lipsky, M., comp. Law and order, police encounters. (My '72)
- Westley, W. A. Violence and the police. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Public schools
- Massachusetts
- Lazerson, M. Origins of the urban school. (N '72)
- United States
- Braun, R. J. Teachers and power. (S '72)
- History
- Greer, C. Great school legend. (Ag '72)
- Public speaking
- Ong, W. J. Rhetoric, romance, and technology. (My '72)
- Public voices. Knights, L. C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Public welfare
- Dorwart, R. A. Prussian welfare state before 1740. (Ag '72)
- Edsall, N. C. Anti-poor law movement, 1834-44. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Esterly, S. Freedom from dependence. (Mr '72)
- Handler, J. F. "Deserving poor." (My '72)
- Handler, J. F. Reforming the poor. (S '72)
- Piven, F. F. Regulating the poor. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Rescher, N. Welfare. (D '72)
- Public worship
- Killinger, J. Leave it to the spirit. (Mr '72)
- White, J. F. New forms of worship. (Mr '72)
- Publicity
- Bloomenthal, H. Promoting your cause. (My '72)
- Publishers and publishing
- Churchill, A. Literary decade. (O '72)
- Kujoth, J. S., comp. Book publishing: inside views. (Je '72)
- Taubert, S., ed. Book trade of the world, v 1. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- See also
Literary agents
- Bibliography
- Tanselle, G. T. Guide to the study of United States imprints, 2v. (O '72)
- Puerto Rican Americans. Fitzpatrick, J. P. (N '72)
- Puerto Ricans
- Howard, J. R., ed. Awakening minorities. (My '72)
- Puerto Ricans in New York (City)
- Fitzpatrick, J. P. Puerto Rican Americans. (N '72)
- Personal narratives
- Thomas, P. Savior, Savior, hold my hand. (N '72)
- Puerto Rico
- Silén, J. A. We the Puerto Rican people. (Ap '72)
- Pugin, Augustus Welby Northmore
- Stanton, P. Pugin. (Ap '72)
- Punch goes the Judy. Sonzski, W. (Mr '72)
- Punic wars
- Dorey, T. A. Rome against Carthage. (S '72)
- Punishment
- Walker, N. Sentencing in a rational society. (My '72)
- Punjab, India (State)
- Population
- Wyon, J. B. Khanna study. (Ap '72)
- Puppets. Eng title of: The wonderful world of puppets. Böhmer, G. (Je '72)
- Puppets and puppet plays
- Böhmer, G. Wonderful world of puppets. (Je '72)
- Puritans
- Breen, T. H. Character of the good ruler. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Foster, S. Their solitary way. (D '72)

Puritans—Continued

- Middlekauff, R. Mathers: three generations of Puritan intellectuals, 1596-1728. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Purity or pollution. Rondière, P. (S '72)
 Purpose in animal behaviour. Smith, F. V. (O '72)
 Purr, baby, purr. Goldberg, L. (Mr '72)
 Pursuit of honor. Sissman, L. E. (Mr '72)
 Pushkin threefold. Pushkin, A. S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Putnam, James Jackson
 Putnam, J. J. James Jackson Putnam and psychoanalysis: letters between Putnam and Sigmund Freud, Ernest Jones [and others]. (S '72)
 Puzo, Mario
 Puzo, M. Godfather papers & other confessions. (Je '72)

Puzzles*Juvenile literature

- Anno, M. Upside-downers: downside-uppers. (O '72)
 Mosler, G. Sharpen your wits. (Je '72)

Quakers. See Friends, Society of

- Quality of hurt, v I. Himes, C. (My '72)

Quantum theory

- Herrmann, A. Genesis of quantum theory (1899-1913). (O '72)
 Koestler, A. Roots of coincidence. (O '72)
 Quebec (Province)

History*Autonomy and independence movements

- Reid, M. Shouting signpainters. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Politics and government

- Pinard, M. Rise of a third party. (Mr '72)
 Queen Elizabeth National Park, Uganda
 Neal, E. Uganda quest. (Ap '72)
 Queen of America. Greenan, R. H. (S '72)
 Queen of the head hunters. Brooke, S. (S '72)
 Queen Victoria. Woodham-Smith, C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual) Queen Victoria and the Bonapartes. Aronson, T. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Queens

- Trease, G. Seven sovereign queens. (Je '72)
 Quest for America. (Ap '72)
 Quest for imagination. Hardison, O. B., ed. (Ag '72)
 Quest for national efficiency. Searle, G. R. (My '72)
 Question of judgment. Shogan, R. (S '72)
 Question of madness. Medvedev, Z. A. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Questions and answers about seashore life. List, I. K. (Mr '72)
 Quick and easy Chinese cooking. Lo, K. H. C. (Je '72)
 Quiet end of evening. Tracy, H. (S '72)
 Quisling, Vidkun
 Hayes, P. M. Quisling: the career and political ideas of Vidkun Quisling, 1887-1945. (Ag '72)
 Quisling: the career and political ideas of Vidkun Quisling, 1887-1945. Hayes, P. M. (Ag '72)

Quotations

- Kronenberger, L., comp. Animal, vegetable, mineral. (Ag '72)
 Levinson, L. L. Bartlett's unfamiliar quotations. (Ag '72)
 Pater, A., ed. What they said in 1970. (Je '72)

- Rabbit redux. Updike, J. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual) (Annual)

Rabelais, François

- Coleman, D. G. Rabelais. (S '72)
 Rabelais. Coleman, D. G. (S '72)

Race

- Eysenck, H. J. IQ argument. (Mr '72)
 Goldsby, R. A. Race and races. (Ap '72)
 Haller, J. S. Outcasts from evolution. (S '72)
 Race among nations. (Je '72)
 Race among nations. (Je '72)
 Race and ethnicity. Van den Berghe, P. L. (S '72)
 Race and races. Goldsby, R. A. (Ap '72)
 Race and the American romantics. Frelmarck, V., ed. (N '72)
 Race, intelligence and education. Eng title of: The IQ argument. Eysenck, H. J. (Mr '72)

Race problems

- Bolt, C. Victorian attitudes to race. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Jordan, P. Black coach. (Mr '72)
 Van den Berghe, P. L. Race and ethnicity. (S '72)

Race psychology

- Alland, A. Human imperative. (O '72)
 Cultural context of learning and thinking. (S '72)

- Racial and social class isolation in the schools. O'Reilly, R. P., ed. (S '72)

Racine, Jean Baptiste

- Knapp, B. L. Jean Racine: mythos and renewal in modern theater. (My '72)
 Racism and psychiatry. Thomas, A. (N '72)
 Racism in U.S. imperialism. Weston, R. F. (D '72)

Racketeering

- Dorman, M. Payoff. (D '72)
 Radical arts. Dorsten, J. A. Van. (Mr '72)
 Radical Laird. Tennant, C. (Ap '72)
 Radical political economy. Sherman, H. (Ag '72)

- Radical politics in West Bengal. Franda, M. F. (O '72)

- Radical sociology. Colfax, J. D., ed. (My '72)

Radicals and radicalism

- Aya, R., ed. New American revolution. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Bookchin, M. Post-society anarchism. (My '72)
 Glazer, N. Remembering the answers. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Green, G. New radicalism: anarchist or Marxist? (My '72)
 Katzman, A., ed. Our time. (Je '72)
 King, R. Party of Eros. (S '72)
 Marcuse, H. Counterrevolution and revolt. (Ag '72)
 Schwartz, E. Will the revolution succeed? (S '72)

Radio*Laws and regulations

- Emery, W. B. Broadcasting and government: responsibilities and regulations (rev ed.). (My '72)

Radio astronomy

- Ronan, C. A. Invisible astronomy. (O '72)

Radioactivity

- Lewis, R. S. Nuclear-power rebellion. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Nobel symposium, 12th, Uppsala university, 1969. Radiocarbon variations and absolute chronology. (Ap '72)
 Rapoport, R. Great American bomb machine. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

- Stepp, A. Story of radioactivity. (Je '72)

Radiocarbon dating*Research

- Nobel symposium, 12th, Uppsala university, 1969. Radiocarbon variations and absolute chronology. (Ap '72)

- Radiocarbon variations and absolute chronology. Nobel symposium, 12th, Uppsala university, 1969. (Ap '72)

- Rags of time. Cook, J. (Ag '72)

Railroads

- Martin, A. Enterprise denied. (My '72)

Consolidation

- Taylor, W. L. Productive monopoly. (Mr '72)

History

- Bryant, K. L. Arthur E. Stillwell. (O '72)
 Carson, R. B. Main line to oblivion. (Mr '72)

Rates

- Caine, S. P. Myth of a progressive reform. (Ag '72)

Great Britain*History

- Pollins, H. Britain's railways. (S '72)

Railroads and state

- Berton, P. Impossible railway. (Jm '73) (1972 Annual)

- Lubenow, W. C. Politics of government growth. (Ap '72)

- Martin, A. Enterprise denied. (My '72)

Rais, Gilles de

- Benedetti, J. Gilles de Rais. (My '72)

- Raising Kane. Kael P. (In The Citizen Kane book). (Ag '72)

Rajk, László

- Szász, B. Volunteers for the gallows. (Ap '72)

Raleigh, Sir Walter

- Fecher, C. Last Elizabethan. (O '72)

- Ralph Nader's study group report on antitrust enforcement, The closed enterprise system. See Closed enterprise system. (Ag '72)
- Ralph Nader's study group report on water pollution, Water wasteland. Zwick, D. (Ap '72)
- Rancho paradise. Deck, J. (O '72)
- Rand McNally cosmopolitan world atlas [enl planet earth ed]. Rand McNally and company. (My '72)
- Randolph family
Daniels, J. Randolphs of Virginia. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Randolphs of Virginia. Daniels, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Rank and religion in Tikopia. Firth, R. (Ap '72)
- Ransom, John Crowe
Williams, M. Poetry of John Crowe Ransom. (S '72)
- Rare and extraordinary history of holy Russia. Doré, G. (S '72)
- Rare animals
Milne, L. J. Cougar doesn't live here any more. (Mr '72)
- Juvenile literature
Harris, L. Twilight of the animal kingdom. (D '72)
- Rascals at large; or, The clue in the old nostalgia. Prager, A. (My '72)
- Rats
Stories
O'Brien, R. C. Mrs. Frisby and the rats of NIMH. (S '72)
- Potter, B. Sly old cat. (Ag '72)
- Rawlins, McClure, R. (S '72)
- Ray, James Earl
Frank, G. American death. (Je '72)
- Weisberg, H. Frame-up. (Ap '72)
- Ray, Satyajit
Seton, M. Portrait of a director: Satyajit Ray. (Ap '72)
- Rayburn, Sam Tallaferro
Mooney, B. Roosevelt and Rayburn. (Mr '72)
- Reader in library services and the computer. Kaplan, L. comp. (Ap '72)
- Reader's guide to Ernest Hemingway. Waldhorn, A. (O '72)
- Reading
Hughes, F. Reading and writing before school. (Ap '72)
- Reading and writing before school. Hughes, F. (Ap '72)
- Reading of Stephen Crane. LaFrance, M. (My '72)
- Reading the past. Cottrell, L. (Ag '72)
- Real estate
Price, I. Buying country property: pitfalls and pleasures. (Ag '72)
- Real Isadora. Seroff, V. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Real magic. Bonewits, P. E. I. (Mr '72)
- Realism in literature
Cady, E. H. Light of common day. (Ag '72)
- Osborne, J. Naturalist drama in Germany. (O '72)
- Realism in moving pictures
Armes, R. Patterns of realism. (N '72)
- Reality
Muses, C., ed. Consciousness and reality. (N '72)
- Pearce, J. C. Crack in the cosmic egg. (My '72)
- Reality and faith. Ott, H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Reality of the devil: evil in man. Anshen, R. N. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Realm of Prester John. Silverberg, R. (My '72)
- Reason
Fuller, R. B. Intuition. (S '72)
- Reason and experience. Larson, J. L. (Je '72)
- Reason and hope. Cohen, H. (My '72)
- Reason revisited. Samay, S. (O '72)
- Reasoning
Wellman, C. Challenge and response. (My '72)
- Rebel priest. Eng title of: The stones cry out. Hornman, W. (Ap '72)
- Rebirth of feminism. Hole, J. (N '72)
- Reconstruction
Bonadio, F. A. North of reconstruction: Ohio politics, 1865-1870. (Mr '72)
- Evans, W. M. To die game. (N '72)
- Maddex, J. P. Virginia conservatives, 1867-1879. (Mr '72)
- Juvenile literature
Meltzer, M. Freedom comes to Mississippi. (Mr '72)
- Reconstruction to reform: Texas politics, 1876-1906. Barr, A. (S '72)
- Red Devils. Norton, G. G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Red Emma speaks. Goldman, E. (N '72)
- Red hand. FitzGibbon, C. (My '72)
- Red man's land/white man's law. Washburn, W. E. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Red Riding Hood. De Regniers, B. S. (Ag '72)
- Red Square at noon. Gorbanevskaya, N. (S '72)
- Reel plastic magic. Kardish, L. (D '72)
- Rees, Goronwy
Rees, G. Chapter of accidents. (Je '72)
- Reeves, Donald
Reeves, D. Notes of a processed brother. (Ap '72)
- Reference books
Bibliography
Teng, S.-Y., comp. Annotated bibliography of selected Chinese reference works [3d ed]. (O '72)
- Reflections on a teapot. Sanders, R. (N '72)
- Reflections on the causes of human misery and upon certain proposals to eliminate them. Moore, B. (N '72)
- Reflexions on poetry & poetics. Nemerov, H. (S '72)
- Reformation
Clasen, C.-P. Anabaptism. (D '72)
- Elton, G. R. Policy and police. (O '72)
- Mee, C. L. White robe, black robe. (Ag '72)
- Steinmetz, D. C. Reformers in the wings. (S '72)
- Todd, J. M. Reformation. (Mr '72)
- Wilson, D. Tudor tapestry. (N '72)
- Reformers
Ostergaard, G. Gentle anarchists. (Ag '72)
- Biography
Steinmetz, D. C. Reformers in the wings. (S '72)
- Reformers and the American Indian. Mardock, R. W. (Mr '72)
- Reformers in the wings. Steinmetz, D. C. (S '72)
- Reforming the poor. Handler, J. F. (S '72)
- Refugees, Arabic
Turki, F. Disinherited. (N '72)
- Refugees, Russian
Williams, R. C. Culture in exile. (D '72)
- Regional planning
Perin, C. With man in mind. (My '72)
- Regulated consumer. Peterson, M. B. (Je '72)
- Regulating the poor. Piven, F. F. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Rehearsal transpos'd, and The rehearsal transpos'd, the second part. Marvell, A. (Ap '72)
- Reich, Wilhelm
Cattier, M. Life and work of Wilhelm Reich. (Ag '72)
- Reiss, Johanna de Leeuw
Juvenile literature
Reiss, J. Upstairs room. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Relations in public. Goffman, E. (Ap '72)
- Relativity (Physics)
Graves, J. C. Conceptual foundations of contemporary relativity theory. (Ap '72)
- Klein, H. A. New gravitation. (My '72)
- Swenson, L. S. Ethereal aether. (Ag '72)
- Religion
Symposium on the Culture of Unbelief, Rome, 1969. Culture of unbelief. (S '72)
- Philosophy
Culverwell, N. Elegant and learned discourse of the light of nature. (Ag '72)
- Graham, A. End of religion. (Mr '72)
- Trethowan, I. Absolute and the atonement. (D '72)
- Religion and language
Lundeen, L. T. Risk and rhetoric in religion. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Religion and science
Carter, P. A. Spiritual crisis of the gilded age. (My '72)
- Cauthen, K. Christian biopolitics. (My '72)
- Religion and society in the age of Saint Augustine. Brown, P. (N '72)
- Religion and sociology
Brown, P. Religion and society in the age of Saint Augustine. (N '72)
- Hadden, J. K. Religion in radical transition. (My '72)
- Stark, W. Sociology of religion, v4. (Je '72)

Religion and sociology—Continued

- Stark, W. Sociology of religion, v5. (D '72)
 Yinger, J. M. Scientific study of religion. (Mr '72)
- Religion and state. See Church and state
- Religion and the new majority. Streiker, L. D. (O '72)
- Religion and the rise of the American city. Rosenberg, C. S. (N '72)
- Religion in literature
 Barth, J. R., ed. Religious perspectives in Faulkner's fiction. (D '72)
 Poems on affairs of state, v6. (Ap '72)
 Reilly, R. J. Romantic religion. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Religion in radical transition. Hadden, J. K. (My '72)
- Religion in the public schools
 Dolbeare, K. M. School prayer decisions from court policy to local practice. (My '72)
- Religion of reason. Cohen, H. (D '72)
- Religions
 Dunne, J. S. Way of all the earth. (O '72)
 Friedman, M. Touchstones of reality. (My '72)
- Religious drama
 Collins, F. Production of medieval church music-drama. (N '72)
- Religious education
 Ryan, M. P. We're all in this together. (O '72)
- Religious history of the American people. Ahlstrom, S. E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Religious liberty
 Smith, E. A. Religious liberty in the United States. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Religious liberty in the United States. Smith, E. A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Religious perspectives in Faulkner's fiction. Barth, J. R., ed. (D '72)
- Religious policy and practice in Communist China. MacInnis, D. E. (D '72)
- Reluctant farmer. Scott, R. V. (Mr '72)
- Reluctant neighbors. Braithwaite, E. R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Reluctant union. Silverman, D. P. (D '72)
- Remarkable providences, 1600-1760. Demos, J., ed. (Ag '72)
- Remembering the answers. Glazer, N. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Remington, Frederic
 Vorpahl, B. M. My dear Wister. (N '72)
- Renaissance
 Hale, J. R. Renaissance exploration. (O '72)

Dictionaries

- New Century Italian Renaissance encyclopedia. (D '72)
- Renaissance and mannerism in Italy. Smart, A. (Je '72)
- Renaissance Europe: individual and society, 1480-1520. Hale, J. R. (O '72)
- Renaissance exploration. Hale, J. R. (O '72)
- Renewal of American Catholicism. O'Brien, D. J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Renoir, Jean
 Braudy, L. Jean Renoir. (Je '72)
- Rentzel, Lance
 Rentzel, L. When all the laughter died in sorrow. (D '72)
- Reparations (World War, 1939-1945). See World War, 1939-1945—Reparations
- Repentance and revolt. Freeman, R. (Ag '72)
- Report about the dispute of a man with his ba. Goedicke, H. (S '72)
- Report from Beau Harbor. Hall, O. (Ap '72)
- Report from Engine Co. 82. Smith, D. (Ap '72)
- Report from Group 17. O'Brien, R. C. (Ag '72)
- Report on planet three and other speculations. Clarke, A. C. (My '72)
- Report to the commissioner. Mills, J. (O '72)
- Reporters and reporting
 Brian, D. Murderers and other friendly people. (My '72)
 Efron, E. News twisters. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Reports. Wong, M. (O '72)
- Representation. Birch, A. H. (O '72)
- Representative government and representation
 Birch, A. H. Representation. (O '72)
- Representatives

United States

- See United States. Congress. House
- Reproduction
 Rorvik, D. M. Brave new baby. (Ag '72)
- Juvenile literature
 Bendick, J. What made you you? (S '72)
 Portal, C. Beauty of birth. (My '72)

- Reproduction in the United States, 1965. Ryder, N. B. (My '72)
- Republic and the Civil War in Spain. Carr, R., ed. (Ap '72)
- Republic, if you can keep it. Warren, E. (O '72)
- Republic of Armenia, v 1. Hovannisian, R. G. (My '72)
- Republic or empire. Schirmer, D. B. (O '72)
- Republic to Reich. Holborn, H., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Republican command, 1897-1913. Merrill, H. S. (My '72)
- Republican party
 Tindall, G. B. Disruption of the solid South. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

History

- Jensen, R. J. Winning of the midwest. (My '72)
- Marcus, R. D. Grand old party. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Merrill, H. S. Republican command, 1897-1913. (My '72)
- Republican party. National convention, 25th, Chicago, 1952
 Lurie, L. King makers. (Ap '72)
- Research
 Dickson, P. Think tanks. (Ap '72)
 Research librarianship. (O '72)
- Residence and student life. Brothers, J. (O '72)
- Resistance and contemplation. Douglass, J. W. (O '72)
- Resistance to government. See Government, Resistance to
- Respectable radical: George Howell and Victorian working class politics. Leventhal, F. M. (My '72)
- Responsibles. White, W. S. (Ap '72)
- Restless earth. Calder, N. (S '72)
- Restoration and eighteenth century theatre research. Stratman, C. J., ed. (D '72)
- Resurrection. See Jesus Christ
- Retail trade
 Alexander, D. Retailing in England during the industrial revolution. (Ap '72)
- Retailing in England during the industrial revolution. Alexander, D. (Ap '72)
- Rethinking kinship and marriage. Needham, R., ed. (D '72)
- Retirement
 Deck, J. Rancho paradise. (O '72)
 Russ, L. High old time. (Ag '72)
- Streib, G. F. Retirement in American society. (My '72)
- Retirement in American society. Streib, G. F. (My '72)
- Return of magic. Farren, D. (D '72)
- Reuther, Walter Philip
 Gould, J. Walter Reuther. (O '72)
- Revenge of heaven: journal of a young Chinese. Ling, K. (My '72)
- Revenge of the lawn. Brautigan, R. (Mr '72)
- Reverdy, Pierre
Les ardoises du toit
 Rizzuto, A. Style and theme in Reverdy's Les ardoises du toit. (Ag '72)
- Revision of the treaty; v3 of The collected writings of John Maynard Keynes. Keynes, J. M. (O '72)
- Revival of American socialism. Fischer, G., ed. (Ap '72)
- Revivals
 Boles, J. B. Great revival, 1787-1805. (S '72)
- Revolt against the masses, and other essays on politics and public policy. Wildavsky, A. (Ap '72)
- Revolt of the judges. Moote, A. L. (S '72)
- Revolution and intervention: the diplomacy of Taft and Wilson with Mexico, 1910-1917. Halev, P. E. (Mr '72)
- Revolution and power politics in Yorubaland, 1840-1893. Akintoye, S. A. (O '72)
- Revolution and socialist construction in Korea. Kim, I. S. (D '72)
- Revolution and structural change in Latin America, 2v. Chilcote, R. H. (Mr '72)
- Revolution and the civil war in Spain. Broué, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Revolution in central Europe, 1918-1919. Carsten, F. L. (S '72)
- Revolution in our time. Archer, J. (Je '72)
- Revolution in Peru. Baines, J. M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Revolution script. Moore, B. (Mr '72)
- Revolutionary breakthroughs and national development. Jowitt, K. (My '72)
- Revolutionary change in Cuba. Mesa-Lago, C., ed. (O '72)
- Revolutionary syndicalism and French labor: a cause without rebels. Stearns, P. N. (Ag '72)

Revolutions

- Baines, J. M. Revolution in Peru. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Bell, J. B. Myth of the guerrilla. (Mr '72)
 Dunn, J. B. Modern revolutions. (O '72)
 Ellul, J. Autopsy of revolution. (Mr '72)
 Godechot, J. Counter-revolution: doctrine and action, 1789-1804. (Ap '72)
 Green, M. Cities of light and sons of the morning. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Haddad, G. M. Revolutions and military rule in the Middle East: the Arab states, v2, pt. 1: Iraq, Syria, Lebanon and Jordan. (O '72)
 Jackson, G. L. Blood in my eye. (My '72)
 Marcuse, H. Counterrevolution and revolt. (Ag '72)
 Marx, K. On revolution. (Ag '72)
 Mayer, A. J. Dynamics of counterrevolution in Europe, 1870-1956. (Ap '72)
 Neuberg, A. Armed insurrection. (Mr '72)
 Wheeler, H. Politics of revolution. (Ag '72)

Juvenile literature

- Archer, J. Revolution in our time. (Je '72)
 Revolutions and military rule in the Middle East: the Arab states, v2, pt. 1: Iraq, Syria, Lebanon and Jordan. Haddad, G. M. (O '72)
 Revolutions and peace treaties, 1917-1920. Schulz, G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Reynolds, Paul R.
 Reynolds, P. R. Middle man. (Ap '72)

Rhetoric

- Dixon, P. Rhetoric. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Howell, W. S. Eighteenth-century British logic and rhetoric. (N '72)
 Murphy, J. J., ed. Three medieval rhetorical arts. (My '72)
 Ong, W. J. Rhetoric, romance, and technology. (My '72)
 Strunk, W. Elements of style [2d ed.]. (D '72)
 Rhetoric, romance, and technology. Ong, W. J. (My '72)

Rhodesia*Politics and government

- Weinrich, A. K. H. Chiefs and councils in Rhodesia. (O '72)
 Ricardian poetry: Chaucer, Gower, Langland and the 'Gawain' poet. Burrow, J. A. (Ag '72)
 Rich and poor in Renaissance Venice. Pullan, B. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Richard II, King of England
 Goodman, A. Loyal conspiracy. (Ag '72)
 Richard III, King of England

Fiction

- Farrington, R. Killing of Richard the third. (My '72)
 Richard Burton: a biography. Eng title of: Richard Burton: very close up. Cottrell, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Richard Scarry's great big air book. Scarry, R. (Ap '72)
 Richardson, Samuel
 Eaves, T. C. D. Samuel Richardson: a biography. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Richelieu, Armand Jean du Plessis, Cardinal, Duc de
 Erlanger, P. King's minion. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Richelieu and the affair of Cinq-Mars. Eng title of: The King's minion. Erlanger, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Richter, Hans
 Richter, H. Hans Richter. (S '72)
 Richthofen, Manfred Albrecht, Freiherr von
 Titler, D. Day the Red Baron died. (Ap '72)
 Ricoeur, Paul
 Ihde, D. Hermeneutic phenomenology. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Riddles

- Crossley-Holland, K., comp. Storm and other Old English riddles. (Je '72)

Riding. See Horsemanship

- Riding. Mohan, B. (Ap '72)
 Riding the storm. Macmillan, H. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Riegle, Donald

- Riegle, D. O Congress. (O '72)
 Rift in Israel. Leslie, S. C. (Mr '72)

Right and left (Political science)

- Denisoff, R. S. Great day coming. (Ag '72)
 Nizan, P. Watchdogs. (Je '72)
 Revel, J. F. Without Marx or Jesus. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Rossman, M. Wedding within the war. (Je '72)

- Schwartz, E. Will the revolution succeed? (S '72)

- Stirner, M. Ego and his own. (S '72)
 Tuccille, J. It usually begins with Ayn Rand. (Ap '72)
 Wilson, F. L. French democratic left, 1963-1969. (My '72)

- Right to be different. Kittrie, N. N. (Ap '72)
 Right to challenge. Herling, J. (My '72)
 Right to vote. Severn, B. (D '72)

Rights of women. See Woman—Civil rights

- Rimbaud, Jean Nicolas Arthur
 MacCombie, J. Prince & the genie. (O '72)
 Rime of the ancient mariner. Coleridge, S. T. (My '72)
 Ring bells! sing songs! Green, S. (Mr '72)
 Ring Lardner and the portrait of folly. Geismar, M. (N '72)
 Ring of fire, v2. Dodd, E. See his Polynesian seafaring. (N '72)
 Ringers in the tower. Bloom, H. (Ap '72)
 Ringolevio. Grogan, E. (S '72)

Rings

- Boardman, J. Greek gems and finger rings. (S '72)

Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil (State)

- Love, J. L. Rio Grande do Sul and Brazilian regionalism, 1882-1930. (My '72)
 Rio Grande do Sul and Brazilian regionalism, 1882-1930. Love, J. L. (My '72)

Riots

- Boesel, D., ed. Cities under siege. (My '72)
 Fogelson, R. M. Violence as protest. (Ap '72)
 Lipsky, M., comp. Law and order, police encounters. (My '72)
 Platt, A., ed. Politics of riot commissions, 1917-1970. (Ap '72)
 Rossi, P. H., ed. Ghetto revolts. (My '72)
 Rise and fall of the Habsburg monarchy. Tapié, V.-L. (Mr '72)
 Rise and fall of the poster. Rickards, M. (O '72)
 Rise of a third party. Pinard, M. (Mr '72)
 Rise of African nationalism in South Africa. Walshe, P. (O '72)
 Rise of romance. Vinaver, E. (Je '72)
 Rise of teamster power in the West. Garnel, D. (O '72)
 Rise of the Aragonese-Catalan empire, 1200-1350, 2v. Shneidman, J. L. (My '72)
 Rise of the Chinese communist party, 1921-1927, v 1. Chang, K.-T. (Ag '72)
 Rise of the student estate in Britain. Ashby, E. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Rise of the unmeltable ethnics. Novak, M. (Je '72)
 Rise to globalism. Ambrose, S. E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Rising glory of America, 1760-1820. Wood, G. S. (Mr '72)
 Rising sun. Toland, J. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Risk and rhetoric in religion. Lundeen, L. T. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Rites and ceremonies

- Firth, R. Rank and religion in Tikopia. (Ap '72)
 Rites of passage. Greenberg, J. (Ag '72)
 Rites of way. Lupo, A. (Ag '72)
 Rivals: America and Russia since World War II. Ulam, A. B. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 River to Pickle Beach. Betts, D. (N '72)
 Riverbed. Wagoner, D. (My '72)

Rivers*Pollution*See Water—Pollution

- Rivers of Eros. Colter, C. (S '72)
 Road and the car in American life. Rae, J. B. (My '72)
 Road to equality. Shaw, G. B. (Mr '72)
 Road to Yalta. Fischer, L. (N '72)
 Roads
 Rae, J. B. Road and the car in American life. (My '72)

Roazen, Paul

- Brother animal: the story of Freud and Tausk
 Elssler, K. R. Talent and genius. (My '72)
 Robbers and outlaws
 Greene, A. C. Santa Claus bank robbery. (O '72)
 Robbins, Lionel Charles Robbins, Baron
 Robbins, Lord. Autobiography of an economist. (O '72)
 Robert Burns and his world. Dalches, D. (Ag '72)
 Robert Owen: aspects of his life and work. (O '72)
 Robert Owen: prince of cotton spinners. Eng title of: Robert Owen: aspects of his life and work. (O '72)

Roberts, Oral

- Roberts, O. Call: ■■ autobiography. (Ap '72)
 Robespierre, Maximilien Marie Isidore de Gallo, M. Robespierre the incorruptible. (Ag '72)
 Robespierre the incorruptible. Gallo, M. (Ag '72)
 Robien, Louis, Comte de
 Robien, L. de. Diary of a diplomat in Russia, 1917-1918. (Je '72)
 Robin Hood

Juvenile literature

- Fraser, A. Robin Hood. (N '72)
 Robinson, Jackie
 Robinson, J. I never had it made. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Juvenile literature
 Rudeen, K. Jackie Robinson. (Mr '72)
 Robinson, John Roosevelt. See Robinson, Jackie
 Rock climbing. See Mountaineering
 Rock music
 Eisen, J. Twenty-minute fandagos. (Mr '72)
 Rockefeller, David
 Hoffman, W. David. (Ap '72)
 Rockefeller, Michael Clark
 Machlin, M. Search for Michael Rockefeller. (My '72)
 Rocketry
 Clark, J. D. Ignition! (Ag '72)
 Von Braun, W. Space frontier [new ed rev & updated]. (Mr '72)
 Rocks of diamonds. Quartermain, J. (D '72)
 Rockwell, Norman
 Buechner, T. S. Norman Rockwell. (Ap '72)
 Rocky coast. Carson, R. (Ap '72)
 Rococo art. See Art, Rococo
 Rodents

Juvenile literature

- Shuttlesworth, D. E. Story of rodents. (S '72)
 Rodin, Auguste
 Elsen, A. Drawings of Rodin. (Ag '72)
 Roger of Salisbury, Bp. of Salisbury
 Kealey, E. J. Roger of Salisbury, viceroy of England. (D '72)
 Roger of Salisbury, viceroy of England. Kealey, E. J. (D '72)
 Roger Sherman's Connecticut. Collier, C. (Ap '72)
 Rogues to riches. Bloom, M. T. (My '72)
 Röhm, Ernst
 Gallo, M. Night of long knives. (O '72)
 Rohmer, Sax. See Ward, A. S.
 Rølvaag, Ole Edvart
 Reigstad, P. Rølvaag. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Roman emperors
 Syme, R. Emperors and biography: studies in the Historia Augusta. (Ap '72)
 Roman granaries and store buildings. Rickman, G. (Mr '72)
 Roman land surveyors. Dilke, O. A. W. (Je '72)
 Roman mythology. See Mythology, Classical Roman myths. Grant, M. (Ag '72)
 Roman siege of Jerusalem. Furneaux, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Romance and realism. Caudwell, C. (S '72)
Romance languages
 Jordan, I. Introduction to Romance linguistics [2d ed.]. (Ap '72)
 Romance of ballooning. (O '72)
 Romances

History and criticism

- Vinaver, E. Rise of romance. (Je '72)
 Romanov, House of
 Cowles, V. Romanovs. (Ap '72)
 Romanovs. Cowles, V. (Ap '72)
 Romantic bards and British reviewers. Hayden, J. O., ed. (S '72)
 Romantic challenge. Chichester, F. (Je '72)
 Romantic religion. Reilly, R. J. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
Romanticism
 Bloom, H. Ringers in the tower. (Ap '72)
 Donohue, J. W. Dramatic character in the English Romantic age. (Ap '72)
 Reilly, R. J. Romantic religion. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Rome*Antiquities

- Blanchi Bandinelli, R. Rome: the late empire. (Mr '72)
 Marsden, E. W. Greek and Roman artillery. (S '72)

Biography

- Wiseman, T. P. New men in the Roman senate, 139 B.C.-A.D. 14. (Ap '72)
History
 Dilke, O. A. W. Roman land surveyors. (Je '72)
 Starr, C. G. Ancient Romans. (Ag '72)
Empire, 50 B.C.-476 A.D.
 Garnsey, P. Social status and legal privilege in the Roman empire. (Mr '72)
 Harrison, M. London that was Rome. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Seager, R. Tiberius. (S '72)
 Syme, R. Emperors and biography: studies in the Historia Augusta. (Ap '72)
Republic, 510-30 B.C.

- Bradford, E. Cleopatra. (O '72)
 Brunt, P. A. Social conflicts in the Roman republic. (Je '72)
 Errington, R. M. Dawn of empire. (Ag '72)
 Weinstock, S. Divus Julius. (D '72)

Politics and government

- Wiseman, T. P. New men in the Roman senate, 139 B.C.-A.D. 14. (Ap '72)

Religion

- Dumézil, G. Archaic Roman religion. 2v. (Ap '72)
 Weinstock, S. Divus Julius. (D '72)
 Witt, R. E. Isis in the Graeco-Roman world. (Ap '72)

Social conditions

- Brunt, P. A. Social conflicts in the Roman republic. (Je '72)

Rome (City)*History

- Perowne, S. Rome: from its foundation to the present. (Ag '72)
 Rome (City). Trajan's Column
 Rossi, L. Trajan's column and the Dacian wars. (Je '72)

Rome. Army*Military life

- Rossi, L. Trajan's column and the Dacian wars. (Je '72)
 Rome against Carthage. Dorey, T. A. (S '72)
 Rome: from its foundation to the present. Perowne, S. (Ag '72)
 Rome: the late empire. Blanchi Bandinelli, R. (Mr '72)
 Roncalli, Angelo Giuseppe. See John XXIII. (Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli) Pope
 Room, Selby, H. (Ap '72)
 Roosevelt, Eleanor (Roosevelt)
 Lash, J. P. Eleanor and Franklin. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Lash, J. P. Eleanor: the years alone. (O '72)
 Roosevelt, Franklin Delano, President U.S.
 Gies, J. Franklin D. Roosevelt. (Ag '72)
 Lash, J. P. Eleanor and Franklin. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Mooney, B. Roosevelt and Rayburn. (Mr '72)
 Roosevelt, Theodore, President U. S.
 Campbell, A. E. America comes of age. (S '72)

Roosevelt, New Jersey*History

- Roskam, E. Roosevelt, New Jersey. (S '72)
 Roosevelt and Rayburn. Mooney, B. (Mr '72)
 Roosevelt, New Jersey. Roskam, E. (S '72)
 Root crops

Juvenile literature

- Selsam, M. E. Carrots and other root vegetables. (My '72)
 Roots of civilization. Marshack, A. (S '72)
 Roots of coincidence. Koestler, A. (O '72)
 Roots of involvement. Kalb, M. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Roots of war. Barnet, R. J. (Ag '72)
 Rosa Luxemburg contraceptives cooperative. Tyrmand, L. (Ag '72)
 Roscoe Conkling of New York. Jordan, D. M. (Ap '72)
 Rose garden. Friedrich, O. (S '72)
 Rose in the steel dust. Baumann, W. (Ag '72)
Roses
 Crockett, J. U. Roses. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Friedrich, O. Rose garden. (S '72)
 Rouault, Georges
 Dyrness, W. A. Rouault: ■ vision of suffering and salvation. (Je '72)

- Rouault: a vision of suffering and salvation.
Dyrness, W. A. (Je '72)
- Rowboat to Prague. Levy, A. (Ag '72)
- Rowing
Fairfax, J. Britannia: rowing alone across the Atlantic. (S '72)
- Roy, Manabendra Nath
Haithcox, J. P. Communism and nationalism in India. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Royal cities of the Old Testament. Kenyon, K. (Ag '72)
- Royal Harry. Mayne, W. (O '72)
- Royal Institution
Bragg, W. L., ed. Physical sciences, 10v. (Royal Institution library of science). (S '72)
- Royalty. See Princes and princesses
- Rubber bands, baseballs and doughnuts. Froman, R. (N '72)
- Ruby Red. Fox, W. P. (Ap '72)
- Rudolph, Paul
Rudolph, P. Paul Rudolph. (Ap '72)
- Rugs, Oriental
Formenton, F. Oriental rugs and carpets. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Rule of reason and ruses of the heart. Saiselin, R. G. (Ag '72)
- Rulers of empire: the French colonial service in Africa. Cohen, W. B. (Ag '72)
- Rumania
Politics and government
1945-
Jowitt, K. Revolutionary breakthroughs and national development. (My '72)
- Runaways. Canning, V. (O '72)
- Running of Richard Nixon. Lurie, L. (N '72)
- Running scarred. Maule, T. (Ag '72)
- Running towards life. Hobbs, L. (Ap '72)
- Run-through. Houseman, J. (My '72)
- Rural credit in Western India, 1875-1930. Catanach, I. J. (Je '72)
- Rural Hausa. Hill, P. (S '72)
- Rush, Benjamin
Hawke, D. F. Benjamin Rush. (Ap '72)
- Rusk, Howard A.
Rusk, H. A. World to care for. (D '72)
- Ruskin, John
Ball, P. M. Science of aspects. (My '72)
- Russell, Bertrand Arthur William Russell, 3d Earl
Ayer, A. J. Bertrand Russell. (D '72)
- Russell, Charles Marion
Bibliography
Yost, K., comp. Bibliography of the published works of Charles M. Russell. (Ag '72)
- Russell, Harry Kitsun
Harper, H. M., ed. Classic British novel. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Russell, Lillian
Burke, J. Duet in diamonds. (O '72)
- Russia
Church history
Aspects of religion in the Soviet Union, 1917-1967. (Ap '72)
- Bourdeaux, M. Faith on trial in Russia. (Mr '72)
- Commerce
Carter, J. R. Net cost of Soviet foreign aid. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Description and travel
Cross, A., ed. Russia under Western eyes, 1517-1825. (Ap '72)
- Jacoby, S. Moscow conversations. (N '72)
- Servadio, G. Siberian encounter. (Ap '72)
- Economic conditions
Jasny, N. Soviet economists of the twenties. (D '72)
- Sutton, A. C. Western technology and Soviet economic development, 1930 to 1945, v2. (S '72)
- Zaleski, E. Planning for economic growth in the Soviet Union, 1918-1932. (Ap '72)
- Economic policy
Roberts, P. C. Alienation and the Soviet economy. (Ap '72)
- Zaleski, E. Planning for economic growth in the Soviet Union, 1918-1932. (Ap '72)
- Foreign relations
Fischer, L. Road to Yalta. (N '72)
- Franck, T. M. Word politics. (Ag '72)
- Harrison, J. A. Founding of the Russian empire in Asia and America. (O '72)
- Kalmykow, A. D. Memoirs of a Russian diplomat. (Ag '72)
- Tucker, E. C. Soviet political mind [rev ed.]. (D '72)
- Canada
Balawyder, A. Canadian-Soviet relations between the world wars. (N '72)
- China
Clubb, O. E. China & Russia: the "great game". (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Mancall, M. Russia and China. (My '72)
- China (People's Republic of China)—Bibliography
Saran, V. Sino-Soviet schism, a bibliography, 1956-1964. (My '72)
- United States
Allison, G. T. Essence of decision. (Je '72)
- Kuklick, B. American policy and the division of Germany. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Lukas, R. C. Eagles East. (Ap '72)
- Schick, J. M. Berlin crisis, 1958-1962. (Je '72)
- Ulam, A. B. Rivals: America and Russia since World War II. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Historiography
Mazour, A. G. Writing of history in the Soviet Union. (Ag '72)
- History
Allen, W. E. D., ed. Russian embassies to the Georgian kings (1589-1605), 2v. (O '72)
- Cowles, V. Romanovs. (Ap '72)
- Harrison, J. A. Founding of the Russian empire in Asia and America. (O '72)
- Raeff, M., ed. Catherine the Great. (S '72)
- Starr, S. F. Decentralization and self-government in Russia, 1830-1870. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Trotsky, L. Young Lenin. (N '72)
- Cartoons and caricatures
Doré, G. Rare and extraordinary history of holy Russia. (S '72)
- Juvenile literature
Hasler, J. Making of Russia. (My '72)
- Revolution of 1905
Mehlinger, H. D. Count Witte and the Tsarist government in the 1905 revolution. (N '72)
- 1917-
Medvedev, R. A. Let history judge. (Mr '72)
- O'Connor, J. F. Sokolov investigation of the alleged murder of the Russian Imperial family. (S '72)
- Revolution, 1917-1921
Ferro, M. Russian revolution of February 1917. (N '72)
- Luckett, R. White generals. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Suny, R. G. Baku Commune, 1917-1918. (O '72)
- Williams, R. C. Culture in exile. (D '72)
- Revolution, 1917-1921—Juvenile literature
Goldston, R. Fall of the Winter Palace. (N '72)
- Revolution, 1917-1921—Personal narratives
Roblen, L. de. Diary of a diplomat in Russia, 1917-1918. (Je '72)
- 1925-1953
Werth, A. Russia: the post-war years. (Je '72)
- German occupation, 1940-1945
Fireside, H. Icon and swastika. (My '72)
- History, Naval
Westwood, J. N. Witnesses of Tsushima. (Mr '72)
- Industries
McKay, J. P. Pioneers for profit. (Ap '72)
- Sutton, A. C. Western technology and Soviet economic development, 1930 to 1945, v2. (S '72)
- Intellectual life
Gerstein, L. Nikolai Strakhov. (Ap '72)
- Graham, L. R. Science and philosophy in the Soviet Union. (Ag '72)
- Medvedev, Z. A. Medvedev papers. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Reddaway, P. Uncensored Russia. (Je '72)
- Rothberg, A. Heirs of Stalin. (Je '72)

Russia—Continued

Military policy

- Bottoms, E. M. Missile gap: a study of the formulation of military and political policy. (Ap '72)
 Helle, R. Enserfment and military change in Muscovy. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Natural resources

See Natural resources—Russia

Politics and government

- Medvedev, Z. A. Question of madness. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Mehlinger, H. D. Count Witte and the Tsarist government in the 1905 revolution. (N '72)
 Starr, S. F. Decentralization and self-government in Russia, 1830-1870. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Tucker, R. C. Soviet political mind [rev ed]. (D '72)

1917-

- Hyde, H. M. Stalin. (Ap '72)

1925-1953

- Berger, J. Nothing but the truth. (Mr '72)

1953-

- Dornberg, J. New tsars. (Ag '72)
 Rothberg, A. Heirs of Stalin. (Je '72)

Religion

- Aspects of religion in the Soviet Union, 1917-1967. (Ap '72)
 Fireside, H. Icon and swastika. (My '72)
 Rothenberg, J. Jewish religion in the Soviet Union. (S '72)

Social conditions

- Shanin, T. Awkward class. (N '72)

Social life and customs

- Cross, A., ed. Russia under Western eyes, 1517-1825. (Ap '72)
 Dornberg, J. New tsars. (Ag '72)

Social policy

- Dornberg, J. New tsars. (Ag '72)
 Russia and China. Mancall, M. (My '72)
 Russia: the post-war years. Werth, A. (Je '72)
 Russia under Western eyes, 1517-1825. Cross, A., ed. (Ap '72)
 Russian embassies to the Georgian kings (1589-1605), 2v. Allen, W. M. D., ed. (O '72)
 Russian-English dictionary of electrotechnology and allied sciences. Macura, P. (Mr '72)
 Russian fiction
 Pomorska, K., ed. Fifty years of Russian prose, 2v. (O '72)

History and criticism

- Boyd, A. F. Aspects of the Russian novel. (D '72)

Russian language

Dictionaries

English

- Macura, P. Russian-English dictionary of electrotechnology and allied sciences. (Mr '72)

History

- Vinokur, G. O. Russian language. (Mr '72)

Slang

Dictionaries

- Galler, M., comp. Soviet prison camp speech. (O '72)

- Russian language. Vinokur, G. O. (Mr '72)

Russian literature

Bio-bibliography

- Jünger, H., ed. Literatures of the Soviet peoples. (My '72)

History and criticism

- Debreczeny, P., ed. Literature and national identity. (My '72)
 Jünger, H., ed. Literatures of the Soviet peoples. (My '72)
 Reilly, A. P. America in contemporary Soviet literature. (Ap '72)
 Wilson, E. Window on Russia. (O '72)
 Russian peasant organisation before collectivisation. Male, D. J. (Ap '72)
 Russian poetry
 Carlisle, O. A., ed. & tr. Modern Russian poetry. (D '72)

Collections

- Raffel, H., comp. Russian poetry under the tsars. (My '73)

Translations

- Pushkin, A. M. Pushkin threefold. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Raffel, H., comp. Russian poetry under the stars. (My '73)
 Russian poetry under the tsars. Raffel, H. (My '72)
 Russian revolution in Switzerland, 1914-1917. Senn, A. H. (Ap '73)
 Russian revolution of February 1917-1921. Perro, M. (N '72)
 Russians in Berlin
 Williams, R. C. Culture in exile. (D '73)
 Russians in Germany
 Williams, R. C. Culture in exile. (D '73)
 Russians in space. Khabichkov, B. (Mr '72)
 Russians in Switzerland
 Senn, A. H. Russian revolution in Switzerland, 1914-1917. (Ap '73)
 Russo-Finnish War, 1939-1940
 Chew, A. P. White death: the epic of the Soviet-Finnish winter war. (Ag '73)
 Russo-Japanese War, 1904-1905
 Westwood, J. N. Witnesses of Tsushima. (Mr '72)

- SDS. See Students for a Democratic Society

- SDS. Adelson, A. (Ap '73)

- SP: the other side of realism. Clareson, T. D., ed. (Ag '72)

- Saarinén, Eero

- Saarinén, E. Eero Saarinen. (Je '73)

- Sacred places. See Hielmes

- Saddest story. Mizener, A. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Sadler's Wells Theatre, London

- Allen, S. S. Samuel Phelps and Sadler's Wells Theatre. (Ap '72)

- Sadness. Barthelme, D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Safe places. Franks, D. (Ag '72)

- Safety and survival at sea. Lee, H. C. H. (H '72)

- Safety appliances

- Pales, H. D. Belts on, buttons down. (Ag '72)

- Safety last. Captain X. (N '72)

- Safety measures. See Accidents. Prevention

- Saggi di naturali esperienze. Accademia del cimento. (In The experimenters: a study of the Accademia del cimento, by W. H. R. Middleton). (Ag '72)

- Sahib. Pope, C. (H '72)

- Sailing

- Blyth, C. Impossible voyage. (H '72)

- Chichester, P. Romantic challenge. (Je '72)

- Graham, R. L. Dove. (O '72)

- Walker, N. M. When I put out to sea. (O '72)

- Saint-Denis, France. Eglise abbatiale de Saint-Denis. (O '72)

- Crosby, S. M. Apostle has relief at Saint-Denis. (O '72)

- St. Laurent, Julie de

- Gillen, M. Prince and his lady. (Mr '72)

- Sakhalin

History

- Stephan, J. Sakhalin: a history. (O '72)

- Sakhalin: a history. Stephan, J. (O '72)

- Salcedo, Manuel María de

- Almaraz, F. D. Tragédie cavallier. (N '72)

- Salford, England

Poor

- Roberts, H. Classie slum. (Ag '72)

- Salisbury, Robert Arthur Talbot Gascoyne-Cecil, 3d Marquis of

- Salisbury, Lord. Lord Salisbury on politics. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Salish Indians

Social change

- Lewis, C. Indian families of the northwest coast. (Ap '72)

Social life and customs

- Lewis, C. Indian families of the northwest coast. (Ap '72)

- "Salutary neglect". Henretta, J. A. (D '72)

- Salvador

- Browning, D. El Salvador: landscape and society. (Ap '72)

History

- Anderson, T. P. Matanza: El Salvador's Communist revolt of 1932. (My '72)
 Kennedy, P. P. Middle beat. (My '72)
 El Salvador: landscape and society. Browning, D. (Ap '72)

Salvage

- Marx, R. F. Shipwrecks. (Ap '72)
 Wilkes, B. St J. Nautical archaeology. (Je '72)
 Sam Houston's wife. Seale, W. (O '72)

Samish, Arthur H.

- Samish, A. H. Secret boss of California. (Ap '72)

- Samuel Johnson and the life of writing. Fussell, P. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Samuel Pepys and his world. Trease, G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Samuel Pepys Esquire. Barber, R. (Mr '72)

- Samuel Phelps and Sadler's Wells Theatre. Allen, S. S. (Ap '72)

- Samurai. Varley, H. P. (Ag '72)

Sancho VII, King of Navarre

- Bucher, F. Pamplona Bibles, 2v [facsim]. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Sanctions for evil. (S '72)

Sand, George

- Edwards, S. George Sand. (Ag '72)

Sand

Juvenile literature

- Adkins, J. Art and industry of sandcastles. (Je '72)

Sanders, Ronald

- Sanders, R. Reflections on a teapot. (N '72)

San Francisco

Race relations

- Heins, M. Strictly ghetto property. (O '72)

San Pedro Yolox, Mexico

- Gwaltney, J. L. Thrice shy. (Je '72)

Sansom, Sir George Bailey

- Sansom, K. Sir George Sansom and Japan. (N '72)

Santa Barbara, California

- Dye, L. Blowout at Platform A. (Ap '72)

- Santa Claus bank robbery. Greene, A. C. (O '72)

Santa Fe Trail

- Taylor, M. F. First mall West. (Mr '72)

Bibliography

- Rittenhouse, J. D. Santa Fe Trail. (Mr '72)

- Santa Fe Trail. Rittenhouse, J. D. (Mr '72)

Santee, California

Water supply

Juvenile literature

- Stevens, L. A. Town that launders its water. (My '72)

- Sappho to Valéry. Nims, J. F. (O '72)

Saroyan, William

- Saroyan, W. Places where I've done time. (My '72)

Sartre, Jean Paul

- Brée, G. Camus and Sartre. (O '72)

- McMahon, J. H. Humans being. (Ap '72)

- Satan's needle. Alfonsi, P. (Ag '72)

- Satchmo. See Armstrong, L.

Satire

- Krassner, P. How a satirical editor became a Yippie conspirator in ten easy years. (Ag '72)

- Peter, L. J. Peter prescription. (S '72)

- Schwerner, A. Tablets I-XV. (S '72)

- Smith, C. M. Instant status. (Je '72)

Satire, American

- Rosenberg, B. Dictionary for the disenchant-ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Satire, English

- Gransden, K. W., ed. Tudor verse satire. (Ap '72)

- Marvell, A. Rehearsal transpros'd, and The rehearsal transpros'd, the second part. (Ap '72)

- Poems on affairs of state, v6. (Ap '72)

- Rogers, P. Grub Street. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Saturn project

- Lay, B. Earthbound astronauts. (My '72)

Savage, Richard

- Johnson, S. Life of Savage. (Ag '72)

- Savage god. Alvarez, A. (Je '72)

Saving and thrift

- Griffin, K., ed. Financing development in Latin America. (Mr '72)

- Savior, Savior, hold my hand. Thomas, P. (N '72)

Saxophone

- Richmond, S. Clarinet and saxophone experience. (N '72)

- Sayyid Jamāl ad-Dīn "al-Afghānī." Keddie, N. R. (D '72)

Scandinavia

Antiquities

- Klindt-Jensen, O. World of the Vikings. (Ap '72)

- Scandinavian stories. Sperry, M. (Mr '72)

- Scenography of Josef Svoboda. Burian, J. (Ag '72)

Schindler, Rudolph

- Gebhard, D. Schindler. (S '72)

Schizophrenia

- Laing, R. D. Politics of the family and other essays. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

- Schlemiel ■ metaphor. Pinsker, S. (Mr '72)

- Schlemiel as modern hero. Wisse, R. R. (Je '72)

Schlemmer, Oskar

- Schlemmer, O. Letters and diaries of Oskar Schlemmer. (D '72)

Schmid, Charles Howard

- Gilmore, J. Tucson murders. (D '72)

Schnabel, Artur

- Wolff, K. Teaching of Artur Schnabel. (S '72)

- Scholar painters of Japan: the Nanga school. Cahill, J. (O '72)

Schönberg, Arnold

- Reich, W. Schoenberg. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

School administration and organization

- Bennett, H. No more public school. (Je '72)

- Hermansen, K. L. Year-round school. (My '72)

- Kozol, J. Free schools. (Ag '72)

- School in Rose Valley. Rotzel, G. (Ap '72)

- School is dead: alternatives in education. Reimer, E. (Ap '72)

School libraries

- Rossoff, M. School library and educational change. (S '72)

- Sullivan, P. Problems in school media management. (Ag '72)

- School library and educational change. Rossoff, M. (S '72)

- School prayer decisions from court policy to local practice. Dolbeare, K. M. (My '72)

- Schoolmaker. McMillin, L. (Je '72)

Schools

Great Britain

- Dale, R. R. Mixed or single-sex school? v2. (D '72)

United States

- Kozol, J. Free schools. (Ag '72)

- Kraushaar, O. F. American nonpublic schools. (N '72)

- Schools and inequality. (Je '72)

- Schools are for children. Hertzberg, A. (Mr '72)

Schumann, Robert Alexander

- Walsh, S. Lieder of Schumann. (Ap '72)

Science

- Clarke, A. C. Report on planet three and other speculations. (My '72)

- Goran, M. Future of science. (My '72)

- Helmholtz, H. von. Selected writings of Hermann von Helmholtz. (Je '72)

- Richards, I. A. Poetries and sciences. (Mr '72)

- Schlegel, R. Inquiry into science. (Ag '72)

- Simak, C. D., ed. March of science. (My '72)

- Wilson, M. Passion to know. (S '72)

Anecdotes, facetiae, satire, etc.

- McConnell, J. V. Science, sex and sacred cows. (Ap '72)

Dictionaries

Juvenile literature

- Young people's science encyclopedia, 20v [rev ed.]. (My '72)

History

- Breuer, H. Columbus was Chinese. (D '72)

- Hoppen, K. T. Common scientist in the seventeenth century. (S '72)

- Needham, J. Science and civilization in China, v4; pt 3. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

- Tobey, R. C. American ideology of national science, 1919-1930. (Ag '72)

- Tomas, A. We are not the first. (My '72)

Methodology

- Achinstein, P. Law and explanation. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Nagel, E. Observation and theory in science. (Ap '72)

Science—Continued

Philosophy

- Achinstein, P. Law and explanation. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Bradley, J. Mach's philosophy of science. (My '72)
 Churchman, C. W. Design of inquiring systems: basic concepts of systems and organization. (Ag '72)
 Graves, J. C. Conceptual foundations of contemporary relativity theory. (Ap '72)
 Laszlo, E. Systems view of the world. (Ag '72)
 Nagel, E. Observation and theory in science. (Ap '72)

Terminology

- Asimov, I. More words of science. (D '72)

Russia

- Graham, L. R. Science and philosophy in the Soviet Union. (Ag '72)
 Medvedev, Z. A. Medvedev papers. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Science and archaeology. (D '72)

Science and civilization

- Ben-David, J. Scientist's role in society. (O '72)
 Carovillano, R. L., ed. Science and the future of man. (My '72)
 Clarke, R. Science of war and peace. (Ap '72)
 Gabor, D. Mature society. (O '72)
 Harrison, H., ed. Ahead of time. (N '72)
 Hoyle, F. New face of science. (Ap '72)
 Leiss, W. Domination of nature. (O '72)
 Menard, H. W. Science: growth and change. (Ag '72)
 Piel, G. Acceleration of history. (S '72)
 Snow, C. P. Public affairs. (Mr '72)
 Szent-Györgyi, A. Crazy ape. (My '72)
 Vickers, G. Freedom in a rocking boat. (S '72)

Science and civilization in China, v4: pt 3. Needham, J. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Science and education in the seventeenth century: the Webster-Ward debate. Debus, A. G. (Ag '72)

Science and philosophy in the Soviet Union. Graham, L. R. (Ag '72)

Science and sentiment in America. White, M. (My '72)

Science and state

- Clarke, R. Science of war and peace. (Ap '72)
 Graham, L. R. Science and philosophy in the Soviet Union. (Ag '72)
 Krohn, R. C. Social shaping of science. (My '72)
 Schooler, D. Science, scientists, and public policy. (Je '72)
 Tobey, R. C. American ideology of national science, 1919-1930. (Ag '72)

Science and the future of man. Carovillano, R. L., ed. (My '72)

Science and the humanities

- Muller, H. J. In pursuit of relevance. (Mr '72)
 Snow, C. P. Public affairs. (Mr '72)

Science as a profession

- Krohn, R. C. Social shaping of science. (My '72)
 Menard, H. W. Science: growth and change. (Ag '72)

Science fiction (Books about)

History and criticism

- Clareson, T. D., ed. SF: the other side of realism. (Ag '72)

Bibliography

- Clareson, T. Science fiction criticism. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Science fiction criticism. Clareson, T. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Science: growth and change. Menard, H. W. (Ag '72)
 Science of aspects. Ball, P. M. (My '72)
 Science of education and the psychology of the child. Piaget, J. (Mr '72)
 Science of hitting. Williams, T. (Mr '72)
 Science of war and peace. Clarke, R. (Ap '72)
 Science, scientists, and public policy. Schooler, D. (Je '72)
 Science, sex and sacred cows. McConnell, J. V. (Ap '72)

Scientific apparatus and instruments

Juvenile literature

- Dolan, E. F. Inventors for medicine. (Mr '72)

Scientific manpower. Brown, S. C. (Ap '72)

Scientific methods in medieval archaeology. Berger, R., ed. (My '72)

Scientific study of religion. Yinger, J. M. (Mr '72)

Scientist extraordinary. Bibby, C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Scientists

- Ben-David, J. Scientist's role in society. (O '72)
 Brown, S. C. Scientific manpower. (Ap '72)
 Hoskin, M. Mind of the scientist. (O '72)
 Wilson, M. Passion to know. (S '72)

Recruiting

- Lasby, C. G. Project paperclip. (Ap '72)
 Scientists and the sea, 1650-1900. Deacon, M. (My '72)

Scientist's role in society. Ben-David, J. (O '72)

Scope of child analysis. Smirnoff, V. (S '72)

Scoring. Greenburg, D. (Ag '72)

Scorpion god. Golding, W. (Ap '72)

Scotland

- Dunnnett, A. M., ed. Alistair MacLean introduces Scotland. (D '72)

History

- Sinclair-Stevenson, C. Inglorious rebellion. (S '72)

Intellectual life

- Sloan, D. Scottish enlightenment and the American college ideal. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Relations (general) with England

- Fraser, G. M. Steel bonnets. (S '72)
 Scott, Mackay Hugh Baillie
 Kornwolf, J. D. M. H. Baillie Scott and the arts and crafts movement. (O '72)
 Scott, Toni Lee
 Scott, T. L. Kind of loving. (Ap '72)
 Scott, Sir Walter, Bart.
 Daiches, D. Sir Walter Scott and his world. (Ag '72)

Fiction

- Oliver, J. Blue heaven bends over all. (S '72)
 Scottish enlightenment and the American college ideal. Sloan, D. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Screening the blues. Eng title of: Aspects of the blues tradition. Oliver, P. (D '72)
 Scribner's monthly, 1871, 3v in 1. (O '72)
 Sculptor in buckskin, Alexander Phimister Proctor. Proctor, A. P. (Ap '72)

Sculptors

See also

- Ghiberti, L.
 Greenough, H.
 Hepworth, B.
 Michelangelo Buonarroti
 Proctor, A. P.
 Smith, D.
 Verrocchio, A. del
 Sculpture, African
 Brain, R. Bangwa funerary sculpture. (Ag '72)
 Sculpture, American
 Proctor, A. P. Alexander Phimister Proctor: sculptor in buckskin. (Ap '72)
 Sculpture, Egyptian
 Terrace, E. L. B. Treasures of the Cairo museum. (Ap '72)
 Sculpture, French
 Forsyth, W. H. Entombment of Christ. (Mr '72)
 Sculpture, Gothic
 Pope-Hennessy, J. Introduction to Italian sculpture, pt 1 [2d ed]. (O '72)
 Sculpture, Italian
 Pope-Hennessy, J. Introduction to Italian sculpture, pt 1, 2 [2d ed]. (O '72)
 Sculpture, Renaissance
 Pope-Hennessy, J. Introduction to Italian sculpture, pt 2 [2d ed]. (O '72)
 Sculpture, Romanesque
 Barasch, M. Crusader figural sculpture in the Holy Land. (Ag '72)
 Sculpture, West African
 Bravmann, R. A. West African sculpture. (Mr '72)
 Sculpture of Barbara Hepworth, 1960-69. Hepworth, B. (O '72)
 Sculpture of Verrocchio. Seymour, C. (O '72)
 Sea: ideas and observations on progress in the study of seas, v4. Maxwell, A. E., ed. (My '72)
 Sea of fertility, v 1. See Mishima, Y. Spring snow. (S '72)

- Sea power
Cable, J. Gunboat diplomacy. (My '72)
Howe, J. T. Multicrisis. (Ap '72)
- Sea stories
Reeman, D. Adventures on the high seas. (My '72)
- Juvenile literature
Brown, M., ed. Cavalcade of sea legends. (S '72)
- Seafaring life
Villiers, A. War with Cape Horn. (My '72)
- Juvenile literature
Gemming, E. Blow ye winds westerly. (Ag '72)
- Seal-singing. Harris, R. (Mr '72)
- Seale, Bobby
Schultz, J. Motion will be denied. (My '72)
- Seals (Animals)
Hancock, L. There's a seal in my sleeping bag. (O '72)
- Stories
Harris, R. Seal-singing. (Mr '72)
- Sean, O'Casey, E. (Mr '72)..
Sean O'Casey: a bibliography of criticism. Milk-hail, E. H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Search for an American Indian identity. Hertzberg, H. W. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Search for Michael Rockefeller. Machlin, M. (My '72)
- Search for peace in the Middle East [rev ed]. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Searching for icons in Russia. Soloukhin, V. (My '72)
- Seashore
Carson, R. Rocky coast. (Ap '72)
See also
Coasts
- Seasons of the Eskimo. Bruemmer, F. (My '72)
- Seaton, William Winston
Ames, W. E. History of the National Intelligencer. (D '72)
- Second oldest profession. Carr, J. (N '72)
- Second wave. Taylor, J. R. (Ag '72)
- Secret boss of California. Samish, A. H. (Ap '72)
- Secret lives. Chigounis, E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Secret service
Bar-Zohar, M. Spies in the Promised Land. (S '72)
Cookridge, E. H. Gehlen: spy of the century. (My '72)
Deacon, R. History of the Russian secret service. (O '72)
Levytsky, B. Uses of terror. (N '72)
Smith, R. H. OSS. (O '72)
Strong, K. Men of intelligence. (S '72)
- Secret societies
Chesneau, J. Secret societies in China in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. (N '72)
- Secret societies in China in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Chesneau, J. (N '72)
- Secret war: Americans in China, 1944-1945. Caldwell, O. J. (Ag '72)
- Secrets of the trade. Adams, J. K. (D '72)
- Sects
Harrell, D. E. White sects and black men in the recent South. (My '72)
- Securities
Briston, R. J. Stock exchange and investment analysis. (My '72)
- Seeing beyond the visible. Hewlish, A., ed. (Ap '72)
- Seen through our eyes. Gecan, M., ed. (Je '72)
- Segovia, Andrés
Bobri, V. Segovia technique. (D '72)
- Segovia technique. Bobri, V. (D '72)
- Segregation
Schultz, M. J. National education association and the black teacher. (Mr '72)
- Segregation in education
Levy, F. Northern schools and civil rights. (My '72)
O'Reilly, R. P., ed. Racial and social class isolation in the schools. (S '72)
Petroni, F. A. Two, four, six, eight, when you gonna integrate? (Mr '72)
- Selected essays on books and printing. Johnson, A. F. (Ap '72)
- Selected letters, 1813-1863. Delacroix, E. (Mr '72)
- Selected letters of Cotton Mather. Mather, C. (S '72)
- Selected papers of Will Clayton. Clayton, W. L. (N '72)
- Selected poems. Ekelöf, G. (D '72)
- Selected poems. Gregor, A. (Ag '72)
- Selected poems [bilingual ed]. Neruda, P. (Ag '72)
- Selected poems. Pesson, F. (N '72)
- Selected poems, 1923-1967 [bilingual ed]. Borges, J. L. (S '72)
- Selected poems of Gabriela Mistral [bilingual ed]. Mistral, G. (O '72)
- Selected poems of Marina Tsvetayeva. Tsvetayeva, M. (O '72)
- Selected political writings of Rosa Luxemburg. Luxemburg, R. (My '72)
- Selected writings of Hermann von Helmholtz. Helmholtz, H. von. (Je '72)
- Selections from the prison notebooks of Antonio Gramsci. Gramsci, A. (My '72)
- Selections from the scientific correspondence of Elihu Thomson. Thomson, E. (Ag '72)
- Selective history of theories of visual perception, 1650-1950. Pastore, N. J. (Ap '72)
- Self
Kent, I. I AMness: the discovery of the self beyond the ego. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Mueller, W. R. Celebration of life. (S '72)
- Self-decoration in Mount Hagen. Strathern, A. (Ag '72)
- Self-government (in education)
Ashby, E. Rise of the student estate in Britain. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Self-reliance and social security, 1870-1917. Tishler, H. S. (S '72)
- Selling death. Whiteside, T. (Mr '72)
- Selling water by the river. Kennett, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Semantics
Anglin, J. M. Growth of word meaning. (Je '72)
Communication: general semantics perspectives. (Ap '72)
Hope, T. E. Lexical borrowing in the Romance languages. 2v. (O '72)
Lyns, C., ed. Philosophy and linguistics. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Tucker, S. I. Enthusiasm. (D '72)
- Semi-tough. Jenkins, D. (D '72)
- Senator John James Ingalls. Williams, B. J. (D '72)
- Senator's ransom. Bernstein, K. (My '72)
- Senegal
Politics and government
Johnson, G. W. Emergence of black politics in Senegal. (O '72)
Religion
Cruise, O'Brien, D. B. Mourides of Senegal. (Mr '72)
- Senesh, Hannah
Senesh, H. Hannah Senesh. (S '72)
- Sengai
Suzuki, D. T. Sengai, the Zen master. (O '72)
- Sense of direction. Cobb, V. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Sense of occasion. Kallman, C. (Je '72)
- Sense of place. Gussow, A. (S '72)
- Sense of the Senate. Freidin, S. K. (O '72)
- Sensitivity training. See Group relations training
- Sentence in written English. Huddleston, R. D. (My '72)
- Sentencing as a human process. Hogarth, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Sentencing in a rational society. Walker, N. (My '72)
- Separate reality. Castaneda, C. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Sepoy and the Cossack. Fredericks, P. G. (Mr '72)
- Septimius Severus: the African emperor. Birley, A. (My '72)
- Serbia
Antiquities
Srejović, D. Europe's first monumental sculpture: new discoveries at Lepenski Vir. (D '72)
- Serbocroatian-English dictionary. Benson, M., comp. (O '72)
- Serbo-Croatian language
Dictionaries
English
Benson, M., comp. Serbocroatian-English dictionary. (O '72)
- Serial publications in large libraries. Illinois, University, Urbana. Graduate school of library science. (Mr '72)
- Sermons
Hibbs, B., ed. White House sermons. (O '72)
Holland, D., ed. Sermons in American history. (Ap '72)

- Sermons in American history. Holland, D., ed. (Ap '72)
 Serpent's teeth. Farmer, N. (N '72)
 Service. Gehlen, R. (S '72)
 Setting national priorities: the 1972 budget. Schultze, C. L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Seven arrows. Storm, H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Seven interpretive essays on Peruvian reality. Mariátegui, J. C. (Ap '72)
 Seven sovereign queens. Trease, G. (Je '72)
 Seven wonders of the cooking world. Waldo, M. (My '72)
 Seventeen black artists. Fax, E. C. (Ag '72)
 17th and 18th century art. Held, J. S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Seventeenth-century Europe. Pennington, D. H. (O '72)
 Seventh son. Du Bois, W. E. B. (Ap '72)
 75 years of the comics. (Ap '72)
 Severus, Lucius Septimus, Emperor of Rome
 Birley, A. Septimius Severus: the African emperor. (My '72)

Sewing

Juvenile literature

- Purdy, S. Costumes for you to make. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Sex

- Chesser, E. Strange loves. (Ap '72)
 Christenson, C. V. Kinsey: a biography. (My '72)
 Colton, H. Our sexual evolution. (Ap '72)
 Francoeur, R. T. Eve's new rib. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Hormones, sex and happiness. (D '72)
 Karlen, A. Sexuality and homosexuality. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Kirkendall, L. A. New sexual revolution. (My '72)
 Lee, R. Spouse gap. (My '72)
 McCary, J. L. Sexual myths and fallacies. (My '72)
 Nobile, P., ed. New eroticism. (S '72)
 Reiche, R. Sexuality and class struggle. (My '72)
 Richmond, H. M. Shakespeare's sexual comedy. (Ap '72)
 Thorp, R. Wives. (Mr '72)
 Wickler, W. Sexual code. (S '72)

Research

- Karlen, A. Sexuality and homosexuality. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Pomeroy, W. B. Dr. Kinsey and the Institute for sex research. (Ag '72)

Sex (Biology)

- Sherfey, M. J. Nature and evolution of female sexuality. (O '72)

Sex (Psychology)

- Bengis, I. Combat in the erogenous zone. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Christenson, C. V. Kinsey: a biography. (My '72)
 Otto, H. A. Love today. (Ag '72)
 Sherfey, M. J. Nature and evolution of female sexuality. (O '72)

Sex (Theology)

- Taylor, M. J., ed. Sex: thoughts for contemporary Christians. (My '72)

Sex and sanity. Anchell, M. (My '72)

Sex, career and family. Fogarty, M. P. (O '72)

Sex customs

- Karlen, A. Sexuality and homosexuality. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Sex instruction

- Anchell, M. Sex and sanity. (My '72)
 Mead, S. Free the male man! (Ag '72)
 Seaman, B. Free and female. (S '72)
 Trussell, J. Women in need. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Juvenile literature

- Bendick, J. What made you you? (S '72)
 Portal, C. Beauty of birth. (My '72)

Sex: thoughts for contemporary Christians. Taylor, M. J., ed. (My '72)

Sexual code. Wickler, W. (S '72)

Sexual ethics

- Anchell, M. Sex and sanity. (My '72)
 Colton, H. Our sexual evolution. (Ap '72)
 Hegeler, I. Living is loving. (D '72)
 Kennedy, E. C. New sexuality. (Ag '72)
 Nobile, P., ed. New eroticism. (S '72)
 Reich, W. Invasion of compulsory sex morality. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Trussell, J. Women in need. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Sexual hygiene

- Hegeler, I. Living is loving. (D '72)

Sexual myths and fallacies. McCary, J. L. (My '72)

- Sexuality and class struggle. Reiche, R. (My '72)
 Sexuality and homosexuality. Karlen, A. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Shadow of himself. Delving, M. (O '72)
 Shadow of slavery: peonage in the South, 1901-1969. Daniel, P. (D '72)
 Shadow on the Alamo. Katz, H. (D '72)
 Shadow on the sun. Harris, R. (S '72)
 Shadows in paradise. Remarque, E. M. (My '72)

Shaft among the Jews. Tidyman, E. (O '72)

Shakers

- Desroche, H. American Shakers. (Ag '72)

Shakespeare, William

- Manvell, R. Shakespeare and the film. (Ag '72)

Characters

- Brower, R. A. Hero & saint. (S '72)
 Farnham, W. Shakespearean grotesque. (Mr '72)

Comedies

- Richmond, H. M. Shakespeare's sexual comedy. (Ap '72)

Contemporary England

- Hussey, M. World of Shakespeare and his contemporaries. (D '72)

Criticism, interpretation, etc.

- Arthos, J. Shakespeare: the early writings. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Brower, R. A. Hero & saint. (S '72)
 Coleridge, S. T. Coleridge on Shakespeare. (Mr '72)
 Fiedler, L. A. Stranger in Shakespeare. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Foakes, R. A. Shakespeare: the dark comedies to the last plays. (O '72)
 Goldman, M. Shakespeare and the energies of drama. (D '72)
 Hartwig, J. Shakespeare's tragicomic vision. (N '72)
 Hobson, A. Full circle. (S '72)
 Shakespeare: his life, his times, his works. (My '72)
 Turner, F. Shakespeare and the nature of time. (Ap '72)

Dictionaries

- Martin, M. R. Concise encyclopedic guide to Shakespeare. (Ag '72)

Songs and music

- Long, J. H. Shakespeare's use of music: the histories and tragedies. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Shakespeare, W. Shakespeare's songs. (Mr '72)

Stage history

- Long, J. H. Shakespeare's use of music: the histories and tragedies. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Sprague, A. C. Shakespeare's plays today. (Ap '72)

Technique

- Turner, F. Shakespeare and the nature of time. (Ap '72)

Tragedies

- Brower, R. A. Hero & saint. (S '72)
 Shakespeare, William. Hamlet
 Alexander, N. Poison, play, and duel. (Mr '72)
 Eissler, K. R. Discourse on Hamlet and Hamlet: a psychoanalytic enquiry. (Ap '72)
 Ross, A. Minneapolis rehearsals: Tyro
 Guthrie directs Hamlet. (Je '72)
 Shakespeare, William. King Lear
 Hobson, A. Full circle. (S '72)
 Rosenberg, M. Masks of King Lear. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Shakespeare, William. Macbeth
 Jorgensen, P. A. Our naked frailties. (Ag '72)
 Shakespeare, William. The tempest
 Hobson, A. Full circle. (S '72)
 Shakespeare and the energies of drama. Goldman, M. (D '72)
 Shakespeare and the film. Manvell, R. (Ag '72)
 Shakespeare and the nature of time. Turner, F. (Ap '72)
 Shakespeare: his life, his times, his works. (My '72)
 Shakespeare: the dark comedies to the last plays. Foakes, R. A. (O '72)
 Shakespeare: the early writings. Arthos, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual) Shakespearean grotesque. Farnham, W. (Mr '72)

- Shakespearean staging, 1599-1642. King, T. J. (Ap '72)
- Shakespeare's plays today. Sprague, A. C. (Ap '72)
- Shakespeare's sexual comedy. Richmond, H. M. (Ap '72)
- Shakespeare's songs. Shakespeare, W. (Mr '72)
- Shakespeare's tragicomic vision. Hartwig, J. (N '72)
- Shakespeare's use of music: the histories and tragedies. Long, J. H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Shaking the money tree. Knowlton, W. (S '72)
- Shaking the pumpkin. Rothenberg, J. (Je '72)
- Shall we ever know? Eng title of: Brothers. Cooper, W. (Je '72)
- Shalom, Golda. Morris, T. (O '72)
- Shannon sailors. Wibberley, L. (Je '72)
- Shape of chaos. Hesla, D. H. (Ag '72)
- Shapes, space, and symmetry. Holden, A. (Ag '72)
- Shaping joy. Brooks, C. (O '72)
- Shaping of the American high school, v2. Krug, E. A. (N '72)
- Sharecropping. See Farm tenancy
- Sharpen your wits. Mosler, G. (Je '72)
- Shavian playground. Morgan, M. M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Shaw, Bernard. See Shaw, G. B.
- Shaw, George Bernard
- Chappelow, A. Shaw—"the chucker-out". (S '72)
- Dukore, B. F. Bernard Shaw, director. (My '72)
- Furlong, W. B. GBS/GKC. (Mr '72)
- Morgan, M. M. Shavian playground. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Weintraub, S. Journey to heartbreak. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Shaw—"the chucker-out". Chappelow, A. (S '72)
- Shears, Sarah
- Shears, S. Village girl. (My '72)
- Sheen, Fulton John, Bp.
- Noonan, D. P. Passion of Fulton Sheen. (My '72)
- Sheep
- See also
- Mountain sheep
- Sheet magic. Parish, P. (Mr '72)
- Sheffield, England
- Politics and government
- Hampton, W. Democracy and community. (Mr '72)
- Shelf pets. Ricciuti, E. R. (Mr '72)
- Shell natural history of Britain. (Ap '72)
- Shelley, Percy Bysshe
- King-Hele, D. Shelley: his thought and work [2d ed.]. (S '72)
- Wasserman, E. R. Shelley. (Mr '72)
- Shelley, Wasserman, E. R. (Mr '72)
- Shelley: his thought and work [2d ed.]. King-Hele, D. (S '72)
- Shellfish cookery. Chekenian, J. (Ap '72)
- Shelter in Africa. Oliver, P., ed. (D '72)
- Sheppard, Samuel H.
- Pollack, J. H. Dr. Sam. (S '72)
- Sheridan, Richard Brinsley Butler
- Bingham, M. Sheridan: the track of a comet. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Sheridan: the track of a comet. Bingham, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Sherman, Roger
- Collier, C. Roger Sherman's Connecticut. (Ap '72)
- Sherman, William Tecumseh
- Merrill, J. M. William Tecumseh Sherman. (Ap '72)
- Shinn, Roger Lincoln
- Shinn, R. L. Wars and rumors of wars. (Ag '72)
- Shinto
- Kato, G. Study of Shinto. (My '72)
- Shipbuilding
- Chapman, F. H. af. Architectura navalis mercatoria. (D '72)
- Shipping
- Boston
- Bunting, W. H., comp. Portrait of a port. (Ap '72)
- China
- Worcester, G. R. G. Junks & sampans of the Yangtze. (My '72)
- Mystic, Connecticut
- Baughman, J. P. Mallorays of Mystic. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Ships

- Brøgger, A. W. Viking ships. (N '72)
- Bunting, W. H., comp. Portrait of a port. (Ap '72)
- History
- Chapman, F. H. af. Architectura navalis mercatoria. (D '72)
- Laing, A. American ships. (My '72)
- Shipwrecks
- Marx, R. F. Shipwrecks. (Ap '72)
- Shiva's pigeons. Godden, J. (N '72)
- Shooting script. Mankiewicz, H. J. (In The Citizen Kane book). (Ag '72)
- Short history of China. Hookham, H. (Ag '72)
- Short history of the papacy in the middle ages. Ullman, W. (O '72)
- Short history of Western atheism. Thrower, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Short stories
- Aiken, J. Green flash, and other tales of horror, suspense, and fantasy. (Ap '72)
- Barthelme, D. Sadness. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Bingham, S. Way it is now. (Ag '72)
- Birstein, A. Summer situations. (My '72)
- Borges, J. L. Doctor Brodie's report. (Ap '72)
- Brautigan, R. Revenge of the lawn. (Mr '72)
- Brodeur, P. Downstream. (D '72)
- Bulgakov, M. Diaboliad, and other stories. (Ag '72)
- Chandler, R. Midnight Raymond Chandler. (Ap '72)
- Colette. Other woman. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Djilas, M. Stone and the violets. (Je '72)
- Dodge, D. Troublesooter. (My '72)
- Fielding, G. New queens for old. (N '72)
- García Marquez, G. Leaf storm, and other stories. (Ag '72)
- Gilliat, P. Nobody's business. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Golding, W. Scorpion god. (Ap '72)
- Goulart, R. What's become of Screwloose? (S '72)
- Greenberg, J. Rites of passage. (Ag '72)
- Hemingway, E. Nick Adams stories. (Ag '72)
- Kafka, F. Complete stories. (Je '72)
- Maltz, A. Afternoon in the jungle. (Ap '72)
- Nemerov, H. Stories, fables & other diversions. (My '72)
- Nissenson, H. In the reign of peace. (Je '72)
- Oates, J. C. Marriages and infidelities. (D '72)
- Rogin, G. What happens next? (Mr '72)
- Stegmuller, F. Stories and true stories. (Je '72)
- Taylor, E. Devastating boys, and other stories. (S '72)
- Theroux, A. Three wogs. (S '72)
- Uddike, J. Museums and women, and other stories. (D '72)
- Wain, J. Life guard. (Ag '72)
- Weston, J. Goat songs. (Je '72)
- Yehoshua, A. B. Three days and a child. (O '72)
- Collections
- Hipolito, J., ed. Mars, we love you. (Ag '72)
- Hsia, C. T., ed. Twentieth-century Chinese stories. (O '72)
- Kahn, J., ed. Some things fierce and fatal. (S '72)
- Pomorska, K., ed. Fifty years of Russian prose, 2v. (O '72)
- Short-term psychotherapy and emotional crisis. Sifneos, P. E. (D '72)
- Shouting signpainters. Reid, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Shrewsdale exit. Buell, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Shrines
- Zander, W. Israel and the holy places of Christendom. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Shrinking of Treehorn. Heide, F. P. (My '72)
- Shrinking outdoors. Jennings, G. (S '72)
- Shroud for a nightingale. James, P. D. (Ap '72)
- Shuttle in the crypt. Soyinka, W. (D '72)
- Siberia
- Description and travel
- Servadio, F. Siberian encounter. (Ap '72)
- Discovery and exploration
- Mancall, M. Russia and China. (My '72)
- History
- Harrison, J. A. Founding of the Russian empire in Asia and America. (O '72)
- Siberian encounter. Servadio, G. (Ap '72)
- Sicilians in Australia
- Cronin, C. Sting of change. (Je '72)

Sicily

Description and travel

Guide books

- Lowe, A. Barrier and the bridge. (O '72)
 Side by side. Bradburn, N. M. (Mr '72)
 Sidewalk story. Mathis, S. B. (Ap '72)
 Sidney, Sir Philip
 Osborn, J. M. Young Philip Sidney, 1572-1577. (O '72)
 Siege of the Peking legations. Giles, L. (N '72)
 Siegel, Eli
 Kranz, S., ed. H persuasion. (My '72)
 Sierra Leone

Bibliography

- Williams, G. J. Bibliography of Sierra Leone, 1925-1967. (My '72)

Politics and government

- Cartwright, J. R. Politics in Sierra Leone, 1947-67. (My '72)
 Sign, symbol & form. Ballinger, L. B. (N '72)
 Significance of sense. Wertheimer, R. (O '72)
 Significance test controversy. Morrison, D. E., ed. (Mr '72)
 Signs and signboards
 Ballinger, L. B. Sign, symbol & form. (N '72)
 Signs and symbols
 Ballinger, L. B. Sign, symbol & form. (N '72)
 Dreyfuss, H. Symbol sourcebook. (Ag '72)

Juvenile literature

- Barth, E. Holly, reindeer, and colored lights. (Mr '72)
 Silence of the North. Fredrickson, O. A. (O '72)
 Silenced majority. Amundsen, K. (O '72)
 Silent cities, sacred stones. Landay, J. M. (Mr '72)
 Silent politics: polls and the awareness of public opinion. Bogart, L. (Ag '72)
 Silver lady. Facos, J. (D '72)
 Silver mines and mining
 Dorset, P. F. New Eldorado: the story of Colorado's gold and silver rushes. (Mr '72)
 Silverlake experiment. Empey, L. T. (Ag '72)
 Silversmithing
 Honour, H. Goldsmiths & silversmiths. (Mr '72)

History

- Hood, G. American silver. (Ap '72)
 Simeon Stylites columns. See Caldwell, W. A. In the Record. (O '72)
 Simien Mountain National Park
 Nicol, C. W. From the roof of Africa. (Ap '72)
 Simon says. Simon, G. T. (My '72)
 Simulation methods
 Forrester, J. W. World dynamics. (Mr '72)
 Taylor, J. L. Instructional planning systems. (My '72)

Sinan

- Stratton, A. Sinan. (My '72)
 Sing to me of heaven. Horn, D. D. (Mr '72)
 Singapore

Politics and government

- Chan, H. C. Singapore: the politics of survival, 1965-1967. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Singapore: the politics of survival, 1965-1967. Chan, H. C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Singers

See also

- Caruso, E.
 Dylan, B.
 Jones, T.
 Joplin, J.
 Singing
 Lehmann, L. Eighteen song cycles. (Ap '72)
 Single women
 Hanes, M. Lovechild. (O '72)
 Olsen, J. Girls in the office. (O '72)
 Rains, P. M. Becoming an unwed mother. (O '72)
 Singular anomaly. Colby, V. (Mr '72)
 Singular iniquity. Petrie, G. (Je '72)
 Sino-Japanese Conflict, 1937-1945

Collaborationists

- Boyle, J. H. China and Japan at war, 1937-1945. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Sino-Soviet schism, a bibliography, 1956-1964. Saran, V. (My '72)
 Sioux Indians. See Dakota Indians
 Sioux of the Rosebud. Anderson, J. A. (Ag '72)
 Sir Alec Douglas-Home. Young, K. (O '72)
 Sir Arthur Sullivan. Young, P. M. (Je '72)
 Sir Donald Wolfitt, C.B.E. Harwood, R. (O '72)

- Sir Francis Drake. Thomson, G. M. (O '72)
 Sir George Sansom and Japan. Samson, K. (N '72)
 Sir Henry Vane the younger. Rowe, V. A. (Mr '72)
 Sir Walter Scott and his world. Daiches, D. (Ag '72)
 Sisters of Henry VIII. Eng title of: The thistle and the rose. Chapman, H. W. (Ap '72)
 Sitting Bull, Dakota Chief

Juvenile literature

- Lampman, E. S. Once upon the Little Big Horn. (Ap '72)
 Sitwell, Dame Edith

Bibliography

- Fifoot, R. Bibliography of Edith, Osbert and Sacheverell Sitwell. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Sitwell, Sir Osbert, 5th Bart.

Bibliography

- Fifoot, R. Bibliography of Edith, Osbert and Sacheverell Sitwell. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Sitwell, Sacheverell

Bibliography

- Fifoot, R. Bibliography of Edith, Osbert and Sacheverell Sitwell. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Six black horses. Davis, N. (Ap '72)
 Six Black masters of American art. Bearden, R. (O '72)
 Six came flying. MacSwiney of Mashanaglass, Marquis. (Ag '72)
 Six presidents, too many wars. Lawrence, B., (Ag '72)
 Sixteenth century North America. Sauer, C. O. (My '72)
 Skate. Appleby, J. (Ap '72)
 Skelton, John
 Pollet, M. John Skelton. (Ap '72)
 Ski country cook book. Stillman, E. (Mr '72)
 Skiing . . . the Killy way. Killy, J. C. (Mr '72)
 Skin diving
 Cousteau, J.-Y. Diving for sunken treasure. (J '72)
 Wilkes, B. St J. Nautical archaeology. (Je '72)

- Skin diving in the Virgins, and other poems. Brinnin, J. M. (My '72)

Ski and skiing

- Killy, J. C. Skiing . . . the Killy way. (Mr '72)

- Sky hooks. Kane, J. (In John Kane, painter, by L. A. Arkus, comp). (Ap '72)

- Sky pirates. Arey, J. A. (My '72)

- Slaughter the animals, poison the earth. Olsen, J. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Slave community. Blassingame, J. W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Slavery in Asia

- Harris, J. E. African presence in Asia. (N '72)

Slavery in Brazil

- Degler, C. N. Neither black nor white. (N '72)

Slavery in the British West Indies

- Dunn, R. S. Sugar and slaves. (D '72)

Slavery in the United States

- Blassingame, J. W. Slave community. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Degler, C. N. Neither black nor white. (N '72)

- Doyle, B. W. Etiquette of race relations in the South. (Ag '72)

- Freimark, V., ed. Race and the American romantics. (N '72)

- Rayback, J. G. Free soil. (Mr '72)

- Tragle, H. I. Southampton slave revolt of 1831. (My '72)

- Woolman, J. Journal and major essays of John Woolman. (Ag '72)

Juvenile literature

- Meriwether, L. Freedom ship of Robert Smalls. (Je '72)

Slavery in Venezuela

- Lombardi, J. V. Decline and abolition of Negro slavery in Venezuela, 1820-1854. (Ag '72)

- Slickrock. Abbey, E. (Ap '72)

Sloan, John

- St. John, B. John Sloan. (Ag '72)

- Sly old cat. Potter, B. (Ag '72)

Small business

- Light, I. H. Ethnic enterprise in America. (O '72)

- Small nation survival. Švelcs, V. V. (Je '72)

- Small town teacher. McPherson, G. H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Smallest Slavonic nation. Stone, G. (D '72)

Smalls, Robert*Juvenile literature

Meriwether, L. Freedom ship of Robert Smalls. (Je '72)

Smith, Adam

Campbell, T. D. Adam Smith's science of morals. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Smith, David

Krauss, R. E. Terminal iron works: the sculpture of David Smith. (Ag '72)

Smith, Dennis

Smith, D. Report from Engine Co. 82. (Ap '72)

Smith, Margaret Chase

Smith, M. C. Declaration of conscience. (Je '72)

Smith, Samuel

Cassell, F. A. Merchant Congressman in the young Republic. (O '72)

Smith, Samuel Harrison

Ames, W. E. History of the National intelligencer. (D '72)

Smith, William

Jones, T. F. Pair of lawn sleeves. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Smoke, Olsen, I. S. (N '72)*Smoke-cookery. See Cookery*Smoking

Ochsner, A. Smoking: your choice between life and death. (Ap '72)

Smoking: your choice between life and death.

Ochsner, A. (Ap '72)

Snake River

Gulick, B. Snake River country. (Mr '72)

Snake River country. Gulick, B. (Mr '72)*Snakes

Steward, J. W. Snakes of Europe. (Ag '72)

Snakes of Europe. Steward, J. W. (Ag '72)*Snow*Juvenile literature

Busch, P. S. Walk in the snow. (O '72)

So help me God. Alley, R. S. (Ag '72)*So shall ye reap. London, J. (O '72)*So you want to be a musician. White, L. B. (D '72)*Soaring flight. See Gliding and soaring*Social adjustment

Kent, I. I AMness: the discovery of the self beyond the ego. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Martin, J. P. Social consequences of conviction. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Social alienation. See Alienation (Social psychology)*Social anthropology and language. (My '72)*Social anthropology of Latin America. (Mr '72)*Social bond. Nisbet, R. A. (Ap '72)*Social change

Berger, B. Societies in change. (N '72)

Berrigan, D. Geography of faith. (My '72)

Bird, C. Crowding syndrome. (O '72)

Bookchin, M. Post-society anarchism. (My '72)

Boulding, K. E. Primer on social dynamics. (Mr '72)

Cronin, C. Sting of change. (Je '72)

Davies, I. Social mobility and political change. (My '72)

Dunn, E. S. Economic and social development. (N '72)

Friedrich, P. Agrarian revolt in a Mexican village. (Je '72)

Gabor, D. Mature society. (O '72)

Gulliver, P. H. Neighbours and networks. (Ag '72)

Havens, A. E., ed. Internal colonialism and structural change in Colombia. (My '72)

Ishwaran, K., ed. Change and continuity in India's villages. (Ap '72)

Keniston, K. Youth and dissent. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Leeuwen, A. T. van. Development through revolution. (Mr '72)

Leonard, G. B. Transformation. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

McLuhan, M. Take today: the executive as dropout. (Ag '72)

Nisbet, R. A. Social bond. (Ap '72)

Revel, J. F. Without Marx or Jesus. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Rossmann, M. On learning and social change. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Rozzak, T. Where the wasteland ends. (N '72)

Schon, D. A. Beyond the stable state. (Ap '72)

Strauss, A. L. Contexts of social mobility. (Mr '72)

Toynbee, A. Surviving the future. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Social classes

Coleman, R. P. Social status in the city. (O '72)

Nash, G. B. Class and society in early America. (My '72)

Pearlin, L. I. Class context and family relations. (Je '72)

Plotnicov, L., ed. Essays in comparative social stratification. (S '72)

Sennett, R. Hidden injuries of class. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Strauss, A. L. Contexts of social mobility. (Mr '72)

Uganda

Vincent, J. African elite. (1971, 1972 Annual)

United States

Farber, B. Kinship and class. (Mr '72)

Schrag, P. Decline of the WASP. (Ap '72)

Social conditions

Sanctions for evil. (S '72)

Stampfer, J. Face and shadow. (Ag '72)

United States

Berrigan, D. Geography of faith. (My '72)

Social conflict

Gulliver, P. H. Neighbours and networks. (Ag '72)

Sennett, R. Hidden injuries of class. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Stampfer, J. Face and shadow. (Ag '72)

Social conflicts in the Roman republic. Brunt, P. A. (Je '72)*Social consequences of conviction. Martin, J. P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)*Social construction of communities. Suttles, G. D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)*Social context of modern English literature. Bradbury, M. (S '72)*Social control

Kittrie, N. N. Right to be different. (Ap '72)

Social Credit party

Pinard, M. Rise of a third party. (Mr '72)

Social democratic party (Germany)

Niewyk, D. L. Socialist, anti-Semite, and Jew. (Ap '72)

Social dimensions of mental illness, alcoholism [sic] and drug dependence. Martindale, D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)*Social ethics

Foster, S. Their solitary way. (D '72)

Sanctions for evil. (S '72)

Social fragmentation and political hostility. Powell, G. B. (1971, 1972 Annual)*Social groups

Nakane, C. Japanese society. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Suttles, G. D. Social construction of communities. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Social history of music. Raynor, H. (O '72)*Social isolation. See Social psychology*Social mobility and political change. Davies, I. (My '72)*Social problems

Baker, J. T. Thomas Merton: social critic. (Ap '72)

Holland, D., ed. Sermons in American history. (Ap '72)

Jacobs, G., ed. Participant observer. (Mr '72)

Ryan, W. Blaming the victim. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Twain, M. Pen warmed-up in hell. (N '72)

Waskow, A. I. Bush is burning! (My '72)

Social psychiatry

Halleck, S. L. Politics of therapy. (Mr '72)

Martindale, D. Social dimensions of mental illness, alcoholism [sic] and drug dependence. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Social psychology

Bahr, H. M., ed. Disaffiliated man. (Ag '72)

Gorney, R. Human agenda. (S '72)

Ichheiser, G. Appearances and realities. (Ap '72)

Melbin, M. Alone and with others. (My '72)

Mey, H. Field-theory: a study of its application in the social sciences. (D '72)

Rosenberg, G. S. Worker grows old. (My '72)

Stone, G. P. Social psychology through symbolic interaction. (S '72)

See also

Alienation (Social psychology)

Bibliography

Bahr, H. M., ed. Disaffiliated man. (Ag '72)

Philosophy

Schutz, A. Alfred Schutz on phenomenology and social relations. (S '72)

Social psychology through symbolic interaction. Stone, G. P. (S '72)*Social reality of crime. Quinney, R. (Ap '72)

- Social reality of ethics. Barnsley, J. H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Social reformers in urban China. Garrett, S. S. (My '72)
- Social research and social policy. Freeman, H. E. (My '72)
- Social Revolutionary party "Proletariat". See Socialist party (Poland)
- Social sciences
- Dunn, E. S. Economic and social development. (N '72)
- Kruskal, W., ed. Mathematical sciences and social sciences. (Je '72)
- Morrison, D. E., ed. Significance test controversy. (Mr '72)
- Methodology
- Tuma, E. H. Economic history and the social sciences. (D '72)
- Research
- Denzin, N. K., ed. Values of social science. (My '72)
- Freeman, H. E. Social research and social policy. (My '72)
- Study and teaching
- Newmann, F. M. Clarifying public controversy. (Ap '72)
- Social sciences and comparative study of educational systems. (My '72)
- Social security fraud. Ellis, A. (Ap '72)
- Social shaping of science. Krohn, R. C. (My '72)
- Social status and legal privilege in the Roman empire. Garnsey, P. (Mr '72)
- Social status in the city. Coleman, R. P. (O '72)
- Social stress. Levine, S., ed. (My '72)
- Social stress and chronic illness. Dodge, D. L. (S '72)
- Social surveys
- Southern States
- Reed, J. S. Enduring South. (D '72)
- Socialism
- Curtis, M., ed. Marxism. (Ap '72)
- Garaudy, R. Crisis in communism: the turning-point of socialism. (D '72)
- Gilbert, J. Designing the industrial state. (Ag '72)
- Harrington, M. Socialism. (Ag '72)
- Luxemburg, R. Selected political writings of Rosa Luxemburg. (My '72)
- Shaw, G. B. Road to equality. (Mr '72)
- Sherman, H. Radical political economy. (Ag '72)
- Wilson, E. To the Finland station [2d ed]. (O '72)
- Chile
- Debray, R. Chilean revolution. (Ap '72)
- Cuba
- Silverman, B., ed. Man and socialism in Cuba. (My '72)
- Europe
- Senn, A. E. Russian revolution in Switzerland, 1914-1917. (Ap '72)
- Poland
- Blit, L. Origins of Polish socialism. (Ap '72)
- United States
- Debs, E. V. Eugene V. Debs speaks. (Ap '72)
- Fischer, G., ed. Revival of American socialism. (Ap '72)
- Socialism, Christian
- Tillich, P. Political expectation. (Ap '72)
- Socialism that came in from the cold. Sartre, J. P. (In the politics of culture, by A. J. Liehm). (O '72)
- Socialist, anti-Semite, and Jew. Niewyk, D. L. (Ap '72)
- Socialist economic development and reforms. Wilczynski, J. (N '72)
- Socialist management & planning. Spulber, N. (D '72)
- Socialist party (Poland)
- Blit, L. Origins of Polish socialism. (Ap '72)
- Socialist party (United States)
- Debs, E. V. Eugene V. Debs speaks. (Ap '72)
- Socialized medicine. See Insurance, Health; Medicine, State
- Socially handicapped children
- Education
- Daniels, S. How 2 gerbils, 20 goldfish, 200 games, 2000 books, and I taught them how to read. (Ap '72)
- Societies in change. Berger, B. (N '72)
- Society, Primitive
- Balandier, G. Political anthropology. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Coon, C. S. Hunting peoples. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Kuper, A. Kalahari village politics. (My '72)
- Society and art. See Art and society
- Society and the healthy homosexual. Weinberg, G. (Ag '72)
- Society of Friends. See Friends, Society of
- Society of Jesus. See Jesuits
- Sociolinguistics
- Rubin, J., ed. Can language be planned? (O '72)
- Sociologists
- Coser, L. A. Masters of sociological thought. (O '72)
- Sociology
- Barnsley, J. H. Social reality of ethics. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Birnbaum, N. Toward a critical sociology. (My '72)
- Lowry, R. P. Sociology [2d ed]. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Mannheim, K. From Karl Mannheim. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Mulkay, M. J. Functionalism, exchange and theoretical strategy. (My '72)
- Nisbet, R. A. Social bond. (Ap '72)
- History
- Colfax, J. D., ed. Radical sociology. (My '72)
- Coser, L. A. Masters of sociological thought. (O '72)
- Mathematical models
- Cohen, J. E. Casual groups of monkeys and men. (Ap '72)
- Methodology
- Lachenmeyer, C. W. Language of sociology. (Ag '72)
- Silverman, D. Theory of organisations. (S '72)
- Research
- Boalt, G. Universities and research. (O '72)
- Sociology, Christian
- Kelley, D. M. Why conservative churches are growing. (O '72)
- Laurentin, R. Liberation, development, and salvation. (O '72)
- Tillich, P. Political expectation. (Ap '72)
- Sociology, Rural
- Cutileiro, J. Portuguese rural society. (S '72)
- Mendras, H. Vanishing peasant. (My '72)
- Sociology, Urban
- Long, N. E. Unwalled city. (D '72)
- McLennan, B. N., ed. Crime in urban society. (My '72)
- Pahl, R. E. Patterns of urban life. (N '72)
- Psychiatric disorder and the urban environment. (O '72)
- Suttles, G. D. Social construction of communities. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Walker, M. German home towns. (O '72)
- Sociology [2d ed]. Lowry, R. P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Sociology of art and literature. Albrecht, M. C., ed. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Sociology of death. Vernon, G. M. (N '72)
- Sociology of organizations. Grusky, O., ed. (S '72)
- Sociology of popular drama. Goodlad, J. S. R. (N '72)
- Sociology of religion, v4. Stark, W. (Je '72)
- Sociology of religion, v5. Stark, W. (D '72)
- Sokolov, Nicholas A.
- O'Connor, J. F. Sokolov investigation of the alleged murder of the Russian Imperial family. (S '72)
- Sokolov investigation of the alleged murder of the Russian Imperial family. O'Connor, J. F. (S '72)
- Soldier in the West. Talbot, T., ed. (D '72)
- Soldier, soldier, won't you marry me? (N '72)
- Solomon, Barbara Probst
- Solomon, B. P. Arriving where we started. (Je '72)
- Solzhenitsyn, Aleksandr Isaevich. See Solzhenitsyn, Alexander
- Solzhenitsyn, Alexander
- Lukács, G. Solzhenitsyn. (O '72)
- Rothberg, A. Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn. (Mr '72)
- Somalia
- Hanley, G. Warriors and strangers. (O '72)
- Somatology
- Morgan, E. Descent of woman. (Ag '72)
- Young, J. Z. Introduction to the study of man. (O '72)

- Some microeconomics of higher education. Maynard, J. (O '72)
- Some of us walk . . . some fly . . . some swim. Frith, M. (Mr '72)
- Some social aspects; v2 of Mixed or single-sex school? Dale, R. R. (D '72)
- Some things fierce and fatal. Kahn, J., ed. (S '72)
- Somebody turned on a tap in these kids. Larrick, N., ed. (Ag '72)
- Someone great. Grossbach, R. (Mr '72)
- Someplace else. Shecter, B. (My '72)
- Somerset, Edward Seymour, 1st Duke of Jordan, W. K. Edward VI: the threshold of power, v2. (Ap '72)
- Something about the author, v1. (Ap '72)
- Something else. Bishop, J. (Ap '72)
- Something for everybody is not enough. Birnbaum, W. M. (Je '72)
- Something human. Spacks, B. (D '72)
- Somewhere else. Kotlowitz, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Somewhere in England. Gadney, R. (Je '72)
- Somme, Battle of the, 1916
Middlebrook, M. First day on the Somme, 1 July 1916. (Ap '72)
- Song at the sea. Goldin, J. (Mr '72)
- Song of Roland. See Chanson de Roland
- Songmy, Vietnam
Hersh, S. M. Cover-up. (Je '72)
- Songs
Jefferson, A. Lieder of Richard Strauss. (S '72)
- Lehmann, L. Eighteen song cycles. (Ap '72)
- Songs, American
Levy, L. S. Flashes of merriment. (Mr '72)
- Silber, I., ed. Songs America voted by. (Mr '72)
- Juvenile literature
Langstaff, J. Gather my gold together. (Ag '72)
- Songs, English
History and criticism
McGuinness, R. English court odes, 1660-1820. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Songs America voted by. Silber, I., ed. (Mr '72)
- Songs from the night before. Tuttle, A. (Je '72)
- Sonia Delaunay Alphabet. Delaunay, S. (Ag '72)
- Sophia Dorothea, consort of George I, King of Great Britain
Jordan, R. Sophie Dorothea. (O '72)
- Morand, P. Captive princess. (O '72)
- Sophocles
Oedipus Tyrannus
Vellacott, P. Sophocles and Oedipus. (My '72)
- Sophocles and Oedipus. Vellacott, P. (My '72)
- Sorbs. See Wends
- Sorrentino, Joseph N.
Sorrentino, J. N. Up from never. (Ap '72)
- Sort of life. Greene, G. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Sorties. Dickey, J. (Ap '72)
- Soto, Hernando de
Juvenile literature
Steele, W. O. Wilderness tattoo. (My '72)
- Soufflés
Bradshaw, G. Soufflés, quiches, mousses & the random egg. (My '72)
- Soufflés, quiches, mousses & the random egg. Bradshaw, G. (My '72)
- Soul catcher. Herbert, F. (S '72)
- Souls on fire. Wiesel, E. (My '72)
- Souder few. Dillard, R. H. W., ed. (S '72)
- Soundings. Prescott, P. S. (S '72)
- The South. See Southern States
- South Africa, 1870-1966; v2 of The Oxford history of South Africa. (O '72)
- South Africa: sociological perspectives. Adam, H., ed. (Ag '72)
- South African War, 1899-1902
Ransford, O. Battle of Spion Kop. (Ap '72)
- South Carolina
Politics and government
Frakes, G. E. Laboratory for liberty. (Mr '72)
- South-East Asian food. Eng title of: Joys and subtleties: South East Asian cooking. Brinsenden, R. (Mr '72)
- South goes North. Coles, R. (My '72)
- South to a very old place. Murray, A. (Mr '72)
- South Wales
Social conditions
Glastonbury, B. Homeless near a thousand homes. (Ap '72)
- Southampton Insurrection, 1831
Tragle, H. I. Southampton slave revolt of 1831. (My '72)
- Southampton slave revolt of 1831. Tragle, H. I. (My '72)
- Southern Arabia. Doe, B. (S '72)
- Southern barbarians. (Mr '72)
- Southern States
Coles, R. Farewell to the South. (O '72)
- Davis, M. Image of Lincoln in the South. (My '72)
- Harrell, D. E. White sects and black men in the recent South. (My '72)
- Church history
Boles, J. B. Great revival, 1787-1805. (S '72)
- Civilization
Ayers, H. B., ed. You can't eat magnolias. (S '72)
- Politics and government
McMillen, N. R. Citizens' council. (N '72)
- Tindall, G. B. Disruption of the solid South. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- 20th century
Havard, W. C., ed. Changing politics of the South. (N '72)
- Race relations
Coles, R. Farewell to the South. (O '72)
- McMillen, N. R. Citizens' council. (N '72)
- Woodward, C. V. American counterpoint. (Ap '72)
- Social conditions
Reed, J. S. Enduring South. (D '72)
- Social life and customs
Murray, A. South to a very old place. (Mr '72)
- Southern Tenant Farmers' Union
Grubbs, D. H. Cry from the cotton. (Mr '72)
- Southwest, Old
History
Kerby, R. L. Kirby Smith's confederacy. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Sovereignty at bay. Vernon, R. (My '72)
- Soviet communism and the socialist vision. Jacobson, J., comp. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Soviet economists of the twenties. Jasny, N. (D '72)
- Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia: its effects on Eastern Europe. Czerwinski, E. J. (O '72)
- Soviet Jewry today and tomorrow. Smolar, B. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Soviet political mind (rev ed). Tucker, R. C. (D '72)
- Soviet preschool education, v2. (Je '72)
- Soviet prison camp speech. Galler, M., comp. (O '72)
- Soviet Union and the law of the sea. Butler, W. B. (Ap '72)
- Sozialdemokratische Partei Deutschlands. See Social democratic party (Germany)
- Space. Coolidge, C. (Ap '72)
- Space flight
Juvenile literature
Clarke, A. C. Into space [rev ed]. (Ap '72)
- Space frontier [new ed rev & updated]. Von Braun, W. (Mr '72)
- Space law
White, I. L. Decision-making for space: law and politics in air, sea, and outer space. (My '72)
- Space medicine
Gallant, R. A. Man's reach for the stars. (Mr '72)
- Space photography
Davies, M. E. View from space. (Ag '72)
- Space sciences
Ordway, F. I. Dividends from space. (S '72)
- Von Braun, W. Space frontier [new ed rev & updated]. (Mr '72)
- Space stations
Juvenile literature
Dwiggins, D. Into the unknown. (Ag '72)
- Space vehicles
Juvenile literature
Dwiggins, D. Into the unknown. (Ag '72)
- Spacewalks. Roberts, B. (Ag '72)
- Spain
Church history
Linehan, P. Spanish church and the Papacy in the thirteenth century. (O '72)

Civilization

- Castro, A. Spaniards. (S '72)
 Defourneaux, M. Daily life in Spain in the golden age. (Ag '72)
 Ortiz, A. D. Golden age of Spain, 1516-1659. (Je '72)

Colonies

- Casas, B. de las. History of the Indies. (My '72)
 Wright, J. L. Anglo-Spanish rivalry in North America. (N '72)

Description and travel

- Szulc, T. Portrait of Spain. (D '72)

Economic policy

- Anderson, C. W. Political economy of modern Spain. (My '72)

Foreign opinion

- Maltby, W. S. Black legend in England. (Je '72)
 Powell, P. W. Tree of hate. (O '72)

Foreign relations

- Powell, P. W. Tree of hate. (O '72)

Great Britain

- Maltby, W. S. Black legend in England. (Je '72)
 Silke, J. J. Kinsale. (Mr '72)
 Wright, J. L. Anglo-Spanish rivalry in North America. (N '72)

History

- Castro, A. Spaniards. (S '72)
 Glover, M. Legacy of glory. (Ag '72)
 Jackson, G. Making of medieval Spain. (S '72)
 Ortiz, A. D. Golden age of Spain, 1516-1659. (Je '72)
 Szulc, T. Portrait of Spain. (D '72)

Civil War, 1936-1939

- Broué, P. Revolution and the civil war in Spain. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Carr, R., ed. Republic and the Civil War in Spain. (Ap '72)
 Fraser, R. In hiding. (S '72)
 Jackson, G., ed. Spanish Civil War. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Civil War, 1936-1939—Personal narratives

- Pérez López, F. Dark and bloody ground. (Ag '72)

Politics and government

- Robinson, R. A. H. Origins of Franco's Spain. (Ap '72)

20th century

- Carr, R., ed. Republic and the Civil War in Spain. (Ap '72)

Social life and customs

- Defourneaux, M. Daily life in Spain in the golden age. (Ag '72)
 Spaniards. Castro, A. (S '72)
 Spanish-Americans in the United States. See Latin Americans in the United States
 Spanish church and the Papacy in the thirteenth century. Linehan, P. (O '72)
 Spanish Civil War. Jackson, G., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual) Spanish drama

Collections

- Holt, M., ed. Modern Spanish stage: four plays. (S '72)

Spanish literature*History and criticism

- Deyermund, A. D. Middle ages. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Spanish poetry*Collections

- Bly, R., ed. Neruda and Vallejo: selected poems. (Ag '72)
 Speaking and language: defence of poetry. Goodman, P. (Ap '72)
 Speaking in tongues. Goodman, F. D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Speaking tree. Lannoy, R. (Mr '72)
 Spearpoint. Ashton-Warner, S. (N '72)
 Special interest. Greenbaum, L. (S '72)
 Spectator of America. Dicey, E. (In Lincoln's long shadow; Mitgang, H., ed). (D '72)
 Speculation
 Blumgarten, J. Up against the Wall (Street). (O '72)

- Brutus. Confessions of a stockbroker. (My '72)

- Knapp, P. Berengaria exchange. (My '72)

Speech

- Goodman, P. Speaking and language: defence of poetry. (Ap '72)

Speech disorders

- Knox, D. Portrait of aphasia. (Ap '72)

Speeches, addresses, etc.

- Foner, P. S., ed. Voice of black America. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Speeches and documents on New Zealand history. McIntyre, W. D., ed. (Ag '72)

Spencer, Herbert

- Peel, J. D. Y. Herbert Spencer, the evolution of a sociologist. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Spencer, Philip*Fiction

- Carlisle, H. Voyage to the first of December. (My '72)

Sperry, Elmer Ambrose

- Hughes, T. P. Elmer Sperry. (Ag '72)

Spies

- Bar-Zohar, M. Spies in the Promised Land. (S '72)

- Cookridge, E. H. Gehlen: spy of the century. (My '72)

- Cookridge, E. H. Spy trade. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Delmer, S. Counterfeit spy. (My '72)

- Gehlen, R. Service. (S '72)

- Höhne, H. General was a spy. (Je '72)

- Spies behind the pillars, bandits at the pass. Trautman, K. (Je '72)

- Spies in the Promised Land. Bar-Zohar, M. (S '72)

- Spin a soft black song. Giovanni, N. (S '72)

- Spion Kop, Battle of, 1900

- Ransford, O. Battle of Spion Kop. (Ap '72)

- Spiritual crisis of the gilded age. Carter, P. A. (My '72)

Spiritual life

- Dunne, J. S. Way of all the earth. (O '72)

- Marquarrie, J. Paths in spirituality. (O '72)

- Reymond, L. To live within. (Mr '72)

Spiritualism

- Kerr, H. Mediums, and spirit-rappers, and roaring radicals. (D '72)

- McHargue, G. Facts, frauds, and phantasms. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Spiro Agnew's America. Lippman, T. (Ag '72)

- Splendor and death of Joaquin Murieta. Neruda, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Split seconds. Geva, T. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Sports

- Izenberg, J. How many miles to Camelot? (Ag '72)

- Kolatch, J. Sports, politics, and ideology in China. (O '72)

- Koppett, L. New York Times guide to spectator sports. (Ag '72)

- Silverman, A. Best of sport, 1946-1971. (Ap '72)

- Sports, politics, and ideology in China. Kolatch, J. (O '72)

- Spouse gap. Lee, R. (My '72)

- Spring shade. Fitzgerald, R. (My '72)

- Spring snow. Mishima, Y. (S '72)

- Spy trade. Cookridge, E. H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Squaw point. Shimer, R. H. (Ag '72)

- Squirrel wife. Pearce, P. (Ag '72)

- Srivijaya (Kingdom)

History

- Wolters, O. W. Fall of Srivijaya in Malay history. (My '72)

- Staffordshire pottery

- Mountford, A. R. Illustrated guide to Staffordshire salt-glazed stoneware. (My '72)

- Stage for poets. Affron, C. (Je '72)

- Stalin, Joseph

- Hyde, H. M. Stalin. (Ap '72)

- Medvedev, R. A. Let history judge. (Mr '72)

- Tucker, R. C. Soviet political mind (rev ed). (D '72)

- Standard dreaming. Calisher, H. (D '72)

Stanford, Leland

- Tutorow, N. E. Leland Stanford: man of many careers. (Mr '72)

Stanley cup. McFarlane, B. (Ag '72)

- Stanley Kubrick directs. Walker, A. (My '72)

Stanton, Elizabeth (Cady)

-

Juvenile literature

- Faber, D. Oh, Lizzie! (S '72)

- Star-spangled hustle. Blaustein, A. I. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Stars
 Ronan, C. A. Invisible astronomy. (O '72)
- Stars & serendipity. Richardson, R. S. (Mr '72)
- Starsky, Morris J.
 Hoult, T. F. March to the right. (D '72)
- The State
 Barnave, A. P. J. M. Power, property, and history. (My '72)
 Gramsci, A. Selections from the prison notebooks of Antonio Gramsci. (My '72)
- State and national voting in Federal elections, 1910-1970. Cox, E. F. (O '72)
- State and railroads. See Railroads and state
- State courts. See Courts, State
- State governments
 Peirce, N. R. Megastates of America. (Je '72)
- State of the university. Kruytbosch, C. E. (My '72)
- States, Small
 Vital, D. Survival of small states: studies in small power/great power conflict. (Je '72)
- Statistics
 Kruskal, W. Mathematical sciences and social sciences. (Je '72)
 Morrison, D. E., ed. Significance test controversy. (Mr '72)
- Stature of Dickens. Gold, J., comp. (Ap '72)
- Stay hungry. Gaines, C. (D '72)
- Steam pig. McClure, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Steamboats
 Brinnin, J. M. Sway of the grand saloon. (Mr '72)
- Steel bonnets. Fraser, G. M. (S '72)
- Steele, Sir Richard, Bart.
 Bond, R. P. Tatler. (Ag '72)
- Steering the economy: the British experiment. Brittan, S. (My '72)
- Stein and Day international medical encyclopedia. (O '72)
- Stella, Joseph
 Baur, J. I. H. Joseph Stella. (D '72)
- Stepford wives. Levin, I. (D '72)
- Stephen Crane in the West and Mexico. Crane, S. (Mr '72)
- Steppenwolf and Everyman. Mayer, H. (Mr '72)
- Sterilization (Birth control)
 Gillette, P. J. Vasectomy information manual. (Ag '72)
 Lader, L. Foolproof birth control. (Ag '72)
- Stevens, Wallace
 Kessler, E. Images of Wallace Stevens. (O '72)
- Sticks. Bernstein, B. (N '72)
- Stilwell, Arthur Edward
 Bryant, K. L. Arthur E. Stilwell. (O '72)
- Sting of change. Cronin, C. (Je '72)
- Stock exchange
 Bloom, M. T. Rogues to riches. (My '72)
 Hazard, C. C. Confessions of a Wall Street insider. (O '72)
 Regan, D. T. View from the Street. (Ag '72)
 Smith, A. Supermoney. (D '72)
- Stock exchange and investment analysis. Briston, R. J. (My '72)
- Stock market
 Blumgarten, J. Up against the Wall (Street). (O '72)
- Stocks
 Hazard, C. C. Confessions of a Wall Street insider. (O '72)
 Lohman, P. H. Art of investing. (O '72)
- Stoics
 Long, A. A., ed. Problems in stoicism. (Je '72)
- Stolen apples. Yevtushenko, Y. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Stone age
 Bordaz, J. Tools of the old and new stone age. (Mr '72)
 Marshack, A. Roots of civilization. (S '72)
- Stone and the violets. Dillas, M. (Je '72)
- Stone implements
 Bordaz, J. Tools of the old and new stone age. (Mr '72)
- Stoned apocalypse. Vassi, M. (Je '72)
- Stonehenge. Harrison, H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Stones cry out. Hornman, W. (Ap '72)
- Stop-action. Butkus, D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Stop school failure. Ames, L. B. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Storey, Moorfield
 Hixson, W. B. Moorfield Storey and the abolitionist tradition. (Je '72)
- Stories and true stories. Steegmuller, F. (Je '72)
- Stories, fables & other diversions. Nemerov, H. (My '72)
- Stories in rhyme
 De Regniers, B. S. Red Riding Hood. (Ag '72)
 Wild, R. Little pig and the big bad wolf. (O '72)
- Storm and other Old English riddles. Crossley-Holland, K., comp. (Je '72)
- Storm over the Arab world. Fisher, E. M. (N '72)
- Story, Joseph
 McClellan, J. Joseph Story and the American Constitution. (My '72)
- Story like the wind. Van der Post, L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Story of a small life. Chute, B. J. (O '72)
- Story of Hendrik Willem van Loon. Van Loon, G. W. (Ag '72)
- Story of Ireland. O'Brien, M. (D '72)
- Story of radioactivity. Stepp, A. (Je '72)
- Story of rodents. Shuttlesworth, D. E. (S '72)
- Storytelling
 Gardner, R. A. Therapeutic communication with children. (My '72)
- Straight. Aaron, W. (O '72)
- Strakhov, Nikolai
 Gerstein, L. Nikolai Strakhov. (Ap '72)
- Strange affair of Adelaide Harris. Garfield, L. (My '72)
- Strange case of Richard Milhous Nixon. Voorhis, J. (D '72)
- Strange fires. Ethridge, W. S. (Ap '72)
- Strange loves. Chessner, E. (Ap '72)
- Strange meeting. Hill, S. (Je '72)
- Strange peaches. Shrake, E. (O '72)
- Strange stories and other explorations in Victorian fiction. Wolff, R. L. (O '72)
- Strange war, strange strategy. Walt, L. W. (My '72)
- Stranger in Shakespeare. Fiedler, L. A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Strangers. Schlee, A. (Ag '72)
- Strangers at the door. Novotny, A. (Ag '72)
- Strategic power and national security. Coffey, J. I. (Ag '72)
- Strategy of takeovers. Vice, A. (N '72)
- Strauss, Johann, 1804-1849
 Fantel, H. Waltz kings. (O '72)
- Strauss, Johann, 1825-1899
 Fantel, H. Waltz kings. (O '72)
- Strauss, Richard
 Jefferson, A. Lieder of Richard Strauss. (S '72)
- Stravinsky, Igor Fedorovich
 Craft, R. Stravinsky. (S '72)
 Horgan, P. Encounters with Stravinsky. (Ag '72)
 Libman, L. And music at the close: Stravinsky's last years. (D '72)
- Straw for the fire. Roethke, T. (My '72)
- Strayer, Joseph Reese
 Strayer, J. R. Medieval statecraft and the perspectives of history. (Ap '72)
- Streafeld, Noel
 Streafeld, N. Beyond the vicarage. (Ag '72)
- Street that never slept. Shaw, A. (Ap '72)
- Stress (Physiology)
 Dodge, D. L. Social stress and chronic illness. (S '72)
- Strictly ghetto property. Heins, M. (O '72)
- Strikes and lockouts
 Kluger, J. R. Clifton-Morenci strike. (S '72)
 McGovern, G. S. Great coalfield war. (S '72)
- History
 Stearns, P. N. Revolutionary syndicalism and French labor: a cause without rebels. (Ag '72)
- Strindberg, August
 Lamm, M. August Strindberg. (Ag '72)
- Structure and performance of the U.S. communications industry. Borchardt, K. (Ap '72)
- Struggle for democracy. Liew, K. S. (O '72)
- Struggle for justice. (My '72)
- Struggle for secession, 1966-1970. Akpan, N. U. (N '72)
- Struggle for the Great Barrier Reef. Clare, P. (Je '72)
- Struggle within [rev ed]. Bowen, D. (N '72)
- Struve, Peter Berngardovich
 Pipes, R. Struve, liberal on the left, 1870-1905, v 1. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Struve, liberal on the left, 1870-1905, v 1. Pipes, R. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Stuart, Francis*Fiction

- Stuart, F. Black list, section H. (Ap '72)
 Stuart, James Francis Edward, Prince of Wales. See James, Prince of Wales, the Old Pretender
 Stubborn case. Frankel, C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Student activism. De Conde, A., ed. (Je '72)
 Student housing. Mullins, W. (Ap '72)
 Student loan funds
 Adams, F. C. College and university student work programs. (Mr '72)
 Student protests. See Students—Political activity
 Student revolt. See Students—Political activity
 Students
 Mullins, W. Student housing. (Ap '72)
 See also
 College students

Finance

- Adams, F. C. College and university student work programs. (Mr '72)

Political activity

- Bakke, E. W. Campus challenge. (Ag '72)
 De Conde, A., ed. Student activism. (Je '72)

California

- Kruytbosch, C. E. State of the university. (My '72)

England

- Students in conflict. (Ap '72)

France*Political activity

- Johnson, R. French communist party versus the students. (S '72)

Political activity—Sources

- Schnapp, A. French student uprising, November 1967-June 1968. (Mr '72)

Great Britain

- Ashby, E. Rise of the student state in Britain. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Brothers, J. Residence and student life. (O '72)

New York (City)*Political activity

- Reeves, D. Notes of a processed brother. (Ap '72)

United States

- Boyle, K. Long walk at San Francisco State, and other essays. (S '72)
 Keniston, K. Youth and dissent. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Lipset, S. M. Passion and politics. (Ap '72)

Political activity

- Adelson, A. SDS. (Ap '72)
 Anthony, E. Time of the furnaces. (Mr '72)
 Glazer, N. Remembering the answers. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Rossman, M. Wedding within the war. (Je '72)

- Students and Youth, Office of. See United States. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Office of Students and Youth

Students for a Democratic Society

- Adelson, A. SDS. (Ap '72)

Students in conflict. (Ap '72)

- Studia Semitica, 2v. Rosenthal, E. I. J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Studies in classical and Byzantine manuscript illumination. Weitzmann, K. (Ap '72)
 Studies in development planning. Chenery, H. B., ed. (D '72)

- Studies in diplomatic history. (My '72)

- Studies in the economic history of the Middle East. (Ap '72)

- Study in boss politics: William Lorimer of Chicago. Tarr, J. A. (Ag '72)

- Study of games. Avedon, E. M. (My '72)

- Study of Shinto. Kato, G. (My '72)

Style, Literary

- Barthes, R. Mythologies. (O '72)

- Style and theme in Reverdy's Les ardoises du toit. Rizzuto, A. (Ag '72)

Subject headings

- Berman, S. Prejudices and antipathies: a tract on the LC subject heads concerning people. (O '72)

- Sublimations of Leonardo da Vinci. Stites, R. S. (S '72)

Submarine medicine

- Hussain, F. Living underwater. (Ap '72)

Submarines

- Gray, E. Underwater war. (N '72)
 Sweeney, J. B. Pictorial history of oceanographic submersibles. (Je '72)

- Suburban land conversion in the United States: an economic and governmental process. Clawson, M. (O '72)

Suburban life

- Sobin, D. P. Future of the American suburbs. (Mr '72)

Subversive activities

- Beilenson, L. W. Power through subversion. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Kitson, F. Low intensity operations: subversion, insurgency, peace-keeping. (N '72)

Success

- Huber, R. M. American idea of success. (My '72)

- Successors of Genghis Khan. Rashid al-Din. (S '72)

Sudan*Juvenile literature

- Henderson, L. Egypt and the Sudan. (S '72)
 Suffer and be still. Vicinus, M., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Suffrage

- Severn, B. Right to vote. (D '72)

- Suffragists and Democrats. Morgan, D. (S '72)
 Sugar and slaves. Dunn, R. S. (D '72)

Suicide

- Alvarez, A. Savage god. (Je '72)
 Choron, J. Suicide. (My '72)
 Jacobs, J. Adolescent suicide. (Je '72)
 Suiting up for space. Mallan, L. (Mr '72)

Sukarno, President Indonesia

- Legge, J. D. Sukarno. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Sullivan, Sir Arthur Seymour

- Young, P. M. Sir Arthur Sullivan. (Je '72)

Sullivan, Louis Henry

- Wright, F. L. Genius and the mobocracy [ed.]. (Ap '72)

Summer game. Angell, R. (S '72)

- Summer situations. Birstein, A. (My '72)

Summer solstice. North, E. (Ag '72)*Summerhill School, Leiston, England

- Neill, A. S. Neill! Neill! Orange peel! (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Sun Dance people. Erdoes, R. (D '72)*Sunburst. Cory, D. (My '72)*Sunday bloody Sunday. Gilliatt, P. (D '72)*Sung Chiao-jên

- Liew, K. S. Struggle for democracy. (O '72)
 Superfluous anarchist: Alfred Jay Nock. Wreszin, M. (Ag '72)

Superlawyers. Goulden, J. C. (Ag '72)*Supermoney. Smith, A. (D '72)

- Supplement to the Oxford English dictionary, v. 1. Oxford English dictionary. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Supplements to the catalogues of Italian and French drawings, with a history of the Royal Collection of Drawings. Blunt, A. (With Schilling, E. German drawings in the collection of Her Majesty the Queen at Windsor Castle). (My '72)

- Supreme Court in crisis. Steamer, R. J. (My '72)

- Supreme courts in state politics. Glick, H. R. (Ag '72)

Surgeon in Nepal. Pitt, P. (O '72)*Surgeons*Personal narratives

- Pitt, P. Surgeon in Nepal. (O '72)

Surgery, Plastic

- Aronsohn, R. B. Miracle of cosmetic plastic surgery. (Mr '72)

Surrealism

- Balakian, A. André Breton. (1971, 1972 Annual)

- Matthews, J. H. Surrealism and film. (Je '72)

- Ray, P. C. Surrealist movement in England. (My '72)

- Surrealism and film. Matthews, J. H. (Je '72)

- Surrealist movement in England. Ray, P. C. (My '72)

The Survey (periodical)

- Chambers, C. A. Paul U. Kellogg and the Survey. (N '72)

Survey of London. Stow, J. (Mr '72)*Surveying

- Dilke, O. A. W. Roman land surveyors. (Je '72)

- Survival (after airplane accidents, shipwrecks, etc.)
 Fenn, C. Journal of a voyage to nowhere. (D '72)
 Lee, E. C. B. Safety and survival at sea. (S '72)
- Survival of small states: studies in small power/great power conflict. Vital, D. (Je '72)
- Surviving the future. Toynbee, A. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Suspect tenderness. Stringfellow, W. (My '72)
- Swahili coast. Nicholls, C. S. (N '72)
- Swans
 MacSwiney of Mashanaglass, Marquis. Six came flying. (Ag '72)
 Scott, P. Swans. (D '72)
- Sway of the grand saloon. Brinnin, J. M. (Mr '72)
- Sweden
 Huntford, R. New totalitarians. (S '72)
 Economic conditions
 Schnitzer, M. Economy of Sweden. (D '72)
- Swedru (Ghana)
 Politics
 Owusu, M. Uses and abuses of political power. (Je '72)
- Sweeny, Charles
 Fahey, J. Ballyhoo bonanza. (My '72)
- Sweet Apple gardening book. Sibley, C. (Ag '72)
- Swimmers, and other selected poems. Tate, A. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Swimming
 Still, A. Competitive swimming. (S '72)
 Dictionaries
 Besford, P., comp. Encyclopaedia of swimming. (My '72)
- Swimming. Eng title of: Competitive swimming. Still, A. (S '72)
- Swinburne, Algernon Charles
 Fuller, J. O. Swinburne: a biography. (My '72)
- Swinburne: a biography. Fuller, J. O. (My '72)
- Swindlers and swindling
 Bloom, M. T. Rogues to riches. (My '72)
- Swing, Philip David
 Moeller, B. B. Phil Swing and Boulder Dam. (N '72)
- Sword and the grail. Hieatt, C. (O '72)
- Sword of the prophet. Suskind, R. (Je '72)
- Sword of the spirits. Christopher, J. (O '72)
- Swords and plowshares. Taylor, M. D. (Je '72)
- Sylvanus G. Morley and the world of the ancient Mayas. Brunhouse, R. L. (Ag '72)
- Symbol sourcebook. Dreyfuss, H. (Ag '72)
- Symbolism
 Julian, P. Dreamers of decadence. (Mr '72)
 Loevgren, S. Genesis of modernism [rev ed]. (Ap '72)
 Reichel-Dolmatoff, G. Amazonian cosmos. (Ap '72)
- Syndicalism
 Sarti, R. Fascism and the industrial leadership in Italy, 1919-1940. (Ag '72)
 Stearns, P. N. Revolutionary syndicalism and French labor: a cause without rebels. (Ag '72)
- Synge, John Millington
 Skelton, R. J. M. Synge and his world. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Synge, J. M. Letters to Molly. (Mr '72)
- Synthetic food. Pyke, M. (My '72)
- Syrian Christians in Muslim society. Haddad, R. M. (My '72)
- Systems analysis
 Churchman, C. W. Design of inquiring systems: basic concepts of systems and organization. (Ag '72)
 Laszlo, E. Systems view of the world. (Ag '72)
 Rosenbloom, R. S. New tools for urban management. (Ag '72)
 Schon, D. A. Beyond the stable state. (Ap '72)
- Systems view of the world. Laszlo, E. (Ag '72)
- T. S. Eliot: a memoir. Sencourt, R. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- T. S. Eliot: poems in the making. Patterson, G. (Je '72)
- T. S. Eliot's social criticism. Kojecky, R. (My '72)
- Tablets I-XV. Schwerner, A. (S '72)
- Tabor, Pauline
 Tabor, P. Pauline's. (Je '72)
- Taft, William Howard
 Haley, P. E. Revolution and intervention: the diplomacy of Taft and Wilson with Mexico, 1910-1917. (Mr '72)
 Scholes, W. V. Foreign policies of the Taft administration. (Mr '72)
- Tailoring of Melville's White-jacket. Vincent, H. P. (Ap '72)
- Taiping rebellion, 1850-1864. See China—History—Taiping rebellion, 1850-1864
- Taiping rebellion, v2-3. Michael, F. (Ag '72)
- Taiwan
 Commercial policy
 Power, J. H. Philippines: industrialization and trade policies. (Ag '72)
 Economic policy
 Power, J. H. Philippines: industrialization and trade policies. (Ag '72)
 Politics and government
 Wilson, R. W. Learning to be Chinese: the political socialization of children in Taiwan. (Mr '72)
- Taiwan: industrialization and trade policies. Hsing, M. H. (With Power, J. H. The Philippines: industrialization and trade policies). (Ag '72)
- Take today: the executive as dropout. McLuhan, M. (Ag '72)
- Takeover bid. Gainham, S. (Ap '72)
- Tale of tales: the Beatrix Potter ballet. Godden, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Tale of three cities. Roth, E. (Je '72)
- Talent. See Genius
- Talent and genius. Eissler, K. R. (My '72)
- Tales of adventure [Univ. of Va. ed]. Crane, S. (My '72)
- Tales of Mogho. Guirma, F. (My '72)
- Tales of war [Univ. of Va. ed]. Crane, S. (My '72)
- Talking to myself. Bailey, P. (Je '72)
- Talking with animals. Cohen, D. (S '72)
- Talks with Emerson. Woodbury, C. J. (Ap '72)
- Tall candle. Moisés, R. (Ap '72)
- Tamarind book of lithography: art & techniques. Antreasian, G. Z. (Ap '72)
- Tammany. Mushkat, J. (S '72)
- Tammany Hall
 Mushkat, J. Tammany. (S '72)
- Tandon, Prakash
 Tandon, P. Beyond Punjab, 1937-1960. (Ag '72)
- Tanganyika
 Politics and government
 Heussler, R. British Tanganyika. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Tangier buzzless flies. Hopkins, J. (Ag '72)
- Tanzania
 Gulliver, P. H. Neighbours and networks. (Ag '72)
 Smith, W. E. We must run while they walk. (Ap '72)
 See also
 Tanganyika
- Politics and government
 Liebenow, J. Colonial rule and political development in Tanzania. (Ag '72)
 Maguire, G. A. Toward Uhuru in Tanzania. (Je '72)
- Taos Indians
 Juvenile literature
 Wood, N. Hollering sun. (N '72)
- Tape recorders. See Magnetic recorders and recording
- Tapioca for tea. Eng title of: A village girl. Shears, S. (My '72)
- Tariff
 Curtis, T. B. Kennedy Round and the future of American trade. (D '72)
- Tarzan alive. Farmer, P. J. (N '72)
- Task of universities in a changing world. (Mr '72)
- Tasmania
 Forsyth, W. D. Governor Arthur's convict system. (My '72)
- Tate, Allen
 Squires, R., ed. Allen Tate and his work. (D '72)
- The Tatler (periodical)
 Bond, R. P. Tatler. (Ag '72)
- Tatler. Bond, R. P. (Ag '72)
- Tausk, Victor
 Eissler, K. R. Talent and genius. (My '72)

Taxation

See also
Value-added tax

United States

Thurow, L. C. Impact of taxes on the American economy. (Ap '72)

Taxi. Leduc, V. (O '72)

Taylor, Maxwell D.

Taylor, M. D. Swords and plowshares. (Je '72)

Teachers

Culbertson, M. May I speak? (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Halsey, A. H. British academics. (Ap '72)

McPherson, G. H. Small town teacher. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Teachers and power. Braun, R. J. (S '72)

Teaching

Breechhold, H. F. Creative classroom. (Ap '72)

Nyberg, D. Tough and tender learning. (Mr '72)

Personal narratives

Ashton-Warner, S. Spearpoint. (N '72)

Teaching, Freedom of. See Academic freedom

Teaching as a profession

Corwin, R. G. Militant professionalism. (My '72)

Teaching of Artur Schnabel. Wolff, K. (S '72)

Technical assistance

Sutton, A. C. Western technology and Soviet economic development, 1930 to 1945, v2. (S '72)

Technical services manual for small libraries.

Corbin, J. B. (Ag '72)

Technology

Ordway, F. I. Dividends from space. (S '72)

Dictionaries

Macura, P. Russian-English dictionary of electrotechnology and allied sciences. (Mr '72)

History

Breuer, H. Columbus was Chinese. (D '72)

Juvenile literature

Kaufman, J. What makes it go? What makes it work? What makes it fly? What makes it float? (S '72)

Technology and civilization

Clarke, A. C. Report on planet three and other speculations. (My '72)

Commoner, B. Closing circle. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Ettinger, R. C. W. Man into superman. (D '72)

Goody, J. Technology, tradition, and the state in Africa. (O '72)

Kuhns, W. Post-industrial prophets. (Ap '72)

Leeuwen, A. T. van. Development through revolution. (Mr '72)

Leiss, W. Domination of nature. (O '72)

McLuhan, M. Take today: the executive dropout. (Ag '72)

Pepinsky, H. B., ed. People and information. (S '72)

Piel, G. Acceleration of history. (S '72)

Roszak, T. Where the wasteland ends. (N '72)

Urban, G. R., ed. Can we survive our future? (D '72)

Vickers, G. Freedom in a rocking boat. (S '72)

Technology, tradition, and the state in Africa.

Goody, J. (O '72)

Teeth

Garfield, S. Teeth, teeth, teeth. (Ap '72)

Teeth, teeth, teeth. Garfield, S. (Ap '72)

Teilhard de Chardin, Pierre

Lubac, H. de. Eternal feminine. (Ap '72)

Zaehner, R. C. Evolution in religion: a study in Sri Aurobindo and Pierre Teilhard de Chardin. (Je '72)

Telecommunication

Borchardt, K. Structure and performance of the U.S. communications industry. (Ap '72)

Maddox, B. Beyond Babel. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Martin, J. Future developments in telecommunications. (Ap '72)

Television*Laws and regulations

Emery, W. B. Broadcasting and government: responsibilities and regulations [rev ed]. (My '72)

Production and direction

Cantor, M. G. Hollywood TV producer. (Je '72)

Television, Cable. See Community antenna television

Television broadcasting

Cantor, M. G. Hollywood TV producer. (Je '72)

Efron, E. News twisters. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Green, T. Universal eye. (S '72)

Mayer, M. About television. (S '72)

See also

Community antenna television

Television in politics

Michelson, S. Electric mirror. (S '72)

Television plays

Goodlad, J. S. R. Sociology of popular drama. (N '72)

Temperance

Harrison, B. Drink and the Victorians. (My '72)

Temperature*Juvenile literature

Balestrino, P. Hot as an ice cube. (Mr '72)

Temple of Dendur. Kelen, E. (Ag '72)

Ten lives of the Buddha. Wray, E. (D '72)

Ten versions of America. Nelson, G. B. (Ag '72)

Tenants. Malamud, B. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Tennis

Danzig, A., ed. Fireside book of tennis. (D '72)

Jones, C. M. Match-winning tennis. (Ap '72)

Laver, R. Education of a tennis player. (Mr '72)

McPhee, J. Wimbledon: a celebration. (S '72)

Biography*Juvenile literature

Higdon, H. Champions of the tennis court. (Mr '72)

Dictionaries

United States lawn tennis association. Official encyclopedia of tennis. (D '72)

Tennyson, Alfred, Lord

Dyson, H. Dear and honored Lady. (Mr '72)

Ricks, C. Tennyson. (N '72)

Tension structures

Roland, C. Frei Otto: tension structures. (Mr '72)

Tenth good thing about Barney. Vlorst, J. (Ag '72)

Tents of Jacob. Patal, R. (Ap '72)

Terminal iron works: the sculpture of David Smith. Krauss, R. E. (Ag '72)

Terminal man. Crichton, M. (Ag '72)

Territory of Michigan [1805-1837]. Gilpin, A. R. (S '72)

Terrorism

Moss, R. War for the cities. (N '72)

Tertullian (Quintus Septimus Florens Tertullianus)

Barnes, T. D. Tertullian. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Testing Freudian concepts. Sarnoff, I. (Ap '72)

Tetons and the Yellowstone. Adams, A. (Ap '72)

Texas*History

Almaráz, F. D. Tragic cavalier. (N '72)

Barr, A. Reconstruction to reform: Texas politics, 1876-1906. (S '72)

Merk, F. Fruits of propaganda in the Tyler administration. (Mr '72)

Weems, J. E. Dream of empire. (Ag '72)

Politics and government

Barr, A. Reconstruction to reform: Texas politics, 1876-1906. (S '72)

Katz, H. Shadow on the Alamo. (D '72)

Nimmo, D. Texas political system. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Public lands*History

Miller, T. L. Public lands of Texas, 1519-1970. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Texas political system. Nimmo, D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Textile industry and fabrics*Juvenile literature

Shepherd, W. Textiles. (D '72)

Textiles. Shepherd, W. (D '72)

Thailand*Economic conditions

Van Roy, E. Economic systems of Northern Thailand. (N '72)

Thanksgiving. Jordan, R. (O '72)

That Greece might still be free. St. Clair, W. (S '72)

That most distressful nation. Greeley, A. M. (N '72)

Theater

McCrindle, J. F., ed. Behind the scenes. (S '72)
 Roberts, V. M. Nature of theatre. (Ag '72)
 Webster, M. Don't put your daughter on the stage. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
See also
 Open theatre (Group)

History

Cheney, S. Theatre [rev ed]. (D '72)
 Geisinger, M. Plays, players, & playwrights. (My '72)
 Houghton, N. Exploding stage. (Ag '72)

Little Theater movement

Elsom, J. Theatre outside London. (My '72)

Production and direction

Dukore, B. F. Bernard Shaw, director. (My '72)
 Jacobs, S. On stage. (S '72)
 Rossi, A. Minneapolis rehearsals: Tyrone Guthrie directs Hamlet. (Je '72)
 Theatrical manager in England and America. (Ag '72)

Denmark

Marker, F. J. Hans Christian Andersen and the romantic theatre. (D '72)

England

Bibliography

Stratman, C. J., ed. Restoration and eighteenth century theatre research. (D '72)

History

Bentley, G. E. Profession of dramatist in Shakespeare's time, 1590-1642. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

France

Henderson, J. A. First avant-garde, 1837-1894. (D '72)

Great Britain

Elsom, J. Theatre outside London. (My '72)
 Rowell, G., comp. Victorian dramatic criticism. (Ag '72)

History

Hayman, R. John Gielgud. (Ap '72)
 King, T. J. Shakespearean staging, 1599-1642. (Ap '72)

Ireland

History

Theatre and nationalism in twentieth-century Ireland. (My '72)

London

Allen, S. S. Samuel Phelps and Sadler's Wells Theatre. (Ap '72)

New York (City)

Greenberger, H. Off-Broadway experience. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

United States

Behrman, S. N. People in a diary. (S '72)
 Booth, E. Between actor and critic. (Mr '72)
 Davis, C. Producer. (My '72)
 Kerr, W. God on the gymnasium floor. (Ap '72)
 Little, S. W. Off-Broadway: the prophetic theater. (S '72)
 Teichmann, H. George S. Kaufman: an intimate portrait. (S '72)

History

Houseman, J. Run-through. (My '72)
 Theatre [rev ed]. Cheney, S. (D '72)
 Theatre and nationalism in twentieth-century Ireland. (My '72)
 Theater in my head. Chelfetz, D. (Ap '72)
 Theater management
 Theatrical manager in England and America. (Ag '72)
 Theatre of Albert Camus. Freeman, E. (Mr '72)
 Theatre outside London. Elsom, J. (My '72)
 Theaters

Stage setting and scenery

Burian, J. Scenography of Josef Svoboda. (Ag '72)
 King, T. J. Shakespearean staging, 1599-1642. (Ap '72)
 Theatrical manager in England and America. (Ag '72)
 Their solitary way. Foster, S. (D '72)

Theism

Owen, H. P. Concepts of deity. (My '72)
 Theme and variations. Menuhin, Y. (O '72)
 Themes of Islamic civilization. Williams, J. A., ed. (Ap '72)
 Theological position. Coover, R. (S '72)

Theology

Eberhard, K. D. Alienated Christian. (Ap '72)
 Future of our religious past. (S '72)
 Holland, D., ed. Sermons in American history. (Ap '72)
 Idinopulos, T. A. Erosion of faith. (My '72)
 MacQuarrie, J. Faith of the people of God. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Moltmann, J. Theology of play. (D '72)
 Mooney, C. F. Making of man. (O '72)
 Sontag, F. American religious experience. (Ag '72)
 Teilhard de Chardin, P. Christianity and evolution. (Mr '72)
 Vajta, V., ed. Gospel and unity. (Ag '72)
 Zahrt, H. What kind of God? (My '72)

Theology, Pastoral. See Pastoral work

Theology of play. Moltmann, J. (D '72)

Theory and practice of modern guerrilla warfare. Singh, B. (N '72)

Theory and practice of neutrality in the twentieth century. Ogley, R. (Je '72)

Theory of economic integration for developing countries. Andic, F. (N '72)

Theory of justice. Rawls, J. (Je '72)

Theory of moral incentives in Cuba. Bernardo, R. M. (My '72)

Theory of organisations. Silverman, D. (S '72)

Theory of public choice. Buchanan, J. M., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Theory of the novel. Lukács, G. (D '72)

Therapeutic communication with children. Gardner, R. A. (My '72)

Therapeutic consultations in child psychiatry. Winnicott, D. W. (Je '72)

Therapeutics

Palos, S. Chinese art of healing. (Ap '72)

Therapy in music for handicapped children. Nordoff, P. (N '72)

There are men too gentle to live among wolves. Kavanaugh, J. (My '72)

There's a seal in my sleeping bag. Hancock, L. (O '72)

Thermodynamics

Cardwell, D. S. L. From Watt to Clausius. (My '72)

These lonely victories. West, E. (N '72)

They sought a country. Sawatsky, H. L. (Ag '72)

"They'll cut off your project." Perry, H. (N '72)

Thicket of spring. Bowles, P. (Ag '72)

Things themselves. Price, R. (S '72)

Things to come. Kahn, H. (Ag '72)

Think tanks. Dickson, P. (Ap '72)

Thinking girl. Meacock, N. (My '72)

Third House. Vogler, D. J. (Je '72)

Third life of Grange Copeland. Walker, A. (Ag '72)

Third World voices for children. McDowell, R. E., ed. (Je '72)

Third year of the Nixon watch. Osborne, J. (Ag '72)

Thirty years on. Posner, R. (In Jordan, I. An introduction to Romance linguistics). (Ap '72)

Thirty Years' War, 1618-1648

Polišenský, J. V. Thirty years war. (S '72)

Thirty years war. Polišenský, J. V. (S '72)

This bright land. Atkinson, B. (Je '72)

This deadly grief. Power, P. (O '72)

This is a recording. Corcoran, B. (Ap '72)

This mysterious river. Ellis, M. (O '72)

This sacred trust. Nagel, P. C. (1971, 1972 Annual)

This suitcase is going to explode. Ardies, T. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

This way out. Coyne, J. (N '72)

Thistle and the rose. Chapman, H. W. (Ap '72)

Thomas Aquinas, Saint

Loneragan, B. J. F. Grace and freedom. (Ap '72)

Thomas, Dylan

Bibliography

Maud, R. Dylan Thomas in print. (My '72)

Thomas, Earl of Lancaster

Maddicott, J. R. Thomas of Lancaster, 1307-1322. (S '72)

Thomas, Piri

Thomas, P. Savior, Savior, hold my hand. (N '72)

Thomas of Lancaster, 1307-1322. Maddicott, J. R. (S '72)

Thomas Wolfe and the glass of time. (Ag '72)

Thomson, Elihu

Thomson, E. Selections from the scientific correspondence of Elihu Thomson. (Ag '72)

Thoreau, Henry David

Henry David Thoreau: studies and commentaries. (N '72)

Timpe, E. F., ed. Thoreau abroad. (Je '72)

Bibliography

Harding, W., ed. Bibliography of the Thoreau Society Bulletin bibliographies, 1941-1969. (My '72)

Juvenile literature

Stern, P. Van D. Henry David Thoreau. (S '72)

Thoreau abroad. Timpe, E. F., ed. (Je '72)

Those damned rebels. Pearson, M. (Je '72)

Thought and thinking

Cultural context of learning and thinking. (S '72)

Fuller, R. B. Intuition. (S '72)

Pearce, J. C. Crack in the cosmic egg. (My '72)

Thought of Karl Marx. McLellan, D. (N '72)

Thoughts on design (rev ed). Rand, P. (My '72)

Thousand and one delights. Barbour, A. G. (Mr '72)

Thousands of years. Wilson, J. A. (D '72)

Three bags full. Young, P. (Je '72)

Three days and a child. Yehoshua, A. B. (O '72)

365 days. Glasser, R. J. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Three hundred year war. Douglas, W. O. (D '72)

Three medieval rhetorical arts. Murphy, J. J., ed. (My '72)

Three minutes to midnight. Davis, M. (Ap '72)

Three poems. Ashbery, J. (Je '72)

Three popes and the cardinal. Martin, M. (Je '72)

Three styles in the study of kinship. Barnes, J. A. (Ag '72)

Three wogs. Theroux, A. (S '72)

Three worlds of economics. Reynolds, L. G. (Ag '72)

Thrice shy. Gwaltney, J. L. (Je '72)

Thurber, James

Holmes, C. S. Clocks of Columbus. (Ja '73)

(1972 Annual)

Tiberius, Emperor of Rome

Seager, R. Tiberius. (S '72)

Tiberius. Seager, R. (S '72)

Tibet

Woodcock, G. Into Tibet. (Ap '72)

Ticket-splitter. De Vries, W. (Je '72)

Tie-&-dye made easy. Maile, A. (Ag '72)

Tied up in tinsel. Marsh, N. (S '72)

Tiepolo, Giovanni Battista

Rizzi, A. Etchings of the Tiepolos. (S '72)

Tiepolo, Giovanni Domenico

Rizzi, A. Etchings of the Tiepolos. (S '72)

Tiepolo, Lorenzo Baldissera

Rizzi, A. Etchings of the Tiepolos. (S '72)

Tiffany, Louis Comfort

Koch, R. Louis C. Tiffany's glass-bronze-lamps. (My '72)

Tiger's daughter. Mukherjee, B. (Ap '72)

Tigers

Stories

Kraus, R. Leo the late bloomer. (Je '72)

Tight white collar. L'Heureux, J. (Je '72)

Tikopians

Firth, R. Rank and religion in Tikopia. (Ap '72)

Tilden, Samuel Jones

Juvenile literature

Vaughan, H. C. Hayes-Tilden election of 1876. (D '72)

Tiles

Gaunt, W. William De Morgan: Pre-Raphaelite ceramics. (Mr '72)

Time

Coleman, L. Book of time. (Je '72)

Glasser, R. Time in French life and thought. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Meerloo, J. A. M. Along the fourth dimension. (Ap '72)

Sherover, C. M. Heidegger, Kant & time. (Ag '72)

Time in French life and thought. Glasser, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Time-Life encyclopedia of gardening series:

Crockett J. U. Annuals. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Crockett J. U. Bulbs. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Crockett J. U. Evergreens. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Crockett, J. U. Flowering house plants. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Crockett, J. U. Landscape gardening. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Crockett, J. U. Lawns and ground covers. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Crockett, J. U. Roses. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Time of need. Barrett, W. (O '72)

Time of rape. Chesney, I. L. (O '72)

Time of the furnaces. Anthony, E. (Mr '72)

Time to love . . . a time to die. Loewenstein, L. (Ap '72)

Time to speak, a time to act. Bond, J. (O '72)

Times in review: 1960-1969. (S '72)

Tissues

Weiss, L. Cells and tissues of the immune system. (D '72)

Titian

Wethey, H. E. Paintings of Titian, v2 [complete ed]. (Ag '72)

To die for the people. Newton, H. P. (S '72)

To die game. Evans, W. M. (N '72)

To live on earth. Brubaker, S. (S '72)

To live within. Raymond, L. (Mr '72)

To race the wind. Krents, H. (O '72)

To seize the passing dream. Berkman, T. (S '72)

To serve them all my days. Delderfield, R. F. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

To smithereens. Drexler, R. (O '72)

To start a school. Skutch, M. (S '72)

To stay alive. Levertov, D. (S '72)

To the Finland station [2d ed]. Wilson, E. (O '72)

To the Yalu. McGovern, J. (S '72)

Today is for children. Snitzer, H. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Together with the Ainu. Hilger, M. I. (Ag '72)

Tolerance and truth in religion. Mensching, G. (S '72)

Toleration

Mensching, G. Tolerance and truth in religion. (S '72)

Tolstoi, Lev Nikolaevich, Graf. See Tolstoy, Leo

Tolstoy, Leo

Bulgakov, V. F. Last year of Leo Tolstoy. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Tolstoy, I. Tolstoy, my father: reminiscences. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Tolstoy, my father: reminiscences. Tolstoy, I. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Tomb of Tutankhamen. Carter, H. (N '72)

Tomorrow's child. Alves, R. A. (O '72)

Tomorrow's tomorrow: the black woman. Ladner, J. A. (S '72)

Too few for drums. Delderfield, R. F. (Mr '72)

Too many enemies. Haggard, W. (D '72)

Toolbox. Rockwell, A. (Ag '72)

Tools

Juvenile literature

Rockwell, A. Toolbox. (Ag '72)

Tools of the old and new stone age. Bordaz, J. (Mr '72)

Topology

Juvenile literature

Froman, R. Rubber bands, baseballs and doughnuts. (N '72)

Torres, Camilo

Fiction

Hornman, W. Stones cry out. (Ap '72)

Total film-maker. Lewis, J. (Ap '72)

Total war. Calvocoressi, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Totalitarianism

Huntford, R. New totalitarians. (S '72)

Touch

Morris, D. Intimate behaviour. (My '72)

Touch the earth. McLuhan, T. C. (Mr '72)

Touchstones of reality. Friedman, M. (My '72)

Tough and tender learning. Nyberg, D. (Mr '72)

Tournal

History

Cruikshank, C. G. English occupation of Tournai, 1513-1519. (Ag '72)

Toward a critical sociology. Birnbaum, N. (My '72)

Toward a new historicism. Morris, W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Toward the image of Tammuz and other essays on Mesopotamia history and culture. Jacobsen, T. (Mr '72)

Toward Uhuru in Tanzania. Maguire, G. A. (Je '72)

Toward Women in love. Miko, S. J. (Ag '72)

Towers. Webster, D. (Ap '72)

Towers of silence. Scott, P. (My '72)

- Town defences in England and Wales. Turner, H. L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Town that launders its water. Stevens, L. A. (My '72)
- Towns in the making. Burke, G. (S '72)
- Townscape painting and drawing. Links, J. G. (O '72)
- Toxicology. See Poisons
- Toys
- History
- White, G. Antique toys and their background. (Mr '72)
- Tracking fossil man. McKern, S. S. (Ja '72)
- Tract on monetary reform; v4 of The collected writings of John Maynard Keynes. Keynes, J. M. (O '72)
- Tractat on Skepps-Byggeriet (Treatise on Shipbuilding). Selections. Chapman, F. H. af. (In his Architectura navalis mercatoria). (D '72)
- Trade and dominion: the European overseas empires in the eighteenth century. Parry, J. H. (My '72)
- Trade and empire in Western India, 1784-1806. Nightingale, P. (S '72)
- Trade and growth in the Philippines. Hicks, G. L. (Ag '72)
- Trade and investment policies for the seventies. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Tradition and reality. Rotenstreich, N. (O '72)
- Tradition and revolution. Sagarra, E. (Mr '72)
- Traditional Asian plays. Brandon, J. R., ed. (Ag '72)
- Traffic accidents
- Baker, R. F. Highway risk problem: policy issues in highway safety. (O '72)
- Tragedy
- Von Szelski, J. Tragedy and fear. (S '72)
- Tragedy and fear. Von Szelski, J. (S '72)
- Tragedy of a papal decree (in a crowded world). Subbiah, B. V. (S '72)
- Tragedy of state. Lever, J. W. (Ap '72)
- Tragic cavalier. Almaraz, F. D. (N '72)
- Train ride. Steptoe, J. (My '72)
- Training for library work (1921). Williamson, C. C. (In The Williamson reports of 1921 and 1923). (D '72)
- Training for library service (1923). Williamson, C. C. (In The Williamson reports of 1921 and 1923). (D '72)
- Trajan's column and the Dacian wars. Rossi, L. (Je '72)
- Tramps
- Bibliography
- Bahr, H. M., ed. Disaffiliated man. (Ag '72)
- Transcendental style in film: Ozu, Bresson, Dreyer. Schrader, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Transformation. Leonard, G. B. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Transformation of Palestine, Abu-Lughod, I., ed. (S '72)
- Transformation of the American economy, 1865-1914. Higgs, R. (My '72)
- Transformations. Sexton, A. (Je '72)
- Transistors and circuits. Pearce, W. E. (Mr '72)
- Transmutation (Chemistry)
- Kervran, L. C. Biological transmutations. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Transparent things. Nabokov, V. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Transplant. Moore, F. D. (My '72)
- Transplantation of organs, tissues, etc.
- Moore, F. D. Transplant. (My '72)
- Thorwald, J. Patients. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- See also
- Heart—Transplantation
- Transportation
- Buel, R. A. Dead end: the automobile in mass transportation. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Future of American transportation. (O '72)
- Lupo, A. Rites of way. (Ag '72)
- Owen, W. Accessible city. (N '72)
- Rae, J. B. Road and the car in American life. (My '72)
- History
- Schonberger, H. B. Transportation to the seaboard. (Je '72)
- Taylor, M. F. First mall West. (Mr '72)
- Juvenile literature
- Koren, E. Behind the wheel. (S '72)
- Transportation to the seaboard. Schonberger, H. B. (Je '72)
- Trautman, Kathleen
- Trautman, K. Spies behind the pillars, bandits at the pass. (Je '72)
- Traveling weatherwise in the U.S.A. Powers, E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Travels in Nihilon. Sillitoe, A. (D '72)
- Travels in the south of France. Stendhal. (Je '72)
- Travels of Captain Cook. Syme, R. (My '72)
- Treason
- Elton, G. R. Policy and police. (O '72)
- See also
- Collaborationists
- Treasure-trove. See Buried treasure
- Treasures of the Cairo museum. Terrace, E. L. B. (Ap '72)
- Treasury of great humor. Untermeyer, L. (O '72)
- Treasury of humor. Asimov, I. (O '72)
- Treatise on money: the applied theory of money; v6 of The collected writings of John Maynard Keynes. Keynes, J. M. (O '72)
- Treatise on money: the pure theory of money; v5 of The collected writings of John Maynard Keynes. Keynes, J. M. (O '72)
- Tree of hate. Powell, P. W. (O '72)
- Tree of light. Yarden, L. (S '72)
- Tree where man was born, the African experience. Matthiessen, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Treehouse. Morrison, J. (N '72)
- Triage. Lewin, L. C. (S '72)
- Trial of Christopher Okigbo. Mazrui, A. A. (N '72)
- Trials
- Bailey, F. L. Defense never rests. (Mr '72)
- Chevigny, P. Cops and rebels. (O '72)
- Cooper, W. Brothers. (Je '72)
- Czechoslovak political trials, 1950-1954. (Ag '72)
- Frankel, S. Beyond a reasonable doubt. (Ap '72)
- Gorbanevskaya, N. Red Square at noon. (S '72)
- Heins, M. Strictly ghetto property. (O '72)
- Houts, M. King's X. (N '72)
- Perry, H. D. Chair for Wayne Lonergan. (My '72)
- Pollack, J. H. Dr. Sam. (S '72)
- Rosen, B., ed. Witchcraft. (Je '72)
- Schultz, J. Motion will be denied: a new report on the Chicago conspiracy trial. (My '72)
- Stringfellow, W. Suspect tenderness. (My '72)
- Triangle Shirtwaist Company, inc., New York
- Fire, 1911
- Juvenile literature
- Naden, C. J. Triangle Shirtwaist fire, March 25, 1911. (My '72)
- Triangle Shirtwaist fire, March 25, 1911. Naden, C. J. (My '72)
- Tricks of the trade. Fish, R. L. (Ag '72)
- Tricycles. See Bicycles and bicycling
- Trinidad and Tobago
- Williams, E. Inward hunger. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Politics and government
- Malik, Y. K. East Indians in Trinidad. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Trionfi. Petrarch, F. See Petrarch, F. Lord Morley's Triumphes of Fraunces Petrarche. (D '72)
- Trollope, Anthony
- ApRoberts, R. Moral Trollope. (Ag '72)
- Pope-Hennessy, J. Anthony Trollope. (Je '72)
- Skilton, D. Anthony Trollope and his contemporaries. (D '72)
- Tropical detective story. Mungo, R. (D '72)
- Tropical Queensland. Breeden, S. (Ag '72)
- Trotsky, Leon
- Weiss, P. Trotsky in exile. (Ag '72)
- Trotsky in exile. Weiss, P. (Ag '72)
- Trouble at the top. Flood, C. B. (S '72)
- Trouble with Francis. Francis, R. (Mr '72)
- Troubleshooter. Dodge, D. (My '72)
- Trout fishing
- Brooks, J. Trout fishing. (D '72)
- Trudeau, Pierre Elliott
- Stewart, W. Trudeau in power. (Ap '72)
- Trudeau in power. Stewart, W. (Ap '72)
- True history of the first Mrs. Meredith and other lesser lives. Johnson, D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Truman, Harry S., President U.S.
- Freeland, R. M. Truman doctrine and the origins of McCarthyism. (Ap '72)
- Hartmann, S. M. Truman and the 80th Congress. (My '72)
- Truman and the 80th Congress. Hartman, S. M. (My '72)
- Truman doctrine and the origins of McCarthyism. Freeland, R. M. (Ap '72)

Trusts, Industrial

- Blair, J. M. Ecosomic concentration. (N '72)
 Brown, S. H. Ling. (N '72)
 Closed enterprise system. (Ag '72)
 Jones, R. Anatomy of a merger. (My '72)
 Vice, A. Strategy of takeovers. (N '72)
 Truth about them. Yglesias, J. (My '72)
 Truth and untruth. McCloskey, P. N. (My '72)
 Trying to come apart. Den Boer, J. (My '72)
 Tucson murders. Gilmore, J. (D '72)
 Tudor tapestry. Wilson, D. (N '72)
 Tudor verse satire. Gransden, K. W., ed. (Ap '72)

Tukano Indians

- Reichel-Dolmatoff, G. Amazonian cosmos. (Ap '72)

Tuna cookbook. Metcalf, S. (Ap '72)Tunnel of Hugsy Goode. Estes, E. (Ag '72)Turkey

- Mango, A. Discovering Turkey. (S '72)

Foreign relations

- Vali, F. A. Bridge across the Bosphorus. (1971, 1972 Annual)

United States

- Trask, R. R. United States response to Turkish nationalism and reform, 1914-1939. (Je '72)

Geography

- Dewdney, J. C. Turkey. (S '72)

History

- Shaw, S. J. Between old and new. (Ag '72)
 Turkey beyond the Maeander. Bean, G. E. (S '72)
 Turkish art and architecture. Aslanapa, O. (Je '72)
 Turner, Nat
 Tragle, H. I. Southampton slave revolt of 1831. (My '72)
 Turning-point of socialism. Eng title of: Crisis in communism: the turning-point of socialism. Garaudy, R. (D '72)
 Turning to look back. Woods, J. (S '72)
 Tutenkhamun, King of Egypt
 Carter, H. Tomb of Tutankhamen. (N '72)

- Twain, Mark. See Clemens, S. L.
 Twelfth mile. Perrault, E. G. (D '72)
 Twelve great black cats, and other eerie Scottish tales. Nic Leodhas, S. (Ap '72)
 12, 20 & 5. Parrish, J. A. (S '72)
 Twelve works of naïve genius. Teller, W., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Twentieth century

- Bullock, A., ed. Twentieth century. (Ap '72)
 Twentieth-century American foreign policy. Braeman, J., ed. (S '72)
 Twentieth-century Chinese stories. Hsia, C. T., ed. (O '72)
 Twentieth-century composers, v 1. (Mr '72)
 Twentieth-century composers, v2. (Mr '72)
 Twentieth-century graphics. Adhémar, J. (Ag '72)
 Twentieth-century views of music history. Hays W. ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Twentieth century woodcuts. Laliberte, N. (S '72)
 Twenty-minute fandangos. Eisen, J. (Mr '72)
 21 kinds of American folk art and how to make each one. Kinney, J. (O '72)
 Twenty years of silents, 1908-1928. Weaver, J. T., comp. (O '72)
 Twice around the clock. Sala, G. A. H. (My '72)
 Twice over lightly. Hayes, H. (D '72)
 Twilight of the animal kingdom. Harris, L. (D '72)

Twin Cities metropolitan area*Politics and government

- Baldinger, S. Planning and governing the metropolis. (Mr '72)
 Two. Moravia, A. (Ag '72)
 Two, four, six, eight, when you gonna integrate? Petroni, F. A. (Mr '72)
 Two gentlemen to see you, Sir. Carasov, V. (Mr '72)
 Two hours on Sunday. Pillitteri, J. (Mr '72)
 200,000,000 years beneath the sea. Briggs, P. (Ap '72)
 Two hundred poems from the Greek anthology. Skelton, R. comp. & tr. (Ag '72)
 Two planets. Lasswitz, K. (Ag '72)
 Two-way traffic. Lieber, J. (Ag '72)
 Two worlds of Jim Yoshida. Yoshida, J. (N '72)
 Tyler, John
 Merk, F. Fruits of propaganda in the Tyler administration. (Mr '72)

Type and type-founding

- Johnson, A. F. Selected essays on books and printing. (Ap '72)
 Types of religious culture; v5 of Sociology of religion. Stark, W. (D '72)
 Typewriter revolution & other poems. Enright, D. J. (Ap '72)
 Tyrone Guthrie Theatre, Minneapolis
 Rossi, A. Minneapolis rehearsals: Tyrone Guthrie directs Hamlet. (Je '72)

UAW in pictures. Pflug, W. (Mr '72)UFO. See Flying saucers

- UFO experience. Hynek, J. A. (N '72)
 U.S. troops in Europe. Newhouse, J. (O '72)
 Uganda quest. Neal, E. (Ap '72)
 Ulysses on the Lifeey. Ellmann, R. (Ag '72)
 (Incensored Russia. Reddaway, P. (Je '72)
 Uncertain glory. Ness, F. W. (Ap '72)
 Uncommon sense. Burns, J. M. (Ap '72)
 Uncoupling. Sheresky, N. (N '72)
 Uncrowned queen: life of Lola Montez. Ross, I. (Ag '72)

Under the guns. Bliven, B. (D '72)Under two masters. Bonarjee, N. B. (My '72)Underachievers

- Moore, W. Against the odds. (Ap '72)

Underdeveloped areas

- Andic, F. Theory of economic integration for developing countries. (N '72)
 Beckford, G. L. Persistent poverty. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Brunner, R. D. Organized complexity. (O '72)
 Chenery, H. B., ed. Studies in development planning. (D '72)
 Friedmann, W. G. Joint international business ventures in developing countries. (Ap '72)
 Ginzberg, E. Manpower for development. (Mr '72)
 Hodges, D. C., ed. NLF: national liberation fronts, 1960/1970. (N '72)
 Jacoby, E. H. Man and land. (D '72)
 Kautsky, J. H. Political consequences of modernization. (O '72)
 Laurentin, R. Liberation, development, and salvation. (O '72)
 Reynolds, L. G. Three worlds of economics. (Ag '72)
 Rhodes, R. I., ed. Imperialism and underdevelopment: a reader. (S '72)
 Robinson, R., ed. Developing the third world: the experience of the nineteen-sixties. (D '72)

Underground press

- Leamer, L. Paper revolutionaries. (N '72)

Understanding everyday life. Douglas, J. D. (Mr '72)Understanding history. Novack, G. (D '72)Understanding Piaget. Pulaski, M. A. S. (My '72)Underwater archeology. See ArcheologyUnderwater exploration

- Flemming, N. C. Cities in the sea. (My '72)
 Underwater war. Gray, E. (N '72)

Unemployed

- Jahoda, M. Marienthal. (My '72)
 Unequal exchange. Emmanuel, A. (Ag '72)
 Unfinished rebellions. Pentony, D. (S '72)

Ungerer, Tomi

- Ungerer, T. Poster art of Tomi Ungerer. (N '72)

Unification of Greece 1770-1923. Dakin, D. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)Union College, Schenectady

- Hislop, C. Eliphalet Nott. (D '72)

Union of Democratic Control

- Swartz, M. Union of Democratic Control in British politics during the first World War. (Mr '72)

Union of Democratic Control in British politics during the first World War. Swartz, M. (Mr '72)Union Pacific country. Athearn, R. G. (Je '72)Union Pacific Railroad

- Athearn, R. G. Union Pacific country. (Je '72)

Unions and the cities. Wellington, H. H. (My '72)Unions, parties and political development. Bates, R. H. (S '72)"Unite or die." Ward, H. M. (Ap '72)United Automobile, Aerospace, and Agricultural Implement Workers of America

- Pflug, W. UAW in pictures. (Mr '72)

United Mine Workers of America

- Hume, B. Death and the mines. (Mr '72)

United Nations

- Elkordy, A.-H. M. Crisis of diplomacy: the three wars . . . and after. (My '72)
 Gordenker, L., ed. United Nations in international politics. (Ap '72)
 Weng, B. S. J. Peking's UN policy. (S '72)

Armed Forces

- Boyd, J. M. United Nations peace-keeping operations: a military and political appraisal. (Mr '72)
 Harbottle, M. Blue Berets. (Je '72)
 Luard, E., ed. International regulation of civil wars. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

History

- Robins, D. B. Experiment in democracy. (My '72)

Juvenile literature

- Larsen, P. United Nations at work throughout the world. (Ap '72)
 United Nations at work throughout the world. Larsen, P. (Ap '72)
 United Nations in international politics. Gordenker, L., ed. (Ap '72)

- United Nations peace-keeping operations: a military and political appraisal. Boyd, J. M. (Mr '72)

United Papermakers and Paperworkers

- Graham, H. E. Paper rebellion. (My '72)
 United Society for the Propagation of the Gospel
 Calam, J. Parsons and pedagogues. (Ap '72)

United States*Antiquities

- McGimsey, C. R. Public archeology. (D '72)

Appropriations and expenditures

- Russett, B. M. What price vigilance? The burdens of national defense. (Ap '72)

Armed Forces

- Armed services and society. (Je '72)
 Moskos, C. C., ed. Public opinion and the military establishment. (My '72)
 Rivkin, R. S. GI rights and army justice. (Ap '72)

Negroes

- Fowler, A. L. Black infantry in the West, 1869-1891. (My '72)

Biography

- Acton, J. Mug shots. (O '72)
 Myers, R. M., ed. Children of pride. (Ag '72)
 Viorst, M. Hustlers and heroes. (Mr '72)

Church history

- Calam, J. Parsons and pedagogues. (Ap '72)
 Handy, R. T. Christian America. (Ap '72)
 Hofstadter, R. America at 1750. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Holland, D., ed. Sermons in American history. (Ap '72)
 Kelley, D. M. Why conservative churches are growing. (O '72)

Civilization

- Baker, R. Poor Russell's almanac. (Ap '72)
 Buckley, W. F. Inveighing we will go. (D '72)
 Burns, J. M. Uncommon sense. (Ap '72)
 Butcher, M. J. Negro in American culture. [2d ed.] (D '72)
 Demos, J., ed. Remarkable providences, 1600-1760. (Ag '72)
 Downs, R. B. Famous American books. (S '72)
 Gecan, M., ed. Seen through our eyes. (Je '72)
 Hsu, F. L. K. Americans and Chinese. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Huber, R. M. American idea of success. (My '72)
 Kammen, M. People of paradox. (D '72)
 Katzman, A., ed. Our time. (Je '72)
 Kristol, I. On the democratic idea in America. (S '72)
 Marias, J. America in the fifties and sixties: Julián Marias on the United States. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Muller, H. J. In pursuit of relevance. (Mr '72)
 Mussulman, J. A. Music in the cultured generation. (S '72)
 Nagel, P. C. This sacred trust. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Napier, B. D. On new creation. (Mr '72)
 O'Neill, W. L. Coming apart. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Rosenberg, B., ed. Mass culture revisited. (O '72)
 Wood, G. S. Rising glory of America, 1760-1820. (Mr '72)

20th century

- Nelson, G. B. Ten versions of America. (Ag '72)

Climate

- Powers, E. Traveling weatherwise in the U.S.A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Commerce

- Curtis, T. B. Kennedy Round and the future of American trade. (D '72)
 Douglass, E. P. Coming of age of American business. (Ag '72)
 Kraus, A. L. New York Times guide to business and finance. (D '72)
 Porter, G. Merchants and manufacturers. (N '72)

History

- Bhagat, G. Americans in India, 1784-1860. (S '72)

Commercial policy

- Evans, J. W. Kennedy round in American trade policy. (N '72)
 Wilson, J. H. American business & foreign policy, 1920-1933. (My '72)

Constitutional history

- Anastaplo, G. Constitutionalist: notes on the First amendment. (My '72)
 Garvey, G. Constitutional bricolage. (My '72)
 Murphy, P. L. Constitution in crisis times, 1918-1969. (Ag '72)
 Warren, E. Republic, if you can keep it. (O '72)
 Wiecek, W. M. Guarantee clause of the U.S. Constitution. (O '72)

Constitutional law

- McClellan, J. Joseph Story and the American Constitution. (My '72)

Defenses

- Coffey, J. I. Strategic power and national security. (Ag '72)
 Members of Congress for peace through law. Military spending committee. Economics of defense. (O '72)
 Russett, B. M. What price vigilance? The burdens of national defense. (Ap '72)

Description and travel

- Cole, M. Checking it out. (Je '72)
 Mungo, R. Between two moons. (N '72)
 Thompson, H. Y. Englishman in the American Civil War. (O '72)

Guide books

- Franke, D. Safe places. (Ag '72)
 Hayes, B. Black American travel guide. (Ag '72)
 Powers, E. Traveling weatherwise in the U.S.A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Diplomatic and consular service

- Campbell, J. F. Foreign affairs fudge factory. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Economic conditions

- Chaudhuri, K. N., ed. Economic development of India under the East India company, 1814-58. (Ag '72)
 Cochran, T. C. Business in American life. (O '72)
 Davis, L. E. Institutional change and American economic growth. (Ag '72)
 Douglass, E. P. Coming of age of American business. (Ag '72)
 Estall, R. Modern geography of the United States. (D '72)
 Gilbert, J. Designing the industrial state. (Ag '72)
 Higgs, R. Transformation of the American economy, 1865-1914. (My '72)
 Knapp, P. Berengaria exchange. (My '72)
 Newfield, J. Populist manifesto. (Je '72)
 Parker, R. Myth of the middle class. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Peirce, N. R. Megastates of America. (Je '72)

1865-1898

- Hoffman, C. Depression of the nineties. (Mr '72)

1865-1898—Juvenile literature

- Latham, F. B. Panic of 1893. (My '72)

1898-1919

- Hoffman, C. Depression of the nineties. (Mr '72)

1961-

- Macrae, N. Neurotic trillionaire. (Ap '72)
 Thurow, L. C. Impact of taxes on the American economy. (Ap '72)

United States—Continued*Economic policy

- Brown, S. C. Scientific manpower. (Ap '72)
 Clayton, W. L. Selected papers of Will Clayton. (N '72)
 Grunwald, J. Latin American economic integration and U.S. policy. (D '72)
 Meigs, A. J. Money matters. (S '72)
 Miller, R. L. New economics of Richard Nixon. (Ag '72)
 Silk, L. Nixonomics. (Ag '72)
 Tishler, H. S. Self-reliance and social security, 1870-1917. (S '72)

Elections*See Elections—United States*Executive departments

- Davis, J. W. National executive branch. (S '72)
 Emmerich, H. Federal organization and administrative management. (Ap '72)

Exploring expeditions

- Hillers, J. "Photographed all the best scenery". (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Talbot, T., ed. Soldier in the West. (D '72)

Foreign opinion

- Stearn, G. E. Broken image. (Je '72)

Foreign opinion, British

- Rapson, R. L. Britons view America. (Ag '72)

Foreign population

- Weisberger, B. A. American heritage history of the American people. (My '72)

Foreign relations

- Ambrose, S. E. Rise to globalism. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Barnett, R. J. Roots of war. (Ag '72)
 Braeman, J., ed. Twentieth-century American foreign policy. (S '72)
 Braisted, W. R. United States Navy in the Pacific, 1909-1922. (Mr '72)
 Campbell, J. F. Foreign affairs fudge factory. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Clayton, W. L. Selected papers of Will Clayton. (N '72)
 Destler, I. M. Presidents, bureaucrats, and foreign policy. (N '72)
 FitzSimons, L. Kennedy doctrine. (Je '72)
 Franck, T. M. Word politics. (Ag '72)
 Graham, O. L. Great campaigns: reform and war in America, 1900-1928. (N '72)
 Hartmann, F. H. New age of American foreign policy. (My '72)
 Johnson, G. W. Imperial republic. (Ag '72)
 Johnson, R. A. Administration of United States foreign policy. (N '72)
 Julien, C. America's empire. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Klare, M. T. War without end. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Lens, S. Forging of the American empire. (Ap '72)
 O'Connor, R. G. Diplomacy for victory: FDR and unconditional surrender. (N '72)
 Paterson, T. G., ed. Cold war critics. (Je '72)
 Pell, C. Power and policy. (N '72)
 Plesur, M. America's outward thrust. (Je '72)
 Wilson, J. H. American business & foreign policy, 1920-1933. (My '72)

1945-1953

- Kolko, J. Limits of power. (Ag '72)

Treaties

- Cousins, N. Improbable triumvirate. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Asia

- Peace with China? (Ap '72)

Asia, Southeastern

- Hayden, T. Love of possession is a disease with them. (S '72)

China

- Cohen, W. I. America's response to China. (My '72)
 Davies, J. P. Dragon by the tail. (D '72)
 Fairbank, J. K. United States and China [3d ed.]. (Mr '72)
 Israel, J. Progressivism and the open door. (Ag '72)
 Tolley, K. Yangtze patrol. (N '72)

China (People's Republic of China)

- Dulles, F. R. American policy toward Communist China, 1949-1969. (Je '72)

Cuba

- Bonsal, P. W. Cuba, Castro, and the United States. (Ap '72)

Dominican Republic

- Atkins, G. P. United States and the Trujillo regime. (Ap '72)

East (Far East)

- Kalb, M. Roots of involvement. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Scholes, W. V. Foreign policies of the Taft administration. (Mr '72)

Europe

- McGeehan, R. German rearmament question. (Ag '72)
 Newhouse, J. U.S. troops in Europe. (O '72)

France

- Carroll, D. B. Henri Mercier and the American Civil War. (Ap '72)
 Hill, P. P. William Vans Murray, Federalist diplomat. (Mr '72)

Great Britain

- O'Brien, L. Fenian fever. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

India

- Bhagat, G. Americans in India, 1784-1860. (S '72)

Japan—Juvenile literature

- Icenhower, J. R. Panay incident, December 12, 1937. (S '72)

Laos

- Stevenson, C. A. End of nowhere. (Ag '72)

Latin America

- Scholes, W. V. Foreign policies of the Taft administration. (Mr '72)
 Tulchin, J. S. Aftermath of war. (S '72)
 Walton, R. J. United States and Latin America. (Ag '72)

Mexico

- Haley, P. E. Revolution and intervention: the diplomacy of Taft and Wilson with Mexico, 1910-1917. (Mr '72)
 Hanna, A. J. Napoleon III and Mexico. (Ag '72)

Near East

- Grabill, J. L. Protestant diplomacy and the Near East. (Ag '72)

Panama

- Mellander, G. A. United States in Panamanian politics. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Russia

- Allison, G. T. Essence of decision. (Je '72)
 Cousins, N. Improbable triumvirate. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Divine, R. A., ed. Cuban missile crisis. (My '72)
 Gaddis, J. L. United States and the origins of the Cold war, 1941-1947. (N '72)
 Kuklick, B. American policy and the division of Germany. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Lukas, R. C. Eagles East. (Ap '72)
 Schick, J. M. Berlin crisis, 1958-1962. (Je '72)
 Ulam, A. B. Rivals: America and Russia since World War II. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Turkey

- Trask, R. R. United States response to Turkish nationalism and reform, 1914-1939. (Je '72)

Vietnam

- Ellsberg, D. Papers on the war. (O '72)
 Halberstam, D. Best and the brightest. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Kalb, M. Roots of involvement. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Pentagon papers [Senator Gravel ed.], 4v. (My '72)

Historic houses, etc.

- American heritage. American heritage history of notable American houses. (Mr '72)
 Greiff, C. M., ed. Lost America. (Mr '72)

History

- Franklin, B. Benjamin Franklin: a biography in his own words. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Historiography

- Loewenberg, B. J. American history in American thought. (O '72)

Pictorial works

- Album of American history, 6v. (Ag '72)

Sources

Annals of America, 21v. (S '72)

Colonial period

- Frakes, G. E. Laboratory for liberty. (Mr '72)
 Hofstadter, R. America at 1750. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Jacobs, W. R. Dispossessing the American Indian. (S '72)
 Lovejoy, D. S. Glorious revolution in America. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Middlekauff, R. Mathers: three generations of Puritan intellectuals, 1596-1728. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Ward, H. M. "United or die." (Ap '72)
 Wright, J. L. Anglo-Spanish rivalry in North America. (N '72)

Colonial period—Sources

- Demos, J., ed. Remarkable providences, 1600-1760. (Ag '72)
 Nash, G. B. Class and society in early America. (My '72)

Revolution

- Bliven, B. Under the guns. (D '72)
 Brown, R. E. Carl Becker on history and the American Revolution. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Callahan, N. George Washington: soldier and man. (D '72)
 Collier, C. Roger Sherman's Connecticut. (Ap '72)
 Gruber, I. D. Howe brothers and the American revolution. (O '72)
 Higginbotham, D. War of American independence. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Miers, E. S. Crossroads of freedom. (Ag '72)
 Norton, M. B. British-Americans. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Pearson, M. Those damned rebels. (Je '72)
 Rankin, H. F. North Carolina continentals. (Mr '72)
 Smelser, M. Winning of independence. (Je '72)
 Thane, E. Fighting Quaker. (D '72)
 Wood, G. S. Rising glory of America, 1760-1820. (Mr '72)

Revolution—Causes

- Maier, P. From resistance to revolution. (O '72)

1783-1865

- Collier, C. Roger Sherman's Connecticut. (Ap '72)
 Wood, G. S. Rising glory of America, 1760-1820. (Mr '72)

War of 1812

- Bird, H. War for the West, 1790-1813. (My '72)
 Lord, W. Dawn's early light. (S '72)

1815-1861

- Davis, J. Papers of Jefferson Davis, v 1. (Je '72)

War with Mexico, 1845-1848

- Connor, S. V. North America divided. (My '72)

Civil War

- Carroll, D. B. Henri Mercier and the American Civil War. (Ap '72)
 Klein, M. Edward Porter Alexander. (N '72)
 Long, E. B. Civil War day by day. (Je '72)
 Merrill, J. M. William Tecumseh Sherman. (Ap '72)
 Mitgang, H., ed. Lincoln's long shadow. 3v. (D '72)
 Nevins, A. War for the Union, v3. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Nevins, A. War for the Union, v8. (Ap '72)
 Starr, S. Z. Colonel Grenfell's wars. (S '72)

Civil War—Campaigns and battles

- Kerby, R. L. Kirby Smith's confederacy. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Shalhope, R. E. Sterling Price. (Je '72)

Civil War—Juvenile literature

- Mertwether, L. Freedom ship of Robert Smalls. (D '72)

Civil War—Naval operations

- Milligan, J. D., ed. From the fresh water navy: 1861-64. (Je '72)

Civil War—Personal narratives

- Milligan, J. D., ed. From the fresh water navy: 1861-64. (Je '72)
 Thompson, H. Y. Englishman in the American Civil War. (O '72)

Civil War—Sources

- Myers, R. M., ed. Children of pride. (Ag '72)

1865-1898

- Campbell, A. E. America comes of age. (S '72)
 Morgan, H. W. Unity and culture: the United States, 1877-1900. (O '72)
 Plesur, M. America's outward thrust. (Je '72)

1898-

- Campbell, A. E. America comes of age. (S '72)
 Wilson, W. Papers of Woodrow Wilson, v11. (Ag '72)

War of 1898

- Cosmas, G. A. Army for empire. (Ag '72)

20th century

- Julien, C. America's empire. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Murphy, P. L. Constitution in crisis times, 1918-1969. (Ag '72)

1953-1961—Sources

- Branyan, R. L., comp. Eisenhower administration, 1953-1961. (Ag '72)

1961-

- Johnson, L. B. Vantage point. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

History, Military

- Taylor, M. D. Swords and plowshares. (Je '72)

History, Naval

- Braisted, W. R. United States Navy in the Pacific, 1909-1922. (Mr '72)
 Potter, E. B. Naval Academy illustrated history of the United States Navy. (Mr '72)

Immigration and emigration

- Coleman, T. Going to America. (Ag '72)
 Emerick, K. F. War resisters Canada. (S '72)
 Handlin, O. Pictorial history of immigration. (D '72)
 Novotny, A. Strangers at the door. (Ag '72)
 Samora, J. Los mojados: the wetback story. (Ap '72)
 Taylor, P. Distant magnet: European emigration to the U.S.A. (My '72)
 Weisberger, B. A. American heritage history of the American people. (My '72)

Juvenile literature

- Severn, B. Ellis Island: the immigrant years. (Ap '72)

Imprints*Bibliography

- Tanselle, G. T. Guide to the study of United States imprints, 2v. (O '72)

Industries

- Vernon, R. Sovereignty at bay. (My '72)

Intellectual life

- Crunden, R. M. From self to society, 1919-1941. (Je '72)
 King, R. Party of Eros. (S '72)
 Morgan, H. W. Unity and culture: the United States, 1877-1900. (O '72)
 Rosenberg, B., ed. Mass culture revisited. (O '72)
 Wood, G. S. Rising glory of America, 1760-1820. (Mr '72)

Military policy

- Bottomo, E. M. Missile gap: a study of the formulation of military and political policy. (Ap '72)
 Coffey, J. I. Strategic power and national security. (Ag '72)
 Klare, M. R. War without end. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Members of Congress for peace through law. Military spending committee. Economics of defense. (O '72)
 Newhouse, J. U.S. troops in Europe. (O '72)
 Rapoport, R. Great American bomb machine. (Ap '72)
 Russett, B. M. What price vigilance? The burdens of national defense. (Ap '72)
 Stavins, R. Washington plans an aggressive war. (O '72)

National Guard

- Dupuy, R. E. National Guard. (My '72)

Politics and government

- Becker, T. Government anarchy and the POGONOGO alternative. (N '72)
 Beichman, A. Nine lies about America. (Ag '72)
 Blaustein, A. I. Star-spangled hustle. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Brant, I. Impeachment: trials and errors. (Ag '72)

- United States—Politics and government—Cont.
 Gatell, F. O., ed. Growth of American politics, 2v. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Glick, H. R. Supreme courts in state politics. (Ag '72)
 Gregory, D. Dick Gregory's political primer. (Je '72)
 Jackson, G. L. Blood in my eye. (My '72)
 Kristol, I. On the democratic idea in America. (S '72)
 Lawson, R. A. Failure of independent liberalism, 1930-1941. (Mr '72)
 Lowi, T. J. Politics of disorder. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Politics & the press. (Ap '72)
 Schirmer, D. B. Republic or empire. (O '72)
 Schlesinger, A. M., ed. History of American presidential elections, 1789-1968, 4v. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Ungar, S. J. Papers & the Papers. (Ag '72)
 Vale, V. Labour in American politics. (Mr '72)
 Viorst, M. Hustlers and heroes. (Mr '72)
 Wheeler, H. Politics of revolution. (Ag '72)
 Wiecek, W. M. Guarantee clause of the U.S. Constitution. (O '72)
 Wildavsky, A. Revolt against the masses, and other essays on politics and public policy. (Ap '72)
 Winter-Berger, R. N. Washington pay-off. (O '72)

Colonial period

- Henretta, J. A. "Salutary neglect." (D '72)
 Olson, A. G., ed. Anglo-American political relations, 1675-1775. (Mr '72)

1783-1809

- Ellis, R. E. Jeffersonian crisis: courts and politics in the young republic. (1971, 1972 Annual)

1783-1865

- Madison, J. Papers of James Madison, v5-7. (O '72)

1815-1861

- Ammon, H. James Monroe. (S '72)
 Merk, F. Fruits of propaganda in the Tyler administration. (Mr '72)
 Rayback, J. G. Free soil. (Mr '72)

1815-1865

- Cohen, H. Business and politics in America from the age of Jackson to the Civil War. (My '72)
 McKay, E. Henry Wilson. (Ap '72)

1865-1898

- Beth, L. P. Development of the American Constitution, 1877-1917. (Ap '72)
 Dobson, J. M. Politics in the gilded age. (N '72)
 Jordan, D. M. Roscoe Conkling of New York. (Ap '72)
 McKay, E. Henry Wilson. (Ap '72)
 Thelen, D. P. New citizenship. (O '72)

1865-1898—Juvenile literature

- Vaughan, H. C. Hayes-Tilden election of 1876. (D '72)

1898-1919

- Beth, L. P. Development of the American Constitution, 1877-1917. (Ap '72)
 Merrill, H. S. Republican command, 1897-1913. (My '72)

20th century

- Barnet, R. J. Roots of war. (Ag '72)
 Broder, D. S. Party's over. (Je '72)
 Brown, S. G. Presidency on trial. (Ag '72)
 Gaddis, J. L. United States and the origins of the Cold war, 1941-1947. (N '72)
 Gorman, J. B. Kefauver: a political biography. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Graham, O. L. Great campaigns: reform and war in America, 1900-1928. (N '72)
 Levin, M. B. Political hysteria in America. (Je '72)
 Novak, M. Rise of the unmelttable ethnics. (Je '72)
 Schooler, D. Science, scientists, and public policy. (Je '72)
 Smith, M. C. Declaration of conscience. (Je '72)

1919-1933

- Chatfield, C. For peace and justice. (Mr '72)
 Moeller, B. B. Phil Swing and Boulder Dam. (N '72)

1933-1945

- Chatfield, C. For peace and justice. (Mr '72)
 Lawrence, B. Six presidents, too many wars. (Ag '72)
 Mooney, B. Roosevelt and Rayburn. (Mr '72)

1945-

- Douglas, P. H. In the fullness of time. (Ag '72)
 Eisele, A. Almost to the presidency. (O '72)
 Johnson, G. W. Imperial republic. (Ag '72)
 Lawrence, B. Six presidents, too many wars. (Ag '72)
 White, W. S. Responsibilities. (Ap '72)
 Zashin, E. M. Civil disobedience and democracy. (O '72)

1945—Yearbooks

- Barone, M. Almanac of American politics. (S '72)

1945-1953

- Cook, F. J. Nightmare decade. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Freeand, R. M. Truman doctrine and the origins of McCarthyism. (Ap '72)
 Hartmann, S. M. Truman and the 80th Congress. (My '72)

1953-1961

- Branyan, R. L., comp. Eisenhower administration, 1953-1961. (Ag '72)
 McPherson, H. Political education. (S '72)
 Parmet, H. S. Eisenhower and the American crusades. (D '72)

1961-

- Arendt, H. Crises of the republic. (S '72)
 Buckley, W. F. Inveighing we will go. (D '72)
 Coyne, J. R. Impudent snobs. (My '72)
 Drury, A. Courage and hesitation. (Ap '72)
 FitzSimons, L. Kennedy doctrine. (Je '72)
 Halberstam, D. Best and the brightest. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Johnson, L. B. Vantage point. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Keogh, J. President Nixon and the press. (Ag '72)
 Lifton, R. J., comp. America and the Asian revolutions. (Ap '72)
 Lockard, D. Perverted priorities of American politics. (Ap '72)
 McCloskey, P. N. Truth and untruth. (My '72)
 McPherson, H. Political education. (S '72)
 O'Neill, W. L. Coming apart. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Osborne, J. Third year of the Nixon watch. (Ag '72)
 Peters, C., ed. Blowing the whistle. (S '72)
 Riegle, D. O Congress. (O '72)
 Shogan, R. Question of judgment. (S '72)
 Streiker, L. D. Religion and the new majority. (O '72)
 Voorhis, J. Strange case of Richard Milhous Nixon. (D '72)
 Walton, R. J. Cold war and counterrevolution. (Ap '72)
 Whalen, R. J. Catch the falling flag. (O '72)
 Witcover, J. White knight. (Je '72)

1961—Cartoons and caricatures

- Block, H. Herblock's state of the Union. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Population

- Callahan, D., ed. American population debate. (Ap '72)
 Ryder, N. B. Reproduction in the United States, 1965. (My '72)

Race relations

- Baldwin, J. No name in the street. (S '72)
 Boesel, D., ed. Cities under siege. (My '72)
 Campbell, A. White attitudes toward black people. (Je '72)
 Cleage, A. B. Black Christian nationalism. (Ag '72)
 Degler, C. N. Neither black nor white. (N '72)
 Downs, A. Urban problems and prospects. (S '72)
 Doyle, B. W. Etiquette of race relations in the South. (Ag '72)
 Du Bois, W. E. B. Seventh son. (Ap '72)
 Du Bois, W. E. B. Du Bois speaks: speeches and addresses, 2v. (My '72)
 Feldstein, S., ed. Poisoned tongue. (Ag '72)
 Fogelson, R. M. Violence and protest. (Ap '72)
 Haller, J. S. Outcasts from evolution. (S '72)
 Hixson, W. B. Moorfield Storey and the abolitionist tradition. (Je '72)
 Lacy, D. White use of blacks in America. (Je '72)
 Loye, D. Healing of a nation. (My '72)
 Novak, M. Rise of the unmelttable ethnics. (Je '72)
 Ofari, E. Let your motto be resistance. (D '72)
 Owens, J. I have changed. (N '72)

- Petroni, F. A. Two, four, six, eight, when you gonna integrate? (Mr '72)
 Race among nations. (Je '72)
 Rush, S. How to get along with Black people. (D '72)
 Rustin, B. Down the line. (My '72)
 Thomas, A. Racism and psychiatry. (N '72)
 Vivian, C. T. Black power and the American myth. (Je '72)
 Weston, R. F. Racism in U.S. imperialism. (D '72)
 Woodward, C. V. American counterpoint. (Ap '72)

Juvenile literature

- Bowen, D. Struggle within (rev ed.). (N '72)

Relations (general) with Japan

- Pacific rivals. (N '72)

Relations (general) with Latin America

- Green, D. Containment of Latin America. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Religion

- Ahlstrom, S. E. Religious history of the American people. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Carter, P. A. Spiritual crisis of the gilded age. (My '72)
 Streiker, L. D. Religion and the new majority. (O '72)

Social conditions

- Aya, R., ed. New American revolution. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Beichman, A. Nine lies about America. (Ag '72)
 Berrigan, D. America is hard to find. (D '72)
 Berthoff, R. Unsettled people. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Demos, J., ed. Remarkable providences, 1600-1760. (Ag '72)
 Fogelson, R. M. Violence as protest. (Ap '72)
 Friedman, M., ed. Overcoming middle class rage. (Ag '72)
 Grogan, E. Ringolevio. (S '72)
 Groh, G. W. Black migration. (S '72)
 Hamill, P. Irrational ravings. (Mr '72)
 Handlin, O. Facing life. (Mr '72)
 Harrington, A. Psychopaths. (Ag '72)
 Hofstadter, R. America at 1750. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Holmes, D. Language of trust. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Individuality and the new society. (My '72)
 Jantzen, S. Hooray for peace, hurrah for war. (My '72)
 Karmel, A. Guillotine in the wings. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Krassner, P. How a satirical editor became a Yippie conspirator in ten easy years. (Ag '72)
 Macrae, N. Neurotic trillionaire. (Ap '72)
 Melville, K. Communes in the counter culture. (S '72)
 Moore, B. Reflections on the causes of human misery and upon certain proposals to eliminate them. (N '72)
 Nash, G. B. Class and society in early America. (My '72)
 Newfield, J. Populist manifesto. (Je '72)
 O'Neill, W. L. Coming apart. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Packard, V. Nation of strangers. (N '72)
 Pierce, N. R. Megastates of America. (Je '72)
 Pinkney, A. American way of violence. (Ag '72)
 Revel, J. F. Without Marx or Jesus. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Rosen, R. D. Me and my friends, we no longer profess any graces. (Mr '72)
 Rossi, P. H., ed. Ghetto revolts. (My '72)
 Ryan, W. Blaming the victim. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Schrag, P. Decline of the WASP. (Ap '72)
 Schwartz, E. Will the revolution succeed? (S '72)
 Sexton, P. C. Blue collars and hard-hats. (Mr '72)
 Wildavsky, A. Revolt against the masses, and other essays on politics and public policy. (Ap '72)

Social life and customs

- Album of American history, 6v. (Ag '72)
 Buchner, T. S. Norman Rockwell. (Ap '72)
 Knapp, P. Berengaria exchange. (My '72)
 Packard, V. Nation of strangers. (N '72)
 Peterson, H. L. Americans at home. (D '72)
 Rapson, R. L. Britons view America. (Ag '72)
 Scribner's monthly 1871, 3 v in 1. (O '72)
 Thompson, H. Y. Englishman in the American Civil War. (O '72)

Social policy

- Friedman, M., ed. Overcoming middle class rage. (Ag '72)
 Piven, F. F. Regulating the poor. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Rothman, D. J. Discovery of the asylum. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Tishler, H. S. Self-reliance and social security, 1870-1917. (S '72)

Territorial expansion

- Weston, R. F. Racism in U.S. imperialism. (D '72)
 United States and China [3d ed]. Fairbank, J. K. (Mr '72)
 United States and Latin America. Walton, R. J. (Ag '72)
 United States and the industrial world. Diebold, W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 United States and the origins of the Cold war, 1941-1947. Gaddis, J. L. (N '72)
 United States and the Trujillo regime. Atkins, G. P. (Ag '72)
 United States. Argonne National Laboratory, Lemont, Illinois
 Greenbaum, L. Special interest. (S '72)
 United States. Army
 King, E. L. Death of the army. (S '72)

Biography

- Puryear, E. F. Nineteen stars. (Je '72)

History

- Cosmas, G. A. Army for empire. (Ag '72)
 Fowler, A. L. Black infantry in the West, 1869-1891. (My '72)

Military life

- Barnes, P. Pawns. (Ap '72)
 United States. Army. Cavalry
 Hampton, H. D. How the U.S. cavalry saved our national parks. (O '72)
 United States. Atomic Energy Commission
 Lewis, R. S. Nuclear-power rebellion. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 United States. Bureau of the Budget
 Brundage, P. F. Bureau of the Budget. (My '72)
 United States. Congress
 Bradshaw, K. Parliament & Congress. (S '72)
 Committees
 Vogler, D. J. Third House. (Je '72)
 United States. Congress. House
 Huckshorn, R. J. Politics of defeat. (Ap '72)
 Riegle, D. O Congress. (O '72)
 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Un-American Activities
 Vaughn, R. Only victims. (Je '72)
 United States. Congress. Senate
 Freidin, S. K. Sense of the Senate. (O '72)
 United States. Constitution

Amendments

- Schwartz, B. Bill of rights: a documentary history, 2v. (Ag '72)
 United States. Department of Agriculture
 Winters, D. L. Henry Cantwell Wallace as secretary of agriculture. (Mr '72)
 United States. Department of Defense
 Fitzgerald, A. E. High priests of waste. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 United States. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Office of Students and Youth
 Moffett, T. Participation put-on. (Ap '72)
 United States. Department of Justice
 Navasky, V. S. Kennedy justice. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 United States. Department of State
 Campbell, J. F. Foreign affairs fudge factory. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Destler, I. M. Presidents, bureaucrats, and foreign policy. (N '72)
 United States. Federal Bureau of Investigation
 Jeffers, H. P. Wanted by the FBI. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Messick, H. John Edgar Hoover. (Ag '72)
 United States. Fish and Wildlife Service
 Olsen, J. Slaughter the animals, poison the earth. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 United States in Panamanian politics. Mellander, G. A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 United States. Library of Congress
 Berman, S. Prejudices and antipathies: a tract on the LC subject heads concerning people. (O '72)

United States. Navy*History

- Potter, E. B. Naval Academy illustrated history of the United States Navy. (Mr '72)
 Tolley, K. Yangtze patrol. (N '72)

Juvenile literature

- Carter, S. Incredible great white fleet. (Ap '72)

United States Navy in the Pacific, 1900-1922. Braisted, W. R. (Mr '72)

United States. Office of Strategic services
 Smith, R. H. OSS. (O '72)

United States. Peace Corps

- Pope, C. Sahib. (S '72)

United States response to Turkish nationalism and reform, 1914-1939. Trask, R. R. (Je '72)

United States. Supreme Court

- Abraham, H. J. Freedom and the court [2d ed.]. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Breckenridge, A. C. Congress against the Court. (Ap '72)

Kurland, P. B. Politics, the Constitution, and the Warren court. (Ap '72)

McCloskey, R. G. Modern Supreme Court. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Murphy, P. L. Constitution in crisis times, 1918-1969. (Ag '72)

Shogan, R. Question of judgment. (S '72)

Weeks, K. M. Adam Clayton Powell and the Supreme Court. (Ag '72)

History

Steamer, R. J. Supreme Court in crisis. (My '72)

United Steelworkers of America

Herling, J. Right to challenge. (My '72)

Unity and culture: the United States, 1877-1900. Morgan, H. W. (O '72)

Universal eye. Green, T. (S '72)

Universal fascism. Ledeen, M. A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Universalism

Cassara, E., comp. Universalism in America. (Mr '72)

Unlversalism in America. Cassara, E., comp. (Mr '72)

Universe

Kilmister, C. Nature of the universe. (My '72)

Sciama, D. W. Modern cosmology. (Ag '72)

Universities and research. Boalt, G. (O '72)

University library administration. Rogers, R. D. (O '72)

Unknown Karl Marx. Marx, K. (O '72)

Unknown Orwell. Stansky, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Un-politics of air pollution. Crenson, M. A. (S '72)

Unsettled people. Berthoff, R. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Unwalled city. Long, N. E. (D '72)

Up against the Wall (Street). Blumgarten, J. (O '72)

Up from never. Sorrentino, J. N. (Ap '72)

Up from within. Metcalf, G. R. (Mr '72)

Up the city of angels. Williams, L. (Ap '72)

Uddike, John

Taylor, L. E. Pastoral and anti-pastoral patterns in John Uddike's fiction. (D '72)

Upside-downers; downside-uppers. Anno, M. (O '72)

Upstairs room. Reiss, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Upstate. Gilman, D. (O '72)

Uptown. Schiffman, J. (Ap '72)

Urban development in Britain: standards, costs and resources, 1964-2004, v 1. Stone, P. A. (My '72)

Urban dynamics in Black Africa. Hanna, W. J. (Ag '72)

Urban guerrillas. Eng title of: The war for the cities. Moss, R. (N '72)

Urban leadership in the sixties. Cunningham, J. V. (Mr '72)

Urban League, National. See National Urban League

Urban problems and prospects. Downs, A. (S '72)

Urban renewal

United States

Goodman, R. After the planners. (My '72)

Urbanization and national development. Jakobson, L. (My '72)

Use of community college libraries. Allen, K. W. (Je '72)

Uses and abuses of political power. Owusu, M. (Je '72)

Uses of marijuana. Snyder, S. H. (Ap '72)

Uses of talent. Wolfe, D. L. (Mr '72)

Uses of terror. Levytsky, B. (N '72)

Utah*Description and travel

Abbey, E. Slickrock. (Ap '72)

Utle, Francis Lee

Medieval literature and folklore studies. (Mr '72)

Utopia and reform in the enlightenment. Venturi, F. (S '72)

Utopias
 Wagar, W. W. Building the city of man. (S '72)

Valdemora, Spain*Social conditions

Freeman, S. T. Neighbors. (Ap '72)

Valley of Oaxaca, Mexico. See Oaxaca Valley

Value-added tax

Tait, A. A. Value added tax. (D '72)

Values of social science. Denzin, N. K., ed. (My '72)

Vampires

Masters, A. Natural history of the vampire. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Vance (Ship)

Sheehan, N. Arnheiter affair. (Ap '72)

Van Diemen's Land. See Tasmania

Vane, Sir Henry, 1612-1662

Rowe, V. A. Sir Henry Vane the younger. (Mr '72)

Van Gogh. Cabanne, P. (Ap '72)

Vanishing peasant. Mendras, H. (My '72)

Vanishing senator. Philips, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Van Loon, Hendrik Willem

Van Loon, G. W. Story of Henrik Willem van Loon. (Ag '72)

Vantage point. Johnson, L. B. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Vardaman, James Kimble

Holmes, W. F. White Chief: James Kimble Vardaman. (My '72)

Varèse, Edgard

Varèse, L. Varèse: a looking-glass diary, v 1. (Je '72)

Varèse; a looking-glass diary, v 1. Varèse, L. (Je '72)

Variorum commentary on the poems of John Milton, v2 in 3 pts. (D '72)

Vasectomy. See Sterilization (Birth control)

Vasectomy information manual. Gillette, P. J. (Ag '72)

Vassi, Marco

Vassi, M. Stoned apocalypse. (Je '72)

Västerås, Sweden

Social conditions

Källberg, S. Off the middle way. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Vaughan Williams, Ralph

Lunn, J. E. Ralph Vaughan Williams. (Ag '72)

Vedanta. Johnson, C., ed. (Ap '72)

Vendetta of silence. Cornelisen, A. (Mr '72)

Venezuela

Bibliography

Watson, G. H. Colombia, Ecuador, and Venezuela. (Ag '72)

Politics and government

Powell, J. D. Political mobilization of the Venezuelan peasant. (Mr '72)

Venice

Description

Morris, W. Love affair—a Venetian journal. (D '72)

History

Pullan, B. Rich and poor in Renaissance Venice. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Poor

Pullan, B. Rich and poor in Renaissance Venice. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Verdi, Giuseppe

Verdi, G. Letters of Giuseppe Verdi. (My '72)

Verdun, Battle of, 1916

Hermanns, W. Holocaust. (S '72)

Vermont

Social life and customs

McGrath, R. L. Early Vermont wall paintings, 1790-1850. (D '72)

Verrocchio, Andrea del

Seymour, C. Sculpture of Verrocchio. (O '72)

Versailles

Description

- Barry, J. Passions and politics. (S '72)
 Versions of baroque. Warnke, F. J. (N '72)
 Very personal war. Eng title of: The greedy war. Hamilton-Paterson, J. (S '72)
 Vesey, Denmark

Juvenile literature

- Killens, J. O. Great gittin' up morning. (Je '72)

Veterans

- Kerry, J. New soldier. (O '72)
 Vichy France. Paxton, R. O. (D '72)
 Vicky: princess royal of England and German empress. Bennett, D. (S '72)
 Victor Emanuel, Cavour, and the Risorgimento. Mack Smith, D. (D '72)
 Victor Emmanuel II, King of Italy
 Mack Smith, D. Victor Emanuel, Cavour, and the Risorgimento. (D '72)

- Victoria, Queen of Great Britain
 Aronson, T. Queen Victoria and the Bonapartes. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Dyson, H. Dear and honored Lady. (Mr '72)
 Epton, N. Victoria and her daughters. (Ap '72)
 Woodham-Smith, C. Queen Victoria. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Victoria, consort of Frederick III, German Emperor

- Bennett, D. Vicky: princess royal of England and German empress. (S '72)
 Victoria and her daughters. Epton, N. (Ap '72)
 Victorian attitudes to race. Bolt, C. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Victorian country house. Girouard, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Victorian dramatic criticism. Rowell, G., comp. (Ag '72)
 Victorian entertainment. Delgado, A. (Mr '72)
 Victorian illustrated books. Muir, P. (My '72)
 Victorian Quakers. Isichei, E. (Ag '72)
 Victorian woman. Crow, D. (Je '72)
 Victoriana. Latham, J. (Ap '72)

- Victoria's heyday. Priestley, J. B. (O '72)
 Victors' justice. Minear, R. H. (My '72)

- Victory and aftermath (January 1918-June 1919): v5 of From the dreadnought to Scapa Flow. Marder, A. J. (S '72)

Vienna

Description

- Roth, E. Tale of three cities. (Je '72)
 Viereck, George Sylvester
 Johnson, N. M. George Sylvester Viereck. (O '72)
 Viet Cong repression and its implications for the future. Hosmer, S. T. (My '72)

Vietnam

- Sully, F., ed. We the Vietnamese. (Ap '72)

Economic policy

- Joint development group. Postwar development of the Republic of Vietnam. (My '72)

Foreign relations

United States

- Pentagon papers [Senator Gravel ed]. 4v. (My '72)

History

- Marr, D. G. Vietnamese anticolonialism, 1885-1925. (Ap '72)
 Pentagon papers [Senator Gravel ed]. 4v. (My '72)
 Sainteny, J. Ho Chi Minh and his Vietnam. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Juvenile literature

- Goldston, R. Vietnamese revolution. (N '72)

Sources

- Cameron, A. W., ed. Viet-Nam crisis. (My '72)

Politics and government

- FitzGerald, F. Fire in the lake. (O '72)
 Lansdale, E. G. In the midst of wars. (Je '72)
 Maneli, M. War of the vanquished. (Ag '72)
 Vietnam (Democratic Republic, 1946- )
 Van Dyke, J. M. North Vietnam's strategy for survival. (D '72)
 Viet-Nam crisis. Cameron, A. W., ed. (My '72)
 Vietnam inc. Griffith, P. J. (Ap '72)
 Vietnam photo book. Jury, M. (Mr '72)
 Vietnam War and international law: the widening context, v3. Falk, R. A., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Vietnamese anticolonialism, 1885-925. Marr, D. G. (Ap '72)

Vietnamese Conflict, 1961-

- Ellsberg, D. Papers on the war. (O '72)
 Falk, R. A., ed. Vietnam War and international law: the widening context, v3. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 FitzGerald, F. Fire in the lake. (O '72)
 Halberstam, D. Best and the brightest. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Harvest of death. (D '72)
 Hayden, T. Love of possession is a disease with them. (S '72)
 Hosmer, S. T. Viet Cong repression and its implications for the future. (My '72)
 Kalb, M. Roots of involvement. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Lifton, R. J., comp. America and the Asian revolutions. (Ap '72)
 Maneli, M. War of the vanquished. (Ag '72)
 Pentagon papers [Senator Gravel ed]. 4v. (My '72)
 Race, J. War comes to Long An. (My '72)
 Van Dyke, J. M. North Vietnam's strategy for survival. (D '72)
 Walt, L. W. Strange war, strange strategy. (My '72)
 West, F. J. Village. (My '72)

Aerial operations

- Van Dyke, J. M. North Vietnam's strategy for survival. (D '72)

Atrocities

- Hersh, S. M. Cover-up. (Je '72)

Conscientious objectors

- Emerick, K. F. War resisters Canada. (S '72)
 Morgan, A. Dropping out in ¾ time. (Ag '72)

Economic aspects

- Hamilton-Paterson, J. Greedy war. (S '72)

Journalists

- Fallaci, O. Nothing, and so be it. (My '72)

Juvenile literature

- Goldston, R. Vietnamese revolution. (N '72)

Medical and sanitary affairs

- Glasser, R. J. 365 days. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Personal narratives

- Fallaci, O. Nothing, and so be it. (My '72)
 Glasser, R. J. 365 days. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 Kerry, J. New soldier. (O '72)
 Parrish, J. A. 12, 20 & 5. (S '72)
 Smith, G. E. P.O.W.: two years with the Vietcong. (My '72)
 Whitmore, T. Memphis, Nam, Sweden. (Mr '72)

Pictures, illustrations, etc.

- Griffiths, P. J. Vietnam inc. (Ap '72)
 Jury, M. Vietnam photo book. (Mr '72)

Prisoners and prisons

- Smith, G. E. P.O.W.: two years with the Vietcong. (My '72)

Protests, demonstrations against, etc.

- Kerry, J. New soldier. (O '72)

United States

- Stavins, R. Washington plans an aggressive war. (O '72)

- Vietnamese revolution. Goldston, R. (N '72)
 View from space. Davies, M. E. (Ag '72)
 View from the rim. Reed, W. (Mr '72)
 View from the Street. Regan, D. T. (Ag '72)
 View of the Nile. Fernea, E. W. (Je '72)
 Viking settlements of North America. Pohl, F. J. (Ag '72)

- Viking ships. Brøgger, A. W. (N '72)

- Vikings. See Northmen

- Village. West, F. J. (My '72)

- Village girl. Shears, S. (My '72)

Villages

- Cutileiro, J. Portuguese rural society. (S '72)
 Ishwaran, K., ed. Change and continuity in India's villages. (Ap '72)

- Vindiciae academiarum. Ward, S. (In Science and education in the seventeenth century: the Webster-Ward debate, by A. G. Debuss). (Ag '72)

Violence

- Arendt, H. Crises of the republic. (S '72)
 Edelman, M. Politics as symbolic action. (O '72)
 Edwards, G. R. Jesus and the politics of violence. (O '72)
 Gray, J. G. On understanding violence philosophically, and other essays. (Ag '72)
 Pinkney, A. American way of violence. (Ag '72)

Violence—Continued

- Usdin, G., ed. Perspectives on violence. (S '72)
 Westley, W. A. Violence and the police. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Violence against children. Gil, D. G. (My '72)
Violence and the police. Westley, W. A. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Violence as protest. Fogelson, R. M. (Ap '72)
Violin
 Menuhin, Y. Violin: six lessons. (Ap '72)
Violin: six lessons. Menuhin, Y. (Ap '72)
Virginia

History

- Dabney, V. Virginia, the new dominion. (My '72)
 Rouse, P. James Blair of Virginia. (Je '72)

Politics and government

- Maddex, J. P. Virginia conservatives, 1867-1879. (Mr '72)

Virginia. Eastern State Hospital, Williamsburg*History

- Dain, N. Disordered minds. (N '72)
Virginia conservatives, 1867-1879. Maddex, J. P. (Mr '72)
Virginia, the new dominion. Dabney, V. (My '72)

Viscott, David S.

- Viscott, D. S. Making of a psychiatrist. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Vision

- Pastore, N. J. Selective history of theories of visual perception, 1650-1950. (Ap '72)

Visions

- MacDermot, V. Cult of the seer in the ancient Middle East. (S '72)

Visual imagination of D. H. Lawrence. Alldritt, K. (Mr '72)Vocational guidance

- Computer-assisted counseling. (Je '72)
 Ginzberg, E. Career guidance. (Mr '72)

Bibliography

- Schuman, P. Materials for occupational education. (O '72)
Voice of black America. Foner, P. S., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Voice of protest. Wefald, J. (S '72)
Voice of the folk. Bluestein, G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Voices from the Yiddish. Howe, I., ed. (Ag '72)
Voices in the whirlwind, and other essays. Mphahlele, E. (D '72)
Voices of Négritude. Jones, E. A., comp. (Ag '72)
Voices that endured. Barr, S. (Ap '72)

Volcanoes

- Kruger, C., ed. Volcanoes. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Voluntary associations. See *AssociationsVolunteers for the gallows. Szász, B. (Ap '72)Von Stroheim, Erich

- Curtiss, T. Q. Von Stroheim. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Vorticism

- Wees, W. C. Vorticism and the English avant-garde. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Vorticism and the English avant-garde. Wees, W. C. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)Voting. See *ElectionsVoting and collective choice. Pattanaik, P. K. (O '72)Voyage of the Challenger. Linklater, E. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)Voyage to the first of December. Carlisle, H. (My '72)Voyages and travels

- Chichester, F. Romantic challenge. (Je '72)
 Dodd, E. Polynesian seafaring, v2. (N '72)
 Donovan, J. Businessman's international travel guide. (Ag '72)
 Fairfax, J. Britannia: rowing alone across the Atlantic. (S '72)
 Linklater, E. Voyage of the Challenger. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 MacLean, A. Captain Cook. (D '72)
 Morison, S. E. European discovery of America: the Northern voyages, A.D. 500-1600. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
 Rachewiltz, I. de. Papal envoys to the great khans. (S '72)
 Syme, R. Travels of Captain Cook. (My '72)
 Villiers, A. War with Cape Horn. (My '72)
 Walker, N. M. When I put out to sea. (O '72)
 Wright, L. B., ed. West and by north. (Ag '72)

Voyages around the world

- Blyth, C. Impossible voyage. (S '72)
 Graham, R. L. Dove. (O '72)
 Silverberg, R. Longest voyage. (N '72)

Juvenile literature

- Carter, S. Incredible great white fleet. (Ap '72)
 Voyeur voyant. Ostrovsky, E. (Ap '72)
Vuillard, Edouard
 Russell, J., comp. Vuillard. (Mr '72)

W. B. Yeats and his world. Mac Liammóir, M. (O '72)W. E. B. Du Bois speaks: speeches and addresses, 2v. Du Bois, W. E. B. (My '72)Wages

- Evans, R. Labor economies of Japan and the United States. (O '72)

Wagner, Wieland

- Skelton, G. Wieland Wagner: the positive sceptic. (My '72)

Wahi Wanyaturu. Schneider, H. K. (Mr '72)Walden [Princeton ed.] Thoreau, H. D. (Je '72)Walk at a steady pace. Fisher, N. (Mr '72)Walk in the snow. Busch, P. S. (O '72)Walk of the conscious ants. Morris, T. (S '72)Walking

- Morris, T. Walk of the conscious ants. (S '72)

Walking trip. Buckmaster, H. (O '72)Wall Street

- Bloom, M. T. Rogues to riches. (My '72)
 Regan, D. T. View from the Street. (Ag '72)

Wallace, Henry Cantwell

- Winters, D. L. Henry Cantwell Wallace ■■ secretary of agriculture. (Mr '72)

Wallas, Graham

- Wiener, M. J. Between two worlds. (Ag '72)

Walt Whitman: the critical heritage. Hindus, M., ed. (N '72)Walter Gropius and the creation of the Bauhaus in Weimar: the ideals and artistic theories of its founding years. Franciscono, M. (1971, 1972 Annual)Waltz kings. Pantel, H. (O '72)Waltzing Matilda. Paterson, A. B. (Ag '72)Wandering. Hesse, H. (Je '72)Wandering. Rudner, R. (D '72)Wanderings of a biochemist. Lipmann, F. (Ap '72)Wanted by the FBI. Jeffers, H. P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)Wanyaturu (Bantu tribe)

- Schneider, H. K. Wahi Wanyaturu. (Mr '72)

War

- Falk, R. A., ed. International law of civil war. (D '72)

Higham, R., ed. Civil wars in the twentieth century. (N '72)Seward, D. Monks of war. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)Shinn, R. L. Wars and rumor of wars. (Ag '72)War and civilization

- Clarke, R. Science of war and peace. (Ap '72)

War and religion

- Shinn, R. L. Wars and rumors of wars. (Ag '72)

War comes to Long An. Race, J. (My '72)War crime trials

- Miner, R. H. Victors' justice. (My '72)
 War for the cities. Moss, R. (N '72)

War for the Union, v3. Nevins, A. (1971, 1972 Annual)War for the Union, v8. Nevins, A. (Ap '72)War for the West, 1790-1813. Bird, H. (My '72)War of American independence. Higginbotham, D. (1971, 1972 Annual)War of Nigerian unity, 1967-1970. Niven, R. (Je '72)War of the running dogs. Barber, N. (S '72)War of the vanquished. Manell, M. (Ag '72)War, politics and finance under Edward I. Prestwich, M. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)War resisters Canada. Emerick, K. F. (S '72)War was better. Bulatović, M. (O '72)War with Cape Horn. Villiers, A. (My '72)War without end. Klare, M. T. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)War year. Haldeman, J. W. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)Ward, Arthur Sarsfield

- Van Ash, C. Master of villainy. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Ward number six. Lebedoff, D. (D '72)
 Warfare in feudal Europe, 730-1200. Beeler, J. (Ap '72)
 Warlord politics. Pye, L. W. (D '72)
 Warriors and strangers. Hanley, G. (O '72)
 Wars and rumors of wars. Shinn, R. L. (Ag '72)
 Warsaw Pact. See Warsaw Treaty Organization
 Warsaw pact. Remington, R. A. (Je '72)
 Warsaw Treaty Organization
 Remington, R. A. Warsaw pact. (Je '72)
 Washboat days. Warnod, J. (O '72)
 Washington, George, President U.S.
 Callahan, N. George Washington: soldier and man. (D '72)
 Washington, D.C.
   Social life and customs
   Martin, J. Name on the White House floor, and other anxieties of our times. (D '72)
 Washington, D.C. Conference on the Limitation of Armaments
 Braisted, W. R. United States Navy in the Pacific, 1909-1922. (Mr '72)
 Washington and other memories. Willert, A. (My '72)
 Washington, D.C. in Lincoln's time. Brooks, N. (In Lincoln's long shadow; Mitgang, H., ed.). (D '72)
 Washington pay-off. Winter-Berger, R. N. (O '72)
 Washington plans an aggressive war. Stavins, R. (O '72)
 Waste land. Eliot, T. S. (Ap '72)
 Wasted. Chapin, W. (Ag '72)
 Watchdogs. Nizan, P. (Je '72)
 Water
   Jellicoe, S. Water. (Mr '72)
   Platt, R. Water: the wonder of life. (My '72)
   Dictionaries
   Todd, D. K., ed. Water encyclopedia. (Ap '72)
   Juvenile literature
   Rondière, P. Purity or pollution. (S '72)
   Pollution
   Dugan, P. R. Biochemical ecology of water pollution. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
   Zwick, D. Water wasteland: Ralph Nader's study group report on water pollution. (Ap '72)
   Juvenile literature
   Bloome, E. Water we drink! (S '72)
   May, J. Blue River. (Je '72)
   Rondière, P. Purity or pollution. (S '72)
   Purification
   Juvenile literature
   Stevens, L. A. Town that launders its water. (My '72)
 Water encyclopedia. Todd, D. K., ed. (Ap '72)
 Water hustlers. Boyle, R. H. (Mr '72)
 Water is wide. Conroy, P. (N '72)
 Water-method man. Irving, J. (N '72)
 Water resources development
 Boyle, R. H. Water hustlers. (Mr '72)
 Seckler, D., ed. California water. (My '72)
 Water supply
   Juvenile literature
   Rondière, P. Purity or pollution. (S '72)
   Water: the wonder of life. Platt, R. (My '72)
   Water wasteland. Zwick, D. (Ap '72)
   Water we drink! Bloome, E. (S '72)
   Water with berries. Lamming, G. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Waters, Frank
 Milton, J. R., ed. Conversations with Frank Waters. (O '72)
 Watts, Alan Wilson
 Watts, A. In my own way. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Waugh, Evelyn
 Cook, W. J. Masks, modes, and morals: the art of Evelyn Waugh. (Mr '72)
 Way it is now. Bingham, S. (Ag '72)
 Way of all the earth. Dunne, J. S. (O '72)
 Way to Fort Pillow. Sherburne, J. (D '72)
 We. Zamiatin, Y. (S '72)
 We all went to Paris. Longstreet, S. (S '72)
 We are having a baby. Holland, V. (Ag '72)
 We are not the first. Tomas, A. (My '72)
 We can't breathe. Fair, R. (My '72)
 We charge genocide. (Ap '72)
 We must run while they walk. Smith, W. E. (Ap '72)
 We the Chinese. Hunter, D., ed. (Ag '72)
 We the Puerto Rican people. Silén, J. A. (Ap '72)
 We the Vietnamese. Sully, F., ed. (Ap '72)
 We were never their age. DiGiacomo, J. (D '72)
 Wealth and resources; v2 of The future of the international legal order. Falk, R. A., ed. (My '72)
 Weather forecasting
 Stagg, J. M. Forecast for Overlord, June 6, 1944. (N '72)
 Webb, William Robert
 McMillin, L. Schoolmaker. (Je '72)
 Webb School, Bell Buckle, Tennessee
 McMillin, L. Schoolmaker. (Je '72)
 Weber, Max
 Dronberger, I. Political thought of Max Weber. (Ap '72)
 Giddens, A. Capitalism and modern social theory. (Ag '72)
 Lachmann, L. M. Legacy of Max Weber. (O '72)
 Webster, Margaret
 Webster, M. Don't put your daughter on the stage. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Wechsler, Michael
 Wechsler, J. A. In a darkness. (Je '72)
 Wedding man is nicer than cats. Miss. Scott, R. (S '72)
 Wedding within the war. Rossman, M. (Je '72)
 Weep no more, my lady. Deans, M. (Ag '72)
 Weeple people. Gillespie, D. C. (N '72)
 Weight and weightlessness. Branley, F. M. (N '72)
 Weightlessness
   Juvenile literature
   Branley, F. M. Weight and weightlessness. (N '72)
 Weimar, Bauhaus. See Bauhaus
 Weisgal, Meyer
 Weisgal, M. Meyer Weisgal . . . so far. (My '72)
 Welch, William J.
 Welch, W. J. What happened in between. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Welcome Eumenides. Taylor, E. R. (S '72)
 Welfare. Rescher, N. (D '72)
 Welfare economics
 Buchanan, J. M., ed. Theory of public choice. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Mishan, E. J. Cost benefit analysis. (N '72)
 Welfare state. See Economic policy; Public welfare
 Welles, Orson
 Gottesman, R., ed. Focus on Citizen Kane. (Ap '72)
 Wellington, Arthur Wellesley, 1st Duke of Bryant, A. Great duke. (N '72)
 Wends
 Stone, G. Smallest Slavonic nation. (D '72)
 We're all in this together. Ryan, M. P. (O '72)
 We're in the money: depression America and its films. Bergman, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Wescott, Glenway
 Johnson, I. Glenway Wescott. (Je '72)
 Wesley, John
 Ethridge, W. S. Strange fires. (Ap '72)
 The West
 Katz, W. L. Black West. (Mr '72)
   Description and travel
   Talbot, T., ed. Soldier in the West. (D '72)
   Terrell, J. U. Bunkhouse papers. (Ap '72)
   History
   Athearn, R. G. Union Pacific country. (Je '72)
   Clark, J. G., ed. Frontier challenge. (Mr '72)
   Rossi, P. A. Art of the Old West. (Mr '72)
 West Africa. See Africa, West
 West African cook book. Wilson, E. G. (My '72)
 West African sculpture. Bravmann, R. A. (Mr '72)
 West and by north. Wright, L. B., ed. (Ag '72)
 West Bengal
   Politics and government
   Franda, M. F. Radical politics in West Bengal. (O '72)
 West German politics. Roberts, G. K. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 West German reparations to Israel. Balabkins, N. (S '72)
 West Germany. See Germany (Federal Republic)

West Indies, British

History

- Bridenbaugh, C. No peace beyond the line. (Ag '72)
 Dunn, R. S. Sugar and slaves. (D '72)
 Western Apache raiding and warfare. Goodwin, G. (Ag '72)
 Western Chou empire; v 1 of The origins of statecraft in China. Creel, H. G. (S '72)
 Western coast. Fox, P. (D '72)
 Western European powers, 1500-1700. Carter, C. (Mr '72)
 Western music. Stevenson, R. (S '72)
 Western technology and Soviet economic development, 1930 to 1945, v2. Sutton, A. C. (S '72)

Whales

Juvenile literature

- Scheffer, V. B. Little calf. (Ap '72)
 Stephens, W. M. Killer whale. (S '72)

Stories

- Steig, W. Amos & Boris. (My '72)

Whaling

- Laing, A. American ships. (My '72)

Juvenile literature

- Gemming, E. Blow ye winds westerly. (Ag '72)
 Wharton, Edith Newbold (Jones)
 Auchincloss, L. Edith Wharton. (Mr '72)
 What Coleridge thought. Barfield, O. (My '72)
 What computers can't do. Dreyfus, H. L. (S '72)
 What difference does Jesus make? Sheed, F. J. (Ap '72)
 What do you say after you say hello? Berne, E. (O '72)
 What happened in between. Welch, W. J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 What happens next? Rogin, G. (Mr '72)
 What is cinema? v2. Bazin, A. (Ap '72)
 What is knowledge? Pears, D. (N '72)
 What is pink? Rossetti, C. (Ag '72)
 What kind of God? Zahnt, H. (My '72)
 What made you you? Bendick, J. (S '72)
 What makes it go? What makes it work? What makes it fly? What makes it float? Kaufman, J. (S '72)
 What makes Spiro run. Albright, J. (Ag '72)
 What price vigilance? The burdens of national defense. Russett, B. M. (Ap '72)
 What star is that? Brown P. L. (S '72)
 What they said in 1970. Pater, A., ed. (Je '72)
 What we know about cancer. Harris, R. J. C., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 What you don't know can hurt you. Markel, L. (D '72)
 What your house tells about you. Frankel, V. (O '72)
 What's become of Screwloose? Goulart, R. (S '72)
 When all the laughter died in sorrow. Rentzel, L. (D '72)
 When children need help. Melton, D. (D '72)
 When clay sings. Baylor, B. (O '72)
 When France was de Gaulle. Eunsou, R. (S '72)
 When Hitler stole pink rabbit. Kerr, J. (Ag '72)
 When I put out to sea. Walker, N. M. (O '72)
 When in doubt, mumble. Boren, J. H. (D '72)
 When parents fail. Katz, S. N. (N '72)
 When parochial schools close. Larson, M. A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 When war comes. Caidin, M. (Je '72)
 Where did the $13 billion go? Sullivan, E. (My '72)
 Where I hang my hat. Gallup, D. (Ap '72)
 Where the wasteland ends. Roszak, T. (N '72)
 Whig party (Great Britain)
 Mitchell, L. G. Charles James Fox and the disintegration of the Whig Party, 1782-1794. (Je '72)
 Whispering wind. Allen, T., ed. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 Whistle blowing. Nader, R., ed. (D '72)
 Whistler, James Abbott McNeill
 Fiction
 Berkman, T. To seize the passing dream. (S '72)
 White, Christopher
 White, R. Be not afraid. (Ag '72)
 White, Horace
 Logsdon, J. Horace White, nineteenth century liberal. (S '72)
 White attitudes toward black people. Campbell, A. (Je '72)
 White Chief: James Kimble Vardaman. Holmes, W. F. (My '72)
 White death: the epic of the Soviet-Finnish winter view. Chew, A. F. (Ag '72)

- White eagle, red star. Davies, N. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
 White generals. Lockett, R. (1971, 1972 Annual)
 White House sermons. Hibbs, B., ed. (O '72)
 White knight. Witcover, J. (Je '72)
 White Nile [rev ed.]. Moorehead, A. (Mr '72)
 White robe, black robe. Mee, C. L. (Ag '72)
 White room. Harwood, L. (O '72)
 White sects and black men in the recent South. Harrell, D. E. (My '72)
 White use of blacks in America. Lacy, D. (Je '72)

Whitefield, George

- Pollock, J. George Whitefield and the great awakening. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Whitehead, Alfred North

- Lundeen, L. T. Risk and rhetoric in religion. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Whitman, Walt

- Hindus, M., ed. Walt Whitman: the critical heritage. (N '72)

Whitmore, Terry

- Whitmore, T. Memphis, Nam, Sweden. (Mr '72)

- Who are the major American writers? Hubbell, J. B. (O '72)

- Who came by night. Roland, N. (N '72)

- Who defends Rome? Davis, M. S. (Ag '72)

- Who really killed Cock Robin? George, J. C. (Ap '72)

- Whole world of cooking. Shapiro, R. (S '72)

- Who's who in the ancient world. Radice, B. (Mr '72)

- Who's who in the New Testament. Brownrigg, R. (Ap '72)

- Who's who in the Old Testament. Comay, J. (Ap '72)

- Who's who of jazz. Chilton, J. (D '72)

- Whose land? Parkes, J. (My '72)

- Why are we so blest? Armah, A. K. (Je '72)

- Why conservative churches are growing. Kelley, D. M. (O '72)

- Why priests? Küng, H. (S '72)

- Wife of winter. Browne, M. D. (Ap '72)

- Wilby conspiracy. Driscoll, P. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Wild Australia. Morcombe, M. K. (O '72)

- Wild boys. Burroughs, W. S. (My '72)

- Wild civility. Birdsall, V. O. (Ap '72)

- Wild flowers. Fiedel, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Wild justice. Clifford, F. (O '72)

Wild life

Conservation

- Lockett, R. M. Man against nature. (Ag '72)
 Milne, L. J. Cougar doesn't live here anymore. (Mr '72)
 Neal, E. Uganda quest. (Ap '72)

- Olsen, J. Slaughter the animals, poison the earth. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Juvenile literature

- Harris, L. Twilight of the animal kingdom. (D '72)

Wilder, Thornton Niven

- Kuner, M. C. Thornton Wilder: the bright and the dark. (O '72)

- Wilderness revolt. Pike, D. K. (Ag '72)

- Wilderness tattoo. Steele, W. O. (My '72)

- Will the revolution succeed? Schwartz, E. (S '72)

- Will there really be a morning? Farmer, F. (S '72)

Willert, Sir Arthur

- Willert, A. Washington and other memories. (My '72)

- William Harvey and the circulation of the blood. Whitteridge, G. (Mr '72)

Williams, Eric

- Williams, E. Inward hunger. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

- Williams, Ralph Vaughan. See Vaughan Williams, R.

Williams, William

- Dickason, D. H. William Williams. (My '72)

Williams, William Carlos

- Wagner, L. W. Prose of William Carlos Williams. (Mr '72)

- Weaver, M. William Carlos Williams. (Mr '72)

Paterson

- Sankey, B. Companion to William Carlos Williams's Paterson. (Ag '72)

- William's Mary. Hamilton, E. (My '72)

- Williamson reports. Vann, S. K. (O '72)

- Williamson reports of 1921 and 1923, 2v in 1. (D '72)

- Willie Master's lonesome wife. Gass, W. H. (Ap '72)

Williston, Samuel Wendell

- Shor, E. N. Fossils and flies. (Mr '72)

- Willson, David Harris
Early Stuart studies. (My '72)
- Willowbrook, Rivera, G. (O '72)
- Wilson, Henry
McKay, E. Henry Wilson. (Ap '72)
- Wilson, John Albert
Wilson, J. A. Thousands of years. (D '72)
- Wilson, Sarah Isabella Augusta (Spencer-Churchill) Lady
Roberts, B. Churchills in Africa. (Ap '72)
- Wilson, Woodrow, President U.S.
Haley, P. E. Revolution and intervention: the diplomacy of Taft and Wilson with Mexico, 1910-1917. (Mr '72)
- Wilson, W. Papers of Woodrow Wilson. v10. (My '72)
- Wilson, W. Papers of Woodrow Wilson. v11. (Ag '72)
- Wimbledon: a celebration. McPhee, J. (S '72)
- Wind instruments
Richmond, S. Clarinet and saxophone experience. (N '72)
- Window on Russia. Wilson, E. (O '72)
- Winds of war. Wouk, H. (Ap '72)
- Windsor Castle
Schilling, E. German drawings in the collection of Her Majesty the Queen at Windsor Castle; and Supplements to the catalogues of Italian and French drawings, with a history of the Royal Collection of Drawings, by Anthony Blunt. (My '72)
- Wine and wine making
Johnson, H. World atlas of wine. (Mr '72)
- Ordish, G. Great wine blight. (D '72)
- Root, W. Food of Italy. (My '72)
- Wildman, F. S. Wine tour of France. (S '72)
- Wine tour of France. Wildman, F. S. (S '72)
- Wings of adventure. Titler, D. M. (My '72)
- Wings of feathers, wings of flame. Smith, N. F. (O '72)
- Winning of independence. Smelser, M. (Je '72)
- Winning of the midwest. Jensen, R. J. (My '72)
- Winston Churchill's toyshop. Macrae, R. S. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Winter, William
Booth, E. Between actor and critic. (Mr '72)
- Winter trees. Plath, S. (D '72)
- Wisconsin
History
Caine, S. P. Myth of a progressive reform. (Ag '72)
- Politics and government
Thelen, D. P. New citizenship. (O '72)
- Wister, Owen
Vorpahl, B. M. My dear Wister. (N '72)
- Wit and humor
Asimov, I. Treasury of humor. (O '72)
- Fields, W. C. Fields for president. (S '72)
- Hills, L. R. How to do things right. (S '72)
- Kronenberger, L., comp. Animal, vegetable, mineral. (Ag '72)
- McConnell, J. V. Science, sex, and sacred cows. (Ap '72)
- Martin, J. Name on the White House floor, and other anxieties of our times. (D '72)
- Mead, S. Free the male man! (Ag '72)
- Smith, C. M. Instant status. (Je '72)
- Untermeyer, L. Treasury of great humor. (O '72)
- Wit and wisdom of Hollywood. Wilk, M., ed. (N '72)
- Witch of Fourth Street, and other stories. Levoy, M. (O '72)
- Witchcraft
Rosen, B., ed. Witchcraft. (Je '72)
- Witches, wit, and a werewolf. Hardendorff, J. B. (D '72)
- With malice toward none. King, C. H. (O '72)
- With man in mind. Perin, C. (My '72)
- Without Marx or Jesus. Revel, J. F. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Without shelter. Raper, J. R. (Je '72)
- Without stopping. Bowles, P. (My '72)
- Witness to nature. Eisenstaedt, A. (Mr '72)
- Witnesses
Nader, R., ed. Whistle blowing. (D '72)
- Witnesses. Holden, A. (Mr '72)
- Witnesses of Tsushima. Westwood, J. N. (Mr '72)
- Witte, Sergei Yulievich, Count
Mehlinger, H. D. Count Witte and the Tsarist government in the 1905 revolution. (N '72)
- Wives. Thorp, R. (Mr '72)
- Wodehouse, Pelham Grenville
Wind, H. W. World of P. G. Wodehouse. (Ap '72)
- Wolfe, Thomas
Thomas Wolfe and the glass of time. (Ag '72)
- Wolfit, Sir Donald
Harwood, R. Sir Donald Wolfit, C.B.E. (O '72)
- Wollstonecraft, Mary. See Godwin, M. W.
- Wolves
Stories
De Regniers, B. S. Red Riding Hood. (Ag '72)
- Monjo, F. N. Jezebel wolf. (Ap '72)
- Wild, R. Little pig and the big bad wolf. (O '72)
- Woman
Fast, J. Incompatibility of men and women, and how to overcome it. (My '72)
- Morgan, E. Descent of woman. (Ag '72)
- Thorp, R. Wives. (Mr '72)
- Biography
Merriam, E., ed. Growing up female in America. (My '72)
- Dictionaries
James, E. T., ed. Notable American women, 1607-1950, 3v. (S '72)
- Civil rights
Amundsen, K. Silenced majority. (O '72)
- Epstein, C. F., ed. Other half. (1971, 1972 Annual)
- Hole, J. Rebirth of feminism. (N '72)
- Seaman, B. Free and female. (S '72)
- Sochen, J. New woman. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Employment
Fogarty, M. P. Sex, career and family. (O '72)
- Schwartz, F. N. How to go to work when your husband is against it, your children aren't old enough, and there's nothing you can do anyhow. (O '72)
- History and condition of women
See Woman—Social conditions
- Psychology
Ulanov, A. B. Feminine in Jungian psychology and in Christian theology. (O '72)
- Rights of women
See Woman—Civil rights; Women's Liberation Movement
- Sexual behavior
Sherfey, M. J. Nature and evolution of female sexuality. (O '72)
- Social conditions
Crow, D. Victorian woman. (Je '72)
- Decter, M. New chastity and other arguments against women's liberation. (D '72)
- Goldberg, L. Purr. baby, purr. (Mr '72)
- Harkness, G. Women in church and society. (Ag '72)
- Lerner, G., ed. Black women in white America. (Ag '72)
- Mitchell, J. Woman's estate. (Je '72)
- Olsen, J. Girls in the office. (O '72)
- Petrie, G. Singular iniquity. (Je '72)
- Rossi, A. S., ed. Essays on sex equality. (Ap '72)
- Vicinus, M., ed. Suffer and be still. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Suffrage
Morgan, D. Suffragists and Democrats. (S '72)
- Juvenile literature
Faber, D. Oh, Lizzie! (S '72)
- Woman hunt. Ryck, F. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Woman of feeling. Weingarten, V. (My '72)
- Woman's estate. Mitchell, J. (Je '72)
- Women as authors
Colby, V. Singular anomaly. (Mr '72)
- Women in church and society. Harkness, G. (Ag '72)
- Women in Great Britain
Crow, D. Victorian woman. (Je '72)
- Vicinus, M., ed. Suffer and be still. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Women in need. Trussell, J. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Women in the United States
Amundsen, K. Silenced majority. (O '72)
- Crow, D. Victorian woman. (Je '72)
- Evslin, D. Fortunate sex. (O '72)
- James, E. T., ed. Notable American women, 1607-1950, 3v. (S '72)
- Ladner, J. A. Tomorrow's tomorrow: the black woman. (S '72)
- Merriam, E., ed. Growing up female in America. (My '72)
- Morgan, D. Suffragists and Democrats. (S '72)

Women in the United States—Continued

Bibliography

Juvenile literature

Ross, P., ed. Young and female. (Ag '72)

Sexual behavior

Gittelson, N. Erotic life of the American wife. (O '72)

Women's Liberation Movement

Decter, M. New chastity and other arguments against women's liberation. (D '72)

Goldberg, L. Purr, baby, purr. (Mr '72)

Hole, J. Rebirth of feminism. (N '72)

Mead, S. Free the male man! (Ag '72)

Mitchell, J. Woman's estate. (Je '72)

Sochen, J. New woman. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Women's Wear Daily

Kelly, K. Wonderful world of Women's Wear Daily. (Ap '72)

Wonderful world of puppets. Böhrer, G. (Je '72)

Wonderful world of Women's Wear Daily. Kelly, K. (Ap '72)

Wonderland. Oates, J. C. (Ap '72)

Wonders of the mosquito world. Ault, P. (Ag '72)

Wood carving

Carstenson, C. C. Craft and creation of wood sculpture. (My '72)

Juvenile literature

Graveney, C. How to start carving. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Rieger, S. Animals in wood. (Jm '72)

Wood engraving

Laliberte, N. Twentieth century woodcuts. (S '72)

Woodstock craftsman's manual. Young, J. (O '72)

Woolen manufacture and trade

Ponting, K. G. Woollen industry of South-west England. (S '72)

Woolf, Virginia (Stephen)

Bell, Q. Virginia Woolf. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Woollen industry of South-west England. Ponting, K. G. (S '72)

Woolman, John

Woolman, J. Journal and major essays of John Woolman. (Ag '72)

Word. Wallace, I. (Je '72)

Word games

Espy, W. R. Game of words. (O '72)

Word politics. Franck, T. M. (Ag '72)

Words with music. Engel, L. (Ag '72)

Wordsworth, William

Curtis, J. R. Wordsworth's experiments with tradition. (D '72)

Garber, F. Wordsworth and the poetry of encounter. (D '72)

Heath, W. Wordsworth and Coleridge. (Ap '72)

Thompson, T. W. Wordsworth's Hawkshead. (Mr '72)

Vogler, T. A. Preludes to vision. (Ap '72)

Wordsworth, J., ed. Bicentenary Wordsworth studies in memory of John Alban Finch. (Mr '72)

The prelude

Onorato, R. J. Character of the poet. (Ap '72)

Wordsworth and Coleridge. Heath, W. (Ap '72)

Wordsworth and the poetry of encounter. Garber, F. (D '72)

Wordsworth's experiments with tradition. Curtis, J. R. (D '72)

Wordsworth's Hawkshead. Thompson, T. W. (Mr '72)

Work

Goodwin, L. Do the poor want to work? (N '72)

Work, creativity, and social justice. Jaques, E. (N '72)

Worker grows old. Rosenberg, G. S. (My '72)

Workers. Lasson, K. (My '72)

Workers' Union

Hyman, R. Workers' Union. (S '72)

Workhouse child. Symons, G. (Ap '72)

Working classes in Victorian fiction. Keating, P. J. (Mr '72)

Working through. Kriegel, L. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Works of Stephen Crane [Univ. of Va. ed] v5. See Crane, S. Tales of adventure. (My '72)

Works of Stephen Crane [Univ. of Va. ed] v6. See Crane, S. Tales of war. (My '72)

World and church. Schillebeeckx, E. (Ag '72)

World and the book. Josipovic, G. (Ag '72)

World atlas of wine. Johnson, H. (Mr '72)

World book of children games. Arnold, A. (My '72)

World dynamics. Forrester, J. W. (Mr '72)

World economics. See Economic conditions

World history

Garraty, H. A., ed. Columbia history of the world. (O '72)

Milestones of history. (Je '72)

Rashid al-Din. Successors of Genghis Khan. (S '72)

Wells, H. G. Outline of history [rev ed]. (O '72)

World history of the Jewish people, series 1, v2. See Mazar, B., ed. Patriarchs. (Ag '72)

World in revolution. Matthews, H. L. (My '72)

World of Duke Ellington. Dance, S. (Ap '72)

World of George Orwell. Gross, M., ed. (My '72)

World of Gwendolyn Brooks. Brooks, G. (Je '72)

World of P. G. Wodehouse. Wind, H. W. (Ap '72)

World of Shakespeare and his contemporaries. Hussey, M. (D '72)

World of soul. Shaw, A. (Mr '72)

World of the blue-collar worker. Howe, I., ed. (D '72)

World of the otter. Park, E. (Ap '72)

World of the Vikings. Klindt-Jensen, O. (Ap '72)

World politics

Chomsky, N. Problems of knowledge and freedom. (Mr '72)

Matthews, H. L. World in revolution. (My '72)

Dictionaries

Laqueur, W., ed. Dictionary of politics. (Ap '72)

1945-

Gaulle, C. de. Memoirs of hope. (Ap '72)

Howe, J. T. Multicrisis. (Ap '72)

Howe, Q. Ashes of victory. (O '72)

Paterson, T. G., ed. Cold war critics. (Je '72)

1945-1965

Cousins, N. Improbable triumvirate. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Gaddis, J. L. United States and the origins of the Cold war, 1941-1947. (N '72)

1965-

Sveics, V. V. Small national survival. (Je '72)

World to care for. Rusk, H. A. (D '72)

World viewed. Cavell, S. (Ag '72)

World War, 1939-1945

Calvocoressi, P. Total war. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Howe, Q. Ashes of victory. (O '72)

Aerial operations

Lee, A. Goering. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Lukas, R. C. Eagles East. (Ap '72)

Sims, E. H. Fighter tactics and strategy, 1914-1970. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Campaigns and battles

Strawson, J. Hitler's battles for Europe. (Ap '72)

Africa

Lewin, R. Montgomery as military commander. (Ap '72)

Burma

Fellowes-Gordon, I. Magic war. (Ag '72)

Crete

Ansel, W. Hitler and the middle sea. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Europe

Lewin, R. Montgomery as military commander. (Ap '72)

Germany

Addington, L. H. Blitzkrieg era and the German general staff, 1865-1941. (Ag '72)

Italy

Davis, M. S. Who defends Rome? (Ag '72)

Normandy

Stagg, J. M. Forecast for Overlord, June 6, 1944. (N '72)

Collaborationists

Littlejohn, D. Patriotic traitors. (D '72)

Paxton, R. O. Vichy France. (D '72)

Diplomatic history

Fischer, L. Road to Yalta. (N '72)

O'Connor, R. G. Diplomacy for victory: FDR and unconditional surrender. (N '72)

Parkinson, R. Peace for our time. (S '72)

Economic aspects

Wilmington, M. W. Middle East supply centre. (Ag '72)

Evacuation of civiliansJuvenile literature*

Takashima. Child in prison camp. (S '72)

JewsJuvenile literature*

Reiss, J. Upstairs room. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Occupied territories

Littlejohn, D. Patriotic traitors. (D '72)

Peace

O'Connor, R. G. Diplomacy for victory: FDR and unconditional surrender. (N '72)

Personal narratives

Brandt, W. In exile. (Je '72)
Caldwell, O. J. Secret war: Americans in China, 1944-1945. (Ag '72)
Chesney, I. L. Time of rape. (O '72)
Davidson, B. Cut off. (S '72)
Dreux, W. B. No bridges blown. (My '72)
Lee, R. E. London journal of General Raymond E. Lee, 1940-1945. (Ap '72)
Mauldin, B. Brass ring. (Mr '72)
Paul, H. Break of time. (Je '72)
Shinn, R. L. Wars and rumors of wars. (Ag '72)

Prisoners and prisons

Kantor, A. Book of Alfred Kantor. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Refugees

Pauli, H. Break of time. (Je '72)

Reparations

Balabkins, N. West German reparations to Israel. (S '72)
Kuklick, B. American policy and the division of Germany. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Secret service

Delmer, S. Counterfeit spy. (My '72)
Farago, L. Game of the foxes. (Ap '72)
Gehlen, R. Service. (S '72)
Höhne, H. Codeword: Direktor. (Ap '72)
Masterman, J. C. Double-cross system in the war of 1939 to 1945. (Je '72)
Smith, R. H. OSS. (O '72)

Underground movements

Whiting, C. Hitler's werewolves. (D '72)

Belgium

Whiting, C. Massacre at Malmedy. (Ap '72)

China

Caldwell, O. J. Secret war: Americans in China, 1944-1945. (Ag '72)

France

Dreux, W. B. No bridges blown. (My '72)
Griffiths, R. Pétain. (My '72)

Germany

Höhne, H. Codeword: Direktor. (Ap '72)
Schramm, P. E. Hitler: the man and the military leader. (D '72)

Great Britain

Douglas-Hamilton, J. Motive for a mission. (Mr '72)
King, C. H. With malice toward none. (O '72)
Lee, R. E. London journal of General Raymond E. Lee, 1940-1945. (Ap '72)
Macrae, R. S. Winston Churchill's toyshop. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Panter-Downes, M. London war notes, 1928-1945. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Parkinson, R. Peace for our time. (S '72)

Italy

Davis, M. S. Who defends Rome? (Ag '72)

Bari (City)

Infield, G. B. Disaster at Bari. (Mr '72)

Japan

Bergamini, D. Japan's imperial conspiracy. (1971, 1972 Annual)
Toland, J. Rising sun. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Mediterranean Sea

Ansel, W. Hitler and the middle sea. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Near East

Wilmington, M. W. Middle East supply centre. (Ag '72)

Pacific Ocean

Bahrenburg, B. Pacific: then and now. (Mr '72)

Poland

FitzGibbon, L. Katyn. (Mr '72)

Russia

Fireside, H. Icon and swastika. (My '72)
World within the ocean wave. Silverberg, R. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Worldly goods. Gollin, J. (Mr '72)
Worlds apart. Eng title of: Living with the Communists. Trevelyan, H. (S '72)
Worlds of jazz. Hodeir, A. (D '72)

Worms

Darling, L. Worms. (O '72)

Worry

Sifneos, P. E. Short-term psychotherapy and emotional crisis. (D '72)

Worship

Macquarrie, J. Paths in spirituality. (O '72)

Worth

Slattery, M. F. Hazard, form & value. (N '72)
Would you believe love? McCormack, E. (Mr '72)
Wound of mortality. Oraison, M. (Ap '72)
Wreck of the Penn Central. Daughen, J. R. (Mr '72)

Wrecking crew. Levis, L. (D '72)

Wren, Sir Christopher

Juvenile literature

Weir, R. Man who built a city. (My '72)

Wright, Frank Lloyd

Wright, F. L. Frank Lloyd Wright, v 1. (My '72)

Wright, Richard

Brignano, R. C. Richard Wright. (My '72)

Writers against rulers. Hamšík, D. (My '72)

Writing

Hughes, F. Reading and writing before school. (Ap '72)
Johnston, E. Formal penmanship and other papers. (N '72)

HistoryJuvenile literature*

Cottrell, L. Reading the past. (Ag '72)
Writing of history in the Soviet Union. Mazour, A. G. (Ag '72)
Writings of Anna Freud, v7. Freud, A. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
Writings on the Paris Commune. Marx, K. (O '72)
Wyeth, Newell Convers
Wyeth, N. C. Wyeths: the letters of N. C. Wyeth, 1901-1945. (Ap '72)
Wyeths: the letters of N. C. Wyeth, 1901-1945. (Ap '72)

Xerox Corporation

Dessauer, J. H. My years with Xerox. (Ap '72)

Yam factor. Page, M. (S '72)

Yamacraw Elementary School

Conroy, P. Water is wide. (N '72)

Yamacraw Island, South Carolina

Conroy, P. Water is wide. (N '72)

Yamagata, Aritomo

Hackett, R. F. Yamagata Aritomo in the rise of modern Japan, 1838-1922. (Ap '72)

Yamagata Aritomo in the rise of modern Japan, 1838-1922. Hackett, R. F. (Ap '72)

Yangtze patrol. Tolley, K. (N '72)

Yankee communes. Morse, F. (Ap '72)

Yankee doodle. Farb, P. (Ap '72)

Yaqui Indians

Moisés, R. Tall candle. (Ap '72)

Religion and mythology

Castaneda, C. Journey to Ixtlan. (D '72)

Castaneda, C. Separate reality. (1971, 1972 Annual)

Year-round school. Hermansen, K. L. (My '72)

Yeats, William Butler

Eddins, D. Yeats: the nineteenth century matrix. (Ag '72)

Jeffares, A. N. Circus animals. (Mr '72)

Mac Liamóir, M. W. B. Yeats and his world. (O '72)

Yeats, William Butler—Continued

Bibliography

- Cross, K. G. W. Bibliography of Yeats criticism, 1887-1965. (S '72)
- Yeats: the nineteenth century matrix. Eddins, D. (Ag '72)
- Yellow room. Hall, D. (Mr '72)
- Yellowstone National Park
- Adams, A. Tetons and the Yellowstone. (Ap '72)
- Yenan Way in revolutionary China. Selden, M. (My '72)
- Yes, married. Viorst, J. (D '72)
- Yiddish essays
- Howe, I., ed. Voices from the Yiddish. (Ag '72)
- Yiddish fiction
- Pinsker, S. Schlemiel as metaphor. (Mr '72)
- Yorubas
- Akintoye, S. A. Revolution and power politics in Yorubaland, 1840-1893. (O '72)
- Yoshida, Jim
- Yoshida, J. Two worlds of Jim Yoshida. (N '72)
- You and your feet. Fast, J. (Ag '72)
- You can't eat magnolias. Ayers, H. B., ed. (S '72)
- Young adults. See Youth
- Young and black in Africa. Ojigbo, A. O., comp. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Young and female. Ross, P., ed. (Ag '72)
- Young and hungry. Taylor, S. (Mr '72)
- Young die quietly. Seymour, W. N. (Ap '72)
- Young Lenin. Trotsky, L. (N '72)
- Young masters. Scholefield, A. (Ap '72)
- Young Men's Christian Associations
- Garrett, S. S. Social reformers in urban China. (My '72)
- Young people's libraries. See Libraries, Young adults'
- Young people's science encyclopedia, 20v [rev ed.]. (My '72)
- Young Philip Sidney, 1572-1577. Osborn, J. M. (O '72)
- Your body clock. Strughold, H. (Ag '72)
- Your book of nineteenth century costume. Eng title of: Costumes of the nineteenth century. Cunningham, P. (Ap '72)
- Your friendly neighborhood death pedlar. Sangster, J. (Je '72)
- Your money or your life. Kunnes, R. (Ap '72)
- Youth
- Goldhill, P. M. Parent's guide to the prevention and control of drug abuse. (My '72)
- Attitudes
- Gecan, M., ed. Seen through our eyes. (Je '72)
- Employment
- Maizels, J. Adolescent needs and the transition from school to work. (O '72)
- Political activity
- Marshall, D. R. Politics of participation in poverty. (N '72)
- Religious life
- Johnson, R. L. Counter culture and the vision of God. (Ap '72)
- Germany
- Walker, L. D. Hitler youth and Catholic youth, 1933-1936. (My '72)
- Middlesex, England
- Maizels, J. Adolescent needs and the transition from school to work. (O '72)
- United States
- Adelman, C. Generations. (N '72)
- DiGiacomo, J. We were never their age. (D '72)
- Handlin, O. Facing life. (Mr '72)
- Political activity
- Lipset, S. M. Passion and politics. (Ap '72)
- Moffett, T. Participation put-on. (Ap '72)
- Youth and dissent.* Keniston, K. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)

Youth movement

- Boyle, K. Long walk at San Francisco State, and other essays. (S '72)
- Esler, A. Bombs, beards and barricades. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Katzman, A., ed. Our time. (Je '72)
- Keniston, K. Youth and dissent. (Ag '72) (1971 Annual)
- Ledeer, M. A. Universal fascism. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Rossmann, M. Wedding within the war. (Je '72)
- Walker, L. D. Hitler youth and Catholic youth, 1933-1936. (My '72)

Yugoslavia

Antiquities

- Alexander, J. Yugoslavia before the Roman conquest. (O '72)

History

- Pavlowitch, S. K. Yugoslavia. (Ag '72)

Politics and government

- Pavlowitch, S. K. Yugoslavia. (Ag '72)
- Yugoslavia, Pavlowitch, S. K. (Ag '72)
- Yugoslavia before the Roman conquest. Alexander, J. (O '72)

- ZBC of Ezra Pound. Brooke-Rose, C. (Ag '72)
- Zakros, Crete

Antiquities

- Platon, N. Zakros. (Mr '72)
- Zakros. Platon, N. (Mr '72)

Zambia

Politics

- Bates, R. H. Unions, parties and political development. (S '72)
- Zambia's president: Kenneth Kaunda. Polatnick, F. T. (N '72)
- Zauberflöte, Mozart, J. C. W. A. (In Chagall at the Met). (N '72)

Zen Buddhism

- Dōgen. Primer of Sōtō Zen. (Ap '72)
- Fontein, J. Zen painting & calligraphy. (N '72)
- Hakuin. Zen master Hakuin: selected writings. (My '72)
- Kennett, J. Selling water by the river. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Suzuki, D. T. Sengai, the Zen master. (O '72)
- Zen master Hakuin: selected writings. Hakuin. (My '72)
- Zen painting & calligraphy. Fontein, J. (N '72)
- Ziegfeld, Florenz
- Higham, C. Ziegfeld. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)
- Zinacantán, Mexico

Economic conditions

- Cancian, F. Change and uncertainty in a peasant economy. (D '72)

Social conditions

- Cancian, F. Change and uncertainty in a peasant economy. (D '72)

Zionism

- Ben-Gurion, D. Letters to Paula. (D '72)
- Weisgal, M. Meyer Weisgal . . . so far. (My '72)

Encyclopedias

- Patal, R., ed. Encyclopedia of Zionism and Israel. (S '72)

History

- Laqueur, W. History of Zionism. (Ja '73) (1972 Annual)

Zoology

Encyclopedias

- Grzimek, B., ed. Grzimek's animal life encyclopedia. v10. (S '72)

History

- Hays, H. R. Birds, beasts, and men. (S '72)
- Zoom! Townend, P. (D '72)
- Zuccaro, Taddeo
- Gere, J. A. Taddeo Zuccaro: his development studied in his drawings. (Mr '72)

Directory of Publishers and Distributors

- A.L.A. American Library Association. Publishing Services, 50 E Huron St, Chicago, Ill. 60611
- Abelard-Schuman, Ltd., 257 Park Av. S, New York, N.Y. 10010
- Abingdon. Abingdon Press, Hdqrs, 201 8th Av. S, Nashville, Tenn. 37203; 55 E 55th St, New York, N.Y. 10022
- Abrams. Harry N. Abrams, Inc, 110 E 59th St, New York, N.Y. 10022
- Academic Press, Inc., 111 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10003; refer orders to Oak Tree Rd, Palisades, N.Y. 10946
- Acropolis Bks. Colortone Bldg. 2400 17th St, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20009
- Addison-Wesley. Addison-Wesley Publishing Co, Inc, Reading, Mass. 01867; Menlo Park: 2725 Sand Hill Rd, Menlo Park, Calif. 94025
Juvenile division: Addisonian Press
- Adirondack Trail Improvement Soc., Box 101, S. Strafford, Vt. 05070
- Africana Pub. Corp., 101 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10003
- Aldine-Atherton, Inc., 529 S Wabash Av, Chicago, Ill. 60605
Formerly Aldine Pub.
- Aldine Pub. See Aldine-Atherton
- Alleluia Press., Box 103, Allendale, N.J. 07410
- Allyn. Allyn & Bacon, Inc, 470 Atlantic Av, Boston, Mass. 02110
Atlanta: 695 Miami Circle, N.E., Atlanta Ga. 30324
Belmont: Belmont Park, Belmont, Calif. 94002
- Rockleigh. Rockleigh Industrial Park, Rockleigh, N.J. 07647
- Am. Assn. of Mus. American Association of Museums, Publications Dept, 2233 Wisconsin, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20007
- Am. Council on Educ. American Council on Education, Publications Division, 1 Dupont Circle, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036
- Am. Elsevier Pub. Co, Inc., 52 Vanderbilt Av, New York, N.Y. 10017
- Am. Faculty Press., 44 Lake Shore Drive, Rockaway, N.J. 07866
- Am. Heritage. American Heritage Publishing Co, Inc, 1221 Av. of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10020
- Am. Jewish Hist. Soc., 2 Thornton Rd, Waltham, Mass. 02154
- Am. Philosophical Soc., 104 S 5th St, Philadelphia, Pa. 19106
- Am. West. American West Publishing Co, 599 College Av, Palo Alto, Calif. 94306
- Appleton. Appleton-Century-Crofts, 440 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10016; refer orders to Meredith
- Applied Lib. Resources, Inc., 1343 H St, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20005
- Arbor House., 757 3d Av, New York, N.Y. 10017
- Archon Bks., 995 Sherman Av, Hamden, Conn. 06514
- Arco. Arco Publishing Company, Inc, 219 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10003
- Arlington House. Arlington House, Publishers, 81 Centre Av, New Rochelle, N.Y. 10801
- Arma Press. Greenwich, Conn. 06830
- Arno Press, Inc., 330 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10017
Partially owned by N.Y. Times Co. whose identity will be kept
- Asia Pub. Asia Publishing House, 420 Lexington Av, New York, N.Y. 10017
- Assn. Press. Association Press (Nat. Council of Y.M.C.A.'s) 291 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10007
- Atheneum Pubs., 122 E 42d St, New York, N.Y. 10017
- Atherton. Atherton Press, 70 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10011
Division of Prentice-Hall
- Auerbach Pubs, Inc., 121 N. Broad St, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107
Formerly Brandon/Systems
- Augsburg. Augsburg Publishing House, 426 S 5th St, Minneapolis, Minn. 55415
Columbus: 57 E Main St, Columbus, Ohio 43215
Los Angeles: 324 Beverly Blvd, Los Angeles, Calif. 90057
- Aurora Pubs, Inc., 118 16th Av, S, Nashville, Tenn. 37203
- Ballantine. Ballantine Bks, Inc, 101 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10003; refer orders to Simon & Schuster
- Bancroft Bks, Inc., Box 9348, Berkeley, Calif. 94709
- Barnes. A.S. A. S. Barnes & Company, Box 421, Cranbury, N.J. 08512
- Barnes & Noble, Inc., 105 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10003
- Baron. R.W. Richard W. Baron Publishing Company, Inc, 201 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10003
- Barre. Barre Pub. Co. Inc, South St, Barre, Mass. 01005
- Bartholomew House, Inc., 205 E 42d St, New York, N.Y. 10017
- Basic Bks, Inc. Publishers. 10 E 53d St, New York, N.Y. 10022
- Bauhan. William L. Bauhan, Inc, Noone House, Peterborough, N.H. 03458
- Beacon Press, Inc., 25 Beacon St, Boston, Mass. 02108; 1601 Jericho Turnpike, New Hyde Park, N.Y. 11040
- Beginner Bks., 201 E 50th St, New York, N.Y. 10022
- Behavioral Publications, Inc., 2852 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10025
- Behrman. Behrman House, Inc, 1261 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10001
- Belknap Press. Kittredge Hall, 79 Garden St, Cambridge, Mass. 02138
- Bellwether Publishing Co., 167 E. 67th St, New York, N.Y. 10021
- Black Sparrow Press. Box 25603, Los Angeles, Calif. 90025
- Blom. B. Benjamin Blom, Inc, 2521 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10025
- Bobbs. Bobbs-Merrill Company, Inc, 4300 W 62d St, Indianapolis, Ind. 46268; 4 W 58th St, New York, N.Y. 10019
- Boni & Liveright. See Liveright
- Boston Bk. Boston Book & Art, Publishers, 655 Boylston St, Boston, Mass. 02116
- Bowker. The R.R. Bowker Company, Xerox educ. group, 1180 Av. of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10036
- Bowling Green Univ. Popular Press. Bowling Green, Ohio 43402
- Bradbury Press, Inc., 2 Overhill Rd, Scarsdale, N.Y. 10583
- Braziller. George Braziller, Inc, 1 Park Av, New York, N.Y. 10016
- British Bk. Centre. The. 996 Lexington Av, New York, N.Y. 10021
- Brookings. The Brookings Institution, Publications Division, 1775 Massachusetts Av, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036
- Brown. D.W. Donald W. Brown, Inc, 60 E 55th St, New York, N.Y. 10022
- Brown Univ. Press., 129 Waterman St, Providence, R.I. 02912
- Brunner/Mazel, Inc., 64 University Pl, New York, N.Y. 10003
- Bucknell Univ. Press. Lewisburg, Pa. 17837
Business & Distribution Office, Box 421, Cranbury, N.J. 08512
- Cambridge. Cambridge Univ. Press, 32 E 57th St, New York, N.Y. 10022; refer orders to 510 North Av, New Rochelle, N.Y. 10801
- Catholic Univ. of Am. Press., 620 Michigan Av, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20017; refer trade orders to Herder & Herder
- Caxton Ptrs. Caxton Printers, Ltd, Caldwell, Idaho 83605
- Charterhouse Bks, Inc., 145 E 49th St, New York, N.Y. 10017
- Chatham Press, Inc., 15 Wilmont Lane, Riverside, Conn. 06878; Box 314, Old Greenwich, Conn. 06870
- Chelsea House Pubs., 70 W 40th St, New York, N.Y. 10018
- Childrens Press, Inc., 1224 W Van Buren St, Chicago, Ill. 60607
- Chilton Bk. Co., 401 Walnut St, Philadelphia, Pa. 19106
- Citadel. Citadel Press, 120 Enterprise Av, Secaucus, N.J. 07094
- Coiner. Coiner Publications, Ltd, 3066 M St, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20007
- Collectors Eds, Ltd., 185 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10016

College & Univ. Press. College & University Press Services, Inc., 263 Chapel St., New Haven, Conn. 06513
 Collier Bks., 866 3d Av., New York, N.Y. 10017
 Columbia Univ. Press, 562 W 113th St., New York, N.Y. 10025; refer orders to 136 S Broadway, Irvington-on-Hudson, New York, N.Y. 10533
 Contemporary Crafts, Inc., 5616 San Vicente Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90019
 Cornell Univ. Press, 124 Roberts Pl., Ithaca, N.Y. 14850
 Coward, McCann & Geoghegan, Inc., 200 Madison Av., New York, N.Y. 10016
 Formerly Coward McCann
 Cowles. Cowles Book Company, Inc., 114 W Illinois St., Chicago, Ill. 60610
 Cram. The George F. Cram Co., 301 S La Salle St., P.O. Box 426, Indianapolis, Ind. 46206
 Crane, Russak & Co., 52 Vanderbilt Av., New York, N.Y. 10017
 Crescendo Pub. Company, 48-50 Melrose St., Boston, Mass. 02116
 Crowell, Thomas Y. Crowell Co., 666 5th Av., S., New York, N.Y. 10019
 Crowell, Collier Press, 866 3d Av., New York, N.Y. 10017
 Crown. Crown Publishers, Inc., 419 Park Av., S., New York, N.Y. 10016

Day. The John Day Company, 257 Park Av., S., New York, N.Y. 10010; Warehouse and shipping: Haddon Distribution Center, O'Neill Highway, Dunmore, Pa. 18512
 Darien House, Inc., 37 Riverside Drive, New York, N.Y. 10023
 David, J. The Jonathan David Pubs., 68-22 Eliot Av., Middle Village, N.Y. 11379
 Delacorte Press. Delacorte Press Books, 750 3d Av., New York, N.Y. 10017
 Division: Dell
 Delta Bks., 750 3d Av., New York, N.Y. 10017
 Dial Press. The Dial Press, Inc., 750 3d Av., New York, N.Y. 10017
 Division of Delacorte Press
 Diplomatic. The Diplomatic Press, 1102 Betton Rd., Tallahassee, Fla. 32303
 Dodd, Dodd, Mead & Company, Inc., 79 Madison Av., New York, N.Y. 10016
 Doubleday. Doubleday & Company, Inc., 277 Park Av., New York, N.Y. 10017; refer orders to 501 Franklin Av., Garden City, N.Y. 11530
 Drake Pubs., Ltd., 440 Park Av., S., New York, N.Y. 10016
 Dufour. Dufour Editions, Chester Springs, Pa. 19425
 Duke Univ. Press, College Station 6697, Durham, N.C. 27708
 Dunellen Pub. The Dunellen Publishing Company, Inc., 145 E 52d St., New York, N.Y. 10022
 Dutton. E. P. Dutton & Co., Inc., 201 Park Av., S., New York, N.Y. 10003

Eakins Press, 155 E 42d St., New York, N.Y. 10017
 East West Center Press, 1777 East-West Rd., Honolulu, Hawaii 96822
 Educational Bk. Crafters, 71 Boulevard, Westwood, N.J. 07675
 Eerdmans. Wm. B. Eerdmans Publishing Company, 255 Jefferson Av., S.E., Grand Rapids, Mich. 49502
 Encyclopaedia Britannica. Encyclopaedia Britannica Educ. Corp. (Encyclopaedia Britannica Press); refer orders to 425 N Michigan Av., Chicago, Ill. 60611; 295 Madison Av., New York, N.Y. 10017; refer orders to Atheneum Pubs
 Encyclopedia Enterprises, Inc., 60 E 42d St., New York, N.Y. 10017; for sale by Plaza Merchandising Inc.
 Entomological Reprint Specialists, Box 77971, Dockweiler Station, Los Angeles, Calif. 90007
 Eriksson. Paul S. Eriksson, Inc., 119 W 57th St., New York, N.Y. 10019; refer orders to Independent Pubs. group c/o David White, Inc., 60 E 55th St., New York, N.Y. 10022
 Evans, M.&Co. M. Evans & Company, Inc., 216 E 49th St., New York, N.Y. 10017; refer orders to Lippincott
 Exposition. The Exposition Press, Inc., 50 Jericho Turnpike, Jericho, N.Y. 11753

Fairleigh Dickinson Univ. Press, Box 421, Cranbury, N.J. 08512
 Farrar, Straus, Farrar, Straus & Giroux, Inc., 19 Union Sq., W., New York, N.Y. 10003

Fernhill House, 450 Park Av., S., New York, N.Y. 10016
 Bks. distributed by Humanities Press
 Fertig. Howard Fertig, Inc., Pub., 80 E 11th St., New York, N.Y. 10003
 Fielding Publications, 425 Park Av., S., New York, N.Y. 10016
 5 Associates, Inc., 1021 Edgewood Rd., Redwood City, Calif. 94062; refer orders to Scrimshaw Press
 Fla. State Univ. Press, 213 Longmire Bldg., Fla. State Univ., Tallahassee, Fla. 32306
 Flayderman, N.N. N. N. Flayderman & Co., Squash Hollow, R.F.D. 2, New Milford, Conn. 06776
 Follett. Follett Educ. Corp., 1010 W Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. 60607
 Trade Division: Follett Pub. Co.
 Fordham Univ. Press, 441 E Fordham Rd., Bronx, N.Y. 10458
 Fortress Press, 2900 Queen Lane, Philadelphia, Pa. 19129; Rock Island, Ill. 61201
 Four Winds. The Four Winds Press, 50 W 44th St., New York, N.Y. 10036; refer orders to 904 Sylvan Av., Englewood Cliffs, N.J. 07632
 Division of Scholastic Mags.
 Free Press. The Free Press, 866 3d Av., New York, N.Y. 10022; refer orders to Brown & Front Sts., Riverside, N.J. 08075
 A division of Macmillan (N.Y.)
 Freeman. W. H. Freeman & Company, Publishers, 660 Market St., San Francisco, Calif. 94104
 Subsidiary of Scientific Am.
 Frontier Press, 250 E Town St., Columbus, Ohio 43215
 Funk. Funk & Wagnalls Publishing Co., Inc., 666 5th Av., New York, N.Y. 10019; refer orders to Crowell
 Division of Dun-Donnelley Pub. Corp.

G/L Tab bks. See TAB bks.

Gambit, Inc., 53 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. 02108; refer orders to Houghton
 General Learning Press, 250 James St., Morristown, N.J. 07960
 Ginn. Ginn and Co. (A Xerox Co) 191 Spring St., Lexington, Mass. 02173
 Glendessary Press, The, 2512 Grove St., Berkeley, Calif. 94704
 Godine. David R. Godine, 306 Dartmouth St., Boston, Mass. 02116; refer orders to Barre
 Golden Gate. Golden Gate Junior Books, Box 398, San Carlos, Calif. 94070; Editorial Office: 8344 Melrose Av., Los Angeles, Calif. 90069
 Golden Press. Golden Press, Publishers, 850 3d Av., New York, N.Y. 10022; refer orders to 150 Parish Drive, Wayne, N.J. 07470
 Subsidiary of Western Pub. Co.
 Greenwood Press, Inc., 51 Riverside Av., Westport, Conn. 06880
 Also use name Greenwood Pub. Corp.
 Greenwood Pub. Corp. See Greenwood Press
 Gregg. Gregg Publishing Division, McGraw-Hill Book Publishing Co., Inc., 330 W 42d St., New York, N.Y. 10036
 Gregg Press, Inc., 70 Lincoln St., Boston, Mass. 02111
 Grosset. Grosset & Dunlap, Inc., 51 Madison Av., New York, N.Y. 10010; refer orders to 227 E. Center St., Kingsport, Tenn. 37660
 Grossman Pubs., 625 Madison Av., New York, N.Y. 10022
 See also Orion
 Grove. Grove Press, Inc., 53 E 11th St., New York, N.Y. 10003

Hall of Fame Pub, 102 North St., Greenwich, Conn. 06830
 Hammond. Hammond Inc., 515 Valley St., Maplewood, N.J. 07040
 Formerly C. S. Hammond Co., Inc.
 Harcourt. Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, Inc., 757 3d Av., New York, N.Y. 10017
 Merged with World Bk.
 Expanded to include the publications of Reynal
 Atlanta: 680 Forest Rd., N.E. Atlanta, Ga. 30312
 Burlingame: 1855 Rollins Rd., Burlingame, Calif. 94010
 Chicago: 7555 Caldwell Av., Chicago, Ill. 60648
 Dallas: 4640 Harry Hines Blvd., Dallas, Tex. 75235
 Harlin Quist, Inc., 252 E 49th St., New York, N.Y. 10017; refer trade orders to Crown
 Harper. Harper & Row, Pubs., 10 E 53d St., New York, N.Y. 10022; 2500 Crawford Av., Evanston, Ill. 60201

Harper's Magazine Press, 2 Park Av. New York, N.Y. 10016
Distributor: Harper

Hart. Hart Publishing Co, Inc, 719 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10003
Formerly Pub. as Hart Book Co, Inc.
Hart Book Co. See Hart

Harvard Univ. Division of Res. Harvard Univ. Graduate School of Business Adm. Division of Res, Soldiers Field, Boston, Mass. 02163

Harvard Univ. Press. Harvard University Press, Publishing Department, Kittredge Hall 79 Garden St, Cambridge, Mass. 02138

Harvey House, 5 S Buckhout St, Irvington-on-Hudson, N.Y. 10533

Hastings House. Hastings House, Publishers, Inc, 10 E 40th St, New York, N.Y. 10016

Hawthorn Bks, Inc, 75 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10011

Heath Lexington Bks, 125 Spring St, Lexington, Mass. 02173

Herder & Herder, Inc. (Herder Bk. Center) 232 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10016

Herzl Press, The, 515 Park Av, New York, N.Y. 10022
Publish and distribute for Theodor Herzl Hill & Wang, Inc, 19 Union Sq, W, New York, N.Y. 10003
Division of Farrar, Straus

Hippocrene Bks, Inc, 171 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10016
Distributed by Optimum Book Marketing Co.

Holiday. Holiday House, 18 E 56th St, New York, N.Y. 10022

Holt. Holt, Rinehart & Winston, Inc, 383 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10017

Hoover Inst. Press, Stanford Univ, Stanford, Calif. 94305

Hopkinson & Blake, Publishers, 329 Fifth Av, New York, N.Y. 10016

Horizon Press, 156 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10010

Houghton. Houghton Mifflin Company (Riverside Press, Cambridge) 2 Park St, Boston, Mass. 02107; refer orders to Wayside Rd, Burlington, Mass. 01803
Atlanta: 441 W Peachtree St, N.E., Atlanta, Ga. 30308
Chicago: 30 N Michigan Av, Chicago, Ill. 60602
Dallas: 715 Browder St, Dallas, Tex. 75201
N.Y.: 53 W 43d St, New York, N.Y. 10036
Palo Alto: 777 California Av, Palo Alto, Calif. 94304

HRAF Press. Human Relations Area Files, P.O. Box. 2015 Yale Station, New Haven, Conn. 06520

Humanities Press, Inc, 450 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10016
Affiliate co: Hillary House

Ind. Univ. Press, 10th & Morton Sts, Bloomington, Ind. 47401

Int. Pubs. International Publishers Company, Inc, 381 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10016

Int. Scholarly Book Services, Inc, P.O. Box 4347, Portland, Oregon 97208; 1920 Sheridan Rd, Zion, Ill. 60099

Int. Science Press. See Science House

Int. Univs. Press, Inc, 239 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10003
Formerly Int. Univ. Press

Interscience. Interscience Publishers, Inc. 605 3d Av, New York, N.Y. 10016; Interscience Encyclopedia, Inc, 66 Court St, Brooklyn, N.Y. 12202

Interstate. The Interstate Printers & Publishers, Inc, 19-27 N Jackson St, Danville, Ill. 61832

Intext. International Textbooks Co, Scranton, Pa. 18515; Intext Educ. Pubs, 257 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10010
Formerly Int. Textbook

Iowa State Univ. Press, Press Building, Ames, Iowa 50010

Jewish Publication Soc. of Am, The, 222 N 15th St, Philadelphia, Pa. 19102; 347 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10027

John Knox Press, Box 1176, 801 E Main St, Richmond, Va. 23209
Affiliated Co: CLC Press

Johns Hopkins Press. See Johns Hopkins Univ. Press

Johns Hopkins Univ. Press, Homewood, Baltimore, Md. 21218

Jossey-Bass, Inc, Pubs, 615 Montgomery St, San Francisco, Calif. 94111

Judson Press, Valley Forge, Pa. 19481

Julian Press, Inc, The, 150 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10011

Kelley. Augustus M. Kelley, 305 Allwood Rd, Clifton, N.J. 07012

Kenedy. P. J. Kenedy & Sons, Publishers, 866 3d Av, New York, N.Y. 10022

Kennikat. Kennikat Press, Inc, 90 S Bayles Av, Port Washington, N.Y. 11050
Subsidiary of Taylor pub. co.

Kent State Univ. Press, Kent, Ohio 44240

Knopf, Alfred A. Knopf, Inc, 201 E 50th St, New York, N.Y. 10022

Knox, Pennsylvania Free Press, Box 399, Knox, Pa. 16232

Kodansha. Kodansha International/USA, Ltd, 577 College Av, Palo Alto, Calif. 94306

La. State Univ. Press, University Station, Baton Rouge, La. 70803

Lerner Publications, Co, 241 1st Av, N, Minneapolis, Minn. 55401
Formerly Medical Bks. for children

Lib. Press. The Library Press, 50 Liberty Av, Freeport, N.Y. 11520

Libs. Unlimited. Libraries Unlimited, Inc, Box 263, Littleton, Colo. 80120

Linnet Bks, 995 Sherman Av, Hamden, Conn. 06514

Lion. Lion Press, Inc, 52 Park Av, New York, N.Y. 10016

Lippincott. J. B. Lippincott Company, E Washington Sq, Philadelphia, Pa. 19105; 521 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10017; 333 W Lake St, Chicago, Ill. 60606

Little. Little, Brown & Company, 34 Beacon St, Boston, Mass. 02106

Littlefield, Adams & Co, 81 Adams Drive, Totowa, N.J. 07512

Liveright. Liveright Publishing Company, 386 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10016
Formerly Boni & Liveright

Livingston Pub. Livingston Publishing Company, 18-20 Hampstead Circle, Wynnewood, Pa. 19096

Lothrop. Lothrop, Lee & Shepard Company, Inc, 381 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10016

Luce, R. B. Robert B. Luce, Inc, 2000 N St, N.W., Suite 110, Washington, D.C. 20036

MIT Press. Massachusetts Institute of Technology Press, 28 Carleton St, Cambridge, Mass. 02142

McCall Pub. Co. See Saturday Review Press

McGraw. McGraw-Hill Book Co, Inc, 1221 Av. of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10020; Calif: 8171 Redwood Highway, Novato, Calif. 94947; Mo: Manchester Rd, Manchester, Mo. 63011; N.J: Highstown, N.J. 08520

McKay. David McKay Company, Inc, Publishers, 750 3d Av, New York, N.Y. 10017

Macmillan (N.Y.). The Macmillan Co, Publishers, 866 3d Av, New York, N.Y. 10022; refer orders to Brown & Front Sts, Riverside, N.J. 08075
Cambridge Publications formerly handled by Macmillan in the U.S. now handled by Cambridge.
Division of Crowell, Collier Pub. Co.
Atlanta: 1360 Spring St, N.W. Atlanta, Ga. 30309
Chicago: 2549 Prairie Av, Chicago, Ill. 60616
Dallas: 501-7 Elm St, Dallas, Tex. 75202
San Francisco: 111 New Montgomery St, San Francisco, Calif. 94105

Maplewood Press, Box 90, Meadville, Pa. 16335

Markham Pub. Markham Publishing Company, 3322 W Peterson Av, Chicago, Ill. 60645

Meredith Corp. 440 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10016

Merit Pubs. See Pathfinder Press

Messner. Julian Messner, 1 W 39th St, New York, N.Y. 10018
Division of Simon & Schuster

Metropolitan Mus. Metropolitan Museum of Art, 5th Av & 82d St, New York, N.Y. 10028; refer trade orders to N.Y. Graphic

Mich. State Univ. Press, Box 550, East Lansing, Mich. 48823
Formerly Mich. State College Press

Microcard Eds, Inc, 901 26th St, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20037

Monitor Bk. Co, Inc, 195 S Beverly Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212

Monthly Review, MR Press, 116 W 14th St, New York, N.Y. 10011

Morrow. William Morrow & Company, Inc, Publishers, 105 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10016; refer orders to 6 Henderson Drive, W Caldwell, N.J. 07006

Music Information Service, Inc, 310 Madison Ave, New York, N.Y. 10017

- N.Y. Graphic. New York Graphic Society Publishers, Ltd., 140 Greenwich Av., Greenwich, Conn. 06830; 10 W 33d St, New York, N.Y. 10001
- N.Y. Public Lib. New York Public Library, Public Relations Office, 5th Av & 42d St, New York, N.Y. 10018
- N.Y. Univ. Press, 32 Washington Pl, New York, N.Y. 10003
- Nash Pub. Corp. 9255 Sunset Blvd, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069; refer orders to 810 Hyde Park W, Inglewood, Calif. 90302
- Nat. Bur. of Economic Res., Inc. 261 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10016
Distribution being handled by Columbia Univ. Press
- Nat. Press Bks. 850 Hansen Way, Palo, Alto, Calif. 94304
Formerly known as N.P. Publications
Division of the Nat. Press
- Natural Hist. Press, 501 Franklin Av, Garden City, N.Y. 11530
- Naval Inst. Press, Annapolis, Md. 21402
Formerly U.S. Naval Inst.
- Naylor. The Naylor Company, 1015 Culebra Av, San Antonio, Tex. 78201
- Negro Univs. Press, 51 Riverside Av, Westport, Conn. 06880
Division of Greenwood Press
- Nelson. Thomas Nelson Inc, P.O. Box 405 7th Av, S. Nashville, Tenn. 37202. (Administrative Office); 30 E 42d St, New York, N.Y. 10017 (editorial office)
Purchased by Thomson Organization
- New Am. Lib. The American Library, Inc, 1301 Av of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10019
Subsidiary of Times-Mirror
- New Critics Press, Inc. 9 Washington Terrace, St. Louis, Mo. 63112
For sale by Dutton
- New Directions, Norfolk, Conn. 06058; 333 Av. of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10014; refer orders to Lippincott
- Newsweek, Inc. 444 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10022
- Noone House. See Bauhan
- North Castle. North Castle Bks, 212 Bedford Rd, Greenwich, Conn. 06830
- North Dakota Inst. for Regional Studies, Fargo, North Dakota
- North Ill. Univ. Press, De Kalb, Ill. 60115
- Northwestern Univ. Press, 1735 Benson Av, Evanston, Ill. 60201
- Norton. W. W. Norton & Company, Inc. Publishers, 55 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10003; refer orders for childrens books to Grosset
- Norwegian-Am. Hist. Assn. Norwegian-American Historical Association, St Olaf College, Northfield, Minn. 55057
- Oak Publications, Inc. 165 W 46th St, New York, N.Y. 10036
- Oceana. Oceana Publications, Inc, 75 Main St, Dobbs Ferry, N.Y. 10522
- Octagon Bks, 19 Union Sq, W, New York, N.Y. 10003
Division of Farrar, Straus
- October House, Inc. 160 Av of the Americas New York, N.Y. 10013; refer orders to A. Betta, 85 Austin Blvd, Commack, L.I., N.Y. 11725
- O'Hara, J. P. J. Philip O'Hara, Inc. 20 E. Huron, Chicago, Ill. 60611
- Ohio State Univ. Press, 2070 Neil Av, Columbus, Ohio 43210
- Ohio Univ. Press, Administrative Annex, Athens, Ohio 45701
- Olympia Press. The Olympia Press, Inc, 220 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10003
- Open-Door Press, Palo Alto, Calif: for sale by Int. Scholarly Bk Services, 1920 Sheridan Rd, Zion, Ill. 60099
- Orbis Bks, Maryknoll, N.Y. 10545
- Oriole Eds, Inc. 19 West 44th St, New York N.Y. 10036
- Orion. Orion Press, 625 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10022
- Outerbridge & Dienstfrey. See Outerbridge & Lazard
- Outerbridge & Lazard, 200 W 82d St, New York, N.Y. 10023; refer orders to Dutton
Formerly Outerbridge & Dienstfrey
- Oxford. Oxford University Press, Inc, 200 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10016; refer orders to 16-00 Politt Drive, Fair Lawn, N.J. 07410
- Pa. State Univ. Press. The Pennsylvania State University Press, 215 Wagner Bldg, University Park, Pa. 16802
- Pacific Bks, Box 558, Palo Alto, Calif. 94302
- Pacific Coast Pubs, 4085 Campbell Av, Menlo Park, Calif. 94025
- Pantheon Bks, Inc. 201 E 50th St, New York, N.Y. 10022
Division of Random House
- Parapsychology Press, Inc. College Station, Durham, N.C. 27708
- Parents Mag. Press, 58 Vanderbilt Av, New York, N.Y. 10017; refer orders to 80 New Bridge Rd, Bergenfield, N.J. 17621
Division of Parents Mag. Enterprises
- Parnassus Press, 2721 Parker St, Berkeley, Calif. 94704
- Pathfinder Press, 410 West St, New York, N.Y. 10014
Formerly Merit Pubs; Pioneer Pubs.
- Patterson Smith. Publishers, 23 Prospect Terrace, Montclair, N.J. 07652
- Paulist/Newman Press, Ecumenical Publishers, 404 Sette Drive, Paramus, N.J. 07652
- Pegasus (N Y), 4300 W 62d St, Indianapolis, Ind. 46268
Division of Bobbs
- Pelican. Pelican Publishing House, 630 Burmaster St, Gretna, La. 70053
Formerly Pelican Pub. Co.
- Pelican Pub. Co. See Pelican
- Penguin. Penguin Books, Inc, 7110 Ambassador Rd, Baltimore, Md. 21207
- Pergamon. Pergamon Press, Inc, Maxwell House, Fairview Park, Elmsford, N.Y. 10523
- Phaidon. Phaidon Publishers, Inc, 65-04 110th St, Forest Hills, N.Y. 11375; refer orders to Praeger
- Phillips. S. G. Phillips, Inc, 305 W 86th St, New York, N.Y. 10024
- Philosophical Lib, Inc. 15 E 40th St, New York, N.Y. 10016
- Pilgrim Press. See United Church Press
- Pioneer Pubs. See Pathfinder Press
- Piper Co. The Piper Company, 120 N Main St, Blue Earth, Minn. 56013; Box 26274, U.S. Custom House San Francisco, Calif. 94126
- Platt. The Platt & Munk Co, Inc, 200 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10010
- Playboy Press, 919 Michigan Av, Chicago, Ill. 60611
Division of Playboy Enterprises
- Plays, Inc. 8 Arlington St, Boston, Mass 02116
- Plaza Merchandising, Inc. New York, N.Y.
- Plenum Press, Inc. 227 17th St, New York, N.Y. 10011
- Pop. Science. Popular Science Publishing Co, Inc, 355 Lexington Av, New York, N.Y. 10017
- Potter, C. N. Clarkson N. Potter, Inc, Publisher, 419 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10016; refer orders to Crown
- Praeger, Publishers, Inc. 111 4th Av, New York, N.Y. 10003
- Prentice-Hall, Inc. Route 9W, Englewood Cliffs, N.J. 07632
- Press of Case Western Reserve Univ. The Press of Case Western Reserve University, Frank Adgate Quail Bldg, Cleveland, Ohio 44106
Formerly Western Reserve Univ. Press
- Princeton Univ. Press, Princeton, N.J. 08540
- Prometheus Bks, 923 Kensington Av, Buffalo, N.Y. 14215
- Pruett Pub. Co. P.O. Box 1560, Boulder, Colo. 80302
Division of Pruett Press
- Public Affairs Press, 419 New Jersey Av, S.E., Washington, D.C. 20003
- Purdue Univ. Studies, Bldg. D, S. Campus Cts, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. 47907
- Putnam. G. P. Putnam's Sons, 200 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10016
- Pym-Randall Press, 361 Harvard St, Cambridge Mass. 02138
- Pyne Press, Lower Pyne Bldg, Nassau St, Princeton, N.J. 08540
- Quadrangle Bks, Inc. 12 E Delaware Pl, Chicago, Ill. 60611; 330 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10017
- Ramparts Press, Inc. 117 South Park, San Francisco, Calif. 94107
- Rand McNally. Rand McNally & Co, Box 7600, Chicago, Ill. 60680
- Random House, Inc. 201 E 50th St, New York, N.Y. 10022
Subsidiary of RCA
- Real People Press, 939 Carol Lane, Lafayette, Calif. 94549

Regnery. Henry Regnery Co, 114 W Illinois St, Chicago, Ill. 60610; 175 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10010
Reynal & Co, Inc. 221 E 49th St, New York, N.Y. 10017; Warehouse address: Clifton, N.J. refer orders to Morrow
Rodale. Rodale Press, Inc, 33 E Minor St, Erasmus, Pa. 18049
Ronald. The Ronald Press Co, 79 Madison Av, New York N.Y. 10016
Routledge. Routledge & Kegan Paul, 9 Park St, Boston, Mass. 02108
Rowman & Littlefield, Pubs, 81 Adams Drive, Totowa, N.J. 07512
Rutgers Univ. Press, New Brunswick, N.J. 08903

St. James Press, 670 N Michigan Av, Chicago, Ill. 60611
St Martins. St Martin's Press, Inc, 175 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10010
Sage Publications, Inc. 275 S Beverly Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212
Saturday Review Press, 230 Park Av, New York, N.Y. 10017; refer orders to Dutton
 Formerly McCall Pub Co.
Saunders. W. B. Saunders Co, W Washington Sq, Philadelphia, Pa. 19105
Scarecrow. Scarecrow Press, Inc, 52 Liberty St, Box 656, Metuchen, N.J. 08840
 Owned by Grolier
Schenkman Pub. Schenkman Publishing Co, Inc, 3 Revere St, Harvard Sq, Cambridge, Mass. 02138
Science Associates/International, Inc. 23 E 26th St, New York, N.Y. 10010
Science House, Inc. 59 4th Av, New York, N.Y. 10003
 Formerly Int. Science Press

Schocken. Schocken Books, Inc, 200 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10016
School & Society Bks, 1860 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10023
Scribner. Charles Scribner's Sons, 597 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10017; refer orders to Vreeland Av, Totowa N.J. 07512
Scrimshaw Press, 149 9th St, San Francisco, Calif. 94103
Scrimshaw Pub, Box 675, Centerville, Mass. 02632
Scroll Press, 22 E 84th St, New York, N.Y. 10028
Seabury. The Seabury Press, 815 2d Av, New York, N.Y. 10017
Seminar Press, Inc. 111 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10003
 Subsidiary of Academic Press, Inc.

Sheed. Sheed & Ward, Inc, 64 University Pl, New York, N.Y. 10003
Sherbourne. Sherbourne Press, 1640 S La Cienega Blvd, Los Angeles, Calif. 90035
Shoe String. The Shoe String Press, Inc, 995 Sherman Av, Hamden, Conn. 06514
Sierra Club, 1050 Mills Tower, 220 Bush St, San Francisco Calif. 94104; San Diego Chapter, Box 525 San Diego, Calif. 92112
Silver. Silver Burdett Co, 250 James St, Morristown, N.J. 07960
 Atlanta: 3272 Peachtree Rd, N.E., Atlanta, Ga. 30305
 Dallas: 4640 Harry Hines Blvd, Dallas, Tex. 75235
 Palo Alto: 435 Middlefield Rd, Palo Alto, Calif. 94301
 Park Ridge: 460 S Northwest Highway, San Francisco: 604 Mission St, San Francisco, Calif. 94105

Simon & Schuster, Inc. Pubs 630 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10020; refer orders to 1 W 39th St, New York, N.Y. 10018

Smithsonian Inst. See Smithsonian Inst. Press
Smithsonian Inst. Press, Washington, D.C. 20560

Formerly Smithsonian Inst.
 Also pub. as Smithsonian Press
Smithsonian Press. See Smithsonian Inst. Press
Southern Ill. Univ. Press, Carbondale, Ill. 62901
Southern Methodist Univ. Press, Dallas, Tex. 75222
 Formerly Univ. Press in Dallas

Southern Pub. Assn, Book Dept, Box 59 Nashville, Tenn. 37202

Spartan Bks, 432 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10016
 Subsidiary of Publishers Co, Inc.

Spartan Press, Box 221, East Lansing, Mich. 48823

Speller. Robert Speller & Sons, Pubs, Inc, 10 E 23rd St, New York, N.Y. 10010

Springer Pub, Co, Inc. 200 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10003

Stackpole Bks, Cameron & Kelker Sts, Harrisburg, Pa. 17105

Stanford Univ. Hoover Inst. on War, Revolution & Peace, Stanford, Calif. 94305

Stanford Univ. Press, Stanford, Calif. 94305

State Hist. Soc. of Wis, 816 State St, Madison, Wis. 53706

State Univ. of N.Y. Press, 99 Washington Av, Albany, N.Y. 12210

Stein & Day, Pubs, 7 E 48th St, New York, N.Y. 10017

Stephen Greene. The Stephen Greene Press, Box 1000, Brattleboro, Vt. 05301

Sterling. Sterling Publishing Company, Inc, 419 Park Av, S, New York N.Y. 10016

Straight Arrow Bks, 625 3d St, San Francisco, Calif. 94107; 78 E 56th St, New York, N.Y. 10022

Stuart, L. Lyle Stuart, Inc. 120 Enterprise Av, Secaucus, N.J. 07094

Swallow Press, Inc. 1139 Wabash Av, Chicago, Ill. 60605

Swan House Pub Co, Box 638, Binghamton, N.Y. 13902

Syracuse Univ. Press, Box 8, University Station, Syracuse N.Y. 13210

TAB Bks, Monterey & Pinola Aves, Blue Ridge, Summit, Pa. 17214
 Formerly G/L Tab bks.

Taplinger. Taplinger Publishing Company, Inc, 200 Park Av S, New York N.Y. 10003

Teachers College Press, 1234 Amsterdam Av, New York, N.Y. 10027

Temple Univ. Press, Philadelphia, Pa. 19122
 Also known as Temple Univ. Publications

Ten Speed Press, 2510 Bancroft Way, Berkeley, Calif. 94704

Third Press, The, Joseph Okpaku Pub Co, Inc, 444 Central Park W, New York, N.Y. 10025
 Distributor: Viking

Thomas, C. C. Charles C. Thomas, Pubs, 301-327 E Lawrence Av, Springfield, Ill. 62717

Time. See Time-Life Bks.

Time-Life Bks, Time & Life Bldg, Rockefeller Center, New York, N.Y. 10020; refer orders to Time & Life Bldg, 541 N. Fairbanks Ct, Chicago, Ill. 60611

Touchstone Pub. Co. P.O. Box 21318. 4804 Strawberry Lane, Louisville, Ky. 40221

Transaction Bks, Division of Transaction, Inc, Rutgers-The State University, New Brunswick, N.J. 08903

Transatlantic. Transatlantic Arts, Inc, North Village Green, Levittown, N.Y. 11756

Tri-Ocean Bks, Inc. 62 Townsend St, San Francisco, Calif. 94107

Trident Press, 630 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10020
 Division of Simon & Schuster

Tudor. Tudor Publishing Company, 221 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10003

Tundra Bks. Tundra Books of Northern New York, 18 Cornelia St, Box 1030, Plattsburgh, N.Y. 12901

Tuttle. Charles E. Tuttle Co, Inc, 28-30 Main St, Rutland, Vt. 05701

Twayne. Twayne Pubs, Inc, 31 Union Sq, W, New York, N.Y. 10003
 Distributors for and publishers jointly with Univ. of Kan. City Press

U.S. Naval Inst. See Naval Inst. Press

Ungar. Frederick Ungar Publishing Company, 250 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10003

Union of Am. Hebrew Congregations (Riverdale Press), 838 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10021

United Church Press. United Church Press/Pilgrim Press, 1505 Race St, Philadelphia, Pa. 19102

Univ. of Ala. Press, Drawer 2877, University, Ala. 35486

Univ. of Ariz. Press, The, Box 3398, Tucson, Ariz. 85722

Univ. of Calif. Latin American Center, Los Angeles, Calif. 94720

Univ. of Calif. Press, 2223 Fulton St, Berkeley, Calif. 94720

Univ. of Chicago Press, 5801 Ellis Av, Chicago, Ill. 60637; 20 W 43d St, New York, N.Y. 10036

Univ. of Fla. Press, 15 N.W., 15th St, Univ. of Fla, Gainesville, Fla. 32603

Univ. of Ga. Press, Athens, Ga. 30601

Univ. of Hawaii Press. See Univ. Press of Hawaii

Univ. of Ill. Graduate School of Lib. Science, Publications Office, 435 Library, Urbana, Ill. 61801

Univ. of Ill. Press, Urbana, Ill. 61801

- Univ. of Iowa Press, Graphic Services Bldg, Iowa City, Iowa 52240
 Univ. of Kan. Press. See Univ. Press of Kan.
 Univ. of Ky. Press. See Univ. Press of Ky.
 Univ. of Mass. Press, Munson Hall, Amherst, Mass. 01002
 Univ. of Miami Press, Drawer 9088, Coral Gables, Fla. 33124; refer orders to Oceana for law bks.
 Univ. of Mich. Inst. for Social Res, 426 Thompson St, Ann Arbor, Mich. 48106
 Univ. of Mich. Press, 615 E University Av, Ann Arbor, Mich. 48106
 Univ. of Mich. Survey Res. Center, University of Michigan, Institute for Social Research, Survey Research Center, Ann Arbor, Mich. 48104
 Univ. of Minn. Press, 2037 University Av, S.E., Minneapolis, Minn. 55414
 Univ. of Mo. Press, 107 Swallow Hall, Columbia, Mo. 65201
 Univ. of N.C. Press, Box 2288, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27514
 Univ. of N.Mex. Press, Albuquerque, N.Mex. 87106
 Univ. of Neb. Press, Lincoln, Neb. 68508
 Univ. of Notre Dame Press, Notre Dame, Ind. 46556
 Univ. of Okla. Press, 1005 Asp Av, Norman, Okla. 73069
 Univ. of Ore. Bks, Eugene, Oregon 97403
 Univ. of Pa. Press, 3729 Spruce St, Philadelphia, Pa. 19104
 Univ. of Pittsburgh Press, 127 N Bellefield Av, Pittsburgh, Pa. 15213
 Univ. of S.C. Press, Columbia, S.C. 29208
 Univ. of Tenn. Press, 293 Communications Bldg, Knoxville, Tenn. 37916
 Univ. of Tex. Press, Box 7819, Austin, Tex. 78712
 Univ. of Toronto Press, 33 E Tupper St, Buffalo, N.Y. 14203
 Univ. of Utah Press, Bldg 513, Univ. of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah 84122
 Univ. of Wash. Press, 1405 N.E. 41st, Seattle, Wash. 98105
 Univ. of Wis. Press, The, Box 1379, Madison, Wis. 53701
 Univ. Park Press, 115 Chamber of Commerce Bldg, Baltimore, Md. 21202
 Univ. Press in Dallas. See Southern Methodist Univ. Press
 Univ. Press of Hawaii, 535 Ward Av, Honolulu, Hawaii 96814
 Merged with East-West Center Press
 Formerly Univ. of Hawaii Press
 Univ. Press of Kan, 358 Watson, Lawrence, Kan. 66044
 Formerly Univ. of Kan. Press
 Univ. Press of Ky, Lexington, Ky. 40506
 Formerly Univ. of Ky. Press
 Univ. Press of New England, Box 979, Hanover, N.H. 03755
 Univ. Press of Va, Box 3608, University Station, Charlottesville, Va. 22903
 Universe Bks, Inc. 381 Park Av, S, New York N.Y. 10016
 Vanderbilt Univ. Press, Vanderbilt Univ, Nashville, Tenn. 37235
 Vanguard. The Vanguard Press, Inc. 424 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10017
 Van Nostrand-Reinhold, Co. 450 W 33d St, New York, N.Y. 10001
 Vantage. Vantage Press, Inc. 516 W 34th St, New York, N.Y. 10001
 Verry. Lawrence Verry, Inc. 16 Holmes St, Mystic, Conn. 06355
 Viking. The Viking Press, Inc. 625 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10022
 Subsidiary Co: Grossman Pubs.
 Vintage. Vintage Books, Inc. 201 E 50th St, New York, N.Y. 10022; refer orders to Random House
 A division of Random House
 Walck, H.Z. Henry Z. Walck, Inc. Pubs, 19 Union Sq, W, New York, N.Y. 10003
 Walker & Co. 720 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10019
 Ward Ritchie Press, The, (Anderson, Ritchie & Simon) 3044 Riverside Drive, Los Angeles, Calif. 90039; refer orders to Golden Gate for juvenile titles
 Warne. Frederick Warne & Company, Inc. 101 5th Av, New York, N.Y. 10003
 Washburn. Ives Washburn, Inc. 750 3d Av, New York, N.Y. 10017
 Books distributed by McKay
 Water Information Center, Water Research Bldg, Manhasset Isle, Port Washington, N.Y. 11050
 Watson-Guptill, Publications, 165 W 46th St, New York, N.Y. 10036; refer orders to 2160 Patterson St, Cincinnati, Ohio 45214
 Division of Billboard Publications, Inc.
 Watts, F. Franklin Watts, Inc. 845 3d Av, New York, N.Y. 10022
 Division of Grolier
 Wayne State Univ. Press, 5980 Cass, Detroit, Mich. 48202
 Weatherhill. John Weatherhill, Inc. 149 Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10016
 Wesleyan Univ. Press, 100 Riverview Center, Middleton, Conn. 06457
 Western Reserve Univ. Press. See Press of Case Western Reserve Univ.
 Westminster Press, Witherspoon Bldg, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107
 Weybright & Talley, Inc. 750 3d Av, New York, 10017; refer trade orders to McKay
 Subsidiary of McKay
 Whitney. Whitney Mus. of American Art, 75th St & Madison Av, New York, N.Y. 10021; refer orders to Praeger
 Whitston Pub. Co, Inc. Box 322, Troy, N.Y. 12181
 Wiley. John Wiley & Sons, Inc. 605 3d Av, New York, N.Y. 10016
 Publish and distribute Science Eds.
 Distributor of IEEE Press Bks.
 Division: Interscience
 Wiley-Interscience (A division of John Wiley & Sons) See Wiley.
 Windmill Bks, Inc. 257 Park Av, S, New York, N.Y. 10010; refer orders to Simon & Schuster
 World Pub. The World Publishing Company, 110 E 59th St, New York, N.Y. 10022
 Subsidiary co. Meridian Bks.
 Subsidiary of Times-Mirror
 Wright-Allen Press, Inc. 238 Main St, Cambridge, Mass. 02142
 Yale Univ. Press, 149 York St, New Haven, Conn. 06511
 Young Scott Bks, 233 Av of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10014
 Juvenile division of Scott, W.R.

